

Dr. W. S. Carlson Resigns As Pres. of U. of Del. To Take New Post

Resignation Effective in April When He Will Become Head of University of Vermont, at Burlington

Dr. William S. Carlson, president of the University of Delaware, today announced his resignation, effective next April, to become president of the University of Vermont.

He said that "opportunity for professional advancement" offered in his new position had overcome his reluctance to leave the Delaware post he has occupied since July 1, 1946. "I feel that I will have started much that is worthwhile at the post-war University of Delaware, while carrying on the university's best traditions," Dr. Carlson said. "I regret that I will not be here, save in spirit, to aid in the completion of many of these programs."

Elias Lyman, acting president and a trustee of the University of Vermont, said that in their search for a president, the trustees had been "attracted to Dr. Carlson by qualities manifested in an environment similar to our own, especially in student and faculty leadership, and in the essential humanness of the man."

At Vermont, Dr. Carlson will be the head of a university with a student body of about 3200 and a faculty of some 300, about 50 per cent largest in each case than the University of Delaware. Founded in 1791, Vermont is the oldest state university. It includes a College of Medicine, the State Agricultural College, and colleges, or schools of arts, technology, education and nursing. The university's annual budget is nearly $4,000,000.

Dr. Carlson's administration at Delaware has coincided almost exactly with the university's post-war surge in size and services. From a pre-war maximum of 930 students and fewer than 500 after V-J Day, the university rebounded to 1700 at Dr. Carlson's arrival, and each fall since then it has increased to new record highs. The 1949 enrollment was 2211 undergraduates, plus 471 graduate students, 1000 in extension courses, and 1700 who studied in the last summer school.

Meanwhile a policy of "accommodating quantity without loss of quality" in educational standards has been President Carlson's watchword. In his latest annual report, he wrote that "the problems of physical accommodations, of finances, and of suitable instruction" had been met in 1946-48 and that he foresaw "real progress" in the making.

Among the accomplishments of the three-and-one-half-year Carlson administration have been:

Increasing state support for the university's operations; faculty approval for a progressive "general education" program; granting of the first Doctor of Philosophy degrees ever earned at Delaware; intensified support for various avenues of research, and the appointment of Dr. A. P. Colburn to coordinate this program; introduction of a new and broader program for foreign studies instead of the discontinued Junior Year Abroad; strengthening of the teaching staff through several notable appointments, in addition to enlargement of the graduate study program; appointment of an academic extension director and the subsequent broadening of courses for part-time students throughout the state; additions to the cultural offerings in drama, lectures, music and art; establishment of the Psychological Services Center as a full-time part of the University after its separation

Railroad News

It looks good to see the Delmarva Express Nos. 454 and 455, back again. We even thought we had a diesel engine blowing for the crossing this morning. But it turned out to be Herman Emory blowing his fish horn.

Reports are encouraging on the improved condition of Ted Angus in St. Joseph's Hospital at Baltimore. Ted made a lot of friends here and a lot more on the Maryland Division who are pulling for his recovery. Knowing this will be drawn out over an extended time, the boys of both divisions have pooled their efforts and presented him with a television set.

Improvement is also reported on foreman Al Hatfield and trainman Bill Jester who have been on the sick list.

Bill Quillen on vacation the past week has been doing a lot of gunning in the Bridgeville-Greenwood area.

The winner in a poker game started to leave early. Asked why, he said, "Gotta get home to the wife." One of the players inquired, "Are you a man or a mouse?" The winner replied, "I must be a man; my wife is afraid of a mouse."

As stated in last week's issue, at the request of several readers of this column, we reprint "Men In Overalls" which appeared here two years ago in tribute to the boys who move the trains. They are still in there doing their stuff and it means as much today as it did before.

"THE MEN IN OVERALLS"

Now that we've scattered the flowers of May, Over the graves of the blue and gray, Over the graves where heroes sleep, Over the graves where women weep, Let us turn to the graves of those who live and die in their overclothes.

Are they not heroes, they who died, Under their engines' or buried beside, The throttle or brake where they bravely stood, Thoughtful of none but the passenger's good, Life below duty, they placed and chose, To die as they lived, in their overclothes.

No marshal tunes do their duties inspire, Save the pound and hiss of the steel of fire, Speeding along thru the dreary night, While the hours drag in their laden flight, Oh dreary indeed are the battles of those who live and die in their overclothes.

We wouldn't take from an old soldier's grave, Even the humblest bloom, nor save, One word from the tribute which is his right, For heismidst the daring fight All honor is due him, but forget not those Who lived and died in their overclothes.

The writer and Benny Moore were guests of the Fruitland Lions Club at their meeting Wednesday evening in the fire hall at Fruitland, Md. This club sponsored the installation of the new automatic crossing gates placed in service two weeks ago, and have written Mr. Goodfellow a letter of appreciation for his promptness in assisting them to put the job across.

This is one crossing gate job that did not put anyone out of work as there were no watchmen stationed there.

On the other hand it provided a months work for ten men who would have been laid off during the coal strike.

Citizen Has Old Copy of "Sun"

A sheet of "The Sun," of Baltimore, issued Friday morning, May 16, 1851, was brought to The Journal office this week by John Holmes Potter. The paper is one inch less than the length of The Journal and has six columns, one-twelfth of an inch wider than those of this paper. The type, or printing, is smaller than that of our classified advertisements.

The front page of the Baltimore newspaper is made up entirely of the new Declaration of Rights and The New Constitution of Maryland. The back page contains editorial, news, and classified ads, with some of the latter on beaver hats, wild cherry medicine, and "Bogies Electric Hair Dye." Some of the news was received by "magnetic telegraph."

The news carries the account of the acceptance of the post of United States senator from Massachusetts by the famous orator and abolitionist, Charles Sumner. The old boy knew how to handle words.

Harrington Business and Professional Women's Club

Herman Minner, with the help of students, has partly completed the repair work to the youth center, he told the Business and Professional Women's Club Monday.

The next step is the laying of a cement floor. An early letter from Santa Claus stated he would furnish most of the material and labor for laying of the floor. The use of a coal heater, which is to be installed soon, was kindly donated by William Cluley. It was decided there was to be no membership dues, and that all pupils from the 7th to 12th grades would be admitted two nights weekly.

The club voted to give a donation to the Christmas program put on by the Better Business Association.

A Christmas party was planned for the next regular meeting, Dec. 19, with the business meeting one week earlier. The place was to be decided later.

"Know Your Club," a skit written very well was presented by Miss Madalyn Tharp with the assistance of members Wanda Quillen, Geneva Collison, and Catherine Collison.

NORMAN THOMAS TO SPEAK IN PEOPLE'S CHURCH

Norman Thomas, who is scheduled to speak in the community hall, People's Church, Dover, Monday evening, under the auspices of the St. Paul's Brotherhood, is noted throughout the country for his oratorical ability, and it is expected that many persons in this and nearby communities will avail themselves of the rare opportunity to hear this outstanding man.

