Monday evening, at 7 o'clock the Ever Ready Class will hold its last meeting until fall with a covered dish supper in Collins Hall.

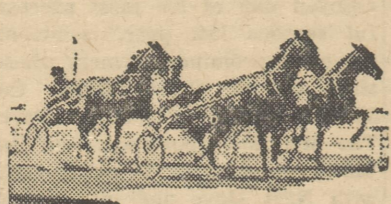

Notes of Local Highway Yard

All employees of the local yard returned to work Monday morning with a good report for the weekend except one.

The exception was William Bradley. His complaint was a minor one and probably due to overwork.

Work on the Harrington-Fredonia road is now in progress. When completed, it is expected that the highway connecting these towns, will be in A-1 condition.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

Mr. Chase and Mr. Stokley spent Monday visiting Rosecroft Raceway. While speaking of Mr. Stokley, he has had 5 wins out of ten starts, not so bad.

Mr. Ingram visiting the Stokleys, and watching the races every evening.

Happy Gray shipped out today for Rosecroft Raceway, which opens this Friday.

Pete Cotter, who helps train for Joe Eyer, also has sent his horses to Rosecroft.

Bill Sargent visiting the raceway. Bill has his stable up at Yonkers, N. Y.

George Dumont was down Saturday and stayed over Sunday with his family.

Bill and Lillian Myer came down from Rosecroft Raceway to watch the race the other evening.

I thought they hated to go back. Booty Morris said he didn't have a cent on his horse, one bite his horse won.

Sam, the harness man, getting all excited about leaving for nearer home.

I heard over the grapevine that, Harry Craig, Nick Larala, Eddy Jones, and Bill Sargent will be stable at Batavia Downs and ship over to Buffalo Raceway.

W. A. Smith, of Dublin, Pa., has purchased the colt, Little Eva, from Dr. Goodrich.

Betty Myer and Mable Walters spent the day at Dover getting their summer outfit together or part of it.

Bing Crosby, no relation to Bing Crosby, who sings all the time he is taking care of his horses.

Miss Connie Reed spent the weekend with her aunt, Mrs. John Salisbury, at Ridgely, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Yoder called on Mr. and Mrs. Archie Dill and Mrs. Mamie Dill Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carpenter, Laura Lord, and Mrs. Sallie Lord have been visiting in Kentucky recently.

Well, Bardia Direct came in and paid pretty good, and what did I do? Well, Dave gave the money and told me to place a combination across the board.

Vinal Kirby doing all right with Dudley Spencer. He sure gets a kick out of racing him.

Warren Holmes and wife over from Rosecroft to watch the races and pick up Doug Smith who has gone to work for Warren.

You know I bet Mr. Ensen, when he goes home at night hears in his sleep, "You put my horse in too tough."

Sure miss getting any news from Mr. Holloway; he is too busy now to hardly stand still long enough for that.

Merrymakers Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Merrymakers Home Demonstration Club of Harrington was held Tuesday evening, May 8.

The meeting progressed with the usual order of business. Mention was made of the fact that seven members of the club attended the church services Sunday evening.

Plans were made for the picnic which will be held Thursday night, June 23, at Wheeler's park at 6:30.

The July meeting will be concerned with the short course reports of the delegates.

A contribution was made to the cancer drive, and the meeting was adjourned.

The butterscotch pecan rolls were served as refreshments with coffee.

Poppy Day Proclaimed by Mayor Rash

All Citizens of Harrington are urged to wear a memorial poppy on Saturday, May 26, in a proclamation issued today by Mayor Rash, setting the day aside as Poppy Day.

Poppies, made by disabled veterans at Lake City, Florida, will be distributed throughout the city by members of the American Legion Auxiliary on May 25 and 26.

Whereas the roll of those who have given their lives in the nation's defense is increasing as war takes its toll of our finest young men and

Whereas the memory of those citizens of Harrington who make the supreme sacrifice for America

Should live forever in the hearts of all citizens of our City, and "Whereas annual wearing of the memorial poppy is an individual tribute to the war dead, showing that we remember and are grateful for their sacrifices in our behalf, now

John J. O'Brien and Francis (Jock) LaBelle, who supervise Delaware Park's backstretch recreation program, will again be back at the helm of the extensive athletics activities which provide sport and relaxation for racing personnel during off-hours. The program includes baseball, basketball, boxing, tennis and other recreational pastimes. The twice-weekly boxing shows and the softball games between the various stable teams, jockeys and department teams, are always the highlights of the program. LaBelle is a Purple Heart veteran of World War II, in addition to being a New York State licensed boxing referee. O'Brien is physical education director at St. Peter's Academy, Saratoga, N. Y.

Leo O'Grady, general manager of Olympic Parking Service, Inc., will again be in charge of the Delaware Park operation at the forthcoming meeting, opening for 32 days on May 29. The 25 cent parking system will again prevail, with Olympic's crew consisting largely of University of Delaware students and ex-servicemen. Free towing, tire changing and minor emergency-repair service will be available to Delaware Park patrons.

