'Readjustment' Of Water Rates Next Quarter

There will be a readjustment of water rates at the beginning of the next quarter next month, the City Council decided at its monthly meeting Monday evening.

While admitting that the readjustment might result in lower rates for some users, Mayor Sylvester said a check of units around town might disclose inequalities in the rate structure which, if corrected, might increase the water revenue $2500.

'This amount, the mayor added, will be about what the town will lose if the railroads stop buying water if diesel locomotives come in.'

Property owners on Simpson Street will be requested to attend the next monthly meeting of the Council July 5. These citizens have petitioned the Council in regards to sidewalks and curbs.

The Horse Show and Country Fair, originally planned for Saturday, June 11th, by the Y. M. C. A. of Dover, will not be held on that date, according to Dr. Bertram H. Blum, chairman of the Show committee.

He added that an early announcement would be forth coming as to the final date for the show, and that direct replies were going out to the many people who had planned to attend and exhibit at the show.

'Championship' Auto Races At Trenton

The biggest stars in this year's Indianapolis Speedway race are signing up for the 100-mile National Championship Auto Race which will be held June 19 at the New Jersey State Fairgrounds in Trenton, N. J.

Headliners like the ever-popular "Rapid Rex" Mays, Johnny Parsons, second place winner at Indianapolis; Johnny Mantz, "Iron man" of the 500 mile classic who finished seventh without a pit stop, and many others have already signed entry blanks to compete here. The field gives every indication of being the fastest lineup of drivers ever to appear in the East.

Rex Mays, who has yet to find a car to stand up under his hair-raising style of driving not even this year's Novi Special—is moving over the Wolfe Special for the local century whirl. The Wolfe Special was driven to fifth place at Indianapolis by Joie Chitwood and so second fastest qualifier for the 500 mile race, at 132,900 miles per hour, will drive the same Kurtis-Kraft Special he piloted at Indianapolis and with which he won the Daddas title go. Mantz will be at the wheel of the Agajanian Special which he manhandled for 4 hours, 16 minutes, 06.01 seconds at Indianapolis without relief, or even a pit stop.

There are many others from the Indianapolis speedway who are preparing their speedway cars for what is forecast as one of the fastest 100 mile races ever run on an Eastern track. The June 19th classic, the first championship race ever run here, marks the beginning of an annual presentation of the title go. Sam Nunis has moved his annual century title go from Langhorne Speedway to the New Jersey State Fairgrounds because of the increased comforts for fans. There are 10,000 individual chair seats for the fans here. Road graders have been at work on the track since early May to provide the smoothest surface possible for new records.

Advance ticket sales have been opened. Mail orders are being filled at Sam Nunis Speedway, New Jersey State Fairgrounds, Trenton, N. J.

This contest has developed considerable interest among home and food magazine editors as well as the metropolitan press. A chartered plane will bring many of the editors direct from New York to the Cooking contest so that they may witness its operation and obtain pictures to illustrate their story. The Festival committee hopes that new, or little known, ways of preparing chicken may be developed through the contest.

The deadline for entries is July 5th. They must be made on the form provided by the committee. (Continued on back page) $1750 in cash prizes is to be awarded to participants in the mammoth parade to be held in Salisbury on July 14th as a feature of the Delmarva Chicken Festival.

To encourage the entry of attractive floats, the Parade Committee is offering prizes of $100, $50 and $25 to three different classes. These are for Poultry industry and allied interests, civic and other organizations, and for commercial floats entered by other than the poultry industry. Float prizes for the three classifications total $525. Only two classifications were provided for last year.

In a similar effort to stimulate interest among musical units, a total of $525 will be awarded to them. Sets of prizes of $100, $50 and $25 are scheduled to go to the first, second and third place winners in both a Senior and Junior division of Drum and Bugle Corps. Another set of prizes in the same amount will be presented to various bands.

Firemen from Peninsula towns and cities will vie for another set of the $100, $50 and $25 prizes with an additional $50 going to the company traveling the longest distance with 25 or more men in line. Fire company Auxiliaries will be recognized by way of a $50 award to the best appearing unit with 25 or more in line.

