

$9000 Damages Awarded In Land Condemnation Suit

Damages were fixed at $9000 by a sheriff's jury Monday afternoon for the property of Samuel and Edith R. Berkman, condemned by the State Highway Department for right-of-way for the new dual Dover by-pass highway at Cooper's Corner, a short distance south of Dover.

A condemnation commission previously awarded $8000 damages, from which the Berkman appealed and asked the naming of a jury ad quod damnum by Sheriff William M. Paskey. The department had offered $6000. The verdict of the sheriff's jury is final.

In the proceedings, Howard E. Lynch, Jr., was attorney for the highway department and H. Albert Young, Wilmington, represented the Berkman.

The highway department, according to the testimony, took over about four acres of the Berkman tract and, in addition, the course of the new highway detaches about an acre and two-thirds from the main tract.

The land is the site of the Jacob Rudnick livestock sales stables and race-horse training track located along the former cut-off road from U. S. 113-A, or South State Street extended, to U. S. 13, or South Governors Avenue extended.

In addition to claim for land value, the Berkman asked for damages for loss of shade and watering area for grazing livestock, necessity of moving the stable farther away to avoid the highway noises and their effect on the race horses, depreciation of the value of the dwelling because of its being brought so much closer to the traffic, construction of a new fence to retain the cattle, and providing of new means of watering and shade.

A small stream runs through the part of the land taken over for the road right-of-way and on it were shade trees.

In his testimony, Rudnick estimated the damages as in the neighborhood of $45,000. Realtors called by counsel for the Berkman and the highway department differed widely in their estimates, ranging from a low of about $5700, not including cost of moving the stable, to a high of about $41,000.

Date Changed On Beauty Contest

The date of the second annual beauty contest, sponsored by the Harrington Rotary Club, has been changed to Tuesday, June 26. It was originally announced that it would be held Thurs., June 23. Due to an unavoidable conflict it was necessary to make the change.

The public is urged to buy its tickets now from any Rotarian and avoid having to stand in line at the last minute. Each purchase from a Rotarian helps to pay the expenses of the contest. A 50-cent ticket entitles one to see the regular picture, "Casa Manana," the beauty contest, and the Rotarian's skit which this year will find the Rotarians dressed up in ladies' old-fashioned bathing suits. Each Rotarian is anxious to be acclaimed the bathing beauty of Harrington.

By the time this week's issue of The Journal is released, the prizes that will be given in the regular beauty contest, will be on display either in the Snack Bar or in the lobby of Reese Theatre. The public is urged to go by to see these beautiful gifts.

Final entry in this contest may be made no later than Friday noon, June 22. It is hoped that all entries will be made long before then since the Rotary committee in charge of this event plans to give each contestant a gift with her name, the event, and the date on the gift.

The rules of the contest:

1. Must be at least 16 years old and must have attended at least one grade in a senior high school.
2. Must live within 8 miles of Harrington.
3. Must have good character.
4. Must appear in evening gown and three-piece suit.
5. Must enter Chicken of Tomorrow Contest at Salisbury, if they win first place here.

The Harrington Rotary Club was very proud of the beauty contest and the contestants last year. This year we expect to have just as nice an affair. It will be beautiful, clean, and entertaining.

If you know of a nice, pretty girl who fills the above qualifications, please inform Melvin Brobst, Archie Peagan, or John G. Parks.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

Mayor Rash we would really enjoy you visiting up here some time this summer.

I don't see why our General Manager Mr. Holloway, couldn't spend a few days. Bring Virginia along too Brit.

Oh, why not all that can spend a few days come on up. You would be glad to be back in Harrington.

I know the office crowd will really appreciate this. Harry Littleton you should hear the talk up here. When it rains they put (dogs) that's what they call the things they put on rail to keep you off. You train on outside don't make any difference. So when you are ready to race at nite the rail out to 20 feet is good.

Makes no difference by 1 o'clock no horses on main track. Take it or leave it. Their back track is no good. If the horsemen at Harrington had to do that they would think they were mistreated.

Here is a little dope on how the races and betting is going on up here.

"I want to come home" to heck with it up here.

Well this will be rather a complete run down on the past week up here in Hamburg.

Right at this writing the loudspeaker is calling all caretakers that were in the fire and lost their belongings.

President James J. Dunnigan issued orders to completely outfit the grooms. So tomorrow at 2 p. m. they will be taken to town for their needs.

As a close eye witness, I was crossing the infield to go to the paddock, when about half way across the field the black smoke rose to 50 or 100 feet.

Dave was out warning Anna Day up for the 6th race so I went on over to the stall. About the time he came in with her, horses were running wild. The blaze was terrible.

Everyone screaming and horses so frightened.

Levi Harker was just leaving his trailer near the barn when he discovered the fire, which he said looked very small. But 10 seconds later the whole barn was afire.

Some of the animals terrified by the flames and smoke, refused to move. Others ran wild with blankets in flames. A few stalked down McKinley Parkway close to track.

It was stated Dick Nesbit lost 17 of his own. Dick told me of his own was only two lost and saved Rheta Todd. The balance of the horses belonged to his owners—17 head.

Car Thief Gets Five Years in Prison

Clarence W. Graham, 57, formerly of Harrington, was sentenced to five years in prison Monday in U. S. District Court on 20 counts charging him with automobiles which had been transported interstate. His thefts were estimated at more than 180 cars.

