

Carvel Appoints First State Public Service Commission

Derrickson From Kent County, and Walter C. Phillips, of Sussex, are Other Members of Board

Governor Carvel Saturday announced his appointment of John C. Hazzard of Roselle, Vernon B. Derrickson of Dover, and Walter C. Phillips of Lewes as the members of the state's new Public Service Commission.

The governor said that he was very happy that the General Assembly authorized the commission—the first state-wide public utility control agency in the state's history—and that he thought it "a fine step in the interest of people of the state."

He said that he had given the appointments "serious consideration" and that he thought the appointees "able and well qualified to administer the new law."

The term of the appointees is staggered in accordance with the provisions of the law which specifies that the original terms shall be of two, four and six years and that, as these terms expire, new appointments shall be for six-year terms.

Mr. Hazzard and Mr. Derrickson, the Democratic members of the new commission, are engaged in the building materials and hotel businesses, respectively. Mr. Phillips, the Republican member, is a former school teacher and farmer, now retired.

The Public Service Commission, created by the recent assembly, is to begin functioning Sept. 1, and at that time will assume the duties and responsibilities of the Wilmington Board of Public Utility Commissioners which has operated for the city since 1911.

The new commission will have general supervision of all public utilities—excepting municipally owned ones—throughout the state. Included are all types of concerns which operate now or may hereafter operate "within the state of Delaware, any steam railroad, street railway, traction railway, motor bus, electric trolley, trolley coach, taxicab, automobile truck, express steam, manufactured gas, electric light, heat, power, water, telephone or telegraph service system, plant or equipment, for public use."

Under the law, the commissioners are to receive annual salaries of $4,500 each and are authorized to employ a secretary and "such other employees as it may deem necessary." The attorney general is to be legal adviser to the commission.

from which he received a law degree in 1927.

Associated with a family hotel business most of his life, he practiced law in New Bern, S. C., for about five years before concentrating on the hotel business. He is president of Derrickson Hotel, Inc., Wheeling, W. Va., vice-president, secretary and treasurer of Derrickson Hotel Operating Company, Charlestown, W. Va.; vice-president of the V. & W. Hotel Corporation, Moorehead City, N. C., president of the R. & W. Hotel Corporation, East Orange, N. J.; president of the Venita Hotel Corporation, Dover, and president of the Blades Corporation, Dover.

Mr. Derrickson has also been associated with his father and brother in lumber businesses in South Carolina and in Dover.

He is a member of the E. K. S., the Kiwanis Club, Kappa Alpha, a social fraternity, and Gamma Eta Gamma, legal fraternity. He is a member of the Board of Trade of Wheeling and has served two terms as president of the Dover Chamber of Commerce. He is a member of the Kent County Horse Association and has served as chairman of the Red Cross Drive in Dover.

Prominent in Democratic political circles, Mr. Derrickson is one of the Governor's military aides and, as such, has the honorary title of lieutenant-colonel. He is married and the father of two children.

State Grange Officer.

Mr. Phillips was born near Georgetown and he attended grammar and high schools in that community. He also attended the University of Delaware for a time. From 1913 through 1915, he taught in rural schools near Lewes and worked at farming during the summers. In 1915 he began operation of a family farm and continued in that occupation until four years ago. In the past year, he has been associated with the Southern States Cooperative Store in Nassau.

Mr. Phillips is secretary of the Delaware State Grange and master of Coolspring Grange. He and his wife are members of St. George's Episcopal Church. They have no children.

Mr. Phillips has served as an election and registration officer and he was reading clerk of the House of the 1941 General Assembly.

TOMATO PRICE HOLDING FIRM

Raw stock is now selling from 40c to 65c per 5-8 basket with the top price going to growers who send well rounded-up baskets of good quality fruit to market.

This year quality must be emphasized. The dry weather has caused the fruit to be undersized as compared to the size of fruit produced during a normal year. The dry weather has cut yields severely in some sections of the State. It has been reported by a number of growers that the expected yield per acre will not exceed four tons of tomatoes. The farmer who picks his tomatoes with careful supervision usually gets more than the average picker. The producer sells everything he grows on quality and if you have a better pack than nearby competing areas, you get a premium. This year, more than ever, the farmer needs this premium in order to offset the increase in cost of production.

