

Possom Paw Minstrel To Be Staged by Lions Monday and Tuesday

Annual Performance Is For Benefit of Civic Improvements—Promises to Be Great Hit

The Harrington Lions Club will stage its 1950 edition of the Possom Paw Minstrel Monday and Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the High School auditorium for the benefit of civic improvements.

Judging by the cast, the show should duplicate its performance of previous years here when it was a pronounced success. Cast includes the following: Director, Nan Jackson; interlocutor, Gooden Callaway, and circle, Austin Swann, Hal Hitchens, Benny Hughes, Jay Bullock, Benny Moore, Fred Greenly, Albert Price, Douglas Mills, Louis Hobbs, Randall Smith, and Keith Burgess; end men, Ed Raughley, Mack McKelvey, Bill Humes, Walter Paskey, Ralph Draper, and Genie Anderson.

Youthful Magician Entertains Rotarians

Cliff Miller was program chairman at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Harrington Rotary Club. Cliff brought along his harmonica and delighted the audience with his rendition of several Irish melodies.

Jay Black, kid magician, then entertained for twenty minutes. His work was unusually clever for one so young and brought generous applause from the appreciative audience.

Houston

Miss Willie Wyatt who has resided on Commerce Street for over fifty years recently had the misfortune to fall from her bed last Monday a week ago, before daylight, and due to her advanced age and extreme weakness she was unable to summon aid until a good friend Mrs. Mabel Cahill stopped by as was her daily custom, to see if Miss Willie wanted any provisions. Fortunately she looked out the window and saw her on the floor. As quickly as was possible she went for Mr. Harrington who forced an entrance and came to the assistance of Miss Willie as she is familiarly known to many residents of Harrington. Her nephew, Randall Johnson and his wife were also summoned and they called Dr. Hewitt D. Smith. It was good to learn that she had no broken bones, but had been slightly bruised and shaken up. In addition to that she had lagrippe. She was removed to the home of her nephew at Houston, where she is recuperating and where we are hoping she will stay indefinitely as Miss Willie has had two falls in addition to the aforesaid.

"How's Everything in Dixie?" is the opening chorus of the first edition of the minstrel with the group following with "If I Had Known You Were Coming I'd Have Baked a Cake." Benny Moore, a stellar performer in last year's show, comes back with "Where The Black Eyed Susans Grow," followed by Mack McKelvey, a big hit in last year's minstrel, with "There Will Be Some Changes Made."

The chorus sings "Everywhere You Go," with Ralph Draper singing "Mammy's Little Coal Black Rose." The first edition of the minstrel has "Swanee" for the finale.

Specialties

C. McQueen, Reba Smith, and Renie LaKind head the specialties, followed by a quartet of Walter Lekites, Robert Smith, Randall Knox, Jr., and C. H. Burgess. Frank Jackson and his banjo and V. Boulder and his electric guitar are followed by the intermission.

Second Edition

The opening chorus of the second edition is "Alexander's Ragtime Band," with the same group adding "Lazy River." Genie Anderson sings "Somebody Else Not Me"; Ralph Draper, "Chattanooga Shoeshine Boy"; B. H. Humes, "Darktown Struttin' Ball," with Ed Raughley doing another of his comical dances. All these boys received puns for their performances last year. The minstrel concludes with the grand finale, "Come On Down South."

Delawareans Return From Caribbean Cruise

On such a warm, beautiful evening it is hard to realize that one week ago tonight we left Wilmington in a flurry of snow. The cold wave reached New Orleans where we were told that the weather was the coldest they had had all winter. It seemed to be the kind of weather we had in February, including rain.

One of the days we spent in New Orleans was clear and perfect for sightseeing. We took a tour which included the modern part of the city and the Vieux Carre as the old French quarter is called. One of the most unusual sights in New Orleans is the method of burying above the ground because of the water close to the surface of the ground. The cemeteries, both old and new, show very little grass because all burials are in tombs or mausoleums.

Dinner at Antoine's finished the day of seeing New Orleans.

At five o'clock in the afternoon of March 3, we reported to the Fruit and Steamship line to board the S. S. Contessa for the ten-day Caribbean cruise. Since there was some difference in rooms, we drew for room assignment and were lucky enough to get a room with bath. This is an all Ralston Purina prize winners' trip. No other passengers are on the ship. Of the 56 passengers, 17 are from Delaware, so we feel very much at home. The whole group is very congenial and everyone seems to be having a good time.

