Railroad News

The boys on the T. & S. Camp Train at Salisbury and the B. & B. Train at Selbyville are enjoying fish steaks this week from two large channel bass taken by Supervisor Bob McClain and the writer twelve miles off Cape Charles last Saturday.

These two fish were too big to tell the whole story in this one issue so will have to be continued in next week's column with necessary photograph to substantiate "the tale of two men in a boat" who hooked both fish at the same time.

This happened just as Capt. Crockett of the Adventurer raised anchor to quit for the day. The two big monsters of the deep were so powerful they could not be landed as they started to tow the boat backward so fast that Capt. Crockett, being a safety minded old seafarer, would not risk crawling out over deck to try to drop anchor. Instead of landing the fish, it was a case of fish landing the fishermen back in Cape Charles before they finally gave up the ghost.

The baseball train last Sunday was a big success, 591 passengers taking in two good games and still getting back home by nine o'clock, standard time.

The only thing that marred a perfect day was the dirty condition of the five coaches on the front end of the train. This was due to unfortunate circumstances that will be taken care of to prevent a repetition. Assurance has been made of good clean cars to the double header with Chicago, June 25.

The weed spraying train quartered in town for the past week is in charge of Supervisor Bob McClain with Engineerman Walt LeKites and Conductor George Toppin. This equipment started at Cape Charles on April 24 and is doing a good job of killing vegetation along the right of way.

Bill McCabe is back on the job after vacationing in California where he and Mrs. McCabe visited their son, William, Jr.

Matt Eberhard, now on vacation, reached retirement age last week and will retire on last of this month.

Bill Jester is still on sick leave. Many local railroad employees with long and interesting service are receiving letters from the Harrington Journal, inviting them to have their photograph taken, at no expense, for use in emergencies, retirements and events of interest. You will be told when and where to go for this service and it is hoped that all receiving these notices will take advantage of this opportunity to have an up to date photograph.

As the time will be between one and six p. m. there will be some who will have to present themselves in work clothes which is still O. K. The only requirements being that you be clean shaven June 2.

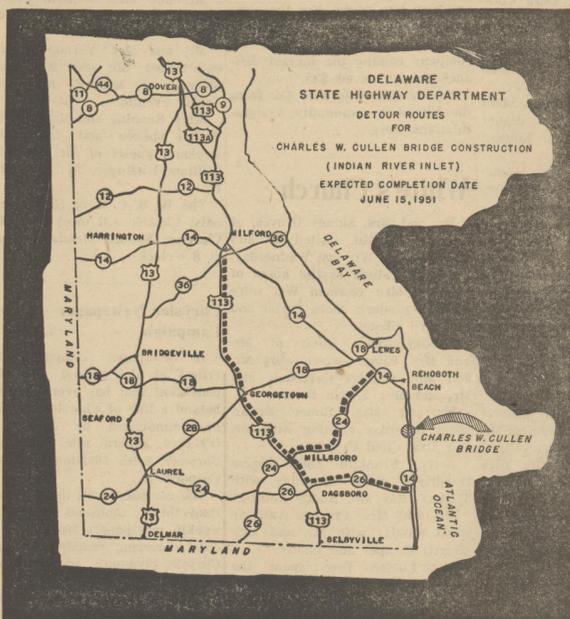

Allan Klapp Injured In Train Accident

Allan Klapp is recuperating at his home on Center Street after being injured in a train accident near Berlin, Md., early Friday morning.

Klapp, a brakeman, was on the rear of a caboose when it was backed into carloads of stone on the Baltimore & Eastern two miles east of Berlin. He was pinned between the caboose and a gondola and suffered brush burns and bruises. No one else was injured on the train which consisted only of the caboose and the locomotive.

Inlet Bridge To Be Closed

The Charles W. Cullen bridge, at Indian River Inlet, will be closed May 25 and 26, reopened May 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31, then closed June 1 until the reconstruction work is completed.

During the period that the bridge is closed traffic from the north for points along the Ocean Highway south of Indian River Inlet are advised to follow the detour route, outlined by the heavy broken line on the above chart, which shows the route following U. S. 113 to Dagsboro where route 26 is used to Bethany Beach.

Traffic from the Lewes-Rehoboth area for points south of the Inlet are advised to use the route also outlined above, following route 24 to Millsboro, route 113 to Dagsboro and then on route 26 to Bethany Beach.

Traffic from the south to points on the Ocean Highway below the Inlet can proceed as normally. For points in the Lewes-Rehoboth area, they are advised to follow route 24 from Millsboro.

The rebuilding of the Cullen Bridge was made necessary because a storm in Feb., 1948, destroyed a portion of the bridge and the temporary wooden span, in use since that time, has to be replaced.

Delaware Park Opens Monday

Two specially named feature races will be run at Delaware Park on opening day, Monday, honoring the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion whose post and auxiliary members will be guests of the Delaware Steeplechase and Race Association.

Several thousand veterans from all parts of the state are expected to throng to the beautiful Stanton grounds for the opening day's activities.

According to Bryan Field, vice-president and general manager, the sixth race will be known as the "Veterans of Foreign Wars Handicap." It is for horses of three years and upward. "The American Legion Handicap" will be the seventh race on the day's card. This event is exclusively for three-year-olds.

Following each event, the respective commanders of the veterans organizations, Richard E. Rayne of the V. F. W. and William J. B. Regan of the American Legion, will present a beautiful silver cigarette box to each of the winning jockeys.

It is expected that representatives of the organizations will have a color guard on the grounds and the presentation of the trophies will be made with military pomp and ceremony.

