H.B.B.A. to Meet Monthly

After meeting only when the occasion demanded, the Harrington Better Business Association Monday night decided to meet regularly the second Monday in the month at the American Legion Home on U. S. 13.

Consequently, the organization will hold its next meeting at 9 p. m., Mon., Feb. 8, when an election of officers will be held. The meeting night and time were chosen because it immediately followed the Lions Club meeting, to which many business association members belong, the same evening.

At Monday's meeting, Samuel A. Short, Jr., president of the organization, made a report of payment of bills on the Christmas program, and added that the collections were not all in.

Deciding it was better to get an early start on next year's program, he suggested Oct. 1 as a starting date, and appointed Clarence Collins, Eugene Anderson, and J. Edward Taylor to decide on the decorations.

Turning to the problems of store hours, he appointed Clarence Collins, Claude Cahall, and Mr. Hudak.

Near the close of the meeting, the association voted to donate $10 to the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company for its new truck.

Short closed the meeting by appointing Clarence Collins and Donald Kent on a committee to solicit funds for a float at the Chicken Festival at Georgetown this year.

DIME Marches On

The momentum of the 1954 March of Dimes for the Harrington-Farmington vicinity picked up considerably during the past week. The first special event for the district was announced by the Calloway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee Post No. 7, American Legion. An Old Clothes dance will be held at the Legion Home on Route 13, with all profits going to the March of Dimes. The date will be announced later and all residents are urged to attend.

The various other organizations are invited to sponsor a money-raising project for the March of Dimes. Regardless of the amount raised, it will help us meet our quota of $2,000.

Earl Sylvester, chairman of the local committee handling the campaign, attended the "Kick-Off" dinner recently held in Wilmington and was privileged to hear Regional Director S. M. Frost discuss the new vaccine that was developed by a research grantee of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Dr. Jonas E. Salk. Research Professor of Bacteriology at the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. Salk is now supervising the vaccinations of all children of the second school grades in the Pittsburgh area and the same tests will be made in every state in our country, including Delaware, and will be supervised by the State Boards of Health and will be made with the consent of all parents. Mr. Frost said that this was a campaign of "Hope and Prayer" to determine the effectiveness in protecting children against paralytic polio in the same manner that smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid fever and other diseases have been conquered. This program is estimated to cost $7,500,000. The G. G. program, a temporary prevention, will be continued at a cost of $12,000,000 during 1954. These are two reasons why this district will want to meet its quota of $2,000. PLEASE do not limit your contributions to dimes, but make it dollars. "Give until you feel good all over" and remember that no man or woman is ever too tall to stoop and help a child.

The following "early birds" have contributed as of Jan. 11: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Quillen, Murphy-Hayes Co., Taylor Hardware Co., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sylvester.

Plans Completed For School of Religion

The Rev. H. H. Conner, dean of the School of Religion, which will be held in Asbury Methodist Church, beginning Mon., Jan. 18, has completed the arrangements for the various courses which will be taught in the school. The school will be in session two hours each evening from Monday to Friday. During the first hour each evening, the following courses will be available: "Christian Stewardship," taught by George T. Macklin of Milford; "Workers With Youth," taught by the Rev. Donzel Wildey; "Lay Leaders' Course," taught by Fulton Downing, and "Ministerial Administration," taught by Dr. Harold P. Sloan.

At 8:30 each evening, the entire school will gather in the sanctuary for a period of worship and inspiration with Dr. Sloan as speaker.

The community of Harrington is urged to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to hear one of the outstanding preachers of the Methodist Church.

Rotarians Hear Rev. Wright

"Harry S. Truman and H. V. Kaltenborn sitting side by side at a banquet—and enjoying themselves and each other—where could this happen but in America?" asked Rev. J. Harry Wright at Tuesday's meeting of the Harrington Rotary Club.

Rev. Wright recalled Kaltenborn's radio comments all through the night when returns were coming in from the 1948 election: "While President Truman is leading at present, it falls into the old original pattern—and so when the returns come pouring in from the outlying districts, they will reveal Governor Dewey as the victor."

