Dick Case Will Classify Horses for Harness Meet Opening Here Oct. 2

T. B. Holloway, general manager of the Kent & Sussex Racing Association, announced today that Richard "Dick" Case, of Flemington, N. J., has been secured to classify the horses for the pari-mutuel harness meet at Harrington starting Sat., Oct. 3, for 20 nights.

Holloway stated that Case would be the racing secretary and handicapper, replacing George C. Enslin, who had been at Harrington since 1946. Mr. Enslin is now in Freehold, N. J.

Mr. Case will not be a stranger to harness fans or horsemen, as he has served the sport in many capacities, handling the publicity for the USTA for three. He has served as general manager at Roscroft Raceway in Washington, D. C.; as general manager at Ocean Downs Raceway and general manager and handicapper at the Grandview Oval in Cleveland, O.

Although only 38, Dick has grown up with the sport. His father owned and raced harness horses. He raced in Harrington back in 1930, Dick helping him out and covering the races for the Philadelphia papers.

Case will have some 400 trotters and pacers on the grounds to participate in his racing program and plans nine races nightly.

Many stables, including those of Emil Adams, John Amato, Tom and Jack Walters, Bohemia Stables, Jim Stokly, Ellis Myer, Lloyd James, Clay Hammer, Olin Davis, Pat Hubbard, Charles Carter, have already filed applications with the track for stall space.

Delaware Memorial Bridge Has Record Receipts

Delaware Memorial Bridge had its greatest single month volume of business in August when 872,378 vehicles used the span, W. B. McKendrick, Jr., general manager, reported to the State Highway Department in his monthly report.

Overall volume was 7.5 per cent higher in August than a year ago when 811,173 vehicles were recorded.

Greatest percentage increase was recorded by users of commutation tickets, according to McKendrick. There were 59,310 trips in August compared to 30,527 a year ago. However, it must be remembered that the popular 10-trip monthly ticket was not in effect in August, 1952.

The daily average jumped to 28,141 in August, compared to 26,973 a year ago, and Aug. 16 a new one-day record was set when 38,829 vehicles used the span. Curiously enough, this record was set just one day short of the former high mark which occurred Aug. 17, 1953.

Four-axle vehicles showed a sharp increase last month when 54,037 trucks of this type used the span in comparison to 43,942.

The smallest percentage increase was recorded in passenger traffic, although strangely enough this brings the greatest volume of business. In August, 1952, there were 677,387 passen-

Blendt Appointed To State Board

Charles Blendt, of near Smyrna, has been appointed by the State Soil Conservation Commission to the Board of Supervisors of Kent County Soil Conservation District to fill the post left vacant by the death of Ernest Blendt. This term of office will expire in December, 1955.

Mr. Blendt, well known in the community, has been active in a number of organizations. He is a member of the I. O. O. F., a P. M. A. committeeman, and has for a number of years been a member of the Grange.

Like the other three members of the Board of Supervisors, Mr. Blendt is a farmer in Kent County. His 217-acre farm is located on the Smyrna-Leipsic Road.

Since he bought the farm in 1942, he has built it up and is now handling a herd of about 75 registered Holstein cattle. Major crops on the farm are feed for his cattle, maintaining high yields, such as 100 bushels of corn to the acre.

Mr. Blendt has always been conservation minded. The first meeting of the Kent County farmers to organize a Soil Conservation District was held at his farm in the spring of 1943. With high yielding crops year after year, Mr. Blendt has been able to maintain the fertility, productivity, and structure of his soil by a three-year rotation of corn, grain, and hay.

ger cars of all types, while this August there were 694,642, a gain of 2.5 per cent.

Meanwhile, McKendrick also reported that since the final August figures were computed the fourteen millionth vehicle crossed the span early last week, and traffic has been continuing at an accelerated pace. By Aug. 31, 13,743,494 vehicles used the span since its opening Aug. 16, 1951, and during the first 15 days of September 300,000 vehicles have been recorded.

Gross toll income for the month of August was reported as $726,776.41 as against $685,611.78 during the same month in 1952. During the three-month period of the new fiscal year, June 1 to Aug. 31, gross toll income has been $2,041,385.46, compared to $1,868,978.56 for the same period a year ago.

A breakdown of the types of vehicles using the span in August follows:

- Passenger cars (all types) 694,642.
- Two-axle vehicles, buses, etc., 22,942.
- Three-axle vehicles, 36,835.
- Four-axle vehicles, 54,037.
- Five-axle vehicles, 354.
- Free (including police patrols) 44,258.
- Passenger car monthly commutation, 37,091.
- Passenger car 10-trip tickets, 22,219.

PORTER-LARE

Mrs. Evelyn Porter, daughter of Mrs. Doris Larimore, of Harrington, became the bride of Charles Edward Lare, son of Mrs. Annie Lare, of Bridgeville, Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. George Harrington, at Felton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Milton Elliott, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Harrington.

William West, brother of the bride, gave his sister in marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harrington and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Beauchamp attended the couple. Richard Beauchamp, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

The bride was attired in a white net over nylon gown with chantilly lace bodice, with a white elbow-length veil. She carried an orchid on a white prayer book.

Mrs. Harrington wore an aqua ankle-length gown with head-

En Route Home

Sgt. Ralph Smith

St. Ralph Smith Enroute Home

Sgt. Ralph C. Smith, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Brown Smith, of Harrington, is en route to the United States, according to a report issued by the armed forces. Sgt. Smith has been serving in Korea with the 2nd Infantry Division's Reconnaissance Company.

In the Army 20 months, Smith has received the UN and Korean Service Ribbons since arriving in Korea last December.

A graduate of Staunton (Va.) Military Academy and Peirce Business College in Philadelphia, he was employed as a bookkeeper by the Harrington Motor Company.

The 2d Division took part in two of the Korean conflict's most historic battles. It captured "Heartbreak Ridge" after weeks of bitter fighting in October, 1951, and took "Old Baldy" in July, 1952.

F. Brown Smith told The Journal yesterday he had received no official word of his son's return. However, he said he had received a letter in early September from Sgt. Smith in which he advised his parents not to write as he was moving the following day and thought he was going to "some island" or Japan.

Sgt. Smith's wife, Beatrice, is now in Trenton, N. J. Their home is at 304 Farmington Rd.

Sgt. Smith last night phoned his wife in New Jersey from Seattle, Wash., saying that he would be detained there for a while for a checkup at a military hospital.

Willard Chew Back in Arabia

Willard Chew has returned to Aden, Arabia, where he will be working for a year on oil tanks for a bridge and oil company.

Mr. Chew flew to London, from London to Cairo, Egypt, thence to Ethiopia, and on to Arabia.

Mr. Chew, who owns a farm near Vernon, has rented the land.

During the war he worked in Arabia.

FELTON P. T. A. NEWS

New officers assumed their duties and new teachers introduced when the Felton Parent-Teachers Association held its first meeting of the school year, Monday evening, with a "get-acquainted" and social meeting. Ninety-four new members were added to the enrollment.

Mrs. Gladys Mack, new president, presided at the business meeting. Other officers elected last spring, who took up their new duties, were Mrs. Margaret Kates, vice-president; Mrs. Wanda Keller, secretary, and Mrs. Bess Dill, treasurer. William D. Hammond is P. T. A. advisor.

The theme of the Felton P. T. A. for the year is "Understanding Our Schools Better" (discussion groups and question box.)

