The Harrington boys were in line last year and did a good job but the Norfolk boys did a better job and beat us out by a few points in the Superintendent's district safety contest.

We are going to surrender the loving cup which we won from the Clayton district last year, but we are also going to notify the Norfolk boys that we are only young and we intend to do a lot of plugging to bring it back.

A lot of the credit for the good showing at Norfolk goes to the efforts of conductor George Harrison whose wide awake suggestions and co-operation were very helpful in making Little Creek a better and safer place to work.

We are glad to hear that Ted Angus is improving, but sorry to hear that Norman Smith and Ernest Dean are in the Milford Hospital.

Deany underwent an operation last Tuesday for gallstones, while Norman is laid up for a rest.

Farm Equipment Club Hears Consultant

"Danny" Danchik, a management consultant for farm implement dealerships, of Chicago, told members of The Central Eastern-Shore Equipment Club at a meeting at The Bridge Bit Monday night that they should have talks by experts from the big implement companies as a means of increasing interest at the meetings.

Danchik added that another means of enlivening the meetings would be to have the dealers tell of some phase of business and operations they had found profitable. "Ninety-nine out of a hundred dealers has some factor in which he excels," explained the Chicagoan.

Clarence W. Phillips, newly elected president of the organization, of Preston, presided. Phillips opened the dinner meeting by discussing points brought up at a directors' meeting Wednesday of last week. At his suggestion, the membership decided to rotate the meeting places of the organization to equalize driving distances and thus increase attendance. The next meeting will be held at Preston the second Monday in February.

A proposal to have the meetings every other month was vetoed. One member said that bi-monthly meetings might cause interest to lag.

C. H. Burgess, of The Journal, attended the meeting in conformity with a recent proposal to invite members of the local press to the meetings.

President Phillips named Ken Baker as chairman of the program committee; Leonard Taylor, chairman of the membership committee, and W. W. McGinnis, chairman of the publicity committee.

Legionnaires Defeat Smyrna, Lose to Lewes

by Tom Peck

The Harrington Legionnaires pulled an upset over a highly favored Smyrna five on the Smyrna court Monday night. The local boys surged ahead to a 20-6 score at the end of the first period and were in command all the way. It was the best performance by the Legionnaires to date, both offensively and defensively. The Hornets threatened to overtake Harrington in the third quarter but sharp shooting by Downes and Roberts paved the way for the locals.

Clay Downes, Bob Roberts, and Jack Dill all scored heavily for the winners, while Allen O'Neal led Smyrna with 15 points.

Last week Harrington lost to Lewes, 56-46, at Lewes.

Charles Peck Jr. Elected Mayor; Taylor and Quillen, Councilmen

All Are Unopposed; New Mayor Is Prominent in Business and Civic Affairs

Harry A. Pusey Appointed Police Chief

New City Council Names O'Neal Alderman; H. M. Deputy, City Manager, Clerk

The Harrington police department was shaken up Wednesday evening after a reorganization meeting of the City Council.

After Charles Peck Jr. had been sworn in as Mayor, as Edward Taylor and Harry D. Quillen Jr. had been sworn in as councilmen, the Council appointed Harry A. Pusey, of Georgetown, chief of police in place of Frank Morgan who had been in the department six years, more or less. Pusey is a retired state policeman with 22-years' service. Walter Voss remains as patrolman. The appointments were for 60 days. Charles Price Jr., was appointed extra patrolman for a similar period, but resigned.

H. M. Deputy was appointed city manager and city clerk, while Frank O'Neal was named alderman, replacing Elmer Thomas. Wilbur Pearson was reappointed janitor at City Hall, with John A. Rifeban as water plant custodian. Also reappointed are: City solicitor, Howard E. Lynch Jr.; City Board of Health, Dr. Robert Smith, Dr. W. T. Chipman, and Dr. Hewitt Smith, Randall Knox Sr. was named treasurer, with A. Leonard Harrington secretary of the Council and superintendent of streets.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Distributive Education

W. H. Fisher, of the Laurel schools, was the speaker at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Harrington Rotary Club. His subject was "Distributive Education."

