Newport Dream Leading Money-Winner

Newport Dream, winter book favorite for next year's Hambletonian Stake, was the leading money-winning harness horse of 1953. The bay colt, winner of 20 of his 22 starts, the last 16 in a row, earned $94,933, an all-time high for a 2-year-old, the U. S. Trotting Association announced today.

The son of Axonite-Miss Key is a home-bred product of Grand Circuit president Octave Blake's Newport Stock Farm Stable of So. Plainfield, N. J. Del Cameron was the trainer-driver.

Another New Jersey colt, Allwood Stable's 3-year-old trotter Kimberly Kid, from Far Hills, was second with $91,198. Right on Kimberly Kid's heels was the Canadian filly Helicopter, winner of The Hambletonian. She earned $85,028.

In the process of accumulating the biggest bankroll in 2-year old harness racing history, and one of the sport's largest winning streaks, Newport Dream also set two world's records as he made every race of the year except one a winning one.

His lone loss occurred at Saratoga (N. Y.) Raceway in July when he made a break and finished eighth in a $10,000 event. Three weeks later he dropped the first heat of the $22,200 Tompkins Memorial at Goshen, N. Y., but was unbeatable after that. He went on to win the next two heats of the Tompkins and then annexed seven straight Grand Circuit stakes, including the $31,685 Horseman Stake and the $26,187 Castleton without the loss of a heat.

His world's records were achieved in the Castleton at Du Quoin where he was clocked in 2:01 3-5, a world's race record for age and gait and then back in 2:03 3-5 for a new two heat standard.

SPRAY PROGRAM TESTED ON RED DELICIOUS APPLES

Red Delicious apples "got the works" this past season in various spray programs tested by the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

According to Dr. Louis Stearns, extension entomologist, all eight of the optional spray programs recommended to growers in 1953 proved satisfactory against diseases, insects and mites, with one exception -- the fungicide Zineb failed to control scab. The comparative tests were made on Red Delicious apples in the Richardson-Kelly orchard at Rising Sun.

Fruit sprayed with Zineb had the best finish, with only six per cent showing russet. This fungicide rated 100 per cent from the standpoint of high gloss. Captain ranked second, with 21 per cent russet and 90 per cent gloss.

All sulfur programs gave proportionately greater russet and greatly reduced gloss. The first evidence of russet was seen as early as May 21, the date of the second cover spray. By then, the finish of the fruit, harvested on Sept. 22, had already been established.

From May 21 on, there was no important change in the pattern produced by materials applied at petal fall and in the first cover sprays.

ROOT KNOT NEMATODES REDUCED BY CLEAN FALLOW

Root knot nematodes, which cause a serious disease on many crops, have been notably reduced by a "clean fallow" technique.

This method of completely clearing and tilling the ground has been tested at Laurel, Del., by W. H. Crittenden, research plant pathologist with the Delaware Agricultural Experimental Station. Crittenden revealed the results of this test at the Peninsula Horticultural Society annual meeting in Salisbury, Md., this week (Dec. 10).

In each of the past three years, the clean fallow practice during May and June has reduced the nematode population in the soil to a very low level.

"This method of periodic soil tillage has been so successful that the control of nematodes equals that of chemical fumigation of the soil," states Crittenden.

The researcher believes that clean fallow in May and June shows promise of being economical, and is particularly adapted to crops which can be planted July 1 or later, such as soybeans or lima beans.

"Moreover, clean fallow and sudan grass the year preceding tomatoes has resulted in 50 per cent reduction of root knot on this crop and approximately a 50 per cent increase in yield," concludes Crittenden.

MAKE HOLIDAY FOODS NOW, AVOID FINAL RUSH

The aroma of baking cookies or cooking chocolate is as much a part of Christmas as holly and mistletoe. If you haven't yet made a supply of these treats, there's still time to prepare some for holiday entertaining.

Miss Gertrude Holloway, extension specialist at the University of Delaware, suggests that you check your recipes first, then list all the supplies needed, so that one trip to the market will do.

