The rules for the 1951 contest, contest dates, and deadlines, were announced this week by the contest committee, a subcommittee of the State Committee for the Chicken of Tomorrow. A. E. Tomhave, of the University of Delaware, is head of the state organ-

Purpose of the contest is to encourage boys and girls to follow recommended practices of successful poultry raising, and to focus attention on the importance of more, superior meat-type chickens.

Delmar Youth Outstanding In Club Work

Outstanding leadership in club and community brought state honors to Edward Workman, 21, of Delmar.

A 4-H'er for 10 years, Edward has contributed much to the 4-H program in Sussex County. He has been president and junior leader of his club for four years and president of the county organization for two.

He built up the membership of his club from six to 34 members. One of the club's most successful projects was landscaping the church lawn. This led to many new 4-H members. Edward has consistently helped and encouraged younger members with their projects, also with transportation to club meetings. He now has three scholarships for judging field crops. Edward attended National 4-H Camp at Washington, D. C., last year.

A handsome gold watch, appropriately inscribed, was presented to Edward by Edward Foss Wilson, president of Wilson and Company, meat packers ,of Chicago, for his standing in the national 4-H Leadership contest.

Story of Oleomargarine

Napoleon III, who offered a prize in 1870 for the best butter substitute that could be produced in France, was in large part responsible for the first extensive manufacture of the product. Originally made from beef fat, margarine now is derived principally from the fats and oils of plants. The buttery flavor is obtained from milk which is treated with lactic acid bacteria -the same bacteria which gives butter its distinctive taste. Margarine today is custom-built to keep up with nutritional progress and available supplies.

There is one thing about eating peppers, they are rich in vitamin C, the vitamin you need every day, and they also have liberal amounts of vitamin A.
