

Miss Berlin Is Crowned Queen Of Delmarva Chicken Festival

Miss Berlin, in the charming person of 20-year-old Debbie Ann Savage, was crowned Miss Delmarva of 1953 Monday afternoon by Gov. J. Caleb Boggs as the highlight of the opening day of the sixth annual Delmarva Chicken Festival at the fair grounds here.

Miss Savage was a late entry in the contest and easily survived the elimination round to represent Maryland in the finals. In the latter event she competed with another late entry, 17-year-old Janice Parks of Exmore, as Miss Virginia, and Barbara Smith, 17, of Harrington, the Miss Delaware winner. There were 22 girls in the contest.

A freshman at the University of Maryland, Miss Savage is studying to become an interior decorator. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Savage of Berlin, her father being a druggist there. She weighs 113 pounds, is five feet, four inches tall, has brown hair and hazel eyes.

Blue-eyed and blonde, Miss Parks is a graduate of Northampton High School and is now a civil service trainee. She weighs 130 pounds and is 5 feet, 7 inches tall.

Miss Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith, graduated from Harrington High School this year and will enter Washington Missionary College at Takoma Park, Md. A brunette with blue gray eyes, she is 5 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs 130 pounds.

A surprise feature of the contest was the selection of Miss Personality with Lovey Anne Truitt of Delmar winning this honor. She has dark hair, brown eyes and small features with "personality" clearly evident, thus making the judges' task easier.

The selections had the full approval of the 2,500 persons gathered in front of the grandstand stage.

Crowned By Gov. Boggs
With the announcement of the winner, Miss Savage donned the royal red robe over her white bathing suit to be crowned by Governor Boggs. The robe was lined in silver and the binding was of ermine. She was flanked by the Delaware and Virginia winners.

As Miss Delmarva, Miss Savage received a loving cup and a $750 college scholarship. Monday night she was honor guest at the queen's ball held in the high school.

Although the weather was threatening throughout the afternoon, rain did not fall until the conclusion of the program.

Gov. Boggs officially opened the festival at 1:30 at the equipment exhibit under the grandstand. He extended the state's official welcome and spoke of the progress of the Delmarva poultry industry through the years.

John Holmes Potter Dies of Heart Attack

John Holmes Potter, 36, died of a heart attack at his home here Monday morning. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jeanette B. Potter, and daughter, Adriana Holmes Potter, 13.

The son of the late George and Lula Potter, he had lived in this community most of his life, though he once worked for the post office in Washington, D.C., after he had attended Western Maryland College. During World War II, he served in the Navy. Funeral services were held at Trinity Methodist Church Thursday afternoon, with the Rev. Milton Elliott, pastor of the church officiating. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery.

Arrangements were in charge of the Cooper Funeral Service, of Harrington.

Mr. Potter's father, George B. Potter, died Wed., April 15, of this year, and his mother, Mrs. Lula Holmes Potter, died Wed., May 15, 1952, of a cerebral hemorrhage. Thus, all three members of the family died in approximately 14 months.

Kent & Sussex Racing Ass'n. Granted October Dates

The Kent & Sussex Racing Association will put on a 20-night pari-mutuel harness meet here, beginning Oct. 3, it was announced this week by T. Brinton Holloway, general manager of the fairgrounds.

Mr. Holloway said Wednesday that purse schedules number and classes of racing, had not been determined yet. Heretofore, the association had received its racing dates much earlier.

The delay this year was occasioned by the granting of the October dates to the Delmarva Racing Association at Georgetown. The Delaware Harness Racing Commission had also granted the Brandywine Racing Commission, near Wilmington, September dates, and the Kent & Sussex Racing Association, May dates.

The local association refused the May dates because they were usually unprofitable. It got the October dates when Delmarva Raceway relinquished them.

A bill has passed both the House and Senate, at Dover, granting 20 days harness racing in each county. This bill also grants Delmarva Raceway the privilege of racing 10 days on the local track and 10 days on the Wilmington track.

Leaves For New Pastorate

The Rev. and Mrs. George Whetstone will hold their final service Sunday night at 7:45 at the Church of the Nazarene. Monday, they leave for Bloomsburg, Pa. Rev. Whetstone, who has had the pastorate here for the past 3 1-2 years remarks that he has enjoyed his stay in Harrington and thanks all who have been so kind to his family.

He further states that the parsonage has been remodelled outside and inside, and a new heating system installed this summer. The new minister has not been named.