CANTALOUPE MARKETING ABOUT COMPLETED

Receipts of cantaloupes at the Farmers' Auction Block at Dover are about complete. Receipts for the past week have been extremely light. Small lots of loose cantaloupes are still arriving at the block. Paying prices throughout the week ranged from 2c to 7c each, depending on quality and condition.

WATERMELON HARVEST APPROACHING PEAK

With the approach of Labor Day the watermelon marketing season will hit the peak. The volume of melons handled by the Farmers' Auction Block at Laurel, has been in excess of 20,000 per day for the past week. The quality of the melons has been reported by some buyers to be excellent. Prices are running somewhat below normal because of the relatively cool weather that has caused consumption to be reduced in the terminal markets.

SUMMARY OF WHOLESALERS OF DELAWARE PRODUCE IN MAIN TERMINAL MARKETS

APPLES—On the New York market, McIntosh ranged between $1.00 and $3.50, mostly $1.00 to $2.00, depending on quality and condition. In Baltimore, apples were about steady with U. S. PEACHES—In New York, prices showed still further weakening where prices for Elbertas ranged from $1.00 to $1.75, mostly $1.00 to $1.25.

The Pittsburgh market remained barely steady with top sales reported at $1.75. In Philadelphia sales ranged from 75c to $1.75. During the later part of the week the market was exceptionally weak.

Bullock Receives Alternate Appointment To West Point

United States Senator J. Allen Frear, Jr., Monday night announced two principal appointments to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, and one to the United States Military Academy at West Point for classes beginning in 1950.

Nominated to attend the Naval Academy were James V. Healy, of Wilmington, and Ricky W. Diehl, of Newark. The principal West Point candidate will be Walter F. Le Cates, Jr., of Laurel.

The candidates were chosen on the basis of the Civil Service examinations conducted in July for members of Congress. Nine Delaware boys competed in the tests.

First alternate appointments went to Fred H. Gates II, of Laurel, and Thomas A. Sliwinski, of Wilmington, for the Naval Academy, and Robert N. Floyd, Jr., of New Castle, for West Point.

Second alternate appointments went to R. Richard Messick, Jr., Rehoboth, for Annapolis, and to Jackson R. Dunlap, Jr., of Lewes, to West Point.

Joshua E. Bullock, Jr., Harrington, was awarded a third alternate appointment to West Point Academy.

The principal candidates must successfully complete physical and mental entrance examinations in order to enter the respective Service Schools in classes beginning July 1, 1950. In the event any principal appointee fails to qualify, his alternates will then be given an opportunity to take his place.

Extension Courses Increase at U. of D.

For the third consecutive year the college-level extension courses offered by the University of Delaware have been increased to a new record number, said M. Hodgson, academic extension director, said Wednesday in announcing the fall term program.

Seventy-six courses in 26 different fields of study are being offered at Wilmington, Newark, Dover and Milford. Most of these are evening classes, and a majority of them will be held at Wilmington High School. Last year 2100 students enrolled.

Courses are selected and offered on the basis of indicated interest and need, plus the ability of the university to provide instruction. Mr. Hodgson pointed out that additional courses, regularly offered at the university, might be added to the extension offering if sufficient demand appeared.

Early registrations already are being received at Mr. Hodgson's office in Robinson Hall, Newark, from which bulletins, listing all courses and other information, will be mailed soon to interested persons.

Prospective extension students, who may enroll for undergraduate or graduate credit, or for no academic credit, may register by mail unless they have been admitted to the regular graduate or undergraduate divisions. Application forms are obtainable from Mr. Hodgson's office.

Class work will begin in the last week of September. Meanwhile, registration may be completed, or information obtained, at the Wilmington office, from 7 to 9 p. m. on Sept. 14; or in the lecture hall of the Wilmington Institute.

All the university's five schools—Agriculture, Arts & Science, Education, Engineering and Home Economics—have offerings listed. In addition to the academic credit available to qualified persons seeking a degree, most of the courses will be open to persons interested in meeting professional improvement standards, or in increasing their knowledge without meeting credit standards.

Cantaloupes Tested at Station

In a test of over 100 varieties of cantaloupes—some varieties which came from as far away places as Korea, India, Egypt and Iran—research horticulturists of the University of Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, rate a variety from Florida named as Smith's Perfect as outstanding. It has been given this rating because of its quality and resistance to downy mildew.

These variety tests, conducted at the University's Agricultural Substation near Georgetown this season, were for the purpose of finding varieties resistant to downy mildew and which could be used for future breeding investigations.

