

French Gratitude Boxcar Visits Harrington

Car Is Part of Train Sent By French As Appreciation For Friendship Train

One of the famous 40 et 8 boxcars, part of the French Gratitude Train, was on exhibition before a large crowd Sunday morning in front of the Harrington postoffice.

The train arrived in Wilmington Saturday and dropped off the car filled with gifts for distribution to schools, hospitals, orphanages, and other institutions in Delaware.

The representative of the French government accompanying Michel Junet, in presenting the boxcar to our state, said: "This train is by no means an official gesture of the French government. It comes from the hearts of the people, who during the past year have contributed from their family treasures and France's museums in an expression of gratitude and heartfelt thanks for gifts from the American people delivered by the Friendship Train."

On its arrival here Sunday morning, the French 40 et 8 car (so named because of its capacity of 40 men and eight horses) was escorted from Clark Street to Commerce Street by the Harrington High School Band, a color guard Post No. 7 of the American Legion and the color guard of the Grand Voiture of Delaware.

The program was as follows: Invocation, the Rev. F. H. Truitt, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church. "National Anthem"—Harrington High School Band.

Harness Horse News

Express Direct
Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Griffith of Harrington, aren't planning to sell their last son of the world's champion Billy Direct, out to their mare, Helena. The first one was Direct Spangler, which sold for $15,000 at the Harrisburg auction last fall. The third one, Express Direct, now a yearling, will be raced under the Griffith colors.

Down The Line
Gene Flagg, harness horse personality from Robesonia, Pa., thinks there's nothing like being patriotic. Starting off with the name Flagg, Gene named his breeding establishment at Robesonia the "Old Glory Farm" and his racing colors are—you guessed it, Red, White and Blue!

Carr Load
Joseph Carr, Freehold, N. J., fruit farmer and horseman, is shooting for a champion harness horse with a flock of royally bred weanlings and yearlings he now has on hand. He has six of the youngsters by five different sires representing a cross section of the best male breeding lines in the country. Two are by Scotland, and the others are sons and daughters of Billy Direct, Spencer Scott, Follow Up, and Scotland's Comet.

In Absentia
Bert O'Brien of Seattle, Wash., has seen only one of his stable of harness horses race since he put them in the hands of Trainer Warren Holmes six years ago. O'Brien came East one night three years ago to watch Seattle's Pat, and then went back to his home state. Holmes takes care of all the necessary details regarding the horses, even seeing to it that every horse has the word Seattle in its name.

Lexington Trots
Lexington Trots, one of the most historic meetings in all harness racing, will distribute $210,000 in purses during its 10-day 1949 meeting from Sept. 26 to Oct. 8—an increase of $25,000 over last year. Richest race during the Trots will be the 57th renewal of the famed Kentucky Futurity which will carry at all-time record purse of approximately $60,000. Last year's Futurity, won by Saunders Mills'Egan Hanover, was worth $50,070.

In addition to the Futurity, other important features of the Trots will be the renewal of the four Hanover Shoe Filly stakes for two and three year old fillies of both the trotting and pacing gait. The filly stakes are expected to be worth approximately $12,000 each.

Saratoga Slates Amateurs
Saratoga Raceway has scheduled a program of 10 amateur races during its 60-night summer meeting, June 20 to Aug. 27. Each race will be worth $2,000, with five of them open to two-year-old trotters and five to three-year-olds of the same gait.

Among the star retrainers expected to compete are Harrison Hoyt, Bethel Conn., winner of last year's Hambletonian, Lawrence D. Shepard of Hanover Shoe Farms, W. H. Dickson, USTA director from Hatfield, Mass., Frank Wiswall, Loudonville, N. Y., and Dunbar W. Bostwick, Shelburne, Vt.

Carvel to Hold Probe of State College Conditions

Trustees Order Students to End Strike and Elect Governing Body There

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel announced Wednesday night that he will make a full investigation of conditions at Delaware State College.