"I am not making a salesmanship talk," said the speaker, "but you should take advantage of this opportunity, because you are helping pay for it. It is sponsored by the government and each state may participate when it meets with certain requirements. To date, only three schools in the state are participating."

Distributive education teaches the pupil something besides factual education; it teaches him something practical, gives him a start over the usual high school graduate when it comes to the realities of making a living.

A student works in a store, under the supervision of the manager of the store, a certain number of hours each week, according to the speaker. It may be a grocery, a feed store, a cleaning and pressing establishment, a garage, a gas station, etc. For this service, he receives a beginner's minimum pay.

Some employers do not wish to hire men with a certain degree of experience, because the employee believes he knows a great deal more than the employer. One employer in Laurel hired two young fellows. Both of them claimed to know the business inside and out, while the employer admitted that he had been in this particular line of business seventeen years and knew but very little about it. When the employer asked one of the young men to wash windows, he was indignant.

"I did not come down here to wash windows," he said, and went home. His father is supporting him.

"The federal government will send you bulletins on distributive education," continued Mr. Fisher. "It has bulletins on every conceivable subject. One young man even sent in a request for the government to help him out in a romance. It seems that some fellow was trying to win his girl and the writer wanted information about growing a certain flower to which his rival was allergic."

"The government complied with his request, and the young fellow informed Washington that his plan worked. The girl wore the flowers he raised. They gave his rival a bad case of hives and he stayed away from the girl."

Harold MacDonald was program chairman of the evening.

Charles Peck Jr., was elected Mayor without opposition at the annual city election Tuesday. Harry D. Quillen Jr., was unopposed for councilman from the First Ward, with Edward Taylor also unopposed as councilman from the Third Ward.

The Mayor was elected for a two-year term, with the councilmen to serve three-year terms.

The foregoing candidates were named at a small citizens' meeting Friday night at the Fire House. The Mayor was nominated from the floor, "at the sound of the bell," with the councilmen named from petitions presented.

The reorganization meeting of the Council was held Wednesday night.

The new mayor, with Thomas Peck, conducts Peck Brothers Farm Supply. Mayor Peck, long active in civic affairs, is treasurer and assistant-secretary of the Lions Club; is a member of the American Legion; secretary of The Harrington Better Business Association; a vice-president of the Harrington Fire Company, and a member of the Official Board of Asbury Methodist Church.

He graduated from Harrington High School and attended Beacom's Business College before spending 57 months in the Army, winding up as a member of the 79th Division with which he participated in three campaigns in France and Italy. He holds the Purple Heart medal.

Mayor and Mrs. Peck reside on Short Street.

First Ward Councilman

Harry D. Quillen Jr., the new councilman from the First Ward, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. "Harry" Quillen. He was born at Ocean View and moved here as a boy. He graduated from Harrington High School in 1938 and attended the University of Delaware and the Peirce School of Business Administration in Philadelphia.

Councilman Quillen served four years in the Air Corps in World War II, seeing service as a crew member of a B-24 with the Eighth Air Force in England. He is a Mason, a member of Asbury Methodist Church, a director of Harrington Building & Loan Association, and is 1st vice-president of the Active Young Republicans of Kent County.

He is associated with his father in Quillen Brothers Inc., dealing in lumber and piling.

J. Edward Taylor, councilman from the Third Ward, replaces Ernest Homewood. Councilman Taylor, conductor of Taylor Hardware Store, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Taylor. He has long been prominent in civic and agricultural circles.

He attended Harrington High School and graduated from Goldie Business College. To The Correspondents

Write, "entertained AT," and not "entertained TO." This mistake appears many times in The Journal: If we tried to make a perfect newspaper we would not have time for anything else. Also write, "The Misses Dora and Mary Fink," and not "Miss Dora Fink and Miss Mary Fink."

In giving names of the following sorts in full, capitalize the general term as well as the distinguishing words. When using only general terms, make it lower-case even when reference is plainly specific. Examples:

An exception of the preceding rule is found where the general term is used in other than its ordinary sense, and where a capital is necessary to show the specialized meaning of the term. Examples:

Hawaiian Islands—visited the Islands (when used as a nickname instead of the full name); Boy Scouts—the Scouts; Wall Street—the Street thinks (Street personified to represent the men of the financial district); American Legion—the Legion; or the Legionnaires.