E. M. Rahn, of the department of horticulture, describes the Smith's Perfect variety as one which is already being grown to some extent in Florida and says that seed is available there. He says that the cantaloupe is extremely sweet and flavorful. Melons of this variety picked at random and tested for sugar content scored 14 1-2 per cent sugar. The Delaware state law requires a minimum of eight per cent.

Compared to other varieties Smith's Perfect was much resistant to downy mildew. Its resistance was much greater than that of the Texas Resistant No. 1 variety which rates considerably higher than varieties now grown locally.

The Smith's Perfect variety is not as closely netted as most varieties and this characteristic may handicap it for our markets where consumers generally prefer netted fruit.

Because of its other characteristics, however, it is suggested that growers make a trial planting of this variety next year to compare its qualities and resistance with varieties now being raised.

Kent County Wants More State Jobs

Post of Internal Revenue Collector Specifically Requested, with Ernest Killen Among Candidates

Dissatisfaction with some of the appointments of Governor Carvel and a demand for a stronger voice in distribution of federal and state patronage were expressed at a three-hour meeting of the Kent County Democratic Committee in Legislative Hall Monday night.

Willard D. Boyce, state treasurer and chairman of the committee, flew from Buffalo, N. Y., where he had been on business, to preside at the meeting. About 30 other Democratic state and county leaders attended.

Specific dissatisfaction was expressed over the appointment of Vernon Derrickson of Dover to the newly-created Public Service Commission and a demand was voiced that the office of collector of internal revenue for Delaware, now held by Norman Collison, Bridgeville, be filled by a Kent County man.

In connection with the Governor's appointments, it was contended that, while all appointments of Kent County people previously had been done with the knowledge and approval of the committee, that such was not the case with Mr. Derrickson's appointment.

Committee members expressed concern as to what the administration policy was to be with regard to future appointments of county men and women.

The office of collector of internal revenue has no specific term but it has generally been the practice for an appointee to serve four years. Mr. Collison has held the office since July 1, 1943. Members of the committee expressed the belief that it was Kent County's turn to have the appointment.

Since the post is not vacant, no specific recommendation was made. However, the following were mentioned as possible Kent County candidates:

Names Mentioned

William G. Bush, Dover; Ernest Killen, Harrington; Wilbert Rawley, Leipsic, and Harry S. Jones, Smyrna. No definite recommendation was made by the committee.

Appointment of Democrats to positions and jobs in the State Highway Department, now well under way, was also discussed.

Attention was called by those attending the meeting that it had been generally agreed that any Democratic appointments to be made in Kent County should be referred to the Kent County Democratic Committee for its consideration.

Definite recommendations were made to fill some 32 road jobs on the State Highway Department in Kent County. These were mostly labor, truck driving, foreman, and road supervisor positions.

The children ride bicycles around Harrington like cowboys—disregarding all traffic rules, riding on sidewalks, and cutting corners. Some day one of them will be killed or injured by an automobile and the poor driver will get—

We seldom pick up a hitch-hiker. Yet by doing so the other day, we stumbled on a rare bird—a young man who wanted work at any cost. This fellow was on his way to Paradise Alley to pick tomatoes in the hot sun, if he could find the work.

We seldom pick up a hitch-hiker. Yet Tuesday we picked up the same fellow in the same spot as previously. This time he was on his way to Felton to work in the chicken plant. Mentioning our previous meeting, he said he had made $4 picking tomatoes. Married and the father of a six-months' old baby, he was willing to do any kind of work.

When we suggested he could do odd jobs in his spare time, he said he could do some painting, some carpentering, and that he would be willing to do anything. It so happens he works in the afternoons and in the early evening but his mornings are free. The lad is husky and not afraid to work. Juvenile delinquency reached its zenith in Harrington Monday with the arrest of two boys, one colored, because of offenses against two eight-year-olds at Wheeler's Park.

One of the youngsters was staked to the ground and beaten and the other tied to a tree after unsuccessful demands for money had been made upon them by older boys. Furthermore, attempts were made to make one of the victims commit an indecent act. The offenders were taken to Dover Monday afternoon and arraigned before Judge Keith.

This playground needs supervision. Last year one mother had a letter published in this paper calling attention to the fact, after her small son had been pushed into a stream at the park.

