

Lions Club to Improve City Parking Lot

The Harrington Lions Club will improve the recently acquired municipal parking lot as one of the group's projects. The lot was recently leased from Horace E. Quillen for five years at $1 per year.

J. Edward Taylor, president of the Lions, said Wednesday that improvement would consist of filling in, grading, and the erection of a new fence. He added that work would begin next week on the lot, on Hanley Street, and that Lions members would furnish the labor.

Any expense involved in the project, Taylor commented, would come from the club's activities fund under whose auspices the Lions are holding the annual 'Possum Paw Minstrel' tonight and tomorrow evening at the high school.

March of Dimes Exceed Quota

The final report for the 1952 March of Dimes for Harrington, farmington and vicinity discloses that the total contributions amount to $1324.49 exceeding the $1300 assigned to this district.

The committee recognizes the outstanding work of Harry Greenberg in assisting to meet this quota as he personally solicited and contributed 24 per cent of the total, the major part coming from his business associates residing outside this district. This special fund was delivered to Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, state chairman of the 1952 March of Dimes, and he deposited it to the credit of the local drive which was sponsored by the Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tea Post No. 7, American Legion. The committee consisted of Earl Sylvester, chairman, and J. Leonard Horleman, treasurer. The committee appreciates and thanks all who contributed to this great cause and helped make our local slogan "Give is yours—give today" in order that all children may walk, run and play tomorrow," a reality.

The following names are added to those contributors previously shown in the columns of The Harrington Journal: Harrington Fire Company, Ladies Auxiliary C-K-R-T Post, American Legion; Harry Greenberg, Leland Creadick, Mr. and Mrs. David Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. C. Porter, is a corner of an early American sitting room. Special note was given the hooked rug done by Mrs. Annie Smith, 85, who has long taken an interest in Harrington community and church work.

The program for the afternoon was "Literature." Mrs. Fred Greenly read a paper, "Literature Through the Ages," depicting six periods, ancient, middle ages, age of Renaissance, reason, romanticism and modern.

Mrs. Bernice Hammond, state library of Dover, gave a descriptive review of the book, "The Serpent-Wreathed Staff," by Alice Tisdale Hobart.

Barbara Edwards sang, "It Isn't Any Secret," and "Easter Parade," accompanied by Ruth Moore at the piano.

The feeling which J. Harvey Burgess expresses through his poems is thrillingly carried over to his audience. He recited, "When He Was Six and I Was Four," "What August Means," "October in the Ozark Hills." When he recited "Old Doc Holmes," and "Uncle Jimmy Cain," he seemed to bring them back to Harrington again. Then he recited "That Three Year-Old of Mine," "The Barefoot Trail," and his poem which is used in the polio drive, "The Boy Who Gave a Dime."

A social hour followed. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Draper Gruwell, of Dover, and Mrs. Kirby Metz, of Wyoming.

Harrington Colt Hambletonian Candidate

A Harrington colt has the honor of being the only candidate on the Delmarva Peninsula for this year's Hambletonian.

Furthermore, Kirby & Holloway's Federal Hanover should have more than an outside chance in the turf classic. The bay Peter Song colt performed well last season in contests with two prime contenders for the trotting epic, placing in races won by Hardy Hanover at Bloomsburg and Duke of Lullwater in the Reading Futurity.

The colt was bought at Harrisburg sale from the Hanover Shoe Farms and broken and trained here. Trainer S. R. "Polly" Sipe said Federal Hanover would be here during the annual spring meet of the Kent & Sussex Racing Association which begins May 1 for 20 nights of pari-mutuel racing.

"Polly" who has been prominent in harness racing circles more than 40 years, says the trotter won more than $4000 last year in competition with top-notch contenders. The juvenile handles easily, Sipe said.

"He is perfect to handle," said the veteran reinsman, as he cooled off Bluette Hanover on a new Saturday. "He drives nice and you can use him any place in the field you want to. He has worked a very handy mile this spring in 2:20, with the last quarter in 30.3 seconds."

Railroad News

New time tables will be effective at 2:01 a. m. Sunday, April 7 all over the system. Daylight Saving Time also becomes effective at this time.

Automatic crossing gates go into service at Jintown crossing at Clayton next Wednesday. Also at Onley, Va. This makes 20 crossings on the division equipped with gates in the past four years.

Construction will start next month on automatic gates at Townsend, Del., and Bateman Street, Salisbury.

