

$5,000,000 Shopping Center To Be Built Near Dover

Collins Firm Also Building 1200 Homes

A $5,000,000 shopping center will be built near Dover by the Collins Housing Corporation, John J. Sheridan, the firm's vice-president in charge of construction, announced Wednesday.

The center, planned to contain chain food, drug, and variety stores, is part of the Collins firm's 1,200 to 1,500-unit Capitol Green housing development for Dover Air Force Base and civilian families.

The corporation is negotiating leases with five large chain stores, including a leading supermarket which plans to open the largest food market south of Wilmington, Mr. Sheridan said. He declined to reveal the names of the concerns prior to the signing of leases.

Capitol Green, which is already under construction, is the first large development to be handled by the newly organized Federal Housing Administration office for Delaware.

The site of the homes and shopping center is east of Legislative Hall on the new DuPont Highway cut-off.

Parking for 1,750 Cars

The shopping center's main building, on a seven and one-half acre tract, will have a 1,400-foot frontage and 113,000 square feet of floor space on the ground level. It will have a parking area for 1,750 cars.

Grading has been finished and construction is expected to begin within a month. Completion of the center is looked for by Labor Day next year.

A 16-alley bowling center is also being constructed on a two-acre plot allocated for recreation. Another 1,400-foot frontage tract has been reserved on the opposite side of the cut-off for the shopping center's future expansion.

Sample House Open

Sample houses in Capitol Green are now open. Completion of the project is expected by spring of 1954.

Sample houses have been furnished by Nap and Spence of Dover. They will remain open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily.

Streets are to be built according to State Highway Department specifications, and upon completion are to be turned over to the department for maintenance.

The area has been landscaped with six inches of topsoil. Curbs and sidewalks are being completed this week. More than $18,000 has been spent for underground pipes to insure proper drainage and to eliminate possible flood conditions.

Separate Driveways

There will be complete off-street parking, with each home having its own driveway. The development is connected

J. Harry Raughley, 82, Former Mayor, Dies

James Harry Raughley, 82, died at his home, 48 Commerce St., Harrington, Tuesday evening.

Last March he suffered an epileptic attack and had been confined to his home since then.

He was born near Woodside, but moved with his parents to Maryland when a small boy. He was educated in the schools of Caroline County, Md. He returned to Delaware about 50 years ago where he was extensively engaged in partnership farming with his brother, R. Emmett Raughley, until the latter's death in 1945.

He was a loyal Democrat and was elected to the Kent County Levy Court in 1918. He served as representative in the State legislature in 1931-32. He served on the town board from 1936-1940, and served as mayor from 1940 to 1946, refusing to run for re-election.

He was a member of Trinity Methodist Church, serving as trustee and on the pastoral relations committee, and was a charter member of the Fellowship Bible Class.

He was never married. He is survived by a sister, Miss Mary E. Raughley, of Harrington; four brothers, P. Selden Raughley, of Frederica; Ernest B. Raughley, of Rehoboth; Alfred and Clifford Raughley, of Harrington, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at Trinity Methodist Church tomorrow afternoon at 1:30, in charge of the pastor, the Rev. Milton Elliott, assisted by a former pastor, the Rev. Frederick H. Truitt, St. Michaels, Md. Interment will be in Denton Cemetery, Denton, Md. Friends may call at the Boyer Funeral Home tonight and at the church after 12 o'clock tomorrow.

to Dover gas, water, and sewer systems.

Single bungalows are furnished with hot water heat and electric ranges. The two-story homes have oil-fired warm air heating, as ranges, and electric refrigerators.

One hundred and forty-five two and three bedroom homes are being completed for Air Force occupancy. These two-story masonry houses will sell from approximately $9,720 to $10,890, and will rent from $75 to $95 per month.

Sixty single story bungalows are being finished for civilians. These will sell from $9,990 to $10,590, with rentals from $80 to $95, depending on location and number of bedrooms.

W. S. C. S. Gives Christmas Skit

In spite of the inclement weather, a large group of members of the W. S. C. S. assembled in Collins Hall of Asbury Church for a covered dish—supper which was followed by the business meeting at which Mrs. Charles Greenhaugh, president, presided.

Various reports and items of business, including the sale of nylon hosiery, were given.

Mrs. Mark Willey, chairman of program, presented a most interesting program in which several of the members: Mrs. Harold Fry, Mrs. Charles Rapp, Mrs. Jehu Camper, Mrs. Howard Wagner, Mrs. W. W. Sharp, Mrs. George Vapaa, Mrs. Charles Peck, Jr., and Paul Wagner posed as living pictures representing the women who have kept Christianity alive through the ages.

Paul Wagner impersonated Timothy. The skit was entitled "Shining as the Stars Forever." Mrs. Robert VanCleaf played Christmas carols on the organ through the dramatization, and Mrs. Greenhaugh lighted the stars on the Christmas tree as each one posed. Mrs. Willey was the reader.

Mrs. J. W. Sheldrake led the devotions. Mrs. Theodore Harrington was in charge of the covered dish supper, assisted by her committee.

SAFETY TAPE ON BICYCLES

Past-Governor Wm. Fleischauer, Sr., presided at the regular Moose Lodge meeting Tuesday evening.

Plans were laid for another oyster roast or ham platter to be held at the Lodge Saturday, December 13. Clayton Lord of Milford will be in charge of the tickets.

Some time ago the Lodge adopted a Lite-a-Bike program and quite a bit of reflector tape has been donated to the Lodge, Curtis Melvin, civic affairs chairman, is now making this plan a reality. Mr. Melvin has met with J. C. Messner, Harrington school superintendent, and explained this plan. Safety tape is to be placed on handle-bars and rear fenders of all bikes in this area, thus making dusk and night bike riding safer. The tape will reflect the motorist lights, thus making bicycles easier to see during the danger period. Mr. Melvin and his committee met at the school Wednesday noon and began with the bicycles there.