The ship sailed from New Orleans at 9:30 a. m. March 4. Three pilots were required for the trip to the gulf, one to take the ship out of the wharf, one to take it down the river and one to take it across the bar. The river was high after heavy winter rains.

Below the settled area where there were no levees to hold back the river, the land is swampy. At 4 p. m. we reached the gulf and rough water. For an hour or two the doctor was busy giving out seasick pills to most passengers. After dinner the gulf was more calm and we were able to assemble on the sundeck for an Abbott and Costello movie.

Sunday was a bright, sunny day, warm enough in the afternoon for swimming in the pool. The passengers wrote letters, took pictures and relaxed in the deck chairs. During the night the ship's clocks were advanced an hour to bring us back to Eastern Standard time.

Monday morning we were awakened by the call, "All passengers get up to meet port officers." When we looked through the port hole we saw the lights of Havana. By 6 o'clock we were on deck to watch the ship enter the harbor. It was a thrilling sight to pass by Morro Castle with the sun beginning to rise behind it, while the moon was shining on the other side. At 6:30 breakfast was served and immediately afterward the port officials came on board. Each passenger had an entrance card furnished by the purser which was presented to these officials to be stamped. Across the wharf was stretched a big banner with checkered border which read, "Welcome Ralston Purina." Photographers were on hand to take pictures of the group, both on board and on the dock.

At 8:30 a. m. we started on a sightseeing tour of Havana in limousines holding six persons each. The driving in Havana is hazardous as there seem to be no rules other than to drive with one hand on the horn and the driver with the biggest bluff gets the right of way. The trip included the oldest churches, the main monument, Cemetery, the Capitol, a drive on the Malecon and the Prado. In the afternoon we were taken on a shopping tour and in the evening on a tour of night life. The streets were full of people just as Harrington is on Saturday night. Evidently no one stays at home in the evening.

Tuesday morning again our limousine appeared to take the party to a sugar refinery in the country where we saw sugar cane taken in the mill and refined and put in 50-lb. bags and taken out.

From there we went to the village of San Mariel on the gulf for lunch. There we visited the naval college which is the Annapolis of Cuba. A trip to Morro Castle is scheduled for early Wednesday morning before we sail. The ship was being emptied to be loaded with bananas in Honduras.

Work Started on Town-Farmington Back Road

Persons traveling between Farmington and Harrington are requested to use U. S. route 13 while the construction work is in progress on the present dirt road between the two towns, according to officials of the State Highway Department.

These officials point out that the dirt road will be open at all times for traffic and will therefore not interfere with the travel of persons residing along the road or in the immediate area but they thought persons going directly to the two towns might use route 13 while the construction work was in progress.

Construction work on the road between Farmington and Harrington, to be an earth stabilized road and surface treated, was started last week and was the first of the new projects in lower Delaware to get underway.

Highway Department officials also explained that the improvement of this highway will be continued along West Street, in Harrington, to the public school grounds.

It was explained that this improvement is being taken along West Street to provide a highway for school buses and students to reach the school without going through the business district.

Work on the new road is expected to be completed before the end of the summer.

Stakes Increased At Delaware Park

For the twelfth year in succession Delaware Park's stake program has been increased in value, according to an announcement from J. G. (Gil) Haus, racing secretary and handicapper, who has just completed consultations with President Donald Ross and General Manager Bryan Field. For the race meeting which will open May 29 and run for 32 continuous days, until July 4, there will be $210,000 in fifteen stakes. In all approximately $1,000,000 will go to horsemen in combined purse and stake money. Thus without a break, Delaware Park has increased its added money in stakes from the inauguration of the track in 1937.

Delaware Park's two rich future events, the Leonard Richards Stakes, exclusively for three-year olds, and the Delaware Oaks, for three-year old fillies, are responsible for the 1950 increase. Each will carry a new value of $22,500 added, making a gain of $2,500 over the 1949 listing. These classics will gross approximately $32,000 for their 1950 renewals. There are 126 fillies eligible for the Oaks, which will be held on Saturday, June 24, and 137 sophomores on the list for the Leonard Richards, mile and furlong feature on closing day, July 4.

A HISTORICAL SKETCH OF BROWN'S BRANCH and FORK LANDING

Jackson's Ditch, Peckham's Branch, Brown's Branch—all are one and the same. Time was when the stream was a veritable beehive of industry. Three millponds furnished the power for sawmills, gristmills, canneries, a wooden mill, and a fertilizer factory.

