

My Scott Fractures Leg In Four Horse Spill At Yonkers Raceway

Gallant Pacer Destroyed—Buried Yesterday in Infield At K & S Raceway Here

Four horses piled up in a spectacular spill at the Yonkers Raceway harness track Tuesday night, sending two drivers to the hospital and seriously injuring one of the racers.

Del Mac Tavish, 38, veteran driver, suffered a possible fracture of his right shoulder and cuts around the head. He remained in St. John's Hospital for X-rays Wednesday.

Stanley Dancer, 23, one of the track's leading drivers, was released from the hospital after being treated for an ankle injury and cuts.

The accident occurred at the head of the stretch in the featured $2,000 Sunnyside Pace.

My Scott, second on the rail, took a misstep and his driver, Paul Vinyard, said he couldn't hold him. Lew's Pride, with Dancer at the reins, was right behind and fell to the track, tossing Dancer from the sulky.

Then Direct Vic, with Billy Haughton driving, and Fanny B. with Mac Tavish at the reins, tumbled to the turf, too.

Vinyard suffered bruises and cuts on his back and was treated at the track. Haughton was unhurt.

Three of the horses involved in the spill pounced up immediately, apparently not injured. But My Scott suffered a broken front leg.

My Scott's owner, Reese Harrington telephoned from Harrington, and instructed his groom to do all possible to save the 10-year-old black stallion, but it appeared the horse, which has won 2280 this year, would have to be destroyed.

Rapid Gallon, driven by Johnny Simpson, won the race in which four horses finished.

The 10-year-old pacer, affectionately known as "Scotty" and considered one of the finest race horses on the peninsula, had to be destroyed Wednesday. He was buried yesterday in the infield at the Kent & Sussex Raceway where he had won his last race during the recent meet.

Several horses have suffered broken legs at Yonkers. Last week Mr. Permette, suffered a broken leg at the same spot on the track as did My Scott, and had to be destroyed.

My Scott, also known as "the iron-hearted horse of Delaware," was sired by His Majesty out of Black Maria, one of the toughest race horses to come out of New Jersey.

While "Scotty" had a mark of 2:06½, he had been timed in a race at 2:04 1-4 and 2:04. When he was in a race, the other horses could not afford to make a slip.

Chiefs of Police To Hold Dances

It was announced today that plans are just about completed for the first annual dance sponsored by the Delaware Association of Chiefs of Police, to be held at the Milton Fire Hall, on November 2, and the Gold Ball Room of the Hotel duPont, on November 3. Music will be furnished by Johnny Long, a young America's favorite bandleader, and his band. The band will play from 9 to 1 a. m.

The dance sponsored by the Chiefs of Police to defray the expenses of the operation of their Boys Camp. This camp is located on Miller Creek, Sussex County, and has been successfully operated for the past three years. Each year, about 500 boys have enjoyed two weeks of healthful outdoor recreation, as a result of the efforts of the organization.

Tickets have recently been distributed to all members of the association, and anyone desiring to obtain one, may do so by contacting any member of the association. In Wilmington, tickets may be obtained from Inspector Arthur Wilson of the Traffic Division of the Wilmington Police Department. Outside of Wilmington, tickets may be obtained from the Chief of Police of any town and any State Police Troop.

Century Club Gives Program On Maryland

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Harrington New Century Club was held Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. A. C. Ford, presiding. A prayer written especially for Women's Clubs, on United Nations Day, was read, as the members stood, in silent prayer.

Two of the ways and means teams reported the following receipts from rummage sales. Mrs. A. S. Gottlieb, $58.76; Mrs. Fulton Downing, $55.25.

Attention was called to the Kent County Forum, to be held at the Club House on Thurs., Nov. 2, at 10:30 a. m. Dr. Paul Dolan, professor of Political Science, at the University of Delaware, will be the speaker. In the afternoon a panel discussion will be held with Mrs. Burton Meyer, Past State President, as Moderator. Reservations for luncheon should be made with Mrs. J. G. Parks, not later than Sat., Oct. 28.

A card party was also announced, to be held at the Club House Thurs., Nov. 30.

The outstanding event of the afternoon was a program, entitled "Our Neighboring State of Maryland," in charge of Mrs. W. W. Sharp and her committee. Mrs. Sharp, in a very interesting manner brought to the audience pertinent facts regarding the state, its people, industries, location and history concerning its early churches, families, etc. She was assisted by Mrs. J. Gordon Smith, who reads papers on the University of Maryland, "The Pre-Kentness Race" and "The Mason-Dixon Line." Mrs. K. R. Volk read an interesting paper on "Ocean City," which was once sold at public auction; and also an article about "Francis Scott Key"; Mrs. E. W. Dean told about one of the early characters, "Jonathan Thomas," and Mrs. Emmett Raughley gave an interesting account of "Patty Cannon." Mrs. Fred Greenly, Sr. read a poem entitled "Myself" and the program ended with a trio, the Misses Barbara Smith, Elizabeth Ann Greenly and Ann Toppin, singing Maryland, My Maryland.

The flags of the United Nations as well as fall flowers, were used as decorations.

The next meeting will be held Tues., Nov. 7, at which time, Mrs. Elwood Gruwell, chairman for the day, has secured a guest speaker, Miss Clark, assistant director of the Welfare Department.

Revenue Office Raises Graham

Woodcrest Man Promoted To Assistant Collector, Succeeding Ainsworth

The promotion of Francis P. Graham, 606 Jackson Avenue, Woodcrest, to the post of assistant to the collector of the Delaware district office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue was announced Friday by the collector, Ernest E. Killen of Harrington.

He succeeds Thomas Ainsworth, 25 Spruce Avenue, Oak Grove, who will become supervisor of collections and accounts in the bureau's Philadelphia office Oct. 29. Mr. Graham, now assistant chief of the income tax division, will take his new post the following day.

A graduate of Harrington High School who also studied at Gold Key College, Mr. Graham has been with the office since Jan. 3, 1941, when he started as a deputy collector. He was named to his present post in 1944. He served 16 months in the Army during World War II, eight of them in the Asiatic Theatre with the Eighth Army. For three terms he was president of the Delaware Chapter, National Association of Employees of Collectors of Internal Revenue.

Mr. Graham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Graham of Harrington. His wife is the former Frances Robertson. They have two children, Richard, 8, and Norris, 3.

Mr. Ainsworth is a native of Wilmington. He graduated from Wilmington High School and studied for three years at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and also at Beacom College. After being employed at the Wilmington shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad as a clerk for 15 years, he joined the district office Jan. 25, 1941, as a bookkeeper and later serving as comptroller and supervisor of collections and accounts. The latter post was with the Washington office.

Candidate for Treasurer

Willard D. Boyce

Candidate for Auditor

J. W. W. Baker

Boyce and Baker Up For Re-election to State Offices

State Auditor of Accounts James W. W. Baker and State Treasurer Willard D. Boyce, who are both candidates on the Democratic ticket to succeed themselves in their present offices, are basing their campaigns for reelection on their record in office.

"It is not necessary," state Democratic spokesmen, "for either of these men to make any promises about what they will do if elected, since their record for the period they have been in office is proof of their ability."

The terms of each of these offices is two years and both of these men are now completing their first term in their respective offices.

It is the expressed opinion of many persons familiar with the State government in Delaware that no State Auditor of Accounts or State Treasurer has been confronted with the amount of work that has confronted these two Democratic officials during the past two years.

For instance, the increased appropriations made more work in the two offices. Then was added the new tax bills, including the new income withholding tax which required additional accounting in these offices.