Born in Warren G. Harding's home town of Marion, Ohio, Mr. Thomas as a boy delivered Harding's newspaper, the "Daily Star," from door to door, and when his preacher-father moved to a parish in Pennsylvania, he was sent to Bucknell University and later to Princeton, where he was a student under Woodrow Wilson and valedictorian of his class. He is also a graduate of Union Theological Seminary. In 1932 Princeton bestowed on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters.

During the first World War, Norman Thomas took a definite anti-war stand, and when the more belligerent church elders stopped financing his social service work at the American Parish in New York's East Harlem, where he had been for seven years, he resigned his pastorate and joined the Socialist Party. In 1918 he founded and edited "The World Tomorrow."

In World War II, Mr. Thomas actively fought for a peace based on the cooperation of free peoples and rejection of both vengeance and imperialism. Since then, he has campaigned for world disarmament with international control and inspection, and against both get-tough imperialism and appeasement of Russia.

Mr. Thomas has run for many offices on the Socialist Party ticket, including the offices of Governor of New York (1924) and Mayor of New York City (1925). He has been the unsuccessful Socialist candidate for President of the United States six successive times, the first in 1928. Much of his program was incorporated into Roosevelt's New Deal.

Norman Thomas has been a frequent speaker on People's Platform, University of Chicago Roundtable, America's Town Meeting and similar radio forums. He is author of numerous books and pamphlets, including, "Appeal to the Nations," "What is Our Destiny?," "America's Way Out," "As I See It," etc.

Good Posture

Good posture habits start on the crib mattress. Long before a baby starts to crawl or walk, the foundation is being laid for good or bad posture according to whether he has a firm, level mattress or one that lets his developing bone structure sag.

Safety Measure

Keep shields over revolving power-take-off shafts. Many accidents occur at these places on machines when left unprotected.

More Durable Enamel

Alkyd resin materials have great resistance to ultra-violet light and are consequently effective in increasing the durability of enamel.

The state Tuesday sold the largest bond issue in its history at the lowest interest cost in its history, Secretary of State Harris B. McDowell announced Tuesday.

The $28,369,000 issue of State of Delaware bonds of 1949 went to a syndicate headed by the Chase National Bank of New York City for an interest rate of 1.4 per cent, with a premium of $141,845. The premium paid by the syndicate results in a net interest rate of 1.35 per cent.

Within an hour after the awards were made the syndicate had sold all the bonds, Mr. McDowell said. He said the interest rate represented a saving of $840,000 to Delaware taxpayers when compared with the interest of 1.65 per cent on the last state issue in 1948.

The state's bond issuing officers met Monday afternoon and considered four bids received for the bonds. The others were: First National Bank of Chicago, $28,491,123; Halsey, Stuart & Company, New York, $28,490,334.21; and National City Bank, New York, $28,464,603. All the bidders specified a City Bank, New York, bid an interest rate of 1.4 per cent; their bids varied in the amount of premium offered. The successful offer of the Chase syndicate amounted to a premium of $5 per $1,000 bond.

The award of the issue was made by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel on behalf of the issuing officers to William K. Paton, president of the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware, who represented the Chase syndicate. The state's bond issuing officers are the Governor, Mr. McDowell and State Treasurer Willard D. Boyce.

"The result was most gratifying to the issuing officers and their associates, including Atty-Gen. Albert W. James and W. Henry Hoyt of Reed, Hoyt and Washburn, the state's New York bond attorney," Mr. McDowell declared. He said this group and other state officials work closely together in their efforts to secure the lowest possible interest rate for the bond issue.

The $28,369,000 issue is the largest in the history of the state and "represents an accumulation to capital expenditures deemed to be necessary by the administration in cooperation with the 115th General Assembly," the secretary of state said.

Declaring that the 1.35 net interest cost is one of the lowest ever achieved by any state in a bond issue of comparable amount, Mr. McDowell said: "The thoroughness in preparation by the issuing officers and associates, including the legislature has been more than justified by the many thousands of dollars saved the taxpayers of the state."

The $28,369,000 total comprised bonds sold for six separate purposes.

Included in the total are: $10,000,000 in school construction bonds, $7,000,000 in state highway bonds, $1,280,000 in highway refunding bonds, $6,000,000 in bonus bonds, $3,639,000 in general improvement bonds, and $450,000 in Delaware State Hospital bonds.

It was announced Tuesday night group which bought the bonds re-offered them at prices scaled from a yield of 0.55 per cent for those due Dec. 1, 1950, to a dollar price of 97½ for 1969 maturities.

Dill, who lives in a story and a half bungalow on Route 14, about a quarter mile east of Harrington, said he was painting upstairs when the masked man entered the room and held him up.

He said he later heard a car start up and surmised the bandit made his getaway in that manner. The holdup occurred about 9 p. m.

The bandit, according to Dill, wore a light brown suit. He had light wavy brown hair and weighed about 175 pounds, Dill said.

THANSGIVING PRAYER

by Laura Calhoun Walls
November 24, 1949

Our Dear Heavenly Father,—We thank Thee with grateful hearts, that Thou has spared our lives to see another Thanksgiving Day, and we most graciously thank Thee for Thy watchful care over us, through all of the years, that have gone by.

May Thou fill our minds with faith and confidence in Thee, so that worry, fear, hate and resentment will vanish from our hearts.

May Thou help us to have peace producing thoughts that will give us contentment and true happiness. Thou hast said, "Come unto Me, all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

May we submit our lives to Thee, and earn the rest Thou hast promised us for our faithful services to Thee. May that peace of mind grow within us, until it pervades our souls and our entire being, and may Thou be the guardian at the gate of our hearts, so that no evil may enter therein.

We fully realize that sin and crime are increasing by our youth of our State and Country. May the parents and teachers look to Thee for guidance, and not fail in the tremendous task that lies before them—to teach the youth not only to master their subjects, but to be obedient, truthful, honest, and to revere and honor Thy name; thus laying a solid foundation for them to become the men and women our State and Country need as leaders and useful citizens.

Dear Lord, as we look back over the year that has gone by, may we meditate for a moment, and ask ourselves—"Have we come short of our duty"? Yesterday with all its regrets, mistakes, and failure has passed beyond our control, into Thy hands. Are the pages snowy white, or are they blotted with sin? Another day is tomorrow. It's sun will rise in gorgeous splendor, or behind the bank of a weeping cloud. The same love and faith which held yesterday, will hold tomorrow. Today only, belongs to us. May we use today in Thy faithful service.

May we scatter sunshine into the lives of those, who have so many shadows, especially the blind, crippled, and aged needy people of our State and Country, who need a kind word and a helping hand in the sunset of their lives. Thou healed the sick, restored the blind to sight, and fed the hungry; thus setting the example before us to lend a helping hand to those who are unable to help themselves. Our reward here on earth, will be the joy in our hearts we receive, by their happy, smiling faces, who will call us "Blessed", and Thou will reward us for a job well done just across the border. So, in our hearts let us make some room to scatter flowers in their pathway in life to bloom and scatter them all along their lives' way. There will be a chance to do some great good almost every day.