Frear Asks For Legislation For 4-Lane Bridge At Summit

United States Senator J. Allen Frear has asked the Senate Public Works Committee for immediate consideration of legislation authorizing the construction of a four-lane bridge at Summit, Del. He expressed disappointment over the Committee's failure to act on the bill up to the present time.

In his weekly statement, Senator Frear declared that strong efforts are being made to obtain funds with which to deepen the Delaware River above Philadelphia for the benefit of a new steel plant in that area.

Mr. Frear noted that the cost of this project is estimated at about 87 million dollars with almost an additional million annually for its maintenance.

By contrast, the senator pointed out that funds for a new four-lane bridge at Summit would be only a fraction of the amount needed for the Philadelphia project.

The senator commented that adequate maintenance and improvement of waterways in Delaware are of greater importance to him than projects out of the state.

Telephone Company Asks For General Rate Increase

The Diamond State Telephone Company has filed new tariffs with the Public Service Commission at Dover, providing for general increases in telephone rates throughout the State. The average increase for residence subscribers will be less than three cents a day.

Increased wages, taxes and higher prices for virtually everything needed to run the business have reduced the company's earnings to a point where a rate increase is necessary, according to Albert E. Rose, State manager of the company. He pointed out that this will be only the second general rate increase in 32 years for the company.

"Immediate financial relief is urgent," he added.

In addition to general increases in the charges for both residence and business services, the new schedules call for a minimum 10-cent charge for coin telephone calls; 5-cent increases, generally, for toll calls within the State and reductions in the initial and overtime periods on coin telephone and toll calls.

New and present monthly rates are as follows in Harrington:

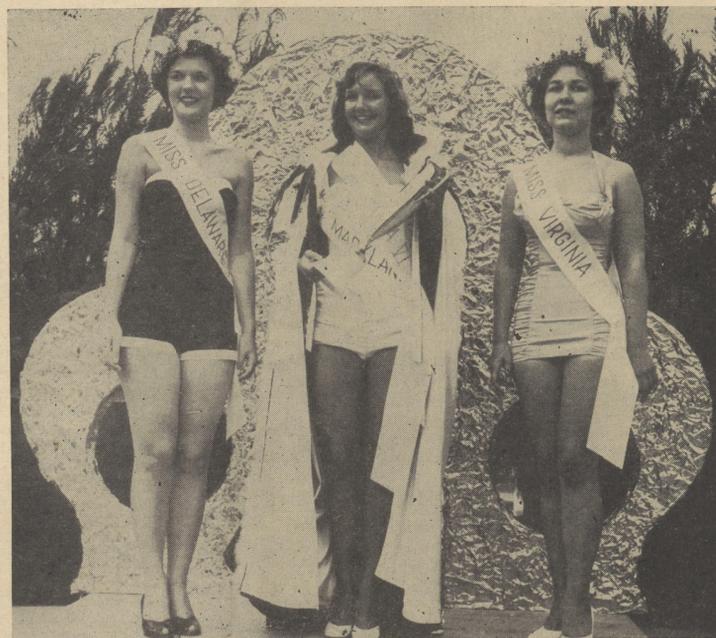

Residential Service:

	Present	New
Individual line	$3.25	$4.15
Four and multi-party line	2.45	3.00
Extension tel.	.85	.90
Business service
Individual line	5.50	7.50
Two-party line	4.60	6.00
Multi-party line	3.70	5.00
PBX trunk	6.75	9.25
Extension tel.	1.25	1.50

(These rates do not include the 15 percent Federal tax.)

The company estimates that the new rates throughout the State will produce monthly increases in gross revenues of $123,500, or $58,700 after taxes.

Big Parade Features Close Of Festival

A colorful parade which took an hour and 30 minutes to pass the judges stand was the closing night feature of the sixth annual Delmarva Chicken Festival here Wednesday night. A crowd estimated at 15,000 persons from all parts of the peninsula lined the streets to view the 65 units making up the gala procession.

State police from Maryland, Virginia, and Delaware headed the parade. Marching groups included 80 men from the Dover Air Force Base and a unit of the Delaware National Guard.

The 28 to 30 floats in line were built around one of two themes—beautiful girls and poultry. One of the floats attracting attention was the Harrington Chamber of Commerce entry, which was not in prize competition. It consisted of a princess in a carriage drawn by six white horses. The Milford VFW Cooties float, depicting services to hospitalized veterans, also attracted considerable attention.

The parade ended at the fair grounds where a show staged by Red Foley and Gang was presented. Three day-event officially closed with the singing of the festival song, "Chick, Chick, Chicken," the words and music composed by Mrs. Dorothy Wilkinson of Seaford RD.

