Harrington-Felton Road To Be Completed By Mid-Summer

Ahead of Schedule Because of Favorable Weather—Greenwood—Andrewville Road to Be Improved

Improvement of the back road from Harrington to Felton should be completed during mid-summer, according to M. Allan Wilson, chief engineer of the State Highway Department. At the same time, Wilson said the Andrewville-Greenwood road would be improved.

Because of favorable weather in the fall and winter, George & Lynch, the contractors on the Harrington-Felton project, will finish the job well ahead of the scheduled date, Oct. 30. The low bid on the job was $131,360.

The contracting firm has graded the job and constructed a bridge. The road, running from Little Masten's (the first crossroad north after passing Harrington High School) to Felton will be surface treated. When the West Street and Harrington-Farmington back road is surface treated, vehicles will have a secondary highway from Farmington to Felton by-passing the Harrington business district. This should come to pass before the year is out.

Wilson said Tuesday that the Andrewville-Greenwood road would be surface-treated within the next two years, though no preliminary work has been done on the project. The road, 4.4 miles in length, is Kent County Road 309 and Sussex County Road 589. It would run from Andrewville to U. S. 13 just north of Greenwood and is not to be confused with the Andrewville-Todd's Church Road.

Lewes Halts Harrington Win Streak, 48-36

The Lewes AA handed the Legionnaires their worst defeat of the season on the Lewes court, Monday night. It was the second win of the year over the locals and brought an end to a nine game streak by the Legionnaires. At the present, the Harrington five are in a tie for second place and Rehoboth has again taken over the lead as a result of their win over Milford.

Harrington fans were treated to a thriller last Thursday night when the Legion team eked out a win over the Smyrna Hornets in the last six seconds of play. Smyrna led throughout most of the game but the Harrington five rallied strong in the closing minutes and chalked up their ninth straight win.

The last 30 seconds found Smyrna with a two point lead. Bob Roberts tallied with a side arm shot and tied the game. With both teams trying desperately to get the ball, Grier of Smyrna, fouled Clay Downes. As the crowd yelled, Downes calmly stepped to the charity stripe and split the cords. That was the ball game because only six seconds were left and Harrington had possession.

Has Unique Business

Mrs. Laura Belle Layton

Unique Specialty Shop Brings Trade Here From Large Area

Harrington is fortunate, more than most people apparently realize, in having a unique specialty shop, one that is generally found in only larger communities. This is The Hollywood Shop, a business catering to the needs of infants and children.

This specialty shop, owned by Laura Belle Layton, will celebrate its second anniversary next Tuesday. In celebration of this event, the shop is offering special bargains which will be noted in the advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

The first The Hollywood Shop was established Feb. 21, 1948, in the Layton home on High Street because no space was available in the business district. When asked what induced her to start a specialty shop in a small town, Mrs. Layton answered, "There was no place to buy baby clothes in town and there were certainly enough babies around here."

After six or seven months in the home location, The Hollywood Shop was fortunate enough to secure its present choice location in the Reese Theatre Building. The new quarters permitted a larger stock of infants' and children's clothing and, consequently a larger range in sizes. Whereas, sizes formerly went to only 6x, sizes now run to 12.

The new quarters also permitted the sale of ladies' nylon hosiery and toys, with the latter including Virga dolls. The shop has a discount of 10 per cent on all layettes.

The Hollywood Shop has regular patrons from 20 miles around, thus bringing money into the town. Mrs. Layton said she appreciates the patronage of the past year and that she hopes to have more business from Harrington.

The store is open from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily except Wednesday and Saturday. It is closed Wednesday and open Saturday from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Rotary Club Entertains Scouts

The Harrington Rotary Club, sponsor of the local Boy Scout troop, entertained the Scouts Tuesday evening at the Wonder Bar.

