

City Council Considers Plans For Improving Standpipe, Streets, Etc.

Decision on Street Lights, Extension of Water Mains, Also To Be Heard at Special Meeting

The City Council, in a brisk session accelerated by the heat, Monday night considered plans for improving the standpipe, the streets, parking zones, and lighting. Few decisions were made, pending investigations, the outcome of which will be revealed at a special meeting in about ten days.

Acting on a petition for water and sewers for East Street, the Council considered putting a 2-inch water main down the street from Clark Boulevard to the branch railroad. It was decided to see how many persons would tap into the line. Interested persons would have to make a $2 deposit at the City Hall, the amount to be refunded if water was not desired.

In response to a letter from Murphy & Hayes Company, commenting on the lack of water at times, the Council decided to check on the standpipe.

Already bids have been received from the Delmarva Asphalt Company, Seaford, and Pleasanton & Edgell, Dover, for reinforcing the base of the pipe. However, City Manager Marvel, who is expert in such matters, will be invited to inspect the base of the pipe before any action is taken.

Councilmen George Vapaa and Charles Peck Sr., were appointed as a committee to see what street lights were needed on Calvin, North, and Liberty Streets.

In answer to complaints about dust on certain streets, the Council agreed to check on the use of calcium chloride for this purpose.

The group also decided to paint yellow curb markings (used for temporary parking zones), red, thus prohibiting parking, in the business section.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

To begin with, this is the coldest place for June. Have had my heat on every day. Rainy and damp. Do they call off races? Oh, no, just put on your mud suits. And the rain don't seem to hurt the crowd.

You know the "by word" for the track is, ("Where you goin'") "Buffalo Raceway." All through the day on the radio you will hear that.

Guess who is up here? "Elmer the Clocker" from Houston, Mrs. Bob Stafford's brother.

Rosecrants has his horses over to Batavia.

Carl Goslin has started twice and Symbol Louis won in 2:14 which I'm sending the clipping on to the Journal.

Sister Lena also started last night but didn't do any good; was 8th. Track heavy.

We also have started three—Bardia Direct was 7th, Dudley Spencer 4th, Anna Day came from 6th position to be in photo for 1st in 2:11.2.

But if this weather don't warm up, Anna won't be any good.

Roustabout, my colt, is really doing ok. Mut there's so many new things to him he is like a kid with new toys.

Sure do miss the restaurants in Harrington. Unless you have time and dressed for dinner these places around here are horrid. Someone will be sure to see this and I have lots of friends where we eat. Can't help it.

They say you shouldn't brag. But everyone on the ground says Dave has a beautiful outfit. His awning, everything painted his colors, flowers and white shavings under his awning is a picture.

They have his stable where from Club House and grandstand you can see it.

But what's that got to be doing with this cold weather. I believe its going to snow.

The horses are going and coming since Saratoga has opened up. Won't be long before Thornclift in Canada will open.

When I make the trip this summer I'll be careful not to let a darn little electric sweeper keep me at the border for 2 hours. I had to declare it in and out. Even had to come back same way. Dave spent one hour trying to find where we left it.

After all that yesterday I had "Scrappy" my Peek in car and tried to cross just for a ride, so what happens? We didn't get in to Canada. No vet. statement. We declared him in for $100 as pet. But no go. I had to come home.

The Larentes that were stabled next to us there are doing ok with their horses. I don't believe Mr. Hendershot has started anything yet. He is in Batavia.

2-Man Roman Ride

In ancient Rome men rode standing on the backs of horses while they dashed wildly around the hippodrome tracks built by emperors for their pagan festivals preceding the Christian era. Now two modern gladiators give the Roman Ride a new and more dangerous twist. Mike Mundy and Earl Wilson, each standing on top of a 1951 automobile, allow the driver of their car to bring them down the race track at top speed, skidding, sliding, swerving and finally driving up and over high ramps. If a brake goes bad, if the driver should stop suddenly for any reason, it means curtains for the man on top of the car. This is just one of the many feature thrillers with Ward Beams' World Champion Auto Daredevils who appear at the Delmar Raceway, Salisbury, Maryland, Sunday afternoon, June 10.

All Banks Join To Fight Inflation—Nation-Wide Program

Every bank and every banker of the nation is committed to the new program of voluntary credit restraint, to fight America's worst fear and greatest enemy—inflation.

Macy's in New York City recently ran a large full page ad in the newspaper, with the headline boldly asking the public, "Why Are You Buying So Much?"

This boom buying has cost us a lot of us extra money and coffee prices have gone up, the executive vice-president of the National Coffee Association recently made a public statement that coffee prices were increased because of increased consumption, decrease in production and badly aggravated by the fact that consumers squirreled away a vital two million bags of coffee. Don't be a "Squirrel."

With our sons and your sons fighting in the muck and mire of Korea, the next thing we can do is to hold the home front against inflation by:

1. Use What You Have—Make it last—wear it out!
2. Buy Only What You Need—For necessities—not for greed.
3. Pay Cash When Possible—Cash price is the low price!
4. Use Credit Carefully—Pay all you can down—all you can monthly!
5. Save all you can—in the bank—in the U. S. Savings Bonds.
6. Help cut government spending—Urge your legislators to discourage unessential expenditures.

FARMERS VETO HILLBILLY TUNES

Someone has the screwy idea that "in the sticks" the hillbilly tune is the preferred type of music. Such would seem the case, judging by the juke boxes and the electrical transcriptions, records to you, we hear on the radio.

