Accountancy Graduate Julius H. Cooper Jr., of Houston, has just been notified that he passed the final examinations of the higher accountancy training of Lasalle Extension University, Chicago. He completed the training entirely by spare-time study, with excellent grades. Cooper, a graduate of the University of Delaware, is assistant tax consultant to his father, Julius H. Cooper Sr., of Laurel. Cooper has only a brief period of C. P. A. coaching required to sit for the Delaware C. P. A. examinations.

The Houston New Century Club held its regular meeting Tues., Dec. 6, with the president, Mrs. Richard Bennett in the chair. The president read an interesting article entitled "Merry Christmas" and then turned the meeting to Mrs. Pames Harrington and Mrs. Andrew Kielbasa whose subject was "American Citizenship" and Miss Jeanette Williamson, a senior in the Harrington High School, was then introduced. She gave a most interesting account of her experience as governor at Girls State and her trip to Girls Nation at Washington, D. C. Girls State and Girls Nation are a part of the Americanization program of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Betty Ann Short Weds C. Zimmerman In Milford Church

Miss Betty Ann Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Short Jr., of Harrington, was married Sunday afternoon in St. John's Roman Catholic Church, at Milford, to Mr. Joseph Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Zimmerman, of Dover. The Rev. J. Andrew White, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Mary Ann Hickman was maid of honor, with Frank Zimmerman, the bridegroom's brother, best man. Ushers were another brother, Henry Zimmerman, and Layton Betts, the bride's brother-in-law.

The bride wore a blue suit of street length, with gray accessories and a corsage of white wine-colored suit with pink and rosebuds. The maid of honor wore gray accessories, with a corsage of pink rosebuds to match.

The bride's mother wore a blue street-length dress with gray accessories and a corsage of tall-mast rosebuds. The groom's mother wore a gray street-length dress with navy blue accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Round Table Club at Wyoming with between 100 and 150 guests attending. Music for dancing was furnished by Johnny Short's orchestra. Frank Woodell, of WDOV sang several selections, including one written by the bride's father, "If The Moon Should Tell."

Bill Gregory and Johnny Boman, also of WDOV, rendered several piano selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman will reside on a farm near Magnolia.

Susan Betts, 91, Dies at Frederica

Susan Pauline Betts, 91, widow of the late Stephen Kirk Betts, died at her home at Frederica Friday evening. Mrs. Betts had been in excellent health, and had returned only the week before from a two weeks' visit with her relatives in Wilmington. Despite her advanced years her passing was a shock to the community.

The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Loffland, who many years ago were among the leading storekeepers of Dover. Before coming here Mrs. Betts had operated a general store in Georgetown. She had lived in this community more than fifty years and for a part of that time the Betts had a general and hardware store where the bank is located.

Mr. Betts was an active member of community organizations, and served on the school and town boards. For several years he was Kent County Prothonotary.

After becoming a widow and before her eyesight failed, the deceased wove thousands of rag rugs. She entered these rugs at the Kent and Sussex Fair and for years she won numerous prizes, most frequently these being the first and second ones. She was a charter member of the Frederica Sunshine Society and she rarely missed a meeting. Up to the time of her death she was also an active member of the Laws-Frederica Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Betts' home was an evening meeting place for her friends. Her eyesight had been failing for some years, and although she enjoyed trips from town, for years her evenings were spent mostly with those who gathered to talk with her. Each year at her birthday a larger group joined with her, and the community generally sent her a card shower.

Mrs. Betts, one of the oldest members of our community will be greatly missed.

The remains were removed to the Berry Funeral Parlor, Milford, where they were viewed on Monday evening. Funeral services were conducted from Trinity Church, Frederica, Tuesday afternoon, with interment at Barratt's Chapel Cemetery. The Rev. John Diehl officiated and relatives were the pallbearers.

The deceased is survived by Mrs. Alice Wix, of Harrington, and Miss Claramond C. Betts, of Wilmington, both daughters; four grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren. She is a sister-in-law of Mrs. I. W. Betts, Sr., her only relative here.

Corn Crop

The U. S. corn crop, estimated at 3.5 billion bushels, is expected to be exceeded only by last year's all-time high of 3.7 billion bushels. The 10-year average has been 2.8 billion.

