

Governor Cuts Ribbon To Open Dover By-Pass

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel snipped a blue-and-gold ribbon Thurs., April 10, to open the new Dover by-pass dual highway—just in time for the Easter holiday week-end traffic on Route 13.

The ribbon-cutting climaxed dedicatory ceremonies held at the bridge over the St. Jones River, just east of Dover. Shortly afterward, the first vehicles rolled over the new highway—a concrete stretch 4.46 miles in length which was constructed at a cost of $1,198,169 for the purpose of diverting Route 13 traffic around Dover.

Formerly, this traffic was funneled into Governors Avenue causing congestion which was as annoying to through-drivers as to local motorists.

J. Gordon Smith, chairman of the State Highway Department, was master of ceremonies at the dedication exercises, attended by several hundred persons.

Governor Carvel, principal speaker for the occasion, congratulated State Highway engineers and the contractors George & Lynch—on their work. He complimented Delaware builders as a class, saying that they "give most of the money" in construction work, and he expressed his gratitude to the State Legislature for making this and other roads possible through appropriation of adequate funds.

The Governor pointed out that the Dover by-pass will relieve serious congestion and promote safety, and said: "This road will be an asset not only to Kent County, but to all motorists."

Other speakers included Harris F. McDowell, Jr., Secretary of State, and Hyland P. George, of George & Lynch.

Among special guests were Mayor W. E. Hamman of Dover, Mayor E. C. Rash of Harrington, Mayor Herbert D. Cluley Jr., of Camden, Senator Walter Handberry, who is also Mayor of Leipsic, Mayor G. R. Stevenson of Smyrna, Richard A. Appleby of George & Lynch, Chief Highway Engineer Richard A. Haber, and the members of the State Highway Commission: Clayton A. Bunting, Selbyville; William P. Richardson, Dover; and Samuel N. Culver, Delmar.

Shortly after the ceremonial ribbon was cut, the lone traffic signal was turned on, highway signs were unveiled, and traffic began to flow over this newest adjunct of the DuPont Parkway, construction on which was started Dec. 14, 1950.

The by-pass is of cement-concrete construction with two roadways, each 24 feet wide. A parkway separating the roadways most of the distance is 50 feet wide. From the point where it is on new location, it is built along a right-of-way 200 feet wide, thus any new buildings will have to be a substantial distance from the highway.

Recently, the Highway Department awarded a contract to George & Lynch, low bidder, for an additional section of the dual highway to extend from the new terminus just north of Camden to Canterbury. This section will be built on all new location.

State's Restaurants Must File With OPS by April 22

All eating and drinking establishments must file their prices with the Delaware Office of Price Stabilization before April 22 under a new ceiling price regulation, it was explained this week by Willard D. Boyce, state OPS director. In addition to the required filing, these establishments must post their prices by the 25th on charts provided by the federal agency. The OPS ruling froze restaurant prices at those in effect during the week of February 3 to 9. Questions about the regulation should be referred to OPS headquarters at 9 East Third Street, Wilmington.

Paint-Coats for Closets
Whether closets are for daily use or for storage space, they benefit from paint coatings for reasons of visibility, cleanliness and sanitation. The painted color also improves their appearance.

Harrington Legion Auxiliary Meets

The April meeting of the Auxiliary Unit of Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee Legion Post No. 7 was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Clyde Tucker, on Tuesday evening.

Following the usual opening exercises, Mrs. William Outten announced the local winners in the Legion Essay Contest. The contest, which was open to pupils in the high school, was on the topic, "What is My Duty As A Citizen." The first place winner was William Bowdle, a student in the 11th grade; second place, Martha Gruwell, and Elizabeth Ann Greenly, third place winner, both members of the 12th grade. The prizes were checks for $5, $3 and $2 respectively.

The unit approved donations to the following drives: $5 to the Easter Seal Drive, $5 to the Cancer Crusade, $5 to the Red Cross, $2 for Poppy Seals for the educational help of children of veterans.

Other business discussed at the meeting was the adoption of a boy at Ferris Industrial School. The unit will adopt a boy at the school, write to him and send cards and gifts on holidays. The unit already has sponsored the adoption of two women at Perry Point Hospital at Perry Point, Md., and a little girl at the Bacon Health Center.

Mrs. Wm. C. Cann, chairman of the radio committee, has requested that members of each unit fill in and mail the radio and TV poll blank which appears on the back cover of the April issue of "National News," the auxiliary magazine. Mrs. Tucker asks that each member clip the blank, fill it in and send it to Mrs. Cann at the following address: Mrs. Wm. N. Cann, 1002 Washington, St., Wilmington, Del. A cash prize will be given to the unit having the largest percentage of returns.

A work party of auxiliary members has been planned for Tuesday evening, at 7:30, at the Legion Home. The kitchen has been newly decorated and equipped, but there are a few clean-up jobs yet to be done. If any member wishes to help on Tuesday night, they may contact Mrs. William Minner, phone 8691 for transportation. The more, the merrier.

A report of the nominating committee for the election of officers was given by Mrs. Leonard Taylor, chairman. The nominees for the various offices are as follows: President, Mrs. Wm. Outten; vice-president, Mrs. James O'Neal; secretary, Mrs. Sidney Burkman; treasurer, Mrs. Clyde Tucker; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Wm. A. Reservations for the luncheon and the meeting have been made for Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Burtman, Mrs. Frank O'Neal Jr., and Mrs. Minner, who will attend from the Harrington unit.

Members of the refreshment committee for the May meeting will be, Mrs. Nellie Emory, chairman; Mrs. Nellie French, Mrs. Charlotte Harrington, Mrs. Helen Harrington, and Mrs. Catherine Donovan.

