

All Rental Housing Must Be Registered At Dover by December 1

Room Rentals Must Be Posted In Each Room in Tourist Homes, Boarding Houses, Hotels, Motels, etc.

Every type of rental housing accommodation in this area is subject to rent control and must be registered at the area rent office at 203 Lockerman St., Dover, by Dec. 1, it was revealed this week. Federal rent stabilization became effective Nov. 1 after a severe housing shortage was anticipated because of the planned expansion of Dover Air Base.

Types of rental housing include hotels, newly constructed houses and apartments, trailer courts, trailer spaces, motels, rooming houses, boarding houses, tourist homes, rooms in private homes.

John L. Walmsley, rent director for Delaware, emphasized that legal maximum rents for all housing accommodations in this area are those which were charged Aug. 1, 1950. From this base date, individual adjustments will be made if the landlord has made capital improvements or has increased his services to the tenant. By the same token, if it is proved that a landlord has decreased his services since the base date, the rent may be decreased.

Legal maximum rents for rooms in tourist homes, boarding houses, rooming houses, hotels and motels must be posted in each room or rental unit by Dec. 1.

A copy of the landlord's registration statement will be sent to the tenant by the area rent office, and if the tenant finds a substantial disagreement with the statements of the landlord, then he should make his comments on the back of his copy of the registration statement, sign it and return it to the rent office, Walmsley said. Further emphasizing the effect of rent stabilization in this area, Walmsley said that all tenants of rental housing accommodations are protected against illegal evictions and landlords who seek to evict a tenant must proceed accordance with the rent regulations. Any landlord or tenant having any question whatsoever is urged to come to the rent office and get the proper information.

67 Sussex Farmers In Corn Contest

Sixty-seven farmers, a record number, for Sussex County, are participating in the Delaware Corn Yield program this year. The program, designed to recognize and encourage cultural practices which will increase the efficiency of production of Delaware's No. 1 crop, is in its second year.

William Mitchell, assistant extension agronomist, cites results of last year's program, in which 150 farmers throughout the state took part, pointed out that profitable corn growing depended upon several factors, including: a good soil fertility program; use of suitable hybrid; early planting; enough plants per acre and adequate weed control.

Results at Dinner
Results of this year's program will be summarized at a dinner meeting which will be held in the Dover Grange Hall, Nov. 20, at 7 p. m.

Area locations and farmers participating in Sussex County are:

Milton-Taylor Vaughn, Charles Schlich, Delmar Jefferson; Seaford: Charles Workman, Clifton Foskey, Frank J. Workman, Raymond E. Gordy, Herbert Friedel, E. V. Stallard and W. T. Spitzer; Lawrence Workman, Edwin Williams; Georgetown: F. T. Warrington, Neal Warrington, C. A. Townsend, Floyd Williams, Charles Short, Clifton Sealey, Fred Sealey and Son; Millsboro: Everett Messick, John Revell, Townsend's, Inc.; Delmar: R. H. Hamptshire, Raleigh Ellis.

Milford: Robbins Webb, Mrs. Satche Bennett, Harbeson, Sam Sloan; Sellyville: Roland P. Galt; Greenwood: Medford Calhoun, Clifton Sealey, Fred Sealey, Arthur Cannon, Leroy Webb, Isaac E. Smith, Roy Barwick, Luther Lyons, John Lyons, E. Laird Kratz, Walter Mills, Allison Davis, Bill Swartzentruer, Mark Swartzentruer; Bridgeville: Milton D. Waller; Harrington: W. Cannon, Frank Friedel, Wilson Shockley, Earl White, Ralph Hill, O. A. Newton and Son, Leon Smith, Roland Russell.

New President

Earl E. Conley

Earl E. Conley, businessman, of Berlin, Md., who was recently elected president of Ocean Downs Raceway, at Ocean City, Md. Conley has been vice-president of the plant since its erection in 1949. He succeeds James E. Douglas, whose resignation as a member of the board of directors was accepted last week. Rudy Brittingham, of Ocean City, has been made a director and has been elected treasurer of the track.

Rotarians Hear About Guard

"In times of disaster the National Guard is available for duty in any part of the United States," said Major Pitten, head of that organization in this section of the country, told the Harrington Rotary Club Tuesday evening.

"Though this peninsula is not likely to have severe storms or floods, they can come. If and when they do come, it is a comfort to know that organized help is close at hand. If a child should be lost in a forest, the whole unit will conduct a systematic search."

Harrington is to have Battery C of the National Guards stationed at the Kent & Sussex Fair Grounds as soon as arrangements can be completed. Aside from its availability in times of stress, the unit will be of much value to Harrington on a commercial angle, for, with full personnel, it will mean an outlay of something like $90,000 annually in this community.

Bob VanCleaf, chaplain in the National Guard, was program chairman of the evening.

Song Publication Writes Up Short

Writing in a publication catering to members of the song-writing profession, one Bob Eisler says of Harrington's Sam Short Jr.:

"Note to all disc jockeys, this area: Samuel A. Short, Jr., of Harrington, who would like to be known as Delaware's very own song writer, informs me that he has really hit it with his latest effort, 'The Del-Mar-Va Polka.'"

"The tune, with both words and music by Sam is hot off the presses of the Grimes Publishing Co., Philadelphia, and will soon be out on the Blue Hen label which Sam selected himself because, as you all know, Delaware is known as the Blue Hen State."

"That isn't all. Sam is about to come out with the 'Del-Mar-Va Waltz.' He has also published a love type ballad titled 'If The Moon Could Tell' which has been recorded on the Pyramid label by Monte Caesar. On this one Sam had some help from two fellows by the name of Paul Johnson and Charlie Buck."

"Now what Sam would like from all of you platter spinners is a little well placed plug for some of his records. He hopes to have the whole peninsula singing the two namesake tunes, thereby putting the whole peninsula, and incidentally, Sam, on the map."

"Just to give you an idea here's a sample from the 'Del-Mar-Va Polka.'"

From Maine to California,
From Texas to Alaska state.
You'll hear the new Dance mania,
The Del-Mar-Va Polka they call great."

Sapp Painting Achieves Note

Donald Sapp, senior at the Harrington Special School District, received state recognition of one of his paintings at the recent meeting of the Delaware State Education Association in Wilmington.

Donald, who was one of the 12 children chosen from various schools in Delaware, exhibited an abstract painting which was used in the opening and closing of the meeting conducted by Miss Helen Parkhurst, internationally known authority on art education.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Sapp of near town, and has been painting for the past two years under the direction of H. Draper Williams, art instructor at the Harrington Schools.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

Lucky me! Home again. As much as a home as any horse man's wife knows, but back to Harrington is just as good. Why walking downtown greeting the town folks makes you feel good all over again. I believe they really enjoy having us come in.

The first to greet me was Dr. Chamberlin, Alton Downs, Mr. Cahall, Mrs. Warrington, Jeanette, Irene, Mr. Harrington, Reese, and all the post office gang. Mrs. Burgess, at the Journal Office, busy as a bee, but had time for a chat.

Dave and Gene Anderson in a huddle at Irene's Restaurant. Horses, of course.

Tina, is your doggie on its good behavior this fall?

Just in time to catch Sam Short buzzing around the corner. A very cheery hello from Sam.

Benny Moore, same ole Benny, always busy, but gee, he's loads of fun. (Dave's pal).

Norris Adams came out to the track, paid a nice visit saying he was glad we were back.

I always enjoy going to the Peoples Restaurant for before you are in there long, someone will come in there you know. Was glad to visit with Hazel and Johnnie. Thanks for the swell breakfast in the house, Hazel.

I knew I'd find Mr. Paskey with a cup of tea. Mr. Miller, John Holloway, and that Bobby Hobbs.

Was over to our general manager's office, and as usual, Britt Holloway was very busy, but leave it to a good fellow like him to stop and make you feel at home. You know, two-thirds of your staying anywhere is to have a good fellow like Britt on the other end. Just like Mrs. Earl Thomas over at the office, she is just as friendly as can be. One thing sure, we have a good personnel ahead of our winter quarters.

Hey, Mr. Jerread, is it true, papers are cheaper? Say a penny! Sorry to hear Randall Knox and Mr. Price are ill. Speedy recovery to you both.

There isn't much news until the sole is over at Harrisburg. Most all the horsemen are up there. I'm not going, just to listen to that loudspeaker all day, but not that I wouldn't enjoy seeing who and what goes on.

When we left Batavia last Sunday, think we were the last to get out before the bad storm. It certainly was hectic. Even the races were called off because of a heavy snow last Saturday night.

