Born in England, He Was A Leader in Civic Affairs And Past Master of Grange

Walter J. Paskey Sr., 81, former speaker of the House of Representatives at Dover, died late Saturday in the Milford Memorial Hospital.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning in St. John's R. C. Church, Milford, with interment in Hollywood Cemetery. Funeral services were in charge of Boyer Funeral Home.

Mr. Paskey, a retired farmer, was elected to the State Legislature as a representative in 1921 on the Democratic ticket and was named speaker. He was returned to the House in 1935. He had also served as director of the Kent & Sussex Counties Fair and was past president of the Harrington Rotary Club and past master of both Felton and Harrington Granges.

The Monday preceding his death, Mr. Paskey had attended a banquet of the fair association at Seaford, and, on the following evening, had attended a meeting of the Rotary Club.

Born in Portsmouth, England, Mr. Paskey was the son of William Joseph and Mary Ann Twyford Paskey. He came to Ontario, Canada, with his parents at the age of five, remaining there until he was 16, when he came to the United States. He spent two years on a western ranch, then moved to New York City and became a deep-sea diving crew's helper. Later he worked as a longshoreman.

About 57 years ago, Mr. Paskey moved to Delaware and rented a farm near Felton. He had lived in that vicinity and in Harrington since that time. His wife, Mrs. Teresa Doyle Paskey, died 33 years ago.

Mr. Paskey was a substantial grower of strawberries at his farm just north of town, on the Harrington-Masten's Corner road, in the days when there was a large acreage of the crop in this area. In recent years he had lived in Harrington.

Surviving are four sons, Sheriff William J. Paskey, who is also a former member of the House of Representatives at Dover, of Felton; Walter J. Paskey Jr., of Harrington, a member of the Kent Elections Department; Raymond S. and George B. Paskey Sr., both of Harrington, and three daughters, Mrs. Minnie A. Markland, Dover; Miss Loretta I. Paskey, teacher at Harrington High School, and Mrs. Theresa P. Horleman, of Harrington. Also surviving are nine grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Skinner and Mrs. Eli Klein, both of Brooklyn, N. Y., and a brother, Raymond Paskey, of Long Island City, N. Y.

Legion Post To Sponsor March of Dimes

Earl Sylvester, Drive Chairman Reports Marked Increase in Polio

Eugene Anderson, commander of Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tea Post No. 7, American Legion, announced today that the post would sponsor the 1952 March of Dimes campaign for funds to combat the dreadful disease, infantile paralysis, and to continue treatment of those previously afflicted.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has a deficit of five million dollars, despite the fact that $127,230,407 was raised in the years of 1945 to 1950, inclusive. This was due to the record-breaking increase in the rising tide of polio. There were 50,051 cases in 1945, 1946, 1947 and 103,619 cases in 1948-1949-1950, an increase of 107 per cent. The money raised in this campaign helps pay bills for patients who cannot afford full costs of polio care; assist in improving facilities for treatment; furnishes epidemic aid where needed; provides for training of professional workers; supplies educational material and finances research into prevention and treatment of polio. Fifty per cent of funds raised remains in Kent County for local patients.

Make your contribution to J. Leonard Horleman at the First National Bank.

The local committee consists of Earl Sylvester, chairman, and Mr. Horleman, treasurer. "Give today in order that all children may walk, run and play tomorrow." (See March of Dimes, Back Page)

Most Juvenile Court Cases Come From Broken Homes, Judge Tells Rotarians

"Between 250 and 300 divorces have been granted in Kent and Sussex counties within a period of one year, and frequently one of these broken homes has four or five children. From these broken homes come most of the cases before the Juvenile Court."

This was the expression of Judge W. Marion Stevenson, of the Juvenile Courts of Kent and Sussex counties before the Harrington Rotary Club Tuesday evening.

"From homes where the children have parental love and care we have but very few cases; in homes where the parents are indifferent, there is a constant flow of offenders to the courtroom. The children are the sufferers, the victims of neglect and a lack of discipline," continued the speaker.

Parents and children are given every chance to remedy conditions before they are hauled into court, said Judge Stevenson. Truant officers, probation officers, welfare boards and other agencies co-operate with the courts in efforts to solve the problems. Many times they succeed, but when they do not succeed, then, as a last resort, the offenders are brought into court.

In one instance in Sussex an official went to investigate a family. The father was a chronic drunkard, the mother looked like a fit candidate for Stockley and the family had nothing to eat but boiled horse corn. "Unthinkable," said Judge Stevenson, "in this great and prosperous country of America—but that is what happened. There are many comparable cases."

The number of non-support cases is appalling. They clutter up the courts, and in New Castle County alone as much as $3000 daily has been paid for the support of children and mothers. A solution is practically impossible in certain cases. In one such case, eight or ten children were involved—and the father was earning only $27 weekly.

But very few of the delinquents have ever attended church or Sunday School—or have ever belonged to such an organization as the Boy Scouts. When the court releases delinquent on probation, it insists that he must attend church or Sunday School, and if he violates these orders, it will be necessary to resort to more severe measures.

Whereas, not so long ago, the Ferris School had something like 200 inmates, today it has only 92. These figures would suggest that conditions are improving, but, said Judge Stevenson, it is not an indication of improvement. Welfare agencies and other organizations have managed to place some of the boys in foster homes and have secured employment for others. Most of the boys at Ferris now are confirmed criminals.

"The real tug at the heart," concluded the speaker, "comes when we have to break up what should be a home; when we have to place one child in a home in Delmar, its brother or sister in a home in Smyrna, and another in a home in Newark—and despite the dissolute nature of the father or the mother, there is still the love of the father and the mother for their children."

It was a serious, thoughtful address and was much appreciated by the Rotarians. Cabbage Brown was program chairman of the evening.