Today these industries have vanished. Two of the millponds are dry and their sites are marked only by the languorous branch as it passes through swamps of willows, red birch, and cat-tails.

One cannot mention Fork Landing without mentioning Brown's Branch.

Brown's Branch
Brown's Branch rises in Missipin Hundred, flows through a portion of Milford Hundred, and empties into Murderkill Creek at Fork Landing. Daniel Brown from whom the stream took its name, obtained 300 acres in this vicinity in 1680. There was also surveyed for him Aug. 26, 1684, 900 acres on the north side of Murderkill Creek which, Jan. 24, 1685, he sold to Richard Mitchell and Mary Wells.

McColley's Pond
Among the many tracts taken up by one John Brinkloe was one called "Wild Goose Chase," situated on Brown's and Manlove's Branches. It passed to his son, John, and Feb. 6, 1746, two acres on Brown's Branch were condemned for the use of a mill for Richard Brinkloe.

This pond is now known as McColley's or Holcomb's Pond. On May 25, 1785, James Douglas purchased of John Clayton, sheriff, "all that lot or ground or millseat with part of a mill thereon on the south side of Brown's Branch," which was offered at public sale as the land of Thomas Ogle. The land formerly belonged to John Harmanson, who sold to Thomas Muncy, for whom two acres were condemned for a gristmill in 1746. Thomas Ogle purchased the land from Muncy.

A very large merchant mill was erected by Douglas (sometimes spelled Douglass), which was known as Mordington Mills. The brick house, occupied by L. I. March, at the pond is still known as Mordington. In 1816, the mill was in possession of Walter Douglass, a son of James Douglass, and it then contained two waterwheels and three pairs of stones. Douglass operated the mill until his death in 1827. On May 14, 1829, it was purchased by Charles Kinney, who sold it to Samuel A. Short on Nov. 12, 1832. The mill burned and a new one was erected about half the size of the former mill. A sawmill was also erected by Short, the grandfather of Samuel A. Short Sr., W. W. Sharp, Mrs. Emmett Raughley, and Leonard Harrington, all of Harrington. Short retained possession until Jan. 1, 1848, when he sold the mills to Joseph O. McColley, who, Feb. 23, 1876, conveyed them to Mrs. Elza B. McColley, wife of Edward B. C. McColley. J. L. Smith obtained possession May 8, 1878, and was still in possession in 1898 when Scharff's "History of Delaware" was written.

Though Scharff says Short operated Mordington Mills until 1848, Short probably lived then at Fork Landing. His grandson, Leonard Harrington, says his mother told him she moved from Mordington to Fork Landing in 1832 when she was four. Byle's Map of Kent County, published in 1859, shows Short's Store at the village.

J. L. Smith, in 1884, began to manufacture fertilizer from king crabs at Mordington. One hundred tons were being manufactured annually in 1888 which sold readily in the vicinity.

McColley's is the only pond existing of the three ponds on Brown's Branch. In recent years, it furnished some of the power for the old Kent County Electric Company. Last year the dam broke. It has been repaired but it will take some time before the pond will fill up.

Wilson's Pond
We do not know the exact date of the beginning of what was once known as Wilson's Pond, the next pond going upstream from McColley's. It existed, however, in 1740. On the north side of Brown's Branch, at the pond then called Isaac White's millpond, there was surveyed Oct. 6, 1740, 303 acres for the heirs of William Jacobs. The survey shows three houses on the bank of the pond above the dam. The land lying to the north was owned by Nathaniel Luff, and down the branch below the dam was a tract called "Rawling's Lot," and west and south was Melvin's Adventure, 272 acres taken up by Edmund at an earlier date. This land must have been in the vicinity of Marvel's Crossroads (Porter's Corner) which is shown on Byle's Map in 1859 as Melvin's Crossroads.

White's millpond occupied the site of the mill owned in 1838 by William Wilson. In 1816 the mill was owned by Joseph Chairs, and contained a waterwheel and two pairs of stones. The mill was later owned by John D. Smithers and by him sold to Alfred Newsome, whose administrator sold the mill to Paris D. Carlisle. William Wilson purchased the property of Carlisle during the Civil War. He enlarged the mill and operated it until October, 1887, when his son, James A. Wilson, took charge. Grinding was done by burr and was mainly custom work.

Mrs. Clarence W. Shockley's father, the late Bill Bowen, used to visit Wilson's Mill. Every trip a "shipplaster," a piece of paper worth 12½c.

