Levy Court Candidates State Their Qualifications

The eve of the General Election, to be held Tuesday, finds two Harringtonians pitted against each other in a contest for commissioner of the Second Levy Court District. Both candidates, running for public office for the first time, are well known in business and fraternal circles. Following are synopses of the candidates' lives and qualifications:

Fred B. Greenly Jr.

Fred B. Greenly Jr., was born in Harrington June 3, 1923 and educated in Harrington public schools. After graduation, he went to Chicago where he studied poultry husbandry with the idea of joining his father, the late Fred B. Greenly, one of the pioneer broiler growers of this section.

However, after Pearl Harbor, Uncle Sam had different plans for the Democratic candidate, and he served two years in the U. S. Navy where his unit received a commendation from Admiral Mitchner.

After his return from the service, Mr. Greenly joined his father in the broiler business and now operates a farm at Paradise Alley. He is also president of the Harrington Local of the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association.

Long active in the Peninsula Conference of the Methodist Church, Mr. Downing is superintendent of Sunday School and a member of the board of trustees of Asbury Methodist Church; district lay leader and president of the parsonage board of trustees of Dover District.

The Republican candidate has been active in fraternal and civic organizations. He is a past master of Temple Lodge No. 9, A. F. & A. M.; past president of the Harrington Rotary Club, and a member of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Delaware Consistory, and Kent Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Mr. Downing was a member of the Board of Education, Harrington Special School District, and is a director of the Harrington Building & Loan Association and the Kent & Sussex Fair Association.

Railroad News

The annual Delmarva Division track inspection was made this week, starting at 6 o'clock Monday morning out of Wilmington and ending Wednesday evening at 4 o'clock.

During this time the inspection train, consisting of two business cars and the inspection car, hauled by diesel engine, covered 784 miles.

The personnel of the inspection party included Superintendent Lingenfelter and his staff, Assistant General Manager J. D. Morris, Assistant Chief Engineer Maintenance-of-Way C. R. Bergman, P. X. Geary, engineer M. W. K. J. Silvey, superintendent of freight transportation; L. A. Vilela, system safety inspector; Joseph Shallit and Bill Mutschman of the Pennsy magazine; all supervisors and their foremen.

While the primary purpose of such inspections in the past has been to observe riding conditions and general appearances of the right-of-way, this one bore a much greater significance as the arrangements for relaxation at the end of the long day trips and the general good fellowship created throughout, will go a long way toward good employe and public relations.

The general consensus expressed by the track foremen were to the effect "If any prizes are to be awarded, they should all go to Mr. Werden who arranged all the details."

The oysters, baked beans, ham, coffee, movies and encouraging talks at Cape Charles Monday evening after a 230-mile run. The barbecued ham and pleasant evening at Clayton after the second day, box lunches, coffee and cold drinks en route and looking after sleeping accommodations, train movement, transportation and return of equipment and personnel are only a few of the many details which were handled by Division Engineer Kirk Werden and Supervisor of Personnel Norman Patterson.

The absence of cinders, smoke dirt and delays common to steam operation, also added a touch of advancement and improvement enroute as well as to surroundings as Easton, Clayton, Harrington Cambridge, Delmar and Franklin City.

At the end of the three-day trip, three carloads of M. W. minor supervisory men left the inspection train Wednesday evening at Townsend for their homes, feeling that improvement in management personnel was on a par with diesel operation over steam, and wondering what the next year will bring.

Senatorial Battle Will Highlight Local Contest

Judging by an almost unprecedented registration of voters this year, voting at the polls Tuesday should follow a similar trend at the General Election. Polls will open at 7:30 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. Voting in the Ninth Representative District, which includes most of Harrington, will take place at the Firehouse.

Harrington also includes part of the Sixth Representative District, polling place of which is Masten's Corner.

Of particular interest here will be a senatorial battle between Jehu F. Camper, Democratic candidate, and Dr. W. T. Chipman, Republican candidate. Both candidates have served in the House of Representatives.