Here's one for the books, we stopped to eat at a very swanky place on the way down. Of all things, the waitress took the crackers out of her apron pocket. We certainly had a good laugh over that.

Bobby Jester Returns

Bobby Jester received an honorable discharge from the armed forces last week and has returned home. After being stationed in Hawaii, he was hospitalized at Wright Field, Dayton, O. Before enlisting in the Air Corps, he was employed in the office of the Kent & Sussex Fair Association. He says he will take a rest before going to work.

Save Sight

Eyesight is priceless, the Better Vision Institute declares, yet the amount of money spent on care of the skin, hair, and feet far exceeds that spent on vision. Over a lifetime, the cost of eye-care is much less than dental or medical expenses.

3 Seward Children Die in Canterbury Fire

Three children were burned to death and their father received burns of the hands and arms in attempting to rescue them as fire destroyed their two-story frame house on the Magnolia-Canterbury Road east of Canterbury shortly before 7 o'clock Wednesday night.

The children are Louis Ronald Seward, 3; his brother, John William Seward, 2, and his year-old sister, Maragaret Ann Seward. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Seward.

State police and Kent County Coroner William Fleischauer, Jr., are conducting an investigation of the fire which is believed may have been started by an exploding oil stove in the kitchen of the four-room house.

Three Children in Bed

The three children were all in bed when the fire started. When firemen from the Felton Fire Company were able to battle their way into the flaming house they found the body of one of the children lying on a burned mattress, the kitchen having fallen from the floor above when the ceiling collapsed. The body of another child was found lying at the bottom of the stairs while the body of the baby was re-

Chosen Friends Lodge No. 35

I. O. O. F.

Chosen Friends Lodge of the I. O. O. F. will give a party Thursday evening to its sister lodge, the Rebekahs, it was decided at a meeting Thurs., Nov. 1, when Noble Grand Joe Penny presided for the first time since his recent installation.

Penny named Bill Lyons, George Tatman, and Carlton Goodhand to a refreshment committee and instructed the activity committee to furnish entertainment for the occasion.

John Shaffer was appointed captain of the dartball team and a practice game was played.

Brother Penny asked for the all-out support of every member during his term of office.

Mrs. Margaret B. Dearman

Mrs. Margaret Bundy Dearman, 78, died suddenly Tuesday while visiting the home of a near neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. George Zott, near Greenwood. She had been in poor health for some months, but seemed improved, and her death came as a shock to the community.

She was born at Jamestown, N. C., the daughter of Shubal and Mary Alexander Bundy, but had resided in this community for the past 30 years. She was a practical nurse and had served many in this vicinity.

Her husband, William A. Dearman, died about 6 years ago.

Funeral services will be held at the Boyer Funeral Home, Harrington, this afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. Alden Hopkins, Jr., pastor of Todd's Chapel Methodist Church, near Greenwood. Interment will be in the adjoining cemetery.

She is survived by a son, Charles Dearman, of Greenwood; a sister, Mrs. Nana Walters, of Concord, N. C., and several nieces and nephews.

Felton Avon Club Notes

The Avon Club of Felton met at the Community Hall Wed., Oct. 31. At the business meeting it was voted to give $10 for a CARE package for Korea. Mrs. Albert Warren told about plans for the bazaar, to be held Sat., Dec. 1. Mrs. Larry Legates, chairman of safety, was in charge of the program. Her assistants were Mrs. Ida Hughes, Mrs. H. Masten, Mrs. Courtland Dill and Mrs. Lester Dill.

George Ayars, of the Delaware Safety Council, spoke briefly on traffic safety, drivers education in Delaware and on home safety, after which he showed a film on community safety called "A Closed Book."

The next meeting will be held Wed., Nov. 14, with Mrs. Clifford Simpler, education chairman, in charge of the program. Mrs. Ralph S. Baker, of Georgetown, who is state chairman of the guidance division, will be the guest of education, will be the guest speaker. Please bring your donation for the Palmer Home at this club meeting.

The bodies were practically burned beyond recognition, according to the coroner's office.

Seward was treated at the office of Dr. W. T. Chipman, Harrington, for his burns said to have been received when he attempted to rescue his children.

The fire was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Ealey Killen of Wyoming, who were driving past the house. They drove to the home of Byron W. Frazier near Canterbury who called the firemen.

Mother Receives News
The call for help came through a Felton service station where the mother of the children, Edith Seward, had just driven in from her home. She was informed that her home was ablaze and immediately returned to find the place in flames.

Another child, Howard Seward, 12 years old, who was at home after the mother left, said he heard the baby crying and left the house to go to a Canterbury store to buy some milk for the child. As he was returning, he said he observed flames shooting from the dwelling.

Distribution Started of Highway Map

R. A. Haber, chief engineer of the State Highway Department, has announced that the department has started distribution of the new road map for 1952 and 1953 in a style and form that is entirely different from any previous map issued by the department.

The new map is printed in colors instead of the black and white as in previous years. It is the same size as former maps and is folded in the same manner.

One half of the back of the map contains seven pictures in color and has the Blue Hen superimposed on the area devoted to printed description. A picture of the Delaware River Memorial Bridge occupies the top portion while views showing a bathing scene at Rehoboth, the Legislative Building at Dover, the Memorial Library at the University of Delaware, a Dover Day event on the Dover Green, a sailing scene on Rehoboth Bay and the Japanese Cherry blossoms in Brandywine Park, Wilmington, are around the sides.

The back portion of the map is given over to the rules of the road, safety regulations, state police locations and telephone numbers and a small area map of surrounding states.

The map itself, also printed in colors, is believed to be the most complete one ever issued since it contains every known public highway in the state with the different types of roads being plainly indicated.

New portions of dual highways, now under construction but expected to be completed this year, are shown on the map. All of the state forests and public park lands are plainly marked while the points of interest are shown in colors at their various locations. Particular emphasis is given to the Delaware River Memorial Bridge and to its location with respect to the major cities on the eastern seaboard.

An outline map showing the mileage between points in the state is used instead of the former boxed type label. Likewise there is a map showing main highway connections for travel through the city of Wilmington.

On the sides of the map are notations showing the latitude and longitude listings for the area covered by the State of Delaware.

Distribution of the map has started and copies are available to the public without charge.

Catherine Truitt Weds Pfc. Kling

Miss Catherine Wilhelmina Truitt, daughter of Mrs. Earl Mc-Nichols, of Harrington, and Pfc. Joseph Kling Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kling, of Wyoming, were married at 9 p. m. Friday by the Rev. Lawson Jump, in his parsonage, at Denton.

Benjamin Roland, of Viola, was best man, while Miss Janette Wyatt, of Harrington, was bridesmaid.

Pfc. and Mrs. Kling will make their home in Harrington, but Mr. Kling is in the Engineers Corps of the U. S. Army, at Ft. Worden, Wash.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening.

Oyster Roast To Accompany Moose Initiation

Some 50 persons will be initiated into the Harrington Moose No. 534, Loyal Order of Moose, Sunday at 2 p. m., at the lodge's home on U. S. 13. A degree team from the Salisbury lodge will officiate. An oyster roast will follow the ceremony.

Landowners Can Receive Seedlings From State Nursery

The State Forestry Department today announced that the State Forestry Commission, acting under authorization granted by the 1951 General Assembly, has voted to amend the department's nursery stock distribution policy so as to permit free distribution of seedlings grown at the state forest tree nursery under the same terms of agreement with landowners as heretofore applied to stock grown and distributed by the department. The $2.20 per thousand seedlings formerly charged for such stock failed to reflect the actual value of these seedlings and was regarded by many tree planters as a deterrent to reforestation progress.

At the same meeting the commission authorized the department to arrange for one or more tree planting machines to be available to landowners on a rental basis of 50c per thousand trees or $5 per day.

The remittance made with seeding orders filed with the department for 1952 spring distribution will be returned to the applicants and a new type of order and agreement blank will be prepared for use of Delaware planters for the 1952 spring distribution.

Two Burglaries At Milford

Milford police are investigating two weekend burglaries, one of a clothing store and the other a theatre, which netted the thieves only $2 in cash but some $200 worth of clothing.

They have one slim clue in the robbery early Saturday morning of the Coffman-Fisher Store, located on the bridge on Walnut Street. He was apparently a skinny little chap who could squeeze through a tight place and made sure of his size in suits.

At the Shore Theatre, the thief's only interest was in cash. Entrance was gained at the store through a door window after the glass was removed. It was a side-door along a catwalk over the river which was not used as cases containing shoes had been built against it.

The burglar squeezed through the shelving after taking the glass out of the door.