The mill at this pond burned down and the pond was sometimes called Burnt Mill pond. The dam eventually went out and was never rebuilt. The dam and mill were on Brown's Branch just east of the old Clarence Shockley farm. The head of the pond culminated at the bridge over Brown's Branch on the Marvel's Crossroads-Houston road. If one goes up the branch one comes to Peckham's Bridge which traverses that portion of Brown's Branch known as Peckham's Branch. This is on the dirt road leading from the Frederica-Harrington nine-foot road to the Harrington-Milford road. Cemetery Branch and Jackson's Ditch are shown on a plat map of Clark's Corners, drawn up in 1824 and owned by Leonard Harrington as Brown's Branch.

Hoof Beats Two and three-year old harness horses will cut themselves in for a better than $800,000 slice of the richest purse program in sulky history on eastern tracks this year. Track programs already announced list more than 125 races exclusively for the "baby brigade" of trotters and pacers in the East. The total value of these events is just shy of the $800,000 mark, and with several major fall meetings yet to list their offerings, the ultimate jackpot is certain to go well beyond that figure. The 25th Hambletonian, for three-year-old trotters, to be held at Goshen, N. Y., August 9, is valued at $85,000, and will be the richest race ever contested by harness horses. Next in value is the $60,000 Kentucky Futurity at Lexington, Ky., Oct. 5. Lexington will present the richest all-around program for two and three-year-olds, posting $163,000 for the youngsters to shoot at in 14 races during a 10-day meeting, Sept. 27-Oct. 7. The five-day Good Time Park Meeting at Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 7-12, will offer five juvenile events in addition to the Hambletonian, with an overall purse value of $125,000. Roosevelt Raceway will stage some $100,000 worth of two and three-year old tests; Saratoga Raceway, $85,400 worth during its summer session alone; and Historic Track at Goshen, $73,000 worth during a five-day stand. Maryland moves into the "colt racing" picture in a big way this year with Laurel Raceway staging eight such events valued at $60,000 during a 20-night meeting; and the new Baltimore plant offering 12 juvenile tests with $20,000 in purses. Rosecroft Raceway at Oxon Hill, Md., and Ocean Downs, at Ocean City, also will feature the youngsters in a series of events all their own. Saratoga will be the busiest scene for the youngsters, featuring two and three-year-old races for both trotters and pacers each week during its 60-night summer session. Twenty-eight such races are scheduled at the Spa. In addition to the mutual strong holds, the youngsters are offered good pickin's on the fair circuit with the New York State Fair at Syracuse posting $25,000 in cash for five juvenile events. The Bloomsburg Fair, Bloomsburg, Pa., will dish out a total of $40,000 each in stake money; while the Champlain Valley Exposition at Essex Junction, Vt., will award $12,000 in prize money to juvenile featured on its ambitious racing program.

Scottish Rite to Meet at Selbyville A meeting of the Kent and Sussex Scottish Rite Club will be held in the Selbyville Methodist Church Social Hall tonight. A "smothered" chicken dinner will be served at 7:00 p. m. President J. Henry McDonnell has announced that the entertainment will consist of a Masonic play, "To Entertain Strangers," by Carl Claudy. The play is produced and directed by Wallace Woodford who will star with H. N. (Pop) Claudy plays. Hanson. They will be aided by the same cast which has so ably supported them in the other Claudy plays.

Railroad News

Women are Obstinate

Mrs. Goodfellow:

Regardless of how little control we men have over the so called weaker set, we destitute railroad men at Harrington are justly proud of the delegation representing us at your luncheon today.

"They are only there because we told them to stay at home. The story is told of a man hurrying up stream when his wife fell off a bridge. When asked why he didn't go down stream, he said, "she was always so obstinate that he knew her body would float upstream."

We all feel that Harrington needs, and can well support, a Women's Aid Unit that would speak well for them, us and the north end of the division.

Most of these ladies are capable and have a mind of their own, we know, and they would be a big help to your organization.

If this meets with your approval and you wish to get action, just tell them what you would like them to do and then add that you have already talked to us and we are opposed.

They will come home and say something about it and we will forbid it.

That's when you will get real action. We have to follow this philosophy to maintain diplomatic relations in our homes.

We call it public relations in reverse.

We are in the same category as the fellow who told his buddies he would have to quit playing poker at nine o'clock and go home to his wife. They asked "are you a man or a mouse," and he said, "I must be a man because my wife is afraid of a mouse."