Veterans organizations are offered $50 and $25 for the first and second place winners competing for best appearing while $35 will be given to the unit with the most members in line. Ladies Auxiliaries of these organizations will receive $25 and $15 for the largest units in line of march.

Proportionate prizes are provided for 4-H Clubs, FFA Chapters, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Cars and trucks which in the opinion of the committee are 75 per cent decorated will be admitted to the parade.

Invitations are being mailed out to a rather complete mailing list. However, in event interested units fail to receive the invitations, Marsh Collier, parade chairman, invites them to contact him through the Delmarva Chicken Festival headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce Building, Salisbury.

Six o'clock, Daylight Saving Time, of Thursday, July 14 is the scheduled time for the parade. It will move over Camden Avenue to Market Street, to Main and over Main from Market to North Park Drive which is just east of the city's pumping station.

Formal entry blanks are now ready to be mailed out to those who wish to enter the National Chicken Cooking Contest, a unique feature of the Second Annual Delmarva Chicken Festival.

Fifty electric ranges are to be set up in the Salisbury Armory on July 12th and will accommodate contestants.

Women, and maybe some men, will be at hand from many states to compete for ten substantial prizes. First prize will be no less than a beautiful electric range and efforts are being made to secure an even finer award.

Three well known home economists or food experts from New York will judge the finished product. Points to be considered in judging these Delmarva Chicken dishes will be taste, 40 percent; appearance, 30 percent; originality of recipe, 20 percent; economy, 5 percent; and time required and ease of preparation, 5 percent.

According to Mrs. Marian Severance, general chairman, entries have already come in from Maryland, Delaware and Virginia and there are definite assurances that Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and the District of Columbia will furnish additional competitors.

This contest has developed considerable interest among home and food magazine editors as well as the metropolitan press. A chartered plane will bring many of the editors direct from New York to the Cooking contest so that they may witness its operation and obtain pictures to illustrate their story. The Festival committee hopes that new, or little known, ways of preparing chicken may be developed through the contest.

THE VOICE OF THE TURTLE

Winter is gone, spring is here, the General Assembly has adjourned, and the voice of the turtle (dove) is heard throughout the land. Thus, we paraphrase the biblical quotation.

The knockout blow was a 38.5-hour session which started Friday at noon and wound up at 2:30 a. m. Sunday morning after 86 days. This, the 115th General Assembly, was the most expensive in recent sessions, with $218,235 okayed, not including the members' salaries.

Yet, despite the "catch-as-catch-can" tactics of the law making body, its accomplishments were noteworthy. In most respects, the platform of the administration was incorporated into laws through the efforts of both Democrats and Republicans.

Among the planks make into law was one providing uniform, State-supported salary schedules for teachers and other school employes and calling for appropriations totaling $3,700,000 to pay for them over the next biennium.

"In recognition of the great service rendered to the nation and to the State of Delaware by our citizens who served in the armed forces during the recent war, we advocate the enactment of legislation to enable the people of the state, by referendum, to express their willingness to translate this recognition into monetary compensation," so read a plank in the Democratic platform. This plank was granted, as was one granting financial assistance by the state to veterans' associations on a state departmental basis for their state service programs.

Other planks or promises fulfilled were: an amendment to the State Constitution to provide that no person holding any paid state, county, or municipal job shall be a member of the Legislature during the time he continues to hold that job; the creation of department of corporation, of motor vehicles, of welfare, of labor and industrial relations, of agriculture, of health, of education.

The consolidation of the Old Age Welfare Commission, the Commission for Aid to the Blind, and the State Board of Welfare into a Department of Welfare to administer the various functions, was another economical measure passed.

Labor, agriculture, and conservation also benefited. The dual ballot system was relegated to the ash can.

To fulfill these campaign promises, additional revenue was needed. "The cloth must be cut to fit the garments." The General Assembly manifested its confidence in Governor Carvel and those who elected him, by passing measures to raise this revenue.

The long day closes.