Feminine thoroughbred owners more than held their own when it came to winning stake races last year at Delaware Park, which reopens May 29. No less than five of the 15 stakes that were run were won by horses owned by women. They were: Wilmington Handicap, Royal Blood, owned by Maine Chance Farm; Polly Drummond Stakes, Merry Xmas, Mrs. Esther duPont Weir; Delaware Spring Maiden Steeplechase, Port Raider, Mrs. L. E. Stoddard; New Castle Handicap, Adile, and Leonard Richards Stakes, Post Cards, owned by Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords.

One of America's most powerful racing stables—the Brookmeade establishment of Mrs. Dodge Sloane—again will be represented at Delaware Park during the 32-day meeting May 29-July 4. Trainer Preston Burch will be in charge of the flat runners, while Arthur White will handle the jumpers. Mrs. Sloane was the leading money-winning owner of 1950. Her Brookmeade colorbearers accounted for $651,399 in stakes and purse money, with an even 100 victories, 94 seconds and 61 thirds. Calumet Farm, which had been the leader four straight times prior to 1950, was second last year with $638,280.

John L. McKnight will have a stable of horses at Delaware Park for the first time, although in the past he has shipped a horse here for a stake engagement on occasion. One of the McKnight horses, Play Toy, captured Garden State Park's 1951 inaugural feature.

Alfred Gwyne Vanderbilt, who enjoyed one of his most successful seasons last year, is among the more prominent owners whose silks will be shown during the 32-day meeting at Delaware Park. The Maryland sportsman won the 1950 version of the Delaware Oaks with Next Move and may repeat with the smart filly Sweet Talk.

Women Become U. S. Citizens

Mrs. Winifred Brown Cooper, Camden, a native of Australia, and Mrs. Norma Ann French, Felton, who came here from Canada were admitted to American citizenship in proceedings before Judge Charles L. Terry, Jr., in Superior Court Friday.

A Quaker, Mrs. Cooper was not required to pledge willingness to bear arms in defense of the United States in the light of a federal ruling on the question of conscientious religious scruples but, in accordance with requirements in that respect, she swore willingness to serve in the fields, factories, nursing, and the like.

Judge Terry and Col. John P. LeFevre the latter for the American Legion, addressed the two women on their responsibilities and obligations as American citizens, the privileges made available to them, and the duties imposed upon them.

HARRINGTON HAS A FAST TRACK

The Kent & Sussex Raceway has one of the fastest half-mile tracks in the nation. Despite the fact that programs at some other raceways, in comparing speeds of the harness tracks, usually give themselves an edge on us, this is where the horses come for records.

Wednesday evening, May 9, Louis Floyd drove Hadley Hanover to an all-time trotting record here of 2:02.5. The previous record was 2:03 1-4, made by Hollyrod Garnet, driven by Harrington's Polly Sipe, at the fair here during the war years. The pacing record is 2:02 1-4, made by Guy the Tramp in July, 1934.

Hadley Hanover, owned by J. Downing, L. and R. Floyd, Johnstown, Va., went two laps around the track with apparently little effort. He was not forced, eased up at the wire, and could have made an even better mark, in the opinion of observers.

A VIP of the harness world, with a stop watch, timed the 6-year-old bay horse, for the first half, in 1:01, and remarked, of his watch, "it's never been wrong before." This same person said he had never heard of a horse going that fast before so early in the season.

Previous to his Harrington encounter, Hadley Hanover had won three out of four races at Yonkers, with one victory being the junior free-for-all for a $3000-purse. His winnings, this year until the race here, were $3450. Why did he come here?

Various reasons have been advanced, the most plausible is that the Dean Hanover horse would be more valuable for stud purposes with a good record, and he came to Harrington for his mark because of the fast track. In fact, the diagonally-gaited steed had a previous mark of 2:06.

We also believe Floyd took great delight in letting Delmarva race fans know what a good horse he really had.

Why did Henry Volo, owned by Rosecroft's W. E. Miller, come to the fair last year and make 2:01.1 in a time trial? We believe Miller did it to establish a record for the pacer on a "really" fast track.

SOME OTHER RECORDS HERE

When Hadley Hanover's performance set the raceway buzzing last week, officials dug up these additional records here, with more to come:

- Three-year-old trotters, 2:07, Guy Hamilton, 1950
- Three-year-old pacers, 2:05 1-2, Mr. Abbedale, 1937
- Two-year-old pacers, 2:07.3, Hedgewood Fingo, 1950

SELF-DISCIPLINE OR SLAVERY

When we note the reception that Harrington and other communities are giving the civil defense program, we are reminded of Bernard Baruch's speech before the Boys' Clubs of America recently.

The elder statesman and adviser declared that the Western world's key to peace and security is "self-discipline," which he defined as ability to put aside "petty discomforts and petty profits" in favor of the national interest. "Our choice," he said, "is self-discipline or slavery."

Baruch added, if the United States is overwhelmed, it will not be because others had a superior strength, but because we failed to discipline the various pressure groups in the national interest. "What greater incentive, profit or comfort can we desire," he asked, "than to preserve our liberty. What baubles that we clutch to our bosoms are worth a tithe of that?"

We believe civil defense is synonymous to self-discipline. The fighter planes we see overhead, the trainloads of troops and half-tracks one sees going through Harrington are not headed for the picnic grounds. Civil defense and self-discipline begin at home and they begin with the individual. It is up to YOU to get busy at once to do YOUR part, or will you have "blood on your hands?"