Most cookies can be stored or frozen in airtight containers. Candies such as fondant and nougats will keep in airtight boxes. Other holiday foods to freeze or store in the refrigerator are steamed plum or carrot pudding (keep this covered) and salted nuts. Cranberry sauce or jelly keeps well in your refrigerator.

It's best to try out first on your family any new recipes you plan to use for Christmas entertaining. Usually he family is a willing taste-panel, and they'll tell you if anything needs changing.

Three leaflets to help you with your entertaining are available from the mailing room, Agricultural Hall, Newark, Del. They are: Holiday Cookies, Tips on Candy Making, and Holiday Refreshments.

Farm and Home Week
Next Feb. 22-25

Dates for the 10th annual Farm and Home Week at the University of Delaware have been set for next February 22 - 25.

This announcement comes from George M. Worrlow, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service, and George L. Schuster, dean of the school of Agriculture.

As in past years, the agricultural programs will emphasize newest developments in the fields of poultry, marketing, livestock agronomy, and fruit and vegetable production.

For the women, daily homemaking sessions will include talks and demonstrations on home furnishings, clothing, grooming and family relations.

Also being scheduled as part of the week's activities, is a home gardeners' short course on Monday, Feb. 22.

"The 1954 program is being planned around suggestions made by local people," explain Worrlow and Schuster. "We hope all farm families will plan to spend the week of Feb. 22 through 25 at the University."

"Number Please"

Calling by Number Is Important... More Than Ever During the Holidays!

At this time of year more people than ever visit faraway family and friends by telephone. And even though we've made many special arrangements to handle the extra volume, some calls may not go through as quickly as you—and we—would like.

You can be sure your operator will do her level best to handle all your calls promptly. However, you can help her give you faster, better service during the Holiday Season by following this simple suggestion:

Whenever possible, give the operator the number of the telephone you want to reach. That way, she won't have to detour your call through information, and it will go through much faster.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Library Club has decorated three bulletin boards in keeping with the Christmas season. The theme has been a very religious one.

Fifty additional books have been mended. Plans are being made for the Christmas Party.

Christmas symbols have been discussed during the activity periods. Two of the symbols were THE TREE and CANDLES and BELLS.

THE TREE:
Although the decorated evergreen tree is of relatively recent origin, it has become one of the most popular symbols of Christmas. This is easy to understand since, for most of us, our earliest memories of Christmas are centered around the enchanting beauty of a glittering tree as seen through the wondering eyes of a child.

While the decorated evergreen has no direct connection with the birth of Christ, legends of trees have long been associated with the coming of the infant Saviour. One of the most ancient Christmas legends relates how the trees celebrated the birth of the Christ Child by bursting into blossom and producing fullgrown fruit on the first Christmas Day—and the rejoicing of all Nature was so great that small stars came down from the heavens and settled in the branches of the firs and other evergreens, because these trees had neither fruit nor blossoms of their own to put forth in honor of the new-born king.

Another tree associated with Christmas is the miraculous "Glastonbury Thorn." According to the legend which has grown around this famous thorn tree, it grew from the staff carried by St. Joseph of Arimathea when he arrived in England sometime in the first century, A. D. The story tells how he thrust his staff into the ground to mark the end of his long journey, and how the dried-out wood took on new life and grew into a magnificent thorn tree which, for centuries, bloomed every Christmas. Offshoots of the "Thorn" are said to be still blooming at Christman in Glastonbury—but not on December 25. Like their legendary predecessor, they bloom on Christmas Day according to the old calendar, which now occurs on January 6.

The custom of decorating evergreen trees at Christmas time is believed to have originated in Strasburg, Germany, around the start of the 17th century. Decorations consisted of paper roses, apples, and other fruit, candies and gilded nuts. Within a short time the custom became common throughout Germany and eventually spread throughout Western Europe.

