

31st Annual K. & S. Fair Opens Monday Night; Racing Prospects Good

Many Prominent Horses Entered, All of Which Are Well-Known To Delaware Harness Fans

Ward Beam's World Champion Auto Daredevils will open the 31st annual Kent & Sussex County Fair here Monday evening with a "cavalade of thrills." The Beam attraction was here last year and played to a packed grandstand.

Excellent harness racing is expected Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. Brinton Holloway, general manager of the fairgrounds, said the participants will be selected from some 250 horses which will be on the grounds when the fair opens. Horses began arriving early in the week. Many of these trotters and pacers will go from here to Ocean Downs and return here for the fall meet of the Kent & Sussex Racing Association.

Among the outstanding horses, who need no introduction, are American Lou, Neal Abbe, Nora Abbe, Tom Dillard, G. D. Woollen, Dublin, High Command, Bertha Rosecroft, Breeze Up, Belina Hanover, Job Stuart, Guam, Leo Hanover, Hedgewood Fingo, Mont, Quick Reward, Lord Clinton, Prince James, Henry Volo, and Lou's Girl.

Automobile racing Saturday afternoon is expected to draw huge crowds, as it always has. Sam Nunis, who has been promoting the races here, promises to have an exciting card. The program will probably consist of qualifying time trials, four heat races, a match race, and a sweepstakes feature.

Drivers under Nunis' contract include Tommy Hinnerst, the Eastern AAA king, Mark Light, Otis Stine, one-legged Bill Schindler, Buster Warke, Lee Wallard, and Hank Rogers.

Lawrence Green's Shows, on its 15th annual tour, will present a beautiful midway attraction. Among the stellar attractions will be 14 thrill rides, four miniature rides, and 12 deluxe midway shows.

Joe Basile's Madison Square Garden Band, which has been coming here many years, will again give concerts afternoons and evenings in front of the grandstand. The band will play some of the compositions of Samuel A. Short Jr., of Harrington, including a new number, "Old Delaware, We Love You."

Fire Company And School Band Win More Prizes

The Harrington Fire Company won first prize for best appearance and most men in line at Camden-Wyoming on Wed., July 12. The High School Band won a first prize of $40 for Best High school band in the same parade.

At Laurel, the Fire Company again won first prize for best appearance and most men in line. The band won another first prize of $40, for best high school band in line. This parade was Monday.

The band and fire company attended a parade at Clayton last night.

Smith Employed by Northrop Aircraft

Lawrence Dale Smith, formerly of 109 Wolcott Street, Harrington, recently was graduated from the Northrop Aeronautical Institute of Hawthorne, Calif., and has accepted a position with Northrop Aircraft, Inc., in Hawthorne.

His new job will enable him to apply mechanical training acquired during his 12-month enrollment at the institute, which qualified him for certification by the Civil Aeronautics Administration as an aircraft and engine mechanic.

Smith, who served for five years in the U. S. Army during World War II, attended NAI under the provisions of the G. I. Bill. Previously he attended Harrington High School before enrolling at the Hawthorne school.

Local Talent Scouted For Baseball School

Rex Bowen, a scout for the Brooklyn Dodgers, was in Harrington this week, looking for talent to take part in a baseball school at Cambridge.

William Wix, Jay Bullock, and Louis Hobbs were among those requested to report for training.

Felton Girl Weds Paul W. Morton

Very lovely indeed was the wedding which took place in our Felton Methodist Church last Saturday at 2:30 when Miss Helen Connelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Thomas Connelly, became the bride of Mr. Paul William Morton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morton, of Newark. The double-ring ceremony was used, the Rev. William B. Hitchens and the Rev. Alden S. Hopkins, Jr. performed the ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white silk marquisette gown with sweetheart neckline and tiered skirt ending in a train trimmed with chantilly lace. A matching marquisette crown held her finger-tip veil. She carried white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Caroline Connelly, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Ann Morton, sister of the groom, Miss Phyllis Andrick of Wilmington, and Miss Joan Ware of Millville, N. J. Miss Faye Wise, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

David Roth of Richardson Park, was ring bearer. William H. Murray, of Newark, was the best man. Ushers were John Rothrock, of Rahway, N. J.; Roy Nichols of Newark, and William Gregson of Centreville. Miss Pauline Ellingsworth, of Bridgeville, was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Atkins of Millsboro.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore silk marquisette gowns fashioned with short sleeves, illusion neckline and shered bodices, and bouffant skirts. The gowns were of different colors, Miss Connelly's was green, Miss Morton's aqua, Miss Andrick's lavender and Miss Ware's yellow.

They wore matching mitts and carried shower bouquets of roses and stephanotis. The flower girl wore an aqua gown and carried a basket of yellow roses.

Mrs. Connelly wore a rosewood lace dress with brown accessories and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Morton was gowned in an ice blue lace dress with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. A reception followed at the Felton Community Hall. After a wedding trip the couple will reside in Newark. The W. S. C. S. served the wedding luncheon to more than one hundred invited guests.

Ocean Downs Elects Head

James E. Douglas, Eastern Shore canner and banker, has been elected president of the Ocean Downs Racing Association, Inc. He succeeds Theodore E. Fletcher, Preston, who has served since the organization was formed last year.

Resignation as president was accepted by the board after Mr. Fletcher explained he was unable to participate this summer to the extent necessary because of his other business interests. He remains as a director, however.

Mr. Douglas, a native of Preston, has for the past eight years been a resident of Nassawadox on the Eastern Shore of Virginia, where he is president of the Douglas Packing Company, the National Bank of Northampton County, the Business Men's Association of Nassawadox as well as chairman of the Executive Board and treasurer of the Northampton-Accomac Hospital.

Mr. Douglas hopes to race this year at Ocean Downs with his colt, Volo Gallon, sired by Bill Gallon, winner of the Hambletonian.

