Two Die in Fire As Auto Burns

A man and a woman, unconscious and trapped in their blazing automobile, were burned to death following an accident on the Pearson's Corner-Marydel highway, about two miles north of Marydel, Saturday night.

State police at Dover worked through the night and early morning hours Sunday identifying the charred remains of William A. Nicholson of Cheswold and Mrs. Pauline Presnell, 26, of Cowling Corner, east of Dover.

They were burned beyond recognition when their car struck an abutment and burst into flames while hanging at an angle on the concrete highway fixture shortly after 9 p. m., Saturday.

Raymond Connor of Dover, a passenger in the car, escaped but suffered severe burns of the face and back.

Mrs. Presnell, mother of three young children—two, five and seven years of age—was not identified until late Sunday morning.

An official of the state police said the two men and the woman were headed from Dover to Marydel in Nicholson's car when the vehicle went out of control and struck the abutment.

The gas line of the car is believed to have been broken and the gas ignited immediately upon contact with the hot exhaust pipe and engine. Inasmuch as the car was tilted with its front end downward while hanging on the abutment, the gasoline flowed freely from the gas tank and made the car a roaring inferno in a matter of seconds, troopers said.

All three of the victims were believed to have been riding in the front seat. Connor, suffering from shock in addition to the burns, could not give coherent answers to investigating police officials, they said. He is confined to the Kent General Hospital.

Connor emerged from the car unscathed and it was not learned that he had been a passenger in the automobile until after the fire was extinguished, according to police. The heat of the flames prevented other motorists from rescuing Nicholson or Mrs. Presnell.

The latter victim, whose family lives in Tennessee, had been employed at the International Liquid Latex plant in Dover. The two bodies were removed to the Ferguson Funeral Home in Dover. The fire was eventually extinguished by the Hartly Fire Company.

State police said a neighbor of the dead woman is taking care of the three children.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

Bill Shockley, of Bridgeville, was a visitor to the track to watch his horse, Dusty Hanover, on his morning work out.

Olin Davis has moved in with 13 head of horses, from Clayton. There is one horse in his stable that will bear watching again this year, Bertie York.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reed, of Milford, were visitors to the Warren Holmes stable.

Will Swain, Walter Jones and John Donovan all from Bridgeville, were visitors looking the horses all over.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neal, of Anavol, N. J., were visitors past few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Myer. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clift, of New Egypt, N. J., were also visiting friends this week.

Mr. Stokley now has 12 head of horses in his stable. Pretty busy man these days.

Sam Phillips from Laurel, is very proud of his two horses, Doc Gilbert and the colt Trixie Tass.

Bill Haverin, of Pinetree, moved in yesterday with 7 head of horses. One for Dr. Keith.

Mr. Mallieu has in his stable the following horses: Susie Q. Scott, Enga Lou, Jack's Birthday, Broadway Jane, Merry Scott.

Ted Gibbons race secretary at Yonkers, N. P. also Ross Cooper and Frank Lawson, of our mutual department, were visitors of Britt Holloway this past week.

Mr. Enslin, race secretary for the raceway here, was a very busy man in the office. I have an idea he is now at work on his stake races. You know the time is creeping up when you see him so busy.

Pop Heller has traded Smoky Patch off for Breeze Song.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grella, of Westbury, L. I., visited Irene's Restaurant on their way to Florida to chat with the horsemen. Irene and Harry spent one season in Westbury with them. Up to last year, Sam had the popular restaurant at Old County Trot track at Westbury, along with his string of horses on the grounds.

Jack Brown spent a few days here on his way back to Reading, Pa., where he is training his 10 head of horses. Jack has been down to Florida for a few days.

Alexander Smith, of Devault, Pa., near Valley Forge, and a former amateur steeple chase rider, arrived with Virginia L. D. and Earl's Old Rebel.

R. E. Hendershot arrived here from Elmira, N. Y. with 4 head of horses this week. Kiss N. Tell and Hubie, owned by Smith and West, of Horse Heads, N. Y. Mr. Hendershot's horses consist of Abu-Bekr and Donald G.

Ralph Bowers has 8 head in his stable at present, next week I will have all their names and their records.

Mr. Young, the blacksmith, is now quartered in the late Earl Freeman's old shop.