CANDLES and BELLS:
The candles and bells that provide two of the most popular motifs for Christmas greeting cards and decorations trace their origin to religious customs. The Christian use of candles on altars is a practice deriving from the Jewish religion, and the association of candles with Christmas in particular is a carry-over from the Jewish festival known as CHANUKAH or the Feast of Lights, which coincides with the Christmas season. The ritual requires the lighting of candles in the traditional nine-branched candlestick for nine consecutive nights—starting with one candle the and son on, continuing until the ninth night, when all nine candles are lighted. This ritual was reflected in the old Christmas custom of placing a lighted candle in a window every night from Christmas to Twelfth Night.

There was an old English tradition which held that the candle which was lighted on Christmas must be large enough to burn throughout the entire day; if the candle burned out before midnight, evil fortune awaited the family during the ensuing year. This was probably a variation of a still older tradition from Denmark, where two great tallow candles were lighted at the Christmas feast. One candle represented the wife; the other the husband—and the one whose candle burned the longest would outlive the other. If a candle were accidentally extinguished, it was considered an omen of death.

Symbolically, the candle represents Christ, The Light of the World, and the custom of placing a lighted candle in the window is common to all Christian nations. The most widespread use of the lighted candle, however, is said to be in use in Ireland, where the light in the window on Christmas Eve serves as a welcoming beacon to guide any weary, homeless souls, who, like the Blessed Mother and Saint Joseph so many centuries ago, could not find shelter in their trouble and need.

Christmas bells, as might be expected, are representations of church bells. For centuries, the solemn pealing of bells summoning the faithful to Midnight Mass, and the joyous clamor announcing the birth of the Infant Saviour has been inseparably associated with the celebration of Christmas throughout the world. In mediaeval England, church bells were rung one hour before midnight on Christmas Eve to announce to the world that the Devil was dead, and again at midnight to tell that Christ was born.

Student Council
The student council held an election of officers at the beginning of the school term. The officers elected were as follows: President, Johnny Langrell; vice-president, Joanne Brown; secretary, Shirley Kates; treasurer, Kaye Bowdle; advisors, Mrs. Wolfe and Miss Paskey. The student council meets every second and fourth week. They have been discussing laws that are to be set up by the hall squad for the people who must be disciplined. The student body is also revising the constitution.

The officers attended a meeting of the Kent County Student Council at Smyrna, on Monday, October 5. At this meeting the student bodies elected officers and discussed problems that the student councils brought forth. The officers also attended a meeting at Dover, Monday, December 7th.

On Wednesday, November 25, the Student Council sponsored a "Harvest Dance." We want to thank everyone who attended.

Saturday, December 5, the officers of the Student Council attended a program, "Delaware Youth Look At Their Community" at P. S. duPont School in Wilmington. They were very fortunate to be able to hear Governor Caleb Boggs.

VISITOR

On November 30, the school had a distinguished visitor, Mr. E. C. Ramsey, of the Antrim Bureau.

Mr. Ramsey is a graduate of the University of Maryland and a former newspaper reporter. Having covered two world wars and three revolutions, besides traveling extensively all over the world, Mr. Ramsey is well qualified to speak to us about world conditions.

He first addressed the entire high school in assembly, then spent the remainder of the day, lecturing the classes separately. Among the topics discussed were the Korean, Indo Chinese and Iranian situations, a united Germany, and Communism. Mr. Ramsey emphasized the need for more understanding among nations. Also, he believes that war with Russia is not inevitable.

13 Tomato Growers Top Ten Tons In Contest
 Thirteen entrants in the Maryland Ten Ton Tomato Club Contest for 1953 have qualified to receive certificates for producing 10 or more tons of tomatoes per acre. Andy Duncan, extension instructor in vegetable crops at the University of Maryland conducted the contest.
 Duncan says there are three prize winners in the contest, due to the fact that competition was in three classes. Amos Reeder, of Washington County produced 14.3 tons of tomatoes per acre to win class I, for farmers growing two to six acres. John Milby, of Caroline County, produced 19.8 tons per acre to win class II for growers with six or more acres. T. Noble Jarrell, of Caroline County, won in class III in which competition was for highest grade, regardless of acreage.
 The three first place winners will receive gold watches when the Maryland Vegetable Growers Association meets January 7 in Baltimore.
 Second place winners will receive pen and pencil sets. They are Henry Lindemann, Talbot county; Bruce M. Elwain, Harford County; and Lloyd Ludy, Frederick County.

