

Councilmen For 2nd and 4th Wards Will Be Elected Tuesday; Electors Will Meet This Evening

At This Moment Peck is Unopposed For Re-election From Second Ward; Graham Is Running in Fourth Ward

Charles Peck Sr., and George Graham will be presented as nominees for councilmen from the Second and Fourth Wards, respectively, at a meeting of the electors of the City of Harrington at the firehouse this evening at 7:30 o'clock. No opposition to the candidates had been noted at a late hour.

Peck will run for re-election, with Graham seeking the post now held by Calvin Minner.

The municipal election will be held Tuesday from 12 a. m. to 4 p. m., at the City Hall. Two election clerks will be appointed Monday evening by the City Council at its January meeting. To qualify for voting, Harrington residents must have paid all their taxes, and must reside in the wards of the candidates.

At tonight's meeting, reports concerning the business of the City for the past year shall be read, as well as plans for contemplated improvements.

The Fourth Ward, from which Graham is a candidate, embraces all that portion of the City lying west of the railroad and north of Liberty Street, while the Second Ward, from which Peck is a candidate, embraces all that portion of the City lying east of the railroad and north of Liberty Street.

Councilmen are elected for three-year terms.

There are six councilmen in Harrington. Those for whose posts no election will be held next year are as follows: Edward Taylor, Third Ward; Leonard Harrington, Sixth Ward; Grover Lord, Fifth Ward, and George Vapaa, First Ward. Vapaa was appointed to the post after Councilman Harry D. Quillen Jr. moved to Georgetown last April.

Oil Slick Covers Bay Off Bowers, Captain Says

A heavy oil slick is covering Delaware Bay from Bowers Beach to the ship channel, a party boat captain reported Wednesday.

Capt. Russell Dean of Bowers Beach, who offered to convey members of interested state and federal agencies to the affected area "free of charge," commented:

"All the captains around here say it's the worst condition they've ever seen. If it keeps up like this, it will be rare to catch a dog shark in Delaware Bay in five or six more years."

Captain Dean said the condition is believed to have arisen from two tankers pumping oil into the bay recently. He also said he noticed a number of dead ducks floating on the oil-infested surface.

"If anybody is interested in seeing this condition, I'll be glad to take them out in my boat at my own expense, and free of charge," said the captain.

Captain Dean added that he has noted recent improvements in the flow of some nearby bay tributaries, Murderkill and St. Jones Creeks. But the present oil slick, he said, extends from the shoreline to the ship channel.

"If this oil should settle on some of the oyster beds around here," he added, "it looks like the owners will take a loss."

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

You know that the news for this week will be short and sweet. Everyone I know, seems to just enjoy New Years.

Several of my friends just peeped out and said, "Pat, all I can say is, Hi Yuh." Could it be too many parties Take Bea Smith, I talked to her for 15 minutes before she knew it was me. She and Ralph had taken in the Legion party.

The Herringtons, Kellys, Rays, Julian Young, Dupees, Lyons, Peacocks, all are on the job. So I guess New Year's was alright by them.

Mr. and Mrs. David Aboff, of Huntington, N. Y., were visitors at the Amato stable over the holidays. Mr. Aboff was so pleased with his roan colt, Maryland Light, that he has staked him in the Hambletonian in 1953. Also just as pleased with Long Islander.

W. E. Thompson, of Centreville, Md., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walters.

Money Bags Wilson, Doug, Bobby Hobbs, Charlie Sutton, Jimmy, tossing to see which would buy the New Year's dinners. If I know that crowd, I bet Bobby had the honor.

Wayd Cotter has moved in from Batavia, with two horses. He is stabled in with Carl Goslin and Les Simpson. Or should I say, with Ole Symbol Louis. Symbol seems to know that it is time for his stablemates to be coming in. I really think he knew Majestic Miss.

Wayd has brought his little daughter, Joan, with him this time. So she will be another one to go to school in Harrington.

Charlotte Stout has been called home again to Albany, N. Y., due to illness of her mother.

Paul Vineyard and Harvey Griffith busy as two can be with their horses.

Clifford Miller was a visitor out to the Smith stable New Years Day. Mr. Miller's son-in-law, Capt. Clarke, of Fort Dix, was also a visitor to look the bang tails over.

Capt. Clarke's little daughter, Mary Ann, who was born in Japan, seemed to enjoy the horses as much as the grown folks did. Mary Ann was all the some of two years old Christmas Day. She sure can talk for only two.

Master J. Black, who's mother has the Hobby Shop in Milford, was a visitor out to our stable.

Ann and Curly Rathwell have returned from Buffalo, N. Y., and have rented Irene Adams' home for the balance of the winter.

The Myer family, of Bridgeville, wishes to thank their many friends, especially the horsemen, for the kindness shown during their recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bowers have moved the rest of Donald Truax's colts down from their farm. I think she told me she had five. I wonder is there could be another Pronto Don in the bunch?

It sure brought back memories when I looked into the Washington News to see Lee Smith's picture winning the 1941 Hambletonian. It was as though I was there again. Dave, Doug and I were sure happy that day.

Say how stupid can you get? I've been helping Mrs. Paskey out till her girl come home. Someone asked me for a piece of cherry pie. Where my mind was is the question, for of all things I asked if he wanted it straight. (I really meant Alameda.) That's my story.

Cubbage Brown out to visit Les Simpson, who has his horses, Wilson Hanover and Rose Stadt. Vinal Kirby over to the track to see their horse that he and Doug Smith own together.

Sam the harness man back from the holidays, and really ready to get to work.

Pop Heller has returned from his home in Reading, Pa.

Anyone interested in the Harness Horse that has the news for the year can get it at Jerreard's Newsstand. It really has plenty to read about this past year's racing.

Now that the holidays are over maybe I can get around and see different ones out to the track. As for me, I can hardly wait to go to Philadelphia to see the stage show that's coming up next Monday, "Student Prince."

Dave and I never miss that. Sigmond Romberg's musical. Happy New Year to Everyone.

$50,000 Damage As Fire Destroys Mill At Denton

Flames Endanger Adjacent Lumber Yard, Dozen Small Homes

A $50,000 fire burned the Nuttle Milling Company, on the east side of Denton, to the ground in less than an hour Wednesday.

Four fire companies did what they could to slow the blaze of thousands of pounds of grain in the wooden frame mill, then turned their hoses on the large Nuttle Lumber Company next door to prevent the flames from spreading into the piles of wood. Nearly a dozen small homes in the area also were endangered.

A cloud of dense, black smoke towered above the mill and drifted over the town. Firemen near the blaze donned masks and had to be soaked with water to work near the intense heat. None of the firemen from the Denton, Queen Anne's-Hillsboro, Ridgely, and Denton companies was injured. Fire chiefs were thankful that there was no wind to fan the blaze.

Lewis T. McNeal, a Denton man employed in the mill, discovered smoke in the upper floor of the three-story structure when he went back to work at 12:10 p. m. after lunch.