For an interesting sight some night ride the back road to Farmington, and look over here to the fairgrounds, with all the lights, it's just like a town all its own.

And in the day time the red and white barns are certainly attractive to anyone coming along the highway from north or south. All in all a booster for Harrington.

Jimmie Creed, the truck driver for Earl Thomas, is certainly one busy man these days. Jimmie might be in Maine today and Florida tomorrow. So here is a little of his daily trips. H. S. Hoffer has sent to Orlando the balance of his horses to his trainer, Bob Walker. Earl's truck brought down from Freehold for Mr. Doughty, 3 to Ocean Downs. Jimmie is to bring back one to join the other three for Mr. Doughty. This one also is coming back from Orlando.

Tom Lewis has sent Nora Abbe and Emma D. to be bred to Adios. Also Truman Campbell sent May Netta to same horse. Also from Freehold, N. J. Jimmie Creed brought back So Long, Fred Greenly's pride and joy to be bred to Direct Spangler, he hopes to get another Direct Express.

Now you can see why you can't keep up with Earl or his driver Jimmie Creed. When ever you see the Red Scott trucks you can depend they are horse shipping deluxe.

This writer just happened along when Earl Thomas was loading a new sulky in his trailer and found out that it was going to Orlando, Fla. to Ezra Hanover. Reese thinks a cart is to heavy for the little fellow to pull.

Rotary Club Entertains Boy Scouts

Scout Master Calvin Simpson and Assistant Scout Master William Miller with 21 members of their troop were guests of the Rotary Club at the Wonder Bar Tuesday evening. Star Scout awards were presented to James Pearson by District Scout Executive Ernest Wilson, who commended the troop and leaders and demonstrated with rope knots the relative value of a square and ordinary knots, drawing a parallel with men properly schooled in scout foundation work. Ernie also had a message for the Rotarians and parents of boys which he portrayed in the poem:

JUST A BOY
Got to understand the lad,
He's not eager to be bad,
If the right he always knew,
He would be as old as you,
Were he now exceeding wise,
He'd be just about your size,
When he does things that annoy,
Don't forget,—he's just a boy.

Could he know and understand,
He would need no guiding hand,
But he's young and hasn't learned,
How life's corners must be turned,
Doesn't know from day to day,
There is more in life than play,
More to face than selfish joy,
Don't forget,—he's just a boy.

Being just a boy he'll do,
Much you will not want him to,
He'll be careless in his ways,
Have his disobedient days,
Willful, headstrong, playful, wild,
Every fault known to a child,
Things of value he'll destroy,
But reflect,—he's just a boy.

Just a boy who needs a friend,
Patient, kindly to the end,
Needs a father who will show,
Just the things he wants to know,
Take him with you when you walk,
Listen when he wants to talk,
His companionship enjoy,
Don't forget,—he's just a boy.

Report from Delaware Hospital at 6 p. m. showed Harry Wright's condition much improved and responding to rest treatment. Harry is in room 519 and while he does not see visitors he is glad to receive our letters, cards, etc.

Derrickson Heads Kent Democrats

Vernon B. Derrickson of Dover was elected chairman of the Kent County Democratic Committee at the reorganization meeting Tuesday night in the Senate lounge of Legislative Hall. The vote was unanimous.

Mr. Derrickson, member of the Public Service Commission and a military aide to Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, succeeds Willard D. Boyce, also of Dover, who was chairman for six years.

Other officers were reelected. They are: Mrs. Belle Everett of Kenton, vice-chairman; W. Marion Stevenson, of Frederica, secretary and Charles Lee Sipple of Dover, treasurer.

Mr. Derrickson declared he will work for unity in party. He said that unity means strength and strength means victory.

Mr. Boyce, who was not a candidate for the office, recalled that when he was first named chairman six years ago his ambition was to see the Kent County Courthouse in the hands of Democrats. This ambition was realized at the last election. The retiring chairman gave credit to all the members of the committee for the election victory.

The committee from each of the five senatorial districts held separate caucuses to elect committee members-at-large from those districts. The five elected are: First district, Harry Jones; second, Charles G. Moore; third, Howard E. Lynch, Jr.; fourth, Norris Graham; fifth, J. Harry Latham.

