

Legionnaires, Beat St. Mary's, Georgetown Loses

The Legionnaires basketball team sprang a surprise Monday evening when it trounced the highly regarded St. Mary's five, 66-47, in a March of Dimes game at the Dover Field House.

Some 650 fans, who contributed more than $600 to the Kent County polo fund, saw Harrington take the highly touted CYO leaders whose roster included such stars as Hatz and Hirwanko, both of whom played for the Legionnaires some seasons back.

Marshall, perennial leader of the CYO individual scoring race, topped the point producers with 22, with his sharpshooting keeping St. Mary's from being even more soundly trounced by Harrington's fourth-place club, which was paced by Clayton Downes' 20 points.

St. Hedwig's Danny Wilson turned in a 20-point performance in the victory over Georgetown. Ed Conaway and Joe Griffith had 17 and 10 points, respectively, for Georgetown.

Earl Sylvester, chairman of the Kent County March of Dimes drive, presented certificates of merit to the participating teams and to Tuck Mulrooney, CYO program director, and Richard Dykes, president of the Eastern Shore League.

The Legionnaires have but a few games to play to finish the season. The team will visit Salisbury Monday and Georgetown, Thurs., March 1. The local quint will play makeup games at Salisbury and with Denton here at undecided dates.

The athletic forces of Harrington High School handed Felton High a double-barreled defeat before a large crowd at the local gym last Friday night. The Harrington girls won their first victory over high school opposition in over five years when they upset the Felton lassies, 33-24.

The boys reversed a previous defeat at the hands of Felton with an easy 41-28 victory over their rivals. Harrington led throughout with Felton never coming closer than six points after the opening minutes of the first quarter.

Crippled Children's Numbers Increase

The State Board of Health is interested in providing adequate services for the crippled children of this state. An act has been introduced into the General Assembly to furnish these increased services. The size of the problem can be estimated by contrasting the help rendered to this handicapped group in 1949 and 1950.

No. of children on crippled children's register, 1632 in 1949 and 2443 in 1950. No. of visits to clinics, 2887 in 1949 and 3004 in 1950. No. of children given care, 865 in 1949 and 1051 in 1950. An 18 per cent increase in the number of children given care requires funds, and new cases are being added all the time—cases that haven't been brought to the division in the past, and newly developed conditions. Helping crippled children to new lives in which they can realize a full and important life is one of the important objectives of the State Board of Health.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

Mrs. Harry Stout's father has had another stroke, so her return from Albany, N. Y. is not definite. All her friends out at the raceway wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Nathan, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was a visitor to the Ellis Myer stable this week.

Ralph Satterfield's dog, Cookie, named after the trainer and driver, Cookie, died from poisoning this week. Cookie was buried in their yard, beside Orphy, the family cat, and Buddy, the Boston bull dog.

Jimmy Workman and wife, Mickey, both have been ill. However, Jimmy is back on the job, but Mickey at the time of this writing is still under care of the doctor. Come on Mickey you can't afford to be that way this time of year. With all those horses. Fuzzy Tail is wondering where you are.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bowers spent yesterday in Philadelphia. The doctor is very much pleased with Mr. Bowers' eye. A wonderful part of it is he won't lose the sight of it.

As I was strolling through he and Dr. Fowler's stable I listed these horses in the barn. For Mr. Bowers, Letha York, Acol Dillon, Fruity Bohemia, Royal Bohemia, Alma Bohemia, a pacer, 3 years old; Judge Bohemia, and Donald Bohemia.

For Dr. Fowler from Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Marselle The Best, Henry St. Guy, Dama Lee, Dama Don, Meredine and De Merit.

Here are some horses that will bear watching when the races start.

Mrs. Gray (Happy) to her friends, received a telegram yesterday that her father in Lewisville, Me., had died from a heart attack. All the horsemen extend their sympathy in her time of grief.

Mrs. Ellis Myer and Mrs. Edwin Myer would like to thank the horsemen and their wives for their contribution to the March of Dimes. Doris and Betty report that this $56 is the largest donation that has been collected since they started out at the race track. Up until this year the horsemen would donate just anything.