Dear Lord, may Thou give us the grace to do our best and leave the burden with Thee.

Amen.

CHOOSE TOYS WISELY

The Delaware Safety Council points out that the wisely chosen toy is a tool for playing—an instrument for carving out rich dreams, for gaining experience, for achieving skills, and for forming the first rough shapes of a life ambition.

Expertly chosen toys can help to prepare young children for school. They can supplement the educational development of the older child, and provide examples of the ways in which knowledge and skills can be put to practical uses.

The first consideration is the age and development of the child. The chemical set which might be suitable and stimulating for a boy of ten years, would be unsuitable and unsafe in the hands of a five-year-old.

Children find fun only with toys they can understand—toys they can enjoy. A toy that is too advanced for a child will cause a feeling of frustration, instead of providing educational experience. On the other hand, a toy that offers no challenge will only bore the child and will be tossed aside.

Furthermore, if the toy is to provide any play value or stimulation for the child, it is also essential that it coincide with his expressed interests. The chemical set mentioned above, should be questioned as a gift for the boy who uses most of his leisure for participation in athletic activities. Select toy tools which are related to his hobbies, which help in school activities, or which lure him on to new fields of experience.

Do not omit safety from your consideration in purchasing a toy. Something intended for a small child or an infant should be large enough so it cannot be swallowed. The eyes of stuffed animals and dolls should be sewed on securely, or better still, embroidered. Since the young child puts everything into the mouth, it is also important that his playthings be easily cleaned. Toys should be made of woods that do not splinter, of metals that have no sharp edges, and the paint or coloring should be non-poisonous. When you select a toy, select one that will make a contribution to the child's life, one that is suitable, durable, and safe.

WHEN A UNION SMEARS

It is unfortunate that the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union has attacked Mr. A. N. Spanel and the International Latex Corporation of Dover, long recognized as one of this nation's most progressive employers.

And it is even more unfortunate that the ILGWU representatives who were sent to try to organize International Latex have resorted to the regrettable type of smear tactics which have harmed labor in general during recent years.

The ILGWU statements, in paid newspaper advertisements may do the union infinitely more harm than good for the company's employees will immediately recognize the patent falsehoods therein. But the general public may not know, for instance, that International Latex has from its foundation in Delaware's capital 12 years ago, maintained one of the broadest employee benefit programs to be found anywhere in the world.

Over 2 months ago, when most companies went on short weeks, and the government itself discharged 150,000 employees, International Latex increased wages throughout its plant. From the very start in 1937, the company has paid considerably higher wages than the prevailing local scale, and been among the leaders in the nation in voluntarily extending and broadening employee benefits from year to year.

The union advertisement makes it appear as if the company indulges in capricious hiring and firing, when in fact all employees enjoy year 'round security with complete absence of the seasonal layoffs which afflict most American industries.

The fact is that ILGWU does not have a real issue, and is trying desperately to invent one: the absence of a nursery and cafeteria, as a reason for "organizing" Latex employees.

But everyone in Dover knows the company is completing a luxurious air-conditioned cafeteria and recreation center for its employees, and whoever heard of a union organizing a plant because it has no nursery? Besides, how can ILGWU criticize Mr. Spanel's activities in that field when his Playtex Park Research Institute, of Dover, is single handedly making historic strides in combating infantile disease. It is the only privately sponsored medical research program devoted solely to the study of children's ailments.

What the union advertisement fails to mention is that Latex employees are granted up to three weeks paid vacation per year; that all employees have life insurance policies completely paid for by the company and that each person's insurance was recently doubled by the company; that emergency time off with full pay is granted all employees, and the workers are given every holiday with full pay.

Nothing is said of the magnificent health program which includes free hospitalization and surgical care, all costs for which are borne by the company, a modern dispensary with registered nurses in attendance, and vitamin rations daily to every employee. That the plant and offices are hospital clean, scientifically lighted, and completely air conditioned... and even music is provided throughout the plant during working hours!

And in addition to the high wages, Latex employees receive premium payment for evening and night shifts.

Besides, there are the many company dances, boat rides, barbecues, picnics and social events that nostalgically recall the days when the American employer and his co-workers did not hold each other at arms length.

Significantly, the company shares its profits with the workers on a basis that ILGWU has never dared suggest to any employer. Under the Playtex Profit Sharing Plan, production workers and members of the management group get equal shares of the company's earnings.

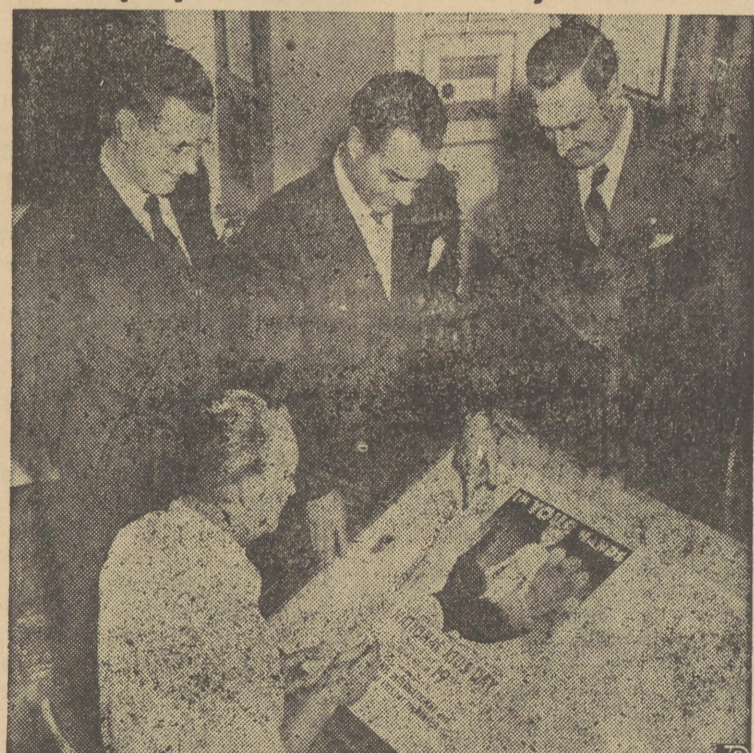

And if Latex employees were not appreciative of these benefits, they would long ago have joined one of the several unions which tried to "organize" them in past years.

Now that ILGWU has also failed in this attempt, it has cheapened its reputation by trying to smear one of the nation's most forward looking companies.

The public might conclude that the union's principal concern in this instance is not so much on behalf of the workers (and this paper was unable to find a single Latex worker who had joined), as it is with the tempting prospect of collecting dues from a large body of men and women.

Instead of attacking Mr. Spanel and International Latex, ILGWU would do well to try to induce other firms to emulate the progressiveness Mr. Spanel has exhibited, not only in the interests of his own employees, but for the betterment of all America.—The Wilmington Sunday Star.