The only time they want us around is on pay day. Some times when they take a vacation they let us go along for the ride.

Now that we have a couple of trains to ride on it may change our home lives and relieve the tension a little, but we'll never be the same.

We are told on good authority that the Womens Aid on this division has made bigger strides in the past two years than all the rest put together. With best wishes for continued success and cheering a hope that your social activities at Delmar will overflow to Harrington, we will remain behind the iron curtain ready to help our worthy conquerors in whatever assignments might be handed them.

Ocean Downs Stake Program Has 313 Entries

The stake program at Ocean Downs drew 313 nominations from harness horse owners in most of the eastern states and provinces of Canada in what was termed a "great entry" by General Manager Dick Case.

Case also pointed out that the greater purses, ranging up to $2500, attracted more than a dozen stables that were not here last season and that the general class of horses will be greatly improved over last year.

The events averaged better than 24 nominations; four races had more than 30 horses named and one 2-year-old event drew 40 colts.

All the leading stables seen here last summer will be back with such drivers as popular Joe Hyman, leading driver in the Maryland Circuit in 1949, Tom Lewis, the country's fourth-ranking driver in number of races won last year; Joe Eyley, Tom Walters, Jim Stokley, Billy Myer, Olin Davis, Bruce Puckett and Doc Allen, in the sulky seat.

Among the new drivers at Ocean Downs will be Earl Avery of Woodstock, New Brunswick, Canada, who has a stable of 16 horses in training now at Orlando, Fla., and among them is the $8,000 plying filly, Alma Direct.

Wendell Wathen, Ft. Fairfield, Maine, potato grower, had one of the largest list of nominations. Wathen has been racing at Roosevelt Raceway in recent years, but will race straight through the Maryland Circuit this season.

Harry Craig, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., has asked for 20 stalls for horses mostly owned by Conrad & Ahl, of Albany, N. Y. Craig's fastest performer is Clever Boy whose record of 2:02 2/5 was made last year at Goshen, N. Y. He also has Bruno P. C. Grattan 2:05 1/5. Kate Volo 2:07 and Excell Call 2:09, winner of seven dashes at Saratoga and Roosevelt Raceways last year.

From Pinehurst, N. C., will come Bill Fleming, son of the internationally famous Vic Fleming who drove Billy Direct to the fastest record ever achieved by a harness horse, 1:55. Bill drove Billy Direct to a record of 1:59 3/5 over a half-mile track and won the $40,000 Nassau Two-Mile Pace with April Star in 1947.

Out of Weston, W. Va., came the entry of Hunter M. Bennett with 12 horses named and to be driven by R. C. (Bobby) Mentzer. Charlie Knierim, of Alloway, N. J., is bringing to Ocean Downs the good pacers The Adjuster 2:06, Elliott Hanover 2:05 1/4, and Night Flare 2:05.

are other drivers coming here for the first time.

The fastest record horse coming is David Spencer 2:00. He was named in the $2500 Berlin Trot and will match strides with Tompkins Hanover, Buckshot B., Follow Boy, Belina Hanover, Clever Boy and also the newcomers Leading Man, Beautiful Scamp and the Wathen-owned Chief Song.

This year's trotting meeting opens August 10 and runs through September 5.

Highway Dept. Issues Manual

A special hauling and moving permit manual has recently been issued by the State Highway Department explaining in detail the procedure to be followed in obtaining special hauling or moving permits for moving oversize and overweight trucks on the highways.

The regulations, as set forth in this manual, make it necessary for the applicant for a permit to move an oversize or overweight load, to apply in advance for the permit, and the regulations stipulate that the permit shall be carried in the vehicle making the move.

Applicants for these special or moving permits must also post a bond or certified check with the Department in accordance with the following schedule: 50,000 pounds gross, or less, $500; 50,000 pounds to 70,000 pounds, $1,000; 70,000 pounds to 90,000 pounds, $2,500; over 90,000 pounds, $5,000.

These bonds or certified checks are to cover possible damage to property of the State and will be returned, upon request, upon the satisfactory completion of the haul and settlement of all claims made by the Department.

In addition each applicant is required to show that he has property damage and public liability insurance coverage for the vehicle making the move. This insurance is intended to protect the public and the applicant.

When applying for a permit the applicant describes the load, the type of vehicle to be used in moving the load, the dimensions of the vehicle and the origin and destination of the trip.

