

Assembly at Deadline For Introduction of Bills; Now Ready for Business

Bill Introduced Amending Law Regulating Number of Teachers In A Given School

The Senate stopped the clock at 9:10 p. m. and extended the deadline to 11 a. m. yesterday.

The fiftieth legislative day of the 116th General Assembly, set as a deadline for introduction of bills, took the Senate into late session Wednesday night in an effort to clear all business.

The House, however, delayed its deadline until yesterday morning. Several measures of interest introduced into the lower house this week.

Teacher Restriction

A bill introduced by Rep. Charlie Short (R-Georgetown) would amend the law regulating the number of teachers in a given school—based on the unit approach plan—by making available $219,120 during the next biennium for the retention of 41 and one part-time teachers in some 18 public schools.

The number of teachers to be retained under this formula would be as follows:

Delaware City three; Felton three; Milton two; Lord Baltimore two; Selbyville two; Bridgeville, three; Greenwood one; John M. Clayton two; Delmar four; William C. Jason two; Claymont two; Dover one; Georgetown three; Lewes two; Rehoboth six; Seaford one part-time, Harrington one, and Laurel two.

Funeral Director's Bill

A bill introduced by Rep. Joseph F. Givens (D-Wilmington) would remove the word "undertaker" from the State's legal lexicon and replace it with the words "funeral director." The measure would also stiffen the qualifications for funeral directors who would have to have completed a two-year pre-educational course in an academic, scientific or junior college before entering a college of embalming or mortuary science.

Changes in the Suburban Community Code, designed to protect residents of an area which has sought suburban community recognition for the purpose of street and sidewalk repairs and improvements are contained in another bill handed up by Mr. Jones.

University Scholarships

Rep. Wilmer F. Williams (R-Roselle) presented a bill which would appropriate $44,500 annually for scholarships for young men and women attending the University of Delaware or the Delaware State College who agree in writing to teach in the state's public schools for not less than two years after graduation.

Reps. James B. Tucker, Jr. (R-Wilmington) and William C. Parades (D-Magnolia) introduced a bill which would set up a Research Public Relations Department for the state and would appropriate $63,000 annually for the expenses of the department.

A bill to require competitive bidding for the purchase of building supplies or the letting of contracts for construction, alteration or repairs by any agency, commission or department of the state or any county government was presented by Rep. Norman E. Battersby (R-Newark).

Rep. F. A. Jones—To require that persons proposing to bid on public work duly advertised fill out a questionnaire and financial statement containing a complete report on the bidder's financial ability and experience in performing public work and that this questionnaire and statement be filed before plans and specifications be made available to the bidder.

Rep. Walter J. Hoey—To ban the taking of oysters less than three inches long from the Mispillion River; to limit the catch for market in any boat to 20 bushels; to fix a tax of five cents per bushel on oysters taken from the river to provide that three-fourths of the oyster taxes so collected be used as a trust fund for restocking the beds.

Rep. Lawson—To amend the present law which stipulates that the Collector of Oyster Revenue be a resident of Kent County by providing that the Collector be a resident of Delaware.

Reps. John J. Cahall and Herman H. Hanson—To authorize the State Forestry Department to make available forest tree seeds and seedlings for the establishment of windbreaks and forest growth on denuded or non-forested lands in the state.

Reps. Wilbur H. Jump and Hoey—To make $10,000 available to the State Highway Department for the construction of a spill dam at the easterly end of Griffith Lake near the division line between Kent and Sussex Counties.

Other New Senate Bills

Senator Peeney—To authorize legislative bodies of municipalities to create central purchasing agencies.

Senators Powell and Steen—to provide for the issuance of special license plates to the owners of motor vehicles who operate amateur radio stations.

Senator Cannon—to appropriate $85,400 to the State Welfare Home for capital improvements.

Senators Cabbage and Bengert—to change the tenure of the State Board of Accountancy and to define who may practice as a certified public accountant, and the requirements for certificate, and relating to the ownership of accountants' working papers and privileged information.

Senator Webb—submit bill to authorize a state deer season during January of not more than five days, with a legal limit of one deer.

Senators Steen and Powell—to appropriate $5,000 to the Delaware Commission of Shell Fisheries for the purchase and planting of oyster shells and plants in the waters of Indian River Bay.

