Quillen and Brown Elected in Record School Board Vote

Incumbents Are Parsons and Gruwell; New Board Members To Take Office, Sat., July 1

Record balloting saw Hayward Quillen and Herman Cabbage Brown win out in a hotly contested battle with three other candidates, including the two incumbents, for school board posts here Saturday afternoon. Ballots aggregated 664, believed to be a record for Harrington Special School District No. 54.

Leading the pack was Hayward Quillen with 312 tallies, followed by Cabbage Brown, the other victor, with 304. Breathing on Brown's neck was Elwood Gruwell, president of the school board, with 298 tallies, followed by A. B. Parsons, the other incumbent, with 203. John Minner, the fifth candidate garnered 172.

Quillen and Brown will take office Sat., July 1, at an organizational meeting when a president and vice-president of the school board will also be named. J. C. Messner, superintendent of Harrington schools, serves as secretary of the board, a non-elective post. The regular meeting date of the board is the second Tuesday monthly.

Robert Nelson and Fulton J. Downing are the holdover members of the board.

Railroad News

Base Ball Double Header Sunday p. m. 21st. The first special train this season to Shibe Park will leave Delmar 9:15 a. m. Sunday 21st stopping at Harrington 10:00 a. m. (Daylight Saving Time) arriving at North Philadelphia 12:15 p. m.

The return trip leaves North Philadelphia 45 minutes after the game and gets back to Harrington around 7 p. m.

This should be a real treat as the Phillies and Cardinals are right up there fighting it out for the top rung.

Howard Williams still has plenty of tickets. The price is $5.25 to and from the game and a good reserved seat in the grand stand. Passes are good on the train and tickets for the game can be bought from the conductor for $2.50.

The Diesels have disappeared as unceremoniously as they appeared. They did a swell job during the six days here and are now back on their home grounds shinning up the rails that had become rusted during their absence.

The following is in answer to many questions being asked about these engines.

There were only four of them here, two passenger and two freight. They came Thursday the 11th and left Tuesday the 16th. They were in continuous operation and allowed twelve wornout steam engines to take a much needed rest. They made no dirt and cinders, they were always on time and could easily have been a half hour ahead. There was no stopping for coal, water, oil or repairs. They did not start any fires along the right of way.

Like Old Man River "They just keep rolling along."

One of the passenger engines No. 5884-5885 hauled train No. 469, the midnight express, south and came back on No. 454, the evening train.

The other 5884-5881 hauled No. 455 Delmarva Express south at noon and back on No. 463 at 3 a. m.

These two engines are 4000 horse power, 2000 to each unit. They weigh 215,000 lbs. per unit and are geared for 98 miles per hour.

The freight engines are geared for 65 miles per hour, weigh 200,000 lbs. and are 1500 horse power per unit.

One of these No. 9502-9521 hauled No. 53 south at 9:20 a. m. and came back on No. 452 at 9:00 p. m.

The No. 9520-9521 hauled freight train D-3 south and D-2 north with 150 cars.

A test run was made last summer on the D. M. & V. Branch with the A half of this latter engine hauling the HF-1 south with 68 cars and FH-2 back with 75 cars.

We are told that we might see them back as soon as operation is resumed on full footing west of Harrisburg.

Train Service Instructor Randall Beebe has been conducting classes, qualifying all Trainmen, Enginemen, Signalmen and others who are involved in operation, on Book of Rules, Supplemental Instructions and Safety Rules. Those qualifying at classes held mornings and evenings Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were:

1:30 p. m. Monday 15. Enginemen, W. H. Davis and W. L. Gooding, Jr.; Trainmen, M. P. Young and S. H. Truitt; Block Operators, W. H. Quillen, J. L. Miller and Herman Pegelow.

Burton, F. R. Sammons, H. L. Sipple, J. H. Cordray, G. C. Lord, and J. O. Pride; Block Operator, B. W. East.

8:30 a. m. Tuesday 16. Supervisor R. R. McClain, Inspector T. & S. E. Homewood, T. & S. Foreman, R. T. Talton, Signalman F.

Ambulance Donations Start Coming In

During the first week of campaign by the Harrington Fire Company to raise money for a new ambulance, 36 gave donations. The firemen are asking you to be as generous as possible and make your contribution early. Remember, the sooner we get this ambulance, the sooner we may save a life—this life saved could be you. So, let's all get behind these men and help them to acquire this great asset to our community. A complete list of donors will be carried in this column each week. $306 was given the first week. The largest and first donation was $100 from the Greenberg Package Store. Following are the contributors for the past week:

Greenbergs Package Store, William A. Berry, Jr., Horn's Bakery, Cahall's Gas Service Co., John F. Abbott, Jr., Nicholas Price, John H. Holloway, Irvin S. Horn, Albert B. Fisher, Wm. Hubbard, Thos. M. Leipsic Defeats Harrington, 12-7

Harrington outthit the Leipsic baseball team Sunday afternoon, but lost the game, 12-7, in a loopyly played affair. M. Brown allowed only one hit in four innings, but was tagged for three hits and three runs in the fifth. He was relieved by J. Ralph in the seventh. I. Scott went the route for the Leipsic nine.

Harrington will play at Viola Sunday afternoon.

Bill Wilson is on the sick list. This is not intended as a want ad but Byron Burgess is in need of an alarm clock.

Howard Williams birthday was last Wednesday. Asked how old he was, he replied 38, but we think he got the figures reversed.

A check of Howards service record shows he has been in the service 38 years without loss of time for any cause.

IT'S CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN for the Watkins family of Houston. Here they all are—14 of them. Leroy, 3, is seated on his mother's lap, while Rosie, a New Year's baby of 1949, is seated on her father's lap. At Mrs. Watkins' elbow are Anne Mae, 7, and Delama, 4, while directly behind them are Richard, 9, and Martha, 11. Edith, 8, is directly behind her mother. The oldest boys in the back, from left to right, are: James, 15, Ralph, 13, Harvey, 17, and Oscar, 20. Ruth Anne, 18, is at her father's right.

Farm Family Tries 'Cheaper By Dozen'

By FRANK ADLER

Bill and Mable Watkins are pretty much agreed—it's cheaper by the dozen!

In their 22 years of married life, Mr. and Mrs. Watkins have raised 12 children—six boys and six girls—ranging in ages from one to 20 years. They have done it all on the theory that "it's just as easy to care for a dozen children as it is for a few."

When the census taker visited this Kent county family this year, she could easily see from a glimpse at the family clothes line that she had a gigantic task on her hands enumerating the Watkins family. It took more than just a single sheet to list the 14 members of the family who live in a six-room farm house near Houston.