Now for the surprise! When Mrs. Iva Nicholson Williams questioned 255 farmers attending a conference of the Ohio Grange, she discovered that only seven persons gave hillbilly tunes the nod. The question she asked was: "If you could listen to only one type of music, which would you choose?"

The answers showed 65 favoring semiclassical music, 60 preferred old popular tunes, 59 liked sacred songs, 40 voted for modern dance music, six voted for western melodies, six said classical, and 12 had no preference.

WHY WE DO NOT LISTEN MORE TO THE RADIO

1. The news commentator goes through his spiel, attempting to sensationalize an event as innocuous as a Sunday School picnic. Then he says: "I'll be back with more news in just a moment, but first . . . That's when we switch to another station. We listened several times and here's what we got: "Use so-and so's hog-wash. It keeps the lice off your hogs, the dandruff off your head, deodorizes your breath, thus assuring you of a successful marriage (if you are single). Now for the "more" news— "MacArthur fired in Korea."

2. The husband-and-wife team which reads these dramas. The team does a good job and then the announcer says, "Mr. and Mrs. Blow will be back with you in just a moment, but first . . ." That's when we give the dial a twist. We listened several times and Mr. and Mrs. Blow merely said: "Good Night." We do not buy the product advertised.

3. It used to be a record they were playing. Then it became an "electrical transcription." When the people in the hinterlands got onto that definition, it became "electrically transcribed." Nowadays, the announcer plays a record (it's still "record" to us) and says, for example, to the orchestra leader: "Why here's George. Howdy George. But George doesn't reply. At the end of the record, the announcer says: "Good-bye George: we'll see you tomorrow." But George doesn't answer.

But we can always twist the dial . . . and do.

One of the best programs, in our opinion, was a show Red Skelton put on last Christmas. Red played the part of a Christmas tree, and, believe it or not, it was an admirable performance that almost brought tears to our eyes. Red skillfully worked in the name of his sponsor a couple times without disturbing the continuity of the program. At the end of the show he thanked his sponsor for dispensing with the usual commercial. We believe the sponsor received more goodwill from that program than usual.

A BEAUTIFUL SPRING

We do not believe we have ever seen a more beautiful spring. With an abundance of rain, Delaware is running a dead heat with the Emerald Isle for verdure.

Wild flowers in abundance. Wild azaleas (called honey-suckle by some), pink lady-slippers, purple violets, white dogwood played their part in nature's colorful pageantry.

The fragrant blossoms of the bay tree (commonly called magnolia) are now scenting the runs, rills, and branches. Wild strawberries fulfilled their fruity promise of a short time back and now crowns of red berries, under their dark-green umbrellas, nestle in the grass abounding the ditch banks and roadsides.

Blackberries are in full bloom along the fence-rows, their white blossoms betokening an abundance of purple fruit to come.

The small, white blossom of the huckleberry is appearing. The chinquapin blossom is here. The pink and white of the laurel is also noticed in scattered localities, particularly around Fork Landing and McCauley's Pond.

OFFICIALS MUST PUBLISH FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

One of the little-publicized new laws coming out of this session of the legislature is one adding a penalty clause to laws calling for the publication of certain financial statements.

For instance, there are statutes requiring the county board of supervisors to publish board proceedings, the treasurer's semi-annual report, the annual report of the county home, etc. School boards are required to publish quarterly financial reports and an annual statement. City councils must publish their proceedings and an annual statement. The law is plain in its wording that the reports "shall be published." However, until this session of the legislature there was nothing that could be done to force a recalcitrant public official to meet the requirement of the law—except a cumbersome and unpleasant writ of mandamus.

The legislature, taking cognizance of the fact that some officials were not providing the public with information as intended under the law, has now made non-publication a misdemeanor, punishable by penalties up to a $300 fine, 30 days in jail, or both.

Official publications of the type here discussed are becoming increasingly important as more and more of every dollar of income goes for taxes. It is right and proper that an accounting—in a manner which is readily accessible to everyone—be made.

Through The Fields of White A Memorial Poem

By Samuel A. Short, Jr.
Harrington, Del.

I've wandered alone,
Through Fields of White,
With echoes of my feet,
Vanishing in the night.

Each step I took,
I could hear to perfection.
A reverent expression,
Of respect and affection.

For I knew as I traveled,
Through these Fields of White,
I was never alone
Either day or night.

For by my side
There was one to guide.
As I in him,
Would humbly abide.

He'd take me by the hand
Through these Fields of White,
Where other had fought and died
And long gone from sight.

Just a memorial these heroes
In our memory have taken.
To give us peace on earth,
Never to be forsaken.

'Tis a memorial just passed
Through these Fields of White.
We go not alone never,
To share their plight.

Others have taken
To save us along, it is God;
We know as we silently go,
His love, He reverently has shone.

Letter to the Editor

May 31, 1951

Dear Reader:
Ducking season may be several months off but now is the peak of "duckling" season. Although we think of our waterfowl as largely migrants passing through Delaware on fall and spring flights, small but important breeding grounds occur throughout the state.

Our principal breeders are the black duck and the wood duck. The former brings off their young along our fresh and tidal marshlands, ponds, pot holes, sloughs and ditches. The woodies are more at home in wooded swamps but often hatch their young in shade trees near urban or suburban residences.

Of the two, the black duck is the more important to the water-fowler. Over half of all ducks killed each fall along the Atlantic flyway are blacks. For this reason many studies have been made to find means of maintaining this bird which, over the years, has declined in numbers.