Children who did not get the Scotch-Lite tape on their bicycles, may go to the Community Esso Station and tape will be installed.

Century Club Hears Kent Home Agent

Miss Charlotte Swanson, Kent County Home Demonstration Agent, was the guest speaker at the Harrington New Century Club Tuesday afternoon. Following her theme of "Winter Bouquets," Miss Swanson showed the use of pods, grasses, leaves and berries which can be gathered from Delaware fields and coast lines.

Mrs. A. B. Parsons, program chairman, followed with an interesting program of American homes.

At the business meeting, Mrs. Clyde Perry was appointed new corresponding secretary. Mrs. E. E. Egan, state president of the Delaware State Federation advisory committee, urged cooperation for a free Europe and Asia.

Contributions were made to the Iron Curtain Refugee Campaign and General Clay Fun for German Youth Assistance.

Mrs. Burton Myer, state chairman for literature, is preparing a list of books for suggestive reading by members of clubs planning to compete for the state literature prize which is a silver tray. Four books are to be read, fiction or non-fiction, with a written report on one. Mrs. John Parks is literature chairman.

At the next meeting, December 16, each member will please bring fruit, candies, nuts, or anything for the Christmas rambances for our shut-in members.

The program was in charge of Mrs. A. B. Parsons, Mrs. L. H. Rogers, Mrs. Ethel Hunter, Mrs. Reese Harrington, Mrs. Howard Dupee, and Mrs. David McKibben.

Shellac as Stiffener
Something new has been added to the long list of the uses for shellac. A crinoline dress manufacturer has advocated that clear shellac be brushed on to re-stiffen net crinolines. Such a delicate use should be left to the experts.

Santa Claus to Usher In Civic Christmas Program Tomorrow Afternoon

Ordinance Passed Prohibiting Establishment of Cemeteries In City Without Council's O. K.

Body Also Grants Free Use of Meters From Dec. 15 to Dec. 25

The City Council voted to adopt an ordinance, at its December meeting Monday evening, prohibiting the establishment of cemeteries within the city limits, without Council approval.

Other business of the Council included appointment of judges for Christmas decorations, agreement to pay for current for Christmas lighting, and the granting of free parking.

Ordinance No. 47, pertaining to cemeteries, reads: "Be it ordained, that no cemetery or public or private burial ground shall be established within the corporate limits of the City of Harrington without first having obtained the consent and approval of the Council of the City of Harrington."

"Upon receipt of an application for the establishment of a cemetery or public or private burial ground, the City Council shall give notice of the same by publishing such notice in The Harrington Journal for three consecutive issues and thereafter shall sit as a body to hear arguments for and against the granting of a permit.

"If a majority of the property owners in the vicinity of the proposed location of said cemetery or public or private burial ground shall object to the granting of such permit, such permit will not be granted."

In other Council business, Councilmen George Vapaa and George Graham and City Manager Grace Wanda Quillen were appointed members of a committee to judge decorations in the Christmas lighting contest, sponsored by Harrington civic interests each year.

The Council, furthermore, voted to grant nine days of free parking in the areas served by the parking meters. The devices will not be in use from Dec. 15 to December 25.

Porch Destroyed When Hit by Truck

The front porch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Schepp, at 110 Dorman St., was totally destroyed Wednesday evening when hit by a truck driven by Jack Bradley. Bradley escaped without injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Schepp were not at home at the time of the accident.

Special Lights Will Be Turned On in The Evening

Santa Claus will appear here tomorrow afternoon with apples and oranges for the children, as the annual Christmas program of civic interests begins. In the evening, the Christmas lighting will be turned on.

Santa will appear in his sleigh at 2 p. m. snow or no snow, in a parade, led by the Harrington High School Band, to his house adjacent to the Ernest Raughley Insurance Service.

Madalyn Tharp will assist Santa this year, with J. Edward Taylor providing Santa's transportation. Benjamin Emory, Jr., will again be in charge of the Santa Claus house, where Saint Nick will be at home at 2 p. m. sharp tomorrow. He will be in the business district and in the stores from 6 to 8 p. m. each Saturday until Christmas and on Christmas Eve.

Other portions of the Christmas program call for the awarding of prizes for decorated homes, with the schedule as follows: first prize, $25; second, $15; third, $10, and fourth, $5. A prize of $15 will be given for the best decorated store window.

City Manager Grace Wanda Quillen will be chairman of the committee judging the homes. She will select her assistants from the City Council.

J. Edward Taylor will provide the Christmas tree to be installed at the corner of the Post Office.

Decorative lights in the business district will have a new ornament this year. Three-foot spruce pines will garnish the 18 light standards.

Raymond Giles, Claud Cahall, and Clarence Collins constitute the committee on street lighting, current for which will be paid for by the City.

J. Edward Taylor, Charles Peck, Jr., and Benjamin Emory, Jr., are in charge of moving the Santa Claus house to its site.

A loud speaking system will be used this year for Christmas music. Recordings of Christmas music are wanted. Anyone desiring to utilize Santa's services for their own Christmas party may do so with a donation to Santa himself. Interested persons should contact Madalyn Tharp.

Eugene Anderson, of the American Legion, has supervised the procurement of apples and oranges by the veterans' group. Santa will give the children the fruit and candy and nuts Christmas Eve at 2 p. m.

World Death Rates Decreasing Through Medical Techniques

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Extensive application of the recent advances in medicine and public health has strikingly improved health conditions throughout the world. Comparing death rates just before and after World War II, they show that in each of 19 countries in both hemispheres the rate has declined by more than eight per cent, and in nine of these countries it has dropped 20 per cent or more.

"Translated into terms of life conservation," statisticians point out, "this means that millions of persons over the world are saved from death each year."

Of marked significance, according to the statisticians, are the declines in mortality recorded in the so-called underdeveloped and poorer sections of the globe. In Japan the death rate fell by 30 per cent, largely as the result of public health measures instituted by the American army of occupation. In Ceylon an anti-malaria campaign was an important factor in markedly lowering the death rate during the post-war years, and in India the death rate has declined by about one fifth between the pre-war and post-war years.