There are Mr. and Mrs. Watkins, both 42, and their children, Oscar, 20, Ruth Anne, 18, Harvey, 17, James, 15, Ralph, 13, Martha, 11, Richard, 9, Edith, 8, Anna Mae, 7, Delama, 4, Leroy, 3 and Rosie, 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins came from rather smaller families than their own. Bill, who celebrates his 42nd birthday on May 30, was born and raised only a few miles from Houston. His parents were William Harvey and Sudie Watkins and he was one of six children. Mable, whose mother, Mrs. Edith Jones, lives at Cedar Neck, is from a family of eight children. They were married in Felton on May 5, 1928.

Life for the Watkins family is pretty much a lot of fun—and a lot of hard work, too. Everybody does his or her share. The father does as much farm work as he can, classifying himself a "jack of all trades." He utilizes a tractor and truck to the best possible advantage to bring home the bacon for the 12 hungry mouths. "Everything and anything to keep the family going," comments Bill Watkins.

Oscar contributes to the family income from his employment as a plumber in Milford. Ruth Anne is an employe of Latex Company in Dover. Harvey works for the March Company in Milford, while the remainder of the family fill the classrooms of the Houston school or romp about the woods outside their home.

As a farm family, the Watkins raise much of their own food. Their cows supply the milk and the chickens the eggs. The pigs occasionally supply the ham and bacon. The large surrounding trees supply the wood for fuel and the land supplies the grain and vegetables.

As far as clothing is concerned, what one youngster wears is handed down to the next as he or she becomes of size. Mrs. Watkins makes most of her children's clothing and her clothes line—almost 200 feet long—is filled almost three times a week. "All I mind about having a big family," she says, "is the ironing."

The Watkins family is not one of luxury. "We can't afford to be," comments the father. Birthdays pass by without the slightest celebration, and the kids take turns going to town on Saturday nights. On Sundays one will find almost all of them seated in the Houston Methodist Church, where the smallest of them go for recreation on Friday evenings as well.

Bill Watkins owns 50 acres of land where his family lives. He built his six room house three years ago. The conveniences are comfortable, but not modern. The four bedrooms and living room and kitchen are just enough to keep all the Watkins happy.

In a few weeks, there will be one less member of the Watkins family living at home. Ruth Anne, the oldest daughter who "bawled the doctor out 13 years ago because he didn't bring me sister," is engaged to Howard Hastings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hastings of Houston. The young couple will be married on June 10.

High School Band To Give Concert

The Harrington High School Band will give its first summer outdoor band concert at 7 p. m., Sat., May 27, at the rear of the First National Bank Building.

Miss Hazel Johnson and the band majorettes will sell refreshments including homemade ice cream, cake, candy, and drinks. Proceeds will go into the band fund.

The concert is free.

Highway Dept. To Receive Bids On Many Projects

For three consecutive Wednesdays the State Highway Department will receive bids on numerous projects that include road construction, maintenance supplies and beach protection work.

The Department will open bids Wednesday for the construction of the Farnhurst traffic interchange and the rebuilding of the existing road from Blackiston's Corner to Clayton in Kent County.

Bids for surface treatment work in each of the three counties will be received Wed., May 31 and at the same time bids will be received for pipe requirements, patching materials, gasoline and diesel oil requirements and fuel oil for mosquito control work. These items are covered in 17 different contracts.

Then Wed., June 7, bids will be opened on shore protection projects which were authorized by the 1949 session of the Legislature. These include the placing of a sand fill at Slaughter Beach; placing a creosoted timber groin and bulkhead at Broadkill Beach; creosoted timber groins at Leves Beach; stone-filled creosoted timber groins at Rehoboth Beach, and stone-filled creosoted timber groins at Bethany Beach.

Of the projects involved, the construction of the Farnhurst traffic interchange is considered to be one of the largest projects undertaken by the Department this year. It will provide for the transfer of traffic between the approach to the Delaware River Memorial Bridge and the duPont Parkway.

Mrs. O'Neal Heads Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Frank O'Neal Jr., was elected president of the auxiliary of Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tea Post No. 7 of the American Legion at its monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Mrs. Leonard Taylor; treasurer, Mrs. Clyde Tucker; recording secretary, Mrs. Tharp Harrington; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Minner; historian, Mrs. Charles Jerred; chaplain, Mrs. Charles Peck Jr., and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Joseph Penny.

Installation will be made next month, at the same time the Legion installs, if possible.

Mrs. Clarence Raughley is the outgoing president of the auxiliary.

Fire Damages Fairview Inn

A fire of unknown origin damaged Fairview Inn, on U. S. 13 just north of town, early Sunday morning. Fire Chief Doug Mills estimated the damage at $1000 to the building and $300 to $400 to the contents.

The blaze was discovered at around 2:22 a. m. by a boy named Coverdale, Harrington rural route, who was passing by on the highway. Prompt action by the firemen confined the blaze to the southern end of the building. No one was in the structure at the time. State police are investigating the cause of the blaze.

Winterthur Holsteins Top Sale Here

Two animals, bred by Winterthur Farms, Winterthur, Del., topped the first annual Harrington Heifer Classic, a sale of 38 registered Holstein females and bulls, at the Kent & Sussex Fairgrounds here Tuesday afternoon.

The young bull, Winterthur Fobes Victor Ebo, went to a Porto Rican buyer at $1130, and the cow, Winterthur Victor Winner Atina, sold to Herbert Carter, of Queen Anne, Md., for $850.

The sale average on 38 head was $412.76, with a total of $14,685.

One of the gems of the sale was Becky Star Pontiac, a cow consigned by N. W. Taylor, of Dover, which went to Maurice Adams, of Harrington. A bred heifer, Bertha Inka Star Bones, also consigned by Taylor, sold to St. Andrews School, Middletown.

Lester Cleaver, of Middletown, sheriff of New Castle County, bought a bull, Hedge Aedan Ilona, for $800 from Alfred L. Rose, of Pine Plains, N. Y.

The Delaware Holstein-Friesian Association co-operated in conducting the sale.

Harness Races To Close Saturday Night

Harness races at the Kent & Sussex Raceway will close Saturday night, rain or shine. Rain has caused cancellation of three nights, as of Wednesday. If the races continue without interruption until Saturday, 17 nights of racing will have been staged.

SHORT STORY

Sane And Sensible

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

GAIL WATCHED TOMMY Berkeley and Rita Young disappear down the moon-flooded path toward the beach. His arm was about her waist and Rita's red head was very close to Tommy's blond locks. Tears blinded Gail's vision. "That's what you get," she thought bitterly, "for being sane and sensible all your life. For being virtuous and loyal." Loyal! The word provoked a laugh. Loyal to what? To Tommy Berkeley? That was ridiculous. You couldn't be loyal to a man who didn't know what you were up to. Or at least it lost its effect. Gail turned and started back toward the lodge. Two months ago she had come up here with her folks for the summer. The day after their arrival she had met Tommy Berkeley. They had danced and Tommy had looked down at her and said: "You're not pretty or beautiful, you're glorious, which is really a weak word to express what I mean."