One of the first things to know about the black duck is where it comes from. Banding has helped in part to answer the question. Of 29 banded black ducks shot in Delaware in the last three seasons and reported to the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service, their place of banding is as follows: Labrador 2, Newfoundland 2, Quebec 1, New Brunswick 1, Maine 3, Connecticut 1, New York 15, Delaware 2, and Virginia 2. Ducks are usually banded as full grown birds in the fall and winter so we cannot conclude necessarily that birds are reared at their place of banding. Most states are making studies to determine the amount of waterfowl actually reared as compared to the number killed within their boundaries. These studies also determine the causes of change in numbers of waterfowl.

Destruction of breeding, resting and feeding grounds through marsh drainage and pollution has been one of the worst enemies of the black duck as well as other waterfowl. Excessive hunting may at times be harmful.

Whether the future will see reasonable supplies of waterfowl depends a great deal on how Delaware and other states and provinces treat the remaining waterfowl breeding, resting and feeding grounds. If the destructive practices of the past are not slowed down and reversed, the future will be black—but not with black ducks.

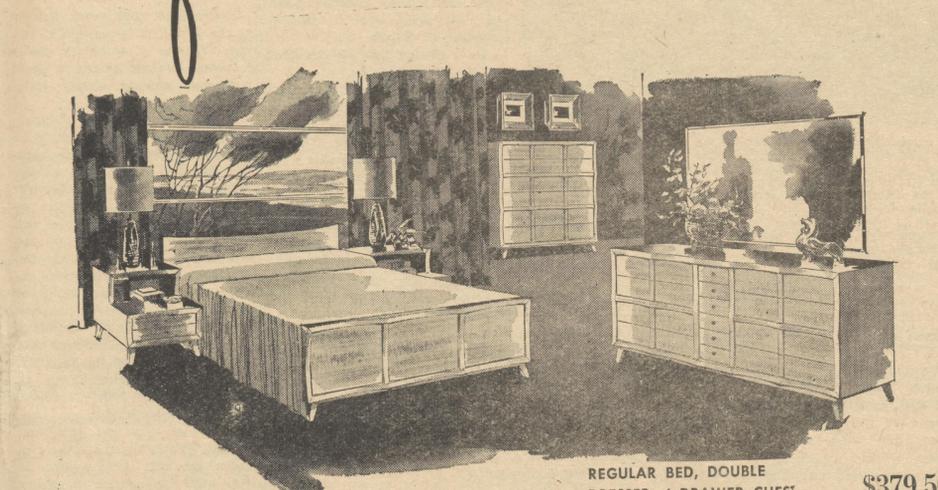

Sincerely,
Conservation Division
Delaware Board of Game and Fish Commissioners.

Mar-Del Baseball League

Table with columns for team names (Milton, Hickman, Clayton, Wyoming, Frederica, Millsboro) and statistics (By: Pat Knight, Results, Sunday's Schedule).

Results: Milton 8, Wyoming 5; Hickman 4, Clayton 3; Frederica 6, Millsboro 0. Sunday's Schedule: Frederica at Milton; Clayton at Wyoming; Millsboro at Hickman.

Jess Millman's Milton tossers continued to blast the way in the Mar-Del Circuit last Sunday as they chalked up their 4th straight by an 8 to 5 decision over Pop Michael's Wyoming nine.

With the teams now playing mid-season ball the second round play will get underway this Sunday. Milton will be hosts to Frederica, Clayton will invade Wyoming while Hickman meets Millsboro at home.

Clayton and Wyoming will be scraping for 3rd place as they clash at Wyoming. Clayton came out on top in their first get-together 6 to 1 as they rallied in the late innings.

Millsboro will be seeking their first win as they furnish the opposition at Hickman. Faulty pitching has been holding back the Millsboro club so far.

An influx of new talent joined the circuit during the past week as several of the clubs inked new contracts. Joe Lank, University of Delaware infielder and Charley Carey, Milton's High brilliant young righthander, joined the Milton nine as Joe Kershaw drew his release.

and Bob Belber. Joe Heining, Don Cataldi and Eldon Roberts were cut loose. Jacobs was a standout at Smyrna High while Manlove played the shortfield for Dover High.

Henry Millman was the big gun in the Milton line up Sunday as they topped Wyoming 8 to 5. In the opening frame he led off with a double and scored on Jim Reed's triple.

Lefty Bill Newman bested Bob Knight in a well pitched mound duel as Hickman edged out Clayton 4 to 3.

Frederica went to work early as they scored 5 runs in the first three frames and then went on to score a 6 to 0 shutout over Millsboro for their first win of the season.

Hoof Beats

Del-Mar-Va representation in The Little Brown Jug, America's premier racing classic, will consist of five 3-year-old sidwhealers which have been kept eligible to the Sept. 20 race to be staged at Delaware, O.

Two youngsters from Maryland, two from Delaware and another from Virginia are listed among the present eligibles. Two of them saw race action as 2-year-olds last season while the other three are as yet untested in competition. The 1950 campaigners were E. Gouldman's Meadow Abbe, of Salisbury, Md., and M. L. Lewis' Peach Brandy, of Onancock, Va.

Meadow Abbe started 18 times in 1950, finishing six times in the money, including one first, and earned $4188 in addition to a mile record of 2:08. Peach Brandy took the word 13 times, was twice a winner and was second three times.

The unraced Delaware eligibles are Fred B. Greenley's Smokey Hanover and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Griffith's Express Direct, both of Harrington. Express Direct is a full brother to the great star Direct Express who raced under the Greenley colors.