President Harold McDonald announced Fri., Feb. 22, as the date for the Friendship Dinner. The Rotary Club will be the host this year. In addition to Rotary, the other organizations affiliated with this annual affair are the Century Club, the Lions Club and the Women's Business and Professional Women's Club.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at Berry Funeral Home, Milford, for Ormand Purnell, 52, victim of a fire Friday night on the Frank Porter farm near Marvel's Crossroads, or Porter's Corner, between Harrington and Frederica. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery. The Rev. Roy L. Tawes, pastor of Avenue Methodist Church, Milford, officiated at the funeral services.

According to state police, a lighted cigarette started a fire in a one-room house in which Mr. Purnell lived on the Porter farm. Some thought, however, that the blaze might have started from a wood stove. The building was in an orchard a short distance from the farmhouse inhabited by Mrs. Annie Porter, his foster mother and mother of Frank Porter, owner of the farm. His body was recovered from a bed in the ruins after the flames were extinguished.

The Harrington victim had formerly lived in another small house near the one in which he died Friday night. And he had escaped injury in a fire there a few years ago.

Mr. Purnell had been to Frederica and, according to Mr. Porter, had returned home about 9:45 p. m. About 12:30 a. m. William Taylor, who lives on a nearby farm, turned in an alarm after being notified of the fire by an employe, Sam Tatman.

When Harrington and Houston fire companies arrived, the building was beyond saving. Loss of the house and furniture was estimated at about $600.

Mr. Purnell had been employed by Carleton Barber, who manufactures cement blocks on a nearby farm and who is also engaged in the buying of pulpwood. He was aiding in the harvesting of pulpwood when his death took place.

Mr. Purnell had lived in this vicinity most of his life, being adopted by the late Thomas Porter and his wife, Mrs. Annie Porter, as a child. In his early life he spent five years in the Coast Guards and was stationed on the USS Redwing in about 1925.

Later, he worked for Frank Porter until he accepted employment with Mr. Barber. He is survived by a brother, Herman Purnell, of Harrington.

U. S. O. Permanent Organization Formed Robert E. Helm Elected As Vice-Chairman

With over 35 members in attendance, the USO Committee held its first meeting Monday evening at the Dover Air Force Base and by unanimous vote, elected Robert Helm as vice-chairman and Mrs. George Ehinger as secretary for the group which will officially represent the organization in Dover. USO, in itself, has recently been reactivated at the request of the United States Department of Defense in order to promote a wholesome spiritual, recreational, social and educational program for all members of the Armed Forces while in town and on leave.

During the course of the meeting, Mr. Helm, as acting chairman, stated that, although USO's activities would be limited for the time being, there were many community and civic projects of vital concern to the community which should be taken under consideration. As a result, housing conditions and needs were given primary concern by the assembled group.

Miss Muriel Schwartz, chairman of the housing committee, assisted by Miss Margaret Jeffreys, Mrs. Emanuel Barros and Mrs. Ruby Hickman will, as a result of the urgent need, establish a USO housing center at the American Legion Building beginning Friday of this week. The activity, which will operate through the Chamber of Commerce, which will be a community project staffed by volunteers and will operate without charge to the service personnel or to the landlords. Listings on all rooms, rooms with kitchen privileges, apartments furnished or unfurnished houses will be welcomed and confidentially listed by the housing group during hours on duty which will be from 9 a. m. through 5 p. m. and 7 p. m. till 9 p. m. each day with the exception of Sundays. However, for the week starting Friday the hours will be 7 to 9 p. m., and the Saturday the above routine.

The housing center will also act as an information desk as well as a location where all residents wishing to participate in the USO program may file their applications on Wednesday and Thursday evenings at senior or junior hostesses for the many various activities that will result as the need is in the community for the overall programming increases. For the present, junior hostesses, under the chairmanship of Miss Kathryn Pennypacker, are being given primary concern in preparation for the first dance that will be presented on Valentine night.

Preparations Underway For Music Festival

The ninth state solo and ensemble festival for vocal and instrumental students will be held at Wesley Junior College in Dover Sat., Feb. 23 at 10 a. m., according to Mrs. Eugenia A. Matz, chairman of the committee. The festival will be divided into three sections including piano, vocal, and instrumental presentations. Pupils in grades one through 12 are eligible to participate.

Entry blanks from the various schools are being mailed to Mrs. Matz for the all day event. A performance ability which represents three years of study is necessary for participation in the piano events. In the vocal and instrumental events participants may be entered regardless of how much experience they have had, if, in the music teacher's opinion, they are capable of giving a satisfactory public performance.

Mrs. Matz also announced that the commentators for the 1952 festival will be Lloyd C. Mitchell, West Chester State Teachers' College, West Chester, Pa., for the piano section; Marvin R. Fennema, instructor in music, University of Delaware, for the vocal section; and John H. Jenny, director of bands, Temple University, for the instrumental section. The commentators will listen for and remark on intonation, ensemble, tone, technique, and selection. According to Mrs. Matz the festival committee hopes that all music teachers will give the talented students and the musically interested ensemble groups the opportunity of receiving constructive comments on their progress by the commentators. The festival, held under the auspices of the Delaware Music Educators Association, is being planned by the following committee: John H. Bunnell, Felton; Lemuel H. Evans, Milton; Starr L. Cole, Mt. Pleasant; Armando Scilingo, Wilmington; Mrs. William J. Storey, Wesley Junior College; Melvin L. Brobst, Harrington; Clarke Maynard, supervisor of music, Wilmington; and Floyd T. Hart, state director of music education.

ONE OF THE BOYS

"Has there an old fellow got mixed with the boys? If there has, take him out without making a noise. Hang the almanac's cheat and the catalogue's spite! Old Time is a liar! We're twenty tonight."

Those lines from the pen of Oliver Wendell Holmes were the soul of Walter J. Paskey.

When we came to Harrington thirty-four years ago and bought The Harrington Journal, we hadn't talked with our Irish foreman, Tom Fitzpatrick, ten minutes before he said: "Gee! I want you to meet Paskey. You two will like each other."