Calvin Simpson, scoutmaster of the troop, was the first speaker. He told of the activities of the troop during the past year, stressing the annual visit to Camp Rodney. He was justly proud of the record made by the boys at the camp and throughout the year. At Camp Rodney, the local boys won many medals, and in a soft ball game walloped the Chincoctague, Va., team, up to that time supposed to be invincible.

Ernie Wilson, who has charge of the scouting work in all of Delaware below the canal, was the principal speaker. He paid a splendid tribute to Scoutmaster Simpson, as well as the members of the troop and presented the badges of merit to the youngsters.

Mr. Wilson told a story about a rather bright boy who was trying to question his father on current events. That latter was interested in his newspaper and grunted non-committal answers to the questions. The questions continued, and finally the exasperated father clipped the map of the world from a paper, cut it into many pieces and said to the boy: "This is the condition of the world today—in many pieces. You ask me why all nations can't live in harmony. See if you can put them together."

The boy took the pieces of the map and went into an adjoining room. In a few minutes he returned, carrying the pieces on a tray, all pieces properly fitted together.

"How on earth did you get all those pieces together in such a short time?" asked the amazed father.

"Well," replied the boy, "you didn't notice it, father, but there was a picture of a boy on the other side of the paper. I didn't bother about trying to piece the world together—I just fixed the boy up good and straight and I knew the world would come out all right."

Rotarians John Parks and Wesley Butler, long active in Boy Scout work, made brief but excellent speeches.

Marshall Wilson, Penns Grove, N. J., was a visiting Rotarian.

Other teams in the league this year are Harrington, Farmington, Viola, Tower, and Playtex.

Another meeting will be held Mon., Feb. 27, at Welch's Store, Harrington, to elect officers and formulate by-laws.

Kent County Prepares Chorus

The Kent County Music Educators Association has completed plans for a select all-high school chorus. Several rehearsals have already been held, and plans made to tour the county with this organization during the week of March 19 when it will appear before the audiences of the various high schools including Smyrna, Dover, Caesar Rodney, Felton, Milford, and Harrington which comprise the membership.

The repertoire will include the Russian Folk Song "Fireflies," Tchaikowsky's "Legend," "I Love Life" by Mana-Zucca, "Cindy" arranged by Harry R. A feature of the repertoire will include a rendition of Geoffrey O'Hara's "One World" for chorus and band.

The directors of the various high schools are sharing the podium for the various numbers, and they include Melvin Brobst of Harrington, John Fryck of Milford, Miss Grace Dearsteyne of Felton, Edwin Englehart of Caesar Rodney, Harry Carrell of Dover, and Miss Alice Brown of Wyoming.

Moose Lodge Initiates 20

Twenty members were initiated into Harrington Lodge No. 534, Loyal Order of Moose, in two initiations.

J. E. Porter, William P. Callahan, Leonard LeGates, and Ellis Myer were initiated Tuesday evening. Sixteen new members were fully initiated into the lodge Sun, Feb. 5. They were: Norris H. Emory, Roland H. Stayton, Charles Price Sr., Charles Price Jr., Harry G. Craig, John McMullen, William Barlow, George M. Pfeiffer, Anthony Phillips, Norman Z. Walls, Alexander Marcenkevich, William H. Hurley, Roland Killen, Thomas K. Walters, Henry Wyatt, and Charles A. Jerred.

The degree work was carried to its fullest extent by the prize-winning Maryland Degree Team of Point-Dundalk Lodge No. 1228.

Maurice Cole, membership director, conducted an interesting and entertaining meeting at the first initiation. His remarks on the good work done by the Loyal Order of Moose at Moosehart, Ill., were particularly apropos.

Since Cole began his membership work with the local lodge and others on the Eastern Shore, there is a greater interest being displayed in reaching the membership quota assigned. While the goal has not been attained yet, the lodge is optimistic regarding its ultimate aim.

Attending the first initiation were visiting members from Penns Grove, N. J., and as far as Chicago.

By popular request, the local lodge will again show the films shown here last January depicting life at Mooseheart, the "Child City," the most unique and most beneficial institution of its kind in the world. The date is Sun, March 12, at 2 p. m., at the Harrington firehouse. The public is cordially invited. Children accompanied by parents are welcome.