Civil defense has a part in the program of the military, too, in that part of its job is to spot enemy planes and to prevent sabotage.

The cost of freedom is dear; the cost of keeping it is dearer.

PASSING OF TALKING WHISTLES

Diesel Locomotives are fine for pulling heavy trains, but they are putting an end to the engineer's ability to express himself by use of a whistle.

The engineer, with his old-time whistle, could talk to the surrounding countryside and often did. He could grab a cord in his cab and make the whistle sound an intelligent good-bye when pulling out of the home town, and he could sound an equally understandable hello on his return. He could speak to his wife, too, before leaving the cab, and tell her he was back in town as he approached the station.

Thousands of people along the railroad lines became familiar with the tricks skilled engineers could play with their whistles, but less and less of this kind of music is heard now days. Diesel horns are not linguistic. They can roar or bellow but they can't talk to friends along the rail highways, and a lot of old-time engineers regret this change.

There is talk of equipping Diesels with whistles that sound like real locomotive whistles, but it appears doubtful that anything without a steam locomotive behind it would be able to produce the plaintive and expressive language of the conventional "iron horse."

Talladega (Ala.) News

RR
Railroad News

We are all sorry to hear that Bill Pippin, passenger solicitor at Wilmington, has been laid up with a heart attack. Bill was telling us a few days ago that he had some baseball specials lined up for the Delmarva division this year.

We are also pulling for Ted Angus' recovery from a stroke suffered last spring shortly after being transferred to Baltimore. Ted was a guy who made a lot of friends and still likes to hear from them. An example is the notice received by all supervision on the Southern division last week from Mr. Shultz, chief engineer in Philadelphia, reading as follows: "Mr. T. F. Angus, formerly master carpenter on the Maryland and Delmarva Divisions is now undergoing treatment in the Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center at Fishersville, Va. I know it would be appreciated by Ted if you would notify those under your jurisdiction who know him, if they would drop him a card or letter."

Ted has been stationed at many points on the railroad before coming to Harrington but holds this town and his friends on this division closer than all and his highest hopes are centered on getting back here some day. Let's drop him a line at Section B19, Room 12, Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center, Fishersville, Va.

While we cannot report much improvement in passenger business, there has been a very decisive increase in freight movement. Predictions are that this will continue with potatoes and canning seasons getting closer and the military situation getting bigger every day.

Customer: So you and your son are carrying on the business together?

Contractor: Not exactly. I run the business and my son does the carrying on.

Troop movement in and out of Fort Miles and construction of the dual highway between Bridgeville and Greenwood add to the increase in railroad operation centering around Harrington. Indications are that both of these will continue to grow.

The spring racing meet don't do much in the way of revenue for the railroad but we understand the railroaders are doing a lot to help feed the horses.

Uncle Sam also has a move on foot to help speed his soldiers and to bring about lasting peace. We are all going to be asked in the next few days to purchase liberty bonds by payroll deductions. Many of us are already buying them since the last war but if we can still go one more and help make the Harrington unit 100 per cent we will be doing a big thing for our division, ourselves and the world at large.

Speaking of the last war reminds us that a U. S. O. troupe crossing the ocean was torpedoed and sank so fast everybody was lost except the magician and his parrot. As dawn broke there was nothing on the horizon and so it continued for the next three days with the magician clinging to a life raft. Finally the parrot said: "Look Mack. I have been with you for 20 years and know all your tricks, but this one has me stumped. What did you do with the ship?"

The annual bridge inspection started at Norfolk last Monday and will finish up next week. The party consists of two representatives from the Bridge Engineers Office in Philadelphia and the following local talent: Jimmy Moore, supervisor of structures; George Rapp, general foreman; Marion Brown and Ollie Stokes, bridge inspectors.

Another Smart Guy: During the anatomy test, an observing schoolboy wrote: "Your legs is what if you ain't got two pretty fair ones you can't get to first base with, and neither can your sister."

The automatic crossing gates at Cheswold went in service last Tuesday. These gates were installed at the request of the Citizens Council for 24 hour protection.

This is the 16th crossing on the division where gates have been installed during the past four years. Several others have been authorized and will be installed as soon as material is received.

A big improvement has been shown in the blocking of the fairgrounds crossing since through northward trains stop south of the crossing when cutting off for water.

Letter to the Editor

Dover, Delaware
May 14, 1951

Editor
Harrington Journal
Harrington, Delaware
Dear Sir:

In the welter of bills presented to the present session of the General Assembly, it may have been difficult for even the press to pick out a "must" list to discuss with its readers. With the exception of the Supreme Court bill and a few others that have had general acceptance for a long time I have been surprised how little our Republican dominated press has had to say about the many controversial measures that should be of paramount interest to all us tax payers.

Out of the more than 500 bills introduced in the House there are only a dozen or so that are of general import. Among these were a few "hot potatoes," for both Democrats and Republicans. So the press does not take a stand on the Civil Rights bill (HB 297) or the Fair Employment Practice bill (HB 319) or the Act to Abolish Whipping (HB 350). It also kept mum on the five or six bills creating new or better organized departments, such as Civil Defense, Board of Correction, Board of Public Contracts, Dept. of Research, Public Relations, Department of Elections. Nor did it take a stand on Kindergarten in the Public Schools.

