

A Thing of Beauty is a Joy Forever

Miss Louise Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gray, of Farmington, was winner of the Rotary beauty contest here last week. Miss Gray, a Journal correspondent, should give the judges something to think about when she participates in the Miss Delmarva Contest at Salisbury Tuesday afternoon at the State Teacher's College as part of the Delmarva Chicken Festival.

Jail Accused Smoke Thief

Woodrow Wilkins, of Wilmington, charged with obtaining cigarettes by fraud from an interstate carrier, was committed to the New Castle County Workhouse Saturday by Chief Judge Paul Leahy of the U. S. District Court, sitting as a U. S. Commissioner.

Wilkins, who is also facing two additional charges of larceny, was committed on the federal offense when he was unable to furnish bail in the amount of $3000 set by Judge Leahy at the preliminary hearing. He will be given a further hearing this week.

In addition to the federal charge Wilkins has been charged with larceny of more than $500 by Wilmington cigarette jobber who had employed him as a delivery truck driver. He is also being held for Sussex County authorities where he is wanted for failing to appear after posting bail of $1000 on a charge of larceny.

Wilkins, who once served part of a 10-year sentence in Virginia for larceny, was arrested in Milford Friday night by local FBI agents after a day long search in the down-state area. He has faced three other charges of larceny in Sussex County since 1936.

FBI agents were in Harrington Friday searching for Wilkins, who was reported to have hired a local taxi.

The alleged theft of the cigarettes took place last Tuesday on the loading dock of the Wooleyhan Transfer Company at the foot of French Street where they were being held for final delivery. The specific charge was "obtaining by means of a fraud or deception eight cases of Camel cigarettes from a common carrier moving interstate from Winston-Salem, N. C., to Wilmington." According to Assistant U. S. Attorney James L. Latchum, who presented the case for the government, Wilkins used his former position with the cigarette jobber to obtain the cigarettes.

Carvel, Driscoll Will Dedicate Span On Aug. 15

Governors of two states—Elbert N. Carvel of Delaware and Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey—will participate in the dedication of the Delaware Memorial Bridge Wed., Aug. 15.

The bridge will be opened for public traffic one minute after midnight on the morning of Aug. 15.

The main dedication exercises will take place on the Delaware side of the bridge in front of the administration building, east of the toll booths.

In the meantime, it is learned that the fares on the bridge are expected to be fixed at 75 cents per automobile and 50 cents per axle of trucks.

There will be seven classifications of vehicles, ranging from pleasure cars to trucks and such vehicles as fire engines, hearses, and ambulances.

While there are no passes permitted, it is likely that fire engines and ambulances will be permitted free passage if on official duty.

400,000 Monthly Crossings

It is estimated that the average number of vehicles crossing the bridge for the remainder of the first year will be in the neighborhood of 400,000 a month and the average toll will be $9225 per vehicle since the expected proportion of trucks is larger than estimated several years ago.

The total vehicular revenue estimated during the first full year of operation—the year 1952—is $4,732,000 from 5,130,000 vehicles. The operating expenses for next year is placed at $300,000, leaving a net revenue anticipated for 1952 at $4,432,000.

The announcement that the bridge will be opened for traffic at 12:01 a. m. Thurs., Aug. 16, was made Monday by J. Gordon Smith, chairman of the Delaware State Highway Department.

23 Working Days Needed

Col. William A. McWilliams, director of the Delaware Crossing Division of the State Highway Department, said that about 23 working days will be required to complete the pouring of concrete on the main span. The Farnhurst interchange was completed Friday and the roadway between the Farnhurst and the New Castle Avenue interchange is complete. Also completely poured is the area from the toll booths to the bridge proper.

On the New Jersey side, Col. McWilliams said, the work to be done by those working on the bridge will be completed in about a week, while interchanges being constructed by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority to connect with Route 44, are still incomplete. He said he expected this work to be completed before the scheduled bridge opening, however.

In case of rain, it will be held inside.

Juvenile Court Post Is Given To Stevenson

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel Friday night announced the appointment of William Marion Stevenson, prothonotary of Kent County, as judge of the new Juvenile Court of Kent and Sussex Counties.

The appointment, effective Monday, is for 12 years and the post pays $10,000 annually.

Mr. Stevenson, who is not an attorney, was born in Wilmington on Oct. 14, 1900 and moved to Frederica in 1909. Before entering politics actively he operated a restaurant and grocery business in Frederica.

Served In House

In 1930 he was elected to the House of Representatives from the Eighth Representative District. In 1936 he was elected prothonotary for the first time. He was re-elected in 1940, 1944 and 1948 and was thus in his fourth consecutive term when the Governor called him to the Juvenile Court bench.

Judge Stevenson, who had served as clerk of the old Supreme Court, was reappointed when the new Supreme Court organized earlier this month. He held the position by virtue of his office as prothonotary.

In establishing a new record for consecutive public service in Kent County Judge Stevenson, a Democrat, has become well-known to attorneys throughout the state. The judge, a Mason, is a member of Temple Lodge of Milford, the Delaware Consistory, the Tall Cedars of Lebanon and the Junior Order United American Mechanics. He has served as secretary of the Frederica Town Council, president of the Frederica Fire Company, secretary of Trinity Methodist Church and secretary of the Kent County Democratic Committee.

Downing Tells Rotarians Of Visit to Europe

"No matter where you may go, you will meet Rotarians," Fulton Downing told the Harrington Rotary Club at its regular Tuesday evening meeting. Mr. Downing was describing his recent visit to Europe.

On the plane going to Europe he met Rotarians from various parts of the world, and met them at almost every turn in Europe. They were from America, Australia, South Africa, Trans-Jordan—and many other countries. Going from the airport in a town in Switzerland to the hotel, one of his companions in the taxicab was a Rotarian from a far-away country.

He made up attendance at the Rotary Clubs of London and Paris.

He had borrowed the Rotary Directory from President Cliff Miller just before leaving for Europe. This he had autographed by several of the officials of the London and Paris Clubs and returned the directory to Mr. Miller.

He was impressed by the green countryside and rugged shoreline of Ireland. He visited the birthplace of Shakespeare, as well as the city of Salisbury, for which Salisbury, Maryland, is named.

Mr. Downing's speaking time was limited and Rotarians hope that he will give a more lengthy talk about his trip in the near future.

Past President Cliff Miller presided in the absence of President-Elect Harold McDonald, who is in seclusion in Florida preparing his inaugural address.

The club had two visitors, Carol Moore of the New Castle Rotary Club and Dr. George Meyers, of Camden, N. J., who was the guest of his brother, Walt Meyers.

Mel Brobst was program chairman of the evening.

At the opening of the new Moose home on U. S. 13 last Friday and Saturday, the Blue Hen Ramblers furnished the music. That's William Fleischauer, governor of the lodge, at the mike. "Them" eyes at the right, staring at the cameraman, belong to the lodge's emblem.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

Hope the weather is more ideal down there, than up here. Cold and rainy. Only thing in their favor is this is a sandy track.

One load of sand after another on rainy nights is put on the track. No lost nights up here. Just get out your mud suits and race.

So far this season we have missed the mud.

Mrs. Earl Freeman from whom we purchased our colt, Roustabout, was a visitor this week. Mrs. Freeman is now employed in Florida. She was really disappointed as our little colt is over to Cornell.

Dave sent him last week and of all things he told him he was the soundest to be the lamest. X-rays showed no broken bones. So we left him to really find out what's wrong.

Next year we will race the circuit down there, that's for sure.

Now for a little traveling. Ben Wilson (Ben the Banker) from Houston, is spending a week up here. Ben has put his horse 8:30 up for sale. Rosencranz has had him all spring.

Ben, Dave and I spent last Saturday at Batavia, at raceway. That is the worst in the world. The stable area is all worn out; barns even more worn out than the barns that burned here.

Looks like they could use a little white paint, at least they would be more cheerful. They do have a wonderful grandstand and one of the best lighted tracks in the country.

But that's all. You know they will just love me if someone should send this to Batavia.

