Railroad News

The annual oyster party will be held at Salisbury this year instead of Delmar. Cool, damp March weather has always taken a lot away from this open engine-house affair and arrangements are now under way to make it a great big indoor party on March 3 in the Armory at Salisbury.

Watch this column for further details. Supervisor Bob McClain, whose territory extends from Cheswold to Seaford on the main line and from Harrington to Franklin City on the branch, received a letter this week from Superintendent Goodfellow reading as follows: Mr. R. R. McClain, Supervisor No. 92, Harrington, Del.

"It gives me great pleasure to add my congratulations to the remarks of our general superintendent Mr. Schwab in his letter of January 23rd commending you for your achievement in maintaining the best subdivision on the Delaware Division during the year 1949."

Bob in turn is giving all the credit to his foremen and the men under them, who, he says have really done a swell job under trying circumstances.

We are proud to have this recognition paid our Harrington unit and we know we are going to be asked why we don't have a morning train north on this good track. Let's keep plugging and some day the worm will turn.

The February safety meeting will be held Monday the 6th, at 1:30 p. m. in the waiting room. We are going to try to win back the cup we lost to Norfolk District last year. So let's play safe and all pull together.

Wade Mitchell and Marion Brown were sympathizing with some of the rest of the committee who were brooding over the emptiness of the shelf where the beautiful cup had stood since 1943, and decided to do something about it temporarily. So they sketched up a likeness of the cup on cardboard which now stands on the shelf with these words inscribed: We lost this cup in '49.

But let us keep it fresh in mind. Keep safety minded, avoiding pain. So we can have it here again. With work in 50, just begun. We'll bring it back in 51.

Greener Pastures Program Set For Kent County

Kent County farmers are invited to enroll in the Delaware Greener Pastures Program, which has been developed as a result of Governor Carvel's proclamation of 1950 as Pasture Year for Delaware.

The purpose of the Greener Pastures Program is to encourage and recognize the work of Delaware farmers in improving their pastures for more economical production. "Greener Pastures for Greater Profits" is the slogan for the program.

A Delaware pastures committee composed of chairmen of grain and forage dairy advisory councils in each county, will carry on the activity of urging farmers who derive a major portion of their income from dairy farming to take an active part in the program.

Kent County members of this committee are: L. D. Caulk of Wyoming, and Purnal F. Friedel of Viola.

According to Mr. Caulk and Mr. Friedel, the Greener Pastures Program will be in the form of county contests, beginning February 1 and continuing throughout the year. Pastures will be visited at least twice by committee members and judges. Every farmer whose pasture program meets certain standards will be awarded a certificate of accomplishment and membership in the Delaware Greener Pastures Club. Details of the Greener Pastures Program are available from county agricultural agent William E. Tarbell, who will also furnish rules and enrollment blanks for the contest.

Care of Muddy Shoes Even though dry mud comes off shoes more easily than wet mud, specialists advise against the common practice of letting it dry on before brushing it off. Mud stains leather, and the longer it stays on the worse the stain is likely to be.

Scrape off moist mud as promptly as possible and then wipe the leather clean with a soft cloth. Let shoes dry slowly and then polish. Mud should be wiped off leather gloves promptly.

Norman P. Chamberlin

Mr. Chamberlin is the latest owner of Harrington's oldest drugstore. He has been a pharmacist since 1921.

Harry C. Tee

Mr. Tee was employed by Sharp & Fleming from 1921 to 1945, when he purchased the business.

William W. Sharp

Mr. Sharp was in the drug-store business in Harrington from 1893 to 1945.

Zadoc C. Fleming

Mr. Fleming was a druggist here from the 70's until his death in 1918.

N. Chamberlin Buys Historic Drugstore

Norman P. Chamberlin, for the past five years a pharmacist at Ragains Pharmacy, Milford, has purchased Tee's Cut-Rate Store. Mr. Chamberlin said this week that his prescription department would get underway after tomorrow.

The new owner has been a pharmacist since 1922 and worked in Wilmington before going to Milford. He belongs to the F. & A. M. of Cochranville, Pa., and is married.

Mr. Chamberlin now heads a firm that has long been prominent in the history of Harrington.

The first drugstore in Harrington was opened by William T. VanGesel in the early 70's in the Wolcott Block now occupied by the Harrington Postoffice. VanGesel was succeeded by Henry Clay Wolcott who, in turn, was succeeded by Lewis & Fleming. Then Zadoc C. Fleming operated the firm alone from 1880 to 1893 when William W. Sharp was taken in as a partner under the firm name of Sharp & Fleming.