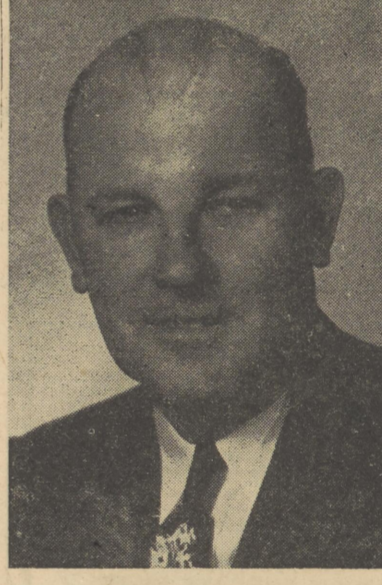

Other candidates are as follows: For representative from the Ninth District—Leon Donovan (D) and Frank Tharp (R); for commissioner from the Second Levy Court District—Fred Greenly Jr. (D) and Fulton J. Downing (R); for commissioner from the First Levy Court District—Henry T. Price (D) and W. Millaway Broadway (R); for commissioner from the Third Levy Court District, Edward Kelly (D) and George A. Swain (R); for sheriff, Robert Pippin (D) and Nathaniel W. Taylor Jr. (R); for coroner, William Fleischauer Jr. (D) and Edward R. Pardee Sr. (R); for register of wills, J. Wesley Walls (D) and Marian Cook Phillips (R); for comptroller, William M. Paskey (D) and Ebe J. Bishop (R); for prothonotary, John P. LeFevre (D) and Noble S. Warren (R).

State-wide contests see Gov. Elbert N. Carvel pitted against Caleb Boggs; for auditor of accounts, Clifford Hall (D) and G. Dan Enterline (R); for state treasurer, Robert H. Reed (D) and Clarence Collins Jr. (R); for lieutenant-governor, Vernon B. Derrickson (D) and John W. Rollins (R).

Alexis I. duPont Bayard will vie for U. S. senator against the incumbent, John J. Williams, with Joseph J. Scannel (D) against Herbert B. Warburton (R).

In the Sixth Representative District, Samuel Tilden Hughes (D) will oppose Frank P. Walker (R) in the contest for representative to the General Assembly. In the Tenth Representative District, Emory N. Lynch Jr. (D) opposes Clarence L. Hudson (R) for a similar post, while in the Eighth Representative District Charles W. Bostick (D) opposes Benjamin O. Wilkinson (D) and John D. Keller (R) for representative.

J. W. Walls For Register of Wills

This is your Democrat candidate for the office of Register of Wills. Both served in the last World War. J. Wesley Jr. is in the broiler business in Maryland and Lt. Walls is still serving his country in the Second Army as post publications officer at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Paskey For Comptroller

William M. Paskey, who is now completing what many persons have described as an outstanding successful term in the Sheriff office to the attention given to it.

"A public official is a servant for the taxpayers of the county and it was on that basis that I have endeavored to conduct the affairs of the Sheriff's office during my present term in that office."

"At the same time I believe a public official should operate his office just as economically as possible. I have endeavored to do this as Sheriff and will certainly take the same principle into the Comptroller's office in event of my election."

"Kent county voters have been very kind to me and for that I am most grateful and at the same time assure them of my continued interest in public affairs, particularly from the taxpayers viewpoint."

"Many times I have heard it stated that the interest of the taxpayers is only brought to light in an election year. In my case I have given thought to the taxpayers every day I have been in office by endeavoring to conduct the affairs of that office in a manner that they would like to have me do."

Too Thick

Why are sauces and gravies thicker after they've stood for a day or so? Some of the liquid in them evaporates. For this reason they should not be overcooked either. Water evaporation in them causes them to be thick and pasty.

A vacuum bottle from which you can eat as well as drink has been made. Designed for school or work lunches, it's good for hot soups, stews, baked beans, or puddings, and for cold salads and deserts. The mouth is wide enough so that contents can be spooned out.

Winning Friends.

By Samuel A. Short, Jr.

Winning friends is up to you my Brother,
A smile a good word given by you.

Winning friends is a gift given my Brother,
A gift from your God above.

He'll see you through as no other,
If you'll only accept his love.

When you arise in the early of the morning,
To start the day anew,
Remember the Rainbow they say is a warning,
You never know what's in store for you.

So when the day is over and done my Brother,
Check yourself for your every act.

If you've given heed to these thoughts my Brother
You'll always be winning is a well known fact.

This is better than New Orleans' 92c per citizen, but far below Washington, D.C.'s $3.36, San Francisco's $2.68 and Seattle's $1.99. WHO IS UNKNOWN?

Some letter writers in the Wilmington papers who are themselves unknown, inasmuch as they refuse to sign their real names to the letters, claim that Alexis DuPont Bayard is unknown, and asks the people to vote for Senator Williams. He is well known, they say.

When we were a lower drawer in a bureau, the Office of Price Administration, a few years ago, we had heard much of Lex Bayard—and all we heard about him was to his credit.

Then one day our good friend, Ed Cunningham, veteran reporter of the Every Evening-Evening Journal, came rushing down to our office. "The Republicans," he said, "have nominated somebody named John J. Williams, from Millsboro, for United States Senator. You are a down-state man—who is he?" We studied several seconds and answered: "Sorry, Ed, but I've never heard of him." "That's strange," replied Ed, "but I've asked a dozen down-state people about him—and no one ever heard of him—what's the answer?"