Other officers of the racing association include Franklin S. Hastings and Earl E. Conley, vice-presidents; Edgar T. Bennett, secretary; O. Sheldon Chandler, treasurer; A. Walter Kraus and E. Rudolph Brittingham, assistant treasurers and secretaries.

Clarence W. Miles is chairman of the board. The board of directors has set October 27, as the meeting date of the stockholders. Harness racing was established last year on the Eastern Shore of Maryland with the opening of Ocean Downs three miles from Ocean City. Preparations are now being made for the second meet of 20 nights which begins Aug. 10.

Miss Barbara Clendaniel, of Milton, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hamilton.

Boy Scouts Gary Homewood, Robert Herring, William Shaw, Jr., and Jackie Minner are spending the week at Camp Rodney, near Northeast, Md.

Mrs. Ernest Homewood and daughter, and Mrs. R. C. Bullock and daughter, spent Thursday in Dover.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Derrickson and family spent Sunday at Rehoboth.

George Smith, of California, formerly of Harrington, is again in the hospital.

Burnites Played Prominent Role In Early History of Felton

by M. Evelyn Killen

The Burnite family, which held a reunion Sun., July 2, in the Colonial Dining-room of Glasgow Arms, Glasgow, played an important part in the early history of Felton.

We find in Scharff's "History of Delaware" the following item: "About two miles west-south (from Felton) on the road to Whitesburg, is a small hamlet consisting of six dwellings, a steam sawmill and a population of about thirty inhabitants, called 'Burnite's Mill,' formerly 'Reynolds Corners.' The people are engaged chiefly in the employ of Wilbur H. Burnite, who runs a steam sawmill in the manufacture of ship timber, etc., and an evaporating establishment in peach season."

It was in 1889 when Mr. Burnite retired from active business and sold his house and property at Burnite's Mill to John Heyd, whose son and daughter, Leslie Heyd and Dorothy Heyd, still survive. For a number of years Mr. Heyd continued the evaporating of peaches. After his retirement, Mr. Burnite moved into Felton and rented the old seminary where they lived until they built the house on Main Street which they later sold to Robert R. Clifton, and which is now owned by Mrs. A. C. Bennett.

At one time, Mr. Burnite was quite active in politics and served as state treasurer in the 90's. He was also active in the Methodist Church and was the leader and director of the choir for quite a number of years.

After the parents' death, the family left Felton, the three sons going to Denver and engaging in business there. Thomas Bayard Burnite is still active, but Lindale and Hyland Burnite have retired.

An active president of the Colorado Society of the Sons and Daughters of Delaware, Bayard Burnite keeps in close touch with former Delawareans from all over our state, and has enrolled quite a long list of those who left Delaware for Denver.

Editor's Note: When we came here in 1917, the name, Burnite's Mill, was still in use. Sometimes the locality was called Burnite's Corner. The crossroads referred to is on the Felton-Whitesburg highway at Hopkins Cemetery.

Delaware Farm Mortgage Debt Hits New High
The farm mortgage debt in Delaware is now approximately $11,000,000, according to Dr. R. O. Bausman, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Delaware. That is slightly in excess of the debt following World War I.

"This is an increase of 85 per cent since 1946," he says, "and is the third largest increase of any state in the country. The farm mortgage debt in Delaware declined following World War I until 1946 when it fell to a low of six million dollars.

Dr. Bausman points out that some of this debt is due to increased land prices. Land prices in Delaware are still near their post-war peak; roughly, double that of the 1935-39 period. However, farm income in Delaware has increased by 20 per cent since 1946. This is the tenth largest increase of any state in the country. Some of the Delaware debt has increased values back of it in the form of poultry houses, poultry equipment, and heavy farm machinery.

Delaware C. of C. To Award Cup

The Chamber of Commerce, Delaware, Inc., at Wilmington, has set up the annual Josiah Marvel Cup award, available to any Delawarean, irrespective of race, color, creed or sex, who has given outstanding service to the State, the community, society or to his fellow man, which service would be something worthy of being remembered. This beautiful cup originally was presented to Josiah Marvel, the first president of the Chamber of Commerce, Delaware, who served during 1913-1914, in recognition of the Chamber of Commerce from the old Board of Trade. It recently was returned to the Chamber by Mr. Marvel's heirs for such use as the chamber may decide.

The board of directors appointed a committee comprising Trowbridge Marston, chairman; Hon. Hugh M. Morris and William Paton to recommend its disposition, and they unanimously recommended this award.

The plan contemplates the appointment by the president of the chamber, annually, of a state-wide confidential committee of award. Nominations for persons to receive the award would be invited from any resident of Delaware, and would be made to the president of the chamber, in writing. The award would be made at the annual meeting of the chamber, after notification of the recipient by letter, whose name and the date of the award, would be inscribed on the cup. A scroll describing the type of service and a miniature cup would be given the recipient, the Josiah Marvel Cup being held for safe-keeping in the offices of the chamber, suitably displayed.

The chamber desires that the people of Delaware understand that this award is a state-wide event and that anyone is eligible for nomination to receive it.

Mrs. Meta Kohland Dies Near Town
Mrs. Meta B. Kohland, 76, died at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kohland, near Harrington, Friday.

She was born in Germany, but came to this country when she was 14. She had resided in this community for the past 15 years. Funeral services were held at the Boyer Funeral Home Monday afternoon in charge of the Rev. W. S. Grant, pastor of Houston Methodist Church. Interment was at Barratt's Chapel Cemetery, near Frederica.

She is survived by four sons, William, of New York; Francis, of Darby, Pa., and Edward and Herman, of Harrington; also six grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

Sen. Frear Hits Reports Of Profiteering

Railroad News

In his monthly staff meeting at Cape Charles the boys in the Harrington District received favorable mention by Superintendent Goodfellow and Division Engineer Kirk Werden for the good attendance at the past two safety meetings and the interest shown by train and engine crews in helping to make June a NO ACCIDENT month.