Senator Handsberry—to include Sussex Counties in the title of a pay-raise law enacted and approved May 16, 1949. This bill does not provide any increase other than that passed by the 115th General Assembly. The law enacted at that time, however, did not include Sussex and New Castle Counties in the title. In Sussex, the Levy Court has refused to pay the bailiff the increase because of this defect in the title.

Senator Peeney—a companion bill to a previous child-labor measure which would prohibit boys between 14 and 16 from working in bowling alleys and on milk deliveries between 5 a. m. and 12 midnight. The companion bill would permit milk deliveries by youths in that age range, but continue the bowling alley ban.

Senator Steen—to provide for the coverage of certain officers and employees of the state and local governments, housing authorities and other political subdivisions under the old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Federal Social Security Act. The billfills of New Castle and a bill similar to the House measure to create a Family Court for the state.

Other Bills Passed

Senator Cannon—to increase the salaries of the Levy Court commissioners of Kent and Sussex Counties to $3,400 annually.

Senator Webb—to increase non-resident fishing license fees to $4.25.

Rep. H. H. Hanson (R-Dover)—To appropriate $8,000 for the next biennium for the burial of indigent soldiers, sailors and marines.

Harrington, member of the Eastern Shore League, routed the Delaware City Susquehanna League five, 62-51, Jack Dill leading the way in 23 points. The outstanding floor play of Harrington's Tom Shalley was another feature of the triumph. Ed Burns and Fran Sullivan carried the scoring burden for Delaware City, netting 38 points between them.

Newark's 63-45 victory over the New Castle County Air Base Rockets was gained by bolting into a 23-3 first period lead. Buddy Cataldi's 17 points paced Newark's attack.

St. John's, third-place finisher in the recent Wilmington CYO Major League campaign, had little trouble downing the Dover Guardians, 90-56. Jimmy Joyce, Phil Harrison and Paul Chadick hit for 21, 20 and 16 points respectively. Harry Barrett made 20 of the losers' points.

Capt. Tom Clark Addresses Booster Class at Dinner

Capt. Tom Clark, recently returned from Japan and Korea gave an interesting talk on Japan at a turkey dinner Thursday evening, March 15, given by the Booster Class of Asbury Methodist Church in honor of Warren Holme's class of boys. The dinner was served by the W.S.C.S.

Capt. Clark, a son-in-law of Cliff Miller, said Japanese children were receiving the same help from our missionaries as the children in this country were getting, and that they were living better than they did before the war.

The dinner meeting opened with a solo by Mrs. Holmes who sang, "Boy of Mine," accompanied by Miss Ruth Moore.

Mr. Holmes thanked the Boosters and everyone else who aided in giving the dinner. Sam Williams, the guest of W. W. Sharp, thanked the women for their good dinner and praised the manner in which it was served, and commented on the progress Mr. Holmes was making with his class.

Samuel A. Short Jr., said it was through the efforts of every member of the Booster Class that the dinner was a success and congratulated Mr. Holmes on his progress in increasing the membership of the class from nine to 28. He added it was the grandest sight anyone would want to see that boys of their ages would think enough of themselves and the church to come out every Sunday morning to Sunday School.

In conclusion, Mr. Short declared that the boys of today were the boys of the church of tomorrow and advised them they could do nothing better than to go to church every Sunday.

Miss Moore then rendered a piano solo, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye."

The Rev. J. Harry Wright told the boys that someday they would be doing the same thing for other boys, and that a boy did not have to be a sissy to go to church, but just a plain he boy and live a good uprighteous life and to "do unto others as you would like to be done by," if it was the right thing, which was the only requirement of God.

Group singing and refreshments concluded the dinner.

Fulton Downing was co-chairman of the dinner.