Smoke and flames seemed to follow McNeal down the stairs as he raced from the top floor to spread a warning of the fire. The cause of the blaze is unknown.

Owners of the mill, Frank L. R. Nuttle and Monroe Crouse, estimated their loss at $50,000, including the 200-foot by 40-foot building, all machinery, and supplies of grain, seeds, and corn. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Mr. Nuttle also owns the lumber yard. He purchased the mill in 1916, shortly after it had been rebuilt following a previous fire.

Sisters Open Bake Shop

Two sisters, with a lifelong experience in baking, have opened a bake shop on U. S. 13, at the edge of Harrington, which augurs great success.

The sisters, Mrs. Willard Breeding and Mrs. Anna Jack, began learning the business in childhood, working in the bake shop of their father, the late Conrad Sibitzky. Mrs. Sibitzky still lives in Harrington.

The shop, located next to Layton's Superette, and near the traffic light on U. S. 13 and Delaware 14, specializes in buns, rolls, pies, cakes, and do-nuts.

Funeral Held For Edwin S. Myer Sr.

Funeral services for Edwin S. Myer Sr., who died Friday at the Welfare Home at Smyrna, were held at Bridgeville, with the Rev. Wimbrow officiating. Burial was at Bridgeville.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lulu Myer; his father, James Myer, 94, of Trenton, N. J.; three daughters, Mrs. Clayton Richards, Mrs. William Meredith, and Mrs. Clinton Hastings, and nine sons, Edwin, James, William, Ellis, Francis, Robert, Allen, Paul, and Ralph Myer.

T. Edward Workman

T. Edward Workman, 85, died at his home in Farmington Saturday night. He had been ill about a week. He was born in Sussex County, son of the late James and Julia Legates Workman, and moved to this area when a small boy. He retired from farming 10 years ago. His wife, Mrs. Priscilla Collins Workman, died six years ago.

He is survived by his son, Frank, of Farmington, with whom he made his home, and a brother, J. Green Workman, of Harrington.

Funeral services were held in the Boyer Funeral Home, Harrington, Wednesday in charge of the Rev. Virgil Littleton, retired Methodist minister of Farmington. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery.

Allocation of Critical Materials For School Building Program Will Be Made After April 1

Thus Writes Senator Frear—Senator Williams Says Construction Will Have All Vital Metals Except Copper, Lack of Which Will Not Hold Up Building

Railroad News

The Eastern Region rail train with a crew of 86 arrived Monday and is quartered on the old DM&V tracks whence the equipment moves out each morning and returns in the evening.

This train consists of 26 cars with Foreman George Webb, of Sunbury, Pa., in charge. They expect to be here until Jan. 12, laying rail north of town, through Woyaming and on the DM&V near Frankford.

Superintendent Lingenfelter and his staff will be in town Monday attending the Harrington district safety committee meeting.

Trainmaster Paul Rider has been furloughed on the first of the year to serve as inspector for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Jim Moore and Ernie Home-wood had television sets installed in their homes during the holidays.

Supervisor of personnel and the new trainmaster will be in the safety meeting Monday.

The airplanes continue to bump into mountains and make unscheduled crashes. Two of these this week took 74 lives. They are improving however, as 14 passengers survived the last one while 40 were lost.

With the railroad and race track so closely associated locally, it is lamentable that the track is unable to contribute anything to the railroad in return for the liberal donations our local boys have made to feed the horses.

Special Phone Booth Aids Motorists

Conley Hardware store, at the intersection of U. S. 113 and the Bowers Beach road, has an outside phone booth which should be of especial value to motorists. This innovation is new in this section of Delaware, though it is widespread on the Pacific Coast.

Auto Knocks Down 70-Ft. Light Pole

A speeding automobile struck and broke a light pole of the Delaware Power & Light Company early Tuesday morning but power service was uninterrupted by the accident.

The mishap took place at 4:50 a. m. Tuesday a mile and a half north of Harrington on the Masten's Corner road when the car, driven by Reuben Charles Dixon, 34, Negro, of Greenwood, failed to heed a stop sign, state police said, and ran across the road and a ditch and struck the pole, breaking it.

A repair crew of the light company spent most of Tuesday and Wednesday repairing the damage.

Dixon was treated at Milford Memorial Hospital for lacerations of the face and released.

Co-operatives Socialistic, Simpson Tells Rotarians

Farming, forestry and mining are about the only new sources of wealth, said George Simpson, in stressing the value of agriculture before the Harrington Rotary Club.

Years ago more than 75 per cent of our people were engaged in agriculture—today the number is comparatively small. Today, through necessity, we are learning to produce more with fewer producers—and we must continue to learn.

Some of the current ills of the farm situation, according to Mr. Simpson, may be attributed to the lack of practical experience

2 Prisoners Flee Kent County Jail

Two convicts with previous experience in breaking jail escaped from the Kent County prison about 6:30 Wednesday evening. The men, Floyd Flamer and James Flamer, Negroes, of Harrington, not believed to be related, fled from the kitchen of the warden's residence at the jail into the yard, climbed the wall, and disappeared.

Warden Norris Garrison said the Flamers made their escape while other prisoners, who had been doing outside work, were being returned to their cells. Both previously had fled from the Kent County jail and were recaptured.

The men were working in the kitchen, according to the warden, when a broom being used by James Flamer came apart. He asked permission to get another broom and was told by the warden to go down a corridor to the jail proper and contact a guard.

At this moment the prisoners working outside were entering the jail and James Flamer succeeded in returning to the kitchen unobserved. He and Floyd Flamer used a side door in the kitchen to get into the jail yard and went over the wall to freedom.

State police of the Dover station immediately broadcast a general alarm for the prisoners who were dressed in regulation blue denim with the letters KC on the back. However, Warden Garrison said the men probably would get rid of their jail clothing as soon as possible.

Floyd Flamer was serving a term for robbery and James Flamer was in jail on a breaking and entering charge. Both are old offenders, jail officials said.

Floyd Flamer was brought back from North Carolina only a few weeks ago after fleeing from the jail. James Flamer escaped about a year ago while on outside duty in the Kent County Court House.

Allocation of critical materials for the Harrington school building program will be made in the second quarter, beginning in April, United States Senator J. Allen Frear wrote J. C. Messner, superintendent of Harrington schools, this week.

This means construction will start some time after April 1. Advertisement for bids on construction cannot be placed until critical materials have been allotted.

Judging from a letter Mr. Messner received last week from United States Senator John Williams, the local building program will be allotted all critical materials except copper. The letter, in part, reads:

"We have contacted officials in the United States Office of Education, in regards to materials, which advised us that approval is expected with respect to all materials except copper. It was indicated the government will not be able to meet the requirements for copper."

Mr. Messner said the lack of copper will not hold up the building program. "I imagine it will hold up the wiring," he said, "but stainless steel, galvanized iron, or possibly aluminum will take the place of copper in specifications in everything but electrical units."