FORK LANDING LISTENING POST

The crops of most fruits and wild berries will be good this year, if those at Fork Landing are any indication. Wild grapes, blackberries, bush huckleberries, chinquapins all looked good when we were there collecting numerous ticks recently. On the other hand, we saw only two wild plums on the numerous bushes bordering a field just off the Murderkill. Some laurel blossoms were beginning to fade, but others, in the shade, were just coming into bloom.

The recent Aly Khan-Rita Hayworth wedding enabled headline writers to have a play with words. One California newspaper had, "Aly Khan Have Rita."

The recent Kent & Sussex Raceway meet is putting Harrington on the map. Horses which performed here are now at Roosevelt Raceway, Ft. Steuben, Rosecroft, Maine, and Hamburg. Every way the "Harr" is becoming familiar to harness racing enthusiasts as they check their programs for past performances.

HOOF BEATS

His other horses include Hanover Scout and J. A. F. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dyer, of Harrington, are at Ft. Steuben which about a day's drive from Harrington if one takes the Pennsylvania turnpike.

TOMATO BLIGHT

BREAKS OUT

Late blight of tomatoes has broken out in a tomato field near Lebanon. The outbreak was discovered Thursday, week ago on the farm of John Farrow.

The fungus attacks the stems of the plants and forms a dark brown or black area which gradually spreads and penetrates the stem, thus, causing the plant to die.

Usually late blight of tomatoes attacks the leaves first producing an irregular dark area where a white fuzzy growth develops on the underside of the leaf during cool, damp days and nights. Most growers know this disease spreads very rapidly and the cool damp weather is ideal for its development and spread. Hot, dry weather has a checking tendency but will not stop the disease entirely.

Control measures suggested by the Agent are to spray or dust as follows: Apply the spray or dust regularly every week or 10 days being sure that complete coverage of the entire plant is obtained. If rain is forecast or a local shower is about to occur, as special spray will help to prevent the spread of the disease. The spray or dust material to use may be selected from the following: Dithane Z-78, Dithane D-14, Cuprocid, tribasic copper, or copper compound A. Follow the directions of the manufacturer as to quantities to use or call the County Agent's office for detailed instruction.

SOCIAL SECURITY

QUERIES ANSWERED

Questions relating to Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance will be answered in this paper or by mail. Address all queries to Social Security Administration, Customs House, 6th & King Sts., Wilmington, Delaware.

Q. I am 65 years old and separated from my husband who is over 65. I receive contributions for my support under the terms of a court order. If he should become eligible for old age benefits upon retiring, can I receive the court allowance and social security benefits?

A. Yes, to receive benefits as the wife of an insured wage earner who becomes entitled to benefits, the wife must (a) reach age 65, (b) file an application for benefits, and (c) must be "living with" the wage earner. If you are receiving contributions under the terms of a court order, you are deemed to be "living with" the wage earner for purpose of social security benefits.

Q. In your answer to Social Security questions, you often refer to a "fully insured" individual. When is an individual "fully insured?"

A. A wage earner is "fully insured" if he has been paid $50 or more in a job covered by Social Security in at least half the number of calendar quarters between January 1, 1937, and the quarter in which he becomes 65 or dies. In no case can a worker become fully insured unless he has been paid $50 in each of at least six calendar quarters. Once a worker has acquired 40 of these $50 quarters (called "quarters of coverage") he is "fully insured" for life.

Q. I am receiving a pension as the widow of a veteran. If I go to work in a job covered by social security, can I get old-age insurance benefits when I reach 65? If I go to work will my widow's pension be stopped?

A. If you go to work in a job covered by social security and become "fully insured," you will receive old-age insurance benefits upon filing an application when you reach 65. The fact that you receive veteran's benefits will not affect your right to the old-age insurance benefits. You should inquire from the office where you filed your application for widow's pension as to what effect your employment will have on your widow's pension.

Little Courtesies

BASED TO-

On party-line telephones, too, it pays to take the lead in courtesy. Your party-line neighbors appreciate it... and they'll return your favors in kind!

FOR EXAMPLE: it's courteous to hang up gently when you find the line in use, and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call before trying again. It's courteous, too, when you are talking on the line and realize your neighbor is waiting to make a call, to free the line reasonably soon.

