Youth Enters Innocence Plea In Killing

Held In Triple Slaying In New Jersey; Captured At Hartly Sunday by Police

"I wish to God I had that kid five years ago, I could raise him, I'd take a chance on him."

With those words Police Chief John J. Valley, Dover, N. J., signed three first-degree murder charges against a short, stocky 16-year-old former Dover, Del., boy accused of killing his uncle and two aunts with a .22 calibre rifle.

Shortly after, ashen-faced William Nickle entered a mandatory plea of innocent to the charges at his arraignment before Magistrate Fred Grossman Monday night.

Handcuffed, tears streaming down his face, the boy then was led away to Morris County Jail in nearby Morristown, held without bail pending action by the grand jury.

Boy Without Funds

Authorities indicated they would take legal steps to secure counsel for Nickle. He said he had no funds.

Nickle was taken from Dover, Del., Monday—The day after the bodies of hopelessly ill Charles Brown, 49, his wife, Mary, 42, and his sister, Mrs. Myrtle Brown, 45, were found in their neat frame cottage at Dover, N. J.

The slight Dover, N. J., high school sophomore had been arrested by Delaware State Police Sunday. He fled there in his uncle's car shortly after the shootings Saturday night.

Authorities said Nickle admitted killing his bed-ridden uncle and two aunts because "he had trouble getting out nights to see his girl friend."

Adheres To Story

Valley said the boy stuck to his story that he was not allowed out of the Brown home, and couldn't see his girl for the last six months.

Nickle had been living with the Browns for the last two years after getting in trouble with juvenile authorities at Hartly, Del., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nickle, live.

Morris County prosecutor John D. Collins said he would seek a first degree murder indictment from the grand jury.

Conviction on such a charge in New Jersey carries a death sentence unless the jury recommends mercy.

Funeral Held For Miss Mattie Smith

Ocean Downs Makes Bid For Chief Winter Training Colony

Ocean Downs Raceway, near Berlin, Md., is out to grab the spotlight as a winter training center second to none on the Eastern seaboard, says an article in the Sunday issue of Baltimore American.

Continues the article, written from Ocean City, "Surpassed only by the noted Ben White Raceway (named after the Hambletonian immortal) at Orlando, Fla., and by nearby Harrington, Del., Ocean Downs bids to become the No. 1 training spot in the eyes of big-time horsemen within another year or two, if the almost incredible turnout of trainers and horses for the plant's first season is any criterion."

The article adds that Ocean Downs . . . has attracted no less than 210 trotters and pacers for the winter and early spring prep-ing.

The Kent & Sussex Raceway at Harrington had an average of 300 horses in winter training, said T. Brinton Holloway, general manager of the raceway, Tuesday. He added that he knew of no other track in the nation with that many horses.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

George Tatman and daughter out to the track checking over the saddle pads getting ready for the races. Oh yes, Clara's little friend, Irene Gourley, was with them.

Was over to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clukey's farm and what a nice place they have. I was very much interested in the mares and their colts. "Virginia Preakness" has a nice looking stud colt by "The Rock." His other mare, "Jane Preakness," has a cute little filly also by "The Rock." To me, the beauty of the horse business is the little young colts. With the grass so green, and the white paddock what a picture it will make from the road this summer. With these youngsters prancing by their mother's sides.

On the last trip to Westbury, Lillian Myer tells me that it was no pleasure trip. Her father was very ill. But Lillian told me today that they expect to move to Westbury, L. I. with 15 horses next week.

For their weekend pleasure, they spend most every Sunday down at Myer's Race Track at Bridgeville, watching the automobile races.

Mrs. Clukey's mother has been ill, but Mrs. Noyes is better and able to be up again.

Fred Greenly, Paul Vineyard and Fred Jr., taking the trucks to the paint shop. Sure looks like spring when this starts. I was peeping when this happened. You didn't see me. Did you?

Harry Stout back from Albany, N. Y. Stoutie was up for a check up from his doctor.

What a thrill to say I sat in the general manager's chair in his office out to the track today. Who says Britt Holloway isn't a good fellow. He is very nice to give me the news he knows, so skip it if I get it in wrong. It's not Britt's fault.

Jake Rudnick was operated on at Kent General Hospital Monday and at this writing he is doing very nicely. Don't forget those get-well cards. They sure help.

Paul Welp and Dave Gillison were visitors from Ocean Downs Raceway.

Mr. and Mrs. Marty Burke, of Troy, N. Y., were also visitors this past week.

Les Simpson has moved in from Birdsnest, Va., with 19 horses.

Jack Nickerson, of Centerville, Md., has also shipped in 3 head.

Doris Myer certainly has the hat business under control. She has a hat for every outfit. And how? Well she can crochet. And I want to tell you they are plenty good looking. Handbags to match.

Our race secretary, George Ensen back on the job, getting ready for the big night.

Genie and his little daughter were visitors to the track. And I think his little girl is very much interested in horses. And why not, bet that is all she hears.

