

OUTTEN AND HATFIELD TO LOCK HORNS FOR SCHOOL BOARD SEAT

There will be a contest in the annual school election here Saturday, May 14, with five more contests elsewhere in Kent County.

Clifford Outten and Luther Hatfield, the latter a candidate last year, will joust for the post on the Board of Education held by T. Brinton Holloway.

Outten is a former employe of the State Highway Department, while Hatfield is a telephone company employe.

Other contests are listed in the Hartly, Dover, Smyrna, Frederica and Dover districts.

In the Hartly state board unit district Elmer C. Lutton and Melvin Blechman, incumbent, will tangle. At Dover, Dr. R. J. Zerkow and Samuel B. Kendall, and James N. Shapiro will contest to succeed Robert H. Reed. At Smyrna, Francis B. Gebhart and Robert A. Mills will vie for the post of Dr. C. J. Prickett.

At Felton, W. Russell Torbert, incumbent, and William Paskey, will battle; at Frederica, Zora E. Tatman and Thomas P. Webb.

As of 4 p. m. Wednesday, within a half-hour of closing time, it appeared there would be no contests elsewhere. Candidates, unopposed, are as follows: Caesar Rodney, C. Fred Fifer; Magnolia, Charles H. Callaway; Mt. Olive School, Emile Shockley; Oak Point, Andrew Stutzman; Cheswold, Garland Carney; Farmington, Leon F. Rust; Clayton, Richard W. Comegys; Houston, Francis G. Simpson, and Kenton, Walter McGinnis.

Election hours will be from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m. under a revised law.

Felton WSCS Met Monday

The May meeting of the Felton WSCS was held in the community hall Monday afternoon. The worship services were in charge of Mrs. Elmer O'Day. During the business meeting, plans were made for a rummage sale to be held May 26 and 27.

Election and installation of officers for the coming two years were held. Mrs. Leon Harrington installed the following: Mrs. Clifford Milbourn, president; Mrs. Paul Hughes, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Layfield, recording secretary; Mrs. Elmer O'Day, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Marion McGinnis, treasurer; Mrs. Lynn Torbert, secretary of Christian social relations and local church activities; Mrs. Hattie Eaton, secretary of mission education and service; Mrs. Cora Hughes, secretary of supply work; Mrs. John Davis, secretary of spiritual life; Mrs. Virginia C. Morrow, secretary of literature and publications, and Mrs. Jesse Springer, secretary of youth work.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. C. M. Simpler, Mrs. Clifford Milbourn and Mrs. Elmer O'Day.

He Escapes Jail But Draws Fine

Frank Neeman, 24, of near Felton, who has a record of 35 motor vehicle code violations or warnings, was fined $150 and costs for speeding by Common Pleas Judge P. Warren Green in Wilmington Tuesday.

Neeman's record, provided by the State Highway Department's Motor Vehicle Division, runs the gamut from speeding to failure to place warning flares.

Judge Green said his first inclination was to sentence Neeman to jail "as a menace on the roads." However, when he learned Neeman's license had been revoked following the latest speeding charge, the judge changed his mind and fined him.

COMPLETES 4 YEARS IN A.F.

Airman First Class David W. Ryan, son of Mrs. Ruth W. Ryan of Harrington Avenue, has returned home after four years in the U. S. Air Force, 16 months having been spent at the Clark Air Force Base in the Philippine Islands. He, with his wife, the former Barbara Wilson of Milford, and little son, Davie, are living at 412 Charles Street in Milford.

SGT. HOBBS TRANSFERRED

S/Sgt. Louis Hobbs, who has been stationed at Dover Air Force Base, has been transferred to Elmendorf Field, in Alaska. He leaves June 16 for Seattle, Wash. His wife and small daughter will remain here.

Sulky Slants

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

Gosh, this week has certainly crept up on us. Can hardly realize that, within a few more days, winter training will be all over.

Right now out here at the track it's very lonesome. Every day brings Earl Thomas' big red trucks, taking someone away.

Ones you bid goodbye to, you may never see again, only in memory. Friends that you've met.

Then there's the friendly merchants in Harrington, in the winter all one big happy family. I'll miss the "Hello Pat" here, or a wave there.

About the most active thing out here in the evenings, is Harry Littleton and his spotted pony plowing his garden.

Harry and John Schlegel are always good for some laughs and fun out here.

Sam Conway, who trains for Calvin Adams, told me yesterday he sure was getting lonesome, with so many pulling out.

Had some to ask me, "Are you coming back?" Silly question—you bet we are. About everywhere you go, someone don't like this or don't like that. That's what makes the world go 'round.

And where could you find a better-liked general manager than Mr. Brinton Holloway?

For our money the whole office personnel is wonderful. Virginia and Mrs. Earl Thomas are really swell.

"Course I missed out a little on the news out here this winter, but next winter I'll be right there.

Only thing I get a kick out of now is watching the men that are working on the steel structure of the grandstand going up. Gosh, they look like flies walking around up there.

I get dizzy watching them and the trainers come around rather slow to watch. For most of the horses, they haven't minded the noise.

My "Volo Bohemia" has never worried about it. The little fellow takes it all in stride. "Course, to me, "Volo" can't do any wrong, so Dave says.

But I will say, so far so good with him. He is what I call a poor man's horse. Wears nothing to race in, as most pacers do.

All he has on are two-ounce toe weights. No boots, no hobbles, no shadow roll. So I'm keeping my fingers crossed. He has plenty of speed so far—a very level-headed three-year-old.

So if Volo wins his first race, I'll send Carrington his picture for The Journal.

Dave and I were over to visit Mr. Ellison in the Milford Hospital. Sure a shame, right when he has his horses ready to go.

Mrs. Emil Adams certainly took over a beautiful bouquet of flowers that came from her yard.

Grace happened to be there when we went in.

Doug Smith is also back in the Milford Hospital for another operation. . . but will be out in a couple or three days.

Hope to make the opening at Roscoer's Friday night. I'll bet half of Harrington will be there.

Reese, what were you looking so serious about, out in front of your theatre? Your horses are doing good.

Mr. Sherwin, you looked mighty happy on your way to the post office. Could it be this wonderful weather?

Ken Tatman, sitting over a stool in Jarrell's newsroom, passing a little time away. Ken don't have much to say, just a grin.

Dave and I were invited up to Mildred and Harold Cains this past Sunday for evening dinner.

MRS. EMMA S. KNOX

Mrs. Emma S. Knox, 86, widow of Edwin Knox, died in Norfolk, Va., Wednesday morning. Mrs. Knox, the daughter of Etta and David Smith, was born in Harrington but has resided in Norfolk for the past 35 years.

She is survived by nine nieces and nephews.

G-aveside services, in charge of the Smith Funeral Home of Harrington, will be conducted at the Hollywood Cemetery, with the Rev. Robert VanCleaf officiating.

Rotarians Prepare For Beauty Contest Thursday, May 26

Thursday night, May 26, is the date for the Harrington Rotary Club's sixth annual beauty contest, to be held at Reese Theater. This contest is held to pick the girl to represent Harrington in the Chicken Festival, which is to be held in Onancock, Va., this year.

This year, all downstairs seats in the theater are reserved seats except the first three rows. Reserved seats are $1. All seats in the balcony are unreserved and all unreserved seats sell for 75c.

All Rotarians and Chamberlin's Pharmacy are now selling both reserved and unreserved seats.

Reese Harrington has had unusually good pictures for the beauty contests in the past and this year will be no exception. The picture will be followed by the beauty contest. And while the judges are making their decision, the Rotary Club will hold its comedy skit. This year the fun feature will be a womanless wedding, featuring some of the most glamorous Rotarians, and directed by George Thompson.

There are nine most attractive girls who have signed up so far, to be in the beauty contest this year. First prize is a beautiful Lane cedar chest. Second prize is a portable radio. Third prize is a Samsonte overnight train case. Each girl will also be given a memento of the occasion.

The winner of the contest here will also be given a free weekend at Ocean City, Md., and a beautiful bathing suit. These are given by the Chicken Festival. All of the winners of contests in other towns all over the Shore will be at Ocean City at the same time and will be properly chaperoned.

The Rotary Club gets a commission only on the tickets that the Rotarians sell. This money is used to defray the expenses of the local contest. Please see a Rotarian today and buy your tickets for the contest.

Further details will be in next week's Harrington Journal.

Old Records at Courthouse in Dover Full of Humor, Pathos and Racy Gossip

(The following story, written by George Valentine Massey, II, is one of several interesting narratives gleaned from the Dover Courthouse records of bygone days.)

At the courthouse on Dover Days, May 7 and 8, some of these interesting records will be exhibited.

When the court sat in June, 1680 for Jones (now Kent) County, on the Delaware, Justices Francis Whitwell, John Hillyard, Robert Hart and Edward Pack issued grants of land to various settlers. In this and subsequent courts, tracts of from 300 to 3,000 acres were allotted to men, women and families. Some of these early names are strange today in Delaware, such as Bawcombe, Baggstocke, Glover, Roundick, Haggister, Paremaine, Rattford and Verkirk.

More familiar are Allbutson (Albertson), Bartlett, Bedwell, Berry, Brinckloe, Broadway, Clarke, Collman (Coleman), Cullin, Curtis, Draper, Duvall, Ellingsworth, Hillyard, Humphrey, Hiron, Laws, Manlove, Mott, Nuell (Nowell), O'Neal, Palmatrix, Richardson, Roe, Roods (Rhoads), Skidmore, Walker, Watson, Webb, Wilson, Winsmore, Wood and Woolbanke (Wiltbank).

The first Indian to appear in Mahocksett when he came to court on Feb. 21, 1681, to acknowledge full satisfaction from Francis Whitwell for 2,000 acres on a branch of Duck Creek. Then there is Christian, the Indian, alias Peticocquan, lord and owner of all the land between St. Jones and Duck Creeks. He sold his "Ryaltyes fishing fowling hawking hunting" rights in 570 acres of "Tenhead Cortt," in 1681, on the main branches of Little Creek, to John Glover, planter. On this tract, later divided, lived James Sykes, a member of the Continental Congress, and Major John Patten, Revolutionary officer and congressman, whose portrait was painted by Charles Willson Peale.

Patten's house was "said to have been a resort . . . of all the best society in Delaware." The ancient gambrel roofed brick dwelling where James Sykes lived, is on the south side of the south Little Creek road, 2 1/2 miles east of Dover.

Christian, the Indian, sold "Lisburn," a 600-acre tract, partly occupied by the Dover Air Base, to Captain John Brinckloe, in 1681, for three match coats, 12 bottles of drink, four double hands of powder and four of shot. The Indian James brought in a wolf's head to Justice William Lawrence, in 1689, and was paid a bounty.

An interesting record tells that John Curtis, the county's rich man, and member of the Governor's Council, had to prove his cleanness from a former engagement with Frances Spencer, widow, before he could marry the attractive Priscilla Bowers. The former lady, on the 10th month 23rd, 1689, did "quitt discharge and release from all engagements as Concerning marriage between me and my friend John Curtice."