The letter asked that representatives of various civic organizations take up the task, but without avail.

Mr. Wheeler has gone to great pains and to a considerable expenditure of time and money to assure the youth of Harrington a park. He has worked Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays clearing the land and has worked in water up to his hips to build a dam to back up water in the stream to such an extent it could float a boat.

He furnished the park with playground equipment, most at his own expense. He has built a barbecue pit, drove a well, and erected picnic tables.

Mr. Wheeler has done his part. Will the citizens of Harrington do their part?

In the questioning of the principals in the trial at Dover Monday afternoon, it was revealed that several Harrington merchants are selling cigarettes to minors.

POTTER'S FIELD

The children that start to school next week are more valuable than all your stocks, bonds, or other material holdings, including the pennies you may have in your pocket.

Those children will form the foundation upon which future generations will have to build, just as you and I built upon the foundations that were laid for us.

This was a town dying in its tracks, despite the effort of a few far-sighted men in the past to revive it. Thanks to the Harrington Better Business Association, we have managed to hold on to what industries we now have, and have favorable prospects of bringing in more.

The last two paragraphs bring us to the point we are driving at.

We are so interested in our present needs and desires and so proud of our achievements in the past three or four years, in comparison to what has been done in the last two decades, that we are neglecting the future.

 Kentucky was the birthplace of two men destined to become leaders in the war between the states. Abraham Lincoln, president of the United States, and Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, were born within eight months and 100 miles of each other.

American Record
 Americans have achieved a five-fold increase in physical output in less than a century, cut their average work week from 70 to about 40 hours, and increased their national income 26 times with a working force that has grown only about eight-fold.

Appropriations Assured for Indian River Inlet

United States Senator J. Allen Frear, Jr., said Monday night that appropriations for the Indian River Inlet and the Harbor of Refuge at Lewes, have been assured for the coming year. The sum of $440,000 has been approved by both the Senate and the House. Senator Frear said that the final action on the Service Functions Bill by the House Conference Committee is still awaited, but that in any event the allotment of these two Delaware projects will be made.

Senator Frear's remarks were contained in the twelfth of a series of weekly reports to the people of Delaware on congressional matters of current interest.

Mr. Frear in his talk again commended the action of Secretary of Defense Louis A. Johnson in reducing the number of civilian employees within the armed services.

Dr. J. Robert Martin Chiropractic Physician DAILY 1 to 5 p. m. and 6 to 8 p. m. 106 N. W. Front St. Milford Phone Milford 1007

The Delaware senator called the move a courageous one and added he did not believe it would adversely affect the efficiency of the Department of Defense.

Senator Frear also told the agencies that the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee is still studying legislation which would provide for an upward adjustment in postal rates. Mr. Frear, who is a member of that committee, said that the Senate members are attempting to write a bill which will help alleviate the present Post Office Department deficit, but at the same time not establish prohibitive postal rates that would adversely affect publishing firms and other business houses that use the Department's facilities extensively.

Latex Raises Pay And Insurance

At a meeting of all employees of International Latex Corporation, held at Playtex Park last Thursday, W. O. Heinze, president of the company, announced another wage increase affecting everybody in the organization. Mr. Heinze also made public the doubling of the amount of every employee's life insurance policy, for which the company pays all premiums, in addition to paying the entire cost of all health and accident insurance, including surgery and hospitalization benefits.

In his announcement, Mr. Heinze said that although the company's tremendous national advertising campaign which is now underway is already the largest in the history of the soft goods industry, it has again been doubled in order to off-set this mounting decline in business.

He said that parallel with the increase in the advertising program, the company further expanding its national sales force in order to assure the flow of store orders that will in turn guarantee full employment at Playtex Park.

Mr. Heinze explained that plans for increased sales, advertising and production were made over six months ago when it became clear that a business recession was shaping up in the soft goods and fashion industries.

The company he said, was not willing to sit back with folded hands "waiting" for better times. "Full employment," said Mr. Heinze, "is not an accident; and manufacturers can do much to guarantee it to their workers."

That so many plants throughout the nation are now retrenching and throwing people out of work is little short of a national catastrophe, Mr. Heinze said. Increased sales effort and increased advertising are the best medicine in the world when business changes from a healthy to an unhealthy condition, he added.