Those attending the July 3rd meeting were: W. C. Miller, Supervisor T&S, chairman; Wade Mitchell, Master Carpenter; R. R. McClain, Supervisor No. 93; Ernest Homewood, Inspector T&S; Lewis Taylor, Foreman Track; G. F. Rapp, Foreman Carpenters; G. C. Lord, G. W. Toppin, J. H. Cordray, Conductors; H. D. Adkins, W. H. Davis, C. H. Derrickson, Enginemen; B. W. Burgess, Trainman; W. S. McCabe, Maintainer T&S; R. H. Moore, Agent; T. R. Twigg, S. C. Johnson, G. D. McClain, W. F. Fletcher, Foreman Track; C. F. Rapp, Carpenter, O. T. Perry, Clerk; C. L. Warrick, District Claim Agent; L. E. Brown, Claim Agent; L. G. Markert, retired Signalman, Renovo Division; Fulton J. Downing, Harrington Lumber & Supply Co.

Prompt attention by Wade Mitchell and Bob McClain in correcting faulty conditions mentioned in the May and June meeting by Job Pride and Howard Williams, demonstrates the co-operation of our unit in making our surroundings safer to work in.

The August 7th meeting will be held in the afternoon. A good baseball film has been engaged for the September 11th meeting.

"Twin beds are all very well," said the blushing bride to the salesman, "but there's no use buying them until we get the twins."

The safety movement is not a movement to make a record, but it is a movement to make the place of our employment a SAFE PLACE to work.

On a recent trip through the Ford plant at Detroit, the writer noticed several large bulletins posted along the assembly line, showing a monster twisting centipede with the following wording: "A centipede can take chances. He has a hundred feet."

"You only have two."

"Protect them with safety shoes."

This idea has been passed along to our advertising department and may appear on our own bulletin boards. We liked the underlying affect of this poster because the horny moving thing makes one stop and THINK and that's what it takes to be safety minded.

We Eastern-shorers, who have taken crabs from a net, should be able to appreciate this more than some others, as the first thing we think of is the safe way to do the job.

There's nothing like having a baby around to make a person realize it's a changing world.

Business was heavy last week but is now tapering off with potatoes about over and two of the highway construction jobs closing out. The boys on the extra list can now do a little fishing.

Byron Burgess says he is not a fisherman but might try raising chickens or doing a little BABY SITTING. One of Byron's elder brothers, offering some fatherly advice, said he didn't know what age chickens he intended to handle but he did know the hardest time to get a baby to sleep is when she is 18 years old.

Watch this column for details on the annual picnic at Cape Charles which will be held in August, and is being programmed to be bigger and better than ever.

Bowdle Acquires Registered Holstein
William F. Bowdle, Harrington, has recently acquired a registered Holstein-Friesian cow, Johanna Tranquillity De Kol, from the herd of William E. Lynch, Ridgely.

United States Senator J. Allen Frear said today that excessive buying and profiteering, as a result of the Korean situation, is likely to force a return of government controls quicker than anything else.

In his weekly statement on Congressional affairs, Senator Frear cited reports that consumer goods are being withheld from the market in order to create artificial shortages and force prices upward. The senator labeled such conduct as deplorable and called it a disservice to Americans soldiers and to the country in general.

Mr. Frear called for co-operation on the part of everyone to prevent hoarding of food and other supplies. He indicated that no serious curtailment in the production of peacetime commodities is presently necessary and said, "If we are able to cope with the Korean situation soon, a serious disruption of our peacetime economy may be avoided."

Senator Frear warned, however, that barring a sudden collapse of the Communist army, it will take some time before the United States and its allies can restore order on the Korean Peninsula. He again hailed the magnificent defensive stand which is being made by the limited American forces in the Far East, and said that this action should encourage and inspire all of us to work and pray unceasingly for a speedy victory.

Senator Frear also commented on the inquiries addressed to him from Delaware citizens on pending legislative matters covering domestic affairs. He pointed out that though military legislation will receive prior consideration, nevertheless, Congress will complete action on domestic bills as expeditiously as possible.

Fire Company To Display New Ambulance at Fair
The Harrington Fire Company will display its proposed Ambulance in the booth of the Kent County Motor Company underneath the grandstand.

Through the efforts of J. Gordon Smith, of the motor company, an ambulance demonstration will be on exhibition without cost for the benefit of the Ambulance Fund.

Mr. Smith also donated a new $850 RCA television set to the Harrington Fire Company to chance off so as to raise money for this new piece of equipment. Chances on this will be sold at his booth during the Fair. This set will be given away at the Stock Car Races, sponsored by the Fire Company, at Fairgrounds, on Labor Day, Sept. 4. Get your chances on this early.

The Fire Company is still receiving donations to a fund being raised to buy a new ambulance for this community.

Anyone who is planning on giving to this good cause, please do so as soon as possible because the firemen cannot buy this ambulance until the money is raised.

A total of $432 has been donated since last report. The grand total to date is $1516. The Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Company donated $250 toward this good cause.

The recent donors are: Ladies Auxiliary of Harrington Fire Co., Supples-Wills-Jones, R. W. and Agnes Vane, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Adkins, George C. Simpson, J. O. Fride, Joseph Ward and mother, Rotary Club, St. Stephens Church, Harrington Journal, Mrs. Alfred E. Sharpe, Samuel Welch, Frank and Barton Hrupas, Lawson Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Roy Porter, Robert L. Nelson.

Forest Russ Injured In Auto Accident
Forest "Monk" Russ, a Negro employee of Mid-City Garage, suffered the loss of a leg Tuesday evening when he was pinned between a car and a truck as he attempted to walk between them.

Russ was crossing Delaware Avenue in the rear of a passenger car which had stopped for the Clark Street stop sign when a truck, approaching the stop sign, pinned him against the passenger car whose passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Butman.

Russ' leg was crushed so severely that it had to be amputated at Milford Memorial Hospital.

