Railroad News

This is the self propelled passenger car that was tested on the Delmarva Division last year. We hope to see more of them in services here some day.

Les Rogers is slowly recovering from a severe attack of kidney stones an ailment that sneaks up on a guy and hits quick. It also seems to have the medical profession stumped as they can't tell with all their modern methods, when it is going to strike, what causes it, nor what can be done about it. In other words it resembles the answer the guy got when he asked "What are rabbies and what can be done about it?" The reply was, "Rabbies are Jewish priests and there can't be a damn thing done about it."

We were all happy to see Ted Angus back in town recently. Ted's making a valiant stand at whipping his affliction and everybody is pulling for him.

President Franklin and Vice-President, Carpi, are at Cape Charles and Norfolk today and tomorrow and will go north on No. 468 Sunday.

Our freight movement has increased very materially in the past three months and Superintendent Goodfellow expressed his appreciation in last month's safety meeting, on the improvement shown in loss and damage.

Brakeman Jim Truitt has been laid up with fractured ribs as a result of a fall while shifting cars in the local yards October 3.

The Board is considering ways and means of meeting the deficiency, either by deleting a part of the project, or finding a new source of finances.

L. R. Rogers is confined to his home with illness.

Mrs. W. R. Massey and Mrs. Wallace Hanson spent Saturday in Wilmington.

Mr. Fletcher explained the local firm was the 26th in 26 companies, manufacturing the line, all of which were covered in a blanket contract by the union.

The organization started last week when a Mrs. Bandage, a union organizer, of Baltimore, visited the plant. Another meeting was held Monday evening at the American Legion Home which was attended by Phil Camp, union business agent, also of Baltimore.

Mrs. Thomas Minner, appointed chair lady for the first meeting said 32 of the plant's some 100 eligible employees joined the union at the meeting, and that others took the applications home and signed them. THE GREAT AMERICAN GAME—OR
 THE GREAT AMERICAN GAIN??

Thirty-five years ago a long, gangling, raw-boned farm boy from the little village of St. Paul, Neb., pitched the Phillies to their first, and up to this year, only pennant. When a pitcher wins twenty games a year, he is considered close to greatness. This farm boy won thirty games, not one year, but year after year. His name—Grover Cleveland Alexander, many times called "Alexander the Great," and he was just that, always regarded as one of the four great pitchers of all time. His name is one of the brightest in baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown, N. Y.

Years later, around the age of forty, Alexander, then with the St. Louis Cardinals, had beaten the greatest of all Yankee teams, the original Murderers' Row, in next to the last game of the World's Series. Believing his chores for the season over, Alec celebrated by going on a drinking spree. However, the next day Jesse Haines, the Cardinal pitcher, was injured by a batted ball and Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis manager, summoned old Alec from the dug-out. The bases were peopled by New York Yankees, but Alexander, in the throes of a hang-over, calmly walked to the mound and struck out the dangerous Tony Lazzeri, and the Cardinals became world's champions.

That story of the most dramatic moment in all the history of the World Series, has been told hundreds of times over the radio, has been told and re-told in newspapers and magazines and dramatized in the motion pictures and on the stage. Grantland Rice—or Damon Runyan—wrote a poem about it, one of the finest epics in the literature of sports-dom. It was called "Alexander, Still the Great."

Judging from the closeness of the games played, there was not much difference in the Yankees and the Phillies. Had the legendary Alexander the Great been introduced from the home plate just before the opening of the first game in Philadelphia, what an inspiration that would have been for the young, inexperienced Phillies. It well might have sparked them to a baseball immortality.

We sent a special delivery letter to Bob Carpenter, president of the Philly organization, telling him that old Alec, out in St. Paul, Neb., had told the newspaper men he would like to see one or two of the series games "for old times sake," but he wasn't financially able to make the trip. We begged Carpenter to bring Alexander to Philadelphia. "In public relations alone," we told him, "it will be worth $100,000 to baseball—and especially to the Phillies."

Old Grover did manage to see a game or two of the series—but not in Philadelphia. Friends in St. Paul and a radio show in Chicago, paid the expenses of the trip and a friend accompanied him, because Grover is almost deaf and is in poor health. He saw a game in New York, in the stadium where he had achieved his greatest triumph. He had to stand for three innings, until a newspaper man recognized him and invited him to sit in the press box.

Does the Philly organization care only for the dollar in the hand—or has it the most inept public relations department in the world?

Baseball! We were playing it with the other kids on the Third Nine, as we called it. Ragged, sun-browned kids, working in an abandoned field, pulling up dogfennel so that the base paths might be clearly defined. Suffering blistered legs by coming in contact with this same dogfennel. Using fifteen-cent barlows to whittle bats from hickory sticks or chinquapin sprouts—and playing with a ball made of yarn unraveled from a discarded stocking. How those kids played, those kids on the old Third Nine. They played because they loved to play.

Gifted ones in the histrionic hold a goblet filled with flame
 And in tones of grandeur offer up a toast unto a name;
 Some to mother, some to country, to the light that never dies,

To the light that ever lingers in a lovely maiden's eyes.
 Some may drink to youth and beauty from a glass of sparkling wine,
 But I drink from memory's chalice—to The Old Third Nine!