Captain John Brinckloe, another county leader, accused Curtis of uttering words of high treason against the king, which got Curtis barred from the Council, but he beat the rap and was reinstated.

In 1727 James Mullin, a Dover blacksmith, forged a deed of gift to his wife Margaret from her father, Benjamin Shurmer. He was convicted after the deed was recorded. The land involved part of "York" in Little Creek Hundred. This is probably "York Seat," just north of the town of Little Creek, where stands one of the county's few old stone houses.

A racy bit of gossip is on record where William Phillips was quoted as saying that the Rev. Arthur Ussher, of Dover's historic Christ Church, "keeps a . . . in his house named Ann Murphy and that I saw her on Monday the 21st of this Instant May (1739) early in the morning undressed and in her bed and that he had but just risen from her . . ." Mr. Phillips denied this, but Mary Rees heard him say he saw Mr. Ussher's maid on her master's bed. Phillips' wife, Catherine, laughed when she repeated the story.

Ann Murphy, the girl involved, testified when a leading Dover matron was being held in jail for beating her servant, Elisabeth Rylee, to death. The lady held the girl's neck down with her foot while she lashed her bare buttock. She pulled off her garter and stomped the girl until her hair was torn and she was very bloody. Then the lady adjusted her clothes and went with young William Shurmer to a race.

The girl languished on the garret floor, with only a few dumpings and a little molasses on them to eat, until she died. The lady said not to build a fire because the girl would creep into it. The girl had wanted to die and asked Ann Murphy to pray for her soul. This unhappy scene took place in one of Dover's oldest and most distinguished houses before the Ridgelys lived there.

By the 19th century a few Kent County people were freeing slaves. One deed of manumission in 1801 is from Charlotte (Laws) Bell, a widow and reputed beauty, who liberated six Negroes, one of whom was a blacksmith. Mrs. Bell's father, Bolitha Laws, was on the Committee of Inspection at the time of the Revolution, and her uncle, John Laws, signed the ratification of the Federal Constitution whereby Delaware became the first state in the Union. Bolitha James Laws, chief judge of the District Court of the United States for the District of Columbia, is from this family.

COL. COEYMAN GETS AWARD

THIRD ARMY COMMANDER LT. GEN. A. R. BOLLING presents the Third Army Certificate of Achievement to Lt. Col. William L. Coeyman at Third Army Headquarters, Ft. McPherson, Ga. Mrs. Coeyman was also present.

A Harrington resident, who has been decorated by two foreign countries, has been awarded the Third Army certificate of achievement at Ft. McPherson, Ga.

Lt. Col. William M. Coeyman was presented the certificate by Third Army commander Lt. Gen. A. R. Bolling, "in recognition of faithful and efficient performance of military duty," while assigned at Headquarters Third Army.

Col. Coeyman is a graduate of Drexel Institute of Technology, Drexel Hill, Pa. While at Headquarters Third Army he served as chief of the plans branch, assistant chief of the plans and training division, and executive officer of the Third Army signal section.

"He displayed exceptional qualities of technical knowledge and leadership in resolving many intricate and complex problems incident to his assignments. His knowledge of signal training problems, spirit of cooperation and helpfulness resulted in better trained signal units readily available for active military service."

Col. Coeyman has been previously decorated with the Greek Order of King George, third class, and the Chinese Order of Hun Hui, while serving in those countries.

He has departed for Formosa, where Col. Coeyman will join the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group to the Nationalist Chinese government now occupying the island. Mrs. Coeyman will reside on Reese Avenue.

Members of the chorus singing in this concert are: First soprano, Mrs. Emanuel D. Barros, Mrs. Edward W. J. Cooper, Mrs. Ralph C. Day, Mrs. Charles Legates Jr., Mrs. E. Stuart Outten, Second soprano are: Mrs. J. Francis Bell, Mrs. Earl R. Field, Mrs. Frank F. Pierson Jr., Mrs. Herbert A. Richardson, Mrs. David L. Spector, Mrs. William S. Streett and Mrs. Selwyn Williams. The altos are: Mrs. Alf Anderson, Mrs. Anthony Florio, Mrs. Salvatore Lobaccaro, Mrs. William S. Price, Mrs. Samuel Kendall. The second altos are: Mrs. George M. Kent Jr., Mrs. H. D. Slay, Mrs. George D. Tebo, Mrs. Frank Traynor, Mrs. James J. Whalen Jr. and Mrs. Harvey Williams. Mrs. William J. Storey is the director.

An unusual feature of this program will be the Brahms waltzes and Handel's "Awake the Trumpets' Lofty Sound," which will have four-hand accompaniments with Mrs. Lloyd Laughlin and Mrs. George D. Tebo at the piano. Miss Dorothy Kendall, Miss Mary Stuart Outten, Alan Richard Barros and Maurice J. Murray will serve as singers. Richard MacFaddin is in charge of special lighting effects and Leon Tarbuton is making the recordings.

The audience is invited to a reception at the Dover Century Club on The Green immediately following the program. Subscription cards are not available at the door but may be obtained by calling Dover 9675 or writing Mrs. W. S. Price, 42 Bayard Avenue, Dover.

Century Club Will Present Concert May 11

Children of members of the Dover Century Club chorus will participate in the May 11 concert of this group to be held in the Murphey School auditorium at 8:15 p. m. They are: G. M. Kent III, Francine Lobaccaro, William Englehart, Martha Field, E. Stuart Outten, Cathy Kent and Ann Streett. Marvin Solley, guest artist of the evening, in the role of "Hans," will join the chorus in the production which includes "The King's New Clothes," "The Inch Worm" and "Wonderful Copenhagen."

Mr. Solley has sung many leading roles in opera all over the country. He sang in the world premier of Walter Kaufman's "A Parfait For Irene" and was in the first opera ever to be televised in America. He was a member of the Shreveport, La. Civic Opera Association during the 1953-54 season and is currently preparing several roles for summer stock in Cohasset, Mass. In May 1953 he was guest soloist with the Marshall City Symphony and chorus of Marshall, Texas, in their performance of the "German Requiem" by Brahms. Mr. Solley has been highly commended by the critics in the title role as "Rigoletto" and as the Treador in "Carmen." They speak of his being endowed with a baritone voice of natural beauty and the enviable ability to convey the drama inherent in the words and music.

Children must be from 8 to 14 years, with heart trouble and who could not otherwise afford to go to camp.

The Delaware Heart Association will pay their expenses, including transportation, for two weeks.

Children who wish to be candidates for summer cardiac camp should write to the Delaware Heart Association, Wilmington.

Burrsville

We are glad to report Mrs. Walton Willis has returned home, after being a patient in Milford Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Draper Sr. called on Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker of Denton on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Luff and children and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Meredith and children of Beverly, N. J., and Mrs. Thomas Draper called on Mr. and Mrs. Roland Draper Sr. recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Breeding have moved into Mr. Eike's house and we welcome them to our community.

Mrs. Roland Draper Jr. and daughter, Charlotte Ann, and Mrs. William Maul and son spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones of Clayton.

Townsend Man Severely Burned

Alphon David Caulk, 23, of Townsend, was severely burned Tuesday afternoon when his clothing caught fire while he was at work in Smyrna.

According to police, Caulk was engaged in operating a blow torch at the junk yard of Earl Davis in Smyrna, when in some manner not determined, the blaze from the torch ignited his clothing.

His clothing quickly flared up, resulting in his being badly burned about the body. He was rushed to the Kent General Hospital in the Smyrna ambulance and was admitted as a patient suffering from third degree burns.

Local Woman Killed In Auto Wreck

Mrs. Vera Belle Hickman, 26, of 323 Delaware Avenue, Harrington, was killed instantly at 2:15 a. m. Wednesday when the pick-up truck in which she was riding struck a concrete bridge abutment on the DuPont Parkway at Drawyer's Creek, just north of Odessa.

Less than an hour later another woman, the mother of three small children, died in Kent General Hospital at Dover of injuries received when her car collided with a pick-up truck near Dover last Friday. The victim was Mrs. Daisy Rigby Glenden, 432 S. New Street, Dover, who died in the hospital at 3 a. m.

Mrs. Hickman was the mother of a seven-year-old daughter, Constance, and the wife of Selby Hickman, of Dover. She was riding in a pick-up truck driven by Ross E. Dennis, 32, of Oakhurst Manor, N. J.

State police said Dennis, driving south, failed to make the slight turn at the northern approach to the bridge over Drawyer's Creek. When he struck the abutment, Mrs. Hickman was thrown out and landed down a slight embankment near the water.

Dennis sustained a fractured right hip, fractured lower jaw, possible fracture of the upper jaw, and cuts of the lower left leg and chin.

Both Mrs. Hickman and Dennis were taken to Delaware Hospital in the Middletown Fire Company ambulance. Mrs. Hickman was pronounced dead on arrival.

Mrs. Hickman was a waitress at the Hollywood Diner on Route 13 at Dover and was planning to move to New Jersey, friends said.

Mrs. Glenden was injured last Friday at 1:55 p. m. at the intersection of Route 113A, the old main highway, and State Route 23, which runs from Rising Sun to Dover Air Force Base.

State police said Mrs. Glenden was driving east on Route 26 and failed to stop at a stop sign and blinker light. When her car came out on Route 113A it was struck by the southbound pick-up truck operated by Rober Lewis Davis, 17, of R.D.2, Georgetown.

Mrs. Glenden's car swerved around and came to a stop in a ditch. Mrs. Glenden and her mother, Mrs. May Rigby, of Dover, who was riding with her, were taken to Kent General Hospital. Mrs. Rigby sustained lesser injuries.

Coroner Roland Trader of Dover said Mrs. Glenden had a fractured pelvis and internal injuries and an autopsy showed she died of the latter.

Mrs. Glenden was employed at the Latex Corporation, Dover.

CONTRACTOR INTERESTED IN BUILDING HOUSES HERE

Prospects look good for a housing development in Harrington.

A Wilmington contractor appeared before the City Council Monday evening and inquired if water and sewers would be available if he acquired 26 lots in Harrington Manor for building houses.

Mayor Ernest Killen told the inquirer, Charles Taylor, a Wilmington contractor, who owns a farm between Harrington and Felton, the City would have to wait until it had seen an engineer it had hired to supervise the construction of its water tower, the bond issue for which was voted in recently.

The mayor added, however, that the City would help in any way possible if there was a development.

Taylor then inquired if cesspools would be all right and was given an affirmative reply.

He said he intended to put up a sample house to pass Veterans' Administration inspection, and to see how the sale went. They would be sold, he explained, with a small down payment, at less than $10,000.

Taylor told the meeting he was negotiating for 26 lots. Also, he mentioned he had an option on land outside of the city limits, for building, also.

