Two Squadrons Formed At Dover Airbase

Without pomp or ceremony, two squadrons of the Military Air Transport Service were activated at Dover Air Base Wednesday with a complement of 250 to 300 men, and it is expected that the squadrons will become operational shortly after Jan. 1, officials declared.

Expansion of the base continues both in erection of buildings and arrival of personnel, and the present target date is to have the entire MATS operations in Dover by mid-summer, 1954.

The commanders of the new units are Majors Donald L. Clark and James D. Otis Jr. Major Otis will command the First Ferrying Squadron and Major Clark is in charge of the 21st Squadron.

It was also announced that these two squadrons will fly the giant C-54 planes, with both personnel and cargo to foreign shores after their period of indoctrination. The C-54 is the third largest transport in the Air Force.

Both commanders are senior pilots with long records of service. Major Otis served as Chief of Flight Operations, division office of the Deputy Chief of Staff operations headquarters Atlantic Division, Westover Field. Major Clark served as operations officer of the 30th Air Transport Squadron in Westover.

Major Otis enlisted in the Air Force in 1941. After cadet training he was stationed at Langley Field, and in 1944 he was assigned to the Second Bomber Group, Anti-submarine Command, located in China. He flew B-17, B-18, and B-24 planes in low altitude, radar bombing. He wears the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross with one oak leaf cluster; the air medal with one cluster and his outfit received the Presidential Unit Citation. He is married and has three sons. The family lives at 457 Water Street, Capital Green, Dover.

Major Clark also enlisted in 1941, having first joined the Cavalry in Fort Riley, Kan. Later he transferred to the Air Force and attended cadet school. After serving on bases in the United States, where he flew P-39 and P-40 planes, he was transferred to England. He was sent with the 48th Fighter Group to France, where he was assigned to a vagabond outfit which operated over Belgium, France, and Germany. He was flying P-47s at that time.

After 76 combat missions, he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with 10 oak leaf clusters. He also wears the Belgian Fourragere medal.

In 1946 he was discharged with the rank of captain, at a time when the Air Force was being cut in strength. He immediately re-enlisted as a Master Sergeant and regained his captaincy within a year. Major Clark served at Hickam Field, Hawaii, before becoming attached to MATS and being transferred to Westover Field. He is the father of two children with the family residing at 419 New Castle Avenue, Dover.

Governor J. Caleb Boggs was appraised of the activation of the squadron and commented as follows:

"Today's activation of the Military Air Transport Squadrons marks the initiation of what I believe will be one of Delaware's greatest operations in which the military are concerned. Certainly as Governor of the First State, I want to extend the hand of friendship to the men of these squadrons—to tell them that they are welcome in Dover and in the State.

"We are most fortunate that the Defense Department saw fit to establish the MATS operational headquarters in our state. We believe that it will be a particular boon to the people of the immediate Dover area and in time will affect the economy of all our people in a most favorable way," Governor Boggs concluded.

Legion Auxiliary Solicits Gifts For Ailing Veterans

The November meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the Legion Home with Mrs. Leonard Taylor, vice-president, presiding.

After the usual order of business, the Misses Barbara Miner and Joyce Gruwell spoke on their week at Girls State in Dover which was held in June.

All members are urged to remember gifts for the Christmas gift shops at the veteran hospitals. Gifts may be taken to Bill Minner's store during the week of Nov. 23 to 28.

Burglars Enter Pensu-preme and Damage Safe

Burglars broke into Penn Dairies, the home of Pensu-preme, 10 Clark St., some time late Thursday night or early Friday morning, stole some petty cash, and badly damaged a safe without opening it.

Det. A. J. Wentz, of the Bridgeville station of the State Police, is working on the case.

Entrance was gained through prying iron bars from a window at the side of the Pensu-preme garage, which is a part of the plant.

Clement J. Rohrer said the burglars used a tire iron, a 2x4 piece of lumber, a 3-foot pipe, and a sledge hammer, all taken from the garage, in attempting an entrance to the safe. The safe door was badly damaged, but entrance was not effected. However, the burglars got some petty cash from a desk drawer, Mr. Rohrer, the manager, said.

The burglary was discovered by Pensu-preme drivers when they reported for work at 7 a. m., and saw the open window. The store closed Thursday night at 10:10 o'clock.

The Pensu-preme plant was entered May 14, and $781 taken from the safe.

Approximately $15 was taken from a cash box at The Harrington Journal Monday night, Nov. 9, with some pennies being taken from the box two nights later. Patrolman William Jarrell, of the Harrington police, is working on the case.

Coursey Hammond Retired Farmer, Dies

Funeral services for T. Coursey Hammond, 80, were held Tuesday afternoon at the J. Millard Cooper Funeral Home, 110 Center Street, here. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery. The Rev. Robert E. VanCleaf, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, officiated.

Mr. Hammond was the husband of the late Ida C. Hammond who died Oct. 20. He had resided in this community on a farm located between Harrington and Milford, until six years ago when, due to ill health, he moved to 228 Delaware Avenue, here, where he died Friday evening. He was a faithful member of Asbury Methodist Church.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Georgia Jackson, of Camden; Mrs. May Dickerson, of Harrington, and Mrs. Sallie Spencer, of Camden, and several nieces and nephews.

RELEASED IN BAIL ON NARCOTICS CHARGE

A Harrington man, Terrence G. Riley, was released under $1,000 bond Wednesday for appearance in the U. S. District Court following a hearing on charges of illegal sale of narcotics before U. S. Commissioner Edward G. Pollard in the Post Office-Federal Building.

Arrested in Harrington earlier in the week by a Federal narcotics agent who allegedly made a "buy" of narcotics from Riley, the defendant was taken to Wilmington Wednesday. Deputy U. S. Marshall J. Leslie Ford served a warrant on Riley charging him with the violation of Federal narcotics laws.

According to testimony of the defendant before Commissioner Pollard, the Harrington man chanced on a considerable supply of narcotics in a refuse bin into which materials from a drug store, whose proprietor died recently, had been dumped. The opium, opium derivatives and other narcotics, which Riley claims to have obtained in this manner, has been valued at more than $500 by Federal agents.

Riley is said to have sold the whole quantity of narcotics to the Federal agent for $30.

The man, federal attaches said, is well educated, having attended college and all but the final year of a medical education.

Miss Clara Seward, of Greensboro, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bullock. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lekites visited Mrs. Goldie Owens, in Milton, Sunday.

Milford Man Gone Since Oct.

Police throughout the East continued a search this week for C. M. Welch, Jr., Milford, businessman, who has been missing from his home since Oct. 30.

Thought by his family to be a victim of amnesia or foul play, Mr. Welch, 42, is the president of Welch Manufacturing Company, the former John E. Mulholland Company, one of the nation's leading manufacturers of wooden ice cream spoons and sticks.

Milford police have discounted the foul play possibility. Meanwhile, the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware had a sale advertised for Thursday of collateral in the form of company stock owned by Welch. The advertisement said the sale was being held because of default of promissory notes.

The missing man purchased control of the firm about a month before his disappearance. He is said to have financed the venture with a $150,000 loan from the bank.

His wife, Mrs. Hilda Welch, has told investigators she received a telegram from her husband Oct. 31 from Chicago, saying he would be home the following night.

The company was founded by John H. Mulholland, who invented the machine for making wooden ice cream spoons.

Welch's description has been sent to 13 states in a police teletype network.

Funeral Held For Mrs. Eliz. Minner

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown Minner, 69, died at Delaware State Hospital Friday, Nov. 13, where she had been a patient for the past four weeks. She had been ill for several months. She was born near Greenwood, the daughter of Walter and Rosa VanSant, but had resided in Harrington for the past 26 years. Her husband, Edward Minner, died about five and a half years ago.

She was a faithful member of the Church of the Nazarene, Harrington, for 25 years.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Hutson; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Harvey Donohue, of Harrington, and four brothers; Benjamin Brown of Felton, Levin Brown of Frederica, and William and Thomas Brown, of Harrington.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Church of the Nazarene, here, in charge of the Rev. John P. Abshire, pastor. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery.

ANTIQUE LAMPS FEATURE EXHIBIT

The Delaware State Museum at Dover is currently exhibiting early lighting devices used in the state, Leon DeValinger, Jr., state archivist, announced this week.

