Gets 40-Year Pin

Howard Williams

At the Harrington district safety meeting last week, Station Agent Howard D. Williams and Engineman William H. Davis were presented 40 year service buttons by Superintendent Linfeller who congratulated both men on their good records and safety performance.

Davis' photograph was not available and will appear in a later issue of this column.

Howard's service record shows he was born Jan. 19, 1894, at Showell, Md., where he learned to telegraph and started as an operator April 24, 1912, was made a clerk-operator at Millsboro, June 19, 1913, and worked practically all stations and interlockings on the Delaware Road until April 8, 1919 when he was assigned the hottest spot on the division at Wilmington. He was promoted to agent at Bishop, Md., Oct. 1, 1920, to Delmar, Md., Oct. 1, 1920, to Harrington Mar. 1, 1938.

Upon receipt of the silver button with name and length of service engraved, Howard told the superintendent he has never had an accident or drawn relief, and that his present good health might well be attributed to steady, interesting work and the fact that the company and his superiors had always shown appreciation of his efforts.

Landlords, Tenants Invited to See Rent Control Offices

The Office of Rent Stabilization, according to Ralph Lord, associate area rent director of the Dover defense rental area, has a rent station at Milford, in the Council Chambers, City Hall, which is staffed on Thursday 5 of each week from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. The rent office in Dover, however, is open from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday. Mr. Lord stated that, in his opinion, landlords have not been filing registration statements with the rent office as is required by law. He pointed out that those landlords who fail to comply with the law may find themselves in serious difficulty. If there is any question as to what his responsibilities may be, a visit to the rent office in Dover or to the rent station in Milford would be beneficial to the landlord.

Any tenant who desires any information with reference to this program regarding his rental unit or has any complaint to make with reference to his rental unit, may obtain the information from the rent office in Dover or the rent station in Milford.

Under the federal rent regulations no tenant who complains or proposes to complain to the rent office may be evicted because of his complaint. The personnel assigned to the rent station will cooperate with any person visiting the office.

Cyclone and Hailstorm Cause Widespread Damage

Hailstorm Visits Same Area-Tuesday Afternoon And Does Much Damage

Most Damage Done On Farms of Melvin Algier—Small Grain Crops Battered to the Ground

A freak storm staged a repeat performance in the Adamsville section early Tuesday afternoon, after a twister inflicted considerable damage there the previous afternoon. Monday afternoon the storm also did widespread damage at Smyrna, Blackbird, Lewes, Rehoboth, Ellendale, and Georgetown.

In the Adamsville section, and also in near-by localities, hail fell which, various farmers described as ranging in size from a hen egg to a teacup. The damage was about as follows:

Most corn was scarcely high enough to be materially damaged. Small grains were battered to the ground, which should make it difficult to combine. Tomatoes were snapped in two; cucumbers were harmed. Asphalt roofs were punctured, but metal roofs withstood the hail. Windows were broken and screens were torn. Some automobiles were dented and, in one case, the top of a convertible was punctured by the hail.

The hail visited the dwelling of John A. Williams, of Adamsville, making about 100 holes in the roof. Mr. Williams said the stones were about the size of eggs. He added, however, that no damage was done to his poultry or crops. A twister had visited the Williams home the previous afternoon and had destroyed most of his broiler houses and numerous birds.

Across Marshy Hope Creek from the Williams home, the hail did considerable damage. Mrs. Melvin Algier said she had stones in her freezer as large as teacups. She said the storm tore up two broiler houses, one of which was new and had never been used and that a new roof on the barn had been damaged. Screens were torn from the windows and slight damage was done to the roof of the house. Wheat and rye were battered to the ground, Mrs. Algier continued, and might not be salvaged. Some corn may have to be replanted.

In the same neighborhood, Norma Shirley Messick, daughter of Dave Messick, said "about all crops around here were ruined and that the hailstones were larger than hen eggs. Tomatoes were broken off, wheat lodged, and the garden was damaged," Miss Messick said. She added that three windows of the residence were broken. Built-up roofs on the Messick broiler houses were ruined, she continued, but the metal ones held up.

Miss Messick said the cucumber crop of Irvin O'Day had been damaged to such an extent that it might have to be plowed under.

Albert Anderson, living in the same community said built-up roofs on his broiler houses were damaged. During the storm a Denton couple parked their convertible near the Anderson garage (already occupied) and ran into the building to escape the storm. Previously, the hailstones, larger than lemons, had gone through the top of the car and battered the heads of the occupants.