Smyrna won its third game Monday night, defeating Dover, 58-41, with Felton eking out a 55-54 win over Lewes with a late rally.

In the Harrington-Felton tussle, the first period was fairly even, with both teams trying desperately to forge ahead to a comfortable lead.

The Legionnaires held a 5-point lead at the half, but Felton came back in the following quarter and matched them, point for point. In the final period, the Harrington five put on the pressure and pulled away to a comfortable lead, only to have the Feltonians stage a last-minute rally to come within 4 points of tying the score as the final whistle blew.

Victory Home Demonstration Club Holds Christmas Party

The Victory Home Demonstration Club held its annual Christmas party Friday evening in Odd Fellows Hall.

The hall was trimmed in keeppose with the season, and gifts were piled under a lighted Christmas tree, brought by secret pals to exchange. Tables were loaded with goodies and were enjoyed by all. After this, games were played.

Mrs. Reba Smith, retiring president, received a lovely gift from members.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Pearl Hanson, Jan. 5, and at that time Mrs. Smith will install the new officers.

Legates-Windsor Mrs. Evelyn Legates became the bride of Mr. Norris Windsor, Seaford, Saturday, Dec. 2, in Federalsburg. The couple returned today from a honeymoon spent in Florida.

Mrs. Windsor operates Evelyn's Beauty Shop and Mr. Windsor is employed by duPont Nylon Plant, Seaford.

Mrs. Lillian Willey Dies at Dover

The sudden death of Lillian P. Willey, 426 S. New Street, Dover, is mourned by the management and employees of International Latex Corporation, where Mrs. Willey was employed. The death is particularly tragic because Mrs. Willey was only 30, and had left a family of five young children.

It is highly significant and of general interest to the community to learn that although Mrs. Willey had worked for the International Latex Corporation only nine weeks, she nevertheless was protected with a life insurance policy in addition to the hospitalization and surgery insurance which all employees of the Company enjoy and the cost of which is borne fully by the company itself.

It is therefore heartening to know that although Mrs. Willey had worked only nine weeks at Playtex Park, her family will receive $1,000 which represents her accumulated insurance benefit from the Latex Company.

Ocean Downs To Open Aug. 10

The night harness racing meeting at Ocean Downs will open Thursday, August 10 next year, according to general manager Dick Case who said he officially received the dates from the Maryland Racing Commission.

Last summer's meeting opened July 25 and the reason for the August 10 curtain raiser is that Maryland will have a fourth trotting track. The new track will be near Baltimore on Route 40 and begins July 14.

Maryland's trotting season starts at Rosecroft Raceway near Washington, D. C., on May 22, followed by Laurel Raceway beginning June 17.

The commission granted each track 23 week-day nights in which to get their allotted 20 nights of racing. The three extra nights awarded Ocean Downs includes Labor Day night, September 4.

Officials at Ocean Downs said the new Baltimore track would strengthen the Maryland circuit because horse owners would have four consecutive meetings within short shipping distances and each offering good purses with the result that more of the better type horses will come to Maryland.

Ocean Downs, Laurel and the Baltimore track have indicated that they will have stake races next season. The tentative plan at the local track calls for a minimum stake value of $1600.

The August 10 opening date means that Ocean Downs will not conflict with the popular Harrington Fair and the annual pony round-up which comes in late July at Chincoteague. This past summer the trotters here went in opposition to the fair and the pony penning.

Ingva Quillen Christened Little Miss Ingva Quillen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Quillen, was christened Sunday, at home. The Rev. Omar Jones, retired, of Seaford, officiated. Those in attendance and who had dinner in honor of little Miss Quillen were: Rev. and Mrs. Omar Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Glanville Goslee, Georgetown; Mr. and Mrs. S. School of Graduate Studies at U. of D. The University of Delaware's Graduate Division, which has grown to be two-thirds as large as the entire pre-war university, will become a School of Graduate Studies with a full-time dean in charge, effective next July 1.

The Board of Trustees, in its semi-annual meeting at Newark voted establishment of the new school, which will become the sixth of the university's academic schools.

