Safety News

The Fourth of July, the anniversary of our nation's independence, will be ushered in with a fanfare of parades, fireworks, and many exciting celebrations. It is a happy, festive occasion, and everybody is desirous of displaying their patriotism by enjoying this auspicious holiday.

Many people will be traveling to the seashore - others, taking trips back home to see the folks or just plain drives in the country. All in all, there will be a great exodus by automobile to the highways. This year, Independence Day, affords most everyone a three day holiday - a long weekend of travel and fun. Make the most of it, but please drive and walk carefully.

Despite the heavy toll of death and destruction on our streets and highways due to traffic accidents during the month of June, the state of Maryland, for the first six months of this year (ending today) experienced an 8 per cent reduction in traffic fatalities, as compared to the same period of last year.

Paul E. Burke, executive director of the Maryland traffic safety commission stated, "There were 241 killed this, as compared to the 262 for last year." Mr. Burke again expressed his sincere thanks, and also that of the members of the Maryland traffic safety commission, to tell those who through their diligent help and constant zeal helped make this reduction of traffic fatalities possible. He stated however, tragedies which continue to occur daily on the streets and highways of our state." He issued this warning to all motorists who contemplate traveling over this coming three day Fourth of July holiday weekend - "Slow down and live!"

Last year more than 100,000 pallbearers throughout the nation assisted in the burying of the dead who failed to heed this simple warning to "Slow down and Live", as speed is considered the major cause of traffic deaths.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davis visited Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Davis II and family of Woodcraft last Sunday.

Milford Invites Local Youth For Swim Lessons

Announcement has been made that the swimming and lifesaving courses, to be offered at Memorial Park, on Haven Lake, near Milford, the week of July 5, will be for youngsters from the rural areas, surrounding Milford, and neighboring communities, as well as for the boys and girls from Milford. In making this announcement, David S. Hugg, safety services chairman for Area 6, Delaware Chapter, American Red Cross, pointed out that the A. R. C. conducted courses are for an entire area, and that for all practical purposes, the neighboring communities of Frederica, Harrington, Houston, Lincoln, Ellendale and Slaughter Beach are considered part of the Milford Area.

Mr. Hugg urged civic-minded organizations and individuals in neighboring communities to cooperate in the Area 6 swimming program, and provide transportation from their communities to Memorial Park and return. The beginners swimming course will be through July 9, from 10 to 3 each day.

The swimming and lifesaving courses, to be offered at Memorial Park, supervision of Milton Moyer, an accredited Red Cross instructor, and will be a part of the Delaware Chapter's statewide water safety program. The program is being sponsored by Blue Hen Post No. 6483, V. F. W., and Ladies Auxiliary, who are likewise sponsors of Memorial Park, the recreational area located on the V. F. W. property. Recent water tests, made at Haven Lake by State Board of Health officials, show Haven Lake to be safe for swimming purposes; in fact, the Haven Lake water tests possibly more favorably than any other fresh water pond or lake in the state.

Memorial Park, and its bathing, play and picnic facilities are currently receiving widespread use with large crowds present each clear day. Public use of the park facilities is permitted from 8 to 8 daily.

Delaware Park Meet Ends July 5

Delaware Park's 1954 thoroughbred race meeting winds up this holiday week-end with three of America's outstanding stakes events scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Monday's grand finale. The big climax will come, of course, when Independence Day is celebrated on Monday. That is the afternoon when the world's richest race for fillies and mares—the $100,000 New Castle Handicap at the classic mile and a quarter distance—is slated for its 17th and richest running. It is conservatively estimated that the gross value will exceed $123,000.

The Friday feature is Delaware's longest steeplechase stake the $10,000 added Indian River Handicap at about two and a half miles over the testing stakes course, Saturday brings the $25,000 added, mile and a quarter Sussex Handicap, for which Mrs. J. The Sussex running will be described by Bryan Field, Vice-President and General Manager of Delaware Park, with Bob Kelley supplying the color and Jack Lee handling the winners' circle interviews. Cabbage Brown Named Deputy Attorney-General For Kent County

Atty. Gen. H. Albert Young announced Monday night the appointment of Herman C. Brown of Harrington, a lawyer with offices in Dover, as the deputy attorney general for Kent County.

Former Secretary of State William J. Storey of Dover has been serving an interim appointment as deputy attorney general since Henry J. Ridgely, also of Dover, was relieved of his duties as deputy by Mr. Young last winter. Mr. Young took that action pending the decision of the Censor Committee of the Delaware Supreme Court which investigated allegations of unprofessional conduct against Mr. Ridgely. Earlier this month, Mr. Ridgely resigned as deputy shortly before the Censor Committee's report was made public.

Mr. Brown is a graduate of Harrington High School, the University of North Carolina and the Law School of George Washington University. He studied law also at Dickinson College. The new deputy attorney general is a first lieutenant in the Army Air Force Reserve. During World War II he made 25 combat missions as a B-24 navigator in the Italian action.

Mr. Brown was admitted to practice in Delaware in November, 1950.

Veterans Administration QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q — I'm planning to take farm training under the Korean GI Bill, but I found out I'll have to pay $30 a month tuition. My cousin, a World War II veteran, trained, and the Government paid his tuition. Why the difference?