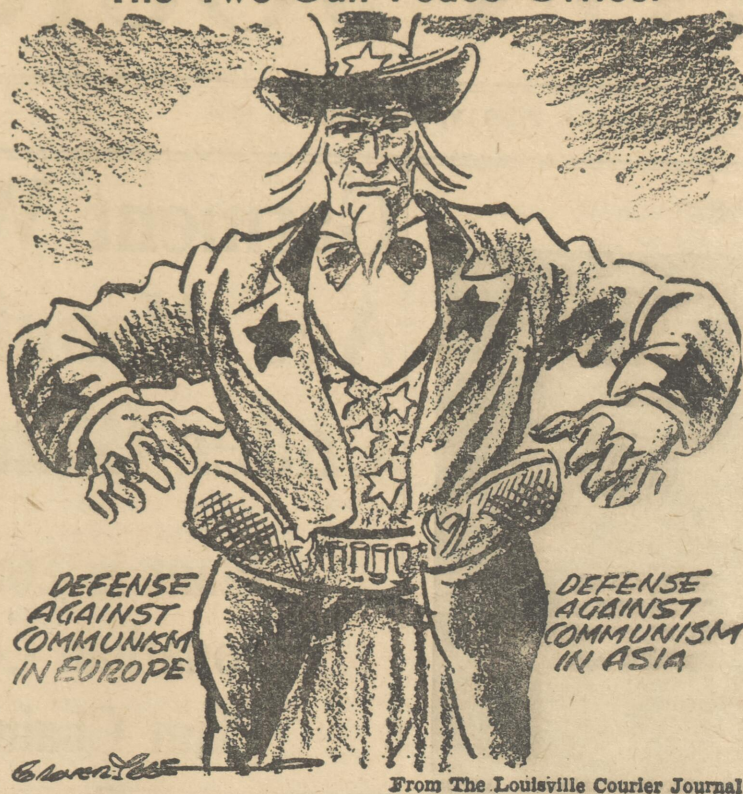

THE ELEPHANT NEVER—REMEMBERS

Republican newspapers (and this includes most of the big papers in the country) have been raising the dickens with the Roosevelt-Truman regime because since 1932 only 15 Republicans have been appointed to the Federal judiciary, while 235 Democrats have been appointed. This, they assert, is unfair—and we agree with them. This very important branch of the Federal government should be represented by a membership of about 50-50 from a political standpoint.

When did the Republicans conceive this idea of an equitable distribution of these offices? Does the elephant forget? These Republican presidents appointed the following numbers to the Federal judiciary: Benjamin Harrison, 26 Republicans and 3 Democrats; William McKinley, 22 Republicans and 1 Democrat; Theodore Roosevelt, 69 Republicans, 2 Democrats and one Independent; William Howard Taft, 37 Republicans and eight Democrats; Warren Harding, 43 Republicans and 1 Democrat; Calvin Coolidge, 64 Republicans and 4 Democrats; Herbert Hoover, 42 Republicans and 7 Democrats.

Thus it may be seen that Taft and Hoover were about the only Republican presidents to even recognize the existence of the Democratic party.

CHICKEN-DUMPLIN' DAY

Today I'm mighty happy, and I got a right to be,
 There's somethin' soothin' comin' and it's always good fur me.

Just once a week it happens, and just once a week I'm glad; I'm oozin' sweet contentment and no one can make me mad. On ever' blessed Wednesday, with earth's sorrows fur away, I go to Archie Marshall's—fur it's chicken-dumplin' day. I go there ever' Wednesday and I'm eatin' fit to bust 'Less Mac and Milt and Wilyum ain't a-tuckin' bibs on fust. An old hen makes best dumplin's and I don't care if she's tough—

She's juicy and she's tender if you cook her long enough. The gravy's sort of yeller, but the dumplin's crisp and white And you're happy with each swaller and you smile with ever' bite.

You say: "Right here I'm settin' till the day will steal away" Down there at Archie Marshall's on the chicken-dumplin' day.

I took a pious deacon there to eat with me one day. This deacon'd never et one bite before he'd stop to pray. He smelled these chicken-dumplin's and there was a moment's hush—

His lips they sort of lathered, somethin' like a barber's brush.

He didn't start to prayin' and he didn't start to sing, But yelled "Amen, By Gravy"—and he grabbed a chicken wing!

He went right on a-chawin' and the juice and dumplin's flew. The waiter brought five napkins and a big umbrella, too. "These vittles taste like somethin' that I et one time down South,"

The deacon sorter mumbled with a drumstick in his mouth. He kept right on a-gorgin' and he never took one breath; I warned him, "Take it easy or you'll choke yourself to death."

"Then, glory," yelled the deacon as he grabbed another wing, "Oh, grave, where is thy victory; oh, death, where is thy sting?"

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:
 I would like very much to see a column run in the Harrington Journal of interest to women. Such as short cuts, hints, ways of making money at home, recipes, etc.