Sulky Slants

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

With so many coming in and out now, I can hardly keep up with the new ones. So far not any big stables have arrived, but before the week is over they will start.

Gene Anderson, what was in that sack you had over on the highway crossing? Don't you know you can't call the races and eat too.

Jimmy Creed busy as a bee cleaning out the beautiful truck of Earl Thomas. Are you getting ready to take off, Jimmy? When ever I see Gooden Callaway trotting around the corner, I think of the "Last Mile," as I heard someone call it last year. Instead of the "Little Church Around the Corner," he called it, "The little office down the lane."

The little tike that Mom Stubbs has really had a wonderful Easter so I hear. Everything that it takes to make a youngster happy. I have been there and I know he has more toys than anyone I know of, even a TV set so he can see the horses.

Charley Price out and around again after being confined in the hospital. Charley came over to our stable and asked me if Roustabout was a cat, a monkey, or what, said I never did say he was a horse. Now I ask you, Charley, is that nice?

Speaking about Roustabout, I was walking him after Dave worked him the other day and a pony was out in the infield and did he go to the hucklebuck, I held to him as long as I could, then he about pulled me off my feet, and over he went. I let go, I couldn't hold him any longer. I was more frightened than anything. He didn't do anything but get up and trot as pretty as you please over to the stable, and let Frankie catch him. Cotter said, don't let him get away with that, so he walked him a while for me. Then I went on with him. But you know I'm just as far away from joggng as I ever was.

Wayd Cotter was advised from Batavia that he had a six pound girl, Jackie and the baby are doing okay, and they expect her home about the first of May. Little Joan, his daughter, has done a wonderful job taking care of everything while Jackie is away. And such a good little thing.

Did you know that Carl Goslin is back in the boss biz? Well he is. Carl has purchased Bonnie Bonington. Cotter is training him for Carl. What did I tell you? Once a horseman, always a horseman.

Ole Symbol Louis looks out with a longing eye wondering why he too can't get out with the others. Wouldn't it be wonderful to parade him the opening night just to let the public see him again? I think he would be a proud ole horse. I think many a tear would come to our eyes, a faithful ole horse gone over the hill.

I think many of you will recall old Clyde Cash. Well, he is racing up in Canada. Horses over the age limit can go on up there. Jimmy Sivers attended the Saratoga horse sale.

Ellis Myer, Betty, and Mickey have left for Yonkers. Ellis and Jimmy have horses in. Mickey tells me she is going to take along her paddock clothes and get right in there and help out. We were all set to go for opening but the weather was a little too bad and cold, so we will go later.

Our general manager, Britt, and Virginia, will attend the races this coming Saturday.

Bobby Hobbs is certainly learning fast how to handle a horse, but, Bobby, get out your watch a little more. Bobby, you won't be a horseman till you say, "Oh, I went that fast," and you know right down in your heart you didn't. Sarah, is it true you have purchased a filly?

Mrs. Callaway, of the Bridle Bit, out to the track looking for horses over.

Mr. Koontz, of Millersburg, Pa., a visitor to the Emil Adams stable. Harry, can't you be still just two more weeks? Fount calls you Jumping Jack, that's you all right. Harry wishes they were ready to start next week.

Mr. Burgess Sr., what were you looking at so close the other evening at the Peoples Filling Station? It was a sign on a car I think. To you, you can always learn something.

Thanks for the wonderful Easter cards I received. The one we received from Mayor Rash (See Sulky Slants back page)

School Board Head Not Up For Re-election

Robert L. Nelson, president of the Harrington Board of Education, whose term expires Sat., May 10, said this week he would not be a candidate for re-election.

The member, who lives between Harrington and Vernon, commented, "Someone else should have a chance at it."

He has served two four-year terms, during which periods he has served twice as head of the group.

Nominations for candidates in the May election for members of the Board of Education in each of the special school elections in Kent County must be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Peace in Dover on or by 4:30 p. m., Wed., April 30. Nominations shall be in writing and shall be signed by at least 15 citizens who are resident in the school district for which the candidate is nominated.

At the same time, election of a member of the Board of Trustees will be held at State Board School Districts in the county, which include the following: Kenton, Leipsic, Frederica, Farmington, Magnolia, Felton, Little Creek, Hartly, Clayton, and Jouston; and Colored schools at Clayton, Kenton, Lockwood District, Cheswold, Fork Branch, White Oak, Woodside, Mt. Olive, Viola, and Reeves Crossing.

School Tax Will Be Raised 10c Per $100; Head Tax Upped $2

Increased school taxes for the residents of Harrington Special School District are now in effect, the aftermath of a special meeting of the Board of Education Wednesday afternoon.

J. C. Messner, secretary of the group, and superintendent of Harrington Public Schools, said the 1952 tax rate would be 50c per $100 on property, with capitation tax at $4. This is an increase of 10c per $100, on property, and $2 increase on head tax.

Salisbury Reds To Open Season Wednesday

To Entertain Harrisburg Senators at Memorial Field in Salisbury

The Salisbury Reds entertain the Harrisburg Senators Wednesday night at Memorial Field in an Interstate League opener.

On the mound for the Redlegs will be Phil Amata, hefty right-hander, obtained last week from the Tulsa (AA) League nine. Harry (Mickey) Lasutka is the Harrisburg twirling nominee. He needs no introduction to Eastern Shore fans after posting an 8-15 won and lost record last season for the wobbly Salisbury A's.

Another familiar face in the visitors' lineup will be center-fielder Len (Red) Beck, a mercury-footed guy who picked up a lot of dust for the 1951 Salisbury team. His overall performance was keynoted by 21 stolen bases, one less than the league leader, Charley Neal, of Lancaster.