Democrats Organize At Smyrna

Democrats of the first to fifth representative districts, inclusive, organized Friday night at Smyrna. Some 65 persons attended.

Harry Farrow Sr.

Farrow Covers Lots of Ground For Railroad

Harry Gilmore Farrow Sr., was another Harrington boy to be awarded a 25-year service button by the Pennsylvania Railroad recently.

Although Harry has 32 years' service with the Pennsylvania, the company gives its employees buttons for 25 years, 40 years, and 50 years' service. In eight years, Harry will receive a button for 40 years' service.

Farrow began service with the Pennsylvania Railroad April 27, 1918, as messenger in the Dover passenger ticket office under J. H. West, ticket agent, at $19.75 per month. He was transferred to Claymont in 1919 as freight clerk and, later in the year, he returned to Dover as ticket clerk and extra ticket clerk over the Delaware Division, now the Delmarva Division. The same year he was offered a position in the ticket office in Atlantic City, but declined to stay with West to learn more about ticket work.

In the layoff in 1920, Farrow was demoted to messenger boy at Harrington passenger station under the agent L. C. Jones. He was transferred to Wilmington Office Building the next year as chief messenger, after which he was transferred in 1922 to Swarthmore, Pa., as assistant ticket agent.

In 1923 Farrow became a freight brakeman in Wilmington from which following he was furloughed in 1925.

Harry then took a trip to Florida where he accepted a position as freight brakeman at New Smyrna with the Florida East Coast Railroad. He returned to the Pennsylvania Railroad Dec. 1, 1925, as passenger brakeman, or as is now known, passenger trainman, in Philadelphia.

In 1936 the local boy was promoted to passenger conductor. Today he is running between Washington and New York on one of the Pennsylvania's crack trains, "The Federal," No. 172, which runs from Washington to Boston. Harry has spent two-thirds of his life with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Who made that crack, "When does Farrow work?"

Chosen Friends Lodge No. 35

I. O. O. F.

The dartball team ended its losing streak last Thursday evening when it defeated Georgetown here. The Sussex countians had lost only one game this season, and that also to the local boys.

Two of our boys had been drinking a lot of milk this past week, and had been getting their arms in shape for this game. One had two homers and two triples. The team, as a whole, was at its best in this game. Capt. Paul Porter was much pleased.

We also played Ocean Wave Lodge, Rehoboth, Monday evening and won this, making six games won this season. It seems one of our milked boys could not get a hit during this game, while the others seemed a lot better. We wondered if the grade of milk made any difference.

The next game will be with Milford Monday evening at Milford, so come out you dart-playing boys.

A seven piece orchestra furnished music for dancing. Upon their return from a honeymoon in the south, Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, will make their home in Baltimore.

Fruit-filled Coffee Cake Square

Slices of this unusual square coffee cake reveal an unusual—and rich—filling made with dried figs. Fig square makes a novel bread for afternoon parties.

Every home baker delights in surprising friends and guests now and then with a different cake, cookie, or yeast bread. Fig square is "hot off the press" and a coffee cake that will be wanted on the family table often.

As highlight on breakfast or luncheon menu, this coffee cake made with enriched flour includes a generous amount of the B-vitamins and iron the family needs. The fig filling is mineral-rich. Be sure to scald fresh liquid milk used in making fig square and other yeast breads. Scalding stops enzyme action which might otherwise cause some softening of the dough. It also makes a dough that is easy to handle.

You'll be delighted with the easy shaping of fig coffee cake square. Spread fig filling over rolled-out dough and roll up like a jelly roll. Place filled roll along sides of a square pan, and the square is made.