Brakeman Sam Truitt is laid up with a fractured vertebra sustained last week when an impact caused while coupling the engine to a string of cabin cars threw him to the floor of the cabin.

Fred Bailey is still on the sick list but coming along okay.

We mentioned some time ago, the names of four or five railroad boys who have built new homes here during the past year. Three of these boys, Olin Perry, Slim Ryan and Howard Williams have been seen in a huddle lately with troubled looks on their faces. It seems they were inspired by the nice new house built by Bernie Siems and did not want to be out-done by so young a resident in the community. Then Bernie got a new Plymouth and they were figuring on all getting Buicks, but when Mrs. Siems presented her husband with a bouncing boy last week, they folded up, claiming it might be alright to try "keeping up with the Joneses," but not with the Siems.

The April meeting of the Harrington district on safety and loss and damage will be held Monday evening in the fire hall at 7 o'clock. George Sargent, the new trainmaster, will be present with other staff officers. We would like to have a good attendance so try and spend an hour with us.

Let us try to make as good a showing at this meeting as our wives did at the spring luncheon of the Women's Aid at Delmar last week. They just about stole the show and really put Harrington on the map from the reports heard at Delmar and Cape Charles, thanks to Blanche Williams, who saw to the distribution. (See PRR News back page col. 4)

J., improper passing, $10 and costs.

Continuing, Gov. Carvel pointed out the need for the building in view of the expanding population in this area. He added that "we hope to see a fine field house here, if enough money is available." Outside of teachers, good facilities are most important in our educational system, the governor told the crowd which had braved the raw March day for the ceremonies.

He wound up his short speech, the principal address, by congratulating the citizens of the community for their patience and fight in securing the new building. What with one delay or another, through insufficient funds and wait for legislative appropriations, the building program was several years in getting started.

Other short addresses were made by Dr. George R. Miller, state superintendent of schools, Mayor E. B. Rash, Maxon Terry, president of the State Board of Education, and William J. Storey, attorney for the Harrington Board of Education.

Following the addresses, Gov. Carvel and Robert L. Nelson, president of the Board of Education, shoved their spades into the ground and officially started the project on its way. Afterwards, the remaining members of the school board tried their hand at it.

The Rev. George Whetstone, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, rendered the invocation, while the Rev. Robert VanCleave gave the benediction. The Harrington High School Band furnished the music.

Also present were the following: Walter J. Carlson, architect for the building program; T. T. Weldon, of Weldon & Son, Wilmington, which will furnish the electrical equipment for the building; Healy & Son, Wilmington, general contractors for the project; Mrs. Mary Dolby, president of the Business & Professional Women's Club; J. Edward Taylor, president of the Lions; Harold McDonald, president of the Rotary Club; Eugene Anderson, commander of Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tea Post of the American Legion; Mrs. Norman Oliver, president of the auxiliary of the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company; the Rev. Grier Baker, pastor of Pilgrim Holiness Church; Mrs. Katherine Hopkins, president of the Parent-Teachers' Association.

The approximate cost building cost will be $522,500, of which $352,000 is for the general contracting, $112,700, for plumbing and heating equipment, and $48,097.25 for electrical equipment. Additional costs will include those of the architect, advertisement for bids, etc.

The Harrington Special School District has $675,000, raised from two bond issues and received by legislative grants, for its building program.

Plans have been drawn for a field house, but advertisements for construction bids have not been placed.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

Wonder how many were fooled on April Fool's Day? I, for one, had quite a time.

What a funny feeling when your friends begin to ship out for other tracks. When Earl Thomas' big red trucks pulled up in front of Lyons' Stables, you know race season is just around the corner.

Owners, trainers and grooms, their families were over to Lyons' to wish them God speed. I think half of the race track people took a trip down to Ocean City Sunday.

It was a beautiful day for taking a trip. How many have taken the back road down, and seen, I guess, a thousand wild geese on the lake? The cars were lined completely along the drive just to watch and listen.

It was Sunday, but those big cannons were being manned by the boys who didn't pay any attention to cars that either stopped or were watching as they drove by. M. P.'s were on patrol.

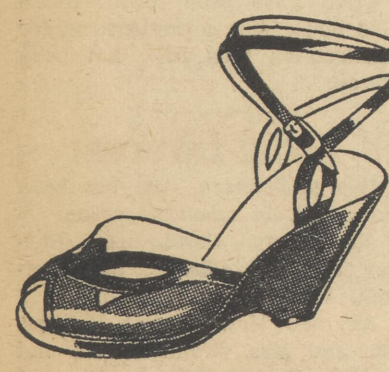

We took Joan Cotter and Mrs. Jackie Cotter with us, and little Joan wanted to know how long it would be before she could swim. She was also interested in the radar screens as her daddy used to fly in the Air Force.

