

Record Number of Students Enrolled in Agriculture In Delaware Schools

791 Students in 21 Schools; 51 Per Cent Plan On Projects In General Livestock; 45, Poultry

The largest number of students of agriculture in the history of the State is now enrolled in the vocational programs of the Delaware Public Schools according to W. Lyle Mowlds, State Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture.

In a report released last Friday Mr. Mowlds stated that 791 students in 21 school departments are currently engaged in Vocational Agriculture activities.

The report indicated plans for an increase of 33 per cent in crop acreage, 45 per cent for poultry, and 51 per cent for general livestock. This advancement is partially accounted for by an 18 per cent increase in enrollments. In addition Mr. Mowlds stated that there is evidence of an increase in the number of projects each student is undertaking.

The Vocational Agriculture students are all members of the Future Farmers of America or the New Farmers of America organizations. Mr. Mowlds stated that they generally begin their agricultural work with a single project and expand it to several projects by the time they graduate. These projects are closely related to the class room instruction which the boy receives in his local high school. Mr. Mowlds stated that records are kept of all projects and are summarized at the end of the year. These summarizations give an excellent opportunity to study farm accounting as it relates to the student.

The report shows that students will grow over 2,067 head of livestock, 227,349 chickens, and 1,718 acres of crops.

In addition to these numbers 34 students are carrying on home improvement projects while others are carrying on experiments with approved seeds, fertilizers, and feeds for the development of better crops and livestock at a lower cost.

The larger enrollments are in the Newark, Conrad, Milford, Caesar Rodney, and Alexis I. duPont Vocational departments.

Some of the crops and acres to be grown are as follows: corn, 839; wheat, 125; soybeans, 251; barley, 44; oats, 54; tomatoes, 29; potatoes, 26; vine crops, 68; beans, 79; gardens, 52; hays, 65; etc.

Livestock and poultry raised or to be raised are as follows: hens and pullets, 5,580; broilers, 211,075; chicks, 6,525; turkeys, 550; ducks, 425; swine, 963; beef cattle, 83; dairy cattle and calves, 252; rabbits, 769, and sheep, 30.

Reese Theatre To Hold New Year's Midnight Jamboree

If the management of the Reese Theatre, located at Harrington, has its way, Delaware and Maryland theatre-goers, are again going to have a grand and glorious treat this New Year's Eve at midnight.

According to a special announcement, to be found in this newspaper, it looks as if everybody concerned is trying to outdo last year's New Year's Eve Midnight Jamboree.

This year's show marks the twenty-first Annual Fun Show at this popular theatre, and to folks on the Eastern Shore, this is a New Year's "Must."

Contracts have already been signed with "Candy & Coco," the International Princess of Merriment; "Paul Dutch," Ripley's Wonder Boy; "Frank Woodall" WDOV's Song Stylist; "The Salisbury's" Sultans of Comedy; "Miss Sugar's Sweet-Tune Revue"; plus "Jimmy E's Sharp Shooters" and a bevy of Delaware and Maryland entertainers.

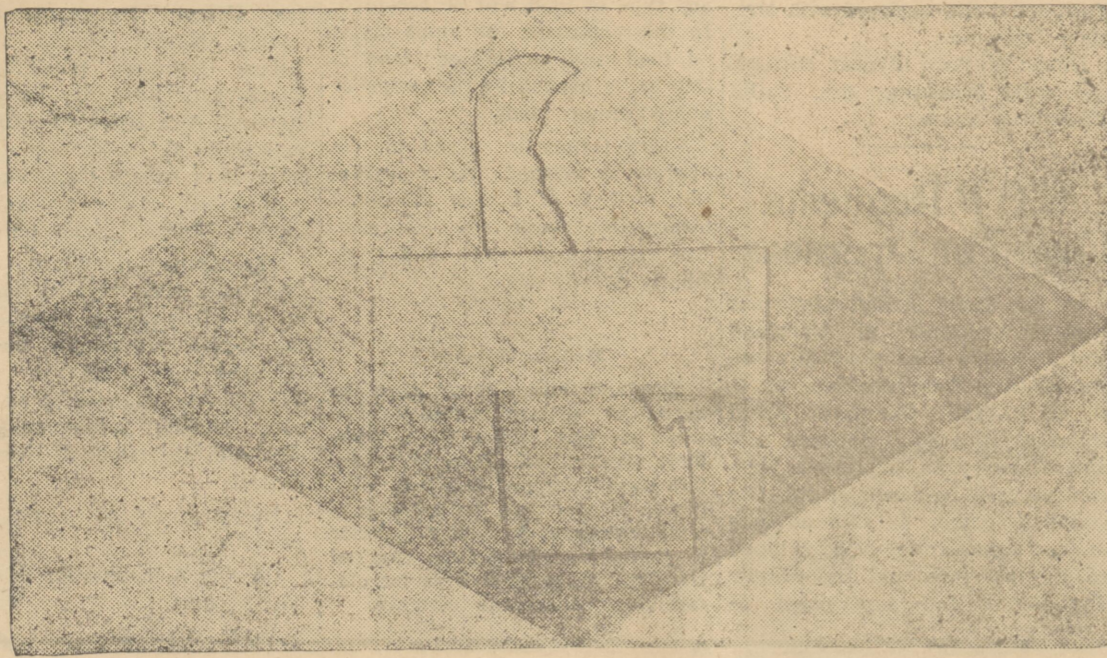

The admission price is the same as in the past. All seats being $1.00, tax paid. It is suggested that you buy your tickets in advance, as only the capacity of the theatre will be sold.

As an added treat, Warrington's Furniture, Harrington, Del., will give away $300, the same as last year.

Weddings

Wiederkehr-Rose

Miss Evelyn E. Wiederkehr, daughter of Mr. Alfred Wiederkehr and the late Mrs. Pauline T. Wiederkehr of Farmington, and Mr. Elmer L. Rose, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Casper Rose of Eureka, Calif., were married Sunday, Dec. 11, at 3 p. m. in Trinity Methodist Church, Harrington. The Rev. Daniel T. Pritchard, pastor officiated. Mrs. Lula Holmes Potter of Harrington played the wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Ida Roland of Felton, who gave vocal solos preceding the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of turquoise blue silk with feathered hat to match and wore a corsage of white carnations. She carried a white prayer book with white carnations and streamers.

Miss Charlotte White, the bride's only attendant, wore a dress of red crepe and black hat with colored sequins and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Adolph Wiederkehr, brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Otto Wiederkehr, brother of the bride, and Mr. Herbert Dennison of Laurel.

A reception followed the ceremony in the hall over the First National Bank. After a short wedding trip to the Virginia Caverns and Skyline Drive the couple left for Eureka, Calif., where they will make their home. Mr. Rose being in the lumber business there.

Hickman-Wilson

Miss Mary Ann Hickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abner R. Hickman, became the bride of Mr. Donald R. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Wilson, of Harrington, Sunday afternoon in the Asbury Methodist Parsonage. The Rev. J. Harry Wright officiated.

Mrs. Charles J. Townesend, the bride's sister, of Richmond, Va., was matron of honor. Best man was Mr. Cecil Wilson, brother of the groom.