 Four Caroline county farmers who competed in the contest produced over 10 tons of tomatoes per acre. Washington, Frederick, Harford, and Worcester counties each had two 10-ton producers.
 Extension Service will not conduct the contest again, according to Duncan. He says the contest has run its course as a teaching method.

"GLORIA IN EXCELSIS"

By Rev. J. Harry Wright
 On Judean hills those shepherds,
 Watched their flocks that holy night,
 Heard glad voices, saw God's heavenly light,
 Shining through with heavenly light.
 Gloria in excelsis Deo,
 Gloria in excelsis Deo.
 Then they hastened to the manger,
 As God's angel said to them,
 Found Joseph, Mary and the Christ Child,
 In the stable of Bethlehem.
 Gloria in excelsis Deo,
 Gloria in excelsis Deo.
 They rejoiced and told the story,
 How the angels sang the birth
 Of God's wondrous gift to mankind,
 Christ the savior of the earth.
 Gloria in excelsis Deo,
 Gloria in excelsis Deo.

Houston

There were fifty-nine from our community and town who attended the Link banquet at Caesar Rodney School last Thursday evening. This number included the 4-H Club and their parents. The Houston Cardinals won the silver cup for their outstanding club work in 1953. Three boys, Richard and Wayne Simpson and John Benson, on the team for judging dairycows, also won an award for their work.

The employees at Libby, McNeill and Libby will hold their Christmas dinner and party Wednesday afternoon at the plant. Members of the WSCS will prepare the food, and leave it at the firehouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Herrington and Mr. and Mrs. John P. Lemmon Jr. went to Wilmington Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Lemmon spent the weekend with his parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Herrington with relatives.

Little Miss Anna Lee Thistlewood spent Saturday with her grandmother, Mrs. Anna Sharp, and Miss Grace Sharp. They went to Dover to see Santa.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koeneman were guests of honor at a reception Wednesday evening given in their honor in Ridgely. The occasion was their 40th wedding anniversary. The same group or a part of the group, gave Mrs. Koeneman a bridal shower.

The WSCS held its annual turkey dinner and Christmas party last Wednesday evening. There were 40 present.

Sunday evening, at 7:30, the Chancel and Junior Choirs will present a sacred concert in the church auditorium. The Junior choir is directed by Mrs. John P. Lemmon Jr., with Miss Carolyn Davis at the piano. The Chancel Choir is directed by Mrs. Eleanor Yerkes, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Carter.

The Christmas entertainment will be held tonight in the church auditorium, beginning at 7:30.

Mrs. Josiah Parvis is recuperating nicely at her home after having an operation.

Mrs. Marguerite G. Cooper left Sunday for Kingsville, Tex., where she will spend her vacation with her son, Capt. Randolph G. Cooper and family. Capt. Cooper is an ROTC instructor at Texas College of Arts and Industries.

Last Sunday evening services were largely attended. The new officers of the MYF were installed as follows: president, Joyce Ann Buarque; vice-president, Robert Reynolds; secretary, Ann Elizabeth Hill; treasurer, Maynard Gunstra; and program director, Junior Williams.

Plans Made Not Affect Next Winter's Egg Lay

The number of eggs which a laying flock produce next fall and winter will be greatly affected by the brooding and rearing program, says Dr. Morley A. Jull, head of the University of Maryland Poultry Department. "Now is the time for market-egg producers to plan the brooding and rearing program to get best results in raising their crop of future layers," according to Dr. Jull. "Chicks must be of high quality, and the factor most important in the brooding and rearing is the diligence of the person who tends the brooders."