In order to more fully acquaint the organization's leaders with the Delaware Park setup, a tour has been arranged for top officers of the visiting groups. General Manager Bryan Field said:

"We want people to see the type of operation available in Delaware; how it works and what it means to them as individuals and to the state itself."

Ambulance Campaign Still Grows

The second week of fund raising campaign by the Harrington Fire Company for money to buy a new ambulance found 42 more contributors.

If you haven't given toward this great cause, please do so as soon as possible. Just last week, a young mother's life as well as the new baby was saved by the quick use of an ambulance. The American Legion in Smyrna carried a patient from Smyrna to Memorial Hospital in Wilmington in only 30 minutes. By the quick action of these volunteers and the State Police, two lives were saved.

The Harrington Firemen feel that this ambulance will save many lives. Remember, you could be in an accident, a fire, or fall anytime. This injured person could be you. So give, give generously to these Firemen who are willing to operate this ambulance free of charge for 24 hours a day.

The previous total of donations was $306. This week, $245 more has been sent in, thus making a total of $551 as of May 22.

The donors for past week are: Wm. E. Bullock, Edward Hammond, Florence Simmons, E. Thary Calloway, Raughley's Insurance Service, Jehu F. Camper, Virginia and George Vappa, Wm. W. Shaw, General Baking Co., Reynolds Kates, K. M. Farrow, Hilda Peteson, Chas. D. Wear A Poppy

On Sat., all will be asked to wear a little red poppy on our coats or dresses. The day will be Poppy Day, when once each year, we wear our memorial flower, the poppy, to those who gave their lives in America's service during the World Wars. And as we receive our poppy from the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will distribute the flowers on the streets, we will be aiding the war's living victims by the contributions we make for the flower.

The disabled veterans who make the poppies derive double benefit from the work. First, it gives them employment — their only chance to help support themselves and families. With strength and health gone, they cannot do regular work, but they can make poppies. Even in their hospital beds they can do this work, earning money for each flower they make. Second, the work is of real value in aiding their recovery, occupying hands and minds, breaking the tedium of long idleness, and restoring spirits crushed by hopelessness.

The money which is dropped into the coin boxes in exchange for the poppies goes entirely to the welfare activities of the American Legion Auxiliary, supporting organizations for the disabled veterans, the families of the disabled and the families left in need by the death of veterans. Every penny is made to serve in a cause of highest worth.

Plans for distributing the poppies are under the direction of Mrs. Reynolds French, Poppy chairman for Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Teo Post No. 7. Assisting her are: Mrs. Gooden Callaway, Mrs. Benjamin Emory, Mrs. Eugene Anderson, Mrs. Kenneth McKnatt, Mrs. Sidney Burtman, and Mrs. Frank O'Neal, Jr. Several stores will be asked to sell poppies besides the street sales.

He served at the 1917 sessions, and at the special session in 1918. He was returned to the Legislature in 1922, and was elevated to speaker of the House in 1923.

Human Cost of War Victories Shown in Window Display

Cost of America's world war victories in the lives of young Americans is vividly depicted in a display in the window of the Community Restaurant, owned by James Wilson.

Central feature of the striking window display is a battle cemetery in miniature with its crosses "row on row." Between the crosses, as they grew in the cemeteries in France and Belgium, are the bright red poppies which the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute on Poppy Day, to be worn in honor of the war dead.

Houston

We are glad to welcome the Rev. W. Stanley Grant, who has been sent back to us for another conference year. We felt a little uneasy as we did hear there were several other churches that wanted him. Anyway we have him and his wife back with us again.

The usual schedule will be followed Sunday: Church School at 10 o'clock a. m. Preaching at 11 and evening services beginning at 7:30.

Sunday, May 28, ends the drive which has been going on in the church school and every man, woman and child in Houston are urged to be present. Last Sunday there were 137 present and the offering amounted to $187.06. A portion was given by the public school. The teachers and pupils put on a wonderful Mother's Day program and all proceeds, which was $45, went to the Sunday School to pay on the new rooms. It is very wonderful to have a public school faculty who co-operates so willingly with the church and its work. Let's all try our best and be present Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. It will help us and it will influence others.

Mrs. Howard R. Moore was sent as a delegate from Houston to the M. E. Conference in Wilmington last week and she was accompanied by Mrs. S. G. Armour.

William Chism has been ill for some time and it seems his condition is growing worse. We hope he will soon find relief and be able to be up and around again.

John W. Dawson has been on the sick list. He is better and we are glad to see him out again.

John Howard Yerkes, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Yerkes, has been in an oxygen tent in Milford Memorial Hospital suffering with asthma. John is such a bright little fellow, we sure do hope he will soon be all right again.

Clinton Marvel and cousin, Miss Elva Reese, of Harrington, attended funeral services for their uncle, Mr. Oscar Marvel, in Hilton Village, Va., last Sunday. He was the last son of the late Henry Marvel. He is survived by his wife, 3 sons, 4 daughters, a sister, Mrs. Bessie Ingram, Lewes, and several grandchildren.

We were very much grieved when we learned of the death of the Rev. John M. Kelso, Dover. He was pastor of our church for a time and we did think a lot of him and his fine family and they do have our sympathy.

We are also sorry to report the death of Russell Robbins, of Milford, who was well known in our community. He had been a farmer all his life till his health failed. He was an official of Millwood Church, a very kind neighbor and a good citizen. Besides his wife and two daughters, he is survived by his mother, a brother, Oscar Robbins, and some grandchildren. Funeral services were held in Millwood Church Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. W. Stanley Grant was in charge. Burial was made in Barratt's Cemetery.