A number of men's suits, shirts, and sweaters were taken. The suits stolen were all 36 inch size coats, with 31-inch trousers, passing up larger sizes.

The Shore Theatre on South West Front Street was entered sometime after 1 a. m. Saturday. The $2 was found missing from a cabinet. Calvin Ball, the manager stated that everything else was passed up except money.

Entrance was gained here by prying open the front door, and also the office door. It appeared as if they had been pried open with a large screw driver.

A small screwdriver of an unusual pattern was left in the office presumably by the burglars.

Mrs. Hannah S. Morris

Mrs. Hannah Schumaker Morris, 66, died at her home near Farmington Tuesday afternoon, after an illness of two months.

She was born in Pennsylvania, the daughter of Eugene and Louise Schumaker, but had resided in the Andrewville neighborhood for the past 60 years.

She was an employee of the Ace Manufacturing Company, Harrington, for many years.

Funeral services will be held at the Boyer Funeral Home, Harrington, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Edwin C. Thomas, pastor of Methodist Church, Andrewville.

She is survived by her husband, Clifford Morris, of Farmington; two sons, Willis and Woodrow Morris, of Farmington; a daughter, Mrs. Harry Silbereisen, of Milford, and a granddaughter, a niece and nephew, and a sister, Mrs. Frank Vincent Sr. of Farmington.

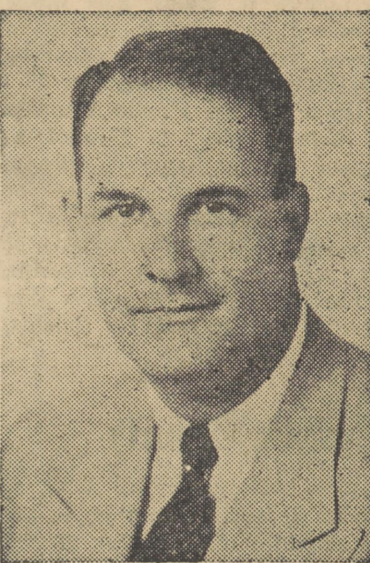

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening.

PRR Anxious to Banish Unnecessary Smoke, Superintendent Tells City

Says Management Is Making Concerted Drive on Division To Eliminate the Nuisance

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel

Carvel to Head March of Dimes

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel will lead Delaware in the 1952 March of Dimes, it was announced this week by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

As Delaware chairman, Governor Carvel will co-ordinate the fund-raising activities of March of Dimes campaign directors throughout the state.

Delaware polio patients are served by three county chapters of the National Foundation. These are the Kent County chapter with headquarters in Dover; the New Castle County chapter with headquarters in Wilmington; and the Sussex County chapter with headquarters in Georgetown.

When we are able to definitely prove that an employee is violating existing instructions we intend to apply corrective discipline, but this requires proof of the exact time of the violation, locomotive number, density of the smoke, duration of the offense and exact location of the locomotive at the time of the violation. If at any time you are able to furnish me with the above information concerning an unnecessary smoke nuisance in your community I will be glad to handle same for correction.

I cannot promise you the elimination of all smoke from our railroad going through your community as there is a certain amount of smoke which is inherent to a steam railroad operation, but I can assure you that I am working to the end to eliminate all unnecessary smoke, which is usually that which the community objects to, and will be glad for any cooperation from you which will prove a direct violation of our existing rules.

Thanking you for your cooperation, I remain

Yours truly,
M. H. Lingenfelter
Superintendent.

City employees will receive the benefits of social security, it was divulged at the Monday evening meeting. The employees, who have granted their consent, will pay 1½ per cent of their salaries each month, with this sum being matched by the City.

The Council also agreed to pay for the current to light the Christmas decorations for the town, a practice it has been following in former years. Committees from the Harrington Business Association, the American Legion, the Rotary Club, and the Lions Club will meet tonight to discuss plans for a Christmas program for the community.

Reese Theatre Has New Mom and Dad Tickets Thurs. & Fri. Family Nights

Always doing the unusual, and sometimes bordering on the sensational, the Reese Theatre, located at Harrington, comes forth with what might be termed the "Family Big Deal."

From now until Christmas, according to the management, Thursday and Friday evenings are to be designated as Family Nights. A family may purchase a "Mom and Dad" ticket for $1.20 (tax incl.) which admits mother and dad and all the children under 15 years. All others must pay regular prices.

For years this popular theatre has catered to the family, and with this offer, it looks as if "Home-itis" as well as "inflation" is erased from the family scheme of things, affording the family great happiness and entertainment for many weeks to come.

U. S. vs. France
For two years, 1798-1800, the United States carried on an undeclared naval war with France. It was caused by conflicting interpretations of Revolutionary commercial treaties. The defeat of the frigate La Vengeance was one of the principal engagements; privates really carried on the war.

Keep Floor Clean
Dripping oil does not damage a cement floor, but it is unsightly and may be dangerous because one might slip on it. To remove it first scrape up all that you can. Then soak with kerosene, or some similar solvent, and apply absorbent powder to draw out the remaining oil. Such oil-absorbent powder can be obtained at most garages or filling stations.

New Is the Time
Summertime is the logical time to check furnaces and heating units in all homes and buildings.

Harrington Defeats Wesley Junior College
By R. McCready

Harrington High journeyed to Dover to defeat Wesley Junior College in a scrimmage game by a score of 3-0. The goals were made by Shaw and Carpenter on excellent drives while Willey scored on a penalty kick.

This game completed the Harrington season with a record of 5-0 for a perfect season.

This year Harrington scored 18 goals against the opponents 3, making Harrington the highest scorer in this vicinity.

Gratitude goes to the team and especially to the graduating seniors playing their last season who are Carpenter, Willey, Wilson and Smith.

In appreciation of turning in an undefeated season, Coach Hart gave the team a turkey dinner Nov. 1. Following the dinner there was entertainment and a swell time was had by all.

A. A. Dance

The Athletic Club is having a come as you are dance tonight in the high-school auditorium. The dance will take place at 8 o'clock and last until 11. There will be fun and entertainment for all, so I'll be seeing you at the dance.

Bronze, Copper, Aluminum Screens

Ever notice how screen frames get stained from the metal oxide that forms and washes down—discoloring the painted surfaces? You can stop this by applying boiled linseed oil mixture to bronze, copper or aluminum screening. Wipe off excess with soft cloth.

ARMISTICE DAY

NOVEMBER 11, 1918

On this day in World War I, the curtain of peace came quickly down upon the cruel scenes of war's death and devastation. Would that this great curtain could remain down forever! We need this day as an annual reminder that the blessings of peace are richly worth all they cost in time, effort, tact and forbearance.

(No business will be transacted by this bank on Monday, in observance of Armistice Day.)

LAND REFORM

BACKGROUND: A 6-week Conference on World Land Tenure Problems is being held by the University of Wisconsin in cooperation with the Economic Cooperation Administration, the Technical Cooperation Administration of the Department of State, and the Department of Agriculture. More than 40 countries are represented.

In the past year a resolution on land reform adopted by the U. N. Economic and Social Council, which was introduced and strongly supported by the United States, covered these points: (1) efficient size of farm units; (2) security of tenure on the land; (3) the right to the opportunity to acquire ownership of land by the man who works it; (4) clear title to land and water; (5) adequate credit at reasonable rates; (6) more efficient marketing methods; and (7) equitable taxes on land and its produce.

Conference Statements

The following remarks were made during the first week of the conference in Madison, except for the statement by Secretary Acheson which was issued in Washington, D. C.

... By Secretary Dean Acheson:

For 6 weeks, men and women from 50 countries are going to be studying at this conference what can be done about problems having to do with land use and land ownership.

We think this is worth widespread attention because this project is a first-rate example of people-to-people diplomacy which grows right out of our own American experience.

These are matters which directly affect the lives of three-quarters of the world's population. For millions of people in the world, there is no more urgent problem than the impoverishment resulting from primitive methods of cultivation of the land under antiquated systems of land ownership.

... By Willard L. Thorp, Assistant Secretary of State for Economic Affairs

The United States has no special responsibility for and no unique competence in solving land problems the world over. . . . We have, however, encouraged and supported the land reform programs of other nations. We will continue that encouragement and support. You may be sure that we will continue, as we have in the past, to support land reforms through international organizations such as the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council, and the Food and Agriculture Organization.

We want to do more than this to encourage genuine land reform. In the past the United States Government has provided technical aid in connection with problems of economic and social organization, as well as the technological problems involved in land tenure and related fields. . . . We will continue to do these things. We will do whatever else we can appropriately do to encourage and assist programs which show promise of bringing lasting benefits to farm people and of enhancing the role of agriculture in the national economy.