"Other factors that affect mortality and growth include proper temperature, ventilation without drafts, dry litter and adequate floor space." Dr. Jull suggests that Maryland farmers who want advice on planning a brooding and rearing program write to their county agent for a copy of Bulletin No. 100 "Rearing Chickens for Meat and Egg Production." This bulletin can also be obtained by writing to the Poultry Department, University of Maryland, College Park, Md.

Magnolia

Mrs. Bertie Pritchett, Harlan and Conrad Pritchett, of Henderson, were dinner guests of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Freese and family Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hart, Mrs. Marshall Hart, Mrs. Jennie Wootten and Nancy and Wayne Hart spent Saturday in Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stubbs and Patty also visited Philadelphia on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Elderice and son, of Westminster, Md., visited over the weekend with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Elderice, at the parsonage.

Come out to the church early Sunday evening if you want a seat to see the pageant, "Christmas With The Home Folks." It will begin at eight o'clock and during the Sunday school hour, from ten until eleven in the morning, the departments of the Sunday School will present their Christmas program.

Monday evening Santa Claus is taking time out from his busy schedule to visit Magnolia before he makes his real visit on Christmas eve. Could it be that he is making this visit? Just kindly to check up on the boys and girls? No, we believe differently since we sorta' got an inkling that he is coming with his bag containing a treat for each boy and girl who gathers around the community tree on Monday evening. Prior to his visit there will be a carol singing under the tree.

The Christmas program being presented by the Magnolia school children will be in the school auditorium Tuesday evening, Dec. 22. This program begins at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. John Knight accompanied by Mrs. Ferris Wright, of Little Creek, attended the wedding of Miss Shirley Knight to Mr. John Donovan, in the Camden Church Saturday.

Mrs. Jennie Wootten was an overnight guest of Mrs. John Russell in Bridgeville on Monday night. Together they attended the Seaford Symphonic Choir in their Christmas Concert in the Seaford High School auditorium.

Felton School Notes

The Music Department of Felton School will hold its annual Christmas Concert Tuesday evening in the Felton School auditorium. M. Ross Evans, music supervisor at Felton School, will conduct the concert.

Featured in this year's concert will be selections by the High School Band, Girls' Chorus, and Mixed Chorus. Included in the selections will be an arrangement of "Sleigh Ride" by the band; "We Wish You a Merry Christmas" by the Girls' Chorus; and a special arrangement of "Jingle Bells" by the Mixed Chorus.

In order to instill the true Christmas spirit in all who attend the concert, the band and mixed chorus will combine to tell the Christmas Story for the finale.

W. Russell Torbert was appointed by the Felton Board of School Trustees to complete the unexpired term of W. W. Wood, whose resignation from the Board was accepted December 7. Mr. Wood's activities outside of town make it impossible for him to continue to fulfill his duties as a member of the Board. In the reorganization of the Board Courtland Dill was elected chairman, succeeding Mr. Wood.

Mrs. Wood has served as a member of the Board of School Trustees since 1949 and as chairman since 1952. In a recent letter the Board expressed to him the gratitude of the citizens of the district for his untiring efforts to improve the school program and the school plant facilities.

The additions to the school plant are progressing rapidly. The new locker rooms for boys and girls should be ready for use early in January. Exterior walls of the elementary wing and the Vag shop and laboratory are completed, and the glass block and roof should be installed within the month. Reinforced concrete floors have been poured in all areas except the V-ag laboratory and shop.

Class will be dismissed Wed., Dec. 23, at 1:35 for Christmas holidays and will be resumed Mon., Jan. 4.

Felton School has won the November attendance banner for western Sussex and southern Kent Counties with an attendance average of 96.1.