We didn't know the answer then, and may not know it now—but we do know that John made a lot of money selling chicken feed under the Democratic administration.

As you know, he was elected, but after three years in the senate, he was still unknown, to much of Delaware and practically all of the U. S. Senate. Then, by accident, he stumbled upon a discrepancy in the internal revenue department—and since then he has devoted most of his time unearthing corruption—but only among Democrats.

He has done a pretty good job plowing this one furrow, but the rest of his field has grown up in brambles and thistles, for he had to plow in the dark inasmuch as he was opposed to rural electrification, and the floods have submerged much of the field—he voted against controlling them. He has a nice home at the other end of the field, but other houses on the outskirts of the farm have fallen into the ditch because he opposed public housing and slum clearance. He helped plow under price control and weeds have become thickets all over the place, with the exception of that one furrow.

IT ISN'T NECESSARY TO LIE TO WIN ELECTIONS

Several weeks ago we were on a coach going from the Pennsylvania station to up-town Wilmington. There was one other passenger, a man, and he addressed himself to the coach driver:

"Eisenhower says he is not in favor of a laboring man getting more than one dollar a day—that they're not worth any more than that."

Then we opened our big mouth. "Sir, where did you get that information?" He had read it, he said, in a New York newspaper but he couldn't tell us the name of the paper, and we busted out and told him that we espoused the cause of the Democrat party, that he must have read some misleading headline instead of the story, because General Eisenhower would never make an utterance like that; that to do so would be political suicide, and, we added: "General Eisenhower would not make such a statement, because he does not believe in slave wages—he's not that kind of man."

But this past Wednesday we knew real disgust when a fellow by the name of Richard Nixon made an address at the airport at Springfield, Missouri. Dick Nixon, on the ticket with Eisenhower, said, and we quote: "Democrats were saying General Dwight Eisenhower 'doesn't like old people, doesn't like farmers, and will cut soldiers' pay and keep them longer in Korea.'"

And this is the same Dick Nixon who came to us pleading and cringing by way of television. He claimed that he was misunderstood. Everybody understands you pretty well by now, Dick.

No one ever said this knavish, churlish, nauseating, disgusting, degrading, despicable, outrageous thing you uttered at Springfield. We will not sully ourselves to sink to the sewers of billingsgate and gall in replying to Dick Nixon; we shall not debase and defile the clean, clean columns of the Harrington Journal by even the fleeting flicker of a mangy slur. We're refined to call him a liar—and, in addition, we have too much respect for liars.

One thing suggests another. You see a picture or you hear a song and if you are given to reminiscing, you are reminded of something you knew in the olden, golden glory of the days gone by. When we see General Eisenhower shifting from one stand to another, as he goes from state to state, we recall the time we attempted to ride over bumpy, lumpy country roads in the rumble seat of a Stutz Bearcat.

SOCIALISM IS A SLOW CREEPER

When we were a kid, being all kid, we fished—but only in April, May and a few days in early June. We lived in the hills and after the first few days of June the streams were so clear the fish could see us as well as we could see them and they wouldn't even accept a promissory note. They'd gather in a circle about two feet away from the bait, then look up at us and grin—and walk off with their hands in their pockets.

But we needed fish in July and August two or three times, for a fish fry, when we'd have big political meetings. We could capture enough fish by only one method—by using a seine. Quite a few fellows would contribute one dollar each to buy the seine, and we believed we were doing the neighborly thing, something akin to civic duty. But the scroll of the restless years unfold, and now we realize that we were practicing socialism. According to our Republican friends, we should have bought sardines, with soybean oil—sardines then protected from competition by a sky-reaching tariff—sardines from a big packing company in Maine.

"Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party!" That song, with all its tenderness and sweetness, comes back to us tonight. "I Was Seeing Nellie Home." Dear little Nellie, sweet, wistful—as stainless as the stars; Aunt Dinah, plump, motherly, smiling—Aunt Dinah, with her halo of silvery hair. She was our symbol of sweetness in those days now gone recall—and only today do we realize that we were submerged in a sloppy sea of sentiment. Stop The Music! Aunt Dinah was a durned socialist! Them other wimmin should not have come to her party to help her quilt—they should have bought the quilt from the J. C. Penney Stores.

They called Henry Ford a socialist because he would not join the rest of the automobile manufacturers in raising the price of cars beyond the reach of the average man. We refer, of course to the original Henry Ford, not the present watered-down, prices-up fellow bearing that honored name.