Immediately after Truman's victory was assured, radio listeners were amazed at hearing Kaltenborn repeating the same predictions he had made the night before. It was Kaltenborn—no mistaking that—the same staccato, the same evident self-assurance, the same liberal sprinkling of his pet phrase, "and so"—but it wasn't Kaltenborn. It was a superb bit of mimicry by President Truman. Someone had made a tape recording of that

School Building Dedicated Here

"Through education we do away with fear and war in developing a better understanding ourselves and the peoples of the world," Dr. George R. Miller, state superintendent of Public Instruction, said at the dedication of Harrington's new elementary school building Wednesday evening.

"We, our culture and laws are conditioned by our European backgrounds, but our public schools are an American concept. While we inherited our love for freedom and our initiative for free enterprise from the Old World, the public school which nurtures and fastens the principles under which free men dwell and prosper, is strictly an American ideal."

The program opened with a prelude by the School Band and an invocation by the Rev. Milton Elliott, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, followed by an introduction of guests on the speakers platform.

Elbert N. Carvel, who, as governor of Delaware, lifted the

Smith, Harrington, and Jerread Win Council Posts in Election

Applicants Wanted For City Manager; Position to Include Street Work

The post of city manager was separated from that of city clerk Wednesday night at a busy organizational meeting of the new City Council, three members of which were elected Tuesday in the municipal election.

At the same time, the office of street superintendent, held by Councilman Leonard Harrington, one of the victors in the election, was included in the city manager's office. Mr. Harrington's salary was $78.75 per month.

The Council deferred appointment to fill the post until its next regular meeting, Mon., Feb. 1. Meanwhile, the group decided to receive applications for city manager until Jan. 25. An application for the post was received Wednesday night by Wilson Holden, with one for any part-time position by C. Fred Wilson, retired postmaster.

Mayor Ernest Killen read the City Charter stating the qualifications of city manager. In part it said neither the mayor nor councilmen could hold the position. The manager could collect any or all taxes, bills, liens, etc. He was to perform duties delegated by the Council and recommend city employees. He was to make a monthly report of monies received. He must be bonded, the charter read, must oversee the city's employes and have managerial ability.

Charles Jerread, who was not contested as councilman from the Third Ward, in the Tuesday election, made the motion to include the street superintendent position with that of the city manager. The motion was seconded by Councilman Charles Peck Sr. The motion was carried, 4 to 0, with Councilmen Walter Messick and Dr. Hewitt Smith also in the affirmative and Councilmen Leonard Harrington and George Graham not voting.

The new councilmen were Dr. Smith from the Fifth Ward, and Charles Jerread, from the Third Ward, with Councilman Leonard Harrington re-elected from the Sixth Ward. The present city officials, whose posts have not been filled, will serve until the posts are filled.

The Council and the mayor got down to business early and filed most of the city positions and named the committees, and deferred action on some for further study.

Howard S. Wagner was re-appointed city treasurer, while selection of a city solicitor, or legal council, was deferred. Alderman Gooden Callaway was retained, while Mayor Killen reappointed a Board of Health of Dr. Hewitt Smith, Dr. Robert Smith, and Dr. W. T. Chipman.

A. B. Parsons and Arnold Gilstad were reappointed to the Auditing Committee.

The Council had no applicants for the assessors' positions, but decided to seek two, who are to be paid $100 each, to make a general assessment by March.

C. D. Mills was reappointed fire marshal and Wilbur Pearson was retained as janitor. Mrs. Frances Rifenburg was reappointed water plant custodian at $31.50 per month.

Police Officers

Patrolman William G. Jarrell had in an application for chief of police and also one for patrolman. The Council decided favorably on the latter, deciding the community was too small for a police chief. His father, Charles Jarrell, a former patrolman here, applied for extra work as a patrolman and was hired. This appointment was made in answer to complaints of a shortage of help in the police department, particularly on Sundays when no patrolman was available.

Patrolman Walter Voss, Sr., was reappointed.

Stanley Clark had in an application for weekend extra patrolman, but no other appointments were made.

Mayor Killen told the Council the State Police held annual schools for community police and suggested that William Jarrell be asked to attend the school.

The mayor deferred the appointment of a police committee, consisting of the mayor, a councilman, and the city manager pending the appoint of the last-named. Councilman Leonard Harrington was voted in as secretary of the Council.

Votes Recounted

Following a request of Joseph Penny, defeated candidate for councilman from the Sixth Ward, in Tuesday's election, the councilmen made a recount and declared the vote in order.

