The Democratic State Committee, meeting Monday night at Dover, unanimously reelected Secretary of State Harris B. McDowell, Jr., as the party's state chairman, and fixed Tues. Aug. 26 as the date for the state convention.

In a highlight of the speeches delivered at the committee meeting, Gov. Elbert N. Carvel predicted that if the Democrats do a good job of campaigning this Fall they will elect their ticket with a majority twice as large as they had in 1948. In the case of the Governor, that would mean a majority of more than 20,000 votes.

The convention date selected by the Democrats fall six days after the Aug. 20 date chosen earlier by the Republicans.

Both parties will nominate their candidates for Governor, U. S. Representative, State Auditor and State Treasurer at the conventions.

In the resolution on that subject adopted by the state committee Monday night, the chairman of the committee was authorized to change the date if necessary.

Mrs. Belle Everett of Kenton, who is vice chairman of the Kent County Democratic Committee, was elected vice chairman of the state committee, filling a vacancy. The other two officers were re-elected. They are Mrs. John I. Cahalan, Wilmington, secretary; and Charles A. Neugebauer, Clayton, treasurer.

Governor Carvel told the meeting that the Democrats have tried not to serve the few but have "tried to serve the people." In the process, some mistakes have been made," but since we were able to recognize and correct them, we have been able to compile an outstanding record of progress," he declared.

Through teamwork of Democrats throughout the state, the party has demonstrated that Democrats can run the state and give the people the services they want, he said.

He warned the committee members not to sit back and rest on their laurels, but to "continue moving forward" and to "inform the people of Delaware of these accomplishments."

The Governor said the Republicans will complain about the size of the state debt. If the administration of Governor Bacon had undertaken some of the work pushed forward by the Democratic administration, vast sums of money could have been saved

BARKLEY'S NOT TOO OLD TO CUT THE MUSTARD

With the announcement that Vice-president Alben W. Barkley will run for president, if the Democrats want him, may come the opposition's cry, "He's too old." However, we do not believe "he's too old to cut the mustard."

We do not believe in holding back a man merely because of his age: If he can do the job, he should have it. The astute statesman, who has spent many years in Washington, should be a popular choice of the South and the North as a coalition candidate.

AUDIENCES SHOULD NOT BE CAPTIVE

Obviously, audiences should not be captive. The very word, "captive," substantiates our claim. The term, more or less, implies an audience that is forced to do something. For example, theatre audiences, which must see and hear the commercials before it sees the performance for which it paid its admission. Or the diner who hears the squawk-boxes while he awaits his dinner.

Or the streetcar rider who, by a recent decision of the United States Supreme Court, must HEAR, not necessarily listen to, a program coming from a radio controlled by the driver.

The streetcar rider case involved the Capital Transit Company of Washington, D. C. The transit firm, Justice Burton said, sought the broadcast "to improve its public relations." The company had signed up with a Washington radio station to broadcast music, COMMERCIALS, news, and weather reports. At present, at least 10 radio stations are engaged in transit radio operations in the nation.

Getting back to the Washington case, Justice Burton added; "In this case, that is a matter for decision between Capital Transit, the public and the Public Utilities Commission."

The Court voted 7 to 1 that no constitutional rights are violated. But Justice Douglas, in a sharp dissent, said he thinks the broadcasts to a captive audience are a violation of a man's privacy.

"The right to be let alone is indeed the beginning of all freedom," he said. Douglas said now it may be a commercial firm waiting to peddle its wares that uses the transit riders for an audience; tomorrow, he cautioned, it could be the government.

"Once a man is forced to submit to one type of radio program," Douglas said, "he can be forced to submit to another. It may be but a short step from a cultural program to a political program."

"If liberty is to flourish, government should never be allowed to force people to listen to any radio program."

With radio programs on streetcars and buses, trains may be next.

How well we utilized our time in transit in the "pre-blah-blah-blah" days of the street railways. We once sang in the Apollo Club in St. Louis and lived in East St. Louis, an hour's ride on a streetcar. We utilized these two hours by studying shorthand. Other passengers read books. High-school and university students, residing in cities, studied their lessons on the way to their classes. Did you ever notice how many persons were reading newspapers and magazines on trains, streetcars, and buses in the cities? Or playing bridge on the commuter trains?

The public, however, still has a ace up its sleeve: it can boycott merchandise advertised over such radios, and it probably will.