We met the following week and we did like each other—have liked each other every minute since then. "Like" isn't the right word—because we cherished a deep affection for each other.

At our first meeting, we were astounded at his resemblance to J. Hamilton Lewis, the pink-whiskered wit, bon vivant and statesman from Illinois. Thereafter we called him "J. Ham." Years later, a number of us were in Washington to bring Governor Charles Hillman Brough of Arkansas to fill a speaking engagement. We told Governor Brough about Mr. Paskey's resemblance to Senator Lewis, and when the governor and Mr. Paskey met, the former exclaimed: "By George, he does look like Ham. Return with us to Washington tomorrow and I will make you acquainted with Senator Lewis. He and I are old friends." When introduced the following day, they were told of their startling resemblance, pink whiskers and all. They shook hands, grinned, looked each other over from head to foot. Then Senator Lewis turned to Governor Brough, while Mr. Paskey turned to Postmaster C. Fred Wilson and still grinning, they said in the same breath: "Heck! Do I look like that?"

At a district meeting of Rotary International in Atlantic City, we introduced him to many Rotarians as Senator J. Ham Lewis—and they lionized him, begging him for speaking engagements. He was an able speaker and could deliver a thoughtful, logical speech, always embellished with wholesome humor.

He could be dignified when the occasion demanded, but it was always dignity with a twinkle in its eye. We've never known a person with a keener zest in life, and he enjoyed every second of his stay here.

A few years ago the Harrington Rotary Club lost by a fraction of a point an attendance contest to the Middletown Rotary Club. As losers in that contest, we had to go up to Middletown and supply the entertainment. It was a catch-as-catch-can, impromptu, hurried-up program, and we, as toastmaster, called on Walter Paskey. In a high, clear tenor he sang a melody of old Ireland, and then, although approaching eighty years, his pink whiskers waving in enthusiasm, he finished his chore by dancing an Irish jig.

Again back to Holmes: "Yes, we're boys, always playing with tongue and wit pen, And I sometimes have asked, shall we ever be men? Shall we always be youthful and laughing and gay, Till the last dear companion drops smiling away?"

The article, "When Was Christ Born?", published in our issue of Dec. 21, and written by the Rev. Robert Van Cleef, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, resulted in a little research on the part of the editor. The Rev. VanCleef, after reviewing the facts in his article, concluded that Christ was born in 4 B. C. The editor, reviewing the same facts, concluded it was 6 or 7 B. C.

The Thorndike Barnhart Comprehensive Desk Dictionary, defines "B. C." as "Before Christ." Thus, Christ was born 4 to 7 years "Before Christ."

Incidentally, "A. D." means "Anno Domino" (Year of our Lord).

When complaints are made on the high price of food, the farmer remarks that he doesn't get that price. However, he probably could if he would process and retail his products.

A thing which, undoubtedly, aids in patronage response to television, is the boorish conduct of many patrons of the movies. This conduct, apparently, is not confined to any particular age group or section of the nation. Only the other day, the excellent English actor, James Mason, smacked Playwright William Saroyan in the puss because he (Saroyan) persisted in yapping during a movie. Mason claimed he could hear Saroyan two rows away.

Once, when a young punk popped his bubble gum with such apparent enjoyment, in our immediate vicinity, we changed to a seat clear across the auditorium and could still hear him.

In our opinion, the worst pest is he who insists on propping his feet or knees against the back of one's seat. This pest, to be found in most parts of the country in the smaller theatres, is usually found in the teen-age class, though the guilty party is sometimes encountered in older-age groups. With one of these birds giving one's spinal column a workout, one gets a vicarious thrill from the horse operas, especially in scenes depicting the heroine, on horseback, escaping from the redskins over a rocky terrain.

When Mark Twain was twenty years old his father was so ignorant that Mark couldn't stand to be around him. When Mark was thirty years old he was amazed at how much the old man had learned in ten years. Four years ago General Ike laughed off the idea of becoming a Presidential candidate by saying that his entire education had been in the other direction, that he was a military man and had no training for any other field. Now he's coyly admitting that he's willin'. How much he must have learned in the last four years!

Kurt Carlsen and his "Flying Enterprise!" What a story, and what an inspiration this gallant Danish-American has taught us. Instead of using that hackneyed, deceptive expression of propaganda, "Free Enterprise," as a subject, here is a real subject for any outstanding lecturer, "The Flying Enterprise." Like Wendell's famous lecture, "Saul of Tarsus," it would stand out as a statue chiseled by a great sculptor from marble.

In order to better understand each other, to distinguish between the rock-ribbed and the bone-headed, Georgia and Wisconsin are undertaking a novel experiment. Thirty high-school pupils from Wisconsin will attend school in Georgia and thirty pupils from Georgia will attend school in Wisconsin. We shall watch this experiment with considerable interest. Can the lion and the lamb lie down side by side? Can soda and vinegar dwell placidly in the same bottle, can the dead bough bloom and burgeon with golden fruit? Imagine—and it will take a Jules Verne imagination to do so—thirty pupils from the vicinity of Milwaukee walking into a Georgia schoolroom, each carrying a stein of foaming Pabst or Schlitz—or thirty Georgia pupils marching into a Wisconsin schoolroom snapping the buckles on their red Herman Talmadge galluses. If this can be done, then there is hope for the Delaware Legislature.

That sordid mess up at Brandywine Sanatorium is nothing new. It has been that way for at least fifteen years—and state officials have known about it all this time. In fact, the then Secretary of State promised us some six or seven years ago to bring the matter of an investigation before the Governor—but nothing came of it. When the Ferris School expose shamed Delaware on front pages all over the nation, the citizens around Wilmington, and most of them were familiar with conditions at Brandywine, were sure that the sanatorium would be next on the clean-up list. They were mistaken. We believe the trouble may be laid at the door of the officials and the people who elect them. The attitude of the ordinary official seems to be: "Well—now I'm in—nothing matters!" We can understand the hesitancy to act on the part of some of the officials. Try to clean up an unsavory mess and you're branded as an agitator. We remember the fate of a courageous little fellow by the name of Scott Reese. Despite the fact that they tried to shut him up, he clamored for an investigation of that Penny Hill liquor scandal during prohibition days—and won—yet he was defeated in the next primary election. What is the answer? There can be no answer until people vote for men instead of politicians.