A. J. Taylor Jr., consulting engineer, whose services are donated to the state, and who has contacted the authorities in Washington for materials, feels we will have specific information on requested materials by the middle of the month, Mr. Messner said.

The superintendent of schools said that repair work on the elementary school building, which suffered a fire Mon., Oct. 1, has been finished. He stated that practically everything had been done on the inside, with floors resanded and refinished, and that it was planned to repaint the entire building next summer.

Tobacco Grown Near Harrington

When Miss Madalyn Tharp and Leo Bly market their crop next spring, they will know the outcome of their first venture in raising tobacco here.

Right now, the produce of some 740 plants is drying in a barn at the home of John Porter near Hollywood Cemetery. The plants were purchased in Maryland, with the crop being put in the barn in late August.

Miss Tharp and Mr. Bly put out the plants themselves. Mr. Porter said the crop was cultivated a few times and wormed. He said that the huge tobacco worm was also found on tomato plants.

Miss Tharp was quick to say that Mr. Bly was the expert on tobacco raising, but that she found the project interesting and planned to repeat it. "I may put in a patch on a tract of land near my home," she commented. "I can worm it easier."

Felton Avon Club Awards Prizes For Christmas Decorations

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gove Jarvis was awarded the first prize in the contest for the best-decorated home last week.

Judges were Fulton Downing, Mayor E. B. Rash and Earl Sylvester, of Harrington.

The Jarvis home is located west of Felton. Second prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Messick, whose home is north of Felton, on the highway. Third prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Torbert, on highway, south of Felton. Honorable mentions went to the homes of Norman Jackson, John Pizzadili, Marion McGinnis, Elmer Poynter and Walter Moore.

SHORT STORY The Long Way Home By Beatrice Cargill

LONG AFTER the 12:07 had moved out of sight around Black Mountain, two figures stood motionless on the tiny platform.

3-Minute Fiction Sara clutched the shiny black leather purse tighter. It was Rob's last gift.

"Must be nearly down the valley to Ellentown by now," John said.

"Feels like snow in the air, Mother," John's gray head bent to hers.

"Turkey weather." "Yes, Thanksgiving's almost here again."

"John, he'll be gone for a long time." "Yes, Sara."

John pulled out the choke. "Maybe a little coffee might help," Sara smiled, but it was only her lips that moved.

They drove seven miles past browned and crisped meadows.

John slowed down near a white, low farmhouse. There was a small sign on the side of an elm tree— "Mrs. Whitely's Famous Dinners."

Sara nodded in reply to his unasked question. She straightened her hat in the rear view mirror and put on her gloves, taking a long time with each finger. Rob's train must be nearly to Coddington.

THERE WERE long, silent minutes between soup and chicken and dessert. After dinner, they went out behind the barn to see the minks, kept in orderly cages.

They drove seven miles past browned and crisped meadows.

John counted the minks. Two large ones, one small one, screened off by himself. A family? Their family had been three—John, Rob, Sara.

"Yes, they are beautiful," she said. "I wish I could look at them without thinking of the coats they are going to make."

Mrs. Whitely grinned. "Well, Mrs. Cameron, I used to feel sorry for them, but after the first check came in, I never thought about it again."

The train must be at Gorge City now. Another hour and he'd be there. She closed her eyes.

John's arm was around her. "I feel as if I'd been running," she murmured. "Guess I leaned over too long looking at the minks."

They settled themselves in the old car again. They could see the farm on a distant hill.

"I still love it, John. I still like coming around that curve and seeing it, knowing it'll be there."

The car whined in self-pity as it climbed the hill. John drove up to the front door. He fumbled for the key and then just held it in his hand. Something seemed to hold him back. He didn't want to go into the house. He leaned down to pat the old collie who stood waiting there—and saw the note. Pinned to the dog's collar was a scrap of paper. Together John and Sara read it, incredulous. Drawn in the quick scrawl of a boy in a hurry were Mom and Dad—woeful faces above single-line bodies. Mom was clutching the black purse, Dad his keys. Beneath the picture Rob had written in large black letters,

"CHEER UP—YOU SURE LOOK GLOOMY"

"John, you sure look gloomy," Sara repeated—and John began to grin. Sara laughed.

"That boy," he said. "That crazy kid."

He opened the door and they went into their house.

SHORT STORY Pinky By Paschal La Padula

JULIA WARREN looked up from her pie-baking suddenly, and thought it had happened.

3-Minute Fiction Then he pushed along the sidewalk in his wagon, Pinky at his side.

Julia was lovely, but his habit of chasing cars through the streets of Collinsville made Julia dread the event which must inevitably occur.

"It will break the boy's heart," he would say.

Not nearly as badly as it would if something dreadful happened to Pinky.

New 1952 Plymouth Will Be Displayed

The new Plymouth for 1952 will go on display here and throughout the United States Fri. Jan. 4, Warrington Service Center announced today.

A long list of improvements—46 in all—has been incorporated in the engine, the brakes, the electrical system, the chassis, and to the inside and outside of the body.

The new Plymouth may be seen at Warrington Service Center, on U. S. 13, just north of Harrington.

The new car, according to D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, has been improved and refined to provide "the most genteel ride, the smoothest engine performance and the greatest safety ever built into a car for the lowest price field."

Exceptional engine smoothness is produced through a newly designed combustion chamber; brakes are stronger and longer-lasting; Plymouth's famous Safety-Flow ride has been made even more comfortable by improvements in the springing and to the Oriflow shock absorbers; and the car's beauty is enhanced by numerous styling refinements.

is achieved through an improved type of base metal. To further insure smoothness of performance and faster get-away, several refinements in the new Synchro-Silent transmission permit faster, easier shifting, and more rapid and positive engagement of gears.

Operating temperatures up to an additional eight degrees without the hazard of losing water or anti-freeze result from further improvements to the pressure-vent radiator cap, which provides a pressurized cooling system.

Sturdy Brakes The traditionally sturdy Safe-Guard Hydraulic brakes have been given greater ease of operation, and much longer life.

Passenger and driver comfort has been increased with improvements to Plymouth's "Safety-Flow ride." New cushioning-type ports in the Oriflow shock absorbers, increased travel in the front springs and a new interliner for the rear springs provide quieter operation, reduced steering wheel shock, less friction and an improved ride.

Proximity still retains her title as harness racing's leading money-winner but the retired queen of the turf is in danger of being overhauled next season by a pair of free for all stars in the prime of their respective careers.

Both Good Time, Bill Cane's brilliant little pacer, and Pronto Don, trotting ace of The Hayes Fair Acres Stable, Du Quoin, Ill., have a chance to dethrone the Ralph and Gordon Verhust mares from Victor, N. Y., who was retired at the beginning of the 1951 campaign.

Good Time, named after the race track over which his owner stages The Hambletonian Stake at Goshen, N. Y., each year, is the sport's leading money-winning pacer with $208,493 to his credit. Pronto Don, Harness Horse of the Year and 1951's top money-winner with earnings of $80,850, is the leading active trotter with $170,797.

