

Tax Information Meetings To Be Held Over State

Administration Wishes To Offset "Unfavorable Light" in Some Quarters

Every possible effort will be made to acquaint the citizens of Delaware with the present State tax program, according to plans now in course of preparation by the State Administration to offset what has been termed "an unfavorable light" in which the State taxes have been placed in certain quarters.

Secretary of State Harris B. McDowell, Jr., said to bring the facts of the State income to the attention of the public, meetings will be held in each of the counties and in Wilmington, and that specific information will be prepared in pamphlet form for distribution to all who wish to read it.

Mr. McDowell pointed out that most of the criticism of the taxes is coming from a few persons who have been accustomed to running the affairs of this State, "but now find a State Administration that is endeavoring to serve all of the people rather than follow the dictates of a few."

He also referred to the adoption of some of the present taxes which were passed by the last session of the Legislature, a Republican controlled body, and of 52 members, only two voted against the income tax measure and they were members of the House. Action in the Senate on this measure was unanimous.

"The present tax program touches only those persons who are able to pay," stated Mr. McDowell, "and the information we will present to the public will show these taxes to be on that basis despite some of the misrepresentations that have been in effect."

Mr. McDowell, who is also Democratic state chairman, announced that plans for the 1950 campaign are rapidly being completed by the Democrats of the State who, he stated, plan to meet every challenge from any quarter.

"We plan," stated Mr. McDowell, "to examine the voting record in Congress of U. S. Representative J. Caleb Boggs who is receiving much publicity concerning introduction of measures, many of which he knew at the time of their introduction, would not reach the floor of Congress for a vote."

"We believe the people of Delaware are entitled to know if the voting record of Mr. Boggs will show him as supporting some of the theory he has attempted to present in the measures he has introduced."

"It should be of interest to learn whether the first and foremost interest of Mr. Boggs was the general welfare of all of the people in Delaware or the Republican Party with whom he is affiliated and who it is now well known have done everything in their power to resist enactment into law of the principles of the Truman administration which the people endorsed through their votes at the last general election."

Governor Sees Promises Kept

Promises made in the Democratic platform have been fulfilled, Gov. Elbert N. Carvel told the meeting of the newly organized Kent County Democratic Club in Legislative Hall at Dover, Tuesday night.

He added that the recommendations he made in his inaugural address have also been carried out.

Reviewing the record of his administration, the Governor pointed to the school building program, the higher salary schedule for teachers, the highway improvement program, and increased aid to hospitals.

He said that to finance these improvements in the state it was necessary to raise additional revenue through a tax program which he said is being grossly misunderstood by some people.

The Governor said that a man and wife with two children and a family income of $4,000 a year pays only $1.50 more in state taxes under the new law than he did under the previous income tax system.

Taxpayers in the higher brackets, he said, get credit for Delaware income taxes in figuring their federal taxes.

Secretary of State Harris B. McDowell, Jr., and State Treasurer Willard D. Boyce both addressed the meeting. Mr. McDowell is state chairman of the Democratic Party and Mr. Boyce is Kent County chairman.

Election of permanent officers of the club was postponed for a month. State Rep. Allen J. Cook of Kenton presided.

New Mayor

E. B. Rash

Mayor Writes Editor a Letter

A few hours after I took the oath as Mayor of Harrington, Winnie Burgess of the Journal office, called me and opened the interview with a barrage of questions.

I told Winnie that modesty prevented me from talking freely about my accomplishments. I told him, I had been in the workhouse and the State Hospital at Farnhurst. Winnie said, we won't put that in the paper. He asked if I was a native of Harrington? I told him I was born on a farm near Camden, Del. and added can't you tell I am a farmer by the way I walk? Winnie said, I can't around here.

I came to Harrington in 1912, as an employee of that truly great man, Charles D. Murphy. I remained as an employee and partner for 18 years. I shall always revere his name.

My initiation into public office was when I was elected to the Harrington School Board, one of our good citizens publicly stated, he was going to vote for Rash, because he thought too much of Mrs. Clara Harrington to fill such an office.

In 1923 I established my own business, the Delmarva Oil Corp. Service Stations and other property on U. S. 13. In 1925 I was elected a director in the Peoples Bank and later to serve on the finance committee. Soon after the bank failed, I was elected to the Kenton General Hospital, Dover. Troopers said she is suffering from contusions received from her husband a short time before he shot himself.

Mrs. Legates was released from the hospital Tuesday. She had sustained severe lacerations of the scalp, requiring several stitches, and injury to her right arm and left hand.

Mrs. Neal, of Wilmington, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Jester.

Legionnaires Win In Tournament And In League

Defeat Ft. Miles, Dover And Felton; Play Tomorrow in Tourney

By Tom Peck

The Harrington Legionnaires got the Dover YMCA tournament underway with a smashing victory over the Ft. Miles entry at the Dover fieldhouse Saturday night. The soldiers were never a threat as the local team forged ahead to a comfortable 18-4 tally in the first period and padded their lead as the game progressed.

The Coast Artillery boys had trouble finding the range and their 19 point score was the lowest team score of the evening. They entered the tournament as an unknown quintet, playing previously only service teams out of this area.