Several members of the New Century Club met at the home of Mrs. William Blessing Monday night and made up a program for the coming two club years. Mrs. J. Carroll Pearson is program chairman.

Hoof Beats

Sulky Scholars on Increase

Estimates recently made indicate that the technic of driving standard-breds as a life long profession is fast growing in its appeal to the younger set. This year it is predicted that at least 300 young men will be serving their apprenticeship on the driving end of reins, learning all the ins and outs of piloting trotters and pacers around the country's sulky ovals.

General consensus places the average apprenticeship at approximately three years before a "beginner" can take to the track on a regular race schedule. That means many miles of just plain jogging, grooming stock, learning the intricacies of fitting harness, adjusting toe weights, knowledge of diet and the many other tricks of the trade a man must learn before he can call himself a capable trainer-driver.

Kay Ward, Bloomington, Ill., horseman, who was just recently appointed to serve as a director of the United States Trotting Association, District 5 Board for the unexpired term of the late Henry J. Knauf, has family competition to face these days when it comes to holding important positions in the harness racing fold. Last week his brother William, better known as Jake, was elected president of Aurora Downs, one of Chicago's leading sulky establishments, located west of the Windy City in Kane County.

Both men are sons of A. G. Ward, "Grand Old Man of Illinois Trotters," and very welcome additions to the fast growing official family of harness racing.

Aged and Prospering

The oldest stake race in harness racing from the standpoint of continuous operation is the Lexington Stake for two-year-old trotters, raced annually over the Red Mile at the well known Kentucky track. The Lexington was inaugurated back in 1875 and except for two or three years when it was rained out it has been staged each year.

Of course it has never proved to be as popular as the famed Kentucky Futurity for three-year-old trotters which has been staged each year since 1893 at the same track in the Blue Grass.

DELAWARE PARK

The Jockey Club and the Delaware Racing Commission formally approved the list of veteran racing officials who will serve Delaware Park during the forthcoming 32-day meeting that opens on May 29 and closes July 4.

Newcomer to the official family will be Cal Rainey, outstanding racing official of New York and Florida, who will represent The Jockey Club as Steward. The other stewards will be George Brown, Jr., who will act for the Delaware Steeplechase and Racing Association, and Joseph F. Flanagan, who will represent the Delaware State Racing Commission.

Mr. Brown has served as Steward every year since Delaware Park opened in 1937. This will be Mr. Flanagan's seventh year. All three Stewards are veteran horsemen. Mr. Rainey was one of the nation's top jockeys, while Mr. Brown and Mr. Flanagan attained fame as steeplechase riders and later as extensive breeders of the thoroughbred.

J. Gilbert "Gil" Haus will again head the Racing Department.

The rest of the Delaware Park officials are:

Mr. Flanagan will also represent the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association at Delaware Park. S. Bryce Wing and James Park were named as alternate visiting members to represent the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association. Racing over the brush begins at Delaware Park on June 12, third Monday of the meeting.

Farmington

It seems that Farmington base ball team had much better luck. They played Playtex Sunday and won 7-5. The line up was as follows: Raymond Dennis, 2b; Gerry Bowman, 1b; Tiny Messick, ss; Sammy Welch, catcher; Carl Goodson, 3b; Beech Thompson, pitching first 5 ending Dickey Sapp, took his place and was the winning pitcher; Bobby Algier took Paul Legates place playing rf; Major Hurd, cf; Wallace Smith, lf. The team has a very good start. Let's hope they can keep it up.

Mrs. John Fisher spent the weekend with her children in Wilmington.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Lee Tindall is on the sick list.

Hugh S. Vincent was in Georgia this week after pepper plants. It seems there is a shortage in pepper plants.

It seems like all the farmers got an early start, but due to the cold weather we are having, things are not doing so well.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin East were in New York Saturday on a business trip.

Henry Pallenado has sold his farm to Mr. and Mrs. Nestler.

Several attended the open house at Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vincent's Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Lee Tindall entertained Mrs. Mary Footen, of Harrington, over the weekend.

Brownsville

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Why "Moose" Changed His Mind

Last week, parents were calling Moose Jackson on the phone—and kids were hooting at him in the streets. All because Moose fenced in his field near the depot, where the kids like to play ball.

Moose got sore the way folks acted—refused to budge. Then Doc Sherman, who likes to play center-field himself sometimes, decided to "use a little psychology."

Over a friendly glass of beer at Andy's Garden Tavern, Doc says, "Sorry this came up, Moose. We were thinking of asking you to umpire—what with your professional experience and all." (Moose used to play a little semi-pro ball.)

That did it! Next day Moose put up a stile over his fence. In return, the kids promised not to cause any damage. From where I sit, when you try to understand the other fellow's point of view—like his personal preference for beer or coffee—and then take into consideration the will of the majority, why, things seem to go better all around.

Revised Grades For Poultry Offered In USDA Service

Poultry grading and inspection service is now available on a voluntary basis to dressing plants by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, whose program has recently been revised. Delaware processing plants that are interested in the programs should contact the Bureau of Markets, State Board of Agriculture, Dover.

Consumers may buy poultry with the U. S. label on it, stamped graded or inspected for wholesomeness, or both. Poultry that is officially "graded" is examined for quality, and a grade (U. S. Grade A or U. S. Grade B) is then assigned to the bird. Poultry that is officially "inspected for wholesomeness" is examined by a Federal veterinarian and certified fit for human consumption. Some processing plants will have their birds both graded and inspected.