She is certainly a smart little thing to talk to.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jandak were visitors to Pete Cotter's this past week.

Joe Davis and Ralph Clift were guests of Ellis Myer over the weekend. Little Ellis Myer, Jr. has been very ill with a cold. But on my rounds today he was much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatfield, of Farmington, were visiting Betty and Ellis, and helping Betty with little Ellis. I'm really in the dog house. I told Betty I don't believe I have met your mother. Oh dear, it was Betty's sister.

George Dumont celebrated his birthday on the 29th of March with the trimming and all. We won't ask how old you are George. Wouldn't be nice.

Mr. and Mrs. Brittingham were visitors over to (Helena Acres) Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Griffith's.

A very nice gesture I think was the beautiful flower that Fred Baker gave to Harvey Griffith and his wife for Easter. Mrs. Griffith says, that he never misses a nice coming by to see if he can do anything to help Harvey. Fred this year is with Warren Holmes. And here is another swell fellow.

I'm counting the days till I go out with Mrs. Griffith to see that beautiful home of Harvey's brother in Dover known as "The Point." It's that home just as you cross the bridge on the left. Course there is a horse barn and they tell me that it is made in all hard wood. More about this when I visit there.

Helena, the brood mare of Mr. Griffith, has been very ill. But thanks to Dr. Locke she is on the road to recovery. She has just had a little stud colt and due to the illness of its mother, Mrs. Griffith is raising the little fellow on a bottle. Helen's colt is by "Night Dream." The Griffiths are very well pleased with the way their Express Direct is coming along in Paul Vineyard's barn.

Mr. Rittenhouse and Harry Sewell were visitors to Jack Walker's stable. Heh! Mable where you been all week? I see Inky, but no Mable.

Mr. Underbuck expects to ship out to Yorkers about April 10.

Mr. Peacock expects his wife in about two weeks to stay the rest of the summer.

Solly Swartz has added another horse to his stable, Field Gold, with a record of 2:06. Russell Fry and wife were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Swartz over the weekend.

W. A. Smith and wife, of Dublin, Pa., were visitors to Mr. Hendershot's stable to see their horses, Kiss 'N Tell and Hubie. Johnnie Potter has joined the Hendershot's stable as a groom. Doc, a very busy man, as second trainer.

Lester Mitchell a visitor to the Ellis Myer stable this past week. Lester resides at Farmington.

John Maas, race secretary and general manager of Batavia Downs Raceway, was a visitor to Farmington, visiting several of the stables. Mr. Maas had just come from his winter home in Bradenton, Fla., and had visited the following tracks on his way back to Batavia—Orlando, Pinehurst, Ocean Downs and then here.

Mr. Maas was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wayd Cotter Saturday evening, having dinner at the Wonder Bar. Then to the horsemen's dance at the American Legion Hall. Mr. Maas was called on for an impromptu speech, and I know it was enjoyed by all the horsemen. I wasn't able to make the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crowson very busy at the track restaurant. But never too busy to talk.

The Horsemen's Dance was really enjoyed by everyone.

Mrs. Reese Harrington back from her trip to New York. How did you find the old town? I'll be around to find out.

Earl Thomas' truck is moving 4 horses from Ocean Downs to Yorkers for Edward Dougherty, of Passiac, N. J.

Jimmy Creed will bring 6 head from Wilmington, N. C., to Ocean Downs for Walter Spearing, of Salisbury.

Mrs. Julian Young and son were visitors to the Rosencrant's stable this past week. And while we are talking about the Rosencrants stable, they have added something new. Five beautiful Boston puppies. Perfectly marked.

Polly Sipes and Curley, the blacksmith, sitting out in the sun in front of Polly's barn.

Tinie and Zippy were visitors out to the track this past week. Looking the horses over and trying to make up her mind which will be best. If you find out Tinie let me know too. How about it? Is that a deal?

Emil Adams acquired the little pony that was Jackie Cotter's, for his little girl Emilie. Silver Niki is one for any child to be proud of.

Mr. Koontz was a visitor to the Emil Adams stable this past week. I, for one, have found where to go fishing and I love to do that. So all my spare time I will be near the old beach somewhere. Mr. Tatman, of the Harrington Hardware Store, is fixing our reels for us in his spare time.

Mr. and Mrs. Herrington's horses coming along fine. After this meet they will be going back to Hamburg and Batavia, N. Y.

Jimmy Workman came through with flying colors after that spill on the back track.

Tom Berry, of the Grand Circuit, is very much improved from his illness. Tom winters in Orlando, Fla. Has two victories to his credit in the Hambletonian.

The 1941 Hambletonian, and Kentucky Futurity winner, Bill Gallon, (driver late Lee Smith) 2, 2:04, 3, 1:59 1/2 had out the winners of $141,410.74 through the 1950 season. This is a nice showing for the son of Sandy Flash, as the handsome stallion did only limited service while in North Carolina.