Then there was the handling of the soldier's bonus payments, all of which passed through these two offices and which was a gigantic task in itself.

Yet with all of these additional functions, it is pointed out by these Democratic spokesmen, these two Democratic public officials maintained the duties of their offices to the complete satisfaction of all concerned.

Burrsville

Mrs. Theodore P. Warren is spending the day with her mother, Mrs. Rena Baird, of Camden, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stafford and Mrs. Florie Stafford visited Mrs. Phyllis States, of Maryland, who is a patient in Easton Hospital, on Sunday. Mrs. States has the best wishes of her many friends for a permanent recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haas and a friend of Berwyn, Md., visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Willis Tuesday evening. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. Walton Willis and son, Kenneth.

Mrs. Howard Hopkins is ill at her home here with the grip. We are glad to report little Jerry Collison is able to be out again after having pneumonia.

Mrs. Russell Stafford was given a surprise birthday party last Saturday evening by her husband at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stafford in Denton. Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Christopher and sons, of Federalsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stafford and sons, Mrs. Clara Stafford, Mrs. Florie Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Novelle McReynolds and son, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Draper and granddaughter, Betty Usilton. Delicious refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy were served. At a late hour the guests departed wishing Mrs. Stafford many more happy birthdays. She received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Mrs. C. N. Fountain, of Dover, was an overnight guest of her daughter, Mrs. Harlan Blades, and family last week.

Mrs. Granville Hill and Mrs. Robert Baynard attended the fall convention of the Women's Auxiliary Episcopal School held at Smyrna Wednesday.

Because of the large amount of additional work placed on these two offices, it became necessary to install new systems and maintain additional records which are an extremely important factor in the operation of the State government.

The new systems were installed, the additional records were established and placed in working order without any delay in the operations of the normal functions of the office because of the careful study and planning these two officials had given to this task.

Despite all of this additional work, about which neither of these two Democratic state officials have ever uttered a complaint, even though they had no reason to look for these new tasks when they were candidates for the first time two years ago, these officials have been constantly studying state expenditures and receipts.

As a result of these studies they have been able to offer suggestions to the present Democratic Administration concerning ways and means of reducing some costs so that a saving in tax money might result.

As has been pointed out, State Auditor Baker and State Treasurer Boyce are now before the voters of the State as the Democratic candidates to succeed themselves in office, not on the basis of any promise of what they might do, but instead strictly on the record of their accomplishments in the short period they have occupied these offices.

It is a record, perhaps, that is surely second to none in the administration of the functions of these offices.

Hobbs

Our community was shocked and saddened last Friday morning to hear of the sudden passing of Mrs. John Oross, 60, very highly respected and beloved by all who knew her. Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Susie Oross, of Washington, D. C.; a son, Paul, at home. Funeral services were held at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, Denton, Monday morning and interment in Holy Cross Cemetery.

A Rally Day program will be rendered in the church here next Sunday evening. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. B. B. Allen entertained the W. S. C. S. at her home here last Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. Geo. Newton, of Easton, filled the pulpit in the church here last Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stafford were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shields, Greensboro one evening last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Henry have been entertaining the latter's sisters, Mrs. Bertie Cook, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Georgia Trice of Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Adams entertained their children, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Lee McMahan last Sunday.

Mrs. F. L. Stafford is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Albert Shields, and family, of Greensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Holbrook spent most of this week in New Jersey.

Mrs. Edna Gray, of Greensboro, has been spending several days with Mrs. Frances Bennett.

Winchester Hits Record of Boggs On Social Bills

Democrat Charges Foe 'Wrong' on Two Out Of Three Votes on Plan

Henry McC. Winchester, Democratic candidate for election to Congress, Friday night attacked his opponent's voting record on extension of social security at a Democratic rally at the Century Club.

The Democrat declared that U. S. Rep. J. Caleb Boggs, Republican candidate for reelection, was "wrong" on two of three votes on the measure. "He was right on the third, when he and a number of his GOP colleagues climbed on the bandwagon," Mr. Winchester said.

He explained that the measure honored a "Democratic pledge to expand social security and extend its coverage." The bill, he said, extended coverage to 11,000,000 additional persons, and raised benefits about 70 per cent for workers already retired and doubled them for those to retire in the future. "And it provided protection for insured workers who become permanently and totally disabled before reaching the retiring age."

Explaining the three votes in the House of Representatives on this measure, Mr. Winchester said:

"The first vote was on a rule which would stop the introduction of crippling amendments. The present representative from Delaware voted against this rule—that is, in favor of permitting crippling amendments.

"Then, there was a vote to send the bill back to committee in favor of a GOP substitute bill which would have cut back the proposed benefit increases tremendously. The present representative from Delaware voted against this rule—that is, in favor of permitting crippling amendments.

"Finally, on the bill itself, after the crippling efforts had failed, the present representative from Delaware—along with a number of his willing-to-cripple cohorts—got on the bandwagon and voted right. Now I ask you this: was he really for, or was he trying to hoodwink the people of Delaware?"

Mr. Winchester addressed Democratic rallies Friday night at Harrington and at Milford. The meetings were also addressed by Thomas Cooch, candidate for attorney general, and the other Democratic candidates for state offices.

Mr. Cooch told the meeting that the repeal of the state's permanent registration law and enactment of a law requiring registration every four years is a "must" for the next session of the state legislature.

He declared he is sorry that the Republican party failed to promise that reform or any other election law reform in its 1950 platform. Mr. Cooch read the Democratic platform statement on the elections which declares that "the Republican machine, which thrives on a corrupt election system, is clearly branded as the political party which does not want honest elections in Delaware. The Republican Party failed to advocate major election reforms in 1948, prevented their passage in 1949, and again in 1950 holds the people of Delaware in contempt by its failure to pledge these reforms in its platform."

Mr. Cooch said the Democrats pledged 10 reforms in the election system, including the repeal of two measures and enactment of eight others.

Janice E. Blades Bride Of Alton L. McKee

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Janice Eloise Blades, of Mr. Alton Lee McKee, son of Mr. Frank McKee of Seaford and Mrs. Rose McKee of Bridgeville, has been made by the bride's mother, Mrs. Bessie Blades, of Harrington.

The wedding took place Oct. 9 at Denton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John E. French.

Mrs. McKee is a graduate of the Harrington High School and for several years has been associated with the Nylon Plant organization. Mr. McKee who is a graduate of Seaford High School, is likewise associated with the Nylon Plant.

The couple are residing in a home on Blades-Laurel Highway.

Walter Wood, of Easton, died Tuesday evening. Mrs. Franklin Smith is his daughter.

Crusade for Freedom Successful Here

As in the past, the people of Harrington and the surrounding country side have responded nobly to the appeal for signers and for funds in the latest community enterprise; namely, The Crusade for Freedom. Harringtonians are fast achieving a reputation as "do-ers" in Kent County. In the past, drives and campaigns by worthwhile charities and bond-buying drives have been supported by our local people in a manner of which the community can be justly proud.

In the Crusade for Freedom, just recently completed, 1231 persons affixed their signatures to Freedom Scrolls in booths for that purpose located in our community. While so doing, these people contributed $112 to the fund being raised to establish Radio Free Europe. As local chairman of the campaign, I am very proud of the results which were attained and I should like to say "Thank You" to all whose names were included in that list.

I should also like to express my appreciation to the local banks and the racing association for allowing us to maintain booths in those places and to thank all local civic organizations for their co-operation and assistance. The response received from these organizations was not in any way perfunctory, rather it was wholehearted and cheerfully given. The fine spirit of co-operation displayed by all concerned was truly the very thing that made the campaign successful and is surely the lesson that we hope the rest of the world can learn from us, in part at least, through the medium of the Freedom Scroll.