It would be interesting if these were sent in by readers and correspondents. I hope many women have missed the Women's Page as I have and will contribute something towards a Woman's Column.

Letter to the Editor

October 5, 1950

Dear Reader:

The introductory letter to this series sets forth the substitute programs sometimes proposed to take the place of a program of wildlife food and cover improvement. As this series of letters develops it will be pointed out that these counter proposals often have merit as well as drawbacks and that effective management takes place when all tools of management are used properly and as a team. The first of these tools, legislation and regulations, were discussed in the last week's letter. This letter will deal with the use and abuse of restocking as a tool in wildlife management.

It should be made clear at the beginning that wildlife biologists are not universally opposed to restocking as a means of restoring wildlife to depleted areas. In fact under some conditions liberation of pen-reared or transplanted game is an answer to the problem of supplying the hunter with something to shoot. Let us examine what these conditions are. First and foremost it should be clearly understood that restocking is expensive. An important rabbit costs from $1.00 to $1.50, a good pen-reared pheasant from $3.00 to $4.00 and a pen-reared quail about $2.50 to $3.00. The individual cost is only part of the story because, secondly, game releases are usually extremely inefficient unless the time between liberation and harvesting by the hunter is at an absolute minimum. In one state, after careful study over a ten year period, it was determined that less than thirty per cent of pen-reared pheasants released two months prior to the shooting seasons were ever killed by hunters; this per cent harvested rose as high as seventy-five for pheasants liberated one or two days prior to the hunting season and during each week of the hunting season. On private shooting preserves pen-reared pheasants are released just a few hours before hunting time, but records from such preserves indicate that as an average less than sixty per cent of the total pheasant released are killed by the hunter. Based on this information plus similar findings from all over the country, it can be said that one condition for the successful use of pheasant stocking is that the hunter be fully informed of the cost involved and that he be prepared to pay this cost. Private shooting preserves are enjoyed by those that use them, but the patrons are prepared to pay a minimum of $5.00 for each pheasant shot. Release of pheasants in the spring for additional breeders was successful in establishing this bird throughout its present range in the United States. Continued releases of breeding stock has but very limited application as evidenced by the findings of numerous investigations on the subject. In areas suitable for pheasants, hunting seldom reduces wild brood stocks to the point where they cannot adequately repopulate their range.

The survival rate of pen-reared quail and transplanted rabbits, where adequately tested, has even been poorer than that of the pheasant. But again where temporary populations of these animals are necessary to provide sport, and people are aware of and prepared to pay for it, liberations are good management. Examples of those prepared to do this are field trial clubs, private shooting preserve groups and well-to-do individuals. It has not been demonstrated that indiscriminate stocking on a statewide level can contribute substantially to the hunters' kill of game.

Proponents of large state-wide restocking programs will point to the large numbers of game purchased and liberated by the various states, using these figures as the basis for the truth of their arguments. The mere fact that many states do purchase and liberate various kinds of game is not a valid basis for saying that such course is wise wildlife management. Conservation agencies represent the people and they attempt to carry out the desires of the people. The public should be informed of the impartial facts as gathered by biologists and then judge for themselves. Through the eye of biologists, the situation is like this: Game abundance is generally a matter of the capacity of the land to supply the necessary food and cover for game. The problem then is to increase the capacity of the land to support wildlife. If a farmer wants to build up a run-down farm so it will support a larger herd of beef cattle he improves his land by proper crop rotation, fertilization, liming, etc. Once his breeding stock of cattle is adequate he maintains a herd in proportion to the ability of his pastures and fields to maintain them. He may or may not supplement their diet by feed grown elsewhere. If his herd is too large for the carrying capacity of his land he thins his stock. The analogy holds for wildlife. A wildlife manager attempts to build up the carrying capacity of his lands by adding food and cover where needed. If the demand for his products (wildlife) is great enough to raise its value, he may eventually be able to raise additional wildlife under game-pen conditions and offer it to his customers (hunters) at a price they are willing to pay. States which charge $5.00 to $7.00 for resident hunting licenses are trying to decide whether even at that price they can supply their average customers through large scale stocking. The evidence today is that they cannot.

Sincerely,

Often those who work around a crippled person, or an epileptic, etc. do nothing but complain. So we find the disabled and handicapped people criticized if they try to work; they are criticized if they accept relief; and last but not least they are criticized if they loaf.

So let us all cooperate and make every week a National Employ The Handicapped Week, for tomorrow through an accident or illness we too may become—a physical handicap!

Very truly yours,

New Cafeteria For Latex

International Latex Corporation's new cafeteria boasts the most modern kitchen in the world. Mr. A. N. Spanel, founder and chairman of the board, told Playtex employees as they inaugurated a multi-million-dollar addition to the company's plant this week. Mr. Spanel said that although kitchen equipment which would perform the same functions could have been procured for 1/5th the cost, the company had spent a veritable fortune on the 100% stainless steel cooking, baking, refrigerating and servicing apparatus. "To ensure the world's best facilities for the health and pleasure of the people at Playtex Park."