The fifth Jug candidate from the three-state area is Bronze Magic, a non-starter last year, who is owned by Jesse W. Ward, of Salisbury, Md.

Milford Yanks Blast House of David Nine

Milford Yanks, Eastern Shore's powerful semi-pro nine, blasted out a 12 to 2 win over the strong House of David tossers under the arc lights at the Milford Park last Sunday evening before a crowd of more than 1000.

Bob Maul, Yank's fleet-footed centerfielder, had a field day at the plate as he rapped out five safeties in five trips. Ferdinand Caulk had a triple and a home run with Jake Drummond also crashing one out the park along with a single.

The wisekered clan took the lead with a single run in the 3rd. The Yanks knotted the score in the 4th and broke loose with 5 in the 5th, and had 3 in the 6th and 7th to put the game on ice. Bill Liska started for the House of David nine but was driven out in the 6th with Tom Yerks finishing. Ben Hill, former Philadelphia Stars righthander, went the route for the Yanks and spaced 7 hits well and fanned 11. He gave up runs in the 3rd and 6th and was never in danger after the winners big uprising in the 5th.

With a record of 3-1 Milford will meet strong opposition this Sunday night as they clash with a strong Philadelphia Meteors at the Milford Park starting at 8:30 p. m. Hill or Nip Bruten will take the mound for the Yanks with Manager Rabbitt Reed behind the plate. Bruten halted the Philadelphia pros in his last start.

From all indications the Yanks are headed for one of their best seasons. Herb Ramsey, George Jones and Bob Maul, former Delaware State College athletes, have bolstered the Yanks attack with Reed, Drummond, Hicks, Caulk and Evans playing spirited ball.

Eating Is Necessary, Also Mighty Pleasant

Some folks say they live to eat, while others claim they eat to live. At any rate it would sure be hard to find many people who don't enjoy the thought of a big, thick steak and some French fries. Eating is a necessity and it sure can be pleasant. But there are some folks who can't enjoy good food... it just doesn't seem to agree with them. If you're one of these folks because of deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Nicotin, then this article is intended for you.

Guy H. Housley

Guy H. Housley, who lives at 641 14th St., San Diego, Calif., was one of those folks who couldn't enjoy food without having a stomach distress, but not any more. Mr. Housley heard how HADACOL was helping folks suffering from these deficiencies and began taking it. Here is Mr. Housley's statement: "I am 40 years of age and have had a nervous stomach condition for quite some time. Couldn't eat hardly anything. Back in my home town, I bought a bottle of HADACOL and before the first bottle was gone, I could tell a difference. Then I came to San Diego and couldn't get it here. I sent back to Atlanta for it. Now, thank God, they have it on the market here and I have a supply in my house. Not only that, but I'm telling all my friends what HADACOL has done for me. I sleep well, eat anything I can get and feel wonderful. I could go on and on praising HADACOL, it's done so much for me."

HADACOL Can Help You Don't go through life putting up with a stomach that is easily upset.

Your City

Your City Council operates on a budget system. The paying of the old local bank debt is our major outlay for the year. It will leave very little money for new work. Balance on Sewer Bonds is $57,000.

We need a better water system and this will probably be our next major expense. Harrington needs a more even pressure and some Cities soften their water. It would be very helpful if people would not use City water on vegetable gardens during a dry spell.

On May 16th we received a letter from William J. Storey, Mayor of Dover, congratulating us on the financial status of the City of Harrington. He wrote, I congratulate you on your financial condition and I wish that we were in as good condition in Dover.

Parking Meters

We have opened a separate bank account for the parking meter money. We call it our "CASH CROP" and this money is not being used for City expenses.

Some people of dull wit try to play pranks on the police and a few try tricks of a destructive nature on the meters. These people are simply working against the good of Harrington.

Red and yellow on the curbing means no parking. Weak excuses crop up about this violation.

Police

City Council establishes the police policy of the City. Chief Myers, Mr. Voss and Mr. Foraker have instructions to enforce the laws and play no favoritism.

We aim to be fair to all but realize that none are infallible in their judgment. A good system is the heart of our City economy. We have made some mistakes and will probably make more. The Mayor and Councilmen serve without pay in their administrative work.

FARM NEWS AND REVIEW

Strawberries Are Bearish, Says Kates

Market prospects are not favorable for strawberries in this area, said J. Reynolds Kates, Harrington grocer, this week.

Kates pointed out that there were not enough large growers in this area to attract buyers to establish a market. Everybody raises a few in their gardens, too, and that hurt demand. Furthermore, since frozen strawberries were available the year around, there was not the pent-up demand that was released when fresh fruit hit the market.

Another bearish factor in strawberries, is the cost of picking and crating them. Pickers get 8c, or better per quart, and the crate costs a dollar. Some berries rotted too.

To the south of us, some growers are plowing under their old patches.

"Winter's gone, spring is here, but the whistle of the special strawberry trains is no longer heard throughout the land."

Charles Peck Sr., reports that his Chesapeake (sometimes called Aristocrat) strawberries are doing good. From the conversation turned to the Temple variety, Peck said these berries were the first to ripen and that scattered fruit could still be picked even when later varieties ripened. He could identify the Temple variety, he said, by the dark green leaves. He said he had tried everbearing strawberries without success.

Berries were selling as low as 20c per quart in Harrington Monday. One man, having an acre patch near town, was allowing customers to pick their own, at 10c per quart. Another man said friends of his picked 40 quarts in Sussex County free of charge.