At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served.

Elwood Gruwell was re-elected president of the Harrington-Felton local of the Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative at its annual dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Firehouse.

Also re-elected were Harold Schabinger, vice-president, and Ernest Cool, secretary-treasurer. George Simpson, Virgil Jarrell, and Paris Kirby were elected delegates to the annual convention of the co-operative, to be held Dec. 5 in Philadelphia, with Walter Hanson, Wallace Caulk, and Alvin Brown as alternates. It was also voted to send the officers to the convention.

Ben Welty, president of the co-operative, talked about problems of the organization and mentioned that the outlook for prices was good.

Clayton Reynolds, field man, of Denton, told of the savings of the co-operative and presented a certificate to Frank Taylor who has been an active member of the group 25 years. David Bradley, who was to have received a similar certificate, was not present.

W. H. Jump, of Houston, district director, told of producing requirements of the Harrington and Goldsboro milk stations, while Delmar H. Young, extension dairyman of the University of Delaware, sketched the growth of the dairy industry in the state. Mr. Young explained that 181 million pounds of milk were produced in Delaware last year for a record. Gross income, he said, was little better than ten million dollars. As reasons for the excellent showing, Mr. Young cited improved breeding, improved feeding, and better herd health.

William Henderson, Sussex County agricultural agent, was toastmaster.

Imperial... in every sense of the word!

Imperial . . . every powerful, gleaming inch of it. Imperial . . . it is the only word that comes to mind when you see the luxurious fabrics and appointments inside. Imperial . . . is the way you feel as individual motors raise and lower your windows. Imperial . . . is the only word that describes your command of the road as you drive. Imperial by Chrysler is the wholly new car that is setting a new goal for every family with the taste and the experience in motor cars to recognize unrivaled built-in value all the way through. It is the first car in America to make no compromise with quality . . . the only car to consider if you want the finest. We'll welcome an opportunity to let the Imperial prove it.

See it—drive it . . . there's built-in value all the way through!

Chrysler's Advantages in Comfort and Safety

- Functional Design—full room for your head, legs, shoulders. Easy to enter and leave! Safe Guard Hydraulic Brakes—smoother stops.
- Easy-Lock Parking Brake—holds car on any hill. Electrically Operated Windshield Wipers—constant speed all the time! Chair Height Seats—no crouching, you sit naturally! Safety Rim Wheels—won't throw tires after blowouts at normal speeds. Double-width Arm Rest—for arm chair comfort.
- Automatic Gear Shifting—with full control of your car! Better traction—safer on slippery roads. Convenience of clutch for easier parking.
- Slower Engine Speeds—reduced noise, wear. Saves gasoline! Drive in high while others drive in low in traffic.
- Waterproof Ignition—prevents stalling in rain or high water! Chemically Treated Cylinder Walls—for greater wear. Floating Power—helps eliminate vibration. Superfinished Parts—reduce friction, last longer. Exhaust Valve Seat Inserts—reduce need for valve grinding! Full Flow Oil Filter—keeps oil clean longer!

Lions to Honor Harold P. Nutter

The Lions Clubs of Delaware are planning a testimonial dinner in honor of Harold P. Nutter, formerly of Milford, who is to be installed as president of Lions International next year.

Robert E. Baynum, of Milford, chairman of the proposed affair, has announced that the dinner will be held on Fri., Dec. 8, at the Varney Auditorium in Milford. All Lions Clubs of District 22-D, which is made up of the 29 clubs in Delaware, will be invited to participate, with the Milford club acting as host.

Mr. Nutter, now of Camden, N. J., is first vice president of Lions International, having been elected to that office at the International convention held in Chicago in July. He has been associated with Lions for many years, serving previously as an International director and chairman of the board of governors.

About 300 tickets to the dinner will be distributed to the clubs in Delaware; and it is expected that this number will be quickly over-subscribed. Invited guests will include Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, Senators John J. Williams and J. Allen Frear, Rep. Caleb Boggs, Mayor E. C. Evans, Lions District Governor Frank Horly, of Wilmington, and Rev. Roy L. Tawes, of Avenue Methodist Church of Milford. Mr. Baynum will act as toastmaster.

Beef Cattle New Item In Short Course Curriculum

Because beef cattle production and fattening in Delaware is definitely on the increase, a course on beef cattle management has been added to the Farm Short Course Office, University of Delaware, today.

According to Robert J. Bacon, research instructor in animal and poultry industry and teacher of the course, the class schedule includes herd management, disease control, feeding, and a study of the beef cattle breeds. Most emphasis will be placed on care of the breeding herd and feeder stock. Information on beef cattle market cycles and demands will also be given, and special field trips to feeding stations and breeding herds are being planned.

The 1950 Farm Short Course begins Nov. 13 and ends Dec. 15. It is open to men and women 17

University Reports On Heat Lamps For Chicks

During a recent study of infra-red brooding at the University of Delaware poultry plant at Newark, Superintendent Carroll Mumford found that the chicks preferred the white heat lamps to the red lamps.

Both types of lamps are the same shape and size. Infra-red lamps give out only infra-red radiant energy which turns into heat when it strikes a solid object such as a baby chick. In separate pens, it was found that the chicks grow just as well under the red lamps as they did under the white. When the lamps were mixed, however, the chicks crowded under the white heat lamp and ignored the red.

Steel in Medicine
Stainless steel is used by some surgeons to patch or replace damaged bones because the metal withstands body acids and does not poison the blood.

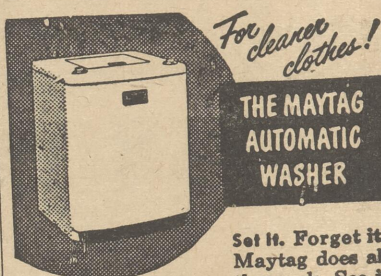

HOW TO "CLICK" as a Party-Line Neighbor

1. When you start to make a telephone call and find your party line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call.
 2. When, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up reasonably soon and free the line.
- These little courtesies are returned again and again... with dividends in good telephone service. When party-line neighbors cooperate courteously, everybody benefits!

Be sure sure sure

Winter coming! This entirely new motor oil gives sure protection to your car... and a great new "sure feeling" to you!

Now, more than ever, you want to feel confident about your car... about how efficiently it will run, and how long! Now is the time to be sure with new Purelube—the sure motor oil!

Purelube is sure because it contains not just one or two of the modern motor oil improvements, but the whole combination of qualities required for all-round efficiency and sure economy.

Laboratory tests prove Purelube gives you sure protection against wear... freedom from corrosive acids... a cleaner, safer motor with a longer running life. Road tests prove Purelube gives you lower oil consumption. On all counts, Purelube is premium quality—plus!

Change over to Purelube at your Pure Oil dealer's. It's the best "peace of mind" insurance for your "hard-to-replace" car!

Be sure with Pure! Purelube

Purelube for low oil consumption! Road tests prove it!

In road tests just completed, Purelube and competitive premium-quality oils were used in stock passenger cars that ran 24 hours a day, day in and day out—over searing desert roads, up tortuous mountain grades, in stop-and-go city traffic.

In 83,000 miles of test driving, Purelube showed less oil consumption than any of the oils tested... actually 17 per cent lower oil consumption than the average of the competitive brands. That means real economy in addition to sure protection.

