Railroad News by Cliff Miller

The inquiry has been receiving many inquiries regarding the Budd Diesel car referred to several times in this column.

The August 12th issue of the Harrington Journal carried as complete a description as was possible at that time, together with results of some of the tests and evident possibilities of the new venture in passenger transportation. A copy of this issue was left aboard the car and found its way to the President of the Budd Company who writes us as follows:

THE BUDD COMPANY, PHILA. September 13, 1949 Office of the President

"I saw today the Friday, August 12th issue of The Harrington Journal. I was very much pleased with the two writeups I saw in the paper. They are both very well done and we are pleased about it. I have sent my copy of the paper to Mr. R. K. Evans of General Motors. I am sure he will appreciate it also.

We are having our first press showing of this car in Chicago on Monday, September 19th. It may interest you to know therefore that you have scooped the entire nation on this subject by about five weeks.

I hope I will have an opportunity to stop off at Harrington again."

Edward C. Budd, Jr. Two days later, the following received from Mr. Long of the Budd Company explains who Mr. Budd had reference to in crediting us with beating his story for the press.

THE BUDD COMPANY, PHILA. September 15, 1949

"Enclosed is one of our press packets, which have been released to the dailies to give them basic information and photographs on the RDC-1. You will note that this information is to be withheld from publication until Monday afternoon, September 19, 1949."

Donald H. Long, Public Relations Department. While we were unaware that our little story was "scooping the nation" as Mr. Budd comments, we railroad men, Mike Quinn, Al Haverty, Eddie Wertz and yours truly who accompanied the car during the tests, did feel that we were witnessing the birth of a new era in passenger transportation.

The following description matter released for publication on September 19th, further strengthens our belief that we will soon be able to leave our automobiles at home and go to town and back quickly and safely for much less than the price of gasoline and parking:

CHICAGO, Sept. 19—A new all-stainless steel rail diesel passenger car, which uses a new torque converter power transmission, was offered today to the railroad industry by The Budd Company, whose builder's name plate appears on many of the most distinguished "name" trains put in service in the last 15 years.

The motive power of the new car comprises twin 275 horsepower General Motors Detroit Diesels. The torque converter transmission is built by the Allison Division of General Motors. It is a wartime development, tested and perfected for use in heavy tanks.

The glistering new air-conditioned car, named RDC-1, is intended for service either singly, or in multiples as a train. It is driven by a single engine man. A vestibule cab is at either end of the car.

"This, our newest development, is ready for main line and branch line operations, and is being offered to the railroads for use in the many services where it can improve net revenues," Edward G. Budd, Jr., president of The Budd Company, said in presenting the car today at Union Station.

"The Budd Company believes the new car offers very real possibilities in making more profitable many railroad passenger operations."

Displaced Persons Encounter Local Hospitality

The generosity of Harringtonians is becoming well-known. A recent demonstration took place here Thursday a week ago when a Lithuanian family of four displaced persons alighted from train No. 455. The conductor explained to Howard Williams there had been mistake, as he had called out Dover and the family did not get off.

"One look at the kindly, anxious faces, blond hair and blue eyes of the father and mother and two young girls told Howard they needed help. All they had was a printed form from the Lutheran denomination. It showed the name of Mr. and Mrs. Lambt and the two girls, aged 13 and 5 years. All that Howard could get from Mr. Lambt were two words, "Farmer Dover". Howard got in touch with Tom Marker, our agent at Dover, who, in turn, contacted the Lutheran people and learned that Mr. Freeman, a farmer near Dover, was meeting trains and buses and looking for them. He said he would send a car down for them.

This could very easily have terminated the transaction and probably would have done so at any other place, but not with Harrington and Howard Williams, who found out they were all very hungry and not financially able to do anything about it, so he called his wife and explained the situation. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Howard Wagner, really did something about it, and by the time the car from Dover had arrived, the family was well fed and happy.