Manager Mike Blazo, of the Redlegs, is completing a wedding-out program of his Salisbury team this week in Columbia, S. C., minor league training site of the Cincinnati Reds.

The team will be on view Sunday afternoon in Salisbury during a batting and fielding drill.

Besides Amata, the mound staff shapes up with Ernest Clark, Billy Blanton, Bob Quintano, Bob Crook, Bill Nee, and Ken Lansing. Crook was a 14-game-winner last season with Ogden (Utah) Pioneer (C) League team. Nee etched 16 triumphs in Columbia, S. C., Welj, W. Va., and Ogden in the Cincinnati farm system. The catchers appear to be Jimmy Brown, a 286 hitter last season at Charleston (A) League, and Jobey Hearn, a homespun product of Delmar.

Comprising part of the inner cordon is Bruce Smith, third baseman, purchased last winter from the York White Roses, and Hugh Glaze, second sacker, a .301 sticker with the 1951 Charleston Class A team.

Only two outfield certainties are Bob Hendrix, left-handed sticker, a University of Florida student, and Elmer Westfall, who swatted in the .300 bracket at Welch of the Appalachian League last season. The latter was also a speed merchant, swiping 41 bases.

Blazo had hopes this week of obtaining the services of Jimmy Peterson, shortstop of the Tulsa Oilers Texas League team.

Spray Guns Helpful
The spray gun is now available in small models and simplified form for home use. In addition to being useful for large areas, they are handy for painting radiators, hard-to-reach spots, indoor and outdoor furniture.

The Harrington Board of Education is composed of T. Brinton Holloway, Ellwood Gruwell, H. Hayward Quillen, and Mr. Nelson. Each year one member is elected for a four-year term. Mr. Messner, by virtue of his office as superintendent of schools, is secretary of the board.

Other county special school districts having elections May 10 are those at Dover, Caesar-Rodney, and Smyrna.

At the same time, election of a member of the Board of Trustees will be held at State Board School Districts in the county, which include the following: Kenton, Leipsic, Frederica, Farmington, Magnolia, Felton, Little Creek, Hartly, Clayton, and Jouston; and Colored schools at Clayton, Kenton, Lockwood District, Cheswold, Fork Branch, White Oak, Woodside, Mt. Vice-President Will Address Democrat Banquet

Two other nationally known figures have been added to the guest list for Saturday's Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner in the Wilmington Armory. They are the Honorable Leslie Biffle, Secretary of the United States Senate and Kenneth D. Frye, associate director of publicity for the Democratic National Committee. Democratic State Chairman Harris B. McDowell Jr., announced that the state committee, sponsors of the dinner, has received definite word that both will attend. Frye is also chief of the radio and television section of the National Committee. Both men will speak briefly at the dinner.

The principal speaker for the occasion will be the Honorable Alben W. Barkley, vice-president of the United States.

At the same time, Mr. McDowell announced that arrangements have been completed for the Mutual Broadcasting Company to air the speech by the vice-president over their coast-to-coast network from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

The popular "Veep" has been mentioned prominently as a presidential candidate since President Truman announced his withdrawal from the race. Many of the vice-president's loyal followers in Delaware are hoping that he will announce his candidacy on his visit here.

Another feature of the Democratic fund-raising extravaganza will be the presence of the nationally famous singer, Phil Regan. The highly popular entertainer is a long-time friend of Vice-President Barkley. Regan has long been a favorite entertainer at Democratic and other functions throughout the country, and his singing will undoubtedly be one of the highlights of the evening.

Mr. McDowell stated that the final seating arrangements for the dinner have been worked out to the committee, and that every effort had been made to provide maximum comfort for the guests. He said that advance reservations indicate that the largest number of persons ever to attend a Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner in Delaware would be on hand to hear the address by Vice-President Barkley.

The dinner is scheduled to get underway at 7 p. m. William S. Potter, a past Democratic State Chairman, will serve as toastmaster during the evening.

Pointing first to the national picture, Mr. Derrickson said the Hoover days will live in our memory a long time. Hoover did nothing about it, he added, but Roosevelt did. The Kent County chairman explained, that while people say, "Look what they take out of our pay," they have a whole lot more left.

Turning to the state picture, he commented that the administration had passed 80 per cent of its platform. He then cited accomplishments in education, agriculture, welfare, highways, soil and wildlife conservation, veterans' bonus, and the establishment of a separate Supreme Court.

While Mayor Norris C. Adams was driving his meat wagon on a backroad near Houston last week, an ancient car, occupied by colored people, approached and urged its occupants, two male and two female. They asked Mr. Adams for money but he told them about the depression and said that he had no money; whereupon the ladies and gentlemen of color began to talk lovingly of "poke chops" and "de ham what am." To emphasize their plea, they tenderly caressed four shiny butcher knives. Mr. Adams proved to be a diplomat, and the darkies taking generous chunks of meat, drove away, after warning Mr. Adams not to follow them. The license tags of their car were covered with sacks. Mr. Adams notified officials, but the kidnappers of the meat could not be found. Senator Wilbur E. Essay Contest

Pupils of the senior high school have recently been preparing papers for competition in two essay contests sponsored by patriotic organizations. The Delaware Department of the American Legion has chosen for the title of its Americanism essay contest entries, "What Is My Duty As A Citizen?" The grand winner in the State of Delaware will receive $50 and the second prize is $25. Members of the three highest grades are eligible, but entrants will compete only against other pupils of the same grade. The Improved Order of Red Men and Degree of Pocahontas offers five $1000 scholarships to pupils anywhere in the United States who may be eligible for entrance into college in the first semester beginning in September, 1952. The subject proposed by organization is "Freedom — My Rights and Privileges — Duties and Obligations."