Felton High School Notes

Students Go Over Goal
Two weeks ago a representative from the Curtis Publishing Company set a goal of $1200 for the Felton students from the fourth grade through the twelfth to reach with the sale of magazines. October 18 arrived with the students just $32 short of their goal. This proved no obstacle. By noon the student head, Bob Voshell, reported $1223.10 collected in sales.

Since the profit from these sales, approximately a third, benefits the students, they were eager beavers these two weeks. There will be enough to pay for the eight motion pictures already selected by the students by vote. The student council representing the student body, will decide on the further allocation of the money. Band uniforms, musical instruments, a new projector, library books, draperies, and a punch bowl are just a few of the things needed.

The tens more than doubled their goal. Other grades which reached their goal or went over the top were the fifth, sixth, (Mrs. Nelson's), ninth and eleventh.

Teachers Attend Convention
Stewart Bennett and Vernon Meier attended the meeting of the Representative Assembly on Wednesday evening, October 25, as elected delegates of the Felton School. Mr. Bennett is president of the local teacher's association.

The school was closed Thursday and Friday Oct. 26 and 27, to enable all teachers, the principal and the secretary to attend the thirty-second annual convention of The Delaware State Educational Association in Wilmington.

Parents-Teachers Meet
The second Parent-Teacher Association meeting proved to be of interest to all. Mrs. Herman Phillips, Representative of the Council for Delaware Education, presented the probable education problems for this legislative.

Miss Shirley Sipple's home-room won the attendance banner. Fifty dollars was allocated the nurse, Mrs. Minner, to help her with her work.

COUNTY FARMER AVOIDS CORN PICKER ACCIDENT
Stanley Short is one farmer who believes in practicing safety rules.

When County Agent Bill Tarbell visited his farm last week to take a corn sample, Short was picking corn. The picker was jammed, and Short had shut down the power-take-off before cleaning it out.

As a farmer, he said that he thought too much of his hands and legs to risk trying to clean the rollers while they were running.

ning. Although most farmers follow this practice, each year a few very unfortunate ones do not, and suffer injuries.

Tarbell believes that failure to shut off power take-off on a tractor when machines jam, along with general carelessness, is one of the principle causes of farm accidents.

Built-Up Litters Keeps Floors Dry in Poultry House

"Use built-up litter in the laying house if you want dry floors this winter," says Wm. C. Sloan, Asst. County Agric. Agent.

Mr. Sloan recommends starting with a couple of inches of litter when the pullets are first housed. Add a little every few weeks during the fall. By the time cold weather starts, there will be six to eight inches of fine, absorbent material on the floor. With proper ventilation and management, this litter will stay dry all year.

Mrs. J. P. Macaure, 408 Radance St., New Orleans, La., can't imagine a person who is sick and run-down not taking HADACOL. She says she continually sings the praises of HADACOL to all her friends. Mrs. Macaure was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B, B₁₂, Niacin, and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Macaure's own statement: "I have taken at least 5 bottles of HADACOL. Before I took HADACOL I was very nervous. My family was affected, too, because I was so irritable. I tried many things to relieve my system of this nervous condition but they gave me hardly any relief at all. Then my sister suggested I take HADACOL and I started taking it immediately. After the second bottle I felt like I had taken all the troubles of the world off my shoulders. My nerves are now as steady as ever. My family thinks HADACOL is wonderful because my disposition is 100% better and I am not the least bit irritable. That's because I always have a bottle of HADACOL on the kitchen shelf. HADACOL is the most wonderful product on the market."

Give HADACOL a Chance to help you. If your system lacks these essential elements, you, too, will be amazed at the wonderful results HADACOL can bring you, as it has to thousands and thousands of other fine folks who suffered a deficiency of Vitamins B, B₁₂, Niacin, and Iron, which HADACOL contains. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body — to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails.

HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation—promising blessed relief for your indigestion, stomach disturbances (gas, heartburn, sour "risings" after meals), for normal growth in children, as well as that general run-down condition, and aches and pains of neuritis, if your system lacks Vitamins B, B₁₂, Iron, and Niacin.

HADACOL is being recommended by many doctors. HADACOL is so amazingly successful because if your system lacks Vitamins B, B₁₂, Iron, and Niacin it acts directly to relieve this deficiency—the real cause of your trouble. That's the kind of product you want—the kind you should buy—the kind you should start taking immediately.

Only One Genuine HADACOL
Don't go through life suffering such fiendish torture from your stomach or aches and pains of neuritis when relief is so close at hand as the nearest drugstore for sufferers from these deficiencies. Buy HADACOL today. Trial size bottle only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL.

ditions are the rewards of good litter management. Feeding scratch grain in the litter encourages the hens to keep the litter stirred up. If the litter gets damp, hydrated lime can be added at the rate of 1 lb. per hen. This can be done when the hens are roosting. If there are no roosts, apply it in the morning and leave the windows open all day.

Georgetown Home Demonstration Club Take Initiative in Renovating Club Room

Members of the Georgetown Home Demonstration Club believe in doing things. For some time, the club members have lamented the fact that the club room at the Agricultural Building was in such dilapidated condition and looked so dark and dreary.

According to Mrs. Maybelle Long, Sussex County Home Demonstration Agent, they have made the room a light and attractive place to hold a meeting. Beginning last spring, the club members painted the walls a pale yellow. In September, Mrs. Long made arrangements for a floor sanding and finishing demonstration to which interested people were invited. In the latter part of September, Miss Ruth Pearce, clothing specialist, conducted a project school on drapery making at the Agricultural Center. People throughout the county attended the meeting as well as members of the Georgetown Club, who took advantage of the meeting to make draperies for the club room. Following a preliminary meeting in September, a committee selected appropriate material for the draperies.

Miss Pearce held an all day meeting in September at which time the group met to make the drapes. The Georgetown Club members came back the following afternoon to complete the job. Mrs. Long reports that it was something of an assembly line process, for several women marked the pinch pleats; someone else stitched the pleats in place, another did the pressing and still another member hung the draperies at the windows.

The Sussex County Home Demonstration Council has assisted with the project by purchasing window cranes for the drapes, placing additional light in the room, furnishing a mop and broom, and installing a new yock on the door.

Mrs. Long reports that the building is used by Home Demonstration groups, 4-H and agricultural groups. These groups using that as a meeting place hope to make additional improvements to the building, but at the present time, the Home Demonstration Council and the Georgetown Club have made it possible to have one attractive room.

Now we know why the humorists never "hume" any more. Clem McCarthy answered this question for us last Wednesday and we believe his answer one hundred percent correct.

Don't let any candidate tell you that the opposing party is corrupt, while his party is clean. All political machines have a lot of corruption and it will never be otherwise.

HY GALAHAD

H. Albert Young, better known as Hy, Republican candidate for attorney-general, has become a purist, overnight. He blames the Democratic national administration for its failure to raise politics to the level of decency and statesmanship.

The Democratic national administration, Hy? You are supposed to be a candidate for attorney-general of Delaware, and not attorney-general of the United States.

So sez Hy: "It is up to us to show not only our young people but also their parents that politics is not synonymous with corruption as the Democrats practice it."

Did he intend to say that? Judging from the first sentence of the above quotation, Hy is making a Democratic speech; judging from the second sentence, he is making a Republican speech.

Peers like his count gives them the boss of the show cause we're being counted out so far as running the thing goes as he's got his man from Seaford picked to be his stooge as president when Mr. Bayard is busy an our folks think that air feller from roun Dagsboro, what razes to many broilers an is takin Dickerson's place, he be the man to carry the ball for there team.