New terms are assigned to classes of market birds. Broiling and frying chickens, formerly two classes, are now one class: "Broilers or fryers." Stewing chickens, formerly classed as fowl, may now be described by any one of the following: "Hens, stewing chickens, or fowl." "Dressed" will now be used instead of N. Y. dressed or market dressed. (Dressed birds have been bled and picked, but not drawn). "Ready-to-cook" will now be used to describe poultry that has been fully drawn or eviscerated.

The official grade label will be in the form of a SHIELD. It will tell the quality (U. S. Grade A or B); the style of processing (dressed or ready-to-cook); and the class (for example, stewing chicken). Ready-to-cook poultry that has been inspected for wholesomeness will carry an inspection mark in the form of a CIRCLE. A combination label, a shield within a circle, will be placed on ready-to-cook poultry that has been both graded and inspected.

CLAUDE THORNHILL BAND COMING TO NEW MILFORD IN PERSON SUNDAY

During the past few months the New Milford Theatre has presented such outstanding "big name" bands as Gene Krupa, Tex Beneke, Charlie Spivak, Ray Anthony and Glenn Gray. Claude Thornhill, his piano and his orchestra will join this impressive list Sunday when they will appear in person on the New Milford stage. Although they have been around for several years, Thornhill's distinctive piano styling and unique orchestrations are still the most original musical offerings among modern dance bands.

Prior to forming his own band, Claude Thornhill worked with such musical greats as Bing Crosby, Benny Goodman and the late Glenn Miller. He plays the piano with casual ease, his fingers gliding over the ivories with an effortless grace that belies the difficulties of the arrangement. His RCA-Victor and Columbia records yield a continuous stream of successive hits and he was honored by "Look" when that magazine selected his organization as "The Band Of The Year."

The appearance of Claude Thornhill and his orchestra at the New Milford will be a musical presentation that's new, exciting and different. Featured artists include the Snowflakes, lovely song stylist . . . Nancy Clayton, and singing star . . . Russ McIntyre. There will be three stage shows on Sunday at about 2:30 - 5 and 9:15 p. m. The screen program will be headed by MGM's exciting romance . . . SIDE STREET starring Farley Granger, Cathy O'Donnell, James Craig and Paul Kelly.

SHORT STORY
Five Hours Dead

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

OBADIAH LITTLE was dead. There were plenty who would be glad to hear that news. There were a great majority of others who didn't care a rap.

Obadiah was a mean old man who lived alone on a farm 10 miles west of Fairview. Everyone hated him because he drove a sharp bargain and foreclosed mortgages on the minute.

That was the situation that confronted Owen and me when we drove up to investigate.

Preliminary investigation revealed the following facts: Obadiah had been killed by a rock thrown through a window near which he was sitting, reading. We knew he had been sitting there reading because Moses Morris, a neighbor had passed by in the early evening and noticed the light in Obadiah's window, and noticed Obadiah sitting beside it. Moses had gone up the road looking for a cow that had strayed. He found the cow and started back and noticed that Obadiah had shifted his position.

Something about the way the old man looked aroused Moses' curiosity, and he went up close and saw blood on Obadiah's temple. Moses went on home and called the police.

We corroborated this by talking to neighbors who had heard Moses calling the cow, and by discovering footprints and hoofprints outside the window, and by the fact that Oscar Jones, another neighbor, had come by while Moses was looking in the window.

So we discounted Moses as a possible suspect, and went to work on the others who had hated Obadiah. There was, for example, Roscoe Norbert, who lived a mile away, and who had been helping Obadiah with his hay. A neighbor had heard Obadiah and Roscoe quarreling over wages that very day.

SO WE CALLED at Roscoe's house, and struck a snag. Roscoe hadn't been home all night. That looked bad, or good, depending on what side of the fence you were on. I sent Owen to hunt up Roscoe, and returned to Obadiah's farm.

Quite a crowd had gathered outside. Lights from automobiles illuminated the house and grounds. Among the cars I noticed Doc Orion's little coupe.

He was inside, and had already begun his investigation.

"How's it look?" I asked him.

"Let you know in about an hour." He glanced up and returned to his work. I scowled. Doc was usually more confident.

I went back into the bedroom. Doc was stuffing things back into his bag.

"Been dead about five hours," he said.

"How?"

"Some blunt instrument."

"The rock, eh?"

"Could have been."

Just then Owen came in. He had a tall, rawboned individual with him. "This is Roscoe," he said.

Owen came in again with Moses. Moses looked important.

"Moses," I said, "you're a first class liar. You murdered Obadiah!"

Moses' jaw went slack. "How do you figure that, Shurrut?"

"Easy as pie," I said. "You started out after your cow and stopped by to talk to Obadiah—about renewing a mortgage, perhaps, or something else. Anyway, you got mad and slugged him with the stove poker. Then you propped him up by the window, lighted the lamp and put the book in his hand."

"Then you went outside and heaved a rock through the window. Later, when you came back with your cow you saw that Obadiah had slumped, and you went up to look, which is when Oscar Jones came by."

There was, of course, blood on the poker to prove that part of it, but it was what the doc said that gave me the real lead. Dead five hours. Well, five hours ago the sun was shining, and a mean old man like Obadiah wouldn't burn oil when the sun was out.

SHORT STORY
No Sale

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"WE could sell Dusty," Sylvia said. Joe stared at her. "You don't mean that!"

Dusty thumped his tail on the floor and pricked his ears. There was, he hoped, a possibility of being taken for a walk up the slope behind the house where rabbits frequently ran and offered no end of excitement.