Dates Announced For Feeding and Management School

The annual Dairy Feeding and Management School for Sussex County dairymen will be in the Coolspring Community Hall February 13th and 14th, according to an announcement just made by Wm. H. Henderson, county agent.

The two-day program will afford dairymen of the county an opportunity to hear the latest developments in feeding and managing the dairy herd.

Delmar J. Young, Claude Phillips and Wm. A. Calvert, all from the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Staff, will be among the speakers. A number of dairymen will also speak.

Removal of Accident Hazards Stressed As Safety Measure

Start the New Year right—Start it safely.

The removal of accident hazards around the farm and in the home is being stressed as a safety measure for 1950 by the Sussex County Extension Service. A recent survey showed that 252 farm and home accidents occurred in the county over a twelve-month period. They resulted in doctor's bills amounting to $6,521 and a loss of time from work and school of 332 weeks.

Indifference to the many farm and home accidents that occur annually is a problem that merits the attention and help of everyone if this tremendous loss in time and money is to be reduced and the pain and sorrow resulting from these accidents is to be avoided.

On every farm and in every home there are many hazards that often can be the cause of painful and expensive accidents. Examples of such hazards are (1) improper storing of tools, such as axes, rakes and forks, (2) allowing broken bottles or other broken glass to lay around buildings, (3) broken rungs in ladders, (4) poorly lighted stairways and (5) use of scatter rugs on highly polished floors.

A two-part program is being recommended by the Extension Service, as follows: (1) a careful study of the possible causes of accidents and (2) a systematic removal of these hazards as they are found.

Program Announced For Dairy Breeders' Meeting

Reports of the past year program, election of officers, and a talk on artificial breeding of dairy cattle will be featured at the business session following the dinner meeting of the Sussex Unit of the Delaware Artificial Breeders' Cooperative at the Jones Memorial Hall, Georgetown, Thursday, Jan. 19th, at 7:00 p. m.

Raymond M. Lank, Milton, association president, will review the year's work of the Sussex Unit and outline plans for 1950. Harry H. Schmierer, Jr., technician for the county unit, will present the inseminator's report. Joseph Taylor, extension dairyman from Pennsylvania State College, who has been supervising the artificial breeding program for that state will stress the uses of superior sires as a means of improving the dairy herds of the county.

Movie of the calf show which was sponsored by the association last October will be shown.

Present officers of the association in addition to President Lank, are Raymond E. Gordy, Seaford, vice-president, and W. H. White, Lewes, secretary-treasurer. Officers for 1950 will be elected during the business session.

All Sussex County dairymen are invited and urged to attend the business session.

Rest Period For Poinsettia

Homemakers are advised to save their lovely Christmas Poinsettia plants even though they may be dropping their red leaves, says Maybelle Ligon, Sussex county home demonstration agent. When the red leaves fall, the housewife may decide that the plant is drying and discard it. The dropping of the leaves after the blooming period indicates that the plant is going into its normal rest period which should last until about the first of May. With a little care, the plant may be kept in good condition for blooming for Christmas of 1950.

After the leaves fall, put the plant in a cool place where the temperature is approximately 40 to 60 degrees F., and water sparingly. About the first of May, the plant may be cut back to remove excess old wood and make it more shapely. Shake off the old soil and re-pot in a mixture of about three parts garden loam, one part well-rotted manure and one part leaf-mold. Use a pot just large enough to hold the mass of roots without crowding, and provide good drainage. Water enough to keep the soil from drying out.

When maple trees are in full leaf, set the plant outdoors—in full sunshine in northern areas or in light shade in hot climates. Leave the plant outdoors until fall when nights become cool. Bring the plant indoors to a window where there is good light and air, and with a temperature of about 60 to 65 degrees F., and no draft. The plant should be watered regularly so that the soil never dries out. An application of liquid manure or plant food every week is beneficial. Care should be taken to keep the plant dark at night because artificial light may cause unsatisfactory flowering.