There has been a clamor for economy but the Legislature has not fully explored the possibility of saving by these measures in the House.

Out of 459 bills introduced to May 4 in the Senate, less than 30 had the stamp of general interest—that is held some promise for better service to the public or increased benefits for tax payers.

Of this number, the 19 reorganization bills received some stereotyped copy, based upon releases by the Reorganization Committee, but I have seen no definite stands by any paper on any of these bills—except demure that time was too short to give them consideration.

As a tax payer who was aroused by the "trading" tactics in this session I read all of the bills that I consider musts and think I understand them. I do not know how or where they would save money, but this Legislature, if it had wanted to, could have spent the last three months finding such answers!

And it seems to me that the newspapers could have taken more positive stands not only on so-called reorganization bills, but also on such bills in the Senate at call for an elevator in Legislative Hall (for them older people might take places in the gallery, where now one sees mostly school juveniles, bored and restlers at the proceedings) and upon bills such as SB 411—Enlargement and Improvements of System of Free Public Schools.

I am not aiming this broadside at your publication. However, since it is one of the few 100% Democratic journals in the state, I think it may have a larger responsibility on stand-taking than the Republican organs, which wait for party leaders to speak before taking stands.

Sincerely,
Bill Reader

National Legion Auxiliary Present to Visit Dover

Mrs. Willis C. Reed, of Vinita, Okla., national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given in the Grange Hall in Dover, May 21, at 7 o'clock by the Department of Delaware on the occasion of Mrs. Reed's official visit to the state.

Widely experienced in auxiliary activities through 20 years of service, state and national offices, Mrs. Reed is giving able leadership to the auxiliary's 980,000 women in their national program of patriotic and civic work.

Joining the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary in Vinita in 1929, Mrs. Reed immediately became active in its work. She served in local and state offices and in 1936 was elected president of the Oklahoma department. A successful year as state president was followed by appointment to the chairmanship of the National Junior Activities Committee. A handbook for junior members which she wrote is still in use.

Mrs. Reed came into national prominence in 1945 and 1944, when, as national legislative chairwoman, she directed the auxiliary's support of the American Legion's fight for enactment of the G. I. Bill of Rights.

At the time of her election to the national presidency she was completing a successful year as chairman of the National Child Welfare Committee in charge of the auxiliary's nation-wide work for needy children of veterans.

A reception for Mrs. Reed will be held preceding the banquet, at the home of Mrs. George Ehinger in Dover.

KAPITAL KOMENT

Dear Folks:

Well they've gone an dun it, past that air big court bill an got us inter sum more mess seim as how now Carvel got him a rite much of a headache gittin the rite peopl to putt on the bench. Sum say he don't know whos goin any wher butt I'll lay 2 pounds agin a shillin he noes an has had em all picked out sense las March.

Anerias sez the reason he don't tell bout his ideas on them things, sum body else mite hav a betterun an could offer there ideas bout such things an he sez one thing fer sure Carvel is givnor till 1953 an can do just what ever he wants caus that's his privelege if it suits there folks upto the Delawar Truss House.

Anerias sez it seam awful quar to him how cum they up an our komeiteam sed they wuz goin to hold it in the house fer keeps an then it busted out just like an ole sow an run hog wile like the house with nary a man votin agin it. Politicks, er sumpin, sure take quar turns sumtimes, he sez, an he wuz still a figerin it out cum Sunday when I wuz over to his place an he ain't got no wher figerin yet so he sez.

Emmy keeps a reedin the Journal from time to time an she sez they dun past Miss Julie's pet bill lass weak to, an now all the big folks up run where she lives must all be happy caus they wuzn't hav any junk yards er partment houses where they don't want em er anything else of everthing goes like they want it.

My naylor just cum in (Sunday evenin) an he wuz just a bubblin over with sum more news bout our folks doins las weak an cordin to his remarks they musta got kinda ruff on Uncle Tom bout sumpin an Uncle Tom dun called Boss Harvey's hand.

Peers like they fixt to do sumhow like las sesshun, just a few tell everbody else how to do there job, an it seams just a few pick out the other fery an they left

Uncle Tom out of the deal caus Miedoul an Carvel thot Boss Harvey wood be less truble if Uncle Tom wuzn't into the deels soz after all the blue smoke clared away Uncle Tom putt a bur under Boss Harvey's belt, got our state cheerman strated out agin an putt an awful reef in there sails when it cum to swopin bills an payin off.

He heard to that Clare spent las Toosday er Weensday nigh all day, with Carvel soz they bout got everthing strated out he thinks ceptin how to git sum of there pet bills past.

He wonderd sum bout how this sesshun wood turn out an if Carvel wood be strutin roum like a peecok with his thums in his weskit atellin everbody how they got bout fore lifts of his platform past an wuzn't that a fine progrem seen as how we wuz boss of the house maybe.

Coars sum of there promises to the voters won't go thure caus they don't wantem to, like that air 4 man lickor commishun. That reminds me of Pap, years ago, swopin bosses—when he got a goodoun boy he sure got a good deal outen it an that air bill of thereen is sure good swopin stock.

You see we don't want it caus it makes us a site of votes after all an givs us a site of doonshuns for the campain kitty butt it does seam kinda hard to hafta buy your lisenec an then pay 500 or more to git to keep it.