... By Dr. Henry G. Bennett, Administrator of TCA:

What is practical and attainable for every farmer, either as owner or as tenant, is the opportunity to work the land under conditions that provide him with the incentive and the means to farm efficiently, to conserve and improve the soil, and to obtain a fair share of the fruits of his labor for himself and his family. . . . This is a practical objective. . . . The means of reaching it are varied and flexible enough to be applied in all countries and under all conditions.

... By Dennis A. Fitzgerald, Assistant Administrator, ECA:

Internal political and economic stability stand out as of prime importance to optimum domestic investment in agriculture, just as they do in providing an attractive climate for foreign investment. . . . (But) a wide range of improvement in agricultural economic institutions themselves is possible without excessive capital investment.

... By Clarence J. McCormick, Under Secretary of Agriculture:

This great hope of the world is the knowledge that something can be done—not tomorrow but now—to increase food supplies and lessen world hunger. . . . The problem of land . . . can be solved.

Hickman

Rally Day and Harvest Home will be observed in Hickman M. E. Church Sun., Nov. 11, at 2 p. m. There will be some special singing and recitations. All donations for Harvest Home will go to our pastor, the Rev. Roy Phillips. Everybody feel welcome to come.

FALLING LEAVES

By Samuel A. Short, Jr., Harrington, Del.

Falling leaves of silver and gold, Leaving the branches you've grown to, YOUR time is spent we've been told, As you fall like you do.

Falling leaves is just a memory, Of summer days just gone, Reminding us of things that's now history That this old year is slipping along.

Falling leaves that gave us shade, In summer, when day's were hot, 'Tis farewell to you we humbly bade, As you fall to the ground to rot.

Falling leaves we know you're not through, And your work is far from being done, You must go, we know, you're depended upon, To feed the earth you cover, 'yes everyone.

Falling leaves that gave us shade, In summer, when day's were hot, 'Tis farewell to you we humbly bade, As you fall to the ground to rot.

Falling leaves we know you're not through, And your work is far from being done, You must go, we know, you're depended upon, To feed the earth you cover, 'yes everyone.

The annual home coming at Trinity Methodist Church was a morning and afternoon service and each was well attended and characterized by the grace of Christian fellowship. At the evening service the Rev. Edward S. Gault, a former pastor here, centered his thoughts of true home coming about the words humility, faith and prayer. These were interpreted as the qualities making any home coming worthwhile.

With Mrs. Lester L. Carlisle Sr. at the organ console the choir gave a fine anthem "The Lord Is Great." Mrs. Carlisle again gave an excellent organ accompaniment when she played for the vocal trio, Messrs. John Woodrow, Clarence Person and Arthur Melvin, which sang at the afternoon service. The choir gave the anthem "Oh Give Thanks Unto the Lord." Rev. Gault addressed the group by speaking at the afternoon gathering. The Rev. Roy L. Jones, pastor, presided at both times.

Mrs. Edith Melvin had as her Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Phranton, of Federalsburg, and Miss Mary E. B. Melvin, of Wilmington.

Mrs. George R. Miller Jr., state regent of the DAR, attended the state conference last Saturday at Grace Fellowship Hall, Wesley Church, Dover. Luncheon at 12:30 was followed by a meeting.

Mrs. Emma Taylor, of Philadelphia, is visiting at the McQueen Rest Home.

Last week the Murderkill Lions Club had a meeting which brought the spirit of this organization's value of "service" very close to the ideals of what the local club has been endeavoring to accomplish. District governor, Robert Baynum, of Milford, paid the club his first official visit.

Several members of the Milford club accompanied him. Other distinguished guests gave short statements on the principles of Lions and all discussion terminated in the one theme: "Very often the small efforts mean as much as the large effort." Guests were immediate past district governor, Frank Horty, of Wilmington; deputy district governor, William Davies, of Laurel; zone chairman, Earl Banks, of Delmar; deputy district governor, Paul Stuart, of Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Thompson, of Thompsonville, and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Patterson, of Milford, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Josephine Carey.

The sudden change in the weather, from the three days steady rain to freezing temperatures and snow, caused some local nature lovers to be caught unawares. Consequently chrysanthemums and other late flowering plants were ruined by the weather.

Mrs. William W. Wilson returned Saturday from a week spent with her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Hodgson, of Brookline, Pa. Mrs. Hodgson remained for a weekend with the Wilsons and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gerow, after accompanying Mrs. Wilson here.

Miss Elizabeth Jane Gerow, of Boston, Mass., is spending this weekend with her parents, the J. C. Gerows.

Miss Dorothy Warren, of the University of Delaware, was with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Warren, last weekend.

Mrs. I. W. Betts Sr., who has been ill for two weeks with tonsillitis, is out-of-doors now.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Burris Spurry and their son, Freddie, were Rev. and Mrs. Edward S. Gault and son, Rev. and Mrs. Roy L. Jones, Miss Lizzie Lank and Mrs. Helen S. Carlisle.

Mrs. Beulah H. Robbins, chairman of the recent firemen's supper, states that more than $500 dollars was realized therefrom.

Safeguard Mudguards
Both the upper and under surfaces of automobile mudguards should be inspected frequently for the presence of rust. These portions of the car are subjected to strenuous wear. The tires are constantly splashing water and hurrying dust and small stones at them. Keeping the mudguards painted prevents rust from gaining a foothold there, keeps the appearance up and maintains the resale value.

Pick-Up
Bits of thread, ravelings and pieces of yarn which cling to the rug with fierce persistence may be quickly removed by pressing the sticky edge of cellophane tape down on the litter. Angora fuzz may be removed from clothing by the same method. In fact, transparent tape is a good substitute for brush on any dark colored clothing. Wrap strips of the tape around the hand, sticky side out.

FARM NEWS AND REVIEW

Phillips Wins Greener Pastures Contest For Wicomico County

Here we see the broad sweep of an 80-acre pasture. This is one of the number of pastures entered in the Greener Pastures Contest by Mr. Phillips. Even in the picture we can see how lush and soil-covering these fine grasses are. And the cattle indicate they like these grasses . . . and fatten on them pretty fast. A continuous program of land enrichment and land care help keep these pastures in the excellent grazing condition in which we see them here.

Cattle are like people: Keep them well fed and they'll be happy and easy to handle. Mr. Farmer shows how tractable this big purebred bull is. This herd of Herefords is part of Mr. Phillips' cattle growing business. Shown with Mr. Farmer are Raymond Clark (left and Edgar Pusey.

On the westerly side of Wicomico County lies Catch Penny Farm. To this farm, and to its proud owner, H. Lay Phillips, came a signal honor this year. It was awarded the "Greener Pastures" prize for Wicomico County. And a visit to the rolling acres, the green fields, the grazing Herefords and an experimental sheep flock, quickly shows why it won the prize.

Robert E. Farmer, manager of Catch Penny Farm, expressed the innate pride of the good farmer when he said, "Land is like a child: If you want it to grow up good, you've got to give it a lot of attention, and keep the weeds out of it." The sweeping fields of green grass show that Mr. Farmer, along with Edgar Pusey and Raymond Clark do an outstanding job.

"How do you get such a fine stand of grass?" was one of the questions asked Mr. Farmer.

"It's a slow process. We start out with fertilizer after the field has been plowed and prepared for seed. Then we seed with rye grass, Ladino clover, orchard grass, and English clover. This gives a fine-root grass combination that holds to the ground when the cattle take hold to eat it. It also keeps chances of erosion down."

"What's the hardest part of keeping the grasses right for grazing?" we asked Mr. Farmer.

"Holding the pasture to right grazing lengths is a big problem. You've got to keep the cattle moving from pasture to pasture. You've got to make sure a pasture isn't over-grazed, too. Cattle like to eat grass that is about two to three inches long. But if it gets longer than that they won't eat it. And it won't keep its deep green color during the latter part of the summer. You know, when hot August suns hit the grasses, they brown quickly. But by watching this, and hoping for the right amount of rain, we don't do too badly getting green grasses."

When asked what time of the year cattle are first put out to pasture, Mr. Farmer said that generally it's about the middle of March; and that the cattle graze until some time into November. That gives them around eight months or a little more on grass.

"How about winter weather. Does that bother the grass much?" Mr. Farmer was asked.

"If it's a wet and freezing winter, it tends to destroy the turf, and also kill some of the grass. Now snow does the opposite. A long-lasting snow will keep the grass green and give as pretty a pasture as you want to see when spring comes along. We fertilize the pastures during the winter. We use a fertilizer spreader that we made, or a lime spreader and put between 400 and 500 pounds to the acre on our pastures. Besides having plant food value in the fertilizer that helps keep the grass growing right through the winter. You know grass will put out right in the middle of winter."

