

Ira Downes Fatally Hurt; Brother-in-Law Held On Murder Charge

Harrington Druggist Dies in Hospital Of Fractured Skull After Scuffle At Downes Home on Fleming Street

Ira "Doc" Downes, 70-year-old Harrington druggist, died Monday morning in the Milford Memorial Hospital and state detectives at Bridgeville arrested his brother-in-law, Burton Wilcutts, 65, of Frederica, on a charge of murder in connection with his death.

Wilcutts was committed to the Kent County Jail at Dover by Magistrate L. Gooden Callaway, of Harrington, Monday. He is being held for the action of the Kent County grand jury.

The two men, according to state police detectives at Bridgeville, became involved in an argument at the home of Mr. Downes on Fleming Street early Sunday evening. Police said that in a scuffle, which followed the argument, Mr. Downes was knocked down and his head struck the concrete floor of the front porch of his home. An autopsy performed Monday by Dr. Douglas Gay, Wilmington pathologist, disclosed that Mr. Downes died of a fractured skull, state police said.

Troopers said the quarrel between Wilcutts and his brother-in-law arose over the proposed removal of Wilcutts' mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilcutts, 92, from the Downes home to the Wilcutts home at Frederica. Mrs. Wilcutts was also the mother of Mrs. Downes.

The aged woman had been living at the Downes home for the past three years and before that was with the Wilcutts. On Sunday Wilcutts received a phone call from Harrington to the effect that Mrs. Wilcutts wanted to return there.

Wilcutts told police he went to the Downes' home for Mrs. Wilcutts and her clothing Sunday night. It was then that the argument developed. State police detectives said Wilcutts admitted he struck Mr. Downes and, they said, the druggist apparently had struck at Wilcutts.

After Mr. Downes fell, Wilcutts and Mrs. Downes carried him into the house and Wilcutts left soon afterward.

As Mr. Downes' condition became worse, Mrs. Downes called Dr. W. T. Chipman who ordered the druggist to be taken to the Milford hospital. The ambulance of the Harrington Fire Company took Mr. Downes in an unconscious condition to the hospital late Sunday evening and he died there at 10:33 a. m. Monday. Harrington city police assisted in the case.

Mr. Downes had operated a drugstore on Commerce Street. Previously, he had operated a store in Frederica. In 1924 he operated a store in Greenwood four years and in 1923 came to Harrington and opened the Commerce Street establishment.

Funeral services for Mr. Downes were held yesterday afternoon in the Berry Funeral Home, Milford, with the Rev. J. Harry Wright, pastor of Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church until his recent retirement, officiating. Burial was in Barratt's Chapel Cemetery.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Downes is survived by a son, Alton Downes, and two granddaughters.

Sixth Longest Bridge Ends Delaware River Bottleneck

Opening August 16 of the $44-million Delaware Memorial Bridge, sixth longest span in the world, ends one of the worst ferry bottlenecks on eastern seaboard's north-south traffic routes. The new span bridges a mile of water with towers rising 437 feet to support a four-lane roadway high above the largest ocean-going vessels. Engineers and workmen of U. S. Steel's American Bridge Company planned and labored a year-and-a-half to erect the mighty structure using 40,000 tons of steel to replace the Newcastle Ferry shown here at the height of a Sunday traffic snarl. Opening ceremonies, with governors of Delaware and New Jersey attending, dedicate the bridge to World War II dead of the two states.

Local Raceway Prepares For Fall Meet

Judging by the number of horses already entered, the stalls will be filled when the annual fall pari-mutuel harness meet of the Kent & Sussex Racing Association gets under way here Thurs., Sept. 6, for 20 nights of racing. T. Brinton Holloway, general manager of the association, said he anticipated 475 to 500 horses on the grounds.

Purse schedules will be the same as those of the spring meet, with a nightly trophy race for a purse of $1000, divided; a co-feature of $800, in two heats, and four races for $400 each. The daily-double, inaugurated during the spring meet, will also be a feature of the fall session.

The following officials of the spring meet will return for the fall meet: Presiding judge, Harvey Hartman; starting judge, Dale Fetrow; racing secretary, George C. Enslin; mutuel manager, E. I. Langford, and race announcer, Eugene Anderson.

One of the bugaboos at race meets here has been rainy weather. Manager Holloway said this week that the track would be top dressed with coarse, washed sand before the fall meet. This innovation will make the track ready for racing in the shortest possible time after rain.

Many prominent stables will again be represented at the fall meet. Lloyd James, of Cambridge, Md., will be on hand with a good stable, outstanding horses including the pacer, Mighty Boy, with a mark of 2:05.4, Bertha Rosecroft, a trotter with a mark of 2:08, previous to the spring meet, lowered her mark to 2:05 during the Kent & Sussex Fair here in July. Other well-known candidates in the James stable are Mary D. Honor Direct, Mary Rosecroft, Bright Majesty.

Other stables entered are as follows: J. W. Stokley—Mont, Victory Cash, Neal Abbe, Doc Gilbert, Maurice Hanover, Star Misses Princess, Lil York, Trixie Tass; Tom Lewis—Shamrock Vic, Belina Hanover, Gerb Stuart, American Lou, Lou's Girl, and Hedgewood Fingo; Floyd James—Dynamite and Prince Walter; Leon Jennings—Sally's Ginger Julep. Other prominent reinsmen will be Ellis and Jim Myer, Louis Floyd, Eddie Kelly, Jimmy Garrow, Johnny Mallalieu and A. L. Dixon.