A — Your cousin trained under the World War II GI Bill; you will be training under the Korean GI Bill. They are separate laws, and each operates differently. Under the Korean GI Bill, you pay all training expenses yourself. But you get a single monthly allowance to help do this. Under the World War II GI Bill, the VA paid a veteran's training costs.

Q — My husband was killed in Korea, and I've been receiving monthly indemnity payments of $92.90. Will those payments stop if I remarry?

A — No. Remarriage will not bar your continued entitlement to the indemnity payments.

Q — I am a Korean veteran and I'm thinking of opening a business. I will have to wait several years in order to accumulate enough cash. When I'm ready, will I be able to get a GI business loan, or is the program due to expire soon?

A — You will have plenty of time to get your GI loan. The Korean GI Bill loan program will not expire until ten years after the end of the present emergency.

Q — I'm planning to take flight training under the Korean GI Bill. Will I be allowed 30 days absences a year, the same as veterans taking trade and vocational courses?

A — No. Under the Korean GI Bill, you will be paid on the basis of flight instruction actually received—and nothing more. You will not be paid for absences.

Storm Puts Out Streetlights

A severe wind and electrical storm Saturday night did considerable damage in lower Delaware. In this vicinity, damage was not great.

However, all street-light bulbs in Harrington, east of the railroad were burned out, causing the Delaware Power and Light Company to work Saturday night, Sunday, and part of Monday putting in new bulbs. The bulbs burned out when the winds whipped the wires, shorting the street arc, Kesler M. Farrow, of the local office, explained.

A twister Saturday did $5000 damage to the J. G. Van Holten and Sons pickle packing plant at Kenton, peeling off a roof and smashing one end of the plant.

A barn owned by W. L. Scott was fired by lightning at Little Creek. A number of sheep in the structure escaped. Volunteers from Little Creek, Leipsic, and Dover were busy for three hours.

The wind toppled a silo and barn on the farm of Alec Barthelme, one mile from Kenton. A large tree sheared in half on the farmer's meat house.

An estimated $1000 damage was caused at the farm home of John Coffman, Milford Neck, when lightning hit the frame roof and attic about 7:30 p. m. Saturday. Milford and Houston firemen answered the alarm. Television aerials were damaged in the Milford area and an overturned big tree blocked the Milford-Rehoboth highway.

Two Jobs at Once

Now they have concocted a plaster wall-finish combination that lets you paint and plaster in one operation. One coat is said to hide small plaster cracks, fine seams, nail holes, uneven surfaces, and other similar defects. Easy to apply with brush or roller, the finish dries hard and may be washed or even scrubbed repeatedly. It comes in a variety of colors and can be textured with a brush, sponge, or paper.

Delaware Roads In Good Shape For Holidays

Delaware highways will be in first class condition for the heavy holiday traffic during the long Fourth of July week-end, according to Walter B. Kendrick, Jr., assistant chief engineer of the State Highway Department.

One important detour will be in operation and construction activities will be in progress along three main arteries, Mr. Kendrick pointed out. None, however, will interfere with the movement of traffic, except that 35-mile speed limits are imposed in the construction zones.

Mr. Kendrick, chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, said the detour is along the Lancaster Pike, Route 41, from a point above Hockessin to beyond the Pennsylvania line. The roads used for this detour are hard surfaced and will permit easy flow of traffic, he said.

Construction operations are in progress along Route 13, between Canterbury and Harrington; along the Concord Pike, north of Deerhurst and from Harbeson to Rehoboth Beach, on States Routes 18 and 14.

Construction along the DuPont Highway between Canterbury and Harrington consists of adding a second traffic lane to form a divided highway. There are no obstructions on the present traffic lane.

Concord Pike Job

The Concord Pike work is on the southbound lane of the proposed dual highway from Deerhurst to a point above Talleyville. There is no obstruction to traffic on the existing highway.

Route 18 from Harbeson to Five Points is being widened and resurfaced but traffic is being maintained. From Five Points to Rehoboth Beach a second lane is being added to make Route 14 a divided highway, but there are no obstructions along the present highway.

There are two detours in New Castle County, neither on main traffic arteries. One is on Harvey Road, where a new bridge is being constructed across the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. The other is at Marshallton, where a detour leads around the Red Clay Bridge.

Construction of a new bridge over White Clay Creek near Newark is causing no interference with traffic along the Capitol Trail.

35-Mile Limit

Mr. Kendrick pointed out that a 35-mile speed limit is posted and is being enforced in the Canterbury-Harrington and the Harbeson to Rehoboth Beach construction areas.

He said maintenance crews of the three county divisions have placed the highways in their areas in proper shape for the holiday traffic.

Everything that can be done has been done to make state highways safe for the holiday travel, Mr. Kendrick said. It now remains for the drivers to use care and caution, to have an enjoyable time during the holiday week-end, he added.

Unemployed Increase

The Delaware Unemployment Compensation Commission paid out nearly $2,000,000 in jobless benefits in the first half of this year, it was reported Wednesday by Albert Stetser, chairman-executive director.