Before his graduation from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy in 1893, Mr. Sharp had been an apprentice under Mr. Fleming for several years. After Mr. Sharp had purchased a half-interest in the firm in 1893, he continued as a partner and manager until the death of Mr. Fleming in 1918. The firm name, Sharp & Fleming, was retained until the business was sold to H. C. Tee & Son in 1945. Mr. Sharp was in business in Harrington 52 years. Harry C. Tee worked for Sharp & Fleming from 1921 until the sale.

The business started in the Wolcott Block, as previously mentioned, but was moved to its present quarters on Commerce Street in 1898.

The early drugstore of Zadoc C. Fleming was not unlike, in many respects, the modern drugstore. It had the first soda fountain in Harrington in the 80's. The store handled wallpaper, paints, oils, varnishes, lamps, and some hardware.

Mrs. Virginia Clarkson, who will remain in the employ of the new firm, has been with the store since 1936. Some of the physicians Mr. Sharp has seen in Harrington are: Doctors Rogers, B. L. Lewis, Emil Bonniwell, T. G. Riley, James D. West, R. T. J. Barber, Merritt Burke, Brighthurst, P. Money, G. Hall Reggen, H. E. Thomson, Keigler, Fred J. Owens, W. T. Chipman, J. B. R. Powell, and H. Mr. and Mrs. Willard S. Jester entertained at turkey dinner Sunday the following: Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Biederbeck, of Riverside, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. W. Chosen Friends Lodge No. 35

The Dover Lodge dartball team defeated Chosen Friends Lodge Thursday evening, Jan. 26, on our own grounds.

The game was a hotly contested one all the way and the Capital boys came out winners in revenge of the defeat our boys handed them when we played there at the beginning of the season.

This makes three defeats against five wins for the local team, with two losses on our home grounds.

We play Laurel tonight at Laurel. One of our boys on the team says "when he is up, he is up, and when he is down, he is down." He also acts as our cheerleader and always has a new cheer to spring. This helps the morale of our team and may help us win our next game if he succeeds in coming up with a new cheer.

March of Dimes Quota Below Par

The March of Dimes drive for Kent County has been extended to Feb. 11, at the request of several organizations to enable them to have their contributions approved by the membership. This action gave Harrington, Farmington and vicinity an opportunity to reach a total of at least $1000. The 1949 contribution from this district was $1296.95 and was in excess of $1000 in both 1947 and 1948. The actual contributions received this year as of noon, Tues., Jan. 31, totaled $583.47 or less than fifty per cent of the 1949 receipts.

The local American Legion committee had anticipated certain decreases as two or three of our best sources of collections were unavailable this year. The need for money for assistance to the victims of infantile paralysis is greater than ever and this information has been spread by radio, television and newspaper publicity. Certainly our people are not indifferent but have possibly neglected to contribute. If you have not contributed, do so at once to J. L. Horleman, treasurer, at the First National Bank.

Following additional persons and firms have contributed during the last week and the names of other contributors will be shown in the next issue of the Harrington Journal.

Harness racing will take place Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday afternoons, but the program has not been drawn up. Dale Fetrow will be starting judge in his new Cadillac starting gate. The entertainment committee of the fair association feels that it has arranged for the greatest array of entertainment the fair has ever had.

Several improvements have been made, or will be made at the fairgrounds, Manager Holloway said this week. These include a recreation room with showers in the state police barracks at the fairgrounds for the winter training colony.

Woman Killed By Shot Fired Through Floor

A 17-year-old Farmington wife and mother, seated in the living room of a friend's house, was killed Sunday night when a bullet fired by her husband at a rat in an upstairs room bored through the ceiling and struck her in the stomach.

State police said their investigation shows the victim, Mrs. William Jerread, met death accidentally while chatting with her hostess.

According to police reports, Mrs. Jerread was visiting at the home of Mrs. Jeannette Fisher, which is close by the Jerread residence four miles south of Harrington on Route 13.

As the woman talked, police said, they heard a noise upstairs, and they went up to investigate. They saw a rat scampering through a room, police added, and became frightened.

Mrs. Jerread called her husband, who is 23, to come to their aid. Mr. Fisher was at work at the time. Jerread, police said, arrived shortly before 8:30 o'clock, bearing a .22 calibre rifle.

Mrs. Jerread, Mrs. Fisher, and the latter's small child returned to the living room while Jerread looked around upstairs, police asserted. A short time later, the women heard a shot, and Jerread called down, saying he had missed a rat.

Mrs. Fisher, police reported, then offered Jerread her husband's .32 calibre automatic pistol, and then returned to the living room and her conversation with Mrs. Jerread.

Troopers said Jerread told them he saw a movement on the floor in a front upstairs room and fired one shot at it.

The bullet, police said, slammed through the floor and continued through the ceiling of the living room.

Jerread told police he then heard a scream and his wife's voice calling, "Billy—Billy—I've been shot."

Jerread hurried to the living room, police asserted and found his wife still conscious but in great pain from the wound in her abdomen.

