Final Lesson Held By Study Class of Trinity Methodist Church

The final lesson of the Study Group of Trinity Church was held Thursday afternoon when the book "We Americans, North and South," taught by Mrs. Earl Sylvester, was completed.

Pertinent topics from each chapter were discussed fully by different members with a general discussion by the entire group.

Chapter ten and eleven were then taken up. The tenth chapter "Why an Evangelical Witness" was, perhaps, more widely discussed by the class than any other chapter in the book. Mrs. Sylvester gave a very clear picture of "Catholic" a word that many have the wrong conception. The eleventh and last chapter, "Militant Faith," the shortest chapter in the study was taken up almost a paragraph at a time in order to catch the full meaning the author wished to convey to us.

Mrs. D. T. Pritchard led the devotionals with Mrs. H. Clyde Miller at the piano.

The majority of the class had made a perfect attendance record and feel that it was one of the most worth while studies classes ever held and it was with regret that our course is completed.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking. Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one. And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over. You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it—yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out. But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time. From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for. Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know. He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflo Drive* is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way? He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble. It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right. Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that. Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve. To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty. Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be. Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

How to Get Publicity in the Newspaper

Before we start enumerating the ways of getting publicity into a newspaper, permit us to define the word, "release." We define it "as an article someone wants published in the newspaper." These releases are, for the most part, sent in by various firms and industries, always from a distance; federal and state agencies; churches, schools, and civic bodies, usually from a distance. Some ways to get the releases into print are as follows:

1. Do not subscribe to the newspaper to which you send the release. The editor will not know whether or not you are a subscriber.
2. To save paper, write on both sides of the sheet. Also, do not write "Over" at the bottom of the first page.
3. Be sure to write in longhand. If you must use a typewriter, single space your lines. If you double-space your lines, the editor might make some corrections between them.
4. Do not give the newspaper any advertising. After all, if he is foolish enough to run the release, it will not be necessary to advertise.
5. Be sure the release is written by the janitor or office boy of the firm. If you have an expert, in a particular field, in the firm, let him write the release. After all, it is not necessary to have newspaper training or to waste your time going to a journalism school to be able to write releases.
6. Be sure to send your release to the daily newspapers first. The weekly newspapers will not mind running it, if it happens to be valuable, five or six days later.
7. If your release pertains to some shindig you are giving, with an admission fee, charge the editor for admission; do not give him a complimentary ticket. Furthermore, if you have tickets, programs, and posters printed, be sure to have the work done somewhere else. After all, the printers in the newspaper plant do not mind a breather now and then. As to how the publisher will get the money to pay the printers, that's his lookout.
8. When mailing releases, be sure to use a 1 1/2c stamp. It is cheaper than a 3c stamp.
9. Do not send the editor what he wants in the paper. After all, you are doing the work. Send him what you want.

10. Send the editor the release from your company and send the advertising elsewhere. In that manner, you get better coverage.
11. If you have some news that should be of special value to the editor, withhold it. Just send him your regular release.
12. Be sure to tell the editor you want the release on the front page. While you are giving advice on how to run a business, you might tell the grocer to put his meat counter up front.
13. Do not use the local angle. This would mean including the names of persons and places with which the community is familiar. It would take too much time to dig up this material. Just write a release that could be used by all newspapers such as, "Now is the time to whitewash the barn, yak, yak, yak."
14. Be sure to make your release long. By that, we mean two or three typewritten pages. The editor has difficulty in "finding something with which to fill up the paper" and he will appreciate it.
15. If your release has already appeared in a newspaper, say, your local paper, for example, just send the editors clippings.
16. Don't worry about your spelling and punctuation. Just leave it to the editor to make the corrections.
17. After you mail the release, ask the editor to send you four or five free copies at his expense.
18. If you have reason to believe the editor might not run the release, give it to some citizen of the town in which the newspaper is published. He is sure to apply pressure on the editor to get it printed.
19. If the editor hesitates about publishing it, tell him it is news and that the Podunk Bugle is using it. This is sure to make a hit, as the editor usually does not know the definition of news. Furthermore, he will not like for a competitive newspaper to get ahead of him.
20. If you are doing business with the editor, tell him you "will take your business elsewhere" if he does not publish your article, or release.
21. Be sure to include a photo with the picture. If it is a poor one and out of focus, so much the better. If it shows up badly in the paper, you can tell your friends it is the fault of the newspaper's mechanical department. Be sure to ask the newspaper to pay for the engraving; it will only cost four or five dollars.
22. If you are sending mats (a cardboard form from which illustrations are made), be sure to have them made where you can have the work done at the "cheapest" price. After all, the newspaper will not mind going to a lot of trouble to make an acceptable picture from it.