Mayor Killen then read the budget for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1954, and asked the Council's recommendations. The group accepted the budget which was estimated to leave a reserve of $2615 after disbursements.

The budget called for $6500 for the City Department, with $7500 for the Police Department against $7282 last year. The mayor added the Police Department might have to buy a new car. The Fire Department allotment was $1525, same as the past year; Sewer Department, $2500, against $2087 in 1953; interest on bank notes, $10000; one-half parking meter receipts, $1300; Street Department, $13,000, against $11,980 in 1953; general expenses, $200, against $180, in 1953; Water Department, $4000, against $3927 in 1953; redemption of sewer bonds, $4000, same as last year; payment on bank notes, $5000 on $25,000 borrowed last year for street and sewer improvements, and interest on sewer bonds, $1960, as compared with $2120 in 1953.

Mayor Killen said the City should receive a little more revenue this year from water rents and taxes due on new buildings. Furthermore, he recommended that the Council study a proposed sewer tax, to be applied to properties connected to sewers. He added that the City might have to build a new water plant in a few years and that the tax might eliminate the necessity of a bond issue. He asked the Council to consider a low tax which, in some places, is also referred to as a water use tax. In Milford, for example, said one councilman, all sewage runs through a meter and the cost is derived accordingly.

After the nomination of candidates for councilmen, Sylvester said the citizens should commend the Council for the "very fine job it had done the past year." He then mentioned very careful driving in Harrington, and suggested that the new Council should give some thought and action to the problem. He added that it didn't think one officer could do it. Samuel A. Short, Jr., then spoke up and said he had observed speeders from his store near the Center Street railroad crossing and wondered what would happen if the crossing gates failed to work. Frank O'Neal then said West Street was a regular route for "hot-rods" and asked what could be done. Sylvester replied the citizens would complain but would not appear against the traffic violators.

Miss Delaware Search Is On

The search for Miss Delaware of 1954 has begun and the winner of this title can look forward to a full year of adventure and interesting activity, it was learned this week.

The lucky lady between the ages of 18 to 28 will serve the state in a dual role this year. She will visit Washington, D. C. on March 30 to April 30 as Miss Cherry Blossom Princess and later will attend the annual Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N. J.

Sponsored jointly by the Delaware State Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Wilmington Sunday Star, the final Miss Delaware selection will be made in the Gold Ball Room, Hotel duPont, on Saturday evening, Feb. 27, according to Richard H. Baldwin, pageant chairman and an official of the Wilmington Jay Cees.

Organizations in communities throughout the state which do not have Junior Chamber of Commerce chapters have been invited to apply for a franchise from the Jay Cees in order to conduct local contests. Baldwin says he hopes that there will be a record number of entries this year.

So anxious are the Jay Cees to develop this competition that any eligible young lady may en-

Leonard Harrington, Dr. Hewitt Smith, and Charles Jerread were the victors Tuesday in the municipal election to fill three council posts.

Harrington, a veteran councilman from the Sixth Ward, defeated Joseph Penny, 28-25. Dr. Smith, a former councilman, defeated Lord, incumbent, 23-12, in the Fifth Ward, while Jerread received 4 tallies from the Third Ward in an uncontested vote.

Harrington and Dr. Smith will serve three-year terms, while Jerread will serve out the two years remaining in the term of J. Edward Taylor who had moved from his ward.

The total tally was 92 votes Tuesday. This was considered good, considering the cold fact there was no contest in one ward.

The candidates were nominated Friday evening at the annual Citizens' Meeting when petitions, signed by residents in the candidates' wards, were presented.

Mayor Ernest Killen opened the meeting. Earl Sylvester, former mayor, was nominated as chairman of the meeting, with Robert Holloway as secretary.

A. B. Parsons, chairman of the auditing committee, of which Arnold Gilstad is a member, made a report on the financial condition of the city, reading the auditors' report. The report showed the city in a favorable light, but the auditors recommended steps to collect delinquent property and capitation taxes.

After a section had been read, referring to the bonded indebtedness of the sewer system, Sylvester pointed out that debt had been cut down to $49,000 from its original $109,000 in 1935. He added this was the city's only bonded indebtedness and this was the smallest debt of its kind he was aware of in a town of this size.

Mayor Killen, at the finish of the report, thanked the auditing committee on behalf of the Council.

After the nomination of candidates for councilmen, Sylvester said the citizens should commend the Council for the "very fine job it had done the past year."

