Benjamin Knox Dies at 87

Benjamin Knox, 87 of Harrington died at the home of his daughter Mrs. Martha Sneath, Harrington, after suffering a stroke Monday.

Mr. Knox was a barber for 66 years in Harrington. He was the oldest member of Trinity Methodist Church and active in its Fellowship Bible Class.

In addition to his daughter, he is survived by two sons, Randall Knox, Sr., Harrington and Charles B. Knox, Georgetown; a sister, Mrs. Georgie Tatman, Wichita, Kan.; 17 grandchildren, and 27 great-grandchildren.

Services were held Monday afternoon from the J. Millard Cooper Funeral Home, with interment at Hollywood Cemetery. The Rev. Milton Elliott, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, officiated.

Mr. Knox was considered the community's unofficial historian. He was consulted frequently by The Harrington Journal when it published a series of historical articles on the area some time ago.

He was born near town and came to town in the eighties. He once identified almost every person in a picture of the Delaware House, which stood on the present site of Reese Theatre. He estimated the picture, now owned by Stone's Hotel, was taken in the late eighties or early nineties.

Best route to reach the Indian River site of the regatta is to take Route 113 to Millsboro, Del., turning east through town and over the mill dam. The motorists may travel over route 24 for approximately four miles, then turn right on the blacktop road to Oak Orchard. The best of three routes is marked "Rosedale Beach."

LOCAL YOUTH GETS 2 YEARS

Several criminal cases were disposed of in the Superior Court at Dover Tuesday with Judge Charles L. Terry Jr., on the bench.

A Harrington youth, not quite 18 years of age, whose cases were certified to the grand jury by the Juvenile Court of Kent and Sussex Counties, because of the lengthy record against the young man, was sent to the New Castle Workhouse for two years.

The youth was charged with violations of the motor vehicle laws and the liquor laws, as well as breaking and entering into a service station at Harrington. The court specified that he was to be incarcerated in the first offenders building at the Workhouse.

Miss Sandy Davis, of Wilmington, spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mann.

Registration of Local Voters Reaches Record

Registration in the Ninth Representative District yesterday was the largest in history under a new law which required registering every four years.

There were 665 persons registered at the Firehouse in the upper part of the Ninth, with 65 persons having registered from this section in the Department of Elections office previously in Dover.

In the lower part of the Ninth, 413 persons registered, with 18 having previously registered in Dover.

In the second of the sixth, with registering place at Harrington Public School, 346 registered, with 11 registered previously in Dover.

The next registration days will be at the Department of Elections office in Dover in September, with registration days in October at places in the districts.

Baseball Star

Harrington has a potential big diamond star in Raymond Dennis, due home this week on ten days leave from navy service. He is starting on a navy ball team. See other story on Classified page.

Council to Ask for Prices On Water Tower After Visit by Businessmen

Museum to Have Special Exhibits Of Heirlooms

Two special summer exhibits most of them rare family heirlooms lent by Delaware families, have been placed on view in the museum of the Zwaanendael House at Lewes. One is of paperweights of ornate designs used around the middle of the nineteenth century, and the other includes rare pieces of copper, gold-toned, and silver luster china.

They will remain on exhibit throughout the resort season.

Visitors will be welcomed daily from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and on Sundays from 12:30 to 5:30 p. m. The museum is closed Mondays.

Mrs. Leland S. Burton, of Lewes, has on display the paperweights and an outstanding collection of 19 pieces of luster. Among these are a very large copper luster jug of the kind popularly used in taverns of a bygone day.

Famous Mixtures
 It is said that besides the transient guests, the single men of the town took their meals at the taverns, and certain localities were famous for different mixtures which were generally compounded in these great jugs. At the taverns where the stage coaches stopped there would be dozens of these pitchers in use, and such popular drinks as "calibogus," "mimbo," "spiced ale," and "flip" were some of the savory condiments served in them. Other fine luster pieces lent by Mrs. Burton include a Sunderland cup and saucer, a jug, and bowl; two pairs of master salts and two goblets, an unusual Chinese design pitcher decorated in copper luster.

Another large contributor is Mrs. Louise Farrow, of Milford, with nine pieces. Among these are a silver resist decorated cup and saucer; Sunderland plaque with a transfer-printed sailing vessel with verse beneath reading "May Peace and Plenty on our Nation Smile and Trade and Commerce Bless the British Isle," and a rare baptismal bowl in all-silver luster.

Sunderland Pitcher
 Hoey Farrow has lent a Sunderland pitcher decorated with Masonic devices and a verse. Other outstanding pieces loaned by out-of-town exhibitors include a silver luster tea service of Queen Anne pattern from Miss Elizabeth Gucker of Georgetown, that belonged to her great grandmother. Mrs. Remsen C. Barnard of Rehoboth is showing two large silver luster coffeepots and a small tea service.

Among the Lewes exhibitors are Mrs. Harry M. Maul, a copper luster tea service that was once owned by the late Harry M. Maul's great-great-grandmother. Mrs. W. Verden Burton is lending a gold-toned luster teapot and Mrs. A. J. Lyons Richardson has lent several luster-trimmed saucers.