FIG SQUARE
1 package yeast, compressed or dry
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 egg, beaten
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind (if desired)
3/4 cup sifted enriched flour
Melted butter or margarine

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add flour to make a thick batter. Mix well. Add softened yeast and egg. Beat well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1 1/2 hours). When light, punch down. Let rest 10 minutes. Pat or roll into a rectangular sheet about one-half inch thick and eight inches wide. Brush with butter or margarine. Spread with fig filling. Roll up like jelly-roll sealing edge. Shape around edges of an 8-inch square pan. At each corner, with scissors, cut through the roll almost to the bottom. Then cut slantwise through the roll in three places on each side of the square. Let rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

FIG FILLING
1 tablespoon enriched flour
Dash salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice water, sugar mixed with flour, and salt. Cook slowly about 10 minutes or until thickened. Add lemon juice and cool. Makes one fig square.

Cover figs with boiling water and let stand about 10 minutes. Drain, clip off stems, and snip figs into small pieces with scissors. Add

2:30 to 4:30 o'clock at the M. E. parsonage. This tea is not for the members alone, but for any one who might be interested in our parsonage and church. Historical Sketches of Harrington and Near-By Communities

MISPILLION HUNDRED

White's Chapel
Mispillion hundred figures conspicuously in the history of the Methodist Church in America. At the home of Thomas White, then a judge of the Court of Common Pleas for Kent County, the meeting of the First Sectional Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States was held May 28, 1779. Meetings were held in Judge White's home in 1777 and in April 1778, the judge was arrested by the Light Horse Patrol and confined in jail on the charge of being a Methodist.
Asbury, who had been hiding at the White home, fled north to Stultown, a crossroad east of Sudlersville and hid all day in a cypress swamp. Later he was taken into the home of John Fogwell and kept as a distinguished guest until it was safe to return to Judge White's.
Judge White's was an ideal place to hide. Off the beaten track, a comfortable brick house, a heavy forest to slip into, and a warm hearted, high minded, socially prominent family to assist. A letter, commending the cause of the patriots, from Asbury was intercepted by the patriots and he was again in their good graces.
The White home was built by a man named Douglas with bricks from England. The house now has a frame addition. It stands on the dirt road leading from Whitesburg to Burrsville and can be easily seen from the Harrington-Greensboro nine-foot road. Leonard Harrington, who lived there with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harrington, 62 years ago, said when he went there as a boy of five, that the cellar had iron cells formerly used for slaves.

In back of the house was a graveyard in which Judge White was buried in 1795. This resting place has been tilled over. Mr. Harrington said an Indian trail crossed the farm and that he has found many arrowheads at the camping place of the aborigines on a knoll. The farm is owned by Alfred Raughley.
On the west side, or opposite side of the road, approximately 1/4 mile from the farmhouse toward Burrsville, is the original site of White's Chapel. Mr. Harrington remembers plowing up bricks from the foundation.
Bishop Asbury selected a spot for the chapel and raised 80 pounds for its construction Jan. 11, 1780, but did not preach there until Oct. 6, 1782. The building was replaced by a new one in 1839. The land now belongs to Bill Steward, having been sold to him by the late Susan B. Harrington, sister of Mr. Harrington.
White's Chapel was later moved to Whitesburg. It was then moved to the neighborhood of the Dick Carter farm where it was known as Lee's Chapel. Later the building, a 20x40-foot structure was moved to the Carter farm where it is now used as a garage. The Carter farm is on the road from Whitesburg to what was formerly called Chilton's Camp.
Todd's Church
Methodist meetings were held in the homes of Widow Jump and Levin Todd long before the chapel was built. The society was organized in 1800, but Methodists had been in the neighborhood since 1777. In 1808, Olive Jump gave land to build a church and upon this plot the chapel was built the same year. The present church was dedicated May 30, 1858.