Of Local Interest

Mrs. Neal Marvel, of Wilmington and Rehoboth, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dean Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Earl Sylvester and Mrs. W. W. Sharp attended a meeting of the executive committee of Peninsula Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service at Milford last Thursday.

Miss Elizabeth Shaw has returned to her home here after spending a month in the Milford Memorial Hospital recuperating from a broken leg which she suffered in Venice, Italy, in July.

Miss Cathy Emory, of Wilmington, is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miner.

We Build Men and Women When We Build Schools

What is happening in the world today we can do very little about, but what happens 20 years from now, we can direct. The only way the world of tomorrow can be formed is through our homes, the churches, and the schools of today.

There is no greater power in the world today than education. When one considers this and realizes that 50 years ago, of all the young people of high-school age only 11 out of every 100 were in high school and only five were graduated, one can understand why today, of necessity, educational problems and expenses have increased, because now 73 out of every 100 are in school, and of these 59 are graduated.

More young people are attending college than attended high school 30 years ago. These boys and girls are young men and women of varied interests and abilities, requiring materials and instructors of as varied abilities. These instructors must hold their interests and will develop them into useful citizens with their help.

The present-day world seems to be in quite a mess, but you and I, individually, cannot fix it directly. There is, however, a formula that will apply, though we are very slow to use it. It reads as follows:

"Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

That's all. We said that seven times the number of pupils are knocking at our high-school doors, as compared with the number of 50 years ago. Our interests in this world of affairs have multiplied. When the parents and grandparents of our present school population were young, the range of travel was limited to the ability and walking range of our horses. That was about 30 miles a day. World news traveled slowly, too.

New fields of contact, new experience, and new friends, all demand a wider and more intensive background.

None of this can be denied. We can, however, hold back or start the progress and development of our young men and women and, consequently, we retard the future by denying the means to proceed and to do. This makes it necessary for us to awaken and build, build, build.

Other nations are slaves to the past but not our nation. We are a democracy.

Have you asked yourself why we are a democracy or rather why we, as a democracy, have been able to exist? The answer is simple: it is all wrapped up in the method and procedures we follow in educating our boys and girls.

This nation will persist and continue and will enhance our well-being in the future in the degree that we develop and support our public schools. They are, and can rightfully claim to be, the bulwark of our civilization. From this point of view, we are wondering whether we have given our teachers due deference and our school boards and administrators due support in their efforts to maintain and develop the greatest organization in our country, our public schools.

This is an organization which handles the most valuable raw material (your children), an organization which includes on its rolls the most extensive personnel and which touches more lives than any other in the country. This organization receives and demands more monies for running expenses, all from local and state taxes, than any other organization, even our largest business groups. Only our military organizations are larger and more costly.

You are asked to support school service and school building programs. These cost a considerable amount of money, but remember you are a free agent in a free country. What you get is a great value for relatively little. Would you prefer to live in a non-democratic country and share the existence with others in fear and want?

American democracy is built, is based on, and is the outgrowth of our public school system. You can well afford to spend much more for the good you have gotten and are going to get because you know full well that you would not give up what you have and have enjoyed in well being and happiness for life in any other country in the world.

Local Feed Company Made Custom Mixing Station by Purina

Harrington Lumber & Supply Company, feed distributor of Harrington, has been made an approved custom mixing station, according to an announcement just received from the Ralston Purina Company, St. Louis, Mo.

"We are fully qualified," they say, "to render the type of custom grinding and mixing service the Ralston Purina Company authorizes in the announcement. We are completely equipped to grind farmers' own grains and mix into them balancers that the Purina Research Laboratories and Purina Research Farm have found to be practical and economical. By grinding the farmers' own grain and blending with it the proper Purina balancer, it is possible to increase the return a farmer gets from his grain when he markets it through his livestock and poultry in the form of pork, beef, eggs or milk."

Certain definite standards had to be met before they could become a Purina Custom Mixing Station, according to them.

"We have been provided with the Purina Rations Service which entitles us to the help of the Purina Laboratories and Farm on any special needs of our customers. In addition, these laboratories have provided us with a complete set of rations using corn, oats, wheat, barley, rye, or sorghum grains and Purina balancers. Also, as a Purina Custom Mixing Station we must send samples of mixtures from our mixtures to the Purina Analytical Laboratory so they can check the uniformity and accuracy of our machinery."

"This arrangement," they say, "makes it possible for us to render an unusually high quality of accurate, uniform and profitable feed mixing service to the farmers in this vicinity—a service particularly adapted to local feeding conditions."

Harrington Lumber & Supply Company also handles the complete Purina Chows as well as Purina Concentrates.

United States Must Keep Ahead Of Competitions in Preparedness, Senator Frear Tells Democrats

More Than 83 Per Cent of Kent County Adults Were Reported X-rayed

Mother Seeks Custody of Son

Action in the habeas corpus proceedings in the Superior Court, filed by Mrs. Sarah R. Manship, of Smyrna, in reference to the custody of her 12-year-old son, William Charles Manship, was ordered continued Friday at Dover by Presiding Judge Charles S. Richards.

At a conference between counsel in the case, William J. Storey for Mrs. Manship, and former United States Senator James M. Tunnell, Sr., for the defendant, it was agreed that Senator Tunnell would be given 10 days in which to file a reply brief to the allegations made in the filing of the case.

Storey stated that after the filing of this brief, it will be determined if an amicable agreement can be reached in the matter or whether it will be necessary to have a trial before the court.

William Charles Manship, the youth in question, with his father, Wilson Manship, and the father's stepmother, who reside in Harrington, were in court Friday for the proceedings.

In her petition, Mrs. Manship, the mother, alleged that when the son, William Charles Manship, was two years of age, she became seriously ill. Her son, with her permission at that time, went to live with her husband's stepmother in Harrington. About a year later, when she had recovered from her illness, and was able to resume the custody of her son, her husband and the husband's stepmother refused to permit her son to return to her home in Smyrna. Also, that she has been refused even partial custody of her son.

Her petition asks the court to order at least partial custody of her son for her. The petition further sets forth that in May, 1952, her husband left their home in Smyrna and went to live with his stepmother in Harrington.

The couple was married on June 14, 1938, and the child was born Feb. 7, 1941.

Xray Unit Will Be Stationed at Dover Bazaar

The Delaware Statewide Chest X-Ray Survey will have an X-ray unit at Spence's Bazaar in Dover today from 10:00 to 6:00 p. m. This is to accommodate all the people who were unable to have a chest X-ray because of the breakdown of the unit at Spence's last week. This will be the last chance for an X-ray in Kent County during the Statewide Survey. Anyone in Kent County who has not yet had an X-ray is urged to take advantage of this opportunity Friday.

The Kent County X-Ray Council Executive Committee and staff wish to thank the Governor, radio stations, the press, the owners of moving picture theatres, city councils, police, and the volunteers of all ages in Kent County for the exceptional co-operation they rendered to the survey. The outstanding success of the program in our district was entirely dependent upon the faithful help of volunteers such as you. Over 23,000 individuals were X-rayed in our neighborhood units.

The spirit with which you participated in this health project is truly appreciated.

We thank you—one and all. Charles H. Smith, Chairman, Staff Workers (Vic and Nell).

Mrs. Benjamin Johnson has returned to her home in Denton, after spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. R. E. Raughley, here, and her cousin, Mrs. William Coulbourne, at Houston.

Pointing to a reduction in the air force budget, U. S. Senator J. Allen Frear said the United States must keep ahead of its competitors in the "grim game of preparedness."