The amount is more than three times the total of $527,662 paid out in the same period last year. In June, the benefit payments added up to $269,947.50. This was the lowest monthly total so far this year.

The highest payments this year came in March, when the agency distributed $434,534.50 to eligible jobless persons. The monthly total has decreased each month since.

Payments each month this year ran ahead of payments for the same month last year. In April and May, this year's figures were about five times the amounts paid last year. Last month's total was about four times the June, 1953, figure.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at Boyer Funeral Home for Betty Marie Trader, 20-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Joseph Trader, of Houston. According to state troopers at Bridgeville, who investigated the accident, Mr. Trader had filled his tractor with gasoline for work in the field and just before starting out of the barnyard looked around to see if any of his children, who had been playing in the yard, were near the tractor. Woodrow Wilson Wilkins of Georgetown Sentenced by Judge Charles L. Terry, Jr. in Superior Court at Georgetown to serve two years each on charges of larceny and forgery, the sentence to run concurrently.

The sentence on Wilkins in Sussex Prison will expire on May 9, 1956.

The $350,000 plant was dedicated during appropriate ceremonies featuring appearances of C. A. Newland, manager of Esso's Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia district; George H. Price, Jr., eastern district manager, and Mayor Rollie W. Hastings, of Salisbury.

The plant is on a 14-acre plot with 300 foot frontage on Glen Road and an area for pipelines 1,800 feet to the company's new dock on the river.

In use now since May 25 when the firm pulled out of its old Commerce Street plant, the new layout provides three times as much storage space and faster facilities for unloading bulk oil products. Esso had been at the Commerce Street plant since May 25, 1893. In those days the few petroleum products available were hauled by a horse-drawn tank car.

A spokesman said the new plant will permit the storing of a 90-day inventory of products. The former plant held only 30 days supply. The bulk plant will serve the mid-eastern Shore and lower Delaware area. Products will be shipped in by barge from Baltimore.

Wool Prices Average 58c per lb.

At The Wool Pool

Delaware wool collected at Harrington recently brought an average of 58c per lb. Sheep raisers who marketed tied wool received a 2c. premium per lb. The predominance of tied wool was partially responsible for the high average price.

James Doak, Jr. Company of Philadelphia was the successful bidder. Checks were mailed to participating sheep owners five days after the wool was collected. Prices paid were: 59.07c. un-fine and half blood grades; untied 57.07c. tied three-eighths and quarter blood grades 58.07c. untied 56.07c.; Rejects (black, gray, seedy, burry, etc.) 48.07c. The cost of operating the pool was 1.6c. per pound and was borne proportionately by the sheep raisers based on the number of pounds each individual offered for sale. Part of the cost was retained as an investment in wool bags for use of pool users next year.

Altogether 3847 pounds of merchantable wool of the various grades was collected. In addition, a market was found for burned wool belonging to one of the members of the Delaware Sheep Breeder's Association that had been stored in a building destroyed by fire shortly before the collection date.

The wool pool is a project of the newly organized Sheep Breeder's Association. The officers of the association regard the results of the first year as a successful beginning toward helping sheep raisers obtain the best available prices for wool. The prices paid demonstrate that marketing wool in volume attracts a higher return than when sold directly from the farm in small quantities of wool graded in advance because they know what use can be made of it and their handling costs are reduced.

The prices paid by the pool ranges from 8-18c. higher than those offered by individual buyers early in the shearing season, and 6-8c. more than the prices paid at auctions for ungraded wool during the past month.

The Delaware Sheep Breeder's Association expects to operate the pool next year.

KENT HOME DOINGS
Pattern Adjustment

The first step in making a good-looking dress is to have a pattern that really fits. "Pattern Adjustment" will be the subject for discussion by many Kent County Home Demonstration Clubs next fall.

Seventeen homemakers met on Thursday, June 24, to discuss the subject. Miss Ruth Pearce, Clothing Specialist, especially pointed out the difference between figure types which affect the size pattern you should buy. She also mentioned the small differences in measurements between patterns of the same size made by different manufacturers.

Those who attended are: Mrs. Catherine Wilson, Chestnut Grove Club; Mrs. Samuel Hockstra, Oak Grove Club; Mrs. William Warren, Oak Grove Club; Mrs. Andrew D. Cole, Smyrna Club; Mrs. Mary Bamberger, Smyrna Club; Mrs. Edith Lacy, Millwood Club; Mrs. Clarence E. Jester, Milford Club; Mrs. Lloyd Laughlin, Cee W. Dee; Mrs. Paul Zartmen, Cee W. Dee; Mrs. Ruth Blechman, Hartly Club; Mrs. Donald L. Kinney, Viola Club; Mrs. Margaret S. Evens, Viola Club; Mrs. William Palmatary, Law's Club; Mrs. Fletcher Price, Harrington Club; Mrs. Arthur Thiel, Harrington Club; Miss Lucy Urban, Frazier's Club and Mrs. Flora Richter, Canterbury Club.

CHICKEN COOKING CONTEST

We can't pass up this chance to congratulate Mrs. Charles French, from the Happy Homemakers Club, for winning Sixth Place in the National Chicken cooking Contest on June 23. We were proud, too, of all the other Kent County Homemakers in the contest—all the chicken looked wonderful!