On to the track at Ocean Downs. Everyone there must have been up here for no one was there. Certainly was a ghost track, maybe a groom now and then sitting out in front of his stable.

It's a beautiful drive. The flowers and trees budding out make you feel spring is really here.

A little birds tells me that Mrs. Charley Carter may purchase a farm this spring.

Mrs. Harvey Griffith busy getting the news for the Harness Horse.

Charley Sutton getting everything in order for Yonkers. Mr. Scott here to look his horses over before Charley pulls out.

Pat Hubbard also getting ready. Guess about all the big stables are going.

Mrs. Wayd Cotter leaves in a couple days with her mother and father who are here from Batavia. She is expecting their blessed event before Easter.

Hasn't Jimmy Workman traded for a new pick-up truck?

Carl Goslen out roping ole Symbol Louis. He looks like a million.

Gooden Callaway chatting with friends, or were they near the mile lane around the corner of Peoples Bank?

Irene, the coffee was swell. Another thing, all her Spitz puppies are sold.

Alton Downes out to the track chatting with the horsemen.

Mildred and Harold Cain, who have a restaurant in Felton, were visitors to the track Sunday.

Mildred is taking two baby kittens I have as soon as they are old enough. Do you know she has quite a novelty shop up there. I love to browse around in it.

Archie and Sunday, the pup, taking a ride around the barns.

Mayor Rash, you shouldn't be so popular. Maybe you could eat a lunch in peace.

Had a nice chat with Mr. Burgess Sr. in the bank this past week.

Say, Mr. Jerred, how many times are you going to change the newsstand? Did you drop a penny under the floor? Just to look it up. Oh well, it really tears nice now.

And what an answer I got which I think was very witty, what do you readers think? I asked him if he had colored film. The answer was, oh sure, I have it. It takes colored people as well as white. Let's put him on Uncle Mitty's (Berle's) show. But it is very attractive since it's remodeled. Hope you find the penny.

Bobby Hobbs certainly learning to drive. Out every day, and his ole Uncle Dudley Spencer, has all his equipment to race with.

See Virginia and Walter really are leaving good old Harrington. They'll be sorry.

ONE WAY TO LOOK AT IT

WHAT ARE THE SEVEN LAST WORDS?

Nineteen hundred and twenty-three years ago Jesus, a person from Galilee, was led outside the wall of the city of Jerusalem and crucified. Everything possible was done by the authorities to make the crucifixion of Jesus like any other execution. Jesus lived about six hours, the hottest period of the day, on the cross before He expired. But during that period of six hours Jesus made seven statements, preserved for us in the four gospels of the New Testament, which made the crucifixion of Jesus different from any other.

It was at the third hour (9 A. M.) when he was first placed upon the cross, that Jesus said, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." (Luke 23:34) This statement is called the "Word of Forgiveness," and demonstrates the attitude of Jesus toward the ones responsible for his being put to death.

After a period of an hour or two, during which Jesus was subjected to reviling by all who passed by and by the two bandits who were crucified with him, one of the two bandits began to reason within himself. Soon after he asked Jesus to remember him when Jesus came in his kingly power. The reply of Jesus is the "Word of Salvation." "Today you will be with me in Paradise." (Luke 23:34) Even on the cross the Master was able to bring peace and spiritual hope to a repentant sinner.

The third word from the cross was spoken concerning Mary, the mother of Jesus, and John the Disciple. It is called the "Word of Love." "Woman, behold your son!—Behold your mother!" (John 20:27) Quite naturally Jesus turned to one of his most intimate earthly companions in making provision for the needs of his mother.

After a period of two hours of silence, the Master uttered the only question, a quotation from the Psalm, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" (Matthew 27:46). This "Word of Atonement" revealed that Jesus spent much time meditating upon various portions of the Scriptures and the spiritual significance of His death. Christians believe that the death of Jesus makes it possible for man not to suffer the lawful penalty for sin, that is eternal separation from God, but that through faith in Jesus Christ a person possesses life eternal and shall live with God forever.

"I thirst," (John 19:28) was the fifth word spoken by Jesus. It is the "Word of Suffering," revealing to us that the sufferings of our Lord were real and intense.