That's the way our folks wants it soz that's the way we got it an all them church folks whats a fumun bout lickor an sayloons ain't never sed beans bout this here lickor commishun bill sense that fellor Webb of thereen putt it inter the Senete.

Emmy an Marthe git to talkin bout me an Zeke havin a little dram now an agin an Marthe sez there church folks ain't sed a word bout Kernel Stair durin the hole sesshun butt they bin just a rarin bout keepin the sayloons open after 12 erlock.

Peers like everbody likes the good Kernel so much they be just a mite affered to say anything er he mite quit an then we git us a Democrat maybe er

HADACOL HELPS LEE AND MARILYN SUE

HADACOL Helps Children with Weak, Run-Down Conditions When Due to Deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron

Young Lee Horton and Marilyn Sue Scieszinski live many miles apart, but they both have one thing in common—they both take HADACOL. When Lee was not feeling as good as his father, F. W. Horton, thought he should feel, he gave Lee HADACOL. Lee, who lives at 108 74th Ave., Houston, Texas, took his HADACOL regularly and his father says he now feels real good.

Mrs. J. Scieszinski, Marilyn's mother, who lives at 514 Kruger, Ottumwa, Iowa, sees that her daughter takes her HADACOL each day, too, and Mrs. Scieszinski says Marilyn likes to take her HADACOL. Their stories will show you how you may be helped by HADACOL, if you are suffering a weak, run-down condition and poor appetite if due to a deficiency of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin.

Mr. Horton says about Lee: "Lee was very weak and run-down and just didn't want to eat at all. We heard about HADACOL and decided that was what Lee needed. After he started taking HADACOL his appetite picked up right away. He started gaining weight and eats real well now, and has been feeling real good. HADACOL has been good for Lee and I heartily recommend it to everyone."

Mrs. Scieszinski says about Marilyn Sue: "My daughter, Marilyn Sue, is 5 years old, and for some time had a poor appetite, was generally run-down. Since giving her HADACOL, we have noticed wonderful results. She has a much better appetite, eats everything on the table, and doesn't seem tired like she used to. Incidentally, she likes to take her HADACOL, too."

HOW TO "MAKE A HIT" with your Party-Line Neighbors

1. When you start to make a telephone call and find your party line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call.
2. When, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up reasonably soon and free the line.

These little courtesies are returned again and again... with dividends for all in good telephone service. When party-line neighbors cooperate, everybody benefits!

"One For The Book"

Miss Reynolds, our town librarian, really put a smart-aleck motorist in his place last week—right in center of town, corner of Main and Walnut.

Her car stalled, tying up traffic. Most drivers just waited quietly—realizing she couldn't help it—but one fellow kept blaring away on his horn.

So Miss Reynolds gets out of her car, walks over and says sweetly, "I'm afraid I can't start my engine. If you'd like to try I'll stay here and lean on that horn for you." That stopped him!

Robinson and family, of Marion, N. C., are planning to move to Marydel in the near future. Marydel has again lost another highly respected and beloved member of its community in the passing away at her home Saturday, May 12, of Mrs. Hildred Seward Lapham, wife of Edward W. Lapham. Although Mrs. Lapham has been ill since October and had been a patient in the Easton Hospital for nine weeks, still her death was a shock to the community where she has resided for the past four years. She was born near Ridgely, Md., one of three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. T. Frank Seward. Her father, now deceased, was treasurer of Caroline County for 18 years. Surviving her are her husband, Edward Lapham; two daughters, Mrs. Miriam Thornton, of Greensboro, and Mrs. Geraldine Harman; four grandchildren, Susan and Bobby Thornton, and Patty and

Edgar Harman Jr.; her mother, Mrs. Annie Seward, of Easton, and two sisters, Mrs. Ella Baker, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Anna Frances Hoffman, of Wynnewood, Pa. Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Lapham was a teacher in the Goldsboro and Marydel grade schools. She was also an active member of the Marydel W. S. C. S. Civic Club, Calvary Methodist Church and Eastern Star of Denton. Funeral services were held from the Rawling's Funeral Parlors, Greensboro, Tuesday afternoon with interment in the Greensboro Cemetery. The Rev. C. H. Atkins was in charge of the services. Pallbearers were her two son-in-laws, R. Allen Thornton and Edgar Harman, Herbert Ward, and Louis H. Collison, of Marydel; Norman Smith and John T. Milby, of Goldsboro. Little Patty Harman, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Harman, received treatment at the Kent General Hospital for burns received when she poured over herself a kettle of boiling water. On May 25 between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. the Delaware Cancer Detection Mobile Unit will be stationed in Marydel in the center of town, on the side of the L. H. Collison Store, to serve women of this area who are interested in taking advantage of this service. Please remember the date—Fri., May 25. And come out for an examination, free. For further information kindly contact Mrs. L. A. Covell or Mrs. L. H. Collison.

There will be no church service held in the Calvary Methodist Church Sunday due to the annual conference which will be in session in Dover at the time. Sunday School will be held at 10 a. m., the usual time in Marydel. Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. the members of the Junior Choir of Calvary Methodist Church will be entertained at a television party at the home of Mrs. L. A. Covell, with Mrs. L. H. Collison as co-hostess.