The senator addressed a dinner meeting of Kent County Democrats, attended by some 400, at the Social Hall of Dover High School. Vernon Derrickson, chairman of the Kent County Democratic Committee, was toastmaster.

Continuing, Senator Frear said, "We, in Kent County, where we have an air base, would not like to leave the county unprepared."

The senator told the audience a hydrogen or atomic bomb could be carried here from abroad that could virtually obliterate our great industrial centers and destroy millions in seconds. He added that threat of reprisal might deter such action, but since such an attack might leave us helpless, that was a reason it might take place.

The Dover senator advised the procurator of the best possible radar system and other means of combating attack. He believed such an attack would come from the North, since it was easier than crossing the Atlantic Ocean, and added it was necessary for an adequate civil defense, especially in Delaware where "we have nice targets."

"The work that has been done in Kent County will help greatly in the success of the survey in Sussex and New Castle Counties," Dean Penrose stated. Ten mobile x-ray units are now x-raying in Sussex County and will be there through Oct. 10. The survey hopes to x-ray 44,392 persons 15 years of age and older, which, according to the 1950 census, is the total number of adults in Sussex County.

Approximately 10,000 notices showing the results of the x-ray films have been mailed to Kent countians by the survey to date. Readings of the films started Wed., Sept. 16, and the mailing of the results started Fri., Sept. 18. There are two kinds of notices—post cards to those whose x-ray is normal, and sealed-envelope letters to those whose x-ray was blurred or indicated further study. The sealed-envelope notices request that the person return for a second free x-ray. This second x-ray measures 14x17 inches, and can be studied in greater detail than the first 21-4x21-4 picture. Dean Penrose stressed that there is not necessarily anything wrong with those who are requested to have a second x-ray.

A large x-ray unit is now set up at Legislative Hall in Dover to make the second larger x-ray unit of those who have been asked to return. This unit will operate at Legislative Hall until Oct. 5 and will then move to Georgetown for retake in Sussex County Oct. 7 or 8.

Legion Auxiliary Committees Named

The first meeting for 1953-54 of the C. K. R. T. Auxiliary Unit of the American Legion was held Tues., Sept. 15, at the Post Home. Mrs. William Outten, the president, conducted the business session.

She announced the following committee chairmen for the coming year: Americanism, Mrs. Dale Dean; child welfare, Mrs. O. T. Roberts, Jr.; civil defense and publicity, Mrs. William A. Miner; constitution and by-laws, Mrs. Charles Peck, Jr.; education of orphans, Mrs. James O'Neal; Girl's state, Mrs. Robert Wechtemiser; junior activities and music, Mrs. Tharp Harrington; legislation, Mrs. Gooden Calloway; membership, Mrs. Leonard Taylor; national security, Mrs. Eugene Anderson; Pan American, Mrs. Reynolds French; past president's parley and poppy, Mrs. Clyde Tucker; radio, Mrs. Norman Brown; rehabilitation, Mrs. Frank O'Neal, Jr.

The unit will sponsor a spaghetti dinner at the Post Home Sat., Oct. 10, starting at 4 p. m. Tickets may be obtained from any member or at the door.

A special meeting will be held Tues. evening, Sept. 22, at 8 o'clock at the Post Home to complete plans for the supper. All members urged to attend.

Apartment Questioned

He also wanted to know whether Gov. J. Caleb Boggs is using the famous apartment in Legislative Hall about which Gov. Carvel was frequently criticized by Republicans. He said he hopes that the present governor is making good use of it.

Harris B. McDowell, Jr., state Democratic chairman, reported to the meeting on the recent conference of party officials in Chicago.

Joseph J. Scannell, who was the party's candidate for U. S. Representative last year, said that organizational steps are being taken in Wilmington.

Strong Internal Economy

The nation's welfare called for a strong internal economy to pay for defense, Senator Frear commented, as he said he noticed with alarm a recent decline in farm prices.

The senator, who had just returned from a nation-wide Democratic meeting in Chicago, told of the accomplishments of the administrations of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, such as slum clearance, Federal Housing Authority, and housing for veterans.

At the beginning of his speech, Senator Frear declared there was a contrast between the administrations of Gov. Carvel and Gov. Boggs and added he thought the people of Delaware were more aware of the accomplishments of the former after the past Legislature. "It's the change they asked for," he said.

Showing a copy of the Chicago Tribune, with the banner below, "Ike Calls For Sacrifices," referring to a speech the President had made Monday evening, the senator commented, "it was different from what they said last fall."

Carvel Challenges GOP

Former Gov. Elbert N. Carvel told the meeting that the Democratic administration he headed succeeded in translating more than 80 per cent of its platform into legislation. He challenged the present Republican administration to live up to its platform.

The former governor said it is time to ask the Republicans some questions, and he proceeded to ask: What has happened to Senator John Williams? He said that Senator Williams got a great deal of publicity and spear-headed the Republican victory last year, but now seems to be silent.

"Has he been throttled?" Mr. Carvel inquired. He also asked what became of Mrs. Lillian I. Martin's prediction that the state would end the last fiscal year with a deficit. That one, the former governor answered: The state ended the year with a surplus close to the amount we predicted.

Commercial Club News

The Commercial Club has elected the following officers for the coming year:

Louise Baker, president.
Mildred Kemp, vice-president.
Martha Jean Sneath, treasurer.
Glady's Mae Hill, secretary.

The club members talked over their plans for a dance later in the year. Also discussed was the increased enrollment of students taking business subjects. There has been from 25 to 30 per cent rise over last year's classes. Most of the rise is represented by academic students who have displayed a thirst for some business training in addition to their regular course.

Library News

Ninety new books have been added to the school library. In addition to fiction books, there are books on biography, music, teen age problems, nature, short stories, and world politics.

Miss Long's fifth grade visited the library for the first time Thursday. Mrs. Hess' sixth grade visited the library Friday morning for its initial visit.

Book Review

"Future Perfect" by Bernice Bryant. This book is a guide to personality and popularity for the "Junior Miss."
—Susan B. Myer.

Hockey Practice

The girls have begun hockey practice under the guidance of Mrs. Fred Myer. This year they will be sporting new blue uniforms purchased for them by the Harrington Lions Club.

Varsity Club Bake

The Varsity Club, composed of students in school athletic activities, is having a bake Oct. 10, at Taylor's Hardware. The money earned by this bake will help to purchase letters to give to the school athletes and sweaters for the seniors.

All help will be deeply appreciated because the club is quite small for the amount needed to buy these articles.

Miss Long—Grade 5

We have thirty-three pupils in our room. There are fourteen girls and nineteen boys. One boy is a new student. His name is John Walker. We are studying about the people who discovered and built our country.

Mrs. Hess—Grade 6

All assigned students have reported for work with bright and happy faces. Many new texts have been supplied and we are enjoying them immensely. We are all looking forward to moving into the new building.

There are ten music students among us. All will soon be in the Junior Band.

We have been planning a science and social studies table. A group of our class will be responsible for it each week.

Miss Tharp—Grade 6

Miss Tharp's grade is studying about cave men in Social studies. They have collected some tools of the cave man and made reports about him, such as:

Foods of Cave Man: Thelma Collins, Ray Starkey, Neal Kimmy.

Cave Man's Enemies: Jimmy McDonald, Billy Pike, Joe Rattledge.

Cave Man's Homes: Ronnie Collison, Donald Pierso.

Cave Man's Sports: Ralph Dennis, Eddie Greenlee, Bobby Gillette.

Cave Man's Religion: Patsy Jack, Sandra Minner.

