The annual camp is a crowning event in the 4-H experiences of those who have been honored to attend because of their accomplishments and leadership in their home states. This year, there will be added interest for all delegates because youth leaders from many other countries will attend in larger numbers than last year. Not only will this feature aid tremendously is acquainting these foreign leaders with the ideals and methods of 4-H Club work, but there will also come a greater understanding on our part here, of the many splendid features of work with youth now being carried on abroad.

Other members of the delegation from Delaware, will be Bernadine Patterson and Vaughn Fox, of New Castle County.

Nonwhite Death Rate

The infant death rate for nonwhites in New Mexico-235 per 1,-000 born-was more than six times as great as the white infant death rate in Connecticut last year. And the difference is marked even within the same state. For example, Connecticut's white infant death rate was 38 and the nonwhite rate was 63 per thousand born. In New Mexico, the death rate for nonwhite babies was more than twice that for white babies. In Georgia, Tennessee and South Carolina, the death rate for nonwhite babies was about one and one-half times that for white babies.