FARM NEWS AND REVIEW

Jester Gray Runs Cattle on Grass

Jester Gray, who lives on U. S. 113 just north of Frederica, has 87 Angus and Hereford steers on grass. Recently he sold 17.

Gray buys his feeders locally and at terminal markets. He buys them at any time when they weigh between 400 and 500 pounds and runs them on Ladino clover and orchard grass. In the winters he roughs them on lespe-deza hay. This past winter was the first when the cattle didn't get any grain. Gray believes he makes more money by running them on grass than by feeding them on grain.

While he buys both Angus and Hereford feeders, he prefers the latter, believing they make better gains.

This week he looked around for 800-pound feeders without success. This is heavier than he usually buys but he had good reasons. He wanted cattle that he could market before the fall run of western cattle began. The uncertain market also made it advisable to buy feeders he would not have to hold very long.

Beef Price Control No Help, Says Farm Economist

The new government regulations on the price of beef will not help consumers get more meat, according to W. T. McAllister, marketing specialist at the University of Delaware agricultural extension service. Speaking on the Delaware Farm and Home Hours last week, McAllister said, "Eventually consumers will either have an adequate supply of beef at high prices, or the amount allowed them by a ration coupon at a lower price."

"Prices are high," he said, "because more people want beef than there is beef to fill the demand. Prices, in this case, act as a rationer of supply. When the price goes high enough, some consumers turn to less expensive cuts, or meat substitutes, or get along with less beef."

"The Office of Price Stabilization is trying to use a more popular method of rationing by controlling the price so more people can buy beef, or buy it in greater quantities." That would work fine, he pointed out, if the supply could be increased quickly to meet the even larger demand that will result from lower prices. In fact, we wouldn't need price control if the supply was large or could be increased quickly.

"But the production of meat is a slow, biological process," McAllister went on. "Production just can't keep pace with rapidly expanding demand. Farmers were growing more beef when the price was going up. But the new regulations will take away this incentive and even slow down production. Already, growers have shipped many lightweight and poorly finished cattle to market to beat the OPS deadline, and that cuts our potential beef supply."

In conclusion, McAllister pointed out that we have still not found a way to manipulate the laws of supply and demand successfully.

Short Course Planned For Homemakers

The 13th Annual Homemakers' Short Course will be held on the campus of the University of Delaware from June 13-16. The dates were announced this week by Miss M. Gertrude Holloway, state home demonstration leader. Approximately 150 women are expected to "go to college" for the three days.

The program will include talks on current international affairs, health, flower arrangement, grooming, and Delaware institutions and history. Music and recreation will be featured throughout the program.

The homemakers attending short course live in the college dormitories and become acquainted with and enjoy the campus facilities. Thursday and Friday will be Visitors Day for homemakers who cannot enroll for the three-day course. On June 16 the group will visit New Castle to attend a part of the Tercentary celebration. They'll also visit Longwood Gardens.

Information concerning the short course may be obtained from the home demonstration agents in Newark, Dover, and Georgetown, or the State Extension Office in Newark.

Stainless steel is used by some surgeons to patch or replace damaged bones because the metal withstands body acids and does not poison the blood.

Look For Peach Borer Damage Now

Peach orchards should be inspected early in the spring for signs of borers, say scientists at the experiment station here.

Actually, there are two species of borers which attack peaches, one known as the peach tree borer and the other as the lesser peach tree borer. And in many ways the lesser borer is the greater of the two evils, according to Dr. L. A. Stearns, station entomologist.

So far as the grower is concerned, the two borers are most readily identified by the place they are found on the tree. Borers found at soil level or below are almost always the peach tree borer. Borers found in the trunk and branches will be almost entirely the lesser peach tree borer. The full grown larva or grub of the lesser borer is smaller than that of the peach tree borer.

"Control of peach borers has not kept pace with the control of other peach pests," says Dr. Stearns. "DDT has proved fairly effective against the peach tree borer, but is not as effective against the lesser peach tree borer. Of new insecticides tested, parathion shows the greatest promise."

Directions for the control of peach borers may be obtained upon request to county agents. Special control measures for home orchards are also available.

Prof. Donald MacCreary, of the Entomology Department, is making a special study of the emergence periods of these two borers in 1951, in order that treatments may be timed to give more satisfactory results.

Sudan Grass Praised As Summer Pasture

Sudan grass has been recommended very strongly by Claude Phillips, of the University of Delaware, for summer pasture. It will provide grazing, said the agronomy department head, recently, when permanent pasture has been slowed down by heat and dry weather.

"Plant Sudan grass around May 20," he advised Delaware farmers. "Use from 20 to 25 pounds of seed to the acre, of the varieties Common or Sweet. Apply from 400 to 500 pounds of a 5-10-5 or 4-12-8 fertilizer."

Sudan grass will be ready for grazing from five to six weeks after it is planted. Then it will carry from three to four dairy cows to the acre, depending on the amount of fertilizer applied, and the fertility of the land. Phillips advises that Sudan grass pastures be divided into two lots, and grazed alternately.

"Do not graze before the Sudan grass is 15 to 18 inches tall," he warned dairymen. "You may, however, graze it shorter afterward. Also, don't let your cows eat it after it's been wilted by very severe hot weather or frosted."