A. Toppin Received D. A. R. Award

Miss Anne Toppin, of this year's graduating class, received a metal award from the Daughters of the American Revolution at Commencement.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pizzadili, sister, Giannina, and Mrs. Philomena Dettori attended the graduation week exercises.

A cyclone, with driving rain, cut a swath through part of Caroline County, Md., and headed a corner of Sussex County into Kent County late Monday afternoon, doing extensive damage, particularly in the Adamsville section.

Poultry houses were demolished and trees uprooted or snapped in two as the storm exerted its main force on the farms of Emory Williamson, John A. Williams, and Joe Dennis.

Hardest hit of all was the property of Mr. Williams where, Mrs. Williams estimated, more than $10,000 damage was inflicted, with the loss confined mainly to buildings. Two broiler houses, and part of a third, were demolished, with the debris being blown over several acres. The buildings were insured for fire but not for wind. The broilers therein were insured.

Mr. Williams estimated that more than 1000 birds were destroyed, but the number, as of Tuesday, was not complete as it was believed some casualties remained under fallen roofs.

Some 8000 birds had been marketed Monday morning, with 11,500 remaining birds scheduled to be moved Tuesday morning. After the storm, which took place at 3:20 p. m., the buyers rounded up an additional 8000.

At the Williamson farm nearby, 700 broilers were lost through smothering or crushing as the twister moved some of the broiler houses from their foundations.

At the Dennis farm, just north of the Williams farm, the twister blew down a chicken house with loss of 53 laying hens and 503 pullets, at last count, according to Mr. Dennis. He added that both birds and property were insured against fire and wind damage. Some 4000 broilers, in another house, were unharmed.

Across the road from the Dennis home, the broiler houses of Donald Comstock suffered extensive damage, though loss of birds was negligible. Roofing, in places was torn, water pipes broken, walls blown out of place, and buildings shifted out of line. A garage was blown down. The poultry houses, Mr. Dennis said, were insured.

At the farm of Charles Cannon, about a mile from the center of the twister, 137 chickens, exposed to the winds and rain, were smothered.

Across Marshy Hope Creek, an empty chicken house on the farm of Mrs. Georgia Warren was blown down, with one on the near-by farm of L. B. Huey also being demolished.

The storm, which came up from the southwest, also uprooted trees at Smithville, Md., in Caroline County. On leaving the Williams home, it headed northeast and snapped a huge maple in two at the rear of Todd's Church.

Floods Recall GOP Votes To Cut River Control Plans

The devastating spring floods in the Missouri Valley and on the upper Mississippi River put a national spotlight on the continued opposition of Republican members of Congress to adequate flood control programs.

Ever since the national Democratic administration and Democratic Senators and congressmen began developing real flood control programs in the 1930's, many leading Republicans have fought the plans to tame such rivers as the Missouri and the Mississippi.

The Republican opposition to a real flood control program reached its height during the GOP-controlled 80th Congress in 1947 and 1948.

80th Congress Cuts

In the House the fight against flood control has been led by John Tager (R., N. Y.), ranking Republican member of the House Appropriations Committee and chairman of the committee during the 80th Congress.

The fight to cut flood control has been spearheaded in the Senate by Republican Senators Styles Bridges (N. H.) and Homer Ferguson (Mich.)

On April 25, 1947, the House voted to cut funds in an Interior Department appropriations bill for flood control projects in the Missouri River basin and throughout the West. Funds for the Missouri river area were slashed from 23 million dollars to less than 10 million dollars.

Republican congressmen voted 186-9 for these drastic reductions while Democrats voted 130-11 against the cuts.

This vote is typical of many taken by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress to reduce the flood control program.

More GOP Cuts

Although there have been two billion-dollar floods since 1948, one on the Kaw and Missouri rivers last summer and the other on the Missouri and Mississippi this spring, Republican opposition to flood control programs continues.

On July 7, 1950, the Senate voted on an amendment to cut appropriations for flood control in half. Twenty-one Republicans supported the cut and only 12 opposed it. On the other hand, 35 Democrats voted against the cut while only seven supported it.

Just last April, only a few days before the flood waters ravaged farm lands and swirled through cities in the Midwest, Congressman Taber tried unsuccessfully to get the House to cut flood control appropriations by 5 million dollars.

While Republicans have tried to cut back flood control work at every opportunity, President Truman has urged again and again more flood control projects, valley-wide agencies like the Tennessee Valley Authority and Government-backed insurance against the disaster of floods.