It rained all the way over and all the way back.

Yesterday, the three of us left for Canada in Ben's car.

We took in the Falls on the American side, including Maid of the Mist, down 320 feet below the falls.

Again we were in some rain. We decided not to go down into "Cave of Winds," too misty for us.

Funny thing, Dave has Anna Day's future all mapped out.

When Anna gets too old to race he said that he would buy one of those surreys with the fringe on the top and put out sightseeing buggies.

Now isn't that something? We were riding along when one of these rigs came along. Dave said: "Watch that horse chisel in on the traffic. Just like driving a horse, watch for the hole and pull in. Course racing had to come into the picture.

I told Dave my idea was, hitch Anna Day to her sulky, put on rubber shoes, his colors and charge so much to take their picture up there. Well after that we took in Canada. Leaving by the "Rainbow Bridge." Over in Niagara Falls, Ont., we looked at the falls, which along Queen Elizabeth Highway are beautiful.

To get the most out of the American side you must go over to the Canadian side. The lights are beautiful at night.

Ben was loads of fun, hunting, cards and things to take home. I wanted to bring back a cup and saucer but knew better. I would never get home without breaking them. (Cost 3.25 a piece) English china.

We came back to Buffalo by Canada and what a beautiful trip along the Niagara River just at twilight the sailboats and

Bible School Holds Closing Exercises At Collins Hall

Closing exercises of the Harrington Community Vacation Bible School were held in the Collins Building of Asbury Methodist Church, Friday evening, June 29, with about 175 persons present.

Teachers of the Beginners Department, Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. Hearn, Jane Ward, Ann Howard and Grace Graham, presented the members of their group. Morning prayer and songs learned at the school were followed by a group of memory verses recited by eight children. A Bible story was told by Clarence Hackett. Other songs and the closing prayer concluded this part of the program.

Group 1 of the Primary Department, taught by Reba Smith and Joyce O'Neal, presented songs, recitations entitled "My Lamp," "Gospel Books," and "Why We Need the Bible." Memory verses and songs concluded the presentation of this group.

Primary Department Group 2, taught by Barbara Smith and Millie Ann Minner, presented speeches and a song "I Am So Happy" for their part of the program. Both groups of primaries then joined in the singing of songs.

A skit entitled "Now I See" was presented by Group 1 of the Junior Department. Teachers of this group were Evelyn Winebrenner and Imogene Welch. Group singing concluded this portion of the program.

Group 2 of the Junior Department, taught by Mrs. Tucker, presented map work, recitations and songs.

The Intermediates, taught by Rev. VanCleaf, presented readings from their study of the Christian Church.

Over 130 persons were enrolled as students in the Community Vacation Bible School this year. All students attending for eight or more days received certificates.

Jacob A. Marti Killed in Wreck

Jacob A. Marti, formerly an advertising salesman for WDOV, Dover, and an auto parts salesman in this area, was killed Wednesday afternoon when the car he was driving was involved in a collision on Route 896, one and a half miles south of Summit Bridge.

Marti's car, according to state police, sideswiped a truck, loaded with potatoes, operated by George Nickerson, of Chester-town, who was approaching in the opposite direction.

Marti, formerly of Dover, but late of near Cooch's Bridge, was a salesman for radio station WUCH in Chester. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Betty Marti, of Paterson, N. J., and a son.

Standpipe Foundation To Be Repaired; East Street to Have Water

Unpaved Portion of Harrington Avenue to Get Calcium Chloride To Lay the Dust—144 10-cent Parking Meter Violations in June

JONES-HOLLAND

On Wednesday evening, June 27, at 7:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Harris on North Walnut Street, Milford, Mrs. Ula Mae Jones, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Clarkson, of Harrington, became the bride of John S. Holland, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Holland Sr., of Milford. The quiet and pretty ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ralph C. Jones, pastor of Calvary Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris were the attendants.

The bride wore a street length gown of light blue embroidered organza and carried a bouquet of pink carnations with smilax and a white orchid center, with a head band to match. Mrs. Harris, the matron of honor, wore a navy blue street dress and carried a bouquet of Esther Reed daisies with smilax and matching head band. Mrs. Clarkson, mother of the bride, wore a grey sheer dress with an orchid corsage. Mrs. Holland, mother of the groom, was gown in an eyelet dress of yellow with which she wore a green orchid.

A reception was held following the ceremony, after which the young couple left for a honeymoon on the Skyline Drive. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Holland will make their home in Harrington. They are both employed by the International Latex Corporation, in Dover.

The City Council Monday night accepted a bid of $957 from the Burger Building Corporation, of Dover, to repair the concrete foundation of the standpipe. The corporation will be asked to start work within 30 days.

The improvement had been contemplated for some time, but the desire thereof crystallized after S. C. Marvel, an engineer and city manager of Smyrna, made a report in which he said that portion of the concrete foundation was badly disintegrated.

Mr. Marvel suggested, furthermore, that an elevated water tank be favored, and that this type of installation would soon be a "must." The Council decided to ask the Chicago Bridge & Iron Company to have its representative drop in when he was in this vicinity.

Another important motion of the Council, at its regular monthly meeting, was its decision to lay water mains on East Street. Sixteen residents of the thoroughfare had presented concrete evidence of their desire for water by depositing $2 each for water permits. A 2-inch pipe will be laid from Clark Boulevard to a yet as undetermined distance south on East Street, with the main part of the work anticipated to be done after the Kent & Sussex Fair has ended at the end of July.

The Council also authorized the purchase of security rods, long enough to reach from manhole to manhole, to cut roots in sewers.

In the street department, the Council, which was in pleasant mood, decided to buy a carload of blacktop for street improvements. Furthermore, it agreed to apply calcium chloride to lay the dust on that portion of Harrington Avenue from Center Street to the vicinity of Wheeler's Park. Since the playground is used extensively in the summer and fall, considerable dust is being raised by motorists on their way to and from the park. Leon Portor, Calvin Simpson, and Keith Burgess appeared before the Council asking for improvement of the street.

In the financial report for the month, Councilman Leonard Harrington disclosed that Alderman L. Gooden Callaway had collected $65 in fines and $338.07 in delinquent taxes during June. As far as the parking meters were concerned, it was disclosed that $310.67 was collected from during June. There were 144 violations at 10c each; three at $1 each, with nine violators failing to make a report. The last named will be notified by mail.

Some thirty-odd Harrington residents presented a petition objecting to the building of a service station on U. S. 13 at Harrington Manor. The Council decided to let City Manager Grace Wanda Quillen show the petition to the promoters.

The Council okayed a week's vacation for the city manager and the police officers.

Councilman Harrington suggested that another survey be made of users of city water. The city charter indicates a charge based on the number of spigots. Councilman Charles Peck Sr., said the number of spigots on premises was not necessarily an indication of the amount of water used. He added that, in many cases, the additional spigots were merely installed for convenience. No action was taken.

CLEAR THINKING CURE FOR GOSSIP POISONING

One of the lowest specimens of the human race is the person who is constantly fabricating some sensational story to bring about personal injury to one of his or her fellowmen. Occasionally such a person shows his or her hypocritical nature by being nice to your face while at the same time stabbing you in the back by releasing to the public some "juicy" story to do you harm.

Such fabrications and gossip-mongering have been unusually rampant in our own community during the last one or two years. During late months an entirely new story having no truth in it whatsoever would crop up, to be peddled by unthinking or malicious gossips. That these stories have done great personal damage to the intended victims, is known.

We have nothing but contempt for persons who make it a practice to cook up damaging stories about individuals they don't like, be it done for purely personal or political reasons. Your writer, together with many others, has been the victim of this despicable practice. Gullibility of many persons in the community hearing these sensational stories hasn't helped matters any, insofar as the victims were concerned.

The thinking person, however, thank goodness, will hesitate to put much credence in the truthfulness of the stories being circulated, knowing fully that almost invariably they are originated by the same filthy-minded, tongue-wagging busy-bodies who almost daily are seen walking up this and that street—up or down this or that stairway, peddling their dirt.