Was over to chat with Mrs. Dumont, and what I can't understand is they have an Admiral television set that don't have a large outdoor aerial or no booster and yet she gets 3 channels. How is it done?

Al Chickering, of Saratoga Springs, was a visitor of Mr. Dumont on his way to Orlando, Fla.

Among the horses Mr. Dumont has in his stable are: Desmond Hanover, pacer, 2:06.2; Wake Abbey, trofter, 2:04; Ohio Boy, green colt, that was very frail last year. Was turned out by Mrs. Dumont says he is a very promising colt this year. Also has Hurley Hanover. All aged horses going along nicely.

Mrs. Edwin Myer's own horse is very ill at this writing. Dr. Locke gave her the information that he has lockjaw. Doris says, seems every thing happens to her. But every one has a lot of faith in Dr. Locke and I know he will do his very best to pull him through.

Take a little stray dog someone was so nice to drop out at the track, that had a bad case of mange, Dr. Locke and Mr. Rogers out here took the little fellow in and today he is well and has a good home. Thanks to Dr. Locke and Mr. Rogers. So I'm sure he will save Doris' horse if possible.

Mrs. Louise Enslin spent the past week visiting her son, Harvey, who is working for Jean Bell, at the Butternut Farm, Silver Creek, N. Y. This is the farm where the famous Wee Laird is in stud. I asked a simple question out here, the truth I only wish are all the fishermen liars, or all liars fishermen? You know who I mean. (What a big fish).

A surprise birthday party was given for Harry Craig on his 44th birthday by his wife, Kay. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Pete Losse, Lindsay McVey and wife; Tony Collins, Benny Morrison, Jim Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hamblin, Murle Vanderwende and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tucker, from the Chicken Basket, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jerreard, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan, Shep and two of his many girl friends, J. C. McKevelly, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sargent from Ocean Downes Raceway, Ann Smith, of Yonkers, N. Y.; Benny Moore and wife; Mary Glanville, Fred Bailey, (Continued on Page 8)

Herrmann in Court of General Sessions Monday afternoon to three years' imprisonment for the shotgun wounding of his estranged wife, Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Farrow, at the home where she was living with her children near Viola on the night of Nov. 21.

Farrow entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault and battery on Jan. 19, when sentence was deferred until Monday. Mrs. Farrow on Friday was granted a decree nisi of divorce on grounds of desertion in Superior Court. She still is without use of her hand which was struck by the shot.

Three men and a woman were indicted by the 1951 grand jury, which sat for the first time Monday, as follows:

Paul Wilkes, charged with larceny of an automobile from a filling station at Harrington, where it was stopped last Dec. 20. Wilkes, halted by a bullet fired by a state police officer, crashed into a house below Dover before being arrested, according to allegations.

Robert O'Neal, 22, near Clayton, and Helen Nickerson, 23, Middletown, charged with larceny of an automobile of Elmer Passwaters, Middletown, from a parking lot in Smyrna on Jan. 15. Later that night, it is alleged, the couple was arrested by Maryland police on charges of breaking into a taproom, store, and summer home in the Chestertown area.

Edward Thompson, charged with desertion of his wife and two minor children, one three months old and the other ten years.

C. R. Dempsey, Dover, was named by the court as foreman of the grand jury and Robert L. Frazier, Dover, was selected by the jury as its secretary.

Chosen Friends Lodge No. 35

Felton Lodge members visited Chosen Friends Lodge last Thursday evening and witnessed two interesting games of darts ball played by our team and the hard slugging Milford team of Crystal Fount Lodge, our team winning the first game, 3 to 0; Milford winning the second one, 5 to 1.

George Tatman, the most handsome member of our team, with his winsome ways and sportmanship playing, made several good plays in the first game.

W. R. Wechtenhiser was reported not feeling well enough to attend the game and his smiling face and cheery "hello" was missed by all. Several members were absent for this meeting and they were also missed.

Leon Porter conferred the second degree of the lodge on Ralph Wilson and Orville Smith in the absence of Mr. Wechtenhiser.