Driver of the truck, owned by Charles Carter, was Samuel Benson, a Negro caretaker of horses at the racetrack, who had no driver's license. Carter was fined $50 and costs for permitting his truck to be operated by a non-licensed driver.

Benson was arraigned Wednesday before Magistrate Frank O'Neal on a charge of operating a vehicle without a license.

Insect News

Grasshoppers
It is reported that grasshoppers are injuring crops in some areas in Sussex County.
They are working on lespedeza and clover seeded in wheat on the farm of John Closser, Jr. west of Greenwood in Kent County. He reported that one or two of his neighbors also have them on their farms.
If it does not cost too much the grasshoppers may be controlled by spraying with 1 qt. of 60% Toxaphene per acre or dusting with a 1% Lindane dust at the rate of 35-40 lbs. per acre.
Tomato Hornworms
Young newly hatched tomato hornworms are appearing in tomato fields and while they are young and small is the time to control them. Rothane dust 5% at 30-35 lbs. per acre or Rothane or DDT sprays, 2 lbs. of 50% wettable powder in 100 gallons of water, at the rate of 150 gallons per acre may be used. Calcium or lead arsenate sprays or dusts may also be used. In all cases the application should be thorough so that all parts of the plants are covered.
Japanese Beetles
Since the first emergence the last week in June their numbers has been steadily increasing. Spraying with any of the following materials will help to protect foliage and fruit from injury by the beetle.
DDT Spray: 2 lbs. of wettable 50% dust in 100 gallons of water, 16 tablespoonfuls in 10 gallons of water, 4 tablespoonfuls in 1 gallon of water.
Lead arsenate, rotenone, and a lime-aluminum sulfate mixture can also be used.
For more detailed information call the County Agent, Dover 2621.

Hoof Beats

With the current harness racing season still in its "warm up" stages in many sections, all signs point to a record breaking year in several departments.
In the money won classification, Good Time, the Mighty Mite of the William Cane Stable already has surpassed the all-time money-won rank for pacers set by Single G, back in 1926. Good Time's earnings now exceed the $115,000 mark and he is just entering his third year of competition.
Among trotters the fabulous mare, Proximity, will pass the all-time money won record set by another great mare, Goldsmith Maid, back in 1877, any day now. At this writing the Verhurst owned lady of the turf needs only approximately $8000 to turn the trick. Goldsmith Maid's record is $206,462.
Worlds records have been falling in the proverbial landslide style so far this year. At this writing six world marks have been shattered with four of the new crowns ending up on the head of Proximity, Queen of the Harness Turf. The eight year old daughter of Protector has annexed top laurels for the mile and a quarter, mile and an eighth, mile and a sixteenth on a mile track and the mile on a half mile oval. She was driven by Clint Hodgins, in all record performances.

The remaining pair of records to be entered in the books so far this season are those set by Prince Jay, the fast stepping side-wheeler owned by Sol Camp, Shafter, Calif. traveled the mile and an eighth on a mile track in 2:15 1/5 under the reining of Charlie Witt, veteran west coast driver. White Mountain Boy, racing under the colors of E. P. Cray, Bellow Falls Vt. hung up a new mark for pacers for a mile on a half mile track when he negotiated the distance at Roosevelt Raceway in 2:10 3/5.
This year two horses have gone the mile in two minutes, both pacers, to set the annual schedule for "miracle miles" quite a bit in advance of the accepted calendar. In 1949 there were no two minute miles until the Goshen Good Time Park meeting in August. The two speedsters going the coveted miles are Jerry The First, owned by the Cobb-Hurdick Stable, Washington Court House, O., and Robert Morris, the five year old Volomite pacer owned by George De Vries, west coast sportsman. Both marks were made at Santa Anita in the meeting sponsored by the Western Harness Racing Association, the former in a race, the latter against time. Jerry The First is not new to the two minute fraternity having stepped the distance on several occasions in the past two years. Robert Morris however, clipped seven and one fifth seconds from his accepted record in gaining his new mark, under the reining of Joe O'Brein, who experienced his first two minute ride.

Willow Grove

Quite a lot has happened around here since my last letter to the Journal so will endeavor to gather some of those happenings in chronological order—my memory serving me properly.
July 9th was quite a day with the church going folks here and our visitors. The dedication of the First Church of God took place at 3 p. m. in the building previously mentioned in my letters as having been purchased and repaired by the congregation, generously supported by the community and well wishers elsewhere, for which support, the congregation is very grateful.
The services were in charge of the Rev. Estel E. Perry of Washington, D. C. Lending assistance to the master of ceremonies were Rev. Irvin Shroud, Rev. Denver Smoot, Rev. B. C. C. Fansler, Rev. Virgil Daley, Rev. Hollis Pistole and the pastor Rev. G. L. Taylor. A retired minister Rev. J. M. Jones was also helpful with the services.
Present also were Rev. and Mrs. Walter Ott and family, of Baltimore. Rev. Ott is ordained but unassigned.

Three of our teenagers, Miss Charlotte Semans, Miss Joannette Cabbage and Paul Glanden were members of a group of young folks occupying Camp Wawanassia, near Severn Park, Md., for a week just recently. They were accompanied by our pastor Rev. G. L. Taylor. A wonderful time was reported by everyone.
Mrs. Evelyn B. Taylor has been taking a much needed rest, having accompanied Mr. Taylor to his job in Pennsylvania for a couple of weeks. We hope the change of climate and relaxation has helped her condition very much. The doctor ordered such a remedy months ago.
A car driven by a Mr. Hudson smashed into the property of Robt. G. Semans Saturday night, July 8 and did considerable damage to the real estate besides damaging his car parked under the porch. The car had been in service just one week after having been damaged in a collision.
Mr. and Mrs. William Frasher visited the former's sister Sunday. A new day old nephew was also present to receive his share of attention.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Reynolds and children of St. Georges, were visitors of W. O. and Mrs. Cabbage for a short time Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Semans visited Mr. Semans, father in Magnolia Sunday. His father was reported quite ill.
Old Man Weather isn't very helpful to our farmers who have grain to combine or who have grain in the shock, but the corn in this area is really nice.