Chapman, alias "Johnny Appleseed," who went into the wilderness planting apple seeds so that the pioneers, years later, might have fresh fruit, was a socialist. The pioneers should have ignored those trees burdened with fruit—they should have ordered their apple seed from the Stark Nurseries.

And the pioneers themselves, who walloped the wilderness and rafted the rivers, helping each other for the benefit of all as they crept inch by inch over the hazardous trail of life and death—is that what our Republican friends call creeping socialism?

Even now, in many parts of America—it's been done here in Delaware within the past two or three years—when a man's home is destroyed by fire or storm, neighbor's have gathered in and worked day and night until the man had a new home. A blow to "Free Enterprise"—he should have ordered a tailor-made house from Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Just being neighborly, just helping each other—is that "creeping socialism?" If so, we hope it creeps forever. Heretical? Remember, please that the greatest thing said of One who walked the earth two thousand years ago was "He went about doing good."

THE CRYING NEED OF THE TIMES

A business man in a neighboring town has been cashing checks for factory workers for years. One came into his place of business recently and he noticed that she was wearing an Eisenhower button. "So you are for Ike," he said in a bantering manner, "May I ask why?" She studied a few seconds and then came up with a startling and original answer: "We need a change." "A change from what to what?" asked the business man.

"Well, my taxes are too high"—and there was a note of triumph in her voice as she felt she had justified her stand.

"I used to cash your checks several years ago," he reminded her, "and you received around thirty dollars for two weeks' work. Occasionally it was less than thirty, but most of the time it was a little more. Now your check for that same amount of work runs between ninety and one hundred dollars. After your taxes are deducted, you still take home much more than twice the amount of your total check of a few years ago. Maybe this little story will illustrate what I mean:

"A little boy, intent on buying some candy, lost his nickle. He was standing on the street crying when a man came along and asked him what was wrong. The boy told him and the man said: 'We will fix that right now,' and he gave the boy fifteen cents. The little fellow took the fifteen cents, looked at it and began to cry louder than ever. 'Here, here,' said the man, 'you were crying because you had lost your nickle. I gave you fifteen cents and now you are crying more than you did before. Why are you crying now?"

"'Because,' sobbed the heart-broken little fellow, 'if I hadn't lost my nickle, I'd now have twenty cents!'"

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor
It makes me feel very proud to have been selected as a candidate to run for Senator in the Fourth Senatorial District. I have always tried to live and let live.

My past record as Legislator is open for anyone to see. There has been a rumor as to how I voted on the bonus bill. This is a matter of record in the House Journal under special session 4th Legislative day, page 20—no nays—1 absent.

If you will check the records you will also find that I was in my seat when the voting was going on, and didn't take a walk when the going was tough.

If elected I will go to the Legislature to represent all of the people and not just a few. I also feel that I am close to the working people of this community having worked all my life and am going to continue to work for the interest of the people if elected Nov. 4.

Remember voters that you are not just voting for a name or a candidate, you are voting for your own welfare as well.

If you have confidence in me you can rest assured that I will not let you down if elected.

Don't Let Them Take It Away

The Republicans seed have sprouted anew, It befuddles the mind of quite a few; And many a man has gone plumb sour, And said he would vote for Eisenhower.

They have promised a lot and will promise more. Let's look and see what they did before. Twenty long years have passed and yet, Those Hoover Days I'll never forget.

When Hoover was in I lived on a farm, A dollar bill looked as long as my arm. I never saw a ten dollar bill. And if Ike is elected, I doubt if I will.

When Hoover was elected things were light. Rabbits were scarce and fish wouldn't bite. The men were too ragged to go anywhere, and the women wore floursack underwear.

Remember men when you cast your vote, If you vote for Ike you'll cut your throat. Would you have rather a life of ease Or water-gravy and black eyed peas?

Since Nineteen Hundred and Thirty Two The Republican party has been in a stew. They've called the Democrats nasty names, But the banks stayed open just the same.

If Ike is elected I'll move to the farm, I'll plant me some "taters" behind the barn, I'll steal my neighbors "roastin" ears, and try to get by four more years.