Sam Short told the lodge of the need for men to be trained for the auxiliary police for the protection of Harrington, should the need ever arise. He stated that a probability of an air attack or a bombing raid was possible as we were only a short distance from the shore line, or, as stated by the director of the school that is giving the course, in the event of an air raid or bombing attack in Wilmington or Philadelphia, or even as far as New York, the refugees who would lose their homes and other possessions would leave the cities and move down into our territories and we would not know how to cope with the situation if we were not trained for this purpose.

He asked for volunteers to meet at the Legion Home to receive this training.

J. O. U. A. M. Members Attend Booster Meeting Several members of Council No. 4 Junior Order United American Mechanics attended the February meeting of the Booster Association of the lodge at Seaford Monday night.

Present were G. W. Swain and E. Harriet, former state councilors, and Carl Lewis and George Graham, local past councilors, all of Harrington, and Charles Sharp and A. Devonshire, past state councilors, of Wilmington.

There will be a state-wide initiation at Georgetown Sat., March 17, by the crack Washington (D. C.) degree team.

Detective Burrell "Tim" McCoy, of the Delaware State Police, told members of the auxiliary police unit of the Harrington civil defense program "that the police require a public relations program." The former Harrington resident added that policeman has to do a lot of things beside his duty.

To illustrate the point, he said the state police give reports on weather and road conditions, and even serve as messengers.

The local unit of the civil police unit is growing constantly. Additional members, entering the school Tuesday night at the Legion Home, were C. J. Jarrell (a military policeman in World Wars I and II), Sam Denny, Woodrow W. Welch, Lawrence Donovan, Nathan Pearson, Harlow Myer, Fred Gunner, Solomon Anderson, and Watson Scott.

Edward Armour, Vaughn Warren, Francis Simpson, Ira Scott, and W. E. Manlove, all of Houston, are "catching up" here before attending the Milford School, their regular unit, which is more advanced in its training program.

The school, a 20-week course, will be held next Tuesday at the firehouse because the Legion Home will be staging a dinner and a "mortgage burning."

Roland O'Day, co-ordinator for Kent County Civil Police, was present Tuesday night and assisted Det. McCoy in the program.

There are still vacancies in the local police unit. Applicants should contact C. H. Burgess, civil defense director; William Humes, security group head; Charles Tatman, head of the police unit; Samuel A. Short, Jr., deputy of the unit, or any member.

Dover has decided not to sponsor the chicken festival this year. However, next year will be election year.

The care of tuberculosis patients in this state, by far the poorest in the Union, is mixed up in a political wrangle just as it has been for years. In the meantime, many innocent people are dying.

A little girl in Atlanta, Georgia, afflicted with an incurable disease, voiced the hope that she would receive a valentine. The newspapers gave her hope publicity. The last report we had she had received 212,000 valentines and more were pouring into Atlanta day by day, by far the largest volume of mail in all Atlanta's history.

THE MIRACLE OF A THAW

A few weeks ago a woman was found frozen in Chicago. She was rushed to a hospital in what the doctors said was a fruitless attempt to revive her. Her body temperature was in the sixties, and no one with a temperature like that had ever survived, they said.

Still there is the Oath of Hippocrates; still there is the noble urge to strive, to save—and these physicians and nurses went about their duties. Medical science was amazed when the woman began to improve. Nothing like this had ever occurred before, but it was happening before their very eyes.

Can't a lesson be learned from this—or is it too late? You, who all these years have erected a barrier of ice around your sacred person; you, who in your hauteur or crudeness—both may mean the same—have worn the cloak of self-imposed superiority, try, before it is too late, the thawing out process.

You, who have nursed every nickle you ever grabbed since you were weaned; you, whose heart has a temperature much lower than the sixties, even much lower than zero in your treatment of your less fortunate brothers; you to whom society, community spirit and patriotic zeal mean nothing—try thawing out just for one time. Too long has the milk of human kindness remained concealed in your varicose or very close veins.

THE VALUE OF THE DICTIONARY

Educators all over America seemed stunned by the scant knowledge of history of the college students and their inability to spell. The inability to spell can prove disastrous in many ways. In a nearby town a man opened up a restaurant. His building was one of the most imposing in town and it was scrubbed and polished until it glittered.