His announcement came several hours after the board had met at the college and requested the striking students to elect a governing body which could properly present any grievances which could not be settled by the administrative council. The board also ordered all students to return to classes Thursday and warned of punitive action if they failed to return by 8 a. m. today.

Governor Carvel also recommended that the students return to their classes at once.

His statement follows: "Following a strike by students of the Delaware State College certain information was placed in the hands of my administrative officials which, if true, are inconsistent with the proper and necessary functioning of a public institution. The facts must be determined and made known. To this end I will use the full facilities of my administration to make a complete investigation. I have invited the members of the board of trustees to meet with me on Thursday at 2 p. m. to discuss this matter. I also recommended that the students return to their classes in an orderly manner so that their educational program will not be interrupted further."

During a special four-hour meeting in the board room the trustees served notice that any student found guilty of picketing or intimidating other students who wish to attend classes would be expelled and removed from the campus by whatever force is necessary.

The student strike against alleged deplorable conditions at the institution started Tuesday morning and became the subject of a Senate resolution calling for an investigation introduced late Tuesday afternoon by Senator R. Allen Cannon (D-Seafood).

It was announced Wednesday that the Veterans Administration's educational administrator, James Bishop, would visit the college on Thursday morning to advise the students that veterans' grants would be retired unless they return to classes.

Several students who were interviewed on and off the campus said that they would not return to class until the conditions they are complaining about are ended.

Family Court Judge Elwood F. Nelson, president of the board of trustees, who is recuperating from an operation, went to Dover on Wednesday for the special meeting. From his home Wednesday, he disclosed that:

The board is solidly behind Dr. Howard D. Greggs, president of the college.

Dr. Greggs resignation will not be asked for and he will not be dismissed until he has been tried by the board on the basis of specific evidence of insubordination, incompetence or immorality.

Legion Quintet To Play Saturday In Tournament

Harrington to Play Georgetown in First Game at Dover

The feature Eastern Shore basketball event of the year, Dover's 2nd Annual YMCA Invitational tournament, is smaller in size as far as the entry list goes but from the quality angle it contains the "cream of the crop" on the Eastern Shore.

Battling for the Eastern Shore Amateur Championship will be 4 teams from the Eastern Shore League, four from the Mar-del Circuit, one from the Susquehanna organization and one Independent Five. Representing the Eastern Shore Circuit will be George Keen's League leading Georgetown County Seaters, Kinder Bailey's Laurel Owis, T. Shipley's Lewes AA cagers and Ty Cobb's Fort Miles soldiers. The league leading Denton Bobcats, last year's Tournament winners, Smyrna Hornets, Dover Bulldogs and Harrington Legionnaires will carry the honors for the Mar-del League. Delaware City, Susquehanna League pace-setters and Millsboro Independents round out the 1949 entry list. Such an array of the Shore's best will give Court fans an opportunity to compare the various Leagues as well as to see some of the best basketball the downstate ranks have to offer.

Play will get underway next Saturday evening, February 19th at the Dover High Field House with three games on tap. At the opening gong at 7:00 P. M. will be the Georgetown County Seaters opposed to the Mar-del entry, the Harrington Legionnaires. The Shore Leaguers will count on such outstanders as Joe Griffith, Ken Lino, Travis, Walls and others to turn back Walt Hatz, Malt Harwanko, Jimmy Giles and company. These three are imports from the Wilmington basketball ranks and have made Harrington a feared organization. At 8:30 P. M. Denton Bobcats, current Mar-del leaders, will put their chances against the strong Lewes AA aggregation. Denton has top performers such as

Safety Contest Outlined For Delaware Farmers

A Delaware farm and home safety contest, sponsored by the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service and the Delaware Safety Council, will be carried on from Feb. 1 through Oct. 31, announces Miss Whitcomb, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

According to Miss Whitcomb, this contest comes as a result of the farm and home safety survey which has been under way in Delaware for nine months. The survey shows that the leading cause of accidents during this time was falls, a total of 183, both in the home and on the farm grounds.

The contest is designed to reduce the number of falls and other accidents by eliminating accident hazards. Home demonstration the state have entered the contest, and any organized rural group is eligible to participate.