DELAWARE'S JUNIOR POULTRYMEN HAVE EYE ON CONTEST FINAL

It's "full speed ahead" in Delaware's Junior Division of the Chicken of Tomorrow Contest. The nearly 100 boys and girls who are caring for their broilers entered in this contest were reminded this week by J. Frank Gordy, extension poultryman, that the contest ends September 29. At that time contestants will select six cockerels from their flocks to be dressed and judged at one of the State's poultry processing plants.

In the remaining weeks of the contest Gordy says that "full speed ahead" means making every possible effort to get as much weight on the birds as possible. He urges the young poultrymen to keep mash before the birds at all times. Grain, he says, if fed at all, should be used in small amounts.

A total of $100 in prizes will be awarded growers of the broilers receiving the ten highest scores. A trophy donated by the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association will also be awarded the grower whose birds are scored highest.

Judging and awarding of the prizes in the Junior Division of the contest will be at the same time as the Senior Division contest. A total of 12 pens of 400 broilers are entered in the Senior Division. These Senior flocks are being raised under identical conditions at the Agricultural Substation near Georgetown.

Arousel by the storm's intensity, several residents watched the church steeple in their anxiety. They reported that it swayed to and fro. Monday morning the town residents noticed that the weather-vane, atop the steeple, had been noticeably bent. A large tree, situated on the Hoey property, was blown down. The tree blocked traffic at that entrance to River-view Heights, until its removal at ten o'clock Monday morning. Many tree limbs were blown down and the lights were out in some sections of town.

SEE IT and you want it - PRICE IT and you'll buy!

FOLKS take a look at those bumper-guard grilles—built as a unit and proof against “locking horns”—and say “Hmmm! Nice!”

They sweep their eyes over tapering fenders, with a suggestion of jet power in their after contours—and say, “That’s for me!”

They eye-measure windshields that are 48% bigger and rear windows with 56% more area—and know without being told they can see the road up closer, both fore and aft.

So they say—“That’s for me—IF!”

“What does it cost me to get this handy-sized dandy with the roomiest interiors ever found on a Buick Special?”

“What do I pay for high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power from a big Buick straight-eight engine?”

“What’s the tag on that swell Buick ride, with coil springing, extra-wide rims, seats between the axles and all that?”

“And what about Dynaflo Drive—understand I can have that at extra cost—how much?”

Well, sir, the news is good. Plenty good.

Because this honey’s priced well under your expectations. It’s a straight-eight that’s priced under a lot of sixes—over the years your investment will be no more than for any other car.