Gail had known then why all her life she had been sane and sensible. It had been for Tommy.

At the point where the path skirted the tennis courts before coming to the lodge steps, Gail saw a figure and stopped, catching her breath. "Hi there, Gail, I saw you walking down this way and followed."

Even without the help of moonlight to etch out the features of the man Gail recognized the voice. It was Clark Davis. Davis was tall and good looking and dark. He was considered wild. He had a reputation. Mothers warned their daughters not to go out with him, though they didn't say why.

"Clark!" she forced a laugh. "You frightened me at first." "Sorry." He came close. "I guess I've been frightening you ever since you came up here. I wish I didn't."

A path of molten gold streamed across the lake. Tentatively, Clark Davis slipped an arm around her waist. And when she offered no objection he stopped and swung her to face him. "Gail!" he cried hoarsely. "Gail!" And he took her into his arms. She yielded, gave him her lips in a long kiss. When it was over she broke away, suddenly, unaccountably, regretful, guilty, ashamed.

"Don't! Please! I—I think we'd better go back."

But Clark Davis didn't understand. He couldn't understand. He seized her wrist and jerked her up close to him. "Listen," he said tensely. "I love you! Do you hear! I want you—have wanted you since the first day you arrived here. And you want me!"

"No. No, Clark! You don't understand. I was a fool to come here with you. Please let me go."

QUICK FOOTSTEPS sounded along the pebbles. A figure loomed out of the gloom. Davis felt a heavy hand on his shoulder. He swung around, saw Tommy Berkeley. Angry he swore and struck out. But Tommy sidestepped the blow and drove home a hard fist, catching Davis behind the ear, following it with a second blow to the jaw.

Clark's feet went out from under him. He fell groaning. "You dirty dog!" Tommy said, coldly brutal. "You ought to be hung!" Then he turned to Gail, where she had sunk to her knees. He helped her up.

They walked along the beach. Tommy's arm supported her. They stopped at the foot of the path. "The dirty dog," Tommy said. "Why can't a man like Davis accept the fact that there are some good girls left? Why does he have to think they're all alike?"

"Oh, Tommy!" She smiled, dabbing at her eyes. "It—it's all right now. I—I was foolish to have come here with him. If you hadn't come along—"

He grinned. "Lucky thing for both of us. Rita and I were sitting on the big rock beyond the point. When we heard you cry out we thought there was trouble and she went back to the lodge by the road. I came over to investigate. I'm glad I found you, because now you'll be the first to know of Rita's and my engagement."

Removing Stains
Sponge meat juice or gravy stains with cold or lukewarm water. Never use hot water; it sets the stain. If a grease spot remains, launder washable materials in warm soapy water. If the cloth is not washable, use a grease solvent.

Modern "Rail-Splitters"
To test new cutting tools, engineers whittle cast iron "logs" weighing half a ton into millions of iron chips. The cutting tools then are examined under a microscope for wear.

Merrymakers Meet

The Merrymakers Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. William Minner Wednesday evening of last week with Mrs. Charles Peck, Jr. presiding. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Peck and included the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report. Announcements were made of the Short Course which will be held in June at the University of Delaware, the Chicken-of-Tomorrow Cooking Contest to be held in Dover, and notice of several project schools which will be held in the near future.

Mrs. Violet Goodwill, Home Demonstration agent, was present at the meeting and demonstrated the use of a Spot Remover Kit, which any home maker can assemble for a small amount of money. Mrs. Goodwill also talked about stains and how they can be removed, with the various types of removers.

Mrs. Eugene Anderson was co-hostess for the meeting and assisted Mrs. Minner in serving refreshments after the meeting was adjourned.

Mr. and Mrs. John Darling, of near Felton, celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary Sunday at their home. Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Vince Coates and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dudley, of Alexandria, Va.; Harry Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. George Kramer and daughter, Mary Lou, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tucker and children, Dorothy, Marion, Charlette, Bobbie and Kenneth, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adler and daughter, of Rock Hall, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. John Gorman and children, Jimmie and Virginia, of Chestertown, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Holden and Eugene, of Milford; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woikoski and Donald, of Felton; Mr. and Mrs. Smith Roland, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Darling and children, Myrtle, Frances and Donald, and Mary Ann Martin, of Viola; Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Darling and son Robert, Fred Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Holden, of Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Darling were married May 15, 1885, in Avenue M. E. Parsonage, Milford, by the Rev. W. S. Robinson.

Madeline Jackson Weds Robert Vanvorst

Miss Madeline Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Jackson of Harrington, became the bride of Mr. Robert Vanvorst, of Milford, Friday evening, May 21, at the home of her parents. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. T. Pritchard, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church.

Mrs. Preston Jackson, sister-in-law of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Preston Jackson, brother of the bride, was best man.

A reception followed the wedding at the home of her parents. After the wedding trip, the couple will reside in Milford.

The bride is employed by the Latex Corp. of Dover. The groom is employed by the Milford Milling Company.

Charity in Children

Although "cleanliness is next to Godliness," do not stifle the practices of charity in the effort to keep your children clean. It is more important to praise a child for wanting to share his food with the family pet than to scold him for being dirty. It is easy to learn about germs when one is older. It may not be so easy to unlearn selfishness.

Children's Tastes

Children and babies have taste preference just as adults have, and therefore should not be forced to eat anything set before them. Giving children some leeway in the amount and kind of food they eat does much to insure the health of the child and the peace of the whole family.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

You know this is Philco refrigerator week and to each purchaser we give away a 52 piece dinner set. This applies not only to buyers but if you come in the store and look around at our refrigerators, we will gladly give you free a water chiller which is very nice for these warm days. The mouth of this chiller is large enough to drop in a few ice cubes. There is a reason in giving away these chillers and that is to get you acquainted with the most reasonable refrigerators made today with a freezer all the way across the top.

We also have a new Westinghouse with the freezer all the way across the top. This is on display and just waiting for you to say the word to deliver you one right away as my old refrigerator is just about gone.

Remember when you bought your old refrigerator over 10 years ago? You thought it a little high to put so much out at one time but see how long that money has stretched and today it will still stretch further as the life of a refrigerator is at least 5 years longer. They are now guaranteed 5 years when then they were guaranteed one year.

Only $189.50 for a refrigerator with a freezer all the way across the top which should last you for about 15 years or more. Why this is less than $13.00 a year.

We are busy installing new gas ranges and I am wondering if you are one of the lucky ones. Only today I installed a gas range in a home which was very much up to date and I couldn't understand why they were still using an old 3 burner oil stove. When it was completed the kitchen looked like a kitchen should. I am wondering if your kitchen is up to date.

Ranges are not high in fact we have full size cabinet ranges for less than a hundred dollars. Let us install that range whether you buy it from Wheeler's or Sears and we will serve you either bottled or metered gas.