Other Lewes people showing relics are Mrs. Frank S. Carter, a gold-toned pitcher with vase-line-color band; Mrs. George C. Chambers, Sr., a collection of mugs and a silver luster-trimmed soap dish from a child's toilet set. An unusual decorated fruit bowl with Chinese design belongs to Miss Ella B. Twilley of Lewes. Mrs. D. Anthony Potter has lent a rare luster-decorated mustard pot.

Mrs. VanCleaf Accompanies Mrs. Willis in Recital
 On Monday evening at the W. S. C. S. School of Missions at Wesley Junior College, Dover, Mrs. R. E. VanCleaf accompanied Mrs. Mason Willis, contralto, of Wye Mills, Md. in a recital. The musical selections were very well received and preceded the reception for members of the faculty and guests.

MRS. GENEVA SHARP WEDS GREENSBORO MAN

Mrs. Geneva Sharp, of Harrington, and Mr. Reynolds Brittingham, of Greensboro, were united in marriage by the Rev. Thomas Turkington, of Denton, it was revealed to The Journal Wednesday, on June 26. Mr. and Mrs. George Sharp were their attendants.

A reception was held at the Wonder R for the newly weds. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. George Sharpe, of Lewes; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Detwiler, of Lansdowne, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cohee, and Mrs. Ann Sharp, of Felton; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Parker, of Harrington.

After the reception the bride and bridegroom motored to Rehoboth to spend three weeks. They will make their home in Harrington.

Rotarians Hear About Bolivia From Minister

On Tuesday evening the members of the Rotary Club of Harrington gave their enthusiastic attention as the Rev. Reginald Wheatley, pastor of Burrsville Methodist Church, presented a picture of modern Bolivia. Using a selected group of color slides Mr. Wheatley presented the life of the people among whom he had lived for three years.

"Bolivia is a land of great contrasts," said Mr. Wheatley. "In many places the airplane is met by ox carts. In spite of rich mineral deposits in the mountainous regions and the fertile soil in many areas, the people live in poverty because they are illiterate and follow ancient Inca methods of farming."

"The unstable economy of the country is reflected in the government. During my stay of three years the country had five presidents. The country has averaged better than one revolution per year since Simon Bolivar led the people to independence from Spain."

Mr. Wheatley praised the Point Four program through which the United States government is helping to develop backward areas in the world. He pointed out, however, that it is very hard for people to change from methods which they have been using for thousands of years.

"As one observes this beautiful country of Bolivia," concluded Mr. Wheatley, "one has the feeling that all is not right. The people deserve a better life and we can do much to help them."

Anstine Stafford introduced the speaker of the evening and George Vapaa assisted by operating the slide projector.

This was the first meeting of the Rotary Club presided over by the new president, Rev. Robert E. VanCleaf, who was installed last week by past president Robert H. Smith.

Officer's Club Meets with Mrs. Hopkins

WBA Officer's Club was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Lelia Hopkins with Mrs. Orie Hobbs as co-hostess. It was decided that the club order 50 boxes of Christmas cards.

The pig sale was won by Mrs. Edith Shockley. The Officer's Club is having its picnic at Big Stone Beach August 25. The Atlantic City trip is August 14, and anyone wishing to go, contact Mrs. Norman Oliver before the first of August.

Mrs. Ella Passmore won the door prize.

Mrs. Parris Brennan, of New York City, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. Millard Cooper two days this past week.

The City Council, at its July meeting Monday evening, voted unanimously to accept a recommendation of the Harrington Better Business Association to give special attention to a suggestion to erect a water tower.

The suggestion also encompassed ascertaining the cost of a tower and its location.

Fulton J. Downing, president of the businessmen's group, prepared and presented its argument also backed by the Business and before the Council. At the outset, he said his group, which was Professional Women's Club, didn't aim to dictate to the Council and tell it what to do, but that it thought, as a business association it should offer to help the Council.

"The Better Business Association," he continued, "would be glad to appoint a committee to work with the Council. The water system needed improvements to bring it up to the present time and to prepare for future needs."

Mr. Downing estimated the required water tower would be 130 feet high and 100 feet from the bottom of the tank to the ground.

Advantages

Enumerating advantages of a tower, he said it would provide greater pressure and provide for future expansion, especially toward the eastern part of the town. Another advantage, Mr. Downing pointed out, would be a savings in fire insurance. A water tower would also have publicity advantages in that persons driving along the highway would see it and note that the community had an adequate water system, he said. This would be especially beneficial where persons were seeking factory sites, he explained.

After the Council had approved Mr. Downing's suggestion, Mayor Ernest Killen asked the entire Council to act as a committee to study the proposal. He also asked City Clerk Grace Wanda Quillen to write to companies manufacturing water towers for prices. It was also suggested at the meeting that other communities he visited where water towers were in existence, such as Denton, Rehoboth and Milford.

Referendum

The erection of a tower would entail a referendum and a bond issue.

A water tower would not mean the end of the standpipe and of additional water, has been responsible for the plea for a supplementary source of water. The Council had an unusually busy session, not adjourning until after 10 p. m.

