Spinning Mill Being Built On Outskirts of Frederica

Construction of a spinning mill, between Harrington and Frederica, is scheduled to be completed by May 30, William Appleton, president of Delaware Mills, Inc., told a Journal reporter last Friday.

The machinery is scheduled to be installed by the end of June, but it is a "question whether it (the plant) will be ready for operation before August," explained Mr. Appleton in his office at the New Castle County Airport where the company, which is building the Frederica plant, is located.

The Frederica plant, on the nine-foot Harrington-Frederica road, is on approximately seven acres purchased from Nolan Cooper between Frederica and Carpenter's Bridge.

The plant under construction will have the same operations as the New Castle plant which will continue to operate. It will take raw Nylon, Orion, and Dacron and spin it into yarn. Delaware Mills, Inc., specializes in making yarn for the sweater trade, Mr. Appleton emphasized, but he added that some 20 per cent of the yarn went to manufacturers who made it into baby blankets and the like.

Delaware Mills, Inc., organized three and a half years ago, does not make the finished product—it only makes the yarn. It started up in the old Norden bomb-sight plant at New Castle County Airport and now has two additions there in the final phases of completion. The firm's president was with the American Viscose Corporation for many years and has had wide experience in the textile field.

The Frederica plant, during a training period, will operate in three shifts, with about ten girls to a shift. After training, not more than 20 girls will be employed to a shift, Mr. Appleton said.

The Frederica plant will have room for 50 per cent machinery expansion. In other words, the operation can be increased by that percentage if the occasion arises. It has an area of 20,000 square feet.

The concrete-block walls of the building have been erected. There will be a cement floor and a vapor-sealed roof. The plant will be air-conditioned and have humidity control, both conditions essential in spinning.

Du Pont Construction Department Notes Safety Record

A celebration is being held today by construction forces of the E. I. duPont de Nemours Company's engineering department for their safety achievements.

This celebration is the result of winning the company's general manager's safety award which was made under the duPont Company's plan of awards for no-accident records. The record in this case is 937,700 safe hours of work over a period of 808 days.

Attending the safety rally, which is being held at the company's Seaford nylon plant, are 250 construction workers, who are expanding this plant's facilities, and many guests.

F. H. Mackie, manager of the duPont Company's construction division, will present the award to E. F. McSpadden, field project manager for the construction project. Mr. McSpadden will accept the award on behalf of the hundreds of people who have contributed so much towards its attainment.

In addressing the assembly of construction employees and guests Mr. Mackie will emphasize the need for continued effort by all concerned to maintain the sense of individual responsibility they have shown in the past as regards safety, for without it, the record they have made could not have been attained. Mr. McSpadden will accept the award, and in the course of his remarks, pledge himself and his forces to continue to do all within their power to keep the job "accident free."

John McKelvey Undergoes Minor Operation

John C. "Big Mack" McKelvey, in charge of construction work for Day & Zimmerman, electrical contractors, underwent a minor operation Tuesday at Milford Memorial Hospital.

Holstein Heifer Sells at $860

A bred heifer, consigned by Winterthur Farms, Winterthur, Del., brought $860 Wednesday to top the 4th Harrington Heifer Classic of Registered Holsteins, at the Kent & Sussex Fair Grounds. Mrs. May Dickenson, of Slippery Rock, Pa., was the purchaser.

Seventy-five head averaged around $360. Purnal Friedel, chairman of the sales committee, said 21 breeders consigned the animals to the largest sale in the history of the event. The market was generally bearish, despite the substantial gathering, however. Observers attributed this to a lower price for milk.

The top bull went for $650. It was from the Tull Brothers herd at Seaford. Ernest Handley, of Cambridge, was the purchaser.

An open heifer, Hayland Ovation Fay, consigned by Maurice and Alice Adams, Harrington, sold at $490 to the State of North Carolina.

Howard C. Barker, of Frederick, Md., the sales manager, was quite well pleased with the results of the sale. R. Austin, Backus, of Mexico, N. Y., was the auctioneer. The sale was sponsored by the Delaware Holstein-Friesian Association.

Moose to Sponsor Baseball Team Tryouts Being Held

Harrington Lodge No. 534 L.O.O.M. will again sponsor the Harrington Baseball team. The managers of the team this year will be Bill Lorr Jr. of Harrington and Oscar Draper of Farmington. Fans will remember Bill as a native of Harrington and a player of the Harrington team. Bill is also a member of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Mr. Draper, for the past two years, was the manager of the Farmington team. This year the teams will be combined. Bill and Draper are now signing players. Anyone interested in playing, should contact one of these men or be out at the ball diamond at the Moose Home Sunday afternoon. There was a lot of activity last Sunday at the diamond.

Several changes have been made in the Mar-Del League this year. President Pat Knight has resigned to ill health. Ed Holleger, of Frederica, will take his place. Hickman left the league last year and Farmington will be combined with Harrington, leaving two openings which will be filled by Henderson, Md. and Lewes. The league members are Harrington, Viola, Wyoming, Frederica, Ellendale and Felton.

Harrington will meet Felton May 10 for the first game of the season. The game will be at Felton.

Gallo Classified Brings Results

Anthony Gallo, of Vernon, got "worlds of results from a classified ad he carried in The Harrington Journal last week. "I had intended to carry it a couple times," Gallo explained, "but once was enough." Gallo advertised he had cows and bulls to put on pasture.

I got one or two calls Monday and several calls Tuesday and put out four bulls and two heifers," Gallo explained.