Substantial, though not as dramatic, declines were registered in Puerto Rico, Mexico, Costa Rica, Chile, and Venezuela.

England and Wales experienced a mortality decline of 27%, and the United States a decline of 23%, but their record is still far above that for Norway which has the lowest death rate in the world.

Recent gains in mortality in the Western nations are credited in large measure to control of the infectious diseases by the wide-spread and effective use of sulphur drugs, penicillin, and other antibiotics.

Prize-Winning Question Set Belatedly Accepted

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Contest winners are usually surprised when they are awarded prizes, but few could be more startled than was Mrs. Samuel Yochelson of Buffalo.

Mrs. Yochelson received an encyclopedia and a letter through the mail explaining that it was a prize on a radio program.

A panel of experts on a broadcast had failed to correctly identify all of a series of questions she submitted.

Mrs. Yochelson had mailed in the questions in 1939—twelve years ago.

'Induced Insanity' Reported at Duke

PINEHURST, N. C.—A case of "induced insanity," a rare behavior phenomenon, was reported here by a Duke University psychiatrist.

Dr. Leonard J. Ravitz told the Southern Psychiatric Association about a strange case of fraternal twins, one of whom became the "echo" of the other's deluded ideas.

This case of "contagious insanity" has been recorded by Dr. Ravitz's newly announced electronic theory of psychiatry, linked with the solar system. By means of a microvoltmeter Dr. Ravitz measures the changes in a person's emotional disturbance from second to second, from one day to another, and from season to season.

Once, after twin "A" mentioned that he had produced many earthquakes, tornadoes, hurricanes, and floods, "B" thought a while, agreed, then asked, "Did you have anything to do with the snowfall 28 inches deep?"

This belief in A's power was clearly induced in B by A's suggestion, Dr. Ravitz said. However, B was much more suggestible to A's delusions when B's measurements—"electrical potentials"—were high. As his potentials decreased, B's suggestibility to these delusions decreased despite the fact that A's potentials were high. And A himself behaved much more normally as his potentials decreased.

Microfilm Brings Expense Of Bulky Publications Down

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—A new way in which bulky or rare, but highly-important publications are becoming available at low cost to the world's libraries is being demonstrated at the University of Illinois.

The system, microprinting, is somewhat like the well-known microfilm system in that a reading machine is used to project the pages back to original size for use. But unlike microfilm, which is a photographic process, microprint is a printers' ink process. When 50 or more copies are desired, this makes it cheaper than microfilm. With it, 200 greatly-reduced pages can be printed on the two sides of a 6x9-inch card.

Prof. Edgar L. Erickson of the University's history department is displaying results of 10 years of work toward editing and microprinting the 6,000 volumes of the "Session Papers" for the 19th century. He is editor of this project, sponsored by the American Historical Association and the Readex Microprint corporation.

Information in the "Session Papers" is highly important for historical and other studies. Yet complete sets of the volumes exist only in two places, the British Parliament's own library, and the British Museum.

SULKY SLANTS

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith
It is obvious that everyone is in the Christmas spirit as everywhere I happen to go the same ole saying, have you done your shopping? Not me. I'm always the tail-end one.

And when our general manager, Mr. Holloway, doesn't have news, you know it's quiet at the track.

Happened in our track restaurant now being operated by Mrs. Wheatley. Certainly is clean and pretty nice, all in all.

As usual, on Thanksgiving Day we had our dinner at the Wonder Bar. We decided we would ride down to Ocean Downs. Well, I've never taken so many wrong roads. For no reason at all, I kept ending up in Millsboro and Dagsboro. Was loads ended up on the road that brings you right in Rehoboth, and in the game reserve lake were at least a thousand wild ducks. The road along the lake was lined with cars. We aren't the only ones that enjoy the sights, and as the evening wore on and lights were dotting the farms and some, snow here and there, then the lights from the raceway, and if fun as really that's the way to see the countryside. So many hidden lakes you would never know were so close around. We had a perfect day.

Bobby Ray has moved his stable to Wilmington, N. C., to winter train.

Jimmy Sivers has added another New York horse to his stable.

Paul Vinyard tells me he now has 15 head in training.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith had as their guests over Thanksgiving to visit their farm, Stanley Dancer and family. Mrs. Griffith said here were so many she didn't know them all.

Mr. Clukey certainly is coming along with his new stable, and what is a prettier view than those pretty white fences and the mares and colts grazing without a care in the world?

colts now in the breaking stage. colts now in the breaking stage. He has turned out his aged stock ill after the first of the year. I'll bet there isn't any youngster on the grounds that loves horses like little Judy Davis.

Little Billy Carter over to visit me. Billy, will you get that pony this Christmas?

Ran into Mom Stubbs and Gene down town. What a nice youngster, and so polite.

Alex, who works for Jack Walters, back after a week's vacation. I'm sure glad Alex is back. Jack's goat really missed him.

Wonder if Mr. and Mrs. Bowers had a Thanksgiving like they had three years ago. I'll bet their home that extends out in Chesapeake Bay is beautiful at this time of the year. You see, they had a dinner for the trainers and their wives. I'll never forget it, an old-fashioned setting. Just beautiful.

Had a nice letter from Mrs. Wilkerson, who has charge of publicity at Buffalo Raceway. She will pay a visit with us after New Years.

Mildred, I think your parrot is some bird, but he didn't greet me with very good language. Boy, what a bird! I believe you and Harold have more white-faced cattle than anyone around at present. Now you can buy that race horse you want.

Betty Cain dashing over to her mother's, bet for a good breakfast.

Was over to visit Mr. Drummond in Milford, who has three horses, one Bill Gallon filly.

And ole Jake is still on foot and as mean as ever, but he did really remember me.

Mrs. Earl Thomas really made a beautiful home from one they purchased on Clark Street.

Sarah, since you are on vacation, are you coming out to help Bobby?