I see where Arch McDavid formerly of Topeka, Kan., and a very good friend of Dave and Doug Smith, will ship his two horses to Laurel for races. Mr. McDavid is now living in Inglewood, Calif. His horses at Laurel this year again will be the same two that raced there last year. Mr. Primrose, a 3-year-old and Grattan Cash, an 8-year-old bay gelding.

Here is a poem that was in the "Harness Horse," and I thought that you readers of the Journal would enjoy it as much as we all have at the track.

They Never Quit
I've owned them and bred them and raced them

And bet on a few in my time. And hungry myself I have fed them,
When they couldn't make me a dime.

Since a boy I have handled a stable,
Till now I'm past my prime I have traveled the leaky roof circuits

And campaigned the big apple too,
But somehow I've always been able

To meet the feed bills when due,
But now I'm "off the races" And settle down here in this place,

To make up a few of my losses Where there ain't no beetles to race.

What about those colts in the clover?
Speak low, so the Mrs. don't hear.

She thinks I have taken them over To pasture for Old Billy Geer.
But boy: Are they bred to go places

And get there in plenty of time. And I'll see that they get to the races

If it takes my last lonely dime.

Harrington New Century Club

The members of the Harrington New Century Club, and their guests, were delightfully entertained on the occasion of its annual Easter luncheon, Tuesday, March 27. The luncheon was served, buffet style, the members bringing covered dishes, the contents of which were varied enough to please the most discriminating of tastes. Following the luncheon a musical program, furnished by Prof. Melvin Brobst and two of his pupils, was enjoyed. Billy Shaw played "Gaiety Polka" by Hartley, on a baritone horn; Prof. Brobst played a piano solo. "Fire Dance" by de Falla, and Miss Eileen Harris, 12-year-old radio entertainer, sang "Love is Where You Find It" and "Mighty Lak A Rose" accompanied by Mr. Brobst.

Miss Elizabeth Elliott, of Seaford, gave a very pleasing account of her European tour last summer. She planned her trip primarily to visit her niece, Betty Leclercq, Vane. Betty and Ridgely Vane and their young son live in Munich, Germany. Coincident with her visit to Germany, was the performance of the "Passion Play" at Oberammergau. This production in 1950, is the first since 1937, when it was prohibited by Hitler. The high-light of the afternoon was Miss Elliott's vivid description of the Passion Play. She also displayed costumes, figurines, and many other items which she had purchased as she visited the various countries. Miss Elliott's very informal manner of describing her trip made it particularly interesting, and created in one a feeling of desire to visit the "old country," even though the "Passion Play" will not again be produced for ten years, and not again during Holy Year, for fifty years.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION.

Q. Could I get a GI business loan to help out my brother, who is having a hard time making a go of his restaurant? I am not connected in any way with the restaurant.

A. You may not obtain a GI business loan for such a purpose. One of the provisions of the law is that you must play an active part in the business for which you need the loan.

Q. I dropped my National Service Life Insurance as a civilian, and now that I am returning to active military duty, I would like to reinstate my policy. Will the armed forces do this automatically for me, or are there any steps that I have to take?

A. The armed forces will not renew your policy automatically. You either must apply to reinstate your old policy, or apply for a new one.

Q. As a member of the National Guard, I receive drill pay for short periods of training each week. I intend to enroll in school under the GI Bill. When I do so, must I report my drill pay as income, in order for V-A to determine the amount of subsistence allowance I will get?

A. No. Remuneration for such National Guard training is not considered as income from productive labor and need not be reported, for it has no bearing on the amount of subsistence you will receive.

Q. I am a veteran paralyzed from the waist down, and on my own I bought a home a few years ago. May I obtain a housing grant to be used to remodel my home with ramps and other special adaptations, so that I can get around more easily in my wheelchair?

A. Yes, if you meet the eligibility requirements of the law. Application may be made at any V-A office.

THIS IS HARD - But this is EASY -
 Sure, you believe in doing things the easy way. It's mighty hard planning ahead so you can reach in your pocket for cash for every bill... then there is safety to consider. The easy, safe way to pay bills is by check. Like this:
 1. Start a checking account at this bank.
 2. Then pay all your large expenses by check at one sitting.
 3. And remember, when you have a checking account at this bank you have a ready credit reference upon which you can build.

HOW TO BE A "SQUARE SHOOTER" On Party-Line Telephones

WHEN YOU PLAY FAIR AND SQUARE with your party-line neighbors...when you share the service courteously...you'll almost always find the courtesy returned!

Suppose you want to make a call and find the line in use. If you hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call before trying again, your courtesy is appreciated. And suppose, while talking, you realize that your neighbor wants to make a call. He'll appreciate it if you hang up in a few minutes and free the line.

That's "square shooting." It pays dividends!

Call to Action

HAVE you ever wondered how it would feel to go the limit on power and comfort and quality in an automobile?

Or how it would feel to be lord and master of a car that can take its place with the finest in the "fine-car field"?

Then, sir, this is a call to action.

The first action is yours—the simple action of getting in touch with a Buick dealer and planting yourself behind the wheel of a ROADMASTER.

