

$550 Loot Taken In Frederica Store Robbery

Burglars carried away a $550 worth of loot valued at $550 from the Wilson and Gerow hardware store in Frederica Friday night or early Saturday morning after forcing open a rear door to gain entrance.

The loot ranged from cash and an express wagon to shotguns, bicycles, and radios.

State police of the Dover Troop coupled their investigation of the latest of a series of breaking and enterings in Kent County with an alert to business establishments of the county to take all possible steps to prevent similar occurrences at their places of operation.

In urging the exercise of extra precautions, the police suggested that merchants keep their places well illuminated during the night and make certain doors and windows are locked securely, and that locks are adequate, and in every possible way guard against entering of their places by burglars.

Such care is of further importance, the police said, because of the holiday shopping season when stores are loaded with merchandise and thieves are apt to increase.

The breaking and entering of the Frederica hardware store was the sixth in scattered sections of Kent County in the past 10 days. The first two, committed under the cloak of heavy fog, were at service stations at Cooper's Corner, about a half mile south of the Dover city limits; the third was at the Tru-Val Auto Sales Company along U. S. Route 13 at its intersection with Dover's East Lockerman Street extension, also on a night of dense fog; the fourth was the grocery store of Mrs. Emma R. Reed at Clayton, and the fifth was the entry of Duke's furniture store at Magnolia, only about five miles north of Frederica, over the previous weekend and larceny of $200 in cash.

The loot at Frederica included one 12-gauge automatic Savage shotgun, one over-and-under 20-gauge Marlin shotgun, one Black & Decker drill set with attachments, eight electric clocks, 25 dollars in cash, most of it in silver; a number of wrenches, two pairs of hip boots, three electric irons, a case of 12-gauge shotgun shells, one Mismaster, two girls' bicycles, a red express wagon, and seven table radios.

The amount of the loot indicated that the burglars used a truck of some type to carry it away.

City Council Grants Free Use of Parking Meters Monday Thru Christmas

The City Council, at its monthly meeting evening, waxed vehemently over widespread violations of speed laws in the City and decided to request the police to crush down on offenders, with a warning ticket to be issued for first offenses.

In other business, referring to traffic problems, the Council voted to have a survey made of the 100 block on Dorman Street, with a view to installing parking meters in part of the area. The decision was made because the narrow street tends to cause traffic hazards.

The Council also voted to prohibit parking on the east side of Dorman Street in front of the school.

Journal Given Basket of Apples

The apples were unusually large, some weighing nearly a pound and being nearly three inches in diameter. There was no clew to the donor, though "anonymous" was written on the basket. We know of no one of that name and were unable to find it in the city or telephone directories. Anyway, many thanks to "anonymous."

Two Men Pay Fines of $100 For Spotlighting, Killing Deer

Thomas Rigby, Dover, and Richard Paul Haass, near Marydel, Del., have paid fines of $100 and costs levied on them by Magistrate C. R. Dempsey, in Dover, on a charge of violating the game laws in respect to deer.

The law prohibits catching, pursuing, attempting to pursue, killing, attempting to kill, or possessing a deer, living or dead.

The two men, arrested on complaint of the presence of a dressed deer in a shed at Haass' property near Marydel, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Dempsey, were arrested by Game Warden Dawson N. Sapp.

The allegations were that Rigby shot and killed the deer from a car and that Haass drove the automobile and spotlighted the animal for Rigby Tuesday night, a week ago.

The deer was a 12-point buck and one man, experienced with deer, said it was the largest he had ever seen. It has been turned over to the State Welfare Home. Game officers last week turned over to the Welfare Home four deer killed by automobiles on Kent County roads.

