

Frear Hopes Georgetown Airport Can Be Utilized

United States Senator J. Allen Frear says he is pleased to learn that a manufacturing firm is to utilize a portion of the Georgetown Airport.

Senator Frear's statement was issued following disclosure that he had visited the airport on Tuesday afternoon, a few hours before public announcement was made that the General Development Corporation had signed a 50 year lease for a tract of land on the Base with the Sussex County Court.

Mr. Frear made a trip to the field along with Harold Purnell of Georgetown, a leading member of the citizens group which has been urging reactivation of the airport.

The Delaware Senator and Mr. Purnell discussed the question of lengthening existing runways in order to accommodate new jet types of military aircraft.

Senator Frear said that the existing equipment at the field constructed at a cost of many millions of dollars should, if at all possible, be put into active use again in lieu of beginning other military construction projects along the eastern seaboard.

The Senator said he had particular reference to the construction program of the Navy in the Fourth and Fifth Naval Districts.

The Senator commended the Delaware State Development Department for its efforts in bringing new business activity to Sussex County.

Mr. Frear also said that as a result of his visit, he would resume negotiations with the Department of Defense in the hope of securing approval for reopening the big Sussex County installation to military activity.

Railroad News

Now that we have seven diesel engines hauling our passenger trains and through freight on the division for the past month, the questions asked are:

When will the engines for the branches and shifters arrive? What do the boys operating them think of them?

The freight and shifting engines will start arriving on the division this month and it is thought the whole 21 will be here before the end of the year.

The boys operating the new engines say their performance is phenomenal. One of the men said they remind him of ants moving back and forth, never stopping to rest.

Four of the engines are hauling passenger trains, two freight the mail train # A.52 and the other one has been hauling between Wilmington and Delmar. On arrival at Delmar on # 453 this engine picks up the Crisfield branch train, arriving back in Delmar in time to take # 452 to Wilmington.

Everyone should be interested in the success of diesels as they are the answer to whether railroads can still compete with other means of transportation.

The New York News Aug 1 says: The railroad network is the most important factor in our national defense and must be kept in operation at all costs.

The Binghamton (NY) Sun: "Without railroads, the American economic life would come to an abrupt standstill."

To the railroads, diesel engines have the same relative value over steam as the tractor over the horse, to the farmer.

Flames Destroy 2 Barns Near Dover Over Weekend

Flames destroyed a barn on the Christian E. Zimmerman farm, opposite the Dover Air Base, about four miles south of Dover, early Saturday morning, causing a loss tentatively estimated at $5,000.

The blaze, according to investigation by police and Chief Ralph H. Boyer of the Robbins Hose Company, started in a mattress from a burning cigarette.

The other fire, caused by a short circuit, destroyed the dairy barn on the farm owned by Francis Raughley, located one mile northeast of Dover along Persimmon Tree Lane, Sunday evening.

Firemen estimated the loss on the Raughley farm at $6,500 in hay and dairy equipment.

The Robbins Hose Company, speeding to the scene, used its radio to summon the Cheswold Fire Company for assistance and also the state police to handle traffic. Cars going to the fire hampered both companies in their efforts to extinguish the blaze.

The cows were not endangered as they were in the fields at the time.

The large frame building was gutted by the time firemen arrived. Both companies used fire trucks in a shuttle service between the farm and the Dover firehouse to obtain water. Firemen were at the scene for two hours and 45 minutes.

On the Zimmerman farm part of the barn was divided into sleeping rooms for migrant farm laborers and the fire started in a room occupied by Milton and Thelma Milton of Oreda, Fla. The woman said she was awakened by a blaze in the mattress on her side, explaining that she likely fell asleep while smoking.

The Miltons and three other workers who occupied single rooms in the structure escaped without injury, and one of them sent in the fire alarm which brought the Dover firemen to the scene.

The firelighters, who were in service two hours, succeeded in keeping the flames from spreading to other buildings in spite of the uncontrollable headway the fire had gained in the barn.

Chief Boyer estimated the bars loss at $3,500 and loss of contents, which included a quantity of fertilizer and two potato graders, at $1,500.

The fire broke out about 4 a. m. Four of the farm workers who occupied rooms in the barn were from Florida and one from Georgia. The farm was tenanted and operated by Anthony Bepta.

YERKES ENDORSED AS GOP CANDIDATE FOR TREASURY JOB

The executive committee of the Kent County Republican Committee gave its unanimous endorsement Monday night to former State Senator Robert H. Yerkes of Houston as a candidate for state treasurer.

At the same time, Col. George J. Schulz, of Hartly, a delegate to the Republican National Convention last month, announced that he was not a candidate for lieutenant governor.

The action of the executive committee and the announcement by Col. Schulz combined to indicate that the nomination for lieutenant governor will go to Sussex County, whose leaders two weeks ago voted to do all they could to obtain this job for their county.

The executive committee did not move, however, until it had received assurances from State Treasurer Ralph W. Emerson of Wyoming that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

This had been clear last week by Clair J. Killoran, chairman of the Republican State Committee, after he had conferred with Mr. Emerson, but the Kent leaders made doubly sure Monday night.

Mr. Yerkes, seeking his first statewide office, is chairman of the Kent County Republican Committee, a post he has held since 1949. He has been a member of the unit for 16 years, serving as secretary for 13 years.

The candidate served as majority leader in the Senate in the 1943 and 1945 sessions. He is managing editor of the Milford Chronicle.

The state treasurer's office is a two-year job paying $6,000 a year.

Democrats Have 'Til Aug. 14 To File For County Posts

The filing period for Democratic candidates for county posts and state General Assembly seats, as well as delegates to the party's state convention this month, will begin Friday and end August 14. Candidates in all three counties must file in writing with their county secretaries and all contests will be decided in the statewide primary August 23.

District committees are scheduled to meet this week throughout the state to discuss candidates. Meanwhile, J. Harry Latchum of Milford, former collector of Internal Revenue in Delaware, is reported the likely nominee for state treasurer to be chosen at the Democratic State Convention in Dover August 26.

His name is the most frequently-mentioned for the post in Kent County, from where the party will choose its candidate. A former state senator and representative, Mr. Latchum served as Delaware District revenue collector from 1938 to 1943. Although only two candidates have announced their intentions of running, the mention of Mr. Latchum's name fills all but one of the state-wide posts with prospective candidates by the party.

The exception is the state auditor's job. The candidate who will be chosen, however, is expected to come from Sussex County. Gov. Elbert N. Carvel announced his willingness to run for reelection, and Lt. Gov. Alexis I. duPont Bayard announced his candidacy for the U. S. Senate at the party's Little Convention. Although neither has declared himself, Brig. Gen. Joseph J. Scannel, the adjutant general, and Lt. Col. Vernon B. Derrickson, Kent County Democratic chairman, are regarded as the likeliest candidates for U. S. Representative, and lieutenant governor, respectively. Although declining comment on any of the prospective candidates, Secretary of State Harris B. McDowell, Jr., the Democratic state chairman, commented that party leaders "are determined to have the strongest possible candidates for every position. There will be no weak links anywhere along the line." Before the platform is drafted the party plans to have an open hearing in Dover at which all persons interested may advance suggestions for planks in the platform.