Then let this great-powered and dazzling performer take over.

There's action in every one of the 152 horsepower in its Fireball engine—more action than most proud owners of this eager beauty will ever use.

There's counter-action in its gentle and sure-gripping brakes, the finest that Buick has ever engineered.

But there's also luxury—the luxury of double-depth Foamtex cushions and custom upholstery—and of ample roadweight magnificently poised on coil springs which individually cushion every wheel.

There's a spacious feeling of room, above and around you—room that is unsurpassed anywhere in the fine-car field.

And to make every mile effortless and relaxed, there's the very exclusive advantage of Dynaflo Drive—not as an "extra," but as a standard ROADMASTER feature.

So why not drop in and satisfy yourself, as our guest, that here indeed is a fine car that goes the limit—in everything but price!

Check for yourself what others ask—and what others offer—and you'll discover ROADMASTER prices a call to action that a wise man can't ignore.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

THERE'S MONEY IN RURAL AMERICA

In the small towns of Rural America, from Maine to California and from Canada to the Gulf, there are more people than in all of the big towns and cities combined. More than half of our population (53%) live in rural towns.

And they live well. They have more money than ever before. They spend it freely for anything they want, especially for anything that cuts their costs, gives better or longer service or adds to their pleasure or convenience.

The whole family reads the local newspaper, with its intimate news of people and events. They see and read the advertisements as well as the news. There are only a small number of pages, and there is time to read them all.

As advertising in weekly newspapers reaches MORE PEOPLE, in MORE PLACES, at LESS COST, why not develop new business and sound public relations with the grass roots people?

Through the weekly newspapers, you can reach exactly and exclusively the territories you consider most desirable; and the publishers can and will give you effective cooperation.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

In the field of Public Relations, Rural America exerts a powerful influence. It sends a majority of our legislators to Congress; and Senators and Representatives (many of whom are also publishers) consult the country editors for up-to-date information on the attitude of their people on questions of public interest.

The more the rural people know about your particular industry, the better able they are to form sound judgments and to back up their convictions.

COST

Contrary to the exploded idea that advertising in weekly newspapers cost more than in dailies, it definitely does not. True, the line rates are higher; but so is the readership. No other kind of publication has anything like the family readership of the country newspaper. Independent surveys prove it to be many times that of the daily newspapers. And this intensive readership brings the cost per reader to actually less than that of the dailies.—Leaflet from American Press Association.

In all this talk of war, political corruption and taxes, by a close perusal of the papers you will see that there ain't nobody switched to Calvert lately.

Always look for a wrangle at any legislative session in any state. The Delaware Senate has set a pattern in harmony for other states to follow. There is no base for wrangling when people believe the same way, and Delawareans, it seems, do believe the same way on one subject. In the upper house last week, with one member not voting, the remainder of the members were unanimous in voting for a bill. It had to do with something called the daily double, and this being Delaware, we suppose the daily double is something connected with harness hoss racing.

Our people will just have to get used to the parking meters, installed in Harrington only last week. Three drunks engaged in a free-for-all over priority Saturday night. Each one claimed that he had reached the machine first. Their coins rattled all over the sidewalk during their brief fight. One was trying to get a penny's worth of salted peanuts out of the meter, the second wanted a pack of Piedmont cigarettes and the third wanted to hear Ernest Tubbs sing "I Need Attention Bad." The last one was the drunkest.

HEARST, THE HATER

Cosmopolitan Magazine, long ago an outstanding magazine, but of recent years a—Hearst magazine—publishes in its current issue a mélange of untruths, half-truths, and for the sake of novelty, an isolated truth or two, about the private hates of President Truman. According to the Cosmopolitan, Truman hates many people and with a violent hate. This is not true, Truman hates but a few people, and he has a right to hate some, especially the paid propagandists.

According to the Cosmopolitan, when Truman was mentioned for Vice-President in 1944, Admiral William D. Leahy snorted: "Who the hell is Truman?" Truman, then United States Senator, had headed the Truman Committee, which had saved the federal government millions of dollars on war contracts, and if Leahy didn't know about him, that merely illustrates the abysmal ignorance (outside their particular fields) of some of our military officials.

Almost fifty years ago William Randolph Hearst was anxious to become the Democratic nominee for President of the United States. He was wisely refused the nomination. In anger he founded a party of his own and named John Temple Graves, the "Ornate Georgian," as his candidate for the presidency. Graves didn't get anywhere in the election and since that time the Hearst publications have hated every Democrat in the United States. Hearst even pays Pegler's salary.

The great editorial writer, Arthur Brisbane, made Hearst's papers. He was called, and truthfully so, "The Brains of Hearst." But Brisbane died years ago!

WE'LL ALWAYS REMEMBER MACK CORNISH

Mack Cornish, who lived not far from Harrington, passed away last week, well up in his eighties. We met Mack Cornish only once, but we'll never forget him.

Our newspaper office and all of the equipment had been destroyed by fire, back some twenty-two years ago. We were standing looking at the ruins some two or three days after the fire, hoping we could salvage a little something, when a farmer approached.