Chief Judge Paul Leahy granted Graham probation for three years on a 21st count. The probation is to start at the end of the prison term.

Graham was arrested last January on a federal warrant. He was charged with being one of the leaders of a ring engaged in the theft, altering for disguise, and resale of automobiles after they had been changed in a garage at Minguadale.

Graham had pleaded innocent to the charge but later changed his plea to guilty.

In imposing sentence on Graham, who was accused of participating in the stolen car ring since 1945, Judge Leahy called him a "professional criminal" with a "long life of crime."

Graham was turned over to Deputy U. S. Marshal M. Howard Lyell. The penitentiary in which he will serve his sentence will be designated by the U. S. Bureau of Prisons.

Graham was arrested after investigations conducted by Wilmington Detective Bureau, Delaware State Police, Pennsylvania State Police, investigators of the National Automobile Theft Bureau and special agents of the FBI.

The investigation involved an automobile theft ring that was operating in Delaware and Pennsylvania for several years.

Stole at Least 180 Cars

Cars stolen by the ring were traced to a garage operated by Graham at Minguadale and later were sold to dealers from different states.

Stolen cars were recovered by FBI agents in Delaware, Georgia, North and South Carolina, and Connecticut.

Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. James L. Latchum said the FBI estimated from investigation that the number of stolen cars passing through Graham's hands in the period since 1945 numbered approximately one each week or 10 days. He said this involved at a minimum 180 cars stolen.

Served 10 Years Before

Mr. Latchum described in detail the method used by Graham in concealing the stolen cars.

He said Graham did not plead guilty until he was convinced that the information secured by the FBI in the stolen auto activities would result in conviction.

Mr. Latchum noted for the court that Graham was arrested in 1917 in West Virginia on charges of forging a Western Union money order. He said he jumped bail then and there was no disposition of the case.

In 1925, Mr. Latchum said, Graham pleaded guilty to manslaughter. (Continued on page 12)

Track Car Involved In Freak Accident

A track car, a small gasoline car used for transporting railroad workers and supplies, was involved in a freak accident Wednesday morning at Laurel.

The car and two trailers were stopped at a Laurel crossing, preparatory to their being removed from the tracks, when a train inadvertently hit the cars from the rear, demolishing the track car into high gear and it took off up the tracks at a fast clip.

The "unguided missile" crossed the drawbridge over the Nanticoke River at Seaford, passed through the town, and headed for Bridgeville.

Upon being alerted, railroad employees at the latter place hurriedly erected a barricade of railroad ties, against which the runaway car demolished itself.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

'What's in a name? That which we call a rose By any other name would smell as sweet.'—'Romeo and Juliet'

The name is not the object: it is merely a means of identification: Nicknames do not necessarily denote derision: more often they are evidence of popularity.

Keeping at the local level, let us muse over some of the nicknames of past years: We were called Bugs, Buggy, and German Pigfoot. Claude Cahall was Cue; Herman Ryan was Slim. Then there were the brothers, Foddermouth and Pickles Porter; Smocktown Porter, the late Charlie Ross, referred to as 'Cocky' for obvious reasons, since his eyes were not in accord.

George Shotr was Shorty; in fact, several members of the family were called the name from time to time. Harry Holloway is often called Dynamite. W. C. Burgess is still, on rare occasions, referred to as Weanie, a corruption of his name, Winston. Harvey Legates was known as Zip, because of the speed with which he could throw a baseball. His brother, Edgar, was known as Yam. Roy Hummel, once a prominent pitcher and formerly of Harrington, was known as Maggie, as is also a Harrington merchant.

Away from Harrington, we knew a man in East St. Louis, Ill., who was known as Weatherbird because he resembled, at least to some degree, a drawing of a bird used to illustrate the daily weather forecast in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. We have known other individuals with such names as Stinky Davis, Moon Mullins, and Major Hoople, or just plain Hoople. But we still have to hear of an Alley Oop.

The Harrington Rotary Club is sponsoring a beauty contest to select a participant in the Chicken of Tomorrow Contest at Salisbury in July. In other words, the 'chicken of today' may be the 'chicken of tomorrow.'

INTELLIGENCE FACTOR IN STRUGGLE FOR POWER

That all men should be born to equal opportunity is a generally accepted premise of democracy. That all men are not equal in ability or aptitude is sometimes denied in the confused belief that to acknowledge this obvious fact is to destroy the right of equal opportunity. The tendency for humans to settle into relative positions or station is a natural animal characteristic. The basis upon which station is determined is power. In pre-historical times the basis of power was physical strength. In time the heirs to the advantages of power, derived power from their favored position even though they, individually, had none of the qualities which earn the advantages of power in the open arena of the forest. And so it has been a constant struggle for man to see that a favored position did not fall to those who by chance came into possession of the particular weapons of power in any given age. Once these weapons were strength, later wealth and position; now we are coming into an age when intelligence is just as much the inheritor of favored position as is the inheritor of wealth or rank. An intelligent autocracy can become just as intolerable as any of the most despotic states under which man has even had to live.