Four youths escaped from the Comegys Building at Delaware State Hospital this week. They were in a section for the criminally inclined. Ruth Judd, who committed a trunk murder some years ago, escaped this week, for the fourth time, from a western insane asylum. The four youths were recaptured, as was Ruth Judd.

The Felton Music Department, under the direction of John Bunnell, is planning to present its second concert of this year. Mr. Bunnell has a Bachelor's Degree from the New York University. Previously, he played two years in the First Army Band. He was director of an Army Recruiting Show and has done professional singing in the Robert Shaw Choral and in various churches in New York City. The concert will be a Christmas program performed by the members of the band, glee club and girls chorus.

The junior business training class is putting on a business play entitled "First Day." The characters are: Mr. Randall, Franklin Wyatt; his private secretary, Myra, Janet Rentz; his newly hired bookkeeper, Harold Jewell; two young clients, Billie and Peggy, Edgar Sapp and Jean Ware, respectively; Anna, their old nurse, Louise Hopkins; their mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold, Mloyd LeCates and Betty Ann Havelow, respectively, and student prompter, Caroline Wyatt. The play will be presented in the assembly Wednesday.

Use Care in Tinting
In mixing paint, be sure to add colors sparingly. A little pigment often has a marked effect on even a large can of paint. Experienced painters advise experimenting at first with a little paint in a small can to see what the colors will do. The safest procedure is to add tinting color to a small amount of paint and then transfer this mixture to the large container. This process can be repeated until you obtain the exact hue you desire.

(Last Week) Looks like this week has been the beginning of winter time. Cold weather is on the way.

Rabbits have been pretty plentiful in this section. Each hunter averaged 4 to 5 each hunt.

Mrs. Mildred Meredith is a patient in the Delaware Hospital, Wilmington.

Fox hunters are really on their trail. Their dogs look like teams of horses running across the fields.

Mrs. Annie Porter was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson, of Milford, Saturday.

Soybeans are being harvested by the farmers. They were from $2.85 to $3 per bushel.

William Simpson has returned home after being a patient in the Wilmington hospital.

Mrs. Nettie Minner entertained relatives Sunday.

Holly doesn't seem to be so plentiful this season. Seems like there is plenty of leaves but no berries.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson and family, of Wilmington, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hill.

Myrtle Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Curry and family spent Thanksgiving as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson, of Wilmington.

Farmers claim the white soybeans are worth more than the black ones, per bushel.

A very attractive fence is being put up around the Holcomb house at Holcomb's Pond.

- * If your car or truck kills or injures anyone, or damages property in excess of $100—REGARDLESS OF BLAME—you may have to prove financial responsibility up to $11,000 or face loss of your right to drive.
- * Farm Bureau's liability and property damage insurance in force BEFORE the accident will automatically protect you against financial loss and against loss of driving rights under the new Safety-Responsibility Law.
- * Every insurance requirement of the new Safety-Responsibility Law is met by Farm Bureau's liability and property damage protection. This coverage meets requirements of similar laws in all 48 states.