Band Sponsors Magazine Drive

The Harrington High School Band is in the midst of a magazine drive which, if successful, will go a long way toward helping the local musicians purchase additional uniforms and other equipment for the band. This material is vitally needed if the band is going to be in best appearance for the coming spring and summer parade season.

The equipment actually being planned to be purchased are four new uniforms, one new sousaphone, and a set of tympani (kettle drums). These items are very expensive, hence the numerous drives the local band sponsors during the year for the necessary funds. It is the wish of all those interested in the band not to refuse any boy or girl the opportunity of learning to play a band instrument if it is their desire to do so.

It is hoped that all persons approached during the present campaign, will assist in this worthy enterprise to make the high school band a larger and better organization.

4 Cottages Burn At Big Stone Beach

Damage estimated at $18,000 resulted Tuesday when fire of undetermined origin swept through four cottages at nearby Big Stone Beach.

The Carlisle Fire Company of Milford, unable to get water from the Delaware Bay, which was solidly frozen along the shore, managed to check the flames that threatened the fourth cottage with water from their booster tank.

There was no one apparently at the little bayside resort when the fire started. Most of the residents there work some distance from the resort during the day. One of the cottage losers, Mrs. Frank Nelte, said she was on her way home when she saw smoke rising from the shore.

When she arrived she found her own cottage practically beyond control and the one next door occupied by Max Hollenbeck pretty well burned to the ground. She telephoned for the Milford firemen and before they arrived heat and sparks had fired the cottage of W. E. Walker next door, which was burning out of control, and the J. M. Wolf cottage next door to that was afire.

Unable to get water from the bay, the firemen managed to extinguish the fire at the Wolf cottage with their booster tank. Little more than $100 damage was caused there.

Firemen placed the approximated loss as follows: Hollenbeck, $8000; Nelte cottage, $6000; Walker cottage, about $4000.

The contents of all the cottages were destroyed, including the clothing.

This is the second large fire that has occurred at this beach recently. Several months ago fire destroyed James Holleger's cottage when no one was at the beach.

Firemen believe the fire started in the Hollenbeck cottage.

Railroad News

Tomorrow is oyster night at the Salisbury Armory. Railroaders are still talking about last year's party for class and quantity of good and entertainment. All indications point to still greater heights at this one and all who attend are in for a treat, far beyond their expectations.

We were all glad to see the two diesel engines operate thru town last week and they again demonstrated their superiority over steam power by moving 150 car trains at maximum authorized speed from Enola Yard at Harrisburgh to Cape Charles without exertion.

Occasion for their temporary appearance here was brought about by congestion of freight at Edgemoor yard due to labor stoppage there and other points on the main line. To get around this, the run was made down the Susquehanna River on what is known as the Port Deposit branch to Perryville, then on Maryland Division to Newark, and across the branch thru Porter to the Delaware Road at Townsend. To do the same job with steam would require two trains instead of one with engine changes at Wilmington, Delmar and Cape Charles and could not have attained maximum speed of 50 miles per hour.

With diesel engines hauling our freight trains and a stream lined diesel passenger car operating two trips a day between Salisbury and Wilmington, we could rightly call the Delaware road the garden spot of the east and property would soon increase in value with absence of cinders, grass fires and smoke.

This is wishful thinking but sometimes with the right people thinking the right way will soon bring results.

The defense program for Harrington gained momentum with the opening of the auxiliary police school Tuesday night at the American Legion Home. The school will be held every Tuesday night from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. for 20 weeks. Some 20 persons were present from Harrington and outlying communities, but more are needed.

William J. Cavanaugh, of Dover, assistant defense director for Kent County, was present and aided in registration.

After registration, Lt. William Short, of the Delaware State Police, began the first lesson, saying in the meanwhile that the lesson would be reviewed next week when more students would be available.

Lt. Short prefaced the lesson with the remark that police was complicated and demanding and that training and confidence were necessary to make a good police officer. He added that, not only was an auxiliary police force necessary for the demands of this community, but for the metropolitan area in the northern part of the state, since persons from that area would naturally come into the lower part of the state in the event of catastrophe.

Students from Harrington attending the school, groundwork for which was prepared by the American Legion, represented by Sid Burtman, were: Wilson Bradley, Bill Minner, Bennie Hughes, Charles Tatman, Clarence Black, John Walls, Samuel A. Short, Jr., Granville Hill, Thomas Peck, William Wechtenhiser. Other students were: Harvey Passwaters and Milton Bland.