Many men and women have had their personal lives injured or ruined by the tongue-wagging gossips. Many a business career likewise has been injured or destroyed by them.

The careless and unthinking person who will permit himself or herself to repeat these fabricated stories is not blameless, either. Gullibility is no virtue when it extends to the point of accepting as truth any story that crops up in a community. Any person should think twice before he passes on to his neighbor or friend the latest "juicy" or sensational story about someone else. By passing it on—and perhaps making it a little stronger—you almost invariably will be doing an injustice to some innocent person.

As for the originators of these fabrications, we offer this old saying: "Those who live in glass houses should cast no stones." Often your own past is not too spotless. Your community can do better without your poisonous venom.

How these Poets go about it, when they take their pen in hand.

Using words that always rhyme, is something I can't understand.

I've tried a lot, but nowhere got, in making my words rhyme.

I'd get so far, then I'd give up. I've tried time after time.

I would like to write about a man in Harrington

Who's due a lot of credit for the good that he has done.

Mr. Wheeler is his name, so now you all can frown

He built a park which bears his name.

A credit to the town.

I wish I were a kid again, I'd go to Wheeler's Park.

I really could enjoy myself, from morning until dark.

I never knew there was a place so cozy and so cool.

It's just the spot for kiddies, these hot days, when there's no school.

I never knew that grown ups too, could get out and enjoy the cooling breeze among the trees beneath the skys of blue.

So take the bunch, and bring a lunch, to Wheeler's Park some day.

Make life worthwhile, just show a smile and make the family gay.

I'd better stop and read these lines and see if I've succeeded.

Say not so bad, and am I glad I believe its what I needed.

So don't forget that kiddies day is 11th of July.

Lot of prizes, and surprises, nothing there to buy.

So wear old clothes, and say, who knows, you too may win a prize.

Games of fun, for everyone, more than you realize.

At Wheeler's Park from 2 till 8: Refreshments will be free. Now don't forget, try not be late.

B-C-N-U —U Look 4 me.

Contributors of prizes, refreshments and money for kiddies day at Wheeler's Park that are to be given away by Chosen Friends Lodge, are listed below which is only a partial list:

Taylor's Hardware, Harrington Hardware, The Sport Shop, Jer-read's News Stand, Cahall's Gas Service Co., Collin's Clothing Store, National 5 & 10c Store, Downes Drug Store, Chamberlin's Pharmacy; refreshments were given by: Sam Short's Clover Farm Store, Potter's Grocery Store, Acme Market, Stone's Hotel, K & S Fair Ass'n., Mrs. James Wilson; contributors of money: Harrington Milling Co., Harry Greenberg, Mrs. H. C. Tee, Roland Melvin, Sr.

Others will be listed next week and the lodge is hoping the children up to 15 years of age will take advantage of this day. There will also be free soft drinks and ice tea.

So children remember this is your day, so remind your parents to take you out to Wheeler's Park Wed., July 11, and if that day is stormy, it will be the next Wed., July 18, beginning at 2 o'clock.

FREEDOM

By Samuel A. Short, Jr.
Harrington, Del.

People on this July Four, Seem to be without a doubt; Wishing of life as before. Freedom! Never to be without.

Fortunately for all, At this time of the year Feels, the assurance of immortality Freedom! Democracy every where.

The waves in the ocean, Breaking white with foam. Sea gulls flying in awkward motion, Freedom! Of their own.

Breezes softly blowing, Over Woodland and hill. Echoes, forever flowing, Freedom! Is their will.

Beasts in the forest, All the year around. With their yearly harvest, Freedom! That they've found.

Peace of God is our one hope His word has told us so. Coming from above, Heavens! Desire, Freedom! Always so.

Notes of Local Highway Yard

July 1 marked the beginning of another fiscal year for the department. On this date all conditions at the Harrington Yard were the most desirable.

There are no special jobs in progress but maintenance work goes steadily on.

All employees enjoyed the holiday this week and were ready to resume their usual work the following day.

Memorial Day

In 1888, General John A. Logan ordered that May 30th be set aside each year to decorate the soldiers graves with flowers. Logan was commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Everything is assembly line-mass production these days—with the exception of honesty.

Cleo Craig, a native of Rich Hill, Missouri, has been elected president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Now listen to the dyspeptics shout that Truman is responsible for the Missourian's election.

A man was chased and captured by the police at Cambridge, Maryland, charged with reckless driving. His name—Sir Walter Scott! "Woe worth the chase, woe worth the day!"

Two deaths resulted from a shooting near Orangeburg, South Carolina, Sunday. The trouble started when the desired tune didn't come up on a juke box after a nickle had been deposited. Personally, we believe that any number that comes on a juke box is enough to incite murder.

BASEBALL VS. GOVERNMENT

Will a baseball scout come down to Harrington, or any other place, pick up a promising player and insert him in a big league line-up? It does not happen.

The player is placed in the lowest class of minor leagues. He may not break into the line-up of even that small league for weeks or months. They may keep him on the bench, absorbing knowledge of the game, and play him occasionally. He is kept under strict surveillance and after proper seasoning, he may be able to advance to a higher league the following year. Many players begin in Class D and work their way up to Class A, Double-A or Triple-A, although it may mean hard work for three or four years—and maybe longer. Then some of them are ripe for the majors. Their work has been watched over a period of years and the managers know just what to expect of them. They can depend on them.

Do we exercise the same judgment in the selection of our public officials? We do not. We do not place one in the minor league of public office, such as the lower house of the legislature and then advance him to the upper house if his work is good—and later select him for some higher office.

We yank him off the sand lots and send him to the big leagues. Without any real experience he steps up to the plate with a tooth-pick for a bat. He has never faced a pitcher of this calibre, for he is an amateur. The pitcher is a wise old lobbyist or public pressure creature. He has a dazzling assortment of sweeping curves and hard, high fast ones—and he mixes them up—but, recognizing the limitations of the embryonic batter, most of his offerings are feathery screwballs. Floundering and bewildered, the artless amateur takes three vain and spasmodic swings.

If he should reach base—and he does not unless he is hit in the head, which is his tendon of Achilles—he is caught flat-footed, miles from a lemon and farther from a base.

Do not blame the amateur. Blame the scout who sent him to the majors without minor league training.

OH, MUSIC, WHAT CRIMES ARE COMMITTED IN THY NAME!

A long time ago, when we and the world were young, a young fellow made his appearance in the movies. Sans toupee, and with a stiff-brimmed straw, he "boopee-dooed" and whistled his way into the hearts of the creatures then known as the flappers—no one else gave him much attention. But flappers become bosomy creatures with tremendous equatorial girth, and the idol of their adolescence was forgotten. Then he discarded the "boopee-doop" and the whistling—and began to sing. He sang his way into the heart of the nation—and the world. His name—Bing Crosby.

A commonplace tune and a commonplace lyric, but soothing voice of Bing—and it became a masterpiece. Old, discarded tunes came to life, and the Crosby legerdemain made them sound like Memnon's lute across the years.

He dragged from the forgotten abyss of years gone by a fragment of a whisper and the Swanee River purled along in the moonlight and laved the soughing shores of the land that used-to-be. A slumbering, muddy, dirty, sluggish, filthy river flowed on to immortality as the "Blue Danube," and the mocking birds at Bardstown, Kentucky, sang, like Shelley's larks at heaven's gate in the age-old oaks surrounding Stephen Collins Foster's "My Old Kentucky Home." His lips came back to life and the Blanchard River, ever flowing to the sea to send its waters pulsing round the world, chanted an unforgotten lullaby down by Findlay, Ohio, where rest the mortal remains of Tell Taylor, composer of "Down By The Old Mill Stream."

But—now—Bing has a son. In fact, he has a whole mess of sons, and filial devotion is one of the strongest urges in all the world. Bing has a son named Gary. Gary is a good singer, on his own—then why is it necessary for Bing to combine with Gary in slaughtering such an old-time treasure as "When You and I Were Young, Maggie?" It is sacrilege, and closely akin to blasphemy.