WHY FARM BUREAU IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT

Farm Bureau is a select risk company—only careful drivers are insured. This means fewer claims to pay, and lower rates.

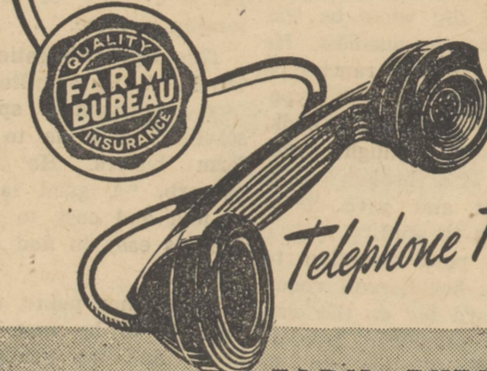

Farm Bureau policies are automatically kept in force simply by payment of each half-year's premium. This means operating economy, low rates, flexibility in rate adjustments—plus the advantage of smaller outlay at one time.

Farm Bureau is a mutual company, owned and operated for the benefit of its policyholders. It is the largest insurer of autos in Delaware. All policies are nonassignable.

Home Talk

By: Eleanor R. Cavanaugh

The Party Cookie School which was held last week, was very popular. Miss Gertrude Holloway, state home demonstration leader, taught the women how to make several different types of cookies. The following women attended the school: Mrs. William Nelson, Mrs. George Herrman, Mrs. Wallace McPaul, from the Friendly Homemakers Club; Mrs. John Farrow, Mrs. Myrtle Hunt, Mrs. Louise Layes, St. Jones Club; Mrs. Ethel Jump, Mrs. James Metz, Mrs. Ruth Walker, Mrs. Clara Fifer, Mrs. Freda Cooper, Mrs. Anne Dunn, Cee-W-Dee Club; Mrs. Mary Cooper, Mrs. Matilda Lester, Mrs. Mary Thistlewood, Mrs. Emma Dewey, Mrs. Lillian Camper, Mrs. Della Harrington, Mrs. Marguerite Mitchell, Mrs. Catherine Hickman, Mrs. Amy Price, Mrs. Loretta Thiel, from the Harrington Club.

Mrs. Rae Holleger and Mrs. Anna Belle Brown, Laws Club; Mrs. Beulah Rodway, Mrs. Emilee Iasch, Mrs. Elizabeth Lasch, Hartly Club; Mrs. Arthur Dawes, Sr., Mrs. Margaret Tieman, Mrs. Carmen Dawes, Mrs. Raymond Laferty, Oak Grove Club; Mrs. Ethel Wood, Mrs. Mabel Hoffecker, Mrs. Mabel Dempsey, Mrs. Florence Maclary and Mrs. Mildred Hall, Leisick Club; Mrs. Louise Raughley, Mrs. Emma Bennett, Mrs. Bertha Donovan, from Millwood Club.

Mrs. Josiah Parvis, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, Mrs. Florence Blessing, Mrs. Pearl Rollison, Mrs. Pearl Stevenson, Mrs. Mae Hayes, all from the Houston Club; Mrs. Stella Willis, Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. Mildred Sharp, from Happy Homemakers Club; Mrs. Lillie Webber, Mrs. Edna Long and Mrs. Artis Virdin, Cowgill's Club; Mrs. Mary Thomas from Frazier's Club.

There were also several visitors: Mrs. C. Hitchcock, Mrs. Mildred Nelson, Mrs. Norma Bennett and Miss Ruth Comegys.

Was talking with Mrs. Josiah Parvis, president of Houston Club, last week and she said that the club members along with other people in the community gathered in the Fire Hall to hear M. A. Glasmore. Mr. Glasmore is a teacher at Millford High School and has traveled through Europe. While there, he took many pictures, which he showed to them. That's a very nice club project.