He then mentioned very careful driving in Harrington, and suggested that the new Council should give some thought and action to the problem. He added that it didn't think one officer could do it.

Samuel A. Short, Jr., then spoke up and said he had observed speeders from his store near the Center Street railroad crossing and wondered what would happen if the crossing gates failed to work.

TWO NEW COURSES FOR EXTENSION DIVISION OF UNIVERSITY

Gordon C. Godbey, associate director of the Extension Division of the University of Delaware, has announced two new courses for the second semester of the 1953-54 school year.

The first of these courses, Education of Exceptional Children (Ed 400), will be taught by Mrs. Ruth Tyndall in Harrington on Monday evenings, beginning Feb. 8. The course carries 3 credits toward the undergraduate degree.

Education of Exceptional Children is a general approach to the educational problems presented by the "exceptional" or handicapped child. Although emphasis will be placed on the emotionally unstable or maladjusted child, the gifted, the orthopedically handicapped and the mentally retarded will also be considered. Actual case material will be used and members of the class will consider additional cases from their own experience. Observation trips will be made and opportunity will be provided to meet informally with psychiatric and medical specialists, psychologists and teachers engaged professionally in this field.

The second course, Discussion (D 3525), is offered by Dr. Ray E. Keesey of the Department of Dramatic Arts and Speech. The course deals with procedures used in exchanging information, solving problems, determining policies and resolving differences in committees and other small groups. The course will also be limited to 15 persons who will participate in frequent practical sessions as group members and leaders. Considerable attention will be devoted to developing an attitude conducive to making progress in a discussion group and to discovering reasons for discussion "breakdowns" with the resulting loss of time and general frustration on the part of participants.

D 3525 will be offered Monday evenings in Wilmington, beginning Feb. 8.

CLIPPING COWS HELPS PRODUCE CLEAN MILK

Giving cows a partial hair cut will help them produce clean milk with a low bacteria count. County Agent George Vapaa points out that the job of clipping requires no special skill. It reduces the amount of labor necessary to care for the animals, makes it easier to prepare cows for milking, helps control cattle lice and improves the appearance of the herd.

In clipping your cows, start with a few clean sweeps up each side of the tail, then start clipping about four inches above the end of the tail bone. Clip the hair short around their udders, flanks and bellies.

When lice are a problem, Va-paa recommends clipping a four-inch strip along the backbone.

A regular clipping program in the dairy barn will reduce sediment and bacteria, improve milk quality and result in a greater income for the dairyman.

FAVORABLE MORTGAGE LOANS FOR HOMES THIS YEAR

Families desiring to purchase new homes should have no anxiety in obtaining favorable mortgage loans this year, according to Elias W. Nuttle, lumber and building materials dealer and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"Mortgage funds are becoming more readily available for all types of new housing, including conventional loans and those insured or guaranteed by the FHA and the Veterans' Administration, and still more liberal terms will be obtainable if Congress approves the recommendations made by President Eisenhower's Committee on Housing," Mr. Nuttle said.

"With long term financing newly available, 1954 will be a good year to buy or build a new home, because prices appear to have stabilized.

"There is every reason to believe that any fluctuations in the cost of labor and materials will tend to balance each other during the next year or so. Shortages of building products and of skilled workman which contributed to price fluctuations in the past few years have completely disappeared.

"The President's Housing Committee has recommended an increase in the size of the loans which can be insured by the FHA, a longer payment period, and lower down payment requirements on medium-priced homes, all for the purpose of bringing modern housing within the reach of a maximum number of families.

"The Committee also advocated a flexible interest rate on FHA and VA loans as a means of preventing shortages of mortgage funds such as occurred during 1953."

GOOD WINTER RATIONS PRODUCE BETTER SPRING PIGS

What you feed your brood sows this winter will have a big effect on next spring's pig crop.

George Vapaa, county agent, says that good rations in the winter will pay off in better pigs next spring. Research work in swine feeding shows that poor rations for brood sows during gestation and even before breeding can result in poor litters, Vapaa says.

There are some tips from A. E. Tomhave of the University of Delaware Experiment Station, for winter feeding that will help get your spring pig crop on to a good start:

1. Provide minerals either free choice or in the protein supplement.

2. Feed a balanced ration. One ration might be ground oats free choice plus protein supplement free choice. Another might be 6 pounds of corn plus 1-2 to 2-3 pound of protein supplement per head daily.