Display National Kids' Day Poster

Otis Shepard, one of the nation's most outstanding artists, explains the technique he used in drawing the poster card to be used in connection with the observance of National Kids' Day on Saturday, Nov. 19, to, from left to right, James H. Eddy, field secretary, The National Kids' Day Foundation; Carroll West, assistant secretary, Kiwanis International; and O. E. Peterson, executive secretary, Kiwanis International. Kiwanis clubs in towns and cities across the nation are planning to observe National Kids' Day with a variety of programs and fund-raising events. All money raised in a community will remain there to be spent in helping underprivileged children. The effects of local Kiwanis clubs will be supported by a nation-wide promotional campaign provided by The National Kids' Day Foundation which will include a radio program on Friday evening, Nov. 18, and premiere of a new motion picture, "Johnny Holiday," in Indianapolis, Ind. and Hollywood, Calif., on Thursday, Nov. 17. R. W. Alcorn, producer of the picture, is donating the proceeds of these premieres and others to follow in all Kiwanis divisions for Club work with underprivileged children.

POTTER'S FIELD

Thursday is Thanksgiving. (We know you are aware of that, but we had to start with some sentence, and figured that was as good as any).

We also like to read Ogdin Nash. O. K., so those two statements have no connection, but they manage to get us launched on our column this week.

Ogdin Nash said, in his poem, "A Short Outline of Thanksgiving," "Thanksgiving, like ambassadors, cabinet officers, and others smeared with political ointment.

Depends for it's existence on Presidential appointment." In a later stanza he said, "If you are grateful for anything on any particular day.

By the time you wake up next morning it's probably been taken away."

As far as Mr. Nash's first stanza concerned no one can tell you when to be thankful other than yourself.

You should be thankful every day.

You can look in the largest city, or the smallest hamlet, and find someone less fortunate than yourself. If you can find nothing else to be thankful for, be thankful that you aren't in his place.

As for the latter stanza, even if you know that what you have to be thankful for today is going to be taken away tomorrow, be thankful that you have it for today.

There is an ancient saying, that if everyone could wrap up all his troubles in a package and toss them on a pile, with everyone else's troubles, and then was allowed to pick out any package of his choosing he would frantically search for his own.

That is only natural. He would be afraid that the package he picked might contain just a few more troubles than the one he threw on the pile.

So, if you feel like saying "What have I got to be thankful for, just be thankful that you're better off than thousands, or better yet millions of others. If a person has had a full life, has tried to help his fellow man, has known love, companionship, and friendship, then he has more to be thankful for than the multi-millionaire who made his millions without having known any of these things.

Brother, you can't take it with you. Be thankful for the little things that bring you joy, happiness or contentment, be thankful for everything you take for granted, like your meals, or your bed, or your fire, a cup of coffee, even a warm haystack to sleep in or a handout at somebody's back door.

Be thankful for it. Millions don't even have that and millions couldn't give you a crust of bread if you asked for it, because they don't have it themselves.

So instead of bellyachin' about what you haven't got, be thankful for what you do have, and do what you can to help those who have not.

Houston

Church news for Sunday, Nov. 27th. The usual schedule, Sunday School at 10 o'clock a. m. All classes are in the new building. Howard R. Moore, superintendent.

The hour of worship at 11 o'clock Rev. W. Stanley Grant pastor. Evening services at 7:30 p. m. There will be a Thanksgiving service on Thursday morning beginning at 9:30 a. m.

The Sunday morning services were largely attended. The music was very fine. The choir special was, "For The Beauty of The Earth", and Mr. Gott chose the very beautiful old number, "Where We Never Grow Old", as his contribution.

We sure do miss the Edwin Prettymans from our midst, as they have bought a mercantile business at Andrewville. Well our loss is others gain and we do wish them good luck and prosperity in their new business.

We were sorry to hear that Whitey Webb underwent an operation last week in the Milford Memorial Hospital, but very glad to learn he is doing nicely.

Mr. C. P. Armour, who underwent a major operation some weeks back, is home again and doing all right, as he is out and around again.

The members of the W. S. C. S. were invited by the Millwood ladies aid to meet with them on Friday night, of last week and about 15 took advantage of the invitation and were present, and they did spend a most enjoyable evening. It is just to bad these get-together meetings cannot happen more often.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill W. Thistlewood and Mrs. Cora Satterfield were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kennedy and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Scott had as week-end guests her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Brown of Culpepper, Va., her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Broyles and daughter, Miss Vivian Broyles, of Fredericksburg, Va.

Mrs. Richard Bennett, Mrs. Merrill W. Thistlewood and Mrs. J. Carroll Pearson attended the Kent Co. Institute of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, which was held in Dover, on Thursday.

Mrs. Cora Satterfield spent Thursday in Dover with Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Shockley.

HOUSTON P. T. A. The Parent-Teachers Association of Houston School met on Friday evening at the school with the president Robert H. Yerkes, presiding. There was a good number present. Great interest was shown by all present in the improved condition of the school.

The association voted to purchase a new modern ditto machine for the use of the teachers and to pay for supplementary grade work material in all grades. It was announced that there will be a Christmas entertainment on December 22nd. It was also decided the annual school auction sale, on the 3rd Friday evening in February.

A regular monthly meeting night was decided upon. This meeting will be held on the 2nd Friday evening of each month. Let all patrons of the school reserve this date as school date and attend.

Greenwood School Notes

Rick DiSerafino, coach at Greenwood School, with selected students has reorganized the student Athletic Association. The association is asking the cooperation of all students to support the sports program. The A. A. membership cards have been put on sale this past week. This card entitles the student admission to all games and sports events at student prices, both in our own school and others in this county.

The girls' hockey team wound up their season with a walloping victory over the Harrington eleven, 3-1. The boys soccer team ended their season by spanking Felton 1-0 on their home field. We want to congratulate both squads for the ability that was gained in a very short period of time. With their experience we are sure that we will be able to place some fine teams on the field next year.

The Greenwood Student Council has just organized its group by electing Dean Mamstead, president; James Smith, vice-president; Mary Ann Hynson, secretary, and Warren Mamstead, treasurer. The president is planning to appoint a committee next week to draw up a constitution for the organization.

On Friday, Nov. 18, the Elementary Faculty held a very interesting discussion on "The Teaching of eReading at the Elementary Level." The discussion leader was Miss A. Tilden, reading specialist for the Scott, Foresman Company.

The P. T. A. on Monday, Nov. 21, had Colonel Edmund Bullis, as the guest speaker. Colonel Bullis is Executive Director of the Delaware State Society for Mental Hygiene. The elementary glee club, directed by Miss Short, the music instructor, sang, "Ceilidh Lindo," and "Oh, What a Lot You've Missed." The senior high school chorus, also directed by Miss Short sang, "Praise Ye the Father." The program was enjoyed by all.