Mrs. Frank H. Tharp, of Lewes was declared the National Chicken Cooking Champion Wednesday afternoon during the sixth annual Delmarva Chicken Festival at the Kent-Sussex Fair Grounds in Harrington.

Mrs. Tharp, the winner, is accustomed to using chicken as a mainstay for her table as her husband is a well known grower of Indian River X's, (that means that his chickens are crossbreeds of white cockerals and reds).

She is the mother of three children, Joan, 18; Alvin 15; Nancy Lee, 9; the president of the National Home Demonstration Group of Lewes, and treasurer of the PTA of Lewes.

She called her winning recipe "Picnic Chicken Delight" and although the ingredients are those often used, the judges deemed her use of seasoning and clarity of recipe to be tops.

Prize Winning Recipe

Use 1 or 2 young chickens, about 2 1-2 to 3 lbs. cut-up; 1 cup of shortening; 1-2 teaspoonful of salt; 1 cup of water; 1 cup of flour; 1-2 teaspoonful of onion salt. Dip each piece of salted chicken into the flour and onion salt. Place in hot shortening and cook until golden brown—35 to 40 minutes. Add water and cover pan. Cook over low heat about 15 minutes or until liquid has evaporated. Serve from pan to warm platter.

Second prize of $300 and choice of a gas or electric stove was won by Antonie V. Richardson of Magnolia. New gas ranges were prizes for the third to sixth winners who are: Third, Mrs. Leslie L. Tuttle of Onancock, Va.; fourth, Mrs. Edward Russell of Elkton, Md.; fifth, Thelma S. Davis of Towson, Md., and sixth, Vanita G. Saperton of New York City.

Special awards were made to Lakshmi Sharan of India and Bethli Wittwer of Switzerland, the only international contestants.

There were 103 contestants whose dishes were tested by eight judges. Chicken, particularly Delmarva chicken, is delicious but accurate judging is a wearing task and the eight judges, under the supervision of Kathryn Beale Niles, home economics director of the Poultry and Egg National Board, Chicago, were glad to relinquish the last dish and announce their final agreement.

Harness Racing Is On Its Way Up Here

Harness racing is on its way up here: it is not on its way out, as some persons in the Greensboro area have been heard to comment. In fact, now that the question of racing dates has been solved, prospects for the sport in this vicinity look mighty pleasing.

Harness racing is coming back to the Kent & Sussex Fair here next month, after an experiment with rodeo last year, with purses the largest in the history of the 34-year-old event. Purses will range from $600 to $1500, with a starting fee of 2 per cent to be added to the purses. There will be no entry fee.

Furthermore, stake racing will commence at the fair. Harness racing here will get additional propulsion if stake races appear at the pari-mutuel meets. While we know of nothing definite underway along this line, do not be surprised if stake racing looms up in night racing here in the next year or two. And, of course, stake racing meets mean competition from fast horses.

The question of racing dates, for the pari-mutuel meets, has been solved, and we will have a fall meet beginning Oct. 3, for 20 nights. It appears right now that we will race some nights in September next year. And September dates are profitable ones.

Recent legislation passed will give us 20 nights racing and also the privilege of using ten nights allotted to Sussex County. Therefore, next year we could race 15 nights in the spring and 15 nights in the fall.

The Kent & Sussex Fair Association has $150,000 earmarked for a new grandstand. With a profitable fall meet construction on this item could get underway next year.

Brandywine Raceway, a new track near Wilmington, is scheduled to start operations in September. With fans in the Wilmington area becoming interested in harness racing, it is only natural they should attend the meet here after the New Castle County one has ended.

No, we wouldn't say harness racing is on its way out here.

Hi-Lo's Forbes has strengthened Harrington's position in the harness world. This pacer, who established a world's record of 1:58.3, for sidewheelers on a half-mile track, at Roosevelt Raceway recently, was trained by Pat Hubbard, and trained and raced also by Jim Stokley and Henry Clukey on the local track. Harrington has been his wintering place. Furthermore, he has raced many times here.

No. We are not looking down; we are looking up.

Hollyhocks

By Samuel A. Short
When the flowers in June are starting to bloom, There's one that has rare beauty, Only a few can see its charm.
When the humming birds are starting their winging, And winter's skies casts off its gloom.
The birds and bees are then singing Their much loved and melodious tune.
The summers breeze softly whispers to each flower, As it blows through each branch by night.
With it's echo of love always to shower, Dew drops as kissed by the summers moon light.
At dusk when the mantle of night is falling, There's nothing more beautiful to see.
Than the tall Hollyhocks with nightingales calling, With the hush of noise and rest for me.