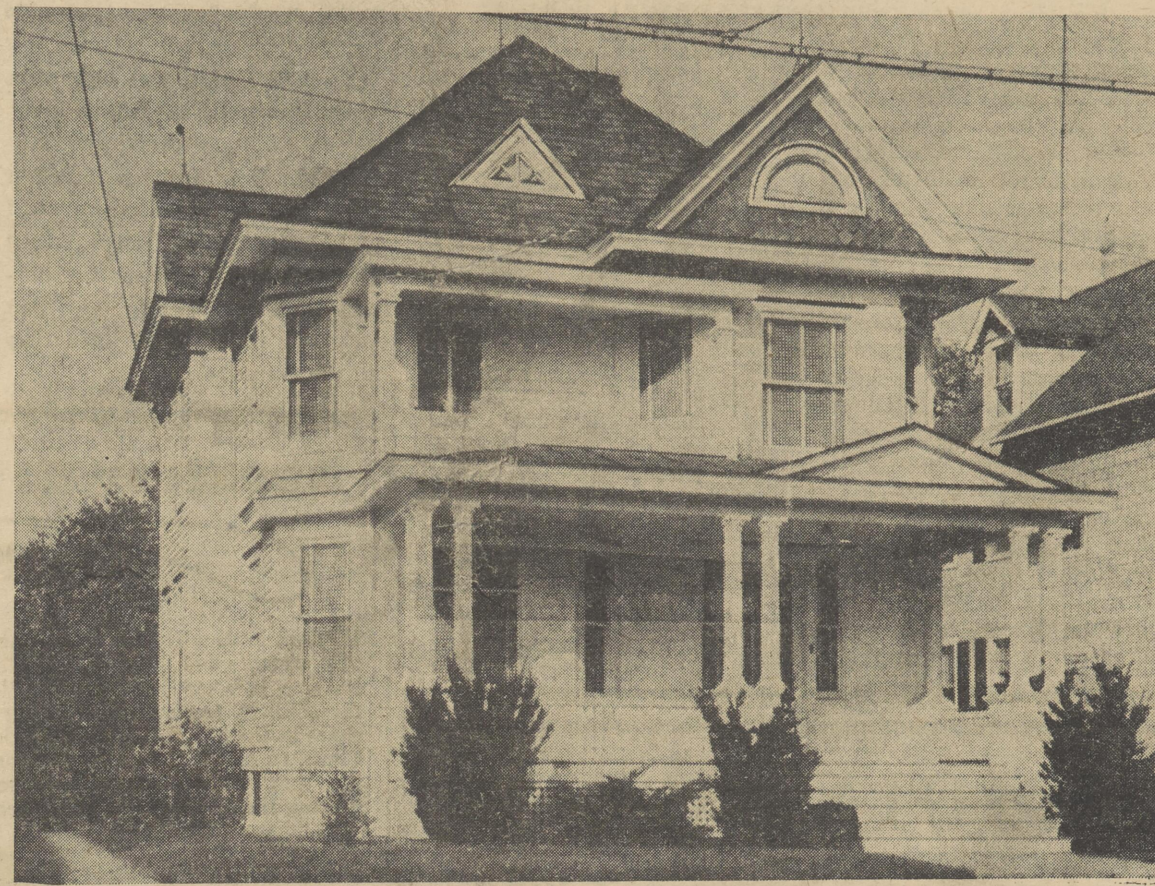

Examples include many fixtures used during the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries. Candle holders of different styles, wick trimmers, dusters or wick saucers, and a tin candle-supply box indicate to some extent the important role of the candle in those days. Several types of candle lanterns as well as tallow, bayberry, and spermacetie candles are also shown.

Two betty lamps and a cresset form interesting focal points in the exhibit. One of the betty lamps is made of wrought iron and provided with a pointed hook and gracefully curved hanger, so that it could be suspended by jabbing the point into a wooden surface or by hanging the lamp on a chair seat. The cresset, an inverted cone-like container for burning brands, was provided with a spike at the bottom and a ball handle and ring at its rim, so that it could be either stuck in the earth or suspended.

Among the fluid-burning lamps are a fat lamp, camphene lamps, kerosene lamps, and a tin paraffin torch. Early sulphur matches and a tinder box containing flint, steel, and tinder are some of the accessories included in the display, which will continue until the middle of December.

The museum, located at 316 South Governors Avenue in Dover, is open to the public Tuesdays through Saturdays from 11 a. m. until 5 p. m., and on Sundays from 2 until 5 p. m.

New Funeral Home

Above is the Smith Funeral Home, 111 Commerce St., Harrington, which will have its formal opening tomorrow and Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m., and 7 to 9 p. m., each day. William F. Smith will conduct the business.

Legion Five to Play Dover Here Monday Night

The Harrington Legionnaires will open the Eastern Shore Basketball League season here Mon. Nov. 23, opposing the Dover Y.M.C.A. five. The games will be played in the high-school gymnasium.

The league will have seven entries, including three new ones—Cambridge, Georgetown, and Lewes. Other teams are Harrington, Salisbury, Laurel, and Dover. Millsboro, Chincoteague, and Federalburg, who were in the league last year, have dropped out of the league.

Coach Bill Minner said his team had begun practice, but that no definite positions had been assigned. The roster includes the veterans, Tom Shalley, Jack Dill, and Otto Bundy; and the new members, Don King, Joe Terhune, and "Hoot" Evers, of Dover Airbase; Smith Porter, and Truitt, all of Milford; Graham Dill, Milton, and Clayton Downes, Greenwood. Downes is returning to the fold after two years in the armed forces. He formerly lived at Bridgeville.

Prentice and Gallagher, of last year's team, will play with Dover. Griffith will play with his hometown, Georgetown, and Snowden will referee.

Radar Speed Case May Go To Supreme Court

The case involving the use of radar in making arrests for speeding along the state highways may be headed for consideration of the State Supreme Court, it developed Tuesday.

Samuel Allen Moffet of Smyrna, the defendant in the case, appeared in the Superior Court at Dover Tuesday afternoon and Deputy Attorney General Henry J. Ridgely moved for the imposition of the sentence.

Judge Charles L. Terry, Jr., who was on the bench, imposed a sentence on Moffet, after which former Judge E. V. Keith, counsel for Moffet, announced his intention of entering an appeal to the Supreme Court on the case.

That immediately brought up considerable discussion concerning procedure, particularly the point as to whether the notice of appeal should not have been filed in the Superior Court before the imposition of sentence.

As a result of the discussions, Judge Terry ordered the imposition of sentence deferred until this morning, since it was not clear if the defendant could be under sentence in the Superior Court and be free to appeal the decision of that court to the higher court.

Moffet was arrested by state police in February on a charge of speeding at the rate of 63 miles per hour in the 50-mile zone along Route 300 west of Smyrna. The evidence was procured by state police through the use of radar.

The case reached the Superior Court at the July term, and following a two-day trial the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Governor Asks Observance of Thanksgiving

Governor J. Caleb Boggs called for observance of Thursday, November 25, as a day of Prayer and Thanksgiving and a time to acknowledge with devotion and gratitude the blessings bestowed on citizens this past year.

Calling for attendance in the churches of their choice, Governor Boggs also requested prayers for universal peace.

The full proclamation follows: WHEREAS, the time has come when another harvest has been gathered and a grateful people wishes to pay homage to Almighty God for their rich blessings; and

WHEREAS, it is proper that we look back to the days of our first settlers, who despite hardships, potential enemies and even death, continued their struggle to establish a new land; and

WHEREAS, following in their footsteps, we have endeavored to carry on their principles and precepts in our continued struggle to remain a free and independent people, and to aid others in achieving that same degree of freedom; and

WHEREAS, in this particular year we should give thanks to the Almighty that another bloody conflict in which our sons were called upon to protect and preserve our hard-won liberties has ended; now

THEREFORE, I, J. CALEB BOGGS, Governor of the State of Delaware, do hereby set aside and proclaim Thursday, the Twenty-fifth Day of November, 1953, as a and urge all our citizens to gather in their houses of worship to give thanks for the many bounties which have been bestowed upon them. I further hope that gathered together in our homes with our families and friends, we may ponder on the truth that here is the foundation on which our great nation was built.