School District Must Raise More Funds Before Additions Can Be Made

Skyrocketing Costs Have Caused Bids To Far Exceed Available Monies—District Must Produce $134,400

Firemen Will Get $21,454 From State

The office of County Comptroller J. Wesley Walls is preparing state insurance fund checks for mailing to the 16 volunteer fire companies of Kent County sharing in the fire insurance tax receipts for the county, aggregating $21,454.19.

The checks for the companies are for $1,340.88 each, with some of them, however, receiving an extra penny in apportioning in full the total amount.

A delay in readying the checks for mailing was occasioned by tardiness in receipt of the official list of the companies entitled to shares, Comptroller Walls explained.

The appropriation to volunteer fire companies from the special tax on fire insurance company premiums for assistance of fire-fighting units is in addition to the regular annual appropriation to the companies.

Comptroller Walls told The Harrington Journal reporter Monday that the firemen would receive the county appropriations later.

All employees will bring family lunch baskets as soft drinks and coffee will be served at the picnic tables on the dock at Cape Charles.

A special train of comfortable coaches will leave Wilmington, at 6:30 a. m. (E. S. T.), arriving in Cape Charles, at 11 a. m., and returning northbound will leave Cape Charles at 5:30 p. m. (E. S. T.).

H. Warburton Will Address A. Y. R. at Smyrna

Herbert Warburton, Wilmington attorney and chairman of the National Federation of Young Republicans, will speak on "Contributions of the Republican Party to Democracy," at the annual dinner meeting of Active Young Republicans of Kent County, Inc., this evening (Thurs., Aug. 16) at 8 o'clock at Caras Court on U. U. S. Senator John J. Williams and U. S. Representative J. Caleb Boggs are expected to address the group. Harry Quillen, president of the Kent County A. Y. R., will preside.

Clarence Collins, of Smyrna, a member of the House of Representatives of the Delaware Assembly, has received the endorsement of the nominating committee for the office of county president. Delegates from each of the ten representative districts in the county will hold a caucus previous to the dinner to select their respective directors for the coming year.

This is a report to the patrons of the Harrington Special School District on the status (the condition) of the school building program.

The recognition of need and the fact that the request for 14 elementary classrooms, administrative offices, nurse's quarters, a suitable cafeteria and kitchen, as well as a modernized and enlarged gymnasium-auditorium with a satisfactory seating capacity and proper shower and sanitary equipment is an accepted fact. This conclusion is reached as much as the vote at the December 10, 1949 referendum was 437 for the bond issue and the building program and 65 votes against the bond issue and the building program.

The bond issue made $210,000 of the District's monies available for the building program and $129,000 of state monies. This made a total of $339,000 available for the school building purposes.

By the time the plans were completed (fourteen rooms, the cafeteria, the offices and the gymnasium-auditorium renovation) and Harrington's place on the State School Building Program Schedule made bidding possible the cost had advanced and the Building Commission was compelled to reject the lowest combined bids which totaled $511,643, as only $339,000 was available.

Since no bid was let the architect, Walter Carlson, was asked to contact the lowest bidder and ask him to submit a bid on the administrative and classroom unit and a separate bid on the cafeteria and kitchen unit and a separate bid on the gymnasium-auditorium unit.

Dividing the project raised the cost on the grade school $21,422 or made the total cost on the grade school and office unit $465,983. The bid on the grade school alone was $399,916 or $60,916 higher than the monies ($339,000) available. Therefore, rejection of the second series of bids was inevitable.

The housing program is still our problem. We have the land on which to build. We have $339,000 applicable to the building program available.

The 1951 Legislature has passed on our program and has made $201,600 more available for building use IF we raise an additional $134,400.

We need the buildings. Our children are worthy. Other districts are providing improved facilities. Where are we going from here? We can at least try, that is, give our public chance to vote their sentiments. When shall the test come? Is the time ripe now or shall we wait? The Harrington Board of Education is at your service and will do your bidding.

The Board of Education invites all residents and patrons to their next meeting on Sept. 4, at 8:15 p. m. to consider.

SHORT STORY
Lover's Quarrel
By Laura M. Welch

I MUST HAVE been about ten or eleven, a rather intense little girl with a twenty year old sister whom I adored. She was in love with a young druggist, a handsome young man and she always kept a large photograph of him in the center of our upright piano, usually with a small fluted bowl of pansies or violets in front of it.

One night about one o'clock my sister came upstairs to the room we shared and came to bed and cried nearly all night. Several times I asked her what was the matter and she'd say, "Nothing, honey, go back to sleep."

I knew she and Clyde had been to a dance and I was sure they had quarreled. The next morning she still looked so much like she had cried so much.

Later on in the day I went into the parlor to practice my scales and there was his photograph right there in front of me. I couldn't bear to look at it. He had hurt my sister cry. He had hurt her dreadfully and I hated him. I hated him so much I couldn't bear to see his picture.

I took the picture and slid it along the baseboard behind the piano. I gave it a hard shove and was sure it would never be found again.

Two or three days went by. My sister was still sad. I wondered if she and Clyde would ever make up their quarrel.

Some of her friends got together and decided to do something to help them make up. They came down to the house and brought Clyde with them, stayed a short time and went off leaving Clyde and Bess together. But it didn't do any good. Clyde left early, too, and my sister was just as sad as ever.

One day I heard her talking to one of her girl friends. "It was a hateful sort of thing for him to do. He could have asked me, you know. That would have been the honorable thing to do, even if he had wanted to give it to another girl." She swallowed a sob and went on, "I know he's just laughing to himself, thinking how he put it over on me."