Of course you know that baseball season is here and if you list ten to it on your radio it is mighty thrilling is it not especially when the score is even and the last man is up with 2 men out. Some thrill when this man hits and scores the run. But that is only a part of the thrill as with a television set you see that ball take that sock and the crowds going wild.

Television is not expensive and can be bought on easy terms. This coming week I hope to sell one a day and if you want a television set you better stay away or you will be looking at one in your own home.

Come in if you want, let's talk it over and remember prices are special for this one week. You can save many dollars on brand new sets 12 1/2 and 16 inch screens. Wheeler's Community Park will be open after May 28 and if you are planning to have a picnic or a little outing, it will be there for you. Come and see the improvements since last year.

We have it—What? Wall paper, wall paper, wall paper, wall paper. Talk Peace Not War.

Wesley College Plans Commencement Weekend

Wesley Junior College will hold its commencement dance this evening, from 9 to 1 p. m. in the gymnasium. The Music Box Quartet will supply the music.

Bishop Shot K. Mondel, of Hyderabad State, southern India, will be the guest speaker at the annual baccalaureate service at Wesley Methodist Church Sunday at 11 a. m.

Dr. Bartley will give communion to the graduates, their friends and families, and the faculty in Holt Chapel at 8 p. m.

The seventh commencement of Wesley Junior College will be climaxed Monday, at 11 a. m. with the presentation of degrees to 22 graduates. Thomas B. McCabe, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D. C., will address the graduation class.

Those to be graduated include: William Biddle, Chestertown; Charlesta Davis, Pittsville; Dorothy Demsey, Newark; Wilma Dorman, Laurel; James Jones, Bear; Vaughn Rash, Smyrna; Faye Russell, Berlin; Keneth Synder, Cheswold; Janet Spence, Claymont; Irving Sutton, Chestertown; Arthur Taylor, Wilmington. The exercises will take place on front campus, weather permitting.

Vaccinate Cattle Against Blackleg

This is the time of the year for Delaware cattle owners to be on guard against the disease "Blackleg" in their young stock, say E. S. Biddle of the diagnostic laboratory, State Board of Agriculture, and Dr. E. F. Waller of the Animal and Poultry Industry Department, University of Delaware. "Blackleg" or "quarter ill" is essentially a disease of cattle under three years of age but may affect older animals if they have not been immunized against it. Affected cattle may appear lame at first with death following in 12 to 24 hours. The blackleg germ may live in contaminated pastures for many years. If any cattle owner finds cattle dead or dying from unknown causes he should call his veterinarian immediately. There is no satisfactory treatment for this condition but the veterinarian can vaccinate the remaining healthy animals and keep the disease from spreading.

Vaughn Turkeys Range Plenty

Feed costs for growing turkeys can be reduced by giving them plenty of range—one-half grass sod and one-half planted to crops such as milo, soybeans, corn and sunflowers. That is the experience of M. C. Vaughn, Dixie-Del Farms of Sussex County. He has allowed turkeys to harvest crops for a number of years, with considerable success.

Mr. Vaughn moves poults to range at 12 to 14 weeks of age, with open roosts, feed hoppers, and water fountains on skids for easy moving. Roosts and equipment are moved once a week to prevent disease and encourage even grazing. One acre is allowed for 100 turkeys.

He prefers to have the grass sod in the center of the range, where the poults are moved first. Crops can be grown in rows around the grass area, in this order: 20 rows milo, 70 feet soybeans, 20 rows corn, and 6 rows sunflowers.

Andrewville

Mrs. Harry Selders, Andrewville, and Mrs. Paul Stubbs, Harrington, spent Thursday of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Collins, Cordova.

Mrs. Fred Walls called on Mrs. Earl Griffith Thursday evening of last week.

Red Star Bus System To Expand Monday

Another expansion in the Red Star bus system will link Philadelphia and Norfolk Monday when, under authority of the I. C. C., Red Star begins operation of its buses on a through no-change basis between the two cities via the Delmarva Peninsula.

The buses will operate over routes of Red Star Motor Coaches, Inc. and its subsidiary, Eastern Shore Transit Company. However, to the rider it will all be the same with passengers being permitted to board the buses in either Philadelphia or Norfolk and bound for the other city without ever having to leave their seats until reaching their destination.

Announcement of the completion of another link in the Red Star system was made by Edgar T. Bennett, vice president and general manager, who said that many groups and individuals had long encouraged the expansion as an over-all improvement in the existing service. Red Star is noted for its modern coaches.

Red Star also will serve as an important route between the North and the South by helping passengers avoid going through Baltimore, Washington and Richmond which is expected to speed up the flow of travelers.

This expansion in the Red Star system is another step in the growth of the company which was started as a local operation on the Eastern Shore of Maryland in 1923. Now, Red Star and its subsidiary covers the entire Delmarva Peninsula with terminal points in Norfolk, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

At the present time, northbound buses will depart from Norfolk at 8:20 A. M., 12:50 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., E. S. T. Buses will leave Philadelphia at 11:35 A. M. and 4:10 P. M. for Norfolk. These are all through no-change buses. There is also a connecting southbound trip from Philadelphia at 6:50 A. M.

Floral Arrangements
Better too few flowers than too many in your floral arrangements. Proportion is of great importance. See that your flowers are approximately one and a half times the height of the vase, or one and a half times the width of the bowl. Mass the heavy or dark flowers near the base with the light colors and forms toward the top.

Marydel

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hoffman and family, of Wynnwood, Pa., were Mother's Day guests of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lapham.

the Dinner Bell Inn, Dover, May 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Nutt, Sr. were hosts to their children and families at a turkey dinner served at their home on Mother's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Walls, Sr. have begun the erection of a new home on the outskirts of Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ware recently became the parents of a son born at the Easton Hospital.

The Marydel Lions Club, at its dinner meeting on the evening of May 8, voted to purchase a lot on which will be erected a home for a physician. A committee composed of Messrs. Lord, Shults, and Thompson were appointed to inspect three available lots and report their findings at the next meeting, May 22, at which time the original committee in locating a doctor will be vested with authority to purchase the lot recommended. The erection of the home will then be begun, the financing of which will be a community project.

Marydel Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. James Scotten, with Mrs. K. Shults as cohostess Thursday evening, May 12. Mrs. Scotten, clothing chairman, was in charge of the program. Mrs. C. H. Atkins led in the cultural session. During the business meeting the club members voted to pay for repairs necessary to make the playground equipment safe for the use of the children of Marydel. Concern was expressed regarding the safety of the children playing on the lot on which the swings and seesaw now are, due to trucks using part of the lot for loading and unloading, and a request will be made to those concerned with this traffic to make use of the roadway provided for their use, so as to insure safety for the playing children.