Early Man's Tools: Vivian Webb, Joe Dennis, Ronald Wooters, Bobby Greer.

Early Man's Art—Thelma Camper, Betty Lee Hendricks.

Study of Light: Joan Welch, Alice Wright.

Early Man's Clothing: Bonny Lee Satterfield, Ruth Walls, Kay Moore.

Early Man's Civilization: Jane Hughes.

Early Man's Transportation: Windell Adkins, Lois Rash.

On Friday, Sept. 17, the class elected officers to help in the class. The following were elected:

President, Vivian Webb.
Vice-president, James McDonald.

Secretary, Patsy Jack.
Treasurer, Jane Hughes.
Caroline Cochrane, who was to be in this room, moved to Lancaster, Pa. Wayne and Norman Woodall moved to Greenwood, and Ernest Hill moved, also, but his whereabouts are unknown.

EVER READY CLASS NOTES

The Ever Ready Class of Asbury Church held its first fall meeting in Collins Hall of the church Monday evening, with Mrs. Oscar Gillette, president in the chair.

Satisfactory reports were given from the recent flower show, and a contribution from the class treasury to the building fund of the church was voted.

A supper for the men who have donated labor when the new wing is completed was discussed and plans will be completed later.

A program was presented by Mrs. O. T. Perry and refreshments served by her committee.

CHURCHES PLAN JOINT STUDY CLASS

A committee from Trinity Methodist Church WSCS met with a committee from Asbury WSCS at the home of Mrs. Allen B. Parsons Monday afternoon to formulate plans for a joint study class with the Rev. Robert E. VanCleave as teacher.

It was decided to study the approved course, "The Prophet Jeremiah," and the following chairmen were appointed:

Mrs. Ellwood Gruwell and Mrs. Theodore Harrington, greetings; Mrs. Mark Willey, Mrs. Howard Wagner, Miss Blanche Price and Mrs. C. Tharp Harrington, arrangements; Mrs. Earl Sylvester and Mrs. Guy Winebrenner, devotions; Mrs. Ernest Raughley and Mrs. Guy Winebrenner, devotions, and Mrs. W. Sharp, publicity.

The first and second meetings of this study class will be in Trinity Church, Fri., Oct. 30, at 2:00 p. m., and on Nov. 6, at the same hour. The third and fourth meetings will be held in Asbury Church on Nov. 13 and 20, at 2:00 p. m.

All four meetings are open to the public. Besides those studying for credit, visitors will be welcome at every session.

Faculty Elects New Officers

Richard C. Clark has been elected president of the Caesar Rodney Faculty for the current year, succeeding Edwin F. Englehart. Other newly elected officers are: Frederic W. Brown, vice-president; Mrs. Virginia S. Dewey, secretary; Mrs. Mildred W. Raughley, treasurer.

The first action under the new administration was the unanimous adoption of a motion to join the National Education Association, the Delaware State Education Association, the Kent County Education Association, and the local unit. Faculty meetings are held every other Monday after school.

School Office to Be Open Saturdays

With the increase in activities and projects being carried on Saturdays at school at this season of the year by members of the faculty, students, and community organizations, the school office is now scheduled to be open every Saturday morning.

In order to encourage Saturday activities the heat will be turned on in severe weather in areas of the building now in use. Citizenship Day Observed

The assembly program for "Citizenship Day" was conducted by the civics class of Caesar Rodney School Thursday afternoon. After opening exercises led by Norma Gardner and James Faulkner, Thomas Webb, president of Student Council, introduced the speaker, Betty Ann Clute, a member of the senior class.

Betty Ann spoke on the purposes of Citizenship Day and the practices of living and thinking democracy every day of our lives.

A movie, "Americans All," was presented at the end of the assembly.

Safety Squad Reorganizes Bus Monitors

The Caesar Rodney Safety Squad last week completed reorganization of bus monitors for the new school term. From two to four monitors were elected by the students who ride on each bus. These are from the regular safety squad membership, plus additional students who remain on the bus until near the end of the route.

The main function of the group is to promote safety on the part of each bus student in traveling to and from school.

The students assisting in holding the bus elections were Squad Captain Emile Powell, Sub Captain Toni Tieman, Lieutenant Jackie Holt, Patsy Fifer and Patsy Saunders. The faculty sponsors are Horace E. Short and David L. Williams.

Students elected to serve on their respective buses are:

Bus No. 1—Mrs. Gooden Voshell, driver; Eileen Richards, Marjorie Papen.
Bus No. 2—Mrs. Glen V. Cool, driver; Patsy Saunders, Jess Carey.

Bus No. 3—Glen V. Cool, driver; Ludwig Burger, Joe Scott.

LAND VALUES UP SLIGHTLY IN DELAWARE LAST 12 MONTHS

Delaware land values were up a slight two per cent during the past 12 months. This slight rise becomes significant in view of the general decline in land values over the country, according to Dr. R. O. Bausman, head of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Delaware.

New Jersey and Maryland, along with Delaware, are among the few states that had a slight rise in land values. In contrast to most parts of the country, and the Southwest and Great Plains in particular, farmers in Delaware and in neighboring states, have enjoyed fairly stable prices of farm products during the past year.

Bausman says grain, beef, and dairy products prices are somewhat below those of a year ago, but pork, eggs, fruit and vegetable prices are slightly higher.

Values have declined this year as much as ten per cent in the Southwest and the Great Plains area, due largely to a combination drought and a fall of about 50 per cent in beef cattle prices.

Delaware land values have somewhat doubled since Prewar II. History has shown that high land values are cause for caution

POULTRY DISPOSAL PIT ADVANTAGE TO FARMERS

Delaware farmers who have built poultry disposal pits can vouch for the advantages of such a system, according to Silas McHenry, assistant extension poultryman for the University of Delaware.

Most important economically, a poultry disposal pit helps reduce disease hazards by safely disposing of dead birds. To encourage poultrymen to build these pits, McHenry says the Delaware Improvement Association has set as its goal "a disposal pit on every Delaware farm." A well-constructed pit has no noticeable odor if tightly covered, cannot be reached by prowling animals, presents no fire hazard, and can be built near the poultry house.

A poultry disposal pit is easy to build. The only cost is for material—either concrete blocks or scrap lumber. Blocks are more permanent. Recommended size for an average farm is a circular hole 7-12 feet in diameter and 6 feet deep. Mark off a 6 foot circle on the bottom of the hole and lay the first row of 8-inch concrete blocks outside this line.

Nine rows or about 108 blocks are needed to build a pit up to ground level, setting each row 1-2 inches toward the center. Set an 8- or 12-inch tile with bell end down on two 2x8-inch boards laid across the top. Cover top of pit with rough boards and on top of them pour a concrete slab 3 inches thick. Cover all but the top of the pit with dirt, then finish with a cover for the tile such as an inverted can, piece of board, or milk can lid.

For further information, ask your county agent for the extension leaflet "Poultry Disposal Pits."

KNOW THE GAUGE IN BUYING A SWEATER

Cool weather just ahead means sweaters in the family wardrobe, observes Miss Ruth E. Pearce, extension clothing specialist at the University of Delaware.

If you must shop for a new sweater, it pays to know how that sweater is constructed, says the specialist. One factor affecting wearability is the gauge, or the number of stitches within a space of 1-2 inches. The higher the gauge, the finer the knit. For example, a 21-gauge sweater is fine-knit, while a 6-gauge is coarse.

High gauges are best suited to fine yarns, low gauges to heavy yarns. When the gauge is right for the size of yarn, the fabric is firm, thus protecting against pulled or snagged yarns and loss of shape by stretching or shrinking.