These are the acts of kindness for which Harrington has long been famous, and of which the railroad management is proud.

Brown, one stepdaughter, Mrs. Viola Smith, both of Harrington; two sisters, Mrs. Lois Derickson, of Harrington and Mrs. Florence Sawyer, of Wildwood, Villa, N. J.; one halfsister, Mrs. William McIntyre, Harrington; 13 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Hoof Beats

The 1949 harness season, which reaches its climax at the famed Lexington Trots meeting, Sept. 28-Oct. 8, probably will go into the books as one of the "fastest years" in the sport's history, from the standpoint of two-minute performances.

The Trots, almost invariably, produce more such feats than any other race meeting of the year. And 1949 should be no exception.

Seventh-Day Adventist Revival Opens

The evangelistic revival at the Seventh-Day Adventist Church opened last Sunday night with a good attendance. The subject was "Earth's Last Hour" or end of the world.

Mr. Rees in his lecture showed how Bible Prophecy some two thousand five hundred years ago gave an exact picture of the general history of the world and he said, quoting from the remarkable prophecy of the second chapter of Daniel, that in the days of the present European nations the God of Heaven is to set up His great kingdom of glory wherein will be found no death, no sorrow, no pain. And this kingdom of God is to obliterate the present nations of the world as people today know them. God himself is to be the ruler, and those who concern themselves with doing His will are to be the citizens.

This coming Sunday night the subject entitled "God's Sky Writing" is dealing with the Bible signs of Christ's soon return including present day conditions and their significance.

The services are continuing Sunday and Thursday evenings at 7:45. Community singing is conducted each evening before the lecture and the public is cordially invited.

Junior Board To Give Annual Harvest Ball

The Annual Harvest Ball given by the Junior Board of the Kent General Hospital will be held at the Dover Armory on Friday, Oct. 7th.

Reports from the various committees indicate that this will be the forerunner of all the good times that follow in the coming winter months.

As an innovation, the dance will be held Cabaret style—tables may be reserved by calling Mrs. Weldon Deck, 3632—or Arnold's Drug Store, Bryan's Rexall, and Clarke and McDaniel. Tickets may be purchased from any Junior Board member, or at any of the above mentioned drug stores—table reservations and tickets may also be obtained at the door the night of the ball.

The theme of decorations will transform the Armory into a fall setting, with a harvest moon and a night sky full of stars.

The Junior Board is once again fortunate in obtaining the popular George Madden and his Orchestra—music listenable—danceable—enjoyable.

Make it a full evening—start off with an informal get-together—don't forget your out-of-town friends—and then to the Harvest Ball!

The formation of the Playtex Park Research Institute, the first privately sponsored medical program devoted solely to pediatrics, was announced Wednesday, Sept. 14th by Walter O. Heinze, President of International Latex Corp., Dover, immediately following its first meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City.

The meeting was attended by leading pediatricians and medical researchers of children's hospitals and institutions throughout the country, along with governmental health agency representatives.

The institute's program will be supported in its entirety by the International Latex Corp.

According to the program issued by the Institute, its objectives are: "The facilitation and coordination of scientific research concerning the nature, prevention, causes, treatment and cure of diseases and disorders, and the factors responsible for normal growth and development in the infant." Modelled after no existing research program, its funds will not be used for buildings or equipment but its funds and energies will be devoted to accelerating and initiating research activity in existing publicly or privately endowed institutions. The Governing Board will be relied on to administer the allocation of funds and to monitor the projects sponsored by it.

Dr. Katherine Bain, Director of Research and Child Development, U. S. Children's Bureau; Dr. Sidney Farber, chairman, Division of Laboratories and Research, Children's Medical Center, Boston; Dr. John P. Hubbard, Academy of Pediatrics; Dr. Charles A. Wilson, Chairman of the Dept. of Pediatrics, University of Michigan Medical School.