The man called his place "The Public Restaurant." He hired a sign painter and told him to paint this name in huge letters in front of the building. The proprietor was called out of town for a couple of weeks. When he returned at night, he was astounded when his help told him they had done very little business during his absence.

Those specifically mentioned in the report of the commission are: The Delaware Commission for the Blind, Delaware Commission for the Feeble-Minded, Delaware Colony and the State Board of Welfare.

Other functions which the department of health and welfare would have under the proposed plan would include the supervision of juvenile and adult probation programs which would continue to be administered through existing probation departments attached to local courts.

In relation to the continued use by the state of the facilities of the Woods Haven School for Girls which is operated by a 17 member board including three members appointed by the Governor and 14 self-perpetuating members, it is necessary that some agreement be worked out between the state and the board whereby the school would be operated as a part of the proposed department of health and welfare.

Social Security Queries Answered

Questions relating to Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance will be answered in this paper or by mail. Address all queries to Social Security Administration, Old Customs House Building, 6th & King Streets, Wilmington, Del. Q. I went to the Social Security Administration not long ago to get an account number card. In filling out the application, I had to give my date of birth. Can some inquisitive person get that information about me?

A. No indeed. All such information is held confidential and will be given to no one, not even representatives of other departments of the government, except as required for the proper administration of the insurance provisions of the Social Security Act. Q. What is Old-Age and Survivors Insurance?

A. It is a government insurance program to provide a monthly income for workers and their families when the worker retires at 65 or later and for his family when he dies. Q. I am fully insured under social security since I have worked in employment covered by the social security law for more than 10 years and have at least forty calendar quarters of coverage to my credit. I have quit my job since getting married last month. Upon reaching age 65, will I receive benefits from my own social security as well as benefits from my husband's?

A. No. You will receive the benefit which is larger of the two and not both. Normally a wife receives one-half of her husband's benefit. However, if she is entitled to more under her own record, then she will receive that amount.

Veterans Taking On-Farm Training To Report Earnings By March 1, 1951

Veterans taking GI Bill institutional on-farm training were reminded today by the Veterans Administration that reports of their 1950 earnings must be submitted to their V-A regional offices by March 1, 1951.

Failure to submit the reports by the deadline, V-A warned, may result in suspension of subsistence payments until such time as the reports reach V-A.

The earning reports—covering only income from productive labor for the calendar year 1950—serve a double purpose, V-A said. First, they are used by V-A as the basis for adjusting each veteran's subsistence for the current year (1951).

And second, they are part of the veteran's course of instruction in farm accounting, thus giving him the opportunity to put into practice what he learns in the classroom.

In the case of a veteran operating a farm for himself under the GI Bill training program, income from productive labor is computed by deducting from his yearly net farm income these two items: (1) the interest on his capital investments and (2) an amount for unpaid family labor.

He then adds an estimated value for items of family living furnished by the farm. Net farm income is derived from the difference between inventories at the beginning and end of the year and from a detailed account of all receipts and expenditures in connection with the veteran's farm business.

A veteran taking his training from an employer-trainer reports as compensation from productive labor all wages received, whether in cash or in kind.

Farm trainees received necessary V-A forms (form No. 7-1922) early this year.

Generally, farm trainees will receive assistance from their instructors in closing their books for the past year, and in transferring data to the V-A form.

Nearly 300,000 veteran-farmers, all currently in training, will be required to submit the reports, V-A said.

Virginia Travel Council to Distribute Pamphlet About Delmarva Peninsula

A specially prepared four page pamphlet advertising the Delmarva Peninsula is soon to be distributed through part of Maryland and several northern states by the Virginia Travel Council, according to Edgar T. Bennett, president and general manager of Red Star Motor Coaches, Inc.

Emphasis, of course, will be on Virginia because distribution is being handled by a Virginia organization but, according to Mr. Bennett, the balance of the shore will benefit as well. Preparation of the folder and similar material is by Red Star's Department of Public Relations.