FIRE CHIEFS ISSUE
 PREVENTION HINTS

Through the courtesy of the National Fire Protection Association the Chiefs of Kent County are pleased to bring to the attention of the public the following safe and sane suggestions for the Christmas holidays:

The Tree
 Cut a growing tree or try to buy one that hasn't dried out from prolonged storage. (When too dry, tree branches are brittle and shed needles easily.)
 Stand the tree in water or snow outdoors until you're ready to use it indoors.
 Bring the tree indoors just before Christmas and take it out as soon afterwards as possible.
 The larger the tree the greater the hazard, so don't get one any larger than you need.
 Just before setting up the tree, saw off the trunk at an angle at least one inch above the original cut.
 Place the freshly cut tree trunk in water and keep level of water above the cut the entire time the tree is indoors. (Check the water level at least once a day for absorption and evaporation.)
 Support the tree well. Do not put it near sources of heat (fireplaces, radiators, etc.) or where, standing or fallen, it could block the way out of the room and out of the house in case of fire.

Lighting
 Do not use candles on the tree or nearby where there is any chance for an open flame to contact the tree or combustible pile beneath the tree.
 Use only electric lighting sets that bear the UL (Underwriters' Laboratories) label.
 Check lighting sets each year before using for frayed wires, loose connections, and broken sockets.
 Don't plug too many cords into one outlet.
 Make certain that all tree lighting is turned off before retiring or leaving the house.
Decorations and Wrappings
 Don't let Christmas wrappings accumulate in the home; place them in your metal covered trash barrel.
 Use non-combustible material (metal, glass, asbestos, etc.) to decorate the home for Christmas wherever possible. When you must use combustible materials, be sure they are "flameproofed," particularly if they are to be anywhere near the tree.
 Santa Claus whiskers have caused Christmas tragedies; be sure they're "flameproofed."

Toys
 Toys operated by alcohol, kerosene or gasoline are especially dangerous; they may upset and set fire to children's clothing, the tree, or to the house itself.

Look for the Underwriters' Laboratories label when buying electrical toys. This means they have been tested for fire and shock hazards and may be considered safe if properly handled and maintained.

Don't set up electric trains or spirit-fueled toys under a Christmas tree.

And Don't Forget
 Don't allow smoking near the tree amidst decorations or piles of wrappings; have plenty of safe ashtrays around and use them.

Plan on what you must do if fire breaks out.

Guard against flying sparks from a fireplace with a substantial screen and don't use the fireplace to burn up Christmas wrappings and decorations.

Keep matches, lighters and candles away from tiny hands. Have water-type fire extinguishers that work, buckets of water or even your garden hose connected to a faucet, within reach of the tree. But remember, unless you can put a fire out immediately, call your fire department at once.

 Don't gamble with fire, the odds are against you.

Letter to the Editor

"I never met a man I didn't like"
 "I never made a man I didn't love."

An Oklahoma part-Cherokee Indian cowboy, whose statue stands in the U. S. Congress (and whose name, Will Rogers, will long be remembered for his homely observations and mediocre rope tricks), was the author of the first statement. Only one person (God, of course) could have authorized the other.

We are once again approaching the "happy birthday" season. I mean Christmas is upon us. Now Christmas is important as the anniversary of the God-Man's birth. Anyone who misses this point misses the heart of Christmas. Indeed, there are those who not only disregard the birthday in "happy birthday", but take out the heart and happiness and replace it by an "X." This is the sort of paganism that saves all-save space for a Saviour; it is the sort of paganism that shouted into the cold, "There is no room in the inn." Again there is no room for Christ in Christmas.

But Christmas, as we affirmed, is the happy birthday season. In other words, it is the children's season. "Unless you become as little children, you cannot enter the kingdom of heaven." It is a time for birthday candles to celebrate the light of the world; it is a time of peace for the very angels heralded the tidings: "Peace on earth to men of good will" but most of all it is a time of love for God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son.

The lesson of Christmas is the lesson of love, the "happy birthday" kind of love ones gathered together. There is a latin motto, "Christus est Caritas," meaning Christ is love. Let's keep the Christ in Christmas.

"Going by Train"
 I board the train to travel to some city in our nation.... What is that train to me except....