Humes Heads Security Group

Bill Humes was named head of the security group Tuesday evening by C. H. Burgess, local defense director. Humes, who had considerable experience in the same field during World War II, will have charge of the auxiliary police, fire, health departments, and the block wardens. He appointed Charles Tatman, former town patrolman, head of the police department, with Samuel A. Short Jr., as assistant head. Humes will appoint the heads of his other departments later.

Persons interested in auxiliary police training are requested to get in touch with Burgess, Humes, Tatman, or Short immediately.

Auxiliary Firemen

This group is just getting organized by the Harrington Volunteer Fire Department, but the local civil defense council will take over as active firemen will be needed to perform their regular duties in time of crisis.

Claude Cahall, who participated in this work during the last war, will be an assistant deputy. Other appointees will be announced by Humes, the security group head, later.

Control Center

The Harrington City Hall will be the control center, a place to be notified in the event of an alert 24 hours daily. Phone number is 530.

Donations Deductible

Donations for civil defense are deductible from federal income taxes, according to a report received from Major D. Preston Lee, state director of civil defense. Local funds may have to be raised, at the outset, though it is probable that state and federal funds will be available.

Defense Council Named

C. H. Burgess, local defense director, has named the following members to a defense council, with the possibility of others being named as the program progresses: Mayor E. B. Rash, Charles Peck Jr., Jehu Camper, Jacob O. Messner, Douglas Mills, and Bill Humes.

Air Alert Goes Off Good

T. Brinton Holloway, director of the airplane spotters unit for this area, stated this week that the practice alerts Saturday and Sunday went off smoothly. This is the first department organized in local civil defense.

THE GRAB CONTINUES

That nebulous something known as price control is a long time in jelling, and from the advance notices we have seen, will leave prices at about the highest peak in American history.

At the first suggestion of price control, unscrupulous creatures began to "up" commodities already sky-high. One restaurant in a nearby town was serving spare ribs, principally ribs, with no meat to spare, at a price of fifty cents.

INDIGNATION IS TEMPORARY

When people, in a quiet, studious way, are opposed to any proposed change in the laws of the land or the manner of living, they are pretty certain to win their point. When people rear upon their hind legs and shriek to the universe that they are opposed to certain changes in the structure of things, and proclaim that they will fight such changes until their dying breath, the chances are that they will become as meek as Mary's Little Lamb with the passing of a few years and will be found shouting the praises of the new idea, just as they were shouting in condemnation a short time before.

We do not have to go beyond the confines of Delaware, or even of Harrington, to establish the truth of this statement. When the late General T. Coleman duPont offered to build a boulevard from one end of the state to the other and donate it to Delaware, there was organized opposition and the shout went up: "He's doing this so he can make a toll road out of it and charge us for every mile we travel."

When Pierre S. duPont was building magnificent school buildings and presenting them to the various school districts, there was considerable hue and even more cry: "Going to double the tuition and pocket most of it."

When we came to Harrington thirty-four years ago, two names were cursed from one end to town to the other: John W. Sheldrake and the late Col. R. D. Short. We'd never met either man—and we didn't want to meet them, for they must be dangerous characters.

There were screams of hate against the citizens who dared suggest that bonds be issued for the building of a sewer system. Time after time they voted on the issue, and time after time the "ag-ins" won by lop-sided majorities.

There's a more recent illustration. When the late O. C. Passmore was city manager, he suggested the installation of parking meters. He received very little encouragement and much condemnation. Finally, a meeting of the Better Business Association was called and it was reported that it was called for the purpose of discussing the parking meter situation.

Within the past few days the Harrington City Council decided to install parking meters. The vote in favor of it was just about unanimous and we've heard only a slight whisper of opposition.

The moral—if there should be a moral—is this: "If you are in favor of a proposition, first organize an opposition, and be sure that the opposition is vociferous and vitriolic. This will mean defeat for your idea at first, but victory—at last!"

Frederica

Among the harbingers of spring are the robin, the quick thaw after a cold snap and the out-of-town people selling magazines in our town. We were always puzzled about the success of these saleswomen, with their variant stories—including the old one, "working my way through college."