The Virginia Travel Council is nationally recognized for its work in the tourist field and is credited with a major hand in directing thousands of vacationers to the Old Dominion State.

Artificial Cows

Boost Milk Production

Sixty-five per cent of the cows sired through the Delaware ABA exceeded their dams in milk production, butterfat test, and total fat production during 1950.

In 106 dam and daughter comparisons, the average production of the daughters was 494 pounds more milk than that of the dams, and 30 pounds more butterfat.

These facts came out in a new summary of lactation records reported to the ABA for 1950, prepared by R. J. Bacon, department of animal and poultry industry at the University of Delaware. Only daughters resulting from artificial breeding were included in the summary, Bacon points out.

The study was prepared to find out what influence the artificial breeding program has had on the improvement of dairy production in Delaware by more use of superior sires.

Government Wants

Twin Holstein Calves

"Dairy scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are looking for purebred or high grade identical twin Holstein heifer calves. These identical twin calves are needed for dairy nutrition studies at the Agricultural Research Center at Beltsville, Md.," said Bill Tarbell, county agricultural agent.

The research workers would like to get the calves from places as close to Beltsville as possible, said Tarbell, so that they can make a complete examination before buying, and to save shipping expense.

Holstein breeders in New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Virginia, Ohio, and West Virginia, who think they have identical twin Holstein heifer calves should write to E. C. Lefel, Bureau of Dairy Industry, U. S. D. A., Beltsville, Md.

The University of Maryland, College Park, Md., is looking for identical twin heifers of other breeds. An the Bureau of Animal Industry at Beltsville is looking for pairs of identical twin bull or steer beef calves for use in experiments. They prefer male calves of Aberdeen Angus, Hereford, or Shorthorn breeds, but can use grades or crossbreeds of these three.

Identical twins are especially desirable for research because they have the same inherited characteristics, and under similar conditions they stay the same. But if their environments are changed, any difference will be due to this change, so scientists can make more definite conclusions in a shorter length of time.

Dover Tomato

Winners Tell How

As part of the Farm and Home Week program, Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware, gave the results of a survey of the 65 ten-ton tomato winners in the 1950 contest.

This survey listed the methods used by the winners in fertilizing, dates of planting, spacing, varieties used, spray program, and rotations, said Kent County Agricultural Agent Tarbell.

William Konischak of Dover, second prize winner in the small acreage class of the 1950 Ten Ton Tomato Contest, has an excellent soil fertility program, said Tarbell. Konischak produced 20.6 tons of tomatoes per acre under this program.

Red clover as a cover crop, with eight tons of manure added organic matter to the soil. Konischak used 800 pounds of 8-16-16 before planting, plus 200 pounds as a sidedressing to add plant food. By using starter solution at transplanting, he helped the plants get a good start sooner.

William H. Richter also of Dover, was the second prize winner in the large acreage class with 19.2 tons per acre. He used similar soil fertility practices, said Stevens.

Keeping up soil fertility was very important in producing last year's high yields, said Tarbell, county agent. All of the winners rotated their tomatoes with other crops. Cover crops were plowed under by 74 per cent of the ten-ton growers. Rye was the most popular cover crop.

One-third of the winners had a legume in their cover crop. The use of manure was also a factor in getting high yields, from the standpoint of adding fertility and keeping the soil in good physical condition, according to Tarbell. Seventy-seven per cent of the winners used manure, poultry or pound manure, or both.

County Agricultural Security Committee Formed

William E. Tarbell, Kent County agricultural agent, announced this week that an Agricultural Security Committee has been formed in Kent County.

The committee is one of three, one in each county, which has been organized by farmers and agricultural agencies to deal with problems of mobilization and defense. It's immediate function is one of education — letting farm people know how Selective Service, including mobilization and defense regulations, would apply to them; and how they could make their greatest contributions to these efforts.

George C. Simpson of Houston, is chairman of the Kent County committee. Other members are: George Bringham, Charles Clendaniels, H. Clifford Clark, Joseph McClements, R. Harry Wilson, W. E. Tarbell.

The group represents the Grange, Farm Bureau, the D. P. I. A., and the P. M. A. It also represents the major types of farming in the county.