The Greenwood School basketball season opens on January 6, with the following schedule:

January 6, Caesar Rodney, away; Jan. 10, Laurel, away; Jan. 13, Delmar, home; Jan. 17, Felton home; Jan. 24, Milton, away; Jan. 31, Laurel, home; Feb. 3, Harrington, home; Feb. 10, Delmar, away; Feb. 14, Bridgeville, away; Feb. 17, Caesar Rodney, home; Feb. 21, Harrington, away; Feb. 24, Felton, away; Feb. 28, Milton, home; Mar. 3, Bridgeville, home.

Felton

Joseph Bell received 10 first and second prize ribbons in F. F. A. at Caesar Rodney High School, at their harvest show.

Sealena Bell took part in the fashion show at Caesar Rodney High School.

Pupils Taught Speech Correction

Speech correction instruction is being offered on a limited scale in the public schools of Kent County under the direction of Miss Gloria C. Mainiero, Speech Correctionist of the State Department of Public Instruction. Miss Mainiero is now working with approximately one hundred forty pupils in the public schools of Dover, Harrington, and Smyrna. Miss Mainiero points out that the speech correctionist in a school system serves as supervisor, consultant, and teacher. It is her responsibility to identify, by suitable survey or examination procedures, those pupils who are in need of speech correction. Having found them, she divides them into groups according to type and severity of defect and with reference to grade level. Those whose problems can be dealt with adequately by their classroom teachers are left in their regular classes; the speech correctionist, of course, confers with each teacher, clarifies the student's speech difficulty, explains and demonstrates the special procedure and policies that are indicated, and arranges for periodic review of the problem. The children who require attention from the speech correctionist herself are divided into two general groups; those who must be given individual instruction and those who can or should be handled in small classes, grouped according to similarities in age grade level and type of speech defect. Miss Mainiero's case load is comprised of pupils having defects of articulation, defects of voice, stuttering, retarded speech development, speech defects associated with cleft palate, and speech defects associated with impaired hearing. Various therapy procedures are employed. Eliminating or minimizing the causal factors, creating vivid auditory impressions which enable the child to recognize readily both the error and correct sound and discriminating between the two, teaching correct production of the sound in isolation, strengthening the correct production of sound, making the production of correct sound habitual in all connected speech. Words containing sounds, pictures of objects whose names contain the sound, and games and exercises are employed in the therapy speech difficulties. Miss Mainiero is a native of Hazleton, Pa. She graduated from the Hazleton Senior High School in 1944 and the State Teachers College in 1948, receiving a B. S. degree. Volomite Still Tops
Walnut Hall's Volomite, hailed by many horsemen as the greatest Standardbred sire of all time, once again boasted the highest average of any sire in the country at the combined Harrisburg and Lexington auctions this year. Twenty-five Volomite offerings brought $199,000 for an average of $7,960 at the two sales. Second on the list was Spencer Scott, whose 25 offerings grossed $142,000, for a $5,680 average. Two Gaits Farm's pacing stallion, Hal Dale, sire of the sensational Good Time and Our Time, grossed $58,200, for an average of $5,291 on 11 head. And Gainsway Farm's King's Counsel, a first-year sire, averaged an amazing $4,887 for the first 12 of his offspring sent to the sales.

Hoof Beats

Imperial Hanover's $72,000 price tag at the Harrisburg auction, was more than three times that of his older brothers, Rodney and Egan Hanover, combined, when they were sold as yearlings. Rodney brought a trivial $2600 at Harrisburg in 1945, and Egan Hanover was knocked down to Saunders Mills of Toledo, O., for $21,000 in 1946. J. J. McIntyre, Hollins, Va. General Motors Corp. executive, who bought out the interests of Sep Palm and Fred Egan in Imperial Hanover the day after he was sold, has turned the costly colt over to Johnny Simpson, 29-year-old trainer-driver, who will prep him for the races at the Ben White Raceway in Orlando, Fla. Shut Out Twice Kenneth Dale Owen, of the Indian Mound Farm, New Harmony, Ind., was runnerup bidder on both of the two highest priced Standardbred colts ever sold at auction. He was outbid by Sol Camp of Shafter, Calif., for the $42,000 White Hanover in 1947, and was topped by the short lived McIntyre-Palm-Egan syndicate for the $72,000 Imperial Hanover this year.

year ago at the same sale, 673 head went for $1,024,455, for an average of $1,522. Hanover Shoe Farms, the nation's largest Standardbred nursery, sold 100 yearlings this year for $329,550, an average of $3,895. Last year's Hanover consignment of 72 head, went for $245,800, for an average of $3,678. The overall yearling average at Harrisburg this year was $1,897 for 389 head—a total of $701,275 for the baby trotters and pacers. May Drop Hobbles W. H. Cane's Good Time, may race without the hobbles next year. Trainer Frank Ervin who won more than $105,000 with the marvelous midget in his two and three-year-old seasons, reveals: "I warmed him up in 2:10 without the hobbles at Saratoga last year. And that convinced me he can go free-legged." So he will start the speedy "Pony Express" off in that fashion next spring. Good Time paced his fifth two-minute mile of the year in winning the recent $15,000 Western Pace at Hollywood, Calif., in 1:59 2-5. He is now in winter training quarters at Alken, S. C.

U. S. ARMY & AIR FORCE RECRUITING NEWS

Master Sergeant Robert McAnulty of the Dover, Delaware Army and Air Force Recruiting Station has come out with what he calls a good news story. "One for the books," as he calls it. It seems that several months ago, Sgt. Carl Killmon of the Dover Recruiting Office, was walking down a local street in Dover when he came upon a young man who he thought would be a good man for the Armed Forces. Sgt. Killmon, being a very aggressive salesman, brought up the question of enlistment to the young man. After explaining all the advantages of an enlistment to the prospective applicant, the man decided he would take advantage of the situation and enlist. He did! This young man was Paul M. Tchell of Goldsboro. Paul liked the Army so well that he began to write letters to his younger brothers telling them all about it and how satisfied he was vinding the Army exactly as Sgt. Killmon had told him. Evidently the letters were very good for as Sgt. McAnulty and Sgt. Killmon were preparing to climb into their automobiles to go home at the finish of the days work, the three brothers came to them and asked for information concerning their possibilities for an enlistment. The two sergeants took the men into the recruiting office and thoroughly explained all the benefits they would receive if they choose a career in the Regular Army. After much discussion, the three brothers decided to join their brother who was taking his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. After completing the necessary processing for enlistment, Sgt. McAnulty and Sgt. Killmon decided to take the brothers home. Even tho' it meant using their own private automobile. When they found that all three men had walked 12 miles to get to the Recruiting Office they both agreed that they had walked far enough for one day. The brothers are Vernon, age 17, Wilber, age 18; and Rodney who is 21. Thus, the Army has four Mitchell brothers together and has them all assigned to the Corp of Engineers. Power for Northwest Ten giant electric generators, with enough capacity to supply more than two-thirds of the power requirements of New York City, have already been installed by Westinghouse at the Grand Coulee dam on the Columbia river in Washington. Eight more generators will complete the project.