Hardware Store Robbed of Pistols

A show window of Harrington Hardware Store was broken early Friday morning and three target pistols taken from it. The arms were valued at about $90. Detective Wentz, of the Delaware State Police, is working on the case.

Later Saturday, Patrolman C. H. Jarrell arrested John E. Lewis and Hubert Yarborough, Negroes, on a charge of breaking and entering, and recovered two pistols from persons to whom they had been sold. Lewis is out on a $500 bond to appear before the October term of the Superior Court, while Yarborough is in Kent County Jail in default of bond.

Ernest Smith, Negro, was fined $100 and costs by Alderman Gooden Callaway on a charge of receiving stolen goods. Police also recovered the third pistol.

The Council expressed interest in the project, but said it must have more concrete details before it could act. These items included type of workers and location of plant. Once the latter has been determined, cost of sewerage and disposal plant alterations would have to be determined.

It has been said the company might be interested in securing land from Norris Adams near the branchline railroad.

Councilman Leonard Harrington said it was his understanding the company would purchase the land, construct the plant, and that it said nothing about buying the water from the City. This brought up the theory that the plant intended to drill its own well.

Short said he thought "the iron was hot" for the location of industries here. A letter he read from Miles J. Frederick, head of the State Development Department, said the organization had advertised the state's industrial opportunities in Dun's Review and that several queries were received from industries expressing interest in locating in the state.

A bond issue, to extend sewers and water mains, was passed several years ago, but the bonds, $65,000 worth, were never bought because of the sharply increased costs of construction and materials.

Mayor Rash said it was his opinion that the bond issue must be used for the purpose for which it was voted, but that the City's attorney should be consulted.

John Parks, a member of the business association, told the Council: "We can't get new industries without sufficient water supply and pressure and we need a new tank." It was added that pressure was needed for fire protection and that it would reduce insurance rates.

Mayor Rash said there was no question but what the City needed water. In other business of the evening, the Council voted to purchase 300 feet of fire hose from Capital Fire Equipment Company at $1.50 per foot. The hose would be 2 1/2-inch and in 50-foot sections.

Fire Chief Doug Mills told the Council the new hose would be the soft, flexible kind. He added it was better than hard hose which is hard to handle and stands less abuse than the new type. The fire company, the chief continued, does not have enough hose to reload a truck when it comes back from a fire. The hose should be dried before use again, as it lasts ten times longer, Mills concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wix appeared before the Council for information of a previous request for a sanitary sewer to their home at Center Street and Pennsylvania Railroad. They were told the Council is still awaiting a reply to a request for a bid on the project from a construction company.

The Council decided to "stick to its guns" in reply to a complaint from a distributing company which collects and sells

Yoicks, Tallyho Are Threatened By Hi-Yi-Yippy

PHILADELPHIA — Philadelphia's suburban outskirts in southeastern Pennsylvania are praying for rain to break the drought which is now in its third year deep in the south of Texas.

Called the worst dry spell in the 99-year history of the fabulous King Ranch, it will next autumn deprive hounds and pink-coated riders of fields they are accustomed to roam in the historic Brandywine country.

"Hi Yi Yippy" will, in effect, banish "Yoicks" and "Tallyho" from parts of a traditional fox-hunting realm in southern Chester county, Pa.

Fatten Near Market For six summers, King Ranch steers approaching market age have been shipped by rail from south Texas rangeland to meadows 30 miles southwest of Philadelphia beside Buck and Doe Run, a tributary of Brandywine Creek.

There, burying their noses in grass, they have gained as much as 300 pounds per calf in 150 days. May to October. Then, shipped to market, they leave the autumn meadows to the huntsmen.

The three-year drought, however, has caused King Ranch cattle population to dwindle from 85,000 to less than 60,000. The Buck and Doe Run farms have this spring received their first shipments of calves less than a year old—a full year younger than usual. They will be grazed for more than a year instead of for five months, putting a large part of 10,000 fox-hunting acres on a year-around cattle grazing basis.

Uninitiated travelers rolling through the countryside near Unionville, Pa., do a "double take" on seeing green pastures where cherry-red beef steers are herded by Texas-style cowboys complete with lariats, chaps, fancy boots, and spurs.

Actually, "Hi Yi Yippy" is not part of the lingo of these eastern cowpokes any more than it is on the 900,000-acre King Ranch itself. The Buck and Doe Run hands are mostly eastern Pennsylvania farm natives newly trained to ranch work, riding Texas quarter horses and wearing western ranch clothes because they are practical for the purpose. Spanish-speaking vaqueros drive the herds in south Texas, but do not take kindly to transplanting.

Hardy Breed Buck and Doe Run Farms at present handle about 5,000 cattle. Texas rangeland outside the drought area has been leased for current King Ranch emergency use. Farms on Long Island, in Illinois, Oklahoma, and elsewhere near major stockyard cities, have for years been fattening skinny steers close to the market for King and other cattle-raisers.

Nine-tenths of the King Ranch cattle are of the handsome red Santa Gertrudis breed, developed by that ranch since 1923.

County Has Trouble Paying the Preacher ATLANTA, Ga.—Fulton county, like a lot of country folk, has a little trouble paying the preacher.

The preacher is the Rev. Bill Allison, who ministers to the spiritual needs of convicts, open meetings of county administrators with prayer, and is largely responsible for the reform of many Georgia badmen.

Fulton County couldn't get along without its dynamic chaplain—but, just now, dwindled county departments are practically passing the hat to make up his $375 monthly paycheck.

Before a plan of improvement lopped Fulton County's five prison work camps to two, the Fulton department of public Works paid Mr. Allison.

Now that the chaplain's incarcerated flock has shrunk from 700 to the 400 men at Bellwood and Ben Hill work camps, with a corresponding decrease in the budget of the Fulton county public works department, that department assumes only 40 per cent of the minister's salary.

Fulton County Manager A. E. Fuller, like any good deacon or elder in a country church concerned about the parson, has been "stirring up the congregation to get together the preacher's money."

At recent meetings of various county departments, Mr. Fuller's letters were spread on the minutes. The letters tacitly suggested that the remaining 60 per cent of Mr. Allison's salary be juggled by four other departments.

When I think of It
by Huck

Mrs. Estelle Anthony died recently unheralded and unsung by some, but not by us. With her sister, Mamie Anthony, who died in 1948, she was living at No. 5 High Street, when we came to Delaware in 1917. We moved next door and got to know the sisters quite well. Mrs. Bowen, then Miss Anthony, at that time, was short dark, and rather heavy. She was the jovial sort, while her sister was tall, lean, and taciturn. The latter reminded us of the woman in Grant Wood's famous painting, "American Gothic." In those days the sisters worked in Richardson & Robbins chicken canning plant in Dover, commuting by train. Many is the time they brought us chicken giblets, then classified as a loss to the canner—nowadays, as an expensive delicacy.