"My name is Mack Cornish," he said, "and I owe you two dollars on subscription." We told him we didn't know anything about it, that all the books had been destroyed and we didn't know who was paid in advance and who was in arrears. "I know I'm behind," he replied, "and I want to pay up. If a fellow ever needs what's owing him, it's when he's lost everything like you have." He paid us two dollars.

We do not remember that anyone else approached us with a like offer, but it seems to us that Jud Ramsdell did. We do remember that quite a few approached us and said that they had paid in advance (the paper was then a dollar per year) and asked us to reimburse them. The chances are that we didn't reimburse them, for we didn't have the money. We do not remember the names of these people—we do not care to remember things like that—but we'll always remember—with highest respect—Mack Cornish.

Expressions become trite and meaningless by over usage. A hotel at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, advertises "Old-Fashioned Southern Hospitality." That phrase brings up memories of a white-columned mansion and a gracious gentleman bowing to the travel-stained traveler: "We shall be honored, suh, to have you as our guest!" Can you imagine that happening in the swank hotel at White Sulphur Springs? The only bowing that's done is by the waiter—and he's being polite only because he expects a generous tip—and the manager's private reaction is: "Here comes another sucker at thirty-five bucks per day!"

John B. Hutton Finds Old Copy of Delaware State News

"I am delighted with the registration," said County Chairman John B. Hutton of the Democrats after the books for the 1906 general election had finally closed. "Democrats have come forward nobly and registered and worked and we are going to have a clean victory," thus says an article in an issue of Wed., Oct. 24, 1906, of the Delaware State News.

The newspaper was found by Mr. Hutton, still a Dover attorney, in a drawer in his office recently.

The article continues: "Both sides apparently steered clear of the floaters of the independent voters who listen to financial arguments on election day, but this element of unstable voters got together and registered themselves toward 6 o'clock Saturday evening either having secured help from some wing of either party to pay the dollar registration fees, or having decided that they would have nothing to sell on election day unless they became qualified to vote."

Some of the candidates on the Democratic state ticket were: For Congress, David T. Marvel, New Castle County; state treasurer, Robert H. Wilson, Kent County; for auditor, Kendall M. Wiley, Sussex County. On the county ticket were: for senator, Alexander M. Daly, 1st district; Joseph S. Burcheal, 2nd district; William T. Jester, 4th district, and Wilson M. Vinyard, 5th district. Cooper, 6th district; John H. Schabinger, 7th district; John T. Jester, 8th district; Albert Harrington, 9th district, and John C. Wharton, 10th district. For Levy Court commissioner—William Shackell, 2nd district; Samuel Hufnal, 4th district; James K. Sapp, 8th district; and James H. Morgan, 10th district.

My naybor sed they dun sold all the good cheers afore he arived but while he wuz atalkin our naybor cum up an he eest cum from the State House an wuz just a bustin with there doins just now.

Seams our State Cheerman wuz down agin an our boys outen the house had em a big powwow with Mr. Klare callin the tunes. He didn't find out what wuz sed in the meetin but he sed it wuz a longun an Boss Klare wanted to do sum things an they putt it up to a vote an he heard there wuz 18 fellers voted yes and 1 no an they had 3 such votes an the number wuz the same 18 to 1 an the 1 ever time wuz Boss Harvey.

You recollect I sed last week that sum body else wood hav sum say bout what past er not, so you can see to that Boss Harvey must be kinda flyin on 1 wing like seein as how all our folks ain't lettin him ride hurd on the hole bunch like he dun last sesshun.

Coars we all think that Boss Harvey got ideas bout what he wants outen this sesshun an we got to guessin that evenin bout what it is.

Now Anernias he got a site of larnin bout politicks an he sed he had ideas that Harvey wuz out for that air Axident Board pintment outen Ole Sussex caus it be a Republican job or he mite want to resign after he gits the 4 men lickin komishun past an git him a job on that soz he can keep his folks kinda together soz when Mr. Duffy cum up agin he will reely hold the trumps seem as how this here lickin dealers bunch kinda like our politicks.

Then to he mite stick to the Axident job countin it pays $3600, an other job maybe $3000, anyhow they be to rite nice cheries to fall inter sumbodys lap.

Anernias heard that Boss Harvey an the gunvor an Miedoul git along just like 3 dips of ice cream in 1 saucer—kinda sticky like seein as how Boss Harvey an Miedoul wuz eatin together a spell ago an got to chatterin bout the lection last fall an Miedoul loved the Democrats didn't harm Boss Harvey nun.

An we need the Democrats had em a durn nice young feller to run for the House agin Boss arvey an there Komitee lowed to help all they could butt when they sutt the help on the line he heard they only sent 400 stead of 1800 an it take a site of cabage roun them parts to git them culord folks to go along with the boys.

See you all next week I hope
As ever

Wartime Diet

At the depth of wartime shortages, the Dutch were forced to eat large numbers of their bulbs—a diet that was far from popular, since the bulbs are non-nourishing, unappetizing and contain a disturbing acid.