What A Line

by Ethel M. Hunter
I'll bet you can't guess what's on my mind, chicken. Did you ever see so many flags in all your life? All over town, had chickens on them too. I fully expected to see a henhouse on one, but, then, Delaware chickens thrive anywhere up trees, on top of the house, and even on top of automobiles. Some times they get in other peoples yards. Just wait until one gets in my yard. I've got a hatchet, I'll fix him and use the recipe the lady used to win the chicken contest out at the Chicken Festival. Of course, I would have to decorate my platter with planten leaves. They make a showing, and, like Delaware chickens, grow and thrive most anywhere.
And speaking of chickens, real real lady chickens, all dolled up in evening gowns and, bathing suits. Boys they were really knockouts, almost lost your eyesight I bet, and your hearts. Now that the Chicken Festival is over, and many new recipes as to cook chicken, I'll try and see what I can do. So here you are:

Delaware Fried Chicken

2 1-2 lb. or 3lb. chicken (cut to fry) wipe dry
1 1-2 tsp. salt
1-2 tsp. of pepper
flour
shortening (vegetable preferred)
3 Tsp. water
Season chicken with salt and pepper, sprinkle with flour, not to excess, have fat 1 inch deep in frying pan when hot, put chicken in, let brown (golden brown) then, turn, when both sides are brown, keep turning to brownness desired, cover pan, add the 3 Tsp. water, turn heat to simmer for about 15 or 20 minutes longer, remove lid for 5 minutes. Serve.
Now, how is that?

Lewes rested comfortably atop the Mar-Del Baseball League standing at Lewes, Sunday after scoring its sixth straight victory over visiting Ellendale, 3-2. The unbeaten loop leaders iced the game with six runs in the seventh inning off former Milford ace, Tommy Wells. Fred McDowell went the distance for his second win for Lewes.

Wyoming edged Felton, 3-6, Harrington squeezed Viola, 4-3, and Henderson pummeled Frederica, 10-6, in other games.

Baseball Notes

Last week through error "Dicky" Brown was not given credit for a well placed bunt that no one played to first. This was his first one for the season, although he has several walks to his credit.

In Sunday's game Dicky, as a Pinch hitter, provided a hit that was a whiz. It brought in two much-needed runs and then went on to score himself.

PETTY CASH!

Some loose change . . . a few dollar bills . . . in a little tin box. In business, they call it "petty cash." Every home has its "petty cash" too . . . maybe in Mother's sugar bowl . . . maybe in Dad's back pocket. And it isn't amazing how low "petty cash" gets by the time next payday rolls around? If you figure on saving "what's left", you may not get very far. Try this better way. Deposit a fixed amount in your savings account FIRST, then spend "what's left." Before you know it, your cash in the bank will be far from "petty"!

HOW TO MAKE A COMPOST PILE

Compost is a fertilizing mixture composed of such substances as peat, leaf mold, manure, leaves, vegetable refuse and trimmings from the kitchen, any or all of these, which have become thoroughly mingled and decomposed, usually in a heap, called a compost pile.

Organic matter is any form of plant or animal matter in process of decay. When completely decayed we call it humus. Plants cannot make use of organic matter as such, but only after it is converted to humus, the end product of fermentation and decay.

The efficient gardener can conserve much of the organic matter his soil needs by composting plant refuse, such as leaves, plant residues after harvesting (diseased refuse should be burned), lawn clippings and non-greasy kitchen waste. In many suburban areas the street cleaning departments of incorporated towns collect leaves from the streets and deliver these free-of-charge to anyone desiring them. If you need leaves contact your town council if you live in an incorporated town and see if such service is available.

To make a compost heap first make an excavation about 15 inches deep, 4 feet wide and as long as desired, usually 10 or 12 feet. In the fall when enough leaves have fallen to make a raking worthwhile, place them in the pit.

Let us suppose this makes a 6 inch layer when tramped down. On this layer, with a bed of this size, scatter about 10 handfuls of some fertilizing material rich in nitrogen, like cyanamid, nitrate of soda or sulfate of ammonia.

Some folks use a complete fertilizer such as 5-10-5 at the rate of 100 pounds, equally divided, for a pile that will ultimately be 125 cubic feet. Next add an inch or more of garden soil.

When the material is highly acid, as oak leaves, 25 to 50 pounds of lime may be added to a pile of above size, on the layers of soil.