By contrast the sixth utterance is designated the "Word of Triumph." "It is finished." (John 19:30). Reference here is made, not to the physical life of Jesus which was fast drawing to a close, but to the mission of the revelation of God and the redemption of man.

"Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit!" (Luke 23:46) These words form the seventh statement, the "Word of Reunion," after which Jesus died. It was at the ninth hour (3 P. M.) that the physical life of Jesus came to an end. He died with a feeling of perfect trust and faith, reunited in spirit with the Father.

We today meditate upon seven statements made by a Person who died many years ago. And as we think of these statements we see a self analysis of the very personality of Jesus. Crowded into a period of six hours we find a series of the greatest emotional crises ever faced by a person living in this world. The words spoken by Jesus reveal that he invested his earthly life wisely, developing the capacities of his great personality to the fullest possible degree.

Can we not use these statements as a means of knowing ourselves better? To a lesser degree and with one exception, the crises faced by Jesus are the crises faced by all normal individuals. Let us resolve to face the varied experience; love, forgiveness, suffering, triumph; in the spirit of Jesus. He taught us that "it is not death to die" if we have faith in him.—The Rev. Robert VanCleaf.

DISCIPLESHIP

J. Harry Wright

Dear Lord, 'tis never mine to say
How much of pain and grief I bear;

My task is just to live each day
And trust Thy wisdom, love, and care.

What if today should bring to me
More grief and pain than yesterday?

My joy is just to walk with Thee,
Who wilt go with me all the way.

"All true disciples on earth must bear
Some grief and tribulation," said He;

"Be of good cheer, thou art in my care,
Take up thy cross, and follow me!"

"Be faithful unto death," said He,
"And I'll give thee a crown of life!"

Dear Lord, I'll follow after Thee,
Through all life's struggle, stress, and strife.

All faithful souls shall wear a crown,
When they shall reach the end of the way;

Their burdens, and their cross lay down,
In Heaven's eternal, cloudless day.

Minutemen Cop Dover YMCA Tournament

Father Lauriole's well conditioned and fast breaking New Castle Air Base Minutemen copped the championship honors in the Dover "Y" Invitational Tournament Saturday evening as they tripped an over threatening Rocco's combination, 76-74 in one of the stellar performances of the tournament. It was a nip and tuck battle from the start with the challengers tying the score in the final minutes only to see the airmen hold off after they had taken a two point lead in the closing seconds. The stellar floor play of Spike Barouth and the set shot work of Capt. Jack Spicer was the difference for the air force quintet. Spicer paced his team with 18 points while Rocco's Leo Marshall ran hot to bag 25 points and take tournament scoring honors with 79.

Although playing for consolation honors the preliminary game between Harrington Legionnaires and Delaware Steelers was a thriller from the opening sound with the Steelers eking out a 76-73 victory in the last few seconds. After a slow start the Legionnaires began to roll in the last half and took the lead with a few minutes remaining. The lead changed hands several times before the final gong. Paul Martin and Joe Griffith hit for 15 points each for the Legionnaires, with Jack Dill and Tom Shalley having 10 and Bob Roberts 11. Boots Reed was the big gun for the Steelers with 21, while Fitzgerald hooped 18.

The playing of these two games brought to a close one of the most hotly contested tournaments ever staged on lower Delaware courts and also was the finale to Dover's most extensive cage programs in history.

Following the championship game trophies were awarded to the various winners by Al Cartwright, sports editor Journal-Every Evening, and George Frick, sports editor WDEL-TV. Receiving the awards were New Castle AB Minutemen, the winners; Rocco's, the runner-up; Delaware Steel, consolation game victors; Father Lauriole, air base coach; Phil Gordon, Rocco's coach. Leo Marshall, Rocco's, won the tournament high scoring trophy as he racked 79 points, while Boots Reed, Delaware Steeler, hooped 32 points in a single game to receive that award. Arnold Spicer was presented the Dover Senior "Y" League trophy which was won by the Dover Guards for copping the pennant and playoffs in the league.

Bob Reed, president of the Dover YMCA, complimented the teams, fans and members of the tournament committee for their excellent co-operation and work which brought such an outstanding event to lower Delaware.

FARM NEWS - REVIEW - FORECAST

Bankers to Meet At U. of D.

The Delaware Bankers' Association will have its fourth annual agricultural credit clinic, Fri., April 18, at the University of Delaware. The clinic is held in cooperation with the University School of Agriculture and agricultural economics department.

The program this year concentrates on land values, land appraisal as a basis for mortgage and operational loans, and the economic outlook for agriculture in 1952.