Jack Dill, Harrington's high scoring center had a field night rolling in 27 points. That was the highest individual shooting performance of the night. Clay Downes and Bob Roberts had 18 and 11 points respectively for the victors.

Jack Dill, led Harrington with 22 points. Clay Downes had 17, while Frank O'Neal connected for 12 from away out. Harry Fisher took game honors with 29.

Clay Downes continues to set a terrific pace for individual scoring. In 23 games, he has split the cords for 413 points for an average of 18 per game.

Schedule for Saturday

Harrington vs. Georgetown
Delaware City vs. Denton

Harrington Scores Win Over Felton Vets—In 2nd Place

The Legionnaires eked out a 76-66 victory over the Felton Vets at Felton Tuesday night. The home team took a comfortable lead in a wild first half which featured most everything. The Vets aggressiveness resulted in numerous fouls and wild passes. There was plenty of action under the baskets and Harrington shooters were forced to the limit. Manager Bill Minner substituted freely with every player sharing in the scoring. Felton played Harrington on even terms in the third period. Each team tallied 17 points. They outscored the locals 27 to 26 in the final period but the Legionnaires had piled up enough in the first half to withstand the threat.

Jack Dill, led Harrington with 22 points. Clay Downes had 17, while Frank O'Neal connected for 12 from away out. Harry Fisher took game honors with 29.

Clay Downes continues to set a terrific pace for individual scoring. In 23 games, he has split the cords for 413 points for an average of 18 per game.

Felton School District Can Sell More Bonds Without Tax Increase

At a special meeting of the voters of the Felton School District at Felton High School Monday, a motion was unanimously passed to hold a second referendum for the sale of additional school bonds in the amount of $32,370. Because of an under-estimating of the assessable wealth of the district last year, the additional bonds could be financed without increasing the tax rate as approved by the voters in the referendum last December.

The amount of the first issue was limited to $40,000, since the amount of assessable real estate in the school district was estimated to be $890,000 and the issue could not exceed five per cent of the assessed valuation.

A re-check of the figures showed that the actual assessed valuation of property in the school district is $1,896,000 and that a cleric al error had been made in totaling the assessed valuation in the spring of 1949.

The voters attending the meeting unanimously approved a motion to take necessary steps to hold a second referendum authorizing the sale of a second series of bonds amounting to $32,370. This amount would increase funds available for building purposes from $52,630 to $85,000, yet the tax rate as originally estimated would not be increased.

The additional funds would be used to construct a new corridor, a storage room, a larger cafeteria than previously possible and an agriculture workshop. New equipment for all rooms involved in the construction program could be purchased instead of used equipment as had been originally contemplated because of limited building funds.

Railroad News

Tomorrow night is oyster night for all Delmarva Division employees. The annual oyster roast and safety rally gets underway at 5:00 p. m. tomorrow (Saturday) in the Armory at Salisbury. Superintendent T. M. Goodfellow has requested all employees of all divisions to try and attend. His special announcement says "Don't Miss This Party—Bring Your Oyster Knife." But don't let the absence of a knife keep you away. Arrangements have been made for clam chowder, baked ham, sweeter cheese, potato salad, frankfurters, sauerkraut and hot coffee in addition to the oysters which are to be steamed, stewed and raw.

So there will be all kinds of good eats from 5:00 to 7:00 p. m., and speeches by our higher officials from 7:00 to 7:30 p. m. There will be five acts of vaudeville from 7:30 to 9:00 p. m.

A special train will pick up employees from Wilmington south, passing through Harrington at 3:40 p. m. and returning from Salisbury at 9:45 p. m. after the show.

This STAG party has been set up several times and had to be postponed until the coal strike was settled and furloughed men returned to work.

It was nice of John to let us go back to work. But it was nicer that his men didn't go back until they were allowed to work five and six days a week instead of three. This added supply of coal will cause business to boom everywhere in the near future. The higher prices of coal will also force steam locomotives out of service and we will have diesels here very shortly.

During the cold snap last week, Howard Sipple and Byron Burgess were standing in the cab of the engine on D-37 with their backs toward the fire box wondering why a man's back always got so much colder than the rest of his anatomy. Les Rogers told them it all started when the ark was settling down after the flood and bumped into the top of a telegraph pole, punching a hole in the bottom of the boat. Noah's little dog stuck his nose in the hole but could not stand it, so that's why dogs have cold noses. Noah's wife stuck her foot in the hole to try to stop it up but she could not stand it and that's why women have cold feet. So Noah sat down on it and that's why men stand with their backs to the fire.

The fire's out. The coal strike is settled. Two of our passenger trains went back Monday, and they lived happily ever after.

The conference held in connection with the coal strike made us think the fellow was right, who said "A conference is a body of men who, singly can do nothing but who meet together to decide that nothing can be done."

While no revenue was involved, our Superintendent and Mrs. Goodfellow appreciated very much the fine turnout of Harrington ladies attending the Women's Aid luncheon at Delmar, Wednesday afternoon. These 17 ladies also took this opportunity to show their appreciation of the passenger service restored last Monday when the Delmarva Express north at 4:46 p. m. and south at 12:20 p. m. was put back on.