Mickey is giving a birthday party for Jimmy at his brother's house at Seaford. She showed me the cake this morning and it was real nice. Jimmy, I wonder if you are getting any younger? Happy birthday, anyway.
Johnnie Baker was a visitor to Jimmy Workman's stable this past week. Johnnie being from the Ocean Downs track.
This coming Sunday will be Mickey's father's birthday. The old fellow will be 74 years young. Mickey's father's home is in Clarksburg, W. Va.
Hazel Hopkins really working at the Peoples Restaurant. Keep it up, Hazel, as you will be really busy when the races start. Anyway you have some good helpers, in Jean Plummer, Marie, Janet, and (Doodles) Lillian, Harvey Dill at nite.
Missed you Mayor Rash, as you are generally, bobbing in and out there.
You know a pretty good egg, you Mr. Johnson, who drives a taxi from Milford.
Bill Harvey was a visitor Sunday to the track. Mr. Harvey was the leading driver in Batavia last fall. Bill has his horses at Ocean Downs now in training.
It would be hard to tell who was where Sunday, Olin Davis, Jimmy Workman, Doug Smith, Sam the Harness Man, Mr. Hendershot, Dave and I, Benny Morrison, and Mr. Peacock were visitors to Ocean Downs. And I think about half of Ocean Downs was here. Bill Sargent stopped by to say that he had taken his wife, Lillian, to the hospital to be operated on for her heart. From what I can get it will be very serious.
Pete Losse home from the hospital and doing very well. Was out to the track and he certainly did look good.
Why do the people that drive out to the track have to go so fast? Our driveways are not the race track. The other nite a very nice dog was hit and left to die. It could have been a horse as well as a dog. Only if you should hit a horse it would cost you plenty. Mr. Holloway is posting signs around stating 15 miles an hour. I wonder how many will read them and think. This is one track where the general manager is let's you do just about as you like. But if this keeps up I bet he tightens up. We have it as nice as any track in the country. Let's all help keep it that way.
Thanks, Miles Draper for keeping "Jake" in lettuce leaves. He really loves those green leaves. And doesn't he have the nicest two boys that carry out our packages—Jackie Carpenter and Carol Steel? The Acme store is one now to be proud of. I love to wander around, even if I know damn well I'm not buying. Guess because I can see myself in those new mirrors.
Went into Stayton's Jewelry store to get my watch fixed and who should come to me with a gun, well Mr. Stayton's little son, Mike. And what a cutie he is. Asked him if the Easter rabbit was coming to see him and in his baby way said, "Oh yes." An then went on to shoot me out of the store. Some Mike.
Harold Berry, paddock man, at Westbury, L. I, was a visitor to the Harry Craig stable this past week.
Vinal Kirby and wife and daughter, Sharon, were visitors out to see Uncle Dudley Spencer, in our stable, or that's my pet name for him, (Uncle).

It is very true that times change and we with time, but not in the ways of friendship. So it is with Easter; it does not matter at what time of the year Easter may come or what kind of weather may come with it, its beautiful and reverent meaning will never change. And, as our minds turn toward Easter, we think of blue skies, brilliant sun, and beautiful, fresh, blooming flowers; especially the Easter lily. And of course, we always associate little bunnies and red-breasted robins with this wonderful holiday. Even yellow ducklings and soft, fuzzy, yellow chicks are symbols of Eastertime. Therefore, as our minds are occupied with the forthcoming Sunday, it is only natural that the Viola-Canterbury community wishes each and everyone the happiest Easter ever and may your entire year be filled with good luck and happiness.

Care Of Gilts

Regardless of what one does with the rest of their spring pigs, gilts kept for the breeding herd should be kept on good pasture. Give them plenty of water and minerals and enough grain to keep them coming along nicely. A little protein supplement containing animal protein is very important to help them become good producers.

But it Won't Ache

When you wish to give new beauty to a metal waste basket, be sure that the basket is clean and completely free from rust before you begin to apply a new coating of enamel. If all traces of it are not removed, rust will continue its destruction—even though it's covered with paint—just as decay will continue in a filled tooth.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

St. Mark records for us "And very early in the morning the first day of the week, (Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome), came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun." A like spirit of love, interest, and concern should permeate all of us as we come to this grand and glorious Easter Sunday. All of our services will seek to verify one of the great Christian beliefs—the cause of the defeat of Death and the Grave; namely the empty tomb and the Risen Lord.

At 9:45 a. m. the Sunday School with classes for all ages, meets for fellowship and instruction.

The Senior Choir will sing "Hallelujah" in the 11 o'clock service; the pastor will preach on "Worshipping Jesus"; and there will be reception of members, and the Sacrament of Baptism.