"Delaware farmers are being asked to reach an all-time high level of production in 1952. Sound and adequate credit is an indispensable part of the program," according to George C. Simpson, Harrington, chairman of the bankers' association agricultural committee.

Guest speakers on the program are Harry M. Love, head of the agricultural economics department of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and N. A. Jamba, vice-president and manager of the agricultural department, National Bank and Trust Company, Norwich, N. Y.

The bankers will find out how much they know about agriculture in a different way during the afternoon. They will take part in a dairy cattle judging contest at the university experiment farm, with Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman, in charge.

Variety Vegetables For Better Diet

There isn't any need to have the same vegetables on the dinner table day in and day out. There are 50 different common vegetables that can be grown in home gardens. If you have a home garden you can use it to live up the family dinner table.

Try planting broccoli, Brussel sprouts, Swiss chard, New Zealand spinach, red cabbage, okra, endive, kohlrabi, or some other vegetable new in your family this year.

Think of vegetables for your home gardens in terms of how good they are for you, too, suggests Miss M. Gertrude Holloway, nutritionist with the Delaware agricultural extension service.

Some vegetables are important because they supply several nutrients—that is, they give us several of the minerals, vitamins, protein, and carbohydrates needed for good health. Among these versatile vegetables are white potatoes, beans, rutabagas, carrots, and spinach.

Other vegetables are important for one nutrient. Tomatoes, for instance, are one of our best sources of Vitamin C. So are green peppers. Broccoli and sweet potatoes supply a lot of Vitamin A.

Another group are important for giving variety in texture, color, and flavor. Examples are salad greens, corn, cucumbers, cantaloupes, and radishes.

In trying new vegetables, don't go overboard, horticulturists warn. Plant just a little, the first year, and see if the family likes the new food, and if it grows well in your soil.

Greener Pasture Enrollment

The enrollment for the Greener Pasture Program for 1952 is underway. The first visit in Kent County will be made the latter part of April but now is the time to get your enrollment on the books. To enroll, just send Bill Tarbell, county agricultural agent, Dover, a post card with the words "Greener Pasture Program" on it, sign the card and give your address, or, you can enroll by calling Tarbell at Dover 2621 or 2886.

If you wish to be in the program this year, don't put off enrolling until it is too late, as some few did last year.

Mr. Sapp raises Ayrshire cattle and Spotted Poland China hogs on his farm, Sappshire. He has won a number of prizes at the Kent & Sussex Fair with his hogs.

Poultry Manure Valued As Fertilizer

Poultry manure is a valuable fertilizing material, so state two University of Maryland extension specialists in a fact sheet on the subject. Frank Bentz, extension soils specialist, and Edward K. Bender, extension specialist in vegetable crops, list a variety of crops that make good use of poultry manure, and they give directions for getting the most out of the manure.

A ton of poultry manure, the specialists say, contains 20 pounds of nitrogen, 16 of phosphoric acid and 8 of potash, compared to stable manure, which contains 10 pounds of nitrogen, 5 of phosphoric acid, and 10 pounds of potash.

If the manure can be spread immediately, instead of standing, the soil will get the advantage of the available nutrients. Otherwise, nitrogen losses will lower the value of the manure.

Field crops, and vegetable crops such as tomatoes, cantaloupes, watermelons, and lima beans benefit from the addition of poultry manure, Bentz and Bender say. They point out that it should not be used in sweet potato production.

The authors quote experiments conducted by the Delaware Experiment Station which show that poultry manure does not add to the weed problem. Another objection often raised about the use of poultry manure is that it is thought to delay maturity. The specialists say that experimental work shows little difference in maturity dates.

Your county agent can furnish you with a copy of Fact Sheet 39, "Poultry Manure is a Valuable Fertilizing Material."