Poinsettias cannot stand frost, states Miss Ligon. They may also drop their leaves from drafts or too much warmth.

Lack of housing is retarding the growth and progress of Harrington. A residence is not vacant long here. There are, however, quite a few houses in the rural areas that could be made livable with a few alterations.

HELP THE BUREAU OF MARKETS

For the first time "in many moons," the weekly report on prices of poultry, livestock, and farm produce at Dover did not appear in The Journal the past two weeks. We are glad to see it back with us.

It was explained that the lack of reports was because of the shortage of funds. Market information is vital and should be gathered at all costs. An Indiana survey revealed that farmers were more interested in market information than in any other type of agricultural intelligence.

CRABBING OF AN AMATEUR CRITIC

We have not seen many television programs, but here is our evaluation of the ones we have seen:

The perfect master of ceremonies, friendly, decent, poised, clever, courteous—Ed Sullivan.

Adaptability—capable of meeting the conditions as they arise and never at a loss for the proper retort courteous—Kay Kyser and Ted Mack.

Versatile and ready. Hardest working of all masters of ceremony—the only trouble is that he flirts with himself—Bert Parks.

Most smart-alecky—most vulgar person we've ever heard on radio or television. We've never been in a honky tonk, but from what we've heard of them, Godfrey would be a superb master of ceremonies in such a place.

And turning to journalism—most improved weekly paper in America—The Harrington Journal. This is not a boast—it had more room for improvement. Holding its own—for it's published dirty jokes for years and keeps on publishing them—the so-called Readers Digest. We use the term so-called because many discriminating people believe it should be named the Readers Digest. Magazine degenerating the most within the year—Saturday Evening Post—which has become, in the main, a mere political organ, with off-color jokes and murder stories. No decent after-dinner speaker would dare tell some of the jokes this magazine prints. Ben Franklin was its first editor and Ben Hibbs its present editor—and there is that much difference between the original Post and the one of today.

Letter to the Editor

To the people of Harrington:

I hear by the talk around Harrington that we are about to have an appointed Mayor.

Did the people of the town of Harrington notice how we are about to have this Mayor?

This is not an election to suit our town: it is a political election to suit the party.

I understand the charter of the town reads that to hold a place in the Town Council you must be a resident of the town. Mr. Charles Peck Jr. was nominated to serve us as our Mayor. Mr. Charles Peck Jr. knew when he accepted the nomination that he could not serve our town as Mayor. Mr. Peck Jr. accepted the appointment to satisfy the so-called party.

Mr. Richard Bullock was called on by the party while the party stood back in the dark to nominate Mr. Charles Peck Jr. for Mayor. "Dick," as I always call Richard, I think is a good friend of mine. I never heard him say before that he wanted to enter the Political game. It looks as if Dick did this to satisfy the party.

Mr. Charles Peck Jr. is building himself a fine new home on the outside of our town limits and when his new home is finished according to our town charter his Mayorship will end and then we will have an appointed Mayor to serve Mr. Charles Peck Jr.'s unexpired term. What we want is a Mayor elected at this time not a Mayor appointed.

We do not need a Mayor appointed for the party: we need a Mayor elected for our town and our people.

I think Mr. Charles Peck Jr. is a fine man and if elected and could serve the full term he would serve the town of Harrington to his best ability.

But at this time I think Mr. Charles Peck Jr. should withdraw his nomination as Mayor knowing he can not serve our town the full term.

What the town of Harrington needs at this time is a special meeting called to nominate a full time Mayor for the interest of the town and not the interest of the party.

DELAWARE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

How are you feeling these days? Did your Christmas celebration seem to slow you down more than they have in former years? Is that cold persisting more than usual?

The State Board of Health suggests that you review your health record for 1949, and start the New Year right by getting a complete physical examination.

Regular physical check-ups serve several important functions: they give peace of mind when the report shows a clean bill of health; and they allow your doctor the opportunity to find and treat the beginnings of serious trouble that can greatly shorten your life or cause you tremendous economic loss that results from prolonged invalidism.