3. Use a commercial ready-mixed supplement, or make your own mixture. A suggested protein supplement mixture might include 100 pounds each of meat scraps or tankage, soy bean oil meal and alfalfa meal, and 5 pounds each of salt and steamed bone meal.

Tomhave says alfalfa meal is included in the supplement because pastures are dry in many areas and alfalfa will provide a good share of the mineral and vitamin needs of the sows. If high quality alfalfa hay is available, this can be fed free choice in racks, and the alfalfa meal can be omitted from the protein supplement mixture.

Clean Bed
An easy and thorough way to clean bed slats and coil-type bed springs is to hold an electric fan, set at high speed, at the side of the bed so the stream of air flows across slats and springs under mattresses. The accumulated dust and lint is blown to the floor.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE NOTES

Sunday School, 9:45; morning worship, 11:00 a. m.; youth program at 4:45; evangelistic services at 7:30 p. m.; prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30; choir practice Thursday night at 7:30 with Frank Pinkerton, of Milford, in charge. Youth revival will begin Jan. 25 and continue through Jan. 29. There will be different speakers each night.
 Substantial gains in every phase of international work of the Church of the Nazarene were reported in year-end statistics released by Dr. S. T. Ludwig, general secretary of the denomination, which maintains its international headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.
 Setting the pace of progress was the amount given by members for all purposes—nearly $30 1/2 million, which is a per capita giving of $118.33, the largest in the history of the denomination.
 During 1953 membership climbed to 258,000, a gain of more than 3 per cent. The report also lists 3,826 established churches in the United States, 117 in Canada, and 97 in other world areas, for a total of 4,040. In addition the church now has 265 missionaries and 1,150 native workers on 25 foreign fields.
 The Sunday School organization showed similar gains, reporting 537,000 enrolled. This is an increase of 3 per cent over last year and more than twice as many as listed for church membership.

OUTSIDERS GET MOST OF MARYLAND EGG BUSINESS

Poultrymen outside of Maryland are cashing in on the big demand for high quality eggs in the state while Maryland egg producers fall farther behind in the production of eggs for their home market.
 Russell C. Hawes, University of Maryland marketing specialist, concludes after a study of the egg trade at the Baltimore Wholesale Market that "Maryland's egg business is not big enough."
 "Only about 11 percent of the table eggs passing through the Baltimore market are produced within the state and the situation appears to be getting worse. Increases in the production of table eggs in Maryland is not keeping up with population increases."
 The marketing specialist points out that 44 percent of the table eggs going through the market in 1952 were from faraway Minnesota. Some of the Minnesota eggs were candled, dated and cartoned ready for retail distribution.
 Hawes emphasizes that the large import of Minnesota eggs is not evidence that production of quality eggs is not profitable in this area. He says we need only look across the border into Pennsylvania to see proof that high production is possible in this area. "That state has increased its laying flocks tremendously, and is producing an increasing volume of fine table eggs."
 "New Jersey is another nearby state that has remarkably increased egg production. According to a recent release by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, New Jersey had a deficit of 279,000 cases of eggs in 1940. By 1952 the state had a surplus of 1,792,000 cases."
 "Maryland in the same period went from a deficit of 560,000 cases to a deficit of 1,494,000 cases."
 Hawes says Maryland producers can gain back some of their markets by improving egg handling practices and marketing the high quality product that Maryland consumers demand.

Kent Home Doings

By Charlotte L. Swanson
 Kent County Home
 Demonstration Agent

Who said women can't be carpenters? Six women attended a project school to make sewing screens, held Jan. 5 and Jan. 12. They started with pre-cut pieces of lumber for the frame, measured, and went to work with saw and chisel. Notches were made in the uprights for the shelves, and the pieces were sanded smooth at the first meeting.
 When the screens are completed, they will have small dowels to hold dozens of spools of cotton, small pockets for small equipment, and pockets large enough to hold patterns and fabric you are working with. They can be covered with fabric, plastic, or even wallpaper to blend with your color scheme.
 These screens make a nice sewing center which can be used for hand sewing in the living room or with a sewing machine for larger work.
 The women who attended this project school are: Mrs. Elsie D. Bush, Dover; Mrs. Blanche Sicox, Dover; Mrs. Ruth Rusby, Smyrna; Mrs. Elizabeth Bush, Smyrna; Mrs. Ruth E. Stokes, Viola; Miss Ruth E. Pearce, extension clothing specialist, was the instructor for the classes.
 They deserve congratulations for their good jobs—and they will get lots of enjoyment from using their convenient sewing screens.