George Swain tells this one: Father, to his son, a Boy Scout: "What was your good deed for the day?" "Well, Mr. Smith, next door, was running for the bus and I kicked the dog on him."

Howard Williams wants to know: "Is there anyway to tell if a mulberry sapling will bear fruit when it matures?" Howard would like to set out a non-bearing variety of mulberry for shade.

Preston Sapp, who lives between Harrington and Marvel's Crossroads (Porter's Corner), has a good deal. His lima beans are in blossom. A Maryland bee man has placed his hives at the edge of the field next to the woods. Sapp will get part of the honey. Furthermore, the bees should secure better pollination of the beans and a better crop. We are interested in seeing how it turns out.

They're calling Fount Billings "doctor" these days. Seems he was taking a maternity case (the wife of one of his employees) to Milford Hospital, but the baby arrived at Haven Lake.

Overheard in a booth: At Rehoboth a man noticed a little boy waiting outside a tavern. The lad said: "Mister, will you tell my mother to come out? I've been waiting here all afternoon." "But, I don't know your mother," replied the man. "She'll be smoking a cigar," said the boy. The man, thus informed, found the woman and reported to the boy who said, "It wouldn't be so bad if I had a beer." "You're too young to drink beer," protested the man. "Mother gives me beer," replied the boy.

Someone is making it tough for T. G. Riley. In March they swiped 150 feet of garden hose. Last week, he reported the theft of most of the iron pipe with which he was watering his garden. Furthermore, last week he hit a bumblebee, which was on him, and it fell on his 5-year-old daughter, Maureen, and stung her.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONTRAVENTION

The Democratic National Convention had many unique angles. For several years we have been hearing the term "Dixiecrat," but when South Dakota bolted the convention, we had an illustration of the "Yankeeocrat." However, the delegation "unbolted" itself a short time later.

Most of the delegates spent more time putting in plugs for their states than for their candidates. We mention only the third and final ballot, and omit many states -- but here is the way that third ballot sounded to us -- although we are not sure that we are one hundred per cent accurate: Speaker Sam Rayburn: "Call the roll, Mr. Clerk."

"Alabama."
 "Mistuh Chaihman: I come from the great state of Alabama, where the shrimp boats come in and the Republicans go out; where nature is lavish in her grandeur and the cotton fields stretch away in snowy whiteness to the far horizon; where, as in treasured days gone by, chivalry is at her best and knighthood still in bloom --"

Chairman Rayburn: "Please omit the commercial. Merely name your candidate."
 "Senator Richard Gordon of the great state of Gawgy."
 "Alaska."
 "Mr. Chairman: From the sublime and majestic stretches of far-away Alaska, where eternal snows spread an immaculate mantle over our heaven-kissing mountains, while in the valleys far below flowers riot in crimson splendor --"

Chairman Rayburn: "No commercials. Name your candidate."
 "The man who put the crimp in Crump, Hon. Estes Kefauver."
 "Arizona."

"Mr. Chairman: I come from the great state of Arizona where we've made the desert blossom as the rose, where our rarified atmosphere has revitalized and revived the weary wanderers upon this tearful clod that men call earth; where, from afar --"

Chairman Rayburn: "For what purpose do you address the chair?"
 "To cast our votes for Senator Richard Gordon."
 "Arkansas."

"Mr. Chairman: From the sun-kissed Ozark reaches, the country loved of God, from the fertile valleys of the St. Francis and the White, from the overshadowing Ouachitas to the verdant vales of Petit Jean I come, from the diamond mines of Pike county in our beloved state, where diamonds gleam, and glitter and glow by day -- and even by night. Dr. Russell Conwell's famous lecture was called 'Acres of Diamonds' -- but our great state has miles and miles of diamonds --"

Speaker Rayburn: "Is the delegate from Arkansas or from Kimberly, South Africa? Are you voting for Senator Fulbright, Oom Paul Kruger or Cecil Rhodes?"
 "Arkansas votes for Fulbright."
 "California."

"Mr. Chairman: I come from the great state of California, where the mountains kiss the heavens and rivers roll to the sea; where the world is like a big magnolia blossom with Birds of Paradise perched on every bough, each one singing with Shelley's larks at heaven's gate; where --"

Delegate from Florida: "Why are you quaking?" Delegate from California: "I am not quaking -- I am merely shuddering -- because I carelessly bit into one of Florida's sour oranges."
 Delegate from Florida: "That wasn't a sour orange you bit into -- it was your lip -- I saw it happen."

Speaker Rayburn: "Gentlemen, desist. Republicans may be looking at this telecast. As the temporary chairman told you time after time, and as I have told you time after time, omit the commercials. The Westinghouse people are paying $2,000,000 for the commercials on this program, furnished by Betty Furness -- and they may object. The chair will omit Cool Colorado, because it knows that this heaven-favored domain in its grandeur and glory will commercialize for two hours. The chair will recognize the chairman of the Delaware delegation."

"Mr. Chairman: I come from the First State in The Union, Delightful Delaware. God's Garden -- that's just what it is -- no less. The storied Brandywine murmurs between mossy banks to join the historic Delaware in its majestic sweep to send its waters pulsing round the world, and the Atlantic chants lullabies of ineffable tenderness at our feet. The rigors of winter pass by this Eden upon earth, and while other sections welter and swelter in the summer in a Turkish bath of torridity, cooling breezes bless and caress this happy land. Heretofore, many of you unfortunate ladies and gentlemen have not been acquainted with this first state of the Union, because the beautiful Chesapeake Bay to the west and the even more beautiful Delaware handicap has been overcome. Last August we completed one of the finest bridges in the world across the beautiful Delaware River to connect New Jersey with Delaware, the first state in the Union. Now our sister state of Maryland has completed a bridge across storied Chesapeake Bay. Across these two vast bridges millions of people will through into our beloved state -- and remain there -- for it is inconceivable to believe that anyone, once beholding the splendor of Delaware, will have any desire to ever leave this paradise --"

Speaker Rayburn: "Will the gentleman please cross the bridge of rhetoric and tell us if he is voting for a candidate or a state?"
 Delaware Delegate: "Delaware casts its six votes for Governor Stevenson -- Delaware the first state in the Union." Chairman Rayburn turned to Congressman Cannon, the parliamentarian, and Leslie Biffle, Secretary of the Senate. "Gentlemen," he said, "you know how much Westinghouse is paying per minute for this program. Will you please advise me how much time the delegate from Delaware consumed?"

There was a hurried checking of figures, then Mr. Cannon announced: "The Delaware delegate's commercial, at the price Westinghouse pays, amounts to exactly $137,261.13."

Chairman Rayburn: "And Delaware has only three counties. I dare not call for Texas' vote, as that state has 254 counties -- and that would break Westinghouse -- no pun intended. Georgia."