Mrs. Robert Stevens and Mrs. Edward Schabinger, of Smyrna, organized a small group in Smyrna to learn how to make lampshades. Miss Louise Whitcomb, home management specialist, spent two afternoons with the group. Their lampshades were quite attractive. Those who attended are: Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mrs. Gilbert Lurty, Mrs. Burrill McCoy, Mrs. Ronald Grier, Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Harry Still Jr.

Mrs. John Tarburton, president of Cowgill's Home Demonstration Club, was telling me last Friday night, the club was having a Thanksgiving supper. It was held at the Cowgill's School and all club members and their families joined together. Bet they had lots of fun.

In case you didn't get to the Party Cookie School, here's one recipe that was used:

Russian Butter Balls
1 cup butter
2 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup walnuts cut fine
Cream butter, add sugar gradually, add vanilla. Sift flour, measure, add to above mixture. Add salt and nuts, roll in 3/4 inch balls. Bake in greased pan at 350° F., for 20 minutes. Roll in powdered sugar when warm and again when cool.

Hobbyists
Match book collectors, from all over the country, will meet at Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 7, 8, and 9 for their 11th annual business, swapping, and auction sessions.

The Baches, Canton Farm Live Off the Land

Down in Talbot County, Md., in a stone's throw of the picturesque village of St. Michaels, is a small farm whose owners believe, and do, live off the land. Frank S. Bache's Canton Farm, on the banks of idyllic San Domingo Creek, has only 120 tillable acres yet, it raises everything from oysters to ducks.

"It's like pioneering," said Charles Price Sr., who visited the farm recently. The Baches went to Maryland in 1947 from Scarsdale, N. Y., where Mr. Bache was a construction engineer. His health demanded a change of vocation, and he thought life on a farm might do the trick. It did. And he likes his new life, though he had had no previous farm experience.

Today, the land supplies the fruit, vegetables, and meat for three families. It supplies the corn, barley, and roughage and provides the pasture for 70 to 80 head of registered Angus cattle. Bache purchases only the oats and protein and mineral supplements.

Oysters
When the Baches want oysters, all they have to do is to go down to the dock. They throw a couple bushels of the mollusks off the dock for seed, and throw their discarded shells in there, and that's all there is to it.

In what the Baches call their "harvest room," is a pantry with a supply of home-canned goods. A most appetizing item is preserved figs. Mr. Bache, construction engineer that he is, is a stickler for details, and he keeps track of them, as will note later. For example:

Figs
Bache said that everybody around St. Michaels raised figs. The main thing in raising the fruit, he said, was to shield the trees from the northwest wind. He put out four trees of the purple, or Turkish variety, and the pale green kind. He noted the effect the difference in location had on the growth of the trees. Two trees just south of his garage were 10 feet high, because they had full protection from the north. A third tree, just south of a low pump-house, was seven feet high, while the fourth tree, 30 feet from a building, was only five feet high. The trees received no special treatment for winter.

The former New Yorker, who worked with the Army's engineering department in World War I and World War II, is a keen observer of the phenomena of nature. Sparked by a comment on the role of water as an equalizer of temperature, as mentioned in a recent book, "The Sea All Around Us," he told of an interesting observation he made in 1949. There was a freeze in the spring of that year, he observed, and water in his stock tanks, 1-4 mile from the creek, was frozen one-half inch thick. However, peach trees, in full bloom, 100 to 200 feet from the creek, were not damaged. He believes the peaches were unharmed because of the warmth of the water in the creek.

Bees
When it comes to honey, Canton Farm kills two birds with one stone. Howard M. Taylor, of Denton, has some 300 hives of bees which, we take it, yield him a nice return. In the spring, he rents the hives to Delaware orchardists who want the bees to pollinate the blossoms on their trees. After the blossoms have departed, in May and June, Taylor pastures them on Canton Farm clover. The farm has its clover pollinated, and the owners also receive all the honey they want. When lima beans come on, the bees are rented to the growers to help make the bean crop.