Right now the Missouri Basin Survey Commission is holding hearings and studying the whole problem of flood control in the Missouri Valley.

"HIKING BY THE SEA."

J. Harry Wright.
I love to wander along by the sea,
It lures me more and more,
To smell the tang of the briny deep,
And hear the breakers roar.

I love to see the gleam of the sun
On the rising waves of blue,
The crimson and purple of sky above,
And some fleecy white clouds, too.

I love to watch the sand-pipers
gay,
Tripping along on the beach,
Finding something to eat in the sand,
Just out of the swift wave's reach.

I love to behold the fish-hawk gray,
From high o'er the ocean's breast,
Swoop down on the sea, to catch his prey,
Then bear it away to his nest.

I love to wander along by the sea,
The call to my heart is clear;
And all I ask is some time to dream,
And a faith that conquers fear.

In Memory
By Samuel A. Short Jr.
When we lay our burdens down,
Over the country side and town,
With fond remembrance of days gone by,
Will be a Memorial never to die.

While we mingled our earthly joys with boyhood thrills,
Over grassy valleys and templed hills,
With faith and trust we bravely bow,
With this Memorial our Heavenly vow.

A memory of love that was always ours,
We treasured more precious than faded flowers,
While dreams and visions we like to keep,

With this Memorial of night's sleep
We've kept our places as time passed by,
With valiant hearts and humble cry,
For freedom of God we like to say,
A living Memorial we live today.

Sunday's Schedule:
 Harrington at Farmington
 Felton at Frederica
 Viola at Hickman
 Wyoming at Ellendale

Back in action again after two weeks of postponements because of rain the Mar-Del League race tightened during the past week with Wyoming and Harrington still running deadlocked for first place as Frederica and Farmington dropped from the unbeaten ranks. Felton made it two in a row after an opening day set back and moved into 3rd place.

Keen competition is offered in this week's card as Harrington invades Farmington seeking their third straight win while the co-leading Wyoming nine travels to Ellendale as the latter nine gets a belated start in their home opener. Neighborhood rivalry will be at its peak as Felton makes their first visit to Frederica while Viola will be at Hickman as the latter nine makes their first start of the season before local fandom.

With the closing of the high school season most of the teams have added new strength with many of the standout high school stars during the recent campaign now lined up on the various teams. George Manlove, Dover High infielder, and Buddy Kimmel, Milford ace righthander made their debut with Frederica last Sunday, while Farmington has inked Richard Sapp to a contract. Tommy Wells, Milford High hurler, made a start with Ellendale while Jack Baynum and Wilson Jones, two teammates, have appeared in the line-up previously. Dick Komoroski, Greenwood High receiver, broke in with Hickman last Sunday, while Calvin Lane, North Carolina Uni. infielder, is expected to be ready this week. Viola had Nicky Rodriguez and Alvin Thomas, two Caesar Rodney tossers, in their line-up as they broke in the win column. Felton has acquired Herb Semans and Norm Wagner, while Lou Hobbs, a former Harrington High moundsman, made a great debut in winning his first start. Marv Brown and Harold Melvin also broke in the line-up for the first time while Wyoming has added Donnie Olliver, Dover High righthander, Slat Laramore, Bobby Bell, Harold Hopkins, Lloyd Killen, Earl Quillen.

The hitting of Johnny Williams, ex Wesley College tosser, was a big factor in the Wyoming 8 to 7 victory over Frederica on Sunday as the latter nine through a real scare into the co-leaders as they rallied strongly in the 9th. Williams hit for the cycle with a single, double, triple and home-run in four trips and the circuit smash with Bennett aboard in the 7th proved the margin of victory. Ted Michael also hit hard with 4 for 5 while Bennett had 3 for 5. Frederica put over two runs in the 9th as Del Brown double with two on. They loaded the bases with two away and then big Joe Moelter tightened and fanned Harry Fisher for the final out. Al Gottorf and Del Brown with a double and two singles each led the Frederica nine at the plate. Roy Kemp started on the mound for the losers and worked the first five innings with Buddy Kimmel coming in to make his start by going the last three. Lefthander Aub Berry opened for Wyoming but went out in favor of Moelter in the 6th although he was credited with the win.