The shift to intelligence as a basis for favored position is now most apparent in contemplated rulings regarding the drafting of men for military service. This has arisen out of the great need for men who can understand and operate the machinery of our modern technology. It is probably more important that we develop men for these tasks and that we not sacrifice them in battle than it is to obtain the most suitable men for the fighting jobs. However, as one legislator has put it, 'Are we to draft for military service only those who are dumb enough to carry arms?' The same kind of problems arise in an age when intelligence is the basis of power as did when muscle was the determining factor. Having, we hope, more intelligence, perhaps we should accomplish a more equitable job of refereeing in the struggle for power in this new age.

IT'S A CRYING SHAME

It's a crying shame Harrington doesn't have a depository for the many old deeds, maps, pictures, and newspapers—mementoes of bygone days—that abound in the city. That we have these relics of yesteryears is due to the foresight of the owners. These graphic and pictorial reminders have played an important role in depicting the history of the community.

We have done what we could to perpetuate these fragments of history by publishing them, as they came to light, in The Harrington Journal. And it is a task which is never completed: always there are notes on the spindle on our desk 'to see Mrs. Potter about a picture and to see Nyle Callaway about an old newspaper.' And the same item has yet to pop up twice.

Some of these relics may fall into the hands of unthinking persons. What better community project could an organization carry out than to set aside a room for these souvenirs of the past?

Pictures and articles we have published, or will publish, have been based on the following: Old woodcut of patent medicine advertisement, 1842, purchased by Paul Peterson at a sale.

'North American,' Philadelphia, 1887—Mr. Peterson. Picture of Harrington Milling Company, 1922—Ike Parks.

Picture of R. H. Stafford's Store at Burrsville, in the early 20's—R. H. Stafford.

Picture of Harrington Cornet Band, 1901—Mrs. Sadie Simpson.

'Harrington Journal,' Nov. 13, 1914—Mrs. George Potter.

'Harrington Enterprise,' 1884—found by Nyle Callaway in an old trunk.

Plat map of Clark's Corners (Harrington) in 1827—Leonard Harrington.

Map of Tharp's Pond, 1855—George Cain.

Byle's Map of Kent County for 1859—found by Charles Derricks in an alley when a building was being torn down.

Picture of Delaware House, late 1880's or early 1890's, purchased by Lindsay McVey at a sale.

'Delaware State News,' 1909 — Mrs. W. A. Berry, Felton.

'Milford Chronicle,' 1900—Nyle Callaway.

'Sunbury (Pa.) Daily Item,' 1913—found by Len Watson in an attic.

'The Evening Item,' Philadelphia, 1889—Mr. Watson. Rehoboth and Lewes tax books, back to 1837—Mr. Watson.

'Public Ledger,' Philadelphia, March 25, 1836, found by Dewitt Tatman on second floor of Harrington Hardware Store.

We have a copy of 'The Philadelphia Record,' of 1906, which the owner may have by calling at this office. We also have a copy of 'The Age,' Philadelphia, 1871. We will publish excerpts from it when space permits.

LIFE'S HIGHWAY

By Samuel A. Short, Jr. Harrington, Del.

While traveling alone, On life's highway.

Meeting friends, I like to own.

I would not miss, The ones I know.

Friends of others, As I go.

These friends of others, Both large and small.

That is the reason, I keep them all.

Their friendship I'll hold With love untold.

Finding life's treasures, With these friendly treasures.

On life's highway, Both night and day.

I lay my success, To these friends I possess.

I hold them now, With a proudly vow.

So sincerely true, Of respect-anev.

These friends I have chosen, Are You! and You! and You!

Both young and old, On this happy, Life's Highway.

Excellent reports were made last month at the Tomahawk School. One of the young ladies, Miss Laura Vincent, averaged 100 per cent in department and studies.

The pupils of the Tomahawk School on the honor roll for the month ending, Nov. 6th, are as follows: High School grade—Sallie Seeders, Edna Baker, Emma Bradley, Gladys, Mabel and Laura Vincent; Grammar grades—Dwight Hanson; Intermediate grades—Lawrence Graham, Della Ryan, Katherine Carter, Anna Vincent and Frank Bradley; Primary grades—Renzie Baker, Ruth Vincent, Emily Baker and Edward Bradley. Those perfect in department are: Margaret, Edward, Elizabeth, John, Frank and Emma Bradley; Ruth, George, Anna, Laura, Gladys and Mabel Vincent; Emily, Renzie and Edna Baker; Ruth Morris, Lovey Jones, Russell Torbert, Welford Barney, Della Ryan, Katherine Carter, Willis Butler, Clarence Whaley, Lawrence Graham, Sallie Seeders, and Dwight Hanson. Columbus Day and the birthday of Will Carleton, the Brooklyn poet, were well observed by the Irving Literary Society, recently organized under the direction of Prof. Harrington, of Seaford.

Oral and written tests have been very satisfactory. The recent essays on 'Cotton and Its Uses' (the subject given by Miss Sallie Hoke Smith, of Washington, to the school children of the United States) were very creditably done. Good work is also being accomplished in pencil sketching and coloring, and in physical culture. The last named subject should be taught in every town school of the state and will, no doubt, in another generation, be in the curriculum of the rural schools as well.

Loyal Workers Bible Class of Trinity Methodist Church Hold Last Meeting

One of the prettiest parties of the spring was given by Mrs. Harry D. Adkins and her committee for the Loyal Workers Bible Class of Trinity Methodist Church at her home.