Repeat the procedure when more material is available until a final height of 4 feet is reached.

Keep the sides and ends vertical. Leave top slightly dished to hold water. Water down in dry weather. Garden refuse and kitchen trimmings may be buried in the pile.

Turn or fork over the pile every 3 months. This lets air into tightly packed materials and mixed materials at the outside of the pile with those on the inside.

Bacteria are the agencies which cause the decay of the organic matter in the compost heap. These are natural inhabitants of the soil. When it is added you are inoculating the bed. nitrogenous fertilizer and water provide food and drink for them and the lime makes the kind of home they like. May every reader of this column become a compost builder, not a leaf burner.

POTATO DAMAGE NOTED IN GRADING, HANDLING

Damage to potatoes during grading can be reduced 80 percent by covering the conveyor chain links.

Research in Virginia is described by W. T. McAllister, marketing specialist of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service. In the Virginia study, more than one-fourth of the potatoes sold in retail stores showed definite signs of mechanical injury.

The time for digging potatoes in Delaware is almost here, and McAllister encourages farmers to make plans for careful handling and grading of their crop.

Damage from conveyor chain links can be reduced by covering the links with belting. Rubber tubing placed over each link in the chain will also help reduce damage.

"Too much waste may cut down your profit," McAllister cautions. "Buyers will not accept badly damaged potatoes and may go somewhere else to fill their orders."

McAllister points to other findings: About 50 percent of the damage from digging can be eliminated by slower speeds. A speed of about 1.5 miles per hour is recommended.

Most damage from rough handling is due to unpadding truck platforms, walking on containers during loading, and reckless unloading and dumping. Rubber coated wire baskets make ideal picking containers. Potatoes should be dug only as fast as they can be picked up, to reduce sun scald.

HOW GOOD IS LIMA BEAN SILAGE

Lima bean silage is good cattle feed for dairy farmers, but not as good as corn silage. That's the report on lima bean silage now being tested by the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Delaware.

This conclusion is based on preliminary reports from tests showing a decline of 17 percent in production of 4 percent fat corrected milk, when cows were fed on lima bean silage. This compares to a decline of only 1.2 percent when cows were fed corn silage.

Hay was available to all cows in the test, as much as they would eat. Those on the bean silage ate almost five pounds more per day than those on corn silage. But those on corn silage ate almost three pounds more silage per day than the ones fed bean silage. They were offered 30 pounds of silage per day.

Dr. Clyde R. Richards, assistant professor of animal and poultry industry, directs the experiments. Richards says the bean silage was worth about three-fourths of the value of corn silage for milk production. Good hay has about the same comparison to grain concentrates.

Additional studies will be made of lima bean silage before final conclusions are made.

DELAWARE FARM LAND PRICES SLIGHTLY OVER 1952

Delaware farms have increased in value since the spring of 1952. The average value per acre in this state rose from $141 to $144 between March of 1952 and March 1953. These figures come from a report of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This compares with an average value per acre of $114 reported for Delaware in the 1950 census.

This slight increase for farmland is believed to be due to urban expansion, which is greater here than in most states.

For the United States as a whole, average value per acre of farm land and farm buildings is down slightly compared to last year. Land values follow the trend of farm prices which have been falling slowly for two years.

Demand for farmland has weakened across the nation. In general, farm real estate values have been on a downward trend, the BAE (Bureau of Agricultural Economics) adds. This report is based on a survey of farm real estate dealers in each state. Exceptions to the general trend were noted in top-grade farms where the asking price in most areas has remained fairly firm.

OUTSTANDING 4-HERS MEET IN WASHINGTON

Four Delaware 4-H delegates joined those from all 48 states in Washington, D. C., this week. The event is the 23rd National 4-H Camp, a week of tours, meetings, and discussions.

Betty Lee Cannon, Bridgeville; Esther Klair, Marshallton; Marvin Davis, Milford, and Russell Layton, Laurel, are Delaware's representatives. They were chosen for their leadership ability and community service through 4-H work.

The camp's purpose is to help prepare the boys and girls for responsibilities of citizenship through a better understanding of our national government and a wider outlook gained through travel and acquaintance with young people of other states and territories, and countries.

Betty Lee has only five years of club work, in the Dublin Hill Yellow Jackets Club, but has completed 17 projects in clothing, cooking, canning, frozen foods, health, safety, and poultry. She has won state awards in project work and demonstrations in clothing, frozen foods, bread making, good grooming, and dairy foods. In leadership, she has been club president and secretary, safety chairman, county council vice-president, tribal chief at state camp, counselor at state 4-H Short Course, club pianist, and junior leader. She has helped lead her club to a 100 percent project completion and trained younger members in demonstration work. She is a new member of the Links.