We are glad—and surprised—to know that noble thoughts are surging in Hy's breast. Hasn't he defended in the courts about as many people of questionable character, as any other lawyer in Delaware? We don't know—we're just asking a question.

It's all right to tell the young people, the first voters, of the incorruptible Republican party, Hy, but don't try to convince their parents. They may remember Teapot Dome, Hy—or even away back to the most corrupt regime of all, that of President U. S. Grant.

"UNCLE WHIT" WAS ALL RIGHT

Last June we visited the town where we were born and stood by the grave of "Uncle Whit" McWhorter. On his tomb was the date of his birth, 1836, and the date of his passing, 1904. Just this—and a simple verse. As we stood there, remembering "Uncle Whit," our thought was: "How much more appropriate would have been these words: 'I'm All Right.'"

A kindlier, more cheerful person never lived. Night or day, storm or sun, when you met "Uncle Whit" and asked him how he was getting along, there was the quick smile and the cheerful response, "I'm all right!"

One day in early autumn they found "Uncle Whit" dead in his woods lot. A group of his neighbors, life-long friends, gathered there to offer their help and their sympathy. "I guess," said one, "if Whit had known he was going away so soon, he wouldn't have said 'I'm all right' every time you asked him."

Old Dr. Woods, Whit's family physician for more than fifty years, gazed steadily at the man. "He did know," said Dr. Woods, "had known for twenty years that the next minute might be his last. That's why Whit always said 'I'm all right,' for he was all right—and he knew it."

An old Dutchman came into a Harrington hotel this week and asked for a pint of whiskey. The puzzled proprietor said: "Whiskey? Why, you never drink anything but beer." "I vant it," explained the old Dutchman, "to pickle watermelon." Thus human beings and watermelons are placed in the same category.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Folks: We didn't git down to the sail Friday countin we wuz busy gittin dun seedin soz we would be free to work cum Saturday an we sure had us a busy day then.

Anernias he wuz ahaulin in our folks rite an left sides sum others on our side an he had me akeep in count of them what cum to registrar. I copped the names often there book best I could an he sed for me to try an find out what way they might vote cum lection. Well I dun the best I could for him an after they closed up we went out an had us a little dram.

We tuk my list an the marks I made an we counted up noses soz we'd no who wuz who lection day an he sed we got on a few more than they did so that'll help sum.

Then sum of our boys cum along an sed let's go over to our Komiteeman's house soz we all tuk off an there we went over the hole list an dun sum aggerin sides.

Seams our folks bin kinda heerin sum news bout what's in the wind for next sesshun. They sed over there Saturday nite that they heerd Carvel had counted noses of there side in the Senate next winter.

Peers like his count gives them the boss of the show cause we're being counted out so far as running the thing goes as he's got his man from Seaford picked to be his stooge as president when Mr. Bayard is busy an our folks think that air feller from roun Dagsboro, what razes to many broilers an is takin Dickerson's place, he be the man to carry the ball for there team.

They sed that means one of his old men and a new one will run the show for them an they both cum from Sussex where a site of his pintments have cum from an no doubt will be so for as long as he's tryin to run the hole show for them.

Anernias popped up an axed what wuz Carvel goin to do bout his other five old men and nobody had an answer. By an by our komiteeman looked up an sed "I spees bout the same as he dun in the last sesshun, promise them anything an giv nuttin."

Then they got to guessin bout who Carvel mite pint in that air new court what they be goin to put acrost next sesshun an they wuz a wonderin if maybe he mite be goin to give the Tunells nother apple outen the basket; coars he mite fool everbody an pick sum body else. If everbody lives we'll all no more bout it next sesshun. Our boys sed they heerd Jim Collins be a comin back on the pooldice force down to Dover caus they be havin a site of crims down there nowdays and they be needin him back. Then to we heerd there be a site of Komunism down there all at onct an to Emmy sed she heerd that state lawyer feller down to Dover sed sumpin over the radio bout Komunism mongst the Democrats sum how, she just didn't get the hang of all of it soz me an my naybor be a wonderin if Jims goin to get hired back soz he can clean up the Komunism mongst them Democrats down there what spozed to vote for Cap Hansum an now they be kinda dodgin roun the corner.

Anernias sed our folks had em a big powwow up to the duPont hotel a while back an just bout everbody wuz there what mounts to anything an sum what don't. I havn't heerd bout any of there doins yet but I bet they killed there jack an berried him so deep under Republican votes he won't holler no more afore sum-time 1952.

Hope to be with you agin next week.

As ever, Old Joe

Instructions To Voters!

HOW TO OBTAIN BALLOTS AND ENVELOPES FOR VOTING:

It shall be lawful for any voter to secure a ballot at any time from the Chairman of the various political parties or from any other source whatsoever, and to mark the same at any time and at any place before voting the same, and to carry the ballot which has been marked to the designated polling place in the election district of which he or she is a registered and qualified voter and there vote the said ballot.

HOW TO PREPARE THE BALLOTS FOR VOTING:

After a voter has obtained a ballot he or she shall indicate his or her choice of candidates by marking the ballot with a black or indelible pencil or black crayon. This is to be done as follows: When an elector desires to vote a straight ticket, that is to vote for all the candidates of a party appearing in the party column on the ballot, he or she shall place a cross mark or "X" within the square at the head of the party column containing the names of such candidates. In the event that an elector does not desire to vote for all of the candidates whose names appear in any party column, he or she shall place a cross mark or "X" in the square at the left of the name of the candidate for whom it is desired to vote, and he or she may also scratch out the name of the candidate for whom he or she does not desire to vote.

If the elector shall place on the ballot a cross mark or "X" within the square containing a party designation at the head of the column, he or she shall be deemed to have voted for all the candidates whose names appear in the column under such mark, unless some name or names shall be erased or unless in some other column a "X" mark shall have been placed in the square at the left of the name of some other candidate for the same office.

When the voter shall have a mark against two or more names for the same office, the voter shall be deemed to have voted for none of them, and the ballot shall not be counted for either candidate, but shall be counted for such other candidates as it is the evident intention of the voter to vote for.

If any name be written on any ballot the ballot shall be void and not counted.

When the elector shall have made a mark in the square at the left of the name of a person in the proper place, the elector shall be deemed to have voted for that person, although said elector shall have omitted to erase or scratch out the name printed in any other column for the same office.

A ballot put in without any mark shall not be counted, and a ballot not marked at the top shall be counted only for the person for whom the marks thereon are applicable.

DEPOSIT OF BALLOTS IN ENVELOPE

When an elector is ready to vote, the said elector shall enter the passage way, and after being passed by the challengers, shall be admitted to the election room; provided, however, there shall not be in the room at any time more than one voter for each booth therein, exclusive of the election officers. On entering the room the voter shall announce his or her name to the Clerks of Election, who shall register it, and one of the Clerks shall deliver to said elector an envelope and ballots. The voter may then, and without leaving the room, go alone into any of the booths which may be unoccupied. If said elector has already procured the Official Ballots and marked them as he or she desires to vote, they must be placed in the envelope, or if said elector has not already prepared the ballots he or she may use the ones handed him or her by the Clerk. After having placed the ballots in the envelope, the elector must then deliver the same to the Inspector or to the Judge who may be temporarily authorized to act for the inspector.

The voter shall immediately after voting leave the room. No voter to whom an envelope has been delivered shall be permitted to leave the room without voting or returning said envelope to the Clerk of Elections.

Put the ballot in your envelope; if any envelope shall be found to contain more than one of each ballot authorized by law to be voted at any election, none of the ballots therein shall be counted.