Delaware State Board of Agriculture, Bureau of Markets Poultry Division

Delaware Law requires that all persons who buy live poultry from Delaware growers, and resell the poultry for food purposes, must be licensed by the State Board of Agriculture.

The law also provides for licensing buyers in two (2) classes — 1) Cash Basis—which means that poultry must be paid for in cash before it leaves the farm, and 2) Regular Basis — which means that the buyer may use a personal or company check when paying for poultry.

Any buyers who ARE NOT included on the following lists, are buyers who have not complied with the provisions of the Law, OR buyers who have been found financially insecure, OR buyers who do not have a favorable reputation.

FARM NEWS AND REVIEW

J. M. Coffins Have Success Formula

Their friends said it couldn't be done. But Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Coffin, of Ridgely, felt otherwise. They accepted the challenge and in 1943 bought a 33-acre farm, from which these Pet producers now sell milk on Ollie Robinson's 100-route, says the March issue of "Pet Dairy Chats."

Mr. Coffin gave up his former position with one of the largest electrical companies in Pennsylvania, and moved to Ridgely in 1944. With the help of the milk company, he had the barn converted and stanchions installed.

His first cow was purchased for $175 which he thought was quite a large sum for a cow in that year. With this cow, he began shipping to Pet's Greensboro plant. She is still in the herd, doing fine, but he has since purchased several more cows, until his herd now numbers eight.

Mr. Coffin opened up a pasture of some five acres, seeded it with ladino and the usual grasses, and renovated eight acres of old pasture. He treated these pastures with lime and fertilizer high in potash and phosphate, being aware of the apparent deficiency of these chemical elements in this area.

In a recent interview, Mr. Coffin remarked, "Being an accountant, I would like to say, whether on a small or large farm, the necessary steps for success are: first, planning and bringing that planning to a conclusion; second, economy, both in growing of crops for feeds and the purchasing price of all commodities you buy."

Tatman's Mill, A Time Saver

James Tatman, young, progressive farmer on Robert Long's 2000-route, thinks nothing is quite as good as a hammer-mill, says the March issue of "Pea Dairy Chats."

Jim has had the hammer-mill four years—as long as he has farmed himself. He grinds feed about every two weeks, using what ever grain and hay are available. At present, a mixture of ear corn, dairy feed and hay are ground in the mill, the hay being ground separately and then added to the other feed as it is put in the hopper. The machine is driven from a tractor pulley, and is easily hooked up.

When asked what he thought of his mill, Jim said, "It saves me much time and labor, as I don't have to sack up my feed and take it to the mill. It is just more convenient and more economical."

Jim gradually is working toward a purebred Guernsey herd. He now has five purebred animals among his 21 cattle—herd bull, foundation cow, bull calf to replace present bull, and two yearling heifers. Mrs. Tatman shares Jim's interest in dairying, and is well informed on what goes on around the farm. The "boarders" are being culled—in fact, five were beefed last year.

The Tatmans live three miles east of Felton. Jim's father, Ralph Tatman, has sent milk to the Greensboro plant for about 25 years.

Bank Exhibits Ayrshire Cattle on Display Features Caulk Farm

One of the leading dairy breeds in Delaware is the Ayrshire cattle. One of the leaders featuring this breed is the Caulk family near Dover.

L. D. Caulk, who really has actively and earnestly produced more Ayrshire cattle in Delaware and his son, G. Wallace Caulk, are the leading breeders and exhibitors.

Wallace as a boy won many honors with this breed, and he is now the owner of the Ann-Ayr Farms of Woodside. In 1936 and 1937, he was awarded gold medals as the nation's outstanding young men in dairy judging, dairy showmanship and public speaking. In 1939, in dairy cattle, he was among the leading youngsters of the nation and was awarded a Second Grand Prize.

Now as the owner of a herd of some 60 head of registered Ayrshire cattle and he continues winning year after year in featuring the breed in tests and in production, his classification record is one of the outstanding in the nation. He won the National Honor Roll and Perfect Cow Medal.

Both L. D. Caulk and G. Wallace Caulk are well-known throughout the state and nation for their outstanding recognition of the Ayrshire Breed and for their participation in all efforts for the good of their state and nation.