Chesapeake-Delaware Canal History Most Interesting Display at the Farmers Bank

The Chesapeake & Delaware Canal featured in an exhibit at the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware, Dover, from April 1 to April 14, is contributed by the Delaware State Museum.

The old four-lock canal with its tow path for mules is shown in old photographs made in the 1860's and 70's. Today's sea-level waterway accommodating ocean-going vessels is also presented with some fine aerial photos showing major installations.

The canal, originally opened in 1829, cut 300 miles from the approximate 400-mile run from Philadelphia to Baltimore. It has been a tremendous boon during all the intervening years to commerce and industry of Delaware and adjacent states. The present waterway is a project of the United States Army Engineers.

Missouri Man Advises Folks Who Feel Bad

Carl Schatrin, 217 Perry St., St. Charles Mo., says there are some folks in this old world who feel good and there are other folks who feel bad. The folks who feel good he wants to congratulate, but for the folks who feel mighty bad he says he wants them to read what he has to say and then take a word of advice - take HADACOL.

for HADACOL seemed to be what he needed and HADACOL may bring you the relief you are seeking if your condition is due to lack of Vitamins B, B, Niacin, and Iron.

Here is what Mr. Schatrin says:

"I have been a shoe cutter for over 32 years—I now work for the Boyd Welsh Shoe Co. in St. Louis. For quite some time now I haven't had any appetite at all—seemed like I didn't have enough energy to do my work. I was tired all the time—and really didn't enjoy doing anything. It affected my work too. Then I heard how other folks who took HADACOL had increased the appetite and seemed to have a limitless amount of energy. I tried HADACOL and it is amazing what a change it has made. Now I feel like eating everything on the table, my disposition is 100% better and my work—in fact, everything I do I now enjoy. For an entirely new outlook on life, I recommend HADACOL.

Buy HADACOL today Trial size bottle costs only $1.25 Large family or economy size, $3.50 Refuse substitutes. There is only one true and genuine HADACOL which everyone is talking about.

Physician Says Mentally Sick Cause of Wars

DETROIT, Mich.—Dr. Robert S. Drews, a Detroit psychiatrist who has just completed a three-month study of mental illness in Europe, contends all the world's presidents, dictators, and kings should be stretched out on a couch and psychoanalyzed before being allowed to take office.

Remedies Suggested He suggested these remedies for wars and dangers of war that are caused by the instability of political leaders:

- 1. All persons in political life should be subjected to "rigorous examinations in the structures of their personalities before being entrusted with the destinies of nations."
2. Mental hygiene must be taught in schools all over the world—as it is being taught already to some extent in the United States.
3. A universal "auxiliary language," such as Esperanto, must be adopted to make international and personal meetings easier.
4. More "interpersonal relationships" must be arranged to bring people together across national frontiers on a "me-and-you basis", instead of formal international conferences.

Research for Book Dr. Drews called attention to Napoleon, Caesar, Hitler, Mussolini, and "as far as we know, Stalin, too—all of them were neurotic, mentally sick people."

He said such leaders came to power in Europe "in a history of essentially single individuals sincerely striving for conquest and supremacy. They very often were powerful, but immature, and very often neurotic in their leadership."

Woman Finds Old Bonds, Asks $250,000 From State

RICHMOND, Va.—Mrs. Bonny Walker, 76, of Vinton, Va., recently found in her attic two $1,000 bonds issued more than 75 years ago by the commonwealth of Virginia. She wants the state to redeem them for the $250,000 she figures they're worth—calculated at six per cent compound interest.

"Mending" Plants House plants, such as geraniums, begonias or ivy, which bend over or partially break off, may be mended by wrapping around with cellophane tape. This will help only if the stem is not completely broken off.

FARM NEWS AND REVIEW

Dairying in the Modern Way

Although dairy farming is a new venture for Alvin Allen, of Camden, he spent long hours planning what type of stabling he wanted for his herd before starting construction, says April issue of Pet Dairy Chats. After carefully comparing the conventional barn with the new rest-shed milking parlor type he chose the latter because it required less labor to operate, was more economical to build, and offered more freedom and comfort for his cows. It also provided him a more sanitary place for milking.

Realizing that the success of this type of operation depended upon providing sufficient pen and yard space, he constructed a southern exposure rest-shed 52 feet deep, 64 feet wide, with 26 feet to the ridge pole and roof sloping to 8 feet clearance in front and 13 feet in the rear. The adjacent cow yard, or pound, is 100 feet deep and 65 feet in width over all. He has provided approximately 175 square feet of space per cow, as this setup was planned for a maximum of a 20-cow herd. The section in the extreme rear of the shed is used for storage space for baled hay, which is fed in a rack directly in front.

Connected to the eastern end of the shed is a three-unit concrete-block milking parlor where only the milking operation and the feeding of grain are carried out. The cows enter from the shed by way of a ramp to the elevated milking platform, which is 30 inches above the operating floor level. Each cow enters a separate milking stall. No stooping or squatting is necessary during the milking operation. When the milking is completed, the cows leave by way of a descending ramp to the shed.