On my way to Trappe, Md., to visit another stock farm. More next week.

FELTON AVON CLUB NEWS

The theme for the Avon Club program, held the day before Thanksgiving, was "Americanism-Religion-Citizenship." The meeting was opened with devotional services. Lois Holden gave a short prayer and Homer Torbert, Jr. sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the piano by Norma Lee Torbert. Mrs. William Hitchens and Mrs. Lynn Torbert were program chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Paul Hughes, Mrs. Francis Holden and Mrs. John Bunnell. Mrs. Hitchens combined the three arts for the theme of the program. Mrs. John Bunnell gave the background of some American hymns; Mrs. Paul Hughes displayed some famous works of American artists and Mrs. Francis Holden read religious poems by religious authors. Mrs. Kenneth Grant of Wilmington, a former club member, was a guest. Contributions were made to the Christmas Community Fund and the Crusade for Freedom. Mrs. Howard Henry reported a $100 was cleared from the recent bake and apron sale. Mrs. Albert Warren, International Relations chairman, reported on a UNESCO meeting, which she attended at the home of Mrs. Cummins Speakman, Smyrna. Mrs. Warren asked for funds and sewing materials for the General Clay Fund. The club will hold a family Christmas party Wednesday evening, December 10, in the Community Hall. The Girl Scout Troop, No. 1, which the club sponsors, will be guests at this party.

Loyal Workers Hold Party

The Loyal Workers Class of Trinity Church was entertained by Mrs. H. Clyde Miller at her home on Weiner Avenue at its annual Christmas party Monday evening.

The business was in charge of the president, Mrs. Orie Hobbs. Reports of the various activities were given, and plans made for future work.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Miller, assisted by Miss Myrtle Anderson and Mrs. Earl Sylvester.

As is the custom at the annual Christmas party, gifts were exchanged and games enjoyed. Mrs. Miller and her committee, Mrs. Lelia Hopkins, Mrs. William Jester, Sr., Mrs. Grover Lord, and Mrs. Viola Jacobs, served refreshments in keeping with the season.

The meeting was largely attended by members and guests who look forward to the annual party.

RUBERT L. COLLINS

Harrington, Del.

SHORT STORY
Her Part
By Duke Allisont

JERRY liked to imagine that she did things to attract his attention. Her name was Bonny Taylor. He noticed her the first day she came to work for the No-Skid Tire Company. She was a secretary to Mr. MacMerry, whose office was located across the room from where Jerry sat at a desk and officiated as assistant to the foreign agency manager. Two or three times a day she walked by his desk on the way to the water cooler or the corridor outside. Sometimes he'd meet her on the stairs. Once she came into the restaurant where he was eating lunch. Twice he came face to face with her on the street. He began pretending she was trying to attract his attention, that all their casual meetings were the products of artifices instigated by her. After working in the same office with her for a month it naturally happened that when they met outside they exchanged impersonal nods. But beyond this nothing happened.

This was in sharp contrast to her association with the other young men in the office. Evidently Jerry watched them flirt with her, watched her encourage their attentions, yet never show partiality, always maintain a certain poise and dignity. This, he decided, was part of her game. She was, it soon became evident, angling for Dan Stevens, who was the son of the company's vice-president. Watching all this Jerry was sickened. He was thankful that no one knew of his secret dreams. In order to spare himself more unhappiness he pretended an interest in Doris Damon, the stenographer to whom he sometimes dictated letters. Doris was a blonde with blue eyes and when you stopped to analyze her she wasn't bad looking. Doris liked him. He could tell that by the way she looked and talked. This liking gave him a measure of pleasure, served to salve the wounds unwittingly inflicted by Bonny Taylor's indifference. Matters were in this state when the Non-Skid Tire Company's office force held its annual banquet and dance in the Hotel Mayfield. Jerry asked Doris Damon to attend with him and she accepted. There were 20 present in the banquet hall and Jerry discovered that directly across the table from him Bonny Taylor and Dan Stevens were sitting. He tried to concentrate on Doris. He tried to think of a topic of conversation in which they could become involved and which would absorb his attention. But it wasn't any use. His eyes continuously dwelt on the slim loveliness of Bonny Taylor. He went into the men's dressing room and smoked a cigaret in miserable solitude. When he returned to the hall the dance was in progress. Standing in the archway he suddenly became conscious of some one beside him and saw that it was Bonny Taylor. Prompted by an irrational impulse he asked her to dance, and before he knew how it came about she was in his arms.

Prompted by an irrational impulse he asked her to dance, and before he knew how it came about she was in his arms.

It may have been the wine Jerry drank at dinner or it may have been the culmination of all the weeks of pretending that prompted his next move. They were passing a door that opened onto a dimly lit veranda. He danced her through it. Suddenly they were alone. They had stopped dancing. Jerry heard himself saying: "Listen, Bonny Taylor, why don't you stop making a fool of yourself over those empty-headed asses in the office and marry me?" "You never asked me," said Bonny Taylor. Bonny laughed softly and lifted her face to his. "I've been waiting for you to ask me ever so long. I've been trying to attract your attention for ages. I contrived to meet you places, I passed your desk a half dozen times a day. I followed you into restaurants. It never did any good. Finally I began flirting with other men in the office in the hopes that you might want to flirt too. But that didn't do any good. I managed to sit across from you tonight and waited for you to come into the dance hall—why, my heavens, I've certainly done my part." Jerry grabbed her. "Baby," he said. "Leave the rest to me."

Molasses Cake
Molasses cake should be cooked in thick loaves as it burns easily and may scorch if laid out too thin. Tins should be lined with greased paper for such cakes.

Pork Replaces Beef
Make your Spanish rice or your stuffing for green peppers with pork sausage to replace the ground beef. You'll find it's delightfully tasty and different as well.