A junior at the University of Delaware, Esther Klair has been a member of the White Oak Club, Hockessen, for nine years. With projects in clothing, dairy, room improvement, cooking, gardening, frozen foods, personal accounts, and health—she has found time to be a junior leader, help start another club, hold judging classes for younger members, be chairman of various activities, and win state awards in room improvement. She was a tribal chief at state camp, is a member of the University 4-H Club, and the Links.

Russell Layton has a seven year record in the Laurel Sycamore 4-H Club, and has done projects in poultry, swine, safety, home grounds improvement, field crops, gardening and tractor maintenance. State awards include poultry, poultry demonstrations, and poultry and egg judging. He is active in the Grange, the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association, was a high school student council member, and is a member of the Links.

Marvin Davis' projects in dairy, tractor maintenance, poultry, field crops, and meat animal help inasmuch as he actually practices farming with his father. He is a member of the Milford-Millwood Club.

Greenwood

At our morning service next Sunday at 9 o'clock we are having a special feature entitled, "A Venture of Faith For Our Church." It is hoped that all our congregation will especially plan to be present. It is important for our church.

Our Church has chartered a bus to take fifty persons next Sunday to the Methodist Convocation in Philadelphia. It will leave our church about 12:15 p.m. Twenty members of the local church choir are expected to sing in the Convocation choir.

The Rev. C.E. Palmer at Grace Methodist Church observed Father's Day, using as the theme of his sermon, "The Prodigal Son." Philip Holson was the soloist with the choir.

We are advised that the enrollment for the Daily Vacation Bible is over 100 with one or two more being added every day. They will hold their closing exercises on Thursday evening and on Friday comes the picnic at Wheeler Park in Harrington.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Greenwood Volunteer Fire Co. will hold its regular monthly meeting on Friday evening June 26 at the Fire Hall at 8:00.

The Grace Church W.S.C.S. will meet on Thursday evening, at Mrs. W.S. Lord's.

Our community has again been saddened by the death of two well-known men. John Elliott had lived in this vicinity for the past 70 years. Of late years, he, with his wife, operated that pretty roadside market which has often been spoken of as the most attractive market of its kind along the highway. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Mart Uhler and Mrs. Clarence Ocheltree, nephew, Clifford Elliott of Milton, a granddaughter, Mrs. Vernon of Seaford and a great-grandson, Eddie Metzner. He was buried in the St. Johnstown cemetery.

Miss Grace Porter, who teaches in the Media, Pa., school, is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Porter. Mrs. S. S. Wroten was their Sunday dinner guest.

Richard P. Hayes, E. M. 2 U. S. Navy, U. S. S. Gypsy, A.R.S.D.-1 recently returned from Korea, where they were cleaning up harbors, and is home on a 30-day furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Clifton of Dover and Mr. and Mrs. Holzmueller of Milford were Sunday callers of Mrs. Laura Clifton.

Mrs. Laura Griffith, Mrs. Hazel Cannon and Mrs. Dorothy Porter attended the V.F.W. auxiliary encampment at Dover on Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Annie Hatfield spent a day in Wilmington recently visiting Mrs. Rosa Hatfield, who was a former well-known resident of this community. She has been very ill all winter in Brandywine Sanatorium, but friends will be glad to learn that she is improving at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Margaret Carter in Wilmington. Although confined to her bed most of the time, she is bright and cheerful and takes great interest in her flowers and in all happenings, family events and world affairs.

Miss Beulah Conway is taking a summer course at the University of Delaware.

This is the week in which the State-Wide American Legion Auxiliary carries out its Girls State program. These girls take over the legislature for one day and learn how our state is governed. They will stay at Wesley College in Dover for the week. This program is sponsored locally by the Bridgeville American Legion Auxiliary, the Bridgeville P.T.A. and the Greenwood P.T.A. Four girls are being sent from the Bridgeville-Greenwood area. Those from Greenwood are Virginia McDowell and Joan Webb and from Bridgeville, Catherine Rice and Dorothy Messick.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Chaffinch and Ann Christopher spent Sunday at New River Ranch and had the pleasure of meeting Hank Snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson are down this way on their vacation. Rose is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lord and Harold is over at Sharptown, Md. visiting Mr. and Mrs. Berkley Phillips and doing a bit of fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lord are away on a six-weeks' trip across country. They expect to visit California, Oregon and the Canadian Rockies. The parents received a card on Wednesday mailed from the Grand Canyon. They expect to spend some time at Yellowstone National Park also. They are finding extremely hot weather throughout the West and a card mailed from Okhlahoma stated that while they were comfortable in air-conditioned tea room, the thermometer outside was over a 100. Let's hope they tell us more about this very interesting vacation.