Other actions by the Board of Trustees included: 1. Promotion of Dr. Harold C. Beachell, assistant professor of chemistry, and Dr. Anna Janney DeArmond, assistant professor of English, to associate professorships. Dr. Beachell, who holds two degrees from Queens College, Canada, and his Doctor of Philosophy degree from New York University, was a research chemist with the Grasselli Chemicals Department of the DuPont Company at Cleveland for five years before joining the Delaware faculty in the fall of 1946. For the last year he has been conducting research on a project supported by the Office of Naval Research on the stability of polyvinyl formal compositions, used in insulation for electric wires. He is beginning new research on a fundamental chemical subject for the Army.

Miss DeArmond, who holds degrees from Swarthmore, Columbia and the University of Pennsylvania, has been in Delaware's English Department since 1935. The University of Delaware recently published her biography of Andrew Bradford, colonial journalist.

2. Re-elected former Judge Hugh M. Morris, who is president of the board, to another six-year term as a trustee. Judge Morris, a trustee since 1929, has been president of the board for the past 10 years.

PLAYTEX PARK EMPLOYEE RELATIONS - A MODEL FOR INDUSTRIAL AMERICA

On page one of this newspaper is the story of the passing of Lillian Willey who worked for the International Latex Corporation. Mrs. Willey had worked at Playtex Park only nine short weeks when her untimely passing at the age of thirty left her five young children motherless.

In our issue of November 24, we had occasion to bring to the attention of our readers, the remarkable employee benefit program that has been in effect at Playtex Park since it was founded. The payment to Lillian Willey's family of one thousand dollars in life insurance after only nine short weeks employment by the Latex Company, illustrates one of the finest working relationships between employer and employees in the United States.

The tremendous scope of expanding benefits to employees at Playtex Park assures greater and still greater security for the welfare and well-being of all its workers . . . and significantly, all of this on a voluntary basis and without unions.

Many of our readers are employed at Playtex Park or have relatives who are fortunate enough to be part of this progressive and expanding organization. We in Delaware have every reason to be proud of the fact that one of the most modern companies in America is located in our midst.

All employees of the International Latex Corporation are justly proud of their accomplishments at Playtex Park. All Delaware shares their pride.

DP'S TO THE CITIES

The Maryland Grange has expressed its displeasures over the tendency of displaced person to leave the farms and go to the cities. The grange, thus, is urging closer screening of displaced persons to weed out those with non-farm backgrounds.

"Many Maryland farmers have offered homes and jobs to displaced persons from overseas," reads a resolution of the grange. "Many displaced persons are leaving the farms bound for various cities notwithstanding the expense incurred by the farmers in providing home and training them."

It is time for Uncle Sam to wake up on this matter. There is a shortage of agricultural and domestic labor in this country, doctors, and skilled technicians. Immigration authorities should select only those displaced persons as are needed by the nation's economy. South American nations and Canada are following this practice. One Canadian said, "It is a privilege and not a right for displaced persons to live in Canada."

Canada checks the displaced persons "over there." Those with an agricultural background, for instance, may settle in Canada on farms "selected by the government" at prevailing wages. They must stay there before making haste to get to the already-crowded cities.

We believe the DP's are better off in the rural areas. Those selected for farms, should be compelled to stay there for a certain time. Brazil selects her DP's. Puts them on farms where they must stay a required time.

Recent reports show that most DP's are going to Pennsylvania, New York, and Illinois. New York, Philadelphia, and Chicago.

Despite the advent of modern farm machinery, we see plenty of rundown land in Delaware adjoining counties in Maryland. The European farmer is a good farmer. Why not put him on this land?

There is still a shortage of doctors in the rural areas. Most of the DP doctors have been heading for the cities. Why not assign them for, say, five years, to a rural community that needs them? We believe that Governor Carvel's committee on displaced persons should consider the above information before acting.

The offices of the commission are at the American Red Cross in Wilmington.

We notice a large number of state offices are in Wilmington. The trend seems to be continuing in that direction. Why not make Wilmington the state capital and get it over with? The legislature only meets every two years anyway. What's a capital for, anyhow?

Smiley has appeared in over 130 motion pictures with such stars as Roy Rogers, Gene Autrey and Charles Starrett. He has also made 2000 personal appearances and appeared on innumerable radio shows in his long and varied career. He is one of the most accomplished musicians in show business, playing a total of 52 musical instruments, and all well, too! What is more remarkable is the fact that he cannot read a single note of music... plays them all by ear. Smiley will appear three times Sunday at 2:00, 4:15 and 9:15. The screen feature is the Bowery Boys in "Master Minds."