If Good Time, 5-year-old son of Hal Dale, can win as much in 1952 as he did this season ($50,589), he'll topple Proximity from the throne. And if Pronto Don, a 6-year-old gelding, can retain his 1951 form for another year he'll be right at the mare's record also. He needs just slightly more than what he earned in 1951 to make the record-breaking grade.

Among the 20 leaders at both gaits, eight are still active. Five are pacers, three trotters. Two of that group, the trotter Star's Pride and the pacer Tad Heel are four or younger and still have their best racing years ahead. Oldest among the active leaders is Indian Land who will be 11 in 1952.

Here are the present leaders in both division. Starred horses are those which are still lactive.

The 35th horse to enter harness racing's charmed two-minute circle in 1951 was Thomas B. Scott, 6-year-old, bred, owned, trained, driven by and named after veteran horseman Thomas B. Carlock, of Greenville, O.

Thomas B. Scott, winner of six of his 22 starts this season, went in 1:59.1 in a California time trial.

Fastest of 1951's two minute miles was the 1:56.4 effort recorded by Sampson Hanover at Lexington, y., in October. It was the fastest mile in the sport since 1938 and 1951 was the most productive two-minute year since 1938 when 48 such miles were posted.

Among harness horses sold for export were two stakes winning fillies bound for Italy.

Betsy Volo, winner of the $17,000 Coaching Club Oaks for 3-year-old trotters at Goshen, N. Y., this season, was purchased by Count Orsi Mangelli, Milan, Italy, as was Ben White's Hattie Song, 3-year-old trotting winner of the $14,000 Stallion Stake.

Others headed for foreign homes are the stallions Joe's Pride and White Hanover, the brood mare Sherry Hanover and the race horse Tompkins Hanover. Sherry Hanover and White Hanover were purchased by Count Mangelli; Joe's Pride went to Henry Larson, Copenhagen, Denmark; and Tompkins Hanover to William F. Kraemer, Hamburg, Germany.

Dutch Dandy, yearling brother to the harness racing sport's leading money-winning 2-year-old, Duke of Lullwater, has been purchased by Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky.

Dutch Dandy was sold at auction for $6500 in October but was represented as unsound, a fact which cut an estimated $35,000 from his purchase price. The yearling son of Volomite-Duchess Hanover was purchased by R. T. Morrison, Anderson, Ind., and later sold to Castleton.

Wayne Smart, Castleton trainer, examined the youngster and pronounced him sound before making the purchase.

Johnny Simpson is no longer the youngest of the more than 100 harness horsemen who have driven a mile in two minutes or better.

Jimmy Fitzpatrick, 20, dethroned Simpson last month by going in 2:00 flat behind the pacer Hal Senator. Simpson had held the "youngest driver" title on the strength of a two minute ride behind the pacer My Birthday in 1942 when the present national driving champion was 22.

Grandmother Dies of Burns In Oil Flare Fri.

Mrs. Marie Banschbach, 77-year-old grandmother of near Elendale, was fatally burned Thursday evening, Dec. 27, when kerosene she poured into a hot kitchen stove flared up in her face.

Mrs. Banschbach was preparing supper for her daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Fiori, and two grandchildren at the time. She died at 3 a. m. Friday in the Milford Memorial Hospital—about nine hours after the flare.

Mrs. Banschbach was burned from the waist up. All her hair and the clothing on the upper part of her body were burned off.

Neighbors, including Mrs. Bertha Scott and her children, who heard the children's cries for help, ran to the Fiori house and put out the fire. There was no property damage except to the rug.

The ambulance of the Elendale Fire Company, manned by Paul Smith, Curtis Ennis, and Howard Ennis, took Mrs. Banschbach to the hospital.

At the time her mother was burned, Mrs. Fiori had not returned home from her place of employment at the L. D. Caulk Company at Milford.

The two children, an 8-year-old boy and a girl, 12, were near Mrs. Banschbach, but were uninjured.

State police at Georgetown and Sussex County Coroner William S. Marvel of Delmar investigated the accident.

Firemen said their investigation indicated that there were hot wood coals in the stove which Mrs. Banschbach failed to notice. These apparently vaporized the coal oil and then ignited it. Mrs. Banschbach received third and second degree burns of the entire upper part of her body.

Retired Frederica Farmer Dies at 74

Walter Holleger, 74, retired farmer of Frederica, died Thursday night at the home of his son, Charles R. Holleger, in Wildwood, N. J., where he had made his home for six months.

Surviving, in addition to his son, are two brothers, Herman and Edward Holleger, both of Milford. His wife, the late Mrs. Sara N. Holleger, died last January.

Funeral services were held in the Berry Funeral Home at Milford Sunday afternoon, with the Rev. Roy L. Tawes, pastor of Avenue Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in Odd Fellows Cemetery, at Milford.

AMONG MY CHRISTMAS CARDS

A fragment of a song brings back memories of days gone by, and some of my Christmas cards this year are responsible for a similar reaction. Here is one depicting a village railroad station. A train is coming down the single track, in a snow-covered valley, bringing the city relatives home for Christmas. The card came from Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Riethmann, of East St. Louis, Ill.

Mr. Riethmann is a member of a livestock commission firm at National Stock Yards. While I spent three and a half years in the Armed Forces during World War II, he paid my insurance premiums. (Of course, I reimbursed him.)

Here is a card with a branch of holly, a small Christmas tree, and a smaller deer. It came from Mary and Ted Martin, proprietors of the Ozark Hotel, Aurora, Mo. I attended a photography school in Aurora (I should still be there, judging by some of the pictures I take) in late 1947 and early 1948. While there, I bought some King David apples at the McNatt farm, just west of Aurora. The apples were small, solid, and dark red. They kept at room temperature for two months. I do not believe I ever tasted any better apples. After I returned, I wrote Mary (Mrs. Martin) to send me some King Davids from the McNatt farm. I got no reply, so I wrote again. Finally, I received a letter from her. She said she had shipped my "damned apples" and that she had to run all over the country to get them. Cost of the apples, plus express charges, was $10 for two bushels. Furthermore, most of them were soft. The Martins had a tomcat called "Yah, yah," from the way he meowed. They had a little dog called Putter.

Here is a card from Ralph and Beulah Reed, proprietors of the Diamond Horse Farm, Milton. It is the home of Hot Feet, a crackerjack stallion. The Reeds conduct a trucking business, raise broilers, farm, and operate a breeding farm for harness horses. I was down there in October, taking some pictures at the horse farm. The pasture, naturally, was surrounded by a wooden stock fence. The weather was unseasonably warm. I remember that the fence was literally covered with thousands of small spiders. I still can't figure whence they came.

Here is a card from Giovanni Biagi, of Pisa (Leaning Tower) Italy. It all comes back to me now. I met Giovanni when I was in the service. I was stationed in Pisa in late 1944 and early 1945. I met him at the Red Cross Center where he was employed. He was one of those cultivated northern Italians, speaking several languages, and his blond hair and blue eyes denoted his Lombardian ancestry. I gave him a pipe and some Prince Albert and he was highly pleased.