Cancer, tuberculosis, heart disease, and many other diseases usually begin with mild symptoms that cause the individual no alarm, but the physician is the only one qualified to evaluate them. He can almost always prevent much of the damage caused by undiscovered disease.

Don't just drop in on your doctor for a check-up! Make an appointment at his convenience when he can give you the necessary time. Prepare to tell him all your problems and answer his questions honestly. Above all, if he makes any recommendations, accept his word and obey his instructions—it will cost you less and insure your health.

STATE'S TAKE NEAR $100,000 FROM HARNESS RACING TRACKS

The state's income from harness racing during the past year was almost $100,000.

The fall harness racing meet at the Kent & Sussex County Fair, Harrington, netted the state $49,673.55, according to a statement of the Delaware Harness Racing Commission for the period, July 1 to Dec. 31, 1949.

A commission spokesman said a similar statement covering the first half of the year showed an income of about $47,000 from the spring meet here.

At present, the Kent and Sussex Racing Association is the only licensed operator of harness races in the state, but the commission has been considering for some time three applications for licenses to operate harness races in New Castle County.

One of the applications was filed by a group headed by John W. Kane, Wilmington businessman, for a track at Deemer's Beach. The other applicants' names have been withheld by the commission, which has disclosed, however, that tracks are being sought in the Claymont and Middletown vicinities.

Remitted To Treasurer

From the 22-day meet at Harrington, the state received: $45,128.95 from the 3 per cent cut on pari-mutuel betting; $3,776.60 from the state tax on admissions; $750 from the license fee, and $18 from additional tax on box seats.

These sums, the commission statement shows, have been remitted to the state treasurer along with a balance of $1,505.14 which was on hand July 1.

The commission chairman is J. Harold Schabinger of Felton. The other members are: Andrew L. Burks of Georgetown, and E. Lealand Pleasanton of Odessa.

1950 PLYMOUTH

The 1950 Plymouth car, with important styling changes and improvements for safety and riding comfort, was on display in dealer showrooms throughout the country yesterday.

There are new lines in the silhouette which give the new Plymouth a longer, lower, more streamlined appearance. The changes are readily apparent whether viewed from front, rear, or side.

Rear fenders, which are bolted on for economical removal in case repairs are necessary, have been restyled and lengthened. A larger rear window on club coupes and four-door sedans, slightly greater over-all width, and alterations on the rear deck provide a longer, heavier, road-hugging appearance for all models. The grille has been simplified and made more massive. It consists of two large horizontal bars with a curved-down top member and a single vertical bar at the center. Above the grille the Plymouth nameplate appears in larger block letters, and a bigger, more colorful medallion has been placed over the nameplate.

Described as "Packed with value and ready to prove it," the new Plymouth was characterized by D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, as "The greatest car value we have ever offered the public."

"When we speak of value," Eddins said, "we mean that we have combined beauty with sensible styling, that we have achieved big-car performance with small-car economy, and that the mechanical excellence of which we have always been proud has maintained its high level."

The front and rear tread have been increased, a factor which increases stability, eases tire loading stress on curves, and enhances the car's general appearance. Thirty-two per cent larger than on previous models, the new rear window increases visibility and its lines blend into the car's new streamlining motif. The window is set in a newly designed locking rubber seal.

There are larger bumpers on both front and rear. In addition to providing greater protection for the grille, rear deck and fenders, the bumpers add materially to the general appearance of massiveness.

The theme of simplicity which has been carried out in the medallion and name plate on the front has been continued in the ornamentation of the rear deck. The block-letter name plate, the license plate light ornament, the license plate recess, and the T-shaped luggage compartment handle are styled to accent the car's low, sleek lines. Combination tail lights and stop lights are set into each rear fender.

The redesigned instrument panel provides new backgrounds of transparent gunmetal on spun aluminum for the gauge dials, speedometer, radio dial, and clock. The gunmetal finish is also used on the radio grille screen. There are larger rotary switch knobs which are easier to operate.