Samuel A. Short, Jr., Ground Observer Corps supervisor, said some of his observers were complaining about going out to the spotting station at the fairgrounds. Consequently, he asked the City to lend his organization a site by the pumping station at Dixon Street. He said Senator Jehu Camper would lend the observers a building the Lions had formerly used at its defunct gun club grounds east of town, and that the Air Corps would move it to the chosen location. The Council agreed to the wish. The new location is the same as that occupied in World War II.

Wants Water

Harold McDonald asked the Council for water and sewer for a proposed building site at 322 Dorman St. The Council agreed to furnish the material and McDonald agreed to furnish the labor after it had been explained this procedure had been followed by his neighbors.

It was decided to ask the Howard Lynch Jr., the city's attorney, to write Supt. Lingentfer, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, about the blocking of railroad crossings by trains. Councilman George Graham pointed to two recent times when he said the crossings had been blocked 30 to 35 minutes.

In the busy session, City Manager Norris C. Adams was sworn in as assistant alderman. He received his appointment last month. Mr. Adams, also a member of the Police Commission, was given authority to appoint two extra policemen to serve during the Fair Week.

Greenwood

News from Greenwood Methodist: There will be a brief meeting of the Commission on Membership and Evangelism after the morning service in the Greenwood Church.

On Friday evening, the W.S.C.S. of Chaplain's Chapel will sponsor an ice cream and cake festival on the lawn of the church, beginning at 7:00 p. m. The public is invited.

The attendance contest out at Trinity is still going on between the Red and the Blue Teams. The captains are Everett Warrington and George Slacum.

We have this word from the Rev. George H. Moore, Pastor of Grace Church. "This is a season of the year when more company comes on the weekends than in the cooler months. May we urge you to visit the church bringing your friends with you. The Church offers a friendly welcome to you all. This is the time for vacationing but not for forgetting the great imperative of strengthening our spiritual foundations. At the several churches of the Greenwood-Grace Methodist Charge the Gospel is preached in the summer too.

On this Charge we are entered in a study of the values and composition of true meekness. The Terrible Meek. There are three sub-titles or topics: Last Sunday—Learning of Meekness. This Sunday—Loving, the Driving Force of the Meek. All of these are based upon the teachings of Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount."

Mrs. Mattie Wharton enjoyed visiting with Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Hollis of Seaford when they called at her home this week.

Miss Fay Meredith and Donald Rittenhouse were recent guests of Fay's grandmother, Mrs. H. E. Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Brasure, Jr. motored to Girdletree, Md. recently to visit Mr. Brasure's sister who is very ill.

Miss Myrtle Peterman returned home on Monday from a lovely vacation trip and very kindly called to tell us about it. She was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herman White and their son, Clarence of Delmar. They left here on Friday at 1:30 and did some sightseeing in Philadelphia and motored over a lot of the Pennsylvania hills. They visited Gettysburg and made the tour of the famous battlefields. They also visited Hershey, Pa., the "chocolate town" and enjoyed milkshakes and candy bars, and went shopping in Harrisburg, Pa. After more motoring through wonderful scenery, they arrived back in Delaware about five o'clock on Monday.

We do love to hear about all these vacations, good people. No trip is too big or too little too tell your reporter. Those of us who are not so fortunate and must stay at home, especially enjoy hearing about them.

Mrs. Noah Cain and children and Mrs. Leroy Baker and children motored to Ocean City, Md. for a day at the seashore last Tuesday. I'm sure the Bakers, at least, needed this relaxing day after going through the excitement of having half their barn blown away during the recent storm.

And speaking of excitement, do ask Dick and Peggy Connell to tell you about their trip to Vermont over the weekend of the Fourth. We understand that all went well EXCEPT a flat tire on a toll bridge in eight lanes of traffic AND the brakes going bad on a mountain road. No wonder all they did in Vermont was rest! We are glad to report that they are safely home with us again and none the worse for wear.

Ruth Ann Isaacs, Eileen Mills.

Doris Mills and Helen Reynolds had a fine day shopping in Wilmington on Thursday.

The Home Demonstration Club had a picnic on Tuesday at Rehoboth Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zott and Mrs. Robert McDowell and daughter were callers on Sunday of Mrs. Byron Willey and family. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Collett of Milford and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Daisey of Stockley, Del., spent Sunday evening with the Willeys. Alvin Willey was also home with his family for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Porter of Alexandria, Va., and Mrs. Earl Suitor of Washington, D. C. were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Rust.

The J. Burton Carters were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Massey of Harrington on Tuesday evening for a "fish fry". On Friday evening, Mrs. Carter was a guest of Mrs. Massey at a covered dish supper at Wheeler Park sponsored by the W.B.A. lodge. Mr. Walter Haberstick of Wilmington was a Sunday morning caller at the Carters. In the afternoon the Carters and their next-door neighbors, the R. Lee Coulter's motored to Riverdale, Lewis and Rehoboth.

The Jacob Hatfields with Mrs. Annie Hatfield packed their lunch after church and made a motor tour of the Pony Farms over in Maryland. This was a special treat for small Ellen.