Surprised
 In the closing months of World War II, an American soldier wandered late one night into a shell-smashed house in Bonn, Germany, found a piano and began idly playing "Moonlight Sonata" in the darkness. Not until next day did he learn he had been in the birthplace of Ludwig van Beethoven, playing Beethoven's great work on the composer's own piano.

TURKEY HATCHING SEASON SOON DUE

Production of turkey hatching eggs on most Maryland farms will not begin for a couple of months, but egg production and the hatch will be more successful if flock owners make plans now.
 Dr. Clyde C. Schaffner of the University of Maryland poultry department says turkey hens will lay in a house but usually do better on a good grass range. Consequently, he recommends that preparation be made to have turkey hens on a good turf that is well drained during the laying season.
 Turkey hens sometimes go broody and Dr. Schaffner warns against the practice some growers have followed of starving hens during confinement. He says confinement in a crate is effective, but that starving the hens only increases the time they are out of production. Hens should have plenty of feed and water to ensure production when the broody spell is over.
 The poultry specialist stresses the importance of mating. He says that in large flocks there should be one healthy, well proportioned male about 8 1-2 months old for every 15 hens. In small flocks and with small breeds a few more females per male can be allowed.
 Before males are introduced the females should be provided with canvas saddles to prevent them being torn by the tom during mating. Clipping the toenails of the toms will also help prevent injury.
 Dr. Schaffner says that any tom showing signs of molting during the breeding season should be replaced. It takes a tom a long time to return to a reproductive state after he has started to molt.
 Clean eggs which are free from cracks and checks and have the best hatchability. Dr. Schaffner points out the best assurance of having good eggs is to provide plenty of dry, nesting material and to collect the eggs frequently. Eggs should be set every two weeks and prior to setting should be held in a room at a temperature of 50 degrees F.
 The recommendation on incubation is to follow the incubator manufacturer's instructions.

KENT COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION ELECTION WILL BE HELD FEB. 11

The annual election of the Kent County Soil Conservation District will be held Thurs., Feb. 11, according to a report just released by the District Board of Supervisors. One board member will be elected. Isaac Thomas of Maryland is the retiring member and will be a candidate for re-election. Other nominations will be made according to the election rules of the district, as follows:

A. The nomination is supported by 10 signatures of landowners in the district.

B. That the nominations with supporting signatures are presented to the district board at least two weeks in advance of the election date.

All nominations should be sent or brought to the Kent County Soil Conservation District Office not later than Jan. 28. In addition to Mr. Thomas, members of the board are L. D. Caulk, Wyoming, chairman; C. A. Taylor, Harrington; Charles Blendt, Smyrna; Edward Kelley, Dover, Levy Court member.

Now 15 million men, women and children in the United States who are partly deaf can be assured of hearing clearly and easily.

This noted scientist demonstrated how even those with a severe loss of hearing, can hear again with clarity that they never dreamed could be possible.

According to this electronics engineer, Mr. S. F. Posen of Belmonte, a neglected hearing loss can even result in failure to understand speech, even though sounds can be heard.

Those who are hard of hearing can now get full details on how they can again hear speech with full clarity. A free illustrated booklet tells how. It will be sent to those who ask for it. There is no obligation whatever.

LONGER LIFE FOR FARM MACHINERY

Want to add as much as 35 percent to the life of your farm machinery?

Then see that it is properly protected during the winter, advises Byron Bondurant, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware.

"Nothing will ruin equipment faster than exposure to snow and rain," stresses the engineer. "Keep the machinery under a shelter when not in use, and keep doors closed and windows screened to discourage poultry and birds from roosting on your equipment."

Exposed metal parts should be painted now to help prevent corrosion. Parts that are bare steel, such as cultivator shovels and plow mold boards, should be kept clean and greased to protect against rust.

The winter season is your best time to inspect and repair equipment. Fix those bent sprockets, sickle blades, lever arms, combine sieves, manure spreader fingers and torn canvases. Inspect the machinery for corroded bolts.