I didn't have the slightest idea what she was talking about.

THE WHOLE TOWN was interested in the quarrel. They'd been expecting a big church wedding with all the fixings and were disappointed. As for myself, I just got madder and madder.

One morning I was sent uptown for the mail and met Clyde on the street. I started to go by him with-

"It was a hateful sort of thing for him to do," Bess said. "I know he's just laughing to himself, thinking how he put it over on me."

out speaking, which I knew was very rude, but I didn't care if it was. He reached out and caught my hand.

"Look, honey, don't be mad at me," he said. "Don't you know this is hurting me too?"

I said angrily, "You made her cry."

He turned a little pale and looked very serious. "Did she really cry, Becky?"

"Yes, she does. . . did, I mean. That's why I took your picture and hid it behind our old piano."

"You took the photograph?"

"I nodded. 'It's behind the piano.' "And all this time I thought she took it away because she was going to put another one there."

Quite suddenly I began to understand. "And she thought you took it to give to another girl?"

He took my hand again. "Look, I'm going home with you, Becky. Will you tell Bess what you've just told me?"

I nodded. And we went home together and I told her. There was a wedding after all.

Sulky Slants
By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

Another week has rolled around, and again the horses are going in every direction. Dr. Fowle that wintered in Harrington, left here today for Yonkers with six head. Bill Harvey with 17 head also shipped out for there. Plenty have left for the fairs.

As for our stable until this meet is over we may be here, Foxboro or Batavia. You see Saratoga is closed for two weeks.

Saratoga Raceway's Mr. Trot of 1951—Syndicator—goes after his 12th victory of the year this week. With only two defeats marring his record, Syndicator will take on six rivals in the $1800 Hyde Park stake one of the two features this week.

I'll lay 2 to 1 Garland Garnsey will take it.

How about the steam' Demon Hovner making Harry Pownall's Star's Pride go in 1:59 1/4 to win at Goshen, N. Y.

Harrison Hoyt, who has his other horses next to ours certainly was proud of old Demon.

They say the runners had 2000 more people last Saturday than over last year.

But just the same you can ride around the lake and plenty cottage signs "For Rent." Same way about rooms—plenty.

Night life is nil and void. One of the largest clubs, Riley's, had a closed sign this week. That's not track for ole Saratoga. The trot track here goes along about the same every night.

You know the City of Saratoga really don't like the harness track. So they say.

As it stands, runners get them in the afternoon and they let out about 6 p. m. then they go to the harness track. So what, after the races they head for home in droves. That leaves down town Saratoga with not too many for the night spots.

This year they have fixed up such a lovely lounge with boxing, TV, pool tables, swimming pool, that even the jocks don't go to town.

Same here, Sunday night the horsemen's lounge was crowded. Have everything here for us too. Our TV is swell.

No gambling allowed in the club lounge. If any on cards no outsiders. The cafe, lounge and barber shop all connect in one beautiful building. Drivers have a lovely lounge at the paddock for drivers only. No grooms. Then at the track the drivers have a glass enclosed lounge (in colors only) where you can see everything. All in all this is a very modern track and improving all the time.

Its worth anyone's time that can spend an evening here. Certainly, parkway drive all the way up here.

Heh! Mildred, down there in Felton, I could really go for some of your chicken and dumplings. Won't be long now.

Fred Greenly Jr. spent the afternoon with Dave and I here in Saratoga. He was on his way to Goshen. He seemed to like this plant very much.

We hear that Mr. Jandak, we used to have Clyde Cash for, has gone in for horses in a big way. Also he has joined the trailer gang in Batavia.

Training his own horses and someone to drive them. Fred said he had bought Highland Cross and Flying Fortress from Nick Lariari, of Albany.

I'm really thrilled as I've been invited by Roy Shudt and Mr. De Frettais, of the press, for a visit at the running track.

So next week I'll have some extra news from there. It's all routine now. But I really like it and enjoy meeting the different reporters. Even if I can't remember their names. I'm terrible.

I'm off to Mr. Wiswells Cedar Lodge to see some new colts by Hootmon, Bill Gallon and Knight Dream.

I'm always going somewhere.

Harrington Wins By Shutouts
By R. McCreedy

Yes, it was Harrington's second shutout in a row with both scores being the same, 2-0.

Algiers put in a good pitching performance allowing only four hits and fanning 12, while walking six. Barrett also showed up good. He fanned 11 while giving up three passes and three hits. Both pitchers worked hard on the mound in a good pitcher's duel.

Harrington's runs were unearned as both were scored on Farmington's errors.

Harrington moved into third place Sunday and only 1 1/2 behind Farmington.

Asbury Methodist Church celebrated Collins Memorial Sunday at the morning worship. This is an annual affair to honor the memory of Rev. Edward H. Collins, pastor at Asbury from 1924 to 1934.

Special music "A Voice In The Wilderness" by John Scott, was beautifully sung by Miss Eileen Harris, a prominent young singer of Asbury Church. She was accompanied by Miss Imogene Welch, church organist. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Robert E. VanCleaf, minister.

Many beautiful flowers adorned the church, among them a basket presented by William J. Collins and Edward B. Collins. A son, Edward B. Collins, of Farmington, attended the service.

The regular Sunday School sessions will be held, but there will be no worship services until September 9. In case of emergency the minister may be contacted through Fulton Downing or W. W. Sharp.