They Wanted A Home In The Country

The Charles Haymaker family have always wanted to own a home in the country and have a farm for themselves. The big opportunity came in December, 1950 when they sold their home in town and purchased a 130-acre farm, located one mile east of Centerville, Md. When interviewed, Mrs. Haymaker said, "We wanted a business of our own, and this farm solved the problem. The boys have always wanted to be on a farm and now they do most of the work, as Mr. Haymaker is a salesman and away most of the time."

Their present herd consists of eight grade Holstein and Guernsey cows, not including the three purebred Guernsey heifers and one purebred Guernsey bull they are raising. Eventually they hope to have an entire herd of purebred Guernseys. "Dairying is going to be the main enterprise, and milk the main source of income on our farm," states Mrs. Haymaker.

Three children, Charles, Jr., 16, Ronald, 13, and Harriette, 15, are all very active in 4-H work. Much of their interest in farming was developed through 4-H activities over the years. The youngest child, Nancy Louise, is 6 years old.

The Haymaker family is rapidly adopting modern farming practices, and has the necessary machinery and equipment to carry on the farm work. They are Pet patrons on the 4300-Route served by Burton Robinson, says Pet Dairy Chats.

Two Insect Pests on Ornamental Trees

Two insect pests on ornamental trees or shrubs are now, or soon will be, active, the county agent's office announced today.

The mimosa webworm is one of these. It will attack the young leaves of the mimosa tree causing severe damage if not promptly controlled.

Spray the tree thoroughly with a 1 per cent solution of DDT. To make this spray use 1 ounce or two tablespoonsful of 50 per cent wettable DDT in one gallon of water. Another spray made of 5 tablespoons of calcium arsenate in one gallon of water can also be used.

The second pest is the bagworm. This insect attacks evergreens and can kill these ornamentals in one season if not controlled at once. Use the same sprays as recommended for mimosa worm. In all cases, the tree or bush should be thoroughly covered with the spray. One or more spraying will probably be needed as successive hatching of the worms may take place.

Pasture Essential To Good Dairy Program

Although their dairying experience goes back only three years, two progressive young farmers of Wyoming, George and James Pippin, have achieved an outstanding dairy program by concentrating on building good permanent pasture, supported by supplementary and winter pasture. Realizing good pasture wasn't enough, they made detailed plans for a necessary acreage of alfalfa hay.

The Pippins firmly believe in the necessity and value of soil sampling before planting. With recommendations of the Extension Service, they set about preparing land and applying lime needed for alfalfa. On March 27 seeding was performed (20 pounds per acre) with a bushel of oats as a cover crop. Fertilizer (0-14-14 plus boron) was also applied (500 pounds per acre).

When the job was finished, Jim expressed confidence that, with good luck, the nine acres of hay would feed their herd.

Rough Handling Hard On Potatoes

Potato growers have a real interest in the quality of their product as it goes to market, according to Bill Tarbell, county agent. Many of the good qualities of our potatoes, he said, are lost during the marketing process by rough handling.

Recent tests have shown that cuts and bruises are the greatest cause of poor quality in market potatoes. Rough handling by workers who package, load, ship, and unload potatoes makes the crop less attractive to the consumer.

"Many growers and shippers have been lax in keeping U. S. grade specifications for potatoes," said Tarbell. "People don't have to eat potatoes, there are a lot of substitutes. In the long run, it will pay farmers and handlers not to sacrifice quality to save time and labor."

Froes Need Iron
Some deficient elements, such as iron, can be absorbed by a tree's leaves through sprays

Hot Weather Hurts Broilers, Says Cannon

Hubert Cannon says the hot weather at the end of last week was not favorable for his broilers. "They hardly moved and ate only two bags of feed," he said. Right now Cannon, who lives near Andrewville, has 6000 crossbreeds on hand.

He is not enthusiastic about the price of broilers, as of Saturday night. The price was around 26c and he figured it should be at least 27c to make a little money.

This Kent County farmer is an experimenter. He once raised 1500 Cornish-cross birds, some Barred Rock-New Hampshire Red crosses and New Hampshire Reds. He found, at marketing time, that the first cross weighed about 3.70 pounds, against 3.60 pounds for the other cross. He decided against the Cornish cross, however, because the birds were too wild.

He has one bird that is a cross of chicken and pheasant.

Peanut Shells Test Best As Broiler Litter

Recent tests at the University of Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station have shown peanut shells to be the best litter for broiler production, according to Bill Tarbell, county agent.

In the experiments, twelve different types of litter were compared under a typical broiler producing situation. The best five litters picked were peanut shells, cobs, peat moss, sugar cane fiber, and sawdust, in that order.

A new bulletin, number 289, tells the story of the research which was done on litters. You can get a copy by writing or calling Bill Tarbell at Dover, phone Dover 2621.

Life Expectancy Up
The expectation of life at birth among American wage earners and their families rose to an all-time high of 68.2 years in 1950. This is a half year higher than in 1949. The expectation of life has increased 2 1/4 years in the past four decades and has doubled in little more than two generations.

Joe McCoy Selects Life On The Farm

Joseph McCoy, of Henderson, Md., farms because he likes it. Joe was reared in the city, but he chose to spend his weekends and summer vacations on his grandfather's farm. In telling of his early farming experiences, he says, "I really enjoyed those brief stays on the farm, and made up my mind that some day I would have one of my own."

In 1947, Joe's dream came true when he bought a 63-acre farm near Henderson. He began by raising hogs, but did not have much success and decided to try dairy cows.