Christmas Eve, when I was working as a radio operator in the basement of Palazzo Caravana, he phoned and said he wished to see me after work. I met him about 6 p. m., and we walked the cobble-stoned street in a misty darkness that was intensified by the blackout. I remembered he corrected a statement I had made in Italian. "Mi sono imbarazzato" (I am embarrassed.), is correct," he said. He invited me to dinner Christmas night in his humble home. As well as I can recollect, we had stewed chicken, definitely a luxury, spaghetti, brown bread, and vino.

So Christmas cards are just more than a greeting.

TWO CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR ARE TO THROW THEIR HATS INTO THE RING

The hats of Boggs and Hearn are brushed
Until they're almost glowin'
And now into ambition's ring
These self-same hats they're throwin'.
And yet, so much alike these hats,
The question has arisen:
How on this earth can we tell which

SEEING THE OLD YEAR OUT

I'd seen the old year out before,
Back many years ago,
When friendly neighbors gathered in
A small white church whose glow
Of welcome fires and welcome lights
Shone out across the snow.
The stern but kindly minister
Admonished with a frown,
And then, across the sleeping hills
Of home, and up and down
The valleys pealed the joyous bells—
The bells of Salem town.
But this was in New York; yes, in
A famous dining place,
With sons of purple reeling down
The primrose path apace;
With elfin figures swaying in Terpsichorean grace.
"A round to Bacchus," cried the host;
"Now come ye, foe and friend—
Another round, another round—
Another"—without end.
And all of them were friendly—but
Not one man was my friend.
And in that hall of subdued light,
Their faces all aflame
With vintage of another day
Were people known to fame.
They saw the reeling old year OUT—
And—it—saw—them—the—same.

Farmers Bank Starts Operation In Smyrna

On Fri., Dec. 28, the Fruit Growers Office opened as the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware. Throughout the weekend, the signs were changed and there was much activity in the bank for figures had to be checked and new records made out to start the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware office in Smyrna.

Many customers are asking of the Fruit Growers National Bank and asking what to do with their checks and supplies. Of course, the new check books are on hand in the Fruit Growers office, however, all those that wish can use up their old check books and get new ones, whatever they would like to do.

The advantages of having a bank the size of the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware in Smyrna are great. Offering to the people of the community, trust services, larger loans and some 50 services of every banking operation known to good banking.

FARM NEWS AND REVIEW

This Is A Farm Family

Clearbrook Farm stands quietly and neatly alongside Rural Route One just northwest of Seaford. Just walking around the farm quickly shows why a successful farmer is successful. We found Mr. and Mrs. Williams "hitching their horse backwards," so to speak. They were putting a roof on a new corn crib . . . and that corn crib was filled with enormous ears of corn. Perfect helpmate is the apt definition for Mrs. Williams.

There in a few words is a complete picture of a typical farm family. And the Williams more and more exemplify what is getting to be known as the typical American farm family. With Mrs. Williams (Mildred) and 16-year-old James and 13-year-old Kenneth, the Williams cultivate their 344-acre farm. They also rent some adjacent land and work all of it in co-operation with a brother and a cousin.

Thoughtful planning makes possible consistent production of 65 bushels of corn per acre, as an example. They also grow wheat, soybeans, lima beans and tomatoes. With an occasional production of over 18 tons to an acre, they well have exceeded the requirements of the 10-ton tomato club.

The boys are the best example of father and sons teamwork. There's sharp competition between the two boys. Kenneth and Jim take turns on growing 500 birds. Each tries to out do the other in the quality of the flock they produce. But they've managed to make each flock a profitable one. Father Ed Williams just stands by and offers advice when it's asked for. The boys are fast on the road to becoming good farmers . . . the kind of young farmers America needs.

The Williams don't specialize in any one crop because Ed Williams thinks "diversification of crops is the best way for farmers to help keep a healthy balance in the economy of the farm family."

The single aspect that makes this farm family just a little unusual is the Williams' use of an airplane. Ed Williams points out that he has a lot of fun with the plane. He works in the air defense set-up, and flies to farm meetings when it's possible to use a nearby landing field. "I think the most important part any farm father can play in the growth of his children," Ed Williams says, "is to prepare them by teaching them good farming practices." And both of the boys, who are members of the FFA and 4-H clubs in their county, have their own bank accounts. They share in a growing way in the growing farm. In that direction lies the successful future of our agricultural growth. The Williams family well exemplifies this growth, and to farmers such as the Williams, must go much of the credit for the tremendous success of American agriculture.—The Tiller.

Farm Youth May Apply For IFYE Program

"Plans are in full swing to have a Delaware delegate to the International Farm Youth Exchange next summer. We're now taking applications from farm boys and girls interested in representing their state abroad."

This announcement comes from Sam Gwinn, state 4-H Club leader. Said Gwinn, "The requirements for the IFYE program have changed slightly. This year's delegates must be between the ages of 20 to 28, rather than 18 and 25 as before. Delegates must also be a high school graduate."

Other requirements are the same. Travel experience and knowledge of a foreign language are preferable but not absolutely necessary. Delegates should be mature mentally and emotionally, be in excellent physical health, and have the time and ability to devote to training courses. They must be sincere and friendly, able to understand others, and be naturally eager to learn about other people.

Application blanks will be available from the county 4-H agents January 15. Meanwhile, those interested may get detailed information from the agents.

"There are a lot of young people in Delaware who would make excellent ambassadors for the American way of life, and we'd like to see as many of them as possible have the chance," Gwinn added. "If you're at all interested, or know someone who is interested, we'll be glad to talk to you."

For Climbing Time

For painting a one story house—and most two story houses—firmly placed ladders and cross planking on brackets will serve satisfactorily. On large houses, scaffolding may be needed. This, of course, should be erected by men who know how.

Here we see Ed Williams standing before his still-to-complete corn crib. "Had to get the corn out of the fields," Ed Williams said. And he built the walls of his crib and then filled it. When he found time to roof it over, that he did. We found Ed and Mrs. Williams working away putting the roof on their new crib. "Farming is hard work, but we don't know of anything we'd like to do any better," is the way the Williams family puts it.

Some relaxation maybe, but mostly to get around in a hurry, and get back to farm work is the purpose of this Piper Cub plane Ed Williams flies. Mrs. Williams and both of the boys love to fly with Ed Williams when he has some place to go, and they can go along. More and more modern farmers are finding planes useful. Even the helicopter is being considered for various farm jobs, such as dusting, quick crop inspection, and farm work supervision.

University Finds Sudan Grass High Quality Feed

A study conducted at the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station last summer shows that Sudan grass is a good quality livestock feed.

"Many have questioned the food value of Sudan grass. It makes a good supplemental pasture, but many farmers felt that it was not as good as feed as other pasture crops," said T. A. Baker, who made the study.

Grass was clipped each morning, fed to the cows, and analyzed. The cows ate an average of 177 pounds of the grass per day.