The bride wore a suit of burgundy wool with gray accessories. Her corsage was of white rosebuds.

A reception for the immediate families followed at the home of the bride's parents.

After a wedding trip south, the couple will reside in Harrington.

THE MELODY OF HEAVEN

The story of the shepherds and the angels is artistic in form. It was told by Luke, a cultured literary artist, who was a Gentile native of Antioch, in Syria. He was a physician who studied medicine at the University of Tarsus, where he probably met Saul of Tarsus. Later Luke, through friendship with Paul, (formerly named Saul), became a convert to Christianity. The story is written in classical Greek style, by one who was a lover of music. Indeed Luke may well be considered as the first Christian hymnologist, for he has written the words for five great hymns of the early Christian Church:—Ave Marie; Magnificat; Benedictus; Gloria in Excelsis; and Nunc Dimittis. Luke's gospel begins with hymns, and ends with praises to God.

Moreover, the story is evangelistic in purpose. It was written to strengthen the faith of Theophilus, an imperial dignitary, who was a friend of Luke's, and to declare to all the world the truth that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, who came to save man from sin.

Again, the story is authentic in its content. It was written sometime between 70 to 90 A. D. by this physician who had access to the homes of people who had seen and heard Jesus. Luke gathered many recollections of persons who were eye-witnesses to the events recorded in his gospel. Once more, the story is enduring in its significance. It is more than a beautiful legend, which appeals to our imagination. It is an artistic, authentic story which appeals to our intelligence, and it grows more attractive after nineteen centuries have passed.

The sky-born music was heard first by humble shepherds. Humble people today can hear this good news to all mankind.

The shepherds were on duty, when they heard the song of heaven. Their work was considered menial and insignificant, even though it was dangerous when the flock would be attacked by beasts of prey. People at work today may hear the melody of heaven, not only in places of worship, but also in their homes, and in the out-of-doors. Modern people need to hear this song in factory, office, store, on the farm—everywhere in places of toil and labor.

"How silently, how silently, the wondrous gift is given, So God imparts to human hearts, the blessings of His Heaven;

No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin, Where meek souls will receive Him still, The dear Christ enters in."

The shepherds heard the melody of Heaven in the night. The glory of the angelic host lighted the dark Judean hills, of a darkened, saddened world. The religious life of the people was dominated by corrupt priests, scribes, and Pharisees. The political life of that time was ruled by the tyrant Herod. He was merciless, pitiless and cruel. The whole weight of his vicious oppression rested upon the weary shoulders of the conquered Jews, who lived in that part of the Roman Empire. No song of joy was in the hearts of the Jews, but rather feelings of resentment against their Roman oppressors.

The modern world is darkened too, by threats of future war. It is saddened also, by past wars and frightful, costly sacrifices. Songs of hate, rather than of love, are in the air. Even though the noise of guns, and bursting bombs has ceased for awhile, cries of anguish and fear are heard today. We need to pause long enough at Christmas, in this weary world, not only to hear the music of earth, but also to hear the melody of Heaven, "Peace on earth, goodwill to men."

Minner-Morgan

Miss Pauline Minner, daughter of Mrs. Laura Minner and the late Joseph S. Minner, was married to Mr. Franklin Morgan, son of Mr. Augustus Morgan and the late Mrs. Belle T. Morgan, of Houston, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sipple, in Viola, Friday night. The Rev. W. T. Grant of Houston, officiated. Mrs. A. C. Bennett played the wedding music. Miss Hazel and Mrs. Ann Sapp, nieces of the bridegroom, sang.

Mr. Lawrence Minner gave his sister in marriage. Miss Dorothy Minner, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Clifford Bergstrom served as best man.

The bride wore a gown of white brocade taffeta, with a long train. She wore a fingertip veil and carried a prayer book with white gardenias. The maid of honor wore a gown of pink brocade taffeta, made on the same line as the bride's. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of carnations, sweet peas, heather and stavia.

A reception followed the ceremony. After a wedding trip the couple will reside in Felton.

Legionnaires Suffer First Loss

The Harrington Legionnaires basketball quintet suffered its first defeat in the All-Delaware League competition Wednesday night at the hands of the Dover Bulldogs at Dover Wednesday night. The score was 54-45. This, the first win for the victors, dropped Harrington to the lead.

The local boys played Dover on even terms the first half, with the score standing at 23 to 23 going into the third period. The Bulldogs then forged ahead to a comfortable lead and were never overtaken.

George Palmer stood out for Harrington, with his fine offensive play and his ability to hit the net frequently.

Wyatt Funeral This Afternoon

Miss Mary M. Wyatt, 89, passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. Willie Greenlee on West Street, Harrington, late Tuesday night, after an illness of almost five years, during which time she had been confined to her bed.

She had resided alone for many years at her home on the corner of West and High Sts. until she incurred a fall, in which she suffered a broken hip.

In her younger days, she was a seamstress. She had been a member of Pilgrim Holiness Church, Harrington since 1902.

Funeral services will be held at Boyer Funeral Home this afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Lawson Jump, Denton.

Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery.

She is survived by a brother, Fount Wyatt, Harrington, and three sisters, Mrs. Myra Kesler, Harrington; Mrs. Nora A. Sheatz, Margate City, N. J., and Mrs. Greenlee, also several nieces and nephews.

Smiley B. Truitt, 87 Dies Near Seaford

Smiley B. Truitt, 87, died at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney O'Bier near Seaford, Wednesday night after an illness of about six weeks.

He was the son of the late George and Annie Betts Truitt and was born near Gumboro, but had resided near Seaford for the past 65 years.

After the death of his wife, Mrs. Martha Adams Truitt about 15 years ago he retired from farming and went to live with his daughter.

Funeral services will be held at the Concord Methodist Church, Concord, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the pastor, the Rev. Ewell Crockett.

Interment will be in Blades Cemetery, Blades.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. O'Bier, and 3 sons, George R. Truitt, Jacksonville, Fla.; Harry T. Truitt, Seaford; Wm. C. Truitt, Taber City, N. C.; 7 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren. Also a brother, Samuel J. Truitt, of Darby, Pa., and a sister, Mrs. Alice M. Johnson, Federalsburg.

Friends may call at the Boyer Funeral Home, Harrington, Del., this evening.

This week James Edward Legates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Legates of near Harrington, received his degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Dairy Husbandry at Iowa State College. He is a graduate of the Harrington High School, Class of 1939, of which he was president and valedictorian. He graduated from the University of Delaware, Class of 1943, with honors and distinction, and was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi.

In June, 1947, he received his Master of Science degree at Iowa State College.

Edward, his wife, the former Betty Derrickson, and their three sons are spending the holidays with their parents. He has joined the faculty of North Carolina State College at Raleigh, N. C.

Funeral For Mrs. Ola Kelly

Mrs. Ola Kelly, wife of Thomas W. Kelly of Harrington, passed away suddenly at her home in Harrington Saturday afternoon.

Funeral services were held at the Berry Funeral Home, Milford, Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. Joseph S. Hinks, St. Stephens Episcopal Church, Harrington, officiated.