Don't let them take it away — Vote DEMOCRAT

Letter to the Editor

The press recently quoted Mr. Frank DuPont, National Executive Committee member of the Republican party from Delaware, as saying that the Democratic Party of Delaware was captive of "bosses" but failed to mention any or all names of the said "bosses"; therefore, there can be no question that Mr. DuPont is "BOSS" of the Republican Party and this was recently proved locally by the selection of the candidate for Senator from the Fourth Senatorial District and the Levy Court Commissioner of the Second Levy Court District. Two prominent Republicans of Harrington had filed in accordance with primary requirements with no opposition and were the choice of the Republican voters of the respective districts and had the approval of the committees of these districts. Evidently these candidates did not meet the requirements of Mr. DuPont and he personally took charge of the selections for these districts. After failing to prevail upon a popular independent Republican farmer to replace the local approved candidate he had Dr. W. T. Chipman accept the nomination for State Senator and Mr. Fulton Downing accepts the nomination for Levy Court Commissioner. Mr. Downing was the original candidate for Senator and Mr. Samuel M. Williams the candidate for Court commissioner. As far as can be ascertained the Republicans of the districts were not consulted in any manner, the whole decision being made by Mr. DuPont and the candidate involved and it's further rumored that Mr. DuPont has promised to finance the whole campaign in these districts. These facts are either "True or False" and the candidates involved should refute them if they are false. I am sure that your columns are open to them for this purpose.

It is "True or False" that a number of outstanding Republicans are taking no part in the campaign because of the above facts and their disapproval of the local leadership of the party.

It is "True or False" that the majority of the outstanding Republicans of the first of the Ninth Representative District were so disgusted with the method used in electing the present committee that they refused to participate in the primary and that they have demanded his removal and have been promised that this will be done immediately after election.

For those of us who believe in the two party system it is most regretful that the once great Republican party has reached this political "low."

Disgusted

Mr. and Mrs. Voter of Delaware:

The time is fast approaching, and indeed is very near at hand, when we will, by our votes, decide who will hold the reins of our government for the ensuing four years.

During this campaign you have heard much criticism of the present administration. Despite all this, one outstanding fact still remains. Never before in the history of our country have we enjoyed such an era of prosperity as we have since the great Delano Roosevelt first took his seat in the White House. Have you heard any Republican candidate cite any outstanding achievements of his party? Many of these candidates have their hopes for success in this election on the excessive use of empty words. Be not deceived by their much speaking. Let's go to the polls on Tues., Nov. 4, and vote for all candidates on the Democratic ticket; thereby assuring ourselves and our fellowmen of a continued reign of prosperity in this country.

C-K-R-T Auxiliary Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Callaway-Kemp-Raughley Tee Auxiliary Unit, Harrington, was held at the Post Home Tuesday evening, October 21st, with Mrs. Wm. Outten presiding.

Following the regular opening exercises, the unit decided to continue serving sandwiches at the Friday night dances for one more week. The committee who will work are, Mrs. O. T. Roberts, Jr., Mrs. Kenneth Aiken and Mrs. Clyde Tucker.

Mrs. Outten announced the following meetings of importance: State Executive Meeting at the Harrington Post, on Saturday afternoon, November 29th. The Kent County meeting Saturday afternoon Nov. 8, at Dover Post Home, and the New Castle County meeting Wednesday, October 29th, at 8 p. m., in the Delaware Post Home, in Wilmington.

The membership drive is under way, and all persons who are interested and eligible to join the American Legion Auxiliary are urged to call Mrs. James O'Neal for application blanks. This year there will be several prizes offered for membership quotas. They are: $3.00 to the first Unit reaching their quota in the Department, $2.50 to the second Unit reaching their quota in the department, $2.50 to the Unit in each county first reaching quota, $2.50 to the unit having the most new members for December 31, 1952, $3.00 to the unit having the most new members before convention. Mrs. George Ehinger will present a loving cup to the unit having the greatest percent of old members re-enrolled and the greatest percent of gain of a quota by May 31, 1952. This cup will be a traveling award and will remain with the winning unit on a one year basis.

Miss Sylvia Breeding and Miss Imogene Welch have been invited to attend the November meeting to tell of their week at Girl's State.

In connection with the interest of women's organizations in the Civil Defense program, the Unit voted to write for registration cards to be filled in by each member.

Coming up on the Auxiliary calendar will be the all important activity of collecting gifts for the Christmas Gift Shops at the Veterans Hospitals. Mrs. Frank O'Neal, Jr. is chairman of the committee. This year, in order to secure as many gifts as possible, the Unit will ask other women's organizations in Harrington if they would like to contribute gifts or money to this very worthwhile project of the American Legion Auxiliaries. These gifts are given to patients in the veterans hospitals at Brack-Ex, and Perry Point, and at Brandywine Sanatorium, and Delaware State Hospital. Each veteran may select as many gifts as he desires to send to his family at home. This enables them to do their Christmas shopping, with a minimum of effort on their part. The presents are gift wrapped and if they so desire, mailed to their families at home. Any article for a man or woman, boy or girl or baby within the price range of $1.00 to $1.50, will be gratefully accepted by members of the Harrington Auxiliary to be added to their own gifts for the Christmas Shops.