The MYAF will hold a food sale at the Community Building Saturday morning. Mrs. Massey, of Lewes, is ill and her sister, Mrs. Mary Burris, is her guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Jensen, of Milford, were Sunday callers of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jensen.

The WSCS will have a covered dish supper March 2. It will be held in the Trinity Church lecture room and is for members only.

Mrs. Lillie Clark, of Wilmington, was the Monday dinner guest of her sister, Mrs. Ella Rust, and her brother, George Baker.

"Living Sacrifices" and "The Quiet Hour With God" will be the themes of the morning and evening worship services at Trinity Church Sunday. Rev. J. R. Diehl will preach.

Laymen's Day will be observed Sunday, March 4. Mrs. Bessie Martin was the Sunday dinner guest of her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, and Mr. Martin, of Canterbury.

Master Gordon Satterfield spent Sunday at Harrington with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Satterfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Gerow, of Eatontown, N. J., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Gerow, their brother and sister, and Mr. and Mrs. William W. Wilson.

Mrs. Emma Catts entertained at dinner this past Sunday. Relatives who were guests, were, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Catts, of Milford, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Catts and children, of Seaford.

The previous Sunday Mrs. Catts had Dr. and Mrs. William Sanford, of Milford, and Lt. Col. Henry Sanford, of San Antonio, Tex., as her guests. Since Col. Sanford is located at the same base as her son, Dicky, Mrs. Catts was glad to receive direct word from him.

Mrs. Sarah Jackson Spencer was interned at Barratt's Chapel Thursday, following her death in Philadelphia the previous Sunday. The deceased was an intimate friend of Mrs. B. F. Burton, of town. Mrs. Spencer and her family enjoyed the acquaintance of many town folk because, until a few years ago, they spent their summers at the Spencer Farm, near town.

When her two daughters, Mary (Mrs. Elmer Snyder) and Katherine (Mrs. Richard Hynew) were young, the Spencers were at the farm each summer. Mrs. Spencer gave lawn and card parties frequently for Delaware and out-of-state people, and the town folk looked with pleasure to the arrival of the Spencers in the summer and with regret to their departure for Philadelphia in the fall. It was thus that the Spencer girls grew into adulthood, were married and with their mother, husband and children, continued the opening of Spencer Farm. After Mr. Spencer's death the farm was opened not as often and during the past several years a tenant farmer has resided there the year around.

There's a more recent illustration. When the late O. C. Passmore was city manager, he suggested the installation of parking meters. He received very little encouragement and much condemnation. Finally, a meeting of the Better Business Association was called and it was reported that it was called for the purpose of discussing the parking meter situation.

There's a more recent illustration. When the late O. C. Passmore was city manager, he suggested the installation of parking meters. He received very little encouragement and much condemnation. Finally, a meeting of the Better Business Association was called and it was reported that it was called for the purpose of discussing the parking meter situation.

Within the past few days the Harrington City Council decided to install parking meters. The vote in favor of it was just about unanimous and we've heard only a slight whisper of opposition.

The moral—if there should be a moral—is this: "If you are in favor of a proposition, first organize an opposition, and be sure that the opposition is vociferous and vitriolic. This will mean defeat for your idea at first, but victory—at last!"

Social Security Queries Answered

Questions relating to Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance will be answered in this paper or by mail. Address all queries to Social Security Administration, Old Customs House Building, 6th & King Streets, Wilmington, Del.

Q. My husband who died last August, was a farmer, but for 8 years before his death he worked for a few days every month in a mill earning wages of $40 a month. He and I were the same age 52, our children are grown. One person told me that I could draw benefits, but another one said I could not, because I own the farm. What is right?

A. The fact that you own property has nothing to do with your right to insurance payments. It appears that your husband was fully insured under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Program. Since you have no children under 18, you will not be eligible for monthly benefits until you reach age 65. You may be eligible for a lump-sum death payment at this time, and should file your claim. If it is approved you will receive one lump sum payment.

Q. My husband has worked steadily under Social Security for over 10 years. Can we collect social security benefits when we reach age 65?

A. If your husband has worked steadily under social security for over 10 years he is fully insured. When he reaches 65, he should contact the Social Security Administration. It will be possible for him and yourself at age 65 to receive social security monthly insurance payments.

Q. I am a widow receiving a veteran's pension. If I get a job covered by social security can I still get my widow's veteran's pension?