Interment was at Parsons Cemetery, Salisbury.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, V. Wm. Kelly, Trenton, N. J.; two grandchildren, and four sisters: Miss Molly Parker, Mrs. Cora Hammond, both of Salisbury; Mrs. Bessie Hayman, of Pocomoke, and Mrs. W. T. Chipman, Harrington.

W. B. A. Drill Clubs Enjoys Turkey Dinner

The Drill Club of WBA Lodge met Tuesday evening. A turkey dinner was enjoyed at the Bridle Bit, and after dinner, a Christmas party was held at the home of Mrs. Josephine Wechtenheiser.

Gifts were exchanged, and games in keeping with the season were played.

Each member was presented with a crocheted potholder from Mrs. Elsie Barlow, club president.

Three persons were injured in a three-car collision Thursday week ago on U. S. 13 two miles south of Harrington. They were sent to Milford Memorial Hospital. Four were injured in a collision near Sandtown.

The collision involved the automobiles of Elmer A. Tull, 65, a rural mail carrier of Farmington; George L. Hancock, 41, Delmar, and Ernest Callaway, 47, Farmington.

A fractured knee and possible fractures of the ribs, and lacerations were sustained by Hancock; a fractured knee, fractures of the leg and wrist, and laceration of the face by Jessie Hancock, passenger in Hancock's car, and a fractured nose and jaw and injury to his right hand by Callaway.

State police said that Callaway, going north on Route 13, apparently side-swiped Tull's car and then collided, head-on, with Hancock's car. The cars of Hancock and Callaway were demolished.

Edward R. Zimmerman, 43, of Elizabeth City, N. C., received a lacerated head when the truck he was operating overturned on Route 13, two miles south of Felton, after striking a guard rail. Police said Zimmerman fell asleep.

Four persons were injured in a collision on Route 10 at Sandtown. The injured are Mrs. Della Rash, 73, of Wyoming, who suffered a fractured jaw and possible fractured ribs; Margaret Ann Larimore, 2, of Wyoming, who lost two front teeth; Ida Short, 56, of Wyoming, abrasions of the right hand, and Irene Cohee, 26, of Goldsboro, lacerated right hand and bruised right knee.

Mrs. Rash, who was taken to the Kent General Hospital, was with the Larimore child and the Short woman in a car operated by Elwood Hutson, 46, of Goldsboro. The other car was operated by Charles C. Cohee, also of Goldsboro.

Cohee was arrested by troopers on a charge of driving on the wrong side of the road and was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate John Custer of Dover. Damage to the two cars totaled $550.

Harold Griffith Buried Wednesday

Burial was held Wednesday at Hollywood Cemetery for Harold Griffith, about 62, who died at his home in Philadelphia Sunday evening following a heart attack. The Rev. J. Harry Wright, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, officiated at the graveside services.

Mr. Griffith was born near Farmington but had lived most of his life in Philadelphia where he was a court reporter. He was unmarried.

Surviving are a brother, Ellis Griffith, of Newport News, Va.; a brother-in-law, Ira Salmans, of Philadelphia; a nephew, John Griffith, Norfolk, Va., and a niece, Mrs. George Vapaa, of Harrington.

Mrs. Evelyn Porter, president, presided at the business session. Mrs. Blanche Miller, state president, of Wilmington, and her staff paid their official visit.

At the close of the meeting, sandwiches and coffee was served. The next meeting will be January 6.

University of Delaware Co-eds To Have New Dormitory

The University of Delaware's women students, who are using three World War I surplus barracks, four other temporary quarters, and rented rooms throughout Newark to supplement the three permanent girl's residence halls, will have a new dormitory soon.

President William S. Carlson announced that sufficient funds have been obtained to permit immediate planning for the fourth residence hall. The new dormitory, as yet unnamed, is planned for a capacity greater than either Warner, New Castle or Sussex Halls. Warner, built in 1914, had a pre-war capacity of 64 but 31 now are crowded in; Sussex, built in 1918, and New Castle, built in 1926, each accommodate 65. The dormitory would be immediately north of New Castle Hall.

Dr. Carlson said that the dormitory had been on the university's "urgent building program" for some years, and that architects' plans were available from the past. E. William Martin is the architect. The president indicated that bids will be sought soon, and that construction might start before he leaves Delaware for the University of Vermont's presidency in April. "I am proud that the erection of a much-needed girls' dormitory will be one of the achievements of my administration," said Dr. Carlson. "To see the building we have been anticipating take shape enables me to feel somewhat less regret at leaving Delaware. It's great to be able to check another 'must' off the list."

He pointed out that at present only 211 of the 619 women students can be housed in permanent dormitories, and that even the four permanent dormitories—including the projected one—would accommodate only as many women students as the University had enrolled in 1945. There has been a 115 per cent jump in the number of women students since the war.

One hundred and fifty girls now live in the temporary dormitories. The World War I surplus buildings transferred from Carney's Point in 1919—now known as Topsy, Turvy and Boletus—each accommodate 20. Hanover Hall, a World War II barracks, used by men for two years and converted for girls' use this fall, houses 54. The Knoll, once used as a president's home, accommodates 18, and nine girls live in each of two other buildings; The West Main Street residence of the late Professor and Mrs. Elisha Conover; and the upper floors of the former Home Management House, which has offices on the first floor now. Thirty-two girls are living in private homes of Newark.

"While the new dormitory will do much to alleviate our desperate need for housing for girls," commented Dr. Carlson, "it is evident that more consideration will have to be given in the future to more residence halls."

When it opens, probably some time in 1951, the proposed hall would be the first new dormitory for girls in a quarter-century. It probably will be completed at about the same time as the new agricultural building planned for the university's farm just south of Newark.

CROP Requests Food For Overseas

In the spirit of the Christmas season, thousands of Maryland and Delaware food producers are contributing food products to C. R. O. P.—The Christian Rural Overseas Program. Between now and January 15, a farm-to-farm canvass will be made of the two states to gather 40 railroad cars of food commodities to be shipped to Europe, Asia and the Middle East under the supervision of Church World Service, Lutheran World Relief, and Catholic Rural Life.

C. R. O. P. Committees in each of the Maryland and Delaware Counties will be responsible for making the canvasses in their territories.

Such products as milk, grain, poultry, livestock, and other dairy products are desired—but any type of food will be accepted. In this campaign the emphasis is on food—not money—as food is still badly needed by the people of many foreign lands.

Every farmer is urged to cooperate by making his contribution to C. R. O. P. For additional information about the program, you can consult your church or county agent's office.

Modern Matches

Rats and mice will not chew the heads of modern matches even when starving. When W. A. Fairburn created the present-day non-poisonous formula 40 years ago, it was learned that the ingredients were abhorrent to rodents. Prior to that time many fires resulted from the liking of rodents for old-fashioned phosphorus matches.

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE

Dr. Allen P. Colbourn, assistant to the president and adviser on research at the University of Delaware, has been named as acting president, to serve from April, 1950, until a successor to President William S. Carlson takes office.

Dr. Carlson has resigned, effective in April, to become president of the University of Vermont.

Dr. Colbourn's appointment was voted by the university's Board of Trustees. Former Judge Hugh M. Morris, president of the board, said the interim appointment was made at this time to insure that there would be no interruption in the university's administration during President Carlson's departure. He pointed out that in the next four months Dr. Colbourn will be able to become acquainted with numerous details of the presidency through working with Dr. Carlson.