"INDEPENDENT" NEWSPAPERS

The American Press has named The Harrington Journal as one of the jurors on the panel to decide this question: "Since this is Presidential election year, should publishers come out for the candidate they personally favor should they not take sides?" We were limited to one hundred words—but that limited number of words cannot begin to approach the subject.

We have heard of independent newspapers—and we've read the fables written by an ancient Greek slave by the name of Aesop—and long, long ago, we spent weeks and months studying mythology.

Yes, we've heard of independent newspapers—but we've never seen one. It isn't necessary to place "Independent" at the masthead of a newspaper—its readers know that paper's policy.

Some papers are independent politically on off-election years, especially on the front page, but with the approach of the election they begin to inch up like James Whitcomb Riley's inch-worm, and later they adopt Alexander Pope's attitude of damning with faint praise. Then, just before election, they grab a stone axe and begin to bludgeon right and left.

When you see an "independent" newspaper published in a Republican stronghold, then you witness the shabby spectacle of a weak-kneed Democrat as the publisher. When you see an "independent" newspaper published in a Democratic stronghold, it is dollars to doughnuts that the publisher, on the quiet, is muttering "Hooryay for Hoover!"

But the most contemptible critter of them all is the Uriah Heep of journalism. He comes into a town and is neutral in everything. He sits on the sideline and sizes up the situation. Then he joins the most influential club, the most influential church, patronizes the wealthiest bank—and publishes a paper in harmony with the policies of these institutions.

It's not man's nature to be independent—if he's capable of thinking even just a little bit, and with the bitter cross currents sweeping across the world today, it's more difficult than ever to be fair. We look at the political scene through the bleared eyes of bias—and all of us are wrong in many of our appraisals.

Some publishers are sincere in their belief that they are independent in politics, and they may be—for a while, begin to show.

Then, in the heat of the campaign, their slips of prejudice. Once, a long time ago, we came across a copy of a weekly newspaper published two thousand miles from Harrington, and the name of that paper was "THE ETERNAL REPUBLICAN." At Linn, Missouri, there is published a paper by the name of "THE UNTERRIFIED DEMOCRAT." Both of these papers are wrong in their committed ardor, but, bless 'em, we have to love them for, right or wrong, they are honest.

Houston

We are glad to report G. A. Wilson came home from the Milford Memorial Hospital Mon., Jan. 7, and he is getting along fine. His condition is quite a bit improved.

Mrs. Ruth H. Sapp, teacher of the 1st and 2nd grades of Houston School, is still quite ill and not able to attend her school duties. She has been fortunate to procure Mrs. Pearl Cain, of Harrington, as a substitute.

Mrs. George B. Thistlewood was quite ill over the weekend with intestinal gripe, but her condition is much improved at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Webb and daughter, Eileen, visited the Jack Kennedy's for a short while Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Ralph Sharp, of Philadelphia, has been spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sharp.

Our public school contributed $25.60 last week towards the March of Dimes, which was most commendable.

The third and fourth quarterly conference of the Methodist Church will be held Jan. 24, Houston Charge. This meeting will be held in the Community Building following a covered dish supper. All members are asked to be present and this meeting is for any church member who wishes to come.

The Houston New Century Club will meet Tuesday night, "Youth Conservation," being the topic. Mrs. Ralph Jump and Mrs. Shockley Daugherty will have the program and Mrs. Vaughan Warren will have current events. All members are urged to attend this meeting for there is important business to be discussed.

The Kentz family, from Pennsylvania, who just recently purchased the Charles P. Armour property moved in last week and we welcome them to our town and hope they will like our people and town.

MY GRANDPA

By Samuel A. Short Jr.

My grandpa must have been a grand old man, According what has been told to me,

He fought wars as a hero did, man to man, By taking his place in this world you see.

My grandpa must have been a grand old man, Willing to do what others could not.

Just an old settler in this grand old land, He fought his battles and did his lot.

My grandpa must have been a grand old man, Helping to bring cheer far and near. He wore his medals which was his plan, To show others and plenty they were.

His love was pure, was this grand old man, With a heart of gold that knew no woe.

He had no crave for fancy clothes, And no particular place he wanted to go.

He had no autos to ride the roads at night, No planes were there to go in the air.

He had to walk which he thought was right, No railroads to ride or pay any fare.

He had no complaints to make or grudges to bare, Just took life easy as an old man could.

No trials of life or punishments to share, In all his days he lived as any man would.

Now the days have come and grandpa has gone, And all we know is sweet memories of him.

To embrace our hearts and minds along, But we'll never forget, though our memories are slim.

Letter to the Editor

Our aggressive Editor and popular Chief of Civil Defense, C. H. Burgess, has been pressing me for a report on our municipal program for 1952.

Editor you know there is a great difference in what we would like to do and what we will be able to do, under present unsettled conditions and inflated costs. One promised improvement, is a sidewalk in front of the Peoples Service Station, to U. S. Route No. 13. The city will be asked to lay a walk across the 16 ft. public alley next to the dairy.

Zoning Ordinance
We have authority to adopt a zoning ordinance, without a change in our present charter. It does not add to the beauty of any residential section to inter-spere places of business among homes. It seems unfair to me, to a person building a new home, to not have this protection. At present you have no protection. We cannot refuse a building permit for a place of business next door to you. I would like to hear from our civic organizations, etc., about a zoning law and please do it by letter.