The girls basketball team, coached by Margaret Taylor, opened their 15 game season on December 8 with Rock Hall. Returning to the court are co-captain Dot Lomicky of last year's varsity and captain Leah Schanding, substitute forward last year. Also seeing court action, but for the first time are Phyllis Jones, Sadie Walters, Dorh Greenly and Elaine Wagner to complete the starting line up.

Substituting for the girls are Louise Hopkins, Gladys Brown, Janet Sherwood, Norma Jean Walls, Ethel Reed and Marie Marker.

The girls triumphed over Ridgely Fri., Dec. 7, scoring 29 to 28. Louise Hopkins scored the winning field goal in the last two seconds of the game, to face the girls to their first victory. Felton School news continued.

After the holiday season, the girls will return to compete with Milford in an afternoon home game on Friday, January 8.

The cheerleaders have reorganized again this year under the direction of E. Frances Moore, R. N. Those who are members are Thelma Griffith, Doris Legates, Maureen Hoffner, Louise Henry, Jean Short, Pauline Krouse, Loretta Hughes, Marie Biggs, Caroline Wyatt and Nancy Torbert.

When you attend the basketball games this year you will notice that the girls are dressed in new uniforms and are cheering lustily. The bulletin Board of the third and fourth grades has an unusual Christmas display. It represents a large Christmas greeting card made of such delicacies as licorice sticks, candy canes, gum drops and cranberries. It is questionable whether such an appetizing exhibit will survive until Christmas.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Self-employed persons who expect to apply for social security retirement insurance payments within the next few months are advised by Myron Milbourn, manager of the Wilmington Social Security Office, to make extra copies of the Schedule C's which they submit to the Bureau of Internal Revenue as part of their Income Tax Returns for 1953. This copy of Schedule C, Mr. Milbourn stated, must be furnished to the Social Security Office as evidence of his 1953 earnings when the retired self-employed individual claims his benefits. It will be accepted by the Social Security Administration because it will take from six to nine months before information regarding self-employment earnings for 1953 which are not being reported to the Bureau of Internal Revenue will be posted to the individual's social security account. The local manager cautioned that the copy of Schedule C filed with the Social Security Office must be correct since the claimant must certify that it is a true and exact copy of the one he filed with the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Subsequently, this form will be compared with the original and if there are any discrepancies, an adjustment will be required.

The faculty is making a definite effort to improve the citizenship of our students. A new method has been put into effect for grading the traits found on the report card. This marking period the pupils were graded on: Effort, courtesy, cheerful cooperation, and self-control. The home room teacher no longer has this responsibility alone. All teachers have cooperated in grading the students whom they have either in a class or in a study hall. It is hoped that the parents will note carefully the grades given students in the designed characteristics, and that parents will make every effort to see that their children make definite improvement.

The 9th grade homemaking class recently planned and gave a party for small children in connection with their study of caring and understanding little children. They invited Mrs. Grant's first grade group on Friday morning, Dec. 4, because of the difficulty of getting pre-school children to and from school for such a short period.

Janice Mae Mimmer was chairman. Her committees were: Refreshments, Gladys Welch, Freda Kemp, Phyllis Curtis, Dorothy Messick, Rose Phylumm, Joyce Austin, Norma Lee Roark; entertainment, Kaye Bowdle, Lena Voss, Betty A. Moore, Joyce Porter; decorations, Sandra Raughley, Irene Brown, Ginger Minner, Rose Marie Bonniwell, Mary Jo Pillick and Eleanor Wagner.

Home Economics - Mrs. Goodwill

This past week the 8th grade homemaking classes served a well-balanced breakfast to guests as a result of their unit on "Eat a Better Breakfast." The groups and guests are as follows: Lois Hopkins, Jeanne Homewood, Eleanor Baker, Sue Holloway, Ellen Pearson, Adel Callaway, guest, Mr. Cotter; Ann Kotiaba, Eunice Morgan, Joyce Downing, Faye Minner, Lelia Eilers, Janet Smith, Patsy Bonniwell, Mary A. Callaway, guest, Miss Gordy; Penny Graham, Jackie Marshall, Joyce Meredith, Julia Porter, Maureen Boyer, guest, Mrs. Dolby; Jean Walls, Adrianna Potter, Lillian White, Barbara Hawkins, guest, Miss Morris and Mrs. Messner; Faye Spicer, Peggy Jean Moore, Mary A. Montague, Ruth A. Melvin, Helen Dobraski, Marilyn Teed, guests, Mrs. Hess and Mrs. Slaughter.