In bandings, look for a firm, close knit that will stand strain without losing shape or elasticity. As a test, stretch the banding between your hands, then let it spring back. A firm-rib knit will spring back quickly to its original shape. A banding that fails to do this will lose its shape after a few wearings. For best elasticity a ribbed banding should be knit with a higher gauge than the body of the sweater.

You'll find additional tips on sweater selection in a booklet, "Buying Sweaters for the Family," which is available from the mailing room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, or from county extension offices in Newark, Dover, and Georgetown.

BEWARE DEATH TRAPS WITH ELECTRIC FENCES

Delaware farmers were warned this week that death traps exist on many local farms where homemade electric fence devices are used. The warning came from Byron L. Bondurant, engineer for the Agricultural Extension Service at the University of Delaware.

Bondurant has found several electric fence death traps in his work with the farmers throughout the state. He says these are usually homemade devices to control the flow of current through farm fences.

"Current through electric fences should be controlled only by equipment approved by testing agencies such as the Underwriters Laboratories," Bondurant points out.

"Approved controllers provide for a current that is limited to a few hundredths of an ampere and is only permitted on the line for a fraction of a second," he adds. "The 'off-period' must be sufficient to permit a person to release himself from the fence."

Small children are involved in over half the electric fence tragedies. Few people realize that even a very small current can cause death. The current used by a small 7 or 10 watt bulb is enough to electrocute a person. Victims "freeze" to the conductor and they cannot release themselves unless the current is shut off.

The National Safety Council suggests the following safeguards:

1. Avoid locating an electric fence near a good ground, such as a pipe line, pump, stock tank, pond, irrigation ditch or other normally wet ground.
2. Always prominently identify electric fences, especially those near buildings, property lines or roads.
3. Never depend upon an electric fence to restrain bulls or other vicious animals.

Kent Home Doings

By Charlotte L. Swanson
Kent County Home
Demonstration Agent

You have probably spent both time and money organizing your kitchen and your laundry so that your work will be easier. Have you done the same with your sewing equipment?

If you sew a great deal, perhaps you have organized most of your sewing equipment into one room. Perhaps your sewing activities include only occasional mending, but even so you will find your sewing hours more pleasant if you have equipment so organized that you can sit down and sew without first searching for various things.

In October or November several Kent County Home Demonstration Clubs will be discussing sewing centers. Mrs. Tilghman Outen, of the Andrewsville Club, reports that many people in her club are interested in converting old wash stands into sewing centers. They are a convenient size for the homemaker who does quite a bit of sewing and yet cannot devote a whole room to it. In the top drawer can be divisions for small equipment and supplies such as scissors, hooks and eyes, buttons, etc. In the bottom compartment there is room for storage of patterns, boxes of material, and other bulky equipment.

If you are planning to reorganize your sewing equipment and supplies, ask yourself these questions: Why do I keep sewing supplies and equipment in their present places? Is it necessary that they stay where they are now? Could I make sewing easier and save time and energy by collecting and organizing supplies and equipment in a definite place?

The Cowgill's Home Demonstration Club in its roll call of helpful hints, came up with these suggestions for organizing sewing:

Wrap your measuring tape around an old adhesive tape container. Then replace the cover of the container and keep the tape clean and sewing box neat.—Mrs. Harvey Opdyke.

Keep the top drawer of your sewing machine for small scraps of material and bits of thread. As you finish the garment, slide out the drawer and empty contents, and thus avoid the usual sewing clutter that will accumulate.—Mrs. Charles Opdyke.

An old phonograph album makes a handy pattern file. Paste the picture of the pattern over the hole and the pattern itself in the pocket.—Mrs. Edward Long, Jr.

the agricultural activities of the state bankers' associations. Maryland won with a 1275 point score, having won 600 extra points for special activities.

A. S. Gadd, Jr., Centreville National Bank, and Nevin S. Baker, Citizens National Bank, Frederick, co-chairman of the Maryland bankers' agricultural committee, were presented a recognition Wednesday by W. W. Campbell, chairman of the national bankers' agricultural commission. The award was made in the second general session of the bankers' convention being held in Washington.

The Maryland bankers were cited for their farm credit conferences, support of 4-H Club work and their co-operation with conservation groups.

New word for GETAWAY

"TT" DYNAFLOW!

The 1953 Buick Super Riviera.
Wire wheel covers, illustrated,
optional at extra cost.

We'll get right to the point.

The comments we've been getting from many new Buick owners about the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow are terrific.

And the reason is—this fully automatic transmission is, in itself, terrific.

It has a new, firm, solid "take-hold"—gives you instant getaway response.

It has new quiet—you can barely hear the acceleration build-up.

It has unique and utter simplicity of operation. You just move your Selector into Drive range, press the pedal, and go. That's all.

But the sweetest thing of all about TT Dynaflow is its smoothness.

You move from standstill to your legal speed in one progressive build-up of power delivery.

You feel a constant "carry" of forward motion, unbroken in any way—because here no gearshifting takes place, either manually or automatically.

Even your deceleration is infinitely smooth and gradual, with the cushioned control of flowing oil slowing down.

Wouldn't you like to sample this wonderful new getaway and pleasant quiet and immaculate smoothness?

We'll be glad to seat you at the wheel of a new 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow—and let the thrills come where they may. Drop in soon, won't you?

CHOSEN FRIENDS LODGE MEETS

Chosen Friends Lodge No. 35, I. O. O. F., held its regular meeting Thursday night with James E. Hutson, noble grand, presiding.

The group will meet every Thursday evening at 7:30. The building and ways and means committees are to bring suggestions at the next meeting. There will also be nomination and election of officers. Refreshments will be served.

At the meeting, bring out a member and a new candidate. Anyone 18 years or over is eligible for membership.

FLOWER SHOW

In spite of the long continued drought, there were many beautiful exhibits of various flowers at the annual flower show held at Asbury Church Friday night. Mrs. Oscar Gillette, president of the Ever Ready Bible Class awarded the prizes to the winners of the most blue ribbons as follows:

Mrs. Edith Hill, women's prize; Olen T. Perry, men's prize; Carol Lyn Betts, girls' prize; Roger Betts, boys' prize.

The judges were Mrs. Charles Peck, Jr., and Mrs. Calvin Wells, under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Raughley.

The program was an imitation of a radio broadcast with U. P. Morris, announcer, and the business men and women of Asbury Church, sponsors, furnished the commercial. The program included a vocal solo by David Myer; piano solo, Martha L. Cochran; piano duet, Beky Moore and Barbara Edwards; violin solo, E. W. Deany; piano duet, Mrs. Robert VanCleave and Mrs. George Cochran, and a quiz with 12 girls from the church.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served by the committees.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

The short periods of relaxation that are needed daily by the mother-to-be can be the most constructive moments during pregnancy. As the expectant mother regains her energy for further household tasks, she is provided with extra moments that she may not ordinarily have to devote to crocheting, knitting or sewing. Needlework tends to divert her mind from little, everyday problems and helps her accumulate a wardrobes for baby and a better one for herself.

INFANTS' WEAR

When making a beginning layette for baby, it is wise to consider the following things: An infant's delicate skin requires soft materials. His clothing should be soft and non-irritating. Since a baby perspires freely, the materials worn next to the skin must be absorbent in order to take up the moisture. His clothes soil more quickly than do adults' and should be made of materials that are easily washed. Soft baby wool and nylon yarn are ideal for baby's knitted and crocheted things.