These two little courtesies pay big dividends.

An agricultural award and scholarship program for farmers and persons engaged professionally in agricultural education or services has been announced by the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation. In describing the award program, William A. Calvert, agricultural engineer for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, says that participation consists of submitting to the Foundation descriptions of how arc welding is being used on farms to increase the efficiency of farm operation and maintenance.

The program is separated into two divisions so that farmers do not compete against professional educators and agricultural specialists. A total of 85 awards, ranging from $1,500 to $50, will be given in each division of the program.

Details of the contest are available from Calvert, at the University of Delaware, Newark.

Seventh Day Adventist Church Notes

Opposition to the proposed calendar revision bills now pending in Congress was voted June 4th by members of the Harrington Seventh-Day Adventist Church in services Saturday.

"The church cannot sanction any new calendar which would disrupt the ancient cycle, ordained in the beginning by the Creator," Elder Rees, local pastor, told the group.

He pointed out that both bills provide for adoption of a perpetual calendar in the United States and its territories in 1950, and direct the President to urge its acceptance by the governments of the nations of the world at the United Nations and other international conferences.

"Use of the 'blank day' device means that as each year closes, a day is lifted out of the count of the days and detached from its place in the week," he explained. "In this way all other days are regularized and a pattern of equal quarters is made possible."

"The scheme, with Sunday and every holy day recognized by any organization, falling on a different day of the original week cycle each year, is a direct, though perhaps unintentional attack on religion," he declared. "Conscientious minorities will be unable to go along with the rest of the world, but will insist on observance of the day which they hold is blessed of God. Thus confusion and conflict will be created.

"Calendar proponents have held that any hardship to accure to a minority would be self-imposed, but this argument reveals an unsymathetic attitude toward religious conviction. This argument is exactly the one used by all tyrants to justify their bloodiest persecutions, and its prosecution can result only in increased suffering in a distraught world.

"The most vallable asset that any nation can possess in its citizens is their devotion and adherence to conscientious religious convictions and their loyalty to sacred things," Mr. Rees said. No nation can afford to trample on the religious convictions of its citizens for any cause, much less for the mere purpose of facilitating business and commerce, the only advantage that the proponents of the new calendar set forth.

He maintained that the new calendar would be of questionable value even to business, "for it would disrupt all birthdays, anniversaries, and complicate recording of events occurring on each blank day."

FAMOUS COMIC ROY ROGERS ON MILFORD STAGE

The original Roy Rogers (not the cowboy star) is coming to Schine's New Milford Theatre Friday and Saturday as the headliner on the new five act vaudeville bill. Star of stage, screen and radio, Roy Rogers is the nation's crack shot of quick-on-the-trigger comedy. He performs in the tradition of the comedy greats: the Durantes, the Fays, and W. C. Fields. In fact there is a lot about Rogers that will remind audiences of Fields, his relaxed humor and general air of inebriation. He has been described as the "wittiest, wackiest comic in show business." In addition to his crowd convulsing act, Rogers will emcee the show which will include four other top-notch acts.

In addition to this outstanding stage show, the New Milford will also offer a top screen attraction on the same program, George Raft in OUTPOST IN MOROCCO, an exciting adventure of the French Foreign Legion featuring a cast of thousands.

After graduation comes opportunity!

THE approach of Commencement Day 1949, brings many high school seniors face to face with a big question — what next? There's one big opportunity to which every high school graduate should give serious consideration. This is the career offered you in today's Regular Army. Few openings in private enterprise offer you the leadership training, the educational advantages, the exciting travel and adventure, the supervised sports and recreation programs and the clean, wholesome, active life that can be yours with an Army enlistment. Few openings offer you such comradeship with America's finest young men—for today—only the best are acceptable for service in the United States Army. To win a place in today's Regular Army you must pass physical examinations that are tougher — mental examinations more difficult — than ever before. And with these more rigid requirements you will face keener all-round competition for assignment to the more than 200 courses offered at Army technical and specialty schools. The rewards are also greater — opportunity for advancement is limited only by your ability and initiative. Many of today's general officers began their careers as Privates. Some of today's Privates may be our future Generals! Appointments to Officer's Candidate Schools and to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point are available to those who can make the grade. In what other field can you aspire so high? You owe it to yourself to get all the facts. See the friendly recruiting officer at your local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station today. He will be happy to give you full details without any obligation to you.