The husband called Dr. W. Hewitt Smith of Harrington, but Mrs. Jerread had died before the physician could arrive.

Police said they released Jerread after he made a statement of all details. All evidence, they added, pointed to an accidental death.

Mrs. Jerread's body was taken to the Melson Funeral Home at Lewes. The victim was the former Miss Elizabeth Ann Wooley, of Wilmington.

Mrs. Jerread is also survived by her son, Nelson Allen Jerread, 13 months of age; a brother, George B. Wooley of Pennsylvania, N. J., and a sister, Mrs. Allen Thompson of Badin, N. C., and a half sister, Miss Laure Elizabeth Craven, 2.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. J. Harry Wright, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Union Cemetery, Georgetown.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

In a recent national poll many adults declared that "More Education" was among the things they desired most. We have wondered if religious education was included in their use of the word "education." And yet, how can this be when you think of the splendid Sunday Schools across our land which open their doors every Sunday? Our Sunday School meets every Sunday at 9:45 a. m. for the purpose of imparting religious education to all ages.

The Lord's Supper will be administered at the 11 o'clock service. No Christian needs to be invited or urged to attend this service, for it is the privilege of all who belong to Him.

In addition to their own meeting in the Church Annex at 6:30 p. m., with Virginia Black as leader, The Youth group will also attend and have part in the evening worship service at 7:30. We are expecting the Boy Scouts in a group.

You will find both of our Services most helpful because of the singing of the Senior Choir at 11

a. m., and the Youth Choir at 7:30 p. m.

Monday Evening: The Loyal Worker's Bible Class meeting.

Tuesday Evening: The Women's Society of Christian Service.

Tuesday: Conference in Dover to discuss the Christian Family.

The show is being sponsored by Greenwood Methodist Church.

The meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary was well attended last Friday night. It agreed to give $15 to the Camp Barnes Fund and $15 to the March of Dimes. It was decided to order Auxiliary Pins for the members along with Past President pins. We had one guest, Miss Dorothy Short, who played the piano for our opening exercises. After the meeting was adjourned the group had a grand time playing games while the delicious refreshments were being prepared.

The Miscellaneous Club sponsored by the Auxiliary is scheduled to start February 6th, with Mrs. Woodrow Draper acting as chairman. We would like to have more new members to join this club.

Mrs. Woodrow Draper, Miss Irene Adams, Mrs. Ruby Chalmers, Mrs. Roy Peterman, Mrs. Vernon Metzner, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dickerson, and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Torbert attended the Del-Mar-Va meeting of the fire companies and their auxiliaries at Cape Charles, Va. last Sunday. Breeding Stable Locates Here

Henry J. Clukey, owner and trainer, of Augusta, Me., has just completed construction of a ten-stall breeding stable on U. S. 13 just north of the branchline railroad. The establishment is near the fairgrounds. A modern barn has been constructed which also includes a grain room, hayloft, and modern office and washroom. The structure has many features, including special traps over stalls for individual feeding. The oak-lined stalls are divided by a concrete runway. Many of these features are not in the ordinary racehorse barn, Clukey said. All construction work was done by the Harrington Lumber & Supply Company, local builders. Two horses of outstanding merit are included in Clukey's stable. These are Pioneer Hanover, 2:01 1/2, a stake winner on the Grand Circuit, by Peter the Brewer, 2:02 1/2, sire of Calumet Adam, 1:59 3/4, and Lone Star Abbe, 2:05, a rugged pacing stallion, son of Bert Abbe, 1:58 3/4. Clukey recently received two letters from England from prospective buyers for these horses.

At the completion of the contest the adult group, now known as the "Watch Us Grow" class will mark the climax by having the losing group serve the winning team a dinner. The two competing teams will be composed of the men versus the women. So, whatever your sex, come out to help them win! The W. S. C. S. of Marydel will hold its monthly meeting, Tuesday evening, 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. L. A. Covell, with Mrs. Edward Lapham and Mrs. T. E. Heather Jr., as hostesses. Journal to Run Historical Features

Eddy Washkill, of Philadelphia is promoting a page of historical features, to run ten weeks in THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL. A similar feature ran in this newspaper a little more than a year ago with considerable success. The page will carry a history of Kent county, with historical sketches of Harrington, and sketches of Felton, Frederica and other near-by towns up to 1888. The newspaper will be glad to publish historical pictures if readers will send them in. Advertisers are asked to support Mr. Washkill in this project, for it is only through them that much of the history of this area will be recorded in this newspaper for posterity. The date of the beginning of the feature will be announced later.

Social Security Queries Answered

Questions relating to Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance will be answered in this paper or by mail. Address all queries to Social Security Administration, Old Customs House Building, 6th and King Streets, Wilmington, Del.