Once-Over Tillage Makes Unseen Farm Profit

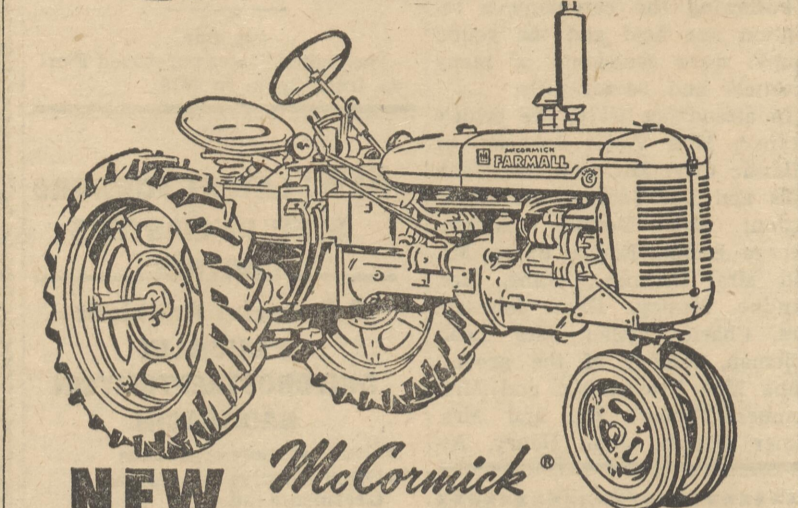

The once-over tillage technique for planting can show up in farm record books as unseen profit, thinks Earl A. Crouse, agricultural engineer with the Delaware agricultural extension service.

"Any combination of tillage equipment that can be used to cut down the number of times a farmer has to travel over his field will cut down on labor and tractor costs," says Crouse. "The effect of repeated tillage with heavy equipment packing the soil is not too evident on Delaware soils. The elimination of such packing is often a reason for once-over tillage in other areas.

"Energy is used up each time the tractor crosses the field. If a large enough tractor is used, implements beside the plow can be pulled along without too much increase in the internal frictional losses. The final mechanical efficiency of such combined operations is higher, because the extra fuel needed is doing useful work," Crouse points out.

Many farmers do not use a subsurface packer behind the plow to firm the seed bed as well as break up clods of dirt. Progressive farmers often use disc harrows with culti-packer's attached, or grass seeders with the disc harrow or culti-packer, or the spike tooth harrow behind, to cut down on work.

Ellendale.—Sun., April 6, the pastors, laymen, and all members and friends, who are a part of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, will resume their duties and responsibilities for another conference year.

Answers to last week's riddles: 1. When we double our fist. 2. They both have a good constitution. 3. One is dirty, the other is tidy.

"Thanks," said the husband, "for that nice bottle of hair tonic." "Oh," replied the wife, "it's not for you. It's for your secretary. I notice her hair is coming out rather badly on your coat."

Greenwood.—The 28th session of the Delaware Annual Conference convened Thurs., March 27, at Macedonia A. M. E. Church, Seaford.

The Rt. Rev. Decatur Ward Nichols, D. D., L. L. D. presiding bishop, First Episcopal District, A. M. E. Church, preached the sermon Sun., March 30.

The Rev. J. L. Link, presiding elder, Wilmington, presented the speaker.

The Rev. A. H. Hart, presiding elder of the Milford district, was host presiding elder of the conference.

The Rev. H. T. Bessellieu, pastor of Macedonia Church, Seaford, was host pastor.

After the sermon the anxious listeners waited patiently to hear the reading of the appointments. This was done by Bishop Nichols, who thinks and plans things wisely and justly.

There were only four changes in the Milford district—Lewes, Slaughter Neck, Frederica, and Millsboro.

The Rev. A. W. Rothwell returned to his charge, Greenwood Circuit, where the officers and members should work wholeheartedly with the pastor and with a stronger determination for a future success, remembering that "together we stand, divided we fall."

Mrs. Estella Higgins is sponsoring a candlelight rally Sun., April 27, at the church. Proceeds for benefit of the church.

Mrs. Higgins, who is chairman of community projects, is planning to send Easter greeting cards and a donation to seven of the oldest citizens of this community.

Mrs. John Foreman attended the service at Trinity Church Sunday, rendered by the Golden Star Quartet, of Philadelphia. Accompanying her were Mrs. Annie Coverdale and Mrs. Beulah Watson.

Mrs. Sarah Coston is gradually improving after an attack of grippe. Sunday callers at her home were Mrs. Velia Rickards, Alonzo Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey.

Attending conference Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. George Heath, Mrs. Beulah Watson, Mrs. Annie Coverdale and others.

Let's peek in on Gin and Joe. One day Joe went into his favorite drug store and bought six bottles of cough syrup. The next day he went back and bought six more. When he appeared on the third day and demanded six more bottles of the same stuff, the druggist's curiosity was aroused:

'What's the matter, Joe?'

he inquired. "You've been buying a lot of this cough syrup. Has your family got bad colds?" "No," grunted Joe, "nobody sick."

"Then what on earth is the cough syrup for?" Joe counted out the coins for the purchase and laid them on the counter and then replied, "Umph! me likum on pancakes."