Sylvia laughed nervously. "Of course I don't. I was only joking. We wouldn't sell Dusty for a million dollars." She reached down and twisted one of Dusty's floppy ears around her forefinger.

Dusty lolled his tongue and sighed in contentment. Next to chasing rabbits, there was nothing he liked better than having his ears twisted, unless it was hunting a glove or an old shoe or pocketbook that either Joe or Sylvia had hidden.

Joe lay awake that night and thought about what Sylvia had said. He felt guilty and ashamed, but when you haven't enough to eat and you own some property that would bring an easy thousand dollars on the open market, you can't help thinking about it.

Sylvia's aunt had given them Dusty the week before they left for Hollywood. He was seven weeks old, a pure bred Springer Spaniel, black as coal and intelligent as two ordinary human beings.

The next morning Joe decided to go down onto the boulevard. Sometimes on the boulevard he met someone he knew and would get talking and perhaps get a line on something. He put Dusty on his leash and started out.

Joe turned down Vine street. Just below Selma, some children were playing on a lawn. One of them was crying. Joe stopped to see what the trouble was. A little girl had lost her rag doll. It was somewhere about, but he couldn't find it. Dusty licked the little girl's hand. She cooed happily and patted his head. The other children crowded about. Joe unsnapped Dusty's leash, held the little girl's skirt to his nose and said: "Go find!"

Dusty let out a yip and went bounding away. Two minutes later he came back, holding in his mouth the rag doll. The little girl clapped her hands.

"Smart dog," said a voice.

Joe turned. A car had stopped at the curb. A small round man with a friendly face had emerged onto the sidewalk. Joe nodded. "Pure bred Springer. They're all smart."

"Are they?" said the little man. His eyes twinkled. "Like to sell him?" Joe said nothing. He felt a queer pricking at the base of his skull. "Like to sell him?" said the man again.

"How much?" said Joe, not looking at him.

"Nine hundred."

JOE thought of Sylvia. She was probably hungry. She'd be hungrier tonight. The only alternative was city relief. A man has his pride. He remembered the hug Sylvia had given Dusty before they left. He thought of the way Dusty would nip at their toes when they were getting dressed in the morning.

He shook his head. "No!" he said. "Not for twice that amount."

The rotund man laughed. "Then how about hiring him? You, too, of course. We're making a picture that requires a cute dog who will go find things that have been hidden."

Joe threw up his head. "What?"

"Think it over," said the rotund man. "Pay would be $25 a day. Here's my card." He smiled. "Hope I didn't insult you with that nine hundred offer. Your dog's worth two thousand, if a cent. Never saw a pure black Springer with those lines. Be sure to look me up. If $25 doesn't suit you, we can probably talk terms."

Joe stood on the curb and watched the black limousine recede. He glanced at the card, then down at Dusty. Dusty was watching him expectantly. He wanted to walk some more. Joe slipped the card into his pocket and started up Vine street at a pace that rather surprised Dusty.

MEMORIAL DAY

Shall we forget the ones who gave
Their all to find a foreign grave;
While we at home looked up with fear
That bombs would drop upon us here?
We wondered if they'd stem the tide
That threatened then to override
The freedom our democracy
Had won from Old World tyranny.

L'envoi:
If war should come again we'd know
The full extent of what we owe;
How much we're in our brave lads' debt;
We'd know THEN, if we NOW forget.

DELAWARE PARK

Asks That You Please Take Time Out to Read These Facts

After 12 years of operation, the financial box score looks something like this:

Investment at Delaware Park	almost	$3,000,000.00
Taxes paid to Federal Government	about	3,300,000.00
Taxes paid to State of Delaware	approx.	9,000,000.00
Dividends, preferred stockholders	exactly	62,821.20
Dividends, common stockholders		None

Such a lifting of a portion of the tax burden off the shoulders of the people of Delaware, and such a negligible return to stockholders, is due to the strict racing law, the only one of its kind in the country.

The stockholders of Delaware Park are happy to continue to race under this law, as it assures the best in sport. It also has attracted hundreds of thousands of out-of-state visitors, who won't be so eager if the law is changed or tampered with.

No salary is received by the President, nor by the Treasurer. No member of the Executive Committee receives salary or compensation. The directors serve without fees. Salaries and wages go only to those officers and employees actively engaged in the operation of the track.

The Condition of Delaware Park Is Strong and Healthy!

The condition of Delaware Park is strong and healthy! Its prospect ahead is fine, as good as any American racetrack, and better than most. We are sure that all want Delaware Park to go on keeping a heavy portion of the state's tax burden off the shoulders of the taxpayer. Delaware Park cannot do this efficiently, and also distribute "complimentary" tickets or badges promiscuously. Year by year the track has been cutting down the number of badges, even to those connected with racing. We are cutting further this year.

Our campaign for a paid gate is for the benefit of the citizens of Delaware. No properly run business can countenance giving away its product. We want you to know the reasons for the tightening up. Good will is Delaware Park's most valuable asset. We hope for your continued good will, and also your support in our badge cutting efforts.

A Few Salient Points:

- ★ Of all money wagered at Delaware Park, virtually 90% of it goes back to those who wager it.
- ★ To maintain the enterprise with goods and supplies, the track spends about $200,000 in the community annually.
- ★ From the monies won by them in stakes and purses, horsemen redistribute to their grooms and other employees, another $200,000, which is spent in the community for food, clothing, lodging and merchandise.
- ★ From the track's portion allowed by law, Delaware Park pays in wages into the community between $600,000 and $700,000 each year.
- ★ The bulk of Delaware Park's attendance is from out of state, where complimentary are not requested, and where none of the tax benefits prevail. Should Delawareans, who receive the tax benefits, lag behind neighbor states in fairness concerning complimentary?