The security committee will have complete information for farm boys who are eligible for selective service.

Program For Vegetable

Growers Meeting Announced

The program for the two-day vegetable growers' meeting to be held in the Fire Hall, Laurel, Feb. 28 and March 1, has been announced by William H. Henderson, Sussex county agent.

Sponsored jointly by the Southern Truck Growers' Association, the Broadcreek Grange and the extension service, the meeting will offer vegetable growers an opportunity to hear the latest reports on research and to participate in discussions on timely subjects relative to vegetable growing.

The morning session Wed., Feb. 28, will be devoted to the theme, "A Soil Fertility Program for Vegetable Growers."

The use of poultry manure, green manure, crops, lime and other soil fertility building practices, will be discussed.

The afternoon session will be given over to subjects dealing with "Growing Truck Crops." Varieties to grow, planting dates and distances, recommended fertilizers and methods of applying, and weed control with chemicals will be featured.

Thursday morning's program will be on the subject of "The Manpower Situation for Vegetable Growers." Representatives of Selective Service, Delaware Employment Service, and the Social Security Office will discuss the manpower situation from their respective standpoints.

"Disease and Insect Control" will be the highlight of the Thursday afternoon session. During this session, a program for disease and insect control will be outlined from the standpoint of what to use, when to use them and how to apply them for effective results.

A sandwich lunch will be served each day for the convenience of those attending. All vegetable growers are invited to attend.

Speed-up in Soil Conservation Urged, Says County Agent

"The importance of soil conservation to national defense was emphasized recently in a report by H. H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service," said Howard Boggs, soil conservation service agent, this week.

Bennett feels that the job of applying basic soil conservation measures to all the nation's farm-lands can be completed in the next 20 years. So far, 18.6 per cent of the job has been done and recorded. That is about one-fifth of the total job. The Soil Conservation Service sets as its goal, completion of at least four per cent of the remaining job during each of the next three years.

Farmers interested in soil conservation practices for their farms should get in touch with Howard Boggs, County Soil Conservation Service, or William E. Tarbell, county agricultural agent.

Supplemental Irrigation

Can Pay in Delaware

"Although Delaware has between 40 and 50 inches of rain each year, crops often suffer from dry spells because of the uneven distribution throughout the year. Too often, there are dry spells in spring and fall," said Bill Tarbell, Kent County agricultural agent.

"Irrigation pays off when it is used because it is an insurance against crop loss, it results in top yields and improved quality, there is less chance of delayed ripening or stunted plants, and the land can be kept in better physical condition," he continued.

Several Delaware crops that are successful under irrigation are early potatoes, bush beans, strawberries, cauliflower, and cucumbers.

A farmer who has used irrigation successfully in Kent County is Frank Zimmerman of Dover. He has used irrigation on potatoes.

Sprinkling is the most practical method of supplemental irrigation. Lightweight tubing can be used, it requires no leveling or ditching, it keeps erosion to a minimum and can be handled by unskilled labor. Less water can be used this way, and still be effective.

The most widely used system, with portable pipes and rotating heads, can be adapted to almost any crop.

If you want information on the possibilities of an irrigation set-up for your farm, see your county agricultural agent.

The samples she brought to demonstrate her lecture were interesting and the members of the group showed a definite interest in the work.

The attendance was good with 12 members present and three visitors.

Sussex County Tomato

Winners Tell How

As part of the Farm and Home Week program, Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware, gave the results of a survey of the 65 ten-ton tomato winners in the 1950 contest.

This survey listed the methods used by the winners in fertilizing, dates of planting, spacing, varieties used, spray program, and rotations, said William H. Henderson, county agricultural agent.

Walter L. Sirman, Seaford, the winner in the 3.8 acre class, with 20.7 tons per acre, used good soil fertility practices to get this high yield, said Henderson.

An application of five tons of poultry manure on the cover crop was plowed under before planting. Sirman drilled in 1200 pounds of 5-10-10 before planting and used a starter solution. He applied a sidedressing of 300 pounds of 5-10-10.