A safety chairman has been appointed in each club entered in the contest. Each month, a safety letter stressing the safety "job of the month" will be sent to the chairman, who will ask club members to inspect their homes and remove the accident hazards described in the letter. The safety chairman will keep a record of hazards thus eliminated.

Final winners in the contest will be determined on the percentage of club members participating in the program, total number of hazards removed by the club, and a written story by the safety chairman telling of the club's activities in getting across safety information to the club members and other people in the community. Prizes will be awarded the groups achieving the most outstanding safety records over the nine-months period.

The Legionnaires basketball won one and lost one this week in the Mar-Del League. The local quintet defeated Middletown here Tuesday night, 69 to 59, and lost to Dover at Dover, Wednesday night, 66 - 63.

The Harrington boys were at a disadvantage at Dover, being unaccustomed to a large court. Furthermore, they missed 13 shots out of 30 from the free-throw line.

The local delegation will entertain the second-place Denton team here Wednesday evening.

"I KILL HOGS;
I RAISE POTATOES;
I GOT CABBAGE."

Saturday evening we were passing a small group of colored men in front of the Frank Langrell store when we were arrested by a remark one made to the others. There was no boasting in this remark, just a quiet statement of fact: "I kill hogs, I raise potatoes, I've got cabbage."

We do not know the name of that colored man, but we'll venture the statement that he is an industrious law-abiding citizen. Certainly, he has plenty of horse sense.

Country-cured ham—and bacon! Backbones, sausage, scrapple, side meat with a streak of lean and a streak of fat! A plentiful supply of lard. Potatoes and cabbages—and kingly!

With these as the base, the winter-cress as a supplement is flourishing in every field, and the most spicy of all condiments, the water-cress, is nearby. Soon in backyards and in vacant lots, the polk-stalk will rear its multi-colored plume. Take some of these tender shrubs, plant them or smooth them in rotting leaves and soon will emerge a tendril or two of frailty and beauty whose exquisite flavor will bring salvos of applause from the shades of Escoffier.

Even now the bountiful—and boneful—herring hordes have their advance scouts peering up the streams emptying into the Delaware and the Chesapeake—and not a red herring in the whole school. Hogs, potatoes, cabbage, winter-cress, water-cress, polk "salad", herring—how can communism flourish in the face of these?

IT'S AN INDICATION OF SOMETHING—OR OTHER.

It may be that politicians are becoming more honest—or that they are beginning to realize that people are more intelligent these days and refuse to be fooled by promises without production. Whatever the cause, both state and national administrations are trying to live up to the planks in the platform on which they were elected.

Truman told the people what he believed and what legislation he would try to have passed if elected. He is plugging for every phase of that legislation now, although it is needless to say, he will have tough sledding with part of his program and will find it impossible to win on all counts.

In Delaware, Carvel came out for election reforms, aid to schools and hospitals. He is keeping his promise and should win on many points, as most of the Republicans are inclined to agree with him.

Hereafter, when a candidate commits himself and doesn't live up to those commitments, he'll be a dead duck. People have pretty good memories these days.

Wilmington people are clamoring, as they have been clamoring for years, for more representation in the Delaware Legislature. It is true that the lower counties, in proportion to their population, have a much larger representation than Wilmington—and at a glance this would seem unfair, undemocratic; it would seem that Wilmington is the victim of unjust treatment. A visit to the legislature will cause you to change your mind, for while Kent and Sussex have a proportionately larger number of representatives, Wilmington has about two lobbyists in the legislative halls for each representative from Kent and Sussex. We of the lower counties demand an equal number of lobbyists.

They're making it more difficult all the time for the housewife to prepare good, wholesome, well-cooked meals. Within the next year or two we believe the can-opener will be discarded because it requires too much effort to prepare a meal by its use, and all cans will be equipped with zippers.

Westbrook Pegler is confined to a hospital up in Massachusetts. Ulcers—which is no news to anyone who has ever read his column, even once.