Wesley Junior College Release
Leslie Wix, of Harrington, has been enrolled as a member of the Freshman Class of Wesley Junior College, Dover, and will report for orientation week on Sept. 20. Manuel Buarque, also of Harrington, will be returning as a member of the Sophomore Class.

Registrations at the Dover college already exceed earlier expectations of the administration.

In the spring of 1952 Wesley Junior College will graduate its first students under the Religious Secretarial course, a curriculum started in the fall of 1950 after many calls from churches and ministers asking for secretaries with special training in church work.

The co-operative study-work program which has been developed between the college and the International Latex Corporation is meeting a definite need.

The placement service of the college reports that more requests for secretaries and accountants are being received than can be filled.

Bowers Beach Fishing News
The Ida J. III, Capt. Irving Wright, reported two large catches of porgies last week for Maryland parties from around Baltimore. A party of eight brought in 405 fish from the 14-foot light, using surf clams as bait. Seven Baltimore residents caught 430 porgies from the same boat.

Boundary Lines
Within the United States straight and nearly straight latitude and longitude lines predominate as state boundaries. Colorado and Wyoming appear as perfect rectangle, each with two north-south and two east-west borders.

Box Car Celebrated
The Sunday before Labor Day finds the town of Tracy, Minn., celebrating "Box Car Day." The population of this railroad division town thus acknowledging the reason for the prosperity of the community, the freight business.

Teachers Lightly Regarded
"Te is either dead or teaching" was the way an ancient Athenian poet referred to a young man who had not been seen for a while. This was typical of the slighting attitude at that time toward teachers of children.

Hungarian Research
Hungarian physicists, using uranium and thorium found in the Velence Hill, are reported pursuing atomic research "on a large scale" at a place 30 miles southwest of Budapest.

Drunkard's Match
The Drunkard's Match, introduced in 1892, was treated with chemicals to extinguish itself when the flame reached midpoint of the stick thus protecting careless bon vivants from burned fingers.

No Cause For Alarm
Parents should not be alarmed if young children talk to themselves, according to Childcraft books. It gives them practice in using language, and the world of make-believe stimulates their imagination.

Gives Dust Brush-off
At high airplane speeds, atmospheric dust used to ruin the finish on aircraft. Industrial finish engineers developed an extremely hard finish which was smooth enough to eliminate shock waves at high speeds and durable enough to withstand blasts of dust.

Strange Cargo
Today's express terminals have much in common with Noah's Ark. Everything from goldfish to box constrictors; from mice to elephants, including moose, buffalo, chimpanzees and armadillos may be housed there at some time.

Gleep, Bepo and Zeep
Great Britain's first two atomic piles were nicknamed "Gleep" and "Bepo." Canada's first nuclear reactor was called "Zeep." France has a laboratory atomic pile designated "Zoe."

Cause of Tidal Waves
Most earthquakes occur beneath the sea. While less destructive usually than those that hit populated land areas, they may wreak havoc through huge sea or so-called tidal waves that inundate coastal settlements.

Carried Tails In Carts
Mary's little lamb led a pampered life, but even he couldn't last of the service given some of his cousins in parts of Asia. Members of a variety of sheep storing a large amount of fat in their tails, they are fitted with little two-wheeled carts in which to carry the heavy appendages.

Russia's Atomic Progress
The extent of Russia's atomic endeavor is hidden behind the Iron Curtain. Soviet scientists are believed to be operating several major nuclear reactors and producing fissionable materials.

Way Back When
The first known landscape artist was a Cro-Magnon who lived about 14,000 years ago near what is now Kisslerloch in Switzerland. The subject of his picture was a remarkable life-like reindeer browsing in the grass beside a pool of water. Canvas for this prehistoric work of art was a piece of reindeer antler.

Foot Note
Leather soles have high laboratory technicians call high "creep resistance." This means leather has a marked ability to hold its original shape when under continuous stress such as on the bottom of shoes.

Snowplow Under Ground
In New York's new $24 million dollar bus terminal a snowplow—65,000 feet of pipe buried in the concrete—will keep the ramp surface free from snow and ice. A new type of oil is used to keep the pipes warm enough to melt snow and ice.

Thermal Expansion Alloys
Alloys containing 42% nickel and having the same thermal expansion as glass serve for lead-in wires, in sealed beam headlights, television tubes and similar applications.

Use Your Vote
Don't be afraid to "lose your vote." The vote that doesn't elect a man still influences what he does. A candidate who just squeaks through knows that you and others like you can repudiate him next time.

Expensive Vanity
During the Twelfth Dynasty vanity was sometimes a very expensive trait. Egyptian rulers of the time often admired their reflections in real silver mirrors that had handles of black obsidian adorned with solid gold.

Can Impeach President
The House of Representatives has the power to impeach and the Senate to place on trial and to remove from office all civil officers of the United States including even the President.

The bean harvest is getting in full sway in our community and Pfc. Maurice E. Blessing, of Hill Air Force Base, Utah, reports they are eating Delaware canned limas put up by J. G. Townsend & Son, Georgetown.

Task, Task!
That the wearing of foundation garments contributes to the efficiency of a business or factory employee was affirmed by 87% of medical and nursing authorities and personnel directors during a recent survey in retail stores and factories.

First Visual Messages
Probably the earliest method of visual communication between far-separated points was by beacon fires. Homer wrote of a chain of flaming beacons spreading the news of the fall of Troy, in the 11th century B.C.

By attending Sunday School we all gain a clearer knowledge of the relationship between God and man, and realize that the Bible has the answer to any question life may bring to us.