Lewes Museum Open Monday

Memorial Day holiday crowds at Lewes and Rehoboth Beach, coming from all over Delaware and other nearby states, will be able to visit the Zwaanendael Museum at Lewes Monday, through a special arrangement of the curator, Miss Catherine C. Maull.

The museum is normally closed Mondays. Since the historic building opened for its spring and summer season, a number of arresting relics have been added that will attract the holiday crowds. Special visiting hours Monday, as well as Tuesday, Memorial Day, will be from 10 a. m. to noon, and between 1:30 and 5:30 in the afternoon, which hours will be the regular summer schedule starting Thurs., June 1. However, Wednesday the normal hours of 12:30 to 4:30 p. m. will prevail.

Unique among the new exhibits is a "Farmer's Arms Jug" lent for the season by Mrs. Thomas T. Spooner, of Lewes Beach. Lovers of antiques and especially farm folks will be intrigued by the inscription on the jug, which the curator says: "Was probably made by Richard Abbey prior to 1700, for the Farmer's Guild of London, England, with a witty verse that speaks of the joys of a farmer's life:

"May the mighty and great Roll in splendor and state; I envy them not, I declare it, I eat my own lamb My chicken and ham, I shear my own sheep and I wear it.

I have lawns, I have bowers, I have fruits, I have flowers, The lark is my morning alarm; So you jolly dogs now Here's to 'God Bless the Plow' Long life and Content to the Farmer."

There is also a plate bearing one of Benjamin Franklin's famous maxims, and a marble glass match holder, donated by the curator, and a pressed glass bread tray plate depicting "The Lord's Supper" and a sandwich glass cup plate owned by Mrs. G. Clifton Maull, Jr., of Lewes. An "Apostle" jug lent by Mrs. Emily Vickers of Lewes, and lustre-trimmed plates and milk glass compotes with lace edges, lent by Miss Elizabeth S. Rodney Scout Camps to Open

The Rodney Scout camps on Chesapeake Bay at Elk Neck, Cecil County, Md., will open June 25 for its 33rd summer season with more boys signed up in advance than in any previous year, according to announcement made today by George Ehinger, of Dover, chairman of the Del-Mar-Va Council's camping and activities committee.

To date, more than 900 boys are registered, which is almost the total number that attended camp last year, according to Ehinger's report. Forty-four troops have reserved sites for one week or more where they will camp under their own troop leaders, and registrations of individual Scouts are now being received at the Scout office, 2 East Ninth Street, Wilmington.

Scouts who are going to camp as individuals, that is, without their own troop leadership, are urged to get their applications in early for the camp periods of their choice. The third, fourth, fifth and sixth weeks are filling up rapidly, but there are still vacancies in all weeks. Information on registration and camp costs can be secured from any Scoutmaster or at the Scout office, telephone Wilmington 8-4351.

Miss Gladys Mae Watkins on Saturday, May 13, celebrated her natal day.

Willow Grove

Anybody in authority has our permission to keep the faucet turned off for a while; we have enough moisture for just now—please.

Our places of business have undergone considerable changes since our last writing. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kemp have enlarged the old store house and are now handling the full line of groceries formerly a part of her father's (John T. Dodd) stock.

Mr. John T. Dodd has now enlarged his stock of dress and work shoes, work clothing and dress shirts to meet the needs of his many customers.

Marion Frasher, Mr. and Mrs. William Frasher were up-state visitors Saturday. Marion Frasher attended the annual meeting of the Delaware State Beekeepers at the home of Dr. D. M. Gay near Hockessin. The young folks went over the state line to visit relatives and friends in Pennsylvania.

Marion Frasher reports a very interesting meeting was held and several interesting topics relative to the busy little insects were discussed. Such discussions lend much aid to any of us because different localities develop different problems and conditions so by comparison much can be learned.

Mr. and Rev. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, of Baltimore, were guests at our morning services Sunday.

W. C. Taylor was at home over the weekend and upon arrival found his younger daughter, Patricia, in ill health. We hope her improvement continues.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Voshell and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kemp Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Seward entertained Mr. and Mrs. Gourley and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Seward and baby, Sunday.

We are quite pleased to learn that H. Holmes Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Smith, is returning to Delaware and will again make his home in our midst. We hear Mr. Smith will work out of Dover at least part time. He has been stationed in Lynchburg, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Semans and children, accompanied by Joannetta Cabbage and Amos Hurd were in a serious motor accident Sunday evening. Not any serious personal injuries were sustained or at least have not developed thus far; but considerable property damage resulted. The accident happened about 1 mile west of Woodside enroute to lateral No. 10.

Amos Hurd has a small net in Delaware Bay. He brought back a 4 lb. weak fish this week; and quite a specimen.

C. M. Cabbage of Rehoboth, was a Sunday visitor at the home of W. O. and Mrs. Cabbage. We desire to correct an error in our last letter. It is the older grandson of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Frasher who is ill. We understand gradual improvement continues. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton T. Frasher, of Wilmington.

Crow Not So Bad
Although many farmers dislike crows because they destroy corn, these birds also help the farmer by eating many insect pests. Scientists have estimated that crows will eat 19 bushels of insects in one season on the average farm.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

You are not only invited to, but we know you will want to attend Divine Services this Sunday. We are having special services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The Senior Choir will render special musical selections in the morning; and the Youth Choir in the evening service.

At the 11 o'clock service, following the Sunday School session at 9:45 a. m., we are to have the Annual Memorial Services of the American Legion, the Auxiliary, the Scouts, and other kindred organizations, and their families.

