Railroad News

Superintendent M. H. Lingenfelter and his staff were guests of Governor Carvel at the fair yesterday.

Division Engineer Kirk Wenden is general chairman of committees for the annual Delmarva division picnic to be held Saturday, Aug. 25, on the dock at Cape Charles as in the past.

The heat of the past week has been so intense that a number of employees were on the verge of "taking the count" and had to seek shelter.

It has always been understood that the temperature is at least 8 to 10 degrees hotter on the road than off to the side, due to the hot rails, ties and open ballast, etc.

With this in mind the Chief Medical Examiner Dr. A. M. W. Hursh, has issued the following hot weather suggestions:

1. Dress: Clothing should be of lightest texture possible and the quantity reduced to a minimum.

2. Diet: Avoid over-eating. It is not wise to use cold foods exclusively or iced drinks; cool water and other drinks should be used, but not in excess, especially at one time.

3. Use of salt: (a) In extremely hot weather use more salt than usual with your meals.

(b) Before starting out on the day's work take 1/2 level teaspoonful of common salt in a glass of water, or one-third level teaspoonful of salt in a glass of water three times a day while working, or take 10 grain salt tablet with a glass of water three times a day.

When a person is showing the effects of heat he should be removed to a shady place in the open. If the skin is cold and clammy he should be covered and made warm.

If the skin is hot and dry he should have ice or cold packs on his head and other parts of his body and a physician called immediately.

Speaking of hot railroad, have you noticed the increased freight movement the past six weeks?

July records show over 1000 more cars handled in first three weeks than entire month of last year.

We are all glad to hear of the wonderful progress Ted Angus is making in his fight for recovery at the Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center at Fishersville, Va.

Let's drop him a line at this point. He is in Section B19, Room 12. Ted says he has little hopes of ever getting good enough to get back to work but will be happy if he can only be able to be among Harrington friends again.

Bradley Raises Peaches No More

W. S. Bradley, who lives near the site of Rice's Schoolhouse, no longer raises peaches. Once he had 18 acres of Belle of Georgias, Elbertas, Golden Jubiles, etc., but the frost killed the blossoms six years in a row and the orchard got old and that settled that.

Peach production, in general, in Delaware has fallen off. Bradley believes it is due to southern and western competition. He remembers when peaches were evaporated, or dried, in this section. He believes it was nearly 50 years ago and recalls that the late Capt. Charles Wright evaporated peaches a mile from him. Bradley believes the dry, western climate is better for the purpose.

He drilled 30 acres of yellow soybeans but can't remember the variety. However, he says, they are doing good.

High Corn Cuts Hog Production

The high price of corn last year, at $1.85 per bushel, cut down hog production, says Pix Nichols, a livestock buyer, of Federalsburg. Nichols sold some "boars and busted" pigs at Rudnick's Sale at Dover Friday at good prices.

A livestock buyer, Nichols says that there are not many cattle in this area.

For example, Tomlinson has 40 acres in permanent pasture on which he applied 20 tons of burned lime. The government paid, or will pay, $5.25 of the cost per ton. The pasture is composed of Ladino, lespedeza, red-top, and bluegrass. On the seed the government paid, or will pay, $1.60 per pound on Ladino; 50c per pound on bluegrass.

To qualify for payments, Tomlinson must get a good stand. He cannot cut pasture for hay. The crop may be pastured, provided a good growth is left on the land or turned under.

The Dover farmer has pastured as many as ten harness horses on his acreage, though now he has but three and a stallion. The harness horses are Dick Erla, Alda Direct, Earl's Daddy Jones, a 2-year-old colt, and Harver, 2, 2:05 1/4, the stallion.

The stallion is by Hollyrood Harkaway-Jane Revere. Peter Volo is the sire of Hollyrood Harkaway.

French Young Farmer Studies Delaware Dairying
Daniel Ipanema de Moreira, a French young farmer from Bernay Eure, France, is learning how dairy testing is done in Delaware.

Daniel arrived in Delaware June 16. He spent two weeks with Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman, at the University of Delaware, taking Dairy Herd Improvement Association supervisor training.

On July 1, Daniel took over the Sussex County circuits which was supervised by Eberhard Klein, of Germany, from March to July.

Daniel is 24, has farm experience, speaks both French and English, and has had two years of agricultural college training.

He is in Delaware under an exchange program sponsored by the Dairy Herd Improvement Association in co-operation with the U. S. State Department.