Q. I was 65 in August 1947. I was employed from February 1945 to February 1948, at $20 a week. Can I receive social security benefits?

A. An individual who became 65 in August 1947, needs 21 "quarters of coverage" to be fully insured. A quarter of coverage is any calendar quarter in which you are paid $50 in wages. It appears you have only 13 such "quarters of coverage." You need eight more before you can become entitled to benefits upon filing an application.

Q. I am a single person and support my parents. If I were to die would my parents be entitled to monthly benefits?

A. If your parents were chiefly dependent upon you for support and you were to die either fully or currently insured, your parents may be entitled to monthly survivor's benefits.

Q. I am over 65 years of age and operate my own small furniture shop which brings me a small income. I worked as an employee from 1937 to 1939 in a job covered by Social Security Act. Taxes were deducted from my wages. Am I entitled to old-age insurance benefits?

A. To be entitled to benefits, you must have been paid at least $50 in each of at least one-half the calendar quarters elapsing since January 1, 1937 and up to the quarter in which you reached the age 65. The income you receive from your furniture shop is probably not covered by the Social Security Act and may not be counted. It appears therefore, that you have about eight of the required $50 quarters. We suggest that you get in touch with the Social Security Office.

"River Horse" Although the hippopotamus gets its name from the Greek words which mean "river horse," the animal is a relative of the hog—not the horse.

Officer Training Meeting Held At Georgetown High School

Over 140 officers of various farm organizations attended the county officers' training school at Georgetown High School Monday night. The meeting conducted by the Sussex County extension staff was attended by officers of the D. P. I. A. locals, 4-H Clubs, home demonstration clubs, D. H. I. A. locals, Grange officers and Southern States chairmen, and a few officers representing various service organizations.

Following a general session conducted by Bill Henderson, county agricultural agent, the officers attended a work shop session for a period of an hour. In opening the meeting, Henderson pointed out that there were a number of things to consider in having a good meeting. The main ones were: plan ahead; provide adequate facilities; start and stop on time, and follow the meeting plans.

Extension specialists from the University of Delaware were in charge of the work shop groups. Specific help was given to each group with many of the problems confronted by them through the year. The leaflets, "Aids for Officers and other leaders of farm and home organizations," in Delaware was given to officers attending the meeting.

Mrs. Gerster and Mr. King are assisted in planning the conference by a state committee appointed by the Delaware Music Educators Association, as follows: Miss Sarah F. Goldstein, D. M. E. Describing the conference as "another service of the music department of the university to music teachers of the state," Mr. King and Mrs. Gerster explained that its purpose is to "further the music education program, vocally and instrumentally, in Delaware and vicinity."

1949 PMA Performance Reports Due February 15

Sussex County farmers should have their 1949 performance reports signed and in the hands of Frank L. Vibbert, county PMA chairman, by Feb. 15 in order to qualify for their conservation payment.

When signing their performance reports, it was pointed out by Vibbert that farmers may also sign their 1950 farm plans and thus complete both of these jobs at the same time.

A second important date for farmers to remember is Feb. 18, which is the closing date for filing applications for corn loans.

In stressing this date, Vibbert urged all interested corn growers to get their applications in at once and thus avoid losing the advantage of this protection against declining prices.

Cobalt Cobalt has come to be regarded as an important element in the nutrition of sheep and cattle. Results of recent tests in New Zealand showed that those animals grazing in pastoral areas which were treated with slight amounts of cobalt maintained higher live weight and had a greater yield of wool than those which grazed on fields not treated with cobalt.

Vegetables, Fruits, Home Gardening Featured At Farm and Home Week

Vegetables, fruits and home gardening play a prominent part in the Delaware Farm and Home Week, Feb. 7-10, at the University of Delaware.

A session for vegetable growers will be held Tuesday. Among topics to be featured are relationship of seed and seed treatment to disease control, insect and disease control recommendations for 1950, and effect of broiler manure on vegetable yields. A demonstration on fair weather rain will be given by Howard Millman and Robert Dody, of the Junior Vegetable Growers Association.

Several Delaware growers will take part in a discussion on grower experience and research results with lima beans. They are: J. W. Eckhart, Bridgeville; J. Heyman, Roos, Milford; Charles Mills, Lewes, and Edward Shallcross, Middletown.

Fruit growers will meet Wednesday to hear talks on control of fruit insects and disease. Delaware's fruit spray schedule for 1950, foliage spraying with nitrogen, and present plantings and future production of apples and peaches. "The Future of Fruit Production in Delaware" will be debated by Raymond Wilkins, Milford; Edward Kelly, Rising Sun; Elwood Nuckols, Cheswold; Warren Newton, Bridgeville, and John Herholdt, Dover.