"LEARNING"

J. Harry Wright

Teachers are prophets of the past,
They have power to enrich the mind
In truth and goodness, that will last
Through all ages of mankind.
Jesus, of Nazareth, our Lord,
Is the greatest who ever taught!
We find recorded in His Word,
The highest for human thought.
Great books of man should be our friends,
Their winnowed wisdom of the world,
Guides modern thought, shows human trends,
And mankind's story's unfurled.
The Bible ought to have first place
In great literature of earth - -
True revelation of God's grace,
And what each person is worth.
Scholars have the obligation,
To envision a brighter day;
To work for world-renovation,
In a Christ-like sort of way.
Learning is not confined to school,
We may gain wisdom all through
We may gain wisdom all through life;
What's better than Christ's "Golden Rule"
To apply in storm and strife?
"Come, take my yoke, and learn of me,
My yoke's easy, my burden's light;
Find rest unto your soul," said He,
"And all your days shall be bright."

IF WISHES WERE TRUE.

By Samuel A. Short Jr.

If wishes were true what would you wish for,
Would you wish for wealth and richness of gold
Or dream of the future to be a shining star,
In Heaven where there is no sorrow we're told.
If wishes were true and you'd get them all,
What would you do with them could you say.
For each wish you made could you command,
With the laws of earth your welfare planned,
I don't think you could be as galling as that,
For this stressing of freedom to lie in your lap.
With fame and fortune to be your earthly aim,
If you lost your wish what would you gain.
Here's something I'll tell you that you can do
There's a link between your heavenly father and you.
So look to him and give your heart ease,
By wishing such wishes for him to please.

HERE in the driveway is a Buick. It has just arrived. It belongs to this proud young couple. They've just "arrived" too.

They've arrived at a discovery—the discovery that owning a Buick instead of a "low-priced car" isn't so much a matter of money.

It's a matter of knowing the facts of life. Buick prices are closer to the prices of smaller, less powerful, less distinguished cars than most people think.

Why don't you check into this? You'll find you could pay $300 to $400 more — and still not match the horsepower of this nimble beauty.

You could pay hundreds of dollars more—and still not get any more interior room, or richer fabrics.

But that's only part of the story.

The big thing about any car is the way it goes. So you ought to find out how this car rides the road—the freedom from bobble and sway that cost a million real dollars to develop.

You ought to sample the way Dynaflo Drive* feeds the power — with a steady swoop and unbroken smoothness in city traffic, on hills, or out on the open road.

And you ought to know how it feels to touch off that Fireball 8 Engine. With all its might, this high-compression valve-in-head gets a lot of miles from a gallon of gas.

We'll tell you this—because a lot of folks have told us this: No matter what car you're driving now—no matter what cars you've looked at—they'll never seem the same after you try this one.

Just give us a chance to prove it — and you'll have a lot of fun.

4-H'ers Give Dress Revue, Hold Talent Night

The 4-H boys and girls who attend the University of Delaware 4-H Short Course, June 15-18, will put on several "big productions." Girls will plan the staging and sequence in a dress revue class, then present the State 4-H Dress Revue, Tuesday night, June 17, in Mitchell Hall. Any 4-H girl enrolled in clothing can take part in the revue itself.

The Delaware 4-H Links will celebrate its 25th anniversary that same night by conducting the traditional candlelighting ceremony, and later an open house for Link members. The Links is also sponsoring the "Good Housekeeping Contest" again this year.

And once again, Harry "Chief Thundercloud," Smyrna, president of the state Links, will be master of ceremonies at the amateur contest. Prices will be awarded to the best three acts. Club members may do anything from singing to giving animal imitations.

County winners in the public speaking contest will compete for state honors at the morning assembly, Wed. June 18.

Monday night there will be a roller skating party for a get-acquainted session. Morning assembly programs include a humorous program by the Philadelphia Dairy Council and colored slides of the Maryland judging team's trip to Europe, as well as the public speaking contest.

Four-H members who want attend the short course must notify their club leaders or county 4-H Club agent by June 9.

Soybeans Do Have Insect Troubles

Have you heard people say soybeans aren't bothered by insects? Not so, says L. A. Stearns, head of the entomology department, University of Delaware. Soybeans actually have many insect pests.

Grasshoppers head the list. Stearns recommends spraying aldrin, chlordane, or toxaphene when hoppers are young. If you grow soys for hay or pasture, use a bait made by mixing chlordane or toxaphene with bran.