On Saturday evening, a member of Mrs. Arthur Laughery's relatives gave her a birthday surprise party. They managed to keep her in the yard while the table was being decorated and believe me she was really surprised. Plenty of ice cream and a huge birthday cake, beautifully decorated, along with lots of lovely gifts, made the occasion one to remember. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spear and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sammons of Chester, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vincent of Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Downes, Mrs. Ronald Case, and of course, Mrs. Laughery's immediate family, her husband, Peggy and Harold, and also her house guest, Mrs. Burton Wiley of Darby, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael E. Mickson and her son of Newburgh, New York are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. T. Simpson of near town. The Simpsons house guests last week were, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Simpson and children of Greensboro, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pearson were recent guests of the Rotary Club at Berlin, Md., where Mr. Pearson had been invited to show his large collection of motion picture film.

Guests of the Pearsons on their boat the "Holiday" on Saturday were "Jerry's" cousins, Gene and Morley Pearson of Rochester and his father, Harry Pearson. The day was spent in clamming and crabbing. The Pearson's guests last weekend were the Donald Browns from Birmingham, Ala. The Browns are living temporarily in Wilmington where Mr. Brown is doing special work for the Dupont Company. On Wednesday of this week the Pearsons are expecting Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McCrary of Charleston, West Virginia who will remain as their house guests for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Pearson became acquainted with the Browns and the McCrary's while they were all stationed at Pensacola, Fla., last winter with the DuPont Co.

Two Jobs at Once
Now they have concocted a paint-plaster wall-finish combination that lets you paint and plaster in one operation. One coat is said to hide nail holes, uneven surfaces, and other similar defects. Easy to apply with brush or roller, the finish dries hard and may be washed or even scrubbed repeatedly. It comes in a variety of colors and can be textured with a brush, sponge, or paper.

"SLOW DOWN AND LIVE" CAMPAIGN

This campaign, conducted in 24 states from Maine to Texas, runs from Memorial Day to Labor Day. J. James Ashton, State Coordinator for Delaware for this campaign and Manager of the Delaware Safety Council, asks the following questions and at the same time answers them.

WHY THIS CAMPAIGN? Statistics show us that 9 out of 10 accidents result from the action of drivers afflicted with the "in a hurry" complex—the "me first" attitude. In 1953, 11 Northeastern states joined together under the peak period of summer travel. If there was ever any doubt, they established the direct relationship between convictions for speeding and traffic casualties. Those states which dealt most severely with the "in a hurry" drivers reduced traffic deaths, or traffic injuries, or both!

WHO IS SPONSORING THE PROGRAM? The program is sponsored by the 11 Northeastern States that joined together in 1953 and 13 Southern states that joined the Northeastern group in 1954. The agreement of the 24 states to conduct the programs has been announced by a Joint Declaration of the 24 Governors.

WHAT IS PROVIDED IN ALL STATES TO HELP? Bumper strips are available for commercial or private vehicles. They are produced in strong colors and readable lettering on enameled clear-stick paper. This constantly gives the "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE" message to motorists while they are a part of the traffic flow.

Also on the same line are stickers to be placed on the dashboard or to be placed near the speedometer. This provides a constant warning to the driver to watch his speed. For motels, hotels, and restaurants a good will message to people on their vacation trips is a means of friendliness: "It was nice to have had you with us—come back again", along with the safety slogan.

A number of other programs are now in action through the Delaware Safety Council's offices. Radio and Television "spot" announcements are provided especially for this campaign; leaflets titled: "7954 Watchwords of the Highway—SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!" are being distributed to many organizations and outdoor advertising posters can be seen throughout the 24 states during this summer campaign.

HOW YOU CAN HELP! Everyone is interested in their own life and safety. But too often innocent people are injured or killed by the thoughtless acts of a driver intent on getting to his destination.

The driver who does not want to become involved in an accident, takes care to avoid all accidents—even if they are not his fault. He drives safely "FOR EVERYBODY'S SAKE!" Speed is one of the important factors in causing accidents. Naturally, with good road conditions and good weather, there is a tendency on the part of almost everyone to drive faster than is safe. This tendency is a major factor in 34 per cent of the fatal accidents.

Mr. Ashton urges—if you are a private citizen and can influence the safety program of your club and organizations, suggest action NOW in support of "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!"

REPORT TO PARENTS

by Dr. Martha M. Eliot, Chief, Children's Bureau

"I think something ought to be done to make it safe for our children to go to school!"

This was an angry declaration of a mother at a Parent-Teacher meeting in a small New England community. The subject was "not on the agenda." She was "out of order." But she got a reply:

"Why don't you mothers do something about it yourselves?" This answer came from a town official. "We don't have enough police to do a traffic job at the school crossings, nor money to hire more."

The mothers in that town took him up. In turn, as volunteers they took over the school intersections at the critical times of day.

Something like this has been happening in other towns across the country. More and more, this school patrol is becoming official.

Not very long ago a friend told me how pleasantly surprised she had been when driving through Norwalk, Connecticut, to see "lady cops," trimly attired in a distaff version of a very official uniform, directing traffic.

When she investigated, she found that housewives were being employed, part-time, for traffic duty only, to help out over-burdened police staffs, particularly at school hours. During the past spring as I have driven to work here in Washington over a main thoroughfare where two such women police officers are guarding the children at crossing close to schools, I have been impressed with their effective way of handling both children and traffic.