Knowledge of the subject matter, clearness, neatness, individuality and sincerity, grammar, spelling, and punctuation are named by the lists of rules and requirements as the prospective grounds of judgment. Members of the English department of the high school chose a number of papers to be entered in the contests, and each pupil also had the privilege of making an independent entry on his own initiative.

FFA Chapter News

The local F. F. A. Chapter has just received a large wall plaque as a winner in the Dairy Efficiency Award Program for 1951 largely due to the efforts of two boys in the chapter, Billy Bowdle and Preston Beauchamp.

The award emphasizes the importance of good practice in the operations of a dairy farming business; the use of good pastures, home grown grains, balanced rations, herd records, and proved sires, to name but a few.

Billy Bowdle was the recipient of a $100 award for dairy production. He owns two registered Holstein heifers, and last year kept records on the family herd. He took part in the Greener Pastures Program last year and was a gold medalist in the Vocational F. F. A. Dairy Judging Contest at Waterloo, Ia.

Preston Beauchamp earned a $10 award as recognition for his dairy-cow project. Preston attended the Vocational F. F. A. Convention at Kansas City, Mo., last fall, and has been active in grain exhibit contests.

Where stands a little daffodil,
As the Easter parade passes by,
It nods its head and winks its eye.

The Daffodil
I like the yellow flowers,
That bloom around the hill.
But the one I like the best of all,
Is the yellow daffodil.

HOME

In looking back through the misty past,
I see again my childhood's home.
I see again the flowing stream,
The hills, and fields where I used to roam.

Off I have climbed those lofty hills
And viewed that dear old home.
That lovely picture. I still can see,
Though many years have flown.

In the little vale, between the hills,
That dearly loved homestead lies;
And oft in the lonely twilight hours
Back to those scenes, fond memories flies.

Again, the face of fond mother, I see
As she sat by the kitchen door,
And watched us children as we played,
Or conned our lessons o'er.

And the dear young friends of my childhood,
Their bright happy faces, I see,
As we often roamed through the wildwood
And sported in our joyous glee.

Where are they now, all parted and gone.
Broken that happy young band.
Some still dwell near the dear old home,
And some in a distant land.

The home of my youth I cannot
Or the friends who gathered there,
And a wish, that we all, in heaven may meet
Is breathed in a silent prayer.

Almira Louise Ramsdell
NOTE: Almira Louise Ramsdell, the mother of H. J. Ramsdell, was from among the hills of Venango County, Pa., near the city of Franklin. She came to Delaware with her husband and children and lived for a number of years in Wyoming. The above poem was written probably 50 years ago and was preserved by one of her daughters, Mrs. M. L. Butler, of Denton.

Fred Sharp Suffers Paralytic Stroke
Fred Sharp is in Milford Memorial Hospital after suffering a paralytic stroke Saturday morning in the office of Dr. Hewitt Smith, of Harrington. His condition is reported as fair. Mr. Sharp, a former employe of Murphy & Hayes, is now employed by a Dover wholesale grocery house and resides at Canterbury. He is the brother of Mrs. Ernest Hammond, of Harrington.

DAFFODILS

J. Harry Wright

Tiny green blades sprang up through the snow,
And brought joy to this heart of mine;
Daffodil stems had started to grow,
As Spring neared, with rain and shine.

Their roots slept in earthy beds so cold,
All through the long Winter's gloom;
With stems of green, and hearts of gold,
The daffodils burst into bloom.

They looked so fresh, so bright and gay,
As they fluttered and danced with glee;
Like Wordsworth, I could truly say,
"Such a jocund company!"

Sure signs of Spring are daffodils.
They may teach us also to know,
Through all our Winters—all our ills—
We can keep our hearts aglow.

A RARE DELIGHT
By Samuel A. Short Jr.
Of course I know it isn't right,
To tell others what they should do,
But some times when I don't do it,
I think that I may have it to do.

Perhaps they may be a little upset,
When their tongues get out of control.
But every time they say some things,
I think they may be a little too bold.

But it does my heart a world of good,
To listen to the youth of today.
For whatever they do it's always good,
For they seem to make it always pay.

'Twill be a memory as long as I live,
What ever befalls me day or night.
For nothing will equal these days I give,
Trying to help others is my delight.

Mrs. Norman Hopkins, president, presided at the business meeting. She announced that the club would attend the evening services at the Trinity Church in Harrington April 27. Each member will wear ribbons of the new club colors, maroon and gray. A contribution to the Cancer Drive was also made of an invitation from Scott's Furniture Store to attend a lecture entitled "Home Decorations" April 21 at the Bridgeville High School.

State Home Demonstration Day will be held May 1 in Dover. The club voted to send two representatives to the luncheon and meeting.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Voshell, Kent County home demonstration agent, was then introduced. She talked on "Colors That Become You." Following the talk, a spirited white elephant sale was held.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, and a lovely social hour was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Norman Brown with Mrs. Leonard Taylor as cohostess. Topic for the meeting will be "Salads and Salad Dressings."

Thinning Apples With Chemical Sprays Increases

Thinning of apple trees with chemical sprays is becoming more widespread in Maryland, according to the department of horticulture at the University of Maryland. Chemical thinning can be done at considerably less cost than hand thinning, and it can be done early enough so that biennial bearing tends to be corrected, and the trees bear more annually. Yields of fruit, while somewhat less in a year of normal heavy crops, are higher over a longer period because more apples are produced in light bearing years.