Red Cross Drive Starts Feb. 26

William K. Paton, Two County Chairman of the Red Cross 1949 Campaign for funds called his County and City Leaders together Tuesday evening for dinner at the Dinner Bell.

The Slogan of "You too can help through Red Cross", would be hung on every door knob of every home in the State. Mrs. Myers further stated, "It's your Campaign, you can do your part in helping in disasters with relief and rehabilitation; for promoting health through blood programs; for relief veterans; for Red Cross Workers with Armed Forces, for help for children and help by trained Volunteers.

Among those who attended were: William K. Paton, chairman, Mrs. Jean Myers, State Director, Colonel William J. Storey, Area chairman, George Ehinger, County chairman, Theodore Collins, Town chairman, former Mayor J. DOVER YMCA TOURNAMENT DRAWS EASTERN SHORE'S TOP TEAMS

Stan Prosen, Ben Sheffield, Gran Duffie along with the clever little ball handler, Dave Swecker, Lewes will count on the smooth going Dan Hanley and the big scoring Clay Downes to keep them in the running. These first two games should be corkers, with anyone of the 4 teams having an equal chance of coming out on top. The third game of the evening scheduled at 10:00 P. M. will find last year's Champions, the Smyrna Hornets, tangling with the Millsboro AA Five. Smyrna off to a slow start in the Mar-del League this year have just began to find themselves in the last two weeks and may prove rough competition. Al O'Neal and Bud O'Neill, two high scoring cagers will be up front for the Hornets with the lanky Bill Bodley in at center. Two veterans, Runt Grier and Bob Jacobs will see action in

OPERATING VOLTAGE ON POWER LINES DOUBLED

E. S. Mortimer, Manager of Transmission and Distribution for The Eastern Shore Public Service Company of Maryland and the Delaware Power and Light Company (Southern Division), today announced the completion of the work necessary to double the operating voltage on the transmission lines from Harbeson, through Rehoboth, Delaware, Bethany Beach, and Ocean City, to the company's switching station near Berlin. This project required over two years to complete and cost $100,000.

Preliminary changes were made on Thursday, January 27, and on Sunday, January 30, the line was converted from 22,000 volts to 44,000 volts including the necessary changes in all substations. This change in voltage quadruples the effective capacity of the line and assures continued two-way service to Rehoboth and Ocean City. Two-way service to these areas has been available since 1939, but the load growth has been so great that it would have been impossible to continue this without increasing the voltage.

In connection with the voltage increase, Mr. Mortimer stated that a new modern substation has been placed in service in Ocean City. This new station, built at a cost of $85,000 has 66 per cent more facilities for a second low voltage feeder circuit in this area. It also contains equipment which will automatically transfer the station to the alternate feed in case of the failure of the normal feed. Prior to the building of this new station the transfer was done manually.

At the present time, a complete new substation is under construction at Bethany Beach. This station will cost approximately $50,000 and will provide increased and improved service to this area. This station will also automatically transfer itself to the alternate feed source in case of failure of the normal feed.

Two new high voltage oil circuit breakers are being installed in the Rehoboth Substation which, with their attendant equipment will enable this station to transfer automatically in case of failure of its normal feed. The necessary equipment is being installed to provide a second low voltage feeder circuit for this area. The additions to this station will cost approximately $30,000, and should be complete before the summer season.

Mortimer pointed out that this program of voltage changes and substation changes was planned by the Company over two years ago, and much of the necessary equipment ordered at that time only recently been delivered, and now being installed. The tremendous increase in the demands for power on the Delmarva Peninsula has made it necessary for the Company to improve, extend and expand its facilities to keep ahead of the growth.

Little Courtesies
make life more pleasant

On party-line telephones too, it's the little courtesies that count. Little courtesies, for example, like keeping calls reasonably brief. Like spacing calls so that others may use the line in the intervals. Like hanging up gently when you find the line in use.

Party-line neighbors who take the lead in courtesy find these favors returned. They enjoy better service. So do others on the line.