SENIOR PERSONALITY

Betty Louise Greer was born June 1, 1936 in Port Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y. Betty moved to Felton when she was two years old. While living at Felton for five years, she made many friends and attended her first year at school. She moved to Harrington when she was seven and has spent the rest of her school days here. Betty is taking the Commercial course and enjoys all subjects she is taking during her senior year. Her favorite subjects are history and aviation math.

Last year she was president of the art club.

Betty's favorite sports are basketball, soccer, football (sometimes) and baseball (always).

Her hobbies are baby-sitting and listening to the radio, especially when Julius LaRosa is singing. She also enjoys listening to people play the piano.

Her future plans are to become a bookkeeper or secretary.

Recently the 10th grade homemaking class made a trip to Philadelphia to see home furnishing styles and trends. They saw various types and prices of rugs and rooms furnished with modern, traditional and provincial furniture and accessories. They also visited a few points of historical interest such as Independence Hall, Old Congress Hall, Custom House, Christ Church, Betsy Ross House, and Benjamin Franklin's grave.

Sophomore Class—Mr. Hart

The tenth grade class has a homeroom meeting every other Wednesday, the second period.

The officers of the class are the following: President, Norma Jean Brown; vice-President, Lee Harrington; secretary, Madalyn Baker; treasurer, Joan Shaw.

Louisa Howard is our Student Council representative, with Henry Nader acting as alternative.

The homeroom of Mr. Hart consists of 22 boys and girls, the majority of which are taking the Academic course. The remainder are taking the Commercial and Vocational Ag. course.

The class is planning a Christmas party, which is to be held seven periods, December 22. Gifts, carols, and refreshments will be given out.

Madalyn Baker, secretary

Grade 11—Miss Paskey

On December 2, the Junior class was called to order by our president, Chiora Outen. The minutes were read and approved. We were then ready for old business. Knowing that our assembly is in January, we had to decide upon what we would do. Some suggestions were made and then we voted for the one we preferred. The voting was done by a counting of hands. We decided to have a talent show. There will be a first prize given and possibly more. A committee was chosen to help provide the talent. Anyone from the seventh to the twelfth grades inclusive, is welcome to compete.

We voted to have a Christmas party. We drew names, for presents, therefore a Christmas tree will be necessary.

In order to raise money for our senior, it was suggested to sell writing paper. The meeting was then adjourned.

Robert Larimore, secretary

Grade 11 — Miss Dickrager

On December 2, our homeroom opened the regular business meeting with discussion of our Christmas party. We shall have the occasion December 22, and will exchange gifts.

Dale Sullivan is to bring our tree a few days early and decorate it. Each homeroom member is to bring decorations. We may trim our tree with test tubes in keeping with Miss Dickrager's classroom.

For refreshments, we shall have: soft drinks, potato chips, fudge, and a cake which two of our boys are to bake!

Our Junior Play, March 25, was discussed, but nothing definite was decided.

Senior News

The regular homeroom meeting was called to order by our president, Wayne Cooper. The secretary was absent, so the minutes were not read.

We decided that we would draw names for Christmas gifts and pay not less than seventy-five cents and not over a dollar and a half for our gifts. The Student Council wanted us to vote on school colors. Our suggestions were: blue and gold or blue and white. Suggestions for a mascot were: a yellow jacket or a lion.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Grade 5—Miss Long

Our room had a substitute teacher on Thursday, because Miss Long was ill. The lady's name was Mrs. Thompson. We liked her very much.