Vaccination Saves Kent Poultry Flocks

"Newcastle disease is one of the most serious threats to Kent County poultry flocks," said John Crothers, assistant county agricultural agent. "And in a concentrated poultry area like Delaware, there is constant danger of disease spreading to your farm."

The county extension office has a leaflet telling poultrymen at what age chickens should be vaccinated, which vaccine to use, and how to vaccinate.

Just write, call or stop in at your county office and ask for the leaflet "Vaccinate Your Flock." It is Extension Folder 21. The county office phone number is Dover 2621.

Bridge Display at The Farmers Bank

One of the most interesting displays of the many that the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware have had, is the one about the Delaware Memorial Bridge.

The Delaware Memorial Bridge was featured in an article by the Life Magazine recently, with pictures taken by Peter Stackpole, Life staff photographer, who went up with the men and the steel, back to his photographic love, the building of big bridges.

By next August, the men who work high steel will have spun their metal web across the Delaware, and a big new suspension bridge crossing the river below Wilmington will be finished. From the distance, the Delaware Memorial Bridge will seem as delicate a thing as man can build: its 427-ft. towers will bend slightly in high winds, and the 4-lane highway it dangles from suspension cables will sway a little, but the delicacy will be deceptive. The bridge will be another of those necessary projects at which American engineers excel, crossing a mile of water stretching 2150 feet between towers. It is the sixth longest span in the world and is the biggest bridge now going up anywhere. It will cost 44 million dollars and has already cost the lives of four men.

"The job" as bridgemen call it, started in 1948 and now, with the main cables spun, branch high over the open waters where only the most experienced bridgemen like to work. On it, hundreds of feet in the air, they lean against the wind and stroll nervously along the narrow girders, riveting, bolting and tugging trusses into place.

Mario Lanza in "The Great Caruso" At Reese Theatre

To Play Limited Engagement Sun., Mon. and Tues., May 20, 21 and 22

Not for many moons has the Reese Theatre, located at Harrington, had the privilege of presenting such an important offering as the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer technicolor hit, "The Great Caruso," featuring the world's greatest singer Mario Lanza.

Never in history, has there been so many crowds of cheering fans to welcome Mario Lanza, in every city, on his recent singing tour. Ever since Mario Lanza thrilled the nation with his great love song "Be My Love," thousands have waited with eagerness the coming of "The Great Caruso."

Ann Blyth and Dorothy Kirsten support Lanza in this true life story of America's greatest singer and idol of millions.

To miss "The Great Caruso" at the Reese Theatre, Sun., Mon. and Tues., May 20, 21 and 22, is to miss the rarest treat in theatrical history.

Felton School News

Referendum Passes
Felton pupils are rejoicing this week at the outcome of the referendum to retain their athletic coach and music teacher. Felton School backers turned out Saturday to support the referendum which was carried by a vote of 314 to 55. The board of school trustees, faculty, P.T. A., and pupils want to express their gratitude to all those who have made it possible for Felton to continue its full program of school service.

Miss Rinehart Entertains Home Economics Students
On Tues., May 8, Miss Rinehart was hostess to all home economics students. Refreshments were sandwiches, punch, cookies and potato chips.

High School Receives A First Prize
Felton High School had more students attend the Play Festival at the University of Delaware than any other school in Delaware. In recognition of this audience participation the university awarded a one-year subscription to "Players' Magazine" for the library.

Eights Hold Last Party
The eighth grade held a party in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, May 11. Games were played, refreshments were served and everyone had a nice time.

Coach Awards Basketball Letters
Varsity basketball letters were awarded to the players last Wednesday.

Seniors Hold Prom
The senior prom will be held May 25. Frank Davis and his seven piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Green Devils Meet
Harrington in Baseball
The Felton Green Devils will wind up their baseball season next Friday when they meet Harrington in a return game at the F. H. S. field.

Five Athletes and Two Cheerleaders Graduate
Felton will lose through graduation five boys with good athletic records. They are Bob Voshell, Ted Hughes, Don Rentz, Bradley Steele, and Charles Donophan. Ann Moore and Joyce Powell, two of the green-and-white cheerleaders, will lay aside their megaphones next month.

War-time Diet

At the depth of wartime shortages, the Dutch were forced to eat large numbers of their bulbs—a diet that was far from popular, since the bulbs are non-nourishing, unappetizing and contain a disturbing acid.

There will be out-of-state speakers and a movie on the life of the bee. Refreshments will be served. Everybody is welcome.

Laurel Youth Raises Prize-Winning Garden

Rowland Hearn

Rowland Hearn, 17, of Laurel, not only grew prize-winning vegetables and fruits last season, but also was chosen state champion in the national 4-H Garden program. Rowland's trip to Chicago last fall was given by Allis-Chalmers.

By intelligent planning and economical purchasing of plants and seeds, he got his garden off to a good start. Among the vegetables grown were tomatoes and eggplant. The tomatoes were pruned, staked and sprayed. His 100 eggplants yielded approximately 300 fruits, enough to supply the neighbors.

After meeting the needs of the family for canning and freezing foods for winter, and storing turnips and potatoes, the surplus was sold. Rowland's acre of garden showed a profit of $82.