A means of transportation?... What else is it? I'll tell you what... It is my home on wheels... where it is just as comfortable as home-life ever feels.... And some times trains mean even more... When I'm safe aboard them... With all their servants (In my home... I never could afford them)... The porter, the conductor and... The one who waits on me at breakfast, lunch, or dinner with... the utmost courtesy... and even to the baggage boy... For all his humble station... My heart is deeply grateful for our railroad transportation.

MAKE ROOM FOR CHRIST

There was no room in Bethlehem's Inn.
 When Joseph and Mary sought rest;
 In manger lowly, they laid the Christ

Whose place should have been the best.
 Who were your guest that holy night
 O keeper of Bethlehem's Inn?
 Compared with this child of David's line,
 Who came to save us sin.

He left a throne, and kingly crown.
 His riches and glory set by,
 That we, through His poverty might be
 Rich, in life that shall not die.
 O heart of man, Christ calls to-day,
 As He did in days of yore;

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION INFORMATION SERVICE

Questions and Answers

Q—Is there any deadline for starting under the Korean GI Bill?

A—Yes. Veterans who left service before August 20, 1952, must start before August 20, 1954. Veterans separated after August 20, 1952, have two years from their separation date in which to begin.

Q—I am a disabled veteran, and I recently completed Public Law 16 training and was declared rehabilitated. But now I find I'm not able to work at the job I trained for, since my disability has become worse. Would it be possible for me to get additional training under the law?

A—Yes. It is possible for you to re-enter training, so long as your need for vocational rehabilitation is reestablished.

Q—May I get a GI loan to buy an apartment building, if I intend to live in one of the apartments?

A—Yes, so long as the total number of separate units is not more than four, if you're buying the apartment yourself. If more than one veteran buys, one additional unit may be added to the basic four for each veteran participating.

Q—I applied for disability compensation from VA, and I feel that the VA's rating should be higher than it is. Can I appeal?

A—Yes, you may appeal within one year from the date an official determination was made in your case.

With trainer-driver Joe O'Brien acting as his advisor, Camp spent as little as $3600 and as much as $25,000 to get the colts and fillies he wanted. He bought nine head at the Lexington, Ky., sale and four at Harrisburg, Pa.

Camp paid his top price for Butch Hanover, a son of Hoot Mon consigned to the Harrisburg venue by Hanover Shoe Farms, Hanover, Pa.

The season's top yearling price was paid by Allwood Stable which went to $35,000 at Lexington for the Gainesway Farm yearling, American Way, a son of King's Counsel.

The get of eight stallions were represented in Camp's purchases. He bought three Hoot Mons, two each by Scotland, Rodney and Brookdale, and one each by Hal Dale, Knight Dream, Adios and King's Counsel.

Home Club Holds Christmas Party

The Harrington Home Demonstration Club held its Christmas party Monday afternoon with Mrs. Joshua Lister presiding. A turkey dinner was served by the American Legion Auxiliary. There were 35 present.

A short business meeting was held. Two leaders were appointed to attend a pressure cooking school to be held at Viola. Mrs. Mary Cooper and Mrs. Matilda Kotlaba were named.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Oscar Nemes and her committee who had decorated the Legion home with a large tree and flowers and favors in keeping with Christmas. Carols were sung and games played. Mrs. Fletcher Price won the door prize. The next meeting of the group will be January 4 in Odd Fellows Hall, when Miss Charlotte Swanson, Kent County agent, will be present.

Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

WE feature the delivered price of the Buick pictured here to make a point about the big trade-in allowances we're giving today.

The price you pay for the car itself—the local delivered price—is the first thing to look for when you're bargain-hunting.

It's this figure less what you get on your trade-in that determines your real cost—the dollar difference you pay.

That means—keep your eye on the dollar difference. The more car it buys, the better deal you make.

So with our low delivered price and the high trade-in allowances we're giving right now—we think we have a whale of a buy for you.

And when you check into things, we believe you'll discover this:

You get more room and power for your money in this Buick than in any other car on the market.