Harrington hit heavy in the 7th and 8th to chase across 7 runs to move out in front by a 10-1 margin to tap Hickman behind the stellar two hit pitching of Lou Hobbs, who fanned 15. Johnny Cannon, Hickman outfielder opened the game with a single to score the lone Hickman tally. From then until the finish Hobbs was in complete command. Willard Thomson, Hickman southpaw, pitched good ball until he weakened in the 7th and needed help from Thurman Haymond. Billy Morris with a double and two singles, Sam Matthews with three singles, Marv Brown and Lou Hobbs with 2 each led Harrington's attack while the two Hickman bingles were collected by Johnny Cannon and Carl Morris.

Viola got to Ellendale's Tommy Wells early to pile up a 5 to 0 lead in the first three innings and went on to win 6 to 3. Wells hurled good ball after the 3rd but Bobby Niebert came in to toss the final inning. Bill Millman went all the way for Viola to registered his first win against an opening day loss. He allowed 4 hits, two by Roy McCullough, and fanned Nicky Rodriguez with a double paced the Viola batting efforts as they broke in the win column for the first time. Ellendale threatened several times and a timely hit would have made a difference as they had 10 men left. Two long running catches by Buck Semans helped the Viola cause while McCullough played a steady game at third for Ellendale.

Felton made it two in a row as they toppled Farmington 11 to 5 and moved into 3rd place. Six runs in the 5th put the game on ice and proved the margin of victory. Harold Rothermel hurled the distance for his first win as he let the visitors down with 8 hits and whiffed 9. Ray Dennis opened for Farmington but gave way to Paul Dean in the 5th as the Felton attack began was the big gun for Felton with a double and two singles as well as playing a stellar game at 2nd by handling 9 out of 10 chances. Manager Bunnell also rapped out a double while Rothermel and Johnny Godwin hit safely twice. Tom Messick and Bill Bowman rapped out two singles for Farmington with Bobby Messick rapping a double. Except for the six run outburst in the 5th it was a nip and tuck contest all the way.

Rosecroft Sulky Slants

By Mabel Walters

They really had a big week at Rosecroft Raceway, with another mark for the horsemen to shoot at. The mark is 2:04.3, for the mile, a record that will probably stand for quite some time.

It was made by Good Time, owned by William Cane, of Goshen, N. Y., and driven by Frank Ervin. Good Time put on a last-half drive to beat Dudley Hanover, driven by Del Miller, a length in front, with Spruce Up, driven by Joe Hylan, showing. Prince Walter, a game 14-year-old pacer, owned by T. B. Glovers Farms, Roanoke Rapids, N. C., died June 2 and was buried in the infield of the Chockayette Park Raceway at Roanoke Rapids at the side of Dynamite and another Glovers horse.

Marjorie Mac, 9-year-old mare, owned by W. E. Miller broke a bone in her right foot while warming up Monday night a week ago.

If you bet hunches and have followed them thru last week, you have made out fine. On Army Day, Army (owned and driven by Al Simons) won, and on Memorial Day, Memorial won. On Ladies Night, Lady D won. Charlie Carter, another Harrington trainer-driver, had two victories the past week. Pepper's Express won in 2:10 and Princess Gary, in 2:12. Both are owned by Pepper Brothers, Selbyville.

Bill Fleming, popular trainer-driver, of Pinehurst, N. C., barely escaped death Tuesday night, a week ago, in a two-horse spill in the third race. Bill, a hospital casualty, is suffering from multiple cuts and bruises. Ed Kelly, the other victim in the race, was thrown heavily to the track but unhurt. He came back in the fourth to drive Mighty Tony.

Monday night, June 2, the Rosecroft Cup was won by Risen Sun in 2:03, with F. Hannis on the driver's seat. The following night, the two-division Arlington Pace was shared by W. Wathen, who drove Direct Mite in 2:08.1.

in the first heat, with Jack Walters piloting Chestertown Boy to victory in the second in 2:06.3, a record for this horse.

Hi-Lo's Forbes, owned by Earl Wagner, and driven by Pat Hubbard, came from the rear to win easily over Dublin and Dagsworthy York in 2:07.

Golden Fingo, owned by Truman Campbell and driven by Tom Walters, won in 2:17 in the mud. Lord Clinton, owned by Raymond Hall and driven by Walters, also went to the top and stayed there the whole mile to win by two lengths in 2:06.3, to garner the Jack Blank Trophy.

True Kitty, another favorite pacer in the Maryland circuit, won the feature race in 2:05, with Waybill second and My Horse third, for the second fastest time on the Rosecroft track. By the time this goes to press, we will all be at Laurel, another favorite spot on the circuit.

Farm Front News

Hard Water, Soft Water Equally Good For Cows

There is no advantage in providing soft water for milking dairy cows, contrary to some recent publicity to that effect, says John Crothers, ass't county agent.