The refreshment committee for the November meeting will be: Mrs. Frank O'Neal, Jr. Mrs. James O'Neal, Mrs. Joseph Penny, Mrs. Albert Price, and Mrs. Oscar Nemesh.

Sunset

By Samuel A. Short, Jr.

When one's life is done and the bonds of mankind are freed, From its ghostly flute ascends the twilight song of death. From the grave that's cold and dark where mortal works long decayed Comes a sad sighing refrain of each shadow of silent breath.

Safe from the trials and tribulations and freed from earth, Marks a life well spent with it lengthy and longing years, With a sign of experience wisely spent from natures mirth. Brings memories back from ages past when sunset appears. Choosing well this glorious truth one may build with care, For the life that's lived as the corner stone of faith, Recalls the promises made with protection while here. To rejoice the love of God's will and unending grace.

Amongst Gods handiwork once view with awe and shameless pride, Behold tis seen the sunrise scroll of the masters sight, Comes the day of resurrection in him to confide Reminds all of their journeys end of Sunset and worthless life.

SHORT STORY
3-Minute Fiction

Rain On The Roof
By Harley Davis

THE INSTANT Jerry saw the girl he was glad it was raining. Because while it rained no one would want to go swimming and he wouldn't have to exhibit his spindling legs. The interest she had exhibited in him from the moment they were introduced would, he felt sure vanish as her first glimpse of him in a bathing suit. Thus arrayed he was almost a monstrosity. When the Burdons asked him up to their camp on Merrytime Island for a week-end he was tremendously pleased. He liked the outdoors, liked camp life, liked the Burdons and their friends. When they told him the Hodgsons were coming and they were bringing Edna Hodgson's younger sister it didn't spoil his anticipation of a good time much, either. But that was before he had met Doris Hodgson, the younger sister. Despite the rain they had a jolly time that evening. Dinner was served before the great stone fireplace. It was warm and cozy. Afterward they played games and danced to radio music. A feeling of good fellowship and camaraderie prevailed. Jerry had never been so happy in his life. He forgot all about his spindling legs. Even the fact that Tom Moore was there didn't spoil his happiness. Tom was tall and handsome and shaped like an Adonis. He was something to look at in a bathing suit. He was a marvel at all sports. But tonight he didn't. Doris Hodgson didn't give him any time. She had eyes only for Jerry. They danced together six times. They went out on the porch and watched the rain. They kissed. Jerry was deliciously happy. He'd never felt this way before, never knew what Jane was like. Later, in bed, he lay awake listening to the beat of rain on the roof. And every drop brought joy to his soul.

Bright sunlight streaming in at his bedroom window roused Jerry to wakefulness. He sat up, blinking, staring through the window at the glories of a sparklingly brilliant morning. He couldn't believe it. Last night, late last night, it had been pouring. All indications pointed to at least a three-day rain. And here it was bright and clear! One of those miserable freaks of New England climate.

Gloomily he dressed. Every one was in the gayest of spirits, and, as he feared, immediately after breakfast someone suggested a swim. Tom Moore suggested it, eyeing Jerry smilingly, triumphantly.

There wasn't much Jerry could do. He had to be a good sport. A poor sport was worse than—well, than resenting being laughed at.

Jerry sat on the edge of the pier and dangled his legs. He felt like a nickel. Nobody had laughed yet, because all but Doris were used to him. But pretty soon, he knew, Tom Moore would attract attention to his legs by some remark, and then Doris would look—and that would be the end.

Tom was swimming back to the float with clean, swift strokes. He came half way up the ladder, clung to a rung, leaned out and looked at Jerry's legs, grinning evilly. "It's a wonder," he said, "that those shanks of yours can hold you up, Jerry."

Tom mounted to the top platform and posed again. Jerry burned with envy. He was so absorbed in watching Tom and envying him that he didn't realize that Doris came and sat down beside him.

"Is this an exhibition?" she asked, "or can we all take part?" She was looking at his spindling legs. Jerry flushed and a wave of anger and indignation stole over him.

"It isn't my fault," he said defensively. "If there were anything I could do about it I most certainly would."

She looked at him queerly. She laughed. "Why, I don't expect you to do anything. You're not the best. But I don't think they'd mind if we didn't stay here and watch him. After all, they're not paying him to perform."

Jerry's mouth fell open. He stared. He looked up at Tom. He looked back at the girl. He bounded to his feet. "Glory be!" he exclaimed in joyful relief, "let's take a walk."

"I'd love to," said Doris.

Crop Practice Reports Asked
Farmers who have carried out approved crop practices in 1952 should report the performance of these practices to their county Production and Marketing Administration offices promptly, Ernest S. Mattiford, chairman of the Delaware State PMA committee, Department of Agriculture, said today.