You get hundreds of pounds more automobile here—more strength in the brawnier frame, more durability in the heavier chassis, more safety in the thicker structural members—than in a long list of cars at this Buick's price or higher.

You also get a lot more in a Buick that the specifications don't show—more fun, more thrill, more comfort, more pride and pleasure.

But why waste another day—with time growing shorter, winter getting closer, and your present car getting older? If you're looking for a real automobile at a real buy in a real deal—come look at Buick right now.

Greenwood

Sunday, in the Greenwood Methodist Church, at the evening church service, there will be shown a sound film in Technicolor entitled "The Spirit of Christmas."

On the evening of December 20 there will be a Christmas Carol and Candlelight service at 7:30 in Greenwood Methodist Church, with both the Junior and Senior choirs participating.

The official Board of the Greenwood Methodist Church will meet in the church Monday evening.

The following interesting items came to us from Mrs. June Bostick, our home economics teacher at Greenwood High. The Senior F.H.A. girls at school have just finished a very worthwhile project. They have filled 30 stockings for boys and girls at Governor Bacon Health Center. Several of the merchants in town have helped the girls by donating gifts for the stockings. Each stocking filled for the girls have the same content as each other one, and the same applies to those fixed for the boys. Some of the things they contain are: coloring books, cut-out books, dolls, candy canes, oranges, pencils, lolly pops and combs. The stockings will be delivered to Governor Bacon Center in plenty of time for Christmas. They have also made 30 balls from soft material for the cerebral palsied children at the Center. These balls make excellent gifts for these children.

Not to be outdone by the club, the eleventh-twelfth grade class in home economics has finished 35 stuffed animals to be taken to the Center at the same time. These animals are for the crippled and cerebral palsied children and for the smallest cottage children.

John and Mary Brenner, Bridgeville, gave a turkey dinner Sunday in honor of her father, Charles W. Short's 77th birthday on Thurs., Nov. 26. Those present were grandchildren Phyllis Porter, Phila, Wm. and Lois Howlett and son, Eric, Kendall and John Conaway, and their mother, Mrs. Edna Conaway, of Greenwood.

CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL SUCCESSFUL ON VEGETABLES

The Battle of Weeds in 1954 will be fought with tractor cultivation and chemicals, reports E. M. Rahn, associate research horticulturist at the University of Delaware.

Rahn, speaking at the annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society this week (Dec. 10) in Salisbury, Md., said that more and more vegetable growers are turning to chemicals to replace expensive hand hoeing.

Chemical weed control can now be used successfully on an extensive scale with several of our major vegetable crops. However, Rahn cautions growers the chemical method should be tried on a small scale at first. It is important to know these "high powered" chemicals work and what equipment is needed to apply them properly.

Recommendations must be followed to the letter. If too much chemical is applied, crop plants may be killed or stunted; if too little, you won't control the weeds.

To get the right amount of chemical per acre, Rahn stresses three most important details - speed of the tractor, the right nozzle tips and the pressure. When wettable powders or oil-water emulsions are used, agitation is an additional important factor, especially since many weed sprayers fail to provide adequate agitation.

Many growers spray a band of chemical over the crop row only, thus saving cost of chemicals and hauling water.

Different chemicals have been found good for weed control on important vegetable crops of this state, such as lima and snap beans, vine crops, peas, asparagus, sweet corn, potatoes and strawberries.

Specific recommendations on chemical weed control for Delaware conditions are contained in Mimeo Circular 84, "Chemical Weed Control on Vegetable Crops," available from the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, Newark.

Of interest to the 440 local farmers who are using Curtiss Candy Farms Stud service is the announcement by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America that three more sires have been Silver Medal Production Sires.

The National Association awards these classifications to the few bulls that they have determined are outstanding sires, not only in the production of their daughters but also their dairy type. The bulls' names are Curtiss Candy Dandy George, Pabst Regal Bloom, and Pabst Sir Reburke Fobes.