Before sowing grass seed with a cyclone seeder, Mr. Farmer runs a rotary hoe over the pasture. This "scratches" the ground some, and makes it easy for grass seed to take root" is the way he explains it. When the grass gets too long, they run a mower over the fields. Mowing also cuts out such things as stick weeds, although the only way to clean a field of stick weed is to pull the darn stuff, Mr. Farmer advises.

For best feeding results, Mr. Farmer estimates that about two head per acre produces the maximum beef, with the least damage to the pasture grasses.

As an experiment, which would certainly be frowned upon in the far west, the Catch Penny Farm has a flock of 64 sheep. Some people say these will be more profitable than heaves. Asked to explain that, Mr. Farmer said he understood that a sheep will average around $35 a season with its wool and its lamb. If that is so, it may be that the Shore is in for another "crop" from our farms.

The broad acres of Catch Penny Farm are fenced in with wire on creosoted posts. "These posts cost less and will last much longer than mostly any other kind of post we can get out here," Mr. Farmer pointed out.

In observing the modern applications of farming, it seemed that H. Lay Phillips could easily change the name of his Catch Penny Farm to "Catch Dollar Farm," for his operation exemplifies what scientific farming can

An experiment with sheep. Here a wary ram leads off at a gallop his flock of 63 sheep. If the profit from sheep proves as good as Mr. Phillips and Mr. Farmer have been led to believe, it may be that before many more years, the whole Catch Penny Farm will be tenanted with sheep.

drive away. "See that baby deer 'pull buggy' out of that herd of cattle. When you find deer feeding among the cattle, they like the taste of the grass."

Apparently the judges liked the looks of these fine pasture lands, too. They could hardly have made a better selection than to award H. Lay Phillips the first prize for the county in the Greener Pastures Contest. Catch Penny Farm deserved that honor.—The Tiller, published by Wm. B. Tilghman Co.

Tarburton Steers Sell at $34

John G. Tarburton and his son, Leon, were in Dover Monday where they bought nine Angus feeder steers, averaging about 900 pounds, from Rudnick Livestock Sales Co. The son said they planned to feed these steers out this winter. Also purchased were eight head of 400-pound Hereford stock steers.

The Tarburtons marketed 10 steers, averaging 1090 pounds, at $34 this week. These cattle had been run on Ladino, ryegrass, roughed on hay and silage during the winter and were fed corn and barley the past two months. The Tarburtons also have 53 other steers at home.

Powell Cashes In On Pumpkins

Granville Powell, of Roxana, has finished harvesting 23 acres of squash pumpkins and is now shucking his corn. After he gets that job done, he and Mrs. Powell will make Christmas wreaths until about Dec. 20. Powell harvested 286 tons of pumpkins which sold from $10 to $13 per ton to a cannery.

Bob Nelson Works Out Extensive Pasture, Silage Program to Supply His Large Dairy and Beef Herds

Robert J. Nelson, manager of the Nelson Farm at Whiteleysburg, doesn't believe in "putting all his eggs in one basket." Rather, he is developing a diversified farm plan to utilize all the feed he can produce to maintain the many livestock he plans to carry on the farm, says Pet Dairy Chats.

In late spring this year, he bought the farm from Alfred Bilbrough, who in the past few years has developed a good producing dairy farm.

The 300-acre farm with 285 acres of tillable land is well adapted to grassland farming. Knowing this, Bob Nelson has set about to further expand his pasture land so adequate pasture will be available for grazing and surplus for grass silage. Basic seeding is Ladino clover and orchard grass, managed so that maximum growth will be available through most of the growing season. The plan doesn't include cash grain crops or corn. Barley and oats will be grown for home utilization. Corn will be grown for grain ration and silage, but the farm isn't expected to produce enough corn to supply the entire need.

Milk production won't be the sole source of income. Bob and his able assistant, George Wolf, are developing a breeding program rather foreign to this area. With previous experience crossing Brahma cattle with dairy and beef cattle, they are using Brahma bulls on the lower producing cows and first-calf heifers to produce a heavier and harder calf for the veal market.

Dairy replacements will come from the higher producing cows by breeding them to production-bred bulls. At present, there are about 100 dairy animals, 35 milking, with a daily production of about 800 pounds. For the next two months, the herd's freshening schedule is pretty well filled.

Agronomist Explains Hybrid Seed Corn Labeling Order

As hybrid corn use has expanded, there has been more and more confusion as to variety names and background of hybrid seed corn. Farmers have often found that the supposedly new and better hybrid was just an old one with a new name. A new federal order on labeling hybrid seed corn. Farmers have often help correct this. Claude E. Phillips, agronomist with the Delaware agricultural extension service, explains the order thus:

New names for old varieties will not be recognized under the Federal Seed Act—unless the names were in use before Oct. 20, 1951. Varieties introduced after that date may be labeled only under the one name by which they are introduced. No new names for old varieties will be recognized.

The variety of corn does not have to be shown on the label, but if it does, it must be correct. This prohibits the use of variety names which are not correct, or which are misleading, and thus will standardize one variety name all over the country. Names used by dealers in the past for one variety will be considered synonyms. Commercial breeders will not be asked to give the pedigrees of their hybrids, but a variety sold under a given name will be expected to have the same characteristics year after year.

Farmers can take advantage of these laws, said Phillips, by learning the best varieties for their requirements, then learning under which names these varieties can legally appear.

Farm Front News

An air view of the Charles H. McMahan farm on the Maryland Road, west of Dover, about two weeks after the Soil Conservation Demonstration, Sept. 27.

The picture was taken shortly after a heavy rain, and water can be seen flowing in the ditches, with none standing in the fields.

Howard L. Boggs, District Conservationist of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, points out that the poorly drained soil on the farm is indicated by the darker areas on the ground. It is known to conservation technicians as Pocomoke Silt Loess and is distinguished by a high underground water table which does not leave much room for rain water to soak into the ground. The surface water must therefore be drained off to permit cultivation and improve the aeration of the soil, permitting organic matter to disintegrate properly, thus improving the fertility and productivity of the soil.

Main outlet ditches alongside a farm will not accomplish this result, Mr. Boggs states, but, in addition, field ditches must be constructed in the fields, as are shown in fields numbered 1, 4, 7, 10 and 13.

Careful observation at experiment stations have proven that to achieve the desired results these ditches must start with a depth of 24 inches and must be spaced not over 150 feet apart on this type of soil. A fall of not less than one to two tenths of one per cent, or one foot fall in 1000 feet of ditch must be obtained to carry off the water. Sometimes, this results in three or four feet of depth at high places in the field or at the end of a long ditch.

These facts answer questions asked by many people who attended the Field Day and will be of general interest to farmers operating in similar soil conditions throughout the state. Mr. Boggs commented that many farmers are satisfied with main outlet ditches, but neglect the field ditches so necessary to successful operation and proper drainage in this type of soil.

The conservation farm plan prepared by the Soil Conservation Service also indicates crops which can be best produced on the various types of soil on the farm and their proper rotation, together with pasture improvement and management. On the farm pictured above, pastures 3, 4 and 5 were relocated to provide rotation grazing and ready access from the barn. Woodland and wildlife management, as suggested by the State Forestry Department and the State Game and Fish Commission, are also outlined in a complete farm plan.

Broiler Producers to Discuss Heating Systems, at Salisbury.

Do you have the best and cheapest heating system in your poultry house, or are heating costs burning a hole in your profits?

These and many other important questions on heating systems and costs for poultry houses will be thoroughly aired at the next meeting of the Tri-County Poultry Association. The meeting will be held in the Wicomico High School Auditorium in Salisbury Thursday at 8 p. m., according to Oliver Morrell, of Shelton, president of the association.

Mr. Morrell announces that a panel of authorities on heating systems will discuss "Poultry House Heating Systems." Among the members of this panel are A. R. Wood of the A. R. Wood Manufacturing Company, of Santa Cruz, Calif., several Salisbury heating system engineers who have studied heating systems for many years, and Allen J. Johnson, fuel combustion consultant, who designed the heating system in the Armour-Chesapeake plant.

After this brief discussion, Prof. G. D. Quigley, University of Maryland poultryman, moderator on the panel, will open up the meeting for questions from the audience. Mr. Morrell says that this is the kind of meeting where broiler growers will have the opportunity to get some authoritative, first-hand advice and information on gas, oil, coal, electric, hot-water and hot-air heating systems and their costs.