History of Harrington

(Note: Due to a number of mistakes in spelling of names in this article last week, the article is being repeated with corrections.)

For several years previous to the opening of The First National Bank of Harrington, the residents of Harrington and vicinity used the First National Bank of Milford for their banking business.

Our merchants, and W. T. Sharp was one of them, had a certain day in the week to take this money to Milford for deposit and the residents, knowing the custom, would send their deposits over by them. The banking facilities were so inconvenient our people decided to have a local bank of their own. Therefore, pursuant to a call, the people of Harrington and vicinity met on Oct. 29, 1887, in the town hall to consult upon the advisability of organizing a National Bank to be located in the town. On motion, C. A. Harrington was elected chairman and William H. Franklin, secretary. On motion of Benaiah Tharp, a committee was selected to solicit subscriptions of stock for the new bank.

The following were appointed: William Tharp, Robert H. Smith, N. R. Johnson, Benaiah Tharp, James Hopkins, W. T. Sharp, Dr. John Moore, Dr. E. L. Lewis, W. Betts, Zebulon Hopkins, Edward Sapp, and Alfred Raughley. William H. Franklin was secretary of this meeting.

On Nov. 12, 1887, the meeting was called to order at 3:45 P. M.

In the absence of the chairman, W. T. Sharp, father of W. W. Sharp, was elected chairman. The financial committee reported as follows: W. T. Sharp, $1000; the Rev. John Warthman, $2000; Samuel A. Tharp, $1000; Robert H. Smith, $1500; John Neal, $1000; William Tharp, $1000; Mary E. Sharp, $500; James C. Reed, $4000; Fred Reed, $500; Edward Sapp, $5000; Ben Tharp, $1000; Frank Porter, $1000; Zadoc C. Fleming, $500; Total, $20,000.

On motion, a committee to solicit further stock was approved, consisting of W. T. Sharp, J. C. Reed, William Tharp, B. L. Lewis, and R. H. Smith. On motion the meeting adjourned. William H. Franklin was secretary.

On Nov. 26, 1887, the adjourned meeting was called to order, with Robert H. Smith as chairman. The following stock sales were then reported: E. M. Needles, $2000; Mrs. Nimrod Harrington, $1000; James Cain, $1000; Tilghman Brown, $1000; George W. Collins, $1000; Mrs. Louder L. Sapp, $2100; L. L. Sapp, $1000; Total, $9100.

Meeting adjourned, to meet Dec. 10, 1887. Wm. H. Franklin, sec. Dec. 10 meeting was called, with William Tharp as chairman. The following stock sales were reported:

Mary P. Tharp, $1500; Annie Bard, $200; Jane Meessick, $100; Dr. B. L. Lewis, $1000; Total, $2800.

On motion, notice was to be put in the Harrington Enterprise, that stockholders report at next meeting, Dec. 24, at 3 P. M. Wm. H. Franklin, secretary.

On Dec. 24, 1887, meeting was organized by electing Dr. B. L. Lewis, chairman. On motion of W. T. Sharp, this association was to be known as the First National Bank of Harrington. On motion Dr. B. L. Lewis was elected financial chairman; W. H. Franklin, sec.; W. T. Sharp, treasurer. The following subscriptions of stock were reported:

F. R. Owens, $200; Alfred Raughley, $1000; Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming, $500; Martha Parvis, $200; W. W. Black, $500; W. I. Simpson, $500; James A. Moore, $500; W. H. Murphy, $1000; C. A. Harrington, $1000; W. H. Knox, (father of Benjamin Knox), $1000; E. W. Russell, $1000; Hester L. Hardesty, $1000; Mrs. Peter Calloway, $500; Total, $8900.

On motion, a committee consisting of Dr. B. L. Lewis, William Tharp, Edward Sapp, W. T. Sharp, and L. L. Sapp, was appointed to make necessary arrangements for organization and to apply for a charter.