Returning from a sojourn of two months, in which we traveled approximately seven thousand miles, we find that Delaware is the least known of States. Despite the fact that our bureaus had advertised us as from Harrington, Delaware, we were introduced, at our speaking engagements, as from Harrington, Connecticut; Harrington, New Jersey, or Delaware County, Ohio. Isn't it time for Delaware to start a publicity program—on its own?

Mrs. Ernest Homewood Finds Old
Copies of Harrington Journal

The Misses Laurabelle and Catherine Kennerly entertained a number of friends at cards last Tuesday. The younger set spent the afternoon playing "Five Hundred" while those who desired played the fascinating game of "Flinch."

Thus began an article in "Harrington Journal" of Fri., Dec. 13, 1915. The newspaper, with another, was found by Mrs. Ernest Homewood in the attic of her home, formerly occupied by her grandmother, on Commerce Street. The grandmother, Mrs. A. T. Porter, saved many copies of the newspaper, fortunately for posterity.

The article continues: After the guests had finished playing games, they were invited into the beautifully decorated dining room, where a huge "Jack Horner" pie reposed in the center of the dining table. Emerging from the pie were several ribbons, at the end of each ribbon dangled a small ring. The guests pulled these ribbons, with each receiving a favor from the center of the pie appeared two name cards fastened together with a ribbon. On one card was printed Miss Catherine Shalcross Kennerly; on the other Mr. Norman D. Vernon, this being the clever method used to announce the engagement of Miss Kennerly to Mr. Vernon.

After Miss Kennerly received congratulations of the guests, refreshments were served consisting of chicken salad, Maryland biscuit, ice cream and cake, coffee and mints.

The following guests were present: The Misses Caroline Sharp, Ada, May, and Sarah Jones, Elizabeth and Mary McCabe, Lillie and Ethel Reese, Lillian Sapp, Mary Satterfield, Hazel Turner, Annie Quillen, Edith Smith, Mrs. E. W. Dean, Mrs. Harry Murphy, Mrs. Harry Bice, Mrs. J. H. Riggan, Mrs. R. K. Jones, Mrs. John Masten, Mrs. Hix Long, Mrs. Lorenzo Jones, Mrs. W. T. Sharp, Mrs. G. S. Harrington, Mrs. E. B. Harrington, all of Harrington; Miss Rhoda Willey, of Greenwood; Mrs. Hall Riggan, of Rehoboth; and Mrs. J. R. Eggert, of Wilmington.

Miss Kennerly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kennerly and is one of our efficient high school teachers; also very popular in the younger social set.

Mr. Vernon is district supervisor of the Pennsylvania Railroad and originally from Coatesville, Pa., succeeding T. M. Woodward two years ago at this place. Since he has been located at the Harrington office he has not only helped in several progressive movements of Harrington, but it is through his untiring efforts that the many improvements and beautifying of the Harrington depot and grounds have been made. The Journal extends congratulations to both Miss Kennerly and Mr. Vernon.

Happenings of Yester year

Twenty Years Ago

The new banking house of the Peoples Bank of Harrington shows the modern trend of architecture, using, as it does, traditional fundamental principles of design expressed in the free spirit evident in the newer metropolitan financial buildings. The building was designed, erected, decorated and furnished by the Tilghman Moyer Company, of Allentown, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hall and son, Maurice, went to Gettysburg, Pa., Sunday returning with the Misses Ethel Hall, Catherine Rash and Doris Harrington, who have been spending two weeks at the Pine Grove Girl Scouts Camp.

Miss Helen Douglas, who has been spending some time in Colorado and California, is the guest of the Misses Anna and Laura Fleming.

H. C. Miller has purchased the Lina M. Harrington home on Weiner Avenue and will have it remodeled.

Charles Murphy is attending a boys' camp in the Pocono Mountains, Pa.

Miss Grace Souders, Miss Betty Wright and Miss Oda Baker left Thursday for New York, where they will attend the Columbia University Summer School.

J. O. McWilliams, teacher of agriculture in the Harrington High School, was married Wednesday in the St. John's Lutheran Church, Baltimore, to Miss Elizabeth Kirkwood, of Baltimore.

Elijah Townsend, colored, of Harrington, was drowned Sunday in Killen's Pond. The boat in which Townsend was riding was overturned and he was unable to swim.

Nicky Harriet is attending Camp Ontonka, near Dagsboro.

Jonathan Hopkins has accepted a position with the Peoples Bank.

A credit to the town.

I wish I were a kid again, I'd go to Wheeler's Park.

I really could enjoy myself, from morning until dark.

I never knew there was a place so cozy and so cool.

It's just the spot for kiddies, these hot days, when there's no school.

I never knew that grown ups too, could get out and enjoy the cooling breeze among the trees beneath the skys of blue.

So take the bunch, and bring a lunch, to Wheeler's Park some day.

Make life worthwhile, just show a smile and make the family gay.

I'd better stop and read these lines and see if I've succeeded.

Say not so bad, and am I glad I believe its what I needed.

So don't forget that kiddies day is 11th of July.

Lot of prizes, and surprises, nothing there to buy.

So wear old clothes, and say, who knows, you too may win a prize.

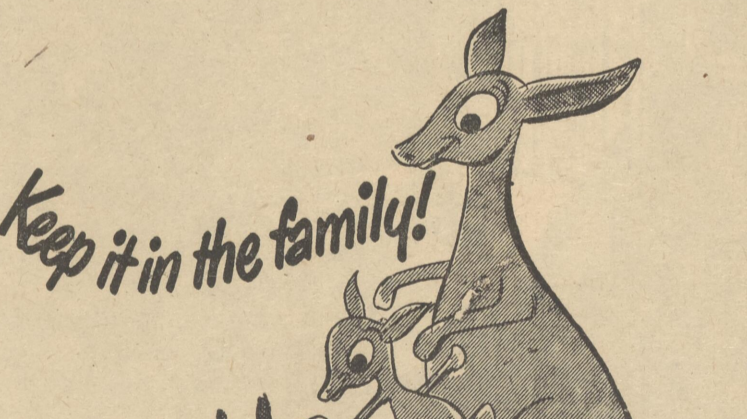

Games of fun, for everyone, more than you realize.

At Wheeler's Park from 2 till 8: Refreshments will be free. Now don't forget, try not be late.

B-C-N-U —U Look 4 me.

Contributors of prizes, refreshments and money for kiddies day at Wheeler's Park that are to be given away by Chosen Friends Lodge, are listed below which is only a partial list:

Taylor's Hardware, Harrington Hardware, The Sport Shop, Jer-read's News Stand, Cahall's Gas Service Co., Collin's Clothing Store, National 5 & 10c Store, Downes Drug Store, Chamberlin's Pharmacy; refreshments were given by: Sam Short's Clover Farm Store, Potter's Grocery Store, Acme Market, Stone's Hotel, K & S Fair Ass'n., Mrs. James Wilson; contributors of money: Harrington Milling Co., Harry Greenberg, Mrs. H. Thomas Wyatt Building For the Future

Thomas Wyatt, of Denton, realizes the benefits of a modern loafing shed, says Pet Dairy Chats.

Mr. Wyatt is building the shed 24x50 feet with a loft overhead. The foundation is of concrete blocks, and is 7 feet high. He plans to have hay racks down the whole back wall, with a drinking trough on one side. This shed will house 18 head of cattle.

Enos Yoder Uses His Ingenuity

When Enos Yoder, of Dover, stopped raising broilers, he wanted to use his broiler house for a hog house. But this presented a problem. The broiler house was on one side of the pound and the hog lot, on the other. The problem was how to get the hogs from the building to the lot without having them in the courtyard. With typical Amish ingenuity, Mr. Yoder solved the problem in an unusual way.

After considerable thought, he conceived the idea of constructing a bridge over the top of the pound for the hogs to travel on. The center part of the bridge is about eight feet in height and at each end sloping ramps are provided.