HOW TO OBTAIN EITHER A NEW BALLOT OR AN ENVELOPE OR BOTH IN PLACE OF EITHER OR BOTH ACCIDENTALLY DEFACED, MUTILATED OR SPOILED

Any person who shall by accident or mistake spoil, deface or mutilate a ballot or envelope, on returning the spoiled ballot to the Clerks of the Election and satisfying them that such spoiling, defacing or mutilation was not intentional, shall receive another ballot or envelope or both in place thereof.

Any person who shall be physically unable to prepare or fold his or her ballot, or deposit the ballot in the envelope, by reason of defective eyesight, or the loss of the use of one or both hands, or inability to walk with safety without assistance, as manifestly renders him or her unable to prepare, fold his or her ballot, or deposit the ballot in the envelope, or to reach the polling place alone with safety, shall be permitted to bring with him or her into the election room and booth any elector or two electors, if the nature of the disability manifestly requires more than one, such as a total disability to walk to the polling district for the purpose of rendering the necessary assistance to vote.

REVISED CODE OF DELAWARE

1846. Sec. 37. CLEAR SPACE OF THIRTY FEET AT ENTRANCE OF POLLING PLACE; POSITION OF CHALLENGERS; HOW VOTERS SHALL ENTER; CHALLENGERS; UNLAWFUL ENTRY ON THIRTY-FOOT SPACE OR WITHIN RAILING LEADING TO ELECTION ROOM; MISDEMEANOR; PENALTY;

One challenger appointed and designated by each political party, as hereinbefore provided, shall be entitled to stand at the side of the passage, and near the entrance to the room. No other person shall remain within thirty feet of said entrance except for the purpose of offering his vote, except as provided in this Chapter; voters shall approach and enter the passage in the order in which they appear for the purpose of voting. If any person offering to vote shall be challenged by one of the challengers, or by any one of the election officers, his right to vote shall be at once determined by the proper officer, and if his vote is refused, he shall immediately stand aside, give place to the person next in line and retire without delay from within the thirty feet space around the entrance to the room. Whoever, not in this Chapter authorized so to do, shall enter or attempt to enter the election room or within the railing leading to the entrance of the election room, or shall remain within thirty feet of the polling place, contrary to the provisions of this Chapter, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined not more than two hundred dollars.

1488. Sec. 39. REMOVAL OR DESTRUCTION OF ELECTION SUPPLIES; TEARING DOWN OR DEFACING INSTRUCTION CARDS; DESTRUCTION OR REMOVAL OF BOOTH OR RAILING; MISDEMEANORS; PENALTY;

Whoever shall, during the election remove or destroy any of the supplies or other conveniences placed in the booths as aforesaid or delivered to the voter for the purpose of enabling him to prepare his ballot, or shall, during an election, remove, tear down or deface the cards printed for the instruction of the voters, or shall, during an election, destroy or remove any booth, railing or other convenience provided for such election, or shall induce or attempt to induce any person to commit any of such acts whether or not any such acts are committed or attempted to be committed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than six months or more than one year.

1851. Sec. 42. INDUCING THE MAKING OF DISTINGUISHING MARK ON BALLOT; MISDEMEANOR; PENALTY;

Whoever shall induce or attempt to induce any elector to write, paste or otherwise place on his ballot the name of any person, or any sign or device of any kind, as a distinguishing mark by which to indicate to any other person how such elector has voted, or shall enter into or attempt to form any agreement or conspiracy with any other person to induce or attempt to induce any elector to so place any distinguishing mark or name on his ballot, whether or not such act be committed or attempted to be committed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be imprisoned for not exceeding two years.

1852. Sec. 43. ELECTION OFFICERS; INDUCING TO VIOLATE PROVISIONS OF CHAPTER; MISDEMEANOR; PENALTY; DUTY OF INSPECTOR TO READ TO ELECTION OFFICERS SECTION 42 AND 43; VIOLATION OF PROVISIONS OF A VIOLATION OF OFFICIAL OATHS;

Whoever shall induce or attempt to induce any election officers to violate any of the provisions of this Chapter whether or not such election officers shall violate or attempt to violate any of the provisions of this Chapter, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding five years. It shall be the duty of each Inspector to distinctly read this and the preceding section to the election officers at the opening of the polls. The observance of the provisions of said two sections by election officers shall be held and construed to be included in the duties of the office of said election officers and the violation of said provisions by election officers shall be held and construed to be a violation of their official oath, provided in this Chapter.

JOHN R. LEVERAGE, Clerk of The Peace

THE GENERAL ELECTION

Letter to the Editor

October 16, 1950

Dear Reader:

This is the third in a series of letters dealing with the various tools used in wildlife management. Since legislation and stocking have been discussed previously, we will deal with the use of refuges as a tool for wildlife management. It would perhaps be best to define the term refuge before continuing farther. A wildlife refuge, is "an area designated for protection of game animals within which hunting is either prohibited or is strictly controlled." This is a general definition and covers many types of sanctuaries, refuges, reservations, etc. Refuges are really just an extension of the idea of protective legislation in which land is set aside. In recent years the concept of refuge has arisen in which care of food and cover is stressed as well as protection.

That refuges are useful tools in game management is a definitely established fact. One of the major factors in sustaining waterfowl in some degree of abundance is the system of Federal and State controlled waterfowl refuges throughout the North American continent. These refuges fall into many categories, yet each serve a definite purpose. Flyway refuges providing resting places where there is ample food and protection from hunters are necessary. Wintering refuges providing protection and food are needed, and most important, breeding refuges are necessary. Waterfowl breeding refuges should be large enough to provide freedom from grazing animals and human activities and should provide stable water levels to insure against loss of nests or young. Nearly all federal and state waterfowl refuges not only protect waterfowl from man but are improved for wildlife by planned food and cover management.

The use of refuges has proven an excellent tool in the management of the big game of our country. Some, such as the American Bison, Big-horn Sheep, and Moose were nearing extinction before laws governing their kill were enacted and refuges were established. Today they are on their way back. In some of our National Forests, refuges have been established and the size of herds are carefully managed for the amount of game the area will support. The white-tail deer and the wild turkey are two more examples of wildlife which have been able to show an increase in parts of our country due in part to the use of refuges in management. These large game birds and animals are well suited to the refuge type of management. Nearly all cover large tracts of land in their wanderings; but tend mostly to stay in forested and mountainous areas. These areas are for the most part cheap land, making the buying and establishing of such refuges possible. Refuges provide undisturbed environments where successful breeding seasons may be brought off. This is particularly necessary in the case of large game where low breeding rates and interference of man make successful increment impossible in settled and well traveled areas.

Refuges have proven a less effective tool in small game management than for big game and waterfowl. The idea that refuges provide sanctuaries where a small game population may build up and then flow beyond the boundaries of the refuges into surrounding areas is highly debatable. Even were this idea of out-flow a proven fact, refuges in small game management would be inefficient and expensive. Because our small game, such as the cottontail rabbit and bobwhite quail, spend most of their lives in a limited area of a relatively few acres, refuges would necessarily have to be small so animals within them would at times rove off to afford some hunting. Studies have shown that, to be effective, refuges should not be located farther apart than a distance where the out-flow of the species from the refuges could overlap. Thus, to establish a refuge system for small game on a state or county wide basis, it would entail a great many refuges located close together. Such a program would be very costly and would necessarily cut down the huntable land of the state. In a small state such as Delaware where hunting land is at a premium, such a program would be of doubtful value to either the hunter or the wildlife which it was supposed to aid.