Farm Implements Are Larger Now In This Region

George R. McConnell and J. H. Barlow, John Deere territorial managers, say that larger farm implements are being introduced and sold in this area. At the John Deere exhibit at the Kent & Sussex County Fair this week, they said that consolidations of farms in this region made the use of larger farm machinery imperative.

They called attention to the No. 55 self-propelled combine. This item, new in the East, cuts a 12-foot swath. Frank Cleandaniel & Sons, of Lincoln, harvested better than 60 acres of rye with it in a single day.

Another item, new to the East, is the Model R Diesel tractor. This implement pulls 16-inch bottom plows and is being used in this area by Townsend Farms, Georgetown, and William Ritter, of Lewes.

Another John Deere item that attracted considerable attention was the Model A High Clearance Tractor. This tractor has a 32-inch clearance for cultivating large foliage crops, such as tomatoes, without plant injury. The rear wheels are adjustable from 60 inches to 90 inches for wide-row crops.

Grain Crops Good Says G. D. Torbert

Grain crops in this area are universally good, said G. D. Torbert, of Paradise Alley, Saturday. Torbert, a custom combiner, said he was all finished but for a piece of rye.

On his own place, Torbert got a little better than 25 bushels of Thorne wheat and a little more than 40 bushels of Wong barley to the acre.

News That Downy Mildew On Limas Can Winter In Ground

A big step has been taken toward conquering downy mildew of lima beans. There is now concrete proof that the fungus that causes the disease can live over winter in the soil.

Dr. J. W. Heuberger, head of the plant pathology department at the University of Delaware, has announced that lima beans in greenhouse tests, got the disease from the soil. Last summer, diseased lima bean pods were added to some soil. This soil was buried outdoors last winter. Then it was brought into the greenhouse on June 5 and planted with disease-free limas and kept under disease-free conditions. On June 28, downy mildew appeared on some of the plants.

Dr. R. S. Cox, associate plant pathologist, and Dr. R. A. Hyre, regional pathologist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are responsible for this last important research.

Downy mildew has been a constant threat to lima beans in Delaware since 1943, and the University has conducted research on it since 1946. Now the scientists know how the disease lives over winter, they may be able to work out a simple control through crop-rotations, says Heuberger.

Warning to Tomato Growers

Late blight of tomatoes has made its appearance in fields in this county near Dover. All growers should dust or spray immediately and at regular intervals from a week to ten days or more often if the blight appears and spreads within their fields. Some growers hesitate to drive a dust-er or spray rig through the fields at this time. Experiments have shown that the injury sustained by the plants from a spray or dust outfit is rather insignificant compared with the damage that uncontrolled late blight can cause in a field. The weather for the past few days has been nearly ideal for the development and growth of late blight and should this type of weather continue, a very bad outbreak can occur. When dusting or spraying, a complete coverage of the plant including leaves, stems and fruit is important and tends to give a much more satisfactory control of the disease. Use Dithane Z-78, 2 lbs. and 100 gallons of water as a spray or 6 per cent Dithane dust. Parzate is the same type of material and can be used in the same amounts. It is suggested that all growers inspect their fields immediately for the presence of this disease.

The tomato hornworm and fruit worm may also be controlled by adding to this spray, Rothane or DDT, preferably use the Rothane. If any question arises as to the identity, call the county agent for assistance.

Broccoli Meal Good For Broilers

Broccoli meal is just as good as alfalfa meal in broiler rations. Rations containing broccoli leaf meal produced the heaviest average weights in a test at the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station.

Besides producing heavy birds, the broccoli meal produces a desirable yellow pigmentation in the broilers.

Rations with 1.5, 3, and 5 per cent of broccoli meal were tested. The ration with 3 per cent of the meal produced the heaviest birds. Commercially made dehydrated broccoli leaf meal was used.

The work was done by T. D. Runnels of the University of Delaware Animal and Poultry Industry Department, in co-operation with the national Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry.

Castor Oil Improves Paint
A University of Michigan professor has discovered that castor oil added to highway marking paint gives it a much better sticking quality and prevents its chipping off under strenuous wear and tear.

THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL

Office of Publication, 207 Commerce Street, Harrington, Delaware

Entered as second-class matter August 16, 1946, at the Post Office at Harrington, Delaware, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

C. H. BURGESS EDITOR PUBLISHERS C. H. BURGESS & W. C. BURGESS

They're still hashing over the Dempsey-Tunney "long count" bout and the decision in the first Louis-Wolcott fight, but the battle that seems destined to outdo them all in discussion is the battle of Delaware College.