To undertake this work like a good opportunity for the housewife who needs a little extra money, who wants to be sure children reach school safely, but who wants to spend most of her time at home.

It would also seem to be an expedient device for police departments.

Los Angeles is one city that has recently inaugurated a similar arrangement.

And just within the last few weeks, New York City passed a bill to start "a pilot project" using 100 women "civilians" as school crossing guards, in one section of the city next fall.

According to reported plans of the New York Police Department, "civilians" may eventually be used on a large proportion of the city's 2304 school crossings. And most of the "civilians" are expected to be housewives available for duty near their homes.

Under the New York City plan the women will receive $5 a day, 5 days a week, for approximately 3 1/2 hours work per day (broken up into the hours when the children go to, and leave, school).

This use of housewives for such duty, it is estimated by New York's Police Commissioner, will release between 1000 to 1500 policemen for other duty (and save the city $2,500,000 a year).

I like to think of the darting, hurrying, impatient children that are now arriving at school each day, safe and sound, thanks to the ingenuity and responsibility of busy mothers who can crowd one more job into their busy days.

J. Elmer Haddaway was installed as president of the Camden-Wyoming Rotary Club on Wednesday evening July 7, during a regular meeting of the club in the Caesar Rodney Cafeteria. Kent Sussex Junior League Harrington maintained its hot pace in the league by winning their fifth straight Wednesday evening, defeating Frederica by a score of 8-1. AVOID BLACKHEAD IN POULTRY

Take a few simple steps in raising your poultry flocks this summer, and you will cut down the chances of picking up blackhead, says county agent George Vapaa.

Buy disease-free incubator-hatched birds, and put them in a clean, disinfected brooder house for the first six to ten weeks. Use a range that poultry have not been on for a year or more. Separate your chickens and turkeys at all times. The parasite that causes blackhead is passed in the droppings, so don't use them as manure on poultry ranges. Try to keep droppings out of feed and water.

Blackhead usually causes heavier losses in young turkeys than in chickens.

Civil Defense Forum to Hear Gen. Bergquist

Brigadier General Kenneth P. Bergquist, deputy for operations of the U. S. Air Defense Command will be among the speakers at the state-wide Civil Defense forum on July 20 at the Governor Bacon Health Center, it was announced today by D. Preston Lee, state CD director.

General Bergquist, who will come here from the Air Defense Command headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., will give visitors to the afternoon forum an up-to-the-minute briefing on this country's preparations against an air attack.

He will outline the plan for defending the continental U. S., including the 24-hour radar watch, and will tell why it is impossible for the Air Force to make a one hundred per cent "kill" of attacking planes.

The highlight of the CD forum will be a talk by Val Peterson, Federal Civil Defense Administrator and former governor of Nebraska.

The forum, open free to the public, will start at 12:30 p. m. with colorful displays and demonstrations covering every phase of Delaware's Civil Defense preparations. Governor J. Caleb Boggs will greet the guests at 2 p. m. and introduce the speakers.

General Bergquist, a West Point graduate and later trained as a pilot, held down several top Air Force administrative and executive posts during World War II in this country and abroad.

At New Caledonia in 1942, his mission was to establish an air defense and fighter control system similar to that he previously had helped to establish in Hawaii.

After tours of duty in Washington, North Africa and England, he was assigned to Saipan and in 1945 to Iwo Jima where he was operations officer for the 7th Fighter Command until returning to the U. S. in October, 1945.

In 1947, he was appointed military attache to the Greek government and in 1948 was awarded the Order of Phoenix, Degree of Knight Commander, by the King of Greece. He also holds the Legion of Merit with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Bronze Star Medal and the Air Medal.

In 1951, he became deputy for operations of the Air Defense Command. In that post, he has first-hand knowledge of the inner-workings of the United States air defense plan.

Always welcome on a hot day is a tall, cool drink. With a little planning and imagination, you can have nourishing and flavorful drinks often.

Let your refrigerator be your home soda fountain and your family will be happy. Keep milk, ice cream sherbet, fruit juices, fruits, and a few carbonated beverages ready to mix.

For nourishing drinks use milk as a base, add ice cream, eggs or even both. If your youngsters won't eat right because it's just too hot, they can still be well fed if they get plenty of these drinks. Add variety in flavor and color to these beverages by using different fruits, fruit juices or other flavors, such as chocolate, vanilla or mint.

You'll need to use only a small amount of carbonated beverage to add the "bubbles" that children like so well. For example, milk mixed with ginger ale and cracked ice is a refreshing drink. Top it off with a colorful straw to give it that professional touch.

An easy-to-make drink is this banana milk shake. For 4 servings use 4 ripe bananas, 3 cups of cold milk, 1 pint of vanilla ice cream, 2 teaspoons vanilla. Peel the ripe bananas, place them in a bowl and mash them until smooth. Add the other ingredients and beat the mixture with a rotary beater or shake it until it is well mixed.

Lemonade will always be a favorite thirst quencher. For jiffy lemonade, make this mix ahead of time, cover tightly in a glass jar and keep in the refrigerator. Combine 2 cups lemon juice with 4 teaspoons grated lemon peel and 1 1/2 cups sugar. When ready to serve, pour 1/4 cup of this syrup into each chilled glass and fill with ice cubes and water.