Arrangements have been made for the company's employees to use the 14,000 square foot cafeteria in shifts, as many as one thousand people being able to dine there simultaneously.

The kitchen is fully air conditioned, its walls are of white glass, the floors of terrazzo, the ceiling soundproofed, with dinner music provided. Every latest automatic device has been incorporated for rapid and sanitary production of food. Even the doors and casements are made of stainless steel. The dining tables have sanitary plastic tops, trimmed in stainless steel. The chairs, designed by Mr. Spanel himself, are wider than ordinary cafeteria chairs, and are made of welded aluminum with fashioned wooden seats.

In one hour the entire unit can be transformed into a dance hall, accommodating 2000 people. The company is already scheduling 14 dances for the next 12 month period.

Prices are based on the net cost of the food plus handling, with no charge whatsoever for overhead or profit. Mr. Spanel said. An entire luncheon consisting of a meat dish, bread and butter, pie and coffee costs 40 cents; sandwiches are ten cents, coffee, five cents; soup, eight and twelve cents.

Mr. Wally Heinze, president of the company, said, "The new cafeteria and social hall at Playtex Park is a new and added benefit that every man and woman at Playtex Park appreciates and enjoys. It is a certainty that this large unit will be used to the hilt."

Rotarians Discuss 38th Parallel

Tuesday evening's meeting of the Harrington Rotary Club was given over to the discussion of international affairs and it proved to be one of the most interesting programs ever given before the club.

Cubbage Brown gave a splendid talk in behalf of the Crusade for Freedom and delivered literature pertaining to same. As a result of Cubbage's talk, committees were appointed to circulate petitions. Booths have been set up at the Fair Grounds and in the First National Bank. The drive is backed by the service and civic organizations of the city.

John Parks was program chairman for the evening and he elected to conduct a forum to discuss the pertinent question: "Shall We Go Beyond The Thirty-Eighth Parallel—or Shall We Stop?" He selected as members of the discussion panel: Melvin Brobst, Harry Wright, Jacob Messner, Fulton Downing.

The discussion that followed was a revelation, as all four speakers were exceptionally well informed on this crucial question. They were unanimous in their belief that we should continue above the disputed parallel.

Korea is only a pawn, with the Russians in charge of the chess board. The first of a number of contemplated "incidents," its object is to test us, to find just how far we will go in supporting our belief that all nations should be free. Like a big bully who, for the first time in his life, discovers his unusual strength, he decides to exploit that strength—and does so by beating up smaller adversaries—until some other big boy smashes him in the snoot. Then he becomes docility itself.

If we pause at the thirty-eighth parallel, the Soviet will take this as an admission of weakness on our part. It will give them time to re-group their conscripted fighters and create another "incident." This ruthless adversary, said the speakers, has no conscience, has no God. Its objective is annihilation of all for which Christendom stands. The chips are down and here we stand—or fall.

The Soviet is trying to array the yellow race against the white race. The yellow has the man-power, the white has the equipment and the know-how. They should be friends, but they will not be friends until each understands and appreciates the motives of the other. Go beyond the thirty-eighth parallel—far beyond it—as far as it is necessary to go to bring peace and understanding to the world.

Looking for POWER?

Better Buy Buick!

That bold bonnet that stretches out before your eyes on a 1950 Buick isn't there just for show. Lift it up, and you'll find that the space beneath is abundantly occupied, by one of the biggest hoodfuls of power you'll find in any motorcar.

What you're looking at is Buick's modern version of the high-compression valve-in-head engine, which gains extra wallop from the fact that it uses the exclusive Fireball combustion principle.

We could list a lot of mechanical reasons why fuel gives up extra power in a Fireball engine—how it's wrapped in a swirling, ball-shaped charge—how it burns with a smooth, clean thrust that delivers maximum action.

But the best way to find out what all this means is to touch off the eager horsepower out on the highway by a gentle nudge of your toe—and feel your shoulders press deep in the cushions behind them.

Now all this sounds thrilling, you say, but how about the feed-bills for all these horses? How about miles-per-gallon?

The practical answer to that one is found in this year's experience with the SUPER and SPECIAL—and even the ROADMASTER.

In all three, the horsepower was stepped up at the start of the year—and in all three, happy owners report the best mileage in modern Buick experience.

This is due to a little-known but authentic engineering fact—which is that an engine burns less gas when it doesn't have to labor. At any normal driving speed, therefore, extra power is extra thrifty.

So we say again—if you're looking for power—mighty power—buoyant power—silken power—thrifty power—better buy Buick.

Your Buick dealer is eager for the chance to demonstrate how sound this hint really is.

Only BUICK has Dynaflow Drive® and with it goes HIGHER-COMPRESSION. Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD front, taper-through fenders • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride fimsy low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube

Facts Gathered on 1950 Corn Yield Contest

Facts for the 1950 Corn Yield Contest in the Harrington area were gathered on Saturday by the judges who were William Tarbell, county agent; W. E. Mitchell, extension agronomist of the University of Delaware, and George Vapa, Vo-Ag teacher at Harrington school. Results will be announced at a later date, following the completion of moisture tests and soil analysis in the laboratory of the university.