C. J. Smith of Bridgeville, third prize winner with 19.1 tons per acre, had a similar soil fertility program but both stable and poultry manure were used.

Harvey Henry, Laurel, O. A. Newton, of Bridgeville; Edwin Williams, Seaford; J. Paul Hastings, Seaford; Alfred Corey, Bridgeville; Clinton Hastings, of Bridgeville, and the many other farmers in this area used manure or a cover crop, fertilizer, sidedressing and starter solutions to help produce their ten-ton yields, said Stevens.

Keeping up soil fertility was very important in producing last year's high yields. All of the winner rotated their tomatoes with other crops. Cover crops were plowed under by 74 per cent of the ten-ton growers. Rye was the most popular cover crop.

One-third of the winners had a legume in their cover crop. The use of manure was also a factor in getting high yields, from the standpoint of adding fertility and keeping the soil in good physical condition. Seventy-seven per cent of the winners used manure, poultry or pound manure, or both.

The kind of commercial fertilizer used was usually 5-10-10 or 8-16-16, and some 4-8-12 in the southern part of the state. Methods of supplying varied. Seventy-eight per cent of the winners sidedressed once, nine growers sidedressed twice and two sidedressed three times.

re-dyeing prints
Is it possible to re-dye printed fabrics? Yes, and the result often creates a highly desirable color effect. The print design, however, cannot be removed and will show through even when dyed black. Darker dye-colors are recommended by the bureau, therefore, so as to subordinate the original print pattern as much as possible.

Storing Sweetpotatoes
Store only sound, disease-free potatoes. The first step is to thoroughly clean the house and fumigate it along with all used crates by burning one pound of sulphur for each 1,000 cubic feet of storage space. The house should be made as tight as possible, and it must remain shut up for 24 hours.

Felton School Wins Kent-Sussex County Attendance Banner
For the second successive month the Felton School has won the Kent-Sussex County attendance banner. The attendance average for January was 95.5 per cent, but it is feared that there will be a serious drop in attendance this month because of extensive illness throughout all grades.

School Creed Framed
A beautifully framed copy of the Creed of Felton High School has been hung in the central hall. The creed was written by the Felton Student Council. It is a statement of standards of conduct which each pupil will strive to attain.

Queen of Hearts Elected by Students
On February 17 the Kent County Student Council held a Queen of Hearts dance in the Dover Social Hall.
Each school selected a queen of hearts who was then crowned by their respective vice-presidents. Rosalie Hughes was chosen the Felton queen.
Fine dance music was supplied by the dance bands of Smyrna and Dover.

Junior Class Holds Valentine Party
The eleventh grade held a party February 14 at Marie Brittingham's. Those in attendance were: Margaret Hobbs, Barbara Hurd, Janet Sylvester, Eloise Anthony, Mildred Simpson, Elsie Schreiber, Marie Brittingham, Doris Ann Cahall, Miss Clark, Miss Rinehart, Billy Chambers, Kenneth Richter, Samuel Walters, Harry Carlisle, Louis Palmatory, and Harry Sipple. Milford Nips Felton
On Tuesday evening the Bucs from Milford High nosed out the Green Devils from Felton High, 44-40. Although outscoring the visitors only in the second quarter by a score of 13 to 3, this proved enough for Milford to take the game. However, Felton closed fast early in the last quarter and moved in front of the Bucs, but three quick baskets by Milford changed the lead. Dave Burton lead the Bucs with 17 points while Ted Hughes had a like number for Felton.

The Felton girls lost to the Milford girls with a score of 23-38.
On Tues., Feb. 20, the seniors of Felton High went to the Reese Theatre in Harrington. There they were entertained by one of Shakespeare's greatest tragedies, Macbeth. The movie was very educational and was enjoyed by all. Miss Elsie Mae Clark, the English teacher, was the chaperon.