Those attending the luncheon were: Mrs. R. R. McClain, Mrs. G. F. Rapp, Mrs. W. C. Miller, Mrs. H. D. Williams, Mrs. W. S. McCabe, Mrs. Wade Mitchell, Mrs. Marion Brown, Mrs. O. T. Perry, Mrs. G. W. Toppin, Mrs. Edmund Taylor, Mrs. O. C. Passmore, Mrs. C. W. Hopkins, Mrs. J. C. Cordray, Mrs. W. G. LeKites, Mrs. D. H. Hitchens, Mrs. Ernest Homewood, Mrs. Harley Waller.

It has long been the desire of many of the railroad men here, that these ladies organize their own Aid Unit and show the rest of the division that Harrington can make just as good a showing as the Delmar and Cape Charles units, when it comes to entertaining luncheons of this kind. These kind of get-togethers can do a lot to help bring back the business that may some time lead to restoration of the morning and evening local trains needed so badly here.

Cleaners Hear Research Expert

The problems in concocting and marketing an oil, paint, and grease remover, are many, Julian Stauble, of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company, of Philadelphia, told some 40 members of the Delmarva Cleaners and Laundry Association at their March dinner meeting Monday evening at the Grange Hall at Milford.

Stauble, an expert on dry cleaning chemistry, enumerated some of the requirements as follows: an odorless solvent with a high soap content, a low freezing point, lack of rancidity and toxicity, a reasonable cost, pleasing appearance.

The expert added that the remover must not damage the textiles nor affect dyes. It must be suitable for blending with other solvents and must prevent excessive corrosion. It should not cake nor decompose nor cause excessive corrosion, or rusting.

Stauble said that the new products were given field tests in cleaning plants throughout the nation before being considered for sale.

Four members of the six-member board of directors were elected at the meeting, the temporary chairman of which was William Paul, of Cambridge. They were: Dr. J. Edward Dunn, Seaford; Louis Shortall, Easton; Clement Bowdle, Dover; and Bob Sample, of Salisbury. Holdover members were John Emerson, Denton, and Luther Mitchell, of Delmar.

The next meeting will be Mon., April 10, at the plant of Mr. Paul, in Cambridge.

The Kent and Sussex Racing Association will launch the Eastern harness racing season here April 26 with a 20-night program offering $68,000 in purse money.

Racing Secretary George Enslens reported that there are 375 horses on the grounds already, and the total is expected to be swelled to the neighborhood of 500 by opening night.

"We have all of last year's top stables back, plus a number of new ones from Maine, New England, upper New York State and Ohio," Enslens said.

One of the major new Harrington additions this year is the stable of Harry Craig, veteran Ohio campaigner who already is on the grounds. Top flight returnees are Harry Short, Tom Wingate, Warren Holmes, the Meyer brothers, Joe Hylan and Polly Sipe.

Hylan, a leading winner on the Delaware-Maryland circuit last year, will go after new laurels with a stable including 20 to 22 head of stock.

Headline trotters and pacers who will be back include Harry Stout's Main McElwyn and Jose-dale McElwyn, Tom Lewis' Belina Hanover, Jim Meyers, Prince James, and Baron Rosecroft, now in the stable of Jim Stokley of Wyoming.

A trio of Harry Craig's campaigners to be seen at Harrington include the trotters, Kate Volo and Excel Call, and the pacer Volo Hal, all of which raced at Roosevelt Raceway in New York last summer.

The Kent and Sussex program calls for six $400 dashes each night, plus a $1,000 two-heat feature.

Tommy Wingate's Watson Jr., two-year-old free-legged pacer who trained sensationally last spring before going lame, will be in action at the Harrington meeting this year as a three-year-old. The fancy stepping first son of Watson E. Direct, failed to get to the post last year, but showed enough class in training to warrant widespread attention before going lame.

We have heard from time to time, in various part of the country, people making wild statements about the enormous salary received by the president of the American Red Cross. Many said his salary was larger than that of the president of the United States. As matter of record, the president of the American Red Cross receives not one cent for his services.

EVER SINCE HOMER—MAYBE BEFORE

In the Enoch Pratt Library in Baltimore is the letter in which Edgar Allan Poe proposed to Annabel Lee. It is valued at $50,000—yet Poe died penniless.

Quite a number of writers of indifferent verse are making big money today—but only two writers of serious poetry, Edna St. Vincent Millay and Robert Frost, have made very much money.

A crude fiddler in some honkey-tonk night clubs can make more in one month than the average member of the New York Philharmonic can make in a year. Only a few top-nitch members of the Philharmonic receive more than $5000.00 per year.

There are many exceptional singers in America who can't draw more than $50.00 per week, while Roy Acuff, who can't sing at all, draws down more than $100,000.00 per year, and Ernest Tubbs, who can do nothing but grunt, likewise makes a fortune.

The man who has devoted many years in an attempt to perfect himself in his profession has to barricade himself against the wolf of poverty, while the man who can't read or write seems to prosper.