Foreign Teachers to Study Here

Fourteen teachers of English representing ten foreign countries will make an intensive study of public education in Delaware, according to Dr. George R. Miller, Jr., state superintendent. The teachers will begin a 30-day visit to Delaware January 5. "Assignments to school districts are now being made," Dr. Miller added. The visiting is a part of the International Teacher Education program sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education. The delegation to Delaware is a part of more than 300 teacher trainees involving 49 countries who will visit the United States this year. Explaining the program for the 14 teachers, Dr. Miller stated that local school districts will provide opportunities to visit classes and to secure an insight into school administration and extra-curricular activities, P. T. A. meetings, and community affairs. In addition to their observation of our public school procedures, we are interested in their comments of education in the respective countries they represent," Dr. Miller said.

RAT FOOLER
Patented Feb. 2 1952 — No. 687-392

Two-way Rat Fooler, improved—it gets all of the rats. People use them all over the United States, in cow barns, hog houses, chicken houses, homes, factories, docks, hospitals, or anywhere there are rats.

Now is the time to buy a Rat Fooler Box. You have two chances—you get a box of Warfarin, put it in feeder. There is also a box of special powder to be put on the floor in center of box in front of the bait. In that way you have two chances, bait poison and powder poison. He gets his feet in poison, licks feet, goes to his bed and dies.

With this box you don't have to worry about your pets getting poison. You bait and powder the box and put it where you see rats using, and in two or three days you will see no tracks, no rats. Hide it from view, rats won't travel where they can see you. This Rat Fooler with its two-way poison, will destroy rats faster than they can breed. It works on them all the time.

The price is small compared to the damage rats do. You get box and powder for $3.50, with Warfarin bait, it is $4.50. Check or money order.

Television treat... the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR... every fourth Tuesday

POWER STEERING
on the Roadmaster and Super

How would you like the fun of Christmas to last all the year through? That's the way it seems to be when you call this Buick beauty your own—what with the constant cheer it brings to you week after week, month after month.

The cheer of traveling in style that's bright and gay as a holiday wrapping.

The cheer of having rich and spacious comfort — plus the cheery thought that nowhere else can you get as much room for the money.

The cheer of knowing abundant and mighty able power is on call, with all the solid thrift of a Fireball 8 Engine that's valve-in-head — and also high-compression.

The cheer of riding wonderfully buoyant, level and steady—with a ride that feels like the million dollars it cost to perfect.

The cheer of taking your travel free and easy—with Dynaflo Drive* doing the chores in letter-perfect smoothness — with Power Steering assisting to make parking and slow-motion maneuvers no task at all.

Even the price is a cheerful note here — low enough, you'll find, to crowd the so-named "low-price three."

That means action is called for this very week, to make the most of this good deal while it lasts.

Why not drop in today or tomorrow and see how much cheer is to be found in a Buick showroom right now?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super only.

FARM NEWS - REVIEW - FORECAST

DAIRY BREEDING PROBLEMS LISTED

Disease, poor nutrition, structural defects, or heredity might be the cause of poor breeding in your dairy herd.

Dairy farmers are more concerned about breeding failures now, probably because more are keeping records and can count losses in dollars when a cow fails to breed, says Delmar J. Young, dairy specialist of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Lowered fertility may result from several diseases—brucellosis or Bang's disease, Trichomoniasis, vibro fetus, or vaginitis. The first two cause abortions, and brucellosis often results in complete sterility.

Structural defects can be checked by a veterinarian. If a heifer fails to conceive at the third service, Young recommends a thorough physical check of the animal.

"When we fail to find an answer for poor breeding, we usually blame it on faulty nutrition," says Young. Actually, if the amount and quality of feeding is in line with recommended practices, no addition of minerals or vitamins to the ration is going to cure breeding troubles. If feeding is low, added nutrients might help. But feeding for good milk production will take care of the nutritional needs for good reproduction.

Young stock suffer greatest from poor feeding. Underfed heifers are slower to reach sexual maturity, and may be permanently damaged.

Control disease, keep a clean herd, feed according to good nutrition standards, and ask your veterinarian to check problem breeders, Young recommends.

HORTICULTURAL REPORTS 1952 RESEARCH

The first public reports of 1952 growing season research make the Peninsula Horticultural Society program a vital one for vegetable and fruit growers, says Jack K. Lord, Dover, president of the society.

On vegetable day, Dec. 9, there will be reports on tests against sweet corn sap beetles, seed treatment of lima beans and sweet corn, performances of new insecticides, tomato spraying results in 1952, new vegetable varieties and their performance this past growing season, chemical weed control, factors affecting yields of lima beans, and asparagus spear growth. A round table discussion with questions from the floor will end the day's program.

The fruit day program, Dec. 10, will concentrate on the effects and possible remedies of the severe disease and insect infestations this year. Control results in 1952, and spray schedules for 1953, the disease situation in the east, Maryland's russet-free spray program, and new fungicide performance are scheduled. There will also be a panel discussion and question answer period.

The meeting will be held at the Capitol Grange Hall, Dover. Each day's program begins at 10 a. m. The annual banquet will be at the Capitol Grange Hall, also, the night of December 9.

DELAWARE BOY IS NATIONAL MEAT ANIMAL 4-H WINNER

Delaware's 4-H clubs produced a regional and national 4-H Club project winner in 1952. Martin Johnson, III, Laurel, was announced a national winner in meat animal projects at the National Club Congress in Chicago this week. Helen Jane Leasure, Newark, was named a regional winner in frozen foods.

Martin has an extensive 4-H record. His meat animal projects include market hogs, baby beef steers, brood sows, gilts and orlifers. Since 1947 he has raised 38,316 pounds of pork, 1,919 pounds of beef, and 276 pounds of poultry meat in 4-H project work. In addition he raised 136 brood sows or gilts for his own breeding work and for sale.