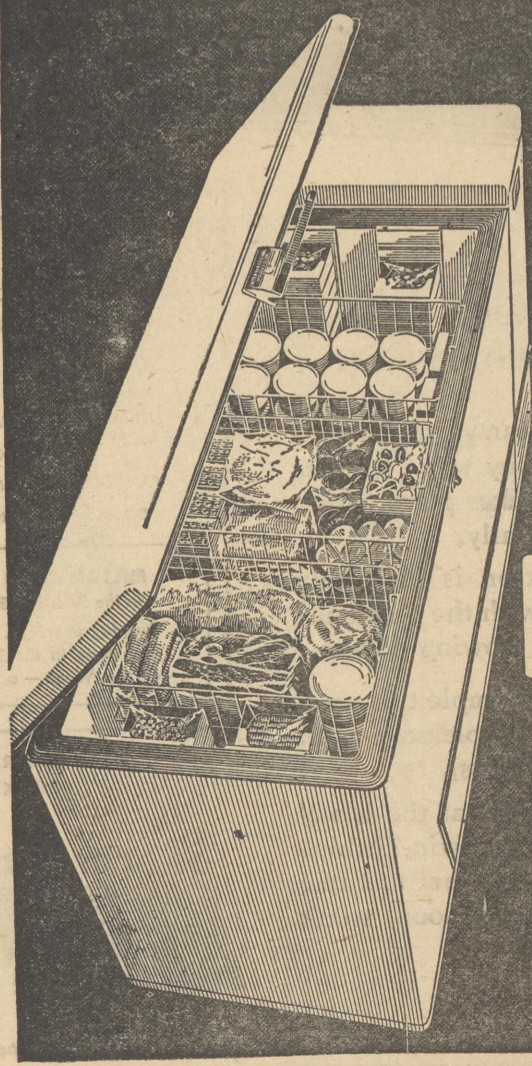

BLOCKING KNITTED OR CROCHETED GARMENTS

After you have completed a knitted or crocheted garment you may find that it needs to be blocked. A smooth, unpainted wood surface such as a drawing board is excellent, although small garments may be blocked on an ironing board. Using pins or thumbtacks, pin the article in place, shaping it to the desired size. Place a damp cloth over the garment and press with a moderately hot iron. Use a stamping, up and down movement instead of shoving the iron. In about an hour, remove the pins, but leave the garment in place until it is thoroughly dry.

SHELL STITCH SET FOR TWO

While awaiting the blessed event, keep busy and happy by crocheting your first mother and child outfit. Make matching sacques in downy baby wool, nylon yarn or blend wool and rayon for an interesting texture. Baby's sacque and mother's bedjacket are both crocheted in the pretty and easy shell stitch. For the crocheting instructions, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper for SHELL STITCH SET, Leaflet No. C-164.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Burton Carter were at Riverdale Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maguigan and on Thursday evening they called on Miss Florence Carlisle and William Carlisle, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Willey were Monday callers on Mrs. Byron Willey and family.

Dr. and Mrs. Greylock Noble are at home after vacationing in New York State.

Mrs. Kenneth Hubbard has been spending a few days in Wilmington as the guest of Mrs. John Schulze.

Sunday will be Rally Day at Greenwood Methodist Church and all the services of the Church will carry the theme. The Junior and Senior choirs will sing at the 11 o'clock service. In the evening at 7:30 there will be a special Rally Day program with the children taking part with songs and recitations. Attendance pins will be awarded, also certificates for promotion to new departments will be given. The minister will hold a service of consecration for the officers and teachers of the school. All parents who have children to be baptized are invited to present them at the evening service. On Sunday, Oct. 11, the minister will begin a membership class for young people twelve years of age or over. The class will be held every other Sunday, at the Sunday School hour, in the Educational Bldg.

The J. Burton Carters were in Wilmington last Monday. Their luncheon guests this week were Mrs. Brenon Jackson and small son, Bruce Michael.

The Firemen's Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Friday evening in the Fire Hall.

Sunday will be Rally Day at Grace Methodist Church. The three choirs, Adult, Junior and Cherub, will present the music for the occasion. Those who were present last Sunday and heard the wonderful anthem, "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place," given by the Adult Choir, will know that we can anticipate another beautiful program of worship through music. Attendance pins will be awarded.

The W. S. C. S. of Grace Church will meet with Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Coulter Tuesday evening at 8:00. Members and friends are invited to be present.

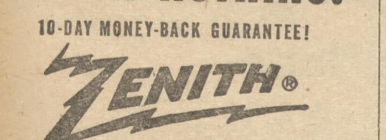

The Bookmobile will be in town today.

The Official Board of Grace Methodist Church will meet on Monday at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Handloser had a wonderful trip Sunday, and they were kind enough to call and tell us about it. Accompanied by their son, William, Jr. and wife, and daughter, Mrs. Violet Williamson, and son, Ronnie, they went to Lancaster, Pa., on to York, and arrived at Gettysburg, where they took the guided two-hour tour over the battlefield. This was especially enjoyed by Mr. Handloser, who is a great student of history. Their guide was able to give them a little extra treat in taking them to see the farm which has recently been purchased by Ike and Mamie Eisenhower. The house is being remodeled and could not be visited, but they spoke of the beautiful farm and barn. They came back by way of Baltimore, visiting the Conowingo Dam, and then on home.

The Parent-Teacher Association held its September meeting Monday. The meeting opened with prayer by Mr. Grassmeyer, a short business meeting and an address of welcome by the president, Gardiner Rogers. He spoke of the objectives of the P-T. A. and stressed safety. G. Omwake, principal of the school, took charge of the meeting and presented the aims and objectives for the coming year. He mentioned the fact that last year when school closed we had an enrollment of 398 and this year at the start, our enrollment is 452. This brings us many problems which we must solve without increased finances or equipment. He spoke of the need to co-operate with other organizations in the use of the school, mentioned the chest X-ray survey, and said that the school would establish and participate in a Civil Defense Program. The P-T. A. is also planning to sponsor an Adult Education program.

A nice letter came to our desk from the Gerald Pearsons, who are spending three months in Pensacola, Fla., where, as we told you last week, Mr. Pearson is associated with a special project for the duPont Company. They are nicely situated in a four-room apartment in the Bayou Vista Hotel at Sanders Beach in Pensacola. They took their cat, Mitzl, with them and report that he is enjoying this vacation very much. Florence says the weather down there has been much like our own, temperature around 85, with cool nights. She says the stores are displaying velvet hats and heavy coats, much like the Philadelphia stores, and she is already wondering how cool it gets.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Meredith visited their daughter, Jean, and her husband, Donald Lynch, at Selbyville, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Richards visited their daughter, Ann, who is a patient in the University of Pennsylvania Hospital.

Miss Mahala Isaacs is leaving for a visit with relatives in Milford and Lincoln.

The Caroline Poultry Company entertained on its first ladies' night at the V. F. W. Home in Federalsburg Friday evening.

Those attending from Greenwood were Mr. and Mrs. John Yoder, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Schroek, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Draper. Greenwood was especially proud of John Yoder, who received his gold pin for five years of service. There were corsages of tiny "mums" in different colors for the ladies, also favors of tiny pins in the form of sterling silver bows. A delicious turkey dinner was served, after which the guests were entertained by Mr. Snow, a magician from Salisbury. Then the floor was cleared for dancing. Marie Draper was telling us that she had the pleasure of meeting Reese Dennis, who is a brother of our own Frank Dennis, former pastor of Grace Methodist Church. Reese was toastmaster, and with his lively wit and humor, made a very able one. He told her he was flying out to Iowa next week to visit Frank and Bertha Mae and little Ada. When he goes, he will carry a sort of round-robin letter with little notes from those at Grace Church wishing him Godspeed in the work he chose.