Crothers quotes the results of a recent 112-day test at the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station that says "no." Twelve lactating cows were grouped according to age, size, milk production, and stage of lactation. The two groups were fed alike, and each cow received alfalfa hay, corn silage and grain. They were housed under the same conditions. The only difference was the kind of water made available.

The cows on hard water produced 33 pounds of milk and drank 97.1 pounds of water daily. The cows on soft water produced 33.2 pounds of milk daily, and drank exactly the same amount of water. There was no significant difference in the rate of weight gain either, says Crothers.

The hard water was ordinary well water. The soft water was softened by the zeolite process which removed calcium and magnesium, and added sodium. Crothers quotes the researchers as saying that this shows conclusively that there is no need, nor no advantage, in softening water for your cows.

Which Fertilizer Source Best For Canning Crops?

It evidently makes no difference to canning crops whether their food comes from organic or inorganic fertilizers says Bill Tarbell, Kent County agent.

Of course, your organic material is still mighty important for best soil condition, and it's hard to get along without it, says Tarbell, but in recent studies at Cornell they tested organic, inorganic, and a combination of organic and inorganic fertilizers.

In the six-year experiment, they found that significant yield increases resulted with more fertilizer, but the source of the fertilizer had no bearing on the size of yields. Inorganic nitrogen gave as good, or better, results than the same amount from the more expensive organic sources. And double superphosphate, often called triple phosphate, gave as good yields at less transportation cost as 20 per cent superphosphate.

Efficient Dairy Farming

Develop methods and practices for producing high-quality milk and cream at all times throughout the year.

Milk is a perishable product. To bring the greatest returns, it must reach the factory in a clean, sweet, wholesome condition and be free of objectionable odors and flavors. A satisfactory income from dairying depends to a large extent on the dairyman's ability to produce and market high-quality milk or cream regularly throughout the year.

THINGS TO DO

See that all cows are free from disease - - have them examined and tested periodically by a competent veterinarian.

Produce milk under clean, sanitary conditions preferably in a separate milking barn.

Have the cows clean at milking time; keep long hairs clipped off the belly, flanks, and udder; wash and wipe udder before milking.

Use a strip-cup daily to check milk for abnormal appearance. Milk with clean, dry hands into clean small-top pails or use sanitized milking machines.

Cool the milk immediately to a temperature of 50 degree F. or below and keep it cold and covered until marketed.

Provide plenty of water for washing and cleaning all dairy utensils and other equipment, including barn floors and gutters.

Use effective methods, such as steam or chemical solutions, in treating all utensils to kill bacteria. Always feed strong-odored feeds, such as silage, after milking and after the milk has been taken from the barn.

Keep pastures free of weeds that are poisonous or that cause objectionable flavors in milk, or keep cows off such pastures.

House the cows in well-ventilated barns; remove manure promptly, and use plenty of bedding at all times. In spraying cows and barns with insecticides, especially with the newer insecticides, follow recommendations of your state college.

FARM NEWS - REVIEW - FORECAST

Rains Playing Havoc With Work on Farms

Unusually heavy rains during May and, to some extent, in June, are putting the farmer "behind the eight-ball."

Many fields have been too wet to plant and much corn has still to be put in the ground. On the other hand, the grain has been drowned out in many low places and prospects for replanting are poor.

In many cases, lima beans are being replanted. Since they can be, and oftentimes are, planted in rotation to harvest at the convenience of the processor, it appears the harvesting schedule may be upset.

Much hay has been cut, here and in Maryland, but frequent showers are keeping farmers on tenterhooks. Crops, however, look very good.

The wet weather, however, is giving grass and weeds a head start. This situation, along with the problem of planting, is forcing farmers to work from dawn to dusk seven days a week getting their work done between showers. This past Sunday numerous and farmers and their tractors were observed at work near Hartly.

Army Worm, Late Blight Season Now On in Del.

Delaware farmers are on the look-out for a plant disease and a plant pest in their fields. It is the season for late blight of potatoes and tomatoes and the weather is highly favorable. It is also the time of the year when the army worm usually makes its appearance in the state.

The first field appearance of late blight, north of Georgia, was reported last week by John W. Heuberger, head of the University of Delaware plant pathology department. It was found in a field near Magnolia. There was only one area affected, but it was apparently the first infection.

Heuberger says that all potato growers should see that their fields are sprayed or dusted with a fungicide. This ought to be done every seven to 10 days. Heuberger also recommends that tomato growers check their fields closely for late blight, and to use a fungicide immediately if the disease is found.