George B. Potter, 65, died at his home, 15 Short Street, Harrington, Wednesday morning. He had suffered a heart attack Monday evening. He was the son of William J. and Emma Callaway Potter, was born in Harrington, and had lived here practically all his life. He was a retired carpenter foreman of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company with 42 years' service and had retired Jan. 1. He was a member of Trinity Methodist Church, formerly the Methodist Protestant Church, of Harrington, which he joined when a boy.

He was a lifetime honorary member of the Harrington Fire Company, having served seven years as fire chief. He also served as town councilman of Harrington for several years, and was a member of the P. R. R. Brotherhood Maintenance of Way.

Five Men Face Liquor Charges

Four Philadelphians who allegedly paid a Delaware farmer $7 weekly for the past 25 weeks while they manufactured moonshine liquor on his premises near Felton, were held in $3000 bail each for Superior Court before Magistrate W. Carrow of Camden Monday.

The farmer, John Hurd, 58, whose farm is located on the Felton-Sandtown Road, was held in $1000 bail by Magistrate L. Gooden Callaway of Harrington for Superior Court. He was charged with illegal possession of alcohol and equipment to manufacture alcohol. In default of bail, he was ordered committed to the Dover jail.

The Philadelphians, George Smith, Freddie Cain, Franklin Bernette Hannah and Rudolph Womack, all were charged with failing to obtain a license to manufacture liquor and having illegal liquor and equipment in their possession. They were ordered committed to the Dover jail pending bail arrangement by a Wilmingtonian.

Hurd was arrested at his home Friday night following an investigation by agents of the Delaware Liquor Commission, the alcohol and tobacco tax unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and state police detectives who were investigating information that a still was in operation on his premises.

The still, which had about a 100-gallon-a-day capacity, was seized and destroyed when found in a building. The raiders also said they confiscated 13 three-hundred gallon barrels of mash and a few gallons of manufactured whiskey.

Two of the Philadelphians were arrested hiding in a wooded area near the farm and the other two were taken into custody when they arrived later. Two cars belonging to the Philadelphians were also confiscated when illegal liquor was found in their cars.

Wayne Cooper Governor Of Boys' State at Dover

Lowering the age limit of citizens, eligible to vote, from 21 to 18 years, was one of the measures recommended by Wayne Cooper, of Harrington, governor of the sixteenth annual Boys' State at Dover last week. "Gov." Cooper, a junior at Harrington High School, also recommended that the use of voting machines be considered. Boys' State is sponsored by the American Legion.

Furthermore, Friday afternoon, the governor signed a proposal, approved by the House and the Senate of the Boys' State, to abolish Delaware State College. The measure set forth that Delaware State College has outlived its usefulness, does not offer the educational opportunities a college should, and educational opportunity is offered for Negroes at the University of Delaware.

The "governor's" speech to the General Assembly of Boys' State, in which he made his recommendations on voting, along with others, was as follows: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the General Assembly for Boys' State, and fellow citizens:

"It was my great privilege to be chosen as Governor of the State of Delaware for Boys' State. I shall perform to the best of my abilities the duties of this office.

"The task before us will require the cooperation of every member of the legislature and myself. I have the utmost confidence in our ability to work together and to fulfill the duties for which we are here.

"I am aware that we will not have the time to study thoroughly the problems of our state. However, I wish to present to you the general objectives of the program I recommend.

"It is our duty as lawmakers of Delaware to protect the welfare of our future citizens. As Delaware has grown and in-

T. C. L. to Hold Ladies' Night

Evergreen Forest No. 49, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, will hold its annual Ladies Night tonight at 8 o'clock at Georgetown High School.

Grand Tall Cedar Sam Williams said he had an excellent program prepared and expected about 600 Tall Cedars, their ladies and guests to be present. Evergreen's Band will render a concert at 8 p. m., followed by an address of welcome and introductions by the Grand Tall Cedar.

Roy Seagraves, of Philadelphia, will present a four-act show for the entertainment of the evening which will include the famous Holiday Dancers. Mr. Seagraves claims that this is the best show he has brought into this area.

After the show, P. G. T. C. Dallas Dennis has arranged for refreshments to be served in the gym. A dance will be held on the stage of the auditorium to complete the evening. Music will be through the courtesy of Carl March.

The red hot harness racing bill which would permit a license to conduct its meeting at any licensed track in the state was whipped in the House Friday afternoon, receiving only 12 of the 18 votes required.

The measure, sponsored by Reps. Robert P. Maclary (R-Newport Pike), Joseph H. Prettymann (D-Fairmount), George J. Pyott (R-South Dover), and Carey D. Sapp (R-Georgetown), was opposed by the Kent and Sussex Fair Association and the Kent and Sussex Racing Association.

Supporters included a group of Sussex Countians who would use whatever dates they could obtain to race this year at the new Brandywine Raceway in northwestern Brandywine Hundred.

Before the bill came to vote the parliamentary maneuvering was something to behold. It was the culmination of 10 days of pulling and hauling by both sides during which the supporters advanced the argument that the Kent County group would lose nothing.

As soon as Mr. Sapp called the bill up for action, Rep. David C. Speicher (R-Bridgeville) moved that action be deferred. This was defeated by a vote of 17 to 16, with two members absent.

Then Rep. James R. Quigley (D-New Castle), one of the proponents, said the bill had been discussed long enough and he saw no reason for not getting down to a vote.

A roll call was moved but Mr. Speicher asked for the privilege of the floor for three opponents to discuss their side. They were T. Brinton Holloway, general manager of the Kent and Sussex Fair; Herman C. Brown, Harrington attorney, and David C. Bucksin, Dover attorney.

Mr. Sapp objected to more than one speech, but Rep. Thomas C. Rowan (D-Taylor's Bridge), said the bill was important and that at least one of the trio had not had the opportunity in caucus or anywhere else to give the House his views. "It is only fair," he said, "to give these three men a chance."