Ezra Mildew, who swore that he would never deposit one cent in the Harrington parking meters, rushed down town Thursday afternoon to buy a box of snuff just before the stores closed.

People, some people, continue to up the prices on food on the slightest pretext. A new seafood place opened for business in Philadelphia the other day, but the bungling sign painter made the sign read "SEEFOD."

"The second a baby is born it begins to cry," said a friend of ours the other day, "and the reason he cries is because he knows that he owes more than a thousand dollars and will have to pay the highest taxes on record within a few years."

WHAT WOULD AMERICA BE—WITHOUT THE CRIMINAL LAWYER?

The criminal lawyer is one reason why America is considered one of the most lawless of the so-called civilized nations. By the very nature of his business, he aids and abets crime in that he does his utmost to thwart the laws of the land.

No crime is too horrible, no criminal too hardened for the criminal lawyer to handle the case—if the financial returns are sufficient. He has kept thousands of murderers from paying the penalty and rapists have gone unpunished because of his shrewdness and lack of moral standards.

It is our belief that the greatest menace to America today is the clever, unscrupulous criminal lawyer.

BE COURTEOUS TO VISITORS TO YOUR TOWN

Visitors judge your town not alone by its physical aspects, but by the manner in which they are received. A visitor left a town several years ago and has knocked that town ever since because an uncouth barbarian insulted him without cause.

Of all the towns we have visited Marietta, Ohio, stands out as one of the brightest. From a physical standpoint, it is one of the cleanest and most attractive little cities in America, but something else impressed us even more—the friendly spirit of the people, their unflinching courtesy.

We approached a gentleman on the street and asked the location of the American Legion Home, explaining that we were to speak at a Ladies' Night of the Rotary Club. "I have a car just down the street," he volunteered, "and I'll be glad to take you there."

Is it any wonder that we'll remember Marietta—and always with pleasure? It pays to be courteous to visitors—it pays to be courteous to everybody.

Old Restaurant Menu Reveals Unusually Interesting Prices

Coffee today is usually 5c per cup at least with meals, at Harrington restaurants. It sold at that price, too, 70 years ago at the Clipper Restaurant, Joliet, Ill., but here resemblance ends.

Happenings of Yester year

Twenty Years Ago

The Kent & Sussex County Fair, which closed Saturday, was in many ways the most successful ever held here. The attendance was not so large as last year, but this had been expected due to the general condition of the country.

Tuesday night's boxing exhibitions were the best given in Harrington since the new arena has been in operation. The crowd was small. The curtain raiser brought together two anti-albinos, Battling Dixon, of Harrington, and Dusty Cook, of Smyrna.

Numerous motorists who went down the duPont Blvd. Saturday and Sunday returned with baskets of peaches and apples. It is declared that apples sold at the lowest prices in the history of the state. The fruit was small but sound.

The recent picnic given by Edman & Son to the employees of their shirt factories at Harrington, Milton and Bridgeville, was an enjoyable affair. The Harrington contingent paraded through the town, in beautifully decorated cars, before leaving for Oak Orchard, the scene of the picnic.

Curry and Poore. C. Curry, of Harrington, won the girls' sack race, with Mabel Wheatley second. Prizes were given to the winners.

Harrington Journal Fri., Feb. 4, 1916

Extra meetings are being held in the M. E. Church, they have had a few converts. Mrs. Alex Hamilton, who has been very ill is slowly recovering.

The Silver Canning Co. are labeling cans and hope to get through this week. The shirt factory is very busy, it seems impossible to get enough people to operate the machines.

Sallie Lloyd, of Wilmington, is home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Webb, near Oakley, for an indefinite time. Eliza Webb, who has been in Wilmington for the past three weeks, has returned to her home again.

The Grange will meet next Saturday in A. M. Jones Hall. Everyone come as there is some special business to discuss. Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles was the speaker at an open air meeting at Greenwood, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

THE OLD HOSS RUNS AGAIN

(Last week's Journal contained a poem written by Sam A. Short, Jr., of Harrington, "The Old Race Hoss." Sam A. Long, Sr., of Steubenville, Ohio, is here attending the races. Impressed by the contrast in names, Mr. Long has written another "Old Hoss" poem.)

The Old Hoss grinned: "Don't need it now— My nose got growing pains; I think I'll beat young spriggins all— I'll beat you with my brains!"

Old Fiddlers Picnic At Lenape The 17th annual Old Fiddlers Picnic of the Lenape Association which was founded by the late Dr. Samuel Lane Anderson, of Concordville, will be held at Lenape Park near West Chester Sat., Aug. 4.