On Easter Sunday morning Gin and Joe have planned to have sugar cured ham, scrambled eggs and pancakes. You are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Deshields and granddaughter, Juanita, and friends, of Salisbury, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Rueben Dixon.

Ermine Rickards was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Mayberry Pitts, of Dover, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Haines were weekend guests of Mrs. Acquilla Lelonard, of Deals Island, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gross and family were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Wisner, of Denton.

Mrs. Olivia Haines is on the sick list.

The last monthly meeting of the Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Beulah Watson. Mrs. Alfreda Dixon presided. Mrs. Camille Jacobs, home and youth agent, showed some interesting pictures on a modern and space saving kitchen, after giving a brief discussion on same.

As a special project to raise funds for the club and headed by Mrs. Annie Coverdale, a quilt is being made which when completed, will be sold in the near future at auction sale; 33 squares have already been completed.

Charles Duker has returned to his home and is showing signs of improving. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Alice Jones, of Wilmington, and her son-in-law, Earl Deaton.

Mrs. Susie Watson, of Houston, visited her mother-in-law, Mrs. Beulah Watson, Saturday.

ter Euring, and family while recuperating from a spell of illness, is much improved. Mrs. Euring spent the past week with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Brown.

The missionary and pension anniversary sermon was preached by the Rev. W. N. Brown, of the Delaware Conference.

The Rev. W. N. Brown has returned to St. Paul A. M. E. Church for another year. Rev. Brown, who is one of the oldest members of the conference, and who was once presiding elder over a group of churches of the Delaware Conference, is held in high esteem by the bishop.

"Having helped to make this conference through long service, sacrifice and honesty, it is now the duty of the conference to satisfy Rev. Brown," says the bishop. "If it's Rev. Brown's desire to return to Harrington, he may do so. If he desires to have a change it shall be granted," was the Bishop's reply to Mrs. Elma Thorpe, lay delegate, when asked for the pastors return.

At the pastor's reception, which last Wednesday night, a summary of the year's work was given. Proceeds from the Women's Day was $335.24. Annual report — $3,781.82.

Robert Whaley
Champ in 4-H Tractor Upkeep

Robert Whaley, 19, of Laurel, has been judged Delaware champion in the 4-H Tractor Maintenance program. His ability to maintain and operate a tractor skillfully has netted his family a sizeable saving in time, labor, and money, and has also influenced others toward the proper use and care of mechanized equipment on the farm.

A club member for five years, the mechanical knowledge Robert gained in his project means that the family's 11-year-old tractor is now in tip-top shape. He services it frequently to keep it in good running condition. The tractor has made it possible for the Whaley family to double its acreage over that which it farmed when using horses. Robert's award was a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress provided by the American Oil Company.

We have confidence in the future of America when we know it will be in the hands of youngsters like these.

Gentlemen Prefer Blue
According to statisticians, surveys show that men have a preference for cool colors over warm ones. Blue is first choice in about 45 percent of all instances, with red and purple following—about equal in preference. Green, yellow and orange are next in line.

Not a Murder in a Carload
"Body-decayer" is a term used in automotive plants—not for murder—but for a black asphalt coating. This material, which has a sound-deadening effect, is sprayed or brushed onto the floor pans and doors of a car, as well as under the cowl and trunk lids.

SHORT STORY
Mumps—Keep Out
By Paul Tulien

HIGH UP in the apple tree pondered on the ways of women. Why did his sister Winifred prefer George Butler when she could have a swell guy like Frank Stanton? Why was she going to the ball game in town tonight with George after she had turned down Frank?

It didn't make sense. Next year probably she and George would be married. Now, had it been Frank it would be something to look forward to.

It would be fun if he could think of some way to scare George when he came tonight. Not that it would change Winifred's opinion of George, but it would be fun anyway.

Then he remembered a "MUMPS—KEEP OUT!" sign he had picked up in a trash dump a few months before. At the time he hadn't expected ever to put it to such a good use.

The more he thought about the idea the better he liked it. What would George do when he saw the sign on the front of the house? He bet the old fraidy-cat would leave in a hurry.

"So, Smartypants, I'll have to sit home tonight just because you must have your little joke!"

But he must be careful. He wished he knew exactly what time George would come. If he put up the sign too early, one of his own folks might see it before George came. And that, of course, would be the end of it. On the other hand if he waited too long George might come before the sign was up.