High School Band To Hold Concert This Evening

The Harrington High School Band will give its annual spring concert tonight in the school auditorium beginning at 8 o'clock.

They will be assisted by the glee club and will feature a combined number, "Lift Up Your Heads" by S. Coleridge-Taylor.

Other numbers on the program will include a trio for trumpets, marches by Sousa, and Edwin Franklo Goldman, and a choral arrangement of Richard Rodgers' "You'll Never Walk Alone," from his musical comedy, "Carousel."

ROBERT H. PECK

Robert Harrington Peck, 69, died at his home Saturday after a brief illness.

The son of Charles W. and Wilmina Harrington Peck, he is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Harriett Dodge, San Diego, Calif., Mrs. Emma Sibitzky and Mrs. Jesse Paul Taylor, Wilmington, and Mrs. Ruth Heath, Harrington, and a brother, Charles L. Peck, Sr., Harrington.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m., Tuesday at the Boyer Funeral Home with the Rev. Robert E. VanCleaf, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery.

For a time it appeared as though the farm shown on our Rural Photo Quiz page would not be identified soon. However, Charles Peck, Jr., identified it Tuesday morning in short order. It was the George Eilers farm 1 1/2 miles west of Farmington, near Five Points.

Mr. and Mrs. Eilers, subscribers to The Harrington Journal for many years, came in Tuesday for their framed photo and certificate.

The Eilers have lived 23 years on the farm where they started housekeeping. It was purchased from Mrs. Elizabeth T. Harrington who inherited it from her father, Samuel A. Tharp, in 1905. Mr. and Mrs. Eilers bought the farm from Mrs. Harrington in 1947.

It contains 165 acres, of which approximately 75 acres are in woodland. The Eilers have 17 Holstein and Guernsey cows and have sold their milk for 22 years to Supple-Wills-Jones here. Grain and laying hens are also raised on the farm.

Verily, truth is stranger than fiction. During World War II, William A. Taylor, of Marvel Acres, was employed by Air Force Intelligence in Cleveland. One morning he noticed T. G. Riley, also of Harrington, working at a nearby desk. A short time later, Ellis Cordray, also of Harrington, arrived from New Orleans to work in the office. The score was thus as follows: Fourteen persons worked in the office, of which three were natives of Harrington. All three went to Cleveland by chance, and none knew the others were there until they were seen in the office. A mathematician would have a time figuring out the odds of the recurring of this incident.

We, Too, Favor the No. 3 Plan For The Dual Highway Thru Harrington

When Richard A. Haber, chief engineer of the State Highway Department, spoke at a Rotary-sponsored civic meeting here recently; he cited three proposed routes for a dual highway to come through Harrington as part of U. S. Route 13.

The plan, or route, he said the highway department favored, was No. 3. This plan calls for the present route for southbound traffic and the construction of a northbound route 300 feet, at its maximum distance, to the east. The northbound route would start at Warrington's Service Center and make a gradual curve. It would come close to the rear of the Legion Home and the Wonder Bar and cross Delaware 14 fifty feet east of the home of J. W. Camper and approach the present route near where U. S. 13 crosses the branchline of the railroad.

In this vicinity, Mr. Haber added, the northbound lane could be built in the front or rear of the George Cochrane Company, and George Sherwin, Inc.

Objections to this route were negligible from those who heard Mr. Haber. We, too, favor plan No. 3. Those Harrington business establishments which would be in the parkway between the lanes would gain additional patronage by having entrances from both lanes. Furthermore, the vacant space between the two lanes would be valuable for new businesses.

The territory east of the northbound lane would also increase in value as a site for commercial and residential development.

Any new highway, or traffic lane, such as the proposed northbound lane, would help the community. We remember when we had no U. S. 13 through Harrington, when Harrington Manor was a sweet potato patch. We recall when Clark Street, for all practical purposes, stopped at East Street. Harrington's greatest growth, in recent years, has been in territory contiguous to the highway. The adoption of plan No. 3, entailing the building of an additional lane, would add to the that sorely needed growth.

An Old Story Forever New

There's a story, an old story that must be told,
A story of Jesus, and how He gathered the wanderers to the fold.
A story of the Saviour and His love so true;
A story very old, but forever new.

It was at night and all was still,
When from Heaven a light shone forth;
And the angels sang, "Peace on Earth,
And to all men good will."

The wise men saw from afar,
And were guided by that shining star.
Guided to the inn to a manger of hay,
Guided to where King Jesus lay!
They brought Him gifts worth much gold,
Worshipped Him, then went out and the story told.

Later in years a carpenter son
Was doing work that had to be done,
He was seeking the lost ones out in the cold,
Bringing them safely to the Master's fold.
It was not the son of a carpenter but the Son of God,
In whose Heavenly footsteps we should trod.

He has healed and saved and raised the dead,
Preached the gospel and the five thousand fed,
He has walked on the waters of the sea of Galilee,
And died on the cross for you and me,
Jesus died, but on the third day arose;
Conquering death and all foes.

He ascended to heaven, but He's coming back again,
He said;
Coming back to raise the dead,
To carry the righteous to their heavenly home;
To sing before the Father's throne.

Are you ready for the judgment day to come?
Are you ready for heaven's bright home?
These are the words that Jesus told,
"What would a man profit if he gained the whole World and Lost his soul."

Kent Home Doings

By Charlotte L. Swanson
Kent County Home
Demonstration Agent

Painting To Be Done?
"The Home Painting Job" will be a topic for Kent County Home Demonstration Clubs in May, and leaders will "learn by doing" on April 23. A representative from a paint company will on that day tell us about mixing colors, color schemes, and care of painting tools. Then we will really get a chance to apply our knowledge.