City Manager Norris Adams was authorized to erect street signs on Delaware Avenue, from Clark Street to the city limits. The Police Commission was also delegated to buy summer uniforms for the police force.

It was brought out at Monday's meeting that dirt would be used to fill holes in an alley by Peoples Service Station and in front of the home of Mrs. Arthur Layton, 202 Hanley Street.

Postmaster Howard Dill appeared before the Council and read a letter in which it was revealed a mail box would be placed at the curb in front of the Post Office. This device would permit motorists to deposit their mail without leaving their cars.

Mr. Dill requested the removal of four meters to permit erection of the box. His request was approved in short order. Two meters, at the northern end of the block, on the same side of the street, will remain.

The financial report revealed $328.50 were collected in fines in April. It also revealed that the parking meters would probably be paid off in a month or so.

Pathfinders Class Elects Officers

Mrs. Calvin Wells was elected president of the Pathfinders Sunday School Class of Asbury Methodist Church at its dinner meeting held in the Collins Building Wednesday night. Other officers elected were as follows:

Lester Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Peck Jr., secretary; Mrs. William Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. Lester Smith, historian; Mrs. Howard Wagner, sunshine, and Mrs. J. Millard Cooper, publicity.

After the election, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Wells. Upon deciding that the next month's meeting place would be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Downing, the meeting was adjourned.

4-H TALENT, SPEAKING CONTEST MONDAY

The annual Kent County talent show and public speaking contest will be held May 12 at 7:30 p. m. at the Capital Grange in Dover. Any 4-H member may enter, regardless of age.

The state contest will be held during the 4-H short course in Newark in June. Anyone interested is invited to see 4-H'ers in action on Thursday evening.

Send all entries to Marion MacDonald, 4-H Club Agent, Post Office Building, Dover.

CHANGE MEETING DAY

Chosen Friends Lodge decided last Thursday that they will hold their meetings, beginning May 11, on Wednesday evenings instead of Thursday evenings. Meetings begin at 8 o'clock. The lodge will hold its annual Kiddies' Day picnic this year, the date to be announced later.

AH, WHAT WEATHER!

Old Sol turned on his charm Thursday, to give Delawarians the warmest day of the 1955 season—the thermometer nearing 90.

MOVES

Mrs. Rosa Butler has moved into the Wright property on Dorman Street.

Armed Forces News Notes

Pfc. Clarence C. Courtney, 20, whose parents live on Route 2, Dover, is among 26,000 soldiers slated to participate in Exercise Apple Jack during May at the Yakima Firing Center, Wash.

Pvt. Courtney, a tank driver in Battery C of the 38th Infantry Regiment, entered the Army in 1954 and received basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C.

He is a 1953 graduate of Dover High School.

Harry C. Rice, seaman, USN, son of Mrs. Lillian Rice of Harrington, is attending the Naval Radarman School in Norfolk.

The school conducts a basic course in the operation and maintenance of various types of shipboard radar equipment. Students are instructed in all phases of radar plotting and navigation. The course also includes voice communication procedures and the use of sound-powered and radio telephones.

Graduates of the school are qualified to be members of the highly skilled combat information center teams aboard ship.

SALAD DRESSING

Try this dressing for summer fruit salads: mix together one pint of thick sour cream and one six-ounce can of frozen lemonade concentrate. Salt and pepper to taste.

LARGE SUPPLY CAUSES DROP IN LAMB PRICES

Meat and Poultry: A delay in marketing spring lambs last month has resulted in heavy current supplies. Prices declined again last week and retail stores offer better values on leg and loin cuts. The best buys in lamb still are to be found in ground lamb for patties or a loaf, breast and shoulder cuts for roasting, neck meat and shanks for braising, and in stew meat.

Choice and prime steers are in greater than normal supply and prices this week are slightly lower on the best grades of retail cuts relative to the poorer grades. Many Delaware stores feature chuck roasts, stew meat and short ribs as budget-stretching cuts. Ground beef remains low priced and can be used in a variety of ways, including meat loaves and hamburger patties. Meat balls made from ground beef and served with mushroom sauce permit a nourishing, quick and thrifty meal.

Heavy slaughter of hogs continues to depress prices. A rise is expected soon since hogs are being slaughtered at a higher rate than pigs were produced in the fall crop. In the meantime, there are excellent values on shank halves of ham, picnic and other shoulder cuts, Boston butts and spare ribs.

Broiler and frying chicken prices dropped considerably during the past two weeks and have recovered only slightly. Much more favorable retail prices now are available. Turkey prices continue to be low in spite of depleted storage stocks and smaller flocks.

Fruits and Vegetables: Asparagus prices, which advanced late last week due to poor cutting weather, should be more favorable this week. Florida sweet corn is less expensive now that supplies are larger. Leafy greens all are economical this week and spinach is selling at new lows and can be stored advantageously in home freezers. Tomatoes, lettuce and cucumbers are at reasonable prices and quality is good, permitting attractive spring salads. Mushrooms are an excellent buy this week.

A few low priced Rome and Staymen apples from nearby states still are available. Citrus fruits continue to be good buys. Pineapples are in peak supply at attractive prices. Cantaloups, grapes and pears remain relatively high.

Groceries: The outlook is for higher prices on the 1955 corn pack, and it possibly would be wise to stock up at the current low prices. Peanut imports are expected to alleviate the high prices on peanut products in the near future.

Veterans News And Answers To Questions

Q—Would it be possible for a veteran to receive Public Law 16 training if he has a service-connected disability not severe enough to warrant any payment of compensation?

A—No. One of the legal requirements for Public Law 16 is a compensable service-connected disability. Another requirement is a need for training to overcome the handicap of the disability.

Q—Is there a "ceiling" on combined wages and GI allowance for veterans taking on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill?

A—Yes, the "ceiling" applies only to on-the-job trainees under the Korean GI Bill. It does not apply to veterans in other types of training. The "ceiling" is $310 a month. When training wages and GI allowance together exceed that amount, the GI allowance will be cut to bring the total within the $310 maximum.

Q—A friend of mine, a Korea veteran, waited four months before applying for Korean GI term insurance, and he was told that he was too late, and had missed the deadline for getting this insurance?

A—The deadline is 120 days from date of discharge. This deadline usually is a day or so short of four months.

Georgetown Speedway To Reopen May 14

Charles H. Herbert, promoter and president of the Georgetown Speedway, located two miles south of Georgetown, on U.S. Route 113, has announced that the 1955 opening of the Georgetown track will take place on Saturday night, May 14, with the first race getting the green signal at 8 p.m. For the third consecutive season the popular lower Delaware racing plant will operate under a sanction from the National Association for Stock Car Automobile Racing, better known to auto race fans as NASCAR, the world's largest automobile racing group, which sanctioned over 1600 separate race meets during the 1954 racing season with cash prize money in excess of $1,775,000 being distributed at these races.

This Saturday night, May 7, will be practice night at the Georgetown plant, which will be open from 7 to 10 p.m. for all members of NASCAR who would like to try their cars over the newly resurfaced half-mile banked clay oval. The public is cordially invited to attend this practice session. Admission to the grounds and grandstand is entirely free with the compliments of the Speedway Management.

CHICKEN FESTIVAL TO STAGE TALENT SHOW

An All-Shore talent show, featuring amateur talent in Delaware, Maryland and Virginia, will be a main event during the eighth annual Del-Mar-Va Chicken Festival at Onancock, Va., June 13, 14 and 15.

Melvin L. Shreves, talent contest chairman, said the entertainment program would be held outdoors Tuesday, June 14, at 2:30 p.m., if the weather was favorable and in the Roseland Theater if the weather was inclement.

Any amateur act—young or old, singles, groups, vocalists or musicians are eligible to compete. The grand prize is $100; second prize, $50, and third prize, $50. A top television personality, as yet unnamed, will be master of ceremonies.

Persons desiring to enter the contest should contact the committeeman of their state by letter, giving name, age, address and act. Maryland contestants should write J. Dawson Clark, WBOD Radio Station, Pocomoke City; Delaware contestants should write William products under a huge circus tent.

CIGARETTE AND COFFEE RATIONS OF GIs ARE CUT

Cigarette and coffee rations for U.S. Army personnel in Europe are being drastically cut, starting next Sunday, to halt black market operations.

Army officials said the present rations "far exceed the genuine requirements" of the servicemen.

Instead of 15 packs of cigarettes a week, soldiers in the future will have to get along with 10. Those living in barracks without private cooking facilities, will no longer get the pound of coffee they are now entitled to each month.

You'll feel like a pilot

without leaving the ground

Just wait till you switch the pitch of Buick's new Dynaflow*!

How would you like to take the wheel of a high-powered Buick and feel an experience you never felt before in any earth-bound vehicle?

How would you like to do—just by pressing down the gas pedal—what a pilot does when he's ready for take-off?

And how would you like to drive with the happy thought that you're getting plenty of miles per gallon in normal cruising—and the electrifying action of the world's first airplane-principled transmission when you need it for split-second getaway response?

It's all for you when you say the word and slip into the driver's seat of a new Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Not only do you take command of record-high Buick V8 power—and the most envied ride in the industry—and the brawn and heft and luxury of a truly solid automobile.

You also call the turn on twenty propeller-like blades deep inside a wondrous new Dynaflow that's patterned after the principle of the modern plane's variable pitch propeller.

You hold these blades in their high-economy angle when you press the pedal in the normal way—and you get a lot more miles from a tankful of gas.

You switch the pitch of these blades to take-off position when you press the pedal way down—and you get spectacular action instantly.

Don't take our word alone that this is thrilling beyond all previous experience. Talk to anyone who's tried it. Or, better yet, come try it yourself. That way you can learn firsthand why Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs. Drop in this week, won't you?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

REORGANIZATION OF SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Since 1946, when the American Council on Education surveyed the Delaware schools, there has been interest in the development of a sound, long-range plan for the reorganization of school districts in the state.

A report of the Fourth Annual Conference, Delaware Commission on Children and Youth, just released, defines a school district as "the geographic area, involving land boundaries, which is controlled by a board of education or a board of trustees, and within which the residents may be taxed for the support of the schools maintained by the district."

A school district is an administrative unit which may have within its boundaries any number of schools (individual buildings in which formal education is carried on). Reorganization of school districts involves changing the boundary lines of two or more districts to include a larger area and thus a larger number of children would be under the control of one board of education.

In Delaware the movement has been toward the consolidation of schools rather than reorganization of districts. In 1913 there were 524 school districts in Delaware, 474 of which were one-teacher districts. The consolidations have been without long-range planning, although they normally have followed the natural movement of people toward larger community groups.

Although the efforts to develop a long-range plan for the reorganization of school districts have not, as yet, resulted in any reorganized administrative unit, tremendous progress is noted in the attitude of the people of the state toward this matter. There has been a diminution of emotionalism and a growing recognition that reorganization of districts may provide solutions to some of the problems confronting public education.