Furthermore, let this also be a day of prayer for peace in the world and in acknowledgment of the special blessings given to us in the State of Delaware. Let us fly our State and National Colors with deep devotion and gratitude.

COUSINS INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

Two youths, who are cousins, one the owner of the car and the other driving it, were shaken up when the car went out of control and turned over Sunday evening. The mishap occurred along the road leading from Plymouth west, about 7 of a mile west of Viola.

Cornelius Hurd, of Milford, driver of the car, and Cornelius Hurd, Jr., of Ridgely, Md., owner of the car, were examined by a neighborhood physician following the accident but were found to be only slightly injured.

According to State police, the car was proceeding east on the highway and while rounding a curve, ran off the road into a ditch and turned end over several times. The car was badly damaged.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO CRASH NEAR DOVER

Two persons were injured, one seriously, when a heavy tractor-trailer truck crashed into the rear of an automobile at the Cooper's Corner intersection of U. S. routes 13 and 113, near Dover, Sunday.

The injured, both riding in the automobile, were Lieut. Daniel J. Gross, 25, an Air Force Medical Officer, and his wife, Mrs. Lora Gross, 20, both of Teaneck, N. J. A Navy man, the third passenger in the car, escaped injury.

Lieut. Gross, who is stationed at Mitchell Field, L. I., suffered severe head injuries and multiple fractures of the left leg. His condition is classified as serious. Mrs. Gross suffered abrasions of the knees and shoulders.

Mrs. Gross was removed to the Kent General Hospital in a private car and Lieut. Gross was taken to the hospital in the Dover ambulance by the city police who assisted State police at the accident scene.

State officers investigating the accident have learned that traffic was stopped along the dual highway for a traffic signal, and as the light changed, Mrs. Gross, who was driving the car, attempted to pull away with traffic and the car stalled. The truck, operated by Randolph M. Dail, of Laurel, moving behind the car in the line of traffic on the northbound lane of the divided highway, crashed into the rear of the stalled car.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Gross were thrown from their car to the highway by the impact and the truck, imbedded in the back of the car, was pushing it along. When the truck was stopped, it was found the wheels were only about six inches from the body of Lieut. Gross on the highway.

When the truck was released from the car it was directly across the southern approach of route 113 to the dual highway, and traffic had to be rerouted until a wrecker reached the scene to remove the truck and clear the intersection.

The state death toll jumped to 92 over the week-end. Elijah King, Georgetown, died from an accident the previous Saturday.

LOCAL CLEANERS ROBBED

Several hundred dollars worth of clothing—trousers, shirts and top coats were stolen from the P & Q Cleaners on Clark Street Tuesday night.

State Police investigators at the Bridgeville Troop said entrance to the establishment was gained by breaking a pane out of a window in the side of the building, and releasing the window catch.

Charles Price, manager, discovered the robbery when he opened the business Wednesday.

Mr. Price could give no estimate as to the value of the stolen articles until persons who had left them claim them.

In addition to the clothing, about $2 in cash was taken from the cash register.

It is believed that either an automobile was used to remove the loot or several persons were involved if they were on foot.

Worst Fog In Years Here Last Weekend

One of the worst fogs in years hit this section Friday night, early Saturday morning, and Saturday evening. Highway traffic was slowed to a crawl, but there were no major accidents.

In Harrington, it was 9:30 a. m. Saturday before the fog cleared. It was particularly bad Saturday evening when visibility was limited to 75 to 100 feet.

State police at Bridgeville said, at 9 a. m. Saturday, they "couldn't see from one side of the road to the other." The Georgetown and Dover stations reported visibility down to 25 to 30 yards.

Before dawn Saturday, the darkness and fog almost entirely halted traffic in the Dover area. Many cars pulled off the highway to await sunrise.

The weatherman said Saturday would be sunny and hazy, changing to clear and cool in the evening, with some fog. It was "some" fog. It was difficult to see the First National Bank from the railroad crossing, a distance of one block.

11 Promoted By Guard

Effective Dec. 1, 1953, the 193rd AAA Bn (AW) (Mbl), stationed on the Kent & Sussex Fairground announces the following promotions to private first class:

Duane Bloom, Robert D. Dennis, George B. Lankford, James G. Martin, William B. Passwaters Jr., Harry C. Rawding, Leroy Rawding, Joseph E. Robertson, Henry H. Rust, William H. Rust, and Robert L. Yoder.

Capt. O'Dell stated that the promotion of the above enlisted men was a result of their ability to grasp the military training the local unit is giving.

Capt. O'Dell is well pleased with the response the Harrington boys gave to his recent plea for recruits. The latest additions to the unit are that of Pvt. Paul Sutcliffe and Pvt. Walter L. Voss Jr.

Former Chiefs Honored By County Firemen

The Kent County Fire Chiefs' Association observed past presidents' night at its November meeting held at the fire hall of the Citizens Hose Company at Smyrna, with pins presented to each of the past presidents denoting their service to the organization.

The past presidents' pins were presented by Chief James Truax of the Smyrna company, first vice-president of the association, who presided in the absence of Thomas Heather, Maryland, president.

The past presidents are: Chief Ralph H. Boyer of the Robbins Hose Company, Dover; former chief H. A. Helm of the Leipsic Fire Company, and Chief C. Douglas Mills of the Harrington Fire Company. Elmer Strimel, Cheswold, treasurer of the association, assisted Chief Truax in the ceremony.

Fire School Requested

Former Chief Thomas E. Baker, Dover, reported that Clayton has requested a fire school and that he is arranging a schedule for it. Suggested rules and regulations for trailer courts and camps in respect to fire prevention, which have been mimeographed by the association's fire prevention committee, were referred to State Fire Marshal Wallace J. LaRue for approval and action.

The association decided that a radio committee be appointed to work with the radio committee of the Kent County Volunteer Firemen's Association toward the printing of a booklet on rules and regulations for operation of

The Harrington Special School District's new elementary-school building is now in full use, it was revealed Friday evening when the district held an open house, for parents, of the entire school.

The celebration was attended by approximately 500 persons and was held in observance of National Educational Week.

The new building, costing more than $522,000, was started in April, 1951. Its dedication, Supt. J. C. Messner said, was being held up until the arrival of a tablet on which will be inscribed the names of the members of the School Program Board, the School Building Committee, and the Board of Education.

The new building has 14 classrooms, a cafeteria, kitchen, offices, nurse's clinic and office, infirmary, and two teachers' rooms.

All work has been finished on the building, but some work remains on the exterior. This includes landscaping, laying pavements and curbs, and relocating play fields.

The cafeteria is used in shifts, with the junior high-school classes dining, while the senior high-school classes are studying, and vice versa.

The cafeteria was first used at the open house Friday night, to serve punch and cookies.

At the open house, every teacher was in his or her room to greet parents and to confer with them on the welfare of their children, if desired.

The parents also visited the former elementary-school building, erected in 1912, to observe renovations such as an acoustic ceiling, lighting, and fireproof stairways.

The open house was from 7:30 to 9 p. m., after which parents danced to the music of the newly organized high-school band, under the direction of Melvin Brobst, at its first performance.

Democrats To Have Dance At Milford

A dance will be held Wednesday at the American Legion Hall, Milford, on the Rehoboth Highway. Dancing to George Madden's orchestra from 9:00 til 1 p. m. Dress: Optional. There will be 25 door prizes. Chairmen are Mrs. Ernest Stevenson of Milford; dance: Mrs. Irving Gar-ton of Dover; decorations: Mrs. Irving A. Jenkins of Little Creek and Mrs. John Tribbett of Milford, tickets.

Former Chiefs Honored By County Firemen

The two-way fire radio communications network in the county and H. A. Golt, publicity chairman, was authorized to prepare articles on fire prevention, stressing Christmas fire hazards, for publication in newspapers of the county.

Newlin E. Wood, Hartly, Kent County trustee of the Mutual Relief Association, outlined the MRA insurance rates to show extra benefits which companies may obtain for coverage of their members for slight additional cost.

Memorial Service

The members of the association paid tribute to the memory of Howard Schweitzer of the Hartly Fire Company and also a member of the chiefs' association. Mr. Schweitzer died recently. George Swain, Harrington, chairman of the memorial committee of the County Volunteer Firemen's Association, asked all the companies to have in his hands the names of members who died the past year by Wednesday night, when the firemen's association held a memorial service at its Little Creek meeting.