Mrs. H. C. DeFbaugh, of Woodside, is letting us use a room in her home for the meeting. The paint company is supplying the paint and each of the leaders who attend the meeting will help with the work. Those who have signed up to go will receive more information about the time and what to bring.

New Rooms
When I was visiting Mrs. Charles Hynson, of Dover, a few days ago, she showed me two lovely new rooms which the Hynsons have added to their home. Mrs. Hynson has a lovely new kitchen, with knotty pine cabinets, and a new bedroom. It's wonderful to see the remodeling that people can do themselves with planning and their own time and skill.

Extra Wear
It's so annoying to have the straps on a nylon slip give out long before the slip shows sign of wear. To keep the slip in use—why not replace worn straps with nylon ribbon?

A File of Tags
If you lose the washing instructions that come on your new clothes—why not start a file near your washing center? Somewhere on the tag—name the garment to which it refers. There are the tags—easy to find on washing day when you need them.

Milford Youth State Winner In Tractor Contest

Marvin Davis

Proper tractor care has kept the wheels rolling and production up on the Davis farm near Milford. For a job well done, son Marvin, 19, was named Delaware winner in the 4-H tractor maintenance program and attended the national club congress last fall in Chicago as guest of the American Oil Company.

Marvin has devoted a year to the study and practice of tractor operation and maintenance, and accredits the improved standard of living of the Davis family directly to the purchase of a tractor. It has replaced several horses, cut feed costs, tilled more land, and resulted in increased income. Consequently, they have been able to purchase many labor-saving devices. He stresses the importance of daily care for the tractor, thus eliminating major breakdowns. Marvin was a member of the county tractor maintenance club and placed third in the tractor driving contest at the Kent & Sussex Fair last year.

Keep Refrigerator Clean
Wipe any food at once when it spills in the refrigerator with a clean cloth wrung out of soapy water. Rinse off with clean cloth dipped in clear water.

The grain trade has formed a voluntary organization called the National Grain Sanitation Conference. It will cooperate with the state Agricultural Extension Services and farm organizations to inform farmers of the great need for better sanitation in the storage of grain, especially on the farm. Losses in on-the-farm storage because of rot and insect damage makes up a major part of national storage losses.

The world demand for food and fiber has led to a tremendous increase in use and production of fertilizers, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1951-52, farmers of the world used 65 per cent more of these fertilizers than before the war. Manufacturers produced 70 per cent more.

One rat will waste $25 worth of feed in one year.

CONTRACTORS TOOK 42 HOURS TO CUT THROUGH FARMERS BANK VAULT

Part of the new plans for the new Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware Building call for reconstruction of a Vault in the basement for customers. In doing this, the contractors had to cut an opening with a power drill. This took one man working 42 hours to cut out the opening.

The new Vault Department of the State of Delaware will be on the lower floor with coupon booths conference rooms and meeting rooms for the convenience of the Safe Deposit customers.

Student Council Meeting

The Kent County Student Council meeting was held April 6, in the Felton High School.

Due to the absence of the president, Frank Shane, the meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Rene Herbst. The schools attending the meeting were Milford, Smyrna, Felton, Dover, Harrington.

Important business discussed at the meeting had to do with the coming State Convention on April 27, at Lewes High School.

The Council held elections to decide which school in Kent County should have the power of electing the next president for the State Student Council Organization. The school winning this election was Milford.

After lengthy discussion on this matter, the meeting was adjourned and refreshments of colas and cookies were served by representatives of the Felton Student Council.

Pen Pal Club

The members in this club have received several letters recently. They are always glad to hear from their pen pals.

Kay West has received some Kokoci Dolls from her pen pal in Japan.

Patsy Minner has received some paintings from her pen pal in Ireland.

Chess Club

The Chess Club, under the supervision of Mr. Cotter, has been progressing very rapidly.

They have made a Bumper Board which is a system of determining the strongest player in the club. This is done by the average players challenging the best player and if he wins, he stands first. He does this until he has all the other pupils (as a figure of speech) bumped off the list. The strongest player as of now is Jimmy Sheehan of the seventh grade.

Art Club

The Art Club consists of members from the ninth to the twelfth grade. Each pupil has his own project to work on. Jeanne Lander, a junior, has completed a 3x4 abstraction of modern art.

Pat Baker, Pauline Welch, Carol Ann Tharp, who are sophomores, have just finished a number of small abstractions on shingles which are very effective.

The elementary Art class at this time had been making Easter hats and many other Easter effects.

Elementary News

Mrs. Wright's third grade presented the operetta "The Cobbler and the Elves" for their assembly program which was given on March 27. The children were dressed in appropriate costumes. The characters were as follows: The Cobbler, Robert Satterfield.

The Cobbler's Wife, Sandra Tatman.

The Leather Man, Edgar Wheeler.

The Rich Man, Merritt Tatman.

These children had solo parts. The remainder of the class danced in groups and sang in the chorus. A large number of parents and friends attended the performance.

Mrs. Hess' sixth grade had an Easter party with ten parents as their guests. The pupils had an Easter program and later served refreshments.

Mrs. West's Second Grade

During the study of the community, Mrs. West's second grade made a trip to the important public buildings in Harrington. They learned many things of interest and they have written stories, poems, and songs about the things they have seen and learned.

Thursday, April 2, they had an Easter party. Their room was decorated for the party with Easter and spring pictures they had made. While they were on the playground, the Easter bunny came and left them each a cute Easter basket.

These jokes were written during the study of writing direct quotations in Mrs. Quillen's fifth grade English class.