MONKEY AND MAN

(A Prose Poem)

What is a monkey, and what's a man? They both have place in the puzzling plan, the tangled skein of life that is, the scheme of things to be. Why, a man's a man because he thinks, but the monkey only grins and blinks at the light of dawn, the jungle dawn, up in the Congo tree. A man gets out of the beaten track and soars right off through the awesome black, his goal the skies and his soul aflame with laurels to be won; he dares new seas and his only sail is grit, but the monk swings by his tail and apes a shadow of the past—and does as his Paw has done. Now the desert sands are all a-bloom and the languid night breathes a sweet perfume, while the red rose turns her crimson heart from the kisses of the sun; and it's all because men dared and died, and felt the thrill of a worthy pride—but monk still swings in his Congo tree—and does as his Paw has done. And in every town you'll find the monk. His soul is warped and his brain is junk. When the wheels of progress start to turn, he throws a wrench in it. He ekes out life on a miser's dole and a dime is oil to his rusty soul, and the plaint he makes to each appeal is "How Much Do I GIT"? He sits each day like a dog-goned lump and swaps stale jokes by the old town pump till the distant echoes roll no more from life's last sunset gun; he goes in the beaten path, by heck, and the long moss clings around his neck, and does as his Paw's Paw's Paw's Paw's Paw's Paw's Paw's Paw has done.

OVER AND OVER AGAIN

The Delaware State College mess has not been settled and repercussions of conditions at the Workhouse continue to spread. Only a few years ago Delaware's shame claimed front page headlines all over the nation when the Ferris School scandal broke. All of this could have been avoided.

When a business corporation has a lot of money invested, it keeps a careful up-to-the-minute check on that business. From time to time, without any advance notice, auditors and other skilled men from headquarters drop in and spend days, even weeks, in going over ever detail of the business with a fine-tooth comb. That's why the successful corporation always knows just where it stands. Can you imagine that corporation notifying its branch office that it is going to send some investigators down within a week or two? When the investigators do arrive, do they spend an hour or two in a cursory inspection—and then depart?

The State of Delaware has untold millions invested in its many institutions, and there's never an investigation until a scandal breaks. Then there's a long drawn out procedure that costs the state enormous amount of money and accomplishes very little.

The legislature, you say, appoints an investigation or inspection committee every two years. At every session of the legislature a junket is organized. It's not an inspection—it's a holiday. This committee has been known to "inspect" four institutions in different parts of the state in less than six hours.

Every institution in the state should be checked thoroughly at least once a year—and by experts. Millions of dollars are involved—and human lives. In some of our institutions are incorrigibles. Nothing can be done to change them for the better—but they're still human. Others, there through the quirks of fate, may be salvaged. And in addition, in some of these institutions are scores of people who have done no wrong, who are there because misfortune has befallen them, as it may befall any of us some day. Must they continue to suffer because of our indifference?

HYPOCRATIC OR HYPOCRISY

A physician from Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, delivered an address before a Rotary Club in a town not far from Harrington last week. His address was a thinly-veiled political talk and he closed by urging his hearers to vote for a certain political party.

Since Rotary Clubs are warned not to discuss political or religious issues at their meetings, that Baltimore physician was guilty of a breach of courtesy, guilty of a betrayal of trust—for we are sure the club would not have permitted him to talk if it had known he was there only to further his own political party.

He lowered his own profession and the great institution he represents when he attempted to land a sneak punch. He may have heard of the Hypocratic Oath—but he failed like heck in his interpretation. What a come-down from the great humanitarian, Howard Kelley, also from Johns Hopkins.

"ED RASH MAKES MISTAKES"

A lot of people that I know Said that same thing long-time ago— And they were right! He hems and haws an stumbles 'round, But keeps his feet upon the ground Prepared to fight! He once gave up a job he had And "friends" of his said "Too durned bad" And acted sore.

He worked his new job night and day And pretty soon he made it pay A durned sight more. Went out of town to buy some ground And soon the news was goin' 'round: "Ed's In The Red; A service station 'way out thar— More ways than one, too doggoned far— The end of Ed." Somehow that service station made A lot of money, and he paid In quite a spell For other stations right along— He didn't buy them with a song— They done right well!

The Commerce Chamber organized And Ed was there re-vitalized— He made his breaks— Without one single man's dissent We up and made him president— He made mistakes! Into that job he threw his best To help his town and all the rest Of us were glad; And on, and on, and on he went— He made the best durned president We ever had.

The skeptics who had stood to sneer— They never could learn how to cheer— Can never know The man who takes the plow and breaks The new ground always makes mistakes— But makes things grow!

To The Correspondents

Well, Sandtown finally came in this week for the first time. James N. Carroll, the writer, did a good job, too.

Mr. Carroll's first letter was very interesting. We have received compliments on it already, and predict he will give them women correspondents "something to shoot at." He is the only male correspondent we have out of 23. To some extent, he reminds us of Miss Annie Moothie, at Farmington, when she wrote for us years ago. He also reminds us of our Marvel's correspondent, Mrs. Frank Porter, who has been ill. Ho hum. Last week we received letters from 20 correspondents out of 23. We believe that is an excellent record. IF YOU DO NOT BELIEVE YOU CAN WRITE A LETTER, PHONE US BY MONDAY AND WE WILL WRITE IT.

We've just discovered a former Farmington correspondent, Miss Annie Booth, is still around. Right now, she's in Florida. She used to write a good letter for us and delved considerably in the philosophical. Our correspondent at Marvel's Crossroads, or Porter's Corner, Mrs. Frank Porter, has been unable to turn in a letter because of illness. We miss her letter; she was a good naturalist. We would be glad to have someone write for us in that neighborhood.