Bishop Asbury visited the chapel Oct. 2, 1784, and held a Watch night service there Nov. 12, 1787. He preached there Nov. 14, 1788.
Asbury Methodist
The third Methodist church in Mispillion hundred was Asbury, built on the road from Harrington to Felton, on land conveyed April 14, 1814, for the purpose by William Masten. It was a mile and a half from Masten's Corner on the right side of the road going from Harrington. The church, with a schoolhouse, stood in a grove on what is now the Clarence Jarrell farm. Mrs. John Sheldrake, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, lived on an adjoining farm. Mrs. Sheldrake said that Mrs. T. L. Adams and the families of Mrs. Jennie Creadick and Mrs. Nellie (W.S.) Smith attended the church.
Mrs. Adams said she attended Sunday morning but that occasionally a group would walk from the village to attend afternoon services at Asbury. Mrs. Adams said the church and school buildings were moved to become farm buildings. She is not certain of the date but believes it might have been in the first decade of this century. Mrs. Sheldrake believes the buildings were standing when the Jones family moved to Harrington in 1897. Mr. Jones had a grocery store on part of the Postoffice site. The church was purchased by Dave Brown and moved to Blades Camp Ground, from which it was thence moved to Sugar Stick Road and converted into a farmhouse.

The schoolhouse was purchased by Leonard Harrington and moved to Harrington. It was converted into a dwelling-house, now owned by Mrs. Harrington, and is occupied by Ada Colbourne on Liberty Street at West Street.
Salem Methodist
Salem Methodist Church was built a mile east of Farmington in 1816. A conveyance of the land is on record bearing date of May 21, 1817, from Thomas Davis to Jonathan Jester, Nathan Davis, Clement Jester, Curtis Caudey, and Elijah Pritchett, trustees of Meeting and School House erected on the premises which consisted of 35 perches of land. This church continued to be used until the Farmington Church was built in 1873. At that time the congregation of Salem merged with the Farmington Society. The only evidence of the former church is the graves of yesterday when Salem once thrived.
Manship's Church
Manship's Church, or the old Black Swamp Church, near Hollandville, was dedicated by the Rev. Andrew Manship after whom it was named, Dec. 2, 1855. The church took the place of the Black Swamp Church located a mile or so up the road toward Felton. The church is known now for its Thanksgiving dinners.
The Black Swamp Church was built prior to 1800. Later it joined with Manship's.

Guests were from Wilmington, Millville, Harrington and Bowers.
Appreciation is extended to the community and interested friends elsewhere, for the wonderful response to the organ fund drive Sunday. Though there is still a very small deficit at this writing, we feel sure that that will be met in the matter of a short while, possibly by another Sunday.

HOW TO BE A "GOOD SPORT" on Party-Line Telephones

- When you start to make a call and find the line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call.
- When, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up in a few minutes and free the line.

The wonderful thing about these little courtesies is that they're returned . . . with dividends for all in good telephone service. When party-line neighbors are "good sports" on the telephone, everybody benefits!

Merrymakers Club Surveys Laundry, Dry Cleaning

The Merrymakers Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Lillian Black, with Mrs. Charles Peck, president, presiding at the business meeting, Wed., Feb. 8. A discussion followed concerning the giving of 50c by each member to be put in the Donation Fund to be used for donations to the March of Dimes, the Cancer Drive and the Red Cross. It was moved and seconded that this suggestion be followed. A collection was taken from the Sunshine Fund.

A survey on dry cleaning and laundering was made and the following generalities were recorded. All members used the dry cleaners and a small number use a commercial laundry for part of their weekly wash. Twelve members use a local dry cleaner, two members use an out-of-town service. There were five members who were completely satisfied with dry cleaners. The most dissatisfaction from dry cleaning arose from excess shrinking and improper pressing, the majority of the club agreed that, on the whole, dry cleaning and laundry service are fairly good.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Leonard Taylor gave an excellent demonstration on the making of milk desserts. Desserts which they made were custard bread pudding, lemon sherbert, baked custard and orange pudding. These desserts were served to the members, with cookies and coffee for refreshments. Mrs. Benjamin Hughes was cohostess for the meeting.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday evening, March 8, at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Masten. Mrs. Ethel Rapp will be cohostess. The topic for the evening will be "How to Use Color in Decorating your Living Room." Mrs. Violet Goodwill, home demonstration agent for Kent County, announced that a representative from Feinberg's Furniture Store, of Wilmington, would be present at the meeting and show motion pictures.