Features for performance, comfort and safety which were previously introduced in the Plymouth line have been retained. The car has characteristic interior roominess, ample head and leg room, and wide, deep chair-height seats. The six-cylinder, 97-horsepower engine has a 7 to 1 compression ratio. The combination ignition and starter switch, automatic electric choke, super-cushion tires, safe-guard hydraulic brakes and safety-rim wheels are among the "high-priced car" features contained in the new Plymouth.

The new Plymouth line includes nine automobiles in the Special DeLuxe and DeLuxe groups. Special DeLuxe models are the four-door sedan, the club coupe, the station wagon, and the convertible club coupe. The DeLuxe group consists of the four-door sedan, club coupe, two-door sedan, three-passenger coupe, and the all-metal Suburban. The cars are available in nine colors. In addition, there are special colors available for the Suburban, the station wagon, and the convertible club coupe.

C-K-R-T POST OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

The regular meeting of the C-K-R-T Post of the American Legion was held Thursday evening, Jan. 5.

The Legion is sponsoring the March of Dimes campaign, and it was moved and passed that profits from the recreation evening of the last Wednesday in the month be contributed to the March of Dimes. Earl Slyvester is chairman and Leonard Horleman, treasurer.

Improvements have been made to the Legion home. An automatic oil water heater has been installed and a new chimney run.

The next meeting will be held February 2nd.

CROP

CROP collection depots are being set up throughout Maryland and Delaware to store contributions to the Christian Rural Overseas Program.

Under the joint sponsorship of Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief—and with the guidance of the Farm Bureau and Grange, farmers throughout this area are being contacted and asked to contribute foods for bulk shipment to needy people in Europe, Asia and the Middle East.

Milk and poultry producers have been most generous with contributions in the form of allotments from their regular checks, and growers of grains are coming through with many gifts of wheat, corn and barley. A 14-year-old 4-H girl in Garrett County gave CROP an entire herd of milking goats, and many other gifts of livestock have been received.

Several mills have made their storage facilities available to CROP as collection depots, and they are exchanging the grains that are contributed on equal dollar value so that a standard shipment can be made when all contributions are received. Also, a fruit processor just over the Pennsylvania line is storing apples, and has offered to convert all apples that are received into apple butter for shipment abroad.