For special treats and parties, dress up lemonade with a dash of charm. One tablespoon of crushed berries in a glass of cold lemonade turns it into a luscious pink cooler. A light frothy soda can be yours in a minute when you substitute carbonated water for tap water in lemonade and add your favorite ice cream. Or top off regular lemonade with sherbet for a sparkling float or punch.

Another good punch or cooler is this: One can of apricot nectar or 1 1/2 cups of orange juice diluted with one quart of ginger ale and poured over one pint of orange sherbet.

Fancy ice cubes will make any fruit drink more colorful. Fill your ice cube tray 1/3 full of water put a twist of lemon peel or maraschino cherry into each section and freeze. When firm, fill the rest of the tray with water and continue freezing.

Keep cool this summer with nutritious and delicious drinks like these!

Frear Against Entry of China Into U N

United States Senator J. Allen Frear has renewed his stand against admittance of Communist China into the United Nations.

In his weekly statement Mr. Frear declared his opposition to recognition of the Red Chinese. He stated, "I am strongly opposed to granting admission of Communist China as long as that country continues its policy of aggression and as long as it fails to permit individual freedom among the millions of Chinese people."

The Senator reviewed the controversy which took place in Washington last week over the Red China question and declared that the United States would fail to keep faith with its servicemen who sacrificed so much in Korea, if we now allowed the Chinese Communists to "shoot their way into the United Nations."

Senator Frear said he doubted that a peaceful co-existence was possible between the Kremlin and the United States under present conditions. Instead, the Delaware Senator reiterated his confidence in a policy of collective security among the United States and its free allies. Mr. Frear declared that such an alliance is not for purposes of aggression but to provide an adequate defense against Communist expansion. He added that Russia and its puppet followers understand only the language of force and can be deterred from attack only through the existence of an overwhelming military strength arrayed against them.

In conclusion the Senator expressed sympathy for the unfortunate Chinese people and citizens of other satellite nations in Europe and Asia who must live under oppression by the ruthless dictators in the Kremlin.

T. Masten Buys School Building

Powell School is about to revert to a new function. The structure formerly used as a music room by Harrington schools was auctioned Saturday afternoon to Townsend Masten for $475. Another building was put up for sale but found no bidders and will probably be demolished.

The Powell School may be converted to a dwelling-house. It once stood south of town near Powell's Crossing. It was said pupils from this area attended it before Harrington, nee Clark's Corner, had a school. Incidentally, the first Harrington school, old residents say stood at the southwestern corner of Dorman and Mechanic Streets where the home of Mrs. Al Spurry is located.

KEEP HOGS COOL ON TRIP TO MARKET

Hog prices being what they are, a farmer can well afford a little trouble and expense to make sure the animals have a safe and comfortable ride to market.

"The greatest danger in marketing hogs in the summer time is overheating," points out George Vapaa, county extension agent. "If hogs are hot when loaded and the truck is not equipped for hauling in hot weather, there is a good chance that the farmer will unload fewer hogs at the packers than were loaded at his farm."

Vapaa says the first step in successful hot-weather marketing of hogs is to give them a chance to rest and cool off after they are sorted. "Hogs sometimes get quite hot in the sorting process, so let them cool off in the shade before loading. If some of the hogs are exceptionally hot and panting, it may be all right to splash a little cool water in their faces.

But don't drench a hot hog with a bucket of cold water. The shock might kill the hog.

Another step that must be taken before hogs are loaded is to get the truck properly equipped. "Have plenty of ventilation, and provide some wet sand on the floor, he suggests, "That cool, wet sand feels good on a hog's belly and he won't want to get up and stir around."

A shade over the truck also keeps hogs more comfortable and cuts down on heat losses.

"After the hogs are loaded, give them a chance to settle down before starting the trip," he adds.

Farm Field Day To Discuss Berry Growth

The annual Farm Field Day at the University of Delaware station, Georgetown, will be held this year on Wednesday, August 4. At Field Day the public will get first hand information on recent developments in research. There will be projects on new varieties, growth control, and insect and disease control along with many other experiments.

The control of growth and flowering of strawberries will be one of the many projects on display at the Substation. Healthy strawberry plants, particularly those free of virus diseases, often produce so many runner plants late in the summer that the spring yield is seriously reduced.

Field Day visitors will see projects to limit the number of late-formed runner plants by removing the growing points by hand and by the application of chemicals which retard runner growth.

The growth and yields of plants which are spaced, pruned and sprayed by hand with a new spray will be compared and contrasted with the growth and yields of untreated plants. Both types of plants were planted early this year. The 1954 test will also include the screening of many plant-growth regulators in attempting to find one that may decrease vegetative growth without decreasing floral initiation.

Another strawberry study is concerned with renewal methods of strawberry plantings. Considerable interest has been shown in these methods when renewal is entirely by chemical methods. No cultivation or row narrowing is employed.

Retired Workers, Dependents Get Most Payments

Retired workers and their dependents in Delaware were getting about 75 per cent of the $600,000 in old-age and survivors insurance payments being made monthly in the State at the end of last year, Myron Milbouer, manager of the Wilmington social security office, reported today.