Felton halted a three-game Harrington winning streak and retained the Mar-Del Baseball league lead Sunday at Felton by edging the visitors, 6-5. Manager

Cliff Chambers went the route for Felton and was effective with men on bases, although he was rapped for a dozen hits. Loser Elton Evers gave up only six hits, but his mates did not have the needed batting punch.

In other games, Frederica invaded Ridgely for a 10-1 victory to hold second place; Wyoming held fourth position by taking a 12-11 slugfest at home over Viola, and Lewes nipped Henderson at home, 6-5 to tie Viola for third place.

Buddy Kimmel hurled the Frederica win, allowing only four hits and aiding his cause with two safeties.

Nolan Cooper tripled home the winning run with two out in the ninth to give Wyoming its triumph, but it was Manager Bill Rash's homer, double and two singles that kept Wyoming within range of victory.

A three-run eighth inning enabled Lewes to tab its win, rewarding Fred Ridgely's effective hurling, which saw him strike out 13, while dishing out seven hits. George Sweeny homered for the winners.

TOWNSEND NINE WINS 5th

Bay League

Milton	3	2	.600

Townsend continued unbeaten in the Bay Baseball League Sunday as it broke a 2-2 deadlock in the ninth to win out over Clayton. 3-2. It was the fifth straight for pacemaking Townsend without a set-back. Wayne Young went the distance for Townsend. Jim Orvis started for Clayton but gave way in the first inning to Paul Loder, who finished.

Greensboro batted four Cheswold hurlers—Sonny Walker, John Pisapia, Calvin Beggs and Nelson Reed—hard to win by 16-4. The victory kept Greensboro close on the heels of Townsend. Cheswold suffered a hard blow when First Baseman Lew Deneu-mouster was injured in a collision with a Greensboro base-runner and was taken to the Kent General Hospital. He is also the league secretary.

Milton took over third place by scoring a 14-7 win over winless Farmington.

Sulky Slants

Wide open battles for supremacy in the nation's free for all trotting and pacing ranks are shaping up in the world of harness racing with no horse yet able to demonstrate complete command in either division.

Among the pacers, Philip Scott, racing in the metropolitan New York area, has won three in a row and appears the best in that region but he has not yet faced the national toughies presently engaged in a series of $10,000 events in Maryland.

On the trotting side, a pair of Long Key mares, Katie Key and Lady Dunn, have won the major share of the early season accolades but other trotters also have won in fast time and have beaten the mares in doing so.

Philip Scott, trained by Frank Safford, is really rolling and has rattled off three in a row at Roosevelt Raceway, the fastest in 2:01 4/5.

Most of the other pacing stars have been at Rosecroft Raceway and Laurel Raceway in Maryland where Thomas B. Scott, Hillsota and Torrid have annexed $10,000 purses, taking turns whipping each other in the process. Thomas B. Scott won in 2:01 1/5 at Rosecroft, a new track record.

Lady Dunn, trained by Ohioan Harry Miller, has won two $10,000 events at Laurel and has beaten Katie Key twice this year. Katie Key has won two of five, one in new track trotting record time (2:03 2/5) at Rosecroft, the other a $15,000 win in 2:03 3/5 at Rosevelt last week.

Anthony Hanover and Jamie also have annexed $10,000 trotting wins while Red Sails and Scotch Spencer have posted rich pacing victories, the latter winner of the $25,400 Roosevelt Special.

When Pronto Don, the leading active money winner, rounds into his peak trotting form and when and if last year's Harness Horse of the Year, Hi-Lo's Forbes, recovers from lameness and returns to the pacing wars a further winner's circle shakup in both divisions could take place.

Life and Limb
Skids and falls are the oldest and most frequent dangers to life and limb, and daily vigilance needs to be kept against them.

REPORT TO THE PARENTS

by Martha M. Elliot, M. D.

Chief, Children's Bureau It is the fourth of July, a day to celebrate the country's birthday.

At one time this was done with fireworks, to the delight of the young, of course, but to their hurt, also. Fireworks have now been outlawed by most States.

Perhaps it is fitting, at this time, to call attention to the fact that still too many accidents are occurring to our very young.

Accidents kill more youngsters, one to 15 years old, than any single disease. A third of these accidents occur in homes.

In New Jersey an unusual attempt is being made to do something about this, through a project sponsored by the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers, the state Health Department, the Medical Society of New Jersey, the New Jersey Chapter of the Academy of Pediatrics and the National Safety Council.

As a first step, a questionnaire, called, "What is Your Answer?" was sent to 30,000 P-T-A members throughout the State.

Questions were asked in a way to make parents think about how best to keep their young ones safe. No one was tipped off as to the right answers. Replies to the questionnaire are being tabulated now by the National Safety Council in Chicago. Results will be reported in the fall.