On Feb. 15, 1888, meeting was called to elect nine directors, the following were elected: Edward Sapp, Robert H. Smith, Dr. B. L. Lewis, W. H. Murphy, F. A. Porter, William Tharp, Hezekiah Harrington, Benaiah Tharp, and C. A. Harrington. The board met and elected Edward Sapp, president, and W. T. Sharp, cashier. George A. Redden was elected teller. At this meeting, Robert H. Smith and Hezekiah Harrington were appointed to secure proper location for the bank. The site selected and building erected on the corner of Commerce and Mechanic streets. The structure is now owned by J. Harvey Burgess and houses The Harrington Journal. The bank occupied the building until 1927 when it moved to its present quarters, a two-story stone structure at Commerce and Fleming streets.

To make room for the bank, the Harrington House was demolished. The rear of this hotel was a tavern that had been erected in 1810. A plat mat of Clark's Corners, drawn up in 1824 and belonging to A. L. Harrington, shows the tavern as the only building in the community in 1824.

The bank had several other meetings and the balance of the stock was subscribed. Capital stock was $50,000. In 1926, a resolution was passed to raise the capital stock to $75,000. Following is a complete list of the original stockholders:

W. H. Murphy, John Warthman, James A. Cain, William H. Knox, Tilghman Brown, William T. Sharp, Benaiah Tharp, Benaiah L. Lewis, Edward Sapp, Laura Sapp, L. L. Tharp, cashier; the late Frank VanGesel, assistant cashier; Theodore H. Harrington, bookkeeper, now cashier, and the late Warren T. Moore.

The Overland car on the left belonged to the late J. Will Powell, a director of the bank and the father of Fred Powell, while the Dodge on the right belonged to Mr. Moore, a dealer.

To the left of the bank can be seen the roof of a single-story building, later replaced by the Slaughter Building, in which John "Shorty" Harrington manufactured ice cream and sold oyster stews.

The bank in the above picture occupied a site once occupied by Will Hardesty, who operated a wheelwright shop on the ground floor, with an undertaking establishment on the second floor.

This column, apologizes for the error made with respect to the maiden name of Mrs. Howard Becking, Jr., who was recently married at Henderson. Her maiden name was Miss Ahticia Butler—not Hunter.

Mrs. Boyd Price of Washington, D. C., visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clause Wilkens on Sunday.

Mrs. Dolores Walker is planning a two week visit with friends in Philadelphia on Feb. 9, 10, and 11. She recently entertained as a house guest, Mrs. H. O. Smith of Beach Haven, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Whitmarsh of New York City are visiting with their daughter and family, Mrs. T. E. Heather, Jr.

Mr. U. L. Harman and Mr. Lee Leslie were among the delegates attending the annual convention of the Middle Atlantic Lumbermen's Association held in Philadelphia on Feb. 9, 10, and 11.

Mrs. Ed Brandt was hostess on Tuesday afternoon to the members of the Frazier Homemaker Club. Tasty refreshments were served following their meeting.

Due to the illness of Rev. C. H. Atkins on Sunday the services of his charge were taken care of by Mr. Kenneth Snyder, assisted by Miss C. Dava both students of Wesley Junior College, Dover.

Mr. Walter Cole was given a birthday dinner at his home by his children on Sunday, Feb. 13th. Many happy returns!

The Choir of the Maryland Methodist Church will sponsor two Sunday evening hymn sings a month, beginning the first Sunday in March the 6th, at 7:30 P. M. Until the church edifice is completed, the sings will be held at the Community Hall. On March 6th, a group of young college students from Kings College will be present to lead the service. This group recently proved most inspirational at the last hymn sing held at the hall. A splendid audience greeted them—so let's all come out and bring our friends and neighbors with us and have even a larger group present. There will be an offering taken of anything ranging from clattering nickels to silent greenbacks to be used for the church building fund. We also want to contribute to the expenses of these young folks in appreciation for their services to us. These hymn sings will be held every first and third Sunday evening of the month, beginning in March. A hearty welcome is extended to everyone.