HOW TO BE A "GOOD EGG"
On Party-Line Telephones

WHEN YOU PLAY FAIR with your party-line neighbors... it pays dividends! They'll return your courtesies, and everybody on the line will get better service.

Here are two suggestions

On finding the line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call. And when, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up in a few minutes and free the line.

Easy, isn't it? Yet these little courtesies mark you as a "good egg" on the party line... one who deserves fair treatment in return.

Vaccinate Poultry Topic of Folder

"A Vaccination Program for Delaware Poultrymen" is the title of a new extension folder being distributed to all farmers on the poultry mailing list at the University of Delaware. Additional supplies have been given to county agricultural agents for distribution.

Written at the request of a number of poultrymen, this leaflet gives the latest recommendations on what kind of vaccine to use, when and how to vaccinate, observation for "takes," and where to buy vaccine. These recommendations are based on research results and field observations by H. R. Baker, poultry pathologist, State Board of Agriculture; E. F. Waller, poultry pathologist, University of Delaware; Karl Seeger, associate research professor, University of Delaware station, and Frank Gordy, extension poultryman. The booklet was prepared by Silas McHenry, assistant extension poultryman. Newcastle disease, tracheitis, and pox can be prevented by vaccination. Recent outbreaks of these diseases indicate a need for more effective control. Poultrymen are urged to vaccinate flocks against all possible disease outbreaks.

Parathion Users Warned On Poisoning

A potent warning on the dangers of improper use of parathion has been issued to Delaware fruit growers by Dr. L. A. Stearns, head of the University of Delaware's Department of Entomology.

This insecticide and miticide has gained wide commercial usage and its value is recognized in the protection of agricultural crops. However, parathion is also highly toxic to human beings; in fact, several cases of illness and even death were reported in 1949.

While the University of Delaware did not recommend parathion in its 1950 fruit spray schedules, local growers will be using substantial quantities on both fruits and vegetables. Dr. Stearns has sent a warning letter to growers, advising them that this dangerous insecticide should be handled exactly in accordance with the manufacturer's directions. The letter describes symptoms of parathion poisoning and has attached to it a sample prescription blank.

Judges Named In Miss Delmarva Contest

J. Gorman Walsh, Manager of radio station WDEL-TV in Wilmington; Glenn James, editor of the Queen Anne Observer, Centerville, Md.; Roy Twilley, feed dealer of Chincoteague, Va., have been named as judges for the Miss Delmarva queen contest. It will take place June 14 at Dover, as part of the annual Delmarva Chicken Festival.

Girls over 18 years of age from all over the Delmarva peninsula will compete first for honors as Miss Delaware, Miss Maryland, and Miss Virginia. Then the queen of the festival, Miss Delmarva of 1950, will be chosen. The queen will be selected on the basis of beauty, posture, poise, and personality. She'll have her choice of $500 or a $750 scholarship to the college in which she enrolls. The other two state winners will each receive $200.

According to the contest chairman, William H. Henderson, of Georgetown, judges from the Delmarva states will be aided in their choice by two Powers models who will come down from New York for the festival.

MILFORD HIGH SCHOOL VARIETIES OF 1950 COMING TO NEW MILFORD THEATRE

The second annual staging of the Milford High School Varieties will be presented on the stage of the New Milford Theatre Wednesday, May 24, at 8 p. m. and promises to exceed the very successful performance given by the same group last year under the title of "Varieties of 1949," and will again be directed by Coach Briggs, athletic director of the Milford schools.

The entire cast of "Varieties of 1950" will be composed of students of the Milford School and over 150 students will participate in the various acts which consist of novelties, door prizes, comedy, comedy fashion show, comedy symphony, shadographs, acrobatic tableaux, barber shop quartette and a reproduction of the crowning of the May Queen of 1950, and her court.

"Varieties of 1950" is a complete stage show from the start to the final curtain with no picture program. The performance will last over two hours.

Late Insect News

County Agent William E. Tarbell advises that the spittle bugs in alfalfa, clovers and strawberries are approaching the destructive stage. The bug on strawberries can be controlled by dusting with 1% rotonone. Lindane is also effective on berries and can be used on alfalfa and clovers.

Asparagus beetles in heavy infestations have been observed near Bridgeville and will probably appear in Kent County shortly. Dust with 0.75% rotonone at the rate of 35 lbs. per acre for control.

Spraying during August with 1 lb of calcium arsenate mixed with 3 lbs. of spray lime per 100 gals. of water will reduce the need for control measures during next years' cutting season.

The pea aphid is very abundant in alfalfa and are moving in pea plantings.

Spraying or dusting within the next 10 days or two weeks will probably be necessary. Use 1% rotonone dust at 40 lbs. per acre or spray with 3 lbs. of 5% rotonone per 100 gals. of water with a wetting agent added.

3% DDT dust at the rate of 30 lbs. per acre can be used where the pea vines are not to be fed to cattle.

Farmers Urged To Comply With Child Labor Laws

The child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act apply generally to the farmers of this county, according to County Agricultural Agent, William E. Tarbell. These make it illegal to employ children under 16 years of age in agriculture during school hours.

Tarbell points out that this applies to migratory children as well as local resident youngsters, but not to farmer's own children working on their parent's farm. Farmers are responsible, under the act, for finding out the correct age of their young employees.

Further information about the child labor provisions of this act are available from the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division of the U. S. Department of Labor. The Delaware office is in Wilmington.

Sudan Grass For Summer Pasture

Even if weather conditions are average during the summer, permanent and rotation pastures are not very reliable for satisfactory grazing in Sussex County. The usual pasture grasses will not produce much grazing without plenty of water and with a dry spell or drought in late June or July a temporary pasture is a "must" on most farms.

To fill this midsummer pasture gap, William H. Henderson Sussex county agricultural agent, recommends a temporary pasture of sudan grass. Sudan grass, says Henderson, is the best thing available. It grows fast and usually one acre will supply grazing for about three cows for six to eight weeks in midsummer.

Seeding time for sudan grass is around May 20 with 20 to 25 pounds drilled broadcast to the acre. To get good growth apply 400 to 500 pounds of a 4-12-8 or 5-10-5 to the acre at the same time the grass is seeded.

Although it has long been a notion that sudan grass will cause prussic acid poisoning, Henderson says there is no danger of this if pasturing is done properly.

He lists three points to watch to avoid danger of poisoning. They are: do not pasture until the sudan grass is at least 12 to 15 inches high; do not pasture the grass when it is wilted because of dry weather; and do not pasture if after it has been frosted.

Sunday School at 10 o'clock a. m. Due to the M. E. Conference being in session from Thursday till Monday there will not be any preaching services during the day or evening, but be sure to come out and enjoy the Sunday School hour.