PISTOL PACKIN' PUSSY

No creature that walks or crawls has the easy-going, devil-may-care manner of the skunk. Combine the arrogance of a mile with the courage of a jet pilot, and you have the skunk's personality. Intensify a thousand times a liquid stench of burning glue, condensed sewer gas and essence of garlic, capable of being sprayed ten feet with deadly aim, and you have the reason. The mere sight of a skunk apparently strikes terror in the hearts of bird and beast. A dog, for instance, may be brave in the face of bull, bear or lion but will likely tuck-tail and slink shamelessly away from the little stink-kitty.

Should you meet Mr. Skunk on any warm, sunlit day, you will marvel at his nonchalance, his swaggering insolence as he waddles about his business. A member of the weasel family, he is about the size of a cat; thick-set, carrying the hindquarters high and the head low. His heavy fur is jet black except for a white patch on the head from which white stripes of varying length extend back sometimes to and even along the tail. He will not run upon you; approach but may stamp his feet and watch you out of the corner of his eye with the deadly caution of a gunman loosening his pistols in their holsters. Come too close and he's apt to stiffen; facing you with a deadly stare, as if to say: "One more step and I'll let you have it." You'd better take steps in the opposite direction, for the stink-kitty doesn't need to aim his business-end at you. Throwing his diwivel hips in action he can fire right over his shoulder.

The skunk's formidable weapon his exclusive patent, is a liquid musk secreted by two large glands located strategically under the tail. The tail serves as a flag of battle, and of warning—when the flag is raised, and the feet stamp, look out! Each of the two musk glands contain enough ready ammunition for about six rounds, repeating action. Both six guns can be fired separately or simultaneously at any angle up to 90 degrees of the body. The aim is deadly at close range, provided the skunk can see his target. Hamper his vision, thus spoiling his aim, and he's apt to fire blindly, gassing innocent bystanders and generally stinking up the whole neighborhood.

The skunk knows where his liquid shrapnel does the most good; so, when possible, he deliberately aims at the eyes and nose, blinding and suffocating his enemy in one action. Entering the eye, the musk causes a painful, temporary blindness. Entering the nostrils, it produces a swelling of the mucous membrane, resulting in ch-ching, gagging, and sometimes vomiting. The musk was once used for medical purposes, in the treatment of asthmatic conditions, but was soon discontinued. The treatment proved to be worse than the disease! We pause here, and pay tribute to woman; her powers never to be slighted. For years she's worn the lowly skunk's fur and called it "Alaska Sable." Now she's wearing skunk musk and calling it "Evening in Podunk". Skunk musk deodorized of course, is used as a base in the manufacture of expensive perfumes.

Skunk musk is so potent that the skunk tribe has outlived its use in civil battles. Males of the species frequently fight especially during spring mating season, but they rely entirely upon tooth and toe nail, main strength and awkwardness. Gas warfare is definitely out.

Aside from its trigger happy tend nices, the skunk is a lovable and useful creature. Not only is it a valuable furbearer, but rids the land of many harmful insects. It is particularly fond of wasps, crickets, grasshoppers and beetles—actually, such citizens of the crawly-clan make up over 40 per cent of its diet. Other staples include berries and fruit, mice, grain and carrion. Contrary to popular belief, few skunks venture to raid the farmer's poultry.

If you haven't made the skunk's acquaintance, this winter would be a good time to do so. And, if you have the misfortune of getting "skunked," you have this antidote from an experienced Ozarkian: "Upon reaching home, remove all clothing and buy at a depth of six feet. Bathe for two hours in a tubful of strong lye-soap suds, being sure to thoroughly wash the hair. Sprinkle the body moderately with the contents of a dime bottle of toilet water and put on clean clothes.

ORCHARDISTS URGED TO BAIT FOR MOUSE CONTROL

Sussex County Orchardmen are urged to inspect their orchards for the presence of pine or meadow mice at this time, according to Wm. H. Henderson, County Agent.

Control measures should be applied immediately if these rodents are found in the orchards. The preferred bait is cut up apple treated with zinc phosphide rodenticide. Other baits which may be used are zinc phosphide treated oats or strychnine treated oats.

Girdling of the tree roots and trunks will take place during the winter months unless control measures are applied immediately.

For further details on methods of mixing baits, distribution of the bait in the orchards and other questions on this subject, call or write the County Extension Office, Georgetown, Delaware.

AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK GOOD FOR COMING YEAR

Demand for the farm products of the United States will probably continue on a high level through 1950, reports W. T. McAllister, extension agricultural economist of the University of Delaware, who recently attended the annual Outlook Conference in Washington, D. C.

Further outlook information by McAllister shows that maintenance of the present high level of production will result in a reduction of prices received for farm products, encourage marketing quotas and acreage allotments, and some reduction on farmers' net income. Prices farmers pay for goods and services used in living and production, while on the downward trend probably won't decline as much as farm prices.

Average of the prices for all farm products may fall below the parity level for the first time since 1941. Net income of farmers may be cut to the level of 1945, but even so, the net income for 1950 would be more than double the prewar average level and equal to the average of the war years.

Agricultural production is at a record level for the second consecutive year and about 138 per cent of the prewar average. The high level of production in the last two years was due in part to the excellent weather conditions and abnormally high yields. Lower prices, increased acreage allotments and lower yields will tend to reduce crop production in 1950. However, abundant feed supplies at slight lower prices are encouraging increased livestock production. Gross agricultural output next year will be close to that of 1948 and 1949.

Industrial activity and employment is expected to continue strong through 1950 although much of the backlog orders for durable goods accumulated during the war period has been filled.

Foreign markets, while desparately wanting and needing the output of our farms and factories, are greatly restricted in their purchases by the "dollar shortage". In 1948 the United States exported about seventeen billion dollars worth of goods while importing only ten billion. This seven billion "dollar gap" poses an acute financial problem for importing countries which would normally take a sizeable part of the United States agricultural production. Last year this dollar gap was filled by a six billion dollar grant of public funds to war-torn countries supplied by the American taxpayer and handled through the ERP. We can expect a sharp cut back in the ERP program in 1950 with further cuts in later years.

Our domestic demand is continually being strengthened by our growing population which for the past several years has been increasing at the rate of about one per cent annually.

Plastics Materials known as plastics may, under the influence of heat, be formed into a permanent shape. They consist of chain-like molecules called polymers, made up of a number of smaller units linked together.

Muscated Individual The muscat grape adapts itself readily and will grow successfully almost anywhere without losing its individuality. From it is made the dessert wine, muscatel.

To The Correspondents

Some of our correspondents have "commatit". For example, "Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fink visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blow, on Sunday." Is there any reason for the comma? And, while we are at it, should we say, "on Sunday"? Why not just writing us a letter from Willow Grove. She does a good job. The Journal is the only paper with a letter from the Willow Grove-Petersburg area. This gives us a chain of correspondents cross-country from Harrington to Maryland.

When you want paper and envelopes, just write us. Furthermore, we will give you a commission on subscriptions, advertising, and commercial printing. You can phone us collect on this business if necessary.

Some of you are getting your tenses confused. Do not say, "Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fink were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blow Sunday." Write, "Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fink visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blow Sunday."