SOIL CONSERVATION HELD VITAL TO ENTIRE STATE

"Soil, what it contains and what it produces, basically is the real wealth of the State of Delaware," so states Dean George L. Schuster of the University of Delaware, who is also chairman of the Delaware State Soil Conservation Commission. Writing in a foreword to a leaflet titled "Our Land-Yours and Mine" Dean Schuster says that as our cultivated lands become older the job of conserving the soils of the State becomes more important to every citizen of the State if our soils are to serve us today and in the tomorrows.

"Our Land-Yours and Mine", is a publication of the Delaware State Soil Conservation Commission in cooperation with the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service. It describes Delaware's soil conservation problem, the Delaware Soil Conservation Districts Law, the work of the State's Soil Conservation Districts, and the services available to farmers through the districts. Two pages of photographs illustrate six of the major soil conservation practices recommended in Delaware-strip cropping, woodland management, clearing of main drainage ditches, individual farm drainage, cover and green manure cropping, and wildlife management.

Copies of this leaflet are available free from the Office of Information, Agricultural Extension Service, Newark, Delaware.

Funeral rites for Reverend David E. Wood, 63, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, were held from the church on Tuesday afternoon, with Doctor T. C. Mulligan, district superintendent officiating.

Mr. Wood, who through the seven years of his pastorate here had earnestly and conscientiously endeavored himself to the community so that he was thought of as "the friendly pastor". Born in Scotland, the deceased had known hardship as a child. He worked in the coal mines, walking to and from work in the darkness, and working all day underground. And yet, he gained spiritual strength along with physical strength. All the while possessing a deep desire to understand music he taught himself piano, organ, and voice. He joined the church early, sang in small choirs and taught music.

Before leaving Scotland for America, about thirty years ago, he was a member of a noted choral group at Glasgow. As a young man Mr. Wood had been in the insurance business, however, the religious urge to the religious life was so strong that he turned to the ministry and gave the remainder of his life to Christian stewardship.

Coming to America he preached in Maryland and Delaware, before serving with the United Brethren Church in Kansas. He returned to Delaware and he and Mrs. Wood considered this small town their home thereafter.

Before the pastor's health began to fail two years ago, he built a bungalow at Law's Church, to which place he had planned to live, when he was to retire from the ministry. Despite all his efforts the faithful care and devotion given to him by his wife and their children, Mr. Wood's health failed steadily. He underwent an operation at the Kent General Hospital, Dover, about a year ago. He seemed better for a time, then following a recurrence of his disease he and Mrs. Wood took a trip to Chicago, Nevada and California in order to be near their daughters and their families. He underwent a second operation in Chicago, and upon returning to Frederica made a separate effort to fulfill his pastorate.

Mrs. Wood, ever faithful and understanding, read the scriptures, announced the hymns and stood besides him while he delivered his sermon, under the strain of the pains indigenous to illness. His daughters, Mrs. Mary Pratt and Mrs. Elizabeth Willis, both talented singers and their husbands, both pastors-visited the parsonage during the summer, and they gave freely and generously of their talents to enrich the church service. At times Mrs. Wood herself occupied the pulpit, when the ravages of disease overcame his brave efforts. Mrs. Wood bravely sustained him through the years.

This small community will long desire and greatly miss the voice of this pastor, who was a true Bible scholar, familiar with many interpretations of noted authorities, yet sure enough of his own convictions to portray the scriptures with honesty and candor. Outspoken and fearless, the deceased accepted the challenges as they were set forth, and those with whom he disagreed were as much his champion as those with whom he had complete agreement.

This community has lost a gentleman who read and reread the Bible, the friend who talked with friend in an effort to bring out the questions, which needed understanding and discussion, in order to clear the uncertainties involving about them. Many times this pastor gave vocal solos coordinated to his sermon topics, and he joined with visiting musicians for duets and quartets.