Loads which are able to be broken down into smaller sizes or weights are not permitted to be moved by special hauling or moving permits. For example; an applicant requesting a permit for an overweight load of potatoes will be denied the request while an applicant requesting a permit for an overweight or oversize ship propeller will be granted the request, provided of course, the bond and insurance provisions, stated above, are complied with.

The fee for the move is two dollars. For all overweight movers there is an additional charge of two cents per ton mile for all weight above the licensed gross limit of the vehicle.

The State Highway Department will route all unusually heavy or oversize loads in order to insure that adequate clearance of bridges will be provided and that the roads and bridges are capable of carrying the load. The Department reserves the right to reject any application for a permit.

Permits for the movement of pole trailers or piling trucks may be obtained on a monthly basis for a fee of $10 in the form of a blanket permit. This means that the piling truck, with its blanket permit may move as often as it wishes through the State for one month with the permit for that month. All other moves require individual permits for each move.

Application forms for the various types of permits and for the bonds can be obtained from the State Highway Department at 152 S. State Street, Dover.

Gas Tax Refunds Heavy to Farmers

Slightly more than one-half of the gasoline tax refunds made during the fiscal year ending last June 30, were for agricultural purposes, according to the financial statement for the fiscal year prepared by Leroy F. Hawke, secretary of the State Highway Department.

Gasoline tax refunds for the fiscal year amounted to $334,589.21, an increase of $12,150.78 over the previous year and of this amount, $175,326.30 was for agriculture, an increase of $19,808.06.

Refunds for commercial uses amounted to $53,849.04, an increase of $13,991.28. Governmental refunds totaled $52,830.47, an increase of $5,252.52, while the tax refunds for fuel used in boats amounted to $9,822.56, an increase of $420.

Decreases were noted in the refunds for domestic uses and for fuel used in airplanes. The refunds for domestic uses amounted to $35.16, a decrease of $3.68, while the refunds for airplanes, due largely to the decrease in fueling commercial planes at the New Castle County Air Base, totaled $42,724.68, a decrease of $27,317.40.

The gross amount collected in gasoline tax during the year was $3,394,489.58 and with the $334,589.21 in refunds deducted, the net amount received by the State was $3,059,900.37. The percentage of refunds to collections was 9.86 per cent.

Mare Wins Race On Broken Leg

The lines of John Greenleaf Whittier's poem, Barbara Fritchie, will have to be rewritten, to wit: Shoot if you must, a plaster cast

But spare my broken leg, she asked

For just as heart-warming as the story of the patriotic Civil War lady with the old grey head, is the tale of Barbara Fritchie, the trotting mare who once won a race at Saratoga Raceway with a broken leg.

Barbara Fritchie, the trotter, is ten years old now and planning nothing less than a comeback to the races. Yet it was only on the night of September 14, 1948, at Saratoga Raceway that her career almost came to an end after one of the gamest exhibitions harness racing has ever known.

Her owner and driver, Big Ed Ashton of Saratoga Springs, remembers it well: "Barbara had been a hard-luck mare most of her life, but in 1948 she was having a great year. Racing at Saratoga and Essex Junction, Vt., she went into that September 14th race at the Raceway with a season's record of five wins, three seconds and one third in nine starts. She was in a tough field, including Precision, Miss Cream of Tartar, Bruce Day, Kate Volo and Truscon, but as we passed the five-eighths pole, she was trotting smartly on top.

"Then something happened," he recalls, "She stumbled and it startled me because she wasn't in the habit of making breaks. In a moment another horse was alongside us and I thought we were done for. But the second Barbara heard the horse at her side, she caught stride and quickly opened up a good lead. Around the last turn, she wavered a little and at the head of the stretch I knew something was wrong. However, when Precision came at us in the lane, she refused to quit and trotted home the winner in 2:09 3/5. A short distance past the wire, she pulled up on three legs.

"We got her to the barn," Ashton continues, "and had X-Rays taken. She had broken a pastern bone in her foreleg, had cracked it in three places. I refused to have her destroyed, though, because she was already in foal and I felt she'd make a wonderful broodmare."

With this new lease on life and the aid of a plaster cast, Barbara

Fritchie has already vindicated her owner's decision. She produced a filly by Mose Dale last year and although she didn't catch when bred again, Ashton isn't too disappointed.

It seems that her leg has mended perfectly and Big Ed is eager to race her one more year.