A combined session on home gardening for farmers and homemakers will take place Thursday. Here, the audience will learn about pruning home fruit plants and ornamental plants, chemical weed control on the home grounds, increasing yields of everbearing strawberries, flower bulbs, diseases of ornamental plants, and controlling insect pests on the home grounds.

Spicy Food Bad for Dog One disadvantage of feeding table scraps to the family pup is that such foods are often too spicy and may cause digestive disturbances. Another disadvantage frequently cited by veterinarians is that when dogs are fed largely on table scraps, they may not get all the nutritional elements they need. Left-overs are all right as a supplement to the dog's diet, however, provided that the basic ration is well-balanced and of good quality.

TWO-WAY STRETCH that's strictly inside stuff! Look! Whap-around rear windows and top-side styling in the Riviera manner. HERE'S THE NEW 1950 BUICK SUPER 126, companion body-type to the equally new ROADMASTER 130. Both are shorter than last year's 4-door Sedans—yet 4 inches longer in wheelbase. In both, the difference is used to give you real stretch-out room in the rear seat. What the boys did here really calls for some medals. We gave them the job of coming up with something that was bigger inside—for room and comfort—longer in wheelbase—always important to good riding qualities—yet unbulky and easy-handling in over-all dimensions. Just look how well this tidy number meets these "impossible" specifications! Item one—rear-seat cushions are a full foot wider than last year's SUPERS and ROADMASTERS. Item two—in every dimension—leg-room, head-room, hip-room, shoulder-room—this rear-seat compartment is bigger than previous models—and nearly four inches longer, fore and aft, than other 1950 Buick interiors. Item three—wheelbases are the longest of our 1950 line. On the SUPER, it is 125 1/4" instead of 121 1/4"—on the ROADMASTER 130 1/4" instead of 126 1/4". Yet—and here's where the magic comes in—the whole car is shorter over-all. Actually less from bumper to bumper than previous Buicks in these series. That means easier parking, easier tucking away in family garages, easier maneuvering in crowded traffic. There are some other things too. An extra rear-quarter window not found in standard 4-door Sedans. A different upperstructure styling that makes this body-type stand out as something pretty special. Even special names that let you say, "I drive a SUPER 126" or "Mine's a ROADMASTER 130," just by way of being different. Yes, we think we hit on a happy idea in the "Longfellows," as they're coming to be known. They are not longer, on the outside, but there's a two-way stretch—in width and length—in the rear compartment. You're going to like that—as you'll see by calling on your own Buick dealer. If he doesn't have one on hand, he can get it pretty promptly—and at a price and on a deal you'll have trouble matching, much less beating, anywhere else. See him now, will you—about placing an order? Features like these mean BUICK'S THE BUY HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines, five hp ratings. TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius. EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles. SOFT BUICK RIDE, low-pressure tires, ride-steady torque-tube. DYNAFLOW DRIVE standard on all ROADMASTERS, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL series. NINETEEN MODELS with Body by Fisher. New High Urged For Dimes Drive

The 1950 March of Dimes campaign must hit a new high, "if the nation is to undo the ravages of the blackest toll of infantile paralysis in its history," Mr. Sylvester, Kent County March of Dimes Director, said today in urging everyone to double his contribution to the drive this month.

The year 1949, Mr. Sylvester said, was the most severe in the 12-year history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. With more than 40,000 persons stricken, epidemic aid funds of the National Foundation were virtually depleted, he pointed out, and it was necessary to conduct an emergency drive for the first time in the organization's history.

The county director declared that the epidemic drive provided stop-gap funds barely enabling the National Foundation to carry on through the last three difficult months of 1949. But if those who were stricken are to continue receiving help, resources must be replenished in the forthcoming March of Dimes, January 16-31, Mr. Sylvester said.

"The financial problems involved in caring for polio victims are increasingly difficult not only because of widespread epidemics but also because of soaring medical and equipment costs," he said.

"Only an enormously successful March of Dimes appeal will enable the National Foundation to provide continuing care for the thousands already stricken while at the same time preparing for any eventuality 1950 may bring. The year 1949 has taught us that we must be alerted for extremes."

There also is urgent need for funds to continue the National Foundation's all-embracing research program aimed at ferreting out means of prevention and control of this crippling disease, Mr. Sylvester declared.

G. L. Baker Relieved As Station Asst. Director, Dr. S. A. Dum Named to Post

Prof. George L. Baker has asked to be relieved of his duties as assistant director of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, University of Delaware, as of Wednesday, according to Director George M. Worrlow. Dr. Samuel A. Dum has been named acting assistant director.