It is understood the John Cahall's stock to be our candidate for Representative in the Sixth is rising daily. We know of no par value and don't want to know of any ceiling.

In the local news stand is a book by John Dickinson Carr and its title is "The Man Who Could Not Shudder." Evidently he never priced a beefsteak.

For many years Arkansas has had the smallest percentage of deaths from cancer of any state in the Union, and Maine has had the largest. No, we do not ascribe this condition to the political complexion of those states.

GREAT PRESIDENTS

A few years ago, at the invitation of Arthur M. Schlesinger of Harvard University, 55 outstanding authorities on American history were asked to name the greatest Presidents of the United States. They named the following as great: Lincoln, Washington, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Wilson, Jefferson, Jackson.

We're not an outstanding authority on history—in fact, we're not any kind of an authority on anything—so our opinion carries no weight. However, Owen Wister's opinion should carry considerable weight, and in his great book, "The Virginian," dedicated to Theodore Roosevelt, he says that Teddy was the only man in a high place in Wister's time who took an interest in the lot of the common man.

John Quincy Adams possessed elements of greatness. His father, John Adams, the second president, believed, like Alexander Hamilton, that some people should own castles upon the hills and prosperity would trickle down to the rest of the people.

It is difficult to recognize greatness when its possessor is too many people gaze through the bleared eyes of bias.

WHERE ARE THE HUMORISTS?

Two years ago Strickland Gillilan, himself one of the greatest of American humorists, said to us: "If Will Rogers had lived, the world wouldn't be in the shape it is today. Will would have kidded a lot of these foibles, fallacies, and isms to death."

We imagine Strick knew what he was talking about, for one of America's most distinguished literary figures, Dr. Josiah Gilbert Holland, said that if civilization is saved, it will be saved by the humorist.

Gillilan and Gelette Burgess have been battling around one thousand throughout the years. Riley Wilson, down at Charleston, West Virginia, half-blind and seriously ill, still convulses the multitudes—but where are the others?

There are statues overlooking the Mississippi River at Hannibal, Missouri, the only statues ever erected in commemoration of characters of fiction. So Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer peer up and down the fathomless Father of Waters—but Mark Twain is no more. He's sleeping up at Elmira.

In a modest grave near Hendersonville, North Carolina, rests all that is mortal of Twain's great contemporary, Bill Nye. George Ade, at his beloved Kentland, and Kin Hubbard, not so far away, rest on cofined pillows in their beloved Hoosier State.

John Godfrey Saxe, up in Boston, and Ellis Parker Butler, out in Iowa, where "pigs is pigs" and the tall corn used to grow before it became a hybrid—who has come forward to take their places?

The world still laughs at the wholesome humor of Ring Lardner, much of it written when he was dying. His humor was not passed down to his sons, for one of them today is listed as a communist. Is there today, anywhere, another Finley Peter Dunne, better known as "Mr. Dooley"?

Opie Read died in Chicago in 1939, and Irvin Cobb passed on a few years ago. One month ago we stood by the grave of John Hall, at Salem, Arkansas. We haven't heard of George Bingham in many years—so he, too, must be among the missing. Polk Miller has been dead many years.

Why haven't we produced humorists in recent years? Some few profess to believe it is because we have become so saturated with risqué night club stuff that we no longer appreciate clean humor—but this is not true, and will not be true as long as we have any intelligence left in America. Is the world in its present condition because we do not have enough real humorists, or is the present condition of the world responsible for the scarcity of humorists?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The "Letters to the Editor" department of a newspaper is interesting, one of the most interesting features of any paper, for it represents the thinking of many people. Wilmington papers have been especially fortunate in the ability of their contributors—until now.

Letters have been pouring in on two burning questions. One is should kittens be drowned? The other one is more than a question—it has become an issue of major importance, and it has flared into open resentment because the little Wilmington Negro boy who won the United States marble championship has been nicknamed "Pork Chops." That, claim some of his admirers, will handicap him for life.

Migosh! Have we reached the stage where we are too dignified to be nicknamed? There isn't a boy in America who hasn't borne a nickname, frequently a much worse one than Pork Chops, and we've never heard of it handicapping anyone.

It didn't harm Jerome Hanna Dean to call him "Dizzy" Dean. On the other hand, he made capital of it and fairly reveled in the name. Today he refers to himself as "Old Diz." It didn't harm his brother, Paul, to call him "Daffy" Dean. Carl Hubbel never objected to them calling him "Long Pants" and Willie Jones, of the Phillies, doesn't resent being known as "Puddin' Head." Bill Bernhardt, a great player with Cleveland years ago, was called "Sarah," after the great actress, while Clarence Walker and Artie Schaeffer were called "Tillie."

The Great General Patton rather liked his gory name, "Old Blood and—Intestines"—and how would you like to be called "The Goat Boy?"

Many people in Harrington read about the Goat Boy in the American magazine a number of years ago. We discussed him at length with Horace E. Quillen, because we used to be the Goat Boy's neighbor, back at Imboden, Arkansas.

His name was Joe F. Sullivan and both his legs were paralyzed. Two goats, hitched to a little express wagon, took Joe to school every day and a schoolmate, Elwood Rash, lifted him from the wagon and carried him into the schoolroom. That lasted for years, until Joe graduated from high school. He had no further schooling.

He became editor of VanLeuvan Brown National Magazine in Detroit at a salary of $9000.00 per year—when that amount was big money—and his book, "The Unheard Cry," was adopted as the text book of the Russell Sage Foundation.

On two occasions, years apart, the American Magazine had feature stories about Joe. There were illustrations of Joe sitting in the little wagon drawn by the goats and the magazine referred to him as "The Goat Boy." Joe was proud of that title. "Why shouldn't the goats get their full share of publicity?" he asked. "They were honest, hard-working and faithful throughout the years. They helped educate me and I'm glad to see them make the magazines."