"I was in Wilmington," said the Colonel from Covington, "either this week or last—I do not remember which—and I went into a grill and ordered a drink of sassaaparillar or vanilla—I do not remember which—but it was one of them, because I abhor stronger stimulants. After I had downed three or four sassaaparillars or vanillars, I finally reached into my pockets for money with which to pay the barkeep, for he kept looking at me in a suspicious kind of way. To my dismay I found out that I had changed britches and left my money at home. I didn't resort to subterfuge or chincaney. No, suh! Like a true son of old Kaintuck, I met the issue head-on and told him what had happened. Quick as a cat he reached down under the bar and came up with something, which he panted directly at me. When I saw it was only a pistol, I luffed right in his face. When he first panted it at me I was scared stiff for a second or two—because I was afraid it was a stomach pump."

THE GIFT OF SILENCE IS A GOLDEN GIFT

Great is the power in the concord of sweet sounds and unhappy indeed is the man who has no music in himself. But there is also the peace and the calm that reigns in the temple of silence.

There are establishments which, for a nickel duly put in the juke box will insure the man who likes to drink or dine without the latest song of the woodpecker, a period of five minutes silence. Some municipalities have passed ordinances against the sound trucks that invade residence sections with blaring advertisements coming out of the loud speakers. A question, recently raised, is whether passengers on buses should have to put up with a radio operated by the driver. A moot question, which will probably never be solved until the long suffering patrons start bouncing rocks off the driver's head. There is a limit to the patience of the unwilling listener.

Those who have gone to Yellowstone during past seasons have found that the park service has set up a barker at Old Faithful. I have been there only one time so I don't know whether they keep a man on the job all night and all day, or just part of the time.

A lecture on geysers may be interesting to many but others are equally interested in the theory of equations and the love life of frogs. It might surprise the heads of the park service how many of the million visitors to Yellowstone come there to get away from the blaring noises that make up the modern city; how many would like to watch Old Faithful do his stuff without the man with his loud speaker spouting on details of the bowels of the earth and their gastro-intestinal steam pressures. How golden is the gift of quiet. Meager County. (White Sulphur Springs, Mont.) News

A SMILE WILL DO

By Samuel A. Short, Jr. Harrington, Del.

When you get up in the morning, And begin to start your day, Don't be a grouch in mourning, And spoil your fun this way.

When you get up in the morning, And there's no one else around, Just try to be happy this morning, Forget that yesterdays frown.

When you get up in the morning, Just give that cherry Hello, You'll be double paid that morning, As through the day you go.

When you get up in the morning, And you know there's a lot to do, Remember the happiness in warning, Yes! just a smile will do.

Highway Signs

Highway signs in French Morocco are hard to miss. Many are walls of sun-bleached concrete 10 feet high, bearing the names of towns, distances and minor hazards of the road painted in black in both French and Arabic characters.

Quick Blaze

Here's a way to get a quick blaze when you build a picnic fire. Soak an unglazed brick in kerosene for a day or two before you'll need it. The brick will burn for a long while, and will ignite even damp logs without any kindling.

William Norman Marron, 49

William Norman Marron, also known as Bill Norman, who was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at New York, New York, on June 20, 1951, on a charge of conspiracy to advocate the violent overthrow of the government, is the subject of a nationwide manhunt by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The FBI described Marron as Organizational Secretary of the New York State Communist Party. A description of Marron is as follows:

Age, 49, born November 10, 1901, at Ekaterinoslav, Russia; height 5'6"; weight, 162 pounds; build, medium; hair, black; eyes, blue; complexion, dark, heavy beard; race, white; nationality, American.

At the time of his disappearance he resided in Flushing, Long Island, New York. He became naturalized through his father in 1919, attended the New York City public schools and was at one time a professional basketball player, being known as "Wee Willie Marron."

Meredith and His Tomatoes

James Meredith, of Magnolia, is seen in his tomato patch. He has spaced his plants and rows wider than usual and is getting unusual results.

Meredith Has His Eggs In Various Baskets

By See Aich Bee

Now take this fellow, James Meredith, who lives on the Magnolia farm just south of U. S. 113 alternate. He doesn't believe in putting all his eggs in one basket. No siree! He raises a wide variety of crops and poultry and dairy cattle. Furthermore, he is one who is always trying to improve the farm and its crops. But first, let's talk about a method of planting tomatoes that certainly looks good.

This Kent County farmer has eight acres of Rutgers, with some of the vines going up three feet and more. The rows are five feet apart and the plants are four feet apart in the rows. Meredith says this idea has worked like a charm. It permits him to cultivate and spray later in the season than he could with the customary 32 to 42-inch rows in which the plants are 40 to 42 inches apart.

"My way takes 800 to 900 fewer plants per acre," explained Meredith, "and returns a higher yield of tomatoes. One year I got from 2400 to 2500 baskets from three acres."

He started the plan four years ago on the advice of the Barker's Landing Cannery, which buys his tomatoes. But Meredith is one who has to see for himself. He tried the new way of spacing tomatoes and the conventional way last year and this year. The new way was superior last year and if it proves superior again this year, Meredith will consider it as the only way.

Roadside Markets

There are a number of roadside markets in the neighborhood and these have had an effect on the crops Meredith raises, since he sells to them. He raises 2½ acres of Concord grapes, six acres of peaches (Hale Havens, Golden Jubilee, Belle of Georgia, and Red Free), two acres of sweet potatoes, 2½ acres of sweet corn, and the same acreage of white potatoes, with part of these crops going to the roadside stands. He also has two acres of asparagus which goes to a freezer.