Check on the other correspondents and see how they write it. Some are far from perfect, but the majority do not do too badly. Mrs. Virginia Seamans is now

GLEN GRAY AND CASA LOMA BAND ON NEW MILFORD STAGE SUNDAY

Following the engagement of the Dick Contino Show a few weeks ago the management of the New Milford Theatre in Milford, Del. has had many requests from area theatre goers to bring more big name units to their stage. In response to these requests they have arranged for a personal appearance next Sunday, Nov. 27th, of Glen Gray and the famous Casa Loma Orchestra coming direct from record-breaking engagements at the major entertainment palaces of the nation. Long famous as one of the greatest of dance and entertainment bands, the Casa Loma Orchestra is to swing music what Paul Whiteman was to jazz. Their Decca records put them at the top in the recording field and they have been featured for many years in leading radio shows. They have also made several motion pictures in Hollywood. Glen Gray and the Casa Loma Orchestra will present four stage shows at the New Milford Sunday at about 2:15 - 4:15 - 8:15 and 10:15. For the convenience of patrons tickets are now on sale at the theatre box office for this outstanding stage attraction which will be in addition to the regular screen program.

The management of the New Milford also announces a special stage and screen program to celebrate Thanksgiving. Departing from the usual policy vaudeville will be presented three days instead of two . . . for this week only . . . opening Thursday and continuing through Sat. Heading the "Best Yet" 5 act variety bill is Benson and Mann . . . one of vaudeville's funniest teams . . . coming direct from an engagement at the famous Palace Theatre in New York. Another exceptional act is Walter Walters, Jr. . . . a ventriloquist act that will delight every member of the family. Thrills will be provided by the Three Kayos . . . an amazing Chinese acrobatic trio. The screen attraction is "The Great Dan Patch" . . . the story of the most fabulous horse in harness racing history . . . starring Dennis O'Keefe and Gail Russell. Stage shows will be presented at both matinee and evening performances each day including Friday.

While we talked, I came to think of how Chicken Pox is a lot like other "diseases"—diseases of the character, such as intolerance, self-righteousness or just plain ignorance. They're excusable in children, but when they come out in adults they're ten times as bad—and can be mighty "contagious." From where I sit, we should all watch out for the "symptoms"—little things like criticizing a person's preference for a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale. THANKSGIVING 1949

Compare, if you will, the first Thanksgiving Day and Thanksgiving Day 1949. Though their hardships were many the pilgrims gave thanks for their newly found freedom from religious, political, and personal persecution. We today have much more for which to be thankful. We can be thankful for the courage of our forefathers . . . courage that founded the greatest nation on earth. We can be thankful for our democratic way of life that allows us freedom to choose how to worship . . . to speak . . . to think . . . and to read.

Most of all we should be thankful that we are Americans. No country on the face of the earth has been more richly blessed than our own United States. No other nation offers the security and the opportunities that the American people enjoy. We are indeed fortunate to live in the land of the free . . . and the home of the brave.

In this Land of the Pilgrims' Pride we Americans thrill when we reflect upon the accomplishments of the early pioneers. We marvel at this amazingly developed country that has preserved complete freedom for every citizen. And we are proud that our own community is playing an important part in making ours a land of plenty and envied by nations all over the world.

On this Thanksgiving Day, then, let each of us pause and give thanks for the blessings that have been bestowed upon us. Let us forever remember that many sacrifices have been made, and many lives lost so that we might enjoy living in a land of plenty where there is liberty and justice for all.

Nurse, Physician, Medical Social Worker

Nurse, Physical Therapist, Polio Nurse, Orthopedist, Resident Physician, Psychiatrist, Pediatrician, Neurologist, Psychologist, Psychiatrist, Occupational Laboratory Technician

Medical care for polio patients is costing the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis more money than ever before—because better treatment is available today than formerly, as the accompanying chart reveals. Until 1938 when the National Foundation was formed, a physician and a nurse usually comprised the best available care. Today, modern polio treatment may include 13 specialized services, provided by an entire TEAM of professional workers. This expanded care has cost National Foundation Chapters millions in March of Dimes funds. More money is needed immediately to continue these services. Support the POLIO EPIDEMIC EMERGENCY DRIVE to help care for today's polio patients. Send your contribution now to POLIO, care of your local Post Office.

Letter to the Editor

Exclusive to Harrington Journal.
To the Editor:

In reading an editorial in this week's Index by Mr. Vaughn there came to my mind this feeling, "Now is the time for action!"

We wonder why Mr. Vaughn has reprimanded Mrs. Vera G. Davis so vehemently for asking that there be an investigation in our State institution for the feeble minded and insane.

Few people know what actually took place in the Senate Chambers that last evening of the last special session of our law-makers. I myself, am not versed in the matter but this much I gleaned from the article I read in the Philadelphia Inquirer. I failed to see it in any of our daily, weekly or Sunday papers.

The fact mentioned in the plea for an investigation must have been presented by responsible and well meaning people that have thought this thing out clearly and have made an appeal to what they considered good men and women, who could accept this responsibility well enough, at least, to look into the matter.

Our Fairhurst is a State Institution equipped with State property, operated by State funds, why, we ask doesn't the State take a stand? Why shift the responsibilities to just a few? When there is doubt in the minds of our citizens as to how this institution has or is using equipment and funds. Why not an investigation? Why put it off?

I did not have an opportunity to read the resolution in question, but this much I have been afforded by reliable sources. There was no incriminating evidence presented against any individual or group of individuals. An investigation was merely requested with reasons given. Surely Dr. T. has made it plain he doesn't mind. He welcomes an investigation! Wouldn't this satisfy the "Doubting Toms?" Isn't it what they want?

I believe when there was some rumor about Dr. Gregg in the State College at Dover. Our law-makers were all out for an investigation, in fact, in a short time after complaints were made money was appropriated and the investigation was underway. If I remember correctly our Governor had a personal interest in all that went on. He should! We believe he took an honorable stand in the situation. We feel also there should be some stand taken in the situation at hand. Why put it off? Those young men and women from the college were of sound mind, they could rise up against the aggressor, but can the insane? NO. Then someone must! Who but our law-makers, whom we have shown our faith and trust in so much as to vote them into office.

I believe, in quoting Mr. Vaughn, he asked, "What do we want, something better than the best?" How do we know we have the best if there isn't ever going to be any proof of such. Certainly everyone, everything is the best until it is found out to be of a different calibre. Other mental institutions of other states withstand investigations and continue to function. Then I ask why cannot our Delaware Hospital also have an investigation?

I, personally, feel that Dr. T. is due an investigation now that the doubt has been planted in the minds of the citizens and exonerated of all charges, if there be any. Any reflection or insinuation made on any state institution are bad for that institution and for those responsible for its function. Let's have it cleared up once and for all!

Why give those who could be responsible for any laws in the institution time to sidestep the issues? Why would it be any easier to have an investigation in 1951 or 1952 than right NOW? After all the issue is at hand. Let us see some Action! ! !