Connected at a right angle to the milking parlor is a 13-by-14 foot concrete-block milk house completely equipped with electric appliances such as refrigerator, hot water heater and milking machine. By including all of these buildings in one unit, one man can carry out the complete operation in less time and with much more convenience.

Although Alvin's herd is only in the growing stage, he is gradually building for the future by breeding the original six purebred Ayrshire heifers artificially, and raising his own replacements.

Mr. Allen, with the help of his father-in-law, George Arrington, is planning a well rounded pasture and hay program, supplemented with a grain mixture that is composed of home-grown grains.

As Alvin's plans materialize, he hopes that he can increase the number of his cows to a maximum of 20 fine milking animals.

Bill Harding Now in Clover

Another booster for ladino clover has been found in William Harding, near Williamsburg, Md. A mixture of two pounds of ladino and 20 pounds of red clover was seeded in the wheat field in March. It was cut for hay in September, and 1000 bales were harvested, says the April issue of Pet Dairy Chats.

The land was well fertilized with an application of one ton of limestone per acre and 400 pounds of 6-8-6 fertilizer per acre.

Bill now has a splendid herd of 12 mixed Guernsey and Holstein cows. The milk production has increased from one can to four cans of milk. The Hardings have been sending milk to the Pet plant in Greensboro for the last 10 years.

How Delaware Farmers Broke DHIA Records

Sussex County farmers in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association broke records this year with the highest milk and butterfat averages in its history. The Tull Bros., of Seaford, broke another Sussex County record with butterfat average of 517 per cow, 52 cows. Kent County also broke its production and fat averages. New Castle County will finish its year's books in April, and there are going to be broken records there, too, thinks Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman at the University of Delaware.

There will be 16 Delaware herds on the National Honor Roll of the Purebred Cattle Association this year, compared to nine last year, said Young. He also said that dairymen who broke these records this year, did so by:

1. Studying individual production and feed cost records, and culling all cows who didn't show a profit.
2. Doing a better job of feeding—improving pastures and making better use of pastures is a big factor. Higher quality hay, more roughage, and more use of home grown corn and oats also helped to show profits.
3. Growing out their heifers to be much better when they enter the milking herd, and to make better lifetime records. Some Delaware dairymen, said Young, have 2-year-olds which weigh from 300 to 400 pounds more than average 2-year-olds did only five years ago.
4. Better Breeding, through superior herd sires, and the use of the Artificial Breeding Co-operative program.
5. Paving attention to the fine points of economical milk production.

Laurel, Camden Youths Win State DPIA Awards

Over 300 members and friends of the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association attended the 12th anniversary and annual banquet of the association last Thursday at Dover.

At the banquet, Joe Cataldi, Camden, was honored as the outstanding FFA poultry member of the year. Martin Johnson, Laurel, was presented as outstanding 4-H poultry member of the year.

The county winners in 4-H are: Delores Lloyd, Korner Ketch Club, Newark, New Castle County; Kenneth Richter, Canterbury Sunny-Smile Club, Viola, Kent County, and Martin Johnson, Sycamore 4-H Club, Sussex County.

The county FFA winners are: Gene Jordin, Mt. Cuba, Alexis I. duPont School, New Castle County; Joe Cataldi, Caesar Rodney School, Kent County, and Roland Fleetwood, Laurel Special School, Sussex County.

Hon. Harris B. McDowell, Jr., Secretary of State, addressed the group, and extended official greetings on behalf of the governor. President John Perkins, University of Delaware, spoke briefly. Other special guests were Dean George L. Schuster, School of Agriculture, University of Delaware; George M. Worrlow, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station and Agricultural Extension Service, University of Delaware; and H. R. Baker, poultry pathologist with the State Board of Agriculture.

Late Peach Sport Found in University Orchard

Dr. Chester W. Hitz, horticulturist on the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station staff, reports that a late ripening sport of Elberta peach has been found in the university orchards.

The sport limb was first noticed in 1949 because of its late ripening. In 1950, Hitz found that this limb blossomed a week to ten days later than the rest of the trees.

According to Dr. Hitz, this is latest blooming variety ever observed. The fruit of the sport is not excellent quality, but its late blooming and ripening characteristic will make it valuable in a breeding program.

If, by breeding, lateness and high quality can be combined, in one variety, it will help Delaware peach growers avoid the late spring frozes which kill blossoms on present varieties.

U. S. Farm Income Down Delaware's Stays Same

In spite of rising prices during the last half of 1950, United States farmers realized eight per cent less income from farming in 1950 than in 1949. Delaware farmers fared slightly better than surrounding states, according to W. T. McAllister, extension marketing specialist, University of Delaware. Compared with 1949, records showed practically no decline in receipts from farm marketing in Delaware.