The Magnolia farmer also raises 120 acres of corn and 60 to 70 acres of soybeans. He tills three places.

He has 11 cows and sells the milk to a Dover dairy.

Some three months ago he purchased 100 day-old hybrid chicks to start a laying flock. Cost was 60c each. The salesman said they were good, but Meredith had to see for himself. He tried out the hybrids against a bunch of New Hampshire reds which were three days older. The scheme worked out like this:

At 12 weeks the hybrids weighed 3½ pounds and appeared twice as large as the reds, which weighed from 1½ to 1¾ pounds. The chicks were supposed to be sexed but two or three cockerels showed up in the red; none in the hybrids. He got 101 chicks in his order of reds and 104 in his hybrids. He has lost only three hybrid chicks, but didn't say how many he had lost in his reds and we didn't think to ask him.

Meredith doesn't know the names of the hybrids (he has two kinds), only the numbers. However, one hybrid resembles a Barred Rock and the other is black with buff streaks. When it comes to growth, the hybrids are tops. Laying performance still has to be determined.

This farmer works until 11 p. m. but in the winter he has about three months when his farm work consists mainly of taking care of the cows and the chores. So—beginning in January, he traps 70 acres of muskrat marsh at Barker's Landing. He catches them with a snood and

Soviet Medical Paper Says 26 Million Americans Ill

MOSCOW, USSR — The Soviet newspaper Medical Worker reports Americans are in a bad way. According to the newspaper 26 million Americans are chronically ill.

The newspaper also reports that eight million Americans are insane; that each year two million Americans lose their ability to work because of accidents; that 18 million are partly or completely unemployed, and that the ordinary farmer or worker rarely is able to undertake treatment to cure a disease because of the expense of medical assistance and medicines.

About 260,000 families are homeless in New York alone, the newspaper said, and claimed the cost of a week stay in the average American hospital exceeds by two or three times the average monthly wage of the average American worker. On top of this, the newspaper charged hospital treatment is seldom possible for the average American. To top its fantastic claims, the paper said that only a small percentage of those ill with diabetes in the United States are able to procure insulin. The drug, the newspaper explained, is in the hands of monopolies which intentionally restrict production to small proportions to get an exorbitant price for the product.

The article concludes: "The exclusively low level of public health in the United States is an expression of the general fate of capitalism, under which even poverty and illness are a source of enrichment of a small group of capitalists."

Arrested 'Graduate' Tells Of Safe-Cracker's School

CADILLAC, Mich.—Dale Line, 22, of Evert, Mich., recently arrested for cracking a safe containing $800 in cash and bonds, told police a school for safe-crackers, complete with tuition and movies on how to blow safes, is operated in Chicago.

The ill-starred "graduate" said pupils paid $2.50 a lecture, illustrated with moving pictures. He refused, however, to tell who operated the school or where it was located.

Chicago police said Line told them that whenever anyone in Chicago can't open a certain type of safe, there is a telephone number to call and an expert will take the job for half the proceeds.

Line said he met his "professor" in a Chicago bar, and after telling the man that he was an ex-convict, the safe expert invited him to become a pupil.

Many become sick. Eight hundred and twenty out of every 1,000 persons suffer from some sort of sickness each year.

FARM NEWS AND REVIEW

Game Warden Begins to Pull Lima Beans

Thomas N. Stayton, chief game warden of the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners of the State of Delaware started pulling the first planting Monday of 90 acres of Henderson lima beans at his farm on the Millford-Greenwood highway. Mr. Stayton and his nephew, Everett Stayton, have a joint interest in the vegetable.

The chief game warden believes the first planting was hurt by dry weather but he expects exceptionally good yields on subsequent plantings on the sandy loam.

In the past, this land has averaged a ton of limas to the acre. The Stayton method of raising the vegetable, for Libby, McNeil and Libby, is as follows:

Rye, ryegrass and scarlet clover are turned under as green manure. Then 500 pounds of 4-8-12 fertilizer are applied to the acre, with 400 pounds being applied in bands at planting time. Instead of the usual 28-inch row, Mr. Stayton has a 32-inch one. The crop is dusted with rotenone to control the Mexican bean beetle.

Tharp Gets Good Yield of Hay

Frank Tharp, who lives near Prospect Church, got a good yield of hay this year, making 1400 bales on 20 acres. Some acres made more than 100 bales. The hay was timothy, old-fashioned red clover, alsike, and Ladino mostly.

Tharp formerly raised scarlet clover and piled it in the barn. He checked it for heating once or twice by digging down into the stack and testing it with his hand. "However," he says, "if it's good and dry when stacked in a good barn, there will be little danger from heating."

Farmers should check their hay, if they are in doubt, William E. Tarbell, county agricultural agent, advises. He says:

"The first warning will be a warm, moist area on top of the stored hay. That means you ought to get a hay probe thermometer and a long piece of pipe. Poke the thermometer down into the hay and take a reading. If the buried hay reaches 160 degrees, the danger point, four-hour temperature checks would be a good way to play safe. If the hay goes up to 185 degrees, get rid of the hot hay and see that there is plenty of water available. You can try dropping dry ice into the hot spot through a pipe. This will help cool the hay so you can remove it."

Getting back to Tharp's yield, the Vernon farmer puts 500 pounds of 0-10-10 fertilizer per acre on the pasture every spring. Every few years he puts burnt lime on it.