READY-TO-SERVE MEALS COST MORE, TAKE LESSTIME

Do prepared mixes and ready-to-eat foods rate an important place on the dinner table? That depends on the homemaker—whether she wishes to save time or money, says M. Gertrude Holloway, extension nutritionist at the University of Delaware.

To get the facts on comparative time and cost of ready-to-serve meals versus those that the homemaker prepares from "scratch," home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture prepared two sets of daily menus using ready-cooked foods, and two similar menus with foods that had to be combined and prepared.

They found that the ready-to-serve meals took only one-fourth as much time, but cost about one-third more, when costs of food and cooking fuel were added.

MEETINGS SET ON INCOME TAX RETURNS

Each type of meal has its place, believes Miss Holloway. Women with small children that need constant attention, or women who work outside the home will find ready-to-serve foods a real boon, despite the added cost. A homemaker with time at her disposal may prefer to cut food costs by preparing all her meals from the basic ingredients.

If you are a farmer, you'll want to know the latest information on changes in the state and federal income tax laws in order to file correct tax returns.

To help farmers do an easier job of filing income tax returns, a special farm short course advisory committee has been formed in Delaware. This committee will offer statewide meetings to explain the best way of making out the tax form.

The meetings will be held on January 4 in Capitol Grange Hall in Dover; January 5 in Midland Grange Hall, Georgetown; and January 6 in the fire house, Middletown. All meetings begin at 8 p. m.

Committee members are: Mrs. Edward Krewatch, Seaford; Harry Johnson, Smyrna; George Simpson, Houston; H. B. Mitchell, Millsboro; Leland Brown, Wilmington; A. L. Boning, Wilmington; and Samuel Gwinn and William E. McDaniel, at the University of Delaware. The group is cooperating with the department of agricultural economics, University of Delaware, and George M. Worrlow, director of short course at the University.

"We do not plan to make out the farmers tax returns at these meetings," the committee points out. "Our aim is to teach the best way of making out the tax returns and to inform the farmers of the many deductions that are allowed under the present state and federal laws."

Representatives of the state and federal tax departments will be present to discuss recent changes in the state law, to give information on how to reduce the "headaches" involved in filing tax returns and to answer any questions that may arise.

CHOOSE SEWING MACHINES THAT SUITS YOUR NEEDS

If you expect to find a sewing machine under the Christmas tree, better brief Santa Claus on the type of machine you want.

A sewing machine is a lifetime investment, explains Ruth E. Pearce, extension clothing specialist at the University of Delaware. Since there are a variety of machines in the stores, you should know something of their features before making your choice.

For occasional plain sewing, mending or darning, a straight-sewing machine is satisfactory, the specialist says. If you like to do fancy stitching and embroidery, you may prefer the more versatile swing-needle or zig-zag type machine. Decide whether you do specialty sewing often enough to warrant the added cost.

A long-shuttle machine has a simple and direct mechanism, easy to clean and oil, but is a bit noisier and not designed for as high-speed operation as the round bobbin type. Round bobbin machines are usually smoother-running and better balanced for higher speeds.

When you go shopping, check the features of one machine against the other. You want your sewing machine to be easy to handle and operate, readily adjusted to your particular sewing needs, easy to care for and keep in perfect running order.

Make sure the machine has a written guarantee that makes good and inferior or defective parts or concealed damage. Also, reputable dealers supply a free service agreement to correct any defect in adjustment or parts other than wear for a specified period of time. Upon delivery, be sure your machine sews as well as the one demonstrated.

Service adjustments are best made before the free service or guarantee period runs out.

PLAN NEXT YEAR'S CHICK FLOCK NOW

It's not too early to think about your next brooding season, County Agent George K. Vapaa reminds poultrymen. You have to order early to get the number and quality of chicks you want.

Profitable chicks are free from pullorum disease, and possess an inherited ability to grow rapidly and lay a large number of eggs. It is essential to consider only pullorum-clean chicks, stresses the county agent. A list of pullorum clean hatcheries and poultry flocks can be obtained from H. R. Baker, State Board of Agriculture, Dover, Del.