Not only will winter protection increase equipment life, but by inspecting and correcting minor difficulties, you may avoid a costly breakdown during next summer's harvest.

VEGETABLE GROWERS MAY REDUCE FERTILIZER

Maryland vegetable growers may be able to reduce their 1954 fertilizer bill because 1953 was a dry year.

Andy Duncan, Extension horticulturist at the University of Maryland, explains that heavy rains wash fertilizer out of the soil and because the 1953 rainfall was lower than average there was more fertilizer left in the soil at the end of the season than usual. This means that less fertilizer than usual will be needed in the early part of 1954.

The vegetable crop specialist says that soil tests should be made to determine fertilizer needs on all soils where vegetables are grown. He points out that soil tests are more important on intensely cultivated truck farms than on general farms because of the large amounts of high analysis fertilizers used to grow vegetables.

"DON'T BE THE DEAD OF WINTER"

"Don't be the dead of winter!" J. James Ashton, manager of the Delaware Safety Council, warned motorists this week.

Winter can be deadly—to the unwary—Mr. Ashton pointed out to Delaware drivers.

"In winter, streets and highways often are wet or covered with snow and ice," he said, "and car control is difficult."

Also, visibility—or lack of it—can be a dangerous, even fatal problem, Mr. Ashton pointed out.

"In nearly one out of five fatal accidents last year, the road condition was wet, muddy, snowy or icy," he said. "And in one out of eight fatal accidents, the driver's vision was obscured."

About two-fifths of these obstructions to vision were reported as rain, snow or sleet on the windshield, Mr. Ashton explained.

"You have to see danger to avoid it," he said, "and you have to have your car under control at all times if you are to stop in time to prevent an accident."

Mr. Ashton listed six basic rules for winter driving to help counteract these dangers. The rules are:

1. Accept your responsibility. Always be prepared to meet the hazards of winter driving. You can't expect the weatherman to take the blame for your accidents.

2. Get the "feel" of the road. When you are driving slowly, away from traffic, try brakes occasionally to find out just how slick the road is. And, above all, drive slowly, adjusting your speed to road and weather conditions.

3. Keep the windshield clear. Steam, snow, ice and sleet may cloud car windows and windshields. Be sure windshield wipers and defrosters are in top working condition.

4. Use tire chains when there is ice or snow on the roads. Reinforced chains will cut stopping distances about half.

5. Pump your brakes rapidly to slow down or stop. Jamming on the brakes when roads are slippery can throw you into a dangerous skid.

6. Follow at a safe distance. Keep well back of the vehicle ahead so that you will have plenty of room to stop in an emergency. Remember that even with tire chains it takes more than twice the distance to stop on snow and ice as it does to stop on dry concrete without chains.

WATER AND LITTER ARE WINTERTIME POULTRY PROBLEMS

Freezing water in drinking fountains and wet litter are two problems that face many poultrymen this time of year.

George Quigley of the University of Maryland poultry department has suggestions to both these problems.

If there is danger of water pipes becoming frozen, Dr. Quigley suggests that electric resistance tape be used to protect the pipes. The problem often is one of simply keeping the float valve and the water in the fountain from freezing and Dr. Quigley says a simple solution is to hang a 250 watt infrared bulb about 24 inches above the water.

He stresses the importance of having a porcelain socket for the bulb rather than a metal one, and points out that the bulb should be protected from birds flying against it.

A lot of harm will result if hens are without water for only a few hours, and the effect is worst in high producing flocks.

Litter may not be as tough a problem this winter as it is most winters, Dr. Quigley believes. This is because we entered the winter months after a dry summer and fall and the litter was drier than usual going into the winter season.

Even so, there is apt to be some troubles with damp and caked litter.

The poultry specialist recommends treating litter with hydrated lime a finely ground limestone product. One hundred pounds can be used for every 400 square feet of floor space.

Dr. Quigley cautions against the use of quicklime. It is dangerous to use. A labor saving method of mixing lime into the litter has been tried at the University with good results. This method consists of using a 5-tined hand garden cultivator with curved teeth and a straight handle for stirring lime into the top inch or two of litter. Dr. Quigley says this method was found to be superior to deep turning, and estimates it takes only about one-third as much time and labor.

The hand cultivator is also an excellent tool for "spot turning" of litter around feeders and water fountains.