This meeting promises to be one of the most interesting and informative of the year. The meeting will adjourn at 10 p. m., so broiler growers are urged to bring their questions in. Refreshments and entertainment will be provided. All poultrymen are invited to attend.

State 4-H Project Winners Announced

November 3-11 is National 4-H Achievement Week, and with it comes the announcement of the winners of state 4-H project awards in Delaware.

Eleven of the state winners will receive a trip to the National Club Congress in Chicago the end of this month. These 11 and their winning projects are: Alice Mary Dennison, Yorklyn, dress revue; Norma Jane Adams, Bridgeville, canning; Betty Ann Carey, Bridgeville, clothing record; Beverly Short, Cheswold, food preparation; Sealina Bell, Felton, girls' record; William Hartzel, Bridgeville, field crops; Byron Williams, Dover, farm and home electric; Joseph Workman, Delmar, garden; William Hawkins, New Castle, home improvement; Russell Layton, Laurel, alternate poultry winner, and Robert Whaley, Laurel, tractor maintenance. Dolores Lloyd, Newark, was first place state poultry winner, but is ineligible for the Chicago trip.

State winners who records will be entered in sectional competition are: Wallace Cook Jr., Elkton, Md., soil conservation; William Redding, Newark, dairy achievement; Betty Lee Cannon, Greenwood, dairy foods demonstration; Martin Johnson, Laurel, safety; Earl Leasure, Newark, home grounds improvement; David Elliott, Laurel, boys' leadership; Dorothy Pierson, Hockessin, girls' leadership, and Samuel Smith, Elkton, Md., meat animal.

Annual Turkey Growers Banquet Announced

The 8th annual meeting and banquet of the Delaware Turkey Growers' Association will be held Nov. 30, in Georgetown. Gooden Pepper, Seaford, president of the association, has appointed the following members for the committee on banquet arrangements: Charles Williams, Bridgeville, is in charge of the program. M. C. Vaughn, Coolspring, is in charge of dinner arrangements, and Thomas Robinson, Georgetown, will take care of tickets and publicity.

The directors of the association also announced a membership drive for the association during November. Interested people may contact the officers of the organization, or their county agricultural agents.

Right Equipment Makes Homemaking Easy

Women traditionally use bobby pins in place of screw drivers, but more and more women are learning that care in selecting kitchen equipment pays off.

Miss Louise R. Whitcomb, home management specialist at the University of Delaware, announces a handy guide to buying kitchen tools. This new bulletin, "Tools for Food Preparation and Dishwashing" is available from the county agricultural extension offices, or from the Bulletin Room, Wolf Hall, Newark.

"Knives are one of the most deceiving kitchen tools," says Miss Whitcomb. "Knives that look beautiful in the stores may have an edge that won't hold, or be poorly balanced and hard to use." For instance, blades of attractive stainless steel won't take or hold an edge. Blades of high-carbon steel will take and hold an edge well, but will rust and stain. A chromium plating on high-carbon steel may be the best choice, if you want a stainless blade with a good cutting edge.

Tips on buying good knives are just part of the 30-page booklet, "Tools for Food Preparation and Dishwashing," now available to Delaware homemakers.

Fertilizer Dealers, Manufacturers Conference Announced

November 15 is the date for the conference of fertilizer dealers and manufacturers at the University of Delaware. The conference is an annual affair sponsored by the departments of agronomy and horticulture, of the School of Agriculture.

C. E. Phillips, chairman of the agronomy department, describes the program as the most recent results of research in fertilization practices. Speakers at the conference will be members of the School of Agriculture Experiment Station staff.

Some of the topics are: recent results of fruit and vegetable fertilizer experiments, the present status of nutrient sprays for vegetable crops, green manures and fertilizers, pasture and corn fertilization, and fertilizer grades for 1952.

All fertilizer dealers and manufacturers, and interested people, are invited to attend. No advance registration is necessary. The conference sessions will be held in Old College, Main St., Newark. The program starts at 10 a. m.

Mundy to Attend Mississippi Convention

Charles F. Mundy Jr., secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, will leave by air tomorrow for Biloxi, Miss., where he will attend a convention of the National Association of State Agricultural Officials.

Mr. Mundy is a member of the marketing committee and a plant industry committee. A problem of the latter committee, to be discussed at the convention, will be that of insuring small fertilizer manufacturers of a sufficient supply of vital ingredients.

In another field, the secretary said the 15 per cent import tax on bailer twine had been repealed at the last session of Congress.

Proper Machinery Storage Means Farm Savings

Weather wear is the greatest cause of farm equipment repair bills. By storing equipment as soon as it is used for the last time, machine life can be lengthened, and repair bills cut down considerably.

Earl A. Crouse, agricultural engineer with the Delaware agricultural extension service, gives these storage tips.

Shed storage is the best, says Crouse. If out-door storage has to do on your farm, the machinery should be protected from winds. Preparation for storage includes cleaning, inspection for broken parts, lubrication, and application of rust preventive compounds to exposed metal parts. All trash, dirt, and grain should be removed. Fertilizing equipment should be thoroughly cleaned and covered with used crankcase oil where metal contacts the fertilizer.

The whole machine should be inspected; loose bolts tightened; necessary adjustments made, and repairs listed for "rainy day" work. Crouse recommends ordering needed repair parts as soon as possible. With steel supplies tight, there may be delays in getting new parts.

All belts and canvas should be removed, cleaned and dried, and suspended from a dry ceiling. This prevents deterioration by sunlight, weather, and rodents. Used baling wire comes in handy for suspending these parts. Check gear cases for water. Provide blocks for rubber-tired equipment, to take the load off the tires. Oil and gasoline should also be kept away from tires, as such petroleum products cause the rubber to break down.

Machinery in storage means dollars in the bank.

Way Back When
Earliest records of the circus as a form of public entertainment go back to the Roman occupation of Britain. It describes an ancient, hand-illuminated Anglo-Saxon manuscript showing "an audience in an amphitheater, diverted by a musician, a dancer, and a trained bear."

Sweet-Corn Caps Used For Silage

Mrs. Emma Milby and her son, Frederick, of Cordova, Md., use sweet-corn caps from a near-by cannery as silage. A small, metal silo was built a few years ago, and it is filled every year, says the November issue of Pet Dairy Chats.

The Milbys grow all kinds of clover for pasture, and at present have a fine field of Ladino and orchard grass. They carry their own feed to the mill to be ground. It is usually barley or corn, and is mixed with molasses and brewers grain to make a good dairy feed.

Felton Seniors Go Into Final Rehearsals

With November 15 and 16 not too far away the cast for "Tish" is working long hours and diligently polishing the play for the public performances in the school auditorium.

Not only are they working on the script, but they are building Felton's first stage set which will be adjustable to any play produced in the future. The proceeds of a skating party, sponsored by the Class of '53, furnished a nucleus fund.

Since all members of the Class of '52 are busy with the play, a number of the Class of '53 are assisting as ushers and stage hands.

Marie Brittingham is portraying Tish, who has a love for humanity and a great desire to help others.

Her boon companions, Lizzie, who is built on the roly-poly plan and whose movements are slow and methodical and who tires very easily, and Aggie, who suffers intensely from hay fever and talks with a decided whine, are Kathleen Jester and Mildred Simpson, respectively.

Tish's nephew, Charlie Sands, spends most of his time getting his aunt out of trouble. Just about everywhere that Tish goes Charlie Sands (Kenneth Richter) goes. Charlie is the male lead.

Ellen Leighton (Margaret Hobbs) is the juvenile female lead. Since her father's death she has been trying to make a go of "The Eagle Hotel." From Luther Hopkins (Samuel Walters) she has borrowed money. Luther's daughter, Callie (Eloise Anthony) is Ellen's best friend. Sheriff Sam Pike (Billy Chambers) is always trying to keep his eyes out for bandits, thus attempting in his own way to take care of Ellen.

Among the others in the cast are Bettina Trent (Janet Sylvester) Wesley Andrews (Louis Palmatory) Denby Grimes (Harry Carlisle), Dorice Gaylord (Elsie Schreiber), and Clarita, the Mexican maid, (Sara Schultz).

Felton School News

The steer which R. W. Bennett bought and fed for the Felton Chapter of Future Farmers of America has gone to market. A good profit was realized and the F. F. A. treasury is in much better standing. The chapter wishes to express its thanks to Mr. Bennett for making this venture possible. Ralph Barwick, vocational agriculture teacher, is the adviser of the F. F. A. chapter.