No army worms were reported up to the end of last week, but army worms usually make their appearance early in June. In Kent County, they seem to appear between June 4 and 8.

More information on both army worms and late blight disease and their control measures can be had from county agricultural agents.

4-H Short Course At State College A Success

About 100 4-H boys and girls from Kent and Sussex counties are attending the Negro 4-H Short Course at State College, Dover, today and tomorrow (June 12-13).

"Much of the program for the two days is directed by local leaders and 4-H members," said Mrs. Camille S. Jacobs, home and youth agent of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Mrs. Jacobs gave credit to Mrs. Viola Piper, leader of the Milton 4-H Club, and her song leaders for the music and group singing. Vesper services were planned by Esther Young, Milton, and Charlotte Ingram, Ellendale. Joan Clark, Milton, and Robert Kilby, Blossom, were in charge of the flag raising ceremony.

Samuel Gwinn, state 4-H Club leader, was in charge of the traditional Council circle, and had the help of two 4-H boys-Richard Banks and Franklin Baynard, of Reeve's Crossing.

Members of the Extension staff taught classes in good grooming, clothing, gardening, yard improvement, home improvement, foods, and folk dancing. W. S. Tabor of the State Forestry Department taught a class in farm forestry.

Simple Solution To Onion Flavor in Milk

A simple solution to trouble with onion flavor in milk could be good supplemental spring grazing.

Delmar J. Young, dairyman of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service bases this on observations from the spring judging of greener pastures program entrants.

Dairyman who started grazing on small grains by March 15 to April, and had a well-fertilized permanent pasture to follow up on, did not have milk returned because of onion or grassy flavor. Dairyman who had the most trouble lacked or were short on pasture, with no cereal grains for grazing. Some handled milk improperly before shipping.

BEEF CATTLE

Arrived this week over 250 head of choice beef cattle, either Angus or Hereford steers or heifers weighing from 300 to 700 lbs. Just right to turn on pasture now and make money on. I have sold over 2,000 of these kind of cattle to over 180 customers this year and there must be a reason and I believe one good reason is that I have the right cattle at the right price.

I have sold over 6,000 of these same kind of cattle last year and they have made money for over 500 customers. It looks like cattle will be a good price for a long time to come. So if you have pasture, why not buy a few of these good light cattle and watch them grow and make money for you.

All cattle I handle are treated for shipping fever and are delivered free of charge within 100 miles. Also will take your dairy and fat cattle in trade and will allow a good price for them.

I have a large number of cattle here on pasture that are sold. I can also arrange at a small cost to pasture any number you wish to buy.

Did you know you can buy a Philco Freezer at Wheelers with no down payment?

Did you know you can buy a Philco Electric range at Wheelers with no down payment?

Did you know you can buy a Philco Air conditioner at Wheelers with no down payment?

Did you know you can buy a Philco Radio at Wheelers with no down payment?

Yes folks it is true. Philco products are so well known for both performance and quality that I am satisfied to let you have any of these products on a no down payment basis.

Speaking of those hot days we have just had is nothing in comparison of what we are still going to get and not far away at that. Why not enjoy yourself and live comfortably. Let us install a Philco Air conditioner and you will always be glad we sold you one as there are many more summers coming as well as this one.

I don't know whether you have seen the new Philco refrigerators with the dairy bar, if not let me say they are the ideal Refrigerator for any family.

Did you ever have your grocer or butcher who sells cheese give you a little slice to taste? My wasn't it fresh and so good?

Do you suppose he cut it from the dry side of the cheese or the moist side? The moist side of course and there is where the new Philco dairy bar refrigerator comes in.

When you bring your cheese home it is just right to eat and to keep it that way Philco is the only refrigerator they have added in their dairy bar a place to keep that cheese moist and just as you like. That is just one thing I have explained and the many others I would like to explain if you will put on your shoes or come bare footed either way I will show the many many features that Philco refrigerators have that cannot be found in any other.

While looking them over don't fail to see the new Philco freezer. Folks they are good for the eyes, good for the smell, good for pocket book and there are so many other good things about it, that no wonder people are asking for Philco freezers.

When we sell a Philco freezer they stay sold. There is a difference in buying and selling when you sell a Philco freezer it is sold and you don't have to buy it back.

Now lets talk a little over Philco Electric ranges. They are one of the best that money can buy whether it is an apartment size or one having the double one. Of course you know that you bake