Two beetles, the Mexican bean beetle and the smaller bean leaf beetle, like soybeans. The beetles and the larva are controlled by spraying with cryolite or rotenone on the undersides of the leaves. Japanese beetles can be controlled with DDT. It may take several applications, 10 to 14 days apart, to eliminate this persistent pest.

Two leafhoppers feed on soybeans. Although hard to see, the potato leafhopper can be identified by their damage - yellowing and dying leaves. DDT, or methoxychlor sprays will kill them. The alfalfa leafhopper is not as severe a pest, but harder to kill. Only parathion will do the trick. Common caterpillar pests are corn earworm, green cloverworm, armyworms, variegated cutworm, and other climbing cutworms. Control them with chlordane, DDT, or toxaphene.

Stearns advises using insecticides only for specific pests causing severe damage. General preventive sprays are not recommended. He also cautions against using chlordane or DDT on beans for livestock feed. Residues might show up in milk or fat on meat.

Running Bull with Herd, Poor Dairying

Eighteen per cent of more than 100 farms visited in the Delaware Greener Pastures Program this spring had their herd sire running with the herd. A recent study of the University of Delaware indicates that the over all percentage is probably four times as great.

"This is too high a percentage in this day and age when artificial breeding is available to every dairyman in the state," points out Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman of the University.

"When we consider the danger to our families; the time lost, expense, and hardship of someone injured by a bull; not to mention the influence of a poor breeding program, too frequent calvings, and waste of vitality of the sire; there are no good reasons for following this practice any longer."

This year, in the Greener Pastures Program, points are going to be deducted for each bull running with the herd, said Young. "We hope to show farmers that by using artificial breeding or keeping bulls in safety pens, and following a good breeding program, they can actually make more money through planned milk production."

Jr. Chicken Contest Enrolls 148

Reports indicate that this year's Junior Chicken-of-Tomorrow Contest will set an all-time record. W. Lyle Mowlds, state supervisor of vocational agriculture, and Samuel Gwinn, state 4-H Club leader report that 148 boys and girls have already enrolled. Last year, 153 completed the project.

Delaware hatcheries are again co-operating by furnishing pullets clean chicks for the contestants.

At a recent meeting, the committee in charge of the contest decided to place more emphasis on record-keeping in this year's program. The winners will be chosen on the basis of their records and final entry of six birds. Members may keep 4-H or vocational agriculture records, or those supplied by the contest committee.

In keeping with the shorter growing period throughout the industry, the committee shortened the contest from 12 to 10 weeks. Chicks must be hatched July 7-9. Birds will be collected Sept. 17, tentatively. The probable date for the final awards program in Mon. Sept. 22. The deadline for entries is June 14.

Efficiency Pays Kent Dairymen

Merrill Jones, dairy farmer from near Mastens Corner, has a milk to grain ratio of six to one. According to county agent Tarbell, that means Jones is getting six pounds of milk for every pound of grain he feeds his cows.

"The wider your milk-grain ratio," says Tarbell, "the more profit your cows will return." Some Kent County dairy farmers are only getting two pounds of milk for every pound of grain they feed; while others are producing as much as seven pounds.

"Dairy farming is most efficient and profitable when the dairyman has good cows, and the farm provides an adequate feed supply based largely on grassland crops," says Tarbell. "Grassland crops, grown on well-managed soil, can be made to yield more feed nutrients per acre than most grain crops - and at less cost."

Thirty-one Kent County farmers are enrolled in the Greener Pastures Program this summer and at the time of the first visit the pastures were in good condition and many of the dairymen were finding less necessary to feed large amounts of grain. In fact, many said that their cows were not cleaning up the small amount of grain they were feeding.

Develop a breeding program, based on the use of good proved sires, that will assure high-producing cows for replacement purposes.

The dairy cow affords the farmer an opportunity to transform the nonedible crops he grows into valuable human food, from which he obtains the major part of his income. To convert such crops into milk and butterfat efficiently and for producing large quantities of milk and butterfat per unit of feed consumed. Such cows can be developed by following a sound breeding program.

Develop a breeding program based on sound principles of selection and mating.

Breed all cows so the best proved sire available.

If no proved sire is available, use a young bull originating from an ancestry of proved sires.

If desirable sires cannot be obtained for private use, join an artificial-breeding association.

Test cows for production continuously, preferably by joining the local dairy-herd-improvement association.