The conference report added that in the following areas a better understanding is needed, and therefore further publicity and public discussion is necessary on (1) the relationship between the education program and reorganization, (2) the relationship between financial efficiency and reorganization, (3) the extent of local responsibility in the administration of a reorganized district, and (4) some next steps to implement the program.

CANCER AND THE H-BOMB

In a hydrogen bomb attack on an unidentified American city of 1,240,000 population, 49 per cent would escape death if they received advance warning and took precautions. This estimate was made public in Washington a few months ago by Civilian Defense Administrator Val Peterson.

In an attack by cancer—the nation's No. 2 killer—Americans have a 50 per cent chance of escaping death if they receive warning and obtain early, adequate treatment. So American Cancer Society statistics indicate.

Mr. Peterson disclosed that the government was experimenting with a warning device that could be installed in a bedroom and be set off by a change in electric current if enemy bombers approached. He predicted that within two years an elaborate detection system would be able to warn target cities from two to six hours ahead of an enemy bomber raid.

The Cancer Society is conducting a year-round, nationwide program to apprise the public of the warning symptoms of that disease, and how vital it is to have prompt medical attention, so that the present high death toll from this cause may be steadily cut down.

Cancer often gives early warning by one of seven common danger signals which can be easily observed by people generally. But to detect some of its sneak attacks in an early stage the observers must be physicians.

Billions of dollars are being spent by the government for super-range jet planes and guided missiles of tremendous power, as a defense against hydrogen or atomic bomb air raiders.

In contrast, the ACS is seeking the comparatively modest total of $24,000,000 in its annual educational and fund-raising crusade, while preparing for a knockout offensive against cancer by supporting research and stimulating discovery of new, more effective medical weapons against cancer.

We feel sure no one in this community will want to shirk the opportunity to contribute and thus play a part in continuing the national society's campaign to control this malady, aid patients, and carry on both professional and public education about cancer and the possibilities of cure for sufferers.

ICE CREAM WITH A WALLOP FOR SALE IN GREAT BRITAIN

Britain, following up its invention of alcoholic milk, has come out with alcoholic ice cream for tipplers who can't stand the taste of milk.

Peter Pioli, owner of the Morcream Co., announced he had four flavors of the spiked ice cream ready for production—whisky, apricot brandy, rum and creme-de-menthe.

Pioli said he got the idea from a friend, who was bemoaning the lack of ice cream sales in cold weather.

The minimum proof spirit content of the ice cream is about 5 per cent for the rum and whisky flavors, 4 per cent for apricot brandy and 2 for the creme-de-menthe.

ROTARIANS AND WIVES CLEAN CITY STREETS

It was spring cleaning for 60 Los Angeles Rotary Club members and 10 of their wives recently.

The group, with shovels and brooms, swept 10 miles of streets and alleys in East Los Angeles. More than 20 big truckloads of trash, papers and weeds were hauled away.

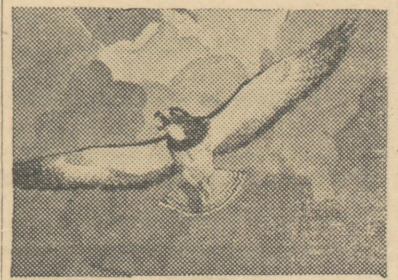

County and state supplied 15 trucks and street sweepers to aid the club's 29th annual clean-up.

Swainson's Hawk Likes Wide Open Spaces; Flies Low and Is Easily Shot

(Buteo swainsoni)
The Swainson's hawk breeds from the interior of British Columbia through Fort Yukon and Great Slave Lake country to Manitoba and south to northern Mexico. Obviously it is primarily a western species. It may be found as a casual visitor east to Quebec, Maine, New York and Florida, so it is not necessarily a complete stranger anywhere in the United States. It normally winters in South America and even there is found in the winter season only casually north of the Equator.

SWAINSON'S HAWK

The Swainson's Hawk may reach a length of 22 inches, with the tail measuring to nine inches. Superficially, it might in one form be taken in flight for a grayish red-tailed hawk with more pointed wings and a slatish gray tail bearing numerous dark crossbars instead of the typical reddish tail of the red-tailed hawk. The under part of the wings appear to be with few marks although the borders and tips are darker. The throat and nearly white belly are separated by a whitish collar of chestnut or brownish gray. The under side of the tail, at a distance at least, appears to be white or nearly so. This white does not appear on the rump as in the case with the marsh hawk.

The young Swainson's hawk may resemble the young of the red-shouldered hawk but it lacks the characteristic red shoulders of that species. There are two color phases of the Swainson's hawk. In flight, these two differ rather conspicuously since the dark phase appears from beneath to be almost wholly gray except for light areas just back from the wing-tips and at the base of the tail.

The Swainson's hawk is essentially a bird of open prairie country. It is tame and is easily and frequently shot as it flies low back and forth over fields in search of its food. It may also, to its detriment, perch for long periods of time on a low conspicuous perch such as a fence post, from which it does not readily take flight.

The killing of a Swainson's hawk is a reflection on the intelligence of the user of the gun usually. On rare occasions one may take poultry but the overwhelming large portion of the food is gophers, mice and similar farm pests as well as grasshoppers and reptiles. One survey in the State of Washington indicated that about 90 per cent of the food of a Swainson's hawk was ground

WIFE ELOPES, HUSBY PAYS

A French court has ruled that a husband is legally responsible for accidents caused by his wife—even if she is eloping with her lover in the husband's car.

The case that has French husbands muttering began April 1, 1953, when Odette Lachaume decided she would leave her husband.

She took the family car early one morning, loaded her luggage on the roof and installed her lover beside her. The pair rolled along romantically as far as Epernay, east of Paris, where the car knocked down a trombone player.

Mme. Lachaume told police she had no license with her and it was her husband's car.

The trombone player sued. Mme. Lachaume was found guilty of "imprudent driving" and her husband was ordered to pay the costs.

The outraged husband appealed. His appeal was rejected.

If every farm family would conduct a clean-up campaign at home—inside and out—it would help to eliminate fire and accident hazards, make home a safer place to live, and result in happier and more productive work-days.

squirrels, the arch enemy of agricultural crops.

Swainson's hawks build their nests in trees from 30 to 80 feet above the ground. In the nest are placed two to three eggs measuring from 2 1/3 to 1 3/4 inches. The eggs are highly variable and may be dull blue-white or creamy and unmarked or may be spotted and blotched with cinnamon brown. There is but one brood a year and the incubation period is just under four weeks.

Here is one species of hawk about which there is no disagreement on the part of those who are informed. It is a useful species and as such deserves every protection as a rule. Unfortunately it does not always get this and more unfortunately, the bird does not seem to be as wary as it should, so far as its own interests are concerned. The National Wildlife Federation asks your co-operation in understanding and in helping others understand this bird.

Assembly Program Marks Pan-American Week

In observance of Pan-American Week, the Spanish classes of the Caesar Rodney School recently presented an assembly program in the school auditorium.

Rita Consolo traced the development of the Organization of American States since its founding in 1890. This organization, composed of 21 republics of the Western Hemisphere, is the oldest and the most successful international association in the world.

A one-act play, "Simon Bolivar, Liberator," related the story of the remarkable Venezuelan who liberated several Latin American countries and who originated the plan for a union of all the American republics. The cast of the play is as follows: Conlyn Hart, Richard Clinton, Charles Witt, Kenneth Bethard, William Fleming, Bruce Stokes, Bill Mitchell and Jack Walton.

A comedy entitled "Why Learn Spanish?" combining both English and Spanish dialogue, starred Doris Wild, Edith Dill, Bob Cuthrell and Thomas Wise.

The musical part of the program featured popular Spanish tunes sung by Ann James, Mary Gillespie, Ruth Steffens, Sally Larrimore, Norma Nash and Bernice Weiss. The Caesar Rodney Band offered a rendition of "LaMascara."

Latin-American art, crafts and printed material were displayed during Pan-American Week in the school's main showcase.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. Mary Ann Berryman, Spanish instructor.

PEDESTRIAN'S CHARGE FALLS ON DEAF EARS

The case was dismissed, however, when it developed that both men are deaf mutes.

What to Grow in the Garden

What to grow in the garden is a problem that keeps some hobbyists in a stew all season. The solution is simple when we consider what the garden should provide for us.

A good garden should produce root, fruit and leaf crops. Some root crops are white potatoes, sweet potatoes, carrots, beets and radishes. Some fruiting crops are tomatoes, beans, okra and corn; leaf crops are lettuce, collards and Swiss chard.

Plan the garden so that some of each of these groups of vegetables are ready to eat all through the summer.

Keep leaf crops together in one part of the garden because they are usually planted early, they grow quickly and are harvested first. As soon as they are harvested, plant different vegetables in their place. To save space in small gardens, two different vegetables may be grown in the same row at the same time. For example, radishes with cabbage, spring onions with cabbage, lettuce with cabbage or any other combination that you like.

Root crops deserve special mention because of their high nutritional value.

Try a short row of sweet potatoes. If you are not able to buy sprouts (small plants) grow your own from sweet potatoes you buy at the store. Cover a few sweet potatoes with two inches of sand, keep them warm and moist and in a few weeks you'll have plenty of sprouts for setting in your garden.

Often gardeners complain that they are unable to grow long straight carrots. The nutritive value of carrots is not associated with straightness so I can't see that it makes any difference. However to straighten out your carrots you might try an old gardener's trick for growing "show carrots." Make a hole several inches deep, using a round stick or steel bar. Fill the hole with sandy soil fortified with compost and then plant three carrot seeds on top. Thin the carrot seedling until only one is left on top of each spot. It is quite a bit of work but for the perfectionist it is rewarding.

PARKING PROBLEM GROWS

If the same percentage of Londoners drove their cars downtown as do Chicagoans and New Yorkers, the British capital would suffer "complete paralysis," according to Leonard F. Dyer, who operates the largest parking lot in England. Attending the annual convention of the National Parking Association in Chicago, he predicted helicopters would help reduce transportation problems in the not-too-distant future.

Two Crack Bands To Perform On Armed Forces Day

Delaware will host two outstanding Maryland marching units on Armed Forces Day. The University of Maryland 85-piece Air Force ROTC Band and Maryland State College's crack ROTC drill team will perform in the Armed Forces Day parade at the Dover Air Base.

With 10 majorettes from the Maryland Varsity Band, the AF ROTC marching musicians will highlight the afternoon parade. The drill team will demonstrate its prowess at precision drilling in a 15-minute exhibition. The drill team is commanded by Cadet Captain Chauncey Twine and comprised of 25 ROTC cadets.

Three Delaware high school marching bands have also agreed to participate in the Armed Forces Day festivities. Bands from Dover, Caesar Rodney and Smyrna will march in the parade and entertain visitors at the base with periodic concerts during the afternoon.

In addition, Veterans of Foreign Ware, more than 700 National Guardsmen and over 300 Boy Scouts from areas throughout the state will march in units of the parade. Military vehicles and weapons, civilian and military police and fire-fighting equipment from 17 Delaware companies will also be featured. Forming the main body of the parade will be 5000 Air Force personnel from the Air Base.