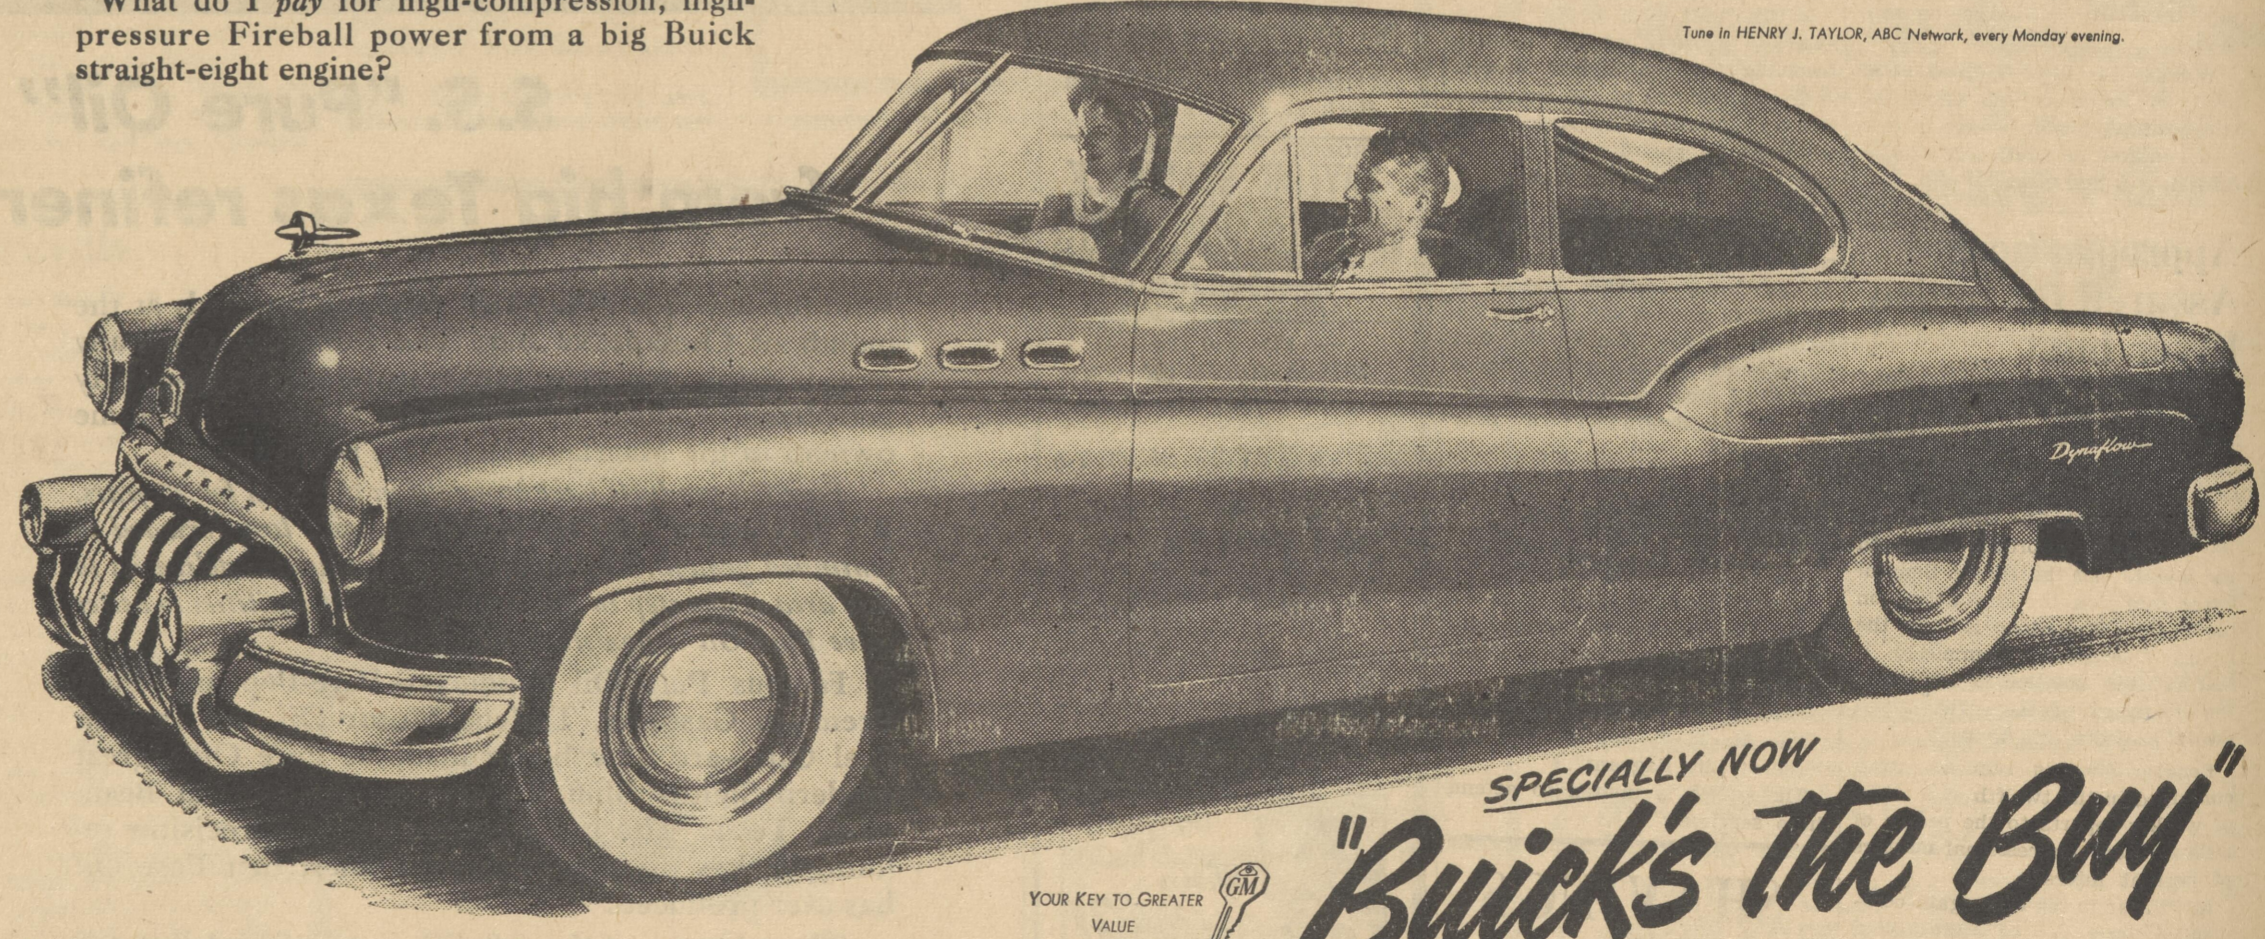

So better not stop with looking. Better price it too—delivered at your door. Your Buick dealer will give you the figures, even demonstrate.

After which you’ll do as others are doing—you’ll get a firm order in.

TEN-STRIKE!
Only Buick SPECIAL has all these Features!

TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE • MORE ROOM FOR THE MONEY • DYNAFLO DRIVE optional at extra cost • JET-LINE STYLING • NON-LOCKING BUMPER-GUARD GRILLES • HIGH-PRESSURE FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT ENGINE • COIL SPRINGING ALL AROUND • LOW-PRESSURE TIRES ON SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • GREATER VISIBILITY FORE AND AFT • SELF-LOCKING LUGGAGE LIDS • STEADY-RIDING TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE • THREE SMART MODELS WITH BODY BY FISHER

Mr. E. D. Loper spent last week near Cape Charles selling Home Comfort Ranges. Mrs. Elizabeth Gerardi and daughters, of Andrewville, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bartos Hrupsa Sunday.

Magnolia

Painters are at work on the interior of the school getting it in readiness for opening on Sept. 7th. Mr. McIlvaine, Magnolia principal, with the help of the school board and approval of the State Board of Education, has secured two new teachers for the school year. Mrs. Roy Pettyjohn, of Milford, will take the small children and Mrs. Hineback, near Dover, will take the room formerly taught by Mrs. Sara Dickinson.

There is high hopes of putting Magnolia school back to a four teacher school with the anticipated attendance being very close to one hundred, the number required to be allowed a fourth teacher. Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Rhoades, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rhoades, Jr. and the Misses Nancy and Carole Ann Bottomly, of Claymont Heights, visited the former's mother, Mrs. Jennie Rhoades, at the home of Mrs. Florence Marvel, on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reed and children, Miss Rose Ann and George, Jr., spent the week-end with Miss Edna Roach in her cottage at Ocean City, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Jackson and grandson, Bruce Jackson, accompanied by Mrs. Bessie Wright and Mrs. Cora Reed and son, Ronnie, went on an outing to Tolchester, on Wednesday. They returned by way of Newark, to leave Bruce at his home there.