Use the production records to measure the transmitting ability of the bulls, to select females for breeding animals and herd replacements, and to cull unprofitable cows.

Breed for and develop cows that will be large for the breed and that will be large consumers of pasturage and other roughage.

Breed for and develop cows that will be adapted to the climate conditions of the region.

Breed for longevity, high production, efficient reproduction, and resistance to disease. Raise females from the best producing families for use as herd replacements.

THE CHRYSLER IMPERIAL 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

YOU'LL FIND IT EVEN BETTER THAN YOU'VE HEARD!..

It's been many years since a new car has caused as much talk as today's Chrysler Imperial has. What you may not realize is how long it's been since a car gave so many reasons for excited talk as this one.

May we invite you to drive and test the best and most worth-owning engine on the road today? (Chrysler's magnificent new 180 H.P. FirePower V-8.)

May we invite you to handle the easiest and safest steering wheel in existence at the moment? (Chrysler's full-time Power Steering.)

May we invite you to try out brakes which require as little as one-third the usual foot-pressure, and still stop you in many feet less than other cars do? (Chrysler Power Brakes.)

May we invite you to sit on the most comfortable seat cushions, and enjoy the fullest window vision you can find? May we invite you to ride on the rough-road miracle of the Oriflow shock absorbers which only Chrysler-built cars have?

May we invite you to drive a Chrysler Imperial... and learn how much you'd miss, and deeply regret, if you bought another car today without knowing this one first?

We... and Imperial by Chrysler... are at your service, any time.

Color Conveys Cleanliness

Fastidiousness and cleanliness in a store is often conveyed to the public by its color scheme. One baker does it by painting his establishment all white. Another pastry shop has a blue front and a large white area above the show window. A similar air has been given to a drug store by painting the front of the store, as well as the door and trim, in white. The firm's name is lettered in magenta.

It's in the Tips
 The bristles in nylon brushes must have long, fine tips. By holding the brush up to the light, fanning out the nylon and looking closely at the tips, you can observe these. The way a brush will pick up paint and release it is affected by the tips of the bristles. In other words, they govern the smoothness with which paint can be applied. Because of the wearing qualities of nylon, it is not necessary to obtain a long brush. A good 4-inch brush should not have more than 4 1/2" of bristle extending out of the ferrule.

Potatoes Soon To Be Plentiful

The potato situation boils down to two related factors which are easily explained, says W. T. McAllister, agriculture economist of the Delaware agricultural extension service.

"Varied, and often confusing explanations have been given for the potato famine. There has been name calling, finger pointing, black markets, and profiteering on the lowly potato," he says.

The two factors most important are: First, the late 1951 crop was short in some areas, and in some cases of poor storage quality. Therefore, it did not last into the spring as usual.

Second, the early spring crop was two to four weeks later than usual in most areas. So, instead of the usual overlapping of late and early crops during May, there was a gap.

Looking ahead and counting on good weather, the crisis seems to be past, says McAllister, and market supplies should become more plentiful. The California crop is now relieving the shortage in the West. This supply should reach our Eastern markets in less than a week. The crop in the Carolinas and Florida is later than usual, but Virginia's crop is on time. These areas will supply our local markets by mid-June.

For May and June, 35 to 40 million bushels of new potatoes will be available. This is still six to 10 bushels below the normal monthly consumption rate of about 23 million bushels. Even so, there will be no serious lack of potatoes in the near future as there was in the immediate past, reports McAllister.

M. Meredith Frasher, employed at Aberdeen, Md., was with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Frasher, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Semans and family were Harrington visitors Wednesday evening.

Mrs. William J. Cabbage and two children were Willow Grove visitors Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Sylvia E. Reynolds and daughter, Marsha, near White Crystal Manor, Md., were local visitors Thursday afternoon.

Last week I neglected to report that Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Smith, who spent the winter in Wilmington, had returned to their home near the village; their cheery lights are most welcome.

Miss Charlotte Semans spent Friday in Washington, D. C., visiting Arlington during the trip. She reports a most interesting time despite the weather.

Two more of our young folks were married Saturday evening. Miss Betty Bailey became the wife of William Davis and we wish the young folks the very best in life.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gibson spent Friday and Saturday with relatives near Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Slaughter and son, of Norristown, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Arlington Slaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dean, of Harrington, spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gooden and family.