Chairman of the Georgia Delegation: "Mistah Chaihman, Mistah Chaihman, Mistah Chaihman --"

Chairman Rayburn: "I have difficulty in hearing you. I seem to hear a metallic clang somewhere back in the Georgia delegation. Will its chairman refrain from snapping the buckles on his red galluses?"

Georgia Chairman: "Mistah Chaihman, I come from the great state of Gawgy, which gave to the world the immortal Sidney Lanier, Frank L. Stanton, Joel Chandler Harris, Margaret Mitchell and the brilliant and incomparable Henry W. Grady; Grady, who for a brief moment, flashed like a mortal eye in the light of God's eternal day. Gawgy votes for that knight in shining armor, Senator Gordon."

Voice from the floor: "In the language of the great poet, 'Can storied urn or animated bust back to its mansion call the fleeting breath?'"

Another voice from the floor: "Mr. Chairman: That fellow is a Republican who has been hanging over under a bench here ever since the Republican Convention two weeks ago. That's why he is parroting, just like they've done for the past twenty years, that we are going bust."

Chairman Rayburn: "The chair recognizes the Governor of North Carolina."
 Governor of North Carolina: "Mistah Chaihman, as the Governor of Nawth Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina, 'It's a long time -- since we had any Southern Comfort -- but we are going to have plenty of it after the November election.'"

Delegate from Kentucky: "Suh, I object to that. Iowa is the cawn state."
 Chairman Rayburn: "The next delegate putting in a commercial plug will have to pay Westinghouse for the time he uses. I'll ask the clerk to serve as time keeper. Vermont."

There was no response and the chairman kept calling the name of that state. Finally he said: "I see the Vermont banner over there and I've called that delegation several times, but no one responds." "Vermonters just don't talk under any circumstances," yelled a delegate from New Hampshire, "and they are particularly cautious on this occasion because they are afraid they may have to pay Westinghouse a few pennies."

The smallest creature to come out of the convention was Franklin Roosevelt, Jr. This quick-marrying pewee, trying to roost in an eagle's nest, was responsible for trying to stir up trouble among the Southern delegates.

The real hero of the convention proceedings was honest, conscientious, experienced, courageous, blunt, yet kindly, Speaker Sam Rayburn -- but Sam has been one of the greatest Americans for more than a quarter of a century.

Letter to the Editor

A recent news item published by your paper regarding the vacancies soon to exist in certain district offices and the mentioning of the name of prospective candidates who aspire to fill them brings back memories of many years ago.

Every member of the Democratic Party whose interest in its success at every succeeding election, who were responsible for the Gentlemen's agreement among the voters to rotate the office of State Senator to each precinct at the expiration of the then incumbents term have now crossed the Great Divide.

When Edward B. Carter's term as State Senator (1916-1920) expired the nomination was rotated to Farmington and Chas. D. Murphy Sr. was elected and reelected after canvassing the Senatorial District to see if the voters were agreeable. Since that time not any one else has ever been elected from that precinct, yet candidates have come forward but apparently lacked the necessary standards and qualifications established by certain people.

The same condition exists at the present time; a candidate from Farmington has made an announcement but those who would endeavor to supplant those gentlemen, now deceased, who resided in the First of the Ninth, have scrapped that old agreement as no longer desirable because it does not further their own desires perhaps.

It would seem that, very subtly, they have fomented unrest and dissatisfaction among the voters and workers that by so doing they will again be able to pick their minority choice for Party harmony (?) How clever!

Why not be satisfied with what belongs to the First of the Ninth by rotation i. e. Levy Court Commissions and State Representative and let Farmington pick their candidate for Senator and then let's elect him.

Unless of course, he must go through a screening committee as I have been informed all Senatorial candidates from the Sixth Representative District will have to do hereafter since I was and am accused of selling the Party out in the last Special Session.

But when the chips were down and the integrity of a Public Servant was on the line I can still be labeled "Semper Fidelis" without fear of contradiction.

Also to further advance my attitude on this new and old set up and with due realization that those honored gentlemen responsible for the aforesaid agreement, forgot more politics than I have yet learned let us uphold those privileges established by them before I was a voter or repudiate the whole setup and abide by the consideration granted to the First of the Sixth relative to a Levy Court Commissioner since the inauguration of a three member Court and to the Second of the Ninth relative to a candidate for Senator might be right. I would state in conclusion that I have as yet to reach that stage of political apathy whereby I could be accused of helping to defeat a fellow Democrat aspiring to any office that would or could be the gift of the majority of my Representative District -- said majority reasonably well established.

Wm. O. Cabbage, present incumbent 4th Senatorial District Kent County.

Time To Seed Lawns

Do you want a lawn that friends and neighbors will envy? "It's easy if you do the right thing at the right time," says Claude E. Phillips, University of Delaware extension agronomist. For best results, new lawn seedings should be made soon. Seedings made between August 15 and September 15 suffer the least from weed competition since crabgrass and most annual weeds have stopped growth by that time. The seedbed must be fine and firm. Rake in 50 pounds of limestone per 1000 sq. ft. Then fertilize this area with 15 to 20 pounds of a 4-12-8 or 5-10-5 fertilizer. You may apply the limestone and fertilizer at the same time.

Good seed is a must, but don't expect to find it at the bargain counter. Always check the formulas on the package.

Professor Phillips has worked out lawn mixtures best suited to Delaware conditions. For northern Delaware use a 75% Kentucky bluegrass, 15% redtop, 10% domestic or Italian ryegrass mixture. In sandy soils of southern Delaware, a mixture of 40% Kentucky bluegrass, 35% creeping red fescue, 15% redtop, and 10% domestic or Italian ryegrass is recommended. For shady spots, use this special mixture: 50% creeping red fescue, 25% Kentucky bluegrass, 15% redtop, and 10% domestic or Italian ryegrass. Five pounds of a good grass seed is enough for 1000 sq. ft. lawn. Spread the seed evenly over the area, then rake lightly, and roll.

Smyrna Boy Wins 4-H Reporter's Contest

Ronald Stevens, reporter for the County Line 4-H Club, Smyrna, is state winner of the second annual 4-H Club Reporter's Contest. He also placed first in New Castle County.

Dorothy Kendall, Chestnut Grove Club, Dover, won first place in Kent County. First place in Sussex County went to Jean Hastings of the Dublin Hill Yellow Jackets 4-H Club, Bridgeville. Honorable mention for New Castle County goes to Doris Woodward of the White Oak Club, Hockessin. The three county winners will receive a scholarship to 4-H Club Camp.

Ronnie Stevens, state winner, had 16 news articles in the daily papers and 28 stories in weekly papers, a total of 213 column inches. In addition to doing an excellent job as a reporter, Ronnie is also an aspiring young editor. He has started his own 4-H Club newspaper, The County Line News.