Mrs. Houston Short, of Felton, was an overnight guest on Wednesday of her mother, Mrs. William Reed. Dr. and Mrs. Charles Elderidge will return to the parsonage on Friday from a three weeks vacation spent at Crisfield and Westminster, Md.

THE TRUE MEANING OF LABOR DAY

Labor Day means much more to us than a pleasant holiday and an opportunity to relax. It is a day to reflect on the American Way—where employer and employee meet on equal terms. More than ever, we are proud of our American heritage.

But do not forget that your working conditions in the next few years will also depend upon the reserve you are able to build out of your earnings. Work for the future as well as for today.

Soil Building Urged Here

Farmers of Delaware will be en- couraged to use soil building practices of the 1950 Agricultural Conservation Program to make the best use of land taken out of allot- ment crops, Ernest S. Mattiford, acting chairman of the Delaware PMA Committee, said last Friday.

The national list of approved con- servation practices has just been received and a State list is now being prepared for use in counties.

The chairman points out that the State wheat allotment of 60,952 acres calls for a reduction of the number of acres seeded in the 1948-49 crop year, and reductions may be needed in other crops also.

Where practicable the seeding of grass and legumes will be en- couraged. This will make it possible to build soil reserves for the future and at the same time provide feed for additional livestock. An in- crease will bring about a better production balance. It will be balancing production, not cutting production, the acting State Chair- man said.

The 1950 Agricultural Conserva- tion Program soon to be announced will be available to all farmers in the State.

"Farmers cooperating in the Program will be helping other farmers and the nation as a whole to build a stronger and more stable agriculture," says the chairman.