Wood called promptly at homes where pastoral sympathy and comfort was needed and no task seemed too great if a part of the Christian plan. The church, its organization, this community, the Milford Neck area where the deceased preached on Sunday afternoon, as well as the pastorates where the Woods had served, joined on large groups to view the body at the Rogers Funeral Home on Monday evening and at the Church funeral services.

It is thus that heartfelt sympathy was a true benediction to the widow, the three daughters, Mary, Jessie and Elizabeth, the three son-in-laws, the granddaughters and grandsons.

From the show ring to a place in the sun of harness world in eight short years is the unusual story of late-starting Tom Wingate, Rehoboth Beach, driver-trainer, who checked in for the 20-night trotting meet at the new $800,000 Rosecroft Raceway.

The 54-year-old Delaware pilot will be fondly remembered by fans who made "win with Wingate" the battle-cry last year at Laurel Raceway. One of the busiest drivers at the Laurel plant, Wingate was in the money 27 of 43 races to finish the second leading driver for the meeting.

Arriving here with a 24-horse stable, Wingate promised that he again will be seeing plenty of action and that his mounts figure to be as successful as they were last year.

Until 1941, Wingate's interest was in hunters and jumpers. Then he switched to standard breeds and his rise in the trotting sport began almost immediately. Last year was his best, as he became the leading driver at Harrington, second at Laurel and a top performer at Roosevelt Raceway. He also won the Reading Futurity behind the 3-year-old trotter Kroger Babb, who will be in action at Rosecroft.

Wingate is determined to establish himself on the Grand Circuit this year, for he will campaign the big tracks from Maine to California, including meetings at Rosecroft and Laurel Raceway.

Among the Wingate entries will be such favorites as Hunter Direct, Betty F. Dale, Royal Scott Jr., and Emulo Hanover, along with Day Song, Pan American, Rita Direct, and Senator Hedgewood. Wingate handles the stables of Thomas L. Johnson of Rehoboth Beach; Jake Rudnick and Reynolds Reed, Dover, Del.; J. J. Rose, Philadelphia, and Jacob Mursky of New Holland, Pa.

Arriving last Thursday also was the stable of Seattle sportsman Bert O'Brien, under supervision of Warren Holmes of Mountain View, N. J. The outstanding West Coast stable includes Seattle Dean, 5-year-old trotter listed as the early favorite for the one-mile opening night feature, the $1,000 Innovation Trot. Frank Hanna of Aylett, Va., most consistent performer at Laurel last year, also checked in with three mounts. During the Laurel meeting Hanna, driver of popular 20-year-old Hanover Express, put his horses in the money in 14 out of 16 starts.

Earl Thomas is busy hauling nightly entries to Rosecroft from Laurel and Marlboro where they are quartered because of lack of stables at the track.

"Doc White, 'the wizard of the turf', and his gang are performing at Rosecroft.

Among the Harringtonians attending the harness races at Rosecroft Memorial Day night were: Marguerite Calloway, Mrs. Harry Morris, Franklin Swain, Mac McKelvey, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Marshall, Franklin Derricksen, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Satterfield, Clarence Collins, Carrington Burgess, Mrs. Beatrice Mumford, Mr. and Mrs. James Cain, Bill Barlow, Charles Price Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Pat Fry, Jim Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Baker and Elwood Wright, Burrsville; Wallace Wright, Vernon, and Charles Fountain, Dover.

Over the public address system at Rosecroft emanated, from time to time, sweet music. Selections included The Blue Danube, Alexander's Ragtime Band, Clair de Lune, Beautiful Ohio, What'll I Do, La Golondrina, The Waltz You Saved For Me, I Love You Truly, Schubert's Serenade, Evening Star from Tannhauser.

One of the major reasons for the substantial attendance at Rosecroft from the peninsula is the fact that many horses went to that track directly from Harrington. We have yet to see a Rosecroft race without local performers.