Meantime, because of the widespread interest in what the best safety measures are, the sponsors are furnishing radio stations with replies that a group of experts have made to the same questions posed to parents. Once a week, now parents can check their judgment against the experts on such questions as these:

On a summer day, when a mother is alone in the house bathing her 7-month-old baby and the door bell rings, should she: (1) Wrap the baby in a blanket and place him on the table next to the bathinette?; (2) Place the baby in a sitting position in the bathinette, go to the door and ask he person to wait?; (3) Quickly dry the baby, wrap him in a blanket, and take him to the door with her? (4) Not answer the doorbell. (The experts recommend the third alternative.)

While cleaning her house, the mother of a 4-year-old finds that the electric cord of a floor lamp in the living room is badly worn at the point where it enters the plug. Should she: (1) Attempt to repair the cord immediately; (2) Be sure not to touch the cord, and call a repair man right away?; (3) Make a note to tell her husband about it?; (4) Pull the plug out of the socket, roll up the cord, and tie it up until it can be repaired?; Chances are, say the experts, No. 4 is the best.

The great value of this ingenious project lies in the fun so many parents have had in thinking, for themselves, about this problem. If this fun becomes infectious we ought to see the number of deaths from accidents in homes go down.

Veterans Administration QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q — I am a Korean veteran with a service-connected disability serious enough to prevent me from getting commercial life insurance. Will my disability also stop me from obtaining GI permanent insurance available to disabled Korean veterans?

A — No. No matter how severe it is, your service-connected disability will not bar you from permanent-plan GI insurance. But you could not get it if you had a non-service disability that would prevent you from meeting the good-health requirements of the GI insurance law.

Q — I understand I can pay off my GI loan in advance, without penalty. Can these advance payments be of any size, or is there some minimum amount below which they can't go?

A — There is a minimum amount. It is the amount of one regular monthly payment or $100, whichever is less.

Q — I am planning to add the total disability income provision to my GI insurance policy. I pay my insurance premiums once a year. Could I pay the extra amount for the disability provision on a monthly basis?

A — No. You must make your disability income payments in the same manner as your regular insurance payments. If you pay your premiums yearly, you must pay the extra amount for disability coverage yearly, also.

Q — I am a Korean veteran, and I got out of service, in July 1952. What is my cut-off date for starting Korean GI Bill Training?

A — You—and all Korean veterans separated before August 20, 1952—must begin training under the Korean GI Bill by August 20, 1954. Veterans separated after August 20, 1952, have two years from separation in which to begin.

REESE THEATRE NOTES

Upon recommendations, after tests, by the Community of Friendly Neighbor committee, the Reese Theatre, located at Harrington, has adopted the Movi-Rama System, as another unit in a vast alteration program.

The Movi-Rama System is a new decorative technique lending itself to greater audience participation. One will have the feeling he or she is a member of the cast. So unusual is the effect, special decorators have been engaged to enhance and change the sight lines, so as to incorporate all of the advantages of the new Magda screen now being especially constructed for this theatre.

Over the GARDEN WALLS
 By Dr. Edgar P. Walls
 Department of Horticulture
 University of Maryland

Plan A Fall Garden
 The successful home gardener knows how to keep every foot of ground busy growing something practically all year round. A small garden properly managed will often produce more vegetables than a big garden which is poorly planned.

Now is the time to get rid of old pea and bean vines, radishes, cabbage stumps and other crop remnants. Compost the old crop residues and let the decay organisms get them in shape for next year.

Now is the time to plan and plant the fall garden. As the old crops come out start new ones. Apply 2 pounds of complete fertilizer (such as 5-10-10) to 100 square feet of garden and work it into the top soil. Add lime at the same rate if you neglected to do it in the spring. Rake the plots in to smooth seed beds and plant the following crops: snap beans, lima beans, broccoli, cabbage lettuce, kale, spinach, turnips.

Don't over look the possibility of late sweet corn and squash.

Home gardeners generally like to experiment—to try new things because it's a part of this profitable hobby. Dr. Albert Piringer, U.S.D. A. scientist at Beltsville, found that Grand Rapids leaf lettuce sets sprout almost one hundred per cent if they are moistened and then exposed to light. Less than a thousandth of a second of light is enough to do the trick when the seeds have soaked up some water. But such a short exposure in the home garden is, of course, not practical. What I suggest you try, if you like to experiment, is to sow some Grand Rapids lettuce seed very evenly in a row divided into three sections. Cover the first section of the row immediately after seeding; sprinkle water on the second section and cover it immediately; sprinkle water on the third section and leave the moistened seed uncovered and exposed to light for one-half hour. You will find the best stand in the last section. Try it and see. But remember the lettuce must be Grand Rapids—an excellent home garden variety—and the seed must be wet.

Next week: Broccoli and Cabbage in the Fall Garden.

Disease Offers New Means Of Controlling Insects

Scientists are developing another weapon, in the form of insect disease, to aid in man's age-old fight against pests. This announcement was made recently as the nation observed 100 years of professional entomology.

Chairman of arrangements for the 100 year observance in Delaware, Dr. Louis A. Stearns, Extension entomologist at the University of Delaware, believes insect diseases may shortly become a powerful supplement to other effective methods of insect control.

Stearns cites the milky spore disease of Japanese beetles, developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, as perhaps the best known disease used so far this way. First used in 1939, the bacteria of this disease have been dusted over millions of acres in the Eastern United States to destroy the root-feeding grubs and halt emergence of adult beetles.