Pastures
Canton Farm has to have good pasture to accommodate its large Angus herd. This year it won the Greener Pastures award for its area. Here is the Bache system: Fields are operated on a five-year rotation of corn, small grain (usually barley), and 3 1/2 years of a mixture of Ladino, lespedeza, and orchard grass. As for permanent pastures Bache says, "We are developing a mixture of the above, along with Kentucky rescue 31, and birdsfoot trefoil. The seed of the trefoil comes from the first successful stand in the St. Michaels area, also developed by us." Bache likes the performance of lespedeza. "In a good growing season, it will be crowded out by the bulk of the nutrients."

Canton Farm uses a husker-shredder on its corn, the aim being to get the corn off the land in time to plant barley. The shredder fodder is put in the compound. Some corn goes for silage. The husker-shredder is also used for custom work on other farms.

Canton Farm also does most of the custom bailing in the neck, builds lands and digs ditches, and sells firewood.

Bache pays the same meticulous attention to his farm book-keeping as he did when he was in the construction business. He has an office in his ranch-type home, with filing cabinets, typewriters, etc. He keeps a day book. One entry read: "Caught red-tailed hawk with broken wing. Asphyxiated it, and gave it to the Boy Scouts to stuff."

Mrs. Bache pays attention to details, too. In her harvest room, she keeps a card file on the contents of her crowded freezer. Bache said the thing was so crowded they would have to give away or sell some of the contents, because they were planning to put some beef in it. In fact, when we were looking over the cattle in the pound, he remarked: "See that steer looking at us? He's going in the freezer, only he doesn't know it."

Stanley Wyatt Raises Cotton

It may not be economically feasible to raise cotton here, but the plant will grow here and produce a crop. Stanley Wyatt has a few plants in his coal yard here which are filled with fluffy, white bolls.

Varied Usage

Peat, youngest offspring in the coal scale, is the first stage in the transformation of vegetation to coal. When dried and pressed it can be burned, and is therefore used for fuel in many countries, especially in Europe. In the U.S.A., peat is dug and processed on a commercial scale in 19 states. We use it for soil improvement, plant-packing, an ingredient in fertilizers, and for insulating needs.

Welch Uses Essex Hogs in Cross

Woodrow W. Welch who, with his brother, Dunworth, operate the old Hughes farm on the Harrington-Frederica road, looks with favor on the use of Essex hogs in a cross.

The farmer, who also operates a Harrington grocery store, started raising the Essex breed four years ago. He now has three gilts and seven sows, with the latter having 43 fall pigs. Some pigs are an Essex-Berkshire cross, Welch having purchased a Berkshire boar not too long ago. Most pigs, however, are an Essex-Spotted Poland-China cross, with Welch using Jack Sapp's prize big type Poland-China boar before he purchased the Berkshire male. He used an Essex boar until last fall but he was sold when he got too big and mean.

The Essex hogs are pure black. It resembles a Poland-China but has a shorter face, Welch said. The Harrington grocer says they will reach 200 pounds at six months, which is tops, but he markets his swine from 180 to 225 pounds.

The hogs are fed corn, oats, barley, and soybean meal. Mineralized salt and a tonic are mixed with the feed.

State University Publishes Fact Sheet On Farm Buying

"What to Look For When Buying a Farm" is the title of Fact Sheet 42, published recently by the University of Maryland Extension Service.

This new publication was written by A. B. Hamilton, extension farm management specialist, to serve as a guide to prospective farm buyers. He quotes the proverb, "A good farm is hard to find and easy to sell; a poor farm is easy to find and hard to sell."

The author points out that the farm is to be first of all your home, and the fields and buildings your workshop. It is a good idea, he says, to seek the advice of well informed persons who know the area and the particular farm you are interested in. Mr. Hamilton cautions prospective buyers not to select the farm hurriedly.