Jean Hastings writes a column "Yellow Jackets Buzz" for the Bridgeville News and Milford Chronicle. Her 42 stories totaled 127 column inches. The Kent County winner, Dorothy Kendall wrote 21 column inches or 4 stories for weekly papers. Doris Woodward wrote 24 stories for the daily papers and 19 stories for the weeklies, totaling 118 column inches.

The contest was judged on total number of column inches and article content. Every 4-H Club reporter in the state was eligible. The reporters kept scrapbooks of all newspaper clippings and other publicity items about their own clubs. The contest, which ran from December 1, 1951 to July 15, 1952, was sponsored by the Editorial Office of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Leafhoppers Stunt 2nd Growth Alfalfa

Potato leafhoppers have invaded many alfalfa fields in Maryland, stunting growth of plants, and causing them to turn yellow. T. L. Bissell, Extension entomologist at the University of Maryland reports that damage is widespread. Dwarfing and yellowing of alfalfa can be caused by a variety of other reasons, such as diseases, mineral deficiencies and weather, but this year most cases can be traced to leafhopper damage, according to the Maryland insect specialist.

The Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, secured striking results in a demonstration of controlling leafhoppers at Beltsville, Md. Alfalfa that was sprayed with one quart of methoxychlor emulsion per acre yielded twice as much as unsprayed alfalfa. In addition to increased yield, the quality of the hay was better when leafhoppers were controlled.

When second growth alfalfa is suffering from an attack of leafhoppers, farmers are advised to cut the entire field at one time to prevent insects from centering in the remaining part of the field. If the insects infest the new growth after cutting, Bissell recommends spraying with one quart of methoxychlor emulsion per acre; mixed in 30 to 50 gallons of water, and applied with 30 to 50 pounds pressure.

BEEF CATTLE FOR SALE

Have sold out of all cattle on hand and expect a new lot of over 300 head to arrive this week, either Herefords and Angus heifers and steers, which will consist of over 100 head of calves weighing from 300 to 400 pounds. Just right to start now and make 1,000 pound cattle next year. Also will have over 150 cattle weighing from 400 to 600 pounds. They are just right to keep for breeders or fatten for market in the early winter.

Balance will be cattle weighing from 600 to 900 pounds that will do for the feed lot this fall.

Anyone interested in good beef cattle to make money on should come and look these cattle over.

I have sold over 3,000 head of these kind of cattle since January 1st, to over 300 satisfied customers, and expect to sell more than that many the balance of this year. So if you have pasture, why not buy a few of these good cattle and watch them grow and make money for you? It looks like cattle will be high for a long time to come.

All cattle I handle are treated for shipping fever and delivered free of charge within 100 miles. Will take your dairy and fat cattle in trade and allow you a good price for them.

Also can arrange to pasture at a small cost to you any number you wish to buy.

I have rented the Normandy Farms at Norristown, and have over 400 acres of the finest pastures. They have a four-rail fence and plenty of water and shade. I'm sure your cattle will do good there. Also have over 300 acres pasture to rent here in Chadds Ford. So why wait? Why not come and see some real good cattle that are priced lower than any other cattle of the same quality in the state of Pennsylvania?

There must be a reason why I have sold over 48,000 beef cattle in the last 12 years and last year was the biggest year I ever had.

I expect to receive over 200 cattle each week for the balance of this year and I expect to price them so they will move out in that order.

PUBLIC SALE OF DAIRY CATTLE

AT FRIENDSHIP FARM, 2 MILES NORTH OF SUDLERSVILLE, MD., ON ROUTE 313

Thursday, August 14

BEGINNING AT 1:00 P. M., DAYLIGHT TIME

Since our herd of registered Hereford cattle has increased in number so fast in the past three years, we are now overstocked, so we must sell. We have decided to sell all of our dairy herd, consisting of 45 GUERNSEY MILK COWS 9 HOLSTEIN at auction to the highest bidder.

These cattle have all been raised here at Friendship Farm by me, and all of these Guernsey and Holstein cows are daughters of cows whose dams and sires were registered Guernseys and Holsteins. These cows are all entitled to registration, as their ancestors were all pure bred cows and bulls.

These cows are now milking good, with about 35 fresh in the past two months and several within the past two weeks.

We have their calves here on the farm. Some of these cows will be fresh again in the Fall. All of these cows have been or will be bred in pasture to a registered Hereford bull by day of sale. Therefore, the buyers of these cows will have a chance for a beef calf when they come fresh again.

The average cooling station butterfat test for 1951 was 4.74; so this will be a good chance for farmers who have poor butterfat test to buy some of this herd to bring their tests up by next April, to meet cooling station requirements of a 3.5% butterfat test.

These cows have been calfhood vaccinated for Bang's and it has been an accredited TB herd for over 30 years.

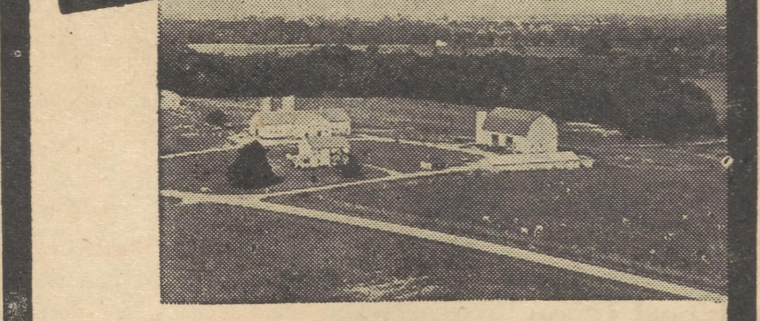

Also for sale—24 milk cans, 4 buckets, 2 strainers.

Delaware NJVGA Winners Announced

Winners of the Delaware National Junior Vegetable Growers Contest were announced this week by Robert F. Stevens, University of Delaware extension horticulturist. First place winners are Jonathan Hurd, Harrington, in the FFA division; and Jack Sirman, Delmar, in the 4-H division. Both will attend the NJVGA national convention in New York City in December.

Other winners in the FFA division are Clifford Outten, Harrington, 2nd; Millard Calhoun, Greenwood, 3rd; and William Bowdle, Harrington, 4th. Winners in the 4-H division are: Donald Williamson, Seaford, 2nd; William Weber, Delmar, 3rd; and Joseph Workman, Delmar, 4th. The contest was held at the Kent-Sussex Fair. Thirty-nine boys and girls judged vegetables; identified vegetable varieties, insects, and diseases; and graded potatoes. Prizes were awarded on the basis of contest scores and vegetable exhibits entered at the fair. The two winners will participate in a similar contest at the national convention.

Fungicide Screening Program In 10th Year

One of the services the University renders to Delaware farmers is the fungicide screening and development program carried on at the Georgetown Substation. The program was started the year the Substation was founded, and has grown accordingly.

John W. Heuberger, head of the University plant pathology department, says that this test comprises the first field test of a new fungicide for possible use on Delaware crops. Late planted potatoes are used as the first test crop. Thirty-five different fungicide chemicals, including practically every new and old fungicide ever used on potatoes, are being tested this year. Several new organic fungicides that have never been field tested before are also included.