A. You should inquire at the office where you filed your claim for the widow's pension as to what effect your employment will have on your right to receive the pension.

3 Persons Hurt In Auto Accident

Three persons were injured Friday in a collision on Route 13, two-tenths of a mile south of Felton, between two automobiles, which burst into flames following the impact.

Most seriously injured according to state troopers at Bridgeville was Mrs. Curtis Spicer, 45, of Oak Orchard, a passenger in one of the cars who suffered lacerations of the face and nose, possible concussions and shock. She was treated and admitted to the Milford Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Spicer was a passenger in a car operated by Kathleen Spicer Cabbage, 27, of Harrington, who sustained a lacerated knee. She was treated at the hospital and released.

James C. Billings, 20, of Woodside, operator of the other car, received lacerations of the face. He was taken to the Kent General Hospital, Dover, for treatment.

State troopers said that after the impact Billings' car struck a power pole. The Felton Fire Company was summoned when both vehicles caught fire following the crash. The Cabbage car was badly damaged by fire and also by the impact. Billings' car was not damaged as extensively. An investigation is under way to ascertain the cause of the accident.

AT KENT & SUSSEX RACEWAY

Harry Craig has as his guests this week, Cross and Ahl, from Albany, N. Y. Harry has their horses in his stable.

Dave and I spent yesterday at Ocean Downs, Md. where we met several old friends from other tracks up the country. Had the pleasure chatting with Dick Case, general manager of Ocean Downs. He was very busy overseeing the building of the new tack rooms, or rather the finishing up of same.

Among our friends were: Chase from Little Valley, N. Y.; Al Crossman from Virginia; Bill Sargent from Lima, O.; Cote Weber, Rochester, N. Y.; Leon Toole, Westbury, L. I.; Bill Pence, Goshen, N. Y.; Larente, Quebec, and Collins and Kelly, from Ocean Downs. About two-thirds of the stables are full. There was plenty of snow to see all around down there. I was glad to be back in Harrington.

Now that this little chat is over, may I say. When they declared a general freeze on every thing did they have to include the weather?

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dyer and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Paskey and son, spent the day in Marcus Hook, Pa.

Cpl. Wm. B. Dyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dyer is in the hospital in Alaska. The nature of his illness being frozen feet. Any one wishing to send a card may get in touch with Mrs. Dyer. At present I do not have his address.

Mrs. Marvin Seeney spent Friday till Sunday in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Floyd's son was a visitor to the racetrack yesterday. Tommy Wingate an in and out visitor from Roxana.

What happened to Booty's new car? Who did he lend it to and kept it. His son, of course.

Mable and Jack Walters out taking in a little fresh air and then to the show.

Norris Adams has been very ill, but glad to see him out again. Was a visitor out to the track today.

Micky Workman decided she would rather work with the horses than elsewhere.

Sammy, who drives the Bond wagon out to the racetrack, is very popular with all the trailer homes. I wonder what is in his mind when every one wants something he doesn't have. But we all manage to buy something.

There are a lot of people who would like to know what goes on around the stable from morning till nite. Next week I will try and give the exact going on with the life of a race horse.

While returning from Florida, Mrs. William Swain stopped overnight with Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Whisnant, at Wadesboro, N. C. While there she visited the farm and, according to Mrs. Whisnant, struck up an acquaintance with Maxine's Kitty.

Tree Vitamins
A trace of iron, boron, zinc or manganese is as essential to the health of a tree as vitamins are to a human being. If these elements are deficient in the soil, a tree's life processes begin to slow down. One of the first manifestations is chlorosis, a yellowing of the leaves between the veins due to non-formation of the green pigment called chlorophyll.

Farm Panel To Discuss "Growing Dairy Calves"

A panel of dairy farmers will discuss the subject of "Growing Dairy Calves" at the annual Sussex County Dairy Feeding and Management School to be held in the Agricultural Center, Georgetown, February 20 and 21.

The panel made up of dairymen from all sections of the county will explain just how they raised their herd replacements and discuss the various problems encountered and how they have solved them.

Members of the panel will include: Earl Tull, Seaford; Wm. N. Hopkins, Lewes; Robbins Webb, Lincoln; Arthur Tatman, Greenwood; Dias Spicer, Ellendale, and Martin Johnson, Laurel.