The program distributed by the Playtex Park Research Institute lists the following basic points as a guide to the Board's subsequent consideration of objectives and methodology:

1. Spend no money on buildings and equipment, spend it on brains.

2. Maintain an atmosphere of freedom of movement, discussion and ideas by members of the Board and other participants in the activities of Playtex Park Research Institute toward achieving the best possible conditions and criteria for effective operation.

3. Establish a close working relationship between the Board and project directors.

4. Emphasize the need for coordination of effort and interchange of information regarding existing research programs and projects.

5. Encourage and stimulate the entrance of young medical graduates into research and pediatric fields and provide sufficient latitude for their development.

In revealing the motivating behind International Latex Corporation's sponsorship of Playtex Park Research Institute, Mr. Heinze stated: "It is a recognition of the need for greater responsibility on

The new Delaware law, concerning the encounter of motor vehicles with school buses at the time of discharging school children, may be leaning over backwards. The statute requires that vehicles approaching the bus from the rear and from the front stop until the children have been discharged and the bus has resumed its journey.

No complaints have been registered on the stopping of vehicles approaching the bus from the rear. When vehicles approach the bus from the front, however, and have to stop, this causes a tieup in traffic. Such a mixup the other day in Sussex county could have caused injuries or fatalities. An out-of-state car passed a line of cars waiting in front of the bus and narrowly avoided running into two children who were running across the road. Children getting off these buses should be warned not to cross the road until it is clear. Under the new law, they have two lines of traffic to watch.

We do not say that other states have the same laws, but we do say that we have never seen school buses in other states where both lanes of traffic have to stop while a bus is discharging passengers.

We believe that drivers of school buses should warn pupils to stay at the side of the road until it is clear.

The Harrington Business and Professional Women's Club, organized last spring, is "on the ball". Already they have plans for a recreation center for the youth of the town. Discussion is also underway regarding the formation of a library by the club in the same building. At the present, it looks as though the organization has already managed to find a large building for the project.

A note on the selection of jurors at the "Lonely Hearts" (Brennan) murder trial: Many were called but few were chosen.

Years ago, when we played basketball at Harrington High School, we changed our clothes in a classroom or in the men's room. Last winter the members of the Legionnaires basketball team, when they played here, changed their clothes in a classroom which had a door with a broken glass. No dressingroom and no shower room.

What will the physical education program of our school, we think it is only proper and fitting that, if the school building program here materializes, it should include shower rooms.

The State School Building Program has given tentative approval to a program for the Harrington Special School District which calls for a total estimated cost of $637,000, of which the district will furnish $394,940 and the state, $242,060.

POTTER'S FIELD

Last week Harrington was host to Volunteer Firemen's Association of the State of Delaware.

Several years ago, when the Delaware Firemen's Association met in Millsboro, Chief Engineer, Lutz, (retired), of the Wilmington Fire Dept. said that people had often asked him "what makes a volunteer fireman?" He admitted that he didn't know. Nobody knows what makes a volunteer fireman, but I can tell you what one is.

A volunteer fireman is the guy that jumps out of bed at 3 A. M., on a bitter winter night, with the thermometer near zero, slams his feet in a pair of slippers, pulls his trousers on over his pajamas and runs from 1 to 8 blocks, through ice-covered puddles, frozen ruts, or 6 inches of snow, gets to the firehouse, kicks off his bedroom slippers, puts his bare feet into a pair of cold rubber boots, two sizes too large for him, puts on a rubber coat over his pajama jacket, hangs on the side of a truck, for five miles out in the country, helps to raise the ladder, then starts to climb it, but has to look at his hands to make sure that he has a grip on a ladder rung, because they are so numb, that he can't tell by the touch. He stays on his job until it is finished, whether he is tired, hungry, cold or sometimes injured.

He is also the same fellow who sits in church, with his family on a sunny Easter morning, with a new spring suit and a new pair of shoes, suddenly cocks his head a little bit to the right or left, listens a second and then runs, returns a few hours later, with the knees out of his trousers, his eyebrows gone and hair singed, shoes a total loss, because he didn't get there in time to put on boots and a coat, but did his job anyway without any thought of his personal loss.