"Open House" at Dover AFB will begin promptly at noon, Saturday, May 21. Visitors will be able to see the latest in military aircraft, equipment and facilities

FARM NEWS - REVIEW - FORECAST

GRADED LAMBS BRING GROWERS BEST PRICES

Lamb marketing is most successful when sold by grade to specialized markets, according to Robert Bull, marketing specialist of the University of Delaware, speaking at the regular meeting of the Delaware Sheep Breeders' Association.

The hothouse lamb market lasting from Christmas to Easter, catering to hotels and some national groups, pays high prices for 30-60 lb. milk-fed lambs with high finish. The Easter market specialized in fat lambs dropped in December and early January weighing 40 to 60 pounds. Spring lamb market requires lambs weighing from 60 to 80 pounds by mid-June. April and May lambs can bring best prices if sold in fall and winter after the western lambs and before feed lot lambs are offered.

Marketing lambs in large groups through "pools" is being used more in the East. The advantages include reduction in transportation costs; opportunity to get into specialized markets in large groups; marketing lambs at more suitable weights, and finally packers' interest in direct purchase of graded lambs in quantity lots that will be uniform in size and dressing percentage.

With the assistance of the university, the association will explore the operation of "pools" in North Carolina and elsewhere and the requirements of the specialized markets as a means of assisting sheep raisers to obtain better prices for lambs at home and at nearby markets.

Several other items of interest to sheep raisers were discussed at the meeting. A fleece class has been added to the premium list for the sheep show at the Kent-Sussex Fair this year. Premiums of $5 will be given for the best fleece in each of the following grades: fine, half, three-eighths and quarter blood. Sheep carrying exceptional fleeces should be singled out at shearing and their fleeces carefully folded and tied with paper twine. The grader at the wool pool will advise which fleeces should be entered and the class.

Border collies will be added to the features of the sheep exhibit, as they are being used in increasing numbers by stock raisers in the state. Premiums will be offered this year for performing simple commands and bringing sheep to the handler.

A demonstration of the wider range of use of working sheep dogs will be given by Carl Shaffner, a prominent breeder and trainer. Mr. Shaffner, shepherd at Penn State University, will also judge the sheep classes.

TO DEMONSTRATE TRENCH SILO DIGGING

A horizontal "trench" silo will be built as a demonstration Tuesday, May 10, beginning at 9:30 a.m., on William Eveland's farm near Ridgely, Md.

Special earth-moving equipment will be used in constructing the 100-ton earth bank silo on a typical Eastern Shore location.

A graded concrete floor will be poured to permit all-weather use and self-feeding.

Walter D. Hunnicutt of National Dairy Products Corporation will speak on "Making Better Grass Silage at Lower Cost." Caroline County Agent F. M. Rogers, and Maryland Extension Dairyman John P. Dietrich, will present information of interest to local dairy farmers.

Refreshments will be served at noon by Breyer Ice Cream Company.

Delaware and Eastern Shore dairymen interested in low cost, efficient silos, are invited to attend.

Today 8 1/2 million U.S. farm workers are producing more than 13 1/2 million workers did 30 years ago.

SOIL ORGANISMS HAVE EFFECT ON PLANT GROWTH

The following advice to amateur gardeners is offered by Samuel P. Wetherill, president of the Hyper-Humus Co.:

A growing plant must have a large root system as you see in above-ground plant growth. In other words, a large growth underground causes a large and healthy growth above ground.

"For roots to grow big and strong, they must grow downward and sideways. This is difficult if the soil is hard and depleted in organic matter. For plants to grow as they should, the soil must be in good condition.

It must not be packed hard. It must absorb and retain sufficient moisture from the rains, release needed carbon dioxide into the soil atmosphere, and it must be alive with micro-organisms which live in healthy soil.

Soil scientists are now identifying the antibiotics of certain fungi with the production of auxins, hormones, Vitamin B and other highly valued growth factors.

Many soil doctors think only in terms of soil chemistry. They ignore the living organisms from bacteria to earthworms which live and work in fertile soil. They try to treat soil symptoms with chemicals, and they try to control blight and diseases with poison sprays. Plants grown in healthy soil often show a surprising immunity to diseases.

Soil can be revitalized each year by adding in their proper natural forms, all of the minerals needed. Fresh organic matter, with its teeming billions of living friends, can be worked into the soil.

SOYBEAN PRICES TO EASE DOWNWARD

Record supplies dominate the outlook for soybeans this spring and summer and prices are not likely to show their usual seasonal strength, reports County Agent George K. Vapaa. The soybean crop last year was an all-time high and present stocks are about 13 per cent above the previous peak holdings at this time in 1950.

Soybean prices did not go as low at harvest last fall as was expected—harvest was strung out and farmers stored extra large stocks. Prices have remained high enough to keep the use of beans at about the same level as last year. And we are just about through the season of largest consumption. Exports of beans remain high but not high enough to act as a price raising force.

County Agent Vapaa states that the price of soybean meal is down nearly 13 per cent below last year's price at this time. Unless a major drought or increased military activity develops, soybean meal prices are expected to remain below last year's prices through the spring and summer.

GIVES 10 TIPS FOR SOUND FARM CREDIT

Credit is an indispensable tool of modern agriculture. Most successful farmers use both short and long term credit for efficient operation of their farm businesses.

County Agent George Vapaa offers these aids to help build and keep good credit standing:

1. Get your credit from specialists such as commercial banks, federal land banks, insurance companies, production credit associations and other agricultural credit agencies.
2. Keep your credit in one place. Don't accumulate debts in several places.
3. Take an annual inventory to determine how your obligations and net worth stack up each year.
4. Plan to repay loans out of operating income.
5. Plan ahead on your credit needs. Cash talks—you get a better trade or discount if you pay cash.
6. Use the right kind of credit—long term for mortgages and short term for current expenditures.

POULTRY MITES CONTROLLED BY NEW CHEMICAL

Malathion, one of the newer chemical compounds developed for better insect control, apparently is of real value to the poultryman.

The chemical gave effective control of mites and lice in a recent test at the California Experiment Station, according to Wade H. Rice, University of Maryland Extension poultryman.

Rice reports that a 0.5 per cent emulsion of malathion applied directly to young growing stock with hand pressure sprayers at the rate of one gallon per 100 birds, gave effective mite control. One gallon of the emulsion per 150 mature birds also gave effective and immediate control.

A 4 per cent malathion dust applied by hand to individual birds or to caged birds with a puff duster, gave effective control of lice and mites. When dusted in the litter and nests at the rate of one pound per 20 square feet of floor space, the 4 per cent dust gave effective but not complete lice and mite control. If the litter and nest treatment is repeated at intervals of two to three weeks for two or three treatments, control should be almost 100 per cent, Rice says.

The 4 per cent dust or the 1 per cent solution sprayed in the crevices gave effective control for common fowl mites, when applied to roosts, nests and other spots where the pest hides. "California tests are also reported as showing no ill effects on birds, even when 25 per cent strength of malathion dust was applied to the birds," Rice says. "Also, 50 parts of malathion per million in the feed for three weeks resulted in no off-flavor in the eggs of hens under study."

The University of Maryland Extension poultryman says that although more extensive tests may be necessary to definitely establish the degree of toxicity of malathion to chickens as well as to man through accumulated dosage, preliminary tests apparently did not show any ill effects. "These preliminary tests indicate the new chemical apparently offers poultrymen one of the best controls yet developed for lice and mites," he says.

CIVIL SERVICE JOBS OPEN IN WASHINGTON

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced that there is a continuing and urgent need for stenographers for filling positions paying from $2750 to $3175 a year, in various federal agencies in the Washington, D. C. area. There is also a steady demand for typists for positions paying $2750 to $2950 a year. Further information and application forms may be obtained from J. W. Dickerson at the post office.

HOT FOWL

In Alexandria, Va., an enterpris-

Punch-line to the year's hottest power story—

Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"!

This is the engine that's writing a whole new chapter in the book of automobile performance records. This is the engine that has stock car timers doing a "double take" at their stop-watches wherever experts gather to compare the abilities of the 1955 cars.

For example, in the recent NASCAR* stock car competition at Daytona Beach, Florida, Chevrolet literally ran away from every other car in its class—and a raft of others besides. In the one-mile straightaway run for low-priced cars, the first two places—and six of the first ten—went to Chevrolets. And in acceleration runs from a standing start against all comers, the Motoramic Chevrolet beat all other low-priced cars—and every high-priced car except one!

What's behind this blazing performance? A compact honey of a V8 that only the world's leading producer of valve-in-head engines can build. Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8".

It puts a new kind of fun in your driving life. You're in charge of 162 high-spirited horsepower—or if you're looking for even more excitement, the new "Super Turbo-Fire V8" (optional at extra cost) puts 180 h.p. under your toe! Pick the one you'd rather have fun with, then come in and get behind the wheel. You'll see why the Motoramic Chevrolet is showing its heels to everyone else on the road!

SURVIVORS NOW GET BENEFITS UNDER SS LAW

Under the old Social Security law, a worker who died before Sept. 1, 1950, may have needed more than six quarters of coverage to be fully insured. His family, therefore, may not have been eligible for survivors' payments under the law, Myron Milbouer, manager of the district Social Security office at Wilmington, stated this week.

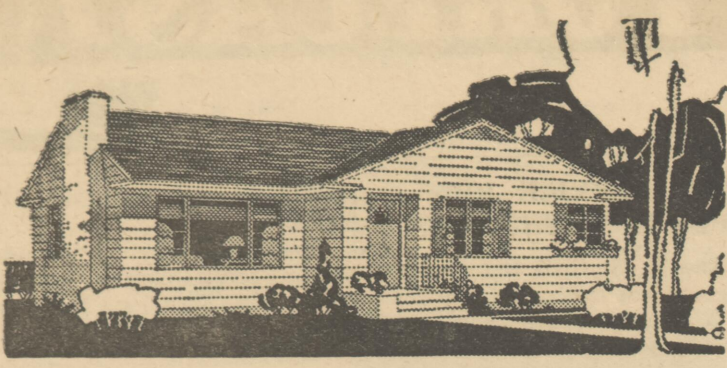

The 1954 amendments provide that a worker who died after 1931 and before Sept. 1, 1950, and had six quarters of coverage (1 1/2 years of covered work at any time after 1936) will now be considered to have been fully insured. Benefits may now be paid to his survivors, provided they meet the other requirements of eligibility, including the filing of an application.

This applies to widows over 65, mothers with minor children and the children themselves who are still under 18, also 65-year-old parents who were dependent on the wage earner at the time of his death. An application for benefits should be filed promptly by the survivor since benefits may be lost by delayed filing, Mr. Milbouer added.

Nationwide, an estimated 240,000 survivors could become eligible for monthly benefit payments under this provision. In Delaware, an estimated 400 survivors of workers who died before Sept. 1950 after acquiring six quarters of coverage, are now eligible for benefit payments.