Last year this old fashion affair was attended by over twenty thousand persons from seven states. It will last from 10 in the morning until the midnight hour.

The Three Musical Clowns, which made such a hit last year, will again be present. All are cordially invited to attend this picnic. All musicians are invited to play.

LIFE

By Samuel A. Short, Jr. Harrington, Del.

Life is full of beauty, When all around, you see. Blossoms and flowers blooming, Summer and fall so free.

Lilacs in bloom so tall, Roses in the summer time, Chrysanthemums in the fall.

The trees in the forest, So beautiful for all to see. The grasses in the meadows, Making life more real to be.

The sun shines down from heaven, Through rain clouds floating above.

To water the earth with Manna, Feeding all with its mercy of love.

This comes always in a life time, Comes for one, and for all. A blessing always with the sunshine

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith (Too late for last week)

Well with only two more weeks left up here, wonder where we will all be. Some east, some west, some south and lots of them up to Canada.

Its just like breaking training in spring. You make so many friends. Then boom and their gone.

Dave and our race secretary, Mr. McLain, and I spent the day in Saratoga Springs last Friday. It was a wonderful trip, but a very hot one. Course once in the beautiful Saratoga and in the mountains it was really cool and enjoyable.

First race, 2:14; second, 2:09.1; third race, 2:11.2; fourth race, 2:10; fifth race, 2:05.3 and the sixth, 2:03.2. This is as far as we stayed. Had to leave for Hamburg. Some fast times.

Star's Pride, who was driven by Dave's best friend, Harry Pownall, certainly drove that little horse.

That was world record over half mile track.

Demon Hanover, one of the trotting champs, jumped it off and all the way around. Pronto Don by Donald Truax out of Miss Pronto, went the first half in .59.4, on the outside at that. That's really traveling. And I'm proud that my colt Roustabout is his half brother. So we may have something too.

Did you know the horse Syndicator, the one Paul Vineyard led down there? Well he has won 11 straight races for Garland Garnsey at Saratoga Springs so far. I don't think Paul had him on the trot then, only pacing.

Frank Wisewall, president of the raceway, won with Folk Song. You should have heard the boogie. Its really funny when he drives his own horse. But that has gone on ever since the first time we ever raced over there. Its pro and con. Some say he shouldn't drive and own horses. Others don't care.

Had coffee with our secretary and he was saying he sat in the drivers lounge in Saratoga. They didn't know McLain and all the fussing about the race secretary there, Frank Woodland, didn't give them a break and in over their heads.

Well don't that go on at all raceways? I told McLain I thought he put Anna Day in plenty tough. So thats how it goes.

I can't say I enjoyed the trip back the same night from Saratoga across the state. But I rolled right along. I drove home but won't say how fast.

We will probably be in Saratoga for fall meet.

It was like old home week for Dave renewing old times with the grand circuit guys. Several he hadn't seen since his brother, Lee, was living.

For anyone that hasn't ever been to Saratoga it is the most beautiful half mile track in the states. Not spread out all over, but bunched more or less together.

All set in flowers that are really beautiful. And the odor is so pleasing while watching the races. Loud awnings over every thing. Grooms lounge and drivers lounge at the track. Its worth anyone's time just to visit there. Good ole mountain air.

If you should happen to be up there in August, the running track is just across from the trotting track. What a picture they both make. Then there's Saratoga Lake, 4 miles long and about 10 miles wide. You can drive completely around it. Right in town.

So many don't like the raceway there. They are very strict. You don't dare go out of the paddock once in. No talking over the fences to drivers. And very strict on passes.

You can't even come in trainers and owners gate, without proper pass and I do mean the right numbers. Unless you own horses you can't even go in the stable area.

I like their rules there. Their getting that way a little more and more every where. So much for Saratoga.

Majestic Miss, what a mare, going about every other day, came in second again last night. Time of mile, 2:09.2. Old Symbol Louis has another race chalked up to his credit since my last week's report.

Daily double paid pretty good for Monday, $201.6.

We certainly aren't setting the world on fire with ours this year so far. Always in money, but no wins yet.

Mayor Rash, I thought of you when the mayor of Chatman, N. Y., presented the trophy for the other evening for the feature race. The one Harry Pownall won with Star's Pride. They should let you present one in honor of the City of Harrington.

Its very hot and humid today, so guess I'll dash over to the beach for a swim. We are only a few miles to a very famous beach up here.