"Beneficiaries of all groups on the rolls in December totalled almost 14,000 in the State," he said. This is an increase of 1500 over the number of beneficiaries in Delaware in the same month of 1952.

In making this announcement, Milbouer released newly available figures showing the number of persons in the several beneficiary groups in the State and the total in benefits being paid. In December, 7600 retired workers received a total of $392,000; 200 aged wives and dependent widowers got $56,000; a total of $70,000 went to 2100 children, including a few children of retired aged workers; 500 mothers with minor children in their care were receiving a total of $20,000 monthly; and $3000 in survivors payments went to 70 dependent aged parents on the beneficiary rolls. The total in monthly benefit amounts paid in Delaware increased $112,000 in the 12-month period.

Retired insured workers continued to be the largest group of beneficiaries. These are persons age 65 or over who qualified for monthly payments through employment or self-employment covered by the social security law.

"Children of deceased insured workers made up the greater number of survivors insurance beneficiaries," Milbouer said. Benefit payments to children (including a few children of aged retired workers) increased by 17 per cent in the 12-month period ending with December 1953. The second largest group of survivor beneficiaries, according to Milbouer, was made up of widows of deceased workers with minor children also entitled to benefit payments in their care. In such cases, the age of the widow is not a consideration in eligibility for survivors payments. "Benefit payments to this group increased by 15 per cents in the 12-month period ending with December 1953," he said.

These local figures for old-age insurance payments also reflect a national trend, the local manager pointed out. In the country as a whole, more than six million persons were receiving such benefit payments at the end of 1953, almost a million more than in December 1952.

"While these statistics may seem to be just so many figures in cold print," Milbouer said, "the payment monthly of $600,000 to 14,000 persons in the State is of real significance to the economic well-being of the community."

What's New with Cows?

Catching up on my reading, I noticed three news items you might like to know about.

First, a farmer whose milk had a trace of garlic flavor is feeding his cows chlorophyll to sweeten their breaths.

Next, a college agricultural station has trained a herd to get milked when they are called by number. Seems 75 out of 80 cows learned their numbers in a few days. Guess the "dumb" five couldn't count that high. Final item—cows are getting "nose-printed" for identification.

From where I sit, I hope there is as much progress being made with humans... especially in regard to tolerance. Whether it's a choice of a political party, a basketball team, or a favorite beverage, let's learn to live and let live more. You may ask for a soft drink after a hard day's work—I'll choose a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not try to "cow" the other fellow into our way of thinking!

"Get earlier weight with Beacon ...at lower cost"

Wallace Nichols Denton, Md.

... says Wallace Nichols, "We changed feed because we were not getting the weight we expected. We brought to Beacon. Our last Beacon fed lot sold May 20 through 24c, cost us 20.4c to grow. We found we can grow for less on Beacon even tho it costs 25¢ a bag more than the feed we were using. It costs less to feed... less per pound of meat produced."

The record speaks for itself. These 3600 bird lots were both under comparable circumstances. The Beacon fed birds weighed more at an earlier age; the cost was lower.

Age of birds	Weight	Conversion	Cost per lb.
10 wks 4 days	2.89 lbs.	2.74	20.9c
9 wks 6 days	3.03 lbs.	2.71	20.4c

Mr. Nichols added, "You can grow for less and come out with a profit on close markets. It pays to feed Beacon."

says Mrs. Lillian Wright, Preston, Md.

"My first lot of birds were really sick and they didn't know what to do for them. Then I changed to another feed and made just enough profit to build a new feed cart. I didn't make any money until I changed to Beacon."

"Last January I made $1 a bird profit on 16 week old turkey broilers. (Mrs. Wright raises turkeys as well as 3,000 broilers to the lot.) We've always grown the weight with Beacon and when trouble comes the Beacon Serviceman knows the answers. For example, I had blackhead in my turkey flock last year. Thanks to Beacon service I lost only one bird."

"I wouldn't raise chickens if it were not for Beacon service. They always know what to do. Such service is worth real money to the grower."

Mrs. Wright is now raising 3,000 birds in 2,400 sq. ft. where she formerly raised 5,000. That's eight-tenths of a sq. ft. More space shows up in better conversion and improved profits under present conditions.

Gets TOP market price with Beacon-fed birds

Mason Cheezum of Preston, Md., has a formula which has resulted in a profit every time, except once when he kept the birds too long. He says, "We give our birds a good 3/4 sq. foot of floor space. This grows a better bird and with Beacon feed we get them out at a younger age. Quality gets the TOP market price. The important thing with feed is the weight you get for a pound of feed. I've had very good conversion with Beacon which we've been using for 5 years. We formerly used a cheaper feed but find we're raising a better quality bird just as cheap on Beacon."

Wm. Sanders of Preston, Md., says "I've fed Beacon for 2 years now. I couldn't get the weight with either of two other feeds used, even when we kept the birds longer. Had bareback trouble too."

"Birds don't eat as much Beacon, they develop the weight on less feed, at lower cost per pound of weight gained. Beacon is better than any feed I ever fed."