IN THE early dusk Tommy crouched behind a clump of bushes. Slowly the minutes dragged by. At last a car turned into the driveway. George Butler got out of the car, started for the house, stopped—and then hurriedly got into the car again and drove off. Tommy sprang up; his plan had worked perfectly, but he must not let Winifred see what he had done.

But he was too late. Winifred was staring at the sign tacked on the front of the house. He started to turn and run, but decided he might as well face the music now, for she would get hold of him sooner or later.

"So, Smartypants, I'll have to sit home tonight and twiddle my thumbs just because you must have your little joke!"

Tommy was silent for a minute, twisting one leg around the other. "Maybe you could phone and explain—he'll prob'ly go home." The words came reluctantly for he didn't want Winifred to telephone, and if she did he hoped George wouldn't be home.

"I will NOT!" she cried hotly. "Not when he didn't care enough to see which of us was sick—why, I might be dying of mumps for all he knows—or cares!"

"People don't die of mumps, do they?"

"What difference does that make?" she retorted.

"It doesn't excuse him from asking. If he didn't dare to come to the door, he could have stood in the yard and yelled. Surely, I couldn't have thrown the mumps on him! Anyway, if I had the mumps he ought to be willing to have them too!"

It was almost too good to be true, Tommy thought. Only one thing was needed to make everything perfect and that would be for Frank to come.

And then Frank did come. He jumped out of his car and asked anxiously, "Who's sick?"

"No one. That sign's just Tommy's little joke," Winifred explained.

Frank laughed. "That's good! I just saw Jack Martin in town and he said he had seen a mumps sign on your house when he drove by. So I thought I'd come out and see if you needed any help. Say, why aren't you at the ball game?"

"How do you expect me to go? Walk? Our car's in the garage for repairs."

"Why, I thought—well, you know I'd be awfully glad to take you in, if you care to go. And Tommy too—unless three's a crowd."

"Not when the third one's Tommy," Winifred said, putting her arm around the boy. "He did me an extra good turn tonight."

Keep Eyes Open
There is such a thing as being "wide-asleep." If it can be called that. That is, some human beings do sleep with their eyes open, but comparatively few people can do it unless they are extremely tired.

Fire-Proof
Fire prevention officials warn against keeping ashes in flammable containers. They advise using galvanized steel ash cans. These containers have close-fitting covers and are made of fireproof metal.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

I wonder if you, like the rest of us, was fooled on April 1? I am sure most of you were and some are still being fooled and others will also follow. What do I mean by that? Well you hear over the radio and television as well the remarkable prices you can buy a television in Baltimore. Folks let me say right here they are not selling them unless they make money by doing it. Don't think you can buy something that has proved satisfactory any cheaper from one dealer than you can another unless it is a make that sooner or later you wish you did not buy.

Folks we sell Philco, Admiral and Westinghouse televisions and may I say here there is no better especially around this section which we call the fringe area.

Philco, Admiral and Westinghouse are designed to operate in the fringe areas so don't let any one fool you and talk you into something that does not work satisfactorily simply for a few dollars. You'll be s-o-r-r-y.

We have some used sets as low as $50.00 guaranteed to work. Will sell you the complete aerial if you want to install it yourself.

I know quite a few of you are still using oil for cooking and still others using coal and wood. To you, I know you have, made a promise to your wife or to yourself that this year you are going to have a gas range and a gas water heater. Folks you are talking right up my line and it will be a pleasure to sell you a modern gas range, or gas water heater. We install it all you do is just turn on the control knob and presto you have the greatest means of cooking or heating known as far as gas is concerned.

We service you gas in bottles and you can pay for it by the bottle or tank whichever you want to call it. Then again if you want to pay for it like you do your electric when the meter read we do that also and you pay only what goes through your meter, which is a very cheap way of cooking.

If you have a gas range and we install a gas heater your gas rate goes down the day the heater is installed.

Come see us like company. Well it isn't necessary for me to look outside and see the flowers blooming to know that spring is here. Why? Well you and your friends that have visited our wall paper room and by the amount of wall paper we are selling.

Somebody made the remark a day or so ago about the many different and new patterns we had and how we keep our bins or shelves filled. Folks it is a job and unless you like to handle wall paper it is still a harder job, but I am lucky to know that each of our employes are just glad to help you in any way we can with your selection.

Come in it will do you good to look around.

If you need a good wash we will even supply you with a box of All not only All but all the best washers such as Maytag, Westinghouse, Apex and some automatics at that.

Talk Peace Not War. Our President has made his decision. Why Don't we make ours? Adv.