At present he is milking four grade cows and raising some heifer replacements. He plans to increase his herd, and is practicing artificial breeding to help raise the value of his next generation heifers. He is now raising six artificially conceived heifers.

"Cows must keep me," remarked Joe, "and they've got to be good producers to do that. That's why I'm trying this new method of breeding."

This progressive young dairyman is a farmer only in the afternoon, as he is also the driver of Walls' 3900-Route. The number of patrons on the route has increased considerably, and he is well liked by everyone.

Joe does an equally good job of producing milk, as well as hauling it. Proof of this is the fact that he was the only one on his route to make the quality honor roll for 1950, says Pet Dairy Chats.

Milking Operation Is Important With Heifer

Supported by the actual experience of many dairymen, County Agent Tarbell recommends that three or four weeks before the first calf heifer freshens she be brought into the barn, placed in the stanchion row, and handled like a cow.

This conditioning of the heifer to the barn and the milking routine will aid in eliminating the strangeness of the coming experience.

In regard to the milking routine, let the heifer see her neighbors being milked. Place the milker down beside her if it is a platform-type machine. If it is a bell-type machine, hang the surcingle around her a few times and then, later, as she becomes accustomed to the surcingle hang the pail on the surcingle. If she is conditioned to this before she freshens the problems arising generally at milking time will be lessened.

When she freshens, the county agent suggests that she be milked by machines and not by the calf or by hand. When she has been milked by the machine, the exact amount of milk necessary can then be fed to the calf in a calf-feeding pail or bottle.

Elimination of milking troubles by conditioning first-calf heifers is obtained by many leading dairy-

Seaford Girl Excels in Home Improvement

Virginia Lee Murphy

With one eye on enhancing her home and the other on the family pocketbook, Virginia Lee Murphy, 16, of Seaford, succeeded in doing a better job than any other 4-H'er in Delaware last year in the home improvement program.

Her reward of a Club Congress trip to Chicago in November was provided by Sears-Roebuck Foundation. Virginia decided to start with her bedroom where she removed varnish from the bureau, chest and chairs. She sawed off the head of an iron bed to make a Hollywood bed, and papered the room. Finishing touches were made with new curtains and quilted satin for the head of the bed.

Virginia then converted an enclosed porch into a bedroom. She has also caned chairs and refinished furniture including a sewing cabinet made by her great-grandfather in 1877. Virginia's home improvement project was the first in her community, and her efforts have interested other girls. During six years in 4-H, Virginia has served as secretary, treasurer, and reporter of her local club.

Delmarva Chicken Festival Plans Moving Fast

The 1951 Delmarva Chicken Festival preparation is rolling along. July 10-11 will find a huge celebration in Salisbury, according to J. Frank Gordy, extension poultryman, University of Delaware.

The three contests festival goes are familiar with, are going to be held again this year.

Mrs. L. A. Karlick, winner of the first chicken cooking contest two years ago, is chairman for this year's contest. The junior cooking contest will be in the State Teachers College in Salisbury, July 10, and the senior contest the next day.

Ed Boyd, Salisbury, is chairman of the Miss Delmarva Contest. It will also be in the State Teachers College, July 10.

The parade is scheduled for the evening of July 11, with Jerry Valiant, Salisbury, in charge. Clarence Hurst, Dover, is in charge of the poultry equipment show.

Maryland's Tri-County Poultry Association will borrow the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association's huge frying pan. They will put on a giant chicken fry in this largest frying pan in the world.

More Vitamin B-12, Faster

Delaware farmers, and farmers all over the United States, will probably find Vitamin B-12 cheaper in another year or so, according to the Animal and Poultry Industry Department at the University of Delaware.

The vitamin is important in livestock raising, particularly as a feed supplement for young chickens and pigs. B-12 makes them grow to market weight faster, with less feed.

Until recently, the vitamin has been supplied by feeding meat and fish meals. Now U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists have discovered organisms which produce the vitamin by fermenting the material in which they grow.

One in particular, a mold found in a soil sample from Japan, produces good quantities of Vitamin B-12, and does so in a shorter time than present methods.

The organism, known to scientists as Streptomyces olivaceus (Waksman), is related to those which produce antibiotics such as streptomycin and aureomycin, now widely used in medicine.

Uncle Tom's Cabin Coming To The New Milford Theatre

Harriet Beecher Stowe's immortal story, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is coming to the New Milford Theatre, Milford, Wednesday and Thursday, June 13-14 for a limited two days engagement. This old original classic, surpassed in printing only by the Bible, first appeared in print almost 100 years ago in the serialized form of the National Era, an anti-slavery paper of Washington, D. C., soon after it came out in book form and blew up like a cyclone. Everyone talked about "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Park Progress At Peak

Progress in providing needed development in the national park system reached a post-war peak in the past fiscal year. Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman said in his annual report. He added, however, that it would take many years to complete the backlog of necessary improvements.

OPS News

All major service establishments in Delaware are now required to file statements of prices charged their customers with the district Office of Price Stabilization, Henry McC. Winchester, state OPS director, pointed out this week. Mr. Winchester said that practically all commercial and personal services except those purely professional are affected by the new Ceiling Price Regulation No. 34.

Examples of services affected are: Every laundry, dry cleaner, garage, and service station, every shoe repair shop, barber shop, and beauty parlor, every plumber, roofer, and electrical contractor, and every radio and TV repairmen as well as skating rinks, bowling alleys, and amusement parks.