Fact Sheet 42 outlines facts which the buyer should consider in the process of selecting a farm. One of the most important considerations is the price of the farm compared with the price of agricultural products. Mr. Hamilton shows how farm prices are at a record high, while prices of farm products are below their all-time peak. A chart is used to show the amounts of farm products needed to repay $1000 annually on a farm mortgage.

Fact Sheet 42, "What to Look for When Buying a Farm," can be obtained from your county agent or the Bulletin Room, Symons Hall, University of Maryland, College Park, Md.

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

I think about the most fun I've really had is watching the breaking of the colts, and about the world's worst so far, has been Nibble's Son. From what I can see out on the track, no western can compare with him. So far he's broke everything in sight.

Bobby Hobbs out for a ride behind Ole Dudley Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haylor, of Freeport, Me., visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dupee.

I wonder why that big 24 lb. turkey was just a little late, but a good old turkey dinner is always good.

Pop Heller still taking his exercise walking his horse.

Mrs. Cahill and Miss Evva Warrington a visitor out to Dave Smith's stable. Was glad she came out so she could see where all those cardboard boxes were going—to line our stable.

Mrs. Roland Herrington is expected home this weekend. After leaving, spent Thanksgiving with her mother in Alhambra, Calif. Now Roland and their little dog, Nickie, will be glad to welcome her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Young welcomed a baby boy recently. That makes Mr. Young, the blacksmith, grandpop twice.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jandak have their trailer here now. Came in from Batavia recently.

Wonder if our general manager, Brinton Holloway, caught any great big bad bears recently in Morris, Pa.?

You know I can't catch up with Earl Thomas. He must be a real busy man. Oh well, I love to go over to the office and chat with Mrs. Thomas.

Ralph Lord, owner of Bayard Hotel, in Dover, a visitor to Mr. and Mrs. Billy Myers. Here are the horses in Billie's Stable. For Dr. L. C. Rees, Millersville. Exclusive Model by Bombsaway, Empress Wick by Eva's Boy, Melva Hanover by Titan Hanover, Merry Brewer by Direct Brewer, Glossy Glossy by Direct Moon, Mr. Speaker, 3, by Attorney, For Albert Wyble, Millersville, Pa.—Todd Song by Gay Song.

For William Myer, himself—Grattan Fingo, 2, 2:09.2 at Yonkers; Marilda Hanover by Hoot Mon; Bernie Song, 3, trotter, by Peter Song; Billy Dawson by His Excellency, 5.

Each week I will give each trainer and his horses if they will give them to me.

Fred Greenly Jr. visiting out to the track.

Fount Billings also out watching colts go through their lessons.

Had a nice visit with Bea and Ralph Smith Sunday. Bea has sold all but one of her Persian kittens.

Mrs. Harvey Griffith kind enough to take in a tiny kitten left on road to shift for himself.

Jimmy Workman and Mickey coming along good with their young charges.

Olin Davis seems to be on the road to complete recovery. Anyone interested in seeing the pictures of that horrid spill, get in touch with Olin. It certainly looks terrible.

Sam, the harness man, back on the job again. Sam has purchased a station wagon instead of his car.

Jack and Mabel Walters dash-ing here and there.

Was surprised Ole Mose isn't with Alexandria Smith this year.

Paul Vineyard taking in a little sun at the end of the barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Dumont and children passing the evening watching their TV set.

Pat Hubbard has moved his stable this year to the other end of the grounds.

Mrs. Ralph Bowers visiting with Mrs. Griffith.

Mr. Scott, of Washington, D. C., was a visitor to Charley Sutton's stable and had the pleasure of watching his horses workout.

Was over to visit (Mom) Stubbs, and what a wonderful way she brought along the tiny youngster, "Gene." You know there is a passage in the Bible that says, "and a little child shall lead them."

Ben, money bags, and Elmer, the clocker, Wilson out every day to visit Doug's stable and see their colts.

Vinal Kirby over every Sunday, rain or shine.

Happy Gray purchased two horses over to Rudnick's stable.