At the 8 o'clock service we are to be privileged to have as our guests the members of the six following named 4-H Clubs, and their families: The Canterbury Sunny-smile; the Felton Paradise; the Harrington Sunshine; the Houston Cardinals; the Milford Millwood, and the Vernon Honey Bees. Some of the members will also assist in conducting the services.

Martha Gruwell will be the leader in the Youth meeting at 7:00 p. m. in the Church Annex.

Monday Evening: The Official Board Meeting.

Thursday Evening: Rehearsal of choirs.

June 5th: Installation Service of officers of various organizations.

Mosquito Control Program Topic of Delaware Booklet

"Delaware Mosquitoes — State and Community Control," is a history of the mosquito control program in Delaware being distributed by the Delaware State Highway Department and the University of Delaware. Prepared by L. A. Stearns and Donald MacCreary, of the University's Department of Entomology, the booklet describes control progress made through the years, from early attempts at ditching in salt marshes to the present day DDT operations.

A further aim of the booklet is to provide communities desiring to attempt mosquito abatement with a few of the essential facts in developing a successful program. It gives the life cycle and some of the general habits of mosquitoes. The 40 different kinds of this pest found in Delaware live in a variety of places ranging from salt marshes to water-filled holes in trees. Practically every type of water and water-filled receptacle provide living quarters for some species of mosquito.

Responsibility for local control of mosquitoes rests on both the individual householder and each town or village. Communities interested in starting on a program of mosquito control are urged to obtain the advice of specialists. The Mosquito Control Division of the State Highway Department is in a position to make recommendations since this organization has been engaged in mosquito control for a number of years.

Copies of the booklet are available from either the State Highway Department or the Entomology Department of the University of Delaware.

OBERAMMERGAU

Artur Schneider will not see the Passion Play. He can't: he's blind, a victim of World War II when, as a member of Hitler's Wehrmacht, he fought against the Russians.

We remember going to Artur's house in August, 1945. He had wanted a bottle of Reisinger, and, since our soldiers had done a good job of "policing up" such beverages, he had appealed to us.

That is the philosophy of many wars: the need for the necessities of life. His second statement was: "You will fight against Russia and Germany will help you."

Schneider's home was not far from the railroad station and the theatre in which the Passion Play, ordinarily, is held every ten years, as thanks to God for the Black Plague evasion of the village in 1634.

The play begins in May and continues twice a week until snow begins to tip the tallest peaks in late September. "Die Passionsspiele" starts at 8:30 a. m. and lasts until 6 p. m.

Down the street from the home of Artur Schneider is the inn of Anton Preisinger, a brown-bearded villager who now has the role of Christ in the play.

Near the inn is "Daheim," the home of the late Anton Lang, a famous portrayer of Christ in the passion play. We visited the yellow-stuccoed house several times during the war.

The roles of the Passion Play are played by the villagers, with many families participating in the spectacle for generations. In the current showing, some 1500 burgers take part.

Whenever the weather gets hot and sticky, we long for the high, dry, cool air of Oberammergau. We went there about this time in 1945. Snow was still on the tallest peaks but Kofal and Lauber, the nearest peaks, were free.

We were stationed at a hotel called the "Osterbichel." When our outfit was getting ready to return to the States, we asked Capt. Garner if we could remain a little while longer.

We told Artur Schneider we would go back to Oberammergau on the little Ammer river. We said we would see, once more, Frau Thiele, Frau Benedict, Hans Huber, the von Wachtels, and many others.

Oberammergau was just a memory. Now comes this Passion Play.

New Class In Nursing To Start in September At Delaware State Hospital

Announcement of a new class in the School of Nursing at Delaware State Hospital starting September 1st was made today by Mrs. Jane M. Geiger, Director of Nursing.

The announcement was accompanied by a statement outlining the training offered by the school and the advantages of nursing as a career.

The class is open for girls in the 17-35 age range with a high school education, with specified requirements in English, science, history and with one year of mathematics.

Mrs. Geiger urged that candidates wishing to enter the Delaware State Hospital School of Nursing apply to her for information relative to enrollment. The School of Nursing, which was organized in 1929 offers a three-year course in Nursing and prepares its graduates to practice as registered, professional nurses. The course is designed to educate the student in efficient methods of nursing care and the underlying principles of physical and mental health.

All applicants are given a psychometric test, a special type of examination to determine aptitude of nursing, and the director pointed out the high value of this test to the applicant in determining her career.

Students are provided with board, lodging and laundering of uniforms. There is not tuition and books and uniforms are furnished by the State. A stipend of $15 a month is paid for the first two years of training and $20 a month for the third year.

Mrs. Geiger also pointed out that students in the School of Nursing at Farnhurst gain experience through affiliation in medicine, surgery, obstetrics, and pediatrics at Delaware Hospital in Wilmington. Special training is also given the student at Doris Memorial Unit of Wilmington General Hospital and at Governor Bacon Health Center.

"Our school is thoroughly accredited," she said, "and graduates of Delaware State Hospital have exactly the same training as those students graduating from a general hospital plus specialized training in psychiatry.

"To insure the continued good health of the students, the school maintains a health service under the direction of the school physician.

"Class activities, school dances and holiday parties are planned to aid in the development of personality and the strenght of character. Professional ease of adjustment is attained through association with students of eight schools from two states which affiliate with our hospital," as stated by Mrs. Geiger.

Self government by the student body and religious services for all faiths are provided.

Ten weeks' vacation is given during the course. Students have a day off each week.