With spring approaching, we could use some items on plowing and planting. We still want our correspondence in by Tuesday. The coal strike has curtailed railway transportation. From "summers" around 3 in the morning until 9:30 o'clock at night, there is no passenger train going north from here.

Titles Omit "Mr." when the Christian name or initials are given. This rule applies to society news as well as general news. An exception is "Mr. and Mrs. James Smith," which is used instead of "James Smith and wife. Miss or Mrs. "must be used with a woman's name even in headlines—always, even in crime news. Never refer to a woman as "the Jones woman."

Do not use "Honorable" unless it is a title bestowed by Great Britain.

When preceding and attached to a name (either the full name or the surname only), titles are generally abbreviated. This applies only to titles that have well-recognized abbreviations.

"Rev." should always (1) be preceded by "the," (2) be followed by some other title unless the full name is given. The only exception made in headlines is that a clergyman may be referred to as "Mr. Brown, Dr. Green," or "Fr. White."

Some forms permitted: The Rev. William Brown, the Rev. Dr. Brown (if he has a doctor's degree in divinity); the Rev. Fr. Brown, the Rev. Mr. Brown. Some forms barred—Rev. Brown, the Rev. Brown, Rev. Mr. Brown.

Usually after the full form has been used once, it is sufficient to write "Mr. Brown, Dr. Brown, or Fr. Brown."

Use "Fr." or "the Rev. Fr." as the title of a Catholic priest.

Do not use an unwieldy title preceding a name, as "Keeper of the Grand Seal John Smith." Make it "John Smith, keeper of the grand seal."

Our publication always is to be referred to as "The Harrington Journal," (note that "The" is capped). In names of other publications, "the" is lower case.

FREDERICA
The village of Frederica stands on the tract of land known as "St. Collom" on the southwest side of the northwest branch of Murderkill creek. This tract was warranted to Benoni Bishop, in 1681, and surveyed to him as a tract of 1400 acres, Dec. 10, 1684. It extended from Indian Point, the junction of northwest branch and Murderkill creek, westwardly into the country for two miles. Jonathan Emerson purchased a portion of "St. Collom," and in 1770, laid out a town with streets and lots.

Vegetable Growers Request Action
Seventeen of the 19 officials of the Vegetable Growers Association of America were present at Cleveland, last week when Walter F. Pretzer, president, called the quarterly meeting to order. With the new constitution and by-laws in effect, the attention of the executive board was directed toward filling in the framework which includes the organization of several state vegetable growers organizations. After considerable discussion, three resolutions were unanimously approved with the VGAA going on record as opposing subsidies or governmental assistance in potato production, and use of released acreage to produce more vegetables, thus creating an additional oversupply problem. The third resolution commended President Truman for nominating James K. Knutson, of Utah, as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

National Vegetable Week
The executive board heard a fine report on the progress of National Vegetable Week and made plans to step up the event inaugurated last year by conducting a National Vegetable Queen Contest. Ward West, widely known vegetable grower, 1873 Portland Avenue, Rochester, chairman of the Vegetable Queen Contest, has announced that the contest for local vegetable queens will close April 15, and for state queens June 1. The winner will be given a trip to Chicago and Milwaukee during the annual VGAA convention, Nov. 26-30. The rules—contestant must be between the ages of 17-23 and daughters of commercial vegetable growing families. Young ladies desiring to enter this contest are invited to promptly contact their local or state association or Ward West.

Four Day Convention
The 42nd annual convention of the VGAA will be held in Milwaukee Nov. 26-30. Two thousand vegetable growers are expected to attend, according to Convention Chairman Leonard J. Weiss. The slogan of the convention will be, "Meet Me In Milwaukee, Mister" a greeting from the National Vegetable Queen.

Turner Heads Legislative Activities
P. C. Turner, well-known Maryland agriculturist, president of the Food Producers Council, has been given the assignment of legislative counsel of the VGAA to represent act of incorporation was passed by the General Assembly and the limits of the town were defined, a plot ordered made, and commissioners appointed.

The first church in Frederica was erected by the Methodists in 1812, on a lot deeded for the purpose by Benjamin Dill. This building was replaced by another in 1836, and by the present handsome edifice in 1856. Frederica until 1857, was a commercial center of importance. It was the shipping port of vast quantities of produce, and wharves and warehouses existed in goodly numbers. Upon the completion of the Delaware railroad much of this commerce was diverted, but in its place other industries developed in the town of Frederica itself. Three canneries were opened, that of Samuel W. Hall being the largest tomato cannery in the United States at the time it was built, in 1887. Fertilizers are manufactured here and plows, brushes and mattresses have been put out in large the group in Washington activities. Turner is an able man and will work with Ridgely Todd, Sparrows Point, Md., chairman of the VGAA Legislative committee.

Legislative matters which will come under Turner's purview will be those affecting transportation of vegetables such as the Harwood Case, low tariffs which are causing hot house cucumber and tomato growers considerable trouble, wages and hours, social security released acreage from subsidized agricultural crops which are being converted in some cases to vegetable production causing oversupply, and residual insecticides which are being studied to determine whether certain insecticides are dangerous to the health of the nation.