Mrs. Mae Caudright is home from Washington, D. C. for a few days, and was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Briggs, who are on a gunning trip. Mrs. Briggs is very fond of hunting for rabbits.

Mrs. Lucille Peterson is visiting her mother, Mrs. William Ransom, of Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

Veterans Administration

Reminds Veterans Of Deadlines

Veterans Administration Monday reminded veterans of important deadlines for V-A administered benefits. The deadlines follow:

GI Bill Education and Training: World War II veterans discharged before July 25, 1947, must start their GI Bill education or training before July 25, 1951.

In both cases, the training must be completed by July 25, 1956. An exception has been made for veterans who enlisted or reenlisted under the Armed Forces Recruitment Act (Public Law 190) between October 6, 1945, and October 5, 1946.

They have four years from the end of their Public Law 190 enlistment or reenlistment period in which to begin GI Bill training, and nine years from that date to complete it.

Public Law 16 Educational and Training: Disabled veterans of World War II may begin Public Law 16 education or training at any time after discharge, but in time to complete their courses by July 25, 1956.

GI Loans: World War II veterans may apply for loans guaranteed or insured under the GI Bill until July 25, 1957.

An exception has been made for veterans who enlisted or reenlisted under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act. They have 10 years from the end of their enlistment period covered by the law in which to apply.

Readjustment Allowances: The GI Bill readjustment allowance program has ended for most World War II veterans.

Those discharged after July 25, 1947, however, may apply for the unemployment and self-employment allowances at any time within two years after discharge, but no payments will be made after July 25, 1952.

The deadlines do not apply to veterans who enlisted or reenlisted under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act. They have up to two years from their date of discharge to claim readjustment allowances, provided that they apply within five years from the termination of their Public Law 190 enlistment or reenlistment.

National Service Life Insurance: A veteran of World War II who applies for new insurance, or to reinstate a lapsed policy, generally must furnish V-A with satisfactory evidence of his good health.

A service-incurred disability—less than total in degree—will be disregarded in determining good health, so long as he applies for new insurance or for reinstatement before January 1, 1950.

The disability must have been incurred in service between October 8, 1940, and September 2, 1945.

A veteran who applies for the NSLI total disability income provision also is required to furnish evidence of good health. In this case, too, a disability incurred in service between October 8, 1940, and September 2, 1945,—but less than total in degree—will be disregarded in determining good health, so long as he applies for the total disability income provision before January 1, 1950.

Cars for Disabled Veterans: World War II veterans who in service lost, or lost the use of, one or both legs or above the ankle may be entitled to receive an automobile or other conveyance at Government expense. They have until June 30, 1950, to apply.

Other Veterans' Benefits: There are no deadlines for the V-A administered benefits for veterans listed below. They may be applied for at any time.

Veterans of all wars and service-connected peacetime veterans—medical, hospital and domiciliary care.

Veterans of World War II—new National Service Life Insurance; reinstatement of lapsed NSLI.

Veterans of all wars and peacetime service—compensation for service-connected disabilities.

Veterans of World War II, World War I, and Spanish-American War—Pension for non-service-connected disabilities.

Veterans of war or peacetime service who served subsequent to April 21, 1898 and who are suffering from certain service-connected disabilities—Government grants for specially designed housing.

Benefits for Survivors of Deceased Veterans: Survivors of deceased veterans of all wars and of certain deceased veterans of peacetime service must file claims for burial allowances within two years after permanent burial or cremation.

Survivors of all veterans who died because of service-connected causes may apply for compensation at any time after the veteran's death.

Survivors of veterans of World War II, World War I and Spanish-American War who died because of causes not attributable to service may apply for pensions at any time after the veteran's death.

Sussex Dairymen to Plan Annual Meeting

Directors of the Sussex County of the Delaware Artificial Breeders' Cooperative Association will meet at the county agent's office, Georgetown, Monday, at 1:30 p. m. to discuss plans for the annual membership meeting in January.

Raymond M. Lank, president of the Sussex unit, said much progress had been made by the association during the two years that it had been organized and that every effort is being made by the directors to continue to improve the program being offered.

Mr. Lank pointed out that 171 dairymen had joined the association to-date and were making use of the services of superior sires in their dairy breeding program.

Other directors of the association include Raymond F. Gordy, Seaford; Mervin Waller, Seaford; Willard H. White, Lewes; Clyde Betts, Milton; Dudley Walker, Harbeson and Hammond Bennett, Milford.

Cold Weather Brings Mastitis Dangers

With the coming of winter weather, mastitis cases may increase in Delaware dairy herds, warned E. S. Biddle, of the Delaware State Board of Agriculture, Friday.

It is a well known fact that mastitis frequently follows teat or udder injury. Many animals which have spent much of the day on pasture are being confined to barns at this time of the year. This means mastitis hazards are greater.

Mr. Biddle suggests that the following precautionary steps be taken: (1) Check barns for any objects which may injure teats and udders; (2) Practice rapid milking, making sure that teat cups are not left on any longer than necessary; (3) Avoid too high vacuum on milking machine; (4) Disinfect milking equipment and see that teats and udders are properly washed and dried; (5) Keep a close watch for signs of trouble. If trouble develops call your local veterinarian promptly or have your cattle checked for mastitis by the State Mastitis Diagnostic Laboratory, Wolf Hall, Newark.

For further information on testing your cattle for mastitis consult your County Agent in Newark, Dover, or Georgetown. He will be glad to help you.

3-Minute Fiction

They found a vacant bench behind some shrubbery and Valeria sat down. SHE WAS DANCING a dreamy waltz with Doug when Eliot cut in. Surprised, she found herself in his arms scarcely before his familiar features became recognizable.

"Well, well, well. Look who's here! How's the Don Juan of New-fane?"

"Val, let's go out and get a punch." His tone was almost harsh. Valeria hesitated. "All right," she said. "I could use something like that. It's been a destructive evening. I'm worn out."

They moved into the alcove where the drinks were being served. He led her beyond and through French doors that opened onto the terrace. The place was crowded, but they found a vacant bench behind some shrubbery, and Valeria sat down. It was good to sit. Eliot bent over her.

"Listen, Val, I can't stand it! I've been crazy ever since you gave me back the ring. I'm going mad! You've got to come back to me!"

Amazed, she stared up at him. His eyes were burning coals. He stood there stripped of his pride and dignity, no longer the confident Don Juan, the breaker of women's hearts.

"Eliot, you're drunk!"

"I'm not! Val, don't you see I'm not! Don't you see how much I love you!" He dropped down beside her, and suddenly his head was against her breast. He wept.

Val was frightened and bewildered. So all his indifference, his casual acceptance of her decision to break their engagement, his interest in Sheelah Jackson—it had all been pretense! A sham! A mask! An attempt to maintain his pride and vanity and conceit.

She stood up, suddenly contemptuous, ashamed of her own doubts, disgusted with his weakness. She looked down at him, without pity or compassion or regret, turned away and went eagerly back to find de pendent Doug.