During the construction his neighbors laughed at him and said it would never work. But he was determined to finish it and find out for himself. When it was finished and the hogs turned out for the first time, all except three went right over. After these three were driven over the bridge several times, they also were not afraid of it.

"This bridge was inexpensive," says Mr. Yoder, "and it is really successful. Sows, little pigs, and all, go right over it."

Mr. Yoder ships milk to the Greensboro plant on the route that is operated by T. T. Warren and his son, Hollis.

Delaware Jersey Breeders to Unite

The Jersey cattle breeders of Delaware and the eastern shore of Maryland plan to organize into a breed association Thurs., July 12.

The organizational meeting will be a twilight meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Thomas, according to Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman at the University of Delaware. All Jersey breeders are invited to come.

Activities start at 7:30 p. m. There will be a Jersey judging contest, a business meeting, a get acquainted period, and refreshments.

The judging classes will be 2-year-old cows and young heifers, selected from the Thomas herd. "Most of the cows and heifers are daughters of the sires in the artificial breeding program," said Young.

Safeguard Metal Against Rust
Repainting iron railings, foot scrapers, steel window casements and other architectural hardware is not difficult. All old loose, scaly paint should first be scraped or wire-brushed. The surface should then be coated with red lead, zinc yellow, blue lead, oxide of iron or zinc dust-zinc oxide. After this has been allowed to dry thoroughly for a week or ten days, it should be covered with two coats of house paint or exterior enamel.

Ancient Rice
Rice has been cultivated from time immemorial in tropical countries. According to one authority, the cultivated rice, in all its numerous varieties, originated from a wild plant which is indigenous to certain areas in India and also is native in tropical Australia.

Power of Senate
The Senate has the power to review and reject Presidential appointments of diplomatic, judicial, and certain other officers of the Government, as well as the power to approve or reject treaties with foreign governments.

New Undersea Valley
A new submarine valley, possibly caused by an earthquake, has appeared off the coast of Southern California, it was reported by Dr. Francis P. Shepard, professor of submarine geology at the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Short Course Delegates Report

4-H fair tickets to the Kent and Sussex Fair will again be sold by the members of the Harrington Sunshine 4-H Club.

The monthly meeting of the Harrington Sunshine 4-H Club was held at the home of Bertha Belle and Donald Jarrell Thurs., June 23. The president, Billy Vanderwende, presided over the business meeting. Each member contributed 10¢ to the National 4-H Foundation to help in the ownership and operation of the National 4-H Club Center. Reports were given by the delegates to the 4-H Short Course. Joyce and Martha Gruwell, Ralph Carpenter, and Lewis Wilson, which was held at the University of Delaware.

The next meeting will be held Thurs., July 19, at the home of Martha and Joyce Gruwell.

Isaacs Knows How to Get the Most Corn

T. H. Isaacs, who lives on U. S. 13 two miles north of Seaford, is raising corn the modern way and is profiting thereby. Last year he got 100 bushels to the acre and that ain't hay. He doesn't believe in being overly optimistic and when asked what he would get this year, he said 75 bushels.

The Isaacs method of corn production, practiced somewhat in the Corn Belt since before the war, is to drill hybrid seed corn in 36-inch rows. He spreads 250 pounds of 2-8-10 fertilizer per acre when he plants the corn, and broadcasts 500 pounds and plows it under "when I have the money."

The Seaford farmer, seen at the sale, said he fed some of the corn and sold some. He is trying out three or four different hybrids on his 55 or 60 acres of heavy corn land. He says corn and tomatoes are looking good in his section.

Wheat Fertilizer

Topdressing wheat with 60 to 120 pounds per acre of ammonium nitrate frequently produces yield increases of 10, or more, bushels per acre in central and eastern Kansas where soils have been badly depleted in fertility. In the event that ammonium nitrate is unobtainable, 90 to 180 pounds per acre of ammonium sulfate may be substituted.

Chicken Changes

Crossbred chickens are increasing in popularity in Kansas. More than one-third of the hatchery flocks in the state are mated to produce crossbred or hybrid chicks. New Hampshires are the most popular among purebred flocks.

Manure Spreader Saves Work

Ralph Steward, Cordova, Md., believes in the easiest and most efficient manner of doing things. Six years ago he constructed a fine, new barn and wanted it equipped with modern conveniences. Two years later he installed a manure carrier and track himself for $77. "It saves my back," Ralph remarked. "My daughter, Eileen, can even clean the stable while I milk," says Pet Dairy Chats.

After the carrier is filled with manure, it is then loaded directly on to the manure spreader. More fertility is thus realized from the manure, the sooner it is applied to the ground. (An average ton of mixed farm manure contains about 10 pounds of nitrogen, two pounds of phosphorus, and 10 pounds of potassium, plus a large amount of organic matter.) When manure is piled in the pound, much plant food is lost as the liquids drain and leach away. Also, cows do not have to trample through it to and from the stable.

Horses and Mules Interest Clark

Jack Carter, of Harrington, has been dealing in horses and mules at his farm near town for 17 years, he divulged at Rudnick's Sale in Dover Friday. It was his opinion that the ferry strike at Cape Charles had curtailed the supplies at the Dover sales this week.

When asked about the demand for horses and mules in this tractor age, Clark said it was better last winter than the spring of 1950, and the past spring.

He sells mostly to farms and sawmills. "There are 50 places that need a horse or mule for odd jobs," said Clark. He added that he had sold three mules and two horses to Roland West, for a sawmill near Georgetown, and 2 mules and two horses to Murphy & Hoey, of Milford.

Buchanan Likes Cattle Operations

E. W. Buchanan, who operates Firestone stores in Dover and Milford, believes there are lots of possibilities in raising beef cattle in Delaware.

Right now he has 49 steers, mostly Angus and Whitefaces, which originated in the West and which are running on about 60 acres of ladino clover and orchard grass near Moore's Lake, near Dover. The steers weigh about 850 pounds and will be marketed in the fall after the grass is gone.

Buchanan once had a small herd of purebred Angus but he figured it was too small for efficient operation, and when he received a good offer for the cattle, he sold them. The Dove, however, is still interested in the purebred industry.

Photograph The Stars

Present-day astronomers don't study the stars by looking through their telescopes. Instead, they use the powerful and intricate telescopes of modern invention to take time-exposure photographs. Thus they obtain records of celestial bodies too faint for the human eye to detect.

FARM NEWS AND REVIEW

A Pastoral Scene at the Goggin Farm

Henry Goggin, of Camden, is one of the Kent County farmers who are finding additional revenue in raising sheep. Goggin tried out some West Virginia feeder lambs in the summer of 1949 and did so well with them he has been interested in sheep ever since.

In April, May, and June of last year, Goggin bought 24 cross-bred yearling ewes locally, with part of them coming from Rudnick's sale at Dover. He bred them to a registered Dorset ram, purchased from Rutgers University, and now has 29 lambs. Two-thirds of the crop were ewes, the best of which will be saved for breeding. The buck lambs have been docked and castrated and will be sold for slaughter.

Goggin also has 25 Dorset

Merino ewes, bought in New Jersey last October. This is a fine wool-mutton cross. These will start of lamb the last week in September and should be ready for marketing in January and February. This is earlier than the usual crop of spring lambs, the big run of which usually starts in May.

Because Dorset ewes will breed at most seasons, in contrast to other breeds which usually breed in cool weather, Goggin thinks he may try to produce the special hot-house, or Easter, lamb. These lambs usually weigh from 50 to 60 pounds and sell at a premium price for the Easter market.

All ewes and the ram were shorn in early May, with a yield of 479 pounds of wool. This wool is sold at the Centreville Wool Pool. While no return has been secured, Goggin is certain it will be at least $1 per pound.

The Goggin sheep and lambs have a variety of pasture. They run on orchard grass and Ladino, Balbo rye and vetch, orchard grass and alfalfa, and vetch alone. Mrs. Goggin, who is well-versed on sheep raising, said: "We have used vetch very successfully."