Coal Tie-Up Hurts Hot House Growers
The recent strike of soft coal miners seriously affected the production of hot house tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, etc. Several growers shut down all or most of their plants. Others somehow managed through co-operative arrangements to loan coal to growers whose coal supply was exhausted. Through the allocation method, the Cleveland growers came through by a tomato skin. Vern Kraushaar, Brooklyn Heights hot house grower, was named chairman of the Allocation Committee. Walter F. Pretzer, whose Ruetenik Gardens hot houses were converted to oil burning equipment, turned his 200 ton stock pile over to Kraushaar for allocation. Some growers report that a small amount of coal was available at $13 to $17 per ton for coal which normally cost $5 per ton.

There are more than 2500 acres of vegetables under glass in the United States, practically all located in the Middle West, Great Lakes, New York, and New England states. The initial cost of constructing a green house is approximately $55,000 per acre. This includes heating, but not the planted crop. From two to three crops are harvested annually under controlled weather conditions resulting in very high quality vegetables. The largest vegetable hot house operating is the J. W. Davis Gardens headed by O. K. Owen, Terre Haute, Ind., where 27 acres are under glass at one place. The company operates 55 acres. The Terre Haute plant is the largest producer of hot-house cucumbers in the world. Twenty-two hives of bees are maintained to pollinate the blossoms.

quantities from this place. Shipbuilding gave employment to many between 1844 and 1887.
"Plymouth" was a settlement founded by some Massachusetts colonists in the early sixties, southwest of Canterbury. The town was laid out in 1866, and was made a station by the Delaware railroad. Baptist and Congregational churches were established here in 1867, but disbanded six years later, the members joining the churches of Magnolia.
Six miles west of Frederica, on the road leading to Whiteleysburg, and on both sides of the Delaware railroad, is Felton. The site of the town was owned by the heirs of Joseph Simpson and Alfred O. Clifton. The town was laid out Aug. 1, 1856, with the establishment of the railroad and Adams Express offices. Sawmills, basket and canning factories, and one of the largest greenhouses on the peninsula, once formed part of the industry of the pretty village. Many handsome residences have been built there. The M. E. Church was built in 1861. The Presbyterian Church was organized November 15, 1860, and erected a frame building the following year. Felton was incorporated before 1861, the exact date being hard to determine, as the town records are incomplete.

About one-half mile from Felton, on the southeastern corner of a tract known as the "Bear Garden," on the road from Felton to Whiteleysburg, was "Berrytown," a very old settlement. In 1766 Peter Lowber kept an ordinary there. In 1767 Preston Berry bought half an acre of ground there, and built a house and shop. In 1774 Timothy Caldwell kept store there. As late as 1811, one William Anderson was keeping a hotel there. Up to the time Felton was created, Berrytown was a thriving hamlet, but with the establishment of the Felton railroad station, all the industrial plants moved to Felton.

SOME STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT CHICK FEEDING
...WITH SOUTHERN STATES STARTING & GROWING MASH
LET'S be perfectly frank. A chick cannot work miracles by itself. Without the right feed . . . a feed that supplies all the nutritional values that growing chicks need . . . even the best quality chicks cannot grow into top producers.
The National Research Council has determined these nutritional values from actual experience and results. Here's how Southern States Starting & Growing Mash compares with them:

	Council's Allowances	Starting & Growing Mash
Protein	20%	21.16%
Fat	4%	4.72%
Calcium	1%	1.31%
Phosphorus	.6%	.826%
Manganese (PPM)	55	81
Vitamin A (units per lb.)	2000	6550
Vitamin D (units per lb.)	180	337
Riboflavin (units per lb.)	1600	2071

*Figures according to latest analysis

Notice that in every case, Southern States Starting & Growing Mash exceeds the minimum requirements. This doesn't mean that Starting & Growing Mash can work miracles, but it definitely shows that it can make a significant difference in the growth and production of your chicks. Why not try it for your flock and see the results for yourself?

Delaware Ground-Water Investigation Started

A cooperative program seeking ground-water data in the State of Delaware has been started by the University of Delaware through the Agricultural Experiment Station and the State Highway Department in cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman announced today.

The joint investigation will seek to determine the degree to which salt water has encroached upon fresh-water supplies along the Atlantic Coast and Delaware Bay; the adequacy of municipal supplies to meet present and future needs; and the amount of water Delaware farmers are now using.

A compilation will be made, too, of all available records on subsurface conditions found and logged by drillers for water, who make new wells or improve existing ones. Such data are invaluable for the economical development of ground-water resources throughout the State, as well as for construction of building foundations and other engineering needs.

The effect of underground seeps and hidden springs upon road construction and maintenance, for example, is of immediate importance.

Throughout the work a reconnaissance of surface and subsurface geology will be made as a starting point for more detailed studies later. It is hoped that new and substantially large underground water sources will be found, to meet a growing demand for irrigation water. New supplies are essential for continued growth of chemical and other large water-using industries of the State. Such data require precise geologic and hydrologic knowledge because so much depends on careful scientific investigations. For future industrial growth, water supplies must be evaluated in terms of actual quantities available for use everywhere in Delaware.

The first phases of the study are being made by Leon B. Haigler, hydraulic engineer of the Geological Survey, with headquarters at Dover. He will be assisted by Joseph W. Brookhart, geologist. The program will be directed by William C. Rasmussen, geologist in charge, Salisbury, Md.