Laurel Auction Start Is May 21

Despite the retarding of spring crops, particularly strawberries, by the lack of rain, the Laurel farmers Auction Block is planning to open for the season on May 21. Strawberries will be the first crop handled.

The results of the federal inspection at the block last season proved so successful that it will be continued this season for all types of produce. The average prices paid at the Laurel auction block last season were the highest on the Eastern Shore.

For several years, the auction block has handled an average of 25,000 crates of strawberries. Last year, however, sales dropped to about half that amount.

On account of greatly increased acreage, this year's crop is expected to top the average, provided the weather turns more favorable.

SOME STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT CHICK FEEDING

LET'S be perfectly frank. A chick cannot work miracles by itself. Without the right feed... a feed that supplies all the nutritional values that growing chicks need... even the best quality chicks cannot grow into top producers.

The National Research Council has determined these nutritional values from actual experience and results. Here's how Southern States Starting & Growing Mash compares with them:

	Council's Allowances	Starting & Growing Mash
Protein	20%	21.16%
Fat	4%	4.72%
Calcium	1%	1.31%
Phosphorus	6%	8.26%
Manganese (PPM)	55	81
Vitamin A (units per lb.)	2000	6550
Vitamin D (units per lb.)	180	337
Riboflavin (units per lb.)	1600	2071

*Figures according to latest analysis

Notice that in every case, Southern States Starting & Growing Mash exceeds the minimum requirements. This doesn't mean that Starting & Growing Mash can work miracles, but it definitely shows that it can make a significant difference in the growth and production of your chicks. Why not try it for your flock and see the results for yourself?

Nyle Callaway Discovers Copy Of Harrington's First Newspaper

Nyle Callaway, near McColley's Pond, recently sent in town a copy of the "Harrington Enterprise," probably the town's first newspaper. This copy was of Dec. 11, 1884 and was No. 23, of Vol. II. Thus, the newspaper was probably founded in the late summer of 1883. Editors and proprietors were J. E. Horney and J. P. Hopkins.

The newspaper had four pages and was unusual in that it was 26 3/4 inches long and 19 inches wide. Consequently, the publication, which had eight columns, had a much larger sheet than is seen in current-day newspapers. Because of their large size, they were often referred to as blanket newspapers.

The newspaper was published on the second floor of the building now occupied by Harvey Camper, which is on the south side of Clark Street just two doors from Commerce Street.

The "Harrington Enterprise" was mentioned in Scharff's "History of Delaware," written in 1888. The newspaper was later published by B. Howard Johnson on the second floor of a frame building which stood on the site of the Brown Smith building, now occupied by Hobb's Barbershop and H. M. Black's Ladies' Apparel Shop, on Commerce Street. Johnson later moved to Denton and was one of the owners of "The Denton Journal," in which his son, Benjamin Johnson, is still interested.

We do not know when the "Harrington Enterprise" ceased publication. However, Willie Bradshaw was publishing "The Harrington Bits," a newspaper of tabloid format, in Cain's Alley (often referred to incorrectly as "Gaines Alley") in the early part of this century in a building which stood on the site on the building now occupied by Horn's Bakery. Bradshaw later moved to Farmington and started a print shop. Frank Fleming started "The Harrington Journal" in 1913 in the quarters occupied by "The Bits." The Journal was purchased by J. Harvey Burgess in January, 1917. The building burned down in 1928 and the business moved to its present quarters in the old First National Bank Building. It was purchased by W. C. and C. H. Burgess in August, 1949.

Getting back to the "Harrington Enterprise." The newspaper was typical of its day: It published mostly news and features extracted from the dailies and various magazines. Local news was held to a minimum. Advertisements were small and consisted largely of business cards run on a yearly contract.

Through these cards one gleams the information that the town was a prosperous place and a going institution and that it was self-sufficient. For example, it had a physician and dentist, Dr. J. A. Klump, who owned the land on which Harrington Manor is located and a business block now occupied by the Post Office. Dr. Klump married Amanda Wolcott and later moved to Williamsport, Pa., where he died. He was buried in Hollywood Cemetery. Dr. H. F. Porter, a Seaford dentist, visited Harrington every Wednesday and could be found "at the residence planted in Kent and Sussex counties this fall. We think our good brother has over-shot a little.

Joseph Booth will move in town at the end of the year. Mr. Booth is a solid Democrat after the Jeffersonian style. We are glad to have Mr. B. with us.

D. B. Hubbard of the Fifth district, Caroline county, Md., evaporated the peaches from an orchard of 1,000 trees, received 5,000 pounds of dried fruit from which he realized $900.

Harrington needs — A bank; glassworks, Commerce Street shelled from Satterfield's Hotel to Fleming's Mill; gas to burn instead of coal oil.

All persons who have not paid their town tax for 1883 must settle between now and the 1st day of January next, or I shall proceed to collect by law.—John Clymer, collector.

The Altar — Roe-Minner — On Dec. 3, by Rev. C. E. Simmons, Mr. John F. Roe to Miss Annie W. Minner.

The train leaving Harrington at 11:10 A. M., South, connects at Lewes Pier with steamer for New York on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Persons wishing to purchase lots in Hollywood Cemetery can do so by applying to W. T. Sharp or James A. Smith.