Workers determine if the fungicide will control plant diseases, if it is safe, and if it increases the yields. If the chemical looks good on potatoes, it is tested on other crops—such as apples, peaches, ornamentals, lima beans, tomatoes, and cucurbits.

After a fungicide has been thoroughly tested in this way, and proved safe and effective, the University recommends it for use by Delaware growers.

Heuberger says the tests are designed to keep abreast of developments in the fungicide industry, and to eliminate many trial and error sorrows on individual farms. The data collected provides Delaware farmers with the latest and best information on disease control.

The fungicide screening test will be open to the public at the Farm Field Day, Tuesday.

Corn Stalk Breakage Problem, Disease or Growing Methods

Corn stalk breakage before harvest presents a serious threat to Delaware corn production, now the third highest single product in cash farm income.

European corn borers cause some of this breakage, but stalk rot is also responsible for quite a bit of it. Henry W. Crittenden, plant pathology department, and F. Burton Collins, agronomy department, are working on control of corn stalk breakage at the Georgetown Substation. They have set up an experiment to help determine whether stalk breakage is a cultural or a disease problem.

Workers test the susceptibility of six different strains of corn by inoculating the stalks with stalk rot organisms.

The same six strains are also grown at four different fertility levels, and on sandy loam and heavy soils.

In this way, say Crittenden and Collins, both possible causes of stalk breakage are isolated and can be tabulated scientifically as to importance. When they complete the experiment, Delaware farmers will be able to grow their corn according to the findings.

The experiment is one of many on corn open at the Farm Field Day at the Substation, Tuesday. Farmers can see for themselves how the corn is reacting to the different treatments this year. Crittenden and Collins will be on hand to answer questions.

Sunday's schedule

Viola at Frederica
Wyoming at Harrington
Farmington at Ellendale
Hickman at Felton

Freddie Clemence's Wyoming tossers nailed down the 1952 Mar-Del League pennant yesterday as they topped Ellendale 11-4 for their 11th straight win while Frederica and Harrington were handed setbacks. Felton continued their drive up the ladder into second place as they downed Frederica 6 to 3 while Harrington received a jolt from Farmington 5 to 3. Viola was handed a 9-0 forfeit as Hickman was unable to put a team on the field. As the result of yesterday's games only Viola has a chance to break into the 1st division. This would require a clean sweep in their remaining games and three straight lessons by either Frederica or Harrington.

Harrington faces strong opposition this Sunday as hosts to the pennant winning Wyoming tossers. Joe Moeltner or Aub Berry loom as the Wyoming mound choice while Charley Riley, Harry Barrett or Jim Cabbage will get the Harrington nod. Wyoming holds the edge in their previous meeting. Viola will be faced with a tough assignment as they try to keep their dim chances alive as they invade Frederica. Both teams have been playing good ball although Frederica has bowed in 2 straight after rolling up 7 consecutive victories. The loss of Jim Postles, veteran right-hander, who was injured on Sunday when he pulled a muscle while batting, will weaken the Frederica chances but they have strong reserve in lefthander Ken McClamrock, Buddy Kimmel and Roy Kemp. Bill Biddle or Freddie Fear looms as the Viola starters. A scrap for 6th place will be in the making at Ellendale as the they are at home with Farmington. Ellendale hopes to be at full strength although they may still have three men playing with the Milford Legion nine, who are battling for the State Championship. Niebert or Wells will toe the slab for the host tossers while Ray Dennis or Paul Dean will be on the firing line for Farmington. Hickman is scheduled to be at Felton but there is still a question as to whether Hickman can continue although every effort is being made to have them finish the season. Hickman management is to make a definite decision today. (Tuesday).

In winning the pennant clincher on Sunday Wyoming sewed up the game early as they chased across 10 runs in the first four innings to drive Bobby Niebert to the showers. Dave Greenly came to his rescue and checked the leaders with 1 run for the last four frames. Donnie Olliver, Dover High athlete, made his first mound start for Wyoming and aided by timely hitting and good support coasted to an easy win. He kept the 8 Ellendale bingles well scattered except for the 5th and 9, when Ellendale scored twice. Johnny Williams with two doubles, Harold Bennett with a double and single and Drex Cox with a double led the Wyoming attack while Dave Greenly's double was the big blow for the losing nine.

In a thriller from start to finish Felton topped Frederica 6 to 3 before one of the season's largest crowds. For five innings it was a hurler's battle between Frederica's Jim Postles and Felton's Harold Rothermel. Postles gave up 2 hits and tossed scoreless ball during his five inning stay. While batting in the 6th he pulled a muscle and had to be removed. Buddy Kimmel relieved and ran into trouble from the start. He walked three men to crowd the sacks and then Felton's pilot Johnny Bunnell laced out a single to drive in the first two runs of the game. Kimmel's support fell apart at this stage and before the inning was over 5 runs had crossed the plate and Ken McClamrock was on the mound for Frederica. Harold Rothermel went the distance for Felton as he pitched 5 hit ball and was solved for 2 runs in the 7th and 1 in the 8th. Two great running catches by centerfielder Jake Minner help pull Rothermel through as both drives would have been trouble. Bunnell's two singles paced the winners at the plate while Ken McClamrock's single and Al Brown's double was the most effective blows for Frederica.

Inspired by the return of their catcher Bobby Messick, who is now in service, sparked Farmington to one of their best games of the season as they downed Harrington 5 to 3. Paul Dean hurled steady ball for the winners as he let the host nine down with 5 hits while two Harrington moundsmen, Charley Riley and Jim Cabbage, were touched for 11. Harrington took a 3-0 lead in the 4th. Manager Oscar Draper drove in the last Farmington run in the 6th as he single while pinch-hitting for Langford. The winners chased over 3 more to take a 4-3 lead in the 7th as Cabbage relieved Riley. Ray Dennis with 4 for 4 led the Farmington batsmen while Leon Wix with a double and two singles and Johnny Swain with a two base knock were the big guns for Harrington. The win moved Farmington into 6th place while Harrington dropped to a 3rd place deadlock with Frederica.

Delaware Semi-Pro Baseball Championship Semi Finals

After a full week of intense baseball the Delaware Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament being held at the Milford Park narrowed down to four teams Sunday as the Milford Yanks pounded Lewes Seahawks 19 to 3. Fort Meade, tournament favorites, Newark Phillies, and Patuxent NAS Bombers reached the semi-finals Saturday.