Community committeemen of the PMA are now visiting farmers, so that the notices of the 1953 approved practices may be sent out before the beginning of the next program year Jan. 1. Reports must be supported by sales tickets or other written evidence covering purchase of seed or material used, Mr. Mattiford said.

As the second largest corn and soybean crops are being harvested this year, farmers are advised to use the government's price support program to market steadily, instead of attempting to sell most of the crop in the first few months after harvest.

The loan rate for cob corn stored on farms in Delaware is $1.76 a bushel, and the support price in Delaware for soybeans is $2.50 per bushel for yellow beans, and $2.25 for black beans. Mr. Mattiford disclosed that the Department of Agriculture has bought another 2,628,000 pounds of frozen ready-to-cook 1952-crop turkeys, raising total purchases under the surplus removal program to 13,500,000 pounds.

The program provides an outlet for the temporary surplus of turkeys, which are resulting in unfavorable prices to producers, Mr. Mattiford explained. Turkeys purchased with funds provided by Congress, to encourage consumption of agricultural commodities by diverting surplus quantities from normal channels of trade, will be distributed to nonprofit school lunch programs.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

Well, it will soon be over whether it is Ike or Adlai. Some of us are going to pick the winner and many, many are going to be for the loser. You know when it comes to picking a winner, television can be the one thing that you can all pick and be a winner. Philco is that winner. There are lots of different makes of television, but why pick something inferior when you can pick Philco and get the best?

When tossing up a coin, it will drop either heads or tails, and the same thing applies to Admiral television. We have the very latest in table sets starting at $179.95 up to combinations, all 1953. It is high time you were thinking about that TV if you are expecting it for Christmas, especially the best sellers in the market today, Philco and Admiral.

Have just received 35 or 40 new table radios, and, of course, they are 1953 models. Wonderful sets at a wonderful price. Why they even pick up talk from ships, airplanes and many other interesting items. In fact, I expect if they had radios on Mars we would be picking them up also. Of course, Philco can do this and Philco we have. I am thinking of the incoming election returns and wonder if you can sit back and take it all in, or do you like some others, go to bed to keep warm? We have heaters that you will be proud to own and pretty as well.

We have a gas heater that will heat your whole home, office or what not down to a small one-room heater. I know when you drop in at Wheeler's and see these heaters you will say hook one up at my home. The price of gas is very low and pay only at the end of each month as you use it. If you prefer oil for heating, good enough, that, too, we can do. Hook it up, fill your drum with oil and you sit back and say, well, that is what you call service.

Whether the weather is cold, raining, snowing or blowing on the outside, it doesn't make any difference when you let us install an automatic washer and dryer. Folks, they are wonderful, and if you have company today, you can just turn on your switch and your washing will take care of itself. You don't even put your hands in water. Thanksgiving is a thankful day and even more so when your wife is thankful for the new look you have given her by putting on a new pattern of wallpaper.

You really will enjoy that turkey when your company arrives and you have a nice clean wallpapered room to greet them. Think it over and run over to Wheeler's or call Phone 541 Harrington.

Speaking of Thanksgiving, do you have the necessary stove to do this day justice? We can certainly help you along this line whether it be electric or gas. Several electric and several gas ranges to choose from, so don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today.

DO YOU WANT THE "FEAR," "UNEMPLOYMENT," "BANKRUPTCY" AND POVERTY OF THE REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATIONS OF HARDING, COOLIDGE AND HOOVER FROM 1920 to 1932 OR DO YOU WANT THE HOPE, FULL EMPLOYMENT OF SIXTY TWO MILLION, PROSPERITY and plenty of the Democratic administrations under Roosevelt and Truman? Answer by your vote November 4th.

Do you want the apathy, penny pinching and do nothing of the Republican state administrations under Governors Buck and Bacon or the progressive program (of and for the people) of the Democratic administration under Governor Carvel? Answer by your vote November 4th.

Do you want neglect of schools and highways of the Republican administrations of the Fourth Senatorial District of Kent County or the progressive assistance and aid given by the Democratic administration under the leadership of Governor Carvel? Answer by your vote November 4th.

Vote the straight Democratic ticket and continue the progressive "for the people" program from a National, State and District level.

PROGRESS UNDER DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION ON A NATIONAL LEVEL

For the farmer: Rural electrification - 1932 ten percent of our farmers had electricity - In 1952 ninety percent had electricity.

1932 farm prices were 42 percent below parity-1952 seven percent above parity.

1932 net income for the average farmer (excluding inventory gains) was $280.00. In 1951 $2800.00

Farmers have been helped by fair price supports, conservation of soil, self farm ownership account reasonable credit costs, electricity, telephone and research.