Harrington Manor
I think we should adopt some program of improvement in this beautiful home building section. As you know our current income is not great enough, to do big things. Any large scale improvements in the Manor or north of Center St. would require a bond issue. But I do think that the property owners in the Manor and the City should try to establish some working agreement on improved streets, water service, etc. We are badly in need of a new aerial water tank.

Law Enforcement
I admit a lack of sympathy with tax enforcement. I like to see the law enforced in a fair manner to all and not too many excuses. I never felt like I was in any special privilege class. Speed signs, signs with no left turn, parking meters, no parking on the sidewalk, etc., should mean the same to all people. I think the meters and the business section, east of the railroad on Clark Street, should have more attention from the police force. Newark, Del., is probably the fastest growing town in Delaware and they have a strict enforcement of all ordinances.

Exchange of Views
I am not an isolationist. I am a director in our State Mayor's Association and like to exchange my opinions with officials in other towns. We often seek information from Dover, Milford, Smyrna, etc. City Manager Marvel, of Smyrna, is a licensed engineer and saved us a thousand dollars on one job. Mayor Williams, of Laurel, told me of a similar experience in Laurel. Several months ago we had a call from Middletown for a copy of our ordinances.

Mayor's Office
Like any position of responsibility, it has many rough spots and some pleasant ones. I doff my hat, in salute, to Mr. C. L. Peck Sr., who has served 15 years, without pay, as City Councilman.

I think, the mayor's office should change hands every few years. New men bring new ideas, new vigor and it is a great opportunity to render service to your city.

I am sure the entire Council joins me in wishing you a Happy 1952.

Original inspiration of John Keats, the immortal English poet, was his devoted father, an energetic man of lively imagination. ## Dawson Installed As Master Of Fruitland Grange

W. O. Dawson was recently installed as master of Fruitland Grange P. of H. No. 16 of Camden, by an installation team headed by Hammon E. Coverdale, treasurer of the Delaware State Grange. Other members of the installing staff were: Mrs. Angie Coverdale, Mrs. Dorothy Curl, Miss Lois Lillie, and Miss Frances Evans.

In addition to Mr. Dawson the following officers were installed: Overseer, Wallace Caulk; lecturer, Mrs. Mabel Cooper; steward, Ernest Cool; assistant steward, Charles Clinton; chaplain, Mrs. Bessie Brown; treasurer, R. Maris Pyott; secretary, Mrs. Olive Clinton; gate keeper, Alfred Thomas; Ceres, Mrs. Nettie Dawson; Pomona, Mrs. Angie Coverdale, and Flora, Mrs. Sara Caulk.

Only one officer, Mrs. Myrtle Abraham, lady assistant steward, was unable to be present. The installation was preceded by a covered dish supper, with Mrs. Sara Caulk as chairman.

The next meeting of the organization will be held Monday evening with A. Bailey Thomas in charge of the program on agriculture in 1952.

Worthy Master Dawson has appointed the following committees for the year: Home Economics, Mrs. Helen Fifer, chairman, Mrs. Mary Cool, Mrs. Wallace Caulk; agriculture, Arthur F. Walker, chairman, L. D. Caulk Sr., William Richardson; Legislative, Ernest Cool, chairman, A. Bailey Thomas, C. Fred Fifer; publicity, Miss Frances Evans, chairman, Miss Lois Lillie, Mrs. Madeline Buchanan; ways and means, Mrs. Mary Simpson, chairman, Mrs. Roxie Walker, Mrs. Betty Short; health, Mrs. Ida Walls, chairman, Mrs. Lillian Dawson, Mrs. Elizabeth Goggin; silver and table clothes, Mrs. Helen Thomas; kitchen, Mrs. Nettie Dawson, Mrs. Angie Coverdale, Mrs. Flora Abbott; property, Leroy Weik, chairman, Charles Clinton, Arthur Walker; sunshine, Mrs. Bessie Brown, chairman, Miss Belle Moore, Mrs. Marian Tarbell; rental, Reedy Voshell, Maris Pyott; auditing, Fred Wall, chairman, William Dawson, W. B. Simpson; youth, Herbert Richardson Jr., chairman, Roy Wall, Mrs. Myrtle Abraham, Miss Dottie Lou Cool; community service, A. Bailey Thomas, chairman, Horace Short, Mrs. Mary Cool, Miss Lois Lillie, Hammon Coverdale.

Classes are similar to last year's. Hybrid corn, corn, hay, small grains and seeds, sweet and white potatoes may be entered. There will also be a class for vocational agricultural high school exhibits dealing with crops. Because of space this class is limited to four entries.

Emphasis is being put on getting more and better corn and hay exhibits, said Crothers. With the increase in top quality pasture programs and high corn yields, Delaware has the material to make a top flight show. The crop show will be held in conjunction with Farm and Home Week again, Jan. 29 to Feb. 1. Entries will not close until 4 p. m. Tues., Jan. 29, so that people can bring their entries with them when they attend the opening sessions.

Premium lists may be obtained from county agents, vocational agriculture teachers, extension agronomists, or officers of the Delaware Crop Improvement Association. Officers are: President, Robert Schreiner, Kenton; vice-president, Robert Yearsley, Marshallton; vice-president, Milbourne Webb Jr., Wyoming; vice-president, Edward Williams, Seaford; treasurer, J. Oliver Koelig Jr., Newark; secretary, Claude E. Phillips, Newark, and show chairman, William Mitchell, Newark.

Beware! Moldy Silage May Mean Forage Poisoning

Moldy silage and moldy feed cans cause death or sickness in dairy cattle.

This sickness, usually diagnosed as forage poisoning, is due to poisons produced by the mold, and the mold itself, says Delmar J. Young, dairy specialist with the Delaware agricultural extension service.