The Goggin's have planted orchard grass and white blossom sweet clover in an orchard. This will be used for pasture when the orchard is fenced.

In the winter the sheep get alfalfa hay, with a small grain ration beginning about six weeks before lambing. The ram gets a small grain ration most of the year.

Talbert Appointed State Drainage Engineer

Elmer H. Talbert, former district conservationist for the Sussex County Soil Conservation District has been appointed state drainage engineer, July 1. The announcement was made by George L. Schuster, chairman of the Delaware Soil Conservation Commission, and George M. Worrlow, director of the University of Delaware agricultural extension service, representing the groups which jointly employ Talbert.

The new post was created in the drainage law which was signed June 1, increasing the services of the state soil conservation commission.

Talbert will have the responsibility for assisting soil conservation districts with the formation of legal tax ditches. He will work with the agricultural extension service on an educational program in connection with cooperative drainage efforts. He'll also help tax ditches begin operation, and assist with their maintenance.

A native of Washington, D. C., Talbert received a degree in mechanical engineering from Lehigh University in 1928. He was in the excavating and contracting business of several years, and has been with the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service since 1937. He has worked with problems in Delaware drainage since 1944. He has served in various capacities as conservation engineer in Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, and New York.

Talbert's headquarters will be in the Sussex County agricultural extension service office, Post Office Building, Georgetown.

Fair Plans Special Showing Of Angus Breeding Cattle

A special showing of registered Aberdeen Angus breeding classes will be a feature in the beef cattle department at the 32nd annual Kent & Sussex County Fair which takes place here July 24-28, inclusive.

Kenneth Linton, Highland Farm, Round Hill, Va., nationally known breeder and judge, will do the judging. Manager of the showing of Angus cattle will be James B. Lingle, of Queenstown, Md.

An award of $15 first prize and $10 second prize will be given to the exhibitors who are judged to have kept the cleanest and most orderly exhibit during the week.

In the breeding classes awards will be made in the following divisions: 2-year-old bulls, senior yearling bull, junior yearling bull, summer yearling bull (calved between May 1 and Aug. 31, 1950), senior bull calf (calved between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31, 1950), grand champion bull, reserve champion bull.

Three bulls from above classes, owned by exhibitor; two bulls from above classes, 2-year-old heifers, senior yearling heifer, junior yearling heifer, summer yearling heifer, senior heifer calf, grand champion female, reserve champion female, pair females, pair yearlings, pair calves, produce of dam.

The grand champion bull and female will compete for the Eastern Shore Challenge Trophy.

The American Aberdeen Angus Association will award $10 and a ribbon to the champion FFA or 4-H club steer. All steer classes are open to FFA and 4-H club members and to breeders except the class pertaining to steers from the 1950 Harrington Calf Scramble.

The steer classes are: Junior yearling steer, summer yearling steer, group of three steers, (one group from any 4-H or FFA chapter), the grand champion steer, and steers from the 1950 calf scramble here.

Book and Carter Buy Cattle and Hogs

B. F. Book, of Dover, a visitor at Rudnick's Sale at Dover Friday, is in the livestock business with Med Carter who has a farm near Moore's Lake.

Beef and dairy cattle and hogs are purchased here and there and grazed and fed on the farm of 113 acres. Mr. Book, a member of the Dover City Council, quipped, "We buy anything with fur and four legs."

Maryland Woman Raises Sheep

Mrs. R. Evans, who lives on the old Bell place near Berlin, Md., "has been around sheep all my life." Friday she had in five blocky fall-clipped lambs, grading good to choice, that sold at the pleasing price of 32c per pound at the Rudnick sale. The term "fall-clipped" does not necessarily mean they were clipped in the fall, but that the wool was short, since they had been clipped May 1. They averaged 10 pounds of wool.

Mrs. Evans had a Hampshire

buck last year but sold him and bought another. She says she may change him, since he is too leggy. Hampshires are rather rangy and Mrs. Evans would like a blocky ram for her ewes, which are also blocky. She has about 25 sheep and lambs on her farm. She bought some Arizona yearling ewes at Easton last year and is keeping the ewe lambs from them.

Something New Is To Be Added To Downstate Crops—A Sniff of Gas

Your crops need something to pick them up? How about a sniffer of gas?

Sounds strange, but fertilizer in gas form is exactly what a new company at Delmar, on the Delaware-Maryland line, is now preparing to offer Delmarva farmers.

The gas is anhydrous ammonia, which, from a small experiment beginning in 1944, has in the last few years been applied with remarkable success to several millions acres of American farmland, mostly in the South and on the Pacific Coast.

Up to now, anhydrous ammonia (frequently known as NH-3) has not been available hereabouts. It is being introduced to the Peninsula by the Suburban Farm Service Co., a newly formed subsidiary of Suburban Propane Gas. Suburban Farm Service has invested approximately a quarter of a million dollars in its Delmar plant.

So far, the company has done only two or three commercial (as opposed to experimental) fertilizing jobs. But any day now, it hopes to be ready to swing into full gear.

The gas will not be manufactured at Delmar. It will be shipped there by rail from several supply points and stored in a big battery of 30,000-gallon tanks. It will then be delivered to farmers in 500-gallon tanks which, by means of special cradles, can easily be pulled along behind a tractor.

When delivered to the farm, the gas is compressed to such a degree that it is in liquid form.

But when it is released into the soil, via a nozzle installed in a knife-like cultivator attachment, it becomes a gas which penetrates soil particles for a distance of about eight inches in every direction.

The depth at which the gas is released depends, of course, on the type of crop, the condition of the soil and other factors. With the equipment now being used, the release depth can be varied anywhere from two to eleven inches. In no case is there any appreciable escape of fumes through the soil surface.

What are the advantages of this type of fertilizer? For one thing, anhydrous ammonia contains 82.5 per cent pure nitrogen, a far larger nitrogen content than any dry fertilizer. And Suburban claims that, under relatively dry conditions in which ordinary fertilizers are slow to make their nitrogen available, gas fertilizer acts quickly, needing only a very small quantity of moisture to dissolve.

How about cost? This naturally depends in part on the quantity of gas used. But Suburban believes it can successfully compete with dry fertilizers on a price basis. In fact, Southern users have found that the cost of gas averages only about $7 an acre.

To start with, Suburban is prepared to offer its fertilizer on a custom-application basis. But, once farmers are sold on the idea, it hopes also to sell them the equipment needed to put the idea to use.

4-H Youths Initiated Into Links

Eleven 4-H boys and girls with outstanding achievement records, were initiated into the Links in the 4-H Chain of Delaware at the annual 4-H short course.

Four are selected from each county annually. They are chosen to represent the four H's—head, heart, hands, and health.

The boys and girls are:

New Castle County: Head, James Touhey, Yorklyn; heart, Alice Jarrell, Middletown; hands, Raymond Lamborn, Newark; health, Bernadine Patterson, Marshallton.

Kent County: Head, Ivan Smith, Clayton; hands, Virginia Metz, Dover; heart, Gene Short, Smyrna.

Sussex County: Head, Mrs. Mildred Williams, Seaford; heart, Norma Jane Adams, Greenwood; hands, Winifred Calloway, Greenwood; health, Martin Johnson, Laurel.

FOR SALE

Just arrived—over 300 head of good choice Beef Calves, Hereford and Angus, weighing from 300 to 500 pounds, that are just right to put on pasture and grow into money. These cattle are the kind that will make money for anyone that has grass to put them on.

I will contract to buy them back in the fall for a good profit as I think cattle will be higher at that time.

Also have some good cattle that will weigh from 500 to 600 pounds.

All of these cattle are priced reasonable. I have sold over 3000 of these kind of cattle since January 1st.

THERE MUST BE A REASON!

Milton continued to pace the Mar-Del Circuit over the past weekend although their 8 to 3 victory over Hickman was protested and a decision is to be rendered this week. Wyoming blasted out a 15 to 2 victory over Frederica to stay in a deadlock with Clayton for the runner-up berth. Clayton had previously triumphed over Millsboro in a mid-week end light contest on the latter's diamond 3 to 1.