It was the last meeting until September when the class will meet with Mrs. John Wilson on Clark Street, Sept. 3.

The recent bake and rummage sale was quite a success and a nice sum was turned over to Mrs. Lella Hopkins, the treasurer. The class will sponsor two young people to the Peninsula Camp at Centerville this summer as they have done in the past.

Delicious refreshments were served and games played. There were 40 members and several guests who enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Adkins.

Each officer serving this year received a gift from the president.

Mrs. Carrie Hitchens, Mrs. Jesse Tee, Mrs. Helen Melvin and Mrs. Georgia Hall aided Mrs. Adkins.

Pat Flannery, Kessler Farrow, Jehu Camper, Charles Greenhaugh and Charles Peck, Jr., attended the district convention of the Lions Club at Rehoboth the first of the week.

ter Reed, of Harrington, was married to Miss Mae Ruppel, of that city.

Mar-Del Baseball League

Table with 2 columns: Team Name and Record. Rows include Milton, Hickman, Clayton, Wyoming, Frederica, and Millsboro.

Last Sunday: All Games Postponed, Rain. This Sunday: Milton at Clayton, Wyoming at Millsboro, Hickman at Frederica.

Double-headers continued to pile up in the Mar-Del League race as last Sunday's entire card was washed out by a steady downpour that spread over most of the Eastern Shore.

This Sunday afternoon's schedule promises an interesting afternoon as the pace-making Milton nine invades Clayton, Wyoming travels to Millsboro for their first visit and Hickman furnishes the opposition at Frederica.

Milton rallied for 4 runs in the 4th to edge out Clayton 4 to 3 in their meeting at Milton as Harry Barrett and Bob Knight hooked up in a tight mound duel.

The hard-pressing Hickman tossers will be facing a much improved line-up when they visit Frederica Sunday. In their first get together Lefty Bill Newman tossed a neat three hitter to give the runners-up a 5 to 0 victory over the Holleger led aggregation.

Millsboro will be gunning for their first win of the 1951 season as they entertain Wyoming. In their first meeting Millsboro bowled in a free scoring contest 16 to 7. Two big five run rallies in the 4th and 6th put the game on ice for the victors.

is expected to be played as a night game.

What Do You Know About Baseball?

Grover Lord gave The Journal a couple clippings recently concerning questions and answers. Try your luck in answering the questions and see what your batting average is by turning to an other page to check on the answers.

1—Who made the lowest average winning a batting championship? 2—Give within 100 the most runs scored by a player during his life-time? (b) Who was it?

3—What have George Kelly, Jim Bottomley, Frank McCormick, Johnny Mize, Lou Gehrig, Jimmy Foxx and Al Simmons in common? 4—Who was the last batter to make six hits for six times at bat?

5—Between 1911 and 1914 the most valuable player award was called the Chalmers Award. How many of the eight recipients can you name? 6—Besides leaving to baseball the aphorism 'hit 'em where they ain't' what other imprint did Willie Keller leave?

7—A 25 game winning pitcher these days is a rarity but such accomplishment wouldn't faze Jack Chesbro. How many games did he win in 1904? 8—Bob Feller wanted to set a new strikeout record against the A's in Shibe Park. How many would he have had to fan? (b) Who holds the present record?

9—Name the four pitchers since 1900 who pitched "perfect" games? 10—Eddie Dyer was acclaimed for winning a pennant in his "freshman" year but there were others before him. Name five of them?

11—Who received largest number of votes in modern balloting for Most Valuable Player? 12—What manager won pennants with three different major league teams?

13—If you were told Deacon Phillippe beat Cy Young 7-3 what game would you think of? 14—Dan Brouthers, Bill Gleason, Hughie Jennings and John McGraw were infielders with what great team?

Ocean Downs to Increase Purses

The unprecedented number of applications for stall space at Ocean Downs Raceway, the resort harness track which opens a 20-night meet at Ocean City, Aug. 7, indicates that the pari-mutuel plant at Maryland's ocean playground is one of the most popular in the state, Dick Case, general manager, has announced.

More than 700 requests for stall space have already besieged the busy manager, and they are still pouring in. If the list keeps growing it won't be long before the track officials will be faced with the problem of finding room for 1000 of the nation's top trotters and pacers, Case said.

He believes that the big crowds which thronged the plant last year, coupled with the tempting purses and stake events being offered this year, accounts for the droves of horses and horseman who will converge on the luxurious oval for the coming meet.

Big early closing events like the 3-year-old pace for a glittering $2500 purse which will highlight the opening card, are drawing horses and owners like magnets. There will be many $2500 events for 3-year-old trotters and pacers and 2-year-old pacers during the meet.

Another attraction will be the greatly increased minimum overnight purse schedule, which offers two dashes for $800 each, two dashes for $1000 each, and two $1200 events to be raced two dashes at a time.