The first chemical thinning of apples was done with dinitro compounds used in a full-bloom spray. Recent research has shown that naphthaleneacetic acid can be used in the post-bloom period up to three weeks after full-bloom. This gives the grower time to evaluate his crop and to determine whether or not he needs a thinning spray.

Vigor of the trees and weather during the bloom are the two most important factors in chemical thinning of apples. Cold, rainy bloom weather usually results in poor pollination and reduced crops. Winter injury, low nitrogen fertilization, root injury, mouse damage, and any other factors that reduce tree vigor may result in overthinning with naphthaleneacetic acid sprays. With moderate bloom weather and good tree vigor, chemical thinning has been used successfully.

Most heavy setting apple varieties are suited to chemical thinning. Golden Delicious and York Imperial apples are the two most important varieties in Maryland which need thinning. Rome Beauty apples will not respond to naphthaleneacetic acid sprays, and cannot be satisfactorily thinned with this material.

Cyanamid Kills Weeds, Boosts Asparagus And Pea Yields

Granular cyanamid can be used to control weeds in asparagus and peas, research by the University of Maryland shows. The cyanamid also boosts yields.

Dr. Francis C. Stark, professor of horticulture, and Edward K. Bender, extension specialist in vegetable crops, report on the use of granular cyanamid for weed control in Miscellaneous Publication 116, "Weed Control Experiments with Canning Peas and Spinach," and "Weed Control and Care of Asparagus."

When first applied in the presence of moisture, cyanamid is toxic to germinating weed seeds and the roots or foliage of the plants it touches. Large seeded or rooted plants such as peas and asparagus are planted deep enough to be protected from the toxicity of the chemical, and are not injured by the cyanamid applied at recommended rates.

Chemical changes result in the conversion of the nitrogen contained in the cyanamid into useful ammonium and nitrate forms which are then available as plant food. Cyanamid applications have resulted in yield increases of up to 400 pounds per acre of shelled peas.

To secure a copy of either of these mimeographed publications on weed control in peas or asparagus, write to Edward K. Bender, Department of Horticulture, University of Maryland, College Park, Md.

Council Announces State Home Demonstration Meeting

Mrs. John S. Farrow, Magnolia, president of the Delaware Home Demonstration Council, announced the program for the annual State Home Demonstration Meeting this week. The meeting will be in the Capitol Grange Hall, Dover, May 1.

Said Mrs. Farrow, "The state meeting program will follow our year round program, with emphasis on family life and health. Dr. Willard Purdy, First and Central Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, and Mrs. Jane Callaghan, New York, will be the main speakers."

Mrs. Callaghan will talk on "The Heart of the Home," presenting the kitchen as a work simplification project. Mrs. Callaghan is appearing through the co-operation of the Delaware Heart Association.

Dr. Purdy's talk is entitled, "I Am In Debt," and pertains to family living.

Other program features are reports by the president, Mrs. Farrow, and by the state committee chairmen. The family life program will be described by Mrs. Jonathan S. Willis, Milford; citizenship by Mrs. Joseph McIlvaine, Lewes; health and safety by Mrs. Franz Rossmann, Richardson Park, and national notes and publicity by Mrs. William Sterling, Dover.

Music will be furnished by the State Teachers' College Quartet, Salisbury, Md. Wesley College students, of Dover, will present an international relations dramatization.

Small Eastern Cities Possible Delaware Broiler Market

"The large near-by eastern markets on which Delaware has built its tremendous broiler industry still offer a good outlet. But those looking for new market outlets might well investigate the cities and towns of central and western Pennsylvania, and New York," says W. T. McAllister, marketing specialist of the Delaware agricultural extension service. McAllister points out that many eastern states do not produce enough poultry for their own consumption, and that they are egg producing states. That means their meat production is heavy poultry, so they could be doubly important as markets for famous Delmarva lightweight poultry.

"We could not be displaced from these smaller markets as easily as from larger areas," McAllister feels. "If local production is to continue to expand, rather than cut down, it is time these markets were exploited to their fullest degree. But—let's do it for keeps. Good chicken of consistent quality, honestly labeled, and carefully packed will sell itself."

But, says McAllister, to many people fresh, young chicken is still only "spring chicken." A program of consumer information and industry promotion would be needed to pave the way in these markets. Contacts at wholesale and retail levels would have to be established, and our distribution system fitted to these smaller markets.

Everyone Welcome University Home Gardeners Course

The university doors will be open to everyone interested in home gardens, next week, Tuesday and Wednesday. The annual Home Gardeners' Short Course will be held those days, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Guest speakers from Rutgers University, University of Maryland, Cornell University, and garden industries will join the University of Delaware staff in presenting two days of practical, non-technical gardening information. Landscape design will be given by Raymond P. Korbobo, one of the outstanding landscape architects in the East. Korbobo is professor of ornamental horticulture at Rutgers University. He has spoken to Delaware audiences at other short courses and Farm and Home Week.

F. R. Furness, Upper Banks Nurseries, Media, Pa., will help home gardeners select evergreens, flowering shrubs, and unusual shrubs for the home grounds. Richard M. Viggers and Earl A. Lloyd, of the Bartlett Tree Expert Company, will demonstrate types of pruning at the April 23 afternoon program. M. M. Shoemaker, University of Maryland, will talk on tree selection for the home grounds.

Tree and shrub insects and diseases will be discussed by Prof. John A. Neegele and D. S. Welch, of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

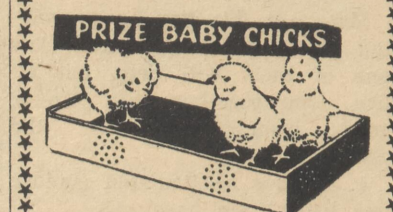

Other topics on the program are lawn care and vegetable garden problems. There will be ample time for questions and individual problems. Variety lists and bulletins on many gardening subjects will be available free of charge.