Occasionally, poisoning is caused by feed contaminated by the bacteria which causes botulism in humans. Research men at Illinois have found these bacteria in samples of spoiled silage, corn-fodder, oat hay, wheat bran, wheat screenings, rice meal, and oats. They report that while the dangerous feed is often obviously spoiled and moldy, in some cases it was normal in appearance.

The best preventive, is not to use feed that is moldy or spoiled, says Young.

Symptoms of forage poisoning are: cattle go off feed, drop in production, appear sick, and within 24 hours go down. Death may occur within 36 hours.

To date, advises Young, the best aid you can give is to call your veterinarian at the first symptoms.

Governor to Make Tomato Awards at Farmers' Week

The announcement of the 1951 winners in the Ten-Ton Tomato Club contest will again be made by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel at the University of Delaware Farm and Home Week.

The identity of the winners is kept secret until the morning of the program.

This year close to 100 awards will be made. Some 64 growers achieved a yield of ten tons or more tomatoes per acre, and will be taken into the ranks of the Ten-Ton Club. Special recognition will be given to the top three growers in the two senior classes. The number of awards this year is swelled by the Junior Tomato Club project, a new program of the Ten-Ton Club this last year. Thirty-five boys and girls completed the project, and the winners will be honored at the same program as the senior division winners.

Following the awards, the top winners in each senior class will talk on "How I Grew Tomatoes in '51." The awards are part of a complete morning program on tomatoes, Tues., Jan. 29. The session will start at 9:45 a. m., with a talk on reducing labor costs at 9:50 o'clock. The awards program is scheduled for 10:30 a. m.

Life insurance examinations of 2,000 executives, average age 42½ years, showed that 12.1 per cent of these businessmen suffered from seeing difficulties which they had not bothered to correct with glasses. The only disorders among the examinees which were more numerous than faulty vision were overweight or underweight, abnormal heart condition, and high blood pressure.

John Darby Starts Angus, Hereford Herd

John Darby, former state bank commissioner, of Frederica, has started raising Angus and Hereford cattle on a farm, operated by Albert Goodnew, near Coursey's Pond. The herd is comprised of 40 heifers, some of which have calves, and a Hereford and an Angus bull. The Hereford purebred.

The cattle are running on winter barley and ryegrass and are fed some 20 bales of hay daily in the field. In the spring the heaves will be transferred to the Darby farm, near Frederica, and present farm will be used for a dairy herd.

Tom Robbins, who lives near Mr. Goodnew, has 20 Angus heifers which he purchased from Jester Gray, of Frederica. These will be used for breeding.

The system of raising calves known as the limited whole-milk and dry calf starter method has given excellent results in many herds in Maryland, Dr. Pou says. It is relatively inexpensive and requires only about 350 pounds of whole milk per calf.

John Darby Starts Angus, Hereford Herd

The proper management of calves is as important as proper feed, Dr. Pou states. A study of 1951 Maryland Dairy Herd Improvement Association records show that one calf out of every 10 born in these herds was lost. Pneumonia and scours were responsible for the death of 34 per cent of these calves.

According to Dr. J. W. Pou, head of the University of Maryland dairy department, dairy calves need to be fed liberally with easily digested feeds that will furnish large amounts of energy, or total digestible nutrients. Liberal supplies of good quality protein and sufficient quantities of the essential minerals and vitamins are also needed.

Sunshine 4-H Club Meets at Taylor's

Mrs. Ellen Ann Vanderwende became a member of the Sunshine 4-H Club at its January meeting at the home of Bobby Taylor, on Vernon Road, recently. The club now has 17 members.

It was suggested that the club give a month's dues to the Farm Youth Exchange, a program by which farm boys and girls spend a year on farms abroad. The next meeting will be held Wed., Feb. 6, at 8 p. m., at the home of Lewis Wilson, on Weiner Avenue.

State Winner In 4-H Garden Program

Joseph Workman

Growing a garden has served a three-fold purpose for Joseph Workman, 16, of Delmar, state winner in the 4-H Garden program. Joseph has supplied the family with a variety of fresh vegetables, reduced the cash outlay for food, at the same time promoting relaxation and good health.

Allis-Chalmers presented him with a trip to Chicago in November to the 30th National 4-H Club Congress.

Joseph's seven years in 4-H work have chiefly been invested in a gardening project carried out on his father's 200-acre farm. On a 72x700-foot plot, Joseph has grown winning corn, peas, onions, tomatoes, carrots, cabbage, and a variety of other vegetables. Although a dry spell threatened to damage his crop this year, his careful efforts and past experience brought a good harvest and an estimated profit of $150.

Thrifty Calves Make Good Cows

Calves and heifers, like babies and growing children, need the best available feed. Some day this stock will be the milking herd and, unless they are big, roomy, thrifty cows, production will not be as high as it could be.

Many dairy cows are small and lack the capacity to handle large quantities of good hay and silage primarily because they were fed insufficiently as calves and heifers. Failure to supply plenty of nutrients to young calves will result in a slower growth rate, and the calves may be stunted permanently.

The proper management of calves is as important as proper feed, Dr. Pou states. A study of 1951 Maryland Dairy Herd Improvement Association records show that one calf out of every 10 born in these herds was lost. Pneumonia and scours were responsible for the death of 34 per cent of these calves.

Topics of Interest

Pictures of the classes and athletic teams were taken and were placed on the bulletin board in the school hall. They created much interest among the students and faculty. They will also be found in the yearbook which the senior class is sponsoring this year.

On the last day of school before Christmas holidays, Mr. Williams, the art teacher, presented each member of the faculty a drawing of a decorative bird.

During the Christmas vacation the janitors cleaned and waxed the floors of the auditorium.

Library Club News

The Library Club, under supervision of Mrs. Anne Heinbach, our school librarian, appears to be in full swing this year. The club is now composed of six members; officers are: Patsy Hendricks, president, and Janet Collison, secretary. Each member of the club has the opportunity of being in charge of the library one period each week. Besides this they are now arranging our school bulletin board, making a scrapbook of school news and reporting on reading which they have done during the week.