Your patience has lessened our Daily Double trouble Delaware Park wishes to thank its patrons, who have been patient as they waited in line for the Daily Double. Many are not aware that the congestion is due to two things: an unusual Delaware state law, and a shortage of machines by the totalisator company, which stems from Defense building restrictions. The Delaware state law provides that Daily Double betting may only be by means of machines. Last fall Delaware Park negotiated for an adequate supply of machines, and as recently as this spring was assured that they would be available. Now, however, faced with the stone walls of the law on one hand, and a restricted supply of machines on the other, Delaware Park has done the only remaining thing, which is to open this popular form of wagering earlier than customary. The management can put its clerks on duty earlier, and open its windows earlier, and is glad to do so. Obviously, the congestion occurs toward the end of the Daily Double wagering period. Those who come early can be served promptly. All this is due to Delaware Park trying to give racegoers what they want, and for that reason it has restored the Daily Double after nine years. Again we thank you for patience, and trust that the good racing available compensates for this inconvenience, which we hope will be temporary.

HADACOL HELPS LEE AND MARILYN SUE HADACOL Helps Children with Weak, Run-Down Conditions When Due to Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron Young Lee Horton and Marilyn Sue Scieszinski live many miles apart, but they both have one thing in common—they both take HADACOL. When Lee was not feeling as good as his father, F. W. Horton, thought he should feel, he gave Lee HADACOL. Lee, who lives at 108 74th Ave., Houston, Texas, took his HADACOL regularly and his father says he now feels real good. Mrs. J. Scieszinski, Marilyn's mother, who lives at 514 Kruger, Ottumwa, Iowa, sees that her daughter takes her HADACOL each day, too, and Mrs. Scieszinski says Marilyn likes to take her HADACOL. Their stories will show you how you may be helped by HADACOL, if you are suffering a weak, run-down condition and poor appetite if due to a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. Mr. Horton says about Lee: "Lee was very weak and run-down and just didn't want to eat at all. We heard about HADACOL and decided that was what Lee needed. After he started taking HADACOL his appetite picked up right away. He started gaining weight and eats real well now, and has been feeling real good. HADACOL has been good for Lee and I heartily recommend it to everyone." Mrs. Scieszinski says about Marilyn Sue: "My daughter, Marilyn Sue, is 5 years old, and for some time had a poor appetite, was generally run-down. Since giving her HADACOL, we have noticed wonderful results. She has a much better appetite, eats everything on the table, and doesn't seem tired like she used to. Incidentally, she likes to take her HADACOL, too." BOYS AND GIRLS! BIG FREE COMIC BOOK! Just write The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, La., for yours. Bill Taylor Buys Farm

William Taylor

William Taylor has named his farm "Marvel's Acres." Mr. Taylor recently purchased the adjoining farm of Frank Porter. These farms have been in the Marvel family for years and they were Mr. Taylor's great-grandparents during the Civil War the Marvels lived on this farm and the soldiers used to stop there to eat and put up their horses.

Having a trade name under which Mr. Taylor ships his asparagus is beneficial as he ships good produce and the consumer knows if he buys the Marvel Acres brand what he is getting. Mr. Taylor is a very ambitious man and a scientific farmer. I notice he is planting the new farm he bought breaking up the hedge rows and it sure looks nice I will have to see him and tell you what he is putting in there as he's putting something on the ground as he plants, maybe to keep weeds down.

Too Much Rain Says Mrs. Adams

Mrs. Edna Adams, who lives between Farmington and Staytonville, says we had too much rain over the weekend. Mrs. Adams was in The Journal office Monday morning to renew her subscription.

She said the rain had flooded the low ground, particularly some on which they planned to sow soybeans. The lengthy rain will probably give weeds and crabgrass a good start, unless the ground dries out in time for farmers to work the fields.

Cows Judge Sudan Grass At University

Do you plant the kind of Sudan grass your cows like?

Cows at the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station Farm at Newark will have a chance to choose the variety of Sudan grass they like the best this summer.

The Agronomy Department is setting up a test plot with six Sudan grass varieties—common, sweet, tift, piper, California 23, and Wheeler.

The plot will be grazed, and observations made on grazing preference, the comeback ability of the varieties, and disease resistance under grazing conditions. Small areas will be cut to measure yields.

The grass should be ready for grazing by the second week in July, says William H. Mitchell, of the department. Mitchell is in charge of the experiment. He has invited farmers who are interested to stop at the experiment station farm, just south of Newark, to see these plots.

Many Become Sick
Eight hundred and twenty out of every 1,000 persons suffer from some sort of sickle-cell anemia.

Pin Pads Helpful

For efficiency when sewing, keep a saucer, box, or fat cushion of plain pins on the sewing table. Most dressmakers attach a pin-cushion to their wrist or fasten it on a ribbon around the neck. Even the sewing machine should have a pad of pins fastened to it.

Government Buys Loom

The Jacquard loom, invented by Joseph Marie Jacquard, was purchased by the French government in 1806.

Mrs. Long has been active in community organizations, the business and professional women's club, and church and civic groups. She is editor of the newsletter of the Delaware Home Economics Association.

Martin Johnson Excels In Club Work

Martin W. Johnson, III, 17, of Laurel, has been in club work four years and has completed 13 projects. He always liked to raise chickens, and concentrated especially on this subject.

Learning the newest methods and practices for poultry and egg production enabled Martin to raise a flock of 20,450 broilers.

In partnership with his father, they built a 24,000 capacity broiler house. It is equipped with hot water heat and automatic feeders. Martin keeps a flock of 1000 broilers for experimental purposes.

The youth has now five Short Course scholarships in judging contests, and was on the Delaware Egg Grading team at NEPPCO Exposition. He plans to continue in poultry as long as possible. Martin was given a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago last November, with expenses being paid by Dearborn Motors.