Meanwhile, said Judge Morris, consideration will be given to selection of the new president, so that the post can be filled as soon as possible.

Dr. Colbourn has been assistant to the president and adviser on research at the University since July, 1947. Previously he was for six years professor of chemical engineering at Delaware, and as associate professor for three years before that. He joined the faculty of the DuPont Company, where he was research chemical engineer for nine years. He continued as consultant on call for that company after joining the Delaware faculty.

Dr. Colbourn is a 45-year-old native of Madison, Wis., and received his bachelor's degree in 1926, his master's degree in 1927, and his doctorate two years later, all from the University of Wisconsin. Meanwhile, he held two fellowships at Wisconsin.

During the last war, he was instrumental in the use of Chemical Engineering laboratories of the University of Delaware on war research problems, for the National Defense Research Committee, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Office of Rubber Reserve, and for various war industries, of which the most extensive work was on aircraft engines for Pratt and Whitney Aircraft.

He further assisted in the direction of war research elsewhere as a section member and consultant for different sections of the NDRC, the S. A. M. Laboratories at Columbia University, University of Pennsylvania's Thermodynamics Laboratory, and several industrial organizations. His war research also included service as a member of the Subcommittee on Heat Exchangers of the NACA, and as a member of the New Coolants Committee of Cooperative Research Council.

With Dr. B. F. Dodge of Yale, he prepared the curriculum on chemical engineering for the Army, which was taught in the A. S. T. Program throughout the war.

In 1948, he was honored by the presentation of the Professional Progress Award in Chemical Engineering. He was the first recipient of the award, which is the first major, general award in the entire field of chemical engineering.

Active in professional societies, Dr. Colbourn has served as a director and chairman of the Awards Committee and as chairman of the Publications Committee of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, on whose council he has served. His memberships also include the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the Executive Committee of the Heat Transfer Division of the A. S. M. E., the American Chemical Society, the American Society for Engineering Educafor Long Distance, too!

BIG DAY coming

Although we've added many lines and switchboards since last Christmas, we'll have our hands full on the Christmas week-end, when Long Distance greetings hit their peak.

There will be some delays, but we'll do our level best to speed your holiday calls to friends and family. We know how much these calls mean, and we'll try to make it a Merry Christmas!

P.S. Most messages cost less after 6 P.M., as well as all day Christmas and Monday, December 26.

Our favorite season is here again! For it's Christmas time—when colorful lights and holly wreaths brighten every window—when the carefree voices of carolers break the silence of the night; and to wide-eyed youngsters dear old Santa Claus is the "man of the hour". Beyond all these pleasures our greatest enjoyment comes from the opportunity to wish all our friends a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Farm and Home News

More than 95 per cent of Delaware farms are now electrified. If the farm tractor is warmed up or used inside a building, be sure there is plenty of ventilation, carbon monoxide, a deadly poison, cannot be detected by odor.

Farm people save a lot more of what they earn than do city folks. One Iowa survey shows that farm families put almost twice as much into savings as do town people with the same income.

Don't begin 1950 without planning to keep adequate farm records, say University of Delaware agricultural economists. Farm accounts are a tool of management that can show the way to improvements and greater profits in the farm business.

Use of a rhubarb extract to replace the common blanching process prior to freezing of apples is being regarded with favor by chemists of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station. Use on Stayman apples, this treatment helps prevent browning and preserves flavor and soluble substances usually lost in the blanching process. A survey of several other natural fruit and vegetable extracts has revealed nothing equal to the rhubarb extract, except possibly spinach.

Sandpapering the soles of baby's new shoes before they are worn may keep him from slipping and falling.

When preparing cabbage for cooking, cut it in sections rather than shredding before dropping into boiling water. Cabbage cooked this way shows less loss of minerals and vitamins.

An adequate breakfast includes fruit, whole grain or enriched cereal, glass of milk, an egg, and a slice of whole wheat or enriched bread with butter or fortified margarine, suggests the Delaware State Nutrition Committee.

Make soap jelly by saving the chips and ends of all soap bars that are no longer large enough to handle. Melt all the scraps together and store in a jar.

Delaware home demonstration clubs now total 70, with an enrollment of 2,223 women, reports State Home Demonstration Leader Gertrude Holloway.

Bright red paint can be put to many useful purposes around the house, as an aid to the safety and convenience of the family. Containers of poisonous materials such as lye preparations for cleaning drains may be easily distinguished by their red coat. The pail of sand kept on hand for fire control will be easier to find if painted red—as will the outdoor faucets to which a hose must be connected in a hurry.

Dairymen Select Georgetown For Annual Meeting

Sussex County Unit of the Delaware Artificial Breeders' Cooperative have selected Georgetown as the site for their annual dinner meeting, according to Raymond M. Lank of Milton, chairman.

The meeting will be held in the Jones Memorial Hall Thursday, January 19th at 7:00 p. m.

Approximately 150 dairymen and their wives are expected to attend. Arrangements are being completed for the program which will include a report on the work of the association for 1949 and plans for 1950.

Mr. Lank pointed out that it is most important that all members of the association be present and assist in improving the services of the organization.

Here's holiday refreshment for your Buick!

TIME'S coming when the air is full of good spirits, and we all feel pretty chipper — but what about that faithful Buick of yours?

Wet winter driving is roughest on cars—and even though it still handles like a sweetheart, your Buick may have slipped a notch or so in performance, or gradually acquired a squeak you haven't been aware of.

So do this . . .

Bring it to us for one of our winter tune-ups, plus a special winter LUBRICARE treatment. (This Lubricare is something you and your Buick should know about — it's an over-all trouble-check, plus a wonderfully thorough lubrication routine!)

Between these two refreshing treatments, you'll have all your Buick's glad and breezy power back—plenty of Fireball zoomph to pull you out of any traffic fuss. You'll have a quiet-riding body and chassis that make every mile a glad glide. And you'll have top mileage efficiency, with a motor that starts on the coldest morning as quick as a scared alarm clock!

Why put it off? Our service is quick and expert, our prices lower than you'd think. The driving pleasure you get is immense. Phone us now and make a holi-date for bringing your Buick's spirits up to those of the season!

WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME NOW

The last word NOW in the title would imply that Christmas means something now which it did not previously mean. And that is just so. I confess to you there has been a change over the years in my thinking of Christmas. I believe my thinking concerning Christmas has gone through at least three stages. To distinguish these stages I will refer to them as the Kriss-centered stage; the Christ-centered stage; and the God-centered stage. I cannot now tell when one stage ended and the other began. Rather it seems to me they ran concurrently; yet there was in the first stage the emphasis on Kriss-Kringle or Santa Claus, etc.; the Christ-child in the second; and now the thought of God predominates in the third stage.

To begin with the first stage of my thinking of Christmas, I need not tell you my earliest thoughts of Christmas were formed in my home. Like countless others I was born into an ordinary home, but one that was religious and Christian. While my earliest impressions of Christmas were formed amid Tree and Trimmings, Food and Gifts, etc., yet the many symbols used were religious. The Star had to be hung on the top-most branch of the tree; the manger scene under the tree; and the trimmings were of a religious cast. Toys yes, but nothing to injure or harm was brought to me by "Santa." While music was in the air; the table overlaid with food, yet early Christmas Morning Service, and thanks to Almighty God were "Musts." This I repeat was my first stage; and although the religious significance of Christmas was not absent, nevertheless, I think NOW the Kriss-Kringle thought predominated.