All teams were booked for action July 4 while two games are booked for this Sunday as the second half of the season gets underway. Milton will make their final trip to Frederica while Clayton will be host to Wyoming. Milton and Clayton triumphed in their initial meetings with this Sunday's rivals. Hickman and Millsboro will be idle Sunday but will clash Wednesday evening as they tangle at the Millsboro Park at 8:30. Millsboro will play most of their remaining home games as Wednesday night are light contests.

Milton rallied for 5 runs in the 5th in their contest Sunday at Hickman to build up a 7 to 0 lead. Going into the last of the 9th with two away a Hickman runner stole home. In a rubarub after the play Milton's pilot, Jesse Millman, was ejected from the game which made it impossible for the leaders to put nine players on the field to finish the game. They had previously substituted their only extra man. Due to their inability to field nine men, Manager Cannon, Hickman leader, protested the game from that point on. Barrett went the distance for the leaders and fanned 12 men. Bill Newman worked the first five frames for Hickman and gave up 7 runs before retiring in favor of Bill Howlett, who gave up one run in the last four innings. Jim Reed lazed two singles while Gil Darby and Jess Millman had doubles for the victors. Manager Cannon and Bill Howlett had doubles and singles for Hickman with Bill Newman also hitting for two bases.

Wyoming rapped three Frederica pitchers for 16 hits including seven for extra bases. Harold Bennett had a double and triple, Gene Zartman tripled with Berry, Cox, Hopkins, and Rodriguez doubling. Bill Rash and Pitcher Bill Millman also had plenty of action at the plate with three singles each. Jerry Semans, Alvin Brown, Del Brown and Jack Moore accounted for the four Frederica safeties. Roy Kemp started for Frederica followed by Jack Moore and Alvin Brown. Kemp came back in the 7th to finish up. Bill Millman worked the first seven frames for the winners with the veteran Freddie Clemence working the last two with no difficulty.

Clayton dropped Millsboro in a well played night game last week 3 to 1 as Bob Knight bested Millsboro's Freddie Atkins in a tight pitchers battle from the start. Clayton pushed over two runs in the 5th and Knight homered for the final tally in the 7th. Both teams sparkled in the field as they came up with one of the season's best contests. Hickman has announced that Bill Howlett, Bill Lloyd, Johnny Mundt and Calvin Lane would represent their club in the league all-star game that is to be played at the Milford Ball Park Thursday evening, July 19. Other teams are expected to name their selections this weekend.

number of major stakes and had established a new all-time money-winning record for a harness racing stable. The Hayes Stable apparently is well fortified in the juvenile classes again this season. Two high-priced yearlings, the $26,500 Voting Trust, and the $17,500 Theme Song made their debuts last week and each was a good second in a pair of 2-year-old events. Voting Trust is a pacer, Theme Song a trotter.

Hoof Beats

William H. Cane, Hambletonian impressario, may be running out of "time" in naming the fleet sons and daughters of his great brood mare, On Time by Volomite. He's already employed four "times" classifications with more still needed.

On Time's first foal was a little colt that Cane called Good Time after the Goshen, N. Y., home of The Hambletonian, Good Time Park. Good Time went on to become the sport's leading money-winning pacer and is one of the fastest, if not the fastest, horse in training today.

The mare's next foal was a filly and Cane named her Our Time. She won almost every major stake at two but had an off year as a 3-year-old last season.

The Volomite mare failed to foal in 1948 but produced a filly the following year and Cane promptly labelled her My Time. It appears as though she'll fit comfortably into the family speed picture because last week she won the $14,000 Abbedale Stake in 2:09.3.

On Time's foal of 1950, now a yearling and not due to arrive at the races until next season, has been named Your Time. In addition, there's still another filly, a foal of 1951, which hasn't been named as yet. All of On Time's get were sired by Leo C. McNamara's great pacer stallion Hal Dale.

Imperial Hanover, who brought a record $72,000 when he was sold as a yearling in 1949, got his name in the harness racing record books last week. The 3-year-old son of Spencer Scott turned in a 2:03.2 mile for trainer Tommy Berry in a time trial at Lexington, Ky. Imperial Hanover, owned by the M & W Stable, Hollins, Va., has started but once in his brief career.

Ford Hanover, the colt that knocked off the Hambletonian eligibles in 2:04.3 at Roosevelt Raceway last week, isn't eligible to The Hambletonian. Owner Bill Strang, of Brooklyn, who has won the Blue Ribbon classic didn't make the necessary payments on the son of His Excellency. The Johnny Simpson-trained youngster is, however, eligible to the $60,000 Kentucky Futurity to be raced at Lexington, Ky., in October.

When the Hayes Fair Acres Stable's new driver, Benny Schue, reported for work on Friday the 13th, owners W. H. and E. J. Hayes didn't mind a bit. The number proved lucky for the Hayes interests last season.

The DuQuoin, Ill., stable sent 13 horses to the races in 1950. The first victory was scored on June 13 and Lusty Song, the Hayes' Hambletonian hopeful, drew post position 13 in that race which he won in straight heats.

When the totals were checked at the end of the campaign, the Hayes horses had knocked off a

Magnolia

The Magnolia Sunday School held its annual picnic at Wheeler's Park, near Harrington, and everyone expressed themselves as having a wonderful time. There were cold drinks served during the afternoon and following a picnic supper ice cream and cake were served and later there was a hot dog roast. Games were played such as soft ball, peanut hunt, bubble blowing contest, and a number of others which were participated in with much enthusiasm. A man as public spirited as William Wheeler deserves to be commended for having, and supporting, such a place for the benefit and pleasure of anyone desiring to picnic there. Our hats are off to you Mr. Wheeler, of the Wheeler Electric Shop in Harrington.

Wayne Calloway is spending a week with his grandmother, Mrs. V. H. Stadley, in Easton, Md. Mrs. Lida Lindale has been a patient at the Kent General Hospital for the past week undergoing treatment and observation. Mrs. Lester Johnson is moving her family to the Cahal property, in Felton, this week. Mrs. Johnson has been living for the past nine months in the Shipley home and it is with regret that her neighbors see her leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan F. Sweeney and daughter, Carol Ann, of Norwood, Pa., spent the weekend with Fred Niemeyers at "Our Acres." Mrs. Cora Wright and Mrs. Bessie Wright were luncheon guests of Mrs. Beulah Wright Friday.

Nancy Hart has been spending several days with Connie Parvis and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Parvis, in Houston. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hart and Wayne were dinner guests of the Parvis family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Austin arrived from their former home in St. Petersburg, Fla., Tuesday to make their home temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. Walter McDonald until they can secure living accommodations elsewhere. Thursday Abram Gottwals visited his sons, Harry and George, at the McDonald home where they are spending the summer. Mr. Gottwals was enroute to his home in Upper Marlboro, Md., from the Lions Convention held in Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Butler and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pippin and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stevens and children spent Sunday at Tolchester. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thomas called on Mrs. James C. Hardisty and son, Carlton, and Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Carpenter last Sunday afternoon.

One Year in Business and His Books Show a Profit Smart business man? Well, not much smarter than most folks—with this exception. Before he launched that business of his, he made sure that he had enough funds to cover the cost of operation for a reasonable period of time. And where did the money come from? Much of it came from careful savings... REGULAR savings. The balance came from our bank, in the form of a business loan. We're as proud of his progress as he is, because we were allowed to help. And we can help you, too. Come in today!

Mrs. Katherine McCubbins, 4463 Louisville Ave. Louisville, Ky., says she feels terribly sorry and wants to extend lots of sympathy to thousands of folks all over the country bothered with vague aches and pains due to a deficiency of Vitamins B, B1, Niacin and Iron. Mrs. McCubbins says she knows how they feel because it wasn't too long ago that Mrs. McCubbins was just beside herself in knowing what to do about such misery.