Greenwood Girl First in Miss Delmarva Contest

Delaware's first entrant in the "Miss Delmarva" contest, to select the queen for the Chicken Festival, is Miss Shirley Zott of Greenwood.

The Bridgeville-Greenwood local of the Delaware Poultry Improvement

Association is acting as sponsor to Miss Zott according to Earl Hawk, chairman of the Miss Delmarva Contest for Delaware.

Mr. Hawk urges the co-operation of all service clubs, chambers of commerce, fire departments, and local merchants in sponsoring entries for the queen contest. As a matter of civic pride, the committee is anxious for at least one contestant from each community in the state.

Several girls from this area have signed their applications and also several organizations have expressed their desire to sponsor these girls. The "Miss Delmarva" contest will be held the afternoon of July 10 at the State Teachers' College in Salisbury.

Ebling Combats Spittle Bug

Paul Ebling, a dairy farmer near Greensboro, takes no chance with the ravages of the spittle bug which makes hay unpalatable for cattle. Recently, he found a growth of ladino and red clover and lespedeza in a section of his pasture almost ready to harvest, but observing an abundance of evidence of spittle, he cut it at once and took the hay loss. Ebling is systematic in handling his cattle's grazing. He divides his pasture in three sections, allowing his herd to graze each section approximately a week or ten days at a time. He also keeps hay in portable hayracks at all times. Several other progressive dairymen of Caroline County follow similar practices with success.

Farm Notes

Strawberry receipts were light Monday at the Laurel auction block. Luptons were selling at $3.50 per crate, with Gandys at $4.

John G. Tarburton, Cowgill's Corner, has close to 100 White-face cattle on the grass. At last reports Tarburton's clover was knee-high.

Reynolds Reed, of Dover, and Frank Richardson, of Rising Sun, have about 50 workers each harvesting asparagus to sell to the canneries on a contract basis. The variety as not mentioned, but it is probably Martha Washington. Bill Taylor, of Marvel's Crossroads, is another large asparagus grower.

Walter Lee, of Townsend, vice-president of the State Board of Agriculture, has lent out a large number of dairy cows to farmers who feed them and get the milk for their efforts. Mr. Lee gets the vealers when the cows calve. Clutch Killen, of near Harrington, is another farmer who follows this practice. Mr. Lee, we have also been told, lends out bulls. The farmers use them for breeding purposes and when they get too large, Mr. Lee markets them.

Farmers Need Firefighting Tools

Many ordinary farm tools can be used to fight fires says William E. Tarbell, county agent. He gives the following list of tools which farmers would ordinarily have on hand anyway.

These can be used for opening doors, breaking in windows or ceilings and roofs; axe, shovel, pick axe, garden rake, sledge hammer, crow bar, wrecking bar and broom.

Mr. Tarbell describes two other handy fire tools. A fire rake can be made by attaching a long handle to four sections of a mower knife. A fire swatter is made by fastening a piece of heavy belting or similar material (12" x 18") to a long handle.

Whether kept in a separate building or not, fire tools should be in one place. Every member of the family should know where this is. These tools for fire fighting should not be mixed up with tools used every day around the farm, for they wouldn't be easy to find in case of fire. "It's worth while having a duplicate set of tools marked 'For Fire Use Only,'" says Tarbell.

Saccharin Usage
In preparing recipes with saccharin—always add the tablets (or saccharin solution) to the liquid ingredients, preferably at room temperature or lukewarm. Saccharin dissolves almost instantly. It is stable at all cooking temperatures.

Setting Up Father-Son Farm Agreements

"It's a long, hard row towards owning a farm of our own now, but if a father and son get together and make a legal operating agreement, it works out for both parties," said Tarbell, Kent County agricultural agent. "Dad will find the farm taken care of when he gets to the point where he isn't as ambitious as he used to be, and the son can slowly work toward ownership while earning a living.

"Your county extension office has a bulletin on father-son operating agreements which explains the legal technicalities, and procedures for setting up these agreements," continued Tarbell.

"There are different types of father-son agreements to think about, tax considerations, ownership changes, legal considerations all explained in this bulletin. The facts are based on interviews with farmers, lawyers, county agents, bankers, and others, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Call your county extension office and ask for a copy, or stop in, or phone Dover 2621," he concluded.

Hoof Beats

The family of Evensong, she the most remarkable speed-producing matron the sport has ever known, made much of the harness racing news last week, some of it good and some of it bad.

On the bright side of the picture was the straight heat victory scored at Toledo, O., in the $11,000 Matron Stake by Evensong's granddaughter, Scotch Rhythm. The win stamped Leo C. McNamara's Indianapolis filly as the one to beat in the $90,000 Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y., August 8.

Tempering that news somewhat was a bulletin from The Walnut Hall Stud in Kentucky announcing the death of Scotch Rhythm's dam, the young mare Scotch Song. Scotch Song, a daughter of Evensong, was injured as a yearling and never got to the races but three foals she produced to the cover of Volomite ranked her as a great matron even though she died at ten.

The first was the good pacer Scotch Melody and the next two were Lusty Song, winner of the 1950 Hambletonian, and Scotch Rhythm, the filly that stands to match her brother's accomplishment two months hence. Scotch Song's fourth and last foal is Theme Song, who was sold for $17,500 as a yearling last fall.