Downy Mildew On Limas in Delaware Now

The recent spell of cool, wet weather has given downy mildew on lima beans a start in Delaware, says the plant pathology department at the University of Delaware.

Last week it was found in the Smyrna and Lincoln areas, and infected plants were producing spores. This means that the disease can now be spread, said Dr. J. W. Heuberger.

Heuberger advises growers and canners of lima beans to examine their fields regularly. Begin spraying or dusting with a fixed copper spray as soon as the disease is found in your area, he suggests. Applications should be kept up at weekly intervals as long as the weather is cool and wet.

Goal of 29,500 Acres of Wheat For Kent County

A production goal of 29,500 acres of wheat for harvest in 1952 was announced for Kent County today by R. Harry Wilson, chairman of the county agricultural mobilization committee.

He also announced that the 1952 goal for barley is 6400 acres; and rye 5500 acres.

He explains that these goals have been set up to help the farmers of Kent County do their part in the defense effort. Although no individual farm goals will be established, the county goal will serve as a guide to farmers in seeding their fall crops.

The 1952 goals are based on the need for all food, feed, fiber and oil crops and on the need for maintaining the land for future production.

The wheat goal for Kent County is in line with the state goal of 65,000 acres, and the national goal of 78,850,000 acres. The national goal calls for a slightly larger acreage than was seeded in the fall of 1951 for harvest in 1952. The state goal calls for a three per cent increase over the indicated 1951 harvest. But this goal is expected to fill all known requirements for food, feed, exports and a safe reserve as a protection against emergencies.

The goals for barley and rye are designed to provide the livestock feed necessary to maintain production at a high level.

Chairman Wilson urges Kent County farmers to use the goal figures as a guide in seeding their crops this fall and next spring. The figures have been arrived at after careful study of anticipated needs and the productive capacity of the land.

Farmers have been called on to produce maximum crops for 1952. To do this, it will require the best farming management that can be had. No new land is available to put into cultivation, and less manpower is very likely.

"The only way left to increase production is through the use of more farm machinery and the use of more electricity on the farms of the county. Steel for new machinery is very scarce, which brings us to a realization that if we are to have the necessary tools with which to work we must use our machinery wisely and well."

Del. Farm Girl Reports On Farm Life in Germany

Helen Samendinger of Newark, Delaware's international farm youth exchange delegate, is now living on a German farm less than a mile from the Iron Curtain.

In a letter to the Delaware agricultural extension service, Helen says, "The farm, most of which has been lost to the Russians, is now only 500 acres, and is a very scientific farm. My hosts, the van Scharfenburgs, are nobility. From my window it is not even a half a mile to the top of the hill where the Russian zone begins. We are the last place on the side where freedom still reigns."

In describing the farm, Helen writes, "There are 50 milk cows and 50 young stock, registered Holstein-Friesian cattle, several hundred Merino sheep, 15 horses, pigs, chickens, geese, two large tractors, and quite a bit of machinery."

Mr. Scharfenburg is president of the Hesse Chamber of Agriculture. He took me to his offices, and to a county fair where we saw some wonderful dairy cattle and a surprising amount of modern farm machinery. One day I spent with the county agent. Not all has been watching. I was shocking barley, and I have spent many hours in the kitchen helping Mrs. van Scharfenburg and the maids preserve some of the excellent currants, cherries, etc., which grow on the farm."

Helen concludes by saying, "All of the people I have talked to feel that the Marshall Plan was a blessing which enabled Germany to once more get on its feet, and all are grateful for his help, even though they see our many faults."

Research Insures Future Of Delaware Forests

The plant pathology department at the University of Delaware is helping to insure the future of Delaware's conifer forests.

In 1949, the seedbeds of the State Forest Nursery at Lincoln, were badly diseased. Sometimes as many as three-fourths of the young trees turned brown, shed their needles, and died.

Now R. S. Cox, of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, is finding out what causes the disease, and has also made progress on how to control it.

Right now, says Cox, the disease seems to be due to certain fungus organisms, and how much direct sunlight the seedlings get.

After finding fungi in the diseased young trees, Cox ran tests in the greenhouse. It was found that two of the fungi could kill the young trees.

Tests in the seedbed show that if shaded, the young trees grow healthier and sturdier. They escape drying out in summer and "freezing and thawing injury" in winter.

Says Cox, "A combination of soil-fumigation and proper shading will give us better stands of trees. We think too, that this might cut the plant bed period from three to two years."

Edgar Stubbs Buys Brown Swiss Bull

Edgar Stubbs, who lives just north of town on the Masten's Corner road, recently purchased a registered Brown Swiss bull, Buttonwood's Major 107335, according to Fred S. Idtse, secretary of the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders' Association. The purchase was made from H. Vaughan Ginn, Middletown.

Stubbs has a herd of 21 grade Jersey, Guernsey, and Holstein cows. He expects the bull to improve the breeding of the calves and hopes to buy a registered Swiss heifer or two later on. He sells his milk at Harrington.

Kent Farmers to Meet, Discuss Farm Policy

Four different groups of Kent County farmers will meet in the next two weeks to discuss our nation's farm policy. The meetings have been called by R. Harry Wilson, chairman of the Kent County agricultural mobilization committee.

At these meetings, farm people, and others interested in what happens on America's farms, will make suggestions to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They'll suggest parts of the government's program which ought to be expanded, and what should be cut down.