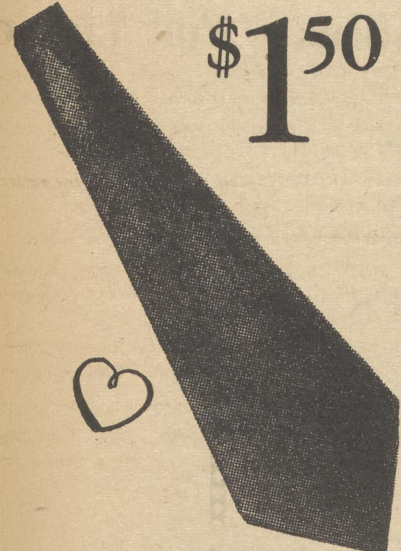

Prof. Baker will continue in his post as head of the station's chemistry department. He has been one of the nation's leaders in the field of pectin research. As assistant director, he was concerned with the co-ordination of the station's research activities, program planning, development, and implementation as well as the publication of research results.

Dr. Dum went to the University in 1949 as associate professor of agricultural economics. He has been engaged in research and teaching. He received bachelor's and master's degrees from Pennsylvania State College and his doctor's degree from Purdue University.

Besides his administrative duties, Dr. Dum will continue to devote part of his time to teaching and research in farm management. During the past year he has carried on studies to improve labor use in doing dairy chores and dairy costs and management.

Rules and Regulations For 1950 Junior Division Chicken-of-Tomorrow Contest

The rules and regulations for the Junior Division of the 1950 State Chicken-of-Tomorrow Contest have just been distributed to all vocational agriculture teachers and 4-H Club agents in Delaware.

This contest is part of a national project aimed at focusing attention on better breeds and types of meat birds to be raised in the most economical method possible. It is the second year Delaware has operated a Junior Division of the contest. Last year, 104 boys and girls enrolled, with 96 of them completing their projects.

Entry blanks must be submitted not later than Feb. 20, and any resident of the State who will not reach his or her 21st birthday before Jan. 1, 1951 is eligible to enter. Blanks can be obtained from vocational agriculture teachers, from County 4-H Club agents or by writing to the Junior Committee, Chicken-of-Tomorrow Contest, Box 150, Newark, Del.

Each contestant will be responsible for obtaining his or her own chicks this year and they must be from a pullover-clean source, one of the first insurance measures for high quality chicks. The chicks must be hatched between Mon., March 6 and Fri., March 10, inclusive. The final judging for the best birds will be based on the dressed appearance of 6 cockerels to be selected by each contestant.

Cash awards totalling $100 will be given to the first ten winners on behalf of the State and National Chicken-of-Tomorrow Committee.

Members of the Junior Division Committee for this state are George Bringhurst, Viola; W. Lyle Mowlds, Dover; Mary Jean Lee, Newark; John Herholdt, Dover, and Frank Gordy, Newark; assisted by the Vo-Ag teachers, County 4-H Club agents and their local leaders.

Flower Gardening Short Course March 6, 7, and 8 At University

A three-day short course for flower gardeners will be held at the University of Delaware, March 6, 7, and 8, announces W. C. Skoglund, agricultural short course director. This is a change in dates: originally set for March 6-9.

Home flower gardeners will be invited to attend all three days, for sessions covering all phases of plant growth. Among topics listed are soils, fertilizers, annual and perennial flowering plants, seed sowing and transplanting, home grounds and their development, pruning shrubs, lawns and their care, bulbs, propagation of plants, and insect and disease control.

Also on March 8 will be an all-day session for commercial florists, who will hear discussions on soil management, cut flowers, potted plants and plant diseases.

Speakers, topics, registration and other details are being arranged, according to Skoglund, and will be announced in the near future.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Veterans Administration today reminded veterans taking GI Bill institutional on-farm training that reports of their 1949 earnings are due at their V-A regional office by March 1.

Failure to submit the reports before the deadline, V-A warned, may result in suspension of subsistence payments until such time as the reports reach V-A.

The earnings reports—covering only income from productive labor for the calendar year 1949—are used by V-A as the basis for adjusting each veteran's subsistence for the current year (1950).

The annual earnings report is based on farm accounting records kept by the veteran trainee as part of his course of instruction.

In the case of a veteran operating a farm for himself under the training program, income from productive labor is computed by deducting from his yearly net farm income these two items: (1) the interest on his capital investments and (2) an amount for unpaid family labor. He then adds an estimated value for items of family living furnished by the farm.

Net farm income is derived from the difference between inventories at the beginning and end of the year and from a detailed account of all receipts and expenditures in connection with the veteran's farm business.

A veteran taking his training from an employer-trainer reports as compensation from productive labor all wages received, whether in cash or in kind.

Farm trainees received necessary V-A forms (Form No. 7-1922) early this year.

As part of their course of training, they generally received assistance from their instructors in closing their books for the past year, and in transferring data to V-A form.