On Friday and Saturday of this week the New Milford is offering an exceptional 5 act stage revue featuring one of the most novel acts in vaudeville. It's Sam Linfield and his Crazy Scouts... a riotous acrobatic act featuring 5 people... including two midgets. Other talent includes Fred and Fae... fun off the record; Sunny Gale... lovely singer of songs; and Lou Browne... the tall tale-teller.

Good Marketing Practices Necessary For Highest Broiler Production Efficiency

"We have not yet reached the top level of production and certainly not the highest rate of efficiency in the broiler business," stated J. Frank Gordy, Delaware extension poultryman, at a meeting of poultrymen last week in Lancaster, Pa.

Gordy believes the level of production and rate of efficiency will increase in proportion to the interest producers take in the job of marketing broilers. "Marketing starts on the farm," he asserted, "and the grower, buyer, middleman, retailer and consumer must work together to reach the highest degree of efficiency in production and marketing practices."

"Although many and astonishingly rapid changes are taking place in the broiler industry, the principles of good marketing never change to any great degree. During the past few years, and particularly the past few months, volume of broiler production has increased, both labor and feed efficiency have been stepped up, and new housing and equipment introduced. Attention has been focused on 'meat-type' birds through the Chicken-of-Tomorrow Contest; in fact one of the biggest problems seems to be keeping marketing methods up with improvement in meat-type poultry."

Gordy says that producers can take the following steps to result in more efficient marketing:

1. As selling time approaches, contact several reliable buyers preparatory to making the sale.

2. At catching time, clear the pens of all movable equipment.

3. Do not pen up too many birds at a time and use care in getting them into the catching area.

4. Insist on care during catching, placing in crates and loading into trucks, regardless of weighing method used.

5. Support promotional and consumer educational activities conducted by state and regional poultry organizations.

Manure On Cover Crops Boosts Vegetable Yields

How would you like to get a bigger yield per acre from your tomatoes next year? Sussex County Agent, Bill Henderson, says that it not only can be done, but has been—right here in Sussex County, too.

By applying from 5 to 10 tons of poultry manure cover crops, Delaware Experiment Station workers at Georgetown Substation increased yields of cucumbers, cantaloupes, watermelons, tomatoes and lima beans. Henderson points out that the manure was put on the cover crop, and then the cover crop was turned under before planting the vegetables.

According to Robert F. Stevens, Extension Horticulturist, the poultry manure should be applied in fall or early winter. It not only increases growth of the cover crop, but supplies plant food for the vegetable which will follow in the spring.

Stevens adds that poultry manure is especially well suited to the vine crops. An additional complete fertilizer, such as 5-10-5, should be applied at planting time.

Welfare Council Issues Directory

The Delaware Social Service Directory, which lists and explains the functions of over 300 public and private service organizations, was published this week by the Welfare Council of Delaware.

Announcement of the directory, the first publication of the Welfare Council, was made today by Hugh R. Sharp, Jr., president of the council.

The Welfare Council undertook the preparation of the directory at the request of the Delaware State Conference on Social Work, Mr. Sharp explained. The social workers organization previously published smaller directories itself. Agencies in the Welfare Council have placed advanced orders for 350 copies.

Copies of the directory can be secured at the Welfare Council headquarters, 1404 North Franklin, St., Wilmington.

The 83-page booklet contains an alphabetical listing of organizations with names of officers and staff members, and a listing which groups the agencies by the specific type of service rendered.

The list of organizations includes 131 agencies which have paid staffs and a definite program of service either to individuals or groups; 174 religious, civic, fraternal and educational groups, which provide service through volunteer work, in the broad fields of health, welfare, and education. Included among the alphabetical listings are eleven summary sections describing groups of organizations, labor unions and employee associations, libraries in Delaware, licensing and examining boards and others.

Cross references in the alphabetical section provide for easy location of agencies which may be known by more than one name. The Welfare Council plans to maintain a correction service to keep the directory up to date between reprintings. Mimeographed notices of corrections or additions will be mailed to all purchasers of the directory who indicate that they want the correction service.

The directory, Mr. Sharp adds, should be valuable to schools, doctors, personnel managers, and members of other professions, in addition to social workers.