The first session is set for Aug. 16, in the Odd Fellows Hall, Smyrna. It will be followed today with a meeting at the Grange Hall in Dover; tomorrow at the Kenton School, Kenton, and Aug. 25 at the Millwood Community Hall, a mile north of Milford. All meetings are at 8 p. m., and the public is invited.

Other meetings in New Castle and Sussex Counties will be announced soon. After the local groups have made their suggestions, a state meeting will compile a report to go to Washington. All Delaware farmers have been urged to attend at least one of these meetings, and make their suggestions for our national farm policy.

There will be a meeting in Harrington today at 8 p. m., at the First National Bank Building on the farm policy program.

Fall Time To Seed Lawns Revised Bulletin Tells How

When it is time to reseed your lawn, agronomists that know say that "seeding on snow," and "sprinkling grass seed on the lawn in early spring" is a waste of seed.

William E. Tarbell, Kent County agricultural agent quotes University of Delaware agronomists as saying, "Wait until mid-August or early September."

C. E. Phillips of the University staff has worked out special lawn mixtures for different parts of Delaware. In a new revision of the bulletin on lawns, these mixtures, and complete care of lawns are listed. Stop in at the County Extension Office, Post Office Building in Dover, and get a copy of "Lawns," MC 50. Or write to the Bulletin Mailing Room, Wolf Hall, Newark.

Need Special Finish

Because the power tubes in television sets cause wide changes in the temperature of wood, cabinet manufacturers were faced with special problems. Ordinary cabinet finishes checked and cracked. Special television lacquers and sealers that are extremely tough and flexible have been developed. They are now used on both light and dark woods and are also employed on any furniture where the highest durability and quality of finish is desired.

Raw Cabbage

Raw cabbage rates very close to citrus fruits in vitamin C content, and also contributes small amounts of the B-vitamins, iron, and calcium to the diet.

Why Sunday?
Why do most Christians observe Sunday rather than Saturday? The custom of Sunday worship began in apostolic times as a weekly commemoration of Christ's resurrection. Most Christians have not regarded this change of days as signifying disrespect for the Commandment, "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy."

Parks Added

SHORT STORY
The O'Maddigan's
By Patrick J. O'Brien

TOMORROW is Flanagan's wake, and Kathy O'Maddigan recalled, as she hurried up the brownstone steps leading to the apartment where she and Paddy had lived since their marriage three years ago, this very day.

Kathy smiled as she visualized the new spring outfit she would wear at the gathering. Paddy was proud of her dress, too, even if he didn't say so. She knew he liked the way it emphasized her figure. Of course he had complained about the cost, adding: "If you want to waste money on clothes, you should have married a banker."

But the argument about the dress was not the real reason she had left. The breaking point was reached when Paddy had refused to buy the darling bonnet displayed in Murphy's window. "Ridiculous!" he said.

"Open this door! Do you hear me?" she shouted, pounding frantically on the warped panels. "It's not enough that I work myself to the bone so a body can have a decent home to live in. No, I must be locked out of my own home. My home, mind you!"

"Your home," Patrick O'Maddigan's voice vibrated through the thin partition. "Is it now? And only this morning you were ready to walk out of my house."

"When I get my hands on that stubborn neck of yours," Kathy O'Maddigan shouted, "I'll . . ."

"Sure now," Paddy said, "would you be wanting to harm your bread and butter?"

"Open this door, I say!" "In good time, woman," Paddy replied. "It's your Irish temper that has the best of you."

Saucy Mouse Sits On Trap, Sets Trade Wheels Turning

LONDON, Eng.—Because of an impertinent mouse, a Birmingham industrial plant is in disgrace.

The saucy creature sat on a British made mousetrap, ate the cheese and scampered away. The trap didn't click.

The man in Port of Spain who purchased the trap was angry. He took it to the British trade commissioner at Trinidad and pounded the table.

The trade commissioner could not snap it with a pencil, so he sent the trap 6,000 miles by air mail to the board of trade in London.

A civil servant worked all day to identify the manufacturer.

Then the trap went by post to the board of trade's Midland office. The regional technical officer couldn't make the trap snap, so he went with it to the factory.

The engineers were called into consultation. A wire wasn't bent just right. A touch of the pliers at the right spot was all that was needed.

Directors of the mousetrap company decided to put the offending trap into a glass case, and the man in Trinidad gets a new one.

"Our first complaint," said the general manager of the firm, which exports 13,500 mousetraps a week.

German Youths Make Home In Vault of Bombed Bank

FRANKFURT, Germany — A steel safe of a former local bank has become home to three young Germans.

The bank was blasted to bits by allied bombs in 1944, but under the pile of burned rubble the safe was left intact.

A young couple and a single friend found it and decided to make it their improvised home.

They had lived in parks and the railway station after coming to Frankfurt early in May. Their present home is 12 by 9 foot room 9 feet high.

"It took us a whole day's work to swing open the 500-pound steel door, so we could get in," said one of the refugees.

The door is left open all the time for air. A built-in gate of iron bars serves as door and window.

A wooden ladder leads down to the rubble covered ground outside.

Colorado and Columbine Colorado selected the white and lavender columbine as that state's official flower in 1899. No answer. "It was Patrick O'Maddigan, that's who it was. And all because I wanted the money to buy the hat."

"But the price, woman. I couldn't afford a week's wages for a bit of lace and cloth."

"Don't you want your wife to be the best dressed lady at the wake tomorrow?" Kathy asked.

"That I do. But could you not purchase a hat that's more reasonable in price?"

For the necessary financing to do this, we cordially invite him to come to us. We know his problems, understand his needs.