I've sworn off such long trips in one day, but believe I'll talk Dave in going up to Thorncliff tomorrow afternoon. Thats only 100 miles.

I like new places and to see the rest of the world.

Just as I looked out the window, who should be passing but ole Bumble Bee that works for Ellis Myer. I asked him, where you going? Oh just buzz around. Everyone knows ole Bumble Bee. From grand circuit to county fairs.

So talk about where he's going, I'm off to the races too.

A bunch of psychologists came to this sad conclusion after telling jokes to college students. Very often they would give out with what they considered a side-splitter—and not get even a chuckle in response. Other times the students would laugh their heads off at stories that weren't considered really funny. Maybe I'm wrong, but what makes a psychologist such a better judge of humor than the rest of us? If a man gets a kick out of a joke that proves it was funny to him—doesn't it? From where I sit, when psychologists try to set up a standard for a sense of humor they're getting, too serious for me. Stands to reason that different people laugh at different things, just as they have different tastes for most everything. I'm partial to a glass of beer with meals myself—but I promise not to make any 'wise-cracks' if you prefer tea. Joe Marsh"

Clayton Killen Has Novel Plan For Raising Veal Calves

Clayton Killen, who lives north of town on U. S. 13, has a novel plan for raising veal calves; he places cows on various farms. The farmers furnish the pasture and feed for the animals and get the milk; Killen gets the calves when they are ready to be sold as vealers.

The idea, though a novel one, is not new. Killen says the late A. C. Creadick and the late Fount Billings followed a similar plan.

Killen now has 65 cows out on various farms. These are Holsteins, Guernseys, and milking shorthorns. The Harrington farmer raises most of the animals, keeping calves from his best cows as herd replacements. He has been farming out cows since 1939 and once had 133 out at one time.

The number has been decreased because some of the farmers sold their farms. When they had their sales, Killen sold his cows.

On his home place, Killen has 19 cows and calves. When the calves become cows which are ready to freshen, Killen farms them out.

The Harrington farmer also has 10 stock bulls. Farmers take care of these animals for their service. Killen gets the gain. When the bull becomes too heavy, or incorrigible, he is marketed. The animals may weigh about 700 pounds when they go to the farms and from 1200 to 1500 pounds at market time. All bulls and cows are tested for tuberculosis and vaccinated for Bang's disease.

Killen retains 15 to 20 calves annually for herd.

On the home place, the cattle run on a permanent pasture of Ladino, redtop, timothy, orchard grass, birdsfoot trefoil, and lespedeza. The pasture is manured almost every year and it has been in production six or seven years. In the fall the cattle run on ryegrass in the cornfields.

Killen gets most from his grain and hay by feeding it all to his cattle and hogs.

The Kent County farmer is quite enthusiastic about some Manx cats he has. He bought the original cat from Charles Draper nine years ago. These tailless felines, Killen says, are the smartest cats he has ever seen. He says they are tops when it comes to catching mice and rats.

Calvarese Hogs Sell at Good Price

F. Calvarese, of Bear, sold some choice Yorkshire hogs, averaging about 200 pounds, at $23.75, an excellent price, at Rudnick's Sale Friday at Dover. Calvarese, who came to this country from Rome, Italy, as a boy of 15, says he raises about 200 hogs, in two litters, annually.

He has a purebred boar and grade sows. The Yorkshire is a bacon hog. Though not plentiful in Kent County, Calvarese says there are quite a few of this breed in his section.

The farmer, who is also interested in the T. & C. Baking Co., of Wilmington, feeds his hogs on corn, barley, oats, and a little tankage and runs them on bluegrass, alfalfa, and red clover.

What About Spanish Rice?
There is no trace of rice as a native plant in the early histories of Egypt, Persia, Greece or Rome. It is not mentioned in the Bible; but its culture is alluded to in the Talmud. There is proof of its culture in the Euphrates Valley and in Syria, four hundred years before Christ.

Sunday's Schedule

Millsboro at Clayton
Wyoming at Frederica

Action was thick and fast in the Mar-Del Circuit during the past week. Milton, who was deadlocked with Clayton for the lead, refused to accept the decision of their game of July 1, with Hickman being forfeited to the latter nine and although they failed to notify the league decided to withdraw and forfeited their game to Millsboro last Sunday 9 to 0. The disputed game was due to Milton's inability to field nine men to finish out their game. In the last of the 9th Milton was leading 8 to 2 with two men out. A Hickman base runner stole home and after the umpire called the runner safe, a rhabarb between the umpire and the Milton manager resulted in the Milton pilot being ejected from the game. Milton failed or were unable to field nine men for the remaining one-third inning and as a result Hickman protested the contest. In accordance with the rules of baseball nine men must be on the field at all times and as Milton failed to put the required number of men on the field the protest was upheld and the game forfeited to Hickman. They refused to accept the ruling and have withdrawn. The league will finish out the season as a five team circuit although there is a strong possibility that the berth will be filled.