A lovely Mother's Day service was much enjoyed in both the Sunday School and the hour of worship. The thirty minute program put on by the Juniors was very good. There were 128 present in the church school. The church was very beautifully decorated. Several people presented flowers in memory of their mothers and grandmothers. Flowers were presented to the oldest mother present who was Mrs. Samuel Gott. Also to the youngest mother, Mrs. Buddy Minner. The mother having the largest family, Mrs. Edward Mulholland. For the hour of worship the minister read the 113 Psalms for the lesson and his text was chosen from Isaiah 66th Chapter and 13th verse.

The musical selections were lovely. The choir sang "Mother of Mine" and Mrs. Webb chose for her contribution the beautiful number "Bless Thou Oh God This Day." The church was filled almost to its capacity. Although some of our mothers have been gone for years, yet their memory lingers on and we can still hear them singing the old hymns they loved so well.

It was quite a feeling of sadness when we received a notice of the death of Mrs. J. M. Pattison, better known to her scores of friends as aunt Josie, in her home in Belmar, N. J. About 28 years ago she and her good husband held evangelistic meetings in what was then known as Wharton's Hall and each year since aunt Josie had paid us a visit distributing her words of advice, comfort and cheer, also her Christian service calendars and religious mottoes. She was well up in the eighties and we do believe after having lived such a useful unselfish life and with all the good work she did we just know she will receive a bountiful reward. Her two sons and grandchildren have our sympathy.

Mrs. Lida M. Marvel, who has been on the sick list, is much better at this time and was able to attend church service Sunday morning.

Miss Bertha B. Wilson, of Philadelphia, spent the Mother's Day weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wilson.

Mrs. John Abbott and Mrs. L. Paul Greenlee spent last Wednesday in Salisbury, shopping. Mrs. Edward Williams, Mrs. Elmer Williams, of Milford, and Mrs. G. A. Morgan called at the home of Mrs. E. Frank Burris, in Frederica, Wednesday.

"No Man of Her Own" At Reese Theatre, May 21, 22, 23

Expected To Be New Academy Award Winner. Directly on the heels of wide acclaim by press and public alike, the management of the Reese Theatre, located at Harrington, comes forth with the announcement that this new sensational dramatic hit, "No Man of Her Own," starring Barbara Stanwyck and John Lund, will play at this popular theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, May 21, 22, and 23, day and date with the big city theatres.

A feeling, human story of an un-wed mother whose desperate fight to give her baby a name makes her a helpless target for scheming individuals, the picture has been hailed as one of Miss Stanwyck's greatest. The lovely four time Academy Award nominee is said to give a magnificent performance that should afford her another opportunity to win filmdom's coveted Oscar.

The management of the Reese Theatre emphasizes that "No Man of Her Own" is strictly adult entertainment.

Named for Louis XVI - Louisville, Kentucky, was named for Louis XVI, the luckless monarch executed during the French revolution.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

Human beings cannot build up their lives on themselves. The creation of life always presupposes for man the existence of another. If this Other Being Who is divine does not exist for him, he determines his life in reference to Another which is of a lower nature. In separating himself from God and the higher world man submits himself to the lower world and becomes enslaved by it.

There will be no preaching service this Sunday because the pastor is attending the Peninsula Annual Conference in Wilmington. However, the Sunday School meets and will be looking for you at 9:45 a. m.

Martin Aloband, who has been ill at his home, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Julia Wix spent Sunday with Mrs. Hazel Ross and family. Everyone around Sandtown, last week, was wondering about Noble Carroll's little coon he was supposed to have in the stable. We watched him heat the milk for his coon, and wondered when he was going to let us see it. Well finally we sneaked around to hunt for it, but his coon turned out to be a stray kitten he was nourishing to make a barn yard cat out of. He knew if Mrs. Carroll found it, it would turn into the usual pet kitten.

Well, we'll have to take it back. Last week we wrote we did not believe 500 voters would show up at the school board election. Some 664 showed up, a record number. What we like about the election was that it finally got the voters out.

We received a card from J. Harvey Burgess, postmarked "Poplar Bluff, Mo." He writes: "Too much rain this spring." He should have been here. Bill McCabe sends a postal from Long Beach, Calif., saying: "Harvey, you ought to be here to make a speech."

Sen. W. O. Cabbage, of Willow Grove, will write the Willow Grove letter for us. We wonder how many newspapers have a real, live senator writing their correspondence? The job "sorter" boomer-ranged on the solon. One time he recommended his daughter, Mrs. Virginia Semans, for the chore. She wrote it for a spell until sickness overtook her. When we visited her Sunday afternoon, we found her sitting in a rocker and quattering spuds. "Let dad do it," she advised. "He wished the job on me." That's how we have a senator helping us.

The little things count. Here we were wondering when the drinking fountain in front of the shirt factory on Commerce Street would be going. Now we see that a new one has been installed. The dogs will appreciate it, too, since it has a spout where the water runs into the gutter.

Jeb Stuart, 2:07.2, a five-year-old roan gelding by Follow Up, has the same name as the famous Confederate cavalry leader. The soldier's name was J. E. B. Stuart.

KAPITAL KOMENT

Dear Folks:
Well sir the fats in the fire now shur nuff. Me an Anernias got down to the vandue early Friday mornin an we seed a fellar cumin over to us with a paper under his arm.

He bekined to Anernias an sed cum ere feller I got sumpin ter show ye. Well he undua his paper an ther it war rite on the furst leaf.

That woman dun tole the peopl up town what she wuz a goin ter do rite away an it wur a mite supprisin how many folks need but her doins so soon. Coars it wuzent no news to Anernias zactly countin him sayin aforhan that he wuz perty shur she wur agoin to run fer sumpin. Butt he woodn't let me say nuttin bout it countin him gittin in bad with the boys down ter Dover.

We got mixed up in the gang an I jest hung roun the hosses an looked fer Anernias ter cum in site an folks I'm a tellin ye we jest as well let her go caus she's got the folks with er. You kain't guess how many peopl wuz atalkin in ehr faver. Coars I tole you befor by naybor he kinder cottens to er any how an he cum back by the by an tole me he'd bin to the pig pens an there they fuz atalkin right much fer her.

We stoped in town fur a spell an I went over to see the new bank an git me a glass of beer. My naybor sed hed be roun agin in bout a haf hour.

I kinder looked roun fer Jim Allee er sum of our boys thinkin I might here sumpin mor but he warn't roun the drug stor but I did see Hays over by the office of his an he wuz a stepin perty livele fer him an a throin that kane of his a rite smart.

Perty soon he turned roun an I culd see his face. Now he didn't see me I am shur countin his eyes wuz to near shut an he war a fronin so much his forehed looked like a washbord.

I turned my haid countin I wuz a laffin at him caus I need he warn't plezed with the news an when I got back to Anernias I tole him how Hays looked.

Anernias busted out laffin an sed boy I bet he culd take 15 pounds of 10 penny nales an chaw out a tie chane fur old Bossy in jig time, I'd luff to no what he be a thinkin.