He is the man that leaves his meal, his business, his bed or his job to look for a lost child, and old man, that went hunting and didn't come back before dark, or an escaped criminal hiding in the woods.

When an alarm sounds, all personal interests, pleasures and cares go out of his mind. At the first wail of the siren, he ceases to be a husband, father, son, businessman or laborer—he's a fireman. He stays a fireman until the fire is out, then he becomes an average man again, provided the siren doesn't blow again within the next fifteen minutes. He is also the boy that you swear at for running you in a ditch, because you wouldn't get out of the way, when you heard his siren a quarter of a mile behind you, and saw his red blinker flashing in your rear view mirror. He's the fellow that you "cuss" for getting your nice new overcoat wet, while you're standing in a sheltered doorway across the street watching the fire, just because he slipped on an ice-coated ladder and happened to turn the nozzle your way.

The next time the siren blows, if you aren't an active member of a fire company, let them get there first; you can watch after they start to work, and when you do get there, just stand back and watch; and I do mean back—and I do mean watch. Those boys can't drag hose when it's tangled up in your legs and the officer of the company cannot keep their mind on their job and listen to a half a dozen people giving six different kinds of advice at the same time.

If you have any constructive criticism to make, make it to an officer of the company—after the fire is out (constructive, I said). If you have any other kind of criticism, keep it to yourself.

Incidentally, those boys do it all for you and for nothing.

The next time you go, either or through Dover, look at the monument at State and Loockerman Sts. The names on that monument are the names of men who left their homes to help their fellowmen, with no thought of remuneration, and with nothing to make them go. They didn't come back.

Those are your Volunteer Firemen.

Give them a little more consideration and a little less condemnation.

for Increased Business—More Enjoyable Living!

The progress of any community depends to a large extent upon the ability of its industries to grow and expand... to operate efficiently... to maintain employment... to earn a fair profit and pay fair wages. But, no industry can expand and grow—no community can progress—without an adequate, dependable supply of electric power.

Anticipating your future electric power needs, we have undertaken a five year construction program, representing an expenditure of more than sixty million dollars to assure all industries, farms, homes and stores in the Delmarva Peninsula an abundant, reliable supply of electric power from our system to aid in the future development and growth of the Peninsula.

We are undertaking this construction program with confidence in the future and in having your continued support of this American business enterprise. We believe this construction program will contribute to the maintenance of employment in the Peninsula—not only during the construction period and in the operation of these new facilities when completed—but also in the shops of suppliers of materials and equipment.

So, we say to you—go ahead with your plans... progress and grow... expand your facilities with confidence. You can continue to rely upon our system for an abundant, dependable supply of electric power to meet every need throughout the entire Delmarva Peninsula. MORE POWER TO YOU!

DELAWARE POWER & LIGHT CO.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

John F. McDonald, Delaware Veterans Administration Regional Insurance Officer announced that Carl R. Gray, Jr., Administrator for Veterans Affairs, has made public the first Veterans Administration calculations on amounts proposed to be paid nearly 16,000,000 veterans in the $2.8 billion special National Service Life Insurance dividend.

Maximum possible amount that any veteran can receive will be $528. Other payments, based on age groups will run to lesser sums. The dividend will be paid on both term and converted insurance policies, and will be paid only for the period that the policy was in force prior to the policy anniversary in 1948. No payments will be made for periods of lapse. V-A emphasized.

Mr. McDonald said that the estimated rate of the dividend was arrived at after long actuarial studies, and that the rate of payment will be the same for both term and converted policies, as the dividend is based on mortality savings since there are no excess interest earnings.

In arriving at the dividend scale, Mr. McDonald said, standard insurance practices were followed, whereby dividends on a life insurance policy represent a return to the insured of the excess of premium paid over the amounts required to pay claims and set up necessary reserves. This is not necessary proportional to the premium paid.