Social Security Queries Answered

Questions relating to Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance will be answered in this paper or by mail. Address all queries to Social Security Administration, Old Customs House Building, 6th & King Streets, Wilmington, Del.

Q. Does everybody get the same amount in benefits?

A. No. Benefits are based primarily on the worker's average monthly wages. He is credited with all wages up to $3,000 a year. The Social Security Administration keeps an account for every worker in covered employment, under the worker's name and social security number. This number is the same as that on the social security card that the worker takes out the first time he gets a job in private industry or commerce. When the worker or his family files a claim for benefits, the worker's social security account determines the size of the benefits.

Q. I was over 65 when social security started. Can I get any benefits?

A. Yes, if you have been paid wages of $50 or more in each of six calendar quarters since January 1, 1939. You must file a claim to get benefits.

Q. Is it necessary for a housewife who has never been employed and never expects to be, to have a social security number?

A. No.

To The Correspondents

Do not abbreviate the names of states except when they follow names of cities. Note the following style: "In Delaware, At Harrington, Kent County, Del., In Kent County, Delaware."

Omit the state after a city if the city is sufficiently identified without it, as in the case of Chicago, New Orleans, Los Angeles, Boston, Louisville, Topeka, Little Rock, Des Moines Philadelphia, Baltimore, etc. With most cities and towns in Delaware, the "Del." should be omitted.

Abbreviate "Saint" (also "Saints" and "Sainte") in proper names as "St. Louis SS Peter and Paul's Church, Sault Ste. Marie." Abbreviate also "Fort" and "Mount" in proper names, as "Pt. Dix" and "Mt. Vernon."

A title used as a part of a name ordinarily is abbreviated if the title has a well recognized abbreviation. Do not abbreviate any title when used otherwise. Thus: "Dr. J. J. Smith, Dr. Smith, Prof. Smith"; but "He called on the governor, E. N. Carvel."

Most military titles are abbreviated. Military abbreviations are Gen., Col., Maj., Capt., Lt., Sgt., Cpl., and Pvt. Comdr. is the abbreviation for Commander (Navy) but Admiral, Commodore, and Ensign are not abbreviated.

Other titles always abbreviated with names include: "the Rev., Gov., Lieut.-Gov., Atty.-Gen., Gov.-Gen., Supt., Sec., Treas"

Most other titles are spelled out, even with names.

A word commonly abbreviated continues to be abbreviated when used with a word not abbreviated, as "First Lt. Smith, Color Sgt. Brown, Gov.-elect Carvel, former-Gov. Bacon."

The abbreviation for "Monsignor" is "Mons.", not "Mgr."

Abbreviate the names of months (except March, April, May, June, and July) when followed by the day of a month, but not otherwise: "Jan. 19, in January, the 5th of January." Write "Jan. 19," not "Jan. 19th."

Frear Urges Passage of EDC Act

United States Senator J. Allen Frear, Jr., has urged passage of the Economic Development Corporation Act as a means of strengthening the American system of free enterprise.

The proposal, known originally as "The Delaware Plan" and the "Little Man's RFC," was introduced during the last session of Congress by Senator Barkley just before he took the oath of office as vice-president. Senator Frear is cosponsor of the bill. It would authorize the creation of an agency with power to provide long term credits and technical advisory services to private businesses, individuals, especially veterans, firms, and corporations. The legislation would not require any appropriations by Congress nor would it be of any cost to taxpayers, Senator Frear said.

The agency as set up by the Act would borrow money from the federal treasury and lend it with an interest rate. Senator Frear declared that the passage of the bill would help establish many small businesses and industries throughout this country and abroad and thus fulfill the intent of the Point Four Program to develop underprivileged areas.