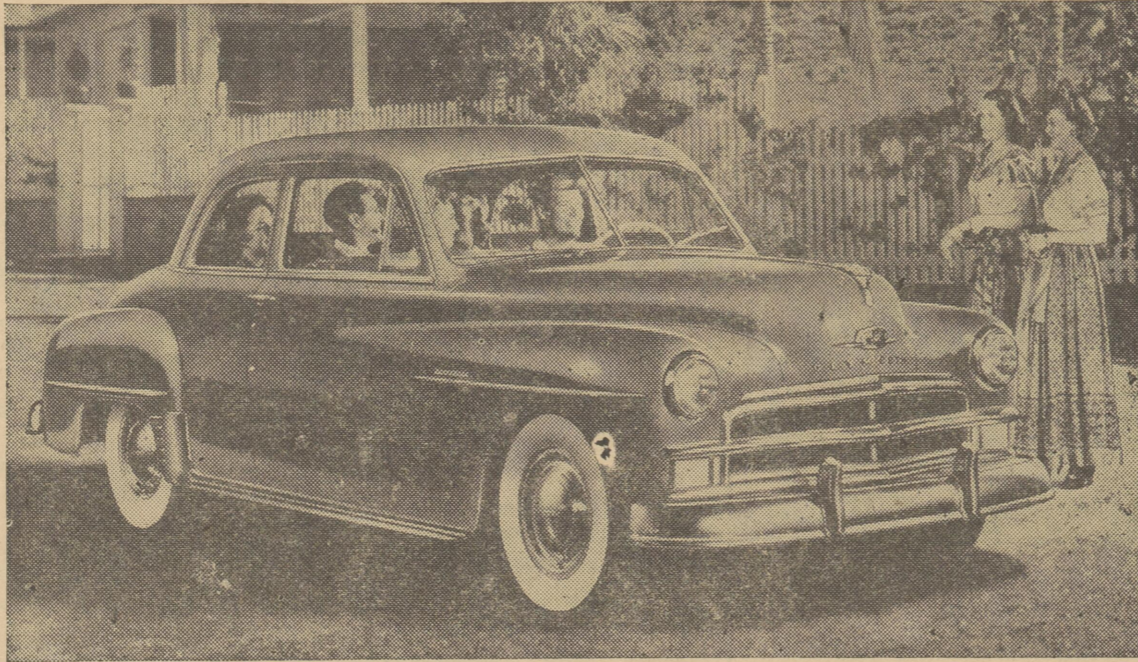

During the holidays, 4-H Club members in many counties assisted with the farm-to-farm canvasses for CROP, and these canvasses are being continued during the month of January.

Between now and February 1st, it is hoped that every food producer in Maryland and Delaware will be contacted personally, and asked to make a contribution to this program.

The distribution of all CROP foods is handled completely through already established religious organizations in foreign countries. Through this method, all who contribute are assured that their gifts will not be sold commercially or fall into the black market, but that they will reach the individuals and families who are in the direct need.

CROP Committees are now working in every Maryland and Delaware county, and those who wish to assist in this work can volunteer through their local churches or County Agent's office.

New Plymouth Special DeLuxe Club Coupe

The Plymouth Special DeLuxe Club Coupe, one of nine new models, is shown above. The car contains important styling changes and improvements for safety and comfort. Its high compression engine and many mechanical features provide lively, economical performance.

Plymouth Has New Look Both Coming and Going

The 1950 Plymouth car, with important styling changes and improvements for safety and riding comfort, will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the country January 12.

There are new lines in the silhouette which give the new Plymouth a longer, lower, more streamlined appearance. The changes are readily apparent whether viewed from front, rear, or side.

Rear fenders, which are bolted on for economical removal in case repairs are necessary, have been restyled and lengthened. A larger rear window on club coupes and four-door sedans, slightly greater over-all width, and alterations on the rear deck provide a longer, heavier, road-hugging appearance for all models. The grille has been simplified and made more massive. It consists of two large horizontal bars with a curved-down top member and a single vertical bar at the center. Above the grille the Plymouth nameplate appears in larger block letters, and a bigger, more colorful medallion has been placed over the nameplate.

Described as "Packed with value and ready to prove it," the new Plymouth was characterized by D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, as "The greatest car value we have ever offered the public."

"When we speak of value," Eddins said, "we mean that we have combined beauty with sensible styling, that we have achieved big-car performance with small-car economy, and that the mechanical excellence of which we have always been proud has maintained its high level."

The front and rear tread have been increased, a factor which increases stability, eases tire loading stress on curves, and enhances the car's general appearance. Thirty-two per cent larger than on previous models, the new rear window increases visibility and its lines blend into the car's new streamlining motif. The window is set in a newly designed locking rubber seal.

There are larger bumpers on both front and rear. In addition to providing greater protection for the grille, rear deck and fenders, the bumpers add materially to the general appearance of massiveness.

The theme of simplicity which has been carried out in the medallion and name plate on the front has been continued in the ornamentation of the rear deck. The block-letter name plate, the license plate light ornament, the license plate recess, and the T-shaped luggage compartment handle are styled to accent the car's low, sleek lines. Combination tail lights and stop lights are set into each rear fender.

The redesigned instrument panel provides new backgrounds of transparent gunmetal on spun aluminum for the gauge dials, speedometer, radio dial, and clock. The gunmetal finish is also used on the radio grille screen. There are larger rotary switch knobs which are easier to operate.

Features for performance, comfort and safety which were previously introduced in the Plymouth line have been retained. The car has characteristic interior roominess, ample head and leg room, and wide, deep chair-height seats. The six-cylinder, 97-horsepower engine has a 7 to 1 compression ratio. The combination ignition and starter switch, automatic electric choke, super-cushion tires, safe-guard hydraulic brakes and safety-rim wheels are among the "high-priced car" features contained in the new Plymouth.

Bill Holland has pulled up stakes at the Reading Fairgrounds and Richard L. (Dick) Weidman has moved in.