"I like the Beacon people to deal with too. They are dependable. Beacon service is always good."

"We have no cozy trouble using C-C Pellets. Beacon C-C Pellets are the best, I think, to control coccidiosis. Of course we use medicated feed but once a week from the 3rd thru the 8th week we feed C-C in the morning, followed by Beacon Poultry Fitting in the afternoon. It does a good job of cozy control and improves the birds' appetites."

"You don't get something for nothing!"

"I changed to Beacon originally because I was having feather trouble", says Norman Tull, of Seaford, "We have no trouble now since feeding Beacon."

"I believe Beacon is the best bargain in feeding. Birds keep their appetites and it takes less feed."

"On a couple of occasions I've used another feed for a few days. Immediately I noticed it took more feed. You don't get something for nothing. There is no point in a feed that's cheaper by the bag when it costs more because birds need to eat more."

"We use Beacon C-C Pellets just as the Beacon Feeding Guide suggests. They work fine. We have no trouble with coccidiosis."

"My experience is that it costs less to feed Beacon."

CITY COUNCIL

These patrolmen would be serving eight hours a day, including Sunday. One councilman pointed out that teen-age hot-rods were rampant on Sunday afternoons here, which is nothing new. Mr. Adams also mentioned that someone had shot a hole through a large window at his home with an air rifle, possibly from a car.

City employees were warned to pick up dead animals from the streets. At the same time, citizens were told to put their rubbish in good, sound containers for trash collectors.

A letter was received from the Greyhound Bus Company saying its drivers would obey the town's speeding laws.

A streetlight was authorized to be placed at or near 113 W. Millington Street.

Assistant Alderman

Mayor Killen appointed Adams, Councilman Hewitt Smith, and Councilman Charles Jerred to study the plea of Lorenzo Collins for water on West Street.

The Police Committee was authorized to ask for bids on a new police car, panel and four-door jobs, with a heavy generator to take care of a radio if needed later. The Council was to decide at its next meeting, then, if it wanted the car. Some councilman thought it might be better to buy a new car than to pay repair bills on the old one.

A letter was read from the Delaware National Guard, asking if Patrolman William G. Jarrell could report to Fort Miles for training from July 25 to Aug. 8. It was agreed he could.

City Manager Adams was also authorized to see what clothes the police force needed.

Board of Health

A letter was read from Dr. C. P. Knight, of the State Board of Health, which pointed out that sewage was flowing from cesspools and septic tanks into a ditch near U. S. 13 south of Clark Street. The letter, it read, was written in answer to complaints and because of an investigation. The Council authorized the city clerk to send a reply to the State Board of Health and to write letters to the offending property owners to see what action they could take.

Before any municipal action would be taken, the mayor suggested waiting for further news on the proposed highway by-pass which might entail new sewer lines. Wilson Bradley appeared before the Council, with his attorney, Max Terry, to protest a recent arrest on a charge of double parking and to make a request for returns of fines paid. He was told the Council had no jurisdiction over the matter.

Attorney Terry said he had been called into the case earlier in the evening and had to have time to prepare his case. He said he would appear before the Council at its next meeting.

Bradley said he was unloading his truck on Commerce Street at Delaware Power & Light Company and that he was cursed by a patrolman. He added "he was ignored by Alderman L. Gooden Callaway at his trail, refused right of appeal," and that he plead "not guilty." He concluded by saying he was not treated fairly and that "he would take it to the top."

Members of the Sixth Delaware Regiment who were assigned as guards of prisoners at Fort Delaware during the 1863 were predominantly from Sussex County, but there were also three companies from Kent mustered on its rolls.

Pea Patch Island Open to Public

Kent County residents should have a great interest in the opening of Fort Delaware and Pea Patch Island to the general public by the State Park Commission and the Fort Delaware Society on the three weekends starting July 24-25 because Kent Countians figured prominently among the prisoners there and among the guards.

Members of the Sixth Delaware Regiment who were assigned as guards of prisoners at Fort Delaware during the 1863 were predominantly from Sussex County, but there were also three companies from Kent mustered on its rolls.

But Kent which was known for having the largest number of slaveholders, was also known for its large number of political prisoners held in the fort because of their known sympathies for the South.

Among these was Magistrate Warrin K. Reed, of Whiteleysburg, near Felton, who was arrested twice, the first time while teaching school in September, 1862, when he was held in the fort until November, and the second time from June to August, 1863. During his second period of imprisonment he was elected recorder of deeds on the Democratic ticket.

James F. Cooper of Smyrna a young law student, was arrested in April, 1863, and held in Fort Delaware from that time until November merely because he had expressed sympathy for the South.

Dr. William A. McKowen, also of Smyrna, was arrested in August, 1863, because he had expressed hope for the success of Southern arms and because he had sent food and clothing to the prisoners in the fort. He was a prisoner until, December, 1863. Boat service from Delaware City to the island will be available on Saturdays and Sundays for three weekends starting July 24. The first boat will leave at 9:00 a. m. from Delaware City and the final one from the island will be at 4:00 p. m.

Service is being provided by Capt. Walter Wisowaty and Capt. William Press of Delaware City at a charge of .50 cents per person. The only charge will be for the transportation.