Reese, that is certainly a flashy new advertising truck, and who enjoys the station wagon more than Pal.

Agatha, Helen's sister, looking fine. That country home and country air agrees with her.

Sure glad to see Mrs. Virginia Holloway out again.

Going over to pay a visit to Mrs. Clukey and see their new colts.

Betty Myer, I believe you and Ellis Jr. are out looking for Santa Claus for I never seem to find you.

Thank you for the coffee Jimmy Creed. So you think trucking will be quiet until after Christmas.

Mrs. Booty Morris says she is just getting rested up after the fall meet.

Charley Carter very busy these days. It will be slow out here at the track until after Christmas.

Thanksgiving Day brought visitors to the John Amato Stable to see their yearlings, purchased at Harrisburg, take their lessons.

Mr. and Mrs. David Aboff, of Huntington, L. I., visited their aged pacers, Oxheart and Intangible. Also were very pleased with their yearlings hitched for the first time, Maryland Light and Long Island Journal, the latter named after their local paper.

The day also brought out Walter Reeves, of Darlington, Md., he the owner of Stewart's Kate Hal, a yearling purchased at Harrisburg. Sunday brought Mr. and Mrs. Snowden and Mr. and Mrs. Mailing, from Kennebunk, Me., to see Hi-Adventure and the yearling Stewart Express.

Don't know how many heard the $25,800 pace Saturday evening over WTOP, but it was interesting. Dave and I know little Jimmy Fitzpatrick, a swell kid. You know he was happy to win that big pace. Over the radio, was said, that Harry, his father, embraced him with a big bear hug.

Melvin LeRoy, the noted Hollywood director, gave a very interesting talk on harness racing. Said, in time, would be as big as the runners.

Jimmy Burlingame stopped in to visit with Dr. Downes. Was on his way to Florida.

Emil Adams' stable coming along fine. Harry breaking his colt with no effort at all.

Fred Johnson, of the Harrington Lumber Co., never too busy to do you a favor.

Started for the new Memorial Bridge Sunday, but too late to see it. So when the New Jersey Turnpike is opened, we will make the trip to New York and a stage show.

Gooden Callaway going birding—or try Gene Anderson says he isn't doing any good, but will try again.

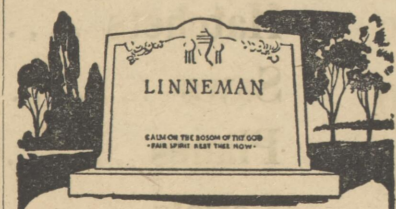

Irish Hal, 1, driver, Jimmy Fitzpatrick, paid $25.50, $13.90, $6.90, Red O'Brien, 2, paid $15.60, $6.00, $3.20; Goodtime, 3; Dudley Hanover, 4th. Joe O'Brien won the most races and Benny Shew, the most money.

HOUSTON SCHOOL NEWS

The way in which the people of our community are sending their children to school is gratifying. During the month of October 81 children from an enrollment of 100 made perfect attendance. Mr. Brittingham's room, the 7th and 8th grades, tied for first honors with Frederica. Mrs. Warren's room, 5th and 6th grades, tied with Blades School for second place; Mrs. Sapp's room, 1st and 2nd grades, tied with Magnolia, for 3rd place, and Mrs. Harrington's room, 3rd and 4th grades, won fifth place. So our school was right around the top in attendance. We hope the good work will continue and parents will have a real reason when their child is kept out for a day.

Thanksgiving dinner was served last Tues., Nov. 20 in our school cafeteria by Mrs. Fred Messick and her mother, Mrs. Connie Sanderline. A full Thanksgiving repast with all the fixings was prepared. Teachers and pupils with some of the parents really enjoyed the meal. We sometimes wonder just how we made out without a cafeteria, even though it is not a large one, we believe those in charge are deserving of much credit for their efforts to provide a warm palatable lunch for the children.