In Delaware, between 1941 and 1943, a state-wide program costing $12,000 was used to establish milky-spore disease among Japanese beetle grubs in each square mile of the state. This project destroyed 39 percent of all grubs found after the experiment. The work greatly reduced the number of Japanese beetles and the damage they do.

Alfalfa caterpillar disease developed by the University of California is reported to have been used successfully by growers to control this alfalfa pest. A virus spray developed in Canada is said to have given excellent results in controlling the European pine sawfly when it was applied experimentally in 1951 on New Jersey and Illinois pines.

In an insect-disease laboratory established less than two years ago at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Beltsville, Md. research center, Stearns says that a number of other promising insect disease organisms have been isolated and identified. These organisms, appear to offer possible methods of control which would get around some problems of harmful toxic residues and growing insect resistance to insecticides now in use. Most insect diseases are harmless to man, animal and plants.

Take advantage of Weather to Renovate Pastures
 Hot, dry weather doesn't do a pasture any good. But a farmer can use this kind of weather to advantage in renovating pastures. Dr. Tom S. Ronningen of the University of Maryland agronomy department explains that "the first step in renovating an old, unproductive pasture is to get rid of the existing vegetation. The best way to do this is to disk the pasture about the first of July.

"Disking breaks up the ground, permitting the hot sun to dry out and kill vegetation."
 Some sod will probably live through the disking and exposure to the sun, so a second disking or tearing up of the sod with a spring tooth harrow or field cultivator about two or three weeks later is recommended. It may even be necessary to go over certain spots a third or fourth time.
 Liming and fertilizing are other important steps in the renovation process and Dr. Ronningen says, "the lime can be applied before the first disking. Subsequent diskings will work it well into the top soil layer."
 "Most farmers apply fertilizer just previous to the last disking or just before seeding."
 When pasture renovation is started in mid-summer, the time, method and rate is of seeding is the same as for pasture established as part of a rotation. That means seedings should be made from August 15 to September 1 or as close to these dates as possible.

Dr. Ronningen points out the main advantages of preparing land by disking: (1) Plowing is usually difficult at this time of year because the ground is dry and hard. (2) Disking mixes the sod with the top layers of soil and gives protection against erosion in case of hard summer rains.

A Shortage of pasture is almost a problem on many Maryland farms, and Dr. Ronningen says one practical approach to this problem is the establishment of "more tall growing semi-permanent pastures such as orchard-grass-Ladino clover or tall fescue-Ladino clover mixtures."

"Many farmers add red clover or alfalfa or both to these mixtures to increase first year production," he adds.

Some farmers aren't as concerned with a long range pasture program as they are with immediate needs. This forage crop specialist says, "it is somewhat late, but sudan grass can be seeded up to July 1, or thereabouts. Sudan planted now can be grazed in the middle or latter part of August."

It is suggested that for more information on pasture renovation farmers ask their county agent for Fact Sheet 72, "Pasture Renovation." This fact sheet can also be obtained by writing to the Bulletin Room, Symons Hall, University of Maryland, College Park, Md.

150 See Results of Weevil Control

Alfalfa weevils have big appetites. This was impressively demonstrated at the University of alfalfa plots of the same size—one had been sprayed for weevil control and the other had not been sprayed.

Both plots were cut June 7, a ton per-acre basis, the comparison yields would be about 2 tons for the sprayed alfalfa and about 1.2 ton for the unsprayed.

Two applications of insecticide were made on the sprayed plot. Heptachlor was applied April 7, and BHC was applied April 27.

It was pointed out by the research workers that control of alfalfa weevils was mainly responsible for the difference in yield, although some of the increased yield was probably due to control of spittlebug and pea aphids.

Field Day visitors could also see that weevil control was benefiting the second growth. Since cutting on June 7 the sprayed area has made four or five times as much growth as the unsprayed area.

Experiments on leathopper control in the summer are being conducted on the same plots. Methoxychlor will be applied for the insect. These experiments are being conducted cooperatively by the departments of agronomy, botany and entomology.

Elections will take place at the membership meeting to be held later this year.

Members of the local advisory board are Hyland Webb, chairman; Van C. Keator, Everett Vanderwende, and Merritt Campbell, all of Harrington; Maurice Wright, Farmington, and Elmer Betts, Felton.

Members of the Farm Home Advisory Committee are Mrs. Francis Winkler, chairman; Mrs. Jesse Draper, Mrs. Edgar Brown, Mrs. Fletcher Price, Mrs. Lawrence Sullivan, and Mrs. Mary Cooper, all of Harrington.

SPRAYS CONTROL RED MITES ON EVERGREENS

In response to reports that red mites are attacking evergreens, County Agent George Vapaa informs that mites often can be checked by syringing the tree from top to bottom with water from a garden hose. This should be done at weekly intervals for best results.

A spray containing 2 pounds of 15 per cent Aramite wettable powder, or 2 pounds of 50 per cent Ovotran wettable powder to 100 gallons of water usually is satisfactory, Mr. Vapaa says, in controlling infestations. The Aramite application should be repeated in 7 to 10 days. For small sprayers, use 2 tablespoons of Aramite or 2 1/2 tablespoons of Ovotran to one gallon of water.