He also carried projects in dairy, tractor maintenance, field crops, safety, citizenship, home beautification, leadership, and soil conservation. He has received state and county honors in poultry, safety, dairy, swine, crops, egg, and poultry judging; tractor operator's contest, demonstrations, and leadership. He received the two highest leadership awards possible in state 4-H work—a trip to National 4-H Club Camp in 1952, and a trip to the America Youth Foundation leadership training camp, Camp Minnewaqua, Michigan. He is assistant leader of his club the Laurel Sycamore 4-H Club.

Helen Jane froze about 80 pounds of fruits, vegetables, and meat in five years of 4-H freezing projects. She also carried clothing, canning, and food preparation. A member of Penland Club, Glasgow, she has received county and state awards in canning, dairy foods demonstration, clothing and foods judging, demonstrations and project exhibits.

Both Helen and Martin previously won trips to Club Congress, Helen for canning in 1949, Martin for poultry in 1950. Both are receiving trips again this year for their extra honors. In addition, Martin will receive a $300 college scholarship.

Fourteen others are in Delaware's Chicago delegation this week. 4-H boys and girls and their winning projects are: Jane Sylvester, Goldsboro, Md., canning; Betty Lee Cannon, Greenwood, clothing; Sylvia Ann Field, Newark, dress revue; Mary Lou Derrickson, Marshallton, room improvement; Dolores Lloyd, Newark, poultry; Patricia Hoke, Bridgeville, food preparation; Anna Marie Robb, Dover, girls record; Marvin Davis, Milford, tractor maintenance; David Woodward, Centreville Rd., Wilmington, dairy; Oliver Hastings, Delmar, field crops, and William Weber, Delmar, garden.

Accompanying the group are Mrs. Nelson Goff, Y's Owl 4-H Club leader, Mt. Cuba, Wilmington; Maurice B. Field, New Castle County 4-H agent; Samuel M. Gwinn, state 4-H Club leader.

What Hours Do Observers Want To Observe?

Some 53 persons volunteered for the ground observers corps but did not specify the hours they would like to serve, said Eugene Anderson Sunday in an appeal to these volunteers to supply this information. Anderson is chairman of a committee reorganizing the corps. T. Brinton Holloway is supervisor of the organization.

At a committee meeting Sunday, Anderson added that the schedule of watches was partly made up, with the hours of 71 observers having been assigned. More observers are needed, Anderson said. Observers needed are 168, two on a shift, to keep a round-the-clock watch.

Continuing, the committee said the date the ground observer program will be activated will be announced in this newspaper. He added, however, it was doubtful if it would get underway before January 1.

The schedule of watches and the date of the next meeting of the ground observers corps will be announced in this newspaper.

The corps will keep watch from the quarters of the Harrington Gun Club at the Kent & Sussex Fairgrounds. The quarters will have oil heat, comfortable chairs,

The Rev. William Hitchens, pastor of Felton Methodist Church, conducted services at 2 p. m., Wednesday from the Berry Funeral Home, Felton. Interment was made at Barratt's Chapel Cemetery, Frederica.

Spilled Food
Do not let spilled food remain in the oven; it will char and smell each time the oven is lit. If possible, wipe as soon as spilled or scrape out with pancake turner when oven is cold, wash and clean it, using scouring powder. Leave oven door open to dry.

Clean Bed
An easy and thorough way to clean bed slats and coil-type bed-springs is to hold an electric fan, set at high speed, at the side of the bed so the stream of air flows across slats and springs under mattress. The accumulated dust and lint is blown to the floor.

No Eye Injuries
By installing a comprehensive system of eye protection for workers, the Naval Ordnance plant at Alexandria Va., completely eliminated eye injuries during a period of 14 months. Previously, there had been 14 to 17 eye accidents per month.

After Acheson, Who?—Wilmington Morning News. If we use the past tense—practically everybody.

The New Castle County Workhouse is listed as tops in the nation—still that's no inducement.

This week a fellow picked up a newspaper published a day or two after the recent election and read the headline: "Williams Paces G. O. P. Victory in State"—and being from hoss-minded Harrington, the fellow eagerly asked "What time did he make?"

"Eisenhower Names Lodge, Dodge as Capital Liaison Men." This headline appeared in papers all over the nation last week. There's nothing significant in these names. Both are able men.

Lobbyists, explains the Haskin Bureau, get their name from the practice of meeting in the lobby of legislative halls to form pressure groups—and we might supplement the Haskin definition by stating that people who yield to the pressure of the lobbyists—are lobsters.

During Fire Prevention Week in Nashville, Tenn., prizes were offered for the best essays on fire prevention. The first prize was won by a nine-year-old colored boy: "When you smokes in bed, You wakes up dead."

The Scripps-Howard Washington tabloid carries the advertisement of a restaurant under this caption: "WHERE STATESMEN DINE." If and when, we can persuade some gullible stranger—he'd have to be a stranger—to give us the loan of the few necessary dollars, we're going over there and buy a snack of vittles. We want to see what one of them looks like.

On every hand we hear cries about dishonesty and many people seem to lose faith in all humanity, including themselves. There is dishonesty in the world—it has been that way from the beginning and it will be that way until the end—but many honest men walk the earth. When you have lost faith in almost everything, have that faith restored by the unswerving honesty of a Kent County family. The story is that the Democrats bought every vote in that family, six of them, and the Republicans bought the same six votes. One straight and honorable vote-buyer heard of this and he accused the leader of the family of lacking in honor. "We were honest," protested the leader of the family, "absolutely honest. I have a notion to sue you for insinuating that we are not honest. We did sell our six votes to both sides—but three of us voted for one party and three for the other. How can you ask anything more honest than that?"

"YOU JUDGE A TOWN BY WHAT YOU SEE WHEN PASSING ON A TRAIN."

The above was written a long time ago—when the train was about the only means of transportation—with the exception of the wonderful one-hoss shay.

Most people travel by automobile these days, and when you pass Harrington on Route 13, you are bound to be impressed by our splendid residential section. Fortunately for us—and you—you don't get over into our business district where a few very fine buildings are crowded on all sides by paint-peeled, termite-terrorized relics of the days when Harrington was known as Clark's Corner.