Deadline for filing is just about a week away—June 15, the OPS official pointed out. Services should carry the same prices charged during the period from December 19, 1950 to January 25, 1951, the base period set forth in the general price "freeze" regulation.

No standard form for filing is provided, Mr. Winchester said, but instructions are given in the regulation, CPR 34, copies of which are obtainable at OPS offices at 9 East Third Street, Wilmington, or from banks, post offices, chambers of commerce, and business associations.

Better Future Is Part Of OPS Plans

A better future for Americans is part of the objective of price stabilization, states Price Stabilization Director Michael V. DiSalle in a brief message made public by Joseph J. McBryan, acting Pennsylvania-Delaware OPS director.

"This is a period of price softening, and I hope OPS can complete its control program before the period ends," Director DiSalle said. "I hope for breathing time so that by fall or winter, when the full impact of the defense effort is being felt, we will have our control structure in such condition that it will stand any blow. I think it is possible, and I think it will be done."

"If America is to continue to inspire the freedom-loving peoples of the world, we must keep ourselves strong—economically as well as militarily. We must preserve the kind of system which has brought us to the place of strength and world leadership we now hold. We must plan greater things for the future. We must plan for the expansion of our industrial capacity. We must build a better society by raising the levels of health and education and social security and by offering the fruits of this society to more and more of our citizens."

Accidents To Infants

The most frequent fatal accidents to infants are those caused by the swallowing of foreign objects—nipples, pacifiers, safety pins, buttons, marbles, or other things left within the baby's reach, and from asphyxia caused by the regurgitation of milk and other liquid foods slaughter when made at the time of a fair or exhibition which is under the auspices of the extension service of the Department of Agriculture or a recognized state agency, according to Joseph J. McBryan, acting Pennsylvania-Delaware regional OPS director.

The sales are authorized by Amendment 5 to Distribution Regulation 1 of the Office of Price Stabilization. The regulation sets monthly quotas of livestock to be slaughtered by federally inspected slaughterers. The June quota is 80 per cent of the 1950 base for cattle, calves, sheep and lamb and 115 per cent of that base for swine.

Authority for fair managers to issue certificates for purchase of 4-H livestock for slaughter must be obtained in advance from the District OPS office.

Pricing Simplified For Small Stores

Many small stores have had their pricing problems simplified by the Office of Price Stabilization by an Amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 which makes provision for them, under certain conditions, to continue pricing under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Joseph J. McBryan, acting Pennsylvania-Delaware OPS director, explained that the Amendment provides that stores selling housewares, notions, sporting goods, silverware, china, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks may elect to price those particular items under GPCR under either of two conditions.

This provision, designed to help the smallest stores, gives the election for these items to any retailer whose overall net annual dollar volume of sales of everything in his store is less than $100,000. Total dollar volume for this purpose is figured on the sales not only of the housewares, notions, etc., but on the store's entire stock of goods.

The other provision, which will meet the situation of the stores doing a relatively small volume of business in housewares, notions, sporting goods, silverware, china, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks, gives the election to price those articles under GPCR to any retailer whose net dollar volume of sales of those items is less than $60,000, regardless of volume of sales in other lines and even though total volume is over $100,000.

A third provision, retaining an original principle in CPR 7, gives the option to any retailer whose sales of apparel, apparel accessories, shoes, beds, bedding, furniture, yard goods, floor coverings, lamps, radio and television sets, phonograph records, musical instruments, luggage, etc., are less than $20,000 annually in net dollar volume. The items covered in this provision are all CPR 7 and a few Amendment 2 items.

Delaware Park Notes

Paying their first visit to Delaware Park, Otto Lieberman, one of the founders of the Caracas Jockey Club in Venezuela, and Mrs. Lieberman expressed great praise for American tracks, horses and racing in general.

Mr. Lieberman, a breeder and still a member of the Caracas Jockey Club, has made numerous visits to this country over the years and, prior to witnessing the Memorial Day program at Delaware Park, had at various times included Belmont Park, Hialeah, Saratoga and Pimlico in his travels.

Asked how the track in Caracas shapes up in comparison with Delaware Park, the Venezuelan sportsman smiled and replied: "Our track cannot compare with yours. It would be like comparing a buggy to a railroad car. This is a beautiful race course you have here."

Mr. Lieberman was interested in the unusual width of Delaware Park's front and back stretches—100 feet.

"Our stretch is only 60 feet wide," he said. "It is, like this, a one mile track and is government-owned. It is the only track in Venezuela. We have racing only on Saturdays and Sundays, with 10-race cards, and get crowds of 12,000 to 15,000. Our grandstand was imported from England in 1894, a new one at the time. We have no electrical 'tote' board but we do have from America such things as two electrical starting gates—one for training purposes and one for racing; the photo finish camera and electrical timer."

The conversation with the Lieberman's, seated in a front box amidst a roaring holiday crowd of 27,698, was interrupted as the horses in the first race began a six furlong run. When the numbers went up, Mrs. Lieberman prepared to cash one of her typical bets—a $2 show ticket on the favorite which called for $3.70. Mr. Lieberman, also a moderate bettor, laughed. "My horse was nowhere, as usual," he said. A moment later, he asked Mrs.

Lieberman to get him a $6 combination ticket—two dollars across the board—on a horse named Question Eight, who was number eight in the second race. Then he returned to the earlier subject.

"We have a form of betting at our thoroughbred race meet which your American dog tracks have; you call it the 'quinela'—we call it the 'mutual,' in which you try to pick the first two horses to finish in a race. You win if your selections finish either one, two or two, one, just so they are the first two."