It seems to us that we have enough to worry about these days instead of wasting our time talking about cats, Westbrook Pegler—and Pork Chops.

KAPITAL KOMENT

Dear Folks:

Yer no I hain't rit no letter lately but yer can be sure it ain't caus I ain't heard no news. I jest cudn't ketch up on my rest an all the news to. We bin so busie workin the craps gittin in hay tryin to combine sides the chors I hain't bin up to it.

Well the Blessd Master seen fit to send sum rain en we think as how we got to much so me an Anernias went off to the sale Friday and picked up a site of things.

Fust off my naybor is a gettin kinder worried bout Cap. Hanson gittin mixed up in the business in the Fifth an he is still a wonder in why Cap let em talk in into it. Coars we heard Hays he dun quit the Komitee soz he can do as he pleezes bout that woman a ruin agin an if he wer still on the Komitee the boys woudn't like him doin to much countin ever body has freunds.

We heard as how theys turned the boys loos on her already. Jims got his man Collins rit busie ther in town tellin peopl how Garrison got his job out ter the jail and how she dun this an that.

Anernias sez he figgered they had kinder shoved Jim Collins back on the shelf countin theys giv him a liker licens clar out to Willer Grov wher the Democrats still hold the Fort an he won't have so many contacs now but coars after all politicks is just a case of you scratch my back an I'll scratch yours. I heard Jim told my boy we'll git youse a licens an Mister Wine an Mr. Allee wuz both present when them folks down to Willer Grov peered agin Jim.

The Journal says that Feller Jon M. Conway what's got sumthin to do fer the Democrats up Wilmington wuz down to Dover tother even when they had the powwow in the cort hous an all the big shots wuz ther. Everthing wuz peaches an creme till Micoud called Conway fer to tell em how things wuz up town an the lid blue off.

The feller sed sum folks wuzn't pleezed with what they wuz adoin on the paper sed Micoud tole Conway everthing wuz be Jake rite soon caus these things wuz goin to be dun rite away.

Well sir, Anernias got holt of the same paper I reckon, er sum body who had caus, on the way hum Friday he said to me "Joe you heard bout that meetin in the cort hous tother nite didn't yer?" I loved I did and then he tole me a feller at the sale tole him that Carvel dun tole ever body agin about that 80% stuff, I didn't git the hang of it, the same things he sed to them other meetins when he tole ever body what he'd dun fer the folks in Delaware. But when Conway tole em his story that perty smile left and Carvel's face wuz sorta sober like an Anernias sed he axed the feller if he need what en all Conway sed an the feller sed he need sum of em cordin to his freunds story but he woudn't say what they wuz. My fish in each pond. Are they favor-nybor luffed an sed Joe they've got a heap of rails to split an pile afore they git this lection behin bars.

See you next week. As ever Old Joe

Letter to the Editor

Dear Reader:

Earlier we discussed some of the reasons why the Delaware Game and Fish Commission has undertaken studies of its fresh water ponds. In this letter we will talk about some of the things we need to know before sound management plans can be completed.

Experience throughout the world has shown that like fingerprints no two bodies of water are alike, and fish in every pond are a problem in themselves. To complicate things further conditions within a pond are changing constantly. Counts of microscopic fish food called "plankton" vary from day to day and season to season. Any scientist working with nature realizes these conditions. Although fish management is making healthy progress, it is not and never will be an exact science. A biologist has the problem of interpreting many variables, making tentative conclusions based on his best judgment, testing these conclusions, and revising them in the light of further experience. Science applied to fish management attempts to reduce errors as much as possible.

Eventually our fisheries men will work all the important public and semi-public fish ponds in the state to get three types of information. First, they seek knowledge of the fish themselves; second, cover, and oxygen on fish pond, information on the effect of production; and finally, the effects of fishermen upon fish within the ponds.

We need to know in each of our ponds how fast various kinds of fish grow, at what age and when they spawn, in what age classes they occur, the proportion of one species of fish to another, which fish are competing with other fish, and are there any serious diseases or parasites on fish limiting their production? Until this information is acquired, we have no basis to judge production and to modify existing regulations so as to protect breeding stock or reduce the numbers of undesirable fish.

We need to know a great deal about the homes in which our fish live. Is there sufficient oxygen at all seasons and depths? How about alkalinity, carbon dioxide and temperature? Does silt smother fish eggs or reduce plant growth which in turn reduces the oxygen? (Oxygen in water comes in part from submerged plants that breathe in carbon dioxide and give off oxygen.) What is the food supply; where is it produced? Are there adequate spawning grounds, rearing grounds, etc.? These questions all are important and must be answered in part before intelligent management plans can be put into effect.

Finally we need to know what our fishermen do by removing fish in each pond. Are they favoring the production of one kind of fish over another? Are present regulations too strict or too lenient? Are we letting our desirable fish spawn before they are removed? Are we letting less desirable fish spawn too frequently before they are caught? Is a pond fished too heavily? Not enough? These are but a few of the questions that should be answered.

Unfortunately if we had all the answers to these questions, we would not be able, with the present state of knowledge, to hit the nail on the head every time. We probably would make fewer misses.

In another letter we will see how the Delaware Game and Fish Commission is gathering information needed for pond fish management.

Sincerely, Norman Wilder Delaware Game and Fish Commission

To The Correspondents

The "unbalanced comma." In all cases where a word, phrase, or clause is cut off by commas—a transposed element, a non-restrictive phrase, or clause, a parenthetical element of any kind—it produces a particularly bad effect to use one of the two commas and omit the other. It is better to omit both than to do this.

"These men in their honorary capacity, already have sufficient work to perform."

"The party then, consisted of about 12 persons."

"It is not strange that the sentiment of loyalty should, from the day of his accession have begun to revive."

"It was the master of the house to whom, as in duty bound I communicated my intention."