Farmers and Future Farmer boys of near Harrington who are taking part in the program include Elwood Gruwell, Billy Bowdle, son of Russell Bowdle, Harold Venable, son of Garnet Venable; Raymond Welch, Jr., son of Raymond Welch; Robert Yoder, grandson of Abraham Yoder, and Charles Roy Reed, son of Whately Reed.

The contest is for the largest yield of corn on any selected five acres of ground on the farm. Yields are obtained on a dry weight basis so that the results of all fields can be compared. The method is to weigh 3 samples in different parts of a plot. A sample is measured by taping 12.5 feet between two rows, counting the stalks and the ears, husking out and weighing the ears, taking a few kernels of corn for the moisture test, and a soil sample for the soils test. The eight samples are combined for the average test of yield, moisture and soil analysis. The farmer is asked to tell how the plot was treated with lime, fertilizer, and manure, what crop preceded the corn, and what he expects to follow the corn with.

The university hopes to gather sufficient facts to be able to recommend even better crop practices for improved corn yields in the state.

Farmers in the contest will exhibit a bushel of their corn in the Crop Improvement Show at Newark in January. Other farmers not in the contest, but who might like to exhibit their corn in the show, are encouraged to contact the Ag. department of the Harrington School for further information.

Notes

Veterans of the Spanish-American War, Boxer Rebellion and Philippine Insurrection are now eligible for out-patient medical care without regard to service-connection, the Veterans Administration announced today.

Regulations implementing their right to such care, based on Public Law 791, 81st Congress, have been wired to all V-A Regional Offices.

To be eligible, a veteran must have served some time between April 21, 1898 and July 4, 1902 (or July 15, 1903 if the service was in Moro Province, Philippine Islands), and was discharged other than dishonorably.

An estimated 118,000 veterans have become potentially eligible for full medical and dental care in V-A clinics, or at home by fee basis physicians and dentists for any illness or disability.

Seventh Day Adventist Church Notes

Members of the Harrington Sabbath School joined other Sabbath Schools in the raising of a special fund of $50,000 to build a missionary training school on the Island of Tahiti, Society Islands.

The new training school will be located, is the center politically, culturally, and commercially of French Oceania, in which area island groups extend over approximately a thousand miles from north to south and about the same distance from east to west.

The Primary and Kindergarten classes gave a program Sabbath consisting of poems, singing and repeating memory verses. Bobby Pepper, age 8, of Denton, repeated the memory verses for 13 Sabbath baths and Mae Jones, age 8, of Seaford, repeated the memory verses since the first of the year. Each one brought their little bags full of pennies and dimes they had been saving to help build the missionary training school, amounting to $18. Mr. Pepper, superintendent, reported $525.50 raised for this project by the Sabbath School during the quarter.

Grain Yields Depend on Fertility, Says County Agent

"If there is anything we should rank first in importance in growing more and better small grains, it's fertility," says William H. Henderson, Sussex County Agent. "Of course we have to keep factors such as seed, soil, humus, and weather in mind but a good starting place is down where the roots are feeding."

Here are some ideas on fertilizing small grain fields in Sussex County.

On heavier soils, all small grains should have 300-400 pounds of an 0-12-12 fertilizer. There are probably very few cases in Sussex County where the potash should be less than the phosphorous. On sandier soils, it would be a good idea to use a 3-12-12 fertilizer at the same rate. Early in March some nitrogen should be applied as a topdressing. This is almost an absolute necessity on sandy soils.

"Last year some fields in the state were topdressed, resulting in nice yield increases, and in one case the yields went up 25 percent according to Bill Mitchell

Takes A Doctor's Advice

Gas Station Man's Neuritis Pains Leave Completely After 3 Bottles Of Hadacol

Father helped, too, who also had deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin

Wesley Scallions, energetic young gas station attendant in Peoria, Illinois, tells how HADACOL keeps him on the job feeling fine. Wesley Scallions has this to report:

"I took HADACOL upon the advice of my father who has taken it regularly for some time. He could not eat, was unable to get around, lost sleep and was generally run-down. My brother who is a doctor recommended HADACOL to Dad. Since taking HADACOL, Dad has been feeling like a different man; he now has a hearty appetite, sleeps well and gets around once again on his own.

"I have had pains in my right arm and legs. Due to this condition I lost many days of work until I started to take HADACOL. After my third bottle the pains left me completely and now I work every day and overtime also, without having any pains. I am a gas attendant and need full use of both arms and legs in my line of work. Thanks to HADACOL I can now perform my job satisfactorily and feel fine."

Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief

No longer do you have to be satisfied with symptomatic relief—HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of those fiendish, stabbing neuritis aches and pains when due to lack of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin in the system.

AND LISTEN TO THIS! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous, complete relief but helps keep such painful distress from returning.

That's the kind of product you've been waiting for—the kind you should buy and start taking at once.