"Why did the moran put the clock in the airplane?" asked Billy.

"To see how time flies," replied David.

Jane asked, "Why did Jack take hay to bed with him?"

"I don't know why," replied Ray.

"He wants to hit the hay," said Jane.

"What key is the hardest to turn?" asked Jean.

"A monkey," replied Kathy.

"No, a donkey," answered Jean.

"Why did the moran take a rope to the ball game?" asked Donald.

"He wanted to tie the score," said Sue.

Juniors and Seniors Attend Legislature

On April 1, the juniors and seniors, accompanied by Miss Paskey and J. C. Messner, superintendent, attended the session of the Senate and the House of Representatives in Legislative Hall in Dover.

Governor J. Caleb Boggs shook hands with all the students and talked to them for about 15 minutes. He said that he was very glad to see them.

They then went down to the Archives Building where they were shown valuable documents which designated the land belonging to the State of Delaware. One of the documents was a deed to the colony given to William Penn in 1682 by Charles II. Another was used by the Supreme Court in 1932 to settle the bound-ry dispute between New Jersey and Delaware. All four of these documents were under glass in a safe. There were other papers on display in showcases.

After this, the students, Miss Paskey, and Mr. Messner toured the Dover prison where they saw the prisoners at work and in the cells. The girls, those who talked with some of the cooks, not knowing that they were prisoners of the jail, were shocked when they heard later that the men were not just ordinary cooks but were prisoners also. They visited the death cell where the prisoners wait to be hung.

Bertha Belle Jarrell Spelling Champion

Bertha Belle Jarrell and Nancy Nelson led their classes in the annual spelling test sponsored by the Goldey Beacom School of Business, given to members of the junior and senior classes in the school cafeteria Wednesday morning, April 8.

Described by the officials of the school as "extremely difficult list," the test consisted of 100 words, including both the traditional spelling demons and hard words that have become important in recent years. The first three in each class will be designated spelling champions by the business school, will have their names inscribed upon a permanent list of peninsula spelling champions by the school, and will receive suitably inscribed certificates. Champions of the two classes are: Seniors - Bertha Belle Jarrell, Edward Lane, and Sylvia Breeding; Juniors - Nancy Nelson, Betty Louise Layton, and (tied third place) Joyce Gruwell, Leon Minner, and Mary Smith.

The first ten in order of scores, including both classes, were B.E. Jarrell, Edward Lane, Sylvia Breeding, Harry Morgan, Nancy Nelson, Pauline Makovec, Mary Lord, Pat Holloway, Barbara Smith and James Martin.

Mrs. Lagatha Hill Farrow

Mrs. Lagatha Farrow was born in Frederica. After graduating from high school, she went into training at the Memorial Hospital, Easton, Md.

Places at which Mrs. Farrow has nursed are: Milford Hospital, Easton Hospital and private work.

Mrs. Farrow has been school nurse in Harrington High School for ten years.

Senior Personality

Bertha Belle Jarrell, better known to her friends and classmates as "Bebe," was born in Delaware and has gone to Harington High School throughout her school life.

Bertha Belle takes the Scientific course and her favorite subject is English. She is a member of the band, glee club, and cheerleading clubs. During her spare time, she baby-sits and attends church.

Topping her list of likes are eating, dancing, soft music and small children. Like most people, Bertha has a few dislikes, and they are math, the Korean War and educational movies.

Her hobbies are skating, collecting records and learning new dances. Her latest interest in music is Liberace on television and Julius La Rosa's singing. Bertha Belle enjoys basketball very much.

Bebe, like most, has a strong pet peeve—being pinched or jabbed in the ribs unexpectedly.

Her future plans are to become a beautician and learn to ski and ballet.

Great Lakes Formation

Today's Great Lakes were born with the melting of the last huge ice sheet over North America. As the sun's warmth pushed the boundary northward, the glacial waters were trapped between the ice front and highlands which now hold the headwaters of the Mississippi, Ohio, Susquehanna and Hudson Rivers.

Key to Success

Vaughn Horton, composer of "Mocking Bird Hill," current musical hit, worked in the coal mines of Huntington County, Pa., for several years before studying mining engineering. It was while attending college that he became an arranger, then a composer.

PEACE & WAR

An Editorial
 in The Wall Street Journal

When the Korean war broke out in late June, 1950, the stock market went into a tailspin. It did it again last Monday.

On Friday, June 23, 1950, the Dow-Jones industrial averages stood at 224.35. Over the week-end the North Korean army marched south and President Truman intervened, first with the Air Forces and then with United States troops. On Monday the stock market averages dropped to 213.91. By the middle of the week they were 209.11. Three weeks later they were down to 197.63.

Friday, March 27, the Dow-Jones industrial averages closed at 287.33. Over the week-end there was renewed hope that the Korean war might soon end. Monday the industrial averages dropped 4.26 to 283.07.

Some people noting this concurrence between peace news and the stock market—and forgetting what happened when war began—have already begun to talk of a "peace scare," as if war were bullish and peace were bearish.

In Washington some of the Federal economic forecasters speak of the "trouble-making possibilities" of a peace in Korea. It might reduce government defense spending and, so they say, be hurtful to the economy, cause a downturn in business.

Whenever a nation shifts from war to peace, or to an armed truce, there is a period of unsettling uncertainty, just as there is when it shifts from peace to war. The stock market usually declines upon either event. This is not a reaction to peace or war. It is a barometer of the people's cautious reaction to prospects of great change.

Today this uncertainty of a great many people has undoubtedly been intensified by the absurd philosophy, long held in Washington and long preached by some self-anointed political economists, that prosperity is made by government spending and that if peace stops the war spending the prosperity will collapse. That the idea is idiotic seems to be no deterrent to the argument.