No advance registration is necessary, and there is no tuition fee for the Home Gardeners' Short Course. Everyone is welcome, and so are their gardening problems and questions.

Watch Temperature For Egg Quality

Keep your eggs on the move. Don't let them hang around in a warm, dry room. Watch closely the temperature and humidity in your egg room.

Russell C. Hawes, extension marketing specialist from the University of Maryland, advises producers and handlers of eggs to be on guard for heat in egg storage rooms. Warm days are here again and when temperatures rise anywhere along the marketing channels, egg quality is lost.

Hawes says, "the need of keeping eggs cool at all times is imperative for best results and good returns."

Eggs deteriorate rapidly when not kept cool. Maintain an egg room temperature of 55 degrees F. and a relative humidity of 75 per cent. Gather eggs three times daily, cool them quickly and market twice a week.

Quality production and quality control is always essential but extremely important right now because of low egg prices, Hawes points out.

Economy of Production Stressed at U. of Md. Beef Cattle Field Day

Economy of production was stressed at the Beef Cattle Breeders and Feeders Field Day at the University of Maryland, April 5. More efficient animals, improved pastures and low cost roughage feeds are ways beefmen can economically deliver more beef to an increasing population, Dr. John E. Foster, read of the department of animal husbandry, said in giving the beef cattle situation and outlook.

On Jan. 1, there was a record number of beef animals in the state and country as a whole, he pointed out. U. S. Department of Agriculture predictions foresee a continued increase in beef numbers for the next three years, in spite of low feed reserves. USDA is calling for more feed production to match livestock numbers. Dr. Foster said that more beef will be needed to keep the standard of living high for the nation's population, which is growing at the rate of 1.7 million a year.

Herd type classification, an aid to selecting the better individuals in the beef herd for breeding purposes, was demonstrated to the 150 people in attendance at the field day. Progress on a beef calf experiment to develop a research technique to speed determination of growth rates and feeding efficiency was reported.

The beef grazing trials conducted by the agronomy department working with the animal husbandry department were summarized and recommendations were given for pasture improvement. J. M. Vial, extension livestock specialist, and chairman of the event, spoke on the place of forages in the feeding program.

Footrot Prevented By Barnyard Cleanup

Footrot, a perennial problem for dairymen, can be prevented by a good clean-up campaign in the barnyard, University of Maryland Extension Dairyman John P. Dietrich says.

"Cattle lame from footrot don't produce as much milk as they would if they were otherwise healthy," Dietrich says, "so it will pay to prevent the disease. Preventing footrot by cleaning up the barnyard is easier than trying to cure the disease while allowing its cause to remain. Footrot organisms thrive in wet and filth," the extension dairyman explains.

Here are five tips on preventing and controlling footrot. Any one of them will help, but all five done together will provide good insurance against the disease:

1. Remove accumulated manure and litter from barnyards.
2. Drain the low spots in the barnyard or pasture.
3. Trim the cattle's hooves to remove excessive growth and lessen chances for infection on injured heels.
4. Provide a box of hydrated lime to dry the cattle's feet when they enter the barn.
5. If possible, pave the barnlot to help keep it clean and dry. Blacktop paving is a quick effective method.

These practices will pay off in better herd health, and sanitary milk production, Dietrich adds.

Fruit Rots Cause Losses to Strawberries

Fruit rots, caused by Botrytis and other molds, cause serious losses to strawberry growers in Maryland, according to extension plant pathologists at the University of Maryland.

Fruit rot organisms attack ripening fruit, especially in wet and cloudy weather. Any condition which prevents the berries from drying favors the development of the fungi. Heavy foliage offers a favorable environment for the rot-causing fungi if rain occurs at the time of fruit development. Late spring frosts that injure the blossoms may be responsible for the start of trouble, the pathologists say. The fungi develop on the dead blossoms or fruit and later spread to ripening fruit.

The plant pathologists report that there is some evidence that fungicides sprayed on the plants will reduce loss from fruit rots. One material that is now available, ferbam, sold as FERMATE, Carbamate, etc., seems to be promising.

Workers indicate that the first application should be made with the first appearance of bloom. Spraying should be repeated two or three times at 10-day intervals. To prepare spray for one acre, use 2 pounds of the ferbam fungicide to 100 gallons of water. Home growers can use 1 cup of ferbam in 5 gallons of spray water.

Delaware Plans on Southern Hemisphere Farm Exchange

Delaware's 1952 International Farm Youth Exchange will be with some Southern hemisphere country, next winter.

Sam Gwinn, state 4-H club leader, announced that a decision has been made to take part in the winter program, rather than the summer exchange program with northern European and Asiatic countries.

Last year, Helen Samendinger, Newark, lived for three months on German farms. Delaware farm families have been hosts to youths from Germany, Scotland, and the Isle of Jersey. Gwinn said the Southern hemisphere exchange will give Delaware a chance to make farm friends in a different part of the world.

Countries included in the 1951 winter program were Australia, New Zealand, Chile, Costa Rica, Columbia, Mexico, Uruguay, and India.

Delaware's delegate will be sent by the 4-H clubs, home demonstration clubs, and granges who have contributed money to the program. This money will also help pay the expenses in this country of a farm exchange from one of these countries.

Applications for the Southern hemisphere exchange must be in the state 4-H club office by May 31. Some applications have already been received. Anyone interested in taking part in this IFYE program—high school graduate, single, between the ages of 20-28, from a farm—may apply. County 4-H club agents have application blanks.