Eleven of the 17 fire companies of the county were represented at the chiefs' meeting. Robert Jacobs, vice-president of the host company, gave the welcome and George D. Hill, Jr., second assistant chief of the Dover Fire Company, responded.

The county chiefs will omit their December meeting because of the meeting of the State Chiefs' Association to be held at Seaford Dec. 2.

Burrsville

The WSCS of Wesley Church will meet in the community building, here, tonight at 7:30.

Mrs. Grace Thawley and daughter will be hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynford Cordrey and family, of Denton, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker spent Sunday at Chincoteague, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore P. Warren were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Moore, of Denton.

short hairdo," says John P. Dietrich, extension dairyman at the University of Maryland.

Dietrich points out, "the cows' udders, flanks and bellies should be clipped short so that manure and other barn debris will not cling to them. This job doesn't require any special skill and the operator doesn't need a barber's license.

"A few clean sweeps with the clippers up each side of the tail, starting four inches above the end of the tail bone, will add greatly to the neat appearance of the animal. Cutting the switch at about the level of the hocks will also help a cow's appearance and make her easier to keep clean.

"Where lice are a problem around a dairy barn, a four-inch clipped up along the backbone of old bossy will encourage Mr. Louse to go elsewhere for lodging. Lousy cows are uncomfortable and less productive than their comfortable sisters."

Another advantage of clipping which is pointed out by Dietrich is that short hair on the rear quarters of the cows reduces the time necessary to clean and prepare cows for milking.

Dietrich recommends a regular clipping program in the dairy barn to reduce sediment and bacteria. Reducing sediment and bacteria improves the quality of the milk produced. "This results in a greater income for the dairyman," he concludes.

MULCH PROTECTS STRAWBERRY PLANTS

Strawberry plants need mulching soon after the first freezing weather sets in, says Albert F. Vierheller, extension horticulturist of the University of Maryland. He adds that growers are faced with the problems of what kind of mulch to use and how much mulch to use.

Vierheller says, "Wheat straw is the best mulch for strawberries. Oat or rye straw may be used, but tend to pack." He acknowledges that straw is scarce and costly this year and suggests, "Home gardeners may use pine needles or sawdust if straw is too expensive or not available." The extension horticulturist does not advise the use of tree leaves for mulching.

"Cover the plants with mulch after the first freezing weather sets in with enough mulch to cover the plants about two inches," he recommends. This rate of application would require about 2 1-2 tons of straw per acre. Other ways of stating this rate of application are one pound of straw per plant. He calls this "a light mulch, but good for most of Maryland. Heavy mulch would be about double this amount."

Vierheller says the purposes of mulching are to reduce heaving of soil, to prevent low temperatures from injuring the plant crown, to retain moisture and to keep berries clean next spring at picking time. The horticulturist also points out that mulching reduces the weed crop in the strawberry bed.

Caesar Rodney School Notes

The students of Caesar Rodney School have developed a real "hillbilly band" to play before the play, between the acts of the Junior Class Friday evening, Dec. 4, entitled "Hillbilly Wedding."

Hickman

We are glad to know Winnie Breeding is able to be out again after being seriously hurt by a bull several weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Preston Beauchamp were given a shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Drummond Saturday night.

The Ladies Aid of Hickman was delightfully entertained in the community building Wednesday evening. The hostesses were Mrs. Sam Andrew and Mrs. Clarence Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Noble spent the weekend with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs.

Wilmer Nagel, of Federalsburg. Other guests for supper Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Passwaters and daughter, of Greenwood.

Miss Phyllis O'Day has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schaffer, of Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Nagel and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Noble visited Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Breeding, of Boothwyn, Pa., Sunday.

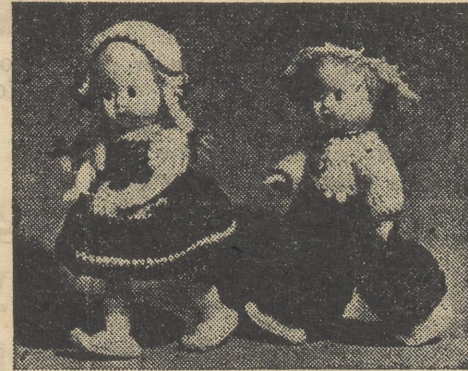

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

What little girl wouldn't be happy to get a new doll on Christmas morn to add to her "family"? If one doll would bring delight, just imagine how overjoyed Susie or Jane would be if two dolls, such as these Dutch treats, were waiting under the Christmas tree. You will share in the fun, too, by making clothes for the dolls, and playing Santa Claus. In fact, you are apt to become so fond of the finished outfits that you may want to keep the toys yourself—but, remember, you are making them for Christmas presents.

RELATED GIFT ITEMS

Peek into a child's world and you will see that most of the time is spent in play-acting. Children act out stories, on their own little stage, that they have heard or read. So, when you give a gift of Dutch dolls, for instance, accompany it with a story book or two written about the life of Dutch children. The youngsters will spend days acting out each chapter with their new dolls. It will help them to remember the stories, too. Perhaps you would like to make a gift of several outfit changes for the dolls. Make individual hangers out of cardboard on which to hang the tiny garments and place them on the Christmas tree branches if you wish. You can use the same pattern for several outfits by simply changing the trimmings or colors. The Sunday Best could be done in very light colors with a few frills added; the everyday wardrobe could be made in vivid colors.

CROCHETED CLOTHES FOR CHRISTMAS DOLLS

It takes two eight-inch dolls, a few skeins of yarn and a crochet hook to make this merry Christmas gift for a youngster. The outfits of the little Dutch girl doll and her boy friend are complete from tip to toe—the girl's ensemble even includes matching panties. Their native Dutch costumes are blue, white and red with yellow slippers in the shape of wooden shoes. The directions for crocheting these doll outfits may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper for HANS AND GERDA dolls, Leaflet No. S-180.

SCHOOL NEWS

SENIOR PERSONALITY

Robert "Fish" Herring was born in Wilmington Sept. 1, 1936. He has always attended Harrington Special School, where he is a member of the Chess Club and the Glee Club. His favorite sport is basketball. Robert's pet peeve is persons who argue with one another. His interests are A girl and money.

He belongs to the Methodist Church Chancel Choir.

After graduating, Robert plans to start saving so he can get married and perhaps go to a school to learn watchmaking.

SOCIAL STUDIES NEWS

The two eighth grades have been studying about colonial ways. The following are the topics:

Colonial dress, taverns and inns, neighborliness, recreation, furniture, food and food preservation, cooking, homes and furniture, religion, Sundays, farming, handicrafts, schools, fire arms, lighting.

Each has a topic. Some made booklets and some made posters. The class enjoyed working on them last week.

ROMAN BANQUET

Not long ago, the Latin I class held a sumptuous Roman Banquet at which many different kinds of Roman foods were enjoyed. There were olives, celery, carrots, chicken, ham, cheese, bread, cider, grape and pears. We all ate reclining and dressed in our togas which were made from sheets brought from home. The guests were Mr. Messner and Sandra Raughley.

The officers of the Latin class are chairman Jim Coady, and secretary, Barbara Edwards. Other students of the class are Mary Evelyn Harrington, Thelma Draper, and Jean Outten.

Mrs. Mary H. Birnbrauer, teacher, is the class advisor.

PEN PAL NEWS

The meeting of the Pen Pal Club was called to order by Mae Minner, the president. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. Members were happy to hear some letters read. Rose Marie Bonniwell had a letter from her pen pal in Scotland, Eunice Morgan read one from Canada. The club reporter read one from Wales. After the letters were read, the meeting was adjourned. As there were a few minutes left before the next class, the club used the time for writing letters to our pen pals.

GRADE I - MRS. HOPKINS

On Wednesday and Thursday, November 11 and 12 we moved into our beautiful new room. We are happy to get settled.

Bruce Wix told us about his wonderful trip into Pennsylvania last weekend. He saw some mountains which he described very nicely. We had just been talking about mountains, so it was very interesting.

We will be glad when Mrs. French, Renny's mother, comes back to work. We have missed her.