"They will be building on the work already done and will be helping to put into practice the better methods of conservation farming resulting from experience and re- search."

Within a few weeks, State Handbooks carrying provisions of the program and a list of conserva- tion practices which have been provided for Delaware will be sent to counties to serve as a basis for county programs.

SHORT STORY

Artistic Ancestors

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"I WISH," said Aime Butterworth wistfully, "I only wish there had been some one in our family who really did something, something worth while, something—" she smiled as she said it—"I could brag about."

Fred Butterworth laid aside the morning paper, gulped down the last of his coffee, shoved back his chair and said: "What?"

Aime overlooked his rudeness. "The bridge club meets here this afternoon," she said, "and I dread it. I dread it be- cause Aggie Spencer and and Gertrude Wilcox will monopolize the conversation with stories of their ancestors.

Fred scratched his chin and con- templated the wistful look in his wife's eyes. Suddenly he banged the table. "By George, I'd almost for- gotten it! Darned if I hadn't. You sit here a minute, sweet, till I rum- mage around in the attic. I'll give you something to brag about!"

Later he returned with a book. "But what is it?" asked Aime.

"It's a book of poetry, that's what it is! Written by my mother and published 20 years ago. There's talent in my family, I'll have you know."

Aime's eyes lighted, then glowed with sudden joy. "Fred! You dear! Is it really? Was your mother really a poet? Oh, why didn't you tell me before! It's just too exciting!"

Fred grinned delightedly. En- route to the station he began to smile. And by the time he had boarded the 8:15 the smile had de- veloped into an occasional chuckle.

Tom Cooke, who usually sat with Fred during the short run to the city, became curious.

"Say, what's eating you this morning? Let a man in on it if you've got something that'll fetch a laugh these dull days."

Fred laughed outright. "I'll tell you, Tom. It's too good to keep. But don't on your life breathe a word. It would kill Aime."

TOM MADE SOLEMN promises and cocked his ear. "Well," said Fred, "Aime was upset this morning because she didn't have anything to brag about at her bridge club. The other members, it seems, have artistic ancestors. It made Aime feel bad to think she married into such an uninteresting family, so I dug into an old trunk and pro- duced a book of poems that mother published 20 years ago, and told her to brag about that."

"How'd you come out?" Tom asked. "What did Aime say?"

Tom looked puzzled. "What's wrong with that? I'd say a mother-in-law poet was O.K."

"But here's the rub," Fred grinned. "That book of poems is an old manuscript that be- longed to my grandmother. After grandmother died, mother found the 'script, thought the poems were worthy of publication, added a few of her own choice verses, and submitted the retyped copy to a publisher. Mr. Pub- lisher ate the stuff up."

"Mother was thrilled. She thought she must have real talent, and went down to the library to study up and read the masters. While perusing a volume of Walt Whitman she discovered some of the very poems that her mother had supposedly written."

"Of course, mother immediately wired the publisher, advising him to cease manufacturing the book, and explaining that her mother must have copied some of her favorite Whitman poems in order to save them. But Mr. Publisher had al- ready printed about 2000 copies, which were ready for distribution. Mother bought up the edition and destroyed all but one, which she kept for sentimental reasons. That one is the book I gave Aime this morning."

Tom Cooke arrived at the station a few minutes early the next morning and when he saw the grinning countenance of Fred Butterworth coming down the street, he wert eagerly to meet him.

RECORD FOR LUSTY SONG

Lusty Song, the sensational two year old trotter owned by Hayes Fair Acres Stable of DuQuoin, Ill., established his first world record last week when he toured the Sedalia, Missouri, mile oval in 2:02 2-5 in winning the $9,225 Trotting Club Stakes. The previous best time recorded by a two-year-old trotter in a race was 2:02 1/2 by Nibble Hanover in 1938.

The fastest time ever posted by a two-year-old was registered by Arden Homestead Stable's Titan Hanover, who went 2:00 flat in a time test at Lexington, Ky., in 1944. Many horsemen believe that Lusty Song must be able to equal or better this time before the year is out.

as a two-year-old, to the races. Noble F gained an even two-min- ute mark at Springfield, Ill., during the Grand Circuit meet there. Bristle Hanover is a son of Guy McKinney, winner of the inaugural Hambletonian in 1926, and is a half brother to Dean Hanover, one of the premier stallions at the Hanover Shoe Farms.