On Tuesday night, Oct. 30, the eighth grade had a Halloween party in the new cafeteria. Many were in costume. Prizes were given for the funniest, the ugliest, the best concealed, and the most original. Following this many games were played and refreshments were served.

An additional 16 mm projector has been purchased for instructional and recreational purposes. Substantial contributions were made by the Felton P-T. A. and the Student Council.

On Wednesday afternoon the Foreign Language Department sponsored a film entitled "Les Miserables." The students and faculty enjoyed it very much. The impressions created by the presentation of the social injustice and wisdom of one man will not soon be forgotten.

On Tues., Oct. 30, the girls hockey team from Felton High School traveled to Smyrna to meet the latter in a well-played contest. Smyrna won with a final score of 1-0. Although hockey was only introduced at Felton last year, the girls have made remarkable progress. The team members are: Lenora Hughes, Marilyn Steele, Doris Ann Cahall, Jean Maris, Betty Stanton, Claire Jester, Janet Lee Carroll, Phyllis Hrupps, Leah Schanding, Marie Biggs, Dorothy Lomicky, Pauline Krouse and Betty Hurd. Robert J. Callahan, science instructor, is the hockey coach.

Mrs. Rosa Eley Lang

Funeral services for Mrs. Rosa Eley Lang are being delayed until the return of her daughter, Mrs. George Sparrow from Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Lang was making her home with Mrs. Sparrow, but died at the home of another daughter, Mrs. O. T. Roberts, in Harrington.

The services will be held at the Marvel Funeral Home in Delmar and burial will be in the First Methodist Cemetery. Besides her two daughters, she leaves two sons, John C. Lang of Washington, D. C., and William F. Lang of Fairfield, Conn., and two brothers, Henry P. Eley of Crewe, Va., and William Lindley Eley of Harrington. Eleven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Lang was a past regent of Nanticoke Daughters of the American Revolution and a past worthy matron of the Pocomoke Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. She was the daughter of Michael K. and Henrietta Eley.

Tar Heel and Solicitor, the fastest 3-year-olds the harness racing sport has ever known, are among 850 horses slated to find new owners during the 13th annual Standardbred Sale at Harrisburg, Pa., next week.

The Harrisburg vendue, biggest of its kind in the world, runs from Monday through Friday and climaxes two weeks of trading at three scattered points.

It will be preceded by sales at Indianapolis and Trenton, N. J. The Indianapolis sale is slated for Tuesday and Wednesday of this week while horses will be sold at Trenton from Wednesday through Friday.

Highlights of the latter sale will be the dispersal of the well-known Village Farm of Langhorne, Pa. Seven stallions and 55 brood mares, in addition to weanlings and yearlings, are slated to be sold by The Old Glory Company which is re-entering the standardbred field after a lapse of 13 years.

The Harrisburg sale, shooting for the million dollar mark for the fifth straight year, has carded four dispersals including that of the W. N. Reynolds Estate, Winston-Salem, N. C. Mr. Reynolds died in September and 40 head, representing his entire racing and breeding interests, will go on the block.

Tar Heel and Solicitor, who clicked off identical pacing miles of 1:57.2 earlier this month, are included in the group. Tar Heel won the $66,000 Little Brown Jug in world record time six weeks ago and Solicitor was second to him in the fastest heat.

Hundreds of yearlings will be sold. Feature consignment is that of the famed Hanover Shoe Farms, Hanover, Pa., which is sending 100 head into the ring. In addition to the get of the farms' well-established sires, the 1951 consignment also includes the first crops by Hoot Mon, winner of the 1947 Hambletonian, and Knight Dream, who won the 1948 edition of The Little Brown Jug.

Death of three other well-known owners during the current racing season necessitated the other dispersals. Bidders thus will get a crack at such outstanding horses as Stanton Hal, Royal Blood and the stallion Frisco Dale. They are among the 71 head consigned by the estates of Benny Franks, Dubuque, Iowa; H. C. Wilson, Hurlersboro, Tenn.; and Fred B. Greenly, Harrington.

Indian Land, veteran pacing stallion with a record of 1:59.4, also will be sold.

When Leonard J. Buck decided to join the harness racing fraternity, he hired retired trainer Thomas W. Murphy, now a Wall Street broker, to make his yearling selections.

Murphy picked out four head and spent $116,000 of Buck's money for the richly-bred quartet. His purchases ranged from Kimberly Kid at $15,000 through Gosling at $55,000.

That should have been plenty for Buck but it wasn't. The Far Hills, N. J., import-export man couldn't resist taking an active part himself. So without benefit of Murphy's advice, he selected the filly Passymite and bought her for $5700.

Just a week later, in order to let the world know that Buck, and not Murphy, had made this particular selection, the new owner wrote to The United States Trotting Association requesting that Passymite's name be changed to—One Exception.

And that's the filly's new name, One Exception, the one exception that Buck took to Murphy's advice.

Italian trainer-driver Orlando Zamboni of Milan was right in the thick of things during the recent harness horse sales at Lexington, Ky.

In addition to completing negotiations for the private purchase of the trotting stallion Tryhussey, Zamboni had the final bid on five yearling fillies, all of which will be shipped to Italy where they will be trained and raced.

Italian buyers have been active on the American trading scene during the post war years but this marks the first time they have bid on yearlings. Most purchases were of aged stock acquired at private treaty.

Frank Ervin and Wilbur Beattie have joined the ultra-select ranks of those harness horse drivers who have posted two-minute miles with different horses on the same day. Only nine other men have turned the trick over the course of 50 years of two-minute speed.

Beattie gained entry to the list by spinning home in 1:58.3 with the pacing gelding Prince Jay after scoring in 1:59 in a time trial with the pacer Mighty Sun. Both horses are owned by Sol Camp, of Shafter, Calif.

Ervin, veteran Sedalia, Mo., reinsman, used the great pacers Sampson Hanover and Good Time as his admission ticket. First he drove Bill Cane's Good Time in 1:57.4, fastest pacing mile in a race in 37 years, and then scored in 1:56.4 in a time trial with Ken Owen's undefeated Sampson Hanover. The latter mile was the fastest in the sport in 13 years.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

It is often forgotten that it was the Puritans who, on many occasions were condemned because of their religious zeal, seized the opportunity to issue ordinances for the promotion of education. It was their Christian beliefs that made them take note of "the great neglect of many parents and masters in training up their children in learning and labor, and other employments which may be profitable to the

Again Freedom Faces A Threat

Now, as in 1918 America girds itself for a struggle against those who have little faith in the common man. Once again America must show others that democracy is the strongest of all systems, where, without force, all men live as good neighbors. Let us follow the examples of those who, in previous wars, fought the struggle unselfishly and successfully.

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE

It has a Way with Women

SOMETIMES we think that too little attention is given to the fair sex in automobile advertising.

After all, it's the woman of the house who has to do most of the shopping, which involves getting into tight places at the curb. And it's surprising what tight spots a Buick can fit into at a turn of the wheel.

It's the woman who likes complete freedom from things that it takes an engineer to operate—and a complete and utter freedom from mechanical complications is exactly what makes Dynaflo Drive* such a joy.

It's the woman who has an eye for style and fine fabrics—and a nose for economy. On both counts, a Buick is tops.

But we suspect something else. We suspect that a woman gets just as great a lift as a man from commanding this great-powered and trigger-quick bundle of vitality to bow to her will.

Here's a car to win any woman's heart—by its level-gaited stride—its willing response to her hand on the wheel—its smart style and its smart performance—its spaciousness and comfort—and its thrift.

How about taking time off, some afternoon, to boss around a Buick? It's a date that's bound to thrill you.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

What is the talk of the day? Television of course and when you are talking of television think of Philco and then say I am not going to wait another minute but I am going to call Wheeler's Television Center, Phone 541 Harrington and tell him to bring me such and such a model.

Then I am afraid he will say, I am very sorry but that model is sold entirely out. That is a fact folks there are several models today that just can't be had and that means a shortage of many especially in time for Christmas. I have been advised by the distributor that most everything at the present time is going to the west so they can get them there for Santa too. In order to get the particular one you want take a tip from me, place a down payment on one of your choice to be delivered on such and such a date and then you have a good part of the world at your disposal.

When you buy for your children you buy rifles and are afraid of course he may hit someone. You buy him ice skates, worrying he may get drowned. You buy him a new car and what for? To help him along to the hospital, and many things you can buy your children which will give you a lot of worry, but when you buy them a television you not only buy something that is safe for them but you keep them home as well.

Isn't it nice when you come home from lodge, club or business and find your children at home having the time of their lives and only one thing can bring this about, television. Get on the schooner and the sooner you'll be sailing when the water is clear and cooling. Remember Philco is your boat to keep you afloat.