"We feel we have much to offer plus the fact that three years education is offered at no cost," said Mrs. Geiger.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son and brother, Roger Dyer, who died 6 years ago, May 23. The world may change from year to year...

Our lives from day to day The loving memory of you dear son Shall never fade away. We always sit and think of you, And the way you died, And that you could never say goodbye.

Before you closed your eyes, The blow was hard, the shock severe, We never thought your death so near. Only those who have lost can tell The pain of parting without farewell.

Always so true, unselfish and kind, Few in this world his equal you find. A beautiful life that came to an end He died as he lived everyone's friend. Sadly missed by heartbroken mother, daddy and brother.

Beginning of Rubber

Prehistoric Indians were the first to tap the rubber tree. They made rubber shoes, bottles and coated fabrics. Columbus discovered them playing with rubber balls. It was not until 1770 that Dr. Joseph Priestly gave it the name of "rubber." He found that the gum removed pencil marks. But Europeans found rubber too sticky in hot weather and too brittle in cold. Charles Goodyear, Yankee inventor, invented the vulcanizing process in 1839. After that the rubber industry boomed. Vulcanization made possible the many rubber products we have today—tires, clothing, insulation, foam rubber.

Alliquippa, Pennsylvania

Queen Alliquippa of the Lenni-Lenape Indian tribe ruled villages on the Monongahela and Ohio Rivers. She lent assistance to George Washington when he went into the Ohio Valley. The city which now bears her name is about 20 miles from Pittsburgh, on the Ohio River, in the region over which she once reigned. Steelmaking began in Alliquippa towards the end of the 19th Century. Today, the town has a capacity of more than 1,700,000 tons of open hearth, bessemer and electric furnace steel.

Insecticides

Use of insecticides in barns and on farm premises where livestock are kept does not eliminate the need for good sanitation and destruction of insect-breeding places.

Marine Insurance

The oldest form of insurance is marine insurance, traces of which are found in the sea regulations of ancient Greece and Rome.

Shipping Cattle

Cattle shipped long distances should be given plenty of rest and light feed for the first few days after arrival.

Shellac in Olden Times

More than a 100 years before the legions of Julius Caesar invaded Gaul, the natives of India began to use shellac to protect the surfaces of their temples and homes.

Life Insurance

New York state statistics, comprising 9.9 per cent of the national population, own approximately 16 per cent of the life insurance in force throughout the United States.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

Decorations Day will soon be on us and most every one tries to have a little outing for the day. Did you know that you can take along a little portable radio that can be used on either battery or electric and it will make the day very much more enjoyable.

When you are eating your picnic lunch or resting on the beach take it along and you will find it very nice. The cost is very small. We have several and even in different colors.

How about that television set you promised yourself? I am putting them up right along in fact the last one we installed I asked the purchaser how he liked it and the remark he made, "It was perfect," of course. It is no use of my telling you what kind it was because of course Philco is the make that you could expect this from.

Have you seen the new Westinghouse refrigerator with the refrigerator across the top and not only that but the only refrigerator that actually defrosts itself and no water to throw out. Come in and let us explain all about it and while looking it over don't fail to see the new remarkable Philco refrigerators and freezers at a price that will amaze you. Just think of a refrigerator with a freezer all the way across the top for only $189.50. Take this over a period of say 15 years which is years less that it will actually be used, makes the cost of owning an up to date refrigerator at only $12.42 per year.

We are always glad to sell you any appliances at monthly rates. Old Sol will soon be saying I am going to heat you up and to get the best of him better put your order in for that new Westinghouse fan. By the way there are many of you who can have installed an air conditioner in your home or office. Then you can say come on Old Sol and see what I have to fight you with.

All you do is plug it in like any electric appliance no special wiring needed. Mighty nice to have. Yes we install quite a few gas ranges and why not when you can get a full 36 inch size for less than a hundred dollars and if you want a light and timer these can be had for a little more.

Think of an apartment type with full size oven, broiler installed in your home for less than a hundred; better come in and see why I can do it. We sell gas and give you the benefit on the price of the range.

We install any stove with metered or bottled gas which ever you prefer. Yes we are busy with wall paper and why not when we have such a large selection to choose from. We have plenty of it for any room or rooms in your home. Talk Peace Not War.

To The Correspondents

Punctuation

Distinguish between restrictive (sometimes called limiting or defining) and non-restrictive clauses. The restrictive clause is necessary to define the term it modifies, and consequently is too closely related to the latter to be set off by commas.

The non-restrictive clause is merely an added or explanatory expression concerning a term which does not need definition; so the clause "is" set off by commas. To test whether a clause is restrictive or not, omit it in reading the sentence. If the meaning is not changed by the omission, the clause is non-restrictive, and should be set off by commas.

The importance of this distinction may be observed from the following sentence containing the same words but expressing different thoughts:

"The juniors of the college, who defied the faculty, have been expelled. (Non-restrictive.)"

"The juniors of the college who defied the faculty have been expelled. (Restrictive.)"

The first sentence means that all the juniors have been expelled. The second means that only those of a particular group—those "who defied the faculty"—have been expelled.

Distinguish between alternative "or" and appositional "or." "John or Thomas will carry the message." (Alternative "or"; no comma.) "Indian corn, or maize, is the chief product of the state." (Appositional, "or"; commas required.)

Use a comma before "and" or "or" in a series; as "The colors are red, white, and blue."

A participial phrase at the beginning of a sentence is usually set off by a comma. "Shouting a warning, he ran down the street."

Twenty-one correspondents were represented in our columns last week; not quite a record but mighty near it.