The "exaggerated semicolon." Just as it looks illiterate to put a comma before an independent clause, so it looks illiterate, though not so much so, to put a semicolon before a subordinate clause; not so much so, because this is sometimes done in the series, and sometimes for rhetorical effect. It is very liable to abuse, and most cases of it are due to ignorance. The safest rule is never to use the semicolon except between independent clauses.

"The stranger blamed himself severely; which was not doing himself justice."

"Milton wrote many poems in his youth; the best known being 'Lycidas' and 'Comus.'"

"When ambition asserts the monstrous doctrine of millions made for individuals, their playthings, to be demolished at their caprice; is not the good man indignant?"

Elsewhere in this issue is an article, written by M. Evelyn Killen, our Felton correspondent, on the Burnite family. Mrs. Killen has written several nice articles on Felton history, including one on Felton's first house, and the old seminary.

We would like to publish also similar articles from our correspondents. We would like to have in the pondents. We would like to have pictures.

Frederica

(Last Week)

Miss Bessie Cook, of Philadelphia, is a patient at the McQueen Nursing Home. Miss Cook has been coming to Frederica for many years. She spent a part of each summer vacation as the guest of her late cousin, Mrs. Laura Cook Frazier, and other relatives, and her many friends here looked forward to these visits. These folk will be glad to know that she is again in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Passwaters, of Milford, were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Lida Stevenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Melvin Sr. are having the pleasure of entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Samuel Bostic, and grandson, Sammy Lee Houghins, of Wilmington for a week's visit.

Mrs. C. Hoey Gross has returned from the Milford Memorial Hospital where she was a patient for several days. Her condition is improving.

Miss S. Helena Case is seriously ill in the Milford Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Ella Webb, who has been making her home with Miss Case for several years, has gone to the Webb Nursing Home where she will reside indefinitely.

The Misses Barbara Tatman and Ruth Earley with Davis Hudson will make a report to the MYF at its next monthly meeting. These young folk have returned recently from the Peninsula Methodist Conference Camp at Booker's Wharf, Md., where they were delegates for a week.

Mrs. Howard Rogers has been entertaining her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Livy C. Rogers, or Lewes.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Robbins are occupying their summer cottage at South Bowers. This was a recent purchase.

Mrs. Sallie Smith was the Sunday afternoon dinner guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McQueen. Sunday evening Mrs. Smith callers were Mr. and Mrs. Norris Sapp, of Wyoming.

Miss Elizabeth Jane Gerow is entertaining a Wheelock College friend at the residence of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Wilson, at Rehoboth.

Control Poultry Lice And Mites

Lice and mites can rob poultrymen of profits from their laying flocks, according to William C. Sloan, asst. Sussex agent. Egg production is lowered when these insects suck blood from the hens. Especially bad in summer, lice stay on the bird, while mites hide in cracks during the day.

Mites can usually be controlled by painting or spraying the roosting and nesting area, and the lower part of the walls, with carbolineum or creosote once a year.

Lice can be killed by applying nicotine sulfate or lindane (a refined form of benzene hexachloride) on the roosts one hour before sundown. If there are no roosts in the laying house, lice can be killed by broadcasting 1 lb. 10% DDT dust per 400 square feet in the litter. Two or three pounds of sulfur per 100 square feet of litter will also kill lice if the litter is dry enough for the birds to dust in it.

Sloan says that both lice and mites can usually be killed by spraying the roosting and nesting area with either 5% DDT solution or with B. H. C. solution. The entire interior of the building can be sprayed with a solution of 4 lbs. of 50% wettable DDT dust per 50 gallons of water. Keep agitator running while spray is in the tank.

Mrs. W. G. Holbrook will entertain the W. S. C. S., at her home Wednesday afternoon of next week.

H. W. Cade, a florist in Illinois for many years, and sisters, Miss Ethel Cade and Mrs. Elma Williams, presented our church with a large basket of beautiful gladioli, for Sunday's service. The act of kindness was in memory of three sisters who were members of our church for many years. They were the late Mrs. Jonathan Towers, Mrs. O. J. Chaffinch, and Mrs. M. E. Holbrook. Though they have been gone for many years, their memory still lives.

Our village was saddened last Sunday evening when a message came from Dickerson, Md., announcing the death of Mrs. Margaret Jones Kessler, 36, who died of a heart attack Saturday night. Some years ago Margaret lived here and endeared herself to many people. Our sympathy is extended to her family, especially Bernard H. Thomas, a son, who usually spends his summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thomas, residents here for more than 32 years.

Wesley Stafford, who planted 15 acres of cucumbers, is having a splendid yield.

The Misses Ellen and Ann Butler have returned home from a pleasant visit with Western Shore relatives. They were accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ramsburg, who were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Butler, returning to their Boonsboro home Saturday.

Mrs. Lewis Butler accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Harris to Collingswood, N. J. last Sunday. They visited Mrs. Daniel Glenn, who has been a patient in a hospital there. Some weeks ago she had a needle removed from the back of her head.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thomas visited Mrs. James C. Hardesty and son, Carlton, last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Samuel Ellwanger spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Sadie Neal, of Williston.

Mrs. Elmer Butler and Mrs.

Lewis Butler were in Dover one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Merriken and daughter, Sheila, of Washington, have been spending the week with the former's father, Mannie Merriken.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smith were overnight guests of the former's mother, Mrs. B. R. Smith of Washington. They report a very pleasant trip to the New England states.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Holbrook entertained at dinner one evening recently, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Chaffinch of Denton, and H. W. Cade of Illinois.

Besides Phillips, other judges are Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman at the University of Delaware, and William H. Mitchell, the University's assistant extension agronomist.

"The farmers sponsoring this program," Phillips points out, "are convinced that milk cannot be produced profitably in Delaware without a plentiful supply of home grown pasture, hay and silage. If these forage crops are of high quality they can replace much of the high priced grain mixtures especially in the spring, summer and early fall months. The judges then on their visits ing, and the whole summer feeding program will be carefully examined on each farm.