Holland, winner of the 500-mile speedway automobile race at Indianapolis last Memorial Day, recently disposed of his fairgrounds roller rink business, and now plans to establish residence in Florida.

Weidman, former star athlete at Sinking Spring high school near Reading, has purchased Holland's rink interests, and will operate the business under a three-year lease with the Reading Fair.

Holland, first Berks countian in history to win the 500-mile race at Indianapolis, came to Reading from Bridgeport, Conn., in 1947 to operate the new rink which the fair had constructed. The rink was formally opened on November 15, 1947.

Although he failed to disclose any plans for the future, informed sources said Holland will definitely remain in auto racing. It is understood he is under contract to Lou Moore to pilot one of the twin Blue Crown Specials at Indianapolis again this year.

Holland, who plans to leave Reading late this week, said he and his wife will establish residence somewhere on the Florida east coast. His 18-year-old son Billy will remain behind to complete his high school education at Ontelaunee high school near Reading.

Exhibits Feature Of Farm and Home Week

"What's New in Delaware Agriculture and Homemaking" will be the general theme of exhibits being prepared for Farm and Home Week at the University of Delaware.

From February 7 through 10, corridors of Wolf Hall will be lined with these displays of latest developments in horticulture, dairying, poultry and animal industry, agronomy, home economics and many other topics of interest to Delawareans.

Open house will be held the evening of February 7, to give everyone time for a leisurely view of the exhibits.

Increased Chicken Consumption Urged By Poultry Commission
In view of the current low price of fresh young chicken, the Delaware Poultry Commission has launched a campaign to encourage increased consumption of fryers and broilers.

According to J. Frank Gordy, executive secretary for the Commission, the present farm price for poultry is well below the cost of production, although some price rise can be expected as the supply adjusts to market demand.

The Poultry Commission is working closely with chain stores in metropolitan areas, urging them to feature young chicken in their weekly advertisements. This week, two widely known chain stores have given top billing to broilers and fryers at 29 cents a pound, New York dressed.

A printed leaflet in full color is being prepared, and will be distributed through food stores. Titled "Let's Eat Delaware Chicken," it will feature recipes and pictures showing methods of preparing chicken.

Appearing recently on television shows in New York were Mrs. A. L. Karlick, Salisbury, winner of the 1949 National Chicken Cooking Contest, who prepared her prize winning recipe for "Delmarvalous Broiled Chicken"; and Mrs. Esther Alderman, Delaware urban specialist in home economics, who demonstrated several ways of cooking chicken.

Navy Adopts Simplified Forms to Extend Enlistments Of 500,000 Reservists

A simplified procedure for extending the enlistments of more than 500,000 members of the inactive Naval Reserve whose enlistments expire during the next 18 months has been adopted by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

Under the procedure the reservists will be required to sign only one form, an agreement to extend their enlistment for a four-year period. It will eliminate the current reenlistment procedure, which requires the filing of discharge and reenlistment papers, a physical examination, execution of a new oath, and new office records.

The single forms will be mailed to Volunteer Reservists by Naval District commanders about three months prior to the expiration of their enlistments. Members of Organized Reserve units will be given the extension forms by their unit commanders.

The extension form procedure is expected to lighten the clerical work load imposed on the various Naval Districts as a result of the enlistment expiration of large numbers of reservists between now and July 1, 1951. A total of 99,000 enlistments expire during fiscal 1950, and approximately 476,000 during fiscal 1951.

The privilege of reenlisting, however, will be extended to any qualified reservist who prefers to reenlist through a local Recruiting Station or Naval Reserve Training Center, rather than extend his current enlistment period.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Veterans should establish a permanent mailing address where they can be assured of regular and prompt delivery of subsistence checks and correspondence from Veterans Administration.

Many veterans frequently change their residence causing delay in delivery of checks and letters. Postal regulations prohibit forwarding of government checks. When a check cannot be delivered because a veteran has moved, the check is returned to the Treasury Disbursing Office and held until notice of the veteran's corrected address is received from VA.

Change of address must be made in writing over the veteran's signature in a letter to VA or on the prescribed VA Form 4-572, which may be obtained from any VA office.