Clayton strengthened their hold on first place as they downed Frederica twice. Bob Knight pitched two hit ball to win the opener 9 to 0. Roy Kemp started for Frederica but went out in favor of Jack Moore. The victors piled up runs from the 3rd on and were never in danger. Pres Burris blasted out two triples while Al Gootorf and Bill Carson had two singles each to pace Clayton at the plate. Roy Kemp and Jerry Semans with singles in the 3rd accounted for the losers safeties. In the second game Frederica fell 9 to 5 although they outhit Clayton, 10-9. Frederica took a 4 to 3 lead in the early innings but the victors sewed up the game with a four run outburst in the fifth. Lew Wright went the distance for Clayton while Jim Postles and Jack Moore split the work for Frederica with former being charged with the loss. Eddie Garey had a field day at the plate for Clayton tossers as he had a triple, double and two singles. Bill Carson also helped along with a triple and single, while Al Gootorf had two singles, Jerry Semans, Del Brown and Roy Kemp had two singles each for Frederica with Billy Morris hitting for the circuit.

Wyoming and Hickman broke even in their twin bill to stay deadlocked in second place. Wyoming took the opener 10 to 2 behind the steady pitching of veteran Freddie Clemence, who racked up his third in a row. Harold Bennett laced a triple and two singles with Clemence and Cooper having doubles. Bill Lloyd had a double and single for Hickman and Joe Scurto, two singles. In the second game Wyoming jumped off to an early lead and were leading 9 to 4 going into the 8th. In this inning Godwin lost his control and the Hickman tossers tallied six times to sew up the game 10 to 9. Bill Howlett started for Hickman, but Bill Newman came in in the 5th to get credit for the victory, although touched for five runs during his tenure. Johnny Mundt was the big gun for the winners with a double and three singles, while Gran Diffie had a double and Bill Lloyd and Bill Newman two singles each. Reds Minner paced Wyoming with a triple and two singles while Harold Hopkins had a double, Drex Cox, Bill Rash and Hiram Godwin, two singles apiece. Godwin was charged with the loss.

This Sunday afternoon Clayton will be host to the greatly improved Millsboro nine who definitely have established themselves as being a contender from here on out. Bob Knight or Lew Wright will take the mound for Clayton while Allen Beebe or Freddie Adkins will draw the choice for the visitors.

Frederica will be at home with Wyoming and they will be out to move up. Dick Kuehne or Jack Moore will do the firing for the host nine, while Wyoming will depend on Bill Newman or Freddie Clemence, who is pitching steady ball each time out. The contest looms as a toss-up and if Frederica can pull through and Clayton halts Millsboro it will tighten the race considerably. Hickman will be idle.

The All-Star game scheduled at Milford last Thursday was rained out and efforts are being made to reschedule it for late August. There is a possibility that the Mar-Del All-Stars will clash with the NKC League All Stars. Tickets that were sold will be honored at the game or money will be refunded to those who have purchased tickets.

A Base Metal
By the alchemists' standards, tin—"stannum" in Latin—was a "base" metal—too common to be ranked with gold or silver or platinum. But in today's troubled world, where a sudden cessation of tin mining would cause industrial crisis and household discomfort, tin is a precious metal—plus.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

Jesus was right, as always, when He said: "Everyone that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved." It would be very much better to be forced into the light and have one's deeds reproved now, by going to church regularly, than to find oneself eventually completely lost. Hence we urge you to go to some church this and every Sunday. Our church schedule for this Sunday is listed for your convenience:

9:45 a. m. Sunday School; 11 a. m. Morning Worship; 7:30 p. m. Evening Worship.
Monday Evening: The official board meeting.
Saturday and Sunday: Third annual Laymen's Weekend Retreat at Methodist Camp, near Centreville, Md.
Next Sunday: 11 a. m. Administration of The Lord's Supper.

George Luther Wyatt, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Wyatt, was baptized in the morning service at Trinity last Sunday, by the pastor, Miss Emma Derrickson, of Wilmington, and Franklin Derrickson, of Harrington, stood with the parents.