Analysis showed that the Sudan contained 86 per cent moisture, so each cow got 25½ pounds of dry material and 17 pounds of TDN (total digestible nutrient). Three pounds of this 17 was protein.

This amount is enough for a 1000 pound cow to produce 30 pounds of 4% milk per day, without any supplement feed.

"This is the only known experiment on the feed value of Sudan," said Baker, "and we feel that it justifies recommending it as a pasture crop. This year's tests were run on the common variety. We plan to repeat it next year on some of the newer varieties."

Winter Good Time To Check Silo Repairs, Moldy Silage

Now, while you're emptying the silo, is a good chance to give it a foot by foot check-up, says the Delaware agricultural extension service. Examining the silo at eye level as you take out the silage is the best means of planning repairs.

Chipping and rough spots are caused by thawing and freezing, and the rust and corrosion from acids. Chipped silos deteriorate rapidly and cause spoilage later.

Farmers often notice moldy silage as they work down through the silo. Mold organisms can grow only where there is air, carrying oxygen. Surface mold, or mold on the outside edges of the silo, is a fairly common occurrence. Too much mold on the outer edges might indicate cracks in the walls. Mold through the center of the silage indicates a poor pack with a lot of trapped air.

Cracks can be noted, and repaired next summer. The poor pack can be corrected another year, by a firm pack that does not trap air.

Forester Advises Raising Evergreens

From now on, maybe you'd like to grow your own Christmas evergreen decorations. Lots of people are doing it, says Harry Dengler, Extension Forester at the University of Maryland.

"People don't mind paying big prices for good evergreens," Mr. Dengler explains. "But they do not like to pay high prices for low quality decorations—so they start growing their own, saving money and having a lot of fun doing it." The evergreens can be effectively incorporated into the landscaping plan, so they improve outdoor looks, too.

Here are some of the evergreens that can be planted in Maryland: bayberry, laurel, rhododendron, holly, spruce, balsam, hemlock and pines.

To find out which are best suited for your locality, see your local nurseryman. Mr. Dengler says you are most likely to find him with leisure time on Monday mornings.

Harrington Chapter 1229 Women of The Moose

Our next meeting night will be Thursday night, Jan. 10. Also we are going to have an initiation. We are asking all members to be present that night.

Come out and make this meeting one to remember starting our New Year in the Women of the Moose. This makes it our New Year's resolution to be good members and attend the meetings as often as possible.

Plan Herdsman Short Course

A three-day herdsman short course will be held at the University of Maryland, January 28, 29, and 30, according to Joseph M. Vial, extension livestock specialist, in charge of the short course.

The course is open to herdsman, farm managers and farm owners as well as others interested in gaining practical knowledge of livestock production in the various classes. Some time will also be devoted to the present situation and outlook for the various classes of livestock.

The program is set up so that persons primarily interested in beef cattle will be able to take practical laboratory work with beef cattle, others with sheep, swine or horses. All groups will meet together for the lectures on livestock feeding and the period on selection and breeding.

Anyone who wishes to attend the short course should contact Mr. Vial or their county agent as soon as possible. This should be done by January 15, to allow time to arrange for lodging and meals and to plan material for classes. Notify him if you will need lodging and meals.

Pathfinders Sunday School Class of Asbury Church

The Pathfinders Sunday School Class of Asbury Methodist Church held its annual Christmas party with a turkey dinner in Collins Hall Friday evening.

The Rev. Robert E. VanCleaf, pastor, offered a prayer before the dinner, after which games were played and gifts exchanged. Entertainment was in charge of Mrs. B. Norman Hopkins.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Winebrenner assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Larimore, Friday evening, Jan. 25.

Changes Made In Reporting 1951 Farm Income

The principal amendment to the federal revenue act in 1951 affecting farmers concerns the treatment of the sale of livestock (that is, draft, breeding and dairy animals).

Farmers are allowed, under certain circumstances, to report the sale of livestock as the sale of capital assets rather than sale of farm products as ordinary income.

In order to be treated as sales of capital assets, the animals sold must meet certain requirements. First, they must have been owned by the farmer for at least 12 months. Secondly, the animals must have been held for draft, breeding or dairy purposes. Thirdly, the animals cannot be those which are primarily for sale in the ordinary course of the farm business.

These new requirements apply for the tax business years beginning in 1951. However, the new method of reporting sales of such animals as capital assets is retroactive for all returns for the business years 1948, 1949, and 1950. It is also retroactive back to 1942 under certain circumstances, in which case the taxpayer should consult a local revenue agent. Where retroactive years are involved the animals in question must have been owned for only six months or longer, instead of 12 months or longer.

Farmers who reported, in previous years, gains from the sale of livestock as ordinary income, might wish to amend their previous returns in order to get the tax reduction benefit possible under the 1951 act which treats the sale of certain livestock as capital asset sales. They may file amended returns or make claims for refunds.

Whether or not a farmer is justified in claiming refunds under the new provisions of the law depends largely upon the amount and type of livestock sold. In making claim for refunds the individual's accounts will be re-opened and, consequently, subject to inspection. This means that records must be available to substantiate such claims.

The 1951 federal act states specifically that, beginning in 1951, sales of poultry cannot be considered as sales of capital assets.

Since the tax rate applied to income from sales of capital assets is approximately one-half the rate on ordinary income for most farmers, it is important that farmers properly report such income. Sales of livestock as capital asset sales are reported on Schedule D, rather than on the Farm Schedule 1040-F.

The social security tax paid by farmers on wages of farm workers is a business expense and should be included in farm expenses. Therefore, in reporting farm expenses the wages paid (including the 1½ per cent withheld from the worker) should be itemized separately from the 1½ per cent tax paid by the employer. The 1½ per cent tax paid by the farmer should be reported under farm expenses as social security tax on farm wages.

Mother's Auxiliary of Children's Choirs of Asbury Methodist Church

Miss Jean Meredith returned to Selbyville Monday after spending the Christmas holidays with her parents.

The Home Demonstration Club will meet with Mrs. W. J. Mills Jan. 8 for a covered dish luncheon at 12 o'clock. After the luncheon Miss Nancy Ratcliff, our county agent, will present the subject.

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Conaway entertained at a covered dish supper celebrating the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gordy, of Georgetown. Following a most abundant and tasty meal the guests who were that group of families that often get together and call themselves "The Gang" enjoyed canasta until late in the evening when the hosts served delicious refreshments. Those enjoying the gracious hospitality of the Conaways were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ocheltree, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Graham, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Humphreys, Mrs. Ethel Curlett, Miss Eileen Mills, Vaughn Stapleton, Miss Jean Meredith, Miss Charlotte Conaway, Nelson and Sammy Meredith, Miss Betty Ann Graham, Miss Janice Smith, Eddie Smith, Alvin Mills and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Gordy.