Evensong, who died last year at 25, also is represented at Toledo by three sons, Mighty Song, Flying Song and Hit Song. All are rated as possible two minute additions to her list.

Mighty Song, recently converted to the trot, has won five of six 1951 engagements. Flying Song has been timed in 2:01 and Hit Song, a son of Darnley and Evensong's last foal, became the season's first 2:10 two-year-old trotter last week with a mile in 2:09.5 for driver Harry Pownall. He is undefeated in two starts.

By that time, W. E. Miller, who led the nation's drivers percentage-wise in 1949, was ready to accept his son into the fold. He taught him some training and driving tactics and Johnny climaxed his two-year apprenticeship by driving his first mount in a matinee race at Rosecroft last month.

He hopes now to take up training and driving on a large scale and is eagerly looking forward to matching hoof beats with his dad.

The biggest jump a horse is called on to make in the harness racing sport is that which sends him from a 3-year-old to the free for all class. A number of last season's sophomore trotters and pacers are planning to make the leap this season.

Among the well-known pacers ready to tackle the old timers are last year's Little Brown Jug winner, the Hayes Fair Acres' Dudley Hanover; F. H. Snow's Maine colt, Wayzoff; K. D. Owen's Texas speedster, Irish Hal and the Indiana pacer Thomas Hat.

Trotters contemplating the same move are Star's Pride, owned in Goshen N. Y. by Harriman & Sheppard and winner last year of the $60,000 Kentucky Futurity; Joe Purcell's Darn Flashy from Binghamton, N. Y.; A. L. Derby's Dalzell from Wichita, Kan.; and Ralph Kroening's Lord Steward from Milwaukee.

For the past 15 years, International Nickel's Corrosion Testing Station, near Wilmington, North Carolina, on the Atlantic Ocean, has put the ocean to work to prevent damages caused by sea water, sea air, and sea nourished marine growth. Railroad News

As mentioned in a recent column the slate in which many railroad officials moved from one point on the system to another, effective June 1, involved several who at one time or other, were located here.

The unusually large shakeup was brought about by the death of superintendent Ed Boyle at Baltimore, and the resignation of Vice-President Paul Feucht, at Chicago, who has accepted a similar position with the Chicago and Northwestern Railway. The changes are:

Mr. Pevler, vice-pres., N. Y. (abolished) to vice-pres. Chicago; Jack Schwab, ast. gen. mgr., Chicago to ast. vice-pres. N. Y.; Jim Newal, gen. mgr., Chicago to ast. vice-pres. operation, Philadelphia; Al Greenough, gen. supt. traps, Philadelphia, to ast. gen. mgr., Philadelphia; J. B. Jones, gen. supt. transp., Pittsburgh to gen. mgr. Chicago; Paul Neff, supt. Williamsport to gen. supt. transp. Philadelphia; Wendell Allen, supt. freight transp. Philadelphia to supt. The old gray mare had her faults. Thats why they put dashboards on buggies.

Some motorists seem to think a locomotive whistles at crossings just to keep up its courage.

In this connection, the increased whistling of passenger engines the weeks is brought about by the use of six K4 engines in freight service while this number of L1 freight engines are in shop for boiler wash.

The K4 engines only haul 70 car trains while the L1 can handle 125.

The "No Parking" signs posted on railroad property last Friday were necessary to accommodate our patrons who come to buy tickets, meet trains, send and receive freight and express, and for our employees who have to use their cars for company business and to get to and from work.

The restrictions which are only effective from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. and do not interfere with theatre parking, will be enforced and offenders will be obliged to pay towing charges.

Examples of the offenses created since parking meters were installed by the city are: Persons employed out of town, some driving only four squares, to leave their cars on railroad property from 6 a. m. to 4 p. m. A model A 1931 Ford coupe for two and three days at a time. A 1935 Dodge roadster with N. Y. license for the past three days near the ticket office.

A pickup truck parked daily near the unloading platform interferes with patrons who give us business.

Cars parked along siding north of the southbound shed interfere with loading and unloading mail and feed cars.

OPS News

Next Monday, ceiling prices on beef must be posted for all consumers to see in retail meat shops, Henry McC. Winchester, district director of the Office of Price Stabilization, reminded Delaware's butchers and consumers this week. Charts are being mailed out from the regional mailing center, the OPS official said, but he explained that copies of the dollars-and-cents ceiling price posters are also available at the district office in Wilmington. Also required by OPS regulations is that beef cuts must be displayed with the various grades in separate trays and with each tray price tagged. This is the first of three price postings. On August 1, retailers, as well as wholesalers and slaughterers, will put into effect lower beef prices. On October 1 still lower prices will become effective. Every consumer has the right to see these prices and the right of complaint on any violation.

DARLING-WILKINS

The wedding of Miss Myrtle L. Darling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Darling of Viola, and Norman L. Wilkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilkins of Milford, took place Friday evening, June 1, at the Viola Methodist Church. Rev. William B. Hitchens, of Felton, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Florence Coverdale, of Milford, and Donald Wilkins, brother of the groom, were the couple's only attendants. Miss Nancy L. Wagner, of Viola, was pianist, and Miss Esther Rosengren, also of Viola, was chairman of the church decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins' wedding was a near duplicate of the groom's parents who were married 46 years before. After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins are now residing at their home near Dover.