Faculty Glimpses

Born in Magnolia and reared thereabout, Leon Hart says he and his wife are "strictly Delawareans." He was a student at Caesar Rodney High School after which he was with the U. S. Navy for two and a half years. Upon leaving the Navy he became a University of Delaware registrant where he majored in physical education. While at the university Mr. Hart was a member of the Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity. He was married in 1949; graduated in 1950 and then was employed by the State Highway Department.

This is his first experience at teaching, his classes being general science, math, and gymnastics. Coaching the boys teams is also his work.

His favorite sports are the three big ones, football, basketball and baseball. Like most other boys and men, his best hobby is fishing. Mr. Hart says, "I have found the students exceptionally co-operative. I am glad to be a member of the community. I have hopes of the basketball team improving."

Spotlight on H. H. S. Club Activities

MATH CLUB

Members of the club, under Miss Morris' direction, are working on geometrical figures which will be displayed on the bulletin board in Miss Morris' room.

F. H. A. CLUB

The F. H. A. Club members are planning to give a bake, Feb. 2, at the Cupid Ice Cream store. Mrs. Goodwill, the supervisor, reports that the girls are progressing very rapidly on their annual projects.

TYPING CLUB

Members of this group are commercial and scientific students from the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades. They are preparing for their future occupations by learning to operate modern machines used in the business field; the electric typewriter, mimeograph machine, Monroe calculator and the comptometer.

GIRLS SPORTS CLUB

The basketball team for this year are as follows:
 Forwards: Jeanette Sapp, Elaine Downing, Jeanne Lander, Joann Brown, Eleanor Walls; guards, Lelia Wilson Rhea L. Clendaniel, Mary Lord, Ann Toppin, Imogene Welch, Barbara Smith, Pat Holloway.

Also practicing with the team are: Joyce Hickman, Joyce Hopkins, and Joan Shaw. Shirley Hudson is acting manager and Mary E. Simpson as scorer and time keeper.

SHOP CLUB

This semester the boys and girls are making wall shelves, pump lamps, bird boxes, tables, shoe-shine boxes, foot stools, spice cabinets and broom holders.

Calendar of Coming Events

Wit of the Day

Women cause half of the automobile accidents, a third of the murders, and all of the weddings. Man talking to a very sick friend, "I've got a new plan for you; the lay-away plan."

Young girl talking to the live-wire of the town, "Let's get together and generate some sparks."

Says the poppa of 12: "Our official family bird is the stork."

Farewell to 1951, the year when the only low thing was the skirt hem.

The cradle song: "There'll be Some Changes Today."

Talking of an over-large woman: "She's built like a highway; she has lots of detours."

"Money doesn't always buy happiness," said the father. "Yes, I know, but I like to be able to choose my own misery."

In what art do Texans exceed the rest of the world? "Bragging."

Describing the look of a young girl who is looking at the new boy at school: The same look a cat has on its face when it is looking at herring.

He: "What do you suppose you would hear in a home owned by a couple that are both singers?" She: "The sound of little sewing machines."

Audrey Billings

Audrey is a native of Harrington. She is secretary of the senior class of Harrington School. Her favorite subjects are math and typing.

Her hobby is collecting miniature cups and saucers and skating and working in the theatre.

Audrey's favorite sports are baseball and basketball. Her favorite colors are blue and green.

Her ideal boy is the kind that is full of life and not jealous.

She likes girls dressed in skirts and sweaters or blouses well matched. Sport clothes is her ideal boys clothing.

Audrey's dislikes are "prissy" girls who do not associate with their classmates.

Her special activity is band work.

Audrey's ambitions are to become a good secretary and well liked. Later she may enter into the housekeeping cycle.

Who's the Lucky Guy?

Miss Phyllis Conner, teacher of French and English at Harrington High School, has recently become engaged to Charles McKnight, of Erie, Pa.

Mr. McKnight is now an instructor of chemical engineering at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, N. Y.

Miss Conner has taken courses at the University of Pennsylvania and last summer studied and traveled in France. The wedding date has not yet been announced.

Joke Parade

Two fleas met on Robinson Crusoe one afternoon and indulged in a bit of innocent chit-chat. Finally one said, "I've got to be getting along, I guess—but I will see you on Friday."

The first noon a new paper hanger was in the job he opened his lunch box eagerly, unwrapped a sandwich, and lifted one piece of bread a fraction of an inch. His face fell. "Cream cheese," he muttered. The second day he repeated the process, and again he repeated, "Cream cheese." When he sadly discovered cream cheese for the third day straight, a fellow workman remarked, "If you dislike cream cheese so much, why don't you ask your wife to fix you another kind of sandwich?" "Who's married?" said the paperhanger indignantly. "I make these sandwiches myself."

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

Are you still one of the old left overs from 1951 without a television?

There was a time when people were entertained by the old folk songs on the organ at home. This was just grand but since then automobiles have come in existence and crying, gas me up, gas me up, gas me up, let's go, let's go, and of course that means homes have lost the charm that they once had. Not so with the ones who have a Philco or Westinghouse television for just what that car was crying for is now back in your home, the greatest thing in entertainment that has ever been invented.

Maybe the wife has quite a job keeping her husband home. Did you ever stop to think he likes to see fights, or women wrestlers. Well there are televisions at clubs, and most all public places. These cost money to attend so why not put it back in the home so the whole family can enjoy it? In fact a TV today is one of the most up to date news item that can be had and you see it.

We are beginning to get in a few models and can supply you at once.

Come in and let me talk to you and show you how easy a TV can be bought.

The prices are not high in fact think of getting a 17-inch picture tube for less than two hundred dollars plus excise tax.

May I say if any of you who are holding off because you didn't like so many guy wires on your home, I would like to say I secured a load of 50-foot creosoted poles which eliminates all guy wires.