Many doctors recommend HADACOL. It is also wonderful for stomach disturbances (gas pains, indigestion, bloating, heartburn) constipation, insomnia and a general nervous run-down condition due to such deficiencies.

Be fair to yourself! Why go around feeling half-alive—a burden to others when you can get this great HADACOL at any drugstore. Remember—HADACOL must help you, or your money back. Trial-size bottle, only 9¢. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Any drugstore.

Who Runs America?

the Congress? the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

|---|--|
| General Federation of Women's Clubs       | American Legion                            |
| American Farm Bureau Federation           | National Association of Small Business Men |
| National Grange                           | United States Chamber of Commerce          |
| Veterans of Foreign Wars                  | National Association of Retail Grocers     |
| National Conference of Catholic Charities | National Retail Dry Goods Association      |
| American Protestant Hospital Association  | American Bar Association                   |

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

HOW TO BE A "SQUARE SHOOTER" On Party-Line Telephones

WHEN YOU PLAY FAIR AND SQUARE with your party-line neighbors...when you share the service courteously...you'll almost always find the courtesy returned!

Suppose you want to make a call and find the line in use. If you hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call before trying again, your courtesy is appreciated. And suppose, while talking, you realize that your neighbor wants to make a call. He'll appreciate it if you hang up in a few minutes and free the line.

That's "square shooting." It pays dividends!

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

Some time ago I felt sure that I would be able to supply all television sets ordered but I must admit that I am unable to furnish all the models desired. In fact one of the most popular models No. 1634 I have over sold and unable to get them from my supplier right now, but if you are one of these just hold out a little longer as I have promise of some in a short time.

Of course you can realize that so many people are buying Philco TV sets that they are just unable to make them fast enough.

This is not in a bragging way, but only to try and show you how I am trying to keep a supply of TV sets. This week I gave one order to my distributor for $10,000 worth of TV sets and I am assured of this many but that is all I am able to get until Jan. 1st. So if you want a TV set remember the slogan: "Philco Known for Quality the World Over."

We have several radios including battery sets for you who do not want or cannot afford a television.

Any radio can be purchased by the week, month or 18 months to pay.

Did you ever stop to think that a purchase of a Westinghouse Automatic Laundromat will pay you a big rate of interest? Today that means something and to think no water to touch. It is really remarkable what can be done by simply pushing a button. Drop in and I will explain how you can save and save and save.

Yes, as I told you a little time ago, refrigerators have taken a little rise in price and listen to me again they are not on the fence up or down but definitely going, going up. And again looks like they will finally be eliminated to save on steel. We have a few, and they can be bought as low as $30.00 down and the balance 18 months to pay.

Of course our refrigerators are guaranteed for 5 years and then again you can save quite a little in the difference between the new and old refrigerator you now have. In fact I will even take it away and allow you quite a nice sum on it to apply on your new one.

This week I have had notice of another raise in price for all batteries.

Also all washer parts have gone up ten per cent.

On opening my mail this morning I still get another notice that all wall paper is taking a jump of 10%. Now I have thousands of rolls in my bins which I am not going to mark up but sell them at the old figure until my next shipment arrives, which of course, will carry the extra price.

If you are going to paper in the next few days or weeks don't you think it would be wise to come in and select yours, not at the advanced prices, but the old prices? We are always glad to help you and will always take back full rolls at prices paid.

We carry a complete line for any room in your home and plenty of it.

How are you fixed on heating your home?

We have several different makes of oil heaters and the kind that will heat. All sizes in fact from one room to five or six rooms.

Come in and look them over, see for yourself how you can heat more with less oil.

Hoof Beats

The latest trotting sensation at Saratoga Raceway is the Michigan mare, Dama Dee. As the fall meeting fast approaches its Oct. 14th windup, this six-year-old daughter of Grattan McKinney is threatening to dominate the best aged performers on the grounds. After knocking off some slower-class trotters with ease in her first two races at the Spa, Dama Dee defeated six of the Raceway's finest in her last appearance.

When Mt. Carroll, the 82 to 1 shot, was placed first to set the stage for last week's $976.40 daily double, it marked the first win for the three-year-old roan gelding owned by Byron Stevens of Schenectady. The youngster, driven by Dr. Vern Fobian, had only a second in 2:22 2/5 to recommend him after the first seven starts of his career.

Symbol Victoria will never race again. The game ten-year-old pacing mare suffered a fracture of the first phalanx bone in her left foreleg Saturday night, just two weeks before her owner-driver, young Pete Russo of Albany, planned to retire her as a broodmare. Fortunately, the injured member is expected to mend in six weeks with the aid of a plaster cast and Symbol will be able to enter the breeding ranks.

TROTS AND DASHES: Del MacTavish, Fred Parks and Russ Caldwell are waging a three-way battle for the fall driving crown. And the diminutive Elwood Waugh is threatening to make it a four-cornered affair. Waugh turned a rare trick last week by winning the eighth race four nights out of six, twice accomplishing the feat with Charles Kendall's popular little pacer, Old Grand-Dad. They say M. H. Frasier's Glens Falls pacer, Cashdals 2nd, races his best in cold weather. He came in at $83.10 on one of the coldest nights of the current session, and it so happens that he hasn't done as well since Indian Summer arrived at the Spa.