Wilmington and Dover are the most important cities of Delaware, Dover because of its history and because it is the state capital—and Wilmington because it is our largest city and probably the wealthiest city per capita in America, the home of the great DuPont Co. Both are cities of beautiful homes and substantial business sections—but what is the impression of the stranger when he approaches these cities from the south over Route 13?

Those look-all-the-same shacks as you approach the Dover business section remind you of Virginia City or some other almost-forgotten ghost town of the early mining days in the far West. And the approach to Wilmington, with its musty marshes, its desolate dumping grounds and ghastly graveyards of antiquated automobiles, reminds you of only one thing on earth—the south approach to Wilmington.

"I BELIEVE ONLY WHAT I SEE!"

We heard a fellow say that only a few weeks ago. "Have you ever seen the Mississippi River?" we asked him. "No," he replied. "Well," we told him, "it's there."

The person who believes only what he sees "ain't seen nuthin'." Too many hills to climb, too many vales to cross, too many seas to sail for anyone to see more than a tiny fragment of the things to be seen upon the earth—even if we have the vision to see.

We've never seen the sunset from the hills above Rome, but O. O. McIntyre saw it and wrote about it, and Al Gottlieb saw it and told us about it—and we believe what they told us. We've never seen silent, dreamy Guadalquivir, famed in many a song, but Murillo painted "the crescent underneath Madonna's feet" and splashed Spain's storied river upon the canvas for all the world to see.

We've never seen Venice the Golden, but Turner the great painter, saw it—and we've seen it through his eyes. We have seen the lovely English countryside, but only through the eyes of Wordsworth. Charles Hanson Towne saw it through the eyes of Shelley:

"A mighty oak tree from an acorn towers,
 One tiny seed can fill a field with flowers;
 One bell alone tolls out the knell of kings—
 In every Sussex skylark Shelley sings."

Polo, Columbus, Galileo, Newton DaVinci, Edison believed in things they'd never seen. A man who doesn't believe in anything until he sees it still dwells in a cave.

The fellow mentioned above was asked by his employer to do something. He'd never seen it done, and he refused to try. Maybe he's convinced that he was wrong. He was fired—but he didn't see it—coming.

WHEELER RADIO STORE NEWS

When Joe Louis was knocked out, several people said he was a good fighter and they were right, but age will tell. Not only will age tell on man, but on mechanical things, also. Today there are medicines discovered which will let you and me live longer, just the same as improvements are made in televisions to make them better and last longer.

I know the most of you as I have predicted have purchased or had a television given to you. Now, if you have a seventeen-inch screen or larger, you most likely are going to hold onto it. Good enough, you are saving yourself some money. Now, if you have a smaller screen, then I want to talk to you direct. I have calls for many of these small screens and I know you want a larger one.

We can do business, so drop around and see just how valuable your old TV is. Why can I offer a good trade allowance? Simply because I am sold out of used sets. Right now before Christmas you can have one with your old TV as down payment, then just a small payment each month. Even a combination or radio may be used as a down payment.

Our stock of television is the largest in Delaware on display. Our televisions are all ready for H. F. receptions and the ones we have previously sold will be able to receive these new stations at very low cost, around 10 to 15 dollars.

The goods we sell are well known and leaders in the field. For instance, where can you get a better product than is made by Westinghouse? You can be sure if it is Westinghouse.

Then let's talk a little about the largest manufacturer of televisions and radios in the world. The name, of course, is PHILCO, and that name assures you that you are getting the best. Philco is known for quality the world over. Drop in today and have your television tomorrow—no waiting.

Also see the new 1953 Admiral—a model to suit most anyone at prices for a seventeen-inch $189.95 to $199.95 for a 21-inch.

Yes, I know it is Xmas shopping time and if you wish to give gifts that are really appreciated, drop around and see the many we have in our windows. In fact, we have the finest merchandise that can be bought and made by the most famous known manufacturers.

I know this may seem like a funny gift for Christmas, but not half as funny as giving a man a razor who never shaves himself or a woman, curlers for her hair when it is false. That something is an order for enough wall paper to paper one room or the whole house. Then for 365 days and longer will be well remembered for your thoughtfulness. We carry a complete line from Hop-a-Long Cassidy for the boy to plain colors for the home without children. Our prices on wall paper starts at seventeen and half cents for a single roll.

I might say we will be open every Wednesday from 9 to 5:30 until Xmas and starting December 12 we will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. until Xmas.

Our lay away plan is working overtime and if you wish to join this happy crowd, then leave a deposit of what you wish and ask to have it held until Xmas. No extra charge for this service.

I will mention a few of the major items we carry—such as Westinghouse and Philco freezers and refrigerators; Westinghouse, Maytag, and Apex washers, both automatic and wringer types; Westinghouse radios, roasters, toasters, electric ranges, electric blankets, electric sheets, warming pads and electric mixers, clothes dryers and electric water heaters.

Also Philco radios, air conditioners, electric ranges. All types of Sunbeam appliances including Mixmasters. Gas ranges and gas hot water heaters of all types. Also gas space and floor furnaces. And remember, we supply gas by meter or bottle, whichever you prefer.

When installing stoves or expecting to do so for your brooder houses, see us and get an estimate. We are now serving several chicken houses with gas for heating, some as high as 20 stoves. Drop in and see us.

Preferred Order

The preferred order for washing dishes is glassware, silver, dishes and utensils. Use any order you prefer, but wash less soiled things first to prevent the necessity of changing water too often.

Mother Nature Need To Modern Inventor Not Take Back Seat

WASHINGTON—In this modern age scientists are always coming up with something to amaze the layman. Students of nature, Mother Nature, that is, will tell you that she outdid them all a long time ago. In fact, she set the pattern for them to follow.

The lowly bat, for instance, has been around for ages and eons. Brother bat being blind, nature saw fit to equip him with a special radar-like equipment. As he flits through the air he emits supersonic signals that bounce off walls, trees and other objects to guide his flight on the darkest of nights.