DHIA Annual Meeting Held

Isaac Thomas of Marydel was elected president of the Kent County Dairy Herd Improvement Association at the annual meeting held at the Caesar Rodney High School March 13. Other officers elected were: Purnal F. Friedel, of Viola, vice-president, and Maurice Adams, of Harrington, secretary-treasurer. C. Stanley Short of Cheswold and G. Wallace Caulk were re-elected to the board of directors for two years.

D. J. Young, extension dairyman, of the University of Delaware, presented the summary of the association for 1950. He pointed out that the average milk production per cow for the past year was 9163 pounds with an average butterfat test of 4 per cent and 360 pounds of butterfat produced per cow. This milk production by DHIA herds exceeds the state average production by better than 4400 pounds and Kent County average by 4228 pounds.

Maurice Adams led the association in both milk and butterfat. His herd of 15 Holsteins produced an average of 13,275 pounds of milk and 522 pounds of butterfat. There were four other herds in the association that produced over 400 pounds of butterfat. These herds were owned by Edgar Dill of Kenton, Samuel Beachy of Dover, James Rice and Robert Sanderson, both of Kenton.

Certificates of merit and membership on the honor roll of the American Pure Breed Dairy Cattle Association for 1949 for production exceeding 350 of butterfat were awarded to Robert Sanderson of Dover; Isaac Thomas of Marydel; William Attix of Cheswold; Charles Ewing of Smyrna; Walter Massey of Dover; Harry Neese of Wyoming; Ellwood Grullow of Felton; Maurice Adams of Harrington, and Francis Thomas of Marydel.

Mastitis Germs Long Lived

Edward S. Biddle, bacteriologist for the Delaware State Board of Agriculture, reports that experiments done in Great Britain reveal that any object in a barn is a possible hide-out for bovine mastitis germs. For instance, streptococcus germs may live on any object in the barn for as long as twenty days and for more than 26 days on a cow's hide. These germs were found to live in hay for 20 days, in a bucket for eight days, on a broom handle for five days, on floors for four days and on rubber boots for at least four days. Previously sterilized materials support germ life longer, sometimes for two months, under favorable conditions.

The results of these experiments re-emphasize the importance of sanitation and good management in the control of mastitis in Delaware.

Abbott Invents Gate Opener

Did you ever stop to think how much time and labor is lost in opening a heavy, sagging gate?

John Abbott, Jr., of Harrington, solved this problem by attaching an axle and old lawnmower wheel to the bottom of his 16-foot wooden gate—making it easy to operate with one hand, says "Pet Dairy Chats."

John, a patron on Lester Blades' 3700-route, lives between Harrington and Frederica. He is gradually improving his herd which now consists of 28 cows and heifers, and has purchased another farm nearby. He hopes eventually to quit the trucking business entirely, and devote all his time to dairying and farming.

Little Known
Selenium, a metal little known outside the industrial field, has a unique role in the manufacture of glass. It neutralizes the green color caused by iron impurities, and when added in sufficient quantities, turns the glass to a ruby color.

New Vegetable Price List Released

Now at the time when farmers must decide what crops to plant and how many acres of each, they are interested in questions about processing and market prices. The information service of the Maryland Farm Bureau is making every effort to keep members of the organization throughout Maryland fully informed on the current situation concerning prices for processing vegetables.

Apparently some misunderstanding has developed concerning the meaning of "Legal Minimum" prices for processing vegetables. C. E. Wise, Jr., executive secretary of the Maryland Farm Bureau, last week advised farmers to be cautious in their approach to contractual arrangements. The latest information available is:

The "Legal Minimum" prices are for the Eastern Shore. Peas, $92.40; snap beans, $101; sweet corn, $21.40; lima beans, $147; tomatoes, $36.50; Western Maryland: peas, $96.70; snap beans, $114; sweet corn, $23.60; tomatoes, $34.70. These are ton price quotations. Indications by the processors for prices for three Eastern Shore counties sweet corn, $20 per ton; tomatoes, one canner in Talbot, $65 for No. 1's; $45 for No. 2's per basket, or $39 and $27 for ones and twos. Definite information on tomatoes is limited but Wicomico reports one canner offering $36 for No. 1's; $21 for No. 2's on tomatoes. Carroll County reports Alaska peas, $90; sweet peas, $85 per ton. Montgomery County reports $20 for sweet corn, growers requesting $25 per ton. Contract discussions in Maryland should develop following the meeting of the Tri-State Canners Association last week.