These men will visit water superintendents, town officials, farmers, well drillers, and many other people who may have information concerning wells dug or drilled anywhere in Delaware. They will greatly appreciate all cooperation. Upon completion of the research a formal report will be published and all data will be placed on file, available to anyone who may need them.

Felton School To Give Play

While the actors get all the glory, there are a number of people connected with any play who do their work quietly behind the scenes. This is true of "Mama's Baby Boy," the farce which the Class of '51 of Felton High School is rehearsing.

Known as the technical staff, this group takes charge of arranging the scenery and properties, arranges the lights, pulls the curtain-does and amazing amount of work for a singular, simpler reward: the knowledge of a job well-done and perhaps their name in the program.

Mrs. Warrington who is directing "Mama's Baby Boy" which will be presented at the high school auditorium on March 24, wishes to acknowledge her indebtedness to this small group of

Kent Nurses to Hold Spring Dances

A spring dance will be given by the Kent General Hospital Nurses Association, Fri., April 28 in the Armory at Dover. Music will be provided by George Madden's Orchestra from ten until two.

The net proceeds of this social function will be diverted to a fund being raised with which to purchase much needed equipment for the hospital.

Plans are being perfected to make the spring dance one of Delaware's outstanding social events with the Madden orchestra supported by a diversified program of entertainment.

Visiting Dates Changed By Army Recruiting

For the past two years, the Army and Air Force recruiting sergeant, of Dover, has been visiting Harrington and vicinity every Tuesday. The schedule has been rearranged so that he will now be in this area Wednesdays. As usual, his main stand will be at the Post Office.

The Ghosts of Paid Bills

Have you ever had the "ghost" of a bill that you thought was paid and "dead," pop up for repayment?

You knew you had paid it, but where was the receipt? You hadn't saved it, or you had lost it, and there was nothing to do but to pay the bill the second time.

A checking account will banish all these troublesome "ghosts" and give you absolute evidence of payment.

as a party-line neighbor

When you play fair and square with your party-line neighbors, they'll give you a break, too... and that means good service for all concerned!

Here are two suggestions on party-line courtesy: 1) on finding the line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call; 2) when, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up in a few minutes and free the line. Easy, isn't it?

The hard hitting Nylon Boys proved too much for even Shaffer's 3 home runs in the last game of dart ball for the season. With a total of 9 wins and 5 losses our boys tried hard to come out on top of the league. Georgetown, at this writing, reporting they are the winners with a loss of but two games and both of these were lost to our team.

Next week we hope to be able to give total scores for the entire league.

Lubricants Plant Placed In Production

Dedicated to the engineering skill, consumers, employees, community and contractors who made the undertaking possible, Pure Oil Company's brand new, 70-acre, multi-million dollar lubricants plant has been placed in full production.

The project, which required three years to build and which was in the planning stage for five years before construction started, is the most modern and versatile lubricating oil and grease plant in America.

The new plant occupies an area at the north end of Smiths Bluff Refinery, Pure Oil's major refining unit at Nederland, Tex., on the deep water Neches River where ocean, inland waterway and river transportation facilities adjoin the final processing and packaging steps. Other shipping facilities include trackside railroad as well as automotive equipment, permitting shipments with dispatch to Pure Oil marketing territories and outlets.

In a two-day "Housewarming" for the completely equipped plant, almost 4,700 visitors were taken on guided tours of the project. The first day was given over to employees and their families, and the second day was allotted to the community. Visitors saw the towering, streamlined, spick-and-span equipment and saw specimens of products as processed, from the crude from Pure Oil's own oil fields, to the canning machinery cans of Purelube, Pure Oil's new premium-type lubricating oil, were being filled.

The guided tours started at the two-stage crude distillation unit, where the "Nugget" of the crude is selected for the lube oils, then to such purifying stages as the propane deasphalting plant, the phenol extraction unit, the methyl-ethyl-Ketone dewaxing unit, the contacting unit and finally to the grease, compounding, and blending plant.

In Pure Oil's new lubricants plant, that "nugget" can now be liberated on a large scale, for processes have been installed to extract it. Scientific blending of the oil with special compounds, called additives, further increases its natural high quality. The result is the highest quality motor oil, now available under the Purelube brand.

Exact methods are used in the new equipment to release the high-quality oil from its impurities. Heat as high as 750 degrees F., and cold as low as minus 15 degrees F., are used in the processing.

Following the refining, treating, and blending, the oils reach the canning machinery where cans come down an "unscrambling" chute into the filling machine which meters exact quantities of the blended oil into each. The cans are then capped, sealed and packaged into cartons, ready for shipment and use.

Engineers working on the project said that 6,540 engineering drawings were made, enough to make a two-foot wide ribbon 3.7 miles long; 161,540 cubic yards of earth were moved to lower ground; a total of 117 miles of piling were driven into the earth for building foundations; 22,000 cubic yards of concrete containing 1,950,900 pounds of reinforcing steel went into the foundations; 104 miles of pipe are used to carry the various oils, gas, air, steam, and water. At the peak of construction, 1,800 men were employed on the job.

Products are now coming out of the new lubricants plant, and over 1,000 forms and varieties of petroleum products will be available from the new installation.