Read what Mrs. McCubbins says HADACOL is doing for conditions which may have been caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B, B1, Niacin and Iron. 'My nerves were so bad the least little thing would completely upset me. I was very thin too. -my husband says I was a walking shadow. I was just beside myself in knowing what to do. Then one day a neighbor friend of mine heard how other folks were being helped by HADACOL -she insisted I try it. I started taking HADACOL. Now I feel wonderful for the first time in years and years. I sleep all night long; I eat everything I want and never have a bad effect I've gained weight - folks are amazed at the change in me. HADACOL is very wonderful -I just can't praise HADACOL enough.'

Stop Feeling Bad... do as thousands of others are doing - take HADACOL. Yes, thousands are benefiting from HADACOL whose systems are deficient in Vitamins B, B1, Iron and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content in your blood (when iron is needed) - carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals throughout your system - yes, to every body organ. Give remarkable HADACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take - you get your money back. Only $1.19 for Trial Size; Large Family or economy Size, $3.89. There is only one true and genuine HADACOL. Chamberlin Pharmacy Phone 451 Harrington

Judge William Marion Stevenson, who was appointed to the judgeship of the Kent and Sussex Juvenile Court Saturday by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, is receiving hundreds of personal congratulations and good wishes from within and without the state; however, the judge will have none more sincere than those from the town folk, who have not alone know a special pride but have throughout the past years appreciated his many fine qualities.

A recent news item in the "Del City Leader," Del City, Okla., carried a picture showing the new city officials being sworn in by District Judge Albert C. Hunt, when Oliver Grier Melvin became city clerk.

The item said in part: "Mr.

and Mrs. Melvin are pioneers in Del City being the first family to occupy their home on Del Road at which time there was neither gas nor electric service. Both are taking an active interest in the Methodist Church, Mr. Melvin being the treasurer, Mrs. Melvin is past matron, Westwood Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

"Melvin (formerly of Frederica) is on the education committee of the Lions Club. He is a graduate of Blackwood-Davis' Business College in higher accounting and is a public accountant, bookkeeper, income tax counselor, and notary public."

Then on to Fort Erie and the Peace Bridge into Buffalo.

Couldn't pass up the spaghetti place, so we ended up there.

We tried to show Ben a real good time and guess he enjoyed it all. Because we all called it a day very early and off to bed.

You could really tell the honeymooners at Niagara Falls. And there were plenty. So much for young love.

Now for a little track news. Projectile won the $5000 trot at the raceway Saturday night. A crowd of 6664 watched this Montreal horse win. The handle for the evening was $206,365.

By the way Ben Wilson hit the long shot Saturday night for two bucks. S. S. M. returned $30.10 for $2.

I could never be that lucky. Well here is the best yet. I cut up my first chicken and believe it or not I had enough parts to serve all Harrington.

Dave said, "Pat, where did you get so many pieces?"

The old saying is, you never get too old to try. I did. Ellis and Betty Myer, ok and all Ellis' crew. Horses doing all right. Was over to Betty's trailer, gone again.

Dave just tells me we may end up in Saratoga Springs. Gosh I love it over there. I'd like to race down there if races went on till Nov. 1 like they do up here.

I see where Majestic Miss races this week. If she does as good as last week for Mr. Goslin, she will win again in 2:09.2.

Symbol Louis, poor old fellow, when he can get in, does all right. There's a horse, 17 years old and going strong.

Carl took him out to jog and what does he do. Puts his tail over his back and takes off. Pretty good ole hoss.

Happened to be listening to the "Meeting With Keaton" program the other morning. When I heard Bill say he had a friend that lived in Bridgeville, but his home was in Harrington.

And the slogan was repeated "If you lived here you would be home now." I didn't like their talk about Delaware. So I'm going to call in and ask, "What's wrong with Delaware?" So if I get heck, I'll have the pleasure of letting them know someone was listening.

To close this I want to thank Cliff Miller, president of the Rotary Club, for such a nice letter.

I'd love to attend some of those dinners and meetings just to see what goes on behind the lines.

So long till next week.

SHORT STORY

Secrets Are Bad

By Richard H. Wilkinson

NO ONE caught on to my secret but Sheila. Sheila was smart. Pretty, too. She had smoky gray eyes and titian hair and pure white skin.

We met at a winter sports house-party up in New Hampshire, and the next Monday, back in Boston.

I took her to lunch. "I've got some friends I'd like to have you only inspiring people. I've ever known. And I'm all for letting them stay that way. From now on, count me out."

I shrugged. "Oh, Jim, stop pretending. You're in love with Bette. You've been in love with her for so many years you've lost count. You kept bringing pretty girls up there, hoping he'd fall for one of them, hoping she'd break up their match. Then you'd have a chance with Bette."

"Stop!" I yelled. "You're crazy!" "No I'm not. I'm quite sane. What kills me is that neither Gill nor Bette have caught on." She stopped and bit her lip. "Well, it's none of my affair, but I'll tell you this, Jim: Those two are about the only inspiring people I've ever known. And I'm all for letting them stay that way. From now on, count me out."

I shrugged. "O.K. You're out. There are two dozen others out with you. But you're the first who's guessed the reason." I sighed. "I guess I'd better quit. Gill and Bette think if I married you I'd be getting a prize. I'm beginning to agree with them. Will you marry me?"

"No," said Sheila. "Which is what a chap gets for having a secret like mine."

3-Minute Fiction

Night Bloomers
Is there a flower which blooms only at night? There are a number of flowers which do this. Most of them are strongly scented, sometimes almost overpowering in sweetness, and they are generally white or pale yellow. They are pollinated by various kinds of moths. Some of the more common of these plants are the "Night-blooming Cereus" (the common name for several species of cactus), the Moonflower, several species of Evening Primrose, and the Angel's Trumpet.

Plant Peas on New Land
One of the difficulties that we have run into in growing peas is the fact that a root disease known as "foot rot" attacks them, and soon becomes established in the soil. This means that you should plant peas on new land each year, land that hasn't grown any peas for some time.

Old Fashion Note
Robes made of penguin skins were popular in Mayan Society in Mexico, about 100 B.C. The people of this great ancient civilization are also described as wearing "garments of wonderfully soft and fine cotton cloth with brilliantly colored geometric designs."

"I like them," Sheila said. "They're married and they seem happy."

"They are happy. They've been married six years and they're happier than when they started. I've known 'em both since high school."

Well, during the six months that followed I saw a lot of Sheila, and together we saw a lot of Gill and Bette. One night I went up there without her, and you'd think those two had been waiting for an opportunity to get me alone.

"Say, listen," Gill said, "you're getting old. I mean, here we've been married six years and you're not even in love."

"How would you know about that?" I grinned at him.

"I know it!" Bette cried delightedly. "It's Sheila! He's in love with Sheila! Oh, Jim, we think that's grand! She'll make you a wonderful wife!"

"Sheila's all right. Good company. So are the dozen other girls I've been bringing up here."

Gill shrugged. "O.K., Jim. We've been hoping you'd fall for one of them, because you're missing something—not being married."

TWO nights after that I saw Sheila. We went to an in-town hotel to dinner and dance. Around 10 o'clock I suggested we leave and run out to Gill's and Bette's. But Sheila shook her head, and I looked at her in some surprise.

"They're nice people," she said. "I like them, but I'm a little tired of being an excuse."

"Excuse?"

"I've heard about the other girls. They were all excuses, but I'll bet they didn't know it."

"Now, wait a minute," I said. "What is this?"

"Call it a game, if you like." She looked at me steadily. "Jim, you'd better give up. Gill happens to love

"I knew it," Bette cried delightedly. "It's Sheila! He's in love with Sheila!"

Marvels

The farmers corn fields are looking good after the yellowness disappeared from it. William Simpson has the best standing corn field in this area.

Farmers are combining in this area. They report a very good turnout of their crops.

Field beans are getting underway now if the cut worms or weeds don't drown them out.

The asparagus season is now over. William Taylor is the only one that grows asparagus around here for market. I guess he done good this year like all other years.

Blackberries are getting ripe now. I guess the housewives will be canning and freezing them for winter use.