To The Correspondents

WORDS
Get the dictionary habit. Verify the meaning and spelling of every doubtful word.

Do not use "bromides" such as "burly Negro, crisp $5 bill, sickening thud, clutches of the law." Use slang sparingly, and then only when it is appropriate to the tone of the story.

Avoid the obsequious, flattering attitudes reflected in such expressions as "lady" for "woman, gentleman" for "man, banquet" for "dinner" or "luncheon, accepts a position" for "obtains work, prominent citizen, charming hostess, talented young lady."

Occasionally, the correspondents write an individual "is associated with" a large company. Unless the individual works for the company in an executive capacity, just say "he is employed by so-and-so company."

Avoid the meaningless words with which some writers seek to emphasize their statements. If a result is "certain," you add nothing by calling it "absolutely certain."

Usually a person merely "states" a thing. Avoid "asserts, states, declares," unless you wish to include the formality or insistence implied by these words.

Do not assume too much information on the part of your readers. Write "at a meeting of the Tuesday Club," rather than "at the meeting."

Use "yesterday, today," and "tomorrow" rather than the names of the day, unless instructed to the contrary.

Use "yesterday, today," and "tomorrow" rather than the names of the day, unless instructed to the contrary.

Social Security Queries Answered
Questions relating to Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance will be answered in this paper or by mail. Address all queries to Social Security Administration, Old Customs House Building, 6th & King Streets, Wilmington, Del.

Q. I am fully insured under social security since I have worked in employment covered by the Social Security Law for more than 10 years and have at least 40 calendar quarters of coverage to my credit. I have quit my job since getting married last month. Upon reaching age 65, will I receive benefits from my own Social Security as well as benefits from my husband's?

Q. How often should I check my Social Security Account? A. Preferably once a year. If you check your Social Security Account at least once a year, it is much easier to pick up discrepancies. There is a statute of limitations which prevents correction of an account after 4 years.

Q. Does everybody get the same amount of benefits? A. No. Benefits are based primarily on the worker's average monthly wage. He is credited with all wages that he has received for work in covered employment, up to 3,000 a year. The Social Security Administration keeps an account for every worker in covered employment, under the worker's name and social security number. This number is the same as that on the social security card that the worker takes out the first time he gets a job in private industry or commerce.

Felton School News

The play to be presented by the third and fourth grades is entitled, "A Visit From Santa Claus." These plays will be followed by a tableau presented by the fifth and sixth grade children.

Throughout all of the elementary grades, the pupils are making many elaborate Christmas decorations for the halls, classrooms and bulletin board displays in anticipation of their Christmas parties that they will hold in their own rooms after the morning program.

The Junior and Senior High School program will be presented on Thursday evening, Dec. 22, at 8:00 p. m. for parents and friends and again on Friday afternoon for the High School. This program is under the direction and supervision of Mr. Vernon Meier, commercial teacher.

Last Half of Ducking Season Opens Dec. 23

The last half of the ducking season in Delaware will open next Friday and end Sat., Jan. 7, according to Thomas H. Stayton, chief warden of the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners.

Mr. Stayton added that hunters would have to purchase a 1950 license at $2.25. This license will terminate Dec. 31, 1950.

Christmas Decorations

With the Christmas season just a few days away, homemakers are turning their thoughts to decorations, says Maybelle Ligon, Sussex County Home Demonstration Agent.

Delaware is noted for the beautiful holly trees, however, a word of precaution is given by Miss Ligon, for those who wish to use this for decorations. In many cases, holly trees have been hacked and butchered to the extent that they are weakened and the crop for the coming year may be destroyed. Holly should be cut as a way of pruning the tree. In this manner, about every third twig may be cut, leaving several buds on the pruned end. This will permit the harvesting of a new crop within a few years.

Holly is used simply as cut greenery for the home or in wreaths. The use of holly wreaths dates back to the early 1890's when a farm hand in Kent County, Delaware, is said to have thought of the idea while sorting holly for shipment to market. It is said that the worker remembered the wreaths of running cedar and laurel which were used in decorating the horses' neck in political parades and it occurred to him that the holly would look nice in rings, appropriately spotted with berries. Since that time, many people have been using holly wreaths at Christmastime.

There is a wide variety of materials for decorating the home, declared Miss Ligon, in addition to holly. Pine cones and those from the Hemlock trees may be used in various arrangements. They may be used in their natural color or they may be painted white, tipped or given a frosted effect.