The second stage through which my thought of Christmas passed, I have chosen to call the Christ-centered one. When I state this, it is not to say the thoughts of Santa Claus, Christmas Tree, Gifts, etc. were not there also. Yes, I am glad these were not eliminated. However, these can be allowed to hold the stage sometimes to the exclusion of the real meaning of Christmas. I still enjoy with great delight the Christmas season as we know it, with its great spruce trees, bright shining electric bulbs, gifts and the rest. Even right now I am privileged to look out of our front bedroom window at night and see the beautiful twinkling lights, which through kind hearts and hands have been strung on Commerce Street, from one side to the other. As I write this the radio pulls out of the air into our living room the sound of the great Wanamaker Organ, and the singing of carols by great crowds of people as they stand around the "Eagle" in Philadelphia. I am not, therefore, pleading for less of our traditional Christmas spirit or celebration, but that more of Christ be put into our Christmas holiday.

The central thoughts in this my second stage had to do with the baby Jesus. His birth in a stable; the lowliness of His advent; there being no room in the Inn; the shepherds and the wise men—these facts and others like them—occupied my mind in large measure during the Christmas season. Such scattered portions of Scripture as "The poor have the gospel preached to them"; "God speaks in a Son"; and "The Lord was made flesh and dwelt among us", were very much with me.

I have always enjoyed the dramatization of the Wise Men (The word Wise so aptly applied to those in any age who seek God, for indeed these are wise. "The reverence of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom"; "It was the fool, who said in his heart, there is no God".) who came with their intellectual treasures—GOLD; with their spirit of adoration—INCENSE; and with their reverent acceptance of pain, mental suffering and sacrifice, death to self—MYRRH.

And now we come to the third stage—the stage where I find myself NOW as to what Christmas means to me. My thought has shifted from Kriss through Christ to God. NOW God is the center of my Christmas thinking. Again I repeat that the traditional Christmas celebration is still with me; the historical facts of Christ's birth in Bethlehem, have not been erased, but the spiritual application has become more pronounced. The Nativity commemorates to me "God's humble entrance into human life, the emergence and birth of the holy."

I NOW think of Christmas mainly under the thought of one word—a word that has always scared me. I feared it when first tempted to use it, and now use it hesitatingly for fear that it might be said I am too theological. And yet it is one word which explains so much. This word which frightens me to use is: "INCARNATION." God became incarnated in human flesh. Think of it! The Eternal Birth taking place in me—taking place in you. To more accurately convey my thought I quote the words of a great mystic of another day:

"Human nature is like a stable inhabited by the ox of passion and the ass of prejudice; animals which take up a lot of room and which I suppose most of us are feeding on the quiet. And it is there between them pushing them out, that Christ must be born and in their very manger He must be laid. The birth of Christ in our souls is for a purpose beyond ourselves; it is because His manifestation in the world must be through us."

When this is fully realized we will be found singing not the Kingdom is coming, but the Kingdom has come—is here. Then, and then only, will His will be done on earth as it is now done in heaven. Then, too, we will become His healing agents to a world that is very sick. A healing that does not necessarily get rid of people's normal pain, disease, disability or distress; but a healing which restores one to the true normality, restores to full manhood and womanhood; a healing that mends the breaches in our perfect humanity, and makes us again what God intended us to be. Therefore, this is what Christmas means to me NOW; and I pray that it may be a reality in me and in you.

Letter to the Editor

I think Mayor Earl Sylvester should return for another term, and the citizens and taxpayers of the City of Harrington should support him one hundred per cent.

He went in under adverse circumstances. We found very little money in the treasury and a lot of old bills to pay.

Under his leadership in 1948 and '49 we paid about $7000 in old accounts and a $5000 note in the bank that was borrowed in 1945.

We found our disposal plant choked up solid and not working at all. We spent approximately $400 on our sewer pumping station, and $600 on our disposal plant, and now they are in first class condition.

Our water plant, streets and ditches are the best they have been in a number of years.

In 1949 Mayor Sylvester set up a budget system for all money to be spent and the first of every month we know what we have spent and what we have left to spend, and it has come out very close to his set up.

Under his management of the City Office taxes and water rent are the nearest collected to date as they have been for a number of years.

He has served as manager of the city office since May 1948 without pay. We do not have much money in the treasury, but we have all outstanding bills paid, and we have several projects started. I think he can finish better than a new man for Mayor.

Signed
A. Leonard Harrington
Sec. of City Council

N. L. R. B. THROWS OUT UNION CHARGES AGAINST LATEX COMPANY

The National Labor Relations Board at Baltimore, having found no merit and no justification in the complaint of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union against the International Latex Corp., today announced that it had instructed the Union to withdraw its complaint. The Union followed the instructions of the National Labor Relations Board and dropped its charges against the Latex Company.

It appears that the Union sought without success to start a campaign that would attract Latex workers. But soon found that none of the people there were interested in a union in view of the benefits the workers at Playtex Park already enjoy. Seemingly the union had an impossible task ahead of itself in view of the following benefits that each and every worker enjoys at Playtex Park: (1) life insurance protection completely paid for by the company. It is noteworthy that each employee free insurance was recently doubled by the company; (2) free hospitalization and surgical care are provided, all costs of which are borne by the company; (3) a profit sharing program which has been in effect since 1937 and which grants production workers and members of the management group equal shares of the company's earnings; (4) a paid vacation program which provides employees up to three weeks a year paid vacation; (5) every holiday given with full pay; (6) emergency time off with full pay for all employees; (7) premium wage payments for evening and night shifts; (8) a modern dispensary with registered nurses in attendance; (9) free vitamin rations daily to every employee; (10) completely air-conditioned plant and offices that are hospital-clean; (11) music provided throughout the plant during working hours; (12) company dances, boat rides, barbecues, picnics and social events all year round—in addition to which, the wage rate at the Latex plant is considerably higher than the rates of the community and the surrounding areas.

In view of all these benefits the Union's efforts were misspent, and it was particularly resented by the workers and the community at large that the Union bought newspaper space in its attempt to smear and blacken the Latex Company which had shown itself to be one of the most progressive concerns in America.

It is obvious that when the Union filed the charges that have now been thrown out by the National Labor Relations Board, the Union had done so in a spirit of utter frustration. Manifestly the charges were baseless and hollow.

The International Latex Corp. just made its 12th annual profit-sharing distribution, the largest in its history. Every worker in the factory and office received a profit sharing bonus payment at a colorful ceremony held in the north building at Playtex Park.

The company's program for 1950 includes the expansion of its sales force and advertising program in order to insure full employment to every man and woman at Playtex Park, the whole year through.

Chosen Friends Lodge No. 35

I. O. O. F.

Chosen Friends Lodge won their first dart-ball game of the season against Dover, at Dover, and lost to Laurel Thursday evening, at home.