It is quite likely, of course, that if the Korean war should be settled, and if other tensions should be eased, there will be some decline in our government spending for war. Industries that make goods purely for war will have a little less business. But to conclude that this will be bad for a nation's economy is to indulge in the rawest kind of doublethink.

In the first place, those who fret over reduced government spending ignore the fact that less government spending makes possible a lesser tax burden. The government will spend less money on goods useless for anything except destruction and the citizens will have more money to spend for economically useful goods or invest in new tools for making them. For those who like to be "practical," we note that such soft spots as there are now in the economy are in consumer goods which the people, robbed by taxes and inflation, have not enough money to buy.

But more importantly, those who preach that a war economy is a prosperous economy are blind to the absurdity to which their own reasoning leads.

If it were true that a nation were made prosperous by putting a large part of its national product into arms, then we would have indeed discovered the millennium. We could get more and more prosperous by taking more and more men away from useful work and putting them into uniform; by taking more and more of our machines out of useful production and putting them into production of things to be blown up. The bigger the armies the less we would have to worry about unemployment; the bigger the war the less about "surplus productive capacity."

As a matter of fact, if this idea made any sense at all we could do the whole thing much simpler. We could hire half the population to make balloons and the other half to explode them with pins and the resulting level of employment and economic activity would be stupendous.

The truth is that a war economy is the most destructive of all. It brings inflation, as the price indices and stock market averages show, but this is the most bearish of all economic signs, for inflation in its worst form is the price mechanism's warning of spreading chaos and coming poverty. The war economy is destructive even if it blows nothing up, for it makes useless the work of vast quantities of men and machines.

Any promise of peace is a harbinger not only of hope but of a richer prosperity, for peace is the essential soil for all economic progress. It has been only the periods of peace that have made this nation strong enough and prosperous enough to survive all its wars and, unlike so many other nations, emerge afterwards still not bankrupt.

It is possible that peace will come to Korea and it is also possible that there will be a decline in business. But any leveling off of business will not come because of the peace. It will come, if it does, because this country has been strong enough, as it has already shown, to take this war in its stride. People have found since June, 1950, that no matter how energetically they bought and hoarded they could not strip bare for long the shelves of stores and factories.

War itself is a terrible thing but we find more terrible yet the fact that there are men walking about who talk of peace as if it were terrible. ©1953 WALL STREET JOURNAL

Greenwood

Rain, rain, and more rain is the weather story around Greenwood, and the farmers are complaining that they cannot get their spring plowing done. We are getting very damp, but remember how much worse it is in some states, we try hard to say with James Whitcomb Riley's famous line—"When God sorts out the weather and sends rain, why rain's my choice."

Mrs. Umphlett, school nurse, wishes to bring the following item to your attention: Pre-school examinations will be conducted at the Greenwood School Monday, April 27, at 9:30 a. m. All children who expect to enter first grade at Greenwood School in September should be brought for registration and examination at that time. TRAILWAYS THE ROUTE OF THE THRU-LINERS

A VOTE AGAINST YOUR CITY OR TOWN . . .

We, as citizens of the State of Delaware, DO NOT BELIEVE our Legislative body, chosen to represent the citizens of our various cities and towns and to further the progress of our communities, WOULD INTENTIONALLY VOTE AGAINST OUR CITIES AND TOWNS of our beloved State.

We, as citizens of the State of Delaware, composed of Civic Leaders, Merchants, Business and Professional Men, Home Owners, and last, but not least, the Parents—DO BELIEVE, and have reason to know, that if the present law is changed

TO PERMIT MOTION PICTURES and THEATRICAL PERFORMANCES on Sunday outside the incorporated limits of a city or town

IT WILL BE THE MOST DISASTEROUS PIECE OF LEGISLATION DIRECTLY AFFECTING OUR SMALL TOWNS AND CITIES, EVER TO COME FORTH FROM A GOVERNING BODY.

We, as citizens of the State of Delaware, desire to PRESENT THE FACTS:

OUR HIGHWAYS
We have two main arteries of traffic, two highways now overburdened with dangerous traffic. If the Sunday law is changed, with a honeycomb of so-called "Drive-In Operations," you automatically dump on these limited arteries of travel a three-fold traffic bottle-neck, on a day which is acknowledged to be one of, if not the busiest, of the week. In the present day of excessive travel, surely it is our duty to

ELIMINATE TRAFFIC HAZARDS—NOT CREATE THEM
To further verify this contact the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Highway Departments as to their difficulties in connection with Drive-In Theatrical operations. Check with our own State Police relative to the Drive-In Theatre traffic hazards experienced at Delmar and Wilmington.

OUR STATE POLICE
As soon as a so-called "Drive-In Theatre" opens along our highways, outside the corporate limits of a city or town

THE BURDEN OF PROTECTION FALLS UPON THE STATE OF DELAWARE
With our State Police Department now under-manned, and asking for an additional thirty men to combat the present highway problems, it is only natural to assume that if the Sunday law is changed, the requirement to meet the condition would have to be doubled or tripled.

WHO WOULD HAVE TO PAY THIS ADDED EXPENSE?

CHEAP POULTRY FEED CAN WASTE DOLLARS

How expensive is cheap poultry feed? It can mean a 20 per cent loss in egg production, in hatchability of eggs produced, and a further loss in mortality, says Silas McHenry, assistant poultry specialist of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

McHenry quotes a University of Massachusetts study which used "bargain feed" on a flock of a thousand pullets in top-notch condition. The original feed saving was $45. The final total loss due to the poor quality feed was over $500.