The United States Trotting Association disclosed today that Devin Miller of Meadowlands, Pa., leading driver on the Grand Circuit, came out of last week's racing at Lexington, Ky., with the two leading money-winning two-year-olds of all time.

Tar Heel, a pacing colt owned by W. N. Reynolds of Winston Salem, N. C., stands credited with $51,570.15, more than any other two-year-old has ever earned in a single season.

Close behind the son of Billy Direct comes Mighty Fine, a trotting colt owned by The Hayes Fair Acres Stable at DuQuoin, Ill. Mighty Fine, driven by Miller in almost all of his 1950 engagements, has banked $50,813.80.

The best previous money-winning standard for a two-year-old was established a year ago when the pacing filly Our Time won $50,237.

Miller, having one of the greatest years of any reinsman in the history of the sport, has won three of the nation's richest purses. He knocked off the $75,000 Hambletonian with Lusty Song; the $56,000 Little Brown Jug with Dudley Hanover; the $33,000 Fox Stake with Solicitor and the $41,000 Horseman Stake with Mighty Fine.

Solicitor, another two-year-old pacer in the Reynolds Stable has banked over $45,000 to date and may pass the $50,000 mark before the season ends three weeks hence. Miller trains and drives the horses in the Reynolds Stable. The Hayes horses are not trained by him but he drives them in their stake engagements. The youthful veteran is 37 and has been actively engaged in the sulky sport for almost 20 years. He is also part owner of a breeding farm at Meadowlands.

Apprenticeship Training For Veterans

The apprenticeship training course is open to all apprenticed veterans. The classes are being organized and meet every Tuesday and Thursday evening at 7:30.

Delaware State Museum Building Newly Completed

Capped by a Delaware-style cupola, the Delaware State Museum building is nearly finished. Since March 27 the Cantera Construction Company of Wilmington has been carrying out plans executed by Mr. Albert Kruse of Pope & Kruse, Wilmington architects, to restore the 18th century Dover landmark, the old Presbyterian Church on South Governor's Avenue. Behind its frontage of maples, passersby recently have noted in the main building the replacement of small-paned windows for Victorian stained glass, a new chimney and the chancel made into a two-story wing, while the chapel's roof and brick have been replaced and pointed, and a new chimney and a new cellar door are the external changes to be seen there.

Within the Old Church, when the building opens in the near future, visitors will see tile floor replacing the termite-infested boards, and the box pews removed, except from one corner. There will be a wall where the front of the chancel used to be, behind which now is a handsome stairway, office and boiler room. The balcony which formerly went around three sides now extends all around, making a practical second floor gallery for exhibits. All of the usable old paneling has been reinstalled around the walls. The same six columns support the gallery as during the 128 years when worshippers attended this old church. It was necessary to install a new baluster upstairs. One in keeping with the spirit of the old building will be seen.

It was found that the original woodwork had been painted gray, and the walls white, so the Advisory Committee, Mrs. Henry Ridgeley, Mr. H. F. duPont, and Mr. H. Rodney Sharp, has recommended using the traditional color scheme.

The most beautiful feature of this 18th century structure, the circular stairway leading to the belfry, has been retained as it always was. The three handsome front doorways are unchanged.

Modern heating and lighting to make this a truly functional museum have been added.

Between now and the opening date the staff and others are busily engaged preparing the exhibits which will tell Delaware's story in the main church building. The Chapel will not be ready for use by the public until later. The displays will show material telling about plant and animal life of Delaware, the Indians who were here, life of our ancestors, transportation, commerce, industry and agriculture. The plan is to have continually changing exhibits, which will be of interest to all the folk of Delaware as well as the many out-of-taters who pass through Dover.

The half block behind, bounded by Bank Lane, New Street and North Street, has been acquired by the Museum and is to be used as a parking lot. Admission to the Delaware State Museum will be free.

State home demonstration councils in most of the 48 states belong to this National Council. Its purpose is to promote and strengthen the adult education program in home economics which is carried on by the Land Grant Colleges and the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. The annual meeting gives the women information on developments and trends in the home economics fields. This year's program will emphasize the family as a working group rather than the woman. Talks and discussions will revolve around family responsibility in world peace, in education, citizenship, and sociology.

Demonstration Contest to Be Held October 26

The annual Delaware Junior Vegetable Growers Demonstration Contest will be held Oct. 26, according to Sam Gwinn, Sussex County 4-H Agent.

Demonstrations are to deal with production, marketing or preparation of vegetables, and suggestions concerning how and what to choose may be secured from Robert Stevens, extension horticultural specialist, University of Delaware.