Speaking of vacations, we'll now go up New England way and travel a bit with Rose Handloser. Her letter is so interesting this week that I think we will quote it almost verbatim. She says, "We went to Boston for our week of training and gathered for our first meal together at Gordon School of Theology and Missions after which we had a 'get-acquainted testimony time' when we each told of our Christian experience and why we had chosen this field of work. We found ourselves in a group of united working with beautiful unity!"

We arrived at Keene, N.H. for our first assignment, and on Sunday, our hostess took us out past Mt. Monadnock, the highest mountain in Southern New England, and on to the Cathedral of the Pines. It was a beautiful service and the view beyond description. The lake in a deep gorge on one side and Mt. Monadnock to the front and the altar with stones from every state and most countries, is built on holy soil from the Holy Land. The Hammond organ is underground under a cover which is opened up during the service. The pulpit, too, is of stone and so is the baptismal font. Thousands gather there every Sunday to hear the word of Christ.

Late yesterday afternoon, our host and hostess took us over the Mohawk Trail down in the Berkshires of Massachusetts. I had never seen real mountains before. Truly the "heavens declare the glory and the firmament showeth his handiwork." We climbed up and around the mountains and looked down into the patchwork valleys of Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, and New York, and the beautiful Connecticut River Valley. We stopped and looked out over this American Switzerland and then on to the summit which is around 3400 feet.

We plan to go tomorrow to Vermont to the great Hogback Mt. (we call it Pigback Mt.) and then on Saturday we're planning to go to the White Mountain of New Hampshire where we'll see the "Old Man of the Mountain" or the "Great Stone Face".

Our Bible school here in Keene started with an enrollment of 24 which has increased to 38. The food is really delicious here. The usual procedure here is to have a "little" breakfast of brown bread and beans, fruit, milk, cocoa and doughnuts "The people are lovely."

Well, don't you all feel as though you had had a vacation right along with Rose. We look forward to more.

There will be no Sunday School or preaching services at St. Johnstown Methodist Church next Sunday as the minister will be attending the World Methodist Convocation of Evangelism in Philadelphia on that day. Sunday School will be at 10:30 in the morning Sunday, July 5. Everybody welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jester and Jack spent the weekend in Chincoteague, Va. doing some fishing and visiting Bob's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Quillen. On Sunday, Robert, Jr., Ronald Case and Glenn Calloway attempted their first long trip in Bobby's jolly, the "Walter P." All went well and they arrived safely, but once in Chincoteague, something went wrong with "Walter's" in-nards and the boys found it necessary to leave him with the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Milliken and son, Gary were Sunday dinner guests of the J. Burton Carters. In the afternoon they called on Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield.

Few Deficiencies

"Just bought my 4th Kaiser"

"My fourth Kaiser is the best yet," says E. U. Sherman, Kansas City. "I bought my first Kaiser in 1947, liked it so well I've bought three more. I find the Kaiser best suited to me."

With 730,000 cars on the road, Kaiser's repeat ownership tops all previous records — and Kaiser's new $62 million expansion program assures these owners of a great future!

Kaiser has an outstanding record of repeat owners. Here's why:

Styling—The Kaiser has won more international beauty awards than any other American automobile. Trim and low with unlimited visibility through the greatest glass area of any standard sedan.

Performance—With no unnecessary dead weight to pull, every ounce of power goes into efficient performance. Lowest center of gravity of any standard American sedan, plus Kaiser's suspension, lets you take curves faster and stay snug to the road.

Safety—When you drive a Kaiser with its safety-padded instrument panel, 'push-out' windshield and narrow corner posts... you'll never feel as secure in any other car!

See Your Dealer—Now you can get a better car at a better price—and the Kaiser-Frazer dealer's king-sized allowance on your present car will prove it to you!

Choice of Standard, Overdrive* or Hydra-Matic* plus new—lowest cost—Kaiser Power Steering*

"On the road all the time—now in my third Kaiser," writes J. J. Long, Long Island salesman. "Traveled 140,000 miles without expensive repairs; 26 miles on a gallon, too."