On December 1, 1949, a total of 305,772 veterans were taking institutional on-farm training under the GI Bill. Ninety-three per cent or 285,000 were operating their own farms.

SENATOR J. ALLEN FREAR, JR.

U. S. Senator J. Allen Frear, Jr., said Monday that he is urging the National Park Service to take over the former home of Delaware's revolutionary patriot, John Dickinson as a national shrine. In his weekly radio report Mr. Frear said that the Dickinson House, which is located in Kent County not far from Dover, is one of the genuine mementoes of the nation's early life. He disclosed that he has already communicated with the Secretary of the Interior and Director of the National Park Service on the matter.

Senator Frear said the preservation of the John Dickinson House for historical purposes was not possible through any state organization because of the lack of funds.

Dickinson, for whom Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa., is named, was known as the "Penman of the Revolution" and by his writings and influence did much to have the Constitution of the American Union Adopted.

In proposing the establishment of Dickinson's home as a National monument, Senator Frear commended the efforts of Delaware's state archivist, Leon deValinger, who has assembled important background information on Dickinson's life for presentation to the National Park Service.

'OPERATION EQUIPMENT'

"How successfully 'Operation Equipment' was carried out by the National Foundation can be seen from the record," Mr. Sylvester said. "Many a race against death was won as our equipment depots sent iron lungs and other polio-fighting devices roaring out across the nation's railways, highways, and air lanes."

The Kent County director said that the nation's transportation services deserved special praise for their co-operation with the National Foundation.

Uncle Sam's armed forces, said Mr. Sylvester, frequently played a major role in such exploits. Perhaps one of the most dramatic was the case of Sidney C. Moody, Jr., 21, a Williams College senior.

"One day last August a call came in to national headquarters from the Cunard White Star Line in New York," Mr. Sylvester said. "The liner Parthia, 600 miles out on the Atlantic, had radioed for a respirator and a doctor to treat a young man, stricken at sea with polio."

"The National Foundation got the iron lung and a physician. They called the U. S. Coast Guard. The Coast Guard couldn't fly the respirator and doctor directly to the ship because of the heavy storm-tossed seas surrounding the vessel. Instead it flew doctor and respirator to Halifax, Nova Scotia, put them aboard a Coast Guard Cutter, and raced them through choppy seas to the side of the Parthia—and Sidney Moody."

The National Foundation must continue to provide this type of help in the future, as in the past, said Mr. Sylvester. It must receive increased support to replenish its resources, which were severely depleted by the record epidemics of the past year, he said.

Millions of Americans, Mr. Sylvester said, can share in the thrill caused by a remark made by Sidney Moody while he lay in his respirator aboard the Parthia:

"If anything happens to me, leave everything to the March of Dimes."

Mrs. Violet N. Goodwill, home demonstration agent for Kent County, was present and spoke on "Family Plans for 1950." She stressed the point that all of the family should plan instead of one or two members.

The club made plans to have a pie social Feb. 14, in the Greenwood Community Building, proceeds to go to the building fund.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Robert Algier February 22.

Letter to the Editor

Sin and Crime Can Be Reduced in Our Country

Statistics prove that sin and crime are increasing by our youth. Parents and teachers can form a solid foundation for our boys and girls to become leaders and useful citizens. Having taught many years in our state, I have a workable solution to this problem. I used while teaching. They should not only be taught to master their subjects but also to be obedient, honest, truthful, and to reverence and honor God's name. Education alone will make life a complete failure, and our penal institutions will continue to overflow.

Teachers are taking courses for degrees and striving for "A" ratings. I am sure it should be changed vice versa and pupils receive ratings for the five essentials above, on a 20 per cent basis. The school room walls should have such slogans as "Honesty is The Best Policy," "Order is Heavens First Law," "Always Tell The Truth." Lay great stress on these essentials until they pervade their souls and their entire being. Parents especially should teach their children to be obedient. A mother said, "I can't do one thing with John; he will not mind one word I say." John was then not of school age. What will happen to your child, if he continues to do as he pleases? You will have many regrets when it is too late.

It has been proved that environment is greater than heredity. If a child has the proper training, and a complete understanding, the necessity of the five above essentials; that child will in most every case, become a good citizen.

A second grade teacher, saw a little boy whittling the wood of a sucker to a sharp point, then ran after his playmates stabbing them in the back. She asked him why he did it, and he replied, "I saw it in the movies."

I believe every school in our state has a Parent-Teachers' Association (or strong union). If you would demand educational pictures, and not spend any more money until your demand is granted, your victory will be won. God will not only reward you for a job well done, but your children will grow up and call you "Blessed."

Get Ready For Early Chicks. Market egg producers and hatchery egg producers in Kent County are preparing their brooder houses for the first flock of pullet replacements.