BIRTH OF NICKEL

Recently displayed by International Nickel at the National Metals Exposition in Detroit was a scale model of the laboratory in which 200 years ago the Swedish scientist Cronstedt discovered the element nickel. Although the face of the model measured only 22" by 7", it contained hundreds of authentic-sized items of the time in miniature.

Felton School News

Earlier Closing Date

The Board of School Trustees is circulating letters among parents of Felton pupils to determine their wishes regarding a shorter Easter vacation and an earlier closing date. If the Easter vacation is limited to Good Friday and Easter Monday, closing date can be advanced from June 14 to June 8.

Since Frederica pupils attend Felton School and use the same buses the survey is being made in conjunction with that school. Parents of Frederica pupils have already voted in favor of the curtailed Spring Vacation.

CONSTRUCTION PROGRESS

The new locker and shower rooms are rapidly nearing completion. It is hoped they will be ready for use tonight when Felton meets Caesar Rodney on the Green Devils court.

The shower rooms have green tiled walls and are equipped with eight showers of the latest model. Each student will have an individual wire basket locker for storage of gym clothing. This type of storage provides maximum ventilation and promotes sanitation on the main building addition. Two of four layers of roofing are in place, interior partitions have been erected, most of the glass block has been installed and some tile has been placed on corridor walls. The new boiler for additional heating capacity has been tied in with the older one and is ready for testing. P.T.A.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION INFORMATION SERVICE

Q—I'm planning to take a correspondence course under the Korean GI Bill. How much will my GI training allowance be?

A—Your training allowance will be computed on the basis of the established charge which the school requires non-veterans to pay for the same course.

Q—As a member of the organized reserves, may I count time spent on training duty—as opposed to regular active duty—in figuring how much entitlement I'll have for Korean GI Bill training?

A—No. Time spent on training duty does not count in determining entitlement under the Korean GI Bill. However, if you were recalled for regular active duty—and not training duty—that time would count.

Q—I understand that if a Korean GI trainee's entitlement runs out past the mid-point of a school term or semester, he'll be allowed to finish that term or semester under the Korean GI Bill. Will entitlement be extended for an on-the-job trainee whose entitlement expires before he finishes his training?

No. Entitlement may not be extended under any circumstances for veterans taking on-the-job or institutional on-farm training under the Korean GI Bill. The law permits such extensions only for veterans in school.

Q—Is it possible for two veterans, who own a farm in partnership to take institutional on-farm training on the same farm? A—Yes, it is possible, provided that conditions are favorable enough to assure the success of both veterans, and provided that both training programs meet all the qualifications of the law.

speech, and it was heard at the banquet, to the delight of the audience, as well as the two principals in the little drama. "Here were two Americans who love their country," said the speaker, "who love their country; who have practically the same objectives, but believe in different approaches to that objective. Where could this banquet scene occur, but in America?"

That was a demonstration of fellowship, the speaker said—one of the ideals of Rotary—but fellowship and idealism were not invented by Rotary. The concepts of Rotary were in existence long before Paul Harris (the founder of Rotary) was born.

We wish for a better Rotary Club, a better country, a better world, and yet a wish accomplishes nothing, the speaker emphasized. He termed a wish as but a picture, a token, an image, a dream. "I wish I could get a deer," wished some of the fellows who never went hunting during the recent season, but they only wished, and mere wishes never materialize. Another fellow said, "I'm going out for the purpose of getting a deer, and if any deer are running, I'm determined to get one. Something like 488 men who didn't stop at wishing had venison on their tables the next few days.

Rev. Wright, an avid student of the classics, embellished his address with poems from Shelley, Henry Van Dyke, and Edwin Markham.

She will have one month to prepare for that event after her selection in Wilmington. Miss Cherry Blossom Princess will be entertained in the nation's capital by the Delaware State Society, and festival authorities are lining up the usual glamorous array of entertainment, according to U. S. Rep. Herbert B. Warburton, who also serves as State Society president in Washington.

During the week of March 30, Delaware's entrant will be a guest at a State Society Dinner and a luncheon will be provided by Delaware's Congressional delegation. She will have a military escort throughout the week—may be chosen Queen of the festival on the spin of a wheel.

The Delaware State Development Department will again sponsor a float in the Washington parade which will most likely be developed around a historical theme. The Princess will also be recipient of many gifts, including wardrobe items.