However, many persons in the state, who are entitled to payments under this special provision of the 1954 Social Security amendments

CHURCH NEWS

ASBURY METHODIST

Rev. Robert E. VanCleaf, Pastor

"Financing God's Work" is the title of the lesson for study in the session of the Church School on Sunday morning. The session begins at 10 o'clock with devotional exercises. Study classes are held for all age groups. Building Fund Sunday. A goal of $500 has been set for the offering.

Morning worship will begin at 11 o'clock. Mother's Day will be celebrated. Special music by the Junior and Cathedral Choirs. Sermon by the pastor. The Ever Ready Class will present corsages to the youngest mother present, the oldest mother present, and the mother with the largest number of children present at morning worship. Miss Oda Baker's class will present a flower to those who do not have them on arriving at the church.

Evening worship will begin at 7:30. Join us in a fine service of praise and devotion.

The evening service will be followed by a meeting of the Commission on Education.

On Tuesday evening the Mothers' Auxiliary will meet at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ed. Taylor.

The annual conference will meet at Grace Church, Wilmington, from Thursday to Saturday. We will have Sunday School on May 15, but morning and evening worship will not be held.

Booster Class meeting on Tuesday, May 17, at 8:15, in their classroom.

On Friday, May 20, the Booster Class ice cream festival will be held at the church, beginning at 8:30. Come and bring your friends.

ST. STEPHEN'S EPISCOPAL

On May 1, 4 p.m., June Thompson and Charles McNally represented St. Stephen's at the Diocesan presentation service of the Church School Lenten offering at the Cathedral Church of St. John Wilmington.

Nine children's choirs took part in the procession, followed by 12 clergymen and Bishop Mosley. Representatives of each parish and mission in Delaware came forward as Canon Leech called their names, to deposit their aggregate mite box offering in one mammoth alms basin, received by Bishop Mosley. During the service the choirs and congregation sang "Remember All the People," "Christ For the World We Sing," and "In Christ There Is No East Or West."

Instruction for confirmation will be given each Monday, 4 p.m., at St. Stephen's by Rev. Joseph S. Hinks.

Next Sunday at the 9:15 holy communion service, the women of St. Stephen's will have their spring ingathering of the United Thank offering, in anticipation of the diocesan presentation at the 170th annual convention of the Diocese of Delaware at Middletown, May 11.

Albert R. Cohn, 54, told San Antonio, Tex. police he had locked the $3,000 taken from his concession in the San Jacinto Week fiesta in the trunk. The car was in a parking lot across the street from the county jail.

The car was stolen the following morning.

VOCAL MUSIC CAMP AT WESLEY COLLEGE

Final plans for the fifth Delaware Vocal Music Camp have been announced by H. Franklin Carrell, camp director, according to Floyd T. Hart, state director of music education. The camp will be held at Wesley Junior College in Dover, June 20-26, and will be administered by the State Department of Public Instruction and the Delaware Music Educators Association. Early registration indicates a capacity enrollment. A good recreation program has again been scheduled, in addition to the chorus rehearsals and elective classes. A new feature will be an elective class for qualified piano students who want to get experience in playing with choral groups. Wallace W. Pancoast, the faculty accompanist, will be in charge of this course.

Dr. Clyde R. Dangler will return as choral director and the following teachers will serve on the camp staff: Mrs. Eugenia A. Matz, Department of Public Instruction; Charles H. Reid, William Penn High School; Wallace W. Pancoast, William Penn High School; Miss Mary E. Monroe, Department of Public Instruction; Miss Miriam L. Hollowell, Richardson Park School; Miss Joan I. Steele, Seaford Special School District; Bruce Henrikson, Delaware School; E. Richard Haarde, Greenwood School; Albert J. Wood, Laurel Special School District; M's. Dorothy W. Brill, Commodore MacDonough School; Edward J. Schwarz, Dover Special School District.

Home Economics Fashion Show

The Home Economics classes will present their fourth annual fashion show on Wednesday, May 11, to the high school assembly and to the Parent Teachers Association at 8 p.m. Monday, May 16.

As in previous years, the Junior Home Economics class, under the supervision of Miss Margaret L. Taylor, has made the plans and created this year's theme of "Dreamland."

The staging will center around a dreamer, Maureen Hoffner, in dreamland. Her re-creation of a never-to-be-forgotten day filled with many activities, will be a wonderful experience for all those who will be dreaming with her.

Costumes to be modeled will include tailored wool garments, party dresses, sports clothes, pajamas, cotton and casual dresses.

The general chairman is Ethel Reed. Individual committees are headed by Gertrude Hurd, Marie Biggs, Marie Taylor and Dian McKeithan.

Junior-Senior Prom

The junior-senior prom will be held May 13 in Felton High School gymnasium. George Madden's orchestra will play from 9:00 until midnight; refreshments will be available at the school.

Senior Trip

Twenty-seven members of the Senior Class, with their chaperones, Mrs. William A. Hughes and Robert Callahan, returned Saturday night from a four-day trip to New York City.

Co-operative Training

Five seniors, business education students, have entered into co-operative training in offices of the State Department of Public Instruction and the Health Department.

Cafeteria News

The menu at the cafeteria for the week May 9 to 13 is as follows: Monday, May 9—Creamed beef gravy on toast, candied carrots, milk, orange juice.

Tuesday, May 10—Turkey vegetable pie, string beans, milk, peaches, bread and butter.

Wednesday, May 11—Vienna sausage, baked beans, milk, pineapple, bread and butter.

Thursday, May 12—Roast beef sandwich, cole slaw, milk, pie or fruit.

Friday, May 13—Spaghetti with meat sauce, buttered peas and carrots, milk, apple sauce, bread and butter.

Home Electric Development

Two 1955 electric ranges have been installed in the Home Economics Department, replacing older models. Under terms of a contract between the school and the Eastern Shore Public Service, new electric ranges will be installed each year for a period of five years at no cost to the school.

Harrington School Notes

Cupboard Chemistry Club

The following members of our club went to Wilmington to attend the science fair: Helena Callaway, Lois Rash, Bonnie Chem, Phyllis Ann Vincent, Frankie Melvin and Miss Dickrager. It was held at the Tower Hill School.

Among other things, we saw paper dolls made to dance by magnetism, white rats that had been properly and improperly fed, models of termites colonies, of prehistoric animals, of modern day atoms, and of the solar system.

In the afternoon we visited the Delaware Art Center. There we saw an art exhibit put on by the children of the Wilmington schools. It was very much like the Harrington art exhibit we had attended the night before.

He was voted a temporary leave of absence by the congregation on Sunday morning should it be necessary for him to remain at the hospital and he not be able to return by Sunday.

There will, however, be services on Sunday morning. There will be a special Mother's Day service arranged by the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Mrs. Mary McDowell, of Philadelphia, will deliver the message and there will be special music by a mothers' chorus, also the Junior and Senior Chorus.

A presentation will be made to the oldest mother present at this service, to the youngest mother present and to the mother with the largest family. Service begins at the regular hour of 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morris is in Canby Park with her daughter, Mrs. Floyd Quillen and family, due to the death of her son-in-law, who was killed suddenly on Thursday during a test flight of an airplane near Wilmington. Mr. Quillen was well known in this community, having been a former Wyoming boy, and it is with sorrow that we learned of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hart and Wayne accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Francis Simpson and Mrs. Edna Sapp, of Houston, to visit their aunt, Mrs. Edward Smith, near Wilmington, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, of Linwood, Pa., spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Thomas Kennedy.

Mrs. Elizabeth Graybeal's grandson, Ronnie Schwalb, had the thrilling experience of appearing on television on Friday. He, along with the Port Deposit choir and members of the Boy Scout troop appeared on Warren Hull's "Strike It Rich" program, appealing for funds for a child who has been hospitalized for a number of months.

Coffee imports by the U.S. in 1954 totaled 2,260 million pounds, which due to a coffee price rise, were only 81 per cent of the amount imported in 1953, according to current figures of the Foreign Agricultural Service.

Foreign tea sales in the U.S., on the other hand, increased 6 per cent in 1954 over 1953 and because of higher prices for tea, the value of 1954 imports was up nearly one-third, an all-time high.

SENATE APPROVES $1,000,000 SLUM CLEARANCE BOND ISSUE FOR CITY OF WILMINGTON

The Senate Friday approved a $1,000,000 bond issue for Wilmington's slum clearance program.

Two bills clearing the way for the bonds were among 19 approved by the upper chamber in a business-like three-hour session. The Senate also defeated one bill—a measure which would have forced two Lewes fish factories to pay municipal taxes.

Among the other bills passed were measures which would liberalize the Workmen's Compensation program and the pension systems for Wilmington and New Castle County employees. The pension bills originated in the House and now go to Gov. J. Caleb Boggs for his signature.

The slum clearance bond issue, sponsored by Senators Eugene Lammot and John E. Reilly, Wilmington Democrats, was approved unanimously.

Contained in Two Bills

It is incorporated in two bills—SB 408 and SB 385. The first, which was amended to mark the amount up from $750,000 to $1,000,000 and to work in several recommendations from New York bond attorneys, authorizes the bond issue. The second exempts the bonds from statutory limitations on the city's debt.

The city's faith, credit and taxing power would be pledged to payment of the bonds, which would raise cash for the Wilmington Housing Authority's work in compliance with state and federal slum clearance laws.

Senator Thomas L. Johnson (R-Rehoboth Beach), the minority leader, took note of the fact that the 11 Democrats present needed Republican help on the bills since they required passage by two-thirds majorities.

Senator Reilly said that slum clearance is something "I know we all are interested in." This was the only comment raised by the bills, although the proposed slum clearance program has been the subject of considerable controversy in Wilmington.

The Workmen's Compensation bill (SB 439) makes a number of changes in the act, including an increase in the maximum weekly payment from $30 to $40 and mark-ups on the number of weeks compensation is payable for certain injuries.

Samuel R. Russell, Senate attorney, who was called upon to explain the measure, said the maximum payments in both Maryland and Pennsylvania are now $35, and both states are considering increases. He added that the national average is closer to $40 than $30.

"Some of the other provisions in the law," he said, "haven't been changed since 1917."

A LeRoy Desmond, secretary of the Industrial Accident Board, was also on hand to answer any questions on the bill, but the senators didn't have any. The measure was approved by a vote of 11 to 1, with Sen. Walter J. Hoey disapproving and Sens. William B. Behen (D-Dover) and Curtis W. Steen (D-Dagsboro) abstaining. Sen. Calvin R. McCullough (D-Holloway Terrace), a co-sponsor of the bill with Sens. Reilly and Lammot, was absent.

Pension Changes

The changes in the New Castle County and Wilmington pension systems are incorporated in three bills (HBs 36, 37 and 38) sponsored by Reps. William E. Lester, (R-St. Georges) and Paul E. Shockley (D-Wilmington). The series was approved unanimously.