GRADE 2, MRS. IRWIN

We had a visitor this week who came from California. She is Elwood Poore's cousin.

We have been getting our room ready for Open House and trying to do our best work so our parents could see it. There are some newspaper snowflakes that we made ourselves. We are proud of our room.

GRADE 2 - MRS. WEST

It is Friday, Nov. 13. We are enjoying the snowflakes. Bobby had his sixth birthday on Wednesday. The second grade is studying about the milkman.

We are learning Thanksgiving songs. We have been busy getting ready for open house. We are sorry Nancy was sick.

Sharon, reporter

GRADE 6 - MRS. HESS

We are in our new schoolroom and we like it very much. We have been making Thanksgiving pictures for our bulletin board.

In social studies we are studying about Greece and find the country very interesting.

GRADE 6 - Miss THARP

We divided into groups in social studies in order to report on the "Seven Wonders of the Ancient World." The groups are: The Pyramids of Egypt, Joe Ratledge, Patsy Jack, Thelma Collins. The Hanging Gardens of Babylon, Joan Welch, Windell Adkins, Ruth Walsh, Kaye Moore, The Statue of Zeus at Olympia, Ronnie Collison, Donald Pierson, Bobby Greer, Bill Pike, The Temple of Artemis at Ephesus, Eddie Greenlee, Neal Kimney, Vivin Webb, Sandra Minner, The Mausoleum of Halicarnassus, James McDonald, Bonnie Lee Satterfield, Ronald Wooters, Jane Hughes, The Colossus of Rhodes, Bobby Gillette, Joe Dennis, Ray Starkey, Alice Wright, The Pharos (Lighthouse) of Alexandria, Betty Lee Hendricks, Thelma Camper, and Lois Rash.

We have moved into our new elementary school. Our room is a yellowish green. We fixed Thanksgiving scene on the bulletin board outside our room. Pictures have also been drawn and put up in our room. We are very happy to be here.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

The following officers were elected by Mrs. Pollitt's ninth grade:

President, Allen Needles; vice-president, Jean Outten; secretary, Barbara Edwards; treasurer, Sandra Raughley; student council representative, Thelma Draper, reporter, Elmer Rigger.

Our dues for the year will be $2. We now have $10 in our treasury.

OPEN HOUSE

The Open House held Friday evening, Nov. 16, was a great success, with a large turnout of parents, teachers, and townspeople. With great interest they toured the classrooms and the cafeteria of the new elementary building. Many also visited the old building, especially the alumni, who wanted to see their former classrooms and the library.

After refreshments were served in the new cafeteria, everyone gathered in the auditorium for the unveiling of Mr. Brobst's wonderful dance orchestra. Those who danced to its music enjoyed themselves as much as if they were listening to a big name orchestra.

Everyone expressed satisfaction with the unusual planning, the beautiful lighting, and pleasing color of the new building.

Senior Class Play

The members of the Senior Class are at present working on their play. The characters have been chosen as follows:

Tish, Phyllis Sherwood. Gil, Charles Baker. Clarice, Charlotte Noble. Trudi, Jeanne Lander. Hap, Leon Minner. Fats, Wayne Cooper.

Sue, Betty Louise Layton. Hotchkiss, Garf Homewood. Sapolio, Joyce Gewell.

Madame Gasparilla, Gladys Mae Hill.

Dr. Jonesby, Eugene Porter.

The class has also been working on ads for the play and furthering the plans on the senior trip to New York in the spring.

Home Economics Class

The Home Economics class at Harrington High School has just completed a project in etching metal trays. Flat mirror aluminum dishes fifteen inches and nine inches in diameter were used. The members of the class developed their own designs, traced them on discs and covered the parts not to be etched with asphaltum, a paint-resistant to acid reaction. The edges were fluted with a "jig" to form a tray shape and then etched with an acid which was kept in a safe powdered form until just before use. The asphaltum was removed with kerosene, benzene or other solvent, leaving a tray with the contract of dull and bright in the design.

Library Club News

Janice Minner has joined our Library Activity period.

On Tuesday and Thursday during activity period, the library assistants checked the filing order of all magazines in the library. Since these magazines are in almost constant use for supplementary work, it is necessary to insist on good housekeeping habits.

The librarian and Janice Minner have been working with three of the Boy Scouts to give them the necessary instruction to pass the binding test to earn the book binding merit badge. Two of the Scouts finished their work on Tuesday.

Grade 9—Miss Gordy

Last week we held our first meeting with our new teacher, Miss Gordy. Our homeroom is very well pleased with her as class sponsor. She told us how the school where she used to teach adjourned meetings and called them to order. Janice Mae Minner was appointed to buy the six new records for the Freshman Dance and to add to the school dance records.

—Janice Mae Minner, Reporter.

The latest addition to our faculty is the girls' new physical education teacher, Miss Mary Frances Gordy who was born in Laurel, and now resides there.

Miss Gordy was graduated from Laurel High School and from the University of Delaware where she obtained her Bachelor of Science degree.

She has also taught at Selbyville High School.

Miss Gordy's interests are swimming and dancing.

We welcome her to our midst and sincerely hope she will like Harrington School very much.

Asbury Methodist Church Notes

"Must We Feed the World?" another lesson in the unit entitled "Bible Teachings Applied to World Problems" will be studied at the session of the church school which will begin Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock. This lesson is an interesting analysis of modern Christian responsibility. Classes for all ages. Materials used for study are graded according to age. We have a class for you.

Morning Worship begins at 11:00 o'clock Thanksgiving Sunday. Special music by both the Cathedral and Junior Choirs, Sermon by the minister.

A nursery is conducted every Sunday during the period of morning worship. This is a project of the Pathfinders Class. Parents with young children are invited to make use of this facility.

Evening worship begins at 7:30. The Chancel Choir will sing a special anthem. Sermon by the minister. There were 83 present last Sunday. Let's make it 100 this Sunday evening. Close the Lord's Day in the spirit of praise and devotion.

The WACS study group of Trinity and Asbury Churches will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Meeting will be held in the Collins Building.

On Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock the Pathfinders Class will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Peck, with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peck Jr. acting as co-host and hostess.

Union Thanksgiving service will be held at Trinity Methodist Church, with the sermon by the Rev. Robert E. VanCleaf, minister of Asbury Church. Service will begin at 10:00 o'clock.

Because of the holiday there will be no choir rehearsals this week. Choirs will sing Sunday at the usual times.

Financial report distributed by the Conference Treasurer at the District Conference held at Brandywine Church in Wilmington, showed Asbury Church as having paid all conference apportionments in full for the first six months of the year.

The Pathfinders Class realized over $271 from their auction. The money will go toward the building fund.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT

The Harrington High School Band, under the direction of Melvin L. Brobst, will give its first concert of the school term tonight in the newly redecorated school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The program will include "Drag-net," "Frosty the Snowman," "Teddy Bear's Picnic," the "Song of Moulin Rouge" together with the conventional marches for band. Dramatizations of several of the program numbers played by the band will be featured, as well as a brief appearance of the recently organized dance band.

The public is cordially invited, and tickets are on sale from members of the band, or may be purchased at the door of the school the evening of the performance.

Of Local Interest

LEWES MUSEUM

Some new additions of hair jewelry of an almost forgotten era, including what is believed to be a man's wedding ring encasing strands of his bride's hair, are among some ancient relics of Lewes natives donated to the Zwaanendael Museum at Lewes.

The museum established year-around visiting hours this fall. However, the curator, Miss Catherine C. Maull, says it will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26. Normally the week-day visiting hours are from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., except Mondays, and on Sundays from 12:30 to 5:30 p. m.

The hair jewelry was discovered in old family possession of Laurence C. Messick, now living in Garden City, N. Y., and his brother, E. Hewes Messick of St. Simons Island, Ga., when they were preparing for sale of their boyhood home here, owned by their late parents, Capt. Edward R. Messick, a Delaware River pilot, and Mrs. Laura Hewes Messick, on Front Street.