We tuk off home an we wuz a talkin on the way bout that thar meetin our boys had down ter Georgetown tother evenin an he sed it war a sell out butt a heap of folks didn't git ther he heard countin it wuz sech bad goin.

The boys had em a big time anyhow them as went an they heerd sum mor of Carvels doins. Seems like a pintment he jest made wuz not jist cordin to Hoile an our boys talked right smart bout it en sum mor things miedous bin a sayin bout what we dun in 49 he kinda matchin it with there doins.

Anernias sez he heerd the gunvor kinda got purty ruff on our boys doins fer the home folks en he loud he woodn't do no ritin on there bills lessen theyd vote fer his bills so they jist dun sum plane hoss swapin an now he jist sticks his thums in his weskit throos out his chist an sez look what I dun.

I got ter thinkin atter I got home bout things an bein as how hosses air perty night gone from roun hear I kinda figgered that old pastime had bout playd out, butt Pap uster say sumpin bout ther wuz nuttin new under the sun nuttin to be what hadn't bin er sumpin.

Gosh! Emmy dun got eats reidy so long fer now.
As ever,

Our pastor, the Rev. T. J. Turkington, is attending Peninsula Conference, being held in Union Methodist Church, Wilmington.

Bishop Fred P. Corson, of the Philadelphia area, is presiding. We expect the return of our pastor to us.

Our pastor, the Rev. T. J. Turkington, gave us a very interesting Mother's Day sermon Sunday morning. Many years ago, Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, suggested the idea of setting apart the second Sunday in May to honor mother. In more recent years the idea has developed among the church folk to observe Family Week with Mother's Day, culminating the weeks activities.

The Andersontown-Hobbs Homemakers Club was represented at the tri-county meeting of the Caroline, Talbot, and Dorchester homemakers clubs at Denton, Tuesday of last week. Miss Venia M. Keller, assistant director of extension of Maryland University, gave a very interesting talk, contrasting the prosperity of Sweden with the rigorous life of the Danes.

Long Haul

One of the longest hauls to be made by a full stable of standard-breds this spring will be that attempted by Guy Crippen, Elkorn, Wis., teamster, when he packs his 14-horse string in Santa Anita at the close of the current meeting and heads directly for Laurel Raceway, Laurel, Md. on the opposite coast.

Pacers Rule

There are exactly twice as many pacers in the select two-minute list as trotters. At the close of the 1949 season, when eight side-wheelers hit the mark, there were 110 hobble wearers and 55 trotters sitting in the throne of "Miracle Miles."

Baltimore Raceway, the state of Maryland's fourth harness race track, now nearing completion, will feature a 100-foot wide chute at the head of the stretch, permitting short races to be raced over a straightaway course. It is the first track in the East to come up with this innovation. The Baltimore meet opens July 14.

Stanley Dancer, the 23-year-old driving sensation of Yonker's Raceway's maiden meeting, is branching out into the breeding end of the trotting business. He is the breeder and owner of a bay colt by Cardinal Prince-Miss Katherine, recently foaled at Hanover Shoe Farms, Hanover, Pa. Stanley won a couple races here two years ago with Candor.

The Genesee-Monroe Racing Association at Batavia, N. Y., currently is renovating its track in preparation for its 1950 meeting opening July 31. Improvements include widening of the stretch turn to 75 feet, the club house turn to 80 feet, and the back stretch to 60 feet.

For Better Steaks
Juicier steaks and roasts are now possible. Stainless steel tubes perforated with tiny holes are used to supply water to the center areas of the meat.

SHORT STORY

The Threesome

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"THAT MAN," Janice thought as she brought her roadster to a halt, "has possibilities. It can't be that he lives here."

He stood just inside the picket fence—six feet of tall leanness. Fair hair. Blue eyes. Bespeaking the easy arrogance of youth. He wore a blue cotton shirt and blue denim jeans.

"You're not Janice Burdon?" he said. And then at her expression: "Heavens, you are! Why couldn't Aunt Bertha have warned me?"

"Is Aunt Bertha your aunt, too?"

"My real aunt. You only call her auntie because she's a close friend of your mother."

That makes you not cousins," he added with frank relief.

Janice rescued her suitcase from the rumble seat. "This is like one of those things you read about," he grinned, taking it from her. He studied her with honest approval. "And I thought my vacation was going to be one of those dull, uninteresting things."

Minutes later Janice faced her Aunt Bertha in the bed chamber over the front parlor.

"Oh, Auntie, why didn't you tell me he was going to be here? I didn't bring a thing. Not a thing, except my shorts, two cotton dresses and a bathing suit."

"Who?" Aunt Bertha asked innocently. "Phil? Land sakes, don't worry about him. He dropped in unexpectedly yesterday and announced he was here for two weeks. He's a dear boy. You'll like him. The next day Janice accompanied Phil up to the north pasture and watched him prune apple trees. "I thought this was your vacation," she said after awhile.

"It is," he told her. "I like working on my vacations—out doors. He pointed away over the fields. "Some day I'd like to see all those fields set out to apple trees."

Two days ago she wouldn't have believed him. She was city born and city bred. To her a farm had always symbolized hard work and a poor living, bugs and snakes and hot days in the sun, long lonely evenings. Even the thought of a farm had made her shudder.

She wondered about Phil. He claimed to be a law firm member on vacation. It occurred to her that for a lawyer he was mighty skillful handling pruning clippers. And his knowledge of farming was profound.

3-Minute Fiction

THE SECOND DAY of their vacation they knocked off early and went for a swim. The third day they played tennis. The fourth Aunt Bertha packed them a lunch and they drove to Mount Carter, climbed to its summit and watched a glorious sunset while nibbling delicious sandwiches.

On the second Saturday following her arrival she was with Phil. They had climbed Mount Carter again,

She wondered about Phil. He had sat for long, silent moments watching the afterglow of a blood-red sunset.

Unexpectedly Phil said: "Well it's gone. And our vacation has gone. Tonight winds up the two weeks."

"There's always an end to nice things," she told him evasively.

"There doesn't have to be. Ever. Listen," he went on eagerly. "I gave you the wrong impression about myself. I'm not a successful lawyer. I never should have tried to be a lawyer. Thank heavens I realized the mistake before it was too late."

"You mean you're not leaving? You're staying here?"

He nodded. "I'm going to try and raise apples. Auntie and I are going to be partners. This fall I'll sell what we have and next spring set out new trees. He picked up her hand. "Honey, let's make it a threesome. I know it's a lot to ask," he added wistfully. "A city girl like you. It'll be dull. But eventually—"

"I could chip in my roadster," Janice cried excitedly. "It's all I have, but it ought to bring $500. How many apple trees can you buy with $500, darling?"