Other subjects of interest to dairymen that will be discussed include pasture production, herd health, labor-saving suggestions and balancing rations.

The sessions will start each day at 10 a. m. and close at 3 p. m. A sandwich lunch will be served at noon.

All dairymen of the county are invited to attend.

Dairy Program Monday Night At High School

A special program on the subject of "Economic Milk Production Through a Complete Pasture Program," has been arranged for next Monday night at 7:30, at the Vo-Ag building in the Harrington High School. Mr. Kinderberger of the Pet Milk Company, at Greensboro, will show a series of colored slides on pastures in this area. This will be followed by a full length feature cowboy movie.

All farmers are cordially invited to attend. This is the first of two programs on Dairy Management scheduled. These gentlemen have appeared in previous years, and have a real story to unfold.

FFA Boys of Harrington High School Visit Purnal Friedel's Farm

Last Wednesday the FFA boys of Harrington High School visited Purnal Friedel's dairy herd near Viola. A man from Wisconsin, William Holbach, was classifying Mr. Friedel's herd for type on the Holstein-Friesian standards. The classifications are as follows:

90—100 per cent true type, excellent; 89 — 90 per cent true type, very good; 80—85 per cent true type, good plus; 75—80 per cent true type, good; 65—75 per cent true type, fair; below 65 per cent true type poor and cannot be registered.

The cows are scored for type using this score card:
General appearance 30%
Dairy character 20%
Body capacity 20%
Mammary system 30%
Total 100%

Allowances are made for animals due to age, physical condition, and state of lactation. Most of Mr. Friedel's cows were rated, as very good or good plus while we were there.

Mr. Friedel has two large bulls, one weighing about 2400 lbs. and the other 2600 lbs. He uses two silos, and keeps a large number of calves. He is milking about 40 cows daily at the present time.

Mr. Holbach and Dr. T. A. Baker, of the University of Delaware, explained the reasons for their placings to the assembled boys. They said that a herd is normally classified about every two years. For a cow to rate good plus or better, she must weigh at least 1300 lbs. when milking and thin, or 1500 lbs. when dry and in good condition. An animal may have her classification raised, but it is never lowered. So, young animals are usually classified lower in the hope that they may show up better in later years.

Chosen Friends Lodge No. 35

I. O. O. F.

Grand Master Cooper and staff of Amity Lodge, Camden, visited this lodge last Thursday evening, as did also the grand marshal and part of his staff from Hebron Lodge, Seaford. Some very interesting talks were made by members of these lodges.

Ralph Wilson and Orville Smith were given the first degree of the order by W. W. Wechtenhiser.

The Degree Committee is progressing in its efforts to form and to be ready to exemplify the second degree of the order in the near future.

The lodge has been progressing rapidly this term and has received several new members of the younger set about which more will be heard soon.

The dartball team, of Amity Lodge, challenged our team to two interesting games at this meeting. We won the first, 3-0, and Camden won the second, 5-1. There were no outstanding plays in either game but a lot of fun was had by both sides.

Refreshments were enjoyed by all and we have a good standing in this dartball tournament and we hope to be at the top of the league at the end of the season.

A bill to eliminate the use of engine numbers on the engines of commercial vehicles for identification purposes was approved, as was also a bill permitting automobile transports a height clearance of 13 feet, 6 inches. In addition, the association went on record in favor of legislation that would establish one fund for money derived from highway uses such as gas tax and license fees and the non-diversion of highway funds. It also approved a measure about to be presented making more equitable the registration fees incident to motor equipment operated by diesel power as compared to that operated by the regular type of gasoline motor.

Trucks Meet Emergency
It was revealed at the meeting that for the second time within a year the trucking industry had commendably met a national transportation emergency. The reports submitted showed that here on the peninsula trucks had played a big part in supplying sorely needed feed for the poultry industry, thus saving thousands of dollars for the owners of the poultry as well as food for the consumer. It was also revealed by and with the co-operation of the Interstate Commerce Commission trucks had been called upon to transport meats in large quantities from the State of Iowa to eastern cities. In some sections of the country postal authorities found it necessary to call on trucks to transport the mails. One of the directors announced that to the best of his knowledge the trucking industry had never instituted or participated in a nation-wide transportation tie-up.