Winnig from Georgetown, Dec. 18, at Georgetown, makes us one game ahead. The next home game will be played with Rehoboth in the lodge hall, Dec. 29th. Come out you lodge members and root for your side to win. You're missing a lot of fun if you stay at home.

Captain Paul Porter is pleased with the playing of his team mates and hopes to win the championship of the league and win the trophy that will be presented to the winning team.

Refreshments are always served and the games are usually over by 11 o' clock.

Mrs. Bessie Martin, Mr. Lawrence Boone and daughter, of Frederica, and Mr. Joseph Martin, Milford, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin and daughter, of Viola.

The Viola Methodist Church was very happy to have a large congregation at the Christmas entertainment Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Rictor and son, of Philadelphia, spent the weekend with relatives in Canterbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Darling of Viola, were dinner guests of Mrs. Darling's father, Mr. Earl Remus, and brother, Fred, of Wyoming, on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Oakland Remus and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Remus and children, of Wyoming, were also dinner guests.

Buys Most U. S. Rice

United States exports of rice to Cuba during the period August, 1948 through April, 1949, the first nine months of the crop year, amounted to 435 million pounds, milled rice equivalent, or 59 per cent of total rice exports from this country, according to the United States department of agriculture.

Icebergs

Up in the heart of the Arctic Ocean icebergs are never seen. The reason for this is that there are few Arctic lands with glaciers large and active enough to produce giant bergs. Most bergs are "born" along the western coast of Greenland and are found in nearby waters.

Increase Profits In Laying Flocks

While winter is not the natural time for chickens to lay eggs, proper management of the flock during this season will assure more eggs and more profit. W. E. Tarbell, county agent, offers five suggestions for stimulating egg production.

1. Use electric lights to stretch the feeding day to 12-14 hours. A time clock is usually set to turn on the lights about 3 or 4 a. m. and turn them off at sunrise. A 40-watt bulb is needed for each 200 ft. of floor space.

2. Feed by the clock. Have a regular feeding and management schedule and follow it exactly.

3. Keep mash in hoppers in front of birds at all times—two 8-ft. hoppers or three 5-ft. hoppers per 100 birds. Fill them only one-half full.

4. Increase grain feeding in winter. Feed 14 to 16 lbs. grain per 100 Leghorns daily and 16 to 18 lbs. grain for heavy breeds, depending upon production. Feed enough grain an hour before sunset so that it will be cleaned up by 8 o'clock the next morning. Watch body weight of hens and feed grain accordingly. Meat-type hens kept for hatching egg production need less grain than birds bred for egg production only.

5. Use supplements where necessary to increase feed intake. Grit and shell are essential for supplying calcium and digesting food.

May your Christmas be merry and its joy and happiness spread throughout the glad New Year!

Christmas Love and Faith

by Evan B. Johnson

May love and faith this Christmas Day.
Come to us as we kneel to pray;
Love for mankind's our greatest need;
Regardless of another's greed,
He is our brother; no false pride
Sustained our Savior when He died;
Twas love and faith that held Him true;
We need such faith to see Him through;
Love for our brothers e'er shall be
The test of Christianity.

B. & P. W. News

The Harrington Business and Professional Women's Club celebrated its first Christmas party Monday evening, with a turkey dinner at the Wonder Bar.

Mrs. Blanche Cahall, president, presided, and welcomed over 30 members.

J. Herbert Nichols, Milford, sang three selections, accompanied by Melvin Brobst. Mrs. Eileen Black, club member, gave an amusing monologue. Christmas games were played, and gifts exchanged.

Mrs. Eileen Black won the door prize.

The club will meet again Jan. 16, 1950.

New Century Club

"Christmas Music" was the subject of the program for the Harrington New Century Club at its meeting on Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. H. Clyde Miller with her committee consisting of Mrs. Melvin Brobst, Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mrs. R. H. Quillen, Mrs. J. H. Waller, Mrs. Ella Little and Mrs. J. W. Sheldrake presented the program.

Mrs. Miller read the old legend "Why The Chimes Rang," and Melvin L. Brobst brought a group of students from the high school. A quartette from the band played a medley of Christmas carols, and another medley of Christmas carols was played by a string quartette. Other carols were sung by the group.

Mrs. L. H. Rogers, president, presided at the business session. A report of the Christmas gifts for five children at Delaware Colony was made by Mrs. O. T. Roberts who visited the Colony last Saturday to present the gifts. The next meeting of the group

GRAND FINALS TALENT SERIES AT NEW MILFORD WEDNESDAY

That popular "Stars In The Making" talent show series which has been presented on the stage of the New Milford Theatre every Wednesday for the past twelve weeks will conclude next Wednesday evening with the grand finals. Sponsored by the 81 Clover Farm Stores in the area, "Stars In The Making" has given a large number of talented young people an opportunity to appear on the stage and perhaps start some of them on the road to success. The winners of the semi-finals contests will compete against one another in the grand finals for $150 in cash prizes. Phoebe Houston and James Hazzard of Milford, Janet Lee Sherwood of Felton, and Janet Spence, student at Wesley Junior College, Dover, will compete in the grand finals along with the two winners of this week's semi-finals contest.

The regular Friday and Saturday vaudeville policy at the New Milford has been cancelled for this week only and will be resumed on Dec. 30-31 when to celebrate the holiday season the management has booked a five-act stage revue comparable to the best yet presented. The vaudeville variety bill will also be offered at all New Year Eve's performances including a midnite show, for which tickets are now on sale at the box office.

A Christmas Thought

Each year we witness the recurring miracle of a world temporarily transformed by the spirit of Christmas. At the approach of this holiday season people think less about their individual differences, and more about their common interests and welfare.

Why must this transformation be temporary? The greatest need of the world today is the growth of an all-year Christmas spirit of good-will and co-operation. It is in this spirit that the officers, directors and employees of this bank wish you a Merry Christmas.

NOW! FASTER CHICK GROWTH ON LESS FEED

BEACON COMPLETE STARTING RATION

It's improved again! Has more protein... less fibre

Beacon Complete Starting Ration now has a guaranteed 25% protein content as in the formula we started using in 1941, but discontinued because of Government wartime restrictions. It also has less fibre, and other improvements.

This improved formula — the result of Beacon Research — will promote faster growth and cost less in feed consumption.

Feed Beacon Starter for first 8 weeks. It supplies all known nutritional requirements. Add a little grit and plenty of water for 7th and 8th week, add grain.

A Merry Christmas

To Our Patrons And Friends

Riches and expensive gifts do not alone make a Christmas merry. The simple, familiar wishes of neighbors and friends are just as important for a full enjoyment of the holiday. Mindful of this we are anxious to voice our homey, old-fashioned greeting: "To all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Emanuel's . . . DOVER

Greetings

Again we greet you
Wherever you may be,
This glorious Christmas time
For you and for me.
I often wonder if we Appreciate the things we have
And help to share
With ones whose cupboards are more bare.
To make a Christmas
That long will be remembered,
Loosen up your spending
For the less unfortunate
And your year will be a happy ending.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL GREAT BIG OR SMALL
Lillian, Eleanor, Bill and Henry

WHEELER'S RADIO STORE, HARRINGTON

To The Correspondents

In designating the time of an event, use a. m. and p. m. without o'clock or such words as morning, afternoon, evening, and night. Thus: "The invasion began at 2:30 a. m. today."