The man's gold ring has an inset of braided hair. It was owned by their maternal grandfather, Schubel P. Hewes, whose name is engraved on the ring. It is thought it was designed for a wedding ring about 1860. Other Messick family pieces donated to the museum are a heavy watch chain made of hair on which is attached a gold vest pocket hook with a lizard motif on top and two hair bracelets. They also turned over to the museum a number of old documents and photographs as well as yellowed copies of the first newspapers, the Lewes Breakwater Light and the Delaware Pilot, first issued in the early eighties. The museum has a loan of other Messick family relics - a Staffordshire pudding dish, a stoneware pitcher, and a footwarmer lent by Mrs. Laura

"Birdie" Messick during her lifetime. The curator is also exhibiting Godey's Lady's Book of Dec., 1862, from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lynch of Lewes, and a bound volume of all issues of 1850 loaned by Mrs. Henry R. Higgins of Rehoboth Beach. Originally called "Lady's Book," this was the first United States Magazine for women, started in 1830.

MRS. MARY MILLER SCHROCK is survived by two sons, Mark and Ray, of Greenwood; two daughters, Mrs. Saville Yoder, Millmont, Pa. and Mrs. Beulah Schlabach, Scottsdale, Pa.; two brothers, Alvin Miller of Pennsylvania, and Milton Miller, of Grantsville, and a sister, Mrs. Annie Yoder, of Grantsville. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Mennonite Church, Greenwood. Interment was in the church cemetery.

No Christmas Program For Harrington?

At the present, there is no pronounced indication Harrington will have its usual Christmas program. That is lamentable, not only because it will not look like Christmas, without the decorations, but because of what it means to the children.

The program has been sparked, in the past few years, by the Harrington Better Business Association, and greatly aided by the American Legion, the Lions Club, the businessmen and other public-spirited individuals.

At a meeting of the business association Thursday night, Nov. 12, six members appeared, despite the fact Samuel A. Short Jr., president of the group, had mailed 100 cards to the members, calling their attention to the gathering.

Those attending were Mr. Short, Charles Peck Jr., and Thomas Peck, C. Burgess, Donald Kent, and J. Edward Taylor. This group felt it could not attempt a program by itself, particularly since it is going late. It further deemed that the sparse attendance at the meeting was evidence the citizens of Harrington were not interested in a Christmas program unless someone else did the job. Was the group correct in its assumptions?

Fisher's District

You are invited to attend the church birthday party of the Brethren Church of Farmington, sponsored by the young adult Sunday School class, to be held in Todd's Community building Saturday evening, Nov. 21, at 7 o'clock. There will be entertainment for all. There will be a table decorated to represent each month in the year. Tables will be judged for best decorations, and prizes awarded. Each table will present a skit, either humorous or serious. Cake and ice cream will be served. Toastmaster George McDaniel, soloist, Anthony Clavio; pianist, Norma O'Bier; judges for tables, Virginia Hoke, and Frances Hoch, and judges of skits, applause of audience. No admission, just a free will offering for the building fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, of Greenwood, have purchased the farm of the late Herman Callaway, and will move there in the near future. We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Smith as our new neighbors. Miss Anna Callaway, to whom the estate was left, has left the farm and is making her home with her brother, Tharp Callaway, in Harrington.

Mrs. Lester Taylor entertained the Women's Work Group of the Brethren Church at her home Thursday evening. Refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour.

Mrs. Ethel Stuart spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Harry Reed. We are glad Mrs. Reed is able to be out again after being in the Kent General Hospital for a major operation. Mrs. Gootie Brown is out again after being confined to her home for two weeks.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stubbs and family, of Goldsboro, Md., were Mrs. Clara Vansike and brother, Barton Cartwright, of Wilmington, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dearman, of Greenwood.

The Todd's WSCS held its regular meeting in the Todd's Community Building Wednesday afternoon with an attendance of 13. Mrs. Gordon Warner and Mrs. George Zott were hostesses serving homemade cake and ice cream.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smith and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Milligan. The Todd's WSCS will serve lunch at the Charles Stubbs sale, near Harrington, Saturday.

The annual Thanksgiving service will be held in the Brethren Church, Farmington, Sunday eve with the Rev. John Irwin, pastor of the Farmington Methodist Church, as speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Faulk were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dearman Monday evening.

William Fleischauer Jr. has purchased a beautiful new station wagon for service work at his funeral home.

LETTER TO THE FELTON FIREMEN

R. F. D. No. 1
 Viola, Delaware
 November 16, 1953

Mr. Charles Griffith, Chief Felton Volunteer Fire Co., Felton, Delaware

Dear Chief:

I am sure that I cannot find adequate words to thank you and your company for the most excellent service given at the time of the fire in my residence near Viola. By coincidence I have been connected with fire prevention work in industry for some 15 years, and I can appreciate the promptness as well as the quality of the work performed in reaching and extinguishing this fire in what I think was record time, with a minimum amount of damage considering everything. I will appreciate it very much if you will convey to every

SOCIAL SECURITY TAX RATE CHANGES

The social security tax rate for persons whose work counts toward old-age and survivors insurance is scheduled to increase on the first day of January, Myron Milbouer, manager of the Wilmington social security office, reminded employers, employees, and self-employed people today.

This schedule increase in tax contribution is in accordance with the 1950 amendments to the social security law, and was enacted by Congress in anticipation of future obligations of the program.

Employees in jobs covered by the law will have 2 percent instead of the present 1-2 percent deducted from their pay beginning with the first of January up to earnings of $3600 a year; their employers will contribute an equal amount.

The new rates will apply to all taxable wages paid after Dec. 31, 1953, regardless of when earned.

The social security tax for the self-employed is scheduled to increase from the present 2-1/4 percent to 3 percent, for the period commencing Jan. 1, 1954. Since the self-employed whose work is covered by the law pay their tax just once yearly at the time of filing their Federal income tax return, they will pay the present 2-1/2 percent social security tax on their 1953 income that counts toward social security. This will be due not later than March 15, 1954. Their first payments at the increased rate of 3 percent will be due March 15, 1955, for the calendar year 1954.

In the meantime the Internal Revenue Service reports that employers will be furnished late this year with income tax withholding tables and Federal Insurance Contributions Act (social security taxes) tables reflecting rates applicable next year.

The next scheduled increase, six years from now, in 1960, will be to 2-1/2 percent each for employer and employee, and 3-3/4 percent for the self-employed.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION INFORMATION SERVICE

Questions and Answers

Q—The VA has just awarded me disability compensation for an ailment I incurred in service. Can I count on receiving compensation checks, for the same amount, each month for the rest of my life?

A—Not necessarily. Your compensation payments may be subject to change, depending on your physical condition. If medical evidence shows your disability is improved, payments may be reduced or even stopped; or, if it shows the disability is worse, payments may be increased.

Q—In computing my income for VA pension purposes, am I supposed to include the gross salary that I receive on my job, or only my net take-home pay? Part of my pay is withheld for

A—You must include your gross salary—your take-home pay plus what is withheld for taxes, retirement or other reasons.

Q—When I reentered military service, I surrendered my permanent National Service Life Insurance policy for cash, and thereby became covered by the free indemnity. Will the beneficiaries I named in my NSLI policy carry over for the indemnity coverage?

No—You must make new designations of beneficiaries or the indemnity. They may include only persons in the following classes: wife, children, parents, brothers or sisters.

Q—I am a disabled World War 11 veteran, and I want to take vocational training under Public Law 16. Is it still possible to enroll for a four-year course?

No—Under the law, you may only take a course that you can complete by the end of the Public Law 16 program, on July 25, 1956.

SOUND FEEDING PROGRAM FOR TOP EGG PRODUCTION

A sound feeding program is essential for top egg production, County Agent George K. Vapaa reminds poultrymen.

"The best bred pullets in the world will never reach their maximum production level unless you provide a well balanced ration and sound feeding practices," he stresses.

Most feeds on the market today are balanced and adequate for the needs of the birds, says the agent. Follow the manufacturer's recommendations for using commercial feed, and don't throw the mash out of balance by mixing in a lot of "extras."

Give your pullets all the food they can eat, and keep laying mash before them at all times. Make sure, however, that they clean up the trough before adding a new supply. Whenever possible, weigh feed and keep an accurate check on consumption because there is a direct relationship between the amount of feed consumed and the number of eggs laid.

Use feeders designed to make feed easy for the birds to reach and at the same time prevent waste. Have the feed hoppers placed low enough so birds can stand on the floor while they eat. And don't forget to provide 48 feet of space for each 100 birds.