Chosen Friends Lodge No. 35

At last week's meeting of Chosen Friends Lodge headed by Noble Grand John Schaffer, Joe Penny was appointed as chairman of a committee to give all the children of our city up to 15 years of age a party, known as "Kiddies Day," some time in the near future.

There will be games for all ages and prizes for all participants. Refreshments will be served free to all.

The date will be announced later when all plans have been completed.

Chairman Joe Penny has appointed all the lodge members as his helpers to make this day a success.

Watch this paper for the date. Remember kiddies, this will be your day, so come out and have fun.

His little daughter, that all the horsemen nicknamed Queenie was the saddest little girl in the world.

I don't believe anyone went to bed last Thursday night. We all stood around in groups, some crying, others to sorry to talk.

Dave said he turned out eight horses and shut the doors before the fire hit the last barn. He was really upset so Anna Day received a chilly drive.

To top it all off three horses went down in a spill around the first turn. It is such a sharp one anyway. But the drivers weren't hurt, just bikes torn up.

All nite long the loudspeaker kept calling out don't bring cars around stable area and that more horses were found. I hope I never have to experience any thing like that again.

It brought back memories when we had only had Anna Day two days, when out to the fairgrounds in Charlotte, N. C., they called me and told me that the barn was on fire and thought my mare had burned up.

Several did. But not her, they had turned her out. You see a horse don't know any home but their stall. So they think that they are protected in them.

So if you turn them out they will always go back. But Anna Day came from pasture so she didn't know any stall that's what shamed her. She just ran. But the mare next to her was burned up. Refused to go out.

Roland Herrington, who raced Tracer Bullet, and Mira Lee there this spring, nearly lost both of his horses. He lost everything harness and like. Mira Lee was burned very bad as she was one that was running with a flaming blanket. Tracer Bullet was turned out, happened to see Mr. Herrington, he called her and tied her to a tree out fire area.

Since the fire, no cars are allowed to park near the stables. Fire trucks could hardly get near the barns for parked cars.

The next day I walked over with Dr. Pierce, U. S. T. A. official, to look over the ruins. It's hard to tell you but the horse remains was horrid. It makes me sick at this writing to think of it.

Now I hear no electric stoves. All electric equipment must pass a rigid test.

All the fire area is all cleaned up and new stalls are already going up. You see we were stabled in the first barn that burned. Not this year but last year.

We had asked for the same place, but Mr. Groves put us up in the new stone shed barns across from the other side. If we had been there we would have lost everything.

A disaster fund is being organized among the Canadian horsemen to help owners who suffered losses in the fire.

Mr. Dunigan just told me 33 horses and 5 barns were destroyed.

W. A. Lawrason, secretary of the Canadian Trotting Association, is acting as treasurer of the fund. And is backed by the Trotter and Pacer Magazine of Canada.

I haven't heard any thing like that being done here in the States for "American Owners." The Canadians really stick together up here. All in all we are all unnerved up here.

If any one leaves their barn now we all tell where we may be reached by phone.

So much for that horrible nightmare.

Mr. Enslin was a visitor up here for couple days.

"Elmer" the clocker, Lillian Stafford's brother, has returned to Houston after a week's visit up here.

Sam the "Harness Man" from Harrington, arrived yesterday with his dog and three little puppies. She was a stray down there. Wasn't it nice of him to give her a home.

Oh yes, Brownie the harness man here, lost every thing even his only horse. When I asked him about his horse, I never saw any man in my whole life cry like him. I felt so sorry for him.

cattle in the horse and buggy days.

Mr. Dunnigan says when new barns are built, they'll be spread apart on the spacious grounds made of concrete.

For hours after the flash fire the switchboard at the raceway was lit up like a Xmas tree.

Offers came from far and near. Neighbors from every town in the county offered stable room. Men in high racing game said the same thing.

"What I need most," said Jimmy Dunnigan, the raceway president, "is something to patch up a lot of broken hearts."

I had loads of interesting notes but they wouldn't fit in this weeks sad news.

So long till next week.

Proper Justice A forester in Pierre, S. D., was awarded a Red Cross Certificate of Merit for applying the proper first aid to an accidental wound on his head, thus saving his own life.

Seventh Day Adventist Church Notes

A special and uplifting program is being arranged for the Sabbath of June 23, which is Visitors Day. There will be special music and the speaker will be Pastor David G. Fleagle, under whose direction the church was built.

On June 30, a special Sabbath School program will feature plans for the building of a new hospital in Asuncion, capital city of Paraguay, South America.

The hospital, for which land has already been purchased, will be a medical and health education center where patients will be treated, young people trained as nurses, and from which members of the staff will make trips into isolated interior places.

We each, as members of Harrington S. D. A. Church will participate with Sabbath Schools throughout the world in raising an offering of 1/4 million dollars. Of this amount, a special offering of $40,000 will be earmarked to build the new South American hospital.

This will be the sixth hospital Seventh Day Adventists Sabbath Schools have helped to provide during the past two years; Horishima, Japan; Basutoland, South Africa; Belem, Brazil; Karachi, Pakistan; French Camerons, West Africa, and now at Asuncion, Paraguay.