Our W. S. C. S. took vacation the past two months. Members will meet with Mrs. Wesley Stafford next Wednesday evening, the last evening of September. A good attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Holbrook made a business trip to Wilmington Wednesday of last week. Master Johnny Robinson returned to the Frederica school last week. He has been a student there the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thomas visited Mrs. Amos Scott in Milford Memorial Hospital last Sunday evening. She seemed to be doing nicely.

Mrs. Richard Lister, Greensboro, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Butler, and family.

Bernard H. Thomas, Washington College, was a Saturday overnight guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thomas.

Mrs. L. N. Murphy spent a few days with Mrs. Lewis Butler.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wilson, returning from their wedding trip spent in Florida, met with an automobile accident in South Carolina.

Howard Pippin, Henderson, spent Saturday with his cousin, Mrs. Lewis Butler.

Mrs. F. E. Adams, Mrs. Virginia Rasch and Mrs. T. H. Towlers recently visited Mrs. Ada Fleming, of Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Lawless, Denton, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thomas and Bernard to Chestertown last Sunday afternoon.

Miss Lydia Dandy and brother,

J. H. Dandy, entertained friends Sunday afternoon.

L. Hopkins Thomas and Tommy Lee, of Easton, were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spence, Columbus, O., enroute from Rehoboth to Washington, made a brief stop with friends here.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION INFORMATION SERVICE

Questions and Answers

Q—I took a physical examination for insurance purposes, and I was rated as totally and permanently disabled. Will VA accept this rating, if I apply for a pension?

A—No. Your insurance rating has no effect on your rating for a pension. You must meet the specific requirements set up for eligibility for a pension.

Q—I receive VA compensation payments for a 10 per cent service-connected disability. I expect to be recalled to active military duty. Will my disability pay go on while I'm in uniform?

A—No. Compensation which you have been receiving because of your service-connected disability may not be paid while you're in receipt of active service pay.

Q—I notice that under the Korean GI Bill veterans may not take courses in dancing. I'm planning to study physical education in college, and one of the courses I'm supposed to take is in dancing. Will I have to skip this course?

A—No. You will be permitted to take it, under the Korean GI Bill. The restriction on dancing courses does not apply when they are part of a program of physical education at the college level, leading to an educational objective.

Q—I am a widow of a World War II veteran, and I am receiving National Service Life Insurance payments. Are those payments taxable?

A—No. National Service Life Insurance payments are exempt from taxation. But you will be required to pay taxes on any property that you might buy with those payments.

Herbs for the Home Garden

Sage is a hardy perennial found on a limited scale in many of the older gardens in Maryland. The aromatic leaves are the part of the plant used, principally in flavoring sausage and other meat and poultry products, for dressings and to impart attractive flavor to certain types of cheese.

Propagation may be from seeds, cuttings from old or new growth of parent plants, or by division of older plants. Seed may be sown in a cold frame or in open ground as soon as outside weather will permit. Plants should be set in a permanent place when 2 to 3 inches high.

Three or four plants will be enough for the average family. They will last almost indefinitely. One crop of leaves may be harvested the first year and in later years several harvestings may be made. Leaves may be picked by hand or, the terminal 3 or 4 inches of the young tender stems may be clipped and the leaves stripped. Dry the leaves in the shade or wire mesh trays or cheese-cloth sheets, in airy location, to retain as much of the original color and flavor as possible. Store in air-tight containers when dry.

Caraway is usually considered a biennial. Seed is sown in the spring, and the plants are carried over winter, they producing the second year about the middle of June. The flowers are small and white, resembling the flower clusters of wild carrot. The seeds, which are really small fruits contain from 5 to 7 per cent of an aromatic, volatile oil. They are used to flavor bread, cakes, cookies, cheeses and baked fruits. The leaves are sometimes used as garnishes and in salads.

The plants are started from seed, usually sown in open ground, and should be given clean cultivation. As soon as the oldest fruits ("seeds") ripen, cut off the seed clusters before the ripening seeds begin to shatter and spread on cheese cloth in a shady place. When reasonable dry the seeds are beaten or rubbed out of the heads and by light fanning are separated from the chaff. Store in light, porous cloth sacks in a cool dry location.

Coriander is an annual. The plants are easily grown from seed which may be sown in late April. Mature plants will grow 2 to 3 feet tall and should stand about 1 1/2 feet apart in the row. Keep down the weeds.

This is a quick growing plant and does well on relatively poor soil. The small white flowers appearing about 10 weeks after seeding are grown in clusters characteristic of the carrot family and the ripened fruits, commonly called seeds, are gathered and handled very much as caraway. These are used whole in mixed pickles and in batters for cookies, biscuits, pastries, and confections. When ground they are used in sausage making and to rub on fresh pork.

As the "seeds" ripen the color of the stem changes from green to light yellow. This indicates the seeds are beginning to harden and their color changes from green to gray, accompanied by the acquisition of a pleasant aromatic odor and sweet taste.

Water-Cress is a perennial and while a native of Europe, has been naturalized in many parts of the United States along ditches and streams. It is used as an ingredient in salads. Its roots at the joints and may be easily propagated from cuttings or may be sown from seed. While commonly grown along spring fed streams or ditches, it is possible to grow in cool moist soil gardens provided the soil moisture is kept up. It will last almost indefinitely along clean streams where the water is pure.

Most of the herb plants are just as easy to grow as are our well known vegetables. A few require special conditions, as in the case of water-cress. Thorough preparation of the seed bed is very desirable. Keep out weeds by clean cultivation. If slow growing, side dress with 5-10-5 fertilizer and work it in. Next week—Cultural directions for some more herbs and condiment plants.

CORN FEATURED AT U. OF MD. FIELD DAY

Corn was king at the University of Maryland Agronomy Farm Field Day last week.

Of the 24 experiments shown to more than 300 farmers attending the field day, more than half featured corn production problems.

The field day was dedicated to Dr. R. G. Rothgeb of the Agronomy Department, who has spent years on research and improvement of corn and small grains.

Agronomists explaining the variety test of 60 corn hybrids said that yield was only one of the characteristics being compared. Root and stalk strength, ear size and placement, freedom of disease and other factors were important, since they can greatly affect yield when conditions are not ideal. They also pointed out that it takes several years of testing under varied conditions to get an accurate measure of the ability of a new hybrid.

Tests are being conducted on the number of corn plants per acre, to see if yields can be increased by increasing the rate of planting over 11,000 to 13,000 kernels per acre.

Weed control, interseeded cover crops, fertilization rates, breeding work for new hybrids and plantings of several hybrids in the same row were other corn experiments shown.

Other experiments on view were on grass and legume production and management, ladino and red clover breeding and testing, pasture fertilization, soil structure and soybean variety tests.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER
Small Eggs Are Now Good Buys

You'll get the most for your money if you buy the small pullet eggs that are now so plentiful on today's market.

That's because small eggs are selling for approximately half the price of the large eggs that are in relatively short supply, says Extension poultryman, Wade Rice, University of Maryland.

According to Rice, eggs marked "Small" will weigh at least 18 ounces a dozen. "Mediums" will weigh from 21 to 23 ounces, and "Large" eggs at least 24 ounces.