Earl Tull, Seaford, Heads Sussex Dairy Organization

Earl Tull of Seaford, was elected president of the Sussex County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, at its annual meeting last week at Georgetown. Other officers and directors elected are Alden Short, Georgetown, vice-president; William Thompson, Jr., Rehoboth, secretary-treasurer; James Hudson, Milton; Medford Calhoun, Greenwood, and W. H. Jump, Houston.

Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman from the University of Delaware, presented a summary of the year's work of the association and stressed the value of the program to the dairymen.

Ralston Pepper, Jr., supervisor of the association, gave a report of his work during the year.

The five highest herds in butterfat production in the association for the years are:

B. B. Brinsfield, Vienna, Md.; Tull Bros., Seaford; William E. Thompson, Jr., Rehoboth; Clyde Betts, Milton, and Draper Foods, Milford.

Hoof Beats

The Eastern Shore will be represented by two formidable contenders in the $10,000 Empire State July 21 at Saratoga Raceway, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., according to Howard De Freitas, who handles the trotting and pacing news for the track. In a large assortment of pacing brilliance are Hayes Hanover, winner of the event last year. He is owned by W. O. Wright, of Federalsburg. Also entered is Riley Hanover, last season's fastest pacing gelding, owned by Russell W. Hudson, of Selbyville.

These horses will have a tough time, what with Good Time, a rare stone in any setting, Alemito, Royal Blackstone, and Jerry the First, winner of the $50,000 Golden West Pace last fall. Dr. Clifford A. Kingsbury's MacManus, is also entered in a Saratoga stake. This baby paced a mean 2:06 here last spring to win the second dash of the Shaw Memorial Pace.

First Texas Colony

Stephen F. Austin, with 300 families, founded the first American colony in Texas in what is now Austin county. In 1820 there were only 4,000 people in the entire state, but the flood of settlers increased the American population alone to 80,000 by 1835.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Handy and Easy Are Both Wrong

Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts got in quite an argument the other day over at Fred's Garage talking about the best spot to fish up at Green Lake.

"Opposite the old sawmill is the best spot," says Handy. But Easy "pooh-pooh's" him. "I've seen the biggest fish caught off Cedar Point," says Easy. "I've been catching them there for years."

Then Fred goes into his office and brings out the biggest mounted rainbow trout you ever saw. "Bet that was caught at the sawmill," comments Handy. "Cedar Point," says Easy. "Well," says Fred, "you're both wrong. I caught this baby right out in the middle!"

From where I sit, there are always two (or more) sides to every story. Let's live and let live in the true American tradition of toleration. Your opinion is worth a lot, but so is the other fellow's—whether it's on politics, the best fishing spots, or whether he likes a temperate glass of beer and you like buttermilk.

A BRAND NEW MOTOR OIL

with A BRAND NEW NAME

to give you A BRAND NEW PEACE OF MIND

There's no feeling like that sure feeling, especially when you're driving a car.

You get it from new tires, you get it from good brakes, and you get it from the good steady hum of a healthy motor happy at its work. For these mean safety—and these mean saving.

So Pure Oil built a brand new multi-million-dollar plant at the largest Pure Oil refinery, near Beaumont, Texas, to build a brand new premium quality motor oil for you—Purelube—the sure motor oil.

Engineers will explain its sureness in terms of its amazingly high V.I., its stable pour point, its detergents, oxidation inhibitors, etc., which make it "tailor made" for the new high-compression motors, and better for all motors. You will feel its sureness in the new peace-of-mind that comes from knowing your engine is protected by as tough, thrifty and fine a lubricant as money can buy.

It's for you—for that new sure feeling when you drive.

Sandtown

Sandtown looked a little Wilmingtonian Sunday when two brand new cars with their new paint still shiny, pulled up, loaded with relatives from the big city visited the Carrolls and Travis.

Jimmy Travis, who is a student at the University of Delaware, spent the weekend here with his parents.

Mrs. Agnes Cohee, one of Sandtown's best loved ladies, is on both our sick list and prayer list with a strep throat. We hope she will soon be around in our midst again.

Mrs. Ella Cahall, our 82-year-old matron with the terrific sense of humor, hasn't been feeling too well, but is much better now.

Mrs. Peggy Covac is home with her husband again after spending a week with her folks in Chester, Pa.

We don't see much of Pete in the store passing away his evening, since Peg is back.

Were our eyes deceiving us when we rode past Sandtown Sunday afternoon and saw porches loaded with people sitting on them, getting their first warm spring sunshine, and yet was it a cold rain we heard when we came out of church in the evening beating into our faces?

Ellendale

Francis Messick and daughters, Mary Ann and Ruth Ellen, of Milford, visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Messick Sunday.

Miss Jeanette Willey was a Thursday evening guest of Miss Geraldine Butterworth, of Georgetown. They attended the Georgetown Democrat Club meeting where Jeanette sang several popular selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones Jr. and family, visited relatives Sunday.

Mrs. Burton Millman has returned home after spending some time at the home of her daughter on Main Street where she has been very ill.

Mrs. Mildred De Lorenzo is visiting relatives in Pennsylvania.

The firemen were called out Monday afternoon to a grass fire near town. Upon their return they received a call to a fire at Georgetown.

Miss Shirley Carey has been on the sick list.