A constant supply of fresh water is absolutely necessary, and an automatic waterer is recommended by poultry specialists. A water unit should prevent spillage around the floor and litter as much as possible.

Also advisable for top laying is 14 hours of light per day, using lights as necessary to supplement natural daylight.

LONG HEADS, DEEP BODIES MAY MARK GOOD MILK COWS

Is there a relationship between body form and milk capacity in a dairy cow?

That question has puzzled dairymen for generations, says Delmar J. Young, extension dairy specialist at the University of Delaware. He claims the ability to spot good milkers among young calves would be worth millions of dollars annually to the dairy industry.

Research underway at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's research center at Beltsville, Md., gives good evidence that body measurements of a heifer calf may be a clue to her later performance as a milk producer.

According to records gathered so far, the best milkers are usually cows with long heads and long, deep bodies—as compared with other cows of the same breed and background. Young reports this has even proved correct on calves 3 to 6 months of age.

Of two breeds studied at Beltsville, Holsteins showed a highly significant relationship between the level of milk production and 18 different body measurements. Jerseys showed significant relationships with only two of the body measurements studied. The reason for this difference between breeds is not yet understood.

Head length and body depth were related to milk production capacity in both breeds, but there was little correlation between body widths and levels of production. Neither did body weight appear to be an important factor in marking a good milk cow.

Body measurements of Holsteins at 3 and 6 months of age showed almost the same relationship to later milk production as measurements taken during the first lactation period, which indicates that certain body dimensions in calves may be as good an indication of producing capacity as body dimensions in the lactating cow.

ORDER FRUIT TREES EARLY FOR PLANTING

Fruit growers who are planning to plant some trees next spring are urged by County Agent George K. Vapaa to place their orders early with a reliable nursery.

Early orders will give the buyer a chance to get what he wants and also will allow the nurseries to make prompt shipment in the spring, at the time the grower wants the trees delivered. Generally, fruits set out early make a better growth than those planted later.

The agent cautions that small trees may be the lowest in price, but they may not be the cheapest in the long run. The small trees may be the result of stock of the low vigor, or be stunted for some other reason.

FARMERS INVITED TO ENTER HAY SHOW

Delaware farmers are invited to exhibit samples of their best home grown hay at the Mid-Atlantic Farm Show, Dec. 4-9, at Atlantic City, N. J.

The hay show is open to all farmers in Delaware, New Jersey and Maryland, explains Claude E. Phillips, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware.

Five classes are open to hay growers—alfalfa, alfalfa grass, clover hay, mixed hay and annual hays.

Hay samples must have been grown and selected by the exhibitor in 1953, and only one sample in each class will be eligible from each farm, firm or family. Premiums will be awarded strictly on the merit of the entries. In addition to cash awards and ribbons, special premiums will go to the champions and reserve champion samples.

Many farmers from this state are already planning to enter their hay samples, reports Phillips. He urges anyone with top quality hay to contact him or the agricultural agent in his county about entering and getting samples to the show. Applications must be submitted before Nov. 30.

HORSE SALE

Reese Harrington's Broadway Bud brought $2500 last week at the Harrisburg sale of standard-bred harness horses. The Bill Gallon yearling, out of Rosebud Hanover, sold to Harry Hanover, sold to Harry Roediger, of Norris-town, Pa.

Kent Home Doings

By Charlotte L. Swanson
Kent County Home
Demonstration Agent

The Kent County Home Demonstration Achievement Day, November 12, was a different type of program, and one that required the cooperation of many people to make it the success that it was.

The feature of the morning program was a panel—"Through the Years." It dealt with the history of Extension Work from the first farm demonstration in 1903—fifty years ago. Also included was information about the history of Home Demonstration Clubs in Kent County, and exhibits of some of the things which have been done. This panel was arranged by a committee of club members: Mrs. John S. Farrow, Magnolia; Mrs. William Sterling, Dover; Mrs. Edward Cooper, Camden. The members of the panel were: Mrs. Robert Mercer, Milford, moderator; Mrs. Jennie Short, Milford; Mrs. Harry Schneider, Woodside; Mrs. Francis Raughley, Dover; Mrs. Fred Fifer, Wyoming. Assisting with the modeling for this were: Mrs. Newell Boggs, Mrs. William Wilson, and Mrs. George Wilson, all from the Oak Grove Club.

The feature of the afternoon program was a fashion show—"Collectors Items in Fall Fashions." The wardrobe was furnished by Simplicity Pattern Company, and most of the models were from the Happy Homemakers Club of Milford, although several people from other clubs modeled costumes. The models were: Mrs. Bernice Mills, Jessie Huth, Mildred Roosa, Mary Davis, Jane French, Frances White, all from the Happy Homemakers; Marie Sterling, Oak Grove; Cora Hilyard, Kenton; Irene Hufnal, Chestnut Grove; Ann Knotts, Leipsic. Two children, Linda French and Tommy Davis, also with their mothers, Mrs. Jonathan S. Willis, Millwood Club, was the commentator.

Other Home Demonstration Club members who participated in the program were: Mrs. Philip Jacobs, Milford, who presided for the day; Mrs. Jehu Camper, Harrington, secretary of the Kent County Home Demonstration Council; Mrs. Clifford Clark, Kenton, accompanist for the group singing; Mrs. J. Heyman Rosa, Milford, health chairman; Mrs. William A. Taylor, Harrington, family life life chairman; Mrs. Arthur Short, Smyrna, report on special activities; Mrs. Clyde Campbell, Hartly, report of the National Home Demonstration Council meeting; Mrs. Helen Lynn, Milford, report of the Associated Country Women of the World meeting.

tion Council; Mrs. Clifford Clark, Kenton, accompanist for the group singing; Mrs. J. Heyman Rosa, Milford, health chairman; Mrs. William A. Taylor, Harrington, family life life chairman; Mrs. Arthur Short, Smyrna, report on special activities; Mrs. Clyde Campbell, Hartly, report of the National Home Demonstration Council meeting; Mrs. Helen Lynn, Milford, report of the Associated Country Women of the World meeting.

Clubs served as committees for Achievement Day, too. They were: Hostess, Harrington Club; exhibits, Chestnut Grove Club; key board, Farmington Club; decorations, Canterbury Club; guest corsages, Kenton Club.

A hearty thanks to all of these people. Without them, this Achievement Day program could not have been a success.

FAMILY BUDGET WILL FEEL RISING SERVICE COSTS

The family pocketbook will have to stretch to include the rising cost of public services next year, declares Miss Louise R. Whitcomb, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware. Economists at the recent outlook conference in Washington, D. C., predicted that family budgets will be "dented" by increasing costs for medical care, public transportation, telephone and gas rates, laundry, dry cleaning and household help.

To ease the strain on the budget, some of these services might possibly be taken over by family members, suggests Miss Whitcomb. City families will be hit harder than rural ones, she says.

In the general family living picture for 1954, employment and wage rates will continue fairly high, and a reduction in income taxes is scheduled. While spending power will most likely remain high, living expenses will also stay up. Families will still have to make careful spending decisions to stay within their means.

With the exception of food prices, which will probably stay about where they are now, most consumer goods will be slightly less costly. Prices of wearing apparel, home furnishings and building materials are drifting slowly downward. That is, all except the cost of owning and operating an automobile, which has swung up considerably.

William H. Outten is one of 40 agents attending the sales training school being conducted by Farm Bureau Insurance Companies of Columbus, O., from Nov. 15 to 20 at the Hotel Ten-Eyck, Albany, N. Y.

VETERANS INFORMATION

Q—My husband, a World War II veteran, died recently. As long as he lived, he never had any kind of disability. Would I be entitled to a VA death pension, since my yearly income is less than $1,400?

A—No. The law requires that a World War II veteran must have been entitled to disability compensation, pension or retirement pay at the time of his death. Or, if he served 90 days or more, he must have had a definitely ascertained service-connected disability when he died.

Q—I am now on active duty, and I am covered by a free $10,000 indemnity. If anything happens to me, would it be possible for my family to collect the $10,000 in a lump sum?

A—It would not be possible for your beneficiaries to receive a lump sum payment. Under the law, payments are to be made equally in 120 equal monthly payments of $9.29 per $1,000 of indemnity.