The first evidence of red mites on evergreens is small gray or yellowish spots on the foliage. Later the foliage becomes bronzed in color. Heavily infested needles may drop from the tree. The entire tree will lose its vigor and have an unhealthy appearance.

Mites are extremely small and hard to detect with the naked eye. They vary in color from reddish-brown to pale green. These mites spin fine, silken threads over the needles. All stages of this pest can be found on the foliage during the summer.

MARKETING CARDS NEEDED TO SELL WHEAT

John Leon Tarburton, ASC Committee Chairman reminds Kent county farmers that before selling any wheat they will need a marketing card to identify the wheat as penalty free wheat. If the wheat producer does not present the marketing card to the buyer at the time of the sale, the buyer is instructed to collect 1.12 per bushel penalty.

Kent county wheat farmers who wish to sell wheat can come by their ASC office and pick up a wheat marketing card or a wheat marketing certificate. A receipt must be signed when the card is issued; therefore, it is desirable to visit the ASC Office in person. If the operator is unable to visit the County Office he may request in writing that his card be mailed to him. If no wheat is to be sold, exchanged, or paid as toll, no card need be obtained.

300 Acres of Timber Leveled By Fire on Shore, Home is Hit

Five fire companies besides Federalsburg fought a woods fire, only several miles from the heart of town, for several hours Monday night before it was brought under control.

Between 300 and 350 acres of timber were destroyed in the section between the Nichols Road and the Denton Road, Thomas Mc Crea, Federalsburg fire chief, announced.

The blaze was discovered near the Nichols Road about 4:45 p.m. and the siren in Federalsburg brought all available equipment. At 6 o'clock the companies in Hurlock, Preston, Bridgeville, Denton and Queen Anne-Hillsboro began to arrive.

A strong wind estimated by some to be around 30 miles per hour, from the northwest hampered operations. Dense undergrowth and great amounts of smoke added to the fire-fighting difficulties.

Water was pumped into trucks at Faulkner's Branch with a portable pump, and then taken to the various scenes of the fighting operations as needed. In addition equipment including a bulldozer and plow, brought the state forest rangers, was placed into use. Backfires were started where necessary to check the blaze aided by extremely dry timber.

One Building Lost
Only one building was destroyed during the fire, although scores of them were endangered throughout the night. The building destroyed was owned by Harvey Coughenour. An undetermined amount of hay in it was burned.

Hubbard Likes Mixed Pasture

Located two miles west of Whiteleysburg, Md. on the Felton-Whiteleysburg road, is a well-managed homestead operated by William Hubbard.

This 200-acre farm has 146 tillable acres. Thirty-five acres are used for permanent pasture, which consists of a mixture of Ladino clover and orchard grass. Any surplus of pasture is used for silage. In discussing his farming operations, Mr. Hubbard said: "Our main crops are milk, small grains and corn; however, our main source of income is milk."

Mr. Hubbard's herd consists of a Holstein bull, which was purchased from the Pet Milk Company through the production-bred bull program. "I have been using purebred bulls from the Pet Milk Company for many years," remarked Mr. Hubbard, "and I'm convinced that using a good bull pays big dividends."

"I have been very fortunate in having a dependable reliable helper, Earl Knox, whom I have employed for the past 15 years, and much credit is due him for the success of our operation. We also do some custom work in the fall, such as combining grain, picking corn and filling silos; in fact, we filled 17 silos last fall."

The Hubbards have been shipping milk to the Greensboro plant for the last 30 years. During a recent conversation, Mr. Hubbard stated, "My brother, Ralph, ships to Pet on the 600-Route, and my other brother, Maynard, better known as Bob, is receiving room foreman at the Greensboro plant where he has been employed for the last 15 years."

Lucas Cow Has Twin Calves

Excitement was great on the farm of Henry Lucas in Greensboro one day last April when it was announced that a three-year-old Holstein cow had given birth to a set of twin calves.

Twins are not uncommon in dairy cattle breeding, but the interest in this cow was high because these newborn calves were the second consecutive set of twins that she had delivered.

Both sets of twins were the result of artificial breeding which is practiced exclusively in the Lucas herd. These calves, as were the first twins, are bulls, so they won't be raised.

Mr. Lucas' dairy herd consists of 11 head of Holsteins, which were all raised on the farm.

In addition to tilling the 68-acre home farm, Mr. Lucas tills land on two nearby farms. He also has a seed business which receives a lot of his attention during the tomato and pumpkin canning season.

Mr. Lucas is an interested partner in all the farming and business ventures. Their two daughters, Linda Lee and Rita Ann, help out with the chores on the farm, which is located one-half mile from Greensboro on the Greensboro-Whiteleysburg road.

Voting Machines Not to Be Used In Primary

The attorney general's office has ruled that the Department of Elections is not required to furnish voting machines for this year's primary elections, it was disclosed Wednesday.

An opinion had been requested because there was some doubt in the minds of the members of the Department, headed by Wayne C. Brewer, about the use of the machines, authorized by the 1953 General Assembly for the first time.