I know it is a little out of season to talk about a freezer but have you thought of the many, many summers and hot weather still to come. When buying a freezer especially when it is a Philco you can look forward to many years of service and the amount of money you save is remarkable.

Now is a good time to be putting things in it that you can only get this time of year at its best for instance turkeys, rabbits, quail and many things in fact a Philco freezer will be paying you a higher rate of interest than you could get elsewhere. We have these freezers in 8 and 12 cubic foot capacity and as long as they last we are selling them now to save you an excise tax of ten per cent which will go in very shortly. So now be wise and don't say who, who, who, but when, when, when can I get it.

Did you ever see the time when Jimmy or Harry was listening to a hot number on the radio when you were very anxious to listen to the outcome of a certain race or sport counts. Well this is all unnecessary when all you do is say Wheeler send me out a second Philco table radio so I can rest in peace.

Did you take advantage of those wonderful buys in Philco refrigerators we had just a few days ago? Well there were quite a few who took advantage of trading their old refrigerator in on the double door freezer and refrigerator combined. We have some wonderful buys in used Philco's that have served well and are still waiting to serve someone else at a wonderful buy. Come in lets talk turkey as you know he is now strutting but not for long.

Talk Peace Not War. Uncle Sam is giving some but gaining more.

FIRE

(Continue from Page 1) Felton Fire Company said that when the first piece of fire equipment arrived a tree outside the building was burning from the flames that engulfed the building.

All of the interior of the house was destroyed including furniture and clothing. Only a portion of the roof and remnants of the walls were left standing. Chief Milbourn estimated the total damage at $2500.

Seven Children in Family

There are seven children in the Seward family. One lives with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Clarke, near Harrington, while another is at the Governor Bacon Health Center, Edwin Seward, 14, who also lived at home, was not there when the fire broke out, it was said.

The bodies of the three little victims were taken to the Berry Funeral Home in Felton.

State police at Dover were not notified of the blaze for at least two hours after it had occurred. They went to the scene later and started an investigation into circumstances surrounding the blaze.

The fire drew hundreds of spectators to the scene as the reflection from the flames could be seen for several miles.

Home Talk

By Eleanor R. Cavanaugh A group Home Demonstration meeting was held last week at the Harrington Bank Hall. About 70 women from the Harrington, Canterbury, Merrymakers and Victory clubs attended, with the Harrington Club acting as hostesses. Mrs. Philemon Harrington, president of the Harrington Club, led the clubs in the Homemakers' Creed, and the pledge to the flag. The program for the evening was "Health and Good Grooming" and was discussed by Miss Ruth Pearce, extension clothing specialist, and me. Mrs. William Sneath, recreation chairman for the Harrington Club, led the group in some games. Then refreshments were served by the hostess club.

Next week, three group meetings will be held. On Tues., Nov. 13, at 2:00, the Oak Grove Club will act as hostess to the Cowgill's Club and Viola Club. The meeting will be held at the Oak Grove School House. On Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, at 8:00, the Happy Homemakers Club of Millwood will act as hostess to the Millwood Club, Houston Club and Laws Club. This group meeting will be held at the Millwood Community Hall.

The Kenton Home Demonstration Club will act as hostess to the Smyrna Club, Leipsic Club and Friendly Homemakers Club of Dover. This meeting will be held in the Kenton Church basement Thursday evening, Nov. 15.

The Party Cookie Project School which was to be held on Tues., Nov. 27, has been changed to Mon., Nov. 26. The school will be conducted by Miss Gertrude Holloway, state home demonstration leader, at the Caesar Rodney Home Economics Room, starting at 8. Everyone is invited to attend.

For a delicious pie treat, this Black Bottom Pie is just the thing:

- Black Bottom Pie
1 8" baked pie shell
1 tsp. plain gelatin
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup sugar
1 1/3 tsp. cornstarch
2 cups milk, scalded
4 eggs, separated
1 1/4 squares chocolate, melted
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. cream of tartar
2 tsp. brandy flavoring
1 cup heavy cream
2 tsp. confectioners sugar
1 square shaved chocolate

Soak gelatin in cold water. Combine half cup of the sugar and cornstarch in the top of a double boiler; add scalded milk, and cook over boiling water for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add to slightly beaten egg yolks. Cook over hot water until slightly thickened. To 1 cup of this custard, add chocolate. Beat until smooth. Cool. Add vanilla. Pour into baked pie shell. Chill. Blend gelatin into remaining hot custard. Chill tartar; beat until stiff but not dry. Add the remaining half cup of sugar, 2 tsp. at a time, beating until well blended. Add brandy flavoring. Fold into custard. Pour over chocolate layer. Chill until set. Top with heavy cream, beaten, and confectioners sugar added. Sprinkle with shaved chocolate.

Brickwork

Here's a trick that works wonders for either painted or unpainted bricks . . . around your fireplace or for other interior brickwork. First clean the bricks thoroughly, then brush on a 2/1 mixture of boiled linseed oil. This gives the brickwork an attractive, glossy finish that's easy to dust.

Readying Surfaces

Of the millions of gallons of paint manufactured yearly, a great proportion is used for finishing products made in factories. A quick glance about you will reveal any number of manufactured articles that depend on some type of paint, varnish, lacquer or enamel for their protection. Preparing the surfaces of these products so that the finish will adhere firmly and present an attractive appearance is a specialized field in itself.

Banks Consider Consolidation

A proposed consolidation of the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware and The Fruit Growers National Bank and Trust Company of Smyrna was announced by officials of the two banks. Banking operations will continue at the present location at Smyrna where Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware will operate the Fruit Growers office, in addition to its present offices at Georgetown, Dover and its four offices in Wilmington. Under the plan of consolidation Farmers Bank will acquire all the assets, property and good will of Fruit Growers and will assume its liabilities.

Fruit Growers Bank was organized as a national bank in 1876 and the present combination will insure the continuation of its identity at the same location, with the present staff of employees continuing to serve as the Advisory Committee of the Fruit Growers office of the statewide Farmers Bank organization. Approval of the stockholders of Fruit Growers will be secured at a special stockholders' meeting to be held later this month.

A joint statement issued today by the two banks said: "The present and expected future development of the territory comprising lower New Castle County, upper Kent County and the adjoining sections of Maryland, which The Fruit Growers National Bank and Trust Company of Smyrna has served for the past 75 years, makes it necessary and in the best interests of that section of Delaware that it have more ample banking facilities at its disposal. The fact that for some time past, Farmers Bank has been participating with Fruit Growers in its larger loan and customer requirements and also the intimate and cordial working relations between the two institutions further serve to make this a natural and happy consolidation it makes available to this section an institution with resources of over $50,000,000 for the present and future banking needs as the present spread of industry down state makes large banking facilities more and more of an asset to the community in which they are immediately ready for use. The consolidation will also insure the continuation of the loyal and cordial relationship with its depositors, customers and friends which Fruit Growers has always enjoyed and cherished and it is indeed happy to thus be able to continue such relations, but with such greatly expanded resources and banking facilities at its command."

Turkeys, Broilers, Killed in Storm

Due to the unusual cold weather and storm of the week there has been a severe loss of poultry in the Shawnee district near Milford.

William Lucas, near Milford, lost 580 turkeys that averaged about 10 pounds, and were about ready for market.

Edgar Isaacs, another poultryman, lost 728 broilers from smothering when the electric current failed in his broiler house. Other small losses were reported.

Lucas had 4500 turkeys raised in a house, but turned out on range when they were 11 weeks old.

They had been on the range just a few weeks when they became soaked by the heavy rain which occurred here during the weekend. The quick drop in temperature froze the rain on the wet birds.

Lucas with others endeavored to drive the turkeys into their former house, but they scattered in every direction, and refused to enter the house.

About 4000 were caught, and hauled into the house with wagons, but the 580 they were unable to catch, died from exposure.

Isaacs lost his broilers when they smothered after the electric current failed, and the lights went out in the broiler house.

Due to the storm, the electric current at the Isaacs farm was off from 4 till 7 a. m. and his broilers accustomed to the light all night, crowded near the doors.

There were 28,000 broilers in the house, and when crowding into a small place the 728 were smothered by the balance of the flock.

We Stand Between You And Loss Have you checked your property insurance recently—you should do so at once! Again we are confronted with increased costs and increased prices. Should your property be damaged or destroyed today it would cost more than ever to rebuild and to replace the contents. ERNEST RAUGHLEY INSURANCE AGENCY Telephone 551 Harrington, Delaware