Mr. Lester explained that one of the bills would bring the county disability pension provision into line with the city's by requiring 15 years' service for eligibility, instead of 25. The second bill, he said, would base a retired employee's pension on 1-50th, instead of 1-60th of his monthly pay. This figure is multiplied by the number of years the employee has worked.

Mr. Shockley explained that the third bill would make a similar change in base pay for county employees' pensions.

The fish factory bill (SB 432) was admittedly aimed at Mayor Otis H. Smith of Lewes, who operates two mehadan processing plants which are exempt from municipal taxation because they are located on the so-called "Penn grant," state land held in trust by the commissioners of Lewes.

The measure went down to defeat resoundingly. Senator Hoey, who sponsored it but wouldn't argue for it, voted for passage, and he was joined by Sen. S. W. Harrison (D-Wyoming). But the 13 other members present voted no.

Sen. Hoey explained that he "sort of inherited the bill" and that he was all he was going to say about it.

Sen. William B. Behen (D-Dover) replied that he had had the bill drafted "because at one time I thought it unfair for that factory to be exempt."

But, he added, "I have looked into the matter and found that I was very much wrong. I found that the factory pays $1200 to the city, and I didn't believe they could get $100 for that piece of land from anybody else."

Furthermore, he said he had learned that Mr. Smith spent $100,000 putting in a new water system for the city "to help the people who own cottages on the beach and to build up fire protection, as well as to help himself."

He added that "the amount this company pays the city for water and electricity is nearly half as much as the total receipts."

Gift of Water Main

Sen. Johnson said he was glad to hear "a full confession" from Sen. Behen and added that it might be "good for his soul." He cited a letter from the Lewes town commissioners in which Mr. Smith's "outright gift" of a 12-inch water main to the city was praised. In spite of this gesture, he continued, the fish factory will continue to pay for water at the regular rate.

"The town of Lewes is very proud of the fact that they have a man of the calibre of Mr. Smith," he said. "They know that, even without taxes, they will get the money back in some form or other."

Sen. Steen said it isn't just Lewes, "but all Sussex County," that's proud of Mr. Smith. After his remarks, the roll was called.

Other Bills Passed

SB348—Providing for segregation of state forest revenues until July, 1957, to build up funds to salvage hurricane-damaged timber. Sponsored by Sen. Walter J. Hoey (D-Milford) and passed unanimously.

SB463—Exempting farm land within Milford's town limits from municipal taxation. Sponsored by Sen. Hoey and passed unanimously.

SB 283 — Permitting the Levy Court, instead of the resident Superior Court judge, to appoint commissioners to examine mortgage satisfaction in New Castle County. Sponsored by Sens. Eugene Lammot and John E. Reilly, Wilmington Democrats, and approved by a party-line vote of 10 to 5.

SB 426 — Appropriating $40,000 to the Hartly School District for a two-room addition. Sponsored by Sens. Charles G. Moore (D-Harrington) and Jehu F. Camper (D-Harrington) and approved by a vote of 15 to 1, with Sen. Wilmer F. Williams (R-Roselle) dissenting.

SB 394—Providing for the supervision of certain oil royalty trusts by the state banking commissioner. Sponsored by Sen. Lammot and approved unanimously.

SB 281—Providing for the investment of unclaimed funds after execution process in New Castle County. Sponsored by Sens. Lammot and Reilly and approved unanimously, with Sen. Clifford Pryor (D-Blackbird) abstaining.

SB 364—Appropriating $6,000 to the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners for purchase of land on the bottom of Haven Lake, Milford. Sponsored by Sen. Hoey and approved unanimously.

SB 402—Increasing the salary of the clerk of the Kent County Court of Common Pleas from $2400 to $3000. Sponsored by Sen. William B. Behen (D-Dover) and approved unanimously, with Sen. Hoey abstaining.

SB-193—Assuring overlapping terms on the State Board of Accountancy and bringing the requirements for certification in line with those in neighboring states. Sponsored by Sen. Lammot and approved unanimously.

SB 351—Renovating the law on drainage of land and tax ditches. Sponsored by Sen. Steen and approved unanimously.

SB 353—Prohibiting the taking of oysters or clams for commercial purposes without the consent of the state or the land's lessee; providing a fine of $100 plus seizure of the offender's boat. Sponsored by Sen. Steen and approved unanimously.

SB 202—Prohibiting the State Board of Agriculture from interfering with the sale and use of modified live vaccines for domestic animals through normal trade channels.

SB 379—Authorizing the Kent County Levy Court to make refunds of $150 to Bell A. Dorzback and $200 to the Holt Oil Company for duplicate school and county taxes collected in previous years.

RABIES ON INCREASE IN DELAWARE

Rabies, a fatal disease of man and animals, is on the increase in Delaware. A number of cases have been diagnosed in both New Castle and Sussex Counties, according to Dr. E. F. Waller, head of the animal and poultry industry department at the University of Delaware.

All cases so far have been in foxes and dogs. The disease is spread through the bite of infected animals.

"When a fox becomes infected he loses all fear of man and dogs and will come up into farmyards or into the more densely settled urban areas," Dr. Waller states.

"Small children may be the object of the attack," he adds. "Cattle, horses, swine and sheep are also easy prey for infected foxes and infected stray dogs.

"Vaccination is the best protection for dogs," Dr. Waller claims. "In some areas a dog license will not be issued unless the owner shows a rabies vaccination certificate. This is an excellent plan and one that is easy to enforce," he adds.

Although dogs are to be tied to a leash at this time of year, this will not protect them from attacks by rabid animals.

If you are bitten by any strange animal, contact your physician at once. A dog that bites should be caught and confined for at least a week. Do not kill the dog immediately, unless necessary, Dr. Waller advises. Above all, do not damage the head if it is necessary to destroy the animal.

When such an animal dies, it is important to make immediate arrangements through a physician or veterinarian to submit the head to the proper laboratory for examination.

Control measures are usually: (1) The reduction of foxes in an area. (2) Destruction of all stray dogs and cats. (3) Vaccination of all remaining dogs.

1955 CROP CORN PRICE SUPPORT PROGRAM

The Secretary of Agriculture recently announced that price support in the commercial corn-producing areas will be based on $1.58 a bushel—87 per cent of the Feb. 15 corn parity price, according to Alden F. Short, chairman of the Delaware Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Present price support legislation provides that rates in the non-commercial producing area will be 75 per cent of the commercial area support rates — about $1.18 a bushel.

The 87 per cent of parity support level for the 1955 crop corn from commercial areas is set in accordance with existing law. The supply of corn for the year as of Oct. 1 has been estimated at a little more than 107 per cent of normal supply. This supply determines a support level of not less than 87 per cent of parity for 1955.

Mr. Short points out that support rates under the 1954 program were based on $1.62 a bushel, which was 90 per cent of parity. The support rate of $1.58 a bushel for 1955 crop corn will not be reduced but may be increased if a combination of the corn parity prices as of Oct. 1, 1955 (beginning of the marketing year) and the supply of corn as of that date indicates a higher support.

Some 805 counties, including all three in Delaware, in 21 states, are included in the 1955 commercial area. Counties outside this area are in the non-commercial area under the price support program and do not have acreage allotments. Existing price support legislation specifically provides that when acreage allotments are in effect for the commercial area, as for 1955, support rates in the non-commercial area shall be reduced to 75 per cent of those in the commercial area.

Hospital Beds For Home Use Is New Project of Auxiliary

Hospital beds and wheelchairs are to be made available for home use, free of charge, to all residents of Kent County by the units of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Clyde Tucker, president of Callaway - Kemp - Raughley - Tee Unit No. 7; Mrs. Carolyn Collins, president of Milford Unit No. 3, and Mrs. James Platt, president of Walter L. Fox Unit No. 2, announced the start of a magazine subscription campaign to provide funds to purchase this much-needed equipment.

The enviable success of this same project enabling other American Legion Auxiliaries to equip sickroom loan closets and thus assist the sick and injured prompted this action.

All representatives working on this campaign will carry letters of introduction and authorization on American Legion Auxiliary stationery, signed by Mrs. Clyde Tucker, Harrington; Mrs. Carolyn Collins, Milford, and Mrs. James Platt, Dover.

Residents should ask to see these letters to be sure that only authorized and accredited representatives are calling.

Houston

Sunday will be Mother's Day and every mother is especially invited to attend the morning worship services along with every member and friend of the church. Let's make it a big day spiritually for God and the church. This will be the last sermon to be preached by our pastor as the pastor of Houston Methodist Church.

The retiring minister, officers and members of Houston Methodist Church are very happy to report that all apportionments, benefits, salary and other bills have been paid in full to April 30, 1955, which ends this conference year. All this has been done under the budget system. No suppers, entertainments or any other means has been used to raise money. All has been done by free-will offerings.

The regular monthly meeting of the Methodist Men has been postponed until Wednesday evening, May 11, at 8 p.m., by the president. Every member is urged to be present and bring another.

The WSCS will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening, May 12, at 8 p.m. in the fire hall. Mrs. Pauline Morgan, Mrs. Mildred Smith and Mrs. Annabelle Brown will be hostesses. Members are urged to be present.

Postmaster J. Benton Counselman's condition is showing improvement at this time and we hope he will soon be up and out again.

Mrs. Howard Moors is holding her own quite well. The sudden death of her sister, Mrs. Ella Stevenson, upset her very much and her sympathy goes out to her.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Louhoff Jr., spent last Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. James E. H. Joseph, near Harbeson, and were their guests at a dinner held by the Rehoboth Methodist Church School at the Rehoboth High School.

Mrs. A. C. Hopkins and daughter, Christine, of Dover, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Marvel on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thistlewood and family, of Easton, Md., were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Herrington spent the weekend in Wilmington as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hart and family of Magnolia, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Simpson, son Gary, and Mrs. Edna Sapp, visited their aunt, Mrs. Sadie Smith, who is staying at the home of her son, Donald Smith, in Newport. Mrs. Smith, who has been ill quite some time, seems to be improving at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Thistlewood were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. L. Paul Greenlee and sons, on Shawnee Road. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kennedy and daughters of Old Porter Road, Bear, and afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. C. Emory Webb and daughter.

Highlights and High Names in Kent County Wills

By George Valentine Massey, II. (The following is a continuation of some of the interesting anecdotes taken from old Court-house records in Dover.)

When Joseph Jones was bound for a trip to England in the ship "Grace" of London, he first made his will, June 22, 1674 (proved June 15, 1682), and freed his Negroes Sherry and Freegift Wansey. He gave Sherry his 200-acre dwelling plantation "The Addition," all his cattle, movable goods, bills, bonds, debts due him, and named him sole executor. His other land, "Guney and Gotham" and the thousand acres of "Outrange," was to be sold, and sums paid in tobacco to trustees and English relatives.