"Four Kaisers in our family," says E. S. Cleveland, California garage owner. "For economy of operation and performance they can't be matched. No question about it, the best engineered car."

"Saved my life," says Donald E. Holmes, Coldwater, Michigan. He walked away from a crash, thanks to Kaiser's safety-padded instrument panel and 'push-out' windshield."

Why It Is Necessary to Raise Telephone Rates

Any business must raise the price it charges for its goods or services when its expenses continue to increase faster than its revenues.

That is why we must raise our rates at this time.

The cost of everything that goes into furnishing the service has steadily mounted.

Like any other business, we have had to pay higher prices for the materials, services and supplies we buy.

Like any other business, an increasingly higher percentage of the money we take in has been going for taxes. Since 1949 the Federal Tax on our income increased from 38 to 52 per cent. Taxes affect the price of any product or service.

In line with industry in general we are paying higher wages to obtain and keep capable people to furnish telephone service. Wages are by far the biggest single item of our expenses — nearly two thirds. Basic wage rates paid our employees have more than doubled since 1940.

The expenses of running the business, in spite of savings from scientific advancements and better methods for providing service, have been increasing at a substantially faster rate than revenues.

As a result, the return on our plant investment has fallen off sharply and with a continuing downward trend in earnings we are rapidly approaching a critical financial situation.

Under these circumstances—like any other business—we must raise our prices.

This will be only the second time in 32 years that we have raised intrastate rates in Delaware.

The first was in 1949.

These two increases will raise the over-all cost of telephone service less than half as much as the general increase in the cost of living.

Hundreds of people in Delaware are waiting for telephone service. Hundreds more apply each month. We must take care of them. In addition, we must continue to furnish good telephone service for our customers. And, finally, the vital communications requirements of National Defense must be met.

To do the job, we must continue to expand, and the money to pay for expansion must come largely from investors.

It is in the public interest that this Company be in a sound financial position so that people will continue to invest their savings in this business.

We have mailed to each of our customers information about the rate changes in this community. Complete schedules of these rates are now on file in our Business Offices.

ADD VARIETY TO MEALS WITH MILK PRODUCTS

June is dairy month. There's an abundance of milk products available for refreshing warm weather dishes.

Every family member needs milk or milk products, according to Janet L. Coblenz, nutritionist, University of Maryland Extension Service. A tiny baby depends almost entirely on milk for food. Mother and dad need to drink two or three glasses a day for constant growth and repair that goes on within their bodies. Grandma and Grandad are less likely to break bones if they also get two or three glasses of milk each day for bone building, smooth skin, sparkling white teeth—even good eyesight at night and fewer colds. You always need to drink the milk. For example: two or three big scoops of ice cream or a 1-2 cube of ice cream (1 ounce), can take the place of a glass of milk some days. That's in terms of calcium needs.

You can add variety and novelty to your meals if you take full advantage of the many offerings in the dairy department. The wide range of forms, flavors and textures gives you excellent choice.

Drink whole milk, skimmed milk or buttermilk. Take it from the package as a powder, or from the can as condensed or evaporated milk. Enjoy cream alone—light or heavy. Use milk in soups for lunch and in the main dish or dessert for dinner. For a pick-up on a hot summer day, serve ice-cold glass of milk with a cookie as a between-meal snack. Serve ice cream and milk sherberts. Take your choice of cheese—soft or hard, fat free or fat-rich. Turn to butter for hot biscuits or rolls and as a seasoning for vegetables.

WHEELERS

This is 1953 and the year that Philco is making history. When you inspect the new lines as we have done and see the wonderful products they are offering, you, too, will say it's amazing the way they can figure out the different things to help the rich and poor.

You know Philco isn't just a name, it is what that name stands for. There is no franchise today that is as valuable as a Philco franchise in the products that they supply.

Only today a representative of a very old and famous manufacturer of electronics wanted me to take on their products to offer you for sale. When I told them I had the Philco franchise, they, without hesitation, told me that it is the best that can be had. I am telling you this because when you are thinking of purchasing a television, a refrigerator, an electric stove, a radio, an air conditioner, a freezer or even a battery or tube, bear this in mind and say to yourself why should I pay the same amount or more for products that are also made by Philco? Why take chances when Philco has weeded out the doubts from the many items they manufacture and give you the real enjoyment and usefulness that you have a right to expect.

Fair time will soon be here and by all means arrange to see these items on display at our booths. If you haven't purchased your Philco products by then, better leave your money at home as it will leave you like water running through a sieve as just what you have always wanted will be there, and the best—P H I L C O.