Berries may be used as accent features in the decorations. The swamp berry, which is found in many places in Sussex County makes an attractive decoration when used with evergreens.

Burs of the sweet gum and magnolia trees may be used, giving interest in color and texture to arrangements. These too, may be used in their natural color or may be treated to give a snow or frost effect.

Miss Ligon suggests making the holiday tree for the youngsters in the family. To make the tree, you need a branch of thorn bush in the shape of a little tree. Paint it with silver-colored paint like aluminum radiator paint. Then get a small log about 6 inches in diameter and about 8 inches long. Saw it through the center, the long way and make a hole in the middle of the round part. Paint it with the same paint and put the end of the branch in the hole. The hole needs to be just the right size so the tree will fit and not wobble. Then put little colored gum drops on each end of the thorns. The sugar on the gum drops will glisten and so will the silver surface of the tree and tree holder. Use evergreens around the base of the tree and you really have an attractive and decorative centerpiece, says Miss Ligon.

Greensboro Youth Enlists in Army

John M. Wood, 18, Greensboro, has been enlisted in the Regular Army for a period of three years.

He is to be assigned to the Corp of Engineers.

John chose the engineers so that he could learn the maintenance and repair of heavy construction equipment. He plans, to someday have his own garage for the repair of all the heavy equipment in the local area.

He has been forwarded to Ft. Knox, Ky., for basic training. At the completion of this training he will be reassigned to the Corp of Engineers for further training in the "Career Field" of his choice.

Sgt. McNulty of the Dover recruiting station explains that John's starting pay will be $75.00 a month and that at the completion of his basic training he will be raised to $82.50. This $82.50, naturally is clear take home pay as the Army pays all expenses for men in the service.

The job of the local recruiting sergeants in this area is to explain to all the young men the advantages of an enlistment in either the Army or the Air Force. They invite anyone who thinks he might be interested to visit the Recruiting Station in Dover at any time they desire. The address of the Recruiting Office is 109 1/2 Lookerman St., Dover. WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

Well it is getting nearer and nearer and I wonder if we are all prepared for Christmas. You know there are many gifts that are really worth while for instance, do away with that kettle that you have used so long and buy your family or wife a gas or electric hot water heater and then you will always have hot water at the turn of the faucet. It is mighty nice to know that the hot water is ready when you need it that is almost a Christmas gift itself.

Are you one of those who received the pamphlet I sent out on Philco television sets? Well if you are, you can see how many different models are being made and have I been swamped with inquiries! In fact it shows that many people are interested in television. In fact I had a customer in this week who wanted three sets right away. I did make delivery of two, but the third one I could not get until after the 1st of the year. That will give you an idea of how people are buying television. Have you spoken for yours? It would make your family a wonderful gift for Christmas. It takes a little time to install a first class antenna or mast so don't think you can get reception without as you see advertised. We must have a good one to get reception.

I know of a good gift that any woman would like if she does her own sewing and that is a cabinet sewing machine. We have just received a shipment in time for Christmas and they are fully guaranteed for 20 years. Make the wife happy and it will be a long happiness.

We have many gifts in our store and when it comes to something you are just undecided about why not get him or her a new coffee maker. Now that coffee is getting scarer or higher, which? It will pay to get a coffee maker that does not waste that precious bean for instance a Silex, Sunbeam, or Westinghouse will get all the aroma and leave only the waste. Buy a new one and my, my what good coffee you will have. Are you still promising your wife that you are still going to get her that gas range. You know using oil for cooking today is like using a horse and buggy for riding. Get wise and let's live with the conveniences that are made for today's use.

We will sell you the range and as we have several to select from, install it and serve you gas, either bottled or metered. Come see us.

Last week I advertised that we would give free border with a room of paper or more sold and by the response some of you must read our little speals. We have sold several single rooms and even the entire house so if you want to save a little money from now until the first of January drop in get yours. You know around Christmas time is a time when you want to make others happy and one of the things is a radio. We carry all kinds of Radios. Portables, Table Sets, Battery Sets, Consoles, Television. In fact all the worth while kinds including of course combinations both table and consoles. Plenty of FM sets. Come in and see Wheelers, Phone 541 Harrington and go home happy.