Watson Has Old Court Records; Found in Georgetown Attic

Len Wilson, clerk at the railroad station, has a hobby of collecting old manuscripts and newspapers. Included in his collection are a copy of the Sunbury Daily Item, of Wed., Feb. 5, 1931, and The Evening Item, Mon., Nov. 18, 1889, of Philadelphia.
Court records include the criminal docket for the April term, 1852, of Sussex County; the court docket of Sussex County, April, 1855, and a Lewes and Rehoboth Transfer Book, 1819 to March 1820. The last-named book is a record of property transfers.
All the above papers and documents were found about 1936 in a Georgetown attic and given to Mr. Watson. The railroad clerk said he had other docket books and newspapers back to the 18th century, but that he had lost them in moving from Georgetown to Harrington.
The transfer book was in charge of the assessor for Lewes and Rehoboth hundred, Robert West. When he wrote a double "ss" the first "s" resembled an "f." The book also recorded taxes.
For Example, "Daniel Brereton his Poll Tax $160; George Bowers Removed In from BK hundred $134; Henry Brereton, Attained to the Age of 21 years $180."
Some of the names mentioned in the book were: Abraham Finch, off the list removed out of state; Mary Field, Thomas Harmonson; Jeremiah Hallowell, removed out to Dagsbury; Timothy Martin, Patience Newcomb; Nathaniel Milby; James Paynter; David Prettyman; Shepard Pride, removed in from Broadkill Hundred; Thomas Stokely; John Steward.
The criminal docket for 1852 was written by William Hitch, clerk of the peace. However, the cases in it went back to 1848, when one Lewes S. Jefferson was

Sometimes Good Intentions Aren't Enough

That fire at the Griffin place didn't do much damage last week, but Volunteer Chief Murphy was pretty angry about it. Spoke to some of us over dinner and a bottle of beer.
"Griffin's farm is a good mile from town," he said. "And by the time we'd dodged all the people on the highway who were going to watch, we hadn't a minute to waste."
"Then blamed if those sight-seers hadn't parked cars right in Griffin's driveway and there was a mob of people milling around the house—just gawking. Joe, tell folks a fire's no sideshow. Ask 'em to think of the other fellow!"
From where I sit, some of us need to be reminded occasionally that even though our intentions are good we may be unfairly interfering. Whether it's blocking the right-of-way of fire equipment or criticizing a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer now and then—the American Way is to give way, and give the other fellow his fair "share of the road!"

HOW TO BE THE "SALT OF THE EARTH" on Party-Line Telephones

THE DIAMOND STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY

When you treat your party-line neighbors with courtesy and consideration, you soon win an A-1 reputation as a good party-line neighbor. What's more, you'll find that your courtesies are returned...and this means good service for everyone on the line!

Two Brief Suggestions: On finding the line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call. And when, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up in a few minutes and free the line. Party-line courtesy is easy. And it pays big dividends!

As one day supersedes another, and is placed upon the dusty shelf of eternity, our thoughts turn towards spring with its bright promises of warm days and pleasantly cool evenings. We can almost see the beautiful flowers blooming in all their splendid glory and can almost hear the chirping and twittering of the robins as they dip their strong wings and fly noisily through the tree tops. Spring will bring a gentle breeze which will sweep downward from the clear blue sky and sway the dancing leaves and rustle the deep green grass. A cool shower will sometimes dampen the dry, brown earth to add fresh beauty to the bright flowers and the soft green leaves. Indeed, there is plenty of room for continuous rejoicing in our hearts which would make it so easy to brush away the ill-feeling that we sometimes have for others and just thank God for the happiness that He has given us.

United States Senator J. Allen Frear said today that the number of American troops to be stationed in Europe should be determined by our military authorities.

In his weekly statement, the Senator declared that the strengthening of our present combat forces on the continent is necessary and desirable, but the number and type of military units can be more accurately decided upon by our military commanders.

Mr. Frear said there is apprehension on the part of some members of Congress lest United States forces in Europe be overcome by much larger Russian armies in the event of war. "No one will deny that this is a risk which we face in maintaining defense units on the continent."

However, the Senator pointed out that we have spent billions of dollars through the Marshall Plan and other aid programs to return Western Europe to a self-sustaining basis. "I am sure," Senator Frear said, "that no one wishes us to risk the loss of the continent at this critical time through inadequate defense. Congress, as the representative body of the American people, should be consulted on the troop question."