The Men's Bible Class of the Methodist Church successfully planned and served a delicious turkey supper on Saturday night at the Community Hall. Fully a hundred people were served. Watch this column for future supper announcements. In the not too far distant future, a Sunday dinner will be served, from 3 p. m. to 6 p. m. We hope you'll plan to attend, enjoy a good meal, and reunite with your old friends!

Marydel is growing by leaps and bounds. A much needed barber shop is on its way to completion and a cigarette packing house is in the making in the store room recently vacated by the L. H. Collison General Store. Now, all we need is a shoe maker and a doctor, and then we'll have outgrown our 'growing pains'.

ture and Moisture". Other talks in the series, according to Dr. John W. Heuberger, chairman of plant pathology, and Dr. L. A. Stearns, chairman of entomology, will include:

The annual earnings report is based upon farm accounting records kept by the veteran farm-trainees as part of his course of instruction.

In the case of a veteran operating a farm for himself under the training program, income from productive labor is computed by deducting from his yearly net farm income (1) the interest on his capital investments and (2) an amount for unpaid family labor, and by adding an estimated value for family living furnished by the farm.

His net farm income is derived from the difference between inventories at the beginning and end of the year and from a detailed account of all receipts and expenditures in connection with his farm business.

A veteran taking his training from an employer-trainer, on the other hand, reports as compensation for productive labor all wages received, whether in cash or in kind. Veteran-trainees received necessary VA forms, Form No. 7-1922, early this year.

As a part of their course of training they receive assistance from their instructors in closing their books for the past year, and in transferring data to the VA form.

On December 31, 1948, a total of 267,433 veterans were enrolled in institutional on-farm training courses under the G. I. Bill. Ninety-one percent or 243,886 were operating their own farms.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION
Veterans taking institutional on-farm training under the G. I. Bill must submit reports of their 1948 earnings to their Veterans Administration Regional office by March 1, 1949, in order to continue to receive subsistence allowances, VA said today.

Failure to submit the reports before the deadline may result in suspension of subsistence payments until such a time as the reports reach VA.

The reports—covering income from productive labor only, for the calendar year 1948 will be used by VA as the basis for adjusting each veteran's subsistence for the current year 1949.

Under the law, subsistence allowance will be reduced if a veteran's monthly income from productive labor plus his subsistence exceeds $210 a month if he has no dependents, $270 if he has one dependent, or $290 if he has more than one dependent.

David B. Dreiman, science and education writer for the Minneapolis Star, from which he is on leave for study at Harvard University under one of the prized Nieman Fellowships, will be one of the two principal speakers at the annual Delaware Scholastic Press Association conference on Feb. 26.

The second speaker at the conference's general meeting in Mitchell Hall, University of Delaware, at 9:30 a. m. on that day will be Frederic G. Pitts newspaperman and columnist.

Mr. Dreiman will have as his topic, "Growing Up With Journalism." His subject is particularly pertinent, according to Miss Jeanette Thoroughgood, program chairman for the conference, since he was managing editor of a daily newspaper at the age of 20, and after and later reverted by choice to reporting and writing.

The newspaper which he edited was the Crookston (Minn.) Daily Times, and he subsequently edited foreign news for the Minneapolis Star for several years. After returning to civilian life from the armed services, he turned to science and education writing. As a specialist in that field, he has received the Twin Cities Newspaper Guild's award for "the most outstanding public service reporting" in that area in 1947. The award was presented for a series of articles written after Mr. Dreiman had canvassed the situation affecting public health from the standpoint of hospital facilities, supply of doctors and nurses, and costs to the public. More recently, he has received the Newspaper Guild's award for the best news or feature story of 1948 in Minnesota. This award was for an article on the successful production of pig iron from taconite, a low grade ore which now is regarded as the possible salvation of the nation's steel industry.

Previously highly secret, as well as both very technical and important, the development was given top display by his own newspaper, and his article has been widely reprinted in many forms. Other articles by him have been published in various magazines.

At Harvard, Mr. Dreiman is carrying on a course of research and study into the economics and philosophy of science. Only a few working newspapermen throughout the country are awarded Nieman Fellowships each year to carry on independent, advanced studies at Harvard.