Roving Eyes
 A "roving eye" doesn't actually move out of position unless, that is, you're a flounder. A fully grown flounder has two eyes on one side of his head and none on the other. When he was a baby, he had an eye on each side, like any normal fish, but he took to lying on one side in the sand until one eye slowly traveled around the back of his head and took up a permanent place next to its brother eye.

Tones Change with Times
 One of the most important selling factors for all lines of furniture these days is the finish. In the top-notch traditional lines, mahogany has an amber tone, especially in the crotch veneers. Satinwood colors have been seen in a few lines. Cherry has taken on a less red and more brown hue in the traditional styles and, in the very modern, has adapted a tawny hue.

Sunday's Schedule.
 Farmington at Felton
 Frederica at Wyoming
 Hickman at Harrington
 Ellendale at Viola
 Rain continued to mar Mar-Del League play over the past weekend with three games being called off. Felton and Ellendale started at a late hour due to High School Baccalaureate services at Felton High and were able to finish their game. The games that were postponed on May 25th will be played as holiday tilts on July 4th while the three games postponed on Sunday will be rescheduled for Sunday, August 24th.

Felton broke into the win column in the lone game on Sunday as Manager Johnny Bunnell tossed a one hitter to lead his team to a 6 to 0 victory over the Ellendale tossers. Johnny McComb spoiled the Felton pilot's bid for an no hitter with one away in the 7th as he duked away from a pitch and pushed a short drive over the infield for the lone safety. Bunnell's faulty control had him in trouble several times. In the opening inning with one away he loaded the sacks with free passes but came out unscathed aided by stellar fielding on the part of his teammates. The Felton hurler gave up 6 passes and had two wild pitches during the afternoon. Bobby Niebert went the route for Ellendale and pitched good ball except for the 2nd and 8th innings when he was touched for 3 runs in each. Jerry Neeman put his team out in front in the 2nd inning as he led off with a round-tripper. Harry Sipple also rapped out two one base raps for the victors. Felton turned in three snappy double plays with shortstop Neeman starting two which halted Ellendale scoring threats. Ellingsworth to McCullough to Baynum featured a twin killing by the visitors.

Three new-comers broke in the Ellendale line-up for the first time in Roy McCullough, hard-hitting infielder, Wilson Jones and Jack Baynum, two regular Milford High tossers during the past season.
 This Sunday afternoon Wyoming will try for the second time to open their home season while Ellendale and Hickman will have to put theirs off for another week as they take the road on Sunday. Wyoming will be host to an arch Kent County foe on Sunday as host to Frederica. Manager Freddie Clemence has had several newcomers to his Wyoming array and some may see action on Sunday. Al Laramore, hefty Rider firstbaseman, Lloyd Killen, Earl Quillen and Harold Hopkins. Latter two played with the Club last year. Frederica will remain intact except for the addition of Dover High's clever fielding shortstop, George Manlove, who also has had a much better year at the plate. Last season he was with Clayton. Joe Moelter will go after his second win for Wyoming while Roy Kemp, Frederica hurler, will be doing like wise for the visitors.

Farmington will be the opposition at Felton on Sunday as both teams hope to keep rolling. Felton will use either Harold Rothermel or Manager Johnny Bunnell on the mound while the visitors will put their hopes in Paul Dean, who tripped Hickman in the opener. Farmington added Emerson Langford and Jim Palmer during the past few days.
 Hickman invades Harrington looking for their first win. Manager Jake Cannon has released Paul Wright and Keller Hoch and taken on Calvin Lane and Dick Komoroski has been a steady performer for Greenwood High during the recent campaign. Ken Walls, also a recent acquisition, will do the Hickman hurling while Charley Riley or Jim Cabbage will toil for the host nine. Harold Melvin and Marvin Brown have hooked on at Harrington in the past few days.

Ellendale will be the attraction at Viola as both teams seek their first win. Addition of Roy McCullough and Virgil Emory to the Ellendale line-up is expected to greatly strengthen their chances while several former High School stars, Ronnie Carey, Milton, Jack Baynum, Wilson Jones, and Terry Fleming, all of Milford High, is expected to add new life. Viola is standing pat on their opening day line-up although new strength may be added during the week. Bob Niebert, Art Betts or Virgil Emory loom as Ellendale mound nominees while Freddie Sipple or Bill Millman will toe the slab for Viola.

Rosecroft Sulky Slants

by Mabel Walters
 When we moved in here Sunday it was just like a homecoming seeing all the people from Harrington. Emil Adams is here with E. A. Koons stable and won two races in the past week.