Turkey Growers to Visit Dixie-Del Farms, Lewes

Turkey growers attending the annual meeting of the Delaware State Turkey Growers Association will visit the Dixie-Del Turkey Farm near Lewes as an added attraction to their annual tour. Gooden Pepper, president of the association, announced this additional stop has been added to the program as a result of the request of numerous growers to inspect the facilities of the Dixie-Del Farms. The program for the day will begin at 3 p. m. at the Delaware substation where the group will inspect the turkey research work in progress there. The banquet will be served at the Midland Grange Hall, Georgetown, starting at 6:30. Following the banquet, a business session of the association will be held. Turkey growers and others interested in the turkey industry are invited to attend both the tour and the business session. Those interested in attending the turkey banquet should see any of the following: M. C. Vaughn, Lewes; Henry I. Short, Georgetown; J. T. Robinson, Georgetown; Glenn Cowles, Salisbury; Gooden Pepper, Seaford; John Wright, Delmar; George Takach, Smyrna, or William Henderson, Georgetown.

Dairyman Beware of Onion Flavor in Milk

"Extra precautions are now necessary to prevent onion flavor in milk," according to Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman at the University of Delaware. Wild onions and garlic have started new growth in overgrazed pastures. "On inspecting Delaware pastures in late September, we found that onions were more prevalent in pastures that were not fertilized, were overgrazed, or had thin stands of palatable grasses," said Young. There was little evidence of onions on well fertilized pastures that had a variety of clover and good pasture grasses.

For immediate protection Young advises that the cows be removed from pasture three or four hours before milking, and that a good quality hay be fed during this period. To make sure this method is effective, it's best to check all cans of milk before they leave the farm.

A long time protection for this off-flavor milk is to develop pastures with thick stands of desirable plants, graze and clip according to a plan, and feed the pasture with fertilizer. Good pastures will protect year-round milk quality.

Price Support Announced For 1950 Crop Soybeans

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that the average support prices for the 1950-crop soybeans, based on 80% of Sept. 1 parity price, will be $2.06 per bushel. This compares with a national average support price of $2.11 per bushel on the 1949 crop.

Ernest S. Mattiford, Delaware chairman for the Production and Marketing Administration, announces the loan price for 1950-crop soybeans stored on farms in Delaware is as follows: Green and yellow beans grading U. S. No. 2 or better, $2.01 per bushel; brown, black and mixed soybeans, grading U. S. No. 2 or better, $1.81 per bushel. To be eligible for support, soybeans must grade No. 4 or better, and contain not more than 14% moisture. Appropriate premiums for moisture content below 14 per cent, and discounts for test weights, splits and damage will be established by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Price support will be effected through loans and purchase agreements available from the time of harvest through Jan. 31, 1951. These loans are obtainable from the County Committees of the Production and Marketing Administration.

Feed Dealer Short Course Oct. 26

A new feed dealer short course to be held at Georgetown, Oct. 26, was announced today by W. C. Skoglund, director of short course at the University of Delaware. It will be held in Jones Memorial Hall, starting at 9:30 a. m. T. D. Rannels and T. A. Baker of the university and a committee of feed dealers planned the course to include information on timely subjects connected with the theme "Factors That Influence Broiler Quality."

A New York distributor will talk on "How Delaware Broilers Compare with Broilers from Other Areas." Dr. Tevis Goldhaft, Vineland, N. J., will talk about "Opportunities for Production of Hormonized Birds in the Broiler Area." J. W. Schroeder, a Willington feed dealer, will give methods of handling broiler feed in bulk.

A hatcheryman, a feed dealer, a broiler grower, a research worker, a dressing plant manager, and a feed mixer will take part in a panel discussion on what can be done by each phase of the industry to improve broiler quality. A second panel discussion on controlling disease in broiler flocks will close the session.

All feed dealers and their personnel are invited to attend. No registration is necessary.

Frederica Wins Peninsula League

Frederica took the rubber game from Milton Sunday by a score of 11 to 2 and in doing so became the champions for the second consecutive year, having accomplished the same feat last year, in the Sussex League.

The game proved that our victory over Milton in the first game of the play-off was not mere luck. Our batters were laying the wood on the ball and hit Barrett hard all the way, finally driving him to the showers in the 8th inning.

Jack Moore started for Frederica but was relieved after retiring one batter and 2 runs scored. Jim Postles, Frederica's old reliable took over and prevented any further scoring by Milton. Jim allowed only 1 hit in 7 and two thirds innings. Milton batters were breaking their backs trying to hit Jim's so called "Butterfly Ball," striking out 11 of the 24 batters that faced him.

Felton Trips Viola To Even Series

Felton sprang a surprise against the pennant-winning Viola nine in the second game of the Mid-Delaware Baseball League championship series at Felton Sunday by pushing over seven runs in the first inning and went on to register a 13-7 victory. The teams are even at one game apiece.

The big first inning drove Viola's starting hurler Les Kersey to the showers and brought Buck Semans to the mound in relief, but the damage had been done. Felton nicked Semans for six more tallies the rest of the way, while Viola fought back with four runs in the second and three in the seventh. Bill Millman, who relieved Bob Rothemel in the second inning for Felton, got credit for the win. Al Dager and Bill Sipple led the winners at the plate with three hits apiece. The deciding game of the series will be played at Viola.