Miss Virginia Brown, of Sandy Springs, Md., was the guest of Miss Charlotte A. Conaway the later part of the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Conaway entertained at dinner Sunday the following guests: Pfc. and Mrs. William R. Conaway, Miss Charlotte Conaway, Miss Virginia Brown, Miss Mabel Conaway, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Humphreys, Miss Barbara Humphreys and John Humphreys. This was the Conaways belated Christmas dinner since their son and daughter-in-law, Pfc. and Mrs. W. R. Conaway, could not arrive until Friday morning. They are spending the later part of the holidays with his parents.

Another holiday party was the one given by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Graham Friday evening.

Their guests were that same gang who enjoy getting together. They arrived about 8 o'clock for canasta and as usual when these folks meet they have a grand time. After several fine games Mr. and Mrs. Graham served a delicious platter to their guests who were the Mills, Merediths, Ocheltrees, Humphreys, Smiths, and Barwicks.

Dover Briefs

Mrs. Almedia Clark and Mrs. Grace Scott spent Christmas in Wilmington with Mrs. Clark's two sons, Jesse and Robert Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burger and family spent Christmas week in Hagerstown and Frederick visiting their parents.

Josephine Arrington, Dover, and Donald Rash, Wyoming, were married Christmas night at Sandtown Holiness Church.

The Holiness Church in Dover is being repaired, also a bell which adds to its appearance.

Mrs. Minnie Abbot has been in Dover hospital. Not so good at this writing.

Church Notes
Asbury Methodist

The first Sunday of the new year has for some years been designated as "Covenant Sunday." It is a time of renewing our individual covenant with the living Christ. The sermon by the minister at the morning worship, beginning at 11 a. m., will be on the theme of our personal covenant with God.

"What Does It Mean to Find Christ?" is the international lesson for study in the Sunday School, which begins at 10 a. m. Other materials for individual and group study are available. Classes for all age groups.

During the month of January the Youth Fellowship will study the Old Testament at the regular meeting on Sunday evening at 6:30 in the Collins Building. Devotional leader for this Sunday will be Eleanor Wagner.

The evening worship begins at 7:30 o'clock. For the next six Sunday evenings the minister will present a study book, "We Americans: North and South." Members of the W. S. C. S. are especially urged to be present. The Chancel Choir will sing. Immediately after the evening service the official board of the church will meet.

On Tuesday evening the W. S. C. S. will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Collins Building at 7:30.

Choirs of the church will meet on Thursday: Junior Choir at 3:30 and the Chancel Choir at 6:45 in the Collins Building, and the Cathedral Choir at 8 in the sanctuary.

Calendar cards are now due. Please turn them in as soon as possible.

"Compensating Beauty"

The noted designer and colorist, Dorothy Liebes, stresses the fact that color appeal is emotional rather than solely intellectual. She urges more use of color in the home to provide the needed "compensating beauty" during the present time of tension.

Saving Swings

Prevent the seats on your wooden swings and teeter-totters from warping by coating them with boiled linseed oil. Apply with a cloth or brush in thoroughly and allow to dry before using.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

As we enter upon a new year may each one know he need not travel it alone. God has promised never to leave nor forsake us. The church also stands ready to serve you. Start doing now—that which in your best moments you desire to do—go to church this Sunday. Don't deny yourself this privilege another week. January 6 to 13 has been designated "The Universal Week of Prayer."

9:45 a. m. Sunday School, with classes for every age group, and which classes are taught by conscientious teachers. Elwood B. Gruwell is general superintendent.

11 a. m. Morning Worship. Administering of the Holy Communion. The Senior Choir will also sing.

6:30 p. m. Joyce Gruwell is the leader in the Youth Meeting in the Church Annex.

7:30 p. m. The Junior Choir will sing; and the pastor will preach a New Year's sermon.

Friday Evening (Jan. 4): The Loyal Workers Bible Class will meet with Mrs. Harry L. Boyer. Cohostesses are: Mrs. Jos. Cordray, Mrs. E. T. Hall, Mrs. Samuel Williams, and Mrs. W. Wright.

Tuesday Evening: The regular monthly meeting of the O. U. R. Class.

Tuesday Evening: The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Tuesday Morning and Afternoon: The Peninsula Methodist Conference will sponsor a conference dealing with Christian Social Relations, in the Harrison Methodist Church, Wilmington.

Thursday evening: Rehearsal of choirs.

Wednesday Evening, Jan. 16: The Peninsula Annual Conference Temperance Study Seminar for Dover District in Trinity Church.

Plymouth's Cranbrook Four-Door Sedan for '52

Here's the new Plymouth for 1952, a more beautiful, smoother operating, easier riding, safer car which features 46 important improvements. There is new beauty in the car's road-hugging, sweeping appearance, and color harmony perfection in the new interiors, which are Tone-Tailored with quality fabrics. The luxurious interiors blend beautifully with the exterior colors. The car has all the features for comfort, economy, safety and durability which have become traditional with Plymouth. Shown above is the new four-door Cranbrook sedan.

Smooth, Easy Performance
Featured in New Plymouth

The new Plymouth for 1952 will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the United States, Friday, January 4.

A long list of improvements—46 in all—has been incorporated in the engine, the brakes, the electrical system, the chassis, and to the inside and outside of the body.

The new car, according to D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, has been improved and refined to provide "the most gentle ride, the smoothest engine performance and the greatest safety ever built into a car for the lowest price field."

Exceptional engine smoothness is produced through a newly designed combustion chamber; brakes are stronger and longer-lasting; Plymouth's famous Safety-Flow ride has been made even more comfortable by improvements in the springing and to the Oriflow shock absorbers; and the car's beauty is enhanced by numerous styling refinements.

The Plymouth has a road-hugging, sweeping appearance, accented by changes in the external adornment. A new luxurious standard for interiors is attained with the high quality upholstery fabrics in harmonious colors which blend beautifully with the instrument and door panels.

The smart hardtop club coupe, the Belvedere, is the pace-setter in the lowest price field with its new concepts in styling and beauty. The car has glistening, lively two-tone colors which set it apart and give it the continental look. The color used on the roof follows the Belvedere's streamlined contours around the spacious rear window and down over the rear deck. Sparkling chrome molding outlines the top and carries back to separate the two colors at their junction at the rear quarter panel. Interior of the Belvedere is luxurious with colorful quality fabrics and vinyl blended in perfect harmony with the shades used on the exterior. Long-wearing carpeting—also in complementary colors—rounds out the ensemble. The following color combinations are available for the Belvedere: Suede Tan with Sable Bronze top; Belmont Blue Polychromatic with Sterling Grey top; Mint Green with Black top.

There are ten body types in the new Plymouth line, available in an array of eight regular, and two special sparkling new colors. The traditional interior roominess and the many "high-priced car" features for which Plymouth has been distinctive have been retained throughout the new line.

SMOOTH PERFORMANCE

A new, smoother flow of power results from the newly designed combustion chamber in Plymouth's famous floating power engine. The six-cylinder, 97 horsepower engine has a 7 to 1 compression ratio. Longer life for both the main and rod bearings is achieved through an improved type of base metal.