Builds Milk Stands For His Patrons

Lester Blades, energetic hauler on the 3700-route, had a good idea when he built a series of roadside milk stands, recently.

So far, Lester has made nine stands, and hopes to construct them everywhere that they are needed.

The average-sized milk stand is built to handle four to eight cans. The legs and framework are made of either 2x4's or 2x6's, and 1x6's are used for the platform.

The top of the platform is approximately 30 inches from the ground level. Some type of canopy made of gunny sacks or another material may be fixed to the stand to prevent the sun's rays from beating down on the cans in hot weather. "There is enough scrap lumber around every farm to build them," says Lester.

These stands should prove mutually helpful to both patron and hauler. The cans will not be put in the dirt and mud, and will be much cleaner. The hauler can also keep his truck body free of dirt which usually clings to the cans.

Albert Curtis, Pet patron on the 3700-route, when asked his opinion concerning the milk stand, replied, "Milk stands are all right, all the way around, and I noticed much less dust and sand in the cans since mine was made. Lester did a good job."

Medical School

An average in premedical college work is not required for admission to medical schools, Dr. Donald G. Anderson of Chicago, secretary of the American Medical Association's council on medical education and hospitals, says. According to a recent report to the council, 10 per cent of students admitted to medical schools in the United States during the academic year 1949-1950 had no better than a C- plus scholastic average in premedical college work. Many others, Dr. Anderson pointed out, had B averages.

10 WORLD'S RECORDS
Prove it's Good!

You know, as we do, that world's records depend on skillful breeding and management. Much credit, therefore, goes to the owners and managers of these record cows.

However, we do mention these ten world's records to help prove our claim that Beacon Dairy Feeds promote high production. Beacon users know this. Owners of high record cows know it. And, if you're not already using Beacon Feeds, we want you to know it, too.

Newark Youth Wins Top State Honors

William Redding

William Redding, 19, Newark, has learned that successful farming depends largely on the soil. In fact, he has done such a good job in the 4-H Soil and Water Conservation program that he was singled out for top state honors.

Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, donor of awards in the program, presented William with an appropriately engraved gold-filled watch.

In mapping out the program for the farm, he has put into practice good drainage, crop rotation, and contour striping. William is determined to promote successful dairy farming through his soil conservation project. Bill has served as junior leader of his local club during the past year.

He attended the University of Delaware last fall but did not return for the second semester because of the need for him on the farm. However, he is taking a night course in agricultural economics at the university and intends to take as many courses as possible to help him in farm work.

WE HAVE CONFIDENCE IN THE FUTURE OF AMERICA IN THE HANDS OF YOUTHS LIKE WILLIAM REDDING

Harness Fans Should Keep An Eye On Dave Smith's Anna Day

When the annual spring harness meet of the Kent & Sussex Racing Association gets underway here the night of Thurs., May 3, fans will be wise to keep an eye on Anna Day, Dave Smith's eight-year-old chestnut mare. This trotter with a mark of 2:12.4, was in the money 23 times in 27 races last season.

The daughter of Guy Day-Roxanna Hanover, was purchased by Smith as a two-year-old. He broke and trained her and has always been her driver in a race.

Smith, a native of Dadeville, Ala., has a promising colt in Roustabout, out of Auburn Queen, 2:06, by Donald Truax. The youngster has never been raced but is showing good on the pace and has been staked at Buffalo Raceway and at Batavia this coming season.

In addition to his own horses, the reinsman trains four horses for other persons. For Vinal Kirby, Milford farmer, he is training Dudley Spencer, big 11, with a mark of 2:10 on the trot and 2:09 on the pace.

Norman Fowie, of Walpole, Mass., has three promising candidates in the Smith stable, all of whom may take part in the 20 night meet here. Bardia Direct, big 6; p. 2:11, is looking good. "He is good and sound and taking his work nicely," beamed

HOW TO "LEAD THE PARADE!"

in Party-Line Courtesy

When you take the lead in courtesy on party-line telephones, your party-line neighbors follow your cue. That means good service for everyone concerned! Here are two courtesy-suggestions . . . easy to follow, sure to win favor.