The opinion was written by Deputy Atty. Gen. Emund N. Carpenter after Atty. Gen. H. Albert Young disqualified himself. Mr. Young had represented the Shoup Voting Machine Corporation during the period when bids were studied for the purchase of the equipment.

Mr. Carpenter said: "Your letter of June 17, to Mr. Young has referred to me for reply, in view of the fact that Mr. Young feels he should disqualify himself owing to a possible conflict of interest.

Opinion Requested

"In your letter you asked the opinion of this office as to whether or not the Department of Elections this year to nominate candidates to be voted for at the general election to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 2, 1954.

"It is clear that voting machines are to be used eventually in primary election, 15 Del. C. Sec. 5004, as amended, provides in part: Voting machines shall be used throughout the state in all general and special elections in municipal elections in the City of Wilmington, and in primary elections held under the provisions of Chapter 31 of this title in the districts where a contest exists... The question which you have presented, however, is the problem which arises from 15 Del. C., Sec. 5005(b) relating to the time when voting machines must be first used. This section provides in part as follows: 'Thereafter not later than Sept. 1, 1953, the Department of Elections shall certify to the Levy Court the bid to be accepted and the Levy Court shall award the rental or purchase contract. Such machines shall be delivered in such time that they will be available at least one month prior to the next election.'

"The difficulty arises because it is not clear from the underlined words in the statute above whether or not the election referred to is the next general election or the next primary election. As I understand it the Department of Elections had originally felt that the phrase referred to the next general election. As a result of this date only 55 voting machines have been delivered and the Shoup Voting Machine Corporation does not plan to complete delivery of the remaining 260 machines until July 30, 1954. In view of the fact that the primary elections may be fixed as early as July 17, 1954, it would be difficult if not impossible to comply with this statute if the voting machines must be available one month before the next primary election.

Definition of Next Election
"In my opinion the words, 'next election,' in 15 Del. C. Sec. 5005(b) refer to the next general election. While a cursory reading of this statute particularly in connection with 15 Del. C. Sec. 5004, quoted above, might lead to a contrary conclusion, further study of the statute as a whole confirms this opinion that only the general election could have been intended.

"Voting machines eventually will be used not only at general but also special and primary elections. Of these three types of elections, all three of which could take place in 1954, the first year when voting machines will be in use, only the general elections have a fixed and determinable date. Special elections may be called by the Governor at any time. Surely, the Department of Election could not be held responsible for predicting when such an election would be called so as to make available the voting machines one month prior to such date. Certainly, the legislature must have contemplated a fixed date by enacting 15 Del. C. Sec. 5005 (b)."

Democrats Meet In Dover

Members of the Democratic State Committee, meeting in the Kent county court house Tuesday evening listened to some eloquent pleas for the party to remain united regardless of any contests for nominations at the State convention.

They fixed Tuesday, August 10th as the date for the State convention with a time and place to be selected later but it is generally anticipated that it will be held in the Dover high school field house with afternoon and evening sessions.

They heard United States Senator J. Allen Frear state that although he is a candidate he would wholeheartedly support the candidates nominated at the State Convention and informed the thronged courtroom that these candidates will be worthy of "your support and by voting for them you will keep Delaware in the Democratic column."

They heard former Governor Elbert N. Carvel review the situation confronting the Democratic party in Maryland as a result of internal party strife caused primarily by name calling in primary contests after which he urged, "that we do everything within our power to keep this pre-convention campaign on a high level."

They heard former United States Senator James M. Tunnell, Sr., of Georgetown, father of Justice James M. Tunnell, Jr., who is frequently mentioned as a possible candidate for the Democratic nomination for Senator in opposition to Senator Frear, deliver a rousing denunciation of the Republican party in Washington for what he described as walking away from the best interests of the people as a whole for selfish interests of a few business groups. He cited that because a man belongs to a labor union he should not be classed as a labor racketeer, a remark some of those present took as significant since it was through labor leaders in Wilmington that the opposition to Senator Frear was started.

Others who spoke were former Lieutenant-Governor Alexis I. du Pont Bayard, Mrs. James A. Hughes Sr., National Committeewoman, Mrs. Bertha Everett, president of the Kent County Democratic Women's Club, Adjutant General Joseph Scannell, Wilmington city chairman and Vernon Derricksen, Kent county chairman.

John C. Hazzard, Chairman of the State Public Service Commission, was elected Democratic National Committeeman to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late E. Ennals Berl. In his speech of acceptance Mr. Hazzard paid high tribute to the service of Mr. Berl and when he completed his address the Committee adopted a resolution of tribute to be service given by Mr. Berl to the Democratic party.

The Committee adopted the call of the State Convention after which Max Terry presented a plan for having the Convention early in August so that the candidates would have more time to campaign and would gain at least ten days on their Republican opponents in this matter.

Howard E. Lynch, Jr., presented the motion fixing the Convention date which included a provision that the time and place should be selected by a committee appointed by State Chairman Harris S. McDowell, who presided during the sessions.

Rock Dust Treatment
A safety procedure regularly followed in U.S. mines is the application of rock dust on sides and roofs of entries to prevent explosions. The rock dust, which is powdered limestone, keeps coal dust from becoming combustible.