To further insure smoothness of performance and faster getaway, several refinements in the new Synchro-Silent transmission permit faster, easier shifting, and more rapid and positive engagement of gears. The rear axle is improved, and there are provisions which permit more accurate gear and bearing adjustments.

Operating temperatures up to an additional eight degrees without the hazard of losing water or anti-freeze result from further improvements to the pressure-vent radiator cap, which provides a pressurized cooling system.

STURDY BRAKES

The traditionally sturdy Safe-Guard Hydraulic brakes have been given greater ease of operation, and much longer life. New Cyclebond brake linings provide greater braking area and longer braking life. There are heavier backing plates on both the front and rear brakes; an improved drum design on the front brakes for smoother operation and better cooling; an easier operating brake pedal return spring; and a redesigned steering knuckle to provide more positive protection from road splash.

Passenger and driver comfort has been increased with improvements to Plymouth's "Safety-Flow ride." New cushioning-type ports in the Oriflow shock absorbers, increased travel in the front springs and a new interliner for the rear springs provide quieter operation, reduced steering wheel shock, less friction and an improved ride.

Quicker starting in hot or cold weather with less drain on the battery is assured by the new "Follo-Thru" anti-kickout feature of the starter, the foremost among numerous changes in the electrical system. Greater visibility under adverse driving conditions is provided by a ten per cent increase in the speed of the electrically-operated windshield wipers.

BEAUTIFUL STYLING

Luxury and color harmony are the keystones of the beautiful upholstery and trim selected for the new Plymouth. A fine selection of long-wearing, quality fabrics is available in shades which blend beautifully with the car's exterior colors. An attractive "Lustre-Tone" instrument panel features controls which are conveniently grouped and instruments which are colored and lettered for easy reference while driving. Newly designed to further beautify the Plymouth are the ornament, the top molding, and the medallion on the hood, and the license light and name plate on the rear deck lid. The sweeping, low appearance of the car is further accented by the lowering of the rear fender molding.

Solex tinted safety glass is available throughout the Plymouth line as optional equipment at small extra cost. The glass reduces interior temperatures on hot summer days, minimizes fading of upholstery or seat cover fabrics, and reduces sun glare.

Among the many features which have been retained in the new Plymouth are the wide, deep chair-height seats, the ease of entrance and exit, the combination ignition and starter switch, automatic electric choke, super-cushion tires, and safety-rim wheels.

There are ten body types in the new Plymouth line: the Concord series includes a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and the popular all-metal Suburban, and its country club cousin, the Savoy; the Cambridge series has a four-door sedan and a club coupe; and the Cranbrook series includes a four-door sedan, a club coupe, a convertible club coupe, and the pace-setting Belvedere.

That sympathetic understanding which lightens the family burden is most pronounced in our efficient and courteous service. Your wishes determine the cost.

on party-line telephones, too

Little courtesies, like helping Granny off the train, help to make life happier.

Consideration for the other fellow is the basis of good party-line telephone service, too. If you are always courteous on the telephone, you're sure to find your party-line neighbors the same. Remember the three R's of party-line courtesy—Relinquish the line as soon as possible when you hear others try to use it; Replace the receiver gently when you find the line in use; Regulate your calls so that others may use the line in-between.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

Good By 1951 Hello 1952. With the passing of 1951 we all have some good thoughts and some bad. As we look back during the past year, let's make a resolution to try and overcome the things that we could have done better. For instance, I as a merchant will try and sell you the things that will help with your work and make your life easier to live. That is my part for 1952 and what is yours? Well the first thing is to make up your mind that to make life worth living, get the things that you are able to buy and enjoy them while living.

Now let's play a little quiz game. Did you know that the franchisees that we have are valuable? Did you know that there are dealers who would grasp the chance of getting them?

Did you know that products manufactured by Westinghouse and Philco are the leading things sold today?

Did you know that Westinghouse and Philco products are easier to sell than many other products on the market?

Did you know that a dealer makes less money when they sell you Westinghouse and Philco products than similar goods?

This of course shows that they are tested, tried and may I say televised as when they are seen just watch that gleam as they have hit the beam.

You have been wonderful to me during 1951 and may I say we all thank you for your business, both large and small.

My plan for 1952 is to help you save and enjoy yourselves all at the same time.

To you I wish a most healthy, prosperous and happy New Year.

"Westward The Women" at Reese Theatre

Critics Rave About MGM's New Hit

One of the most unusual pictures of the new season is scheduled to play at the Reese Theatre, located at Harrington, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 6, 7 and 8. "Westward The Women" with Robert Taylor and Denise Darcel, is the type of picture that is unusual in theme, and bold in scope.

Imagine 200 husband-hungry women crossing a wilderness for romance. Some were lonesome, longing for the men who waited at the journey's end, some were primitive, struggling to stay alive in the wilderness, and some were hard—not caring whom they hurt, whom they loved.

"Westward The Women" is the kind of picture every woman, and every man will want to see again and again.

Democratic Policy Committee To Convene

When the Democratic State Policy Committee holds its first meeting of the present year in the offices of Gov. Elbert N. Carvel on Thursday, the members will have a number of matters for consideration.

This committee, composed of the Democratic officials elected to major offices as well as the officers of the various party organizations, discusses matters of interest to the public as well as political affairs within their own party.

Normally this committee reviews the general conditions throughout the state and will discuss ways and means of providing improvement in conditions, where needed, regardless of political implications.

Members of the committee are Governor Carvel, Lieut. Gov. Alexis I. duPont Bayard, U. S. Senator J. Allen Frear Jr., Secretary of State Harris B. McDowell Jr., who is also Democratic state chairman; G. Lester Daniels, New Castle County Democratic chairman; Col. Vernon B. Derrickson, Kent County Democratic chairman; Senator R. Allen Cannon, Sussex County Democratic chairman, and Edward R. Hensel, Wilmington City Democratic chairman.

According to members of this committee all angles of matters of public import are discussed by the members and policy decisions are only made as a result of a majority vote of the members.

While this committee will have numerous matters on their agenda for Thursday's meeting, some of the matters to be discussed are questions now pending before the special session of the Legislature, which will reconvene next Tuesday, and possible Democratic candidates for the general election next fall.

On the question of candidates the committee members will probably find that Democratic leaders throughout the state are figuring on Gov. Carvel being a candidate for reelection to that office and that Lieut. Gov. Bayard be the party's candidate for United States Senator.

These Democratic leaders point to the fact that Gov. Carvel's majority in the 1948 elections was 10,343 votes and that Mr. Bayard was elected Lieut-Gov. with a majority of 9060 votes and they further assert that the record of the present Democratic state administration in all matters of public improvement and progress has been such that the candidates will be stronger this year than they were in 1948.

After decisions have been reached concerning candidates for the two top places on the Democratic ticket, it is possible that some consideration will be given to other offices to be filled.

This latter action, however, may come at a later meeting since the committee is expected to meet once each month, or oftener, in event more meetings are needed.