Maryland had a two per cent decline, New Jersey, four per cent; Pennsylvania, a five per cent decline. Maine had the heaviest loss, 16 per cent, while North Carolina reported a 11 per cent gain.

This brings farmers' realized net income 27 per cent below the 1947 peak. In terms of purchasing power, farm incomes are 30 per cent below this peak.

Higher production costs were the principal reasons for the 1950 drop.

Estimated income per person on farms for 1950, was $804 compared to $816 in 1949. For non-farm persons it was $1544 in 1950; $1494 in 1949. In comparing "dollar and cent" changes of the two years, it is important to consider the devaluation of the dollar that took place in the last half of 1950, too, said McAllister.

Story of Oleomargarine

Napoleon III, who offered a prize in 1870 for the best butter substitute that could be produced in France, was in large part responsible for the first extensive manufacture of the product. Originally made from beef fat, margarine now is derived principally from the fats and oils of plants. The buttery flavor is obtained from milk which is treated with lactic acid bacteria—the same bacteria which gives butter its distinctive taste. Margarine today is custom-built to keep up with nutritional progress and available supplies.

Fooling with Guns

No genuine sportsman ever will point a gun at another person, nor engage in horseplay with anybody holding a gun—loaded or not.

Porcupine Damage

Porcupines, naturalists observe, sometimes return year after year to feed on a given tree. Each annual meal is made above the earlier ones until the growing wound causes the tree to die.

Early and Late Tomato Plants

We will have early tomato plants from Georgia around April 25th and late plants from Virginia starting about May 20th.

You have, no doubt, heard much talk about the shortage of all tomato products and how this is going to affect the coming season. There is certainly going to be an increase in the acreage.

The canners are not going to be able to use as many baskets per day as in the past due to labor shortage. With increased acreage and less capacity in the canneries we might, therefore, run into a serious glut this fall. So many growers are going to put in early tomatoes, therefore wouldn't it seem wise to consider some late tomatoes. We know that your yield is usually less but the price is better and more stable during the latter part of the season. Why not put in some plants the latter part of the season.

Buy direct from the plant farms and save. Upon request we will quote our prices.

We are contracting tomatoes for a Pennsylvania canner. We want them early and are contracting on field run basis. If you are interested please get in touch with us.

Social Security Queries Answered

Questions relating to Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance will be answered in this paper or by mail. Address all queries to Social Security Administration, Old Customs House Building, 6th & King Sts., Wilmington, Del.

Q. What types of jobs are covered by social security? Does the number of employees an employer has make any difference?

A. Any employer of one or more employees engaged in the usual type of commercial or industrial business is "covered" by the Social Security Act. Examples of "covered" jobs, regardless of the number of employees in the employer's establishment, are jobs in factories, mills, mines, offices, stores, banks, garages, hotels, restaurants, beauty parlors and the like.

Q. My wife has been working in employment covered by the Social Security law. If she should die would I be entitled to monthly benefits?

A. The law does not provide for payment of monthly benefits to a husband based on his wife's wage record. However, it does provide that if a wife is fully or currently insured and dies, the husband would be entitled to a lump sum benefit payment based on the wife's wage record provided he was living with her at the time of her death.

Q. How can I secure a statement of the wages credited to my social security account?

A. You should request any office of the Social Security Administration to furnish you with our post card Form OAR-7004. If you complete and mail this card to the address given thereon, you will receive a statement of the wages credited to your social security account. We suggest that you secure such a statement once each year.

Women's Club Endorses Bills

The Women's Democratic Club of Kent County met Wednesday evening, March 28, endorsing legislation before the General Assembly. Given unanimous approval was the bill to consolidate Old Age Welfare-aid with the Blind-State Board of Welfare and the Research Public Relations Bill (HB380).

In commenting on both bills, Mrs. Belle Everett, club president and vice-chairman of the Democratic County Committee, stated that particular effort was being put forth for both these bills. She added that everyone generally realized the value of the consolidation plans regarding the State Board of Welfare and that the more than 100 active members of her club hoped to acquaint the taxpayers with the bi-partisan sponsorship, economy value and research approach as related to the Public Relations Bill.

Said Mrs. Everett, "No doubt those who read HB 380 will appreciate its general principles, and we hope that the challenge of its bi-partisan nature, as sponsored by Representative James B. Tucker, Jr., (R-Wilm.) and representative William Paradee (D-K) will be accepted by Democrats and Republicans alike. It will aid the departments to function better and at the same time foster economy."

The meeting at Legislative Hall was well attended and all areas of the county were represented. The group voted Mrs. Jeanette Betts Dodd to be its representative to the Joint Legislative Committee.

On the club's legislative committee are Mrs. Elizabeth Pratt, Mrs. Madeline Cook, Mrs. E. Everett and Mrs. Mary Logan.

Storing Sweetpotatoes
Store only sound, disease-free potatoes. The first step is to thoroughly clean the house and fumigate it along with all used crates by burning one pound of sulphur for each 1,000 cubic feet of storage space. The house should be made as tight as possible, and it must remain shut up for 24 hours.