The Liebermans came to the United States May 19 and plan to take the Mauretania to England which sailed yesterday. They stopped in Baltimore and while there they wanted to have physical check-ups at Johns Hopkins. "Haven't been feeling quite up to snuff," Mr. Lieberman explained, rubbing a bothersome left shoulder.

This was forgotten when a photo finish developed in the second race. Question Eight—a long shot such as Mr. Lieberman likes to back—dropped his nose down in front right on the wire and the distinguished visitor collected $90.90 for his $6.

Asked to compare horses in his country with ours, Mr. Lieberman said:

"Generally speaking, your top horses like Citation, Hill Prince, Middleground, etc., are 60 to 70 pounds better than our best. Our best horses would fit in your American stakes of, say, up to $10,000 value, but not in the really rich ones.

"On the other hand, we do not race as low grade horses as you do over here at the smaller tracks; there are no opportunities for claiming horses so low in price. By that, I mean ours are mostly middle to top class variety. Our lowest class claiming race horses would run in your $5000-6000 claiming price brackets."

Mr. Lieberman has made a study of U. S. thoroughbreds and records, not only by personal observation but also by availing himself of our turf publications. He has nine broodmares back home, of which seven have foals and two are "expecting." Several years ago, in Caracas, he purchased a pair of four-year-old American fillies which, he relates, he later bred to two Argentine stallions he owned. Each had one filly and Mr. Lieberman, rather than race them, plans to sell the two fillies at a government auction next season.

(Last Week)

Rev. and Mrs. Walter Ott and family were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Larrimore. The Ott's were neighborhood callers Sunday afternoon prior to the return trip to Baltimore.

Edward Larrimore narrowly escaped serious injury Sunday morning when his airplane crashed. He was unable to get airborne on account of adverse winds and heavy grain too near the private port. He suffered considerable shock and the plane was damaged to the amount of around $400 for replacements and repairs.

Mr. and Mrs. William Frasher from up Pennsylvania way were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Frasher, near Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cubbage, of Rehoboth, were Sunday visitors in the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lemp entertained one of their sons from New York over the weekend.

We hear Mrs. W. C. Taylor has concluded her term as teacher at Oak Point School and has been asked to return.

The State Highway Department has placed a three-quarter cubic yard dragline at L. D. Caulk's bridge intending to dig the willow prong of the Cow Marsh Ditch as far as the Church Bridge we hear. No one now knows the infinite amount of good that will be accomplished by this operation. Roads are not built nor are they maintained successfully where drainage is such a problem as it is in this area. Besides the road situation the agricultural needs are beyond the realm of present day prices to provide the necessary equipment to take care of the dire needs.

One of the Wilmington papers under date of May 29th makes mention of the level country that comprises the Pocomoke Swamp area in southern Delaware and other areas in Sussex County but they failed to note two important conditions with which I became acquainted during my work with the C. C. C.

Most of Sussex County in the area previously specified and in the locality surrounding Georgetown for miles has an underlying strata of "Sugar Sand" while the area of Kent County mostly requiring careful and consistent drainage has an underlying strata of "White Oak or Light Yellow Clay."

Such a condition provides a vast difference in the actual drainage problems of the respective localities really areas.

HOW BOUT THAT By RALPH TEE

When Jr. came home from college, he told his father (who did a very nice business) that bad times were coming. And so his father took down his signs, stopped ordering as much merchandise, stopped telling people what he had to sell and, sure enough—people slowly stopped coming to him for things to buy. After a few months, the father turned to his son and said, "You were right son—things are bad."

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles.

We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving.

So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true.

We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be.

We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics.

We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its ride—and its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides—at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale.

But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS.

One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflo Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price.

We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty.

We might claim—you'll find more room—more comfort—more luxury—a smoother ride—more conveniences—more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field.

But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Come find out for yourself how completely a 1951 ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car you hope sometime to own.

And let us whisper something to you: The cost of making this step to ROADMASTER ownership is less than most people believe.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

It will soon be Father's Day and many are wondering how am I going to give my dad or husband something that he likes. Well let me tell you one thing he likes and that is a good meal by that I mean one that is cooked well and done. To start this off right remember you must have the right things to do that with.

For instance a Philco or Westinghouse electric range is wonderful for practically all kinds of cooking. Also don't forget the many gas ranges we have waiting just to cook that wonderful dinner for dad. Yes of course his money will probably pay for it but remember to get at a man's heart is through his stomach.

Very likely you will have plenty of good things left over, that you simply must not throw away at this day and date. Well all you have to do is come in and pick out your Philco or Westinghouse electric refrigerator and that problem is quickly solved.

When I say a refrigerator I mean one that holds as much as 72 pounds of frozen food as well as the regular space usually found. Then again they are frost free, never need defrosting.

Strawberries are very cheap just now and may I ask are you taking advantage of these prices? Next Xmas would be a mighty nice time to have strawberry short cake and with real fresh strawberries at about 15 to 20 cents a quart. This can be done very easily as several are doing as well as myself.

Put not only strawberries but all kinds of fruits, vegetables and meats in a freezer and when you take them out time after time you will say to yourself, I am mighty glad I got that Philco freezer and to think it costs so little and saves so much. Yes it is true the savings will easily pay for the freezer in a very short time. Open your eyes and realize that today is not yesterday but today.

Have you gotten your Philco television yet? If not I have it for you and summer time or warm weather

It is getting pretty hot to be fretting and stewing over that old washer, why not treat your wife to a new one which will help her along with her many duties?