The senator's remarks were contained in his weekly radio report over WDEL. On other legislative matters, Senator Frear said that a joint Senate-House Conference Committee is still deadlocked over his amendment which requires the molding and packaging of oleomargarine in triangular form. Mr. Frear called for acceptance of his amendment which, he said, was introduced for the purpose of identification.

Spicy Food Bad for Dog
One disadvantage of feeding table scraps to the family pup is that such foods are often too spicy and may cause digestive disturbances. Another disadvantage frequently cited by veterinarians is that when dogs are fed largely on table scraps, they may not get all the nutritional elements they need. Left-overs are all right as a supplement to the dog's diet, however, provided that the basic ration is well-balanced and of good quality.

Democrats To Meet

The Kent and Sussex Democratic Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Pocahontas Hall, S. E. Front Street, Milford, Thurs, Feb. 16 at 8:00 p. m.

The meeting is of considerable importance to members, because nominations will be made from the floor for an entire slate of officers for the ensuing year and thought will be given to the adoption of a constitution and by-laws to be presented by the constitution committee.

Senator R. Allen Cannon is expected to be the speaker of the evening.

Raw and steamed oysters will be served following the meeting.

Plans For 1950 Chicken Festival To Be Discussed

Plans for the 1950 Chicken Festival will be discussed at a meeting to be held at Georgetown High School today at 8:00 p. m., according to Dave Greene, chairman of the Festival Committee.

Representatives from Chambers of Commerce, service clubs, fire companies, business concerns, and other interested groups, are invited to be present and assist in shaping the plans for the biggest and best festival yet held.

A report from the committee on selecting the site will be made at this meeting and a decision reached as to just where the festival will be held this year. Members of this committee are Dave Greene, Dover, representing Delaware; Donald McDowell, Salisbury, representing Maryland; and Ed Kelley, Pocomoke, representing Virginia.

Mr. Greene stated that the success of the festival during the past two years in publicizing the peninsula and its poultry industry has far exceeded the expectation of the committee. In view of this progress, the committee now feels that if the festival is to continue to grow and render its greatest good to the entire peninsula it is necessary for all groups to become actively interested in planning the program and carrying out the many duties in its successful completion.

Eastern Shore Society to Hold Washington Dinner

The next meeting of the Eastern Shore Society of Washington, D. C., will be a dinner at the Roger Smith Hotel, Tuesday at 7:00 p. m. The Honorable Edward T. Miller, Congressman from Maryland, will be the guest speaker.

There will be a barber shop quartette and other entertainment. All Eastern Shoremen of Maryland, Delaware and Virginia are invited to attend. Reservations may be made through Dr. Emil J. C. Hildenbrand or Mr. C. E. Branner in Washington, D. C.

Breeders Group To Meet

The Delaware Artificial Breeders Association will hold its annual meeting Tues, March 7, at Newark, announces Delmar J. Young, secretary of the association.

Starting at 11 a. m., members will visit the bull barn and see the recently-installed rotary exerciser, which is capable of exercising six bulls at one time. During the morning there will also be a demonstration of activities at the bull laboratory stalls.

Guest speaker at the afternoon session will be Prof. S. J. Brownell, head of the animal husbandry extension department, Cornell University, who will discuss the development of an artificial breeding program.

Program arrangements for the meeting are being handled by County Agents Edward Schabinger, Newark; William Tarbell, Dover, and William Henderson, Georgetown; and Mr. Young, Chairman of the budget committee is P. F. Friedel, Viola; with Clyde Betts, Milton; and H. Wallace Cook, Elkton, as committee members.

John Bogan, Milford, Enlists in Army

John Bogan, 17, of Milford has enlisted in the regular army for assignment to the infantry.

He was enlisted by the Dover recruiting station for three years and has been assigned to Ft. Dix, N. J., for his basic training. At the completion of this training, he will be assigned to an infantry division and will continue his education in one of the many technical schools that are open to his choice.

His parents live just south of Milford and expect John to be home on leave in about 15 weeks.