Compare the price and weight of the various egg sizes. You'll see, from the consumers angle that pullet eggs are definitely the best food buy.

A pound of pullet eggs will cost you less than a pound of the large size. Actually, you'll get approximately three-fourths as much egg for about half the price. And from Grade A small eggs you get the same quality of eggs in a different size and weight.

To make up for any difference in cooking with small eggs, follow this rule: If you are using a recipe calling for three regular size eggs, use four small eggs to match that quantity. Even though you're using four eggs, they still won't cost any more than three large eggs.

Now Is The Time To Destroy House Mice

Start now to wage your war against house mice. With cool weather coming in, mice will be looking for a warm place to live, and your home is a likely spot.

Entomologist T. L. Bisell, University of Maryland Extension Service, says it's easy to control mice with traps, but if you have lots of mice, poison baits may be your answer.

The small wooden base snap type trap is good and the cost is low. Set five or six to assure a good catch, and use attractive baits. Contrary to most folks' thinking, mice don't like cheese as well as we think they do, says Mr. Bisell. Instead, lure them with such baits as nut meats, bits of chocolate candy, meat, apple parings, bread and cake.

Set the trap so the mouse will pass over the trigger end in following his natural runway along a wall and behind a large object. Traps have an advantage over poisons. Once a mouse is trapped, you have him, and there is no chance of his dying in some inaccessible place.

A most effective poison is warfarin. It can be bought ready-mixed or you can buy it in bulk to be mixed with bait. If you prefer mixing your own, add one part warfarin to 19 parts of bait such as oatmeal or cornmeal. A jar top makes a good bait container. Be sure to put the poison in a safe place from children and pets.

Warfarin won't give you effective control when eaten in a single dose. It takes two or three feedings to poison a mouse. So keep a good supply of bait for mice to come back to.

There are other effective mouse baits on the market that contain strychnine. Some are put out in the form of mouse seeds. You'll need to be careful where you place strychnine since it's very poisonous to humans.

Keep in mind that a successful mouse control program means removing not only the pest but any food or harboring areas that attract them.

Store Your Pressure Canner With Care

If you've finished your canning for this season, you'll want to be sure that your pressure canner is in the best condition when it's put away.

Nutritionist Janet Coblentz, University of Maryland Extension Service, says it's important that the canner is put away thoroughly dry and clean to prevent corrosion of the metal or other damage while it stands unused.

Protect the threads of thumb screws against rust with a thin coating of petroleum jelly or salt-free cooking oil. Then, crumple newspapers inside the kettle to absorb moisture and odors. Instead of putting the cover on tight, wrap the cover in paper and invert it.

If you plan to use your pressure canner on into the fall and winter for canning meat, special overhauling shouldn't be necessary if the canner has worked well through the summer. However, as a precaution it is well to have a dial gauge checked once a year for accuracy.

Your home demonstration agent may be able to tell you where you can have your gauge checked locally. If it can't be done nearby, write the manufacturer. Ask him if he can check the gauge for you and for shipping instructions if he can. Whether he directs you to return the whole cover or just the dial gauge, pack the gauge like fine glass and label it "Fragile."

MEET MONDAY EVENING TO DISCUSS BANG'S DISEASE

Farmers of Kent County will have an opportunity to hear and ask questions concerning Bang's Disease or Brucellosis at an open meeting to be held at the Caesar Rodney School Monday evening at 8. Bang's Disease can cause sterility in dairy herds, and is responsible for most of the calves which are born dead. The disease in fact is also known by the name of Contagious Abortion.

Dairymen are being helped greatly by the new Ring Test which identifies herds in which there may be a suspicion of the disease. The test is made at the milk plant where the milk is received from the farms. It is possible for a farmer to develop an accredited herd more easily with this method because only a single blood test, rather than three blood tests, is necessary.

Dr. Harry McDaniel, veterinarian of the State Board of Agriculture, has arranged to have a panel of experts to discuss the problem of eliminating the disease. George Simpson, chairman of the state committee which is working to control the disease, will be on hand to outline what is taking place in this state.

Other matters which are related to Bang's Disease will also be presented—such as calf-hood vaccination, and the laws regarding shipment of livestock (which require blood tests or an accredited herd status). A film will be shown which covers the whole field of Bang's control.

More complete information can be obtained at any time from the State Board of Agriculture, your local veterinarian, the milk plants, or your county agent.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OFFICIALS ELECTED

Janice Holloway was elected president of the Harrington Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America at Harrington School at its first meeting evening at 8. Other officers elected were: Joyce Hickman, vice-president; Gladys Welch, secretary; Lelia Wilson, treasurer; Louise Minner, historian; Mary Ann Montague, reporter, and Barbara Minner, parliamentarian.

The following committees were appointed: Initiation, Kay Bowdle, Jean Outten, Norma Lee Roark, Gail Calloway; program, Irene Brown, Virginia Minner, Sandra Raughley, Kay Bowdle, Jean Outten; recreation, Rose Plummer, Kate Calloway, Deanne Shultie, Ruth Wright.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Sept. 30.

Wyoming Squares Mar-Del Series

The Mar-Del League's Championship series between Wyoming and Frederica was even up at a game apiece following Wyoming's 5-4 victory at Wyoming Sunday in an 11-inning thriller. The remaining games of the best-of-five title set will be played at Frederica, with the third contest slated for Sunday.

A single bases-loaded one-out single by Harold Bennett broke up a fine pitchers' battle between Frederica's Buddy Kimmel and Wyoming relief hurler Harry Barrett, with Bennett's blow sending Gene Zartman across with the winning run.

Barrett, taking over for starter Aubrey Berry in the sixth inning, hurled one-hit ball for the rest of the way to get credit for the win. Barrett tied the score at 4-4 in the seventh with a triple. Kimmel went the distance. He walked nine and hit three batsmen to bring about his downfall. Each team collected 10 hits.

WHEELER'S

About a year ago I was stressing the point that if you didn't own a TV you would. Well, I might say there are very few who do not own one.

When you can buy a 21-inch console for less than three hundred dollars is one reason so many are getting televisions.

Of course Philco can sell them at this price because they make them by the thousands and now like all other years around this time, they are beginning hard to get.

Did you know that Philco is putting on the largest advertising that was ever put on at any time by any company, automobile or otherwise? Why can they do it? Simply because you the public know a good thing when you see and hear it.

No doubt Philco is leading all companies in manufacturing Televisions, and did you know that Philco also for 1954 has the finest, most colorful models, the greatest values in 25 years of leadership?

Just think of buying a radio that you just plug in and at a sensationally low price of less than 20 dollars. Then again for ten dollars more you can have a Philco clock radio. Maybe you would like to have a combination now and get a television a little later. Well, you know Philco thinks of these things while you are asleep, and now they have the True-Harmonic reproducer which brings you the most lifelike reproduction of records ever achieved installed in a gorgeous table-height Radio-Phonograph that you can convert into a complete Television combination whenever you wish. They are beautiful and a masterpiece when it comes to music.

If you are thinking of trading in that small screen Television, well, you don't have to go any further, as we need some small screen and that, of course, is your opportunity of trading something old for something new, something small for something large. So barge yourself into Wheeler's and say "I want to see those Philcos large size screen televisions for that low price that I have read and heard so much about."

We have them, but they are moving fast. Join the happy crowd and if your husband don't stay at home, there is a reason and you know Television is the answer. Even a honeymoon wears off, but Television wears on and the longer you look at it the more you think about it. Christmas will soon be here and now is the time to put your name on the Television you want and, of course, the best. Philco is the name.