Tax Deductible
Contributions to the U.S. Olympic fund are tax deductible. A budget of $850,000 was set for expenses of the 1952 U.S. Olympic teams, both Winter and Summer.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

Another baseball season is here. And did you see our president throw out the first ball or were you one of the wishers. Folks I know everybody cannot have a television, but there are so many of you that can, these are the ones I am going to talk to.

I know you have children, they want one and why not? Sometimes we can learn a lot from them. Today the trend is to television as we the American people are blessed with a freedom to buy a television or what we like. Some people are not as fortunate as we and even if they could buy one, the purchasing power makes it almost impossible. For about $64 you can have a television installed which includes aerial, Tenna-a-Rotor Booster and television and the balance to be paid on a monthly basis. Folks, you are where this can be done, so why not take advantage of something fine that so many would just love to have.

Warm weather does not effect television reception like it does radio sometimes. I think it is better and clearer. We have quite a few models on hand to select from. There is so much to be missed by your waiting that it is like water going over a dam. You cannot bring it back but with a television you can see it before it gets to the dam and then there is nothing wasted. $100,000,000 is a lot of money to let slide by but you are doing it without a television. Did you ever see a man, woman, or child, who owns a television want to part with it? Just try and you will come out with a black eye.

We are now giving 24 hours service to our customers who own a Philco, Admiral or Westinghouse television. I know you have all heard about the new refrigerators now on the market. Well all I have got to say is if you don't want one don't come around looking at the new models, if you do kiss your old one good bye and it will be a good last kiss at that.

Maybe you have one ten years or more in age. I am looking for some of these, so come in and see the new Philcos and Westinghouses and get a good trade allowance while your old one is still churning, churning, churning and stop your yearning, yearning, yearning. Time today is more valuable than ever and anything to save time is well worth looking into. For instance take an automatic washer either a Westinghouse, Laundromat or Maytag and figure the time and worry they save.

Folks that time you save will make you live longer as I know many of you housewives are blessing your old washer every day. You cannot expect one to last forever and it is remarkable how long they do. For instance some people say I have had my old washer for 20 years or more. To you folks, don't tell that to a dealer or somebody who knows, as you are just kidding yourself with more work than if the up to date washer is in your home.

Get rid of it and start the real way of washing automatic with a Westinghouse or Maytag. I know of course there are quite a few who do not have enough hot water that an automatic requires, so we have the newer type wringer type for you also. Trade in that old one and get a new up to date washer. The flowers and grass cutting has come back to town and with it comes all the paperhangers with their bag and baggage. We have been expecting them and this is one time they didn't catch us napping. We have just what they want and that is plenty of paper to hang and paste to hang it. We have plenty of wall paper for all rooms including the washables for kitchen and bathrooms.

No wonder so many people take a paper or magazine to the bathroom with them when you can sit and see such lovely patterns that we have for bathrooms. There are a lot of homes where the paper is faded but tight to the wall as well as you may be too tight to have it removed. But honestly folks this paper can be painted over even by yourself with Sunflex water paint and presto you have a beautiful room or rooms over night. Come in select the many colors we carry only $1.05 quart or $3.25 gallon, of course it can be washed over. I might add here that we have some wonderful buys in gas ranges and will hook it up, pay nothing for gas for 30 days or more.

Come in. Leave with or without. Talk Peace Not War. 20 seconds is fast, but electricity is faster. Wheeler's Television Center Phone 541 Harrington Adv.

Gasoline Tax Collections Increase Sharply

Gasoline tax collections for the month of February of this year showed an increase of $51,086.84 over the same month last year, according to a report prepared by Leroy F. Hawke, secretary of the State Highway Department and administrator of the Motor Fuel Tax Division of the department.

A tabulation of the figures reveals that the increase for February of 1952 over February of 1951 was much larger than the increase amounted to $32,704.45.

According to Mr. Hawke's report a total of $401,302.61 was collected in motor fuel tax in February of this year as compared with $350,215.77 collected in February of last year and $317,511.32 collected in February of 1950.

The report shows that 8,026,052 gallons of motor fuel were sold in this state in February of this year which is an increase of 1,021,737 gallons over the total sold in February of last year.

Of the 40 bonded gasoline distributors operating in the state, four reported no collections during the month while five of the distributors accounted for more than 60 per cent of the fuel tax collections.

Esso Standard Oil Company, led the list of distributors by collecting $71,038.28 in fuel taxes while Atlantic Refining Company collected $63,985.96 and the Diamond Ice and Coal Company, collected $56,712.85. The Texas Company collected $34,042.97 and the collections by the Sun Oil Company were $30,876.75.

I sure get some funny mail, some good and some I just toss in the waste basket. Guess people get funny ideas because you write for a paper. Well it's loads of fun if you have the time. And you do have to be thinking from day to day. It's not a few minutes' thought.

Have you seen the little car Benny Moore has added to his gas station? It's a dilly. Somehow Benny, that's real cute. However, I wasn't expecting you to get out of it the other evening. And did you have to turn around backwards to get out? Always a happy crowd on the loafers' bench in front of Benny's. Mostly some of the boys that have put in a long day, who just stop to chat with one another, and Benny is as happy-go-lucky fellow as there are. So what does it all add up to? Just a darn good station.

Was up to Harry Littleton's the other evening and what he doesn't have up to his house, or at the bars isn't worth mentioning. Pigs, chickens, coon, a bird dog that he was offered $500 for and he turned it down. A pony and a garden with everything, and Mrs. Littleton has anything you could think of in her deep freezer. Also a new TV set. What more could you want?