"She's really too valuable to race," he declares, "because she's bred in the purple. She's by Volomite out of Sister Guy, by Guy Axworthy and thus a full sister to the double-gaited star, Millbrook. Still it will be nice to drive her if she gets to the races this summer. And right now it looks as though she will."

John Gruwell, Wyoming, Re-enlists

John J. Gruwell, 26, of Wyoming, has enlisted in the regular army as private first class. He enlisted for three years and is stationed at Ft. Dix, N. J. for classification and assignment.

John said he was re-enlisting because of his 5 1/2 years of previous service and that in addition to earning excellent pay, he will be able to retire in only 14 more years. At that time he will be only 40.

He is one of the many veterans of the last war from this area to decide to go back and finish their career in the Armed Forces. The recruiting station at Dover states that Ft. Dix is processing 1200 re-enlisted veterans per week.

Merrymakers Meet With Mrs. Masten

The March meeting of the Merrymakers Home Demonstration Club of Harrington was held Wednesday evening, March 8, at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Masten, with Mrs. Ethel Rapp serving as co-hostess. The topic for the evening was on decorating. Mrs. Kate Peck, president opened the meeting and immediately introduced Mrs. Violet Goodwill, home demonstration agent, who in turn introduced the speaker, an interior decorator, of Wilmington, who spoke on the principles of good decorating and gave the members some excellent examples of his ideas. He showed very concretely just what one can do with the many lovely fabrics and textiles of today. A short movie was shown at the end of his talk.

The business meeting followed the lecture. The treasurer's and secretary's reports were given and accepted. A discussion followed on the topic for the next meeting. Since there was not too much interest on the scheduled topic of "Making Bed Quilts," the club decided to substitute a topic for the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Kate Peck. No definite plans were made but two topics were suggested and one will be the program for next month. There was a large attendance at the meeting including several new members and visitors. Mrs. Masten and Mrs. Knapp served refreshments that were very much in the St. Patrick's Day pattern. The meetings are very interesting and offer much to the members. Wouldn't you like to join? Mrs. Peck or any member of the club would be glad to invite you to be present at the next meeting.

This Senator McCarthy from Wisconsin has us puzzled. The more we hear about him the more undecided we are as to whether his name is Joseph or Charlie.

Charles Peck, Jr., had fame thrust upon him in a peculiar way. He was elected mayor of Harrington and within a few weeks the office automatically became vacant when Mr. Peck moved beyond the city limits.

HE WAS A GENTLEMAN

Delaware has suffered a severe loss in the death of Earle Willey. Civic leader, lawyer, congressman, librarian, secretary of state, judge, Rotarian, he reflected credit and honor on every position he held and every organization with which he was identified.

BRING BOB BURNS BACK

A sinister figure sneaks along in the shadows of a murky night down by the wharf. Half-starved rats scurry across an eerie patch of light. A woman's scream pierces the blackness—then the splash of a body in the river!

An "Ain't I Smart" master of ceremonies invades the stage. He rehearses jokes first heard immediately after the morning stars first sang together in celestial symphony at the dawn of creation.

Ladies and gentlemen of America, civilized America, we have witnessed the usual television show!

CENSUS UNKIND TO CITIES

Soon the census takers will be abroad in the land and people will be dodging them right and left, mistaking them for income tax collectors or "revenueurs."

Practically all of the good-sized towns in this state have had a healthy growth, while the smaller towns have remained about the same.

That city is in the position of the big strong boy who has grown so fast he's just about "busted his britches."

Wilmington is hedged in and all about by towns, neat, fast-growing towns. Physically, they are a part of the city, but the city line intervenes.

Smaller communities all over the nation look with distrust on any suggestion of annexation by a larger city. They feel that they would be gobbled up and devoured both politically and economically and lose their identity.

Earle D. Willey Dies

Funeral services for Earle D. Willey, 60, who served as U. S. representative and secretary of state for Delaware, were held Monday afternoon in Wesley Methodist Church at Dover.

The Rev. Dr. John A. Trader, pastor, officiated at the services. Interment was in St. Johnstown Cemetery, Greenwood.

Mr. Willey, known familiarly as "Judge," died at his home on Bay Road on the outskirts of Dover at about 9:30 o'clock Friday night after suffering a heart attack. He died before a physician could reach his home.

The Kent County attorney had resumed his private law practice just a year ago. In 1945 he was appointed by Walter W. Bacon, then governor, as head of the Delaware Legislative Bureau, an agency that was created that year by the General Assembly.

Mr. Willey was an outstanding leader in civic affairs, and had a long career in the state's Republican politics.