The eagle, who must prey upon ground animals for the major part of his food supply, has a set of eyes that puts our modern binoculars to shame and enables him to spot a hiding animal from the highest altitude.

The ambitious little ant has a special sense that directs him to a new food supply, and can find its way back to the ant colony and return with reinforcements.

Direction also plays an important role in the life of a migrating plover. Unerringly, he takes off yearly from the shores of Alaska and comes to rest on the beaches of Hawaii.

With commendable foresight, Mom Nature endowed the world's smaller creatures with special abilities for self preservation and food procurement. Many species of plants set traps for their prey, netting insects, and, in some parts of the world, even animals in their clutches. The lowly skunk has a great defensive weapon in his gas attack. Many other apparently defenseless animals are equipped with ears that catch sounds far behind normal range, thus enabling them to take shelter. The electric eel, living in a sea filled with terrible denizens of the deep, shocks them all with his built-in voltage.

Name almost any invention of civilization, and you can find a parallel in nature's realm. Perhaps that's where the idea came from, in the first place.

Tugboat Crewmen Baffle Alabama Police Officer

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—This Alabama town believes in Southern hospitality, just like the rest of the south. They don't approve of loitering, however, which probably may be said the cause of this recent incident.

Patrolman M. E. Furr noticed two men hanging around and felt it his duty to investigate. One could hardly blame him for being suspicious when they told him they were waiting for a tug to pick them up. A tugboat hadn't been seen this far up the Alabama river in 30 years. They were told to hit the road. Two days later the tug B. Thomas McDermott steamed up the river to Montgomery and reported two missing crewmen.

British Air Experts Note Method to Curb Fatalities

LONDON, Eng.—A few British experts believe they have come up with a way to cut down the number of casualties in airplane crashes. They want to rearrange the seats and have air passengers ride backwards.

Walter Tye, chief technician of the British air registration board, points out that casualties usually result from passengers being pitched violently forward. If the backward seating arrangement were put into effect, he believes, the maximum shock would be absorbed by the cushioned seat backs. Tye holds the belief that with reversed seats, "in any crash where the fuselage of the plane remains in one piece, it is almost certain that many casualties could be avoided." The fuselage remains intact in the majority of airplane crashes.

Experiments in backward seats have been tried satisfactorily in troop carriers.

One hitch might prohibit the success of the program. The passenger's attitude, it is a trait of human nature to prefer to see where one is going, rather than where one has been.

Prayers for Rains Answered in Texas

WACO, Texas—Prayers for rain were answered here by a thunderstorm and showers which ended a drought damaging to grazing and farm lands in central Texas.

The prayer meetings were held in Waco's First Baptist church after professional rain-makers had been seeding clouds for several weeks in an effort to coax some precipitation out of them. Except for a few weak showers, the professionals didn't have much luck.

Then the church group took over. For the first time in the memory of most Waco residents, citizens went to formal rain-prayer sessions. The Rev. Dr. Forrest C. Fozzer, pastor of First Baptist church and first vice-president of the Southern Baptist Convention, conducted the interdenominational services. Farmers attended afternoon prayer meetings, city-dwellers participated in evening sessions. One woman at the night session carried a rain-coat. A man prayed: "Help us to remember that the rain-makers can't make rain unless it be Thy will."

The storm which hit Waco after the prayer sessions lasted for an hour. In North Waco, residents reported, rain rain in the streets and gutters.

Security Measure

Because of security reasons, employment of the Central Intelligence Agency is not reported to the Civil Service Commission to be included in federal employment totals.

Major Crime is Committed In U.S. Every 18 Seconds

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Just how bad is the crime situation in the United States? According to the yearly report turned in by Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, a major crime was committed somewhere in America during every 18 seconds.

The crime volume increased 1.5 per cent for the year and all individual offenses, save one, contributed to the rise. Surprisingly, robbery was the single offense that did not top the preceding year.

Every five minutes in 1951 someone was feloniously assaulted or killed. An average of 146 persons were held up and robbed every day and the stolen car ratio was 453 for every 24 hours.

Hoover's Uniform Crime Reports for 1950 was compiled with the aid of 5,211 police agencies, but federal crimes and others, such as arson and embezzlement, were excluded, making the estimated total a conservative one.

One disturbing element of the statistics pointed out that, although urban crime remained about the same as 1949, rural crime showed an increase of 4.4 per cent. Also alarming was the fact that arrests of males under 21 increased 6.9 per cent. The predominant age among all persons arrested was 21 years.

Police were most efficient recovering stolen autos, returning 92 per cent.

Fire Company Shoots Works In Seeking Danger Source

NEWVILLE, Pa.—Chief John Bender and his firemen have a reputation for getting to the scene when called in a hurry.

One night recently the chief jumped from bed at 4 a.m. to answer an out of town alarm.

By the time he reached the fire station the tail lights of the fire wagon were disappearing up the street. Bender commanded a car and took off in pursuit, catching and passing the truck on the highway.

"Step on it," he remarked to a fellow fireman. "Must be a lulu by the bright glow."

The two vehicles raced through the night until the glow became more distinct, became a line of flame and then a semicircle. The chief flagged the fire truck to a stop.

The eager firemen had been racing toward the moon.

House Mice

Most house mice stay within an area having a 12-foot radius, according to a recent study. Male mice, a little more adventurous, average 7 feet farther in range than females. Conclusion of the study: Because of the limited cruising, many baits well distributed throughout all infested portions of a building are needed.

Place For Cotton

Even in cold weather cotton has a place in the wardrobe, say Michigan State College home economists. Dark cotton dresses or cotton blouses with suits are wise buys for business girls who work in overheated offices.

Film Study

The radiologist is reading miniature chest X-ray films. Millions of these small film X-rays have been taken throughout the United States in community surveys to find unknown cases of tuberculosis. The sale of Christmas Seals being conducted from Nov. 17 to Dec. 25 by the 3,000 tuberculosis associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association help support this work.