Pastures, says Phillips, will get the most attention. They will be scored on both quantity and quality. Control of weeds, hay and silage, and the amount of grain fed to cows on pasture will all be considered.

Houston

Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. Time and place for all grades and classes.

Preaching at 11:00 a. m. by the pastor Rev. W. Stanley Grant.

The evening services will start at 7:30. These are most inspiring meetings despite the hot weather.

The Sunday morning services were largely attended. There were 122 present in the church school and the amount of the offering was $104. The sermon was inspiring and the music was fine, both the choir's selections and the duet by Mrs. James Simpler and Miss Beulah Armour, whose number was "Out of The Ivory Palaces."

We are very sorry to learn Mrs. Ernest Simpson is confined to her bed suffering with asthma. We do hope she will soon be able to be up and around again.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday night in the Houston M. E. Church with the Rev. W. Stanley Grant officiating, when Miss Dorothy Robb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dukes Robb, became the wife of Mr. Francis Downs, of Smyrna.

Miss Robb, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white sheer dress, ballerina length, a lace hat with a short veil attached. Her bouquet consisted of red roses and baby's breath. Miss Anna Marie Robb, a cousin of the bride from Dover, was brides maid. Her dress was pink, sheer and wore a lace hat. Her bouquet was pink roses and baby's breath.

The best man was Clarence Scuse Jr., Smyrna. Mrs. Frank Downes, an aunt of the bride, played the wedding music.

A reception was held at the home of the parents for the immediate families. The happy couple went on a short honeymoon and will live on a farm near Smyrna. They are both 4-H Club workers and are very nice people. Our wish for them is great happiness and much prosperity.

Mrs. Oley Sapp and Mrs. Wesley Deford and daughter, Miss Myrtle, spent the time from Wednesday till Saturday in Riverdale.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Sapp went to Wilmington to visit their son, Mr. and Mrs. Hummel Sapp and their three week old grandson, Guy Hummel Sapp, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, Mr.

and Mrs. William H. Sapp Jr. and daughter, Nancy, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warnick and daughters, Ann and Jean, went to Riverview Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Boyce and Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Wix, of Wilmington, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sharp and children, Janice and Eugene Jr., visited Rehoboth Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Stafford, of Burrsville, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wilson.

We are sorry to hear Mr. M. Wagemaker was taken to Delaware State Hospital Monday morning, of Alexandria, Va., returned Wednesday.

Mrs. Ruth Day returned home Tuesday after a two week's vacation in their summer home in Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Kenton spent the weekend with his mother.

We are sorry to hear that Amos Booth is on the sick list at this writing.

Mrs. Mae Sweegan and Mrs. Louise Gray spent five days in Atlantic City, N. J.

The hot July nights are bringing the lightning bugs into their glory. They dance and flash their cold lights over every grain field and over nearly every weed filled fencerow. These insects, who transform energy into light more efficiently than man has been able to do, seem to be at their best in middle Delaware when both heat and humidity are high.

Miss Helena Case continues to improve at the Milford Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. I. W. Betts Sr. visited Mrs. Sallie Rodgers in Milford Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Dudd and Mrs. I. W. Betts Sr. arrived from East Orange, N. J. Thursday night. Al were Dover visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Dodd, of Dover, visited Mrs. Laura Miner at Webb's Rest Home Saturday.

Mrs. Lulu Wilson has been visiting in Wilmington.

Mrs. Tibatha Bostic of Wilmington, is visiting her parents here.

Mrs. John Palmer's Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lorentz and children and Mrs. Brown and Miss Renen, of Upper Darby.

Miss Katherine Flanagan spent a few days in Bowers Beach with her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Haley.

Mrs. Lida Stevenson had as her guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevenson and children, of Wilmington.

Mrs. Elva Gross, who recently returned to her home from the Milford Memorial Hospital, is improving.

The annual Sunday School picnic was held this year at Trapp Pond near Laurel, July 18.

A special meeting for the official board will be held in the Sunday School Room of the church Friday, July 21, at 7:30.

Bulletins for the Sunday service were presented by Mrs. Mary Remick and family.

The M. Y. F. picnic at Dewey Beach July 19, was another outdoor attraction of the week.

The Mid-Week Prayer Fellowship hour is scheduled for Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

Have you been up town lately and did you notice the large number of people and hardly a place to park your car? Well you guessed it, it is fair time and with it comes the very latest in every thing which includes, of course, many things that we sell.

They are not 1950 models but 1951 and you can see the things that you have long wanted if you look me up under the grandstand. Look for the checkered floor and you will be there.

See Mrs. Sweeney demonstrating the new Philco Electric range and note there is no smoke from it, even when she is broiling steak. Why can it be done? Well it is cooked under glass and ask her to show you if interested.

Then there will be the new 1951 Radios and Television sets. I know you will be wanting a new television set when you see how easy it is to operate one. Of course they are Philcos and they have only one control.

If I keep on telling you about these things you will know just what to expect at the fair. Be sure and stop in when you reach the booths with the checkboard floor under the grandstand and say hello.

To you kiddies just bring me, on paper the kind of stove your mother is cooking on Oil, Gas or Electric and I will see that you get a brand new pencil to start off to school with. Just a little piece of paper with her name is all you need to have.

Yes you still have a little time to paper that room before your company arrives for the fair, so come in let us help you with our suggestions.

Yes we are hooking up more and more gas ranges and we are always glad to be able to sell you a new range but we will also hook up any ranges even if bought elsewhere. We serve you either way you want it metered or bottled.

Did you see last Sunday's Wilmington Star? If so, I am sure you saw the pictures taken of the park and the swell write up given me. Of course I appreciate this very much but what I would like much better is your presence and while there enjoy yourself, leave your worries and cares at home.

Don't forget we have a date at the checkboard floor at the fair. Until then so long.