Avoid stilted or affected language in mentioning death. Remember that the simplest words are the most solemn ones. Do not use "the deceased" in referring to a dead person, or "remains" for "body", or "casket" for "coffin", or "interred" for "buried", or "obsequies" for "burial".

Write that a person died "of" typhoid fever, not "from" typhoid fever. Do not write "the" typhoid fever or "typhoid" without the word "fever."

Do not write that a person died "as the result of an operation." Usually in such a case death is the result of conditions that existed before the operation.

Avoid such expressions as "had his leg broken" and "had his pocket picked." Same persons do not "have" these things done to themselves.

Do not call a Chinese a "Chinaman" in headline or text.

Use "Negro" or "Negro woman", not "colored man" or "Negress."

In giving lists of officers, put the name of the office before the name of the person, thus: "President, John Smith; vice-president, Horace Jones; secretary, J. B. Brown; directors, W. H. West, J. T. North, A. A. Andrews, and S. S. Sampson. If the name of the person were placed first, the reader would have to read all the last four names before learning what office any of them held.

Avoid split infinitives such as "Is expected to emphatically denounce the measure." Say instead: "Is expected to denounce the measure emphatically." Don't rob an adverb of its force by sandwiching it between parts of a verb. Say "It has been voted already" rather than "It has already been voted."

Do not write "The men quarreled 'due' to a misunderstanding," but "The men quarreled 'because' of a misunderstanding," or "Their quarrel was 'due' to a misunderstanding.

Do not use "like" as a conjunction. Write "He looks 'like' his brother," but "He sings 'as' he used to." It is correct to write "It seems 'as if'—"; it is wrong to write "It seems 'like'—."

Do not use "liable" when you mean "likely." Every lawbreaker is "liable" to arrest, but it depends upon circumstances whether he is "likely" to be arrested. "Liable" signifies responsibility; "likely" signifies mere probability. You are "liable" to be prosecuted if you drive an automobile too fast, and it is "likely" that you will have some difficulty in obeying all the traffic laws.

Never use "loan" as a verb. "A loan" is made when someone lends something.

Do not use a plural verb or pronoun with a collective noun unless there is a real reason for considering the noun as a plural. Do not write for example, "The executive committee 'are' preparing an order," or "The club 'is' ready to start 'their' membership campaign," or "The store will hold 'their' annual bargain sale."

In the second example, "is" and "their" do not even agree with each other in number. In the third, "store" is not a plural noun, but is confused with the proprietors through loose thinking.

Free copies of the circular are available from county extension offices in Newark, Dover and Georgetown, and also from the Agricultural Extension Service, Newark.

Cut Down Disease Loss, Increase Animal Profits

As a protection against falling livestock prices, farmers can take a few simple steps now on their own farms, that will help protect their profits for 1950, says the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

According to the American Foundation for Animal Health, the multi-million dollar toll extracted by animal diseases and parasites far exceeds what farmers are likely to lose due to market declines.

Pointing out a few examples, the Foundation said:

"Recent estimates indicate that poultry diseases alone cost the nation's farmers and poultrymen about $100,000,000 a year.

"Brucellosis in cattle is responsible for losses of another $100,000,000 annually, while the cost of brucellosis in swine and goats accounts for many millions more.

"The annual loss from grubs and shipping bruises alone has been set at $150,000,000 by livestock health authorities.

"With stakes running this high, it is more apparent now than ever before that farmers are taking far greater losses from diseases and parasites than they are likely to take from market declines."

To cut down disease losses in the coming year the Foundation stressed: 1—better farm sanitation; 2—early examination of ailing animals by a veterinarian; 3—proper vaccination of susceptible animals when vaccination is required; 4—more prompt reporting of disease outbreaks; 5—increased "disease awareness" by livestock owners.

Delaware Safety Council

More deaths from home accidents occur during the months of December and January than during any other two months of the year, according to the Delaware Safety Council. Holiday activities are responsible for some of this increase. The Safety Council reports that, although electric lights have largely supplanted candles for lighting trees, there are still many tragic fires due to Christmas trees.

A fresh-cut tree will not take fire easily, but after a few days particularly if it is kept in a warm, dry house, it becomes highly combustible. A spark from a cigarette or a faulty light can touch off a dry tree which flashes into flame in a matter of seconds. Untreated cotton at the base of a tree is equally hazardous.

Several simple and inexpensive precautions will help reduce the extreme fire hazard of Christmas trees.

1. As soon as possible, cut off the base of the tree diagonally and cover the base with water.

2. Keep the tree indoors as short a time as possible, with the base always under water.

3. It is not practicable for the average user to flameproof Christmas trees with chemical solutions.

4. Place the tree away from fireplaces, powerful electric lights, radiators or other sources of heat, and avoid the use of candles.

5. Use lights and wiring bearing the label of Underwriter's Laboratories, Inc. Check wiring for defects and loose sockets.

6. Turn off the lights, when not in use, and when you leave the house.

Fire prevention is your best guarantee for a safer and happier holiday season, but be ready for any emergency. In case of fire, call the fire department immediately.

Eleanor Day's Famous Hollywood Bread

CHRISTMAS DRESSING RECIPE

★ Yuletide . . . Christmas . . . the glorious season of rejoicing . . . of reunions . . . of specially prepared dinners. Hollywood Bread lends distinctive grace to these memorable occasions. Poultry stuffings made with Hollywood Bread are truly superb. Try Eleanor Day's famous Christmas Dressing recipe.

Melt in a frying pan, two or three tablespoons of fat; add one tablespoon chopped onion, and saute until tender. Add one cup Hollywood Bread crumbs, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon each of sage, chopped celery, and parsley . . . and mix well. Add one egg, slightly beaten, and mix well. Then add one to two tablespoons of stock made off of the giblets. Chopped walnuts, chestnuts or mushrooms may also be added. This makes a loose, savory, light poultry stuffing. Hollywood Bread is baked without shortening. Buy a loaf, today!

TRINITY METHODIST

At 10 a. m. the Church School will begin its session with Mrs. F. A. Morris, supt. in charge.

At 11 a. m. the pastor will conduct the regular Morning Worship service bringing a Christmas message. The choir will offer Christmas music.

A Christmas Carol service will be held in the evening service at 7:30 p. m.

The Beginners, Primary, Junior and Intermediate Classes of the Sunday School will present a Christmas program and treat at the church tonight at 7:30.

At the Milford Neck Church at Thompsonville, Mr. Harvey Thompson will conduct the Sunday school session beginning at 2 p. m. and the pastor, Rev. John R. Diehl will bring a Christmas message.

"The First Christmas" was presented in Trinity Church Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, school principal and teacher, directed the pageant. Katherine Flanagan was narrator of the evening and she performed most capably in setting the stage for the performance of the other talented children. The youth choir members were dressed in white capes, and they carried lighted candles as they entered the church singing. Those taking part in the solo and group singing were: Wanda Morris, Doris Rash, Naomi Jester, Irene Davidson, Joy Ross, Jimmie Faulkner, George Gooden, Franklin Wyatt, and Dickie Gordon.