One type of small game, however, which has been benefited by the use of refuges in management is the pheasant. This bird, which covers a much larger area than the quail or rabbit in its daily and seasonal movements, has seemed to respond well to centrally located refuges in some of the states of the Northeast. Because of its popularity as a game bird, often in poor range the pheasant is hunted down to a point where not enough seed stock remains to repopulate a hunted area. In such cases as this, refuges of 50 to 100 acres of fall and winter cover give the shooting season and also serve to birds more chance to survive to spread the kill over a longer period.

The size, number, and location of refuges are variable factors which must be governed to meet a certain situation. While a refuge may be used to establish a certain species or to enlarge a herd, they can at times outlive their usefulness. Today in several states there exists an over-population of deer which poses a serious problem in deer management, yet in many states extensive deer refuges still exist. These refuges prevent the harvest of many more deer annually, which would aid in controlling the size of the herd. Once established, the refuges, with their strong backing of public opinion, are very hard to discontinue, regardless of how well justified their discontinuance might be.

Often one hears from various sources that a sure way to increase the game in a state or county is to close the whole area. This, in effect, makes the state to hunting for a year or two, or county one large refuge. Such a program assumes that hunting as now engaged in by man is the most important factor holding down game populations. This only applies in a few instances to a few species. Many studies in recent years have discounted the efforts of over-hunting or trapping as a factor in reducing basic breeding stocks of rabbits, pheasant, and quail, and muskrat, etc. As mentioned previously, refuges must be set up to meet definite situations. Each species demands that certain requirements must be met before refuges can effectively aid in its increase.

The use of refuges in wildlife management is one of the oldest forms of game management. Not as old as legislation, it has nevertheless proven to be a useful tool to the game manager in his attempts through the years to improve and preserve the supply of game for the hunt. It must be recognized, however, that in the complex field of wildlife management, it is merely a tool to be used and not a remedy or overall panacea to what is wrong with hunting.

Sincerely,
Conservation Division
Delaware Bd. of Game & Fish Commissioners

C. H. Smith Appointed To Kent School Post

The appointment of Charles H. Smith to succeed the late State Senator E. Paul Burkholder as elementary education supervisor in Kent County was announced last week by Dr. George R. Miller, Jr., state superintendent of public instruction.

Mr. Smith who is now principal of the Frederica School, will take over his new position as soon as a successor in the principalship has been appointed. Mr. Burkholder, who died Sept. 19, had held the rural supervisor position for southern Kent and northern Sussex Counties since 1925. Mr. and Mrs. Smith reside on Delaware Avenue in Harrington.

You Can't Build A Better Mousetrap!

"They're not the best-looking boarders a man ever had," Hack Turner said one day, "and they've got awful tempers. But I've found it pays to have 'em around."

Hack was talking about a family of barn owls, nesting in his silo this year. Some folks believe those little white-faced screechers kill chickens—and ought to be shot on sight. But Hack disagrees.

"Up at State University they've studied barn owls for years—and never known one to eat a chicken. On the other hand, a daddy owl will clean up around 300 mice a month. Farmers that kill barn owls are throwing away the best mousetraps known to man!"

From where I sit, when someone shows a prejudice against any group of animals or humans—it's usually just based on misunderstanding. For instance, some folks are plumb intolerant about those of us who enjoy an occasional quiet glass of beer. Get to really know us and you're liable to find we're pretty good birds at that!

Want a long run for your money?

Better Buy Buick!

You want a new car to be tops in things like style and room and comfort and power——and a thrill-packed fifteen minutes with the nimble number pictured here will show you it has all these things in abundant measure.

So you ask us—how about money? What does it cost to buy a Buick—and to own one?
All right—let us ask you some questions.
Take first cost. Do you know that Buick prices start down at a level below what you'd pay for some sixes—and that every Buick, on a cents-per-pound basis, is a standard buy?
Take operating cost. Do you know that the bang you'll get from Buick's Fireball power comes from a valve-in-head engine—recognized by engineers as a thrifty saver of fuel?
Do you know that owners of 1950 Buicks are writing us rave letters, saying that this year's version is the most economical Buick ever built?
Do you know that such comfort features as coil springs on all four wheels protect the car as well as the passengers—and throw in an extra saving because they need no servicing, and are practically breakproof to boot?

Do you know that Dynaflo*—in addition to keeping you fresh as a daisy on a day-long drive—caps its convenience with savings on tires, cuts down the strain on transmissions and engines—and eliminates all friction clutch repairs, because it hasn't any?

Take final cost. Do you know that when the owner of a Buick gets a yen for a later model, the prices that Buicks command on a used-car lot are the ultimate proof of their long-run value?

So if you want a real run for your money, better buy Buick. And the first step is very simple: Go see your Buick dealer—soon—and get an order signed.

* Dynaflo Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Asbury Methodist Church Notes

10:00 A. M. Church School. We are trying for 200 average attendance during this month. Will you be with us this Sunday? Fulton J. Downing, superintendent.

11:00 A. M. Worship service. Comments upon the value of the Evangelistic Advance for Asbury Church will be made by Fulton Downing and Guy Winebrenner, and Mrs. J. H. Wright. Special music by the Cathedral and Junior choirs. You are invited to worship the Lord with us.

7:30 P. M. Worship service, with special music by the Chancel Choir. They will sing "My God and I" by Sergei, which is the selection that the Youth Choir sang in the Wilmington Ball Park Rally last Sunday afternoon. The pastor will preach a sermon on the subject, "The Gift of God." Come out and worship the Lord with us. These troubled days reveal the need for witnessing to the power of God in human experience. It is later than you may think.

Christian Workers School begins Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Asbury Church. Six courses will be offered for church school workers and leaders to meet the needs for leadership in local churches. This school will continue each Tuesday night until December 5—six nights, and will be attended by persons from several churches in the Dover District. The worship programs each night from 8:20 to 8:40 will be conducted by District Superintendent Dr. Thomas C. Mulligan. All persons are welcome to these worship services, whether they are registered in the school or not.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kimball and daughter, June, are on a motor trip through the southern states and will visit friends in Kentucky before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher, of Wilmington, visited relatives near Woodside and in Felton Sunday.

Miss Edna Hays, of Philadelphia, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Hays.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Teat, of Dover, were guests Sunday morning of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hastings.

Elmer Cohee attended the funeral of Mr. Joseph Myers, of Edystone, Pa., Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Kimball entertained friends from Wilmington Sunday.

Saturday evening Mrs. William Truitt was given a surprise birthday party by her children and grandchildren. Those present were: Alfred Truitt, Ridgely; Mrs. John Longfellow and children, of Goldsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Harrington Rash and daughters, of Fred- erica; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rash Jr. and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Truitt and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Truitt, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grier and children, all of Woodside.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Marvel and mother, of Milford, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cohee spent Sunday in Wilmington.

Mrs. Harry Schneider went to Philadelphia Wednesday to attend the funeral of Mr. John Graff. Mr. Graff was a frequent visitor here. Saturday Mrs. Schneider and Mrs. Hubbard Cooper spent the day in Wilmington shopping.

Little Miss Elaine Diehl visited her cousin, Miss Mable Kemp, last week.

On Sunday Mrs. Mary Jane Kemp, Mrs. Myrtle Kemp, Mrs. Ethel Dill and daughter, Janice Louise, Harry G. Clark and Dawson Shulties visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diehl at West Grove, Pa. Miss Joyce Taylor was at home over the weekend.

The evangelistic services at our church were concluded Sunday evening having been in charge of Rev. Hollis Pistole; and we are happy to announce the membership of the church has been materially strengthened by the addition of three new ones.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cabbage and children, of Harrington, were Sunday dinner guests of W. O. and Mrs. Evelyn Cabbage and daughter, Joannette.