Parks Reviews H.B.B.A. Activities Since Founding
John Parks, secretary of the Harrington Better Business Association, reviewed the activities of the group since its founding in September, 1947, at the first dinner meeting of the organization Thursday evening at the Wonder Bar. Some thirty persons heard Parks tell of the Christmas programs, sponsored by the group with the aid of other civic bodies; a rat eradication campaign, and the erection of municipal identification signs on U. S. 13. Parks, operator of Harrington Milling Company, also said the business association had helped to keep the Ace Manufacturing Company in town after its threatened removal in 1949.

Getting back to the signs, he said they were in bad condition and that they were being repaired and painted by the milling company at no cost to the business group. Charles Peck, treasurer, said that the Christmas program had cost approximately $668 and that a surplus remained to be used next Yuletide. President Samuel A. Short Jr. told of the plans for industrial expansion of Newark, Middletown, Delmar, and Smyrna and stressed the need for more local industries. He also recited the requirements. Sidney Burtman, of the American Legion, told of that group's activities on auxiliary police work for civil defense. Burtman said a police training school was under way that would last 20 weeks and that two meetings, held Tuesday evenings, had been held. He urged that more persons take part in this work. He stated that current security groups, such as the firemen and the police, would not be available for auxiliary groups. A nominating committee will be appointed and officers of the business association will be elected at a dinner meeting in March, with the exact date being divulged later.

COMMISSION ON REORGANIZATION OF THE STATE GOVERNMENT
High school students of Delaware are undertaking the study of the report of the Commission of Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the State Government. The report, only available textbook on State Government in Delaware, was prepared by Grifenhagen and Associates, noted firm of government analysts. Dr. George R. Miller, Jr. announced the approval of the state board of education, and Dr. Ward I. Miller of the Wilmington School board announced joint participation in this study of government in action. Col. E. Ennals Berl, executive committee chairman stated that, for the first time in memory, a study of current reform in any state government is being considered on every level of adult thought. Widespread use of press, radio and television will complete a cycle of information, planned to encourage widespread thinking on every level.

Among separate bills to be introduced as part of the reorganization plan, will be those dealing with the proposed Department of Education, and the Department of Military Affairs. The plans to be considered will combine the activities of three existing agencies for Education, and two agencies and offices for the Department of Military Affairs.

In the basic classification of state function listed early in this report, there is only one listing for "education." However, it is proposed that higher education be continued separately in the University of Delaware.

Otherwise, the department of education would serve as the state educational agency. In this, it would be the successor to the present state board of education with a few added functions. Specifically, the department would be assigned those functions now assigned to the State Board of Education, the Library Commission for the State of Delaware, and the State Board of Vocational Education.

A new state board of education would be composed of seven members appointed by the governor with senate confirmation for four years overlapping terms. These members would be lay members. The board would head the department and would appoint the superintendent of public instruction. The board should be strictly a policy-making and approval board and should hold its executive officer (superintendent) fully responsible for carrying out its responsibilities and making effective the policies of the board.

The problems of higher education in Delaware are quite separate and apart from the problems generally under consideration by the commission. They require further specialized study. Hence no recommendations are made for any change in the University of Delaware or the Delaware State College.

The proposed department of military affairs would have the functions now assigned to the Delaware National Guard and the State Military Board. This department would be headed by the adjutant general, appointed by the governor with the confirmation of the Senate. Its internal organization would not be changed.

Because of the heavy subsidy received from the federal government and the accompanying inspections and regulations to which the guard is subjected by the federal government, through the federal national guard bureau and second army headquarters, the Delaware National Guard has a status unlike that of any other agency of the state government. Independent of these considerations, there are unique elements in the components of the internal organization units, which consist of a fighter plane squadron, anti-aircraft artillery units, an ordnance company, and a band. Even the training periods occur during "off-shift" hours in evenings and on weekends. Field training is staged in a two-week summer encampment.

Such a pattern does not lend itself to mergers, split-offs, separation of functions or other reorganization devices except, perhaps, insofar as the state guard may assist by information, advice, co-operation, and participation in the state civil defense plan proposed to be developed by the department of public safety.

This department would require no change in the existing pattern of the functions assigned to the Delaware National Guard. The addition of the functions of the state military board would have little effect since the commander-in-chief, the adjutant general, and the ranking field officer are the members of the board.