Mrs. Edward Holleger had the misfortune to fall last week and fracture her left arm.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. James Goslee, Georgetown, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rawlins.

Twenty relatives and friends attended the family dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. James M. Bounds on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Melvin Sr., town, have reason to be proud of the fine records being achieved by their son, Oliver G. Melvin, of Del City, Oklahoma. While in the Army Air Corps Mr. Melvin became attached to Oklahoma City and the state of Oklahoma. Upon his completion of duty he was employed there, married and soon became an official in a business firm. Throughout this time he was registered at a business college, and he has received his diploma in higher accountancy and business administration from Blackwood-Davis Business College, as evidencing two full years of college courses.

Immediately upon graduating Mr. Melvin opened an office as a public accountant. It is his plan to qualify for the CPA examinations, after he gains experience in practicing accountancy and subscribes to CPA coaching.

Santa Claus came to Frederica Monday evening. The children of the community were given candy, oranges, apples and toys, when the gala group gathered on the bank lawn.

In extending Christmas greetings to the community, Rev. John R. Diehl invited everyone to come within the portals of Trinity Methodist Church, and to share in the blessings of worship, instruction and spiritual inspiration. His was a uniting prayer that the hand of welcome and Christian fellowship awaits all people.

Mr. Watson H. Dodd and Miss Sylvia B. Dodd, of Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore, are spending the Christmas weekend with their grandmother, Mrs. I. W. Betts, Sr.

Carl Owens, Philadelphia, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Owens.

Ex-senator Burton Hendricks and Mrs. Hendricks, of Miami, Fla., are here until after Christmas.

Miss Ruth Ann Stevenson, of the University of Delaware, is spending a two weeks' Christmas holiday with her parents, County Prothonotary W. Marion Stevenson and Mrs. Stevenson.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. William W. Wilson due to the death of her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Heitmueller, of near Milford. Mrs. Heitmueller lived in Washington, D. C. for some years before returning to her home state with her husband. During this time she visited in town frequently, and because of her gracious charm she readily made friends, who will greatly miss her fine personality.

Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Johnson are the parents of a son born on Monday.

Mrs. Anna Dendler will spend the holiday in Buffalo, N. Y.

Thomas Lohan left for Miami, Fla., on Tuesday of this week. He will spend the winter there.

Mrs. Jane Cook, Donald Cook and Mrs. Annie Cole, of Wilmington, were in town Monday.

Harry James Flanagan, USN, Green Cove Springs, Fla., is on a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Flanagan.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rawlins were Mr. and Mrs. John Naham and sons, of Washington, D. C.

Tonight a Christmas program and treat will be presented by the departments of the Sunday school.

Mrs. Lester L. Carlisle, Sr. left Tuesday for Wakefield, Mass., where she will spend several weeks with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Carlisle Jr.

Mrs. I. W. Betts, who has been ill with a cold for three weeks, is better.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Disabled veterans of World War II, who may be disqualified for life insurance because of those disabilities, have but two weeks left in which to take advantage of a special provision of the National Service Life Insurance laws enacted for their benefit, Veterans Administration warned today.

Affected are veterans with disabilities incurred in service between October 8, 1940, and Sept. 2, 1945, who have less than the $10,000 maximum of NSLI, and whose disabilities are less than total in degree.

Such disabilities may be disregarded in determining eligibility under the health requirements for NSLI if application is made before January 1, 1950.

Until that date, these disabled veterans may apply for new or additional insurance, or reinstate lapsed policies, up to $10,000 worth of total coverage, and receive the benefit of this special provision.

After that date, all impairments to health, including those which may be due to service, must be considered in determining insurability.

Application may be made at any V-A office. A physical examination, which will be made by V-A without cost to the veteran, is required.

Felton School News

Felton Schools will recess Friday for the Christmas holidays and will not reopen until Tues., Jan. 3. This will make it possible for parents and teachers to spend New Year's Day with friends and relations living at a distance. Also, it will eliminate the holiday travel.

The see-saws for the school playground have been completed and are ready for use at the present time.

A turkey dinner was served yesterday as was done prior to the Thanksgiving holiday. Approximately 300 students and teachers were served.

In the school auditorium, the Christmas program by the high school was presented to the public last night. The theme, the Christmas story from the Bible, was given as a pageant including dialogue, instrumental and vocal selections.

The characters in the pageant were:

Mary, Mildred Simpson; Joseph, Billy Chambers; Angels, Marie Brittingham, Elsie Schrieber; Shepherds, Kenneth Richter, Harry Carlisle, Tommy Bernard; Traveler, Louis Palmatory; Wise Men, Lewis Harrington, Bobby Harrington, Bobby Voshell; Christmas Angels—Betty Stanton, Ellen Betts, Eloise Anthony, Doris Ann Cahall, Lenora Hughes, Elsie Schreiber, Claire Jester, Anna Merchant, Phyllis Hrupsa, Dot Tribbett, Carolyn Hurd, Nancy Wagner, Clara Lou Green, Marie Springer, and Barbara Melvin.

Recitation—Eloise Anthony, soloists—Reita Reid, C. Stewart Bennett; sound effects, Betty Butler; Stage, Samuel Walters; student director, Kathleen Jester; faculty director, Mr. Vernon Meier; ushers, Barbara Hurd and Margaret Hobbs.

Preceding the pageant was a short recital by the High School Club under the direction of Miss Grace Dearstye.

The program included the following numbers: Girls Choir, "Deck the Halls"; Old Welsh Air. Trumpet quartet, Rosalie Hughes, William Mack, Delema Ross and Walter Moore. "Alleluia" Paestrina. "O Little Town of Bethlehem" Redner. Mixed chorus, "Westminster Carol" Old English Carol. "Bring a torch Jeannette, Isabelle" Old French Carol. "Christmas Hymn" (17th Century) air by Hugo Jungst.

Who Has Seen
Jake, The Goose?
Who has seen Jake, the Goose? What with Christmas coming on, his owners have grave apprehension over the fate of the stable-mate of Anna Day of the Smith Stables at the fairgrounds. So far, state and town police have been unable to trace the whereabouts of Jake or may be AWOL or . . . Daily inquiries from friends of the harness racing fraternity are pouring in. The general opinion is that Jake's goose is cooked.

Incidentally, a farmer reported this week that his gobbler, "Christmas", had gone a 'sparkin' and that he had to get another. He also had another gobbler whose name was "Thanksgiving." "What's in a name?" writes Shakespeare in "Romeo and Juliet." In the case of "Thanksgiving" it made all the difference in the world.

Mildew-resistant Paint
In order to prevent the growth of mildew on paint, fungicides are often added. Since the need is not universal, the fungicides are usually packaged separately for addition to paints where needed.

Greenwood P.-T. A.
Hears Cantata
The Greenwood P.-T. A. held its regular meeting Dec. 19. The high school chorus and Elementary Glee Club presented an effective and very well done Christmas cantata entitled "The Gift" under the direction of Miss Dorothy Short, director of music in the Greenwood School. The monthly attendance contest was won by Mrs. Taylor's fifth grade, which will receive the award of $1.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 16, when a panel discussion on the subject "The Responsibility of Education in a Divided World" will be presented.