To determine which breed or strain has the best growth and egg-laying characteristics, observe how a strain does in the hands of producers. Inquire about the performance of strains in your locality - check for growth, feathering, mortality, mature weight, age at maturity, production and egg size.

BARN HOUSECLEANING DISCLOSES SAFETY HAZARDS

Winter housecleaning around the barn will disclose un-realized accident hazards, according to George K. Vapaa, County Agent.

Some danger spots may have existed for years, says Vapaa. But it's never too late to correct these hazards. The agent lists some recommendations from the National Safety Council:

Keep work areas clear. Don't obstruct the alley way with feed, stools, carts or tools.

Don't store loose material overhead where it may fall.

Don't use the ladder or stairway as a hay chute. A well-constructed clean stairway with strong handrail provides the safest and easiest passage to hay mows.

When using a ladder, see that it extends well above the loft floor and keep the ladder in good condition.

Keep work areas and passageways well lighted. Never work in the dark.

CARE OF HOUSE PLANTS ASSURES WINTER BEAUTY

House plants add green beauty to the home all winter if they are properly cared for, points out Dr. Conrad B. Link of the University of Maryland horticulture department.

Dr. Link lists four things which flowers require for satisfactory growth, they are light, favorable temperature, moisture and minerals.

Light is a must for all plants, but the horticulturist points out that "some kinds of plants are adapted to low light intensity and do not necessarily have to be in a window. In general, those plants are grown for their foliage do not need as much light as flowering plants, although even they will do better if they get sunlight at the window."

Proper temperature is also important to flower growth, according to Dr. Link. He points out that most house plants will grow better at temperatures slightly cooler than we normally maintain in our homes. "A temperature of 60 to 65 degrees is high enough for most plants and for many an even lower temperature would be better. In the daytime temperatures in the house are higher than this, the house should be permitted to cool down at night."

Dr. Link says one of the questions most often asked about flowers, and one of the most difficult to answer is: "How often should plants be watered?" He can give only general recommendations. "The soil should not be allowed to become dry. In other words, plants should be watered frequently enough so that the soil is always moist. The soil must not be continually water-logged or water soaked."

WHEELER'S TELEVISION CENTER

Well, again we are thinking of Christmas. With it comes many extra activities, but we should all be mighty, mighty glad that we are able to cope with them. One thing, we are able to get the goods; another, we are able to pay for them, or at least our credit is good.

We are fortunate to be Americans and have the opportunity of selecting and getting the things we want. There are times, of course, when things are a little scarce, but only temporarily, and one of the times is right now. We have looked forward for these shortages and stocked up to meet it. So not to be disappointed, drop in at WHEELER'S and ask for it.

I want you to see the beautiful exclusive plaques we have for Christmas. One or more will surely put the Christmas spirit where it belongs, right in your home.

I might say that we have the most beautiful television sets that can be bought.

I am not going to tell you what other things we have to sell as I told you in last week's paper, but when I got up that list I was surprised myself by having so many items.

Of course, the goods we sell are standard makes and you take no chances on the guarantee as all our products are guaranteed not only by us, but by the oldest and most reliable distributors.

Hope to see you before Christmas and you, too, will be happy. Wheeler's Television Center

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Case of "Moostaken" Identity

Slim Smith never had a chance to use his moose call until a trip north this year. Visited him yesterday to see what he'd bagged. "First day out," he told me, "I picked up a trail. I sounded the call and waited. Then I heard a moose call. Sure enough, something came crashing through the brush. But it was another guy with his moose call. Boy, did I get my finger off the trigger in a hurry!"

me a real moose. But you can bet I took a good look before I did any shooting!"

From where I sit, we could all learn a little from Slim's experience. Most of us are guilty sometime or other of being too quick on the trigger. Like the fellow who would deny me the right to an occasional glass of beer with my dinner. I say that kind of "aim" is way off!