It is beginning to warm up some and did you stop to think that in two weeks Mr. Ground Hog will be coming around and saying "hello everybody, time to be thinking of spring," even if he does go back in his hole for a little while.

Speaking of spring means beginning of warmer weather and a better place to keep that dollar and quarter pound beef steak. There was a time when the dog or cat had plenty, but now scrapple or even hot dogs are a feast for them.

Today we must save every ounce of meat and even milk is almost out of reach.

I am leading up to refrigeration and that is something that cannot be overlooked. That old refrigerator of yours may be grasping for its last breath. Giving it a little gas may help for a little time. But my advise is come to Wheeler's Television Center and pick out any brand new refrigerator we have in stock at factory or any established price and we will give you back in cash, twenty per cent of what you pay. Just think of it a refrigerator selling for two hundred dollars. We give you back in cash, forty dollars.

This offer is good for 20 days only then prices will be as marked.

If you pass this offer up and need a refrigerator you should have your head examined. Maybe I should have mine examined too.

If I had sold every home in Harrington, during 1951, wall paper every home would have a brand new look.

You see what I mean? I sold enough wall paper to paper every room in Harrington. Why am I telling you this? Simply because I appreciate your buying from us whether you live in Harrington or not. By that we can keep you supplied with the very latest, most modern patterns at the least cost. We carry many, many different patterns in fact we now have rolling 5000 rolls which is only a small amount we carry at all times.

Come in and let's talk about how pretty you can make your home.

Gas, Gas, Gas, Gas, Gas, Gas, metered, metered, or bottled, bottled. We sell it for heating your home your brooder house, hot water and cooking your food, in fact many other things.

Come in and see our new gas ranges. If you are building or going to build a new home, see the floor furnace which eliminates all worry from house heating.

Talk peace not war, our enemies are stubborn, but we are patient.

The writer was curious to know how quartered men in camp cars could be kept so in line, especially around pay day and so far from home. I was told that the situation particularly handled itself, as anyone who became undesirable was left to himself, but in instances if too much comment was made that interfered with their sleep they just tossed them out of their train.

The social activities of this crew, while quartered for two weeks was highly commendable and has received favorable comments from many of our people.

About the saddest thing to happen around the track was little Ellis Jr.'s dog, Dagwood, getting killed right in front of their trailer. Betty said, all he could say was, "Get up Dagwood, get up." When he didn't, little Ellis was hard to console. He was hit by the Nehi Bottling truck. Mr. Holloway has 10 mile-an-hour posted all over the grounds. Could have been some youngster instead of a dog.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

Just one week closer to race meet. With all the activity going on around the track it sure looks good. And the weather we have had this past week makes every one more anxious. Some are even turning their horses around slow double-headers.

Our general manager, Mr. Holloway, gave me this information, that the races are set for May 1. And there are plenty good horses here that should really make the spring meet very promising.

Mr. Stokley has in his stable, 14 head as follows; Victory Cash, Neal Abbe, Joan Marie Dillon, a two-year-old; Anne Napoleon, Jim Gallon, Martial Spirit, a 2-yr.-old; Lil York, True Tip, My Tip, Kings Katy, Donan Hanover, Adams Spencer, Maryland Ellen and Dominating. Why shouldn't a stable with that many horses have some real good ones to race this spring? Course the pride and joy of his stable is, Victory Cash. Don't we all have a favorite we all love?

Old Mose that used to be back on the grand circuit with such well-knowns as Fred Egan and Sep Palin, Vye Fleming, is now with Mr. Stokley. And for Mose's benefit, Mr. Stokley says he is the best caretaker anywhere.

Now for their TV, Mrs. Stokley says: that if it weren't for that she don't know what they would do after a long hard day at the barn. I know I really enjoy ours if I could stay awake. It seems to put Dave to sleep.

About the cutest thing in Harrington is little Emeline's Nicky (the pony). First I see Harry Adams line breaking him, then comes along Emil with him hitched to a little two-wheel cart. I think that outfit rates front page write up. Maybe Emil will bring him down town, but with little Emeline. He certainly had us all agog out here. Think I'm a kid again, as I would love to have a ride. As soon as I can get a picture will ask Mr. Burgess to put in the paper. Gracie, were you sitting out in the sunshine waiting for him?

Bennie, those little salt and pepper shakers you gave out really are cute, I'm sending mine to a friend in England? Wonder if they have Esso in England?

Ruth and Judy Davis out enjoying the sunshine. Little Judy is certainly a doll. Laughs all the time. Olin to busy to do any visiting, he has his hands full with that stable full.

Janette munching away at her desk enjoying her breakfast, am I telling something out of school Janette? Well Janette you can certainly play the piano.

Mrs. Warrington, you are an old gadabout I can never catch you in. Course you have to go on buying trips I know. I still love to browse around in your store.

Homer Kelly has eight horses in his stable, not doing very much yet only joggling them very stiff. But he says that he is more than pleased with Royal Sue and Headpin.

Mr. Pratt, that has Guy Hamilton, and a colt for Mr. Stallings, of Lockport, N. Y., has returned from the eye hospital in Philadelphia where he had a cataract removed. Mr. Pratt is well on his way to recovery. The operation so far has proved he will see again.

over at Helena Aeres. (Mrs. Griffith's) Looks like you too are getting ready to take to the road. Course, Paul is going to help me trim mine. Dave told Paul and me he wanted to see that deal.

Booty Morris out cruising around the grounds. Booty I don't see any carrots or apples this year. Could it be you miss Gallant Heart? I bet you do.

Happy Gray, who has been ill in bed, is able to be out again. Happy's Hickory Barney is coming along good and Happy is well pleased with him. Another pride and joy.

Jimmie Siver, of Guilderland, N. Y., had as his guests over the weekend, Charles Wells and son; also his uncle, Jess Wood, from his home town. Jimmie has Jews Harp, for Mr. Wells. He has two other horses for owners in Saratoga Springs, N. Y.