Fort Meade will be out for a clean sweep as they clash with Newark AC Saturday evening at 8:30 in a single game. Fort Meade, who is still unbeaten in the tournament play and who has a season's record of 44-9, topped Newark in the early rounds 6 to 1 as Johnny McElwee tossed 3-hit ball. Newark made a comeback to stay in the running Saturday as they eliminated Sharptown 10-4. McElwee looms as the soldier's mound choice to halt Newark again which will leave their ace, Jim Brosman, Springfield Cubs hurler, for the championship game on Sunday. Harold Kenart will get the nod for Newark. On Saturday evening Milford Yanks will face Patuxent NAS Bombers in the second game of the semi-finals. Both teams have lost one game and the loser will bow out. Patuxent dished out the lone defeat to Milford Yanks while the sailors have bowed only to Fort Meade, 7 to 0 as Jim Brosman fanned 15 men. Ben Hill will go for the Yanks with Jim O'Donnell serving them up for the Bombers.

If Fort Meade triumphs over Newark Friday they will go into the championship game Sunday as they clash with the winner of the Milford Yanks-Patuxent game. The game will get underway at 8:30 p. m. Should Fort Meade lose they still have another chance as teams must suffer two losses before being counted out. Meade has definitely shown the strongest combination throughout backed by a strong fielding aggregation, heavy and timely hitting as well as top-notch hurling. Practically every man in their line-up has played professional baseball. Manager Joe Rovner, flashy second baseman, played with Minneapolis in 1950 before coming into service while Jim Lemon is a Cleveland Indian outfielder. Bob Shaulis, who has hit 3 out of the park during the tournament, is one of the big guns in the Meade attack along with Lemon and Jack Biggerstaff. Jim Brosman is their ace hurler. He hurled for the Springfield Cubs in the International League. A gala time is being planned for the championship tilt Sunday evening with team and individual awards being made. Winner of the Delaware Tournament will go to the National Tournament at Wichita, Kan., starting Aug. 15.

Mother Nature Need To Modern Inventor Not Take Back Seat

WASHINGTON—In this modern age scientists are always coming up with something to amaze the layman. Students of nature, Mother Nature, that is, will tell you that she outdid them all a long time ago. In fact, she set the pattern for them to follow.

The lowly bat, for instance, has been around for ages and eons. Brother bat being blind, nature saw fit to equip him with a special radar-like equipment. As he flits through the air he emits superionic signals that bounce off walls, trees and other objects to guide his flight on the darkest of nights.

The eagle, who must prey upon ground animals for the major part of his food supply, has a set of eyes that puts our modern binoculars to shame and enables him to spot a hiding animal from the highest altitude.

The ambitious little ant has a special sense that directs him to a new food supply, and can find its way back to the ant colony and return with reinforcements. Direction also plays an important role in the life of a migrating plover. Unerringly, he takes off yearly from the shores of Alaska and comes to rest on the beaches of Hawaii.

With commendable foresight, Mom Nature endowed the world's smaller creatures with special abilities for self preservation and food procurement. Many species of plants set traps for their prey, netting insects, and, in some parts of the world, even animals in their clutches. The lowly skunk has a great defensive weapon in his gas attack. Many other apparently defenseless animals are equipped with ears that catch sounds far behind normal range, thus enabling them to take shelter. The electric eel, living in a sea filled with terrible denizens of the deep, shocks them all with his built-in voltage. Name almost any invention of civilization, and you can find a parallel in nature's realm. Perhaps that's where the idea came from, in the first place.

Tugboat Crewmen Baffle Alabama Police Officer

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—This Alabama town believes in Southern hospitality, just like the rest of the south. They don't approve of loitering, however, which probably may be said the cause of this recent incident.

Patrolman M. E. Furr noticed two men hanging around and felt it his duty to investigate. One could hardly blame him for being suspicious when they told him they were waiting for a tug to pick them up. A tugboat hadn't been seen this far up the Alabama river in 30 years. They were told to hit the road. Two days later the tug R. Thomas McDermott steamed up the river to Montgomery and reported two missing crewmen.

British Air Experts Note Method to Curb Fatalities

LONDON, Eng.—A few British experts believe they have come up with a way to cut down the number of casualties in airplane crashes. They want to rearrange the seats and have air passengers ride backwards.

Walter Tye, chief technician of the British air registration board, points out that casualties usually result from passengers being pitched violently forward. If the backward seating arrangement were put into effect, he believes, the maximum shock would be absorbed by the cushioned seat backs. Tye holds the belief that with reversed seats, "in any crash where the fuselage of the plane remains in one piece, it is almost certain that many casualties could be avoided." The fuselage remains intact in the majority of airplane crashes.

Experiments in backward seats have been tried satisfactorily in troop carriers. One hitch might prohibit the success of the program. The passenger's attitude. It is a trait of human nature to prefer to see where one is going, rather than where one has been.

Microfilm Brings Expense Of Bulky Publications Down

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—A new way in which bulky or rare, but highly-important publications are becoming available at low cost to the world's libraries is being demonstrated at the University of Illinois.

The system, microprinting, is somewhat like the well-known microfilm system in that a reading machine is used to project the pages back to original size for use. But unlike microfilm, which is a photographic process, microprint is a printers' ink process. When 50 or more copies are desired, this makes it cheaper than microfilm. With it, 200 greatly-reduced pages can be printed on the two sides of a 6x9-inch card.

Prof. Edgar L. Erickson of the University's history department is displaying results of 10 years of work toward editing and microprinting the 6,000 volumes of the British House of Commons "Session Papers" for the 19th century. He is editor of this project, sponsored by the American Historical Association and the Readex Microprint corporation.

Information in the "Session Papers" is highly important for historical and other studies. Yet complete sets of the volumes exist only in two places, the British Parliament's own library, and the British Museum.

Parishioners List Major Sermon Topics

ST. LOUIS PARK, Minn.—"If you could hear only five sermons the rest of your life, what five topics would you like to hear discussed?" The Rev. Roger C. Schumuck, rector of St. George's Episcopal church in this suburb of Minneapolis, asked this question of his parishioners.

The topics which got the most votes will form the basis for Mr. Schumuck's Sunday sermons. They are:

- (1) Immortality. Is there life after death? How can we be assured there is? Where can we find the key to the Pearly Gates?
- (2) How can we keep faith in the face of adversity? Is greater faith developed by adversity?
- (3) What can we do to secure and maintain world peace?
- (4) How can adults keep children from losing faith?
- (5) When all goes well with our lives, how can we keep from feeling self-sufficient and independent of God?

Mr. Schumuck went to his flock for the topics after he decided he wanted his series to meet their needs and to answer their questions on the Christian religion or spiritual life.

The Perfect Friend Is Infantile Ideal

CHICAGO—The man who keeps looking for "the perfect friend," "the perfect mate," "the perfect secretary" and who refuses to make any compromises in his relations with other human beings, isn't an idealist.

"He's childish," writes Rhoda W. Baumeister, Director, Manhattanville Day Nursery, New York City, in a monthly magazine.

Mrs. Baumeister, who has had plenty of opportunity to study her own and other children at first hand, observes:

"Children keep searching for the perfect companion. They are pals today and 'mad' tomorrow. They think in terms of good or bad, friend or foe. That's simpler than realizing that all of us are both good and bad; that almost any two persons can find ways in which they can cooperate as friends. "We cannot save them the resulting disillusionment, when they are children. As adults who never grew up emotionally, their marriages as well as their friendships will be wrecked on the rock of 'all or nothing,' while once again, we stand helplessly."