The first results from the poor quality "bargain feed" were lower egg production and more dead birds. A 20 per cent decrease in hatchability of the eggs produced was next. The loss in production and hatchability was valued at $370. Dead birds added another $65 loss, and culling the flock of weak birds added another $50 loss.

An analysis of the feed showed it short in vitamins. McHenry explains that cheaper feed may be lacking in essential vitamins. It may also be short on proteins and minerals, because cheap feed is usually sold by operators who use rejected or poor quality ingredients.

McHenry recommends buying from reliable, well-known dealers whose success depends on return business. Sudden "bargains" are not as reliable as a consistently lower-priced proven feed.

ANTIBIOTICS NOT FOR OLDER CATTLE

Antibiotics for cattle? Yes, as growth stimulators for calves, but not for older cattle, advises E. F. Waller, chairman of the University of Delaware animal industry department.

Waller says that two antibiotics—streptomycin and terramycin, may help a calf get the right start in life. Added to the calf starter or fed with milk, the antibiotics help the calf ward off scours and other calf diseases. They also give a calf a growth boost even when diseases are not a problem.

But Waller warns farmers not to feed antibiotics to cows or older heifers. The antibiotics may kill helpful bacteria in the animal's rumen. This can cause the cow to go off feed and probably get diarrhea.

Waller advises feeding antibiotics only when the calves are getting milk. As soon as the calves start eating fairly large amounts of roughage, eliminate the antibiotics in their ration.

MACHINERY, LABOR ARE FACTORS IN CHANGING DELAWARE AGRICULTURE

Vegetables decreasing, grain crops increasing, and the size of farms is increasing. That's the way William E. McDaniel, of the University of Delaware department of agricultural economics, sees the main trends in Delaware in the past two decades.

In talking to the Delaware Bankers' Association, yesterday, McDaniel pointed to two major reasons for the switch from vegetable to grain crops. One is the relatively high increase in farm wages compared to a small-power and machinery. The other increase in prices for farm power and machinery. The other is the high increase in the cost of insect and disease control on vegetables compared to that on grain crops.

Lima beans are the most notable exception to the downward trend in vegetable acreage. In 20 years, McDaniel says, lima bean acreage has jumped from 4000 to 24,000 acres. The most notable grain crop increases were in soybeans and corn. Corn has increased rapidly in just the past four years, jumping from 128,000 to 169,000 acres.

Along with these changes, and speeding them, has come the use of more farm machinery. This in turn has helped the trend toward larger farms. This larger average size farm (114 acres compared to 92 acres in 1930) has resulted in high labor and machinery efficiency and higher earnings for farm operators.

McDaniel told the farmers that he thought bank loans which helped farmers increase the size of their farm businesses should be good loans for the bank as well as the farmer.

VEGETABLE NEWS NOTES

Transplanters

It will be transplanting time soon. Now is the time to get your transplanter in shape. Be sure that it will put plants deep and firm. Buy a new deep furrow opener and other parts if needed. If your transplanter will not do a good job under any conditions you could pay for a new one in plants and labor in a few years. Make sure that your transplanter is in good working order. Don't wait until your plants arrive to try it out. Thousands of tomatoes and peppers died from poor transplanting last year.

Plow Under Cover Crops Now

Cover crops turned under now will have a chance to start to rot before the crop is planted. Do not allow the cover to get too high before plowing down. Plowing at least three weeks before planting is a good practice.

How About Tomato Varieties?

Garden State or Improved Garden State outyielded Rutgers throughout Delaware and most of New Jersey in 1952. Stokes-cross No. 4 and 5 produced good yields in 1952 but they require more fertilizer than Rutgers. Plant variety which has produced the best on your farm.

Chemical Weed Control

Each year we have better materials and methods of controlling weeds chemically. E. M. Rahn, at the Experiment Station, had several trials last year. For complete information, ask your county agent for Circular No. 84.

Potato growers may want to try some chemical weed control on problem fields.

Here are some suggested treatments: Dinitro like Dow Premerge or Sinox P. E. 1 to 2 gallons in 50 to 100 gallons of water per acre.

Sodium Pentachlorophenate like Dovicide G or Santobrite @ 20 lbs. in 50 to 100 gallons of water.

These materials should be applied after the potatoes are harrowed down (ridge is knocked off) and just before the plants emerge. If 10-14 days occur between the time of knocking off the ridges and application of the herbicide just before potatoes emerge, the amount of the above materials used per acre may be cut in half. This will, of course, reduce the cost considerably.

Fertilizers

Fertilizer for tomatoes may be plowed down or drilled in deep. If manure is not available, plow down about 1000 lbs. of 5-10-10 or 625 lbs. of 8-16-16. Plan to use sidedressing and starter solution.

For peppers, plow down or drill deep. 900 lbs. of 5-10-0 or 575 lbs. of 8-16-16 if manure is not used early. Plan to use starter solution and sidedress at least once.

Follow recommendations of soil test results of you have them. General fertilizer recommendations may be found in Folder No. 37 at the county agent's office.

VICTORY CLUB HAS HERB DEMONSTRATION

The Victory Home Demonstration Club held its April meeting at the home of Mrs. Pearl Han-son with Mrs. Edith Massey assisting.

The business meeting was in charge of Mrs. Catherine Carson, president. Donations were made to Pennies for Friendship and a pencil donation to foreign countries.

The topic for the day was "Herbs and Herb Growing" presented by Mrs. Carson and Mrs. Oscar Gillette. Mrs. Gillette gave an interesting talk on the subject, followed by a demonstration of herbs used in lamb potpie, stringbeans, glazed carrots, and tomatoes.

A rummage sale and bake will be held Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23, in Gaines Alley.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hattie Smith, with Mrs. Pauline Price as co-hostess. The topic will be "Textile Painting." A plant sale will be held at that time.