In 1941, he was appointed secretary of state for Delaware by Governor Bacon, and served in that post until his election to Congress in November, 1942. As U. S. representative, he was most active in the interest of veteran's legislation.

It was following his term in Congress that he received the appointment of the newly formed Legislative Reference Bureau.

Greenwood Native

Mr. Willey was born at Greenwood July 21, 1889, son of the late J. T. and Fannie A. Willey. He was graduated from the Greenwood High School and received a degree from Dickinson College at Carlisle, Pa., in 1911.

From 1915 to 1917, he studied law at the George Washington University in Washington, D. C., and completed his studies under the late Henry R. Johnson of Dover. During his period in Washington, he served as secretary to Rep. Thomas W. Miller, then of Delaware.

He was later appointed state librarian by John G. Townsend, Jr., then Governor, and was admitted to the Delaware bar in 1920.

Mr. Willey was named deputy attorney general for Kent County in 1921 by the late Atty. Gen. Sylvester D. Townsend, Jr. He was reappointed in 1925 by Atty. Gen. Clarence A. Southerland and in 1929 by Atty. Gen. Reuben Satterwaite, Jr.

Resigning the office in 1931, he was appointed judge of the Court of Common Pleas for Kent County by C. Douglas Buck, then Governor. He was renamed in 1935 and served as judge of the court until July of 1939.

He served as a legislative attorney at the last session of the General Assembly.

A few days ago, if you remember, I predicted that within three years you would be owning a television set. Well I am afraid that I am off a little on that prediction and I would like to change it to two years. Of course that does not apply to all of you so many have purchased Philco television sets that your neighbor or yourself may be one of them. I try to carry a stock of television sets on hand but at times it is hard to get them. At the present time I have on hand ten, twelve, and sixteen inch sets.

Television is really a wonderful thing to have in your home. The only thing I have against one is that I get so interested that I hate to shut it off.

Prices are not so high, just think of a ten inch picture in a console at a special price of $150.00.

A few days ago a man and wife with their two children were in to buy an electric refrigerator. After selling them one, I was asking about a washer and the wife spoke up and said why we have one. I then asked her what kind she had and she said that it was a Maytag and was sold to her mother before she was born. Well I said then you are needing a new one and she said Oh no, the one we have is working perfectly. So I said to myself when so many people tell you almost the same story, a Maytag is the washer that anyone can buy and get many years of service from it.

You can get these washers in both the wringer type and automatic. We have them both.

When it comes to an automatic washer you can also rely on the old name Westinghouse, that name means satisfaction. See the new Westinghouse Laundramat a little down and the balance a few months to pay will surely wash your troubles away.

Yes it has been rather cool starting of spring and maybe the old wood or coal fire felt good, but did you stop to think that a gas range will look much better in that same spot as the old stove?

It will not only look better but will perform much quicker and better. Then don't forget that gas is ideal for heating that hot water and your water is hot when you want and need it. While doing this let us also install a gas heater for chilly or cool days and then you can sit back and start kicking yourself because you hadn't done it before. As I said before we install all our ranges, water heaters and etc., and furnish you gas in bottles or metered. What are you waiting for? Money? Well we can arrange that also. Come in and see how easy this can be arranged.

Yes it is wall papering time and wall paper we have. You need it and we need your money, so why wait?

I was talking to some people this week who said that they had some wall paper on their rooms about 20 years old. Some things are alright to look at for 20 years and longer but when it comes to wall paper—change it and you'll see.

We have plenty of electric ranges, $125.00 to $355.00. This is Wheeler's Phone 541 Harrington. Talk Peace not War.

The Houston New Century Club met Tuesday night, March 14 with "The American Homes Peace Contribution" as the evening's topic of the program. A most interesting feature was a paper Mrs. Dufrenoy, Mrs. W. J. Dufrenoy had charged had prepared on the subject, and several members read interesting articles. Mrs. Pearson read Edgar A. Guests beautiful poem, "Home." Due to the absence of the president Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Emory Webb, 1st vice-president was in the chair. During the social hour the hostess served an abundance of delicious refreshments, and the meeting adjourned till Tuesday, when "Handicrafts" will be the subject with Mrs. Wallace Hanson and Mrs. Norman Bushey in charge of the program.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. William Hayes, who received word her nephew, John Jacobs, who formerly lived at Milford, but who was at the time employed by the Wilson Line in Camden, N. J., had died very suddenly of a heart attack.