While portions of the premium originally estimated as necessary to pay claims may turn out to have been too high and can return a dividend, the part of the premium that goes into building up reserves cannot return a profit unless the fund earns a rate of interest higher than that assumed in the premium calculations. This has not been done in the case of National Service Life Insurance, Mr. McDonald pointed out.

In computing the maximum payment of $528, the dividend was based on a $10,000 policy in force for 96 months, (the largest possible period), on a veteran aged 40 or less at the time the policy was taken out. This represents a payment of 55 cents a month per $1,000 of insurance. As the mortality rate for the age group 40 and under did not vary greatly, a single dividend rate will apply to this whole group.

The rates of payment will be: Those under 40 years of age at the rate of 55 cents per month per $1,000 of insurance; those 41 to 45 years of age, scaling down from 52 cents to 40 cents; those 46 to 50, 37 cents down to 25 cents; those 51 to 54, 24 cents down to 21 cents; those 55 and over, 20 cents per thousand.

The proposed scale does not apply to insurance on a permanent plan which has been surrendered for a reduced paid-up amount. These cases will be handled separately.

Our sympathy is extended to Miss Willoughby, who is confined to her room with arthritis. She was one of Caroline County's teachers for many years.

The monthly meeting of the Andersontown-Hobbs Homemakers Club was held at Concord Church house on Thursday of last week. Sixteen ladies, seated around the table, enjoyed the delicious dinner, which marked the opening of the club, after a vacation. Guess who's losing sleep over this one?

FOR years, folks have talked about the "low-priced three" in the car business. For a generation these have been the same three cars, unchallenged for position simply because they were lowest priced. But take a look at the beauty pictured here and ask yourself: How would you like to sell against it, with its wealth of Buick features? How would you like to compete with it when it wears a price tag any new-car buyer can reach, gives you straight-eight performance for less than many sixes? Truth is, this one sets a lot of standards that are going to be hard to match. This styling is certainly something to start other designers tossing in their sleep.

This handy size—a dream in traffic, yet generous in interior room—is a "must" for cars yet to come.

The lift of high-pressure Fireball power—the level-going comfort of the Buick ride—the luxury of Dynaflo Drive, here optional at modest extra cost—all these are wanted things others just can't overlook.

So why not do the obvious thing and go see the car that's causing sleepless nights in Detroit? Study its smartness, test its room and comfort, try its handling, note the precise figures of its delivered prices. You can do all that on a single trip to your Buick dealer's—and make your selection of a wide choice of equipment and colors at the same time.

A year ago Lexington's famous "Red Mile" came up with six two minute or better miles. Rodney twice toured the course in 1:58, in attempting to smash his papa, Spencer Scott's world stallion record of 1:57 1/4.

Ralph and Gordon Verhurst's great mare, Proximity, crashed the 2:00 list for the first time with a 1:59.3 trip. Gray Bros. and Armstrong's sensational three-year-old pacer, Knight Dream, turned in a 1:59 in his last performance before retiring to stud at the Hanover Shoe Farms.

Octave Blake's great pacer, Alemita, scored his first 2:00 mile and on the same day, Driver Del Cameron, put the three-year-old pacer, Friscoway on the elite list with a 1:59.1 trip against time.

All told, the 1949 campaign saw 12 horses turn in a total of 15 two-minute or better miles on all tracks. Seven came in races and eight in time trials "against the fence".

Already this year 13 heats have been raced in two minutes or under—six more actual race miles than were recorded in similar time all last year. The Trots, undoubtedly will add more to this impressive list.

The top two-minute performers of 1949 are Octave Blake's aged pacer, Alemita, with three trips at 1:59.3, one at 1:59 flat, and one at 1:58.4, for a total of five, and W. H. Cane's three-year-old pacing sensation. Good Time, with race heats of 2:00, 1:59.3 and 1:59.2 to his credit.