Q—I've been in the service since 1941, and I expect to be discharged in the near future. Would I be allowed to train under the World War II GI Bill, even though the cut-off date passed in 1951?

A—Yes. The July 25, 1951 cut-off date applied only to veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. You would be permitted to start training under the World War II GI Bill, but you should keep in mind that the program ends for nearly all veterans on July 25, 1956.

Q—I am planning to take an on-the-job training course under the Korean GI Bill. I understand the law contains a $310-a-month ceiling for job trainees. Does that mean my employer may not pay me more than $310 a month?

A—There is no limit to the amount your employer may pay you, while you are taking job training under the Korean GI Bill. However, if your training wages plus your GI allowance exceed $310 a month, VA must scale down the GI Allowance accordingly under the law. Q—I am a Korean veteran. Would it be possible for me to enroll as an apprentice in a foreign country under the Korean GI Bill? I want to learn the watchmaking trade in Switzerland.

A—No. Training in foreign countries under the Korean GI Bill is limited only to VA-approved courses in accredited colleges and universities. The law prohibits all other forms of GI training outside the United States.

Q—I am learning to be an automobile mechanic as an on-the-job trainee under the Korean GI Bill. As I finish, would it be possible to get a GI business loan to open my own repair shop, even though I will have used up my entitlement to GI training?

A—Yes. The GI training and loan programs are separate benefits. The fact that you have used your training benefit in no way affects your rights to the GI loan benefit.

Q—I'm a Korean veteran, and I am totally disabled. I want to apply for the special GI insurance available to handicapped Korean veterans. What type of insurance can I get?

A—You may apply for five-year term insurance, ordinary life, twenty-payment life or thirty-payment life. Other permanent GI policies—the endowment plans—are not available to totally disabled veterans.

Q—Is it possible to get a GI loan to establish a business that I intend to run on a part-time basis?

A—Yes. It's not necessary that you spend your full time operating the business. But you will have to satisfy your lender that you probably can make a go of the business part-time.

ARMED FORCES NEWS

Pfc. Francesco Ledda, Jr., whose father lives at Felton, took part last week in Exercise Mudlark, annual fall training maneuver of the U. S. Forces in Austria.

Century Club Notes

Mrs. Fulton J. Downing, president, opened the meeting of the Harrington New Century Club Tuesday afternoon after a welcome to the new members, Mrs. William Clukey and Mrs. Winkler.

Reports of previous meetings were given. Mrs. A. C. Ford reported on the success of the rummage sale of which she was in charge. Mrs. Ernest Raughley and Mrs. Downing attended a club luncheon in Dover. Donations were made to the Christmas Seal Campaign, the American Legion Christmas Gift Fund, and contributions were voted for materials to be sent to the German Youth Assistance.

The Smyrna Century Club has invited members of the Harrington club to be their guests Dec. 11. It is requested that those members wishing to go will contact Mrs. Downing.

The topic for the afternoon was "American Homes - Thanksgiving," with Mrs. A. B. Parsons in charge. The Rev. Robert E. VanCleaf, pastor of Asbury Church, was the guest speaker. He presented the thoughts of Thanksgiving in a most cheerful way as a day in which the feeling of home is predominate. In 1621, Governor Bradford proclaimed a day of Thanksgiving. George Washington, in 1789, proclaimed it a national holiday. In 1941, Congress passed a resolution making Thanksgiving a national holiday.

A medley of familiar hymns which illustrated why we, as Christians in American homes, should be thankful, was rendered by Mrs. VanCleaf, pianist.

Several objects of interest were displayed on the art table. Miss Elizabeth Shaw spoke of several interesting pieces which she brought with her from Europe last summer. A print of Lady Jane Seymour by Holbein, who was a foremost painter in Europe in the 16th Century, was displayed. He was the painter of the six wives of Henry VIII. It was bought in the Medeci Gallery in London.

A coffee hour followed which was in charge of Mrs. A. B. Parsons, Mrs. F. C. Powell, Miss Shaw, Mrs. C. F. Wilson, Mrs. J. H. Wright, and Mrs. Charles Greenhaugh.

Dr. R. W. Heim, executive officer of the State Board for Vocational Education Rehabilitation Division will speak Dec. 1 at 3 p. m. It will be an open meeting. An invitation is extended to all who would like to hear Dr. Heim.

Thrill Maker from start to stop

(That's T.T. Dynaflo!)

SOMETIME soon — like this week — you ought to try a Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo.*

You ought to try it just to be familiar with the great advance in this fully automatic transmission that Buick engineers have accomplished.

You ought to try it just for the fun of bossing a drive where you don't do a blessed thing but steer and press the gas or the brake pedal as you go.

But, pure and simple, you ought to try it for thrills.

We mean the thrill of instant getaway response—with two turbines doing the job that one did before.

We mean the thrill of whisper-quiet acceleration — where you barely hear the sound of power build-up, or of flowing oil at work.

And, most emphatically, we mean the thrill of perfect and sublime smoothness from start to stop — the thrill of moving from standstill to and through all travel ranges in one, progressive, infinitely smooth forward "carry" without a gear ever shifting or a clutch-pedal pushed — the thrill, rarely found elsewhere, of silky smoothness in deceleration, too.

Will you be our guest at a sampling of a Buick with TT Dynaflo?

Will you try the sweetest, the smoothest and the simplest-to-operate automatic transmission yet devised — and powered by the highest-compression engines in Buick history, including the world's newest V8 in SUPER and ROADMASTER models?

Drop in on us this week and we'll be happy to accommodate you.

It's Trade-In Time for a Better Deal

You'll be thrilled with the top allowance we will make on your present car. Come in and see us for the happy news — now. We can give you immediate delivery.

Houston

Special Thanksgiving services will be held at Houston Church Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Those from Houston of Temple Lodge No. 9, who attended the services at the Masonic Home, on Lancaster Pike Sunday afternoon were the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Lounsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Webb, Miss Ellen Webb, Mr. and Mrs. George Arkoy, and Mr. and Mrs. Oley F. Sapp. The Rev. Louhoff delivered the sermon, and Mrs. Agnes Webb sang "The Ninety and Nine." She was accompanied by Mrs. Ethel Johnson, Fred Ireland, of Ellendale, was M.C., and the Rev. Roy L. Tawes, of Wilmington, pronounced the benediction.

The Houston MYF banquet given last Saturday evening in the Firemen's Hall was a success. The Rev. Albert Edward Dougherty made the invocation. There was group singing with Mrs. Ethel Johnson at the piano. Sammy Johnson and Sharon Johnson sang. Mrs. Anna Prettyman gave a reading, and the Rev. Dougherty spoke.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Marvel entertained the following at a turkey dinner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mustard, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Holsen, Georgetown, and Mrs. J. T. Bailey, of Milford. Tuesday Mrs. Marvel and Mrs. Lida Marvel spent in Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Oley F. Sapp spent Saturday and Sunday in Wilmington with their sons and families. Sunday afternoon they all attended services at the Masonic Home.

Mrs. Minnie Chism, Miss Anna Prettyman and Mrs. Cora Satterfield were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koeman for a long drive Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Paul Greenlee and son, Tommy, were overnight guests of Jack Kennedy's Sunday night. Mrs. Greenlee had an appointment with her doctor Monday morning in Wilmington.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Louhoff Jr. spent Wednesday in Wilmington attending the district preachers meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, of Tuxedo Park, spent Sunday at the home of her niece, Mrs. Edna Sapp.

HOUSTON SCHOOL NOTES

The PTA meets tonight at 7:30. Mrs. Sapp's room gave the program for assembly Wednesday.

Our school was pleased to receive the rewards from the firemen. Mrs. Sapp and Mrs. Harrington each received $4 for their room as it was a project. In Mrs. Warren's room, Wayne Simpson, 6th grade, received first prize of $5. Sharon Johnson, 5th grade, received second prize of $2. Patsy Hayes, 6th grade, received third prize of $1.

In Mr. Brittingham's room, Janice Sharp, 8th grade, received first prize of $5. Sammy Johnson won second prize, and Martha Watkins, third prize.

Janice Sharp will enter the Kent County contest. The Christmas entertainment will be Tuesday, Dec. 22.