MRS. RAYMOND SAYRE TO SPEAK TO HOMEMAKERS

Mrs. Raymond Sayre, president of the Associated Country Women of the World (ACWW) will be the featured speaker of the State Home Demonstration Clubs meeting in Dover May 12.

Mrs. Sayre, as president of the international organization, has been traveling and working with rural women throughout the world, bridging gaps in understanding. She has just recently returned from a trip through India, Pakistan, Lebanon, and Africa in behalf of ACWW. She will talk to Delaware Homemakers on "Your Stake in World Affairs."

The state meeting is sponsored annually by the State Home Demonstration Council as part of National Home Demonstration Week observances.

Other items on the program are reports by state chairmen of health, international relations and citizenship, and family life.

The meeting will be at the Capitol Grange Hall, starting at 10 a. m. Luncheon will be served by the Grange. Reservations may be made through presidents of the local Home Demonstration Clubs or directly to Mrs. Roscoe Campbell, Dover.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

The Rev. Milton Elliott, Pastor Sunday School at 9:45. Classes for all ages.

Worship service at 11:00, with sermon by the pastor.

Evening service commencing at 7:30. The Junior Choir will sing. The O.U.R. Class met Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Currey.

Stains Are Useful

Stains are employed to equalize or change the color of various types of woods and to bring out the beauty of the grain. They are applied before varnish.

The Hi-Lo Egg Club will help egg producers analyze their operations for weak points. County agricultural agents in Newark, Dover, and Georgetown will help you enroll. Hi stands for higher production, Lo stands for lower mortality in laying flocks.

Keep water from forming in the tractor's gas tank by filling the tank with gas while the tractor is still warm. Otherwise, warm air condenses inside the tank to form water after the tractor cools.

MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

Recently published official registration figures for the last full year show that truck users in every single State bought more Chevrolets than any other make!

It is difficult to imagine more convincing proof of Chevrolet's superiority, for such clear-cut and overwhelming preference can lead to but one conclusion: Chevrolet trucks must be better, must enjoy solid advantages over other trucks. Such preference must rest on a firm foundation of good, sound value. And, of course, it does—as owners of Chevrolet trucks can testify.

So before you buy any truck, see how much more Chevrolet trucks offer you. Stop in and see us soon. Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.

Community Service and the Parkers

Meet Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Parker—two people who, in quite different ways, help make Georgetown a good place to live.

Frances Parker serves her community as a Public Health Nurse. A graduate of the Milford Memorial Hospital, she brings six years' experience to her job. She's well known throughout the Georgetown area; in fact, she makes regular visits to Public Health Clinics throughout the state.

Joe Parker, her husband, is Plant Service Foreman for the Telephone Company, with headquarters at the Georgetown Central Office. With the other men and women there, he helps provide one of the community's most essential services. Joe's excellent record includes 12 years in telephone work, plus two years in military service with the Army Signal Corps.

It is people like Joe Parker... competent, reliable people... who make your telephone service so dependable in emergencies, so useful every day in the year.

Playtex Employes Receive Sharp Increase in Insurance

Hospitalization insurance and surgical benefits for the employes of the International Latex Corporation, entirely paid for by the company, have been increased 60 per cent. Details of the new plan were announced at Playtex Park in Dover this week by A. N. Spanel, founder and Chairman of the Board of the company. This insurance will be paid in full to employes even though they receive payments from some other hospitalization plan to which they may have subscribed. Basically, the company plan provides for a hospital room for as long as 70 days, surgical services, and hospital charges for x-rays, anesthesia, drugs and various other expenses not usually covered by such insurance.

Highway Dept. Auctions Buildings At Favorable Prices

A large crowd attended a public auction Wednesday when the Right of Way Division of the State Highway Department sold three houses and outbuildings in the path of the northbound lane of a proposed dual highway north of Harrington. Considering the cost of moving structures, the division, headed by W. Howard Jones, feels the sale was a success.

Top figure was $3600 paid by Oscar Hill for the George Hill, Jr., residence, a frame bungalow at Paradise Alley. In the same lot were a gasoline station which went to Sherman Ross, Camden, for $310, and a 16x20-ft. storage room going to Charles O'Day, Georgetown, at $155.

A frame two and one-half story dwelling house, a mile north of Felton, on U. S. 13, formerly known as the Elizabeth Sapp property, was knocked down to William A. Paskey, Felton, at $1950, with a frame broiler house going to J. A. Jester, also of Felton, at $80, and a laying house going to Harold Schabinger, Felton, at $8.

A frame bungalow, located one and one-half miles north of Felton on U. S. 13, formerly known as the Emile Sapp property, was sold to Joseph Szeman, (also spelled Seeman), of Canterbury, for $3500. A frame garage was sold to Howard Tucker, Harrington, for $45.

All property must be moved within 30 days of the acceptance of the sale price except that of Mr. Hill. This will be moved by Aug. 1, giving Mr. Hill time to build a house.

BOYS' STATE

"Recently a need was shown for a better penal system in Delaware. This need was mainly for youth. I urge that a study be made of our correctional and penal system and that such action be taken as may be proper.

"For our state government to meet these requirements it will be necessary for us to consider our financial condition. We must not allow the affairs of our state to be conducted on an unsound financial basis. Neither must we allow Delaware's progress to be retarded due to the lack of finances. If upon study of our budget the members of this General Assembly find our funds inadequate, I recommend action to increase our revenue in the most fair and equitable manner.

"The problems of our state are many. It is our task to meet the challenge of these problems. Let us work together in solving them, ever mindful of the welfare of the people of the State of Delaware."