On Tuesday morning the pupils of the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th grades were allowed to attend the show "Jack and The Bean Stalk," presented at the Milford School and sponsored by the Milford P.T.A. The children were chaperoned by teachers, Mrs. Thelma Warren and Mrs. Susan Harrington, with Mrs. Garnet Sharp, Mrs. Wm. Scott and Mrs. Emory Webb assisting.

They Won't Forget
Your family will never forget—and in time of need they're sure to choose the perfect stone for remembrance. But why not select a monument now—well in advance of need? The responsibility is yours—don't let the burden be theirs.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

It is coming, coming fast and it waits for no man. It is time you are getting on the beam and start shelling out those beans. Of course there is a right and a wrong way of spending your earnings.

Don't just buy anything you see or hear on the radio but buy something with a name back of it. For instance like Westinghouse! With that name it has got to be good. In fact they spend as much money in research work as some companies make in an entire year. Just at this time I am thinking of an electric iron that is entirely new. In fact your mother, your grandmother and her mother and there are some more have always used an iron that has 2 posts holding the handle. What has Westinghouse done? Changed that old style by eliminating one post entirely which gives you more freedom with the iron also less weight to handle. If you want to give something right up to the minute, give her one of those. Another thing I would mention is a Westinghouse mixer streamlined of course and a beauty. Of course when you mention Westinghouse you think of electric ranges, warming pads, electric comforts, electric blankets, electric sheets, electric toasters, electric waffle irons, electric sandwich grills, electric ovens, electric water heaters, electric dish washers, electric disposals, electric automatic washers, electric dryers, and many other things and best of all we have them all in stock waiting for you to say wrap it up.

Speaking of Westinghouse you know they also make radios and televisions. We have in stock right now waiting for a home a few consoles and a few table models all in the new one control 17-inch picture tube. Are they good? Did you ever see anything with the name Westinghouse on it that was not?

We have a fairly good stock of standard base electric bulbs in 10 and 15 watts. Red, green, blue and white. Of course we have plenty of strings or single bulbs to make your string complete. We have a few strings of outdoor lights containing 15 bulbs, better get them now as Xmas is coming FAST.

We are now open daily from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. also Friday and Sat. evenings. Beginning Dec. 14th we will be open every evening until Xmas.

Loyal Workers Class Notes

The Loyal Workers Class of Trinity Church held its December meeting and Christmas party at the home of Mrs. H. Clyde Miller, Weiner Ave., Monday evening, with a large number of the active membership present.

Mrs. William Swain, president, was in charge of the business session. The class is buying some new hymnals for the church to be dedicated to the memory of Irving Legates, whose long life was dedicated to the music of the church and who passed to his reward three years ago.

The class wishes to thank the church membership for its generous response to the Harvest Home gifts, which program and arrangements were sponsored by the class.

A Christmas program was presented after the business session. Those taking part were Mrs. Earl Sylvester, Mrs. Belle Martin and Mrs. Clyde Miller.

The members exchanged gifts as usual and the president gave each of her officers a beautiful gift.

The president announced the dates for the next activities of the class, a rummage sale and a bake to be held later on. The last rummage sale was one of the most successful ever held.

Later games were played and refreshments served.

Greatly missed from this meeting were several of the most devoted and faithful members who were unable to come on account of illness.

Mrs. Miller's committee for the party was Miss Florence Emory, Mrs. Lelia Hopkins, Mrs. Viola Jacobs and Mrs. Sallie Lord.

Doug Mills Celebrates Fourth Birthday

On Saturday afternoon little Doug Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Mills, entertained quite a few of his little friends at his home on Center Street in honor of his fourth birthday.

The highlight of the party was a visit by Santa Claus, who was in town on his official visit to Harrington. Each little boy and girl had a chance to set on his lap and talk to him. Santa had his picture taken with all the boys and girls. The children enjoyed delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake in a dining room all gayly decorated for the occasion.