Jean Martin and Margaret Teed are stringing holly berries to decorate our Christmas tree.

When some of the children went to the movies, the other children made some pictures and signs for Christmas.

Grade 5—Mr. Donovan

When we went to the library on Thursday, David Myer told about his library book, "Fly it Away." He gave some very interesting facts. Also, Billy McCooly told about his book, "Dum-dum Pate," about a boy who had many interesting adventures.

Grade 8—Miss Morris

Our class drew names at the last homeroom meeting for the Christmas party, December 2. We decided to spend from $.50 to $1.00 for a gift for the person whose name we drew. Each one is also required to bring $.25 to the party.

We chose committees as follows: Mary Ann Montague, Adrianna Potter, and Jackie Porter, refreshment committee; James Walsh, John Greenley, Jean Walls and Maureen Boyer, clean-up committee.

James Sheehan and David Coady will bring the Christmas tree. Julia Porter, Helen Dobraski, Mike Dobraski and Peggy Moore will trim the tree. Ralph Moore will bring the decorations for it. Lillian White, Joyce Meredith, and Bobby Wilson will decorate the room. Joe Kliment, Bobby Collins, and Barbara Hawkins will decorate the Christmas card box.

James Sheehan, Faye Spicer, and Ralph Moore will give out the Christmas cards. Jackie Marshall Penny Graham, and Ruth Melvin will give out the gifts.

The refreshments will be soft drinks, potato chips, cookies, and fudge.

Little Skunk

Oh, little skunk about the size of a cat, How do you manage to smell like that? Your fur so soft, your skin so tender, But what a scent you can render!

If you would talk and tell me your plan, I could become a very strong man.

Oh little one of black and white, I admire the way they flee with fright.

We'd stroll to the park, In the middle of the dark, And spray young lovers who spark.

So tell me your secret and we'll have some fun, Watching the real old fat ones run.

PROCEDURE ANNOUNCED IN RENEWAL OF CHAUFFEURS LICENSE

The procedure to be followed in the renewal of operators and chauffeurs licenses by the Motor Vehicle Department, was announced recently by Thomas E. Burrough, Acting Motor Vehicle Commissioner.

The holder of an operator or chauffeurs license is eligible for the renewal of this license sixty days prior to the date of their birthday and according to Mr. Burrough, no deviation from this rule will be permissible at any time except for members of the Armed Forces.

Special Christmas Exhibit At Delaware State Museum

"Christmas Past and Christmas Present," might well be an apt title for the special exhibit currently featured for the holiday season at the Delaware State Museum. Opened Saturday, the exhibit portrays the change that has occurred in the observance of Christmas since great-grandfather's day and the present time.

Plastic trucks, space guns, and dolls dressed in synthetic materials which Santa might leave for today's children are shown in sharp contrast to lead soldiers, brass cannon and wooden and china dolls of a century or so many others, including a magic lantern, a hooded cradle, a wicker doll carriage, and mechanical banks are displayed beneath a long-needed pine trimmed with home-made decorations of popcorn strings, cutout snowflakes and handblown glass balls.

Opposite this tree stands a cedar, the Christmas tree found today in the homes of many Delawareans. Modern electric bulbs, plastic and glass balls, tinsel, and plastic snow are used for trimmings. Beneath the tree an electric train and other contemporary toys await the child of today on Christmas morning.

Mother and Dad, Big Brother and Sister are not forgotten in the current exhibit of Christmas toys and gifts of today and yesterday. Adjacent to the old-fashioned tree are displayed a variety of objects which might well have been chosen as Christmas gifts for the older members of the family. A straight razor and shave mug and brush for father; a new silk bonnet, a comb, and silver thimble for mother; a fine linen handkerchief, a hair dress comb, and a patch box for big sister; and a wallet and watch for big brother are included in this portion of the exhibit, as well as other more fragile toys for the children of yesterday.

A collection of dolls dating from about the middle of the last century to the early 20th Century form another part of this special Christmas exhibit.