Music Seeds Are Sown Throughout Midwest

CAMDEN, N.J.—A "musical Johnny Appleseed" who toured the Midwest 43 years ago sowing the seeds of music appreciation today sees her work bearing fruit all over America.

Ninety-two-year-old Dr. Frances Elliott Clark, director emerita of RCA Victor, recalled the day in 1909 when she heard a phonograph recording for the first time and was inspired to launch a movement which has brought the knowledge and understanding of good music to millions of public school children.

For two years, Dr. Clark traveled in the footsteps of the legendary "Johnny Appleseed," selling educators on using the phonograph records for teaching purposes. Then the Victor Talking Machine Company heard about "that crazy education woman out west," and asked her to develop and direct an educational department for the young company.

Dr. Clark's "planting" in the fertile minds of school children became national in scope and when she retired in 1947 to Salt Lake City she had seen her plan adopted universally. She founded the Music Educators' National Conference in Keokuk, Iowa in 1907, and recently delivered the keynote address to its 6,000 delegates meeting in Philadelphia.

Votemobile Begins Get-Out-the-Vote Tour in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY—Gov. Johnston Murray has launched a red, white and blue panel sedan labeled the Votemobile on a statewide get-out-the-vote campaign sponsored by the Oklahoma farm bureau.

The ceremony officially opened the good citizenship campaign of that farmers' organization, which will send the Votemobile to every county of the state, advertising the registration and election dates and urging adult Oklahomans to register and vote.

Due to appear on the program with the governor are Floyd Carrier of Carrier and Smith Hester of Purcell, state chairmen of the Republican and Democratic parties respectively. They will emphasize the non-partisan policy of farm bureau and the Votemobile, and will point out that both parties want a large, representative vote in every election. Mayor Allen Street of Oklahoma City welcomed the Votemobile and called on citizens of the capital city to take part in their government.

After the governor's talk, the Votemobile left on its three-week tour of all counties, where county farm bureaus will have receptions waiting in principal towns and cities. There the Votemobile will stop briefly, with mayors, civic leaders, county political leaders of both parties, and farm bureau members due to take part in short ceremonies.

"We are an organization of farmers; our first concern is to get out a large farm vote," John I. Taylor, OFB president, declared. "But at the same time, we can perform a service to all citizens by spotlighting the registration and election dates. We are urging that all adult Americans exercise their privilege of voting."

Motto of the campaign is "Your vote is your voice—let it be heard."

Saving Eggs

Eggs with clean shells keep best. Wipe off soiled spots with a damp cloth, but don't wash eggs until just before you use them. When eggs are first laid, the shells have a film known as the "bloom" which seals the pores and helps keep out bacteria and odors. Washing removes this protective film.

Prayers for Rains Answered in Texas

WACO, Texas—Prayers for rain were answered here by a thunderstorm and showers which ended a drought damaging to grazing and farm lands in central Texas.

The prayer meetings were held in Waco's First Baptist church after professional rain-makers had been seeding clouds for several weeks in an effort to coax some precipitation out of them. Except for a few weak showers, the professionals didn't have much luck.

Then the church group took over. For the first time in the memory of most Waco residents, citizens went to formal rain-prayer sessions. The Rev. Dr. Forrest C. Feezor, pastor of First Baptist church and first vice-president of the Southern Baptist Convention, conducted the interdenominational services.

Farmers attended afternoon prayer meetings, city-dwellers participated in evening services. One woman at the night session carried a rain-coat. A man prayed: "Help us to remember that the rain-makers can't make rain unless it be Thy will."

The storm which hit Waco after the prayer sessions lasted for an hour. In North Waco, residents reported, rain rain in the streets and gutters.

Have you looked over Good Housekeeping for August? Well in it you will find some beautiful rooms and walls but just stop and think how those rooms would look without the proper wall paper. We carry a line of paper that you too can have those beautiful rooms.

Of course you cannot rub a lamp like Aladdin and presto it is there as you desired.

If you come in and part with a little change, something will happen to your home the day the paper is plastered on the wall and then you won't need Aladdin.

We do have many, many patterns and if you are an exclusive kind we have the 1953 books just in. Any paper you want is in them and only it takes just a few days longer to get exactly just what you want.

In this day and date people are getting lazy or else they have better sense. Why? Because they are buying things that today will save so much worry, hurry, and stewing. For instance a few years ago a woman would almost break her back rubbing on a wash board trying to rub those clothes clean. Today that board is used for making music while the housewife sits back and listens while her Westinghouse Laundromat is purring right along. It is amazing the way your clothes last when washed in a Laundromat, the only automatic washer that was given the merit of award. Folks that is handed out on its merit and of course it is no more than you would expect because it is a Westinghouse product.

September will soon be here and we are holding that television right now for you as they are 1953 models not 1951 or 1952.

We have them from $199.95 to $499.95 some with built in radios.

A television as I stated two years ago is almost a necessity especially if you have children and was I right? Look at the skies and you would think so. If you don't have yours let us install one and pay for both the installation and television on monthly payments.

Whether you want an aerial booster, motor or wire to install one we have them also and if you buy your television from us we will supply these at a very low cost.

Our service now is on a 24 hour basis and if we cannot fix it at once we will loan you a used set until we do. Could you get better service than that? Try and see and you will say, well Wheeler is helping us why not help him.

A wonderful rain we have had this week and with that extra money it will bring to you in dollars and cents call Wheeler's Phone 541, Harrington and get that television you have always wanted and that money will be well spent.

What you put in your home is part of living and living is what you put in your home. A television will keep you living and want you to keep on living.

We have several new refrigerators on hand which we are going to move in the next week or so and if you have an old one better see me quick.

I want to thank the various organizations for sponsoring Mr. Lord at the park and may I say his time has run out and if any more of you folks who are head of any of our organizations in town do wish to keep him on for a week or two see to Mr. Lord. This is a very worthy cause for your children.

goods to Harrington homes every Thursday. The firm had been paying $2 for the two hours it was here. The Council agreed the tax, prescribed by law, should continue at the same rate.

In other business of the evening, the Council agreed to move a fireplug in front of the home of Clarence Rash at 216 Weiner Avenue. Furthermore, it agreed to see if 1-4" stone could not be secured for the street improvement program on Fleming Street and Weiner Avenue. Present specifications call for 3-8 to 1/2-inch stone on the streets. It was the opinion of the Council that the finer stone would bond better with the hard bed of these streets.

Part Time Work

To an extent which few people realize, the economic well-being of the nation depends upon men and women and youngsters who are willing and able to work several hours a day or one or two days a week. Government studies published recently show that only about 55 percent of the more than 60 million people who work in this country are in full-time, year-round jobs; the others are part-time workers or people who work less than 50 weeks a year.