The county's rich man, John Curtis, signed his will in his last sickness, April 22, 1698 (proved May 3, 1699). His family was amigerous, (bore a coat-of-arms) and had lived for some generations at Appledore in Kent County, England. He settled at the Whorekill in 1679 when he bought 400 acres named "Aberdeen" on Bawcom Brigg Creek, which enters Delaware Bay just south of the present village of Bowers Beach, in Kent County. He served in the Provincial Assembly, was a justice, a member of the Governor's Council, and owned "Three Hundred Head of Neat Beasts, besides great Numbers of Hogs, Horses and Sheep."

When his widow Priscilla and son, Caleb Curtis, were settling his estate they said in court "that they looked upon themselves only as executors to the estate of John Curtis . . . and no otherwise and as the Burthen thereof will be too great for them, therefore they are not willing to intermeddle therewith (meaning the Estate of the said Richard Curtis, dec'd)" for whom John Curtis had been executor.

Another settler, Simon Hiron (d. 1736), was county ranger, justice and assemblyman. Simon's Creek, a tributary of Duck Creek, bears his name. Among other bequests, he left a gold ring of 30 shillings price to Sarah Rodney, daughter of Captain William Rodney. Captain Rodney (d. 1708) was Speaker of the Assembly and founded a distinguished family. His son, William Jr., married John Curtis' daughter Ruth, by his wife Priscilla. Priscilla came to Kent County from Massachusetts in 1686 with her second husband, George Bowers, nephew of Harvard's first president, Bowers Beach on Delaware Bay is named for this family. Many prominent Delawareans descend from Priscilla.

John Allee (d. 1718), of French descent, named his sons Peter, Abraham and Johanus, and daughters married to Simon Vanwinke and John Vangasco, in his will. Generations of Allees, represented in Dover by James F. Allee Jr., whose father was United States Senator, are buried in Christ Churchyard. Among Delaware's Revolutionary patriots, whose wills are at Dover, are Col. John Haslet (d. 1776), killed in command of Delaware troops at the battle of Princeton, and Caesar Rodney (d. 1784), the signer, whose will is most impressive as he lists all the important offices he held, and tells about his ancestors. His grandfather, he said, came from Bristol, England. His Dover house, which he evidently improved and where he lived for several years, was the largest on the Square. It is the residence of Mrs. Lydia Watson Pritchett. Rodney's Dover descendants, through a brother, are the families of Ferguson (of Ferguson & Hayes, funeral directors) and Bice. The signer had no children.

Philip Barratt (d. 1784) lived near the present town of Frederica, and for him is named Barratt's Chapel, called the cradle of Methodism. Vincent Locker-man's (d. 1785) Dover house contains its original 18th century furnishings. He entailed his property forever. Dover's main business street is named for his family. John Joy (d. 1787), a Duck Creek Tory, said in his will that he cared not if his enemies made whistles of his bones. Near Duck Creek Cross Roads (now Smyrna) Governor Thomas Collins (d. 1789) lived at "Belmont Hall," one of the county's show places, which boasts of blood stains on the cupola steps shed by a sentry shot on guard there during the Revolution. The tomb of Governor Collins' daughter, Mary, (Mrs. Joseph Barker), near Barker's Landing, tells that "Her death was occasioned by taking Peruvian bark, adulterated with litharge, which was purchased of an apothecary in Wilmington."

The first chancellor of Delaware, William Killen (d. 1805), left his house and garden on the Court House Square, at Dover, to be constable Green was called, to his daughter for the Fifth District.

Angelica, wife of Jacob Stout, a Delaware governor. This house became "The Steamboat Hotel," showing Dover's progressiveness as an earlier inn was "The Sign of the Horse and the Groom." On the site is the fine Victorian house of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Hughes. Mary, another daughter of Chancellor Killen, married Charles Hillyard, who built "Woodburn," Dover's most imposing 18th century house. There, tradition says, he killed her. In a heated argument, his son took a pot shot at him. The bullet missed and lodged in the massive front door. Charles Hillyard's ghost, they say, is in the house. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murray own "Woodburn."

Benjamin Chew (d. 1810) lived in Dover and practiced law before he went to Philadelphia and became chief justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. He built "Cliveden," in Germantown, where he entertained Washington. On his farm near Dover stands the plant of the International Latex Corporation. The letters of Ann (Moore) Ridgely (d. 1810) of Dover to her children, edited by Mrs. Henry Ridgely, Leon de Valinger Jr., and Virginia E. Shaw, are a pleasure to those interested in Dover history. She was the widow of Dr. Charles Ridgely (d. 1785) who would her, among other things, a Jersey riding wagon and pair of bay horses. She lived at Eden Hill Farm, near Dover, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Scheller. Her brother-in-law was Chancellor Nicholas Ridgely (d. 1830) whose wife Mary (Bretton) Ridgely, left a set of "wild cherry tree chairs with worked bottoms" to Ann (Ridgely) duPont.

Later in life John Middleton Clayton joined the Presbyterian Church at Dover. There were those who breathed a sign of relief when such a popular leader formally embraced Christianity. He had been Secretary of State of the United States and negotiated the famous Clayton-Bulwer Treaty. His will, executed at Dover, begins: "First, I leave to my friends and relations as well as to all others who may think my opinion of any value, this testimonial, that the religion taught in the New Testament is the best that has been offered for our adoption both for this world and for that which is to come and that Jesus Christ was the true Messiah and will remain forever the Redeemer and Savior of fallen man. Let my humble testimony stand in favor of the Christian religion. I am deeply—thoroughly convinced of its truth."

In his obituary address on Clayton, James A. Bayard said in the United States Senate: "As the last and crowning act of my colleague's life . . . he died in the faith and with the hopes of a Christian. Mr. Crittenden, of Kentucky, added: "It must be pleasing to us all to learn . . . that Mr. Clayton died a Christian . . ."

John M. Clayton's niece, Margaret Douglas, married Joseph P. Comegys (d. 1893) who wrote Clayton's biography and was United States Senator and Chief Justice of Delaware. He built the fine brick house on Dover Green where his daughter, Miss Harriet, lived. She was Regent of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association. The house is owned by Mr. and Mrs. N. Maxson Terry. Near the Clayton-Comegys monuments in the Dover Presbyterian Churchyard are three table tombs, for the young wives of Alexander McSlyment, Esq. Torn with grief, Alexander inscribed on the second, "Insatiate arched would not one suffice." On the third, that of a girl of 23, he wrote, "Thy shaft flew thrice and thrice my peace was slain."

And on record is the will of a most eminent Delawarean, Thomas Francis Bayard (d. 1898), statesman and diplomat, who was twice candidate for the presidential nomination, and the first United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James. Dover's well-kept Hotel Bayard is named for him.

Kent Levy Court Plans To Name Director of CD. The Kent County Levy Court, at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday, decided to appoint a full-time director of civil defense for Kent County. However, the members of the Levy Court indicated that the appointment of the director would not be made until they had an opportunity to consider the possibilities of the various individuals for the post. They explained that they felt the success of the entire effort would rest upon the appointment of a person to serve as director who could procure the complete co-operation of all groups connected with these activities. It was not indicated yesterday just when the appointment would be made nor were any details of the proposed operation of the office announced. The Levy Court appointed Frank Court House Square, at Dover, to be constable Green was called, to his daughter for the Fifth District.

BRITISH ROYALTY TO VISIT DELAWARE

Delawareans will play host next week to two distinguished guests from Great Britain, it was announced today. The Earl and Countess of de la Warr are expected to spend three days in the state as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Francis duPont at Winterthur. Old friends of the duPont family, they will arrive on May 12.

The earl is a direct descendant of Sir Thomas West, for whom Delaware Bay and River and finally the state were named. The earl and countess will tour part of the state on Friday, May 13, beginning from Winterthur at 10 a.m. They will be met there by an official party headed by Leon de Valinger Jr., state archivist, who has been designated by Gov. J. Caleb Boggs as his personal representative. The sight-seeing tour to some of the First State's interesting and unique places will follow. The University of Delaware will be one of the important points to be visited. Proceeding to Dover, the party will be greeted at the Old State House on Dover Green by Secretary of State John N. McDowell, after which they will see the Archives building and view royal grants exhibited there. The party will then proceed to Governor Boggs' executive suite where the earl and countess will be officially greeted. After this ceremony, they will be met by officers of the 118th General Assembly and with Gov. Boggs will be escorted to the Senate chambers. Honors are expected to be tendered to the titled visitors and the earl and countess will respond. After the official ceremonies, the party, which is expected to include Mr. duPont, will return to Winterthur, where the British couple will complete their visit. The Earl of de la Warr is a direct descendant of Sir Thomas West, who first carried the de la Warr title to American shores. As provincial governor of Virginia in early colonial days, it was he who ordered Captain Samuel Argall to sail to Bermuda for supplies, but the ship was blown off its course and came upon a great body of water. In honor of his superior, Captain Argall named it Delaware Bay.

CASA Schedules Integration Meet At Harrington

The Rev. Manaan F. Warrington, president of the Christian Americans Segregation Association, has announced that an all-day Delaware-Maryland-Virginia meeting against school integration will be held Sunday at the Harrington Airport, at 10 a.m. Warrington is the former chaplain and state president of the National Association for the Advancement of White People. He formed the new group early this spring. In a prepared statement, Warrington says in part: "The public is requested to bring hymn books and folding chairs in order to be seated, and enjoy the evangelistic services that are interwoven in the program. Only white people will be admitted to the services. "The CASA, Inc. is launching this meeting as the beginning of a nation-wide crusade that will go to every state across America, and the next campaign will be over 1000 miles away."

SULKY SLANTS

(Continued from Page One) You should see the nice headed white-face cattle they have. Looked like good steaks there. So I asked Mildred, were they going to butcher any? You might have known the answer I got. No. Some of her hens, she told me, she had for six years. Die of old age. On your way to Felton—the back road if you happen to be going slow—you'll see the cutest little pony with a young foal. I stopped to take some pictures of them, and I found out they belonged to Donald Weisloski. He was so proud of them, but he hasn't picked a name for it yet. Well, Donald, you should have plenty of fun this summer. When I get the pictures back I'll send you one from the Buffalo-Raceway in Hamburg, N. Y. Doc Chamberlain, where did you get all that mail from? And Mr. Porter, the black kitty you gave me has five beautiful kittens. Have one with six toes, which, they say, brings luck. Here is a cutie—and I quote—"The words "In God We Trust" were placed on pennies for the benefit of those who use them for fuses. Sam Short sure is coming along fine with his songs. Most every afternoon you'll hear one on the Milford radio station. This little chatter will come from Buffalo Raceway next week. So long till next week.

PRESENT-DAY FOOD BUDGET PROVIDES GREATER VARIETY. The average family in the 1920s spent about 25 cents of its wage dollar for food. On the average, families still spend about the same proportion of their income for food. But for our money, we are eating more meat, milk, eggs, vegetables and fruits and depending less on cereals and other staples, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. We are also enjoying more variety in food throughout the year.