Been reading about the Ole Mississippi River, from where it starts up in Red Wing, Minn., just a few small lakes. You wouldn't think it could raise so much heck. We have followed it from beginning to the end. It's so very small up around Minneapolis, Winona, and Prairie du Chien, but as it gets down around Davenport, Rock Island, it begins to pick up in width. Time it hits St. Louis it's a honey. By the time it hits the delta, it really is the mighty ole Mississippi. When it reaches New Orleans it really is beautiful. On it goes down to Grand Isle where it empties into the Gulf of Mexico. Just to read about it sounds all right, but to really follow it is something you won't forget.

On the ole Mississippi, I had the last ride across from Natchez over to Vidalia on the old steamboat, Natchez. As we stayed at the Reddinton Hotel and he was a captain on this boat, that's how I was invited to ride in the captain's quarters. It was a funny feeling to see the beautiful new bridge and still know that the old ferry boat was out, but I had wonderful memories of the last ride on the Mississippi.

But at New Orleans you still can ride the ferry over to Algiers, or go up to the Huey P. Long bridge and cross, but most all tourist that are going on west, cross at New Orleans. That's why, as I read of these floods, I feel as though I were there after being at the beginning and have followed it right on through to the mouth, the Gulf of Mexico. Just a mighty big ole river that will go on and on over the period of years.

"Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick" At Reese

Premier Showing April 20-21-22 The management of the Reese Theatre, located at Harrington, certainly hit the bulls-eye with the announcement of the special premier presentation of the new Paramount hit, "Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick," on Sun., Mon. and Tue., April 20, 21 and 22. Paramount's homespun heart-spinning happiest musical features the ever popular Dinah Shore, Alan Young and Robert Merrill.

From the stage hit that more Americans have laughed at than any other, lower Delaware and Maryland theatre fans will have the time of their life. It's gay as a hayride in the moonlight, bright 'n dandy as peppermint candy.

Calling All Children To The Happy Hour

All children and their parents are invited regardless of church affiliation. Many surprises await the youngsters, stated Mrs. Melvin, who will teach them Bible lessons aided by Flannelgraph.

Century Club Hears Mrs. Whaley

A luncheon was served by the hospitality and program committee at Tuesday afternoon's meeting of the Harrington New Century Club. Mrs. A. C. Ford, president, welcomed the state officers present.

The program included a piano solo, "Manhattan Serenade" by Mrs. Robert VanCleaf, and also "Impressions of the Argentine" by Herbert Nichols, of Milford, sang a baritone solo, "The Horn." The Misses Imogene Welch and Pat Holloway sang, "Good Day." The Harrington High School Ensemble rendered, "People Will Say We're in Love" and "Home Road." Miss Eileen Harris sang "Look Me Over Once."

After the musical program, Mrs. Peter Whaley, president of the Delaware Federation of Women's Clubs, of Selbyville, addressed the luncheon members. She had attended a national club tea given in Washington in honor of Queen Juliana, and she spoke on this and on the General Federation of Women's Clubs and how they started.

The next meeting of the group will be Tues., April 29, with reports, election and installation of officers.

It's in the Tips

The bristles in nylon brushes must have long, fine tips. By holding the brush up to the light, fanning out the nylon and looking closely at the tips, you can observe these. The way a brush will pick up paint and release it is affected by the tips of the bristles. In other words, they govern the smoothness with which paint can be applied. Because of the wearing qualities of nylon, it is not necessary to obtain a long brush. A good 4-inch brush should not have more than 4 1/2" of bristles extending out of the ferrule.

Keep Eyes Open

There is such a thing as being "wide-awake," if it can be called that. That is, some human beings do sleep with their eyes open, but comparatively few people can do it unless they are extremely tired.

Related Family

Western red cedar, whose technical name is Thuja plicata, belongs to the same botanical family as the Cedars-of-Lebanon used for Solomon's Temple in biblical times.

Nickel From Canada

The largest Canadian producer has increased its production of refined nickel approximately five percent in the current year and the output of the second largest producer has also been increased. A new Canadian nickel producer will be in the field within the next two or three years.

Precious Optical Illusion

Palladium, one of the precious platinum metals, is the newest of the rare metals used in jewelry today. The majority of the engagement rings sold in 1950 contained diamonds weighing between one-sixth and one-third of a carat. Buyers of these diamonds frequently prefer to have them set in special settings that make the gems appear larger. It is important that these special settings be made of a white precious metal. Palladium is preferred because the diamond is held securely by this white metal of high strength.

Tones Change with Times

One of the most important selling factors for all lines of furniture these days is the finish. In the top-notch traditional lines, mahogany has an amber tone, especially in the crotch veneers. Satinwood colors have been seen in a few lines. Cherry has taken on a less red and more brown hue in the traditional styles and, in the very modern, has adapted a tawny hue.

Testing Project

Further facilities for the study of sea water corrosion are being added to the Harbor Island Station of the Kure Beach corrosion project, near Wilmington, North Carolina. Included in the new facilities will be a full-size salt water evaporator and distillation unit to study the effects of water treatment and design on corrosion and scaling of such units—especially as used on board ship.

Colonial Charm

A charming Early American dining room has walls painted a deep, dull blue, a beamed ceiling and random-width planks for the floor. The pine trestle-table is placed beneath a wide window which overlooks the garden. Pewter plates and tankards gleam on the shelves of a Welsh cupboard. Draperies are rusted in tone. The russet hue is repeated in the hand-hooked rugs on the floor.

Color Conveys Cleanliness

Fastidiousness and cleanliness in a store is often conveyed to the public by its color scheme. One baker does it by painting his establishment all white. Another pastry shop has a blue front and a large white area above the show window. A similar air has been given to a drug store by painting the front of the store, as well as the door and trim, in white. The firm's name is lettered in magenta.