For the laboring men and women: They have been helped by higher wages, minimum hourly pay of seventy five cents, Social Security, Unemployment Insurance, Public Housing, Federal Bank Deposit Insurance, increased retirement pay of retired rail road employes and including wives and survivors on same basis as Social Security. Enacted by a Democratic Congress and approved by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman

For the Veterans: G. I. Bill of Rights covering education assistance, loans for homes and business including farms, hospital and medical care for the disabled, vocational rehabilitation, compensation for war incurred disabilities, national life insurance and other benefits. Sponsored and approved by Democratic Congress and approved by President Truman. These benefits also apply to Korean veterans. In the year ending June 30, 1951 $8,802,309.00 paid to Delaware veterans and dependents.

National Income: 1932 was 39,000,000,000.00 - 1952 $260,000,000,000.00 Average per capita income 1932—$400.00 1952—$1500.00

In 1951 the American People had three times as much money left over, after taxes, as in the best years of either Coolidge or Hoover administrations.

Do you want to change from this? Answer by your vote November 4th.

PROGRESS UNDER DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION ON A STATE LEVEL

The Democratic administration under the great leadership of Governor Elbert N. Carvel has no equal in the history of Delaware for accomplishments. He ascertained by surveys, personal contacts and correspondence what the people of Delaware wanted. This was written in the Democratic platform, presented to the people and approved by them in the 1948 election. Eighty percent of the program was approved despite the fact that the Democratic party did not control both branches of the legislature in either session.

Schools — $35,000,000 building program completed or in process. Teachers salaries raised to prevailing standard after being practically ignored by the Bacon Republican administrations. The Republican candidate for State Senator from the Fourth Senatorial District was a member of the 1947 session.

Hospital and welfare institutions received increased appropriations.

VETERANS: Under the leadership of Governor Carvel a grateful state paid the veterans of World War II a bonus of approximately $7,000,000. Also an appropriation of six thousand dollars annually for service to veterans and their dependents. This was ignored by the 1947 Republican controlled legislature. The Republican candidate for State Senator from this District was a member of this session.

HIGHWAYS: A great highway building and repair program was inaugurated by the Democratic administration and results are evident in all parts of the state including main highways, rural roads and connecting links in all cities and towns. This was also neglected by the 1947 Republican legislature.

The Carvel farm research and farm aid program at a cost of nearly one quarter million dollars annually is paying off. The republican administration under Governor Bacon was spending thirty thousand dollars annually for this purpose. Re-elect Governor Carvel and the entire Democratic ticket on November 4th and keep Delaware going forward and prospering. Delaware is a large corporation today handling $60,000,000 annually and needs a man of business and executive experience and Governor Carvel has both. Don't take a chance on a novice for this great job. Give him a Democratic legislature by electing Jehu F. Camper senator and Leon Donovan and S. Tilden Hughes representatives. Vote the full democratic ticket including Fred Greenly for Levy Court Commissioner and William Fleischauer Jr. for Coroner.

PROGRESS UNDER DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION ON A LOCAL LEVEL

The Fourth Senatorial District of Kent was grossly and wilfully neglected by the Republican administrations presumably because it believes in the Democratic Party and voted accordingly. It was a long wait for many of the things that belonged to us but under the present Democratic administration the following is a partial and factual record of what we have received.

SCHOOL: $25,000.00 oil burning heating equipment and $250,000.00 state aid on the present new school project.

Highway Construction: New road Hollandsville to Maryland line; New road Felton to Mastens Corner; New road Felton to Mastens Corner Harrington Road.

New Road: Blades Cross Roads to Farmington including West Street Harrington

Horns Corner to Maryland Line via Brownsville
Andrewsville to Greenwood
Adamsville to Burrsville
Through Vernon

Fair Ground to Harrington Farmington road
Widening of road: Harrington to Frederica
Warrens School to Sandtown

New Road Petersburg to Barratts Chapel

Do you want to change from this consideration and treatment after the years of neglect by the Republican Party? The Democratic candidate Jehu F. Camper served in the 1949 legislature as a Representative and he voted for the veterans bonus, the school building program, the road building program, the school teachers wage increases and other progressive legislation enacted at that session. He was born in this vicinity, educated at the Harrington Public School and conducted a business in this locality for a number of years and has been active in civic, church and club organization. Has served as President of the Lions Club and the Harrington Fire Company. He is a Director of the Peoples Bank and the Kent & Sussex Fair Association. Mr. Camper is a man of character, integrity and his honesty has never been questioned and is worthy of your support. Vote the full Democratic ticket on November 4th.