"Enough," said Phil, reading her eyes. "to keep from being lonesome—I guess."

Population in 1492

When Columbus arrived in 1492, the total Indian population of the North American continent was about 1,150,000. Of this number, 846,000 lived within the present boundaries of the United States.

Study Group For State To Meet

The reorganization study of the executive branch of the State government has progressed to the extent that a meeting of the executive committee of the Commission on the Reorganization of the State Government has been called for today.

The purpose of this meeting is a discussion on certain tentative proposals, which will be submitted, and to receive the suggestions of the members of the committee. This will be the first meeting held since the meeting of the entire Commission Feb. 10.

This study of the State government was authorized by the 1949 session of the Legislature and some months ago the executive committee of the Commission employed Griffenhagen and Associates, consultants in public administration and finance, to make the survey.

During the work of the survey, all offices and agencies of the executive branch of the State government have been studied. This study included securing a written report of information from each in regard to its organization, functions, and suggestions offered for improving its work.

Interviews were held with the executive head and other members of the staff of an agency, and a study made of the State Constitution and existing laws relating to the office or agency.

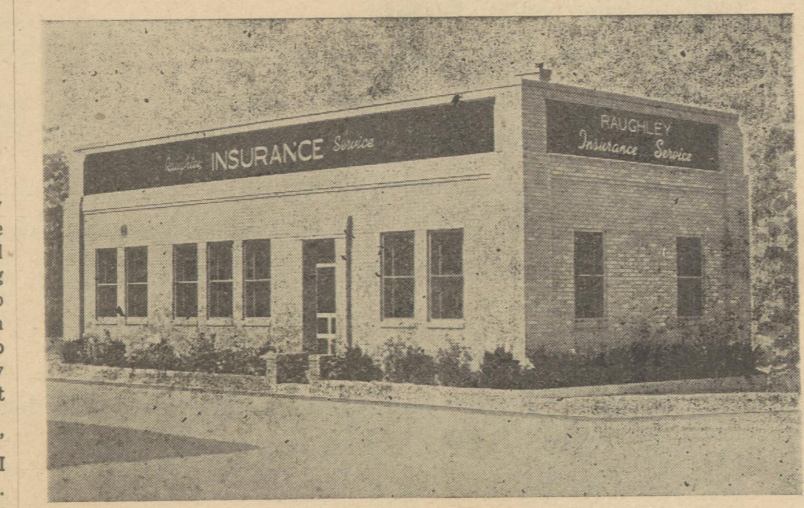

According to those conducting the survey, all offices and agencies have been given an opportunity to offer suggestions for improvement, both on the written report and at the time of the interviews. The research staff has considered and evaluated all information and suggestions received and will subject these items in their report to the executive committee meeting.

Mementos From White House Available

United States Senator J. Allen Frear has been requested by the Commission on Renovation of the White House to determine whether any of Delaware's schools, museums or similar organizations are interested in obtaining mementos of the Executive Mansion, which will be available as a result of the refurbishing program now going on at the White House.

Senator Frear has written to Delaware's State Archivist, Mr. Leon de Valinger and to the heads of the various City and State School Systems and the University of Delaware to see if any of these facilities can utilize White House mementos.

Senator Frear has been advised by the Commission that, while no charge for the White House materials is proposed, recipients will have to pay the cost of packing, shipping, and transportation as well as equitable proportions of the overall costs of the moving, storing, processing and administration of the surplus materials set aside for disposition. In addition to major items of high historical importance which will probably be allocated to the large museums or similar institutions, the surplus White House material comprises stone, brick, pine timbers, floor boards, old-fashioned nails, wrought iron bands, hand-hewn lath, and small plaster ornaments, all in various stages of preservation. Mr. Frear pointed out that most of the material is suitable for processing by the recipients into small wooden articles, stone book-ends, plastic paperweights, and the like.

The handling costs, which will include classifying, selecting, cutting, wrapping, etc., will vary with the demand and the size of the articles. They may run from 50c for a small article to as much as $100 for enough stone to face a fireplace or a shrine.

Questionnaires have been sent to the various school heads and to the State Archivist by Senator Frear with a request that they be completed and returned if any of the White House souvenirs are desired.

Veterans News

Veterans Administration today moved to simplify procedures and speed up service to veterans seeking to change courses of study or undertake additional training under the GI Bill, it was announced by Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr.

Instructions have been wired to VA managers liberalizing requirements that all veterans desiring to change their general field of study or enter additional courses undergo advisement and guidance and extending to registration of officers authority to give immediate approval to applications where the justification submitted by the veteran is clearly adequate.

This extension of authority has been granted to handle applications for advisement which are being received at the rate of 30,000 a month and to eliminate backlogs now building up in many offices.

The speed-up procedure only applies to veterans whose justifications clearly show they are entitled to the training applied for. Where the justification is not clear, veterans will continue to receive advisement and guidance as in the past.

The new instructions in no way affect veterans who because of disabilities suffered in service are entitled to vocational rehabilitation under Public Law 16. They will continue to have first priority for counseling.

When a veteran undertakes counseling for vocational rehabilitation under Public Law 16 and is found ineligible, the counseling may be continued to assist him to select training under the GI Bill.

The instructions sent managers today follow:

"1. In order to expedite action on pending and further applications for change of course you are directed as follows until further notice:

"a. Advisement and guidance in Public Law 346 cases will be limited to those cases coming under the provisions of instruction No. 1-B, Public Law 962 and Public Law 236 and R&PR 10010, provided that other advisement and guidance under Public Law 346 which is already initiated or scheduled may be completed and the advisement and guidance for any disabled veteran who while being counseled under Part VII is found not in need may be completed under Part VIII.

"b. In any case where a veteran's request for a change of course or additional education or training has not been acted upon in the registration and research section, and on any request hereafter received, when it is determined that the requested course is in a different general field, the veteran will be advised that such course cannot be approved unless he submit adequate justification that he is in need of the desired course. In any case where the justification submitted by the veteran is found adequate, the registration officer is authorized to approve the change of course or the additional education or training, but if deemed inadequate the veteran will be informed he may request advisement and guidance before final determination is made. In any case where advisement and guidance is provided the opinion of the vocational adviser as to the veteran's need of and aptitude for the course to complete his educational or job objective will be determined whether the request will be approved or disapproved.

"c. In any case where request for a change of course or additional education or training is received from a veteran whose progress has not been satisfactory, the veteran will be informed that the additional course cannot be approved unless he submits facts to show that such failure to progress was not due to his own misconduct, negligence or lack of application, and in addition that he must establish through advisement and guidance that he has need of and aptitude for the desired additional course.

"2. Managers are not expected to institute a further review of cases now pending advisement and guidance, but are expected to attain currency in these special counseling cases at the earliest possible date.

"3. Revised form letters to supersede FL 7-80 are being forwarded under separate cover."