Sanitation is one method of preventing disease, according to William E. Tarbell, Kent County Agricultural agent. Doing a good job of cleaning and disinfecting the brooder house will help control some of the poultry diseases.

First, clean out the old litter, and scrape down the walls and ceiling. Scrape the caked matter off the floor and window sills. Wetting this down with water will help.

Clean windows, feed hoppers, water fountains and stoves. Then disinfect everything thoroughly with a commercial disinfectant, steam, or hot dry water. A portable hand or electric sprayer will simplify the job.

After this is dry, spray floors, roosts, and part of wall next to the floor with carbolineum, creosote, or waste oil. This will control mites for one year. It will also save the chicks arrive.

This is the time to make all necessary repairs too, adds Mr. Tarbell. Replace broken windows and stop up rat holes. Buy necessary parts for brooder stoves.

Check thermostat wafers by putting them in warm water. They will swell open immediately, if they are good. Repair feed hoppers and water fountains. Check the water supply. Check the roof for leaks and the walls for drafts.

Start brooder stoves and check their operation. Taking care of these details a few weeks before the chicks arrive will help give the chicks a better start. It will also save time later in the year.

Icebergs

Up in the heart of the Arctic Ocean icebergs are never seen. The reason for this is that there are few Arctic lands with glaciers large and active enough to produce giant bergs. Most bergs are "born" along the western coast of Greenland and are found in near-by waters.

Rail Service

During the second World war the railroads carried more than 97 per cent of all organized military travel and more than 90 per cent of the war freight. They performed more than 70 per cent of all freight service of every kind.

"Pretty Pebble"

A pebble found by two children in a river resulted in the discovery of the billion-dollar Kimberley diamond fields in South Africa. The children's "pretty pebble" was a diamond worth $2,500.

Order Chicks Now

Now is the time for Kent County poultrymen to order their chicks for flock replacements, according to William E. Tarbell, county agricultural agent. Egg prices are low now, but should improve later in the year. The efficient poultrymen can still make a profit. Of course efficient feeding and management, and quality production, are more important than ever.

February is a good time to start the first group of chicks for the laying flock. They will come into production in late summer, when egg prices are best, and with good management, will lay all through the winter and spring. By starting one group in February, the brooder house and equipment will be available to start another flock in April or May. These late chicks will start laying later in the fall, but will hold up production well the following summer. Hatching egg producers can start still another flock in September or October in order to furnish a year-round supply of eggs to their hatcherymen.

Quality chicks are more important this year than ever. Pullorum-clean chicks are best. Pullorum-clean are next best. Buying chicks with any other pullorum designation will mean some trouble for you with this disease, which was one of the main causes of chick mortality before blood-testing became popular.

Market egg producers should buy a strain of chicks bred for high production. Consulting records of egg-laying contests and the records of the breeder will help. Get your chicks nearby if possible so you can visit the breeding flock. Chicks are less likely to become chilled or overheated if they can be delivered in the hatcheryman's truck.

The cost of the chick is small percentage of the total cost of producing a laying hen. Be sure to get the best.

To The Correspondents

Ruth Algiers has joined the ranks of correspondents for THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL. She is doing a good job writing the Adamsville letter. We now have 22 correspondents and would like to have one at Sandtown.

We would like to have a roving correspondent to write farm news. We want our correspondents to send in news pictures from their sections. Pix will be returned on request. We are particularly interested in old pix as we are starting another historical page next week that will run for ten weeks.

Capitalize adjectives derived from proper nouns, as "English, Elizabethan, Germanic, Teutonic." Do not capitalize names and derivatives whose original significance has been obscured by long and common usage. Under this head fall such words as "india rubber, street arab, pasteurize, macadam, axminster, gatling, paris green, plaster of paris, philippic, socratic, herculean, guillotine, utopia, bohemian, phillistine, platonic."

Capitalize the articles in French names as "le, la, de, du," when used without a Christian name or title preceding, as "DuPont." But lowercase when preceded by a name or title, as Alfred I. duPont.

Do not capitalize army, navy, marines (but Frst Army, Marine Corps), fall, winter, spring, summer, a. m., and p. m. (unless in headlines).

Never use an abbreviation that would be unintelligible to the average reader. Initials of governmental agencies, whether military or civilian, American or foreign, are used without periods, as OPA, RAF, ROTC, PMA. The first time a name is used, it should be written out, as "Production Marketing Administration"; thereafter it may be abbreviated, as "PMA." Call letters of radio stations are written without periods or spaces, as "WDOV."

Save the Surface

America has become a nation on wheels. To keep those wheels spinning requires a whole range of special coatings to furnish beauty and protection. The finishes on stream-line trains, buses, street cars, tractors and trucks, must be tougher than the working conditions the vehicles encounter. They must be as rugged as the machines they protect.