1. When you start to make a call and find the line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call.
2. When, while talking, you realize that someone else is waiting to make a call, hang up reasonably soon and free the line.

Again I want to impress on you the advantages of owning a Television. To start with you are keeping your family intact and this helps to keep up the family circle.

Yes the best performers that can be secured are now on television. I myself feel that I go to school ever so often as the things that are brought out through television will really stick and it is the only way a poor person can secure such an education.

If you think that there is too many performers with those low necked dresses, then don't forget that there are several church programs that you can look at instead. Some like wrestling which I may say is my sport while others like boxing which I do not care for but remember when you buy a PHILCO Television you will get all this plus a complete circus at different times.

What do you get on Television? The very latest and the very best especially when your name plate says PHILCO as you all know by now that PHILCO is known for quality the world over.

PHILCO is so busy building things for Uncle Sam and making televisions that radios are beginning to take a back seat. Truthfully why not when you can see and hear at the same time. That is the reason we have both eyes and ears. Remember this PHILCO is the only TV that has the balanced beam.

While speaking of PHILCO, remember they not only make television but all I ask is for you to come in to my display home and see for yourself the wonderful buys in refrigerators from 7 cu. feet to 13. Of course PHILCO has the freezer all the way across the top and not only that but a freezer that is built for the family who have more than the average quantity of food to freeze.

While speaking of keeping food, it will soon be time for the first fruits and vegetables to come out. Get a PHILCO Freezer now and keep your fruits, vegetables, fish and meats until those prices get higher. Then take them out and you will say, you know Wheeler that PHILCO dealer really did save me money. Then by this time next year he will be practically giving this freezer to me free.

Folks this is true also for you, why not let me bring you a PHILCO freezer to your home right away and save, save, save. I don't want to forget the wonderful PHILCO electric ranges that we have on display for you the doctor's care.

Folks are plowing their gardens now is time to get your early potatoes, peas and onions out. Cold weather won't hurt them now.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Reese have a new Plymouth.

Am taking the opportunity to wish you all a happy Easter and hope its a beautiful day so you can wear your new Easter bonnet.

Danish Holiday Law. All Danish workers and salaried employees are guaranteed a statutory annual holiday of 12 days, with full pay. The holiday act requires the employer to credit the employee with four per cent of his wage or salary. Stamps covering the value of the holiday money are affixed by the employer in a special book. At the beginning of his holiday the employee cashes the amount due to him at any post office. This procedure obliges the employers to contribute a share of the holiday benefit even though the employee may change his job.

Human Eye. The human eye is as much of a wizard as Merlin. Its manifold magic is shown in almost all its functions, but take a typical one—the transmission of light waves that reach the eye and make an image on the retina. From there the energy of the waves is transformed into nerve impulse and the impulse carries the image to the brain, but not in image form. Some strange marvel takes place at that point, producing actual sight.

Hospital Bed Need. Authorities agree that at least 45 general hospital beds per 1,000 population are required to meet the health needs of the country. There were only 3.5 beds per 1,000 civilian population in the United States in 1943, and not many more today. These beds tend to be concentrated in areas which have wealth and large population.

Foot Note. Leather soles have what laboratory technicians call high "creep resistance." This means leather has a marked ability to hold its original shape when under continuous stress such as on the bottom of shoes.

Of Local Interest. Mrs. John Rifenburg and son, Harrison, spent Tuesday in Wilmington.

HOPE ON HIS HORIZON with your help. It takes more than our government's fine medical treatment to ease a disabled veteran over the rough spots. Often days seem long, recovery slow, the future hopeless. At such times, a helping hand, an understanding word—knowing that somebody cares—is the best medicine of all. Your Red Cross workers now provide this neighborly interest, this miracle-working medicine for 134,000 hospitalized veterans. For veterans and their families, your Red Cross also gives emergency financial assistance, helps with personal and family problems, engages in recreational and welfare programs. Support these worthwhile activities by giving to your Red Cross. Give now—and give generously!