New Castle Airport To Have Open House

"Flight-seeing" trips over Delaware and two adjoining states have been arranged as a special feature of the open house at the New Castle County Airport on Saturday and Sunday, it was revealed today by G. Roy Eaton, chairman of the New Castle County Airport Commission, who invited all residents of Delaware to visit the huge airport.

At the request of the commission, two airlines have arranged to provide 100-mile flights over the tri-state area at a special price. The flights will take passengers in the air over Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania for half an hour in giant twin-engine airplanes. In addition, an air service firm will offer a shorter ride over Wilmington, in a smaller plane.

Many Delawareans who have never ridden in airplanes are buying tickets for their first rides on the "flight-seeing" trips. Similar trips have been extremely popular at other airports where they have been arranged, and it is therefore prudent to buy tickets in advance, Mr. Eaton said. The number of flights which can be made is limited to five each afternoon.

Other special events at the open house will be stunt and speed flying by gasoline-powered model planes; a squadron show by the Delaware Air National Guard; and a display of National Guard and private airplanes.

Five guided tours, offered free of charge, will show visitors up into the airport control tower, through the U. S. Weather Bureau station, the airline offices, and the National Guard and airport facilities.

The open house will be held from noon until dark on Saturday and Sunday.

Big Business
In 1870, America had 427,000 independent commercial and industrial enterprises which equaled one for each 81 persons. In 1947 America had 2,280,000 businesses, one for each 63 people. So, in spite of our big businesses, we have a larger number of small businesses even in proportion to our population.

Pests Damage Barley Crops

Black army worms have played havoc with crops in Slaughter Neck, especially in the section near Slaughter Beach.

At the farm of Blanche Bennett about one-quarter of the barley crop has been destroyed, and on the farm of Frank Reed considerable of his barley crop has been ruined.

There were 125 acres in barley at the Reed farm, when the worms appeared. Deep furrows were plowed around the tract, and DDT was used, but before the worms were exterminated, about thirty acres had been damaged.

In this section last week the Slaughter Beach highway literally was covered with the black worms, but the work of extinction has about wiped out the pests.

The worms appeared to be traveling in an army in a northerly direction.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

What we have been looking for has arrived and it is really hot, what do we do when the atmosphere gets around 80 and above? Start to fret about the weather, a good many times this is unnecessary because you can get a circulating fan at a low cost, that will keep your home cool. Don't you think you owe it to yourself and your family to try and keep as comfortable as you can? We have several different types of fans and at a very reasonable price. Any fan can be bought on weekly payments and small payments at that almost any price you feel you can pay. Stop in and get yours.

Do you still have a ice card that you hang up about every day? Don't you want to get rid of it and get something that makes ice for you? Well this can be done and the price is so low by the week that it isn't necessary to use the card any longer.

There are so many people made happy again by changing their old refrigerator for a new one. In fact we are changing several new ones for old ones of course there is some difference, which naturally you would expect to pay, but I still think you would be pleased with the amount of allowance you can get.

Do you like fresh strawberries? Well if you do wouldn't you like to have them any time you wish. If you purchase a freezer locker and it don't have to be large enough to hold a steer, then you can put these things away and have them when you want.

A small freezer is just right for people living in congested areas, but of course the farmers can have larger ones as they usually have more to keep.

Not only that, but it is very convenient to know that you always have plenty in the home for any emergency. Come in and see how easy it is to buy one from a 2 1/2 cu. ft. to 30 cu. foot.

How about that portable radio to take along with you on your vacation? Well we have just the thing for such an occasion and it will either play where there is electric power or not.

A good little radio that you can pack up in a very small place and it has plenty of wallop.

Watch for the television sets that Philco is going to throw at you in a very short time, in fact the price will be where you can afford to buy. They are now in the making so they will be ready when the radio season is at its peak, about 3 more months.

I think the most of us have more company in the summer months than we do the cooler months and may I ask do you have that bedroom looking nice and cool? What I am referring to is wall paper. If you know it or not, the paper on the wall will surely have lots to do with it. Not only the bedroom, but every room in the house. Don't forget that hall if you have one as a light pattern of paper will really change its appearance. Stop in, see what we have for any room.

Tell our advertisers you saw it in the Harrington Journal.