Several of our local people were present at the covered dish dinner held at the Parish House in Dover on the evening of the 18th. A most pleasant evening was enjoyed by everyone.

We had a registration day in our village Saturday, better than 80 names were placed upon the books. One of the assistant registers claimed they came in covets. The writer has observed several registration days in our village but nothing like this under similar conditions.

Our farmers are getting along nicely with their fall work; much of the corn is now picked and some of the stock ground is now seeded in grain. Our corn crop through here is very good—several farmers are sacrificing some of the crop for want of storage space.

Mrs. Harry Schneider went to

Charles Ewing's farm a Smyrna and J. W. Burris farms east of Dover, both with conservation farm plans with the local conservation district, have sown extensive acreage of standing corn. E. W. Lindale, farm manager for Burris Farms, stated that he was very pleased with the results of sowing rye grass on standing crops by airplane as compared with broadcasting with a tractor mounted cyclone seeder. There is not quite the uniformity of coverage by airplane seeding but considering the low cost of application and the more favorable time of seeding, it is a practice that farmers with moderate acreage should consider.

No attempt has been made to sow crimson clover or vetch with the rye grass to make a more desirable winter cover but it was felt that such seeding mixtures could be broadcasted satisfactorily. Anyone interested in observing the results of this rapid method of seeding cover crops can see large acreage treated in this manner on the above farms or on the farm of Homer Torbert, Felton.

The main speaker for the program will be the Rev. Kenneth Kepler of the Presbyterian Church at Milford. Rev. Kepler will use as his topic, "Communism at Work in China." In addition to the talk, he will show some pictures of China. Born in China of missionary parents, he grew up there, coming to this country for study at Princeton University. He returned to China in 1930 as a missionary and has had considerable experience in administering relief among hundreds of thousands of refugees from Communism in North China.

Club reports and achievements will be given in the form of a pageant, according to Mrs. Long. A pageant, which is called "Mrs. Oglethorpe Makes Her Annual Report," will feature comments of Mrs. Oglethorpe as she realizes that she has a responsibility to her club, to submit an annual report of accomplishments during the year. Scenes showing the various phases of the program will be presented by different clubs in the county.

A dramatic presentation of "All Flags Will Fly," will be featured by the Omar Home Demonstration Club.

Committees appointed at the recent council meeting for Achievement Day includes, Exhibits, Millsboro Club; Hostess, Broadcreek; Decoration, Georgetown; Guest Corsages, Piney Grove; Bulletin Board, Atlanta.

Lunch will be served by the Midland Grange. Members attending the meeting who wish to have lunch with the group, should contact Mrs. Chas. Moyer, Georgetown, not later than Saturday.

Delirium Tremens
A pink elephant, a green rat, and a polka-dotted snake walked into a cocktail bar. "You're a little early, boys," said the bartender, "he ain't been here yet."

Mr. Han will speak at a dinner meeting of the Rotarians, which will take place at Wesley Junior College at 6 p. m. Oct. 31.

The program chairman, Morris Simon of Dover, has announced that invitations are being extended to Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, United States Senators John J. Williams and J. Allen Frear, Representative J. Caleb Boggs and Mayor William J. Storey of Dover, to attend the gathering.

Mr. Han, in addition to serving as First Secretary of the Korean Embassy, is an alternate observer of the Republic of Korea at the United Nations.

Born in Korea, he was graduated from the Chusan Christian College in Seoul and later came to the United States where he received his Bachelor of Arts Degree as Doctor of Philosophy for Political Science at the University of Michigan. He assumed the duties of First Secretary of the Korean Embassy a short time after it was established in February of 1949.

Mr. Han is expected to present to the Dover Rotarians a first-hand account of the Korean war, together with some of the problems which the little republic now faces as a result of the communist invasion.

Johnny Simpson, 30-year-old Chester, S. C., reinsman, has skyrocketed high in the running for a non-existent harness racing trophy that is probably the most coveted in the sport.

According to figures made public today by the U. S. Trotting Association, Simpson has driven five trotters and pacers into the two-minute list and in the past three weeks has climbed from a tie for 29th place to a 7th place deadlock on the all-time scoreboard.

The two-minute list is the honor roll of harness racing and most drivers go through an entire Grand Circuit career without sitting behind one that goes a mile in that time or better.

Sep. Palin of Indianapolis, Ind., and Dr. H. M. Marshall of Urbana, O., are presently tied for top honors with 13 two-minute horses apiece. Palin, although still active, is in his mid-seventies while Marshall, at 51, has already bowed out of the sport.

Of the others who head Simpson, Vic Fleming (12) and Tommy Murphy (9) have long since stepped down. Tommy Berry (11), Harry Fitzpatrick (6) and Ben White, tied with Simpson with five, are still on the active list but all three are over 60.

Simpson marked his first two-minute horse when he was a youngster of 22 back in 1942. He posted his second victory over the clock a year ago with Riley Hanover and then topped it off this season with the pacers Fernman Hanover and Quilla Hanover and the trotter Miss Excellency.

Wayne (Curly) Smart, of Delaware, O., also jumped his lifetime total of five during the Lexington meeting. But Simpson, with almost a 20 year age advantage over Smart, looms as the driver most likely to succeed to the two-minute throne.

The opening paragraph was on the subject of "What Our Children Learn When They Attend Educational Programs"—its effect on their future, and in closing a discussion on "Has Our Parents Methods of Discipline or Our Modern Ideas on Discipline Resulted in Delinquents?"

Mrs. Willey is writing several articles she hopes to have accepted in the future.

White Nylon
White nylon should be washed separately from colored things. It will then stay white throughout numerous washings. Although colors in other garments may appear to be fast, they often leave enough discoloration, though slight, to bring about an objectionable "off-white" tinge to white nylon.

The Macfadden Publications, Inc., of New York, last week purchased a short but interesting article from Mrs. Jennie Willey, of Ellendale.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

Did you know that some of our best actors and actresses are coming over to TV? Why not when they see the hand writing on the wall which reads: Millions are waiting for the best on their TV's and I must go too if I want to push ahead.

Well folks it is true. TV's are getting better and better talent each time it seems that you turn a TV on. The old saying what you see you believe, so may I ask you this question how are you going to see it if you don't have one? Of course your neighbor is always glad to have you over occasionally but maybe they want to retire earlier than you.

Yes it is true, TV's are going over with a bang and why not when the entertainment, religious or educational or many things that you just cannot get otherwise right in your own home for such a little. Come to Wheeler's Television Center to see these lovely models.

Had quite a large shipment of combination radios to come in this week also some small radios. The reason I am telling you this is because they will be scarce from now on. So if you are going to buy one or thinking of purchasing, drop in and see what we have.

Yes we have a few refrigerators on hand sizes 7, 9 and 11 cubic foot, also have freezer lockers. It will soon be time to kill those hogs and to keep them as long as you like after they are killed, buy one of these freezers and you will not have any trouble keeping your pork or any kind of meats. Soon be time to save those extra rabbits for a later date well now is the time to buy while prices are lower than they will be in a very short while.

Have you stopped to think that it is only eight weeks until Xmas? Those weeks are going to come fast and now is a good time to have that Sunbeam Mixer, Westinghouse pop-up toaster and many such items laid away so you will be sure of having just the gift your wife always wanted.

If you don't see them on display ask for them and I am sure we will have just what you want. Have you been in for wall paper lately? Well we have some new patterns which are very pretty. I am sure they will please you even if you are a little fussy about your wall paper.