Ruth and Judy Davis spent Tuesday afternoon with me. I am telling you she sure is some girl now and still pretty as a picture. Olin won with May Cardinal, a 3 year old in 2:11 1/5. Ethel Lady was third in 2:06 3/5. He started Bertie York in two $5,000 stakes and finished third both times.

Earl Wagner, who owns HiLo Forbes, was operated on for a bad appendix last Thursday, but he is coming along fine now.

Pat drove HiLo Forbes to victory in 2:08. Bluejacket, owned by William Loper, won two trophy races winning a silver plate each time Bluejacket won the first race in 2:11 and the second in 2:09 3/5.

Sorry to hear Louis Floyd is on the casualty list when they had a spill at the leaving. He has a fractured elbow. Pat Hubbard is driving his horses for him and doing very well with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Levinson that were with us in Harrington this winter, are visiting here while the Rosecroft meet is on. Speedy says from here they will go to Maine, but they will be back with us again next winter at Harrington.

Jack Walters and Curly Smart reined the winners of the two division Chatter Box Special. Walters put on one of his typical finishes. Jack roused Sing Song

Coale Bay outsmarted the field in the eighth race Wednesday night by winning in a length margin in 2:09 3/5, and new record for his owner and driver, "Tick" Wilcutts.

The Sheppard Memorial Trot was won by American Lou, a stable entry of the Stokley Stable in 2:09 4/5.

The $10,000 Henry Volo Pace was won by Good Time. Dudy Hanover second very close up. Spruce Up was third. The race went in 2:04 3/5.

High honors should go to the Harrington training center as an ideal spot for training and conditioning horses. The majority of the winners this week were trained and prepared at Harrington Raceway.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

What a day we had last Friday including Saturday and Sunday. I know many of you were disappointed and disgusted but folks remember we do not have an umbrella to cover the skies. Many of you had planned a fishing trip or a hike in the mountains or a dip in the ocean or many other things. You had planned and making it worse many had their city slickers down to visit them.

Then the worry began-how to entertain them. To some it was as easy as rolling off a log because they had a Television and the entertainment was done by someone else and the very best at that. Now to you that don't own a Television just stop and think of the many ways and many trips it will save which means money, and money today is like an eel very slippery and hard to hold.

Get a thrill from the Democratic and Republican conventions by seeing the happenings as well as the saying which will soon be on the air.

Philco which is one of the Televisions I sell will be there all the way and will bring to you the conventions at their best.

Television is good now just as it is in cool weather in fact sometimes better. No static like the ordinary radio.

We have in stock at this time around two dozen different models and in the original boxes. Come in don't take something that somebody talks you into but see and select your own.

We can arrange terms to suit you whether you work have a small income or your pockets a bursting with the old green backs.

Money talks but never yells out even if you try to squeeze it. June is really a wonderful month with its many flowers, fields starting to get green wheat ripening and trees in their best foliage. The only one who does not like June is the woman who is above 50 and her birthday falls in this month.

June is Refrigerator month which means you had better look out or some time shortly that old stand by will have passed away and then you cannot trade it in only bury it.

See me now as we have what is considered today the prettiest and best refrigerator on the market. When I say refrigerators I mean Freezers as well they are even in color. See the Westinghouse twin freezer looks just like a refrigerator but a full freezer from top to bottom and from bottom to top all space well below freezing. Now is just the time to get one, when you need it and remember you can now put things in it from your garden. Save mighty nice to have these extra dishes which costs practically nothing now, but when old man winter hits, he hits your pocket-book as well.

I have been telling you about the new gas range something that is entirely new and in a few days you will receive by mail a circular explaining this range and why it is different. In fact it is as I said before the only new thing that has been put in gas ranges for many years.

It is only sold by dealers who display the Essotane sign and they are mighty proud to be the sole dealers who can supply it. Of course you will want to exchange your old range that can easily be arranged.

When you are buying a washer I think it is a good idea to see several models at one time and have each explained as some suits one person while some suits others.

We have about 8 different models on hand to select from and both wringer types and automatics. Come in see how easy one can be bought and let washing be one of your troubles put away and forgotten.

I do not want to close without saying that we have sold more wall paper this spring than ever and don't think our bins are empty as I just put in a rush order. What has been sold will be replaced immediately.

You people in Bridgeville who bought your paper from E. J. Elliotts store can now get your duplicates here as we purchased their entire stock.