Sussex Dairymen Organize Four Local Discussion Groups

Sussex County dairymen, in cooperation with the extension service, have just completed the organization of four local discussion groups to sponsor discussions on the dairy business, according to W. H. Henderson, county agent.

The locals and the chairmen are as follows: Greenwood, Joseph Bailey, Federalsburg; Seaford, Raymond Gordy, Seaford; Lewes, Roland Marsh, Lewes; and Lincoln, Wm. T. Thompson, Lincoln.

Plans call for meetings to be held bimonthly with two clubs meeting one month and the other two meeting the next month.

Practical dairymen, health authorities, milk distributors, and others in the field of dairying will be called upon from time to time to act as discussion leaders.

While the lead in developing these local groups was taken by the Sussex Unit of the Delaware

Artificial Breeders' Cooperative in co-operation with the Sussex County extension office, it should be understood that all dairymen are invited to attend the meetings whenever they are held.

Frankly we do not know why Harrington does not have a real estate agency, but we believe it needs one. We believe that a real estate agency is an asset to the town and that it aids in the community's growth and plays a vital part in its progress.

Harrington needs an auctioneer. The nearest ones we know of live 12 miles away. This might be a good calling for a former war veteran.

OUR HISTORICAL PAGE

On an inside page of this issue, one will see the second installment of a series of ten historical articles on Harrington and near-by communities. It was the outgrowth of a series, well-received, we ran more than a year ago.

We believe the advertisers on the historical page are performing a community service in making these articles possible. Much of the material is being recorded on paper for the first time. Much of it is first-hand information coming from individuals, who lived well back in the 19th century.

Without these articles then, available only in THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL, much of this historical information would no longer be available within a few years. Few copies of Harrington newspapers, which existed back to 1888 and possibly before, are in extant.

The current series will be mostly historical sketches without continuity. It is hoped that some of these days, some organization will issue a book on the history of this region. We have an abundance of material and engravings here.

In the meanwhile, may we ask the readers to thank the advertisers on the historical page for making it possible?

THE UNDISCOURAGED WASHINGTON

Unshaken by defeat, calm before unjust criticism at home, with steady unyielding courage, George Washington faced and conquered every obstacle that stood in the path that led to final triumph and the birth of a great nation.

His life is an inspiration. It shows how inflexible purpose may win for us our lesser victories, if we but carry through to the end every worthy thing begun.

Rehearsals have been under way for several weeks under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn West, of Millsboro. Mrs. West has produced a number of minstrel shows in the area in recent years. The Lion's Minstrel Show will be presented on the stage of the New Milford Theatre. Approximately 50 per cent of this capacity will be on a reserved seat basis at a price of $1.00 with the balance unreserved at 76c. Children's admission is 35c. Trinity Methodist Church Notes

Recently a writer, in discussing religion in the Sunday School over against religion in the public schools and the home, said: "They (Sunday Schools) must offset in their one hour the indoctrinating silence of thirty hours of weekday school. They must grapple with the more-than-thirty hours of practical godlessness in many a home." He further stated that the task of the Sunday School seemed almost an impossible one; and likened it unto the case of a man who, hearing his case called in the court room as "The State against John Smith," exclaimed, "My God, what a majority!" Well then, come at 9:45 Sunday morning, join the class of your choice and help us in this gigantic task. At eleven o'clock our Senior Choir will render special musical numbers, Mr. Randall H. Knox, Jr., will speak, and the pastor will preach on, "How To Help The Bruised," St. Luke 4: 18. Betty Bradley will be the leader in the youth meeting at 6:30 p. m. in the Church Annex. At 7:30 p. m. our Youth Choir will render special musical selections; and the pastor will preach on, "A Calm Heart" using Psalm 16: 8. Monday Evening: M. Y. F. Rally at Greenwood. Thursday Evening: Junior and Senior Chorus rehearsal. Thursday Evening: The Fellowship Bible class meeting. Friday Evening: World Day of Prayer Service.
